FREAR'S STRAIGHT TALK ON LAND AND SETTLERS

Land for Nothing for All Bona Fide Settlers.

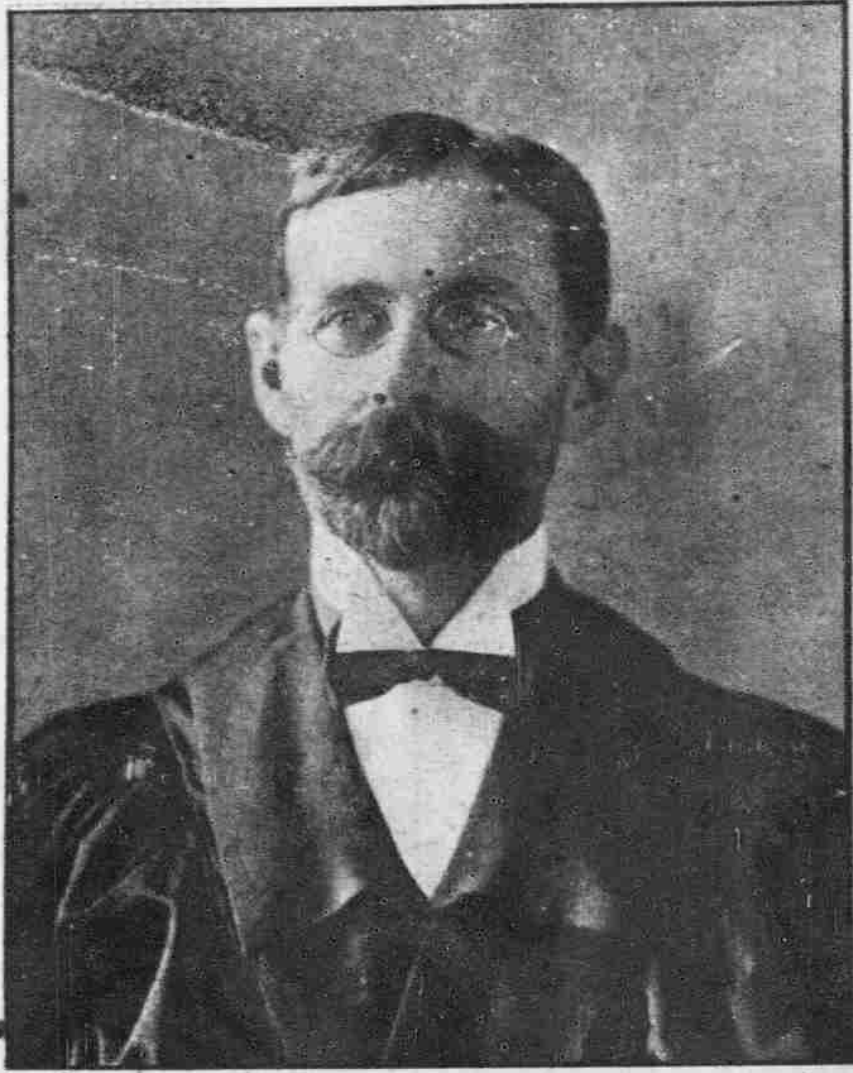

Strongly advocating serious attention and earnest consideration to the problem of securing for the development of this Territory a class of small landed proprietors and a permanent labor element of the citizen class, advising going to Congress for a change in the land laws and pointing out abuses of the present land system in these Islands, Governor Walter Francis Frear, as guest of the Commercial Club, yesterday noon delivered a most interesting and important address to a large number of representative business and professional men, to the following effect:

"When honored by an invitation to address you today I agreed to talk only on the understanding that I would be allowed to take for my subject a very old matter, one which has for a long time been the cause of discussion in the public prints and among us all, a matter so old that everybody has heard something of it and has had something to say about it, and yet a matter which is of the utmost importance to these Islands, to our main industry, the sugar industry, as well as to other industries which have of recent years been forging ahead, and therefore of intense interest, I think, to us all.

"The old subject, then, upon which I would like to speak is none other than that of small farming and of our growing diversified industries, the question of whether we are going to have the population of these Islands made up of a citizen class of small landed proprietors, people who want to make this their home, or a floating alien element.

"At this time I do not wish to go into the details of the many difficulties which confront us or whether these difficulties are insurmountable; I will not dwell on possible solutions of the problem now.

"I might well go into the description of the many great attractions of Hawaii as a place of abode; I might become enthusiastic in regard to our climate and our soil. I might picture the conditions when this country is held by a multitude of small farmers (Continued on Page Seven.)

Moving Pictures of Honolulu Enjoyed at a Private First View.

Decidedly interesting were the moving pictures of Honolulu and the Islands given at a private view in the Opera House last night by R. K. Bonine to a number of his friends, including the members of the Promotion Committee, the members of the Hawaii Yacht committee, representatives of the press and others. Not only were the pictures presented with a clearness of detail uncommon in the moving pictures seen so far in Honolulu, but those watching the animated scenes thrown on the canvas had the (Continued on Page Seven.)

DAY'S CROP OF POLITICAL RUMOR

The Street Corner Conventions Bring Out a Variety of Candidates.

Each day brings its crop of political rumors from the Republican camp and each day it would seem that the situation is becoming more and more complicated and hazy. It would seem now that only a big scrap will clear the air and put the party in fighting line for the clash with the Democrats and Home Rulers. Some few days ago the cute ones all talked Wise for sheriff. Then Rawlins had his day and now comes along another possibility, Charles Chillingworth, once deputy sheriff and now one of the leaders in the Lane wing. He is supposed to have hitched his wagon to Isenberg's star and to be assured of the nomination, while the leader on the ticket is to be Isenberg. Just where this will leave Lane, whose greatest touter for mayor, Chillingworth has been so far, can not be (Continued on Page Four.)

HOTEL COMPANIES TO CONFER.

There will be a joint meeting of the Hawaiian Hotel Company and the Territorial Hotel Company this morning at 9 o'clock, to consider the temporary closing of the Hawaiian and Moana hotels, thus introducing into the hotel business here the usage at various resorts on the Coast and in Florida, during the dull season.

THE DEMOCRATS GETTING READY

Edward Ingham to Succeed W. A. Kinney as Party Chairman.

W. A. Kinney has resigned as chairman of the Democratic Territorial Central Committee, and a meeting of the committee has been called for Friday evening at Waverley hall to elect a successor. In all probability Edward Ingham will be chosen as his successor.

Kinney's resignation was presented and accepted at a meeting of the committee held at the office of Kinney & Marx last evening. To the members present Mr. Kinney presented orally his reasons for resigning, and then presented the following letter which is a recapitulation of his oral remarks.

Honolulu, Hawaii, January 22, 1908.

To the Members of the Democratic Territorial Central Committee.

Dear Sirs: I have been in harness as chairman of your committee since the opening of the campaign of the year 1904, when C. P. Lauka ran for Delegate to Congress. I accepted the office under protest, feeling that I could not give the time required to the performance of its duties, but as there seemed no one else available for the office who would accept, I felt it my duty to do so. Since then I have done the best I could under the circumstances to meet the requirements of the office and to discharge my duty to the party. For some time past, however, I have felt that it was only fair to me, as well as to the party, that someone else should (Continued on Page Three.)

be appointed to serve, both because I felt I had done all I was justified in doing in justice to other claims upon me, and also because I believed the party would be benefited by a change in office, thus bringing in someone else with new ideas and fresh energy for the work. Some time ago I urged Mr. Waller to take the position but he absolutely declined to do so, but I am now credibly informed that responsible men can be found who are willing to accept the position, if appointed.

The party, after successive defeats, won a substantial victory last election, and its prospects for the future are bright. The members of the party elected to office have shown themselves capable of giving responsible government, and there is no reason why the success of last election should not be (Continued on Page Three.)

SOMETHING DOING ABOUT THE FEDERAL BUILDING

Governor Frear Asked if Territory Wants Room in It---He Replies No, but Urges an Adequate and Worthy Structure.

Something is doing in Washington, of actual business, about the Federal building for Honolulu. Secretary Garfield has written to Governor Frear, asking him for practical advice relative to construction requirements. The Governor has returned a well-thought reply to the inquiry.

"I have received a letter from the Secretary of the Interior," Governor Frear said to an Advertiser reporter yesterday, "inquiring whether we wanted provision to be made in the new Federal building for any Territorial officials.

"This seems to show that the matter is making headway in Washington. Probably the question was referred by the House committee to Secretary Garfield, or to the Secretary of the Treasury and through him to the Secretary of the Interior.

"I have replied," the Governor proceeded, "saying that we did not need any accommodation in the building. Although we are a good deal crowded now, the condition would be relieved considerably when the new building was provided by the Federal officials getting out of the Territorial buildings now occupied by them.

"Also I mentioned that when certain other Federal buildings taken over from the Government of Hawaii, such as the postoffice, should be restored to the Territory, we could get on very creditably without additional room.

This, for the first time, was by way of putting in a claim on such buildings when they have been vacated by the United States Government.

"Furthermore, I urged that they ought to be sure to make the Federal building large enough, because not only was the business of these islands growing but also the business of the Pacific. It would be a great mistake, I pointed out, to make the building of such limited proportions that, a little later, it would be found inadequate.

"Moreover, from the central position of Honolulu in the tracks of Pacific commerce, it ought to be a good building in point of appearances. Here is where many travelers will first step ashore upon American soil, and the principal United States building should therefore be one of which American citizens would be proud.

"I stated that I hoped not less than $850,000 would be appropriated, reminding the Secretary of the Interior that the cost of building was greater here than on the mainland. Yes, that is exclusive of the cost of the site, making the entire expenditure for the building one million dollars."

THE PINEAPPLE
INDUSTRY AND ITS
GROWING MARKETA. C. Baumgartner of Hunt Bros. Company
Gives His Views of the Outlook—Says a Market Must Be Carefully Cultivated.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Baumgartner and James D. Dole returned Tuesday by the Mauna Loa from a trip to the Island of Hawaii. Mr. Baumgartner is the vice president of Hunt Bros. Company, San Francisco, among the largest dealers in fruit in the country. Hunt Bros. company are the agents of the Hawaiian Pineapple Company, the largest growers and canners of pineapples in Hawaii, and Mr. Baumgartner is largely interested in the concern. He has been here before so that he is thoroughly familiar with the Hawaiian pineapple industry.

"Our visit to Hawaii," he said yesterday, "was purely for pleasure and principally to see the volcano. Mr. Dole is interested in a rubber enterprise in Puna and he took the opportunity to go down and look at it. A gentleman who is interested in lands in Puna which he thinks suitable for pineapples urged us to go and look at them, and in this way we saw some of the lands of Puna believed to be suitable for pineapples. It struck us that the land was rough and broken and incapable of being cultivated in pineapples in the same way or on the same scale that we cultivate them at Wahiawa. Our inspection was of the most casual character, however, and of course did not extend to the question of how well pineapples would grow there—we simply made the observation that the method of cultivating them would necessarily differ from the methods of Wahiawa, and apparently that the cost of cultivating would be greater.

PINEAPPLES IN KONA.

"We spent a half day in Kona and saw the pineapple cultivation there. I do not know how much the industry can expand there, but the same observation seemed true of these Kona lands; that they were broken, and hence that cultivation must be on hill-sides and terraces and in small tracts, an acre or two here, and an acre or two there, and not as with us in Wahiawa where the company in which I am interested has rows of pineapples at least two miles long.

"On Maui, near Kahului, where the industry has been developed further than anywhere else in the islands except on this island, conditions seem more nearly like they are with us. I understand that a great deal of planting has been done on Kauri, but I have not been there.

THE WAHIAWA REGION.

"The Wahiawa region is where the industry has had the most phenomenal growth. There is where the cultivation can be carried on most cheaply. There is where, in all probability, the problems of the industry will be most thoroughly studied and most quickly solved. As there will probably be differences between the methods of cultivation between other islands and this, so there are already differences in methods of cultivation at Wahiawa. I think few growers keep their lands as free from weeds as our company does. We consider it important as a defense against the ants and the mealy bugs. The ants place the mealy bugs on the pineapples, both on the leaves and on the fruit itself. The mealy bug draws its sustenance from the mealy bug. The freer the land is kept from weeds, the less protection and shelter there is for the ants and the mealy bugs. But it is as certain as the experience in all other industries can make it, that new insects and other pests will develop and we will have to fight them. The sugar industry has developed its enemies, and the planters have had to fight them. The leaf-hopper ruined the crop of some planters three or four years ago. In California we have been fighting insect pests for years and are fighting them still.

GROWING BY LEAPS AND BOUNDS.

"The pineapple industry of the islands has been growing by leaps and bounds. In 1906 the pack was say about 75,000 to 80,000 cases. In 1907 the pack was about 175,000 cases. In 1908 it will probably be from 300,000 to 325,000 cases. There has now been taken up for cultivation in the Wahiawa region about 6000 acres. If it is all put into cultivation as it is now expected to be, the crop of 1909, including that of the other islands will be between 600,000 and 700,000 cases. It is a question whether a market can be developed for that much or more than that much by that time. Our own company has 2300 acres of land suitable for cultivation. Of that about 1300 acres is now under cultivation. We expect, assuming that our present plans are not changed, and that crop conditions remain as they have been in the past, that our 1909 pack will be about 200,000 cases. Our present plans do not contemplate any increase over that until we feel certain of an increasing market which will absorb an increase of production.

HAWAIIAN IS A TABLE FRUIT.

"Hawaiian canned pineapple is a new commodity in the canned fruit market. It has not displaced the Bahama pine. It is a tenderer fruit than the Bahama pine. It is less acid. Its flavor we think is better, though the fact remains that a great many people prefer the flavor of the Bahama pine. But the Bahama pine has never been a table fruit. I mean by that that it is not served on the tables of the average public in the same way that canned peaches, pears, and apricots are. Its greatest use is in the making of glazed fruits, and as a fruit for use at bars. The Hawaiian canned pineapples, being softer, when served on the table as a canned fruit, can be eaten more readily with a fork or with a spoon; it has no woody residue, and hence is making its way as a table fruit.

DEVELOPING A MARKET.

"The Hawaiian pack has grown from say 6000 cases four or five years ago to 175,000 cases in 1907, probably 325,000 cases in 1908, and an expectation of 600,000 or 700,000 cases in 1909. The question is will the market continue to increase in anything like that ratio? It is a reasonable question. Our house is the only concern that has systematically undertaken to create a market for the Hawaiian canned pineapple. The earlier pack of the islands was consigned to San Francisco, New York, and perhaps other places, and as warehouse and insurance charges piled up against it and the demand from banks or others who had made advances became more imperative, it was sold for whatever it would bring. Hunt Bros. Company undertook to create a market. It is in the business of selling canned California fruits to wholesale grocers all over the United States and in other countries. Most of the goods we handle are of a high quality. We were in a position to bill a quantity of the Hawaiian canned pines to our customers in various parts of the country, writing them what they cost and asking them to do the best they could with them. They sold them to their customers through their traveling salesmen, and in addition we have salesmen in the east who work in conjunction with the salesmen of our customers in introducing new varieties of goods. In no case were any of these shipments returned, and in most cases additional orders were received. We had one of our salesmen out here during the last packing season in order that he might know at first hand all about the goods. In this and other ways we have spent money to create a market.

PACKERS MUST UNITE.

"Other packers have been able to dispose of their pack, carried along by the general ability of the market to absorb the increase of output. But whether it will continue to do so or not, is not sure, and I doubt if it will. Our own increase in output has been from 1800 cases to nearly 100,000 cases, which is a little more rapidly than the output as a whole has increased, though not such a great deal. My own opinion is that it will not be long before the packers will all have to unite in systematic methods for developing and increasing the market.

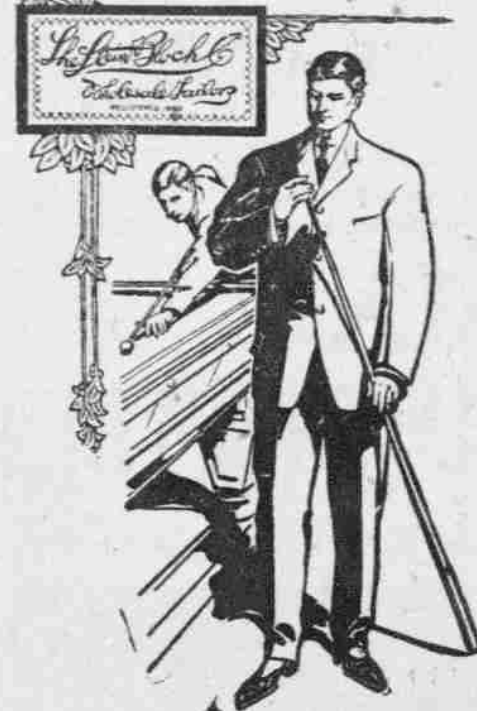

"During the past season we sent about 6000 cases to England. Liverpool and London are the greatest distributing centers of the canned fruit output in the world. Great Britain takes about 400,000 cases of Singapore pineapples annually. They are nominally the same size as our cans, but in reality a trifle larger. They sell at from four shillings to four shillings six pence. We sold ours at eight shillings, and a part of them at eight shillings six pence. With such a difference in price, even admitting that our pines are much the better, the increase in sale in England must necessarily be slow.

MARKET FOR GREEN PINES

"Now as to the market for green pineapples. We have made it a point to ship green pineapples by every mail steamer—the Pacific Mail as well as the Alameda and the Hawaiian, in order that we might keep the commission merchants to whom we consigned, supplied, and create a steady market. We shipped during the canning season as well as between seasons, although during the canning season the advantage would have been in canning them. Sometimes we did very well, and sometimes not so well. On the average perhaps we did as well as if we had canned them. What green pineapples need is a well ventilated place during transportation. The deck would be an ideal place if it were not for the danger of getting wet. They will not stand wet. They must be kept dry. They will not stand refrigeration. They turn black when taken out. Improvement in ventilation will improve the business of shipping green pineapples.

OVERSTOCKING THE MARKET.

"You ask me if there is danger of over-stocking the pineapple market. I say there is a possibility. There is at present a pretty fair margin of profit in the industry. Any business that presents a good margin of profit is in danger of overstocking the market. I think the real test will come about 1909. The anticipated crop of that year will be from 600,000 to 700,000 cases. That is four times the crop of 1907, and twice that of 1908. It seems hardly possible that the market can keep on indefinitely absorbing a product that is doubling every year. I have said that our company at present does not contemplate the immediate increase of its plantings beyond the acreage already decided on for the 1909 crop. Still if the 1909 pack should move off more easily than we now anticipate, we might be disposed to take a few chances. But it is hardly to be expected that the market unaided will absorb an output indefinitely which doubles every year, and it takes time, and effort, and money to develop a market.

"Such is our view of the pineapple outlook. Possibly some may think that because we are in the business ourselves we want to discourage others. But such is not the fact. The greater the market the better it will be for us, and a very much larger market can be created than exists now or than is likely to exist for next year's crop but it cannot be created instantly. It takes time and effort."

THE PROBLEM OF CEMETERIES

Inspector Venhuizen's Report to Board of Health Summarized.

In view of the general importance of the subject, a summary is here given of the report of J. Venhuizen, chief sanitary officer and inspector of cemeteries, to the Board of Health on the question of additional cemetery accommodation.

One of the proposed sites investigated by Mr. Venhuizen is located in Kalihi, adjoining Fort Shafter. The Territory owns over twelve acres there and it had been proposed by representatives of burial associations to acquire twenty acres of adjacent property, consisting of improved and unimproved residence lots. The cost of this property would be not less than $2000 an acre, and the site is practically condemned by Mr. Venhuizen when he reports that most of the tract has ledge rock croppings and boulder surface rock. At Kalihi-waena cemetery, which is within the bounds of the proposed site, burials are often delayed and interments made the day after the funeral on account of the rock encountered. While the place has a ten-minute car service and can be supplied with government water, it lacks depth of soil for the digging of graves and is situated also within a residence section.

The proposed Waiialea cemetery had also been investigated and soundings made throughout the site, which comprises fifty acres in the southeasterly portion of the Waiialea tract reserved by Gear, Lansing & Co. for cemetery purposes. Portions of some blocks and the entirety of others are solid coral and unsuitable for burials. About forty acres has a depth of soil ranging from four to twelve feet, indicating sandstone, coral and boulder bed rock, and the soil is easily excavated. It would require 3000 feet of water main to reach the site. Facilities of transportation must also be provided. Manager Baileytone of the Rapid Transit Co. was approached on this matter, but the proposal he made he did not wish to go on record at least prior to a general discussion by the Board. President Pinkham, in submitting the whole cemetery problem to the Board, made it clear that he considered the Rapid Transit Co.'s terms as given made further negotiations in that direction useless. Trustees of the Gear, Lansing & Co. interests, by D. W. Anderson, quoted $500 an acre as the price of the land exclusive of streets on the plan, with the probability of a much less figure if the streets were included, but exact terms could not be offered without a meeting of the trustees. Mr. Venhuizen suggests that a meeting be called of the various burial associations to consider ways and means for purchasing this or any other cemetery site which may prove suitable.

All possible information had been obtained from the government departments, and investigations made of the various tracts of government lands which would not be too highly elevated to get a good water supply, with the result that nothing could be found. The Bishop estate, however, has a tract of land situated at Keolu, adjoining the Agricultural College reserve and north of the Moiliili road. This tract is within easy reach of the car line and piped water can be had from either Moiliili road or Highland Park Addition. There is good drainage, as the land has a gentle slope toward Moiliili. The surface soil indicates some loose surface stone with red soil and gravel subsoil. Superintendent Frank Dodge informs Mr. Venhuizen that the Bishop estate is open for an exchange of this land and suggests that a survey be made of the portion wanted. As the tract is now under lease to the John Ena estate any exchange made would be subject to the conditions of the lease.

The suitability of Lochview cemetery at Pearl City had been investigated relative to making it one for more general use. It has an area of twenty acres and ten acres more can be obtained if expansion should be necessary. The site is well laid out, due east and west. With soil ideal for a cemetery, water is piped throughout the site. A perfect record is kept of every burial, so that any field grave can be located. The fare to Lochview and return is twenty-five cents, and the cost of a burial there $11, including price of lot, digging of grave and funeral car from Honolulu, whereas, Mr. Venhuizen observes, the burials in any of the city cemeteries cost from $12 to $24, unless the grave is dug by friends or relatives. An objectionable feature he notes against Pearl City is that all funerals must leave on the 2:15 train, also if people remain at the cemetery more than an hour, say to decorate a grave, they would have to wait several hours for the next train.

Mr. Venhuizen gives details of the extremely bad conditions—from overcrowded space, burials in water, exposure of old coffins, etc.—existing in Waikiki, Catholic and Kawaiahae cemeteries. At Makiki cemetery all of the field space has been utilized, and in many instances the walks and alleys have also been used for burial space, which in the investigator's opinion should not be allowed. He concludes by saying:

"At Nuuanu and all of the smaller cemeteries there is still considerable space for burials and the general conditions are fair. But I would suggest that all applications for enlarging any of these cemeteries be denied."

OBJECTION TO A LARGER CEMETERY

Editor Advertiser: Will you be so kind as to allow the following remarks to be published in your tomorrow morning's issue.

I notice in the report of President Pinkham's message to the Board of Health, published in the Advertiser this morning, under the heading, "Great Problem of Cemeteries," among other things the following:

"There is a need for immediate relief in providing room for the burial of the indigent and prison dead, and also for certain classes of Japanese, all heretofore accommodated in the Makiki cemetery."

"Directly in the rear of Makiki cemetery, and bounded by an extension of Wilder avenue mauka street line, to the gulch below Punchbowl and following the contour of the gulch until it nearly joins the mauka line of the cemetery, is a knoll containing possibly two acres of government land suitable for burial purposes. The land is useful for no other purpose. The board can properly recommend this land be added to the Makiki cemetery and thus relieve the situation until a larger cemetery can be established."

The Punchbowl and Makiki district is one of the finest and most popular residence districts of the city and it is a shame to have practically in its midst any cemetery at all. There is a cemetery there, however, and so I suppose those in its vicinity must make the best of it. But why, may I ask, is it necessary to extend and enlarge it for the burial of the "indigent, prison dead and certain classes of Japanese"? Would it not be far better for the improvement of this district to remove the cemetery entirely?

As a resident of this district, I have a very great interest in this question, perhaps the greatest interest of any of the residents in this section, for my property adjoins the cemetery. My residence is above and overlooking the cemetery and this proposed addition will bring the burial place for the "indigent, prison dead and certain classes of Japanese" right alongside of my living apartments. Almost all of this knoll is solid rock and, in order to make the graves, will require to be blasted, which will be a menace to my residence and my family. As a propertyholder and taxpayer I desire, respectfully and emphatically, to protest against the use of this land for this purpose.

STUART DUNBAR AND ANOTHER ISLAND GIRL

San Francisco Town Talk of January 11, says:

Recent arrivals from Honolulu tell me that the island gossips, who can scent the smell of orange blossoms afar, have discovered a matrimonial tendency on the part of Stuart Dunbar. Young Dunbar is about to inherit the estate of his first wife, Genevieve Dowsett, and tripping on the heels of this inheritance, rumor has sighted another bride—a young woman who belongs to one of the old Hawaiian families and is considered an island beauty. Stuart Dunbar's first wife is still profoundly mourned by her family and friends. Her marriage to young Dunbar created a sensation about two years ago, coming as it did before the noise of one shattered romance had died away. Miss Dowsett's first heart affair was inspired by Prentiss Gray, son of the Oakland capitalist, whom she saved from drowning at a mountain resort. Honolulu girls are all expert swimmers and Miss Dowsett was particularly fearless in the water. The fact that their son owed his life to her bravery won the consent of the Grays when the young couple decided to brave the storms of life together. But after the first glow of "gratitude" had faded, the young man's fancy lightly turned in another direction. Miss Dowsett belonged to one of the wealthiest and most respected families in Hawaii and like all the pioneer families confessed a proud strain of native blood. Shortly after the engagement was broken Miss Dowsett became the guest of the Dunbars at their pretty home on Belvedere Island, and her marriage to the young son of the household followed a very short and impetuous wooing. While still on the honeymoon stage of existence young Mrs. Dunbar swam far out to sea to recover a boat that had escaped its moorings, and a fatal case of pneumonia resulted as a penalty for exposure in the cold waters. Her young husband took the body of his beautiful wife to her island home for burial and he has remained there ever since.

WALLACH SAYS HE WILL NOT SIGN ANY MORE

"I have already signed the Board of Health's requirements four times, and I am not going to sign any more," said J. Lor Wallach yesterday.

"Pinkham keeps changing the conditions. The last time he thought I would not sign it. But I did. So then he wants to change it again. He says it was a mistake. How do I know what the Attorney General will draw up? I will sign nothing more."

"But I will get the twelve patients from the leper settlement. The people of Kalaupapa have become so roused up that the Board of Health and Pinkham can not help themselves. They will have to let me carry out my experiments. More than two hundred people at the Settlement have written me asking to be one of the twelve patients selected by the committee."

duplicated and surpassed next November. The campaign promises to be a keen one. In fact, it is already in motion, and the man who is to act as chairman of the Democratic Territorial Committee during the next campaign should be in harness now. I, therefore, feel that the interests of the party, as well as my own interests, call for a change and I now resign my position, both on the Democratic Territorial Central Committee and the Democratic Central Committee for the County of Oahu, preferring to remain in the ranks for a season, at least, so that I can attend more completely than I have in the past to my own private affairs, which need my close attention.

I withdraw without any disaffection whatsoever, or any occasion for it, having received loyal and faithful support from you, my associates, and from the rank and file. I believe more than ever in the principles of Democracy, and promise to give earnest and faithful support to the party in the future, as I have in the past.

Thanking you for your goodwill and support, and wishing you all success in the future, I remain,

Yours very truly,

W. A. KINNEY.

There was much expression of reluctance to accept Mr. Kinney's resignation, several of the members expressing regret that he felt that his other duties would not permit him to give to the work of the committee the time that ought to be given to it now, when the work of organization ought to be in full swing.

The resignation was accepted on the motion of Curtis P. Iaukea, who said, in making the motion that he agreed with Mr. Kinney as to the need of some one at the head of the party who could and would give the time necessary to carry on the party work. "I have no special personal interest in this," he said, "because I do not expect to be a candidate for re-election to the office I now hold nor to any other. I have plans for other engagements when my term of office expires. My personal relations with Mr. Kinney have always been pleasant, and although the presentation of his resignation comes as a surprise, I have not been unacquainted with the fact that he has not been able to give the time to the work that he feels he ought to, and I know that he has long been desirous of turning the work over to someone who would give the necessary time to it."

At the meeting on Friday evening, to which the meeting last night adjourned, in addition to the election of a successor to Mr. Kinney, there will be a number of vacancies in the committee to fill. Besides Sheriff Iaukea himself, there are five members of the committee who are members of the police force. Sheriff Iaukea will set an example and resign from the committee, holding that as a public official he ought to devote himself wholly to the work of his office, and not take an active part in partisan politics. The other members of the police force who are members of the committee will also resign either from the committee or from the police force. It is said that some of them will resign from the police force.

Edward Ingham who will in all probability be chosen on Friday evening was one of the legislative candidates of the party at the last election.

FINANCIAL CONFERENCE TAKES ANOTHER DAY

Again the Governor had a long day of conferences with officials yesterday, besides receiving a number of callers. Some other appointments were again postponed for a day on account of the length of time occupied in the consideration of financial matters, with not only the Treasurer and, a portion of the time, the Oahu collector of taxes in closet, but the Secretary of the Territory and the Attorney General.

That two days in succession should have been mainly devoted to treasury business, with such an array of members of the official family in council, led an Advertiser reporter to inquire if anything had gone wrong. Both Treasurer Campbell and Collector Holt promptly denied that there was any trouble.

Governor Frear, on being asked if there was anything serious to occasion such continuous deliberation on financial, to the exclusion of other matters, replied that he hoped there was not but he would probably be able to give out some statement regarding the conference in question within a few days.

THURSDAY

JANUARY 23

THE DAY OF SMALL FARMING.

In his address to the business men at the Commercial club yesterday Governor Frear placed his administration squarely on the platform of the Small Farm—the division of agricultural land in Hawaii among bona fide American settlers. That act will prove a memorable one, as we believe; the beginning of a consistent and progressive effort to get American farmers here and to make it worth their while to stay.

A very practical suggestion indeed was that to bankers. Elsewhere in America, the Governor said, banks advance money to the farmer to help him along, just as all banks do to business men. The middle west is full of farmers' banks. Some of the capital of Hawaii might well be turned in this direction so that white Americans of undoubted character and habits of thrift and industry, who acquire land here, may get assistance between crops. Such experiments in the lemon and raisin belts of Southern California have proved as successful as they have in the wheat and corn belts of the prairie states.

If the colonization plan is tried, as we hope it will be, care can be taken to get the well-to-do class of settlers such as were induced, by the Southern California promotion committees, to go there. Hundreds of thousands of farmers live in the Middle West, who are tired of cold weather, who have money in bank, and who long for a milder climate than the great plains afford. Upon this class Southern California has principally drawn. It is a solvent class of the best American strains. Some of its members are getting to a time of life where farming is practiced because it is a familiar pursuit and not because of its relation to the struggle for existence; and in this scheme of things, a good climate, an everlasting summer, counts. Another type is the young and ambitious farmer with some means and a desire to put it into the sort of cultivation that pays best. Pineapples and tobacco would attract him. If the land is provided for such people and proper measures are taken to get them, it will not be long before Wahiawas will be multiplied all over Hawaii. It may even be that the plantations and cattle ranches, as Governor Frear suggests, will find it to their advantage to divide themselves into small holdings.

The enthusiasm with which the business men who heard the Governor speak received his pledges and suggestions, shows how fruitful has been the seed so long sown here by the Small Farm propaganda. Clearly, Honolulu is for the new order; and the fact suggests that it will not be difficult to take the Promotion Committee out of the costly and resultless tourist undertaking and put it at work for settlers—for the man who will stay rather than the man who will call. A year of hard work along these lines could not but show immense results. The authentic story of Wahiawa would, we believe, if widely circulated in official literature and supported by definite land proposals by the government, do more to bring people here than all the tourist literature we have ever sent out.

THE SAIONJI MINISTRY.

Ever since it went into power the Saionji ministry has had upon its hands the unpopular duty of devising taxes to meet the mountain of obligation which the war had piled on Japan, and to devise additional taxes to meet the military and naval program which Japan's new position as a world power—the result of victory—demanded of the national pride of the Japanese people. For awhile the intense national feeling of the people supported the ministry in any measures which could be made to appear necessary for this purpose. But the burdens of taxation, when long endured, gall, and national pre-eminence is a poor salve for the bruises and sores of grinding imposts. The nation has been showing signs of restiveness, if not of exhaustion, for some time. It is evident that the Saionji ministry has recognized for some time that the limit of endurance had been about reached. This is shown by the very material scaling down of the military and naval programs proposed, and by the reduction in the expenditures proposed for every department of the government. The postponement of the system of segregation hospitals for lepers indicates to what minutiae the program of retrenchment descended. It is said that there was not a single item in the entire budget which did not feel the pruning knife except the one item of 5,000,000 yen for the work of Prince Ito in Korea.

FINING AMUSEMENTS.

Amusements are not so many in this isolated place as to warrant putting a fine on them, and a tax of $5 each on performances which charge low prices of admission, is often hard to bear. Even the Orpheum feels it and the nickelodeum, if the present tax case goes against it, will have to leave a field where it is giving rational and cheap entertainment to many people.

The law may not assist in giving amusements to Honolulu, although it provides for a band that is getting more diverting all the time, but it ought not to head any proper amusements off. The city needs all of them it can get. The Legislature took that view of the $5 license tax, but Governor Carter was in favor of it and had his way.

We think the best interests of Honolulu would be served by imposing a small annual tax on theaters and similar places and let the shows make what little money they can, untroubled by the daily visits of the tax collector.

If the Sheriff would offer a reward of $100 each for the capture of Lopez and his confederate, the people in the back country would probably round them up. Trust a hui of native cowboys for that. It is not easy for fugitives to "hide out" on Oahu as there is little to eat in the woods. They must appear somewhere for food. Unless urged by a reward, the average native or Portuguese would not interfere with such people as there could be nothing to compensate him for the danger run. Nor could he use arms in a man-hunt without the authority which is conveyed in an official reward for taking outlaws.

How many times the Advertiser, in replying to coast criticism, has dinned the following in the public ear—the words now taken up by Congressman Kahn: "No matter how large the sum required, the Hawaiian islands should be made impregnable. If not, all the Pacific Coast would be at our enemy's mercy." This is the gist of the whole argument for the creation of a Malta here and if it can convert Congressman Kahn it ought to have no trouble with the rest of them.

There is probably no city on the American mainland where the filling of important Federal positions would excite so little rivalry as here. The reapportionment of United States Attorney Breckons and United States Marshal Hendry, has been made without opposition. In San Diego, a smaller town, there would have been ten Republicans out for each job. Evidently our veteran office-hunters find the local field rich enough to enjoy their appetites.

The Star spoke of the failure of the plan to make Evans a "full Admiral" before he went to sea, and when reminded that there was no such plan, it insists that there was, and points to the proof that there is a bill in Congress now to give Evans the lower rank of Vice Admiral. The Star sometimes moves in a mysterious way its logic to perform. Perhaps, though, it merely meant to argue that a Vice Admiral could be as "full" as any other kind.

The Bulletin says that it can "guarantee" what the Frear administration will do. This must be one of the kind of guarantees it gave the "Bulletin girls." Or perhaps it is like a circulation guarantee. If there is anything cheaper in the Bulletin office than guarantees it must be the man that scribbles them.

Having seen its scheme to crowd out the American farmer and get lazzaroni instead, effectually disposed of, the Bulletin professes to be delighted. The enjoyment of kicks doesn't seem to be confined to spaniels.

The Governor's speech is a good antidote for the Pinkham report which the anti-small farm press used to class with the four gospels.

There are several ghosts preparing to rise from their political graves in Honolulu and run for things.

OPENING FOR A HALF MILLION OF JAPANESE

According to official information regarding the future restriction of Japanese emigration to Hawaii, a Government official has figured out that the door is opened for the domiciling in this Territory of over half a million Japanese. Consul Saito yesterday received a cablegram from Baron Hayashi, Minister of Foreign Affairs, stating the policy of the Government of Japan in the matter thus:

"The permission to be given to the Japanese laborers who emigrate to Hawaii is limited, for the time being, to the following classes only:

"First—Those who have been in Hawaii and desire to go again;

"Second—The parents, wives, children, brothers, and sisters of the persons who are presently living in Hawaii;

"Three—The husband and wives of the brothers and sisters quoted above.

"This takes effect on the first of February, 1908."

Upon which the local statistician bases the following calculation:

Number of Japanese now here.	60,000
Two parents of each entitled to come.	120,000
Foregoing make 180,000, each of whom has a wife, brother, sister or husband entitled to come, making another	180,000
Husbands and wives of the brothers and sisters quoted above.	180,000
Grand possible total.	540,000

figured out. Just for the present Lane has gone behind a cloud, but it is a long Lane that has no turning and his turn at the head of the rumor brigade may come at any time.

A. L. C. Atkinson, who will have to submit to be called "Jack" again, is also supposed to be planning in the depth of the Judd building for the launching of a boom. Jimmy Boyd, who has been rather snubbed of late by some of the ones he worked the wards with, is hinting pretty broadly that he has an Atkinson boom under his hat and ready to let it go at first convenient opportunity. Jack, it will be remembered, was the first in the field with a silver cup for the Kakaako baseball league, now rechristened the Atkinson league, beating Charley Hustace into the cup game by a good lap. He is also one of the biggest rooters on the side lines in Atkinson park, in Kakaako, every Sunday, and there are those mean enough to insinuate that Jack has had his eye on the Kakaako vote just as much as on the Kakaako scoreboard.

Jack Lucas is letting no grass grow under his feet either, and being further into the field than the others and less reticent about his ambitions is getting the promises of a lot of support in his candidacy. He will go into the convention with the backing of a good many.

The supposed ambition of Chillingworth has forced Isenberg's name into the street corner discussions very prominently again. It was generally supposed that he had decided to keep out of the ring, but this early in the game there is time for a change of mind over and over again.

Hustace is saying little, but it may be taken for granted that the taste he has had of sitting in the big chair has not proved unpleasant for him and that the sound of the title mayor is even better than of chairman. His attitude on the campaign question so far has been Sphinxlike.

This gives Lane, Atkinson, Isenberg, Lucas and Hustace to be discussed, not to mention Dwight, Aehl and a string of others who have been at one time or another mentioned for the five thousand dollar job.

A. M. Brown, supposed to be politically dead, has been resurrected by some of his friends and his name coupled again with that of the shrivality. Just what this is for only the ones behind the scenes seem to know. Certainly it cannot be serious. With Wise and Chillingworth to pull for the Hawaiian vote and with the Fourth district back of the present sheriff, the leader of the old police machine is dreaming vain dreams if he supposes that there will ever again be a chance for him. Vida might just as well come out. But if Chillingworth gets in Brown may have Taylor's place.

In the Supervisorial crop are a number of new ones. Jim Quinn has already been mentioned and Walter Dillingham is being urged to be again a candidate before the convention. Archer is going to move out to make room for someone, being ambitious for a seat in the Senate.

The Republicans are not so busy with their own affairs but what they are taking a little time to look over the Democratic possibilities. With so many factions developing within their own ranks it is conceded that the Democrats might stand a show for some of the good things again if they put up good men. Among them they are agreed that the strongest man for any of their men to meet in the fight for the sheriffship would be Iaukea. No other Democrat, they argue, would cut as deeply into their independent vote nor be able to appeal for general support with as good prospects of success. The hope is that the Democrats will refuse to nominate him for a second term.

They are carefully sizing up the mayoralty timber in the Democratic ranks, also, though professing to have little doubt that the Republican nomination is not tantamount to election.

YOUNG HAWAII AND THE ARMY

Second Lieutenant Commissions Open to Members of the N. G. H.

Second Lieutenancies in the regular army of the United States are thrown open to competition among members of the National Guard of Hawaii who are otherwise eligible.

This is a glittering prize to any young man who may have a bent and an ambition for a military career. It would start him on the road—long or short as events might decree—for highest rank under that of Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy. Until now the only other avenue to the goal of an army officer's commission, saving enlistment in the ranks with the chance of working up, for young men of the Territory has been through nomination to a cadetship at West Point, at intervals, by the Delegate to Congress.

Governor Frear has received the announcement of this new method of supplying the regular army with second lieutenants, in the form of a letter from Assistant Secretary Oliver of the War Department, which is printed below, inclosing a copy of the general orders authorizing the notification. This is the letter:

War Department,
Washington, January 7, 1908.
Sir: In view of the present and prospective vacancies in the grade of second lieutenant in the Army over and above those required by law for the graduates of the United States Military Academy and the enlisted men of the regular Army, I am authorized by the President to inform you that he will be pleased to name for competition, in July next, a candidate to be named by you from among members of the organized militia of Hawaii Territory. This candidate will be authorized to compete with other civilian candidates for a limited number of vacancies under regulations prescribed by the War Department in General Orders inclosed herewith. This order gives in detail the requirements of the examination and all information needed by candidates in advance to enable them to prepare themselves. The following fundamental rules of eligibility are laid down by the department in conformity with existing regulations, and in order to secure uniformity among candidates who shall be named by the various governors in response to this invitation.

The candidate must be unmarried; must not be less than 21 years of age or more than 27; must be a citizen of the United States; must be physically qualified to discharge all the duties of an officer in active service; must be free from mental or bodily deformity and of good moral character and habits; must have been a member of the organized militia of your Territory continuously for not less than two years prior to being named by you, and must have the favorable recommendation of the commanding officer of his immediate organization and of the regimental and brigade commanders when the same exist and are his direct superiors. The candidate, whether officer or enlisted man, may be of any grade.

Early action is urged to the end that the candidate named may have as much time as possible for preparation.

Very respectfully,
ROBERT SHAW OLIVER,
Assistant Secretary of War.

To the Governor of Hawaii Territory,
Honolulu, Hawaii Territory.

THE GENERAL ORDERS.

The general orders referred to is No. 1 of the series for 1908, its purpose being to promulgate an amendment of the regulations published in general orders, No. 67, March 20, 1907, "regarding the examination and appointment of persons in civil life to be second lieutenants of the army for transfer to the artillery corps," the regulations having been amended by direction of the President.

Section I provides that boards for the examination of applicants from civil life for appointment to the position of second lieutenant in the army will be appointed by the Secretary of War, and will consist of five commissioned officers, including two medical officers.

Section II states that only such vacancies in the grade of second lieutenant in the line of the army as exist after the assignment of the graduates of the United States Military Academy each year, and as one not required for qualified enlisted candidates, are available for the appointment of civilians. In any year when such vacancies are available they may be filled—First, by the appointment of honor graduates of institutions of learning at which officers of the army are detailed as professors of military science and tactics, not to exceed ten for any one year. Such graduates will not be required to undergo any mental examination, and applicants of this class who may be appointed second lieutenants will be so appointed in advance of other appointees from civil life.

Second, by the appointment of such civilian applicants as may be designated by the President and may pass the prescribed competitive examination. This is the subdivision under which National Guard members may compete.

Third, in the Coast Artillery Corps such vacancies may also be filled by the appointment of mechanical, electrical or civil engineers who are graduates of the universities, colleges or technical schools of the country. These must pass the competitive examination.

Section III prescribes conditions for entering, relative to the foregoing section, one of which is, "If a member of the National Guard he must present recommendations from the proper National Guard authorities."

Section IV is covered in the letter to the Governor, being, "No candidate will be examined who is married, or under twenty-one or over twenty-seven years of age, or who is not a citizen of the United States."

Section V requires that "each applicant will first be subjected to a rigid physical examination, and any applicant who fails to pass it will be rejected by the board; but, should he so desire, he will be permitted to undergo the mental examination with the distinct understanding that such examination will not confer upon him any right to appointment should his physical disability finally be regarded as disqualifying."

Examination as to physical qualifications will conform to the standard required of recruits and to the requirements in general orders of Dec. 11, 1906, "except that any applicant under five feet five inches in height will be rejected."

"The moral character of each applicant found physically qualified or who desires to undergo the mental examination notwithstanding his physical defects, will then be inquired into, and any applicant who has not borne a good moral character will be rejected and his examination will cease."

Section VI gives the schedule of mental examination for those qualified under the preceding section as follows:

"1. English grammar, including orthography, reading, and writing from oral dictation.

"2. In his knowledge of arithmetic and his ability to apply its rules to all practical questions; in his knowledge of the use of logarithms and ability to apply them to questions of practice; in his knowledge of algebra, through quadratic equations, and in his knowledge of plane and solid geometry, plane and spherical trigonometry, and elements of surveying.

"3. Geography, particularly in reference to the United States and North America.

"4. The outlines of general history, and particularly the history of the United States.

"5. The Constitution of the United States and the organization of the Government under it, and the elements of international law.

"6. Army Regulations, and the drill regulations of cavalry, field artillery, or infantry, as the candidate may elect. The examination in drill regulations will be practical, extending through the schools of the soldier, squad, and platoon, and shall take place in the presence of the board.

"7. The probable efficiency and aptitude of the candidate as judged by the examining board and as shown by his knowledge of army and drill regulations acquired by personal study and application, or by experience in a military school, or in the National Guard."

The remainder of the general orders is not of especial relation to the Territorial competition in question.

GOOD SPEAKERS FOR ROBBY BURNS SMOKER

In addition to Alexander Young and P. E. Toss, patrons of the Burns Anniversary smoking concert to be given in Waverley hall on Saturday night, will be treated to other good speaking. Secretary Mott-Smith will respond to the toast "The President" and William Rawlins will reply to "The Land We Live In."

The program is not yet ready for publication but Chris Jenkins will sing Roeckel's "Angus Macdonald," and C. E. Edmunds will be heard in "The Auld Scotch Songs."

Harry Macfarlane has kindly consented to act as accompanist of the evening.

By the way tickets are selling it looks as if the hall would be packed when the first number is announced.

Tickets may be obtained at Gunst's store or from members of the Thistle Club.

You needn't confine your use of a classified ad. to your needs in the servant line; use it for your selling needs, also, and note results.

BIBLE READING MOVEMENT, READING FOR JANUARY 23

MATTHEW 15.

29 And Jesus departed thence, and came nigh unto the sea of Galilee; and he went up into the mountain, and sat there. 30 And there came unto him great multitudes, having with them the lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and they cast them down at his feet; and he healed them: 31 insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb speaking, the maimed whole, and the lame walking, and the blind seeing; and they glorified the God of Israel.

32 And Jesus called unto him his disciples, and said, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days and have nothing to eat: and I would not send them away fasting, lest they faint on the way. 33 And the disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so many loaves in a desert place as to fill so great a multitude? 34 And Jesus said unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven, and a few small fishes. 35 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground; 36 and he took the seven loaves and the fishes; and he gave to the disciples, and the disciples to the multitudes. 37 And they all ate, and were filled: and they took up that which remained over of the

MRS. DUNN TELLS ABOUT HUSBAND

Says He Is East on Business ---Calls Elopement Story Absurd.

A new light has been thrown on the subject of the disappearance of J. T. Dunn, the manager of the Savoy hotel, by his wife, who since her return from Los Angeles and up to yesterday preferred to maintain silence on the subject. All the speculation and theories of an elopement with another woman and a clandestine return to San Francisco were contemptuously waved aside by Mrs. Dunn with the simple statement that she has been continuously in communication with her husband, who, she says, is on his way to New York for purely business reasons. As proof of her assertion she exhibited a telegram dated yesterday from New Orleans and signed by J. T. Dunn.

"All this talk of Mr. Dunn's running away from me is absurd," said the wife. "It was understood between us when I went to Los Angeles that Mr. Dunn intended to go East about when he did. I was to return here and meet him, but being delayed in Los Angeles I telephoned him that I could not be in San Francisco to see him, so he simply came to Los Angeles. I met him there on the Monday following his departure from here. He intended to go by the Northern route, but changed his plans so that he might see me before he went. He intends to visit Savannah, Ga., and Bridgeport, Conn. He has relatives in both places. From Bridgeport he will go to New York on business and be back here about February 1st.

"The most absurd story of all is the one that Mr. Dunn ran away with Mrs. Holmes. Mrs. Holmes has been a friend of my husband and of his first wife for a long time, but as for eloping with him, that story only caused me to laugh."

CALENDAR OF GOOD TIMES.

Court Camoes of the order of Foresters will be doing things during the next three months if the program arranged by a committee is carried out. Last year the receipts were large but "sporadic"; this year they are to be continuous and large. The program is as follows:

January 28—Side Degree; six candidates; refreshments.

February 11—Commencement of Pedro Tournament for a valuable prize—a Forester's Gold Watch Charm, offered by the Chief Ranger, Bro. Dr. Jno. F. Cowes.

February 25—Continuation of Pedro Tournament; refreshments.

March 10—More Pedro Tournament.

March 24—Some more Pedro Tournament; refreshments.

April 14—Conclusion of Pedro Tournament.

April 25—Fifteen Anniversary Celebration.

The social committee is composed of the following members: M. C. Pacheco, Louis A. Perry and Gaspar Silva.

HAS NO FIRST
CLASS PLAYERNeither Golfers Nor Links Are
Up to Standard of Other Countries.

The golf players of Honolulu are far behind the times and will need plenty of hard practice and instruction before they will be able to show form which will entitle them to compete with the golfers from other countries. The links in this city do not compare with those to be found elsewhere, though they may be changed and become as good as any to be found. These sentiments were expressed yesterday by Alexander McLaren, the golf expert from Australia, who has been in this city for the last two months giving lessons to the local people who play the Scotch game.

In speaking of golf in this city Mr.
McLaren said:
"Golf in Honolulu is far behind the times and needs to pick up a great deal before it can compare with the game as it is played elsewhere. There are natural reasons for this and it is nothing of which the local players should be ashamed. In the first place there are comparatively few golf players in the city, though there are a great many when the small number of white people here is taken into account. For that matter the interest here is far greater than I thought it would be. Every day there are many players on the Country Club links and they are unusually enthusiastic over the game.

"Another reason that golf is not as far ahead here as it might be, is that there has never been a teacher of the game here. In golf one should start under instruction. With a man who has played the game for two or three years it is hard to take him in hand and correct his faults. On the other hand with a new man, who has never played the game before, he may be taught right from the first and will learn quickly. I would a great deal rather take an entirely inexperienced man and teach him, than a self-taught man of two or three years' experience.

"There is not a single first-class player in the city. In fact there is not a man here who would be entitled to first rank in the second class. The players from this city would be outclassed in Australia, though to some extent this is natural, as there are so many more players there from whom to draw. I should say that the best players of this city probably are Harold Giffard, Austin White and Frank Halstead. They all play a good game, but by no means a first-class one.

"About young Austin White? Yes, he plays a good game for a boy, a very good game, but I cannot say that I think that he will make a very great improvement over his present work.
Of the coming players I should say that Dr. High is about the best. That is, with instruction, he should become very much better than he is. If I had time in which to train him and he could play the game as much as would be needed, he would make a fine player.

"In regard to the ladies here who

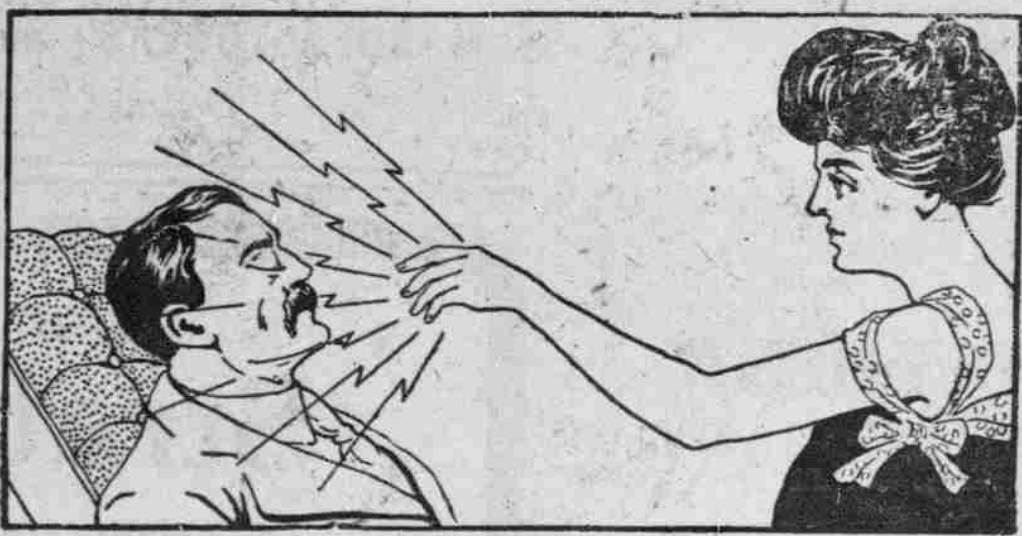

ALEXANDER M'CLAREN, GOLF PROFESSIONAL AT THE COUN-TRY CLUB.

play golf, there is not one in the city who can be said to be a really good player. They have only taken the game up recently and have not had time to show up in any good form, though there are several who may develop very well. I have had about a dozen take lessons from me and they seem to find a great interest in the game and more are taking it up right along.

"When you ask about the links I cannot say very much in their praise.
All the links on the island are very poor. Those at Moanalua are the best, but they are all too short. Take those at the Country Club, for instance.
There is only one hole that requires more than two shots. There should be longer holes, which would give opportunity for more wooden play. The nine hole course here is not over 2500
yards and it should be at least 3000.
There are no bunkers here whatever,
though of course they can be put in.

"Another trouble here comes with the greens. These are better at Mo-analua and Haleiwa than at the Country Club. The outside greens are all right but the putting greens are like a sponge and do not give a good play
a chance, for the ball will not roll.
We are planting new grass here, which it is hoped will be very much better.
It will be a combination of Kentucky
blue grass and chewit fescue, though the seed of the latter which has been obtained is not at all satisfactory and I feel sure is of some other variety than that ordered. There is so much rain, up here that the grass on the greens should grow finely and the greens here should be the best to be had. In Australia we use an English grass on the greens but have to water
it. Here there will be no water needed, as the heavy dews in the mornings are almost as good as rain, and the grass will grow without any trouble.

"We have a grass in Australia which is almost exactly like your manieie grass here. We call it kooch and it

Cures Like Nature

Drugless Treatment Restores Health While
You Sleep

Here's a remedy that cures while you sleep. No poisonous drugs to swallow. No weak stomach or digestive troubles due to drugging.
This remedy is Nature's medicine—
electricity.

The only way to cure anything is to help Nature. Nature will cure when she has the power. That power is electricity. Feed it to your nerves and they will absorb and carry it to every organ and tissue of the body, where it gives health and vitality to every ailing part.

The reason drugs do not cure is because they do not assist Nature.
Nature needs nourishment, strength,
something that builds up. Drugs contain no nourishment, no electricity, not one thing that builds vitality—just poison which tears down.

My way is the best way of applying electricity. It's the only method that has proven successful.
I've had twenty years' experience in treating diseases with electricity and I know more about it than any other doctor on earth. My Electro-Vigor is the result of this twenty years' experience.

Electro-Vigor is an electric body
battery applied when you sleep.
It sends a constant stream of electric life into the nerves and vitals
all night long.

Electro-Vigor is not an electric belt. It never needs charging, for it makes its own power continuously.

My digestion has greatly improved under the use of Electro-Vigor and I can eat almost anything without distress. My circulation has improved and I am sure my strength is greater.

DIAMOND HEAD
TAKE UP ROWINGAthletic Club Has Decided to Compete in Races in Harbor.

The Diamond Head Athletic Club
will enter crews in the races which will be held in the harbor on July 4.
This was decided recently by a committee appointed by the club at its last meeting to investigate the matter.
The announcement has been received with pleasure by the members of the other boat clubs who will be only too glad to see a third entry in the rowing line.

For many years the Healan and Myrtle clubs have had a monopoly of the rowing contests and to have a third crew, will mean far more interesting races than have been seen in the past. The Diamond Head Athletic club has many of the best athletes in the city on its rolls and should be able to get together a fast aggregation.

There is only one matter which will have to be taken care of, that is the obtaining of a barge to use for the races. There are several barges in the city, belonging to the Healan and the Myrtles, which might be loaned to the Diamond Heads and it is possible that some such arrangement can be made for the good of the sport. If it is found impossible, the Heads will probably find means to have a barge
built on the Coast and shipped down here.

One of the first steps to be taken will probably be in the line of an application for membership in the Hawaiian Rowing Association. This will enable the newcomers in rowing to get a general insight into the work which will have to be done before the races.
From the way they have always taken up sport they should be successful in their new field.

MONGOOSE HOUND

THE LATEST CANINE

To Hawaii in general and to Messrs.
Ryan and Kelley, the local dog fanciers, in particular, belongs the credit of having introduced a new breed to the great family of dog. The latest in dogs is a mongoose hound and from all accounts it's a wonder.

Paddy Ryan declares that the introduction of the mongoose will mark
the greatest epoch in canine history
since the discovery of the fox-terrier
which occurred quite a spell of years ago.

The two individuals named have been experimenting for four years with the view of breeding a dog which could be relied upon to kill the elusive mon-gooses in all weathers and at any time of the day, night or year. At last he claims to have succeeded and is proudly showing to his friends a litter of five tiny doglets prettily marked with black and tan and only a couple of weeks old.

"The new breed," said Ryan yesterday, "will be known as the Hawaiian hound and we shall have the puppies on exhibition in a few weeks. The dog will be low to the ground and admirably adapted to chase mongoose as its long, low body will permit it to make rapid progress through the underbrush in which the mongoose takes refuge when pursued. Its ears will be long like a dachshund's but its nose won't be as snippy as the German dog's. In appearance, however, it will resemble the dachshund somewhat, but will be more stumpy and altogether a better and stronger dog."

Two previous litters of the mongoose hound have been born but only two of the puppies were saved, the remainder not coming up to the breeders' ideal in appearance. One of the survivors died and the other in a number of tests made here proved itself to be exceedingly rough on mongoose. It is now in the hands of Al Newman, the well-known San Francisco fancier, who writes that it is the greatest rat dog that he has ever seen. It is a splendid burrower and possesses the tenacity of a bulldog.

"Honest" John Kelley, makes no
bones in stating his belief that a Hawaiian hound would kill a wildcat,
provided it had the chance.

FOOTBALL IS
NAVAL DUTY

On the ground that the injury was in the "line of duty," the Navy Department has authorized the payment of certain medical expenses incurred by E. J. Hogan, an officer on the Des Moines, who suffered an injury to his jaw while playing football. The medical and dental officers on board the Des Moines were not able to give the man all the attention he required, and recourse was necessary to outside assistance, on account of which the bill was submitted. Inasmuch as the navy encourages the playing of different sports, including football, baseball, etc., it is held that the charge for medical attendance in exceptional cases like the one under consideration should be met by the government.

BURGLAR GIVEN THREE YEARS

Scandalous Matter Is Struck Out—Mrs. Berndt's Answer.

Oliver Kane was found guilty of burglary in the second degree, on trial by jury before Judge Lindsay yesterday. Defendant broke into J. P. Looney's room in the Winston building and was caught by Mr. Looney before he had stolen anything. The court sentenced him to be imprisoned at hard labor three years and to pay costs.

County Attorney J. W. Cathcart prosecuted and E. Vincent defended. The jury consisted of J. W. Macdonald, Clifford Kimball, David Notley, F. J. Robello, J. J. Egan, J. H. Jones, Wm. F. Story, W. M. Buchanan, T. W. Carroll, Chas. Butzke, Jas. S. Sharp and James E. Jaeger.

Judge Lindsay informed Kane, on delivering sentence, that he was lucky he did not fare worse, as the jury might very well, on the testimony, have found him guilty in the first degree as charged in the indictment.

SUPREME COURT.

The case of Emilia Vieira Oliveira against Maria Vieira Silva and Joaquim Antone Silva, on appeal to the Supreme Court from a decree of the Circuit Judge of the Fourth Circuit was argued and submitted before the Supreme Court yesterday, Carl S. Smith arguing on behalf of the plaintiff and C. H. Olson on behalf of the defendants.

The following matters are for today: Motion by the plaintiff in the case of H. Hackfeld vs. J. Coerper to strike from the files the brief filed for defendant.

Case of Kumazo Matsumura vs. County of Hawaii. Exceptions from Circuit Court, Fourth Circuit.

OBJECTIONABLE MATTER.

Judge Lindsay, of his own motion, ordered the affidavit of Bessie R. Burns in the Afong case to be struck from the files on account of its being scandalous and impertinent.

WANTS NO NOTICE.

Florence K. Berndt denies the alleged causes for divorce in her husband, Otto A. Berndt's, libel, and consents that the case may be heard at any time without notice of any sort to her.

THE GUTTER ORDINANCE.

Judge Lindsay allowed the bill of exceptions to the Supreme Court from his judgment, on appeal from Honolulu District Court, finding L. L. McCandless and James Armstrong guilty of violating Oahu County Ordinance No. 9, relating to gutters upon awnings, and fining them $10 each and costs.

PROBATE MATTERS.

Laniwai petitions for letters of administration on the estate of his deceased brother, Kani Makahiehe, alias Keaka Kaai, alias Keakanika, which consists of $315 in possession of the treasurer of the Longshoremen's Union and furniture of uncertain value. The heirs are two brothers and a sister. A hearing is ordered for February 24.

Judge Lindsay confirmed the sale of a lot of land at Kalihi to Tom Pedro, the highest bidder, for $480 by C. F. Peterson, administrator of the estate of Samuel M. Pedro, deceased.

APPEAL PUT FAR OFF.

D. L. Withington appeared for certain defendants in the Lowrie-Baldwin action for $400,000 damages, whose bill of exceptions to the denials of motions for costs, etc., had been filed. A. G. M. Robertson objected to the bill of exceptions, though not as to form. Judge Robinson set the matter for March 16 at 9:30 a. m.

COURT ITEMS.

Judge Lindsay takes the criminal jury calendar during the absence of Judge Robinson, who will leave for San Francisco on Wednesday next. He began with the Kane burglary case yesterday.

It is stipulated that the case of Mary Costa against County of Oahu may be tried by jury either today or on March 9.

George C. Ross, executor of the will of John A. Marat, has filed his final account, showing receipts of $1719.83 and payments of 406.93, which leave a balance of $1312.90 due to the estate.

LITTLE DOING IN THE POLICE COURT

Adella Reece, who was arrested on Monday for investigation in connection with the alleged robbing of a sailor from the transport Dix, was yesterday charged with vagrancy and sentenced by Judge Andrade to sixty days on the reef. Hers was the only jail sentence given.

Frank Turner, up for assault and battery, was fined ten dollars and two drunks went in the scales of justice for three dollars apiece.

HERE AT HOME

Honolulu Citizens Gladly Testify and Confidently Recommend Doan's

Kidney Pills.

It is testimony like the following that has placed Doan's Backache Kidney Pills so far above competitors. When people right here at home raise their voice in praise there is no room left for doubt.

Mrs. N. Joseph living at the corner of Liliha and King streets, Honolulu, states as follows: "I was troubled for seven months with a lame back, and also suffered from occasional attacks of chills. These various complaints made my condition by no means a happy one, so that I much desired some remedy which would bring relief. This I found in Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, some of which I obtained at the Hollister Drug Co.'s store. I am pleased to say that they gave me not merely temporary but permanent relief and I have not the least hesitancy therefore in recommending Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. They are a good kidney medicine."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers at 50 cents per box, (six boxes $2.50). Mailed by the Hollister Drug Co., Ltd., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

EXCURSION TO THE VOL- CANO, TAKING IN THE WILD WEST SHOW AT HILO.

If sufficient bookings can be obtained (not less than 25), an excursion will leave Honolulu on Tuesday, January 28th, by the S. S. KINAU to cover the following itinerary:

Arrive at Hilo Wednesday, early in the afternoon; the night will be spent in Hilo. Thursday morning leave by rail for Glenwood, thence by stage to the volcano, arriving in time for lunch; visit the crater in the afternoon and evening. Thursday morning return to Hilo where the party will remain until Monday afternoon; leaving by S. S. CLAUDINE, arriving at Honolulu Thursday morning, February 6.

A special rate of $45.00 covering all necessary expenses for the round trip will be given.

This will give an opportunity to take in the Wild West Show in Hilo on Saturday, February 1.

The steamship portion of the ticket
will be good for return by the KINAU
Friday, February 7th, should parties prefer to return by that vessel.

A DRAMA OF THE ALGERIAN DESERT

"Under Scaled Orders" is to be played for the first time tonight at the Orpheum theater. This is unquestion-ably one of the strongest melodramas offered here this season, according to Manager Cooley. It tells the story of the pursuit by the British secret service of a notorious French criminal who has stolen the English crown jewels. The pursuit leads into Algeria and the edge of the Sahara desert,
then back to England again, and finally again to the Sahara. The heroine is a half-caste Algerian girl, the hero
a young officer in the secret service.
In the final act the hero is captured by a party of Arabs, led by a chieftain who believes the young officer has robbed him of the girl he loved. Melville, the officer, is tied to a pillar in the midst of an old ruin, and left there to die. To add to the horror of his situation, Sansen, the villain, sets a gourd of water and a dish of food in front of him, but totally out of his reach. How Melville is rescued and right finally triumphs, is the story of this final act. Some special scenic effects have been prepared.

The Eldids, trick bicycle riders, will appear in connection with every performance this week.

Monday night a beautiful play entitled "When Her Soul Speaks" is to be played.

The Hawaiian Hotel will have the band concert this evening at 7:30. Following is the program:

PART I.
March—"Call of the Wild".....Losey
Overture—"Tattooed Man".....Herbert
Waltz—"The Strollers".....Englander
Selection—"Madame Butterfly".....Puccini

PART II.
Vocal—Hawaiian Songs.....Ar. by Berger
Selection—"The Merry Widow".....Lehar
Waltz—"The Merry Widow".....Lehar
March—"The Merry Widow".....Lehar
"The Star Spangled Banner."

IN MEMORIAM.

The funeral of Mrs. Helen Alencastre, sister-in-law of Rev. Father Stephen,
took place from the Roman Catholic cathedral at 3 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. Interment was in the King street cemetery.

The death of Mrs. Alencastre was a terrible shock to her many friends, as it was so unexpected. Her sterling qualities endeared her to all who were acquainted with the young woman, who was but twenty-four years old at death.
She leaves two dear little children, too young to realize their loss, together with a husband who will not tire of singing her praises and lamenting the untimely death of a most devoted wife.

The Leonard Cleanable Refrigerator

is not the only cleanable refrigerator; it's just the easiest to clean. You simply remove the iron rods that make one side of the air passage, and take out the flues and wash them.
That's much better than dragging out the whole ice box,
isn't it?

We defy anyone to find any portion of the interior of the Leonard Cleanable that can not be easily and conveniently cleaned. Every refrigerator needs cleaning, but the Leonard needs it less frequently than any other, because it is built to stay clean; and, when you clean it, you clean it thoroughly.

We mention cleanness because that is a vital point; but the Leonard excels in every particular. Call and see WHY.
