"You see," he explained, as he showed her the wishbone, "you take hold there and I'll take hold here. Then we must both make a wish and pull, and when it breaks the one who has the bigger part of it will have his or her wish gratified."

"But I don't know what to wish for," she protested.

"Oh, you can think of something," he added.

"No, I can't," she replied; "I can't think of anything I want very much."

"Well, I'll wish for you," he exclaimed.

"Will you, really?" she asked.

"Yes."

"Well, then, there's no use fooling with the old wishbone," she interrupted, with a glad smile, "you can have me."—Comic Cuts.

BUSINESS LOCALS.

Mens ready made pants at $1 per pair at Kerr's.

The only place in town to get genuine Cambridge Pork Sausages is at Jos. Tinker's City Meat Market, Nuuanu street, opposite Chaplain Lane. Telephone 289.

Bicycle boys remember that we have the finest brews of Buffalo Beer and the Pabst genial shandy gaff at the Royal, Pacific and Cosmopolitan and with our interchangeable checks you can take a turn around the blocks between refreshments.

Statistically inclined tourist (to native)—"What is the death-rate here?" Native—"same as it is everywhere else—one death for every inhabitant." Jim Dodd's Enterprise Book at the Pantheon is a better life preservative for the rate is two for a quarter.

At the Royal Saloon there is a constant rush for the celebrated beer which George Hawkins taps. "Bob" French, the nestor of Honolulu's mixologists is now in the Royal Saloon where he greets his hosts of friends with his affable smile of welcome.

One ounce of prevention is better than ten ounces of cure. The Empire boasts of infallible remedies against the varioloid. Wieland beer on draft beats vaccination, and Doctor Charlie Andrew presides over the finest stock of "remedies" that can be found in town. All for medicinal purposes—and cash.

The Anchor Saloon has the only original Seattle bock beer on tap. This superior beer was received by the Warrimoo and will be the drink of the hour during the next two months. Paddy Ryan claims that it was want of bock beer which made Pompadour succumb to the Australian Kangaroo. The original "bock" is invigorating, healthy and refreshing.

HAWAII AND JAPAN.

An overweening confidence in their ability to force Hawaii into the system of American States has involved "the best government these islands ever had" in very serious trouble with the Empire of Japan.

To be in line with the States of the American Union, or from lack of ability to frame their own statutes Mr. Dole's legislators have been copying the laws of the United States, without reference to existing treaties with other powers, and in blissful disregard of the fact that the United States has an army and navy and gigantic resources to enforce laws that override treaty stipulations, when the greatest good of the greatest number of Americans seems to demand such a questionable course.

The Japan Mail treats the action of this "funny little republic" which action was based upon the decision of our Supreme Court, in the following language:

"It will be at once apparent that a very curious consequence is involved in this decision, namely, that a Collector of Customs, being beyond the periphery of the law in respect of his conduct when applying the Immigration Act, cannot be legally arraigned whatever step he may take. If, for example, in examining an immigrant, he resorts to practices criminal under ordinary circumstances, he can still claim immunity from penal indictment. On the other hand, if an immigrant, whose title to land has been denied by the Collector, suffers wrong at the hands of an ordinary Hawaiian citizen, will the law courts of Hawaii refuse redress on the ground that the injured alien has not obtained due permission to land in Hawaii? These questions seem more or less academic, but it is beyond all doubt that Hawaii is not competent to decide for herself when and where within her territory privileges secured by treaty shall be enjoyable. There is a universally recognized custom in such matters, and no State has arbitrary power to depart from it."

It is well known that the examination of the immigrants, particularly in the case of those arriving by the Shinsui Maru, was the rankest outrage. The Japanese Legation here was in possession of the facts of the examination and no doubt forwarded them to the home government. It was felt, even by the friends of Mr. Dole, that in going behind the actual possession of the statutory sum which the law requires of immigrants, this Government was committing a grave mistake; one that would have to be defended under our laws and in accordance with diplomatic usage.

The gravity of the situation will be best understood by a careful reading of the second article of our treaty with Japan, which reads as follows:

"Article II. The subjects of each of the two high contracting parties, respectively, shall have the liberty and security to come with their ships and cargoes to all places, ports and rivers in the territories of the other, where trade with other nations is permitted; they may remain and reside in any such ports and places respectively and hire and occupy house and warehouses, and may trade in all kind of produce, manufactures and merchandise of lawful commerce, enjoying at all times the same privileges as may have been or may hereafter be granted to the citizens or subjects of any other nation, paying at all times such duties and taxes as may be exacted from the citizens or subjects of other nations doing business or residing within the territories of each of the high contracting parties."

ELECTORAL SERFS.

The Advertiser truly says: "It does not argue well for the stability and progress of the present government that only about 200 voters have thus far been enrolled on the register of this city. Is that a fair representation of the brain and brawn of this community, our dependence in case of riot or revolution? Is the present administration doing its whole duty, meeting its full share of the responsibilities of the case in adopting Star Chamber methods in the conduct of public affairs?"

The Sycophantic,—conducted on a business basis,—Bulletin, and utterly unscrupulous, terms itself an independent journal, forgetting its subservience to the Government and the annexation causes when paid in sight, roundly rates the Advertiser for its manly opposition to the Government's stupidity, and descends to those personalities in connection with persons interested in that publication which it frequently condemns as being contrary to good morals.

As the only independent English newspaper in this city, we present another reason for the non-registration of voters and give the real motive why the payment of taxes before January 1st was made a necessary qualification of registration.

When the Constitution of the hybrid Republic was being drawn, the rebels who had, through Stevens' treachery, obtained control of the kingdom, fondly hoped that annexation would be had in a very short time, and that an electorate was unnecessary to their schemes save to obtain a technical, not practical, endorsement of their actions by a vote given entirely by those under their control, and principally soldiers and Government employees useful only in registering the decrees of the will of the governing minority and incapable through personal interests of being disobedient to orders from headquarters.

It was a clever and well thought out scheme to perpetuate their own power, and in their inner vanities the Government still believe that they are immaculate and omnipotent and that voters are unnecessary. It will hereafter be seen that in the virtual disenfranchisement of the electorate the Government has fallen into a pit which they themselves excavated, and to get out of it they will require Lapierre and his rotund and exhausting machine. With the only passport to preferment required being signed "military service" the freedom of the people will be much appreciated in the United States. A pretty pair of handmaidens to offer to Columbia, — coolie labor alias Japanese muddies, and serfdom of the electorate, alias military oligarchy.

THE MOLOKAI MURDER.

Recapture of Noa and Shipment to Honolulu.

[From our Special Correspondent.]

Noa, the escaped murderer, was captured in Pelekunu on Monday afternoon, April 19, and was brought round on the Mokoli, and lodged in Pukoo jail on Wednesday night, April 21, at 9 p. m.

The credit of the capture is due to the tact and discretion of John Alii, an elderly Hawaiian, and assisted by Kalima, both residents and Kamaainas of Pelekunu. The night after Noa's escape he slept in the mountain, back of Kamalo, this was Thursday, April 15, next day, Friday, he descended into the valley of Pelekunu, and made his way through the dense thicket, cautiously, to the house of John Alii, and asked for food. Alii brought food into the bushes, and here Noa was fed until Monday afternoon when by a previously arranged plan between John Alii and Kalima, the latter suddenly sprung on Noa. On the way down the valley, Noa made a desperate effort to escape by running up the bed of the stream. Kalima soon caught him and felled him with a well directed blow from his fist. Noa was then tied up with ropes and watched by relays of men, word meanwhile being conveyed to Deputy Sheriff Trimble, who proceeded overland to Pelekunu and brought Noa round to Pukoo by steamer.

Noa made offers to John Alii of payment with the money stolen from Ah Sana's store for feeding him, and offered pay for four months. Only at meal times did Noa come in the vicinity of John Alii's house, directly afterwards he climbed several hundred feet up the steep pali back of Alii's house and slept there, and also kept a look-out on everything going on in the valley.

Frank Foster and Mahai had proceeded into the valley and remained there in search for Noa. From his lofty look out on the pali Noa watched them and avoided them. Noa was crafty and suspicious all the time, he would signal to Alii to get his food and would satisfy himself that Alii alone came with food before descending to eat.

John Alii told no one of Noa's presence until he had somewhat won Noa's confidence; then Kalima was told and a plan for the capture of Noa was determined.

Noa has relatives in Pelekunu but they were kept in ignorance until the last. The people of Pelekunu were very pleased to get rid of Noa, the women and children especially, no one in the valley having any use for a murderer.

At Kamalo several families have been sleeping together in one house, windows and doors were securely fastened, so great was the dread of Noa, and this state of affairs spread all along the coast.

Deputy Sheriff Trimble offered $20 for the capture of Noa, on Friday the sum was increased to $100.

Noa goes down this trip of the Mokoli in charge of Deputy Marshal Hitchcock.

Our punning Waterfront Whisperer is writhing in the pangs of retribution for his scribbling excesses. He will be silent for a day or two longer, or until that English heritage is disinherited from the acreage of his pedal extremity. We sympathize, but do not condole. We wish all our poets to be likewise affected. Their feet might then be metred to lyrical proportions.

Noa, the Molokai murderer, is now behind the bars of Oahu Jail. The head of our Pinkertons, H. (ia) R. (y) H. (ighness), is still on Molokai, probably looking after the interests of "Kupa Hawaii."

A number of prominent Japanese last evening celebrated the promotion of Consul General Shimamura to the high office of Minister Resident. The Independent also extends its congratulations.

Mr. Walsh, the bright and intelligent correspondent of the San Francisco Bulletin, paid us a welcome visit to-day. As the views of his influential journal do not accord with our own we have introduced him to Rev. Dr. Hyde as the power behind the chair of Hawaii's Republic. Our latch key is always at his disposal.

John Wahineamakai, a well-known young Hawaiian, died last night. The deceased was a graduate of the Kamehameha schools and one of the most prominent baseball players of that school. He had been employed as a guard at Oahu Jail and recently was employed in the Customs Department. He leaves a young widow, the daughter of Deputy Jailor Kamana, to mourn his loss.

The Hunters Return.

The Kinau brought back a party of famous Nimrods, who went to Hawaii last week with the purpose of killing Sam Parker's plovers and eating his fish in such chowders as only the "momona" judge can manufacture.

The party had a glorious time at Pukoo in South Kohala and fish and plovers were plentiful. Our sportsmen are enthusiastic over their trip and will recommend all the famous shots in the world to take up land on Hawaii and go into drinking coffee and shooting fat mullets and catching plovers.

Only 500 fat plovers were brought to Honolulu. As each gun carrier shot that amount (according to their individual reports) their appetites must have been tremendous. Rumor has it that the "boys" at the beach played cribbage and indulged in chowders, etc. while Sam Parker and George Robertson did the shooting at Waimea and that is where the birds come from. The hunting excursion, however, was a tremendous success.

HARIKARI.

Ghostly Attempt of Murder and Suicide.

A Tragedy Which May Cost Two Lives.

Between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock this morning a Japanese was seen rushing along Maunakea street, telling a countryman that if he entered certain rooms in a building on the corner of Maunakea and Pauahi streets, opposite the fire station, he would behold a frightful sight.

The man spoken to immediately went to the designated place and was met upstairs by a Japanese woman who was bleeding profusely and who fell down unconscious. Entering the room the visitor found a Japanese man who had slashed his stomach open, and who was evidently bleeding to death.

The police were immediately notified and Captain Robert Parker called around without delay.

As far as can now be ascertained the man, Imai, attempted to murder his wife, Okatsu, by cutting her throat, and after a severe struggle with the woman he succeeded in inflicting serious wounds on her neck, chin, face and arms. Believing the woman to be disposed of, Imai committed harikari by slashing his abdomen open.

Dr. Kobayashi and two other physicians were immediately summoned and the injured people attended to.

The Japanese, one Kimamura, who gave the alarm of the tragedy was arrested at the order of Captain Parker and is now held for investigation.

It is generally understood that jealousy is the cause of the tragedy.

At noon Imai was carried by servants of the Police Department to the Queen's Hospital where an effort will be made to save his life. The injured woman will remain at her room under the care of the doctors, who entertain some hope for her eventual recovery.

The sight of the room in which the slaughter took place presented a ghastly sight, even to those familiar with the system of harikari.

A thorough investigation is being held this evening.

To-day's Cricket.

The Honolulu team will consist of Captain H. Herbert, R. A. Jordan, Dr. Murray, Hatfield, Vincent, Hewett, Gilbert, Lishman, Davies, Catton and Weedon, with R. S. Scrimgeour and T. A. Simpson, whose impartial decisions are invariably acceptable, as umpires.

Through the courtesy of Col. Fisher, a large tent has been provided for the accommodation of the ladies who have promised to attend and for whom a nice cup of tea will be provided by a prominent and hospitable lady of Honolulu's choicest society.

The Wild Swan's team will include Capt. Napier, Lieuts. Church and Coke, Paymaster Ward, the champion Dr. Marriott, Smith and Milligan. It is to be hoped that victory will perch on the banners of the Navy after a hard and well-contested game, for the gentlemen of the Wild Swan have done more than they probably appreciate in renewing and stimulating an interest in the noble British sport.

Baseball.

There should be a very large attendance at the opening game of the Baseball League this afternoon to witness the match between the Regiments and the Stars. Thanks to Minister Cooper, Berger's band will be present to amuse the spectators at intervals and drown the voices of the small boys.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harrison desire to tender their most heartfelt thanks to those who so kindly sent floral tributes on the occasion of the death of their child.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Why Kick Now?

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:—

When a little knot of self-selected persons, under the guise of being solicitous to save trouble to their fellow citizens, arrogate to themselves the sole possession of ideas and sentiments worth considering in a community, and, having carefully arranged and planned every detail, cause a public meeting to be called, and then politely but practically plainly intimate to that meeting, "we have thought for everything and for everybody. But, of course, if you have any possible suggestions to offer they can be made now," it is only natural that that meeting, composed of Britons who are unaccustomed to and dislike machine politics, should, for the sake of harmony, blandly but firmly say, in effect, "Ah, you have fixed everything to suit yourselves, and all you want is our endorsement of your plans. Well, we give you that. Take it and be happy." In view of these facts it doesn't seem to come with good grace for any of the camerilla to come out and holler, "we didn't have a chance to speak, and couldn't have taken advantage of it if we had." The latter portion of the cry is probably true, but for any alleged burking of inchoate discussion among themselves, the wire-pullers have only to thank their own thorough attention to detail. They didn't leave room for discussion. It was simply a question of take it or leave it alone. And the meeting, rather than disappoint the ambitions of these disinterested gentlemen, took it holus-bolus. And still they are not satisfied.

Low priced articles are not always cheapest. Closing out and clearance sales are usually made up of goods priced 75 per cent above selling value and double what they are worth.

The cut down does not make them cheap, it's the advertisement. Inspection often proves the quality. Our store has been for years headquarters for good values—it makes no difference whether it is for a spool of thread or a silk dress pattern.

Once we have had a clearance sale but it was to rid our shelves of an accumulation of old goods. They were sold for what they were worth and the people were satisfied with their bargains.

If we put new goods on our shelves to-day and to-morrow tell you that we would sell them at prices below cost you would imagine there was something wrong in us or the goods. Our prices are right so are the goods.

W. W. DIMOND'S

If the Jewel stove had not met with popular favor in Honolulu, we would not have ordered the second time. Since we opened business in our present quarters, less than fourteen months ago, we have sold 400 Jewel stoves. By the W. H. Dimond which arrived on Thursday, we received 120 of different sizes. It constitutes one car load direct from the factory; another lot will be here in a week.

This is without exception, the greatest fuel saver that has ever been imported to the Islands. The JEWEL is made on the best stove principles and saves money to the purchaser. They are low in price and made to wear—every piece of the stove may be duplicated and in this way it will last forever. It is cheaper to buy a single casting than a whole stove.

We sell them for cash, allowing 5 percent discount. We also sell them, as before on the contract system, the purchaser paying one-third in cash, the balance in five equal monthly payments.

The Bell Buoy.

They christened my brother of old, And a saintly name he bears; They gave him his place to hold At the head of the belfry stairs, Where the minister-towers stand And the breeding kestrels cry. Would I change with my brother a league inland? (Shoal! 'Ware Shoal!) Not I!

In the flush of the hot June prime, O'er sleek flood tides afire, I hear him hurry the chime To the bidding of checked Desire. Till the sweated ringers tire And the wild bob-majors die. Could I wait for my turn in the pipping choir? (Shoal! 'Ware Shoal!) Not I!

When the smoking scud is blown, And the greasy wind-rack lowers, Apart and at peace and alone, He counts the changeless hours. He wars with darkling Towers. I war with a darkling sea. Would he stoop to my work in the gusty murk? (Shoal! 'Ware Shoal!) Not he!

There was never a priest to pray, There was never a hand to toll When they made me guard of the bay, And moored me over the Shoal. I rock and reel and I roll, My four great hammers ply, Could I speak or be still at the Church's will? (Shoal! 'Ware Shoal!) Not I!

The landward marks have failed, The fogbank glides unguessed, Too seaward lights are veiled, The spent deep feigns her rest; But my ear is laid to her breast, I lift to the swell, I cry! Could I wait in sloth on the Church's oath? (Shoal! 'Ware Shoal!) Not I!

At the careless end of night I thrill to the nearing screw, I turn in the nearing light And call to the drowsy crew, And the mud boils foul and blue As the blind bow backs away. Do they give me their thanks if she clear the banks? (Shoal! 'Ware Shoal!) Not they!

The beach pools cake and skim, The bursting sprayheads freeze, I gather on crown and rim The grasp grained ice of the seas Where, sheathed from bitt to trees The plunging colliers lie. Would I barter my place for the Church's grace? (Shoal! 'Ware Shoal!) Not I!

Through the blur of the whirling snow, Or the black of the inky sleet, The lanterns gather and grow, And I look for the homeward fleet Rattle of block and sheet, Ready about, Stand by! Shall I ask them a fee that they fetch the quay? (Shoal! 'Ware Shoal!) Not I!

I swoop and I surge and I swing In the rip of the racing tide; By the gates of Doom I sing, On the horns of death I ride. A ship-length overside Between the course and the sand, Fretted and bound I bide Peril whereof I cry. Would I change with my brother a league inland? (Shoal! 'Ware Shoal!) Not I! RUDYARD KIPLING.

An Intelligent Pupil.

One of the best stories about Garry Benson, Sergeant-at-arms of the New York Senate, is this: Among other things, he is an instructor in swimming. One day last summer a richly dressed, middle-aged woman drove up to his natatorium. She carried a poodle dog in her arms.

"Oh, Mr. Benson," she said, "I want to have my dear little dog taught to swim. He might fall into the water some day and be drowned. Can you teach him?"

"I guess so," said Mr. Benson.

"How much will it cost?"

"Madam, I don't see how I can do it for less than $15."

"Oh, thank you," she said, with an ecstatic hug of the poodle. "And when could you give the dear boy his first lesson?"

"Right away, ma'am," said the swimming master, as he put away the $15.

Suiting the action to the word, he took the "little doggie" from the arms of his mistress, walked across the floor and pitched it some twenty to twenty-five feet out in the river.

"Oh-h-h! the darling!" half shrieked the fond mistress.

"Doggie" turned right side in an instant and paddled back to the float. Mr. Benson lifted him out of the water, partially dried him with a towel, and gravely remarked:

"Fine dog, madam, most intelligent animal I ever saw. No trouble at all to teach him. Needs about two more lessons, two days apart—any time in the morning between 10 and 12."

Two more lessons made the dog an expert swimmer."—N. Y. Herald.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Goddard Lectures.—The second of the Goddard lectures was given last night before an audience which was thoroughly in accord with the lecturer and listened to his splendid descriptions of the art of brewing "Rainier" beer. He remarked that only the best of hops and malt were used thus insuring a healthful beverage. On tap or in bottles at the Criterion saloon. *

"You see," he explained, as he showed her the wishbone, "you take hold there and I'll take hold here. Then we must both make a wish and pull, and when it breaks the one who has the bigger part of it will have his or her wish gratified."

"But I don't know what to wish for," she protested.

"Oh, you can think of something," he added.

"No, I can't," she replied; "I can't think of anything I want very much."

"Well, I'll wish for you," he exclaimed.

"Will you, really?" she asked.

"Yes."

"Well, then, there's no use fooling with the old wishbone," she interrupted, with a glad smile, "you can have me."—Comic Cuts.

HAWAII AND JAPAN.

An overweening confidence in their ability to force Hawaii into the system of American States has involved "the best government these islands ever had" in very serious trouble with the Empire of Japan.

To be in line with the States of the American Union, or from lack of ability to frame their own statutes Mr. Dole's legislators have been copying the laws of the United States, without reference to existing treaties with other powers, and in blissful disregard of the fact that the United States has an army and navy and gigantic resources to enforce laws that override treaty stipulations; when the greatest good of the greatest number of Americans seems to demand such a questionable course.

The Japan Mail treats the action of this "funny little republic" which action was based upon the decision of our Supreme Court, in the following language:

"It will be at once apparent that a very curious consequence is involved in this decision, namely, that a Collector of Customs, being beyond the purview of the law in respect of his conduct when applying the Immigration Act, cannot be legally arraigned whatever step he may take. If, for example, in examining an immigrant, he resorts to practices criminal under ordinary circumstances, he can still claim immunity from penal indictment. On the other hand, if an immigrant, whose title to land has been denied by the Collector, suffers wrong at the hands of an ordinary Hawaiian citizen, will the law courts of Hawaii refuse redress on the ground that the injured alien has not obtained due permission to land in Hawaii? These questions seem more or less academical, but it is beyond all doubt that Hawaii is not competent to decide for herself when and where within her territory privileges secured by treaty shall be enjoyable. There is a universally recognized custom in such matters, and no State has arbitrary power to depart from it."

It is well known that the examination of the immigrants, particularly in the case of those arriving by the Shinshiu Maru, was the rankest outrage. The Japanese Legation here was in possession of the facts of the examination and no doubt forwarded them to the home government. It was felt, even by the friends of Mr. Dole, that in going behind the actual possession of the statutory sum which the law requires of immigrants, this Government was committing a grave mistake; one that would have to be defended under our laws and in accordance with diplomatic usage.

The gravity of the situation will be best understood by a careful reading of the second article of our treaty with Japan, which reads as follows:

"Article II. The subjects of each of the two high contracting parties, respectively, shall have the liberty and security to come with their ships and cargoes to all places, ports and rivers in the territories of the other, where trade with other nations is permitted; they may remain and reside in any such ports and places respectively and hire and occupy house and warehouses, and may trade in all kind of produce, manufactures and merchandise of lawful commerce, enjoying at all times the same privileges as may have been or may hereafter be granted to the citizens or subjects of any other nation, paying at all times such duties and taxes as may be exacted from the citizens or subjects of other nations doing business or residing within the territories of each of the high contracting parties."

ELECTORAL SERFS.

The Advertiser truly says: "It does not argue well for the stability and progress of the present government that only about 200 voters have thus far been enrolled on the register of this city. Is that a fair representation of the brain and brawn of this community, our dependence in case of riot or revolution? Is the present administration doing its whole duty, meeting its full share of the responsibilities of the case in adopting Star Chamber methods in the conduct of public affairs?"

The Sycophantic,—conducted on a business basis,—Bulletin, and utterly unconscienceless, terms itself an independent journal, forgetting its subservience to the Government and the annexation causes when pap is in sight, roundly rates the Advertiser for its manly opposition to the Government's stupidity, and descends to those personalities in connection with persons interested in that publication which it frequently condemns as being contrary to good morals.

As the only independent English newspaper in this city, we present another reason for the non-registration of voters and give the real motive why the payment of taxes before January 1st was made a necessary qualification of registration.

When the Constitution of the hybrid Republic was being drawn, the rebels who had, through Stevens' treachery, obtained control of the kingdom, fondly hoped that annexation would be had in a very short time, and that an electorate was unnecessary to their schemes save to obtain a technical, not practical, endorsement of their actions by a vote given entirely by those under their control, and principally soldiers and Government employees useful only in registering the decrees of the will of the governing minority and incapable through personal interests of being disobedient to orders from headquarters.

It was a clever and well thought out scheme to perpetuate their own power, and in their inner vanities the Government still believe that they are immaculate and omnipotent and that voters are unnecessary. It will hereafter be seen that in the virtual disenfranchisement of the electorate the Government has fallen into a pit which they themselves excavated, and to get out of it they will require Lapierre and his rotund and exhausting machine. With the only passport to preferment required being signed "military service" the freedom of the people will be much appreciated in the United States. A pretty pair of handmaidens to offer to Columbia, — coolie labor alias Japanese mud-dles, and serfdom of the electorate, alias military oligarchy.

THE MOLOKAI MURDER.

Recapture of Noa and Shipment to Honolulu.

[From our Special Correspondent.]

Noa, the escaped murderer, was captured in Pelekunu on Monday afternoon, April 19, and was brought round on the Mokoli, and lodged in Pukoo jail on Wednesday night, April 21, at 9 p. m.

The credit of the capture is due to the tact and discretion of John Alii, an elderly Hawaiian, and assisted by Kalima, both residents and Kamaainas of Pelekunu. The night after Noa's escape he slept in the mountain, back of Kamalo, this was Thursday, April 15, next day, Friday, he descended into the valley of Pelekunu, and made his way through the dense thicket, cautiously, to the house of John Alii, and asked for food. Alii brought food into the bushes, and here Noa was fed until Monday afternoon when by a previously arranged plan between John Alii and Kalima, the latter suddenly sprung on Noa. On the way down the valley, Noa made a desperate effort to escape by running up the bed of the stream, Kalima soon caught him and felled him with a well directed blow from his fist. Noa was then tied up with ropes and watched by relays of men, word meanwhile being conveyed to Deputy Sheriff Trimble, who proceeded overland to Pelekunu and brought Noa round to Pukoo by steamer.

Noa made offers to John Alii of payment with the money stolen from Ah Sana's store for feeding him, and offered pay for four months. Only at meal times did Noa come in the vicinity of John Alii's house, directly afterwards he climbed several hundred feet up the steep pali back of Alii's house and slept there, and also kept a look-out on everything going on in the valley.

Frank Foster and Mahiai had proceeded into the valley and remained there in search for Noa. From his lofty look out on the pali Noa watched them and avoided them. Noa was crafty and suspicious all the time, he would signal to Alii to get his food and would satisfy himself that Alii alone came with food before descending to eat.

John Alii told no one of Noa's presence until he had somewhat won Noa's confidence; then Kalima was told and a plan for the capture of Noa was determined.

Noa has relatives in Pelekunu but they were kept in ignorance until the last. The people of Pelekunu were very pleased to get rid of Noa, the women and children especially, no one in the valley having any use for a murderer.

At Kamalo several families have been sleeping together in one house, windows and doors were securely fastened, so great was the dread of Noa, and this state of affairs spread all along the coast.

Deputy Sheriff Trimble offered $20 for the capture of Noa, on Friday the sum was increased to $100.

Noa goes down this trip of the Mokoli in charge of Deputy Marshal Hitchcock.

Noa, the Molokai murderer, is now behind the bars of Oahu Jail. The head of our Pinkertons, H. (is) R(oyal) H(ighness), is still on Molokai, probably looking after the interests of "Kupa Hawaii."

A number of prominent Japanese last evening celebrated the promotion of Consul General Shimamura to the high office of Minister Resident. THE INDEPENDENT also extends its congratulations.

Mr. Walsh, the bright and intelligent correspondent of the San Francisco Bulletin, paid us a welcome visit to-day. As the views of his influential journal do not accord with our own we have introduced him to Rev. Dr. Hyde as the power behind the chair of Hawaii's Republic. Our latch key is always at his disposal.

John Wahinemaikai, a well-known young Hawaiian, died last night. The deceased was a graduate of the Kamehameha schools and one of the most prominent baseball players of that school. He had been employed as a guard at Oahu Jail and recently was employed in the Customs Department. He leaves a young widow, the daughter of Deputy Jailor Kamana, to mourn his loss.

The Hunters Return.

The Kinau brought back a party of famous Nimrods, who went to Hawaii last week with the purpose of killing Sam Parker's plovers and eating his fish in such chowders as only the "momona" judge can manufacture.

The party had a glorious time at Pukoo in South Kohala and fish and plovers were plentiful. Our sportsmen are enthusiastic over their trip and will recommend all the famous shots in the world to take up land on Hawaii and go into drinking coffee and shooting fat mullets and catching plovers.

Only 500 fat plovers were brought to Honolulu. As each gun carrier shot that amount (according to their individual reports) their appetites must have been tremendous. Rumor has it that the "boys" at the beach played cribbage and indulged in chowders, etc. while Sam Parker and George Robertson did the shooting at Waimea and that is where the birds come from. The hunting excursion, however, was a tremendous success.

Died.

WAHINEMAIKAI—At Kawaiahao in city, April 23, 1897. John Wahinemaikai, fever and heart trouble, aged about 70 years.

Funeral takes place from his late residence and interment at the Kawaiahao cemetery, to-morrow [Sunday] afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend.

HARIKARI.

Ghastly Attempt of Murder and Suicide.

A Tragedy Which May Cost Two Lives.

Between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock this morning a Japanese was seen rushing along Maunakea street, telling a countryman that if he entered certain rooms in a building on the corner of Maunakea and Pauahi streets, opposite the fire station, he would behold a frightful sight.

The man spoken to immediately went to the designated place and was met upstairs by a Japanese woman who was bleeding profusely and who fell down unconscious. Entering the room the visitor found a Japanese man who had slashed his stomach open, and who was evidently bleeding to death.

The police were immediately notified and Captain Robert Parker called around without delay.

As far as can now be ascertained the man, Imai, attempted to murder his wife, Okatsu, by cutting her throat, and after a severe struggle with the woman he succeeded in inflicting serious wounds on her neck, chin, face and arms. Believing the woman to be disposed of, Imai committed harikari by slashing his abdomen open.

Dr. Kobayashi and two other physicians were immediately summoned and the injured people attended to.

The Japanese, one Kimamura, who gave the alarm of the tragedy was arrested at the order of Captain Parker and is now held for investigation.

It is generally understood that jealousy is the cause of the tragedy.

At noon Imai was carried by servants of the Police Department to the Queen's Hospital where an effort will be made to save his life. The injured woman will remain at her room under the care of the doctors, who entertain some hope for her eventual recovery.

The sight of the room in which the slaughter took place presented a ghastly sight, even to those familiar with the system of harikari.

A thorough investigation is being held this evening.

To-day's Cricket.

The Honolulu team will consist of Captain H. Herbert, R. A. Jordan, Dr. Murray, Hatfield, Vincent, Hewett, Gilbert, Lishman, Davies, Catton and Weedon, with R. S. Scrimgeour and T. A. Simpson, whose impartial decisions are invariably acceptable, as umpires.

Through the courtesy of Col. Fisher, a large tent has been provided for the accomodation of the ladies who have promised to attend and for whom a nice cup of tea will be provided by a prominent and hospitable lady of Honolulu's choicest society.

The Wild Swan's team will include Capt. Napier, Lieuts. Church and Coke, Paymaster Ward, the champion Dr. Marriott, Smith and Milligan. It is to be hoped that victory will perch on the banners of the Navy after a hard and well contested game, for the gentlemen of the Wild Swan have done more than they probably appreciate in renewing and stimulating an interest in the noble British sport.

Baseball.

There should be a very large attendance at the opening game of the Baseball League this afternoon to witness the match between the Regents and the Stars. Thanks to Minister Cooper, Berger's band will be present to amuse the spectators at intervals and drown the voices of the small boys.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harrison desire to tender their most heartfelt thanks to those who so kindly sent floral tributes on the occasion of the death of their child.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Why Kick Now?

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:—

When a little knot of self-selected persons, under the guise of being solicitous to save trouble to their fellow citizens, arrogate to themselves the sole possession of ideas and sentiments worth considering in a community, and, having carefully arranged and planned every detail, cause a public meeting to be called, and then politely but practically plainly intimate to that meeting, "we have thought for everything and for everybody. But, of course, if you have any possible suggestions to offer they can be made now," it is only natural that that meeting, composed of Britons who are unaccustomed to and dislike machine politics, should, for the sake of harmony, blandly but firmly say, in effect, "Ah, you have fixed everything to suit yourselves, and all you want is our endorsement of your plans. Well, we give you that. Take it and be happy." In view of these facts it doesn't seem to come with good grace for any of the camerilla to come out and holler, "we didn't have a chance to speak, and couldn't have taken advantage of it if we had." The latter portion of the cry is probably true, but for any alleged burking of inchoate discussion among themselves, the wirepullers have only to thank their own thorough attention to detail. They didn't leave room for discussion. It was simply a question of take it or leave it alone. And the meeting, rather than disappoint the ambitions of these disinterested gentlemen, took it bolus-bolus. And still they are not satisfied.

Low priced articles are not always cheapest. Closing out and clearance sales are usually made up of goods priced 75 percent above selling value and double what they are worth. The cut down does not make them cheap, it's the advertisement. Inspection often proves the quality. Our store has been for years headquarters for good values—it makes no difference whether it is for a spool of thread or a silk dress pattern. Once we have had a clearance sale but it was to rid our shelves of an accumulation of old goods. They were sold for what they were worth and the people were satisfied with their bargains. If we put new goods on our shelves to-day and to-morrow tell you that we would sell them at prices below cost you would imagine there was something wrong in us or the goods. Our prices are right so are the goods.

W. W. DIMOND'S

If the Jewel stove had not met with popular favor in Honolulu, we would not have ordered the second time. Since we opened business in our present quarters, less than fourteen months ago, we have sold 400 Jewel stoves. By the W. H. Dimond which arrived on Thursday, we received 120 of different sizes. It constitutes one car load direct from the factory; another lot will be here in a week.

This is without exception, the greatest fuel saver that has ever been imported to the Islands. The JEWEL is made on the best stove principles and saves money to the purchaser. They are low in price and made to wear—every piece of the stove may be duplicated and in this way it will last forever. It is cheaper to buy a single casting than a whole stove.

We sell them for cash, allowing 5 percent discount. We also sell them, as before on the contract system, the purchaser paying one-third in cash, the balance in five equal monthly payments.

The Bell Buoy.

They christened my brother of old,
And a saintly name he bears;
They gave him his place to hold
At the head of the belfry stairs,
Where the minister-towers stand
And the breeding kestrels cry.
Would I change with my brother
A league inland?
(Shoal! 'Ware Shoal!) Not I!

In the flush of the hot June prime,
O'er sleek flood tides afire,
I hear him hurry the chime
To the bidding of checked Desire.
Till the sweated fingers tire
And the wild bob-majors die.
Could I wait for my turn in the pimping choir?
(Shoal! 'Ware Shoal!) Not I!

When the smoking scud is blown,
And the greasy wind-rack lowers,
Apart and at peace and alone,
He counts the changeless hours.
He wars with darkling Towers.
I war with a darkling sea.
Would he stoop to my work in the gusty muck?
(Shoal! 'Ware Shoal!) Not he!

There was never a priest to pray,
There was never a hand to toll
When they made me guard of the bay,
And moored me over the Shoal.
I rock and reel and I roll,
My four great hammers ply,
Could I speak or be still at the Church's will?
(Shoal! 'Ware Shoal!) Not I!

The landward marks have failed,
The fogbank glides unguessed,
The seaward lights are veiled,
The spent deep feigns her rest;
But my ear is laid to her breast,
I lift to the swell, I cry!
Could I wait in sloth on the Church's oath?
(Shoal! 'Ware Shoal!) Not I!

At the careless end of night
I thrill to the nearing screw,
I turn in the nearing light
And call to the drowsy crew,
And the mud boils foul and blue
As the blind bow backs away.
Do they give me their thanks if she clear the banks?
(Shoal! 'Ware Shoal!) Not they!

The beach pools cake and skim,
The bursting sprayheads freeze,
I gather on crown and rim
The grasp grained ice of the seas
Where, sheathed from bitt to trees
The plunging colliers lie.
Would I barter my place for the Church's grace?
(Shoal! 'Ware Shoal!) Not I!

Through the blur of the whirling snow,
Or the black of the inky sleet,
The lanterns gather and grow,
And I look for the homeward fleet
Rattle of block and sheet,
Ready about, Stand by!
Shall I ask them a fee that they fetch the quay?
(Shoal! 'Ware Shoal!) Not I!

I swoop and I surge and I swing
In the rip of the racing tide;
By the gates of Doom I sing,
On the horns of death I ride.
A ship-length overside
Between the course and the sand,
Fretted and bound I bide
Peril whereof I cry.
Would I change with my brother
a league inland?
(Shoal! 'Ware Shoal!) Not I!

RUDYARD KIPLING.

An Intelligent Pupil.

One of the best stories about Garry Benson, Sergeant-at-arms of the New York Senate, is this: Among other things, he is an instructor in swimming. One day last summer a richly dressed, middle-aged woman drove up to his natatorium. She carried a poodle dog in her arms.

"Oh, Mr. Benson," she said, "I want to have my dear little dog taught to swim. He might fall into the water some day and be drowned. Can you teach him?"

"I guess so," said Mr. Benson.

"How much will it cost?"

"Madam, I don't see how I can do it for less than $15."

"Oh, thank you," she said, with an ecstatic hug of the poodle. "And when could you give the dear boy his first lesson?"

"Right away, ma'am," said the swimming master, as he put away the $15.

Suiting the action to the word, he took the "little doggie" from the arms of his mistress, walked across the floor and pitched it some twenty to twenty-five feet out in the river.

"Oh-h-h! the darling!" half shrieked the fond mistress.

"Doggie" turned right side in an instant and paddled back to the float. Mr. Benson lifted him out of the water, partially dried him with a towel, and gravely remarked:

"Fine dog, madam, most intelligent animal I ever saw. No trouble at all to teach him. Needs about two more lessons, two days apart—any time in the morning between 10 and 12."

Two more lessons made the dog an expert swimmer.—N. Y. Herald.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Goddard Lectures.—The second of the Goddard lectures was given last night before an audience which was thoroughly in accord with the lecturer and listened to his splendid descriptions of the art of brewing "Rainier" beer. He remarked that only the best of hops and malt were used thus insuring a healthful beverage. On tap or in bottles at the Criterion saloon. *

Good for the Health.

Jenks (who has taken to horseback riding and bounces about ten inches at every step)—Ah, howdy-do Blinks? I think horseback riding is good for the health, don't you?

Blinks—Yes, indeed! All who see you will be benefited. "Laugh and grow fat," you know.
