Associated Press Cable to the Star.

NEW YORK, June 3.—It is reported that the Gould-Harriman-Rockefeller interests have secured control of the Erie Railroad system. This combination of vast interests has been known for some time in Wall street, but no one was able to secure a line on the exact purpose for which the three wealthy interests had combined.

The report that the trio had secured control of the Erie system caused the stock of that line to take an upward tendency today on the Exchange.

FOR BOUNTY ON SUGAR

AUSTRALIAN GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCES THAT IT INTENDS TO PRESENT A MEASURE IN PARLIAMENT PROVIDING FOR A BOUNTY ON ALL SUGAR RAISED BY WHITE LABOR—"AUSTRALIA FOR WHITE MAN."

MELBOURNE, May 14.—It is the intention of the Federal Ministry to introduce a bonus bill to encourage the employment of white labor, in the production of sugar-cane, which will take the place of the existing tariff rebate provisions.

The change will throw the cost of this phase of a "white Australia" on to the whole of the States on a population basis.

When the Cabinet meeting broke up this evening Sir Edmund Barton said a sugar bonus will be proposed to take the place of the present system of rebate payments, and a bill for this purpose will be laid before Parliament early in the session. Instead of sugar planters receiving at the rate of $10 a ton upon excise paid on "white grown sugar" they will be paid a bonus of equal amount. As the payment of bonuses must be uniform throughout the Commonwealth the cost of the system will thus be divided among all the States on a population basis. As the whole Commonwealth decided in favor of a white Australia all the States should pay their fair share for it. This is considered a truer basis of distribution than the present scheme of allocation. It will probably be made retrospective, so that the whole of the rebates already paid may be dealt with on a population basis, and this means that Victoria will be called upon to pay $100,000 as her proportion of rebates claimed for last season's crop.

White Labor And Fast Mail

THE AUSTRALIAN COMMONWEALTH HAS ENACTED THAT ONLY WHITE LABOR CAN BE USED IN CARRYING MAILS—GREAT BRITAIN REFUSES TO SO STIPULATE—RESULT WILL BE MATERIAL ON COLONIES.

MELBOURNE, May 17.—The Postmaster-General admits that the British Government, independently of the British Government, Senator Drake confesses that no steps have yet been taken towards providing for a separate service, but he says this will be done "all in good time." The existing contract has still 19 months to run, and the Prime Minister at least is under the impression that when a navigation bill is passed making foreign shipping amenable to the same conditions in respect to loading and other matter as British shipping, the latter will not object to abandoning the employment of colored labor.

Hitherto the Commonwealth has been paying $450,000 per annum for its share of the joint service between the mother country and these colonies, but for the future it will have to make its arrangements independently of the British Government.

KEPOIKOI AT THE HEAD OF THE SALARY CLASS

THE HOUSE THIS MORNING CUT THE SALARY OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC WORKS DOWN TO $3,600 A YEAR AND KNOCKED OUT ASSISTANT ALTOGETHER—WOULD NOT TOUCH KEPOIKAI'S SALARY.

The House this morning cut the salary of the Superintendent of Public Works and voted to abolish the office of Assistant Superintendent, but an effort to reconsider the salary of the Treasurer and cut it down resulted in a tie vote, and Kepoikai is at the head of the salary class.

After a communication had been received from the Senate, giving the Senate amendments to House Bill No. 3, making six months' departmental appropriations, the House took up the salaries bill again, the Senate's communication being postponed for two days.

The salary of Cooper's job was cut to $1,800 for the six months, or $3,600 per year, from $4,500, with little discussion. There was a general call for a vote when the motion was made, and the talkative members were downed. The motion carried by thirteen to eleven. The next item was unceremoniously stricken from the bill, the House having decided that an assistant was not needed in the public works department. The matter will probably come up again. Many members are opposed to making such a change before the County bill goes into effect.

The motion to reduce Treasurer Kepoikai's salary, over which there was a long argument yesterday, resulted in a vote of twelve to twelve. As soon as the cuts had been made in the public works department, the Treasurer's salary was taken up for reconsideration, but the House would not stand for a reduction in Kepoikai's pay. The House has cut Lorrin Andrews and H. E. Cooper to $1,800, but the Treasurer remains at $2,250. The other heads of departments are still to be considered.

APPROPRIATION FOR THE BAND

The items for the militia and band went through with a rush in second reading of the eighteen months' appropriation bill in the Senate this morning. Even Senator Dickey who had declared the band to be a Honolulu institution did not oppose the items. As a salvo to the members from the other islands an additional appropriation of $8,000 for the travelling expenses of the band to other islands was added. This means, should the item get through safely on its final passage, that Captain Berger and his boys will probably be called upon to make a number of trips about the islands in the ensuing two years.

The items came up by the presentation of the report of a special committee consisting of Senators Isenberg, C. Brown and Palmer Woods, on the militia and band items. The report recommended that the militia and band items pass as in the bill, with the addition of an item of $8,000 for traveling expenses for the band to other islands.

In dealing with the band the report said: "The advice of all representatives of commercial bodies to our citizens, our Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Exchange, is to make our islands and cities as attractive as possible to tourists and investors, and the comment is always made that the band provides practically the only pleasure and diversion to what would otherwise be a rather monotonous time after the first two or perhaps three days of sight seeing, which indicates to any one stopping to think over the matter of how best to advertise, that the band is one of our best assets for that purpose."

On motion of Senator J. T. Brown, seconded by Senator Kalanika-lani, the report was adopted, passing the items second reading.

IN THE CASES OF THE KOREANS

E. F. BISHOP FILES PLEAS IN BAR IN THE UNITED STATES IN THE CASES OF THE 113 JOHN DOES WHOM HE IS ALLEGED TO HAVE BROUGHT HERE IN VIOLATION OF LAW.

A hundred and thirteen pleas in bar were filed in the United States District Court this morning in the cases of F. V. Berger vs. E. F. Bishop of Brewer & Company. These are the suits in which Berger seeks to recover $1,000 each for 113 Koreans alleged to have been brought into the islands by Bishop in violation of the United States immigration laws. According to the pleas filed this morning, the matter at issue has already been decided by a board having power to settle the rights of the immigrants to land. The plea as to "John Doe 113," which is the same as all the others, reads as follows:

"The defendant says that on the 6th day of May, A. D. 1903, at Honolulu, in the Territory of Hawaii, a duly appointed Board of Special Inquiry appointed in conformity with the provisions of an Act of Congress approved March 3, 1903, entitled 'An Act to Regulate the Immigration of Aliens into the United States' was convened to consider, amongst other cases, the case of the lawfulness of the immigration and importation to the United States of America to wit: to Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii, from a foreign country, to wit: the Empire of Korea, of one John Doe 113th, a foreigner and an alien, being a Korean, and being the same person mentioned as an alien in the plaintiff's complaint."

"That said Board then and there had full authority to determine whether the said alien should be allowed to land or be deported, and also whether said alien had been imported and brought or had come to the Territory of Hawaii in violation of law, and after taking testimony and examining the said case and considering the same, the said Board decided on the sixth day of said May that the said alien should be allowed to land and should not be deported."

"And that said decision is now in full force and effect and is final and conclusive upon the question of the lawfulness of the alleged importation and immigration of the said alien to the United States and this the defendant is ready to verify."

"And the defendant says that by force and effect of the said decision and of the statute in such case made and provided, the plaintiff is precluded and barred from bringing this action, inasmuch as his right to recover herein depends upon the unlawfulness of the immigration and importation as aforesaid of the said alien."

PRESBYTERIANS PROTEST

PRESBYTERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF AUSTRALIA ADOPTS A RESOLUTION PROTESTING AGAINST THE DEPORTATION OF KANAKAS, AS IS REQUIRED BY A RECENT ENACTMENT OF PARLIAMENT.

SYDNEY, May 16.—The Presbyterian General Assembly of Australia in session at Sydney devoted considerable time to a discussion of a recent enactment of the Commonwealth Parliament expelling all Polynesians from the Commonwealth within a limited number of years.

The Rev. John Walker moved, "That a deputation of the Assembly be appointed to wait upon the Federal Government to protest against the deportation of New Hebrideans and other South Sea Islanders who have purchased properties and obtained homes of their own in Australia—some of them having married in this country and reared families—when such earnestly wish to remain as colonists in Australia, and protest strenuously against being deported."

The Rev. Principal Harper seconded the motion. He said the deportation of these people was a wrong to ourselves, a wrong to these people, a blot on our country, and a disgrace to the effort to preserve Australia for the white man. (Applause.)

The motion was carried.

The notice of stockholders in incorporated companies is particularly directed to the following remarkable statement of facts.

There is one corporation in the islands which has been doing business for over ten years and which is not affected by either hard times or flush times; its withdrawing stockholders have always received not only every dollar paid in on their stock, but good and substantial accumulated profits. It is called the Pioneer Building & Loan Association of Hawaii, and has just moved its office to No. 122 King street.

BURGLARIES.

Herring-Hall-Marvin Co.,
Successors to Hall's Safe & Lock Co.,
Cincinnati, Ohio.
Dear Sirs: You have no doubt observed by the public press that our bank has been subjected to the depredations of robbers on the night of Jan-2nd 1902, the outer door of the safe blown off, the inner chest not disturbed.
This safe was bought from you in the Spring of 1875 and we see from our books that you were sent New York Draft April 15th 1875. The number on the knob is 14547. We believe this safe will require a new front.
This safe has shown first class material. The sheets bent like tough hickory.
Yours truly,

New York.

Gentlemen: We thank you very kindly for your prompt attention in sending one of your men to open our safe this morning. We also wish to congratulate you upon the quality of your burglar-proof safe, as the burglars who entered our place must have worked all night and could not open the doors, and left without accomplishing their purposes. When the detectives arrived this morning to inspect the work, they claimed it was done by professional cracksmen and told us that if it had been a safe of any other make the burglars would have got in by the way they worked on our safe. We thought we would write you this good news as we consider ourselves fortunate. We will send the door to your factory this afternoon and kindly see that it is repaired and returned to us as speedily as possible. We remain, Yours respectfully,

ROADS.

The subject of road material is one in which every taxpayer is interested. Good roads are the demand of the day not only in cities but also for country highways. In this Territory our roads are a constant expense. We have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars upon them, and we have yet to reach a satisfactory road system. We have, it is true, satisfactory pieces of road, but how long do they last? A year or so passes, and our best roads, unless most carefully looked after, go the way of all roads, holes form, water gathers, rats appear and every one is complaining of the carelessness of the road supervisor.

It is then the duty of every road official to keep his eyes open as to what progress in road making is to be found elsewhere. Certain material which gives excellent roads is too costly for us, or has to be renewed too often, or is unsuitable to our climate. Some small experiments of treating road surfaces have been made, as when Richard street was treated with crude oil, but we have always returned to our macadam.

An interesting report upon the roads in the city of Hamilton, Ontario, gives results of the tar-macadam roads, which have been adopted in that place. The report is written by our consul in that city, who has for six years made a study of the subject, and has carefully watched the methods employed and noted the results. As compared with other road-making material tar-macadam is comparatively cheap and it is very enduring, as the statements show.

According to the consul's statement, twenty-two years ago a part of a street was laid with tar-macadam, as an experiment. The street is one used by teamsters in hauling heavy loads of merchandise from the railway. The manner of construction was crude in comparison with present day methods and little labor or money has been expended upon repairs, yet that street is in good condition today. Four years ago a block in the business center of the city was selected in which to experiment with newer methods of combining stone and tar road work. It is a block where heavy teaming is done, the largest wholesale iron and hardware store in the city fronting on it. After four years of hard usage, without a dollar being spent for repairs, the road is almost as smooth and in as good condition as when it was first made. Another street which was constructed twelve years ago, has just had to be resurfaced. The tar-macadam road is almost as noiseless as asphalt, is easier on horses and there is no danger of animals slipping in rainy weather. Another advantage is that it is almost dustless. This latter would be of inestimable benefit here.

When we learn of such roads, it is clearly our duty to pay attention to them, and to see whether they are applicable here. The only way to find out the value of any innovation is by experiment. The method of making these roads is fully set forth by the engineer of the city of Hamilton, and can easily be obtained. A piece of road near the waterfront, say for instance a portion of Queen street, might be chosen for experiment, and a block or so constructed. A year would very soon pass by, and with a year's traffic the value of the road might be thoroughly tested. We have no business to accept what we have always accepted. We ought to progress with the times.

Road construction in this city has made very little progress in the past twenty-five years. Of course we have laid out many new roads, as the city has grown, but we have not improved our method of working very much. Take, for instance, Nuuanu avenue from the second bridge to Beretania street. It is a thoroughly unsatisfactory piece of road, it is full of holes, and is most disagreeable to drive over, while it wears out carriages and tempers as well. If we can, at a moderate cost, lay down a road which will last, for ten or twelve years we shall have accomplished a very satisfactory improvement, but we shall never reach that improvement unless we experiment. What has proved so satisfactory in Hamilton may not be so satisfactory under our climatic conditions. This we will never know, however, unless we put the matter to the test. The subject has aroused considerable interest in many parts of the States, and our own Road Supervisor might institute the necessary enquiries.

TRADE ROUTES.

It has always been a matter of interest to us here in the Pacific, with the prospect of the Panama Canal, to watch the progress and the success of the Suez Canal. Up to the present, the traffic through the canal has been constantly increasing and the last report shows dues amounting to $19,515,116.16, an increase of $1,897,888.52 over the preceding year, being higher than any preceding year since the canal was opened. This is practically five per cent upon an investment of $400,000,000. From this we can reason something of the probable returns from the Panama Canal.

But the Suez Canal is in the way of having serious competitors. A recent report shows that there will be loss of traffic from many widely different sources. At present it is the highway to the Orient except as it is affected by the American and Canadian transcontinental railways and the trans-Pacific steamship lines. Now, however, there will be the Panama Canal route, the Bagdad railway, the trans-Caucasian railway and the trans-Siberian railway. This competition in trade routes is surely diversified enough. A century ago such competition was undreamed of, such means of access to the uttermost parts of the earth were beyond the wildest flight of imagination.

According to a late consular report the canal authorities, while concerned about the competition which is springing up in all directions, regard the situation without serious misgiving. Even if the main path of Oriental trade shall be found to be across America from Canada to Panama, the Suez Canal has the Persian Gulf, India, West Australia and the East coast of Africa from Suakin on the Red Sea to Beirut, the port of Rhodesia to guarantee its future trade. And this trade is by no means worn out or reached its limit. The East African trade is in its infancy one may say. Too much importance cannot be given to the development of Africa. Where a few years ago everything was wild forest and wilderness, are now extensive farms and plantations, while the earth is giving forth untold riches from its mines.

It may be taken as an axiom that trade routes and speed of access to countries and markets multiply the opportunities of the carrier. Spain had the idea of reducing the carrier and used to send but one galleon a year across the Pacific. It was a foolish policy. We know better. The more routes there are the more goods will be carried.

There is a strong tendency in some minds to disbelieve historic statements. The fact that the younger Booth, the assassin of Lincoln, was killed, seems to be well established, yet every now and again we get the story that he escaped, and according to one of yesterday's telegrams that he has lived in Oklahoma where he committed suicide. Nana Sahib, the man who planned the Cawnpore massacre was another of these deathless creatures, always turning up in some part of India, preferably across the border. In the middle ages such returns to life were frequent, and at times involved serious results. One can understand such things occurring in a state of society where communication is largely conducted by word of mouth, and where rumor and exaggeration are rife, but in modern times where communication is rapid, and can be conducted by the telegraph, it seems difficult to understand that the exact facts of a comparatively recent event, should be challenged and even contradicted.

Private subscriptions are now being solicited for the sufferers in Kansas. Many of these people have lost their all, and are in a destitute condition. Such subscriptions are never solicited in vain from the American people. Hawaii ought to do her share towards alleviating the distress. In cases of this kind he gives twice who gives quickly.

Chinese rebellions seem to be perennial, but they do not bring about great results. Even the Boxer upheaval, though intensely bitter, seems to have left hardly a ripple upon the surface of Chinese placidity. The present uprising in the south of China, may portend great events, but judged by previous standards it is not likely to amount to anything. And yet one day there will be a mighty upheaval in China, and its political and social system will be changed.

The decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the Mankichi case will be far reaching. It will have an effect in the Philippines far greater than any results here. Practically it establishes a precedent for a colonial government, which will meet with much criticism from the anti-imperialists. We may look for some sharp diatribes in the Boston papers.

The House is working very slowly and the end is not yet in sight. The effect upon the community is unsatisfactory, for much public work which could be planned for, has to await the passage of the appropriation bills before any step can be taken. We are now only twenty-seven days from the close of our financial period.

The mandamus proceedings in the matter of the Board of Public Institutions will be argued tomorrow. The case is a most important one as it involves the validity of the County Act.

Such heavy rains in June are unprecedented. We shall soon be complaining of too wet a summer instead of too dry a summer.

The Guam portion of the cable is finished, and the world will be able to have news from that island every morning. Unfortunately nothing happens in Guam that the rest of the world cares for.

The financial loss in Kansas has been enormous. Ten millions it is reckoned is the amount of damage, and the probability is that we have not yet heard of all the damage.

The House does not seem to have any plan in its appropriations. One day it is parsimonious to a degree and the next it is absurdly lavish. The appropriation bill at the present time is a mosaic depicting the whims of the House.

The boys at sporting alley were having lots of fun with "Pete" this morning. They have a mania sometimes down there for trading jack-knives sight unseen—whole blade or no trade—but in the outcome the laugh was on the other fellows.—Carroll County Mirror.

Record. This morning Gene Downs, who is employed in Charlie Kneale's carriage shop, went up stairs to Will Libberton's photograph gallery after some window glass. As he started over the steps his feet slipped out from under him and he came down the whole flight of stairs, turning somersaults and doing all kinds of acrobatic work. ## NO SUCCESSOR TO WRIGHT.

Judge Gear yesterday refused to appoint an administrator with the will annexed to take the place of William H. Wright the absconding Territorial treasurer, one of the three executors of the will of the late John N. Wright, the other two being the widow and W. O. Smith. Application was made before him for the appointment of Fred Wundberg, a brother of the widow. This was opposed by some of the devisees under the will because Mrs. Wright had a claim against her husband's estate which if allowed would wipe out the devisees to the contesting devisees and they feared that with the widow claimant and her brother as two of the three executors, the claim would be allowed to their injury. In deciding the case Judge Gear said:

"There are here two executors acting, who are given discretionary powers, and either one of them has a right to take any action that all of them would have a right to take.

"Where executors are given discretion, and are given property, which is in the nature of a trust, and given discretion such as given here, an administrator with the will annexed, if he take the office, could not act with that discretion. Such discretion would not pass to an administrator with the will annexed, but I am convinced in any case that an administrator with the will annexed could not be appointed; I would not have jurisdiction, and the appointment would be void. It is so stated in Williams on Executors. Therefore, the petition will have to be denied on those grounds."

Boxing Competitors Getting Ready for Saturday.

The various participants in Saturday night's boxing contest are hard at work getting into shape to do credit to themselves and their backers—Millet, principal in the main event is working out in town, needing now only sufficient exercise to keep him in his present trim. Mattox, his opponent, is in daily training on the water front near the Honolulu Iron Works where Kaminsky and he are jointly getting down to their fine points. Kaminsky has several superfluous pounds to dispose of before he tackles Harris who is assiduously hardening himself for the victory he is confident of gaining.

If Harris wins he will be in a position to challenge the winner of the Millet-Mattox go and will probably do so unless Kaminsky beats him. Seats are now on sale for the event at the Orpheum box office.

OCEANIC SHED

WORK OF DEMOLISHING OLD
STRUCTURE WILL COMMENCE
TOMORROW.

Today will be the last day for many weeks that a steamer will depart from the Oceanic wharf. The usual large crowd of people were at the wharf this morning to see the Alameda sail for San Francisco. Tomorrow the work of demolishing the present wharf and shed will commence.

A contract to build a new wharf and shed has been let to Contractor De Fries. He will commence tomorrow morning to tear down the Oceanic shed. This work will be preparatory to removing the rotten piling that now helps constitute the wharf. All of the goods stored in the shed will have to be removed immediately.

In future, the vessels of the Oceanic company will probably go to the Bishop or the Channel wharves. The next Oceanic vessel due is the S. S. Sierra from the Colonies. She will arrive Tuesday morning and sail for San Francisco Tuesday afternoon. The S. S. Ventura is due next Wednesday morning from San Francisco. She will sail probably in the afternoon for Pago Pago, Auckland and Sydney.

The suit of Hind vs. Low, involving the partnership in the Hind-Low ranch, has been settled out of court, and the partners have agreed to dissolve. Hind buying out Low's interest. The property is a large and valuable one and lengthy and bitter litigation was threatened by the suit brought by Hind, demanding a dissolution and an accounting. It is stated that Low receives $85,000 for his share of the estate.

This morning motions were filed by Smith & Lewis, attorneys in the case, and W. G. Cooper, who was appointed receiver, asking the Circuit Court to fix compensation for their services. Cooper was appointed receiver when the court ruled that Hind had a right to demand a termination of the partnership and the sale of the property if an agreement between the partners could not be reached.

ROOSEVELT'S TARIFF RECORD.

From Harper's Weekly.

Mr. Roosevelt is a young man still, but when he was much younger than he is now he was a free trader of such vigorous hue that, on one occasion, he announced that he would "die for free trade." Practically, he has since learned nothing concerning the tariff, but he had accepted the post hoc ergo propter hoc, sort of philosophy to which protectionists have resorted in these days of the degeneracy of their doctrine, and he is, therefore, ready to say, with home market clubs and other like disinterested authorities, that because we are now prosperous we are so because of the tariff law. This is utter folly, of course, but the president does not know it, because since the day when he was a crusading knight of free trade he has learned that the doctrine of extreme protection is essential to the life of his party. Mr. Roosevelt, besides being very young, younger perhaps than David Copperfield seemed to be to Steerforth's valet, is an ardent party politician. He has, indeed, the disposition to "reform within the party," but this disposition does not carry him very far, once it has brought him in conflict with the party leaders who write the platforms and make the nominations. So, after trying for a time to be that impossible thing, a free trade republican, he has gradually settled down into a protectionist of the most advanced type. He is of the school which says "stand pat"; "no revision at all"; "revision only by its friends," which, being interpreted, means revision only by those who insist upon maintaining the existing exorbitant rates of duty which are so enormously increasing the cost of living in this country, and which are, also, incidentally giving to some of the trusts, those which are most flagrant from the president's own point of view, that monopoly of the home market that substantially kills the competition which the president believes to be the life of healthful trade.

HOW THOMAS JEFFERSON LOOMS.

Many marvel at the cordial unanimity and enthusiasm with which those of widely differing political bias honor Thomas Jefferson. I do not. To me there is nothing strange in the regard paid to that noble and Catholic soul, Jefferson, who thought, wrote, spoke and lived for humanity. He was loyal to conscience and truth as he saw it; his service was given to all time and not to his age alone, to every spot where was pressed the foot of man, not for his own land only; his words find responsive echo today in the hut of poverty, in the field of toil, in factory and workshop, as well as in palace of millionaire and home of leisure. The child of necessity and want and the favorite of fortune alike read his words with grateful recognition of their universal application—feel that he was in touch with every kind and condition of men.

His view was not wallled in by sectional lines or party distinctions. He recognized neither the limitations of class or creed, nor those of personal ambition or selfish policy. Had he been more orthodox to some of the narrow and bigoted opinions of his own time, he had been accorded a larger place among his contemporaries. But out of these environments, in the clearer atmosphere and on the broader plain of our enlarged landscape, he towers among the rest, as above a row of circling hills some lofty mountain peak lifts its radiant, snow-covered, sun-kissed summit to be forever the eagle's favorite haunt and the last resting place of the day's parting glory.

What a salutary example and inspiring lesson he is to the timid time-servers and shifty politicians of our day!

He will hold his place among the world's immortals as the author and finisher of that great charter of human rights and foremost architect among the builders of free institutions, when those who now speak and act in hollow mockery of his example, and selfish servency to his glory, are but forgotten dust. His is a safe name for these to juggle with for popular favor; but his loyalty to conscience and his sublime courage to resist popularity when it demanded sacrifice of manly independence are and will remain to them unknown virtues.

Well may such men as Senator Hoar praise Thomas Jefferson; it is a giant measuring a giant; a patriot doing worthy honor to a patriot. It is the political hero of one age paying tribute to that of another. Smaller minds may wrap themselves in the mantle of Jefferson; it will but serve to hide them.

THE PALM AND
THE THISTLE

HERALDIC DESIGNS FOR THE
YOUNG HOTEL'S ADVERTISING MATTER AND LETTER HEADS.

The stationery and advertising folders of the new Young Building hotel have been received, and have begun to be used by Manager Lake. One of the designs used on both is a heraldic shield conventionalized, in the center of which is emblazoned a view of Diamond Head, surrounded by a wreath of thistle leaves, a compliment to the land of Mr. Young's nativity.

A large steel engraving of the Alexander Young building appears as a feature of all the advertising matter of the hotel. On the letter head, the upper third of the sheet is occupied with a picture of the building surrounded by a scroll with a view of the Waikiki Beach and Diamond Head as a background. As a part of this design and in the center almost is a somewhat shortened coconut palm in fruit, and to the left of this the heraldic shield with the thistle leaf wreath, but instead of the blazoning of Diamond Head, the space is filled with the name of the hotel and the manager, H. W. Lake. The advertising folder sets forth the beauties of Honolulu, and its accessibility, the merits of the hotel, and includes the following:

"This hotel has an annex on the beach at Waikiki for the accommodation of its guests, where delightful bathing and surf riding may be enjoyed at all times; average temperature of sea water 70°"

This annex is the Alexander Young residence on the Beach which is to be used as an annex to the hotel which it is expected will now be opened July 4.

PICTURE SALE NETS
HALF A MILLION

AN AUCTION AT CHRISTIE'S IN LONDON, DRAWS CROWDS OF WEALTHY LOVERS OF ART.

NEW YORK, May 24.—A cable to the Herald from London says: The sale of the famous Vaile collection of French pictures, together with pictures from the collections of Lord Wimborne, E. J. Milliken of New York, C. W. Beckett, M. P. and the Dean of Wells at Christie's yesterday reached the sensational total of $529,225. The Vaile collection brought $322,645. This beats all records for Christie's.

Interest in the sale has been enormous. Throughout the week Christie's rooms on King street, St. James, have been visited by crowds of well-known people which surpassed even those attracted by the Dudley collection eleven years ago.

The chief attraction yesterday was four superb paintings by P. Boucher, "The Fortune Teller," "The Love Message," "Love's Offering" and "Evening." These were offered in one lot and were bought by Messrs. Tooth for $117,075.

A FOOLISH OLD IDEA.

It was once thought that a medicine was all the more beneficial for having a nasty taste and smell. We now know that such an idea is perfect nonsense. There is no more reason why medicine should offend the senses than why food should do so. Therefore, one of the greatest chemical victories of the past few years is what we may call the redemption of cod liver oil. Everybody knows what a vile taste and smell this drug has in its natural state. No wonder most people declare they would rather suffer from disease than take cod liver oil, and the emulsions are quite as foul and abominable as the plain oil, no matter what may be alleged to the contrary. Now it is one of nature's laws that a medicine which disgusts the nose and the palate, and also sickens the stomach, can have no good effect as a medicine, because the system cries out to be delivered from it. In WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION the desired miracle is wrought, and we have the valuable part of the oil, without the other. This effective modern remedy is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. The palate accepts it as it does sugar, confectionary or cream. Taken before meals it goes to the very secret stronghold of digestive disorders: prevents and cures Nervous Dyspepsia, Scrofula, Throat and Lung Troubles and all diseases due to impurity of the blood. Dr. G. C. Shannon, of Canada, says: "I shall continue its use with, I am sure, great advantage to my patients and satisfaction to myself." Has all the virtues of cod liver oil; none of its faults. Effective from the first dose. Sold by all chemists.

THE JOHN WILKES BOOTH LEGEND

ANOTHER ONE OF THOSE DOUBTS OF ACCEPTED HISTORICAL FACT IS RAISED BY THE UNKNOWN SUICIDE IN OKLAHOMA WHO CLAIMED TO BE JOHN WILKES BOOTH—THE STORY OF THE CLAIMANT AND THE KNOWN FACTS.

The cable yesterday announced that the body of a suicide at Enid, Oklahoma had been identified as that of John Wilkes Booth. This identification follows a more or less continuous course of investigation which has been going on for several months. Some months ago, a man known in Guthrie, Enid, El Reno and other places in that region as Daniel E. George, attempted to commit suicide. After his attempt on his life, and while he was yet expecting to die from it, he told the landlady of the hotel that he was none other than John Wilkes Booth, the assassin of Abraham Lincoln; that after the assassination he had escaped, and had been a wanderer ever since. He had always been well supplied with money which came to him in remittances, from, no one knew where. The man did not die at that time. His confession was made public and more or less investigation followed and some of what has been published concerning the matter is here reproduced. Later the man succeeded in committing suicide.

In the hotel at Enid when he first took poison "George" called Mrs. Harper, his landlady, to his bedside and Mrs. Harper tells of the confession as follows:

"It was then that he called me to his side, says: 'I have something to tell you: I am going to die in a few minutes, and I must tell someone. I believe you are a friend and I don't believe you would do anything to injure me. Did it ever occur to you that I was anything but an ordinary painter? I killed the best man that ever lived.' I asked him who it was and he answered 'Abraham Lincoln.'

"I couldn't believe it. I thought; probably he was out of his head. He said: 'Don't doubt it; it is true; I see you cannot believe it, but it is true. I am going to die in a few minutes.' He told me he was rich and had written his life and left it in book form, and that after his death it would be published. He said he was J. Wilkes Booth, and taking pencil and paper wrote it down—a large, peculiar hand. He seemed to be perfectly rational when talking with me; he knew me and knew where he was, and really thought he was about to die. He asked me to keep his secret until after he was dead, adding, 'If anyone would find out now that I was J. Wilkes Booth, they would take me out and hang me, and the people who love me so well would despise me.'

"George told me that men high in official life 'hated Lincoln and promised him a great reward if he and another man would kill Lincoln. Seward and others.

"George said the suspense of possibly being detected all the time was traveling since all over Europe, Africa and in Asia. He said his life was miserable, that Mrs. Surratt was innocent and he was responsible for her death and that of several others.

"George said he was devoted to acting, but had to give that up because on the stage he would be detected. The fact that he must remain from the stage when he desired to act, made him restless. He remained abroad, he said, until he became an old man, then returned, doing painting, carpentering, bookkeeping and at times even venturing on the stage. He said he had plenty of money, but was compelled to work to keep his mind occupied."

T. THOMAS FORTUNE.

The Trouble He Got Into in the Philippines.

Manila papers brought by the Korea yesterday give more extended accounts of the trouble T. Thomas Fortune got into in Manila which led to his being requested to leave the Philippines by the Philippine Commission. According to the accounts, Fortune, while intoxicated, got into an altercation with the police, and summoned other colored men, including his secretary to his aid. A physical encounter ensued in which the police used clubs, and Fortune and his party were taken to the police station. Fortune denies that he was intoxicated and lays the blame for the difficulty on the police. The proceedings in the police court after being continued, were dropped and Fortune with his secretary left the archipelago.

TO TALK WITH DOLE.

The Executive Committee of the Republican Territorial Committee at a meeting yesterday afternoon appointed a committee to discuss with the governor the vacancy to occur in the office of the Superintendent of Public Works with the retirement of Henry E. Cooper.

Twenty-five cents pays for a Want ad in the Star. A bargain.

"He was very anxious for weeks regarding what he had told me," says Mrs. Harper. "I answered him that he had told me nothing of importance, although he seemed to know better. He saw me looking at a picture of Lincoln and asked me why I was looking at it. I told him I had always admired Lincoln. He regarded me with a fierce look saying 'Is that the only reason you have for looking at it?' A peculiar expression came over his face, he turned a little pale, his eyes flashed, he turned around and walked away.

"George told me he was 38 years old but we thought him older. He dyed his hair and eyebrows a jet black. The natural color of his hair seemed to be of a reddish tint; he said it was curly when he was young; he had a way of raising one of his eyebrows higher than the other. I noticed him limp frequently, but he always laid it to rheumatism."

Later "George" made a success of the suicide and died.

That George had a past was known by all acquainted with him but the secret of that past was not known. After his dying statement became known, an investigation was commenced, but without much success in unraveling the mystery. The friends who knew him best, state that so far as they know he might have been Booth, that he talked little of the past.

When the surgeons examined him they found his leg broken in the same manner and in the same place as was Booth's after the actor jumped from the President's box in Ford's Theater, having murdered the nation's head. They also stated that George was practically the age that Booth would be at this time, were the latter living. The entire surgical investigation backed up the statement of the dying man.

A Washington dispatch of January 29th stated:

"While it is believed here that the body brought to Washington April 25, 1865 as that of John Wilkes Booth, was in fact the body of the assassin, statements have been heard from time to time that it was that of another. Booth was said to be alive more than once during recent years.

"It is pointed out that the records in the case show some strange inconsistencies. Booth and Herold were wandering together for more than a week before the capture, with a reward of $100,000 out for the former, and the neighborhood of the Rappahannock was being scoured by the Federal cavalry seeking him. From that time until the body was brought to Washington nobody personally acquainted with Booth, except Herold, ever saw him. Those who met the fugitives did not recognize Booth, but were informed of his identity either by himself or by Herold. Neither Captain Doherty nor Boston Corbett nor any of their corps knew Booth by sight.

"The claim has been made that the necessity for quieting the country was so urgent at the time that another man's body was palmed off as that of Booth. Herold had many reasons to keep such a secret, and the others involved were, it is said, interested parties. The government distributed $100,000 among those engaged in the capture."

While this theory of a false Booth is an old one, it has not, however, won many adherents. The general opinion is that the identity of the body was established at the autopsy.
