JUST ARRIVED Ex "Alameda" HORSE SHOEING—par excellence.

Whitman & Wright, TO THE FRONT AGAIN

NO more contracted hoofs, fever in feet, lameness and sore shoulders, forging or over-reaching, corns or quarter cracks.
The Patent Spring Horse Shoe does the business.
Recommended by the California Society of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

This shoe is the invention of an old horseman of 40 years experience, and is manufactured in New York City from steel prepared expressly for this purpose, and carefully tempered to retain the elasticity of the spring as long as in use. As the name implies the general principal, is to act as an assistant, where elasticity is natural in the foot.
The toes of these shoes being made heavier than those of the common kind, act as a toe weight, giving a horse a greater length of stride and naturally increasing his speed. For working, or driving, horses used on hard or stony roads and troubled with lameness or sore shoulders, these shoes are an infallible cure, while for sound horses that may become liable to the same complaint they are a certain preventative. They are a protection to corns on horses feet as they relieve the part on which the corns are produced.

Give them but one trial and you will see no other. Satisfaction guaranteed.

We have lately secured the services of a thorough, experienced, and reliable horse shoer of San Francisco who has charge of this branch of our business and who we can most fully recommend to our patrons.

We refer, by permission, to Mr. H. F. Hebbard, Express and Drayman, who has given these shoes a thorough trial, having used a sample set for the past month.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE.

The publication in the Gazette, on three different occasions, of documents (the Protest, the Cleghorn correspondence and the report on the Mounted Police) belonging to the Government, shows a most deplorable state of affairs in the internal management at Aliiolani Hale. It is a noteworthy fact that all these documents belong to departments over which His Excellency the Premier, in his various capacities, has control. It shows that he is incompetent to manage the affairs of his offices; it shows the necessity for the appointment of an Attorney-General, and it shows either that the officials, at present employed in Government House, are not in sympathy with the Premier, or that sufficient precautions are not taken in protecting the affairs of State.

It is not our business to ascertain how the Gazette obtains the run of official records, but it is our business to point out that such scandalous proceedings never occurred, in the history of Hawaii, before Mr. Gibson was in office. It proves conclusively his utter unfitness to manage the many offices that he presumes to manage. The Foreign Office and the office of the Attorney-General ad interim have been allowed to remain open when no officials occupied them, and then documents must have been taken or they have been given by untrustworthy servants. That such a state of things should have existed, and should be allowed to exist, is a disgrace to the Kingdom and to the man who professes to manage it. The Gazette, in its last issue, published some information relative to the discharge of Mr. Girvin, School Agent at Wailuku. We have been told that the facts stated can only have been obtained from the minute book of the Secretary of the Board of Education. Is this another office, under the Premier's supposed supervision, to which the Gazette has access?

PROMPT PAYMENT.

It is unusual to hear that a Chinaman has insured his life, and it is still more unusual to hear of such prompt payment of claims. Let the following, on 15th February, Lee Loy, who was doing business in Hilo, insured his life in the Equitable Life Assurance Company for $3,000, under the fifteen year endowment plan. He paid a year's premium and died in September. On 31st October, Mr. A. J. Cartwright, the Honolulu agent of the Company, sent, to the head office in New York, proof of Lee Loy's death; the matter having been placed in his hands two days previously. On 4th December, thirty-four days after the papers left Honolulu, the wife of the deceased gave a receipt for $3,000, the full amount of her claim, the money having been sent from New York and handed to her. This instance not only shows the benefit of Life Assurance, but also the very prompt manner in which settlements are made by the Equitable Life Assurance Company, which did not even avail itself of the power to withhold payment for sixty days, in a policy which had not been in force for three years.

SHIPPING NOTES.

The pile driver is at work near the P. M. S. S. wharf, building a tramway and a berth for the scow. The scow will carry 3 cars which will be drawn upon the tram-way by a stationary engine, and dumping on either side of the track. The track will be so arranged that it can be lowered or raised at will. The tern Annie Larsen had some very rough weather on her last voyage from Port Townsend to Honolulu. At 1 a.m. Nov. 27, a gale from the S. E. carried away the main sail and jib, on the 28th the fore-sail and flying jib were carried away, on the 29th the wind, somewhat abated, and the vessel was rolling very heavily, since fine weather. The W. G. Irwin will sail on Monday morning.

The Spartan will finish discharging to-day.

Schr Waimanalo brought 456 bags of sugar. She will sail on Monday for Pearl River.

Schr Planter brought 3268 kgs sugar, 25 head cattle, 44 bgs coffee, 185 goat skins, 185 hides.

FAVORITE brands of light tobacco can be obtained from Messrs. F. A. Schaefer & Co.

The Mission Children's Society will meet at Mr. H. Waterhouse's residence this evening at 7:30.

The Premier is searching diligently for an Attorney-General. Mr. John Russell is again mentioned as the coming man.

CHEAP Christmas presents can be obtained to-night from Lyons & Levey. All the goods are new, and suitable for the season.

THE telephone wires on Merchant street interfered with the steam roller so that the smoke stack had to be removed.

ANOTHER large Christmas sale has been arranged for Saturday evenings, 15th and 22nd inst., at the store of Ehlers & Co.

THE report of the last meeting of the Working Men's Union and some correspondence is published in to-day's supplement.

LYCAN & Co.'s store will be open every evening till the end of the year. Christmas cards and toys will be sold at cost.

THERE used to be a native in charge of Emma Square, but he did nothing, so a Chinaman reigns in his stead, and is said by residents to work well.

SUNDAY boating, Sunday riding, Sunday picnics, Sunday desecration generally, will inevitably tend to the increase of a generation of hoodlums.—Friend. Why not Sunday driving?

HEAVY rains again in Hilo district. The mail carrier was, unable this week, for the first time in thirteen years, to arrive in Hilo in time to catch the Like-like.

MR. CRUZAN's subjects Sunday morning: Children's five-minute sermon, "Do I Belong to Christ?" An adult's sermon, "Using Our Lives for Others." Evening subject, "Life's Misfits," the regular monthly sermon to young people.

W. P. CROPLEY was charged with cruelty to animals yesterday at the Police Court, but a not pros was entered. Thomas Quick, for assault and battery, at the Keystone Saloon, on W. Ryan, was fined $7 and costs. The bartender ordered the disputants and policeman off the premises.

THE planters are supposed to return, the laborers, that came by the Hazard, to their homes, at the expiration of the contracts. Planters, read the contracts carefully and try to find "agree to give the immigrant a free passage to his home at the expiration of the contract should he so desire."

THE Chamber of Commerce met yesterday morning. Some important communications were read and discussed, and Messrs. A. J. Cartwright, J. B. Altherton and P. C. Jones Jr., were appointed a committee to report upon the contracts, recently made between the Government, P. M. S. S. Co. and the O. S. S. Co.

THE Sunday afternoon choir at the Y. M. C. A. meetings is to receive a valuable addition in the person of Mrs. Simmons, who has just returned from America, and will sing a solo to-morrow; Mrs. Pierce and Mrs. Cruzan will also sing solos, in addition to the regular congregational singing. Mr. Cruzan will conduct the service, and Rev. A. O. Forbes will preach a brief sermon.

THE South Sea Island laborers have been distributed as follows: Castle & Cooke, 17 men; Hackfeld & Co., 2 men, 2 women; Grimbaum & Co., 22 men, 11 women; T. H. Davies & Co., 14 men; Hoffschlaeger & Co., 2 men; W. G. Irwin & Co., 26 men, 4 women; F. A. Schaefer & Co., 14 men, 3 women; G. W. Macfarlane & Co., 8 men, 3 women. Total 105 men, 23 women.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE DAILY BULLETIN.

HONOLULU, H. I., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1883.

THE WORKING MEN'S UNION

Met on Tuesday evening in Dias' New Store which has been rented, at $25 a month, for two years. The furniture was obtained, on credit, from Lyman & Co. One new member was elected.

The prosecution of the case of the German laborers was reported to be in progress.

The employment Committee had obtained work for two men.

The relief Committee reported that they expected to hear from the German Committee, but had not. They had only learned from a published report that the Germans would have nothing to do with them, and that Miss Bräse and other ladies had taken charge of the women.

The Committee recommended that all the goods, food and furniture be handed to the ladies with bills for expenses, and a balance sheet of receipts and expenditure. That, should a demand be again made upon them by destitute Germans, they be carted to the grounds of the German Club. They had no objection to missionaries dealing with the women.

The report was endorsed by Messrs. E. H. Ward and Mr. Z. T. Squires, and adopted.

Mr. Murray asked for a report from the Chairman, but was told no action had been taken.

Mr. Marchand said he had telephoned to Mr. Schmidt, but got no satisfaction.

A beef bill of $20.50 and grocery bill of $21.18 were referred to Messrs. Murray and May for examination, some of the members objecting to the prices. A bill for express hire $1.50 was ordered to be paid. An acrimonious discussion took place over a bill for $15, for beds and bedding, which was submitted without the name of the person from whom the goods were purchased. It transpired that Mr. Crowley was the vendor, but Mr. Kohm's name was inserted in the bill. A bill of 2.50 from Peter Lyon, for a week's rent of the armory, was ordered to be paid, after a suggestion had been made that it be sent to Governor Dominis.

The treasurer reported a balance of $14.

Mr. Cavenagh moved a resolution regulating the time to be allowed to each speaker. Laid on the table till next meeting.

Mr. Kohm then referred to the German subject and brought up a charge against the Humane Society, which, he said, could only help bullocks. He said he had applied to them for help, and personally to Mr. and Mrs. Cruzan, Mr. Godfrey and Mr. Cooke.

Mr. Godfrey (who had just entered the room), by permission of the Chairman, was allowed to state that Mr. Kohm had never made an application to the Society, of which he was Secretary, and that he had reproved Mr. Kohm for not doing so, and Mr. Kohm said the organization might find fault with him if he did.

Mr. Kohm then said that he didn't remember the conversation with Mr. Godfrey, but he had been to Mr. and Mrs. Cruzan.

Mr. Crowley then made a speech on the Chartist movement in England. He was going to bring assertions, concerning the Germans, on oath before the world. He was willing to stand in a minority like the world's heroes, and hoped some day to form a Mechanics Institute.

Mr. Marchand read a sensible paper explaining his views of the duties of the organization, and objecting to socialism being discussed.

Mr. Kohm also read a brief paper. These gentlemen were then attacked by Mr. Crowley and Mr. Danielewicz.

Mr. Murray's attempts to speak, and obtain answers from the President on points of socialism, were ruled out of order, although they were present for the purpose of debating.

Mr. E. H. Ward objected to the discussion of socialism and moved the resolution published on Thursday. The President refused to put it to the meeting, so Mr. Ward appealed to the meeting who ordered it to be submitted.

The President at once resigned, Mr. Ward's motion was carried, and some members regretted the resignation of Mr. Danielewicz, though the general feeling was that it was a good thing for the Union.

Mr. Danielewicz made a brief address saying he would never give up his noble cause and never compromise, even if his head was cut off. He thought that capital should be managed by the people.

Mr. Crowley referred to Sir Chas. Dilke who had proposed to change the form of Government in England to a republic, and he was now Under-Secretary for the Colonies.

Mr. Marchand said they had evidently thought his ideas were not worth noticing.

The meeting adjourned till Tuesday next.

ROADS.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—I noticed in your issue of the 19th inst., a letter complaining of the roads in Heeia Kea, Koolau-poko.

The road in that part of the district is far from being as bad as it is represented by "Voice of Heeia Residents." It is true, however, that "this road is constantly being traveled over by the plantation carts daily," and it is principally owing to their traveling over it, during the rainy season, that it is in such a poor condition. It is true also, "that heavy road taxes are paid in the neighborhood;" and they are spent very judiciously by the government, through our competent Road Supervisor, Mr. T. Loyd. It is not likely, however, "that there are other reasons but economy" for not fixing the road at present in Heeia Kea.

Allow me to say, our road supervisor is constantly working on the roads and bridges in this district. He has been working faithfully and economically on the Kaneohe bridge ever since the last heavy freshet; and if he had not been very cautious that bridge would have been carried away. Since then two good bridges have been constructed at Heeia Kea.

VERITAS.

AN EXPLANATION.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—I wish to justify my actions concerning the case of the wives of the German laborers, now confined in Honolulu jail.

When my attention was called to that case, I had received about a dozen letters from different parties, all stating that those women were in actual need and that their situation was a pitiful one.

I knew that these unfortunate women were "quasi" victims of an almost heartless neglect on the part of their natural supporters, but, as it was claimed that they were in distress, I concluded that a delay would only increase the calamity.

I knew that a German Benevolent Society was in existence, and learned that their constitution only provided for members, and that they would have to call a "special meeting." I also went to see members of the Humane Society, and was advised to investigate the matter before it should be put before that society at a special meeting.

This calling of special meetings takes time, and tidings are only carried to and from the islands once a week.

My intention was to act—and that immediately. I did so on impulse, not by the advice of others, and if there is any blame, such blame must fall on my shoulders. At a meeting of the "W. M. U.," I reported that I had sent money to Kana'i, referred to the letters mentioned above, and my prompt action was endorsed by the meeting. Three weeks later, all these women and children came down unexpectedly, but, as they were here and no one took charge of them, the Union provided for their wants.

At the last meeting of our Union I confessed that I could not comprehend the position into which men like to place me now and that I felt like a school-boy, "they all say: he has done wrong, but the poor fellow can't see it."

With the imprisoned laborers I have no more sympathy than they deserve, they are guilty of the crime of leaving their wives and children destitute, in order to fight a principle, but, if they were driven to desperation "somebody" must be the cause of it.

In my estimation nothing can be dearer to men, than the personal happiness of that being, that has chosen us as partner for life.

Have you noticed those two palm-leaves on the wall in our new hall? They were put there by an earnest member of our union, as an emblem of peace! I fear, you have overlooked this little hint. MAX KOHM.

IN MEMORIAM.

Knights of Pythias Hall, Wigwam of Hawaiian Tribe No. 1, Improved Order of Red Men, Honolulu, November 23, 1883.

At a regular meeting held by the members of Hawaiian Tribe No. 1, Improved Order of Red Men, on the evening of the above date, the following Resolutions out of respect to the memory of our lately deceased Brother Henry L. Sheldon, were passed:

WHEREAS:—It has pleased Divine Providence to remove from our midst our beloved Brother Henry L. Sheldon, and

WHEREAS:—By the removal of our Brother we mourn for one who, while an active member in our councils, won the respect of each of us for the many advantages the institution derives through his well trained mind. As a charter member of Hawaiian Tribe and during several years of his connection with the tribe, no member assisted more materially in drafting its platform and setting the benevolent order on an established footing than did Brother Sheldon, and we feel to-day that we owe a deep debt of gratitude to our lamented Brother for his amiable qualities as a man and a true friend therefore, be it

Resolved:—That we most sincerely condole and sympathize with the family of our deceased Brother in this their deep sorrow, and would commend them for consolation to Him who doeth all things in goodness and whose chastisements are meant in pure mercy.

Resolved:—That this heartfelt testimonial of our sympathy be published in the city newspapers and that the Secretary be instructed to spread a copy of these resolutions on the minutes of the meeting.

OCEAN STEAMER ON FIRE.

New York, October 22.—The steamship Heinrich, reported on fire, has arrived in the lower bay. She has on board three cabin and 305 steerage passengers. She reports that on the evening of October 21st smoke was discovered coming up from the lower main hold. Steam was turned on to keep the fire down. The cause of the fire was not ascertained. The passengers were transferred to the Castle Garden barges and the pilot boat. The Captain and crew remained on board the steamer, which was towed to Bedloe's Island and run ashore. Nearly all the baggage of the passengers was taken off. The fire originated in the lower main hold on Sunday afternoon and was pretty much confined to that portion of the vessel. The cargo was shipped at Stettin, Copenhagen and Christiania, and was fully insured. No definite estimate of the damage, either to the vessel or cargo could be ascertained, but it will amount to considerable, both from fire and water.—Examiner.

The Cathedral Church, built in Lubeck in the years 1170 to 1314, has a curious clock. On the end of the hour hand is a little clock which keeps exact time with the large one.

CLOSE OF THE FISHERIES EXHIBITION.

London, October 31.—There was an immense attendance to-day to witness the ceremony of closing the International Fisheries Exhibition. Replying to an address and report showing the complete success of the Exhibition, the Prince of Wales stated that the Queen had followed the success of the Exhibition with great interest and had requested him to express her hope that it would be of lasting benefit to the fishing population of the kingdom. He said that after all the expenses had been paid a substantial surplus would remain, which should be devoted to improving the welfare of the fishermen of the country and promotion of the interests of the fisheries, in order that the calamities incident to a fisherman's life might be alleviated. The Prince was gratified at being able to continue the work of his father in giving opportunities for the peaceful emulation of all nations, and thus diverting men's minds from international rivalries by which all suffer to those by which all gain. He desired to see here a hygienic exhibition in 1884, one of the progress of inventions in 1885 and he proposed holding here a colonial exhibition in 1886. (S. P. paper.)

A WRETCHED GIRL.

Extract from a letter of an American girl abroad to a friend at home: "I've a great bit of news to tell you, Matilda.

"The Prince of Wales was introduced to me at Ramsgate.

"They say he's a Guelph. What's a Guelph? Something horrid, I suppose.

"He said he found American ladies cleverer than English women.

"He is slightly bald-headed, but his face is almost covered with hair.

"What a pity he's married.

"I know I made an impression on him, for he wanted to shake hands with me ever so often, especially when nobody was looking at us.

"I trembled a good deal. It is awful flustering to stand behind the curtain of a bay-window and have a man who is going to be King of England squeeze your hand.

"When Lord Reginald—I forget his other name—came up and interrupted us, I could have screamed for disappointment.

"O, Matilda, if I have to return and go among common folks again I know I shall die.

"But there's no escape from it.

"The future is a dull, dreary blank.

"What is home to me now, Matilda, except to eat caramels.

YOUR WRETCHED LOUSE."

HONORABLE.

A well-known American author—we wish we could mention his name—died lately, leaving a large estate to his children. They assembled to hear his will read, all of them being married and heads of families. An adopted daughter, who had offended their father, it was found, was passed over in the will with but a trifling legacy. One of the daughters interrupted the reading of the will.

"Father, I am sure, is sorry for that, by this time. A—should have a child's portion. We must make that right."

The other children assented, eagerly.

A widowed daughter with a large family received an equal share with the other children. One of the sons spoke now. "C—ought to have more than we men who are in business and are able to earn our living. I will add so much"—stating the sum—"to her portion." The two remaining brothers each agreed to give the same amount.

When the will had been read, one of the elder children said, "There are some of father's old friends to whom he would have given legacies if he had not been ill and forgetful when this paper was written. Shall we not make that right?"

It was done, cordially and promptly.

Now this was only the just action of just and honorably people; but how rare such conduct is in persons to whom legacies are given.

An American paper prints an article upon "The Proper Time to Work." It should contain information of importance. Thousands of persons have lived to a good old age, and died without discovering the secret.

SPOOPENDYKE IS SICK.

"How long is it since I've been out of this measley old barracks?" asked Mr. Spoopendyke, turning painfully in his bed and gazing in a vague, half-dazed way toward a long line of antidotes on the mantel.

"About two weeks dear," said Mrs. Spoopendyke, coming toward him with a bowl of gruel and smiling pleasantly. The doctor says you are not likely to have another attack if you keep very quiet and follow his instructions."

"Oh, he does, does he?" said Mr. Spoopendyke, making a vain effort to sit up, and falling back with a groan. "He says I won't have another attack. Now, what do you suppose that dod-gasted, bald-pated pill-roller knows about my case, anyway? Perhaps you think he could make an Egyptian mummy dance a Highland fling and put life into a cigar sign. All he needs is three bulletins a day and unlimited chin to become one of the leading physicians of the country. I suppose if I take all that stuff up there I shall be born again and see the next centennial. What does that bone-sawing, blistering old ape know about the future, anyway? How can he tell whether I'll have another attack or not? Perhaps he will tell you the name of your next husband and the color of his hair for fifty cents. Perhaps he is a dod-gasted spiritualist. What's that?"

"Gruel," said Mrs. Spoopendyke. "Gruel, always gruel," said Mr. Spoopendyke, turning his face to the wall. "Do you imagine I am a Sheltering Arms and St. John's Guild excursion thrown into neck, give me a rubber to chew on, and put a rattle into my hand?"

"But the doctor says you must not eat solid food just at pres—"

"Oh, I am not to eat solid food," said Mr. Spoopendyke, kicking viciously at the foot-board. "A diet of cannon balls and scrap-iron won't agree with me. It won't do for me to attempt digesting steel rails and bridge-girders. He thinks they wouldn't agree with me, does he? The measly old rattle-brained powder-mixer. Here give me that stuff," and Mr. Spoopendyke knocked the bowl out of his wife's hands, spilling the contents over the bed-clothes. "There, now, I suppose you are satisfied," he said, squirming over toward the wall and digging his face in the pillow, while Mrs. Spoopendyke gathered up the pieces and said it was so fortunate the bowl was only earthenware.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

Fourteen months ago Clara E. Garfield, daughter of J. Q. Garfield, 1941 Broadway street, received an accidental shot, at the hands of a nurse girl, from a Smith & Weston five shooter directly through the brain. The ball entered the cranium, piercing the lobe of the right ear just above the orifice. Dr. Charles E. Blake probed the wound four inches without resistance, and forebore to go farther for fear of injury to the structures. Concussion of the optic nerves destroyed vision for nearly a week. The utmost tranquillity in a dark room was maintained for nearly a month. The power of vision gradually returned, until she saw as well as ever. Her intellect was never much disturbed, and to-day, an unusually healthy, bright, strong and well grown girl of 9 years, she is as if she had never received the shot. Doubtless the ball has found lodgment, after traversing the brain, in the cranium on the opposite side, where a cyst has formed around it, confining it securely in a position where it can never cause the slightest irritation to any part of the body. Nature, truly, is a marvelous doctor and a surgeon of conservative power unspeakable. How beautifully the crash and ruin in the track of this terrible leaden missile is all repaired and the mysterious and complicated functions of the brain go on as if nothing had ever happened.—N. Y. Paper.

AWKWARD.—Some one complimented a celebrated actress, Madame Dennis, on the way in which she had just played a particular part. "To play it well," she said, "one should be young and beautiful." "Ah, madame," replied her admirer, "you are a striking proof of the contrary."

"Doctor, examine my tongue," said a good woman, "and tell me what it needs." "It needs rest," replied the doctor.
