PLANTATION LABOR.

Under the heading of "The Brighter Side," in last evening's BULLETIN, I think you over-estimate the opposition that could be brought to bear in the ensuing Legislature against any measure which the planting interest might bring forward, either on the labor, or any other question. Outside of the fourteen or so members of the so-called "Liberal" party, the planters will have everything their own way, and even with the alleged Liberals, the labor question, at any rate, is quite safe for the planters. The "extremists" who oppose unrestricted immigration of Asiatics have thrown up the sponge and will vacate the battlefield in ample time for the planters to cover every point of vantage, and when the gauge of battle is formulated in the coming Legislature on the introduction of coolies, the Noble legislative planter who skirmishes around in search of an opponent will feel quite safe, for there will not be a man inside or outside of the House who could feel that there is any longer in this community the material out of which to construct a party in opposition. The unrestricted immigration of Japanese is fast filling up the country with artisans who will rival the Chinese in working at tailoring and other business from seven a.
m. to nine p. m.; already a company of them has started in Nuuanu street, and there is every indication that before another year the Japanese retail storekeepers will outnumber those of European and American birth.

As an agricultural laborer the Jap is estimated at but little over half the labor-power of an average European; but as a mechanic he is a keen competitor, and here is a future for him. HORNBYHAND.

BOW AT JOHN BULL.

London, April 19.—A despatch from Tehran says it is rumored that Russia has offered an advance to enable the Government to pay the Imperial Tobacco Corporation of Persia (limited), an English company, the indemnity promised for the withdrawal of the tobacco monopoly granted to that company, thus liberating Persia from all pecuniary obligation to Great Britain. The offer will likely be accepted.

Persia will offer the customs receipts of the country as security for the loan. The opponents of British influence in Persia predict the speedy annihilation of such influence in the country. The granting of the tobacco monopoly has aroused great indignation in Persia. The mollahs, or priests, started a crusade against the Government, and a number of serious disturbances have occurred. The priests forbade the use of tobacco, and their orders were universally obeyed.

Finally the Government yielding to the popular agitation, cancelled the concession. It was agreed to pay the company holding the monopoly $500,000. That amount Russia now offers to advance. This offer and its probable acceptance is taken as another indication of growing Russian influence in Persia.

GILBERT ISLANDERS FOR MEXICO.

There seems to be little or no doubt that the steamer Montserrat, which sails to-day, is engaged for the conveying of a party of 500 contract laborers from the Gilbert Islands to the coffee plantations at San Benito, Mexico. Ostensibly the Montserrat is going up to Nansinno to load a cargo of coal. When a Call reporter visited her yesterday, however, he found that she was being loaded with a quantity of provisions of a kind suitable for consumption by Pacific islanders and infants, and it was also apparent that three of the missing boats of the ship had been replaced by new surfboats of the kind used on the Mexican coast, where coffee is transferred to vessels in the open roadstead. Last October the brigantine Tabiti, sailing from this port, sought to convey 400 of the Gilbert islanders to San Benito, but the vessel was found on the Mexican coast, where coffee is transferred to vessels in the open roadstead. Last October the brigantine

Daily Bulletin

Pledged to neither Sect nor Party, But established for the benefit of all.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 4, 1892.

Mr. Pain, manager of the Hawaiian Tramways Co., informs us that the electric five-minute service, which the Advertiser tantalized the hack men with, is only one of that paper's inventions.

After the account of the Wyoming trouble, which appeared with late news from the scene, was in type for Tuesday's issue and a comment thereon as well, a later paper came to hand with an account throwing all the blame on the cattlemen. This latter is given in this issue, and between the two readers may strike a balance for themselves. It is a disgraceful business anyway.

"Hornyhand" does not touch the point of our reference to the labor question. What the "extremists" were blamed for, chiefly, was their unreasoning and demagogical howl against an alternative proposed to Chinese and Japanese immigration. It is laughable to have the "Liberals" set up as anti-Asiatic champions. There was not one in ten of their candidates who would not hold up both hands for the Chinese when it came to the pinch.

It is reported that the United States steamer Thetis is out on a new survey for the Hawaiian cable. If the route is to Hilo and, in case of proving better than that surveyed to Honolulu, it be adopted, there would be an absolute necessity to have an inter-island cable laid. Indeed, a cable to Hilo would be all but useless without an inter-island cable, unless mail communications between Honolulu and Hilo were much more frequent than at present.

AN ECONOMIC PROBLEM.

There are some things hard to understand in connection with the present dull times and consequent dearth of employment. One of these puzzles is the scarcity of articles of domestic consumption, which are easy of production and a common resource of people of limited means. For instance, fowls and eggs, both being at famine prices and in supply not equal to the demand. Of these articles the Hawaiian Hotel imported last month $200 worth from San Francisco, getting eggs after all charges were paid a great deal cheaper than the home product. One would think that the Portuguese colony alone, especially while so many of its men are out of their accustomed employment, would be able to more than supply the market with fowls and eggs, besides doing a little in the way of producing vegetable supplies. The Chinese, with their large legitimate and illegitimate fowl industry, are not adequately supplying the market with either fowls or eggs, and but poorly fill the wants of the inhabitants with their other specialty of vegetables. There is no doubt that one of the reasons for the scarcity of hen-coop products is the constant risk to everyone attempting to keep fowls of having them stolen by Chinese. The audacity of the thieves has become colossal with many years of practice. When the feathered plunder is picked up in mornings by the bagful, as if the thieves had stolen more than they could carry away, it is about time that citizens took some combined action to suppress the marauders by means that will be permanently effective. Still the stealing by Chinese is hardly a complete reason for the scarcity of such readily marketable products, at a time when a great many families are in straits for the means of livelihood. There are few cases in the Punchbowl settlement, wherein someone could not be spared to sleep with the chickens at night.

SCIENCE OF GOVERNMENT.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—

Appropos of the discussion going on at the present time in regard to annexation, free trade, etc., I ask you for space in your valuable paper for this article. I do not think it would be wise to attempt any radical change in our present form of government, for the reason that your citizens, not unlike the people of other countries, are not sufficiently instructed in the principles of political economy. It would only give us an opportunity to make laws that time would prove to be based upon the quicksands of falsehood. If we have any change let it be based upon the rock of eternal truth. We cannot afford to try an experimental government, and all rational-minded men will admit that we have no perfect government to take as a model, and that to make intelligent laws it is necessary to have an intelligent constituency. There is only one way that you can have an intelligent voting population, and that is in teaching them the science of government. It is not a herculean task to do that. It can be accomplished. The easiest way and most pleasant (my opinion being based upon practical experience) would be to organize a society, buy all the acknowledged writers on political economy, elect your officers, appoint a committee to draw up a list of subjects—committee to appoint members to deliver papers on subjects chosen—meet once a week, let the secretary give the subject to the press the day before meeting, the member delivering the paper to furnish a duplicate to the press. The press being a public educator, I am sure the papers would be pleased to assist in so grand a work. In that way all of your reading public would get the benefit of the best thought of the past and present upon a science that is all but a dead letter to otherwise gifted people. We are not an exception to the rule, but we should take a business view of the case. If a business man were going to make a venture he would avail himself of all the experience of others, by that means he could avoid the pitfalls that caused his predecessors to fail.

It is a well-known fact that it takes years to cause a change in the fundamental principles of a government, as there is always a class of the laissez faire kind that will put all the obstruction they can in the way of any kind of reform. Another well-known fact is that radical legislation is always detrimental to a country, for a time at least. Consequently it behooves us as a people to first make ourselves masters of the different systems of government at present in existence, and what reforms other people are seeking to inaugurate, etc. Until we have thoroughly digested all the information that can be had on the subject we will not be capable of forming an intelligent government, but if we do inform ourselves we have it in our power to form a government that will be the envy and study of the whole world. If we can solve the problem of government we will hold a historical position that Rome in all her glory would be as a star to the sun. We have it in our power to hold the proudest position of any nation in the world. Let us avail ourselves of our natural opportunities and the homage of the world is ours. You will probably say that if it were so easy of accomplishment, why have not intelligent nations seen the truth and adopted it long ago? My answer is, "Ill fares the land to hastening ills a prey, where wealth accumulates and men decay." In older countries the masses are in poverty and largely ignorant. All known governments are the very same of disorder. Disorder is disease. If the nation suffers from disease, then the individual suffers. Intelligence discovers the cause, restores the natural order, and disease disappears. So we suffer by a departure from the natural order in which men and nations should exist. It is a maxim that order is heaven's first law. In the realm of nature, where the hand and voice cannot reach, we find universal order. Indeed our responsibilities are great. Are we equal to the demands of the age; are we competent? All those wishing to take part in this noble work, I would like to meet with them.

BEETHOVEN.

Lecture delivered by F. M. English at the Y. M. C. A. Hall.

A large audience assembled at the Y. M. C. A. Hall last evening to listen to a lecture by F. M. English, B. A., on Beethoven. The lecture was interspersed with the following selections:—

1. Anthem—"Come Holy Ghost," Choir of Boys.
2. Solo—"There is a Green Hill," Master R. Mist.
3. Trio in E (adagio), Beethoven Misses McGrew and Castle and Mr. English.
4. Song, Beethoven Mr. Paul Isenberg.
5. Sonata—"Moonlight," Beethoven Miss C. Castle.
6. Song—"Adelaide," Beethoven Mr. Harry von Holt.
7. Anthem—"Cast Thy Burden," Choir of Boys.

The lecturer, in his opening remarks, invited all boys with good voices to join his singing class, which is entirely free.

In a very interesting manner Mr. English then traced the life of the distinguished musician from his birth at Bonn in 1770, to his death at Vienna in 1827. He gave a very vivid description of the early life and work of Beethoven, his peculiar character and the difficulties under which he labored. The account given of the great trial of Beethoven's life—his deafness—was very pathetic.

During the lecture, Mr. English gave a very ingenious parallel to a sonata, showing how music can be made to adapt itself to the various passions and emotions of humanity.

The musical part of the entertainment was extremely good. The singing of the boys and their deportment before an audience showed very careful training. The solo of Master Robert Mist was very pleasing; he has a very sweet voice, and will, in all probability, become a great singer. The audience loudly called for an encore to his song.

Mr. Paul Isenberg sang in his usual good style and was compelled to respond to a call for another song.

Mr. Harry von Holt sang "Adelaide" with great good taste. The trio in E, brought down the house. Miss McGrew's violin contains tears and smiles which that talented young lady can produce at will.

The "Moonlight Sonata" was performed by Miss Carrie Castle in a masterly style; and, with the lights turned down, and accompanied by the grand diapason of the elements, thoroughly enchanted the audience.

This is the third lecture delivered by Mr. English on the great composers, and it is much to be hoped that Honolulu music lovers will have several other treats of a like nature.

FIRE POLICE.

The "fine body" had an attendance of 25 last night in spite of the weather. Thos. Krouse, captain, presided. J. Herlihy acted as secretary in the absence of H. Armistage. Neil Boyle reported from the flag committee, that the work had been done, and presented bills—From Geo. Townsend of $35 for making the flag, and from F. H. Redward of $15 for making the pole. The company elected W. W. Wright, L. H. Dee and Geo. Bruns by ballot as a committee to procure furniture for the new hall. It will be necessary for this committee to solicit subscriptions from the business community. As the fire police fill a long felt want in the Fire Department, in keeping the way clear for the firemen and preventing pilfering, it is to be hoped there will be a generous response to their appeal.

"German Syrup"

The majority of well-read physicians now believe that Consumption is a germ disease. In other words, instead of being in the constitution itself it is caused by innumerable small creatures living in the lungs having no business there and eating them away as caterpillars do the leaves of trees. The phlegm that is coughed up is those parts of the lungs which have been gnawed off and destroyed. These little bacilli, as the germs are called, are too small to be seen with the naked eye, but they are very much alive just the same, and enter the body in our food, in the air we breathe, and through the pores of the skin. Thence they get into the blood and finally arrive at the lungs where they fasten and increase with frightful rapidity. Then German Syrup comes in, loosens them, kills them, expels them, heals the places they leave, and so nourishes and soothes that, in a short time consumptives become germ-proof and well.

throwing Cooper out. Cooper tried to save himself by throwing up his of his ribs was broken and another cracked. Notwithstanding this pain-

COMMENTS ON SPORTS.

Thirteen men and five ball players met on the diamond on Saturday and fumbled the ball for an hour and a half, except during two intermissions, when they resolved themselves into an ambulance corps to look after the wounded. Last year the Honolulu club played some close games with the "poor crippled Hawaiis," and for that reason, perhaps, a large number of people was present on Saturday to see these two clubs play. Jimmy Lemon, too, may have had friends who wanted to see how he would acquit himself in the box as successor to Willie Lucas. There may have been other reasons for the crowd being there, but those who went to see a good game of ball remained to witness a "Comedy of Errors."

Palmer Woods had improved since the game with the Crescents, and surprised the champions during six innings with the curve he put on the ball; twice Lucas left the plate in utter disgust at having been fanned out. But there were surprises for Woods. E. Wodehouse caught the ball fairly on the stick and made a two base hit, while Lucas, who had been very "malty" at the bat, made a three bagger. Charlie Wilder was an interested spectator and occupied a position between second and third bases where the short stop usually stands. Several times he took on the expression of an anxious ball player, but it ended in the facial demonstration. He bought a book entitled,
"How to Play Ball," on Monday, and is spending his leisure hours this week reading up. He has also employed a small boy to throw balls at him. Chan. Wilder did not play his usual good game behind the bat, though he got through the nine innings without a passed ball.

Jimmy Lemon will, in time, make a good pitcher. At the beginning of the game he showed some nervousness, but it soon wore off. J. O.
Carter failed to make a single volcano hit, though no errors were scored against him. Harry Whitney played ball like a—well, not as he did a few seasons ago. Either the new players are very much better than those of the old school or the "vets" are retrograding. Who, two years ago, would have expected Hay Wodehouse to lead the score in the matter of errors? He attributes all his bad playing on Saturday to having been struck in the back with a ball during the practice period. Accepting his statement as correct, Hay does not put up the same good ball as of old.
Conradt is an Al man in left field, and runs bases well until he gets to third, where his gait seems to be afflicted with an impediment. The real difficulty was not known until Willie Lucas went to the base and discovered that Simmons had hypnotized him.

Palmer Woods and Thompson might have beaten the Honolulu nine had they received any support from the men in the other positions, or if Dan's thought waves had been more active. Up to the end of the sixth innings the game was theirs, but the accidents to Prince Cupid and Price were such as to weaken the nine. Cupid was relieved by Friedenberg, whose bad judgment lost him the opportunity to put two men out on fly balls. Thompson, at short stop, is a faithful player, and can give points to any other man in the league in the same position. His work as "coach" is excellent and is of great assistance to the base runners. The double plays by Thompson, Keohokalole and Pryce and Thompson and Keohokalole were features of the game.

Next Saturday the Kamehamehas and Hawaiis play their first game of the season. Owing to the accidents to Pryce and Keohokalole of the Hawaiis, their nine will be as follows: Woods, p.; Pryce, c.; Keohokalole, 1b.; Simmons, 2b.; Thompson, ss.; Friedenberg, 3b.; Rosa, r.f.; Lawe-lawe, c.f., and Dan, l.f.

After the game last week the men met and decided to practice every afternoon this week in the hopes of defeating the students.

The race between the Healanis and Myrtle boat clubs' junior crews was arranged last Thursday to take place on May 24 and will attract a great deal of attention on account of the rivalry that has existed between the clubs for some time. I expect this statement to be denied but the fact remains.

The Healanis crew has gone into active training and will take a spin each day until the time of the race.
As the Myrtles have been rowing every day since the race on March 17, when they won the championship, it behooves their opponents in the next race to keep everlastingly at it if they want to win. The crews on the 24th will be:

HEALANI MYRTLE.

Atkinson, Sorenson,
Willis, Giles,
Ward, Crane,
Woods, Argus,
Holt, Augus,
Walker, Dexter.

The Myrtle crew have already defeated the Healanis four-oared crew and on last regatta the same crew, with one exception, took the cup.
They pull well together and with confidence which nothing but practice can give. The Healanis crew is perhaps a little heavier and undoubtedly will improve with practice.
They are a little awkward in the new boat, but have some time left to steady down.

One feature of the day will be the christening of the new boat, which is to take place immediately before the race.

The Healanis' new boat has proved all that could be desired and next month the club ought to start a crew for the next regatta.

As so much interest is now being taken in bicycling more frequent races would be welcomed by all lovers of the sport. The water cart nuisance has been abated and the road supervisor is putting the roads in excellent condition for the people who use the wheel for either pleasure or business, but the wheelmen have grown so in numbers that better and permanent arrangements should be made for racing. Among the Wheelmen's club there is a movement on foot to have the base ball association make a track around the ball ground. This could be done without interfering in any way with the players or injury to the grounds. A race before the ball game would have a tendency to attract more people to the grounds and would be interesting to every one present. If the agents of the Columbia Roadster and the English Safety could be induced to offer prizes the races would no doubt be exciting.

Interest in target shooting will be revived in the course of the next few weeks. Messrs. Williams, Dodge and Wall, the committee appointed to revise the by-laws of the Honolulu Rifle Association, will meet to-morrow night and decide definitely upon some of the most necessary changes to be made. When the rifle range committee can be induced to rid the range of the lantern which now covers the targets, active work will begin and lovers of target shooting may have an opportunity to test their skill. The next match of any note will be for the mid-range championship and will be shot on the Fourth of July.

It is the desire of the association to arrange matches in classes other than those now in existence, but, unfortunately, they have no prizes to offer. Several firms in the city have donated trophies and thereby encouraged men to become good marksmen who scarcely knew which end of the gun held the cartridge. Three more prizes to cost say fifty dollars each would enable the Association to carry out their plans. I have no doubt this amount could be raised by subscription provided the marksmen would contribute their portion. The medals, or whatever is selected, should be called the "Citizen's Prize," and shot for in certain classes each year.
There is no reason why the trophy should ever become the permanent property of the winner. Under the circumstances there should be glory enough in being the holder of it for a year, or until some one else would win it.

STRANDING OF THE DREDGE.

Driven on the Reef by Tuesday Night's Storm.

The monster dredge was towed out into the channel yesterday morning.
Superintendent L. G. Young believing it the calmest day that presented itself since the start. The pipes were connected and at noon the dredge was working beautifully pumping up thick sand in large quantities.

It commenced to blow a little after 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and shortly after the pipe line was opened to allow the bark Paul Isenberg to pass out. When the tug returned from towing the bark out, Captain Young had not cleared the pontoons and was unable to hail the tug. The swell commenced to rise about this time and several of the pipes on the pontoons jumped and disappeared in the water. The wind also rose and at 6:45 o'clock several whistles were blown from the dredge to call the tug out.

The center anchoring spud snapped at 7:15 o'clock and the huge bulk commenced to drift to the Ewa side of the channel. An answer was received from the tug towing a boat which was sent ashore, saying that the delay was owing to Engineer Farnsworth not having arrived. The tug did not get out to the dredge till after 8 o'clock, and then it was too late, for the dredge was stuck fast on a sand bank inside the swell below the light house. The tug could not get near enough to have a line passed, and so in the rain and fog a boat was sent from the dredge with the strongest rope they had on board.
This was accomplished after much difficulty. Another spud was dropped and about twelve feet of it broke off. Another mishap happened, a cog wheel breaking. The dredge grounded on coral sand in three and a half feet of water without a thump.
The men on board did not feel it striking the ground.

After mighty efforts to pull her off the tug Eleu returned to port after 10 o'clock. Another effort was made this morning, but it was a failure.
The dredge has seven anchors down now, and is stationary. Ten pipes are suspended below water, each end hanging on a pontoon. Parts of the spuds are lying in four feet of water, their appearance fully showing the great strain they had failed to withstand. The pontoons were found all over the harbor this morning, none of them being missing. No serious damage was sustained by the dredge and about 9 or 10 o'clock to-night, when it is high tide, she will be towed off and brought into port. She lies directly opposite the foot of Richards street.

A GREAT STORM.

The symptoms of an approaching storm early yesterday afternoon were apparent to nearly everybody with any pretension to meteorological prescience. As evening approached the wind began piping up against the setting sun with a southerly bias.
At seven o'clock the stored-up electricity of many suffering weeks of sultry southerly weather began to break forth in vivid flashes from many points in the clouded sky.
Light showers began about the same time at various places in the city's environs.

Toward nine o'clock the rain became general and heavy, and frequent flashes of lightning were followed by loud peals of thunder. The storm was at its height over town shortly after ten o'clock, the thunder being only from six to eight seconds after the lightning. Still keeping its direction from the southwest the tempest receded over the Manoa and Palolo mountains. The focus of precipitation seemed to be in the region of Diamond Head, as the record from Waikiki will show. Long after the fury of the elements had been spent, there was an almost constant glare of lightning, the sheeted flashes at midnight coming at intervals of one or two seconds.

The main streets running parallel with the sea—such as King and Beretania—were flooded. Cross streets on the hillsides were badly torn by the streams from Punchbowl slopes.
A car was early stuck on Beretania street, stopping the last few cars on the time table. At Waikiki the rainfall is reported as 7 inches; the race course in the Park was submerged; at Makiki reservoir, 4.36 inches; at the Electric Light station, Nuuanu, 2.20 inches. Probably an average of 4 inches fell on the city plot. Rain began at Ewa plantation before 5 o'clock in the evening. It is feared that the ripening rice crops over the island have been damaged.

"Never Have Them Now,"

Said a gentleman in conversation, speaking of those troublesome things —Corns. The reason why was quite evident. He had used some of our new corn exterminator. This is a simple harmless remedy, easily applied and very effective, removing even the roots of the corn without pain.
Do you use soap? We haven't said anything about soap for two months.
Most of our customers procured a large supply during our soap week—but is it not most washed away by this time? We think so and have a new line of soap to offer—Jas. S. Kirk & Co.'s. These soaps are a boon for these dull times which some complain about—their cheap in price but of very good quality. Colgate & Co. are well represented in the soap line in our store. We have the famous "Good Morning" soap, too. This is Pears' and if you will read their advertisements carefully you'll be convinced of its superiority to any other.

We have all sorts of shaving soaps, also. Our assortment of lather brushes is daily growing less but yet have a fine lot from which you can make your selection. We keep shaving cups, too.

WAR OF EXTERMINATION.

Baron Cattlemen Consented to Wipe Out Ranchers.

The following is a special despatch to the San Francisco Examiner, regarding the trouble in Wyoming: Douglass, (Wyo.), April 19.— Every day new and startling developments come to light in this terrible business up north. It now seems that the plot was laid by the cattlemen more than two years ago, or previous to the meeting of the Legislature in January, 1891, and ever since that time they have steadily perfected their plans to seize stock belonging to settlers and run the ranchmen out of the country, and they have been very systematic in their work. They quietly had a law enacted by the last Legislature, creating what is known as a board of livestock commissioners and placing $10,000 in cold cash of the State funds at their disposal. The act provided that they could use said funds as they, the three Commissioners, saw proper, and could employ inspectors and station them within or without the State, with authority to seize and sell all cattle shipped as estray and turn the money over to the livestock commissioners to be paid to the owners upon proper proof.

The bill was so adroitly framed that it looked innocent enough upon its face, as it purported to protect all stock-owners, large or small, from thieves, and to provide a way whereby moneys received on the sale of cattle shipped as estrays should reach its rightful owner. The Governor appointed as such Commissioners J. W. Hammond of Cheyenne, Charles Hecht of Laramie and W. C. Irvine of Converse county.
The latter is resident manager of the Ogallala Cattle Company, of which Paxton and Gallagher of Omaha are large stockholders, by the way.

CONFISCATION OF PROPERTY.

No sooner were said Commissioners appointed than they decreed that nearly all ranchmen and all cowpunchers who had ever voluntarily quit and located a government claim to make for himself a home and secure a little competence were rustlers and thieves, and their cattle, no matter how honestly acquired, were declared estrays, and when ranchmen shipped them to market they were seized and sold accordingly, and the money sent to the Stock Commission at Cheyenne. When the ranchmen to whom it belonged demanded it they were insultingly informed that they had been "blackballed," or listed as thieves and rustlers; that their cattle had been declared estrays under the law, and told to get their money if they could. That settled it. The ranchmen all over this section are comparatively poor, and to go into litigation meant inevitable ruin. They had no money to pay attorneys' fees and court expenses, while the commissioners had $10,000 of the settlers' own money to fight them with.

The next move was to engage correspondents at Cheyenne and other central points to send out biased and sensational press reports to prejudice the public against the settlers. The press was made the medium of distribution and the large daily newspapers were filled with accounts of outrages committed upon big stockmen by so-called rustlers or settlers.

A TISSUE OF LIES.

It was false in each and every report, from beginning to end. It was a lie manufactured out of whole cloth by paid correspondents in Cheyenne, Douglass, Buffalo and Billings, Mont. It was done to create prejudice against the settlers and a sympathy for the stockmen and to prepare the public mind and pulse for just what has occurred in Johnson county. Your correspondent is prepared to prove that there has been no rustling or preying upon the herds of big stockmen during the past eighteen months in Converse county.
Two years ago the last rustler here was sent to the penitentiary at Joliet for six years, and is there yet. There has been a little petty thieving by people in towns along the railroad who were too indolent to work and had to have meat to live on, or by some rounder who got broke and wanted a little money to blow in on a gambling table and killed a beef to sell to local butchers. But even then he was more liable to kill the domestic stock belonging to the settler than the range stock of the cattle Baron.

HIGH-HANDS OUTRAGES.

It is possible that some poor settler has occasionally killed a range calf or yearling to keep his wife and children from suffering with hunger, but even if that is true it does not justify the recent brutal butcheries of Wolcott and Irvine and their gang in Johnson county. These press reports of lawlessness and cattle-killing in Converse and Johnson counties are absolutely and unqualifiedly false. No cows have been killed in order to secure their calves, and no changing of brands has been done upon the range except by the big outfits themselves or their hirelings and everybody here knows it. They cannot show a single instance where a "Range Baron" or a "Cattle King," whatever he may be called, has ever been assaulted, killed or personally injured by a settler or so-called rustler. All the outrages have been by the other side.

Two years ago innocent Jim Averill and Ella Watson were taken from their homes on the Sweetwater in open daylight and brutally murdered by big stockmen, who made no attempt to conceal their identity. They were never punished.

Last year Tom Waggoner was taken from his home and family in broad daylight and hung. It is well known who did it, yet the murderers were not even apprehended.

A little later a band of stockmen attacked Champion and Gilbertson at their cabin on Powder river, the same ranch where the massacre occurred last week, but were repulsed. One of them was shot through the lungs, was taken to Gillette, sent to Texas, made a full confession and died. Of all this Sheriff Angus had positive proof. Joe Elliott, one of the murderers in Fort McKinney, is under indictment and bonds for the attempted killing of Champion and Gilbertson. Champion was the principal witness against him, hence the recent killing of Champion.

Tisdale and Jones were cowardly shot in the back. Frank Canton, now a prisoner at Fort McKinney, is under $30,000 bonds for the murder.
The recent murders by Wolcott and mob are too fresh to need repetition.
Let the stockmen point to a single instance where one of their class has ever been killed by a settler or so-called rustler. Who now needs executive or military protection? Is it the stockmen in Cheyenne, or those in Fort McKinney, or the poor homesteaders of Johnson and Converse counties?

FEARS OF THE TRUST.

It is announced that Claus Spreckels intends to devote his attention hereafter to the management of his San Francisco refinery and his Hawaiian sugar plantations. Some of the Philadelphia papers begin to express fears that the Sugar Trust may at any time, either for curtailment of output or other reasons, shut down the Philadelphia refineries. The payrolls of the plants absorbed by the Trust have aggregated $5,500,- 000 a year, and a shutdown would mean the loss of that amount in local wages and the putting of 5000 employees out of employment.—New York Recorder.

Mr. J. P. Blaize, an extensive real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of that state during a recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Blaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his return he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaize sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and that in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines.
Mr. Blaize regards his cure as simply wonderful. Fifty-cent bottles for sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith
