M E S S A G E

I am pleased to be able again to extend my best wishes to the participants and supporters of the Aloha Babe Ruth League.

The world's largest teenage baseball program has been a continuing activity that fosters respect for competition, sportsmanship and character. The game of baseball has prepared many of its participants for the game of life itself.

The Aloha Babe Ruth League has developed representative teams which are the pride of Hawaii. They have not only demonstrated athletic proficiency, but have spread the spirit of Aloha and racial harmony.

Much of the credit for accomplishment goes to the adult supporters of the young participants who have given generously of their time and resources. To these volunteers and the participants in the Aloha Babe Ruth League, I extend my sincerest congratulations and best wishes for continued success.

Aloha,

DANIEL K. INOUE
United States Senator
