The Usual Two Sides.

In regard to the men who were found destitute here and claimed that they had been induced to go to Hawaii under false pretenses, there are statements from the plantation men as well as from those who supposed to work on the plantation, and they are very conflicting.

While Messrs. Adams and Atherton claim that the men will not go to the plantations to work, one of them named Walter Kenney states that he is over anxious to find real good hard work, in an interview with the Advertiser of yesterday, in which he is reported as saying:

"You see, we came from Boston, the whole eight of us. A fellow, the agent, said that we would have an easy time of it out in the Sandwich Islands, and that we would not have to work very hard. We were to get from $22 to $25 a month and the eight of us were to live in a furnished house with all our dishes and cooking things thrown in. Our food was only to cost us about a couple of dollars a week, and if we liked fruit all we had to do was to go out on the plantation and pick all the oranges and bananas and pineapples we wanted.

"Well, I was only getting $9 a week in a foundry and I spent $6 of that for my board and lodging every week. I spent the rest in having a good time on Saturday nights. I thought that if I got out to the Hawaiian Islands maybe I could save some money, because out on a plantation I would have no chance to spend much. Yes, $22 a month is not as much as $36 a month, I know, but then I wanted to see the Islands and thought that I would like the climate. I sold my winter underclothing and an overcoat in Vancouver, knowing that I would not need them down here.

"Now I am very anxious to get work in town. Where would you advise me to look for it? Stevedoring? Isn't that pretty hard work? I am afraid that some of us are not strong enough for that. I noticed the natives at work on the wharf today; I don't think that I could do that work very well. No, I have learned no trade. I am about 24 years of age and an American, but I haven't any trade or occupation. If I can't get work here I will have to go away. If I stowed away on a steamer, would they put me to work when they found me, do you think? Oh, no, I wouldn't care to work my passage to the Coast on a sailing vessel; I have never done that. Besides, they treat you kind of rough, don't they, and work you pretty hard?

"I would rather starve in town, anyhow, than work on a plantation for the small wages they offer. What's that? There's a law against starving here? Oh, you mean the vagrant law. Yes, that's so. Well, I am very anxious to get work, only I don't think that I would care to load and unload vessels or shovel coal or do heavy work of that kind. Yes, I'm strong enough but I thought that I could find some easy work in a country of this kind. I didn't suppose that a white man worked hard in this climate."

Why doesn't he become a newspaper man or a "reformer?" They don't work hard.

A FOOLISH BILL.

Representative Hoogs introduced a few days ago a most absurd bill in regard to the employment of minors in saloons. We have of course not yet heard the reasons of the honorable gentleman for this measure, but he certainly must be aware that minors are employed in every trade, store, and office in Honolulu. Why then make a distinction in regard to saloons? Mr. Hoogs can find out from every experienced saloon-keeper, that the man behind the bar is not as apt to drink, as is the man in front of the bar, and the honorable gentleman will certainly admit that the clause in the bill to prohibit saloon keepers from selling liquor to minors can never be enforced, because people do not go around with birth certificates in their pockets, and we will defy any man from, by sight, judging whether a customer is 21 years old or younger. Why, a man who keeps his goods looks in such an admirable manner, as does the introducer of the bill will often be taken for being just sweet eighteen and refused a drink, while eighteen years old boys with full beard would be served.

If Mr. Hoogs would investigate the matter a little he would find good reasons to withdraw his bill.

In one place a young man 19 years of age was, or is perhaps, employed as an assistant barkeeper in a saloon where his father works. The father placed him there to have him under his immediate surveillance, because the boy was beginning to sow the some kind of oats that the introducer of the bill perhaps at one time has scattered.

In another place a Japanese minor is employed outside of school hours. Does Mr. Hoogs believe that this boy can learn anything bad by washing glasses and hustling around the place to learn a competence which enables him to be brought up as a civilized man, and eventually may enable him to go into the dray business or the millionaire business, which is very much the same?

In a third place there are perhaps two or three minors at work. In that place only gentlemen are served. No ribald language or action is allowed, even by customers who feel happy. One young fellow working in that place, where we have occasionally had the pleasure of meeting the honorable introducer of the bill, earns $7 a week, with which he supports an invalid father and a couple of dozens of small brothers and sisters. Does Mr. Hoogs honestly think that that boy is going to the "damnation bow wows," because he shakes a cocktail for an honorable legislator? From the place we refer to have gone forth young men who are a credit to the city, who are in business, on the stock exchange, etc., although they were working as minors in that saloon. If Mr. Hoogs will introduce a bill to prevent youngsters from loafing and becoming hoodlums or from joining the Y. M. C. A. he will act in the true interest of minors. A bill to prevent hard working boys from earning an honest living should be killed on sight, and we trust that will be the fate of Honorable Hoogs' bill, even it is inspired from the Senate.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

It seems to us extremely bad form for an actor of the unquestioned ability of Lewis Morrison, to go before the curtain and advertise himself and his next performances, and express his views as to the beauty of our country. We want Mr. Morrison as Richelieu, Faust, Shylock and in any other great role, in which he may appear, but Mr. Morrison, as a private citizen, the audience did not buy tickets to see or hear.

Senator Baldwin is undoubtedly the shrewdest politician in the Senate, Senator White not even excepted. Mr. Baldwin knows how to handle the patriots who compose the Home Rule Party. He speaks the Hawaiian language fluently, he is a man of great tact, and he possesses the most persuasive arguments in his pocket. Far be it from us to insinuate that the King of Maui would use "jingling" arguments; he is far too good, too honorable, too upright to do such a thing, except he is dead sure of gaining his point and not being found out.

As it is generally understood that the Governor will not extend the session of the Legislature it is proper to rush all important measures through the two Houses. There are no reasons for debate on any of the questions. Their merits have been threshed out in caucus and the talk on the floor is only a "spiel" to the gallery. The appropriation bill can be considered in a special session which the Governor is obliged to call, and which incidentally will mean $200, in the pockets of our patriotic solons.

A specific tax on sugar should be introduced at once. A very large amount of money is needed to carry the Territory through the next fiscal period, and sugar, which has had all the benefit and been on easy street of this country for years, should now pay and help us out of the financial pilikia we find ourselves now. If we are in normal financial conditions two years hence, well and good, and the law, making a specific tax on sugar, can be repealed, but the Territory needs money, much money, just now.

"There are six measures that the legislature should push through at the earliest possible date, the county government bill, the city charter bill for Honolulu, the dispensary bill, the election law bill, the tax bill and the reapportionment bill. Hasten these through and the appropriations can be taken up, as then something can be known about what appropriations will be needed."

—The Republican.

We say "kokua" in a loud tone of voice, but, brother Humphreys, why don't you make your men do it, or do something instead of wasting time over Cecil Brown's petty bills?

The Fiscal Bill Passed.

In the Senate yesterday Crabbe moved a reconsideration of Senate Bill No. 5, defining the biennial fiscal period of the Territory. C. Brown moved that it pass. J. Brown moved it be indefinitely postponed. Mr. White moved it be laid upon the table. The matter had been thoroughly discussed the day previous, hence the flow of oratory was not tapped. The vote taken resulted in the passage of the bill, 8 to 6, Senators Kakuha and Kaohi voting with the Republicans.

Shylock Tomorrow.

On Thursday evening the public of this city will have another opportunity of seeing Mr. Lewis Morrison and Miss Florence Roberts in one of their celebrated plays "Merchant of Venice" when the public will have another chance of witnessing some of the heaviest work these artists are capable of giving.

The "Merchant of Venice" ranks deservedly as one of Shakespeare's master pieces. We can trace in this play the maturity of the poet's intellectual power in which he is so eminently knew how to fuse into his strongest delineations of passion and feeling. The literary researches of the editors of Shakespeare have placed the date of its composition to be about the year 1589, when the author had arrived at the 34th years of his age. A period when in the fullness of his powers he was capable of uniting with the brilliance and which marked his life, it is perhaps to this cause we owe the creation of "Shylock," a character so matchless in its intellectuality; so striking in its idiosyncrasy that in whole range of the dramas it cannot be paralleled. We, however, will venture to say that the character of "Shylock" both in its representation by artists and its appreciation by critics seems to have fated it to erroneous misconception. Lewis Morrison has made "Shylock" a life long study and he plays the part with genuine feeling and earnestness which appeal to his hearers and yet at no time does he permit that vindictive spirit to give color to his lines, neither does he permit himself to take on the old time low comedy conception of "Shylock."

It has been conceded that Mr. Morrison's rendition of this character stand in a class of the great celebrities that have won their laurels by earnest work and have endeared themselves as a living memory to all that have witnessed his work.

The public are cautioned that tickets will only be held until 12 o'clock of the day for performance and if you fail to call for your seats at that time they will be sold.

A Ladies' Jollification.

The ladies belonging to the Imperial Pilgrimage of the Shriners will give a reception and dance at the Moana hotel on Tuesday evening, March 26. J. G. Rothwell, managing director of the hostelry, has given the ladies the use of the parlor and the dining hall. A canvas will be spread over the floor and the dancing will take place there. The best music will be furnished and a jolly good time is anticipated. The affair is complimentary to the wives, sweethearts and sisters of the members of Aloha Temple, in return for the many favors extended to the ladies of the Imperial Pilgrimage. A luncheon will also be served.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Judge Wilcox disposed of a small calendar this morning. People are becoming good.

Prince David gave a dinner yesterday to the ladies who assisted at the Maternity Home luncheon.

John Wilder, a native living near the marine railway, had his house burned to the ground on Monday.

A Bamboo Hand Satchel has been lost and reward is offered the finder. See ad. elsewhere in this issue.

When you want a hack ring up 191. On that stand you will get a reliable and good driver, a fine hack, and no overcharging.

T. McCants Stewart W. C. Weedon and George Weight left for Maunalei yesterday to look into the property of the defunct plantation.

The local football team beat the Warspite team yesterday afternoon with a score of 5 to 0. The Warspite boys have evidently run up against a snag.

The Senate after a fruitless debate on the bill appropriating money for the Legislature adjourned at 11:30 this morning until tomorrow and another day was wasted.

Mrs. Bertha Myhre, a native of Norway, age 55, died at the Queen's Hospital yesterday after a lingering illness of several months. She leaves a husband and three sons.

Kentucky's famous Jesse Moore Whiskey, unequalled for its purity and excellence. On sale at any of the saloons and at Lovejoy & Co., distributing agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Carl C. Rhodes, formerly of the custom House force and at present with W. G. Irwin & Co., was married on Monday afternoon at the Roman Catholic Cathedral to Miss Clara McCarthy.

Captain James N. K. Keola has passed his examination to the satisfaction of the examining board of officers and the governor has issued a commission to him as commander in chief of Maui. "Jim" is out of sight now. George Cummings was also commissioned as second lieutenant in the Wailuku army. That means another luau at Waikapu.

Bachelors.

The Opera House was crowded last night when the curtain went up and Lewis Morrison, the great actor, appeared for the first time before a Honolulu audience.

The theatre goers of our city have always been accused of being cold and critical, but Lewis Morrison will be able to give a denial because he was bathed in the hot enthusiasm of an audience which appreciated his great talent and, by continuous applause and curtain calls made him understand that the criticism was all his way.

He was very ably sustained by Miss Roberts who played Julie to perfection. She is the most charming actress Honolulu ever has seen and we have even had the great "Sarah" on the boards of the old Opera House.

The other parts of play were of minor interest of course, but rendered as well as could be expected.

Tomorrow night "The Merchant of Venice" with Morrison as Shylock and Miss Roberts as Portia will be the bill. And by special request, Miss Roberts will repeat "Camille" at a matinee on Saturday. The last regular play of the season will be given on Saturday night. It is expected to be the great success of the series, "Faust."

Miss Mabel Cassidy.

We have to announce the sad news that Miss Mabel Cassidy died yesterday afternoon at the residence of her parents at Waikiki after a prolonged illness. Deceased was only fourteen years old and a victim to consumption. Her bereaved parents have the sympathy of the community in their affliction. Miss Cassidy was a sweet young girl and many friends will bemoan her death. The funeral took place this afternoon.

An Interesting Case

Judge Humphreys, in response to a writ of mandamus will appear before the Supreme Court to-morrow morning, to show cause why he excluded W. T. Schmidt from further jury duty and forfeited his dues as a juror.

Schmidt's complaint relates to the trial of Territory vs. Manu. Complainant was one of the jury who retired at 4:10 p. m. of March 1 to consider a verdict. He was unable to agree with ten of the jurors, although the jury were out until 10 o'clock next morning. Then they were called before the Judge, who, when the foreman answering a question said they could not agree, requested the names of the two jurors who were unable to agree with the ten jurors. Being informed by the foreman that the names were W. T. Schmidt and C. K. Quinn, the Judge "did then and there," the complaint says, "without cause and without right, and contrary to law and the rights of said jurors, W. T. Schmidt and C. K. Quinn, harshly and cruelly reprimand said jurors" and further ordered that they should be excused from further jury duty and forfeit their per diem fees as said jurors.

The complaint says "that at all times, while a verdict in said cause was being considered by said jury the said juror, W. T. Schmidt, did conduct himself properly and did conscientiously perform his duties, in compliance with his oath, as a trial juror in said cause."

It is declared that the complainant signed a statement of jury fees due and owing to him, and that the Territory of Hawaii has paid the sum of $24 owing to him as stated, but that Henry Smith, clerk of court, refuses to pay him the money on account of the order of Judge Humphreys.

A demurrer has been filed by Judge Humphreys concluding with the prayer "that said writ of mandamus be dismissed and he may go hence with his costs herein most vexatiously sustained." His reasons are condensed below. 1. The writ does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action, or to entitle the relator to the writ of mandamus or to any relief. 2. The writ is not properly entitled and its allegations are neither in proper form nor direct and certain. 3. The writ discloses on its face that the relator has other plain, speedy and adequate remedies at law. 4. There is nothing in the writ to show that the relator has made any attempt in the Circuit Court to set aside the order constituting his complaint. 5. Upon its face the writ shows that if the relator is without remedy at law it is wholly due to his culpable laches, neglect and failure to seek redress in the Circuit Court. 6. The respondent cannot do the things alternately ordered in the writ "without violating the well-established practice of courts proceeding as at common law and without violating the law of the land." 7. The respondent has no control over the matters alleged and is without power, authority and jurisdiction to do and perform the order of the writ. 8. The Supreme Court "is without power, authority or jurisdiction in the premises."

Marcus Colburn.

Last night Marcus R. Colburn, a prominent Hawaiian passed away after a prolonged illness. Deceased was only 43 years of age, and Hawaii loses a son whose heart was at all times with his people and his country.

Colburn was a well-educated, bright Hawaiian possessed of many sterling qualities. For years he was a trusted employee of the big lumber firm of Lewers & Cooke, and after he branched out for himself in the dray business the heads of that firm followed his career with interest.

He met financial reverses and up to the time of his illness he was a clerk for W. G. Irwin & Co.

He leaves a wife and six children to mourn his loss. Deceased was a brother of John F. Colburn and of Mrs. Parmenter.

At the Kalihl Receiving Station.

The entire House of Representatives and a committee of four from the Senate, consisting of President Russell, and Senators Kakuokalani, Clarence Crabbe and Kanuha, visited the Leper Receiving Station yesterday afternoon at Kalihl, for the purpose of investigating the method of examination and condemnation. Several members of the medical profession from the States, who are visiting Shriners, were invited guests, among them being Dr. Calhoun, of Seattle; Dr. Barth, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, and Dr. Bunting, of Easton, Pa.

Fifty-one lepers and suspects were examined by Drs. Emerson, Cooper, Howard, Myers and McDonald, in the presence of the investigating law makers, who asked many questions and observed very closely while the doctors sought for the symptoms of the dread disease. After the examination they made a tour of the leper settlement in the enclosure, and made individual inspection of the habitation arrangements.

A FOOLISH BILL.

Representative Hoogs introduced a few days ago a most absurd bill in regard to the employment of minors in saloons. We have of course not yet heard the reasons of the honorable gentleman for this measure, but he certainly must be aware that minors are employed in every trade, store, and office in Honolulu. Why then make a distinction in regard to saloons? Mr. Hoogs can find out from every experienced saloon-keeper, that the man behind the bar is not as apt to drink, as is the man in front of the bar, and the honorable gentleman will certainly admit that the clause in the bill to prohibit saloon keepers from selling liquor to minors can never be enforced, because people do not go around with birth certificates in their pockets, and we will defy any man from, by sight, judging whether a customer is 21 years old or younger. Why, a man who keeps his goods looks in such an admirable manner, as does the introducer of the bill will often be taken for being just west eighteen and refused a drink, while eighteen years old boys with full beard would be served.

If Mr. Hoogs would investigate the matter a little he would find good reasons to withdraw his bill.

In one place a young man 19 years of age was, or is perhaps, employed as an assistant barkeeper in a saloon where his father works. The father placed him there to have him under his immediate surveillance, because the boy was beginning to sow the same kind of oats that the introducer of the bill perhaps at one time has scattered.

In another place a Japanese minor is employed outside of school hours. Does Mr. Hoogs believe that this boy can learn anything bad by washing glasses and hustling around the place to learn a competence which enables him to be brought up as a civilized man, and eventually may enable him to go into the dray business or the millionaire business, which is very much the same?

In a third place there are perhaps two or three minors at work. In that place only gentlemen are served. No ribald language or action is allowed, even by customers who feel happy. One young fellow working in that place, where we have occasionally had the pleasure of meeting the honorable introducer of the bill, earns $7 a week, with which he supports an invalid father and a couple of dozens of small brothers and sisters. Does Mr. Hoogs honestly think that that boy is going to the "damnation how wows," because he shakes a cocktail for an honorable legislator? From the place we refer to have gone forth young men who are a credit to the city, who are in business, on the stock exchange, etc., although they were working as minors in that saloon. If Mr. Hoogs will introduce a bill to prevent youngsters from loafing and becoming hoodlums or from joining the Y. M. C. A. he will act in the true interest of minors. A bill to prevent hard working boys from earning an honest living should be killed on sight, and we trust that will be the fate of Honorable Hoogs' bill, even if it is inspired from the Senate.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

It seems to us extremely bad form for an actor of the unquestioned ability of Lewis Morrison, to go before the curtain and advertise himself and his next performances, and express his views as to the beauty of our country. We want Mr. Morrison as Richelieu, Faust, Shylock and in any other great role, in which he may appear, but Mr. Morrison, as a private citizen, the audience did not buy tickets to see or hear.

Senator Baldwin is undoubtedly the shrewdest politician in the Senate, Senator White not even excepted. Mr. Baldwin knows how to handle the patriots who compose the Home Rule Party. He speaks the Hawaiian language fluently, he is a man of great tact, and he possesses the most persuasive arguments—in his pocket. Far be it from us to insinuate that the King of Maui would use "jingling" arguments; he is far too good, too honorable, too upright to do such a thing, except he is dead sure of gaining his point and not being found out.

As it is generally understood that the Governor will not extend the session of the Legislature it is proper to rush all important measures through the two Houses. There are no reasons for debate on any of the questions. Their merits have been threshed out in caucus and the talk on the floor is only a "spiel" to the gallery. The appropriation bill can be considered in a special session which the Governor is obliged to call, and which incidentally will mean $200, in the pockets of our patriotic solons.

A specific tax on sugar should be introduced at once. A very large amount of money is needed to carry the Territory through the next fiscal period, and sugar, which has had all the benefit and been on easy street of this country for years, should now pay and help us out of the financial pilikia we find ourselves now. If we are in normal financial conditions two years hence, well and good, and the law, making a specific tax on sugar, can be repealed, but the Territory needs money, much money, just now.

"There are six measures that the legislature should push through at the earliest possible date, the county government bill, the city charter bill for Honolulu, the dispensary bill, the election law bill, the tax bill and the reappointment bill. Hasten these through and the appropriations can be taken up, as then something can be known about what appropriations will be needed."

—The Republican.

We say "kokua" in a loud tone of voice, but, brother Humphreys, why don't you make your men do it, or do something instead of wasting time over Cecil Brown's petty bills?

The Fiscal Bill Passed.

In the Senate yesterday Crabbe moved a reconsideration of Senate Bill No. 5, defining the biennial fiscal period of the Territory. C. Brown moved that it pass. J. Brown moved it be indefinitely postponed. Mr. White moved it be laid upon the table. The matter had been thoroughly discussed the day previous, hence the flow of oratory was not tapped. The vote taken resulted in the passage of the bill, 8 to 6, Senators Kauaha and Kaohi voting with the Republicans.

THE INDEPENDENT, 50 cents per month.

Shylock Tomorrow.

On Thursday evening the public of this city will have another opportunity of seeing Mr. Lewis Morrison and Miss Florence Roberts in one of their celebrated plays "Merchant of Venice" when the public will have another chance of witnessing some of the heaviest work these artists are capable of giving.

The "Merchant of Venice" ranks deservedly as one of Shakespeare's master pieces. We can trace in this play the maturity of the poet's intellectual power in which he is so eminently knew how to fuse into his strongest delineations of passion and feeling. The literary researches of the editors of Shakespeare have placed the date of its composition to be about the year 1599, when the author had arrived at the 34th years of his age. A period when in the fullness of his powers he was capable of uniting with the brilliancy and which marked his life, it is perhaps to this cause we owe the creation of "Shylock," a character so matchless in its intellectuality; so striking in its ideas; crazy that in whole range of the dramas it cannot be paralleled. We, however, will venture to say that the character of "Shylock" both in its representation by artists and its appreciation by critics seems to have faded it to erroneous misconception. Lewis Morrison has made "Shylock" a life long study and he plays the part with genuine feeling and earnestness which appeal to his hearers and yet at no time does he permit that vindictive spirit to give color to his lines, neither does he permit himself to take on the old time low comedy conception of "Shylock."

It has been conceded that Mr. Morrison's rendition of this character stand in a class of the great celebrities that have won their laurels by earnest work and have endeared themselves as a living memory to all that have witnessed his work.

The public are cautioned that tickets will only be held until 12 o'clock of the day for performance and if you fail to call for your seats at that time they will be sold.

A Ladies' Jollification.

The ladies belonging to the Imperial Pilgrimage of the Shriners will give a reception and dance at the Moana hotel on Tuesday evening, March 26. J. G. Rothwell, managing director of the hospitality, has given the ladies the use of the parlor and the dining hall. A canvas will be spread over the floor and the dancing will take place there. The best music will be furnished and a jolly good time is anticipated. The affair is complimentary to the wives, sweethearts and sisters of the members of Aloha Temple, in return for the many favors extended to the ladies of the Imperial Pilgrimage. A luncheon will also be served.

Messrs. Balasco & Tall

Take pleasure in announcing to the public of this city that

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Judge Wilcox disposed of a small calendar this morning. People are becoming good.

Prince David gave a dinner yesterday to the ladies who assisted at the Maternity Home luau.

John Wilder, a native living near the marine railway, had his house burned to the ground on Monday.

A Bamboo Hand Satchel has been lost and reward is offered the finder. See ad. elsewhere in this issue.

When you want a hack ring up 191. On that stand you will get a reliable and good driver, a fine hack, and no overcharging.

T. McCants Stewart W. C. Weedon and George Weight left for Maunalei yesterday to look into the property of the defunct plantation.

The local football team beat the Warspite team yesterday afternoon with a score of 5 to 0. The Warspite boys have evidently run up against a snag.

The Senate after a fruitless debate on the bill appropriating money for the Legislature adjourned at 11:30 this morning until tomorrow and another day was wasted.

Mrs. Bertha Myhre, a native of Norway, age 55, died at the Queen's Hospital yesterday after a lingering illness of several months. She leaves a husband and three sons.

Kentucky's famous Jesse Moore Whiskey, unequalled for its purity and excellence. On sale at any of the saloons and at Lovejoy & Co., distributing agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Carl C. Rhodes, formerly of the custom House force and at present with W. G. Irwin & Co., was married on Monday afternoon at the Roman Catholic Cathedral to Miss Clara McCarthy.

Captain James N. K. Keola has passed his examination to the satisfaction of the examining board of officers and the governor has issued a commission to him as commander in chief of Maui. "Jim" is out of sight now. George Cummings was also commissioned as second lieutenant in the Wailuku army. That means another luau at Waikapu.

Richelieu.

The Opera House was crowded last night when the curtain went up and Lewis Morrison, the great actor, appeared for the first time before a Honolulu audience.

The theatre goers of our city have always been accused of being cold and critical, but Lewis Morrison will be able to give a denial because he was bathed in the hot enthusiasm of an audience which appreciated his great talent and, by continuous applause and curtain calls made him understand that the criticism was all his way.

He was very ably sustained by Miss Roberts who played Julie to perfection. She is the most charming actress Honolulu ever has seen and we have even had the great "Sarah" on the boards of the old Opera House.

The other parts of play were of minor interest of course, but rendered as well as could be expected.

Tomorrow night "The Merchant of Venice" with Morrison as Shylock and Miss Roberts as Portia will be the bill. And by special request, Miss Roberts will repeat "Camille" at a matinee on Saturday. The last regular play of the season will be given on Saturday night. It is expected to be the great success of the series, "Faust."

Miss Mabel Cassidy.

We have to announce the sad news that Miss Mabel Cassidy died yesterday afternoon at the residence of her parents at Waikiki after a prolonged illness. Deceased was only fourteen years old and a victim to consumption. Her bereaved parents have the sympathy of the community in their affliction. Miss Cassidy was a sweet young girl and many friends will bemoan her death. The funeral took place this afternoon.

An Interesting Case

Judge Humphreys, in response to a writ of mandamus will appear before the Supreme Court to-morrow morning, to show cause why he excluded W. T. Schmidt from further jury duty and forfeited his dues as a juror.

Schmidt's complaint relates to the trial of Territory vs. Manu. Complainant was one of the jury who retired at 4:10 p. m. of March 1 to consider a verdict. He was unable to agree with ten of the jurors, although the jury were out until 10 o'clock next morning. Then they were called before the Judge, who, when the foreman answering a question said they could not agree, requested the names of the two jurors who were unable to agree with the ten jurors. Being informed by the foreman that the names were W. T. Schmidt and C. K. Quinn, the Judge "did then and there," the complaint says, "without cause and without right, and contrary to law and the rights of said jurors, W. T. Schmidt and C. K. Quinn, harshly and cruelly reprimand said jurors" and further ordered that they should be excused from further jury duty and forfeit their per diem fees as said jurors.

The complaint says "that at all times, while a verdict in said cause was being considered by said jury the said juror, W. T. Schmidt, did conduct himself properly and did conscientiously perform his duties, in compliance with his oath, as a trial juror in said cause."

It is declared that the complainant signed a statement of jury fees due and owing to him, and that the Territory of Hawaii has paid the sum of $24 owing to him as stated, but that Henry Smith, clerk of court, refuses to pay him the money on account of the order of Judge Humphreys.

A demurrer has been filed by Judge Humphreys, concluding with the prayer "that said writ of mandamus be dismissed and he may go hence with his costs herein most vexatiously sustained." His reasons are condensed below. 1. The writ does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action, or to entitle the relator to the writ of mandamus or to any relief. 2. The writ is not properly entitled and its allegations are neither in proper form nor direct and certain. 3. The writ discloses on its face that the relator has other plain, speedy and adequate remedies at law. 4. There is nothing in the writ to show that the relator has made any attempt in the Circuit Court to set aside the order constituting his complaint. 5. Upon its face the writ shows that if the relator is without remedy at law it is wholly due to his culpable laches, neglect and failure to seek redress in the Circuit Court. 6. The respondent cannot do the things alternately ordered in the writ "without violating the well-established practice of courts proceeding as at common law and without violating the law of the land." 7. The respondent has no control over the matters alleged and is without power, authority and jurisdiction to do and perform the order of the writ. 8. The Supreme Court "is without power, authority or jurisdiction in the premises."

Marcus Colburn.

Last night Marcus R. Colburn, a prominent Hawaiian passed away after a prolonged illness. Deceased was only 43 years of age, and Hawaii loses a son whose heart was at all times with his people and his country.

Colburn was a well-educated, bright Hawaiian possessed of many sterling qualities. For years he was a trusted employee of the big lumber firm of Lewers & Cooke, and after he branched out for himself in the dray business the heads of that firm followed his career with interest.

He met financial reverses and up to the time of his illness he was a clerk for W. G. Irwin & Co.

He leaves a wife and six children to mourn his loss. Deceased was a brother of John F. Colburn and of Mrs. Parmenter.

At the Kalihi Receiving Station.

The entire House of Representatives and a committee of four from the Senate, consisting of President Russell, and Senators Kalauekalani, Clarence Crabbe and Kanuha, visited the Leper Receiving Station yesterday afternoon at Kalihi, for the purpose of investigating the method of examination and condemnation. Several members of the medical profession from the States, who are visiting Shriners, were invited guests, among them being Dr. Calhoun, of Seattle; Dr. Barth, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, and Dr. Bunting, of Easton, Pa.

Fifty-one lepers and suspects were examined by Drs. Emerson, Cooper, Howard, Myers and McDonald, in the presence of the investigating law makers, who asked many questions and observed very closely while the doctors sought for the symptoms of the dread disease. After the examination they made a tour of the leper settlement in the enclosure, and made individual inspection of the habitation arrangements.

The Usual Two Sides.

In regard to the men who were found destitute here and claimed that they had been induced to go to Hawaii under false pretenses, there are statements from the plantation men as well as from those who supposed to work on the plantation, and they are very conflicting.

While Messrs. Adams and Atherton claim that the men will not go to the plantations to work, one of them named Walter Kenney states that he is over anxious to find real good hard work, in an interview with the Advertiser of yesterday, in which he is reported as saying:

"You see, we came from Boston, the whole eight of us. A fellow, the agent, said that we would have an easy time of it out in the Sandwich Islands, and that we would not have to work very hard. We were to get from $22 to $25 a month and the eight of us were to live in a furnished house with all our dishes and cooking things thrown in. Our food was only to cost us about a couple of dollars a week, and if we liked fruit all we had to do was to go out on the plantation and pick all the oranges and bananas and pineapples we wanted.

"Well, I was only getting $9 a week in a foundry and I spent $6 of that for my board and lodging every week. I spent the rest in having a good time on Saturday nights. I thought that if I got out to the Hawaiian Islands maybe I could save some money, because out on a plantation I would have no chance to spend much. Yes, $22 a month is not as much as $36 a month, I know, but then I wanted to see the Islands and thought that I would like the climate. I sold my winter underclothing and an overcoat in Vancouver, knowing that I would not need them down here.

"Now I am very anxious to get work in town. Where would you advise me to look for it? Stevedoring? Isn't that pretty hard work? I am afraid that some of us are not strong enough for that. I noticed the natives at work on the wharf today; I don't think that I could do that work very well. No, I have learned no trade. I am about 24 years of age and an American, but I haven't any trade or occupation. If I can't get work here I will have to go away. If I stowed away on a steamer, would they put me to work when they found me, do you think? Oh, no, I wouldn't care to work my passage to the Coast on a sailing vessel; I have never done that. Besides, they treat you kind of rough, don't they, and work you pretty hard?

"I would rather starve in town, anyhow, than work on a plantation for the small wages they offer. What's that? There's a law against starving here? Oh, you mean the vagrant law. Yes, that's so. Well, I am very anxious to get work, only I don't think that I would care to load and unload vessels or shovel coal or do heavy work of that kind. Yes, I'm strong enough but I thought that I could find some easy work in a country of this kind. I didn't suppose that a white man worked hard in this climate."

Why doesn't he become a newspaper man or a "reformer?" They don't work hard.

A FOOLISH BILL.

Representative Hoogs introduced a few days ago a most absurd bill in regard to the employment of minors in saloons. We have of course not yet heard the reasons of the honorable gentleman for this measure, but he certainly must be aware that minors are employed in every trade, store, and office in Honolulu. Why then make a distinction in regard to saloons? Mr. Hoogs can find out from every experienced saloon-keeper, that the man behind the bar is not as apt to drink, as is the man in front of the bar, and the honorable gentleman will certainly admit that the clause in the bill to prohibit saloon keepers from selling liquor to minors can never be enforced, because people do not go around with birth certificates in their pockets, and we will defy any man from, by sight, judging whether a customer is 21 years old or younger. Why, a man who keeps his goods looks in such an admirable manner, as does the introducer of the bill will often be taken for being just sweet eighteen and refused a drink, while eighteen years old boys with full beard would be served.

If Mr. Hoogs would investigate the matter a little he would find good reasons to withdraw his bill.

In one place a young man 19 years of age was, or is perhaps, employed as an assistant barkeeper in a saloon where his father works. The father placed him there to have him under his immediate surveillance, because the boy was beginning to sow the some kind of oats that the introducer of the bill perhaps at one time has scattered.

In another place a Japanese minor is employed outside of school hours. Does Mr. Hoogs believe that this boy can learn anything bad by washing glasses and hustling around the place to learn a competence which enables him to be brought up as a civilized man, and eventually may enable him to go into the dray business or the millionaire business, which is very much the same?

In a third place there are perhaps two or three minors at work. In that place only gentlemen are served. No ribald language or action is allowed, even by customers who feel happy. One young fellow working in that place, where we have occasionally had the pleasure of meeting the honorable introducer of the bill, earns $7 a week, with which he supports an invalid father and a couple of dozens of small brothers and sisters. Does Mr. Hoogs honestly think that that boy is going to the "damnation how wows," because he shakes a cocktail for an honorable legislator? From the place we refer to have gone forth young men who are a credit to the city, who are in business, on the stock exchange, etc., although they were working as minors in that saloon. If Mr. Hoogs will introduce a bill to prevent youngsters from loafing and becoming hoodlums or from joining the Y. M. C. A. he will act in the true interest of minors. A bill to prevent hard working boys from earning an honest living should be killed on sight, and we trust that will be the fate of Honorable Hoogs' bill, even if it is inspired from the Senate.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

It seems to us extremely bad form for an actor of the unquestioned ability of Lewis Morrison, to go before the curtain and advertise himself and his next performances, and express his views as to the beauty of our country. We want Mr. Morrison as Richelieu, Faust, Shylock and in any other great role, in which he may appear, but Mr. Morrison, as a private citizen, the audience did not buy tickets to see or hear.

Senator Baldwin is undoubtedly the shrewdest politician in the Senate, Senator White not even excepted. Mr. Baldwin knows how to handle the patriots who compose the Home Rule Party. He speaks the Hawaiian language fluently, he is a man of great tact, and he possesses the most persuasive arguments—in his pocket. Far be it from us to insinuate that the King of Maui would use "jingling" arguments; he is far too good, too honorable, too upright to do such a thing, except he is dead sure of gaining his point and not being found out.

As it is generally understood that the Governor will not extend the session of the Legislature it is proper to rush all important measures through the two Houses. There are no reasons for debate on any of the questions. Their merits have been threshed out in caucus and the talk on the floor is only a "spiel" to the gallery. The appropriation bill can be considered in a special session which the Governor is obliged to call, and which incidentally will mean $200, in the pockets of our patriotic solons.

A specific tax on sugar should be introduced at once. A very large amount of money is needed to carry the Territory through the next fiscal period, and sugar, which has had all the benefit and been on easy street of this country for years, should now pay and help us out of the financial pilikia we find ourselves now. If we are in normal financial conditions, two years hence, well and good, and the law, making a specific tax on sugar, can be repealed, but the Territory needs money, much money, just now.

"There are six measures that the legislature should push through at the earliest possible date, the county government bill, the city charter bill for Honolulu, the dispensary bill, the election law bill, the tax bill and the reappointment bill. Hasten these through and the appropriations can be taken up, as then something can be known about what appropriations will be needed."

—The Republican.

We say "kokua" in a loud tone of voice, but, brother Humphreys, why don't you make your men do it, or do something instead of wasting time over Cecil Brown's petty bills?

The Fiscal Bill Passed.

In the Senate yesterday Crabbe moved a reconsideration of Senate Bill No. 5, defining the biennial fiscal period of the Territory. C. Brown moved that it pass. J. Brown moved it be indefinitely postponed. Mr. White moved it be laid upon the table. The matter had been thoroughly discussed the day previous, hence the flow of oratory was not tapped. The vote taken resulted in the passage of the bill, 8 to 6, Senators Kauha and Kaohi voting with the Republicans.

THE INDEPENDENT, 50 cents per month.

Shylock Tomorrow.

On Thursday evening the public of this city will have another opportunity of seeing Mr. Lewis Morrison and Miss Florence Roberts in one of their celebrated plays "Merchant of Venice" when the public will have another chance of witnessing some of the heaviest work these artists are capable of giving.

The "Merchant of Venice" ranks deservedly as one of Shakespeare's master pieces. We can trace in this play the maturity of the poet's intellectual power in which he is so eminently knew how to fuse into his strongest delinquencies of passion and feeling. The literary researches of the editors of Shakespeare have placed the date of its composition to be about the year 1589, when the author had arrived at the 34th years of his age. A period when in the fullness of his powers he was capable of uniting with the brilliancy and which marked his life, it is perhaps to this cause we owe the creation of "Shylock," a character so matchless in its intellectuality; so striking in its idiosyncrasy that in whole range of the dramas it cannot be paralleled. We, however, will venture to say that the character of "Shylock" both in its representation by artists and its appreciation by critics seems to have fared it to erroneous misconception. Lewis Morrison has made "Shylock" a life long study and he plays the part with genuine feeling and earnestness which appeal to his hearers and yet at no time does he permit that vindictive spirit to give color to his lines, neither does he permit himself to take on the old time low comedy conception of "Shylock."

It has been conceded that Mr. Morrison's rendition of this character stand in a class of the great celebrities that have won their laurels by earnest work and have endeared themselves as a living memory to all that have witnessed his work.

The public are cautioned that tickets will only be held until 12 o'clock of the day for performance and if you fail to call for your seats at that time they will be sold.

A Ladies' Jollification.

The ladies belonging to the Imperial Pilgrimage of the Shriners will give a reception and dance at the Moana hotel on Tuesday evening, March 26. J. G. Rothwell, managing director of the hotel, has given the ladies the use of the parlor and the dining hall. A canvas will be spread over the floor and the dancing will take place there. The best music will be furnished and a jolly good time is anticipated. The affair is complimentary to the wives, sweethearts and sisters of the members of Aloha Temple, in return for the many favors extended to the ladies of the Imperial Pilgrimage. A luncheon will also be served.

The Senate after a fruitless debate on the bill appropriating money for the Legislature adjourned at 11:30 this morning until tomorrow and another day was wasted.

Mrs. Bertha Myhre, a native of Norway, age 55, died at the Queen's Hospital yesterday after a lingering illness of several months. She leaves a husband and three sons.

Carl C. Rhodes, formerly of the custom house force and at present with W. G. Irwin & Co., was married on Monday afternoon at the Roman Catholic Cathedral to Miss Clara McCarthy.

Captain James N. K. Keola has passed his examination to the satisfaction of the examining board of officers and the governor has issued a commission to him as commander in chief of Maui. "Jim" is out of sight now. George Cummings was also commissioned as second lieutenant in the Wailuku army. That means another luau at Waikapu.

Richelieu.

The Opera House was crowded last night when the curtain went up and Lewis Morrison, the great actor, appeared for the first time before a Honolulu audience.

The theatre goers of our city have always been accused of being cold and critical, but Lewis Morrison will be able to give a denial because he was bathed in the hot enthusiasm of an audience which appreciated his great talent and, by continuous applause and curtain calls made him understand that the criticism was all his way.

He was very ably sustained by Miss Roberts who played Julie to perfection. She is the most charming actress Honolulu ever has seen and we have even had the great "Sarah" on the boards of the old Opera House.

The other parts of play were of minor interest of course, but rendered as well as could be expected.

Tomorrow night "The Merchant of Venice" with Morrison as Shylock and Miss Roberts as Portia will be the bill. And by special request, Miss Roberts will repeat "Camille" at a matinee on Saturday. The last regular play of the season will be given on Saturday night. It is expected to be the great success of the series, "Faust."

Miss Mabel Cassidy.

We have to announce the sad news that Miss Mabel Cassidy died yesterday afternoon at the residence of her parents at Waikiki after a prolonged illness. Deceased was only fourteen years old and a victim to consumption. Her bereaved parents have the sympathy of the community in their affliction. Miss Cassidy was a sweet young girl and many friends will bemoan her death. The funeral took place this afternoon.

An Interesting Case

Judge Humphreys, in response to a writ of mandamus will appear before the Supreme Court tomorrow morning, to show cause why he excluded W. T. Schmidt from further jury duty and forfeited his dues as a juror.

Schmidt's complaint relates to the trial of Territory vs. Manu. Complainant was one of the jury who retired at 4:10 p. m. of March 1 to consider a verdict. He was unable to agree with ten of the jurors, although the jury were out until 10 o'clock next morning. Then they were called before the Judge, who, when the foreman answering a question said they could not agree, requested the names of the two jurors who were unable to agree with the ten jurors. Being informed by the foreman that the names were W. T. Schmidt and C. K. Quinn, the Judge "did then and there," the complaint says, "without cause and without right, and contrary to law and the rights of said jurors, W. T. Schmidt and C. K. Quinn, harshly and cruelly reprimand said jurors" and further ordered that they should be excused from further jury duty and forfeit their per diem fees as said jurors.

The complaint says "that at all times, while a verdict in said cause was being considered by said jury the said juror, W. T. Schmidt, did conduct himself properly and did conscientiously perform his duties, in compliance with his oath, as a trial juror in said cause.

It is declared that the complainant signed a statement of jury fees due and owing to him, and that the Territory of Hawaii has paid the sum of $24 owing to him as stated, but that Henry Smith, clerk of court, refuses to pay him the money on account of the order of Judge Humphreys.

A demurrer has been filed by Judge Humphreys concluding with the prayer "that said writ of mandamus be dismissed and he may go hence with his costs herein most vexatiously sustained." His reasons are condensed below. 1. The writ does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action, or to entitle the relator to the writ of mandamus or to any relief. 2. The writ is not properly entitled and its allegations are neither in proper form nor direct and certain. 3. The writ discloses on its face that the relator has other plain, speedy and adequate remedies at law. 4. There is nothing in the writ to show that the relator has made any attempt in the Circuit Court to set aside the order constituting his complaint. 5. Upon its face the writ shows that if the relator is without remedy at law it is wholly due to his culpable laches, neglect and failure to seek redress in the Circuit Court. 6. The respondent cannot do the things alternately ordered in the writ "without violating the well-established practice of courts proceeding as at common law and without violating the law of the land." 7. The respondent has no control over the matters alleged and is without power, authority and jurisdiction to do and perform the order of the writ. 8. The Supreme Court "is without power, authority or jurisdiction in the premises."

Marcus Colburn.

Last night Marcus R. Colburn, a prominent Hawaiian passed away after a prolonged illness. Deceased was only 43 years of age, and Hawaii loses a son whose heart was at all times with his people and his country.

Colburn was a well-educated, bright Hawaiian possessed of many sterling qualities. For years he was a trusted employee of the big lumber firm of Lewers & Cooke, and after he branched out for himself in the dray business the heads of that firm followed his career with interest.

He met financial reverses and up to the time of his illness he was a clerk for W. G. Irwin & Co.

He leaves a wife and six children to mourn his loss. Deceased was a brother of John F. Colburn and of Mrs. Parmenter.

At the Kalihii Receiving Station.

The entire House of Representatives and a committee of four from the Senate, consisting of President Russell, and Senators Kala'uokalani, Clarence Crabbe and Kanuha, visited the Leper Receiving Station yesterday afternoon at Kalihii, for the purpose of investigating the method of examination and condemnation. Several members of the medical profession from the States, who are visiting Shriners, were invited guests, among them being Dr. Calhoun, of Seattle; Dr. Barth, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, and Dr. Bunting, of Easton, Pa.

Fifty-one lepers and suspects were examined by Drs. Emerson, Cooper, Howard, Myers and McDonald, in the presence of the investigating law makers, who asked many questions and observed very closely while the doctors sought for the symptoms of the dread disease. After the examination they made a tour of the leper settlement in the enclosure, and made individual inspection of the habitation arrangements.
