Hana Shows Patriotism

In Celebrating Fourth

The Fourth was a red letter day in the annals of Hana, for never in the memory of the oldest inhabitant, has that town, had so many enthusiastic people together as came to celebrate the 145th anniversary of the birth of the greatest nation on the face of the earth, as collected in Hana, that day.

The exercises, began with the reading of the Declaration of Independence, followed by mob singing of the National Hymn.

Sports, consisting of races of various kinds and tugs of war followed and much enjoyment was had through them.

The best luau, that was ever prepared, was partaken of by fully 1,000 people and after ever one was filled to repletion, a very exciting and closely contested baseball game was on the tapis, between "The Whites" and "The All Comers" resulting in victory for "The Whites" although the score stood 4 to 4 at the beginning of the 9th inning.

In the evening moving picture and a dance at the Community House wound up the days entertainment, and every one went home, tired and happy, declaring that they never had enjoyed themselves better, or had crowded, so much pleasure into one day.

Much credit is due the committee and its chairman Mr. Nevegold, for the excellent program and the manner it was carried out, to the deputy sheriff and his wife who had charge of the luau and to the boys from Kilauea, who added snap to the entertainment and were upstaring in their efforts to see that every one had a good time.

Entertainment and Dance.—For the benefit of Kula Athletic and Amusement Club a dance will be held at the Sanitarium tomorrow night.

Inter-Island Gets Hotel.—Control of the Volcano House Co., Ltd., has been purchased by the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, securing control by the purchase of at auction of the shares belonging to the estate of Demosthenes Lycouras, now holding 1700 of the 2000 shares. ## OBITUARY

ALLAN HERBERT

After more than 49 years residence in the islands Allan Herbert, one time hotel man, authority par excellence in cookery, small farmer and horticulturist by hobby, and one time prominent in democratic politics passed away in Honolulu at the age of 93.

Allan Herbert came to the Islands in 1878 from California where he was one of the pioneers during the gold rush, coming when the Hawaiian government built and opened the Royal Hawaiian Hotel as its first manager.

There he won popularity and became an "institution" in Honolulu. A lavish entertainer, an expert cook, with horticulture and small gardening as hobbies he was a favorite with royalty and with the public. Especially he showed interest in Kapiolani Park and advanced ideas for its early beautification.

Mr. Herbert was a democrat before coming to the Islands and after annexation continued a democrat. He was elected delegate to the national democratic convention in 1912 but was taken ill en route across the continent and had to return home.

An extensive traveler, he was an interesting talker and his conversation was ever interesting. For the past two or three years his health had been failing steadily. He leaves no relatives in the Islands and had long lost track of relatives in Sweden where he was born about 93 years ago.

CLARENCE W. ASHFORD

Former Circuit Judge Clarence W. Ashford of Honolulu died at his Beretania Street home last Saturday night following an illness of several months.

He had been a resident of Honolulu for 28 years and had been a prominent figure both in the days of monarchy and since annexation.

Judge Ashford came to Hawaii in 1883 at the suggestion of his cousin, S. G. Wilder and entered the practice of law in the office of late Chief Justice Hartwell. A progressive in those days he was one of those who inaugurated a bloodless revolution in 1887 as result of which a new constitution providing for responsibility of ministers was forced upon the government.

In the new cabinet appointed under the new constitution Ashford was attorney general and held that office for three years. He then resumed the practice of law.

At the time of the overthrow of Queen Liliuokalani, Ashford was jailed as a Royalist and later sent to California where he remained until 1902. On his return he twice ran for the senate independently and was both times defeated. In 1914 he was appointed Circuit Judge and following his retirement he sought the nomination for county attorney on the democratic ticket but was defeated by Heen in the primaries.

Judge Ashford was born at Port Hope, Ontario, Canada in 1857. was a graduate of the University of Michigan from which he received the degree of L.L.D. in 1880. He is survived by three children, Stanley H. H. of Canada, Huron K. and Marguerite K.

MISS RUTH EDMONDS

After an illness of three years of tuberculosis, contracted while in war work in France, Miss Ruth Harriet Edmonds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Edmonds, died at her home on North Pleasant street, Oberlin, O., on May 28, at the age of 20.

At the entrance of the United States into the world war Miss Edmonds was engaged as nurse at Maunaloa Seminary. She left her work there to go overseas and for a year saw service in France. Her strength was not equal to the task and when tubercular trouble developed she was brought to America and was admitted to a government hospital at Denver, Colo. For a time it was hoped that her condition would show improvement, but when it became evident that hope was vain she was brought to her home, where a trained nurse was employed to attend her. Miss Edmonds made a brave, but unavailing fight for life and health.

After a course in the public schools of Oberlin Miss Edmonds took a training course in St. Luke's hospital at Cleveland and soon after began her work in Hawaii. She was an earnest student in school and enthusiastic in her professional work. In addition to her parents she is survived by two sisters, Helen and Marie, and one brother, Harlan.

The funeral was held at the family home at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of May 31. Interment was made at Westwood. The American Legion attended as a body and members of the Women's Auxiliary.—Oberlin, O., News.

Alumni Banquet.—The first banquet of St. Anthony School Alumni Association is to be held a week from tomorrow. It will take the form of a Chinese dinner.

IT SAVES DOLLARS

What?

Burning Out Carbon

The old way of taking down the engine and scraping out the carbon costs the car owner from $20 to $25 and he loses the use of his automobile for a day or two. We burn out the carbon in about an hour and charge only one dollar a cylinder. You can figure the saving for yourself, from $14 to $19 on your car and you do not lose the use of it, which is important.

METHOD NOT HARMFUL

The idea that heat will injure the engine is erroneous. The heat used in burning out is mild and does not harm it in the least. The method is new to the Islands but is common practice on the mainland. Let us tell you of some of your neighbors who have tried it. You can ask them how they are pleased.

School Notes

During the early part of the school year, Miss Kiakona offered a prize of five dollars to the pupil or pupils having the best garden plot. The teachers were unable to decide the contest so they put it to a vote of the garden boys to determine upon first, second and third prizes and the ballot resulted as follows:

Masao Nagahiro, first; Minobu Ki-kuichi, second; Seichi Sakata, third.

Halehaku School had a very enjoyable closing week. On Tuesday the older children went to the beach accompanied by Misses Kiakona and Emsley while Mrs. Crockett entertained the little folks at school.

THEATERS

Gladys Leslie

A delightful picture in every respect is "Straight is the Way."

This is a picturization of Ethel Watts Mumford's excellent story, "The Manifestation of Henry Ort." It is a satirical comedy based upon the ouija board craze and the story is one of mystery, thrills and love.

While "Straight is the Way" is a so-called crook picture, the crook element is so lightly done that there is nothing at all melodramatic or depressing in the picture. It fairly sparkles from beginning to end and its humor at times is delicious. The leading roles are in the capable hands of Matt Moore and George Parsons, the crooks who reform. Gladys Leslie, a charming actress who plays opposite Matt Moore and Mabel Bert, who has the role of Aunt Mehitabel, a charming old widow.

Tom Mix

Tom Mix the cowboy screen hero, will appear in "Three Gold Coins." This is a big western gun toting story, which gives Tom a chance to show his prize shooting art. In one part he shoots holes through a dozen cans of condensed milk thrown in the air. Mix is shown at his best in shooting, horsemanship and daring deeds. He will be seen in a double role, appearing as Bob Fleming, and later as "Bad Pat" Duncan, a bandit, whom he captures and receives $10,000 reward.

Among the dare devil stunts Mix stages is the sensational escape from a court room when he leaps from the balcony and then swings successively from three buildings by means of a flaccid halyard.

In the supporting cast are Margaret Loomis, Margaret Cullington, Sylvia Joselyn, Frank Whitson and Dick Rush.

Thomas Meighan

Thomas Meighan, the popular Paramount star, appears as a gangster and gunman in his latest Paramount picture, "The Frontier of the Stars."

This is by far the "roughest" role in which the virile star has been seen. Mr. Meighan has the role of Buck Leslie, leader of the Forsyth Street gang, which he holds because of his cleverness, utter disregard of danger and two capable fists. When he is fleeing from Phil Hoyt, a Bowery detective, Buck hides to the rooftops, and there runs upon Hilda Shea, sister-in-law of the detective a cripple, who has spent most of her life in a wheel chair on the roof.

From then on is unfolded an interesting study in two entirely different personalities, Hilda with her sweet philosophy of life and her belief that everything is good, and Buck with just as firm a conviction that there is no good. Faire Binney plays opposite the star.—Adv.

THE NEW ORDER

It is not long since it was the custom at race meets and similar entertainments for the management to let to some individual or individuals the right or concession to sell lunches and other refreshments to the crowd in attendance. The management received a fixed sum or a percentage of profit and some men or men reaped a harvest of silver, getting from the amusement seekers "all the traffic would stand." But the order changeth, at least it is so on Maui. In the old days every phase of a county fair or a race meet was commercialized. It was "get the money" first and public satisfaction and enjoyment afterward.

At the race meet Monday a striking difference from the old days was apparent and the difference was even greater than showed on the surface. No lunches as were served Monday would have been obtainable under the old order, no such candies, no such lemonade. Nor would there have been such service. The old way was to have perspiring, shouting, soiled aproned men pushing their way roughly through the stands, doling out paper wrapped parcels containing more or less dried out sandwiches. Contrast the old order with the dainty, cleanly, polite girls that served well prepared lunches in the grand stand at Kahului. Different? Rather. Such is the difference that is apparent.

It was at the last Maui Fair that the fair director announced that no charge for the lunch concession would be made but that the fair management reserved the right to supervise prices, to prevent overcharging. On the Fourth of July the race meet sought no revenue from the lunch and refreshment concessions. As a result two worthy charities benefitted materially, and the amusement seekers had better service than if they had been at the mercy of profit seeking individuals. High minded, large hearted women gave their time to the preparation of real, "home-cooked, home-made" lunches. Others made candy or lemonade and still others superintended the sales in the grounds all working for the community good not for personal profit. There was no overcharging and every feature of the arrangement was agreeable. Some of these women and girls were making willing sacrifices for a free dental clinic for the Kula Sanitarium, others for the Children's Homes.

In part the changed order has been made possible by the strong organization that runs the races, the Maui County Fair and Racing Association. That organization still finds it necessary to make the expenses of an undertaking, but it is able to do so on the admissions charged to the races or other entertainment and does not find it necessary to commercialize every feature connected with the affair. Give the public all the amusement they pay for, the best obtainable but do not permit any one to exploit the amusement seeking public is the policy in vogue on Maui. If a profit is to be made, let such profit go to the good of the community. There must, of course, be limits to the working out of the policy. It would not be practicable to work such a plan with shows and amusement features at the annual fair. The association cannot be expected to bring at its own expense shows and attractions from the mainland or the other Islands. From space let to exhibitors, from various amusement concessions as well as from gate receipts, expenses must be made and the grounds must be kept up and improved. But the keeping at the fore the thought that these are community affairs for the benefit of the community and that all receipts should so far as possible be devoted to community institutions and enterprises, is the long step forward that Maui has taken.

GOVERNOR FARRINGTON

Wallace R. Farrington is now the Governor of the Territory of Hawaii and on his accession Maui News extends to him its felicitations and hearty wishes for a successful administration, one that will advance and benefit the Territory and redound to his credit. It urges at the same time that personal and factional differences may be laid aside and that a united party and a united people, irrespective of party inclinations will lend to the new governor all possible cooperation for the public weal.

Governor Farrington was refused the support of the Territorial Committee on the ground that he was not a party man. Certainly he was not an organization man, at times at least, but there have been others, whose Republicanism is unquestioned even by the organization who have refused to be part and parcel of that organization.

When word comes from Washington that President Harding regards the Governor as "his personal representative in Hawaii" there comes an added reason for his being given an undivided support, for the putting aside of past differences. It can hardly be expected that he will name to office the men whose influence in the party organization or whose election to office he has consistently opposed, such could not be expected of a man of strong and honest convictions. But there is every reason for every supporter of the national administration to give support and allegiance to the appointee of the President. Such support at least, a stronger and more enthusiastic support, is possible, this paper hopes will be given to Governor Farrington.

TAFT CHIEF JUSTICE

President Harding's nomination of William Howard Taft to be chief justice of the United States Supreme Court is more than a well merited recognition of distinguished services performed for his country, means more than the naming to the court of a former President for it recognizes the fact that he is, probably, the foremost jurist in the United States today. It calls him to an office for which by character, by training, by inclination, he is eminently fitted. At the same time it realizes for Justice Taft the highest ambition he has cherished during his long public career. To him it means more than did his accession to the presidency for to a mind like that of Taft to head the nation's judiciary is an honor that overshadows even the greatest executive position.

While Taft has made successes in executive offices, as Governor of the Philippines, as a cabinet officer, as President of the United States, his inclinations have always drawn him in another direction, for his is one of the greatest judicial minds that the United States has known. It has been that judicial mind, perhaps more than anything else, that prevented his attaining so great a popularity as would have come to another for in every position he has occupied the judicial attitude has been apparent, an attitude the public could hardly understand. William Haward Taft has been a great man but he has been a great lawyer as well and to a great lawyer no earthly honor can be conceived as greater than the interpretation and administration of the laws of his land.

The Optimistic Pessimist

It used to be women who swapped recipes when they met. Now it is men who dissertate upon the merits of their own home brew and tell how they make it, boasting of the kick therein.

It is said that women, though efficient in filling men's places during the war broke down under the strain and 42 percent suffered ill health in consequence. They were not so experienced as men either in working or in shirking.

In the article by Rev. A. W. Palmer, "The Beloved Mountain," apparent credit for the existence of the Sanitarium if given to Dr. Durney. For its original start credit belongs to a great extent to Wm. F. Pogue and Dr. McConkey. Credit for its growth and up-building is rightly given to Dr. Durney.

Exception must be taken to New Freedom's assertion that the Salvation Army conducts constant campaigns of beggary with little or no results to show in tangible form at least in the salving or reforming of the down and outer. If the Salvation Army had done nothing outside of its boys and girls home in Honolulu it would still have an excellent record. For keeping down overhead expenses the Salvation Army is in a class all its own.

Selection of Harry Murray to be collector of the port of Honolulu is an excellent one. In the days when he was head of the Honolulu water and sewer department his efficiency was acknowledged. His opponents sole criticism seemed to be that he was a "practical politician." Practical he was, faithful to his party, also a master hand at electing others than himself. Murray has served during two wars and his most recent army record with the motor transportation department is one which does him credit.

Reports from Washington that Congress may offer as an alternative for the resolution permitting some Oriental immigration into Hawaii one permitting unrestricted European labor would hardly answer the purpose. Distance is practically prohibitive and the type of labor is not satisfactory, either. It's like asking for bread and receiving sawdust.

Important amendments to the Organic Act have been passed in connection with the Rehabilitation Bill. Among them is the harbor tolls provision in regard to which this paper was criticized by a Honolulu paper during the last session of the legislature for insisting that the wharf program should go slow until the amendment was secured.

Maui is to have the next Foresters' Convention and the order is already figuring on how to make the most creditable possible showing for itself and the Valley Isle.

MAUI TWENTY YEARS AGO

(From Maui News of July 6, 1901.)

The Maui Racing Association scored a success in its meet at the race track July 4, though the smallness of the purses and counter attractions at Hilo tended to reduce the attendance. Still the gate receipts amounted to $700. Those who stayed away thinking there would be no good races missed a whole lot.

A man eating shark is said to have been the cause of the death of Moses Anakalea, a member of the crew of the Monohi of Maunalei, Lanai, last Wednesday. In plain sight of the crew he was seen wading on a piece of coral while securing a boat that had gone adrift from the wreck of the steamer Golden Gate. Suddenly he threw up his arms and disappeared. A boat's crew sent to his assistance found no trace of him. He was a good swimmer and no other explanation for his disappearance other than the shark theory is satisfactory.

The City Market has notified its customers that on and after July 1, choice cuts of beef will be 18 cents a pound. Ordinary cuts will remain at the same price as at present.

Among the appropriations of the special session of the legislature was $40,000 for an electric light plant and system for Wailuku.

A new economy in motor car operation

The manufacturer of your automobile recommends, in the Instruction Book for your car, that the crankcase be drained out and flushed and then refilled with fresh oil at regular intervals.

This is necessary because engine operation causes a steady accumulation of road dust, carbon, fine metal particles and other impurities in the crankcase oil. This gritty oil circulates through your engine, impairs its performance and ultimately leads to rapid depreciation and repairs.

But cleaning the crankcase is a job generally disliked and neglected.

To meet this need, Modern Crankcase Cleaning Service has been established by first-class garages and other dealers co-operating with the Standard Oil Company. These garages and dealers use Calol Flushing Oil, the scientific agent that cleans out old oil, dirt, grit and other impurities and does not impair the lubricating efficiency of fresh oil used. The cleaned crankcase is refilled with the correct grade of Zerolene.

Look for the garage or dealer displaying the sign shown below—it means "Better operation and longer engine life."

Can Your Car Stop?

ANY automobile is able to stop, but this fact doesn't mean that all automobiles are in a safe condition.

If your brakes are severely worn they will not hold your car for an emergency stop as they should. And emergencies are the only times when your brakes really count.

Because John-Manville Non-Burn Asbestos brake lining is made of carefully selected material it will stop your car properly and maintain its efficiency long after ordinary lining has worn to a dangerous condition.

With the Alert Boy Scouts of Maui

stoner at the council headquarters at Wailuku. No troop will be allowed to do any special work without first getting permission from headquarters. All transportation and furnishing of meals must be met by the petitioners. Two weeks time should be given where a number of scouts are needed so as to give headquarters plenty of time to get notices to the troops. If these directions are followed out there will be no disappointments and the scouts will be able to do satisfactory work.

Scout Good Turns

The scouts did their usual good turn at the Maui County Fair Races on the Fourth of July. The Bronco Busters of Makawao were out in good numbers and did splendid service. They acted as orderlies, put up the race events on the score board, acted as ushers, packed barrels to the track for the cowboy races, and after the affair was all over gathered up the empty soda water bottles that were scattered around the fair grounds. And when I say scattered round, I mean just that. They were scattered from the gate to the stables. Talk about boys being careless some grown ups is also careless. Good work Makawao.

Makawao No. 6

Troop No. 6 Makawao had a special meeting on Saturday night and talked over the prospective trip to the Hana district. The full troop will not be able to go on account of the fact that many of the scouts fathers will need the horses during that time. As it now stands about ten scouts, the commissioner Mr. Childs and the guide will make up the party. This will be a big time for the troop at Makawao and will also be instrumental in awakening an interest in scouting in the Hana district. Kipahulu scouts are on tip toes and anxiously awaiting notice of the date when the cavalcade starts over the mountain. Did you ever hear real sweet boys voices singing the scout songs. Just wait until you have the pleasure of hearing these young cow kids, they certainly put the meadow larks to shame. This is no idle boast but the real thing.

Sunday the commissioner with Frank Pomba acting as auto pilot and guarded by two of the Makawao scouts, Pavia and Fernandez made a trip to the Kula scouts. Water boiling contest, scout pace and instruction in first aid was the program for the day.

Let Ye Forget

Many and various are the calls on the Boy Scouts of America for duties of all kinds. There is hardly a fair or a benefit of any kind that a call is not heard for help.

This article is for the benefit of those who at any time will want assistance from the Maui Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Remember that the troops are scattered all over Maui at the different towns and plantations and that the problem of transportation is a very serious one, and can not be met by the scouts or troops.

Remember that a scout is hungry. He has a strong and healthy appetite and has to eat three times a day.

Hence all gatherings or societies who want the of the scouts must send in a written request to the commis-

With Maui's Girl Scouts

Narcissus Troop

The troop had an excellent drill and meeting this week and says: "We are so proud of all our money in the treasury, $16.10, looks like fine work and just from dues, so we have paid up faithfully you can see."

"We hope to visit our sister scouts at Keahua next Monday if we can all get in the rambling Ford. We were glad to have a scout from Bougainvillea troop visit us today and hope to see her all the time during her stay in Kahului."

Paia

Friday held a pleasant surprise indeed for the Bougainvillea girls. When they gathered at the Kindergarten for their meeting they were greeted by the Morning Glory girls of Hamakua. Crowded into Miss Haylar's green car and the Ford which recently attempted to run away the happy crowd had arrived.

During the business meeting both guests and hostesses listened with bated breath to tales of what ten could be had in a girls' scout camp to be held late in the summer. Then followed a gay period of dancing, both troops enjoying it immensely. Next every one thronged out into the yard to enjoy dodge and swat ball and we learned that the troops were pretty evenly matched. Too soon it was time to pack the happy crowd in the homeward bound car, so with a verse of America followed by the Bougainvillea troop song and a few yells they were off. The hilarity lasted all the way home for the girls sang as they rolled along and the afternoon was voted a fine success.

Morning Glory

What hot Makawao. Competition is in the field. The Morning Glory girls are ready to show what fine batters and pitchers Hamakuaupo has. The girls hailed with joy Miss Walker's idea of a team and such fun as they did have practicing on Thursday afternoon.

Any one coming in the butter-fingers class was scorned and soon they hope to have a fine team.

During the meeting everyone worked with good will on their crests and made plans to pass their Tenderfoot tests within a short time. Then the plan to visit Paia was uncovered and arrangements made.

Haiku

Did you say girls are tired after working in the cannery all day? Well it so they certainly know how to live up to scout rules. Tuesday evening found girls from a half dozen of Maui's troops and a few from Honolulu gathered together for a good time.

Such hilarity over swat ball and from the speed with which the ball was thrown it looks as though we're going to have a dandy basket ball team soon. Then Duck on the Rock—with all small boys enthusiastically yelling.

Watch next week for a name for this troop, something to show that it is a combination of many troops. Best of all is the news that Miss Grace Crockett will be their captain. The girls are indeed mighty lucky. It was with regret that we saw the last rays of the sun leave and our games drew to a close.

Camping!!!

Who wants to go? Every one. Ask your captain about it.

Sweet Pea Troop

The Sweet Pea Troop had its meeting on July 5 with Miss Rosecrans as acting captain.

We talked about getting our uniforms and about a camping trip up O'ahu for two weeks. We hope many girls will go because this is a good chance for the Maui girl scouts to earn their second and first-class and other badges.

We hear that Hamakuaupo has a baseball team and are glad to learn it because now there will be somebody playing against us. Next week we are going to get a real ball and some gloves. In playing baseball after the meeting Makawao team won again. Say Haleakala, you had better work harder or you'll continue to lose against strong Makawao. When we started playing, the sun was hot and at the end of the game the players were perspiring. The game was a hard one because there were only a few girls present. Miss Rosecrans taught us the Virginia Reel.

Girl Scout Notes

Carnation troop members are not going to miss their fun just because they are working, for we start our night troop meetings next Monday evening in the old club house, Spreckelsville. Won't we enjoy it in the nice cool time of the day after work ing hard! We intend to have games after our meetings and keep right up to time with the work.

Roselani troop is showing fine work in basketball. They practice nearly every Tuesday evening and get a lot of good practice at putting the ball in the basket.

The members anticipate a good time at a private dance given by the Young Men's Club tomorrow, Saturday evening, where they were cordially invited to attend. They are also looking forward to a good beach party on their regular scout night next week, for two of the girls who are leaving the troop.

History and Growth Of Hypnotism Told

"Hypnotism" was the subject of Dr. J. H. M. Le-Apsley when he addressed to Society of Psychological Research Wednesday evening. The speaker took the subject because of the fact that at the previous meeting a demonstration of hypnotism had been presented. Dr. Le-Apsley told of a little less than a century and a half ago and of its development by Mesmer as Mesmerism, of the discoveries by Braid and of its development in two schools in France.

The speaker brought out the evidence to be found in hypnosis that there is a higher strata of intelligence, one that is responsive rather than initiative. He brought evidence to explode the assertion that a subject could not be made to perform any act contrary to his "fixed principles of life" and cited examples. He also touched briefly on the importance of continuing the study of the subject and of some of the good that could come from its use.

On his next visit Dr. Le-Apsley will take up the subject of formation of circles among the members, treating of the best methods and pointing out dangers that are to be avoided in experimental work. During the course of the year he will deliver the same lectures here that he delivers in Honolulu, including the public lectures delivered there, and some of the facts will depart somewhat from psychological topics. Such lectures will be opened to the public, but other meetings of the society and lectures before it will be for members and temporary members only except where a visitor may be brought by a member in which instance a fee will be charged.

Sale Of Lunches At Races Fine Success

Sale of lunches at the races netted for the free dental clinic for Kula Sanitarium about $275 and the service rendered to the public was much appreciated for never before have such good lunches been served at a price so reasonable as last Monday. Lady Macfarlane and her committee are receiving well deserved compliments on their achievements.

Much work had to be done well in advance of the Fourth to make sure of adequate supplies. Still more work had to be done the day and evening before in preparing food and the real drive came on Monday in connection with the service in the grounds. During the noon hour in a booth beneath the grand stand the rush was at its height. Plates of lunch went up into the grand stand by the score, handled by young girls while in front of the booth were hungry ones buying as fast as the heaped up plates of salad and sandwiches could be handed to them.

Lady Macfarlane for the committee and for herself extends thanks to the Wailuku, Kula and Honolulu stores that helped and to all others who assisted in the project.

Professor Bade Plans Visit Here During July

Among the distinguished visitors to Maui this summer will be prof. William Frederick Bade, noted scholar and traveller. Professor Bade is dean of the Pacific Theological Seminary in Berkeley, California, president of the Sierra Club whose members annually go in large numbers to all points of the high Sierras, and editor of the magazine published by that club. He is author of several theological works, one of which—"The Old Testament in the Light of Today"—published a few years ago, aroused a great deal of discussion among scholars all over the world. He is also an ornithologist of some repute and an acknowledged authority on the birds of California. His illustrated lectures on "Birds of California," "Camping in the High Sierras," and "A Thousand Years Before Abraham" are widely sought after, he will speak on "Bird Life and Mountaineering in the Sierra Nevada." Tuesday, July 26, at Kahului Community House for the benefit of the Kahului Community House funds. While in Kahului he will be the guest of Rev. and Mrs. George H. DeKay.

Professor Bade will visit Haleakala during his stay.

Storage Batteries Carry President Harding's Voice

Mr. C. G. Pell, Manager of the von Hamm-Young Company's Exide Batteries Station is up from Honolulu for a few days calling on the people who are using Exide Batteries and among the interesting things he has to say is the fact that Exide Batteries were used to help carry President Harding's voice to the Capitol to hear his inaugural speech.

An ingenious arrangement known as the amplifier system was used. This system consisted of an exceedingly delicate apparatus, electrically sensitized, and connected at one end to a receiver standing in front of the president. The other end was connected to immense horns, eleven feet in length through which, even those on the outskirts of the crowd at a distance of 500 feet, were enabled to hear distinctly the complete inaugural address.

The life-giving element in connection with this system which was said to be the largest ever attempted, was electricity. A constant supply of energy issuing from a dependable source was absolutely necessary. Naturally, the one source which could be depended upon implicitly, was storage battery power.

After careful consideration by prominent electrical engineers Exide Batteries were decided upon. Nine Exide Batteries were employed, varying in size from six-cell batteries such as one used ordinarily for automobile starting and lighting to a sixty-six cell battery similar to those used for propelling trucks, tractors and storage battery locomotives.

That these batteries did not "fall down on the job" is evidenced by the uninterrupted service they rendered until the last of the inaugural ceremonies was over.—Adv.

Children's Home Fund Continues Its Growth

Handsome additions to the Children's Homes fund were made during the past week as the result of the sale of soft drinks and refreshments and leis at the races on Monday and the entertainment by the pupils of St. Anthony's School, Tuesday evening.

The refreshment sale at the races was conducted by a committee headed by Mrs. Harry Bohr and the sale of leis by Mrs. Foster Robinson's committee. The illa leis were those not sold at the Kamehameha Day luau and they were augmented by flower leis. Such sales brought in about $300 from which some expenses will have to be deducted.

The entertainment at the Orpheum netted the fund $150.

Alexander Resigns—According to San Francisco reports, Wallace M. Alexander, president of Alexander & Baldwin, has resigned as chief executive of the California & Hawaiian Sugar Refining corporation in order that he may devote his full time to the activities of the San Francisco chamber of commerce of which he was recently elected president. His resignation from the refinery met opposition, but Mr. Alexander explained that his entire energies were needed by the chamber. It is his purpose to call more and more upon the member of the chamber of commerce for active community service.

Maui Retains Its Laurels at Polo

Home Team Defeats Oahu Blues 6 to 3 and Keeps Ball in Enemy's Territory Three Quarters of Play.

True to precedent Maui's polo quartet triumphed over Oahu in the match last Monday afternoon at the polo grounds, following the race meet at Kahului. It has been years since the blue floated above the yellow after a meeting of the old time rivals on this island. There was no overconfidence before the game for neither A. W. Collins nor David Fleming were to be in the play, but Maui expected to win and Maui did win. Caleb Burns and W. Clark played sterling golf polo so the absence of the others was in no sense noticeable in the result.

Maui 6—Oahu 3, was the score but the figures fail to show how much of an edge the home players had over their opponents, for fully three quarters of the play was in Oahu territory, the visitors being kept almost constantly on the defensive. Generally the game was one of the fastest ever seen here but all were handicapped by the fact that the droughty weather had affected the turf and there was more dust flying than should have been.

Once the pavement was left on the trip out to the grounds from Kahului cars plowed through deep dust and a great red cloud rose skyward as the motorists scudded out Makawao way and on the return journey as well. It was almost as if it had never rained on Maui. The field reached, the cars lined up at the sides until it seemed that every automobile of Central and East Maui must have journeyed thither. The field was generally good in appearance though somewhat yellowed and browned from the long dry spell. The dust was responsible for nearly all of the misses that occurred during the progress of the game.

Maui Scores

Maui scored first and made the only score in the first period, Sam Baldwin putting the ball between the posts after 7:39 of play, the new rules expanding the period until the ball hit the boards or crossed the line. In the second period, after the ball had gone back and forth, mostly in Oahu territory Oahu got it going toward the Maui line and carried it forward until Francis Brown shot the goal after 4:10 of play. But it took only 44 seconds for Maui to go into the lead again, Clark scoring. A third goal was scored in that period by Harold Erdman.

For Maui Sam Baldwin scored again in the third and fifth periods, and Caleb Burns in the fourth and in the final period each side added one. Frank Baldwin for Maui and Francis Brown for Oahu.

Time after time Maui would make clean shots over the heads of their opponents and all through the match the riding off and team work of Maui was easily superior.

For Maui Sam Baldwin played a wonderful game, Caleb Burns was strong on the defense and fast and accurate on the offense. Frank Baldwin played his usual steady, consistent, dependable style and Clark's playing was commendable, especially in the attack, showing well as compared with his team-mates.

Oahu's Best Work

Harold Castle, as always, played a brilliant game for Oahu but did not show so well as he generally does in home performances. Francis Brown was largely responsible that the Blues showed as well as they did, George H. Brown performed well and Erdman also deserves credit for steady consistent riding and driving. The Blues are reported to have played better than their usual exhibitions on the Kapiolani field but were distinctly outclassed.

Leandro Acknowledges His Decision Wrong

It's refreshing to find a man comes out and admits he has been in the wrong without quibbling, who recognizes the fallibility of man, even when a baseball umpire. F. J. Leandro will win greater respect than ever from players and fans as a result of a letter he has given Maui News for publication.

Fans will remember that in a game between the Vacs and Lahaina Curtis was called out at second for interference. The decision was criticized and Leandro wrote to American Sports Publishing Co., stating the case. The verdict is against Leandro but he gives the reply to the public just the same. It follows:

"New York, June 20, 1921.

"Mr. F. J. Leandro,
"Hauku, Maui.
"My Dear Sir:—I am delighted to answer your queries in regard to base ball.

"2. The Umpire in Chief called the runner out who crossed in front of a shortstop who was trying for a ground ball but the shortstop got the ball and threw the batter out at first base. Should a double play be allowed?
"No. If the shortstop threw the batter out how could there have been interference on the part of the runner? The play was to get the batter as I would understand it and the play was successful. If the shortstop could field sufficiently well to throw the batter out at first base he could not have been interfered with very seriously. It is not quite logical to give an interference play when a man is put out on the very play for which interference is claimed.

"2—It is not a balk if the pitcher steps off the rubber to throw to bases to retire a runner. That is the very requirement which the rules place upon him.

"Sincerely,
"JOHN B. FOSTER."

Honolulu Crews Sweep Hilo Harbor Waters

Honolulu crews took all the first honors in the races at Hilo on the Fourth. Without detracting from the credit of the Honoluluans for their performances it may be said the results might have been different had there been harmony in the Hilo camp and had not the Big Island entered so many crews but combined the best men in a smaller number of boats. In the senior race Myrtle won by a half length from the Hilo crew with Healan third and the Royal Hawaiians fourth.

In the junior event honors went to Healan, Hilo second and Myrtle third an easy win by eighth lengths.

Myrtle took the Freshman race from the Hilo crew with four lengths of clear water between them.

Tennis

Play in the All-Maui men's singles championship has proceeded into the third round and some splendidly contested matches have been seen, matches where sets have run into extra games. Stock to Leapers—Rev. S. K. Kamaiopili admits that on a visit to Kaunapapa, the leper settlement, he sold stock to lepers but says that owing to the fact that he is a director in the company patients asked him, after the services he held at the settlement to sell shares to them. It was at first said it was old stock that was sold but they were in a land concern in Honolulu.
