FANATICS VENEMOUS

[Associated Press Special Cable.]
CONSTANTINOPLE, Turkey, Aug. 28.—American Minister Leishmann today presented the demands of the United States in consequence of the assassination of Vice Consul Magelsen at Beirut last Sunday. The demands are couched in most forceful terms which allow of no evasion by the Turkish Government. The Turkish officials assured Minister Leishmann that full reparation would be made.
The situation throughout Turkey is daily growing more critical. An investigation is going on of the affair at Uskub.
The Turkish population has been stirred to the highest pitch of fanatical excitement owing to the hostile action of the Powers. A massacre of every European in Turkey is predicted as likely at any time. The officials of the Government seem incapable to quell the growing spirit of war against the Christians of all countries.

Outlook Is Promising For a Very Hot Fight In the 4th and 5th Districts

The Kalihl Detention Camp hall was crowded last night, when Sam Paulo called a meeting to order to listen to addresses from the primary delegates, who were on the same ticket with himself. The chairman said that the delegates to address the meeting had met together, and agreed to stand on one ticket, and he said that the use of his name on any other ticket was without any authority. He then announced the ticket as follows: James L. Holt, T. McCants Stewart, J. A. Ahong, Geo. Barker, Eli J. Crawford, S. E. Damon, Joseph J. Fern, Wm. B. Jones, David K. Kahaleaahu, David Kanuha, J. E. Murty, Joseph Morse, Sam Paulo, K. R. G. Wallace and Charles H. Clark.
Each of these delegates then addressed the meeting, except Mr. Damon, who was on the other side of the island, when the committee called at his bank to inform him of the meeting, and Mr. Ahong, who was sick. Also K. R. G. Wallace, who was out of the city, but Mr. Wallace left the following public letter, which is addressed to his friends: "Being unavoidably absent from the city, I earnestly and respectfully request all of my friends to support next Saturday the Holt-Stewart-Wallace ticket at the primary."
Charles H. Clark, who was received with great enthusiasm, made the opening speech, and was followed by the other delegates. D. Kanuha received an ovation when he was introduced, and his interpretation of T. McCants Stewart's speech aroused the greatest enthusiasm during its delivery.
The following printed ticket was in circulation, and was frequently referred to as the Vida-Olepa ticket; but the speakers whose names are on it spoke out earnestly for the straight ticket on which they were running. The Vida ticket created some surprise because it contains the names of members of the Home Rule executive committee. It was thought that the names were used without authority. The ticket is as follows: Wm. Olepa, Koka, Geo. Kaia, S. E. Damon, Isaac Cockett, Jack Hahalehauwila, Joe Fern, Ben Zablan, Wm. Henry, D. K. Kamakauha, Henry Vida, Joseph McGuire, Paulo, Solomon Pan'ala and Henry Huka.
Slates—oceans and mountains of slates—everywhere and up every voter's sleeve. The contest in the Republican ranks is a warm one and there are at least three factions fighting for supremacy. Another one has just floated to the surface, led by Small Farmer Birbe. There is no conservative faction except along the line of keeping quiet. A Bulletin reporter made a circuit this morning calling on prominent Republicans in the Fourth and Fifth Districts and came away impressed with the fact that when county primaries are on, no one knows anything. However, a few things were learned which are of interest to the public.
Out in the First Precinct of the Fourth, there is a sharp line. There has been no compromise and there are two tickets in the field, one made up entirely of natives and another of white men. This is looked upon by the party leaders as an unfortunate state of affairs, but neither faction is willing to give an inch, so there's an end to it.
In the Second of the Fourth the public meeting held Wednesday evening had for its intention the arrangement of a compromise ticket suitable to all the factions. The natives are not at all strong in this precinct and previous to the meeting Hawaiian residents of that precinct stated that they would be satisfied with two or three on the ticket. That representation has been granted and it is quite likely that the ticket as agreed on will go through. The make-up is as follows: J. A. Gilman, E. Kopke, F. J. Church, John Oudekirk, J. F. Soper, Geo. B. McClellan, J. A. M. Johnson, Gus Schuman, R. Doble, John A. Hughes, Hiram Komoku, C. H. Brown, E. R. Mossman, John P. Joseph, A. F. Clark, Frank Kruger and W. M. Cunningham.
In the Third of the Fourth, there will be very little of a contest. It is understood that things are all fixed. In the Fourth there is a good ticket with such men as Clarence Crabbe, Representative Chillingworth, R. J. Aiyet on it. No other ticket seems to be in the field.

The Fifth was very good up to a few days ago, when there suddenly appeared on the scene two tickets opposed to the one that was thought to be generally accepted. The first ticket had on it the names of Captain Sam Johnson, O. C. Swain, Charles Coster, Ed Duvauchelle, W. H. Kallimal and one other. The names on the other tickets could not be learned. It is pretty safe to predict that the ticket headed by Sam Johnson will win out.
The Sixth is the quiet precinct with no tickets and no ulterior motives. Some of the names suggested are as follows: Fred C. Smith, Capt. I. Bray, F. M. Brooks (now a resident of the Second), Herman Kruger and Theo. Wolf. There will be no fight whatever when the precinct club meets. The Sixth will always put up six good, staunch Republicans who believe in fair dealing.
There are no returns from the Seventh, but it is presumed that Waimanalo will grind out her small quota of Republicans.
Last, but not least, the Eighth, where three tickets have been arranged. One of these contains fourteen white men and a lone native; another has eleven white men and four natives. The third is the one that should carry. It is made up of seven white men, seven natives and E. E. Mossman, who on account of being part Hawaiian and part white, is considered the fit person to make the ticket balance. That there will be a hot fight in this precinct goes without saying. Its alienation from the Second does not seem to have improved its temper. Some of the names on the compromise ticket are as follows: J. Batchelor, Andrew Brown, W. Holt Thornton, James C. Quinn, Carlos A. Long, John M. Kea, J. J. Boler.
When it comes to the Fifth, the politician must needs pause breathless. Led on by the fighting Seventh, the various precincts seem to have caught

PIXLEY MUST STAY IN JAIL

Ballentyne Pleads For The Conductor's Liberty.

JONES TRAGEDY WITNESS CANNOT OBTAIN FREEDOM

ATTORNEY GENERAL SAYS MURDER CASE WILL FALL TO THE GROUND WITHOUT HIS TESTIMONY.

Manager Ballentyne of the Rapid Transit Company appeared before Judge De Bolt at Chambers this morning, and in manner convincing and with eloquent argument, requested that Conductor Pixley, imprisoned as a witness, be allowed his liberty; that the order lodging Pixley in jail for knowing something of the Jones tragedy, be rescinded.

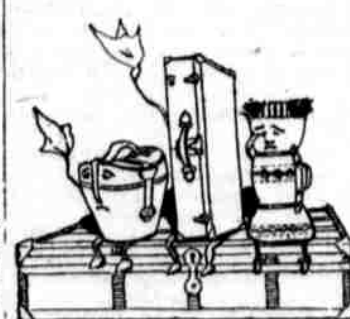

Mr. Ballentyne showed that neither the Attorney General nor the High Sheriff had any evidence that Pixley had any idea, intention or desire to leave the islands; that Pixley had no occasion to get away; that it was to his best interests to remain here. Besides Pixley was not by any means the most important witness in the murder case against "Eddie" Jones. Pixley had seen neither Mrs. Jones nor Mrs. Parmenter shot. He lived next door to the Parmenter house and, upon returning from his night duties as conductor on the Rapid Transit, had, by the mere accident, become a witness to certain events prior to the tragedy.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 28.—It was stated at the State Department today that the most vigorous measures will be taken to compel the Turkish Government to make full reparation for the murder of Vice Consul Magelsen.
Should there be any hesitancy to comply with American demands, Admiral Cotton has been ordered to seize Turkish ports and Minister Leishmann will be withdrawn pending proper settlement.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Sir Thomas Lipton, speaking of the yacht races today, stated that this is his third and last attempt to lift the America cup. He says he will not challenge again. Lipton in the course of his interview admitted the superiority of the American boats and the right of Americans to the yachting supremacy. He has only words of praise for the treatment he has received at the hands of opposing yachtsmen.

MANILA, P. I., Aug. 28.—The Educational Bill framed by the Civil Commission became a law today.

MALICIOUS LIE

Judge Gear characterizes the yarn concerning the Roberts deed in the Advertiser this morning as a malicious lie and an absolute and deliberate misrepresentation of the facts.
In brief, the truth of the case is as follows: Mrs. Hattie R. Roberts was one of the heirs of the estate. The administrator paid money belonging to her into court. Mrs. Roberts then made a deed conveying all to J. E. Fullerton. Upon presentation of the authority in the form of the deed, there was nothing left Judge Gear but to pay the money out of court. This he did. He had nothing to say in the matter and, the deed taking the money out of court, it was immaterial to the court as to whom the money was paid. Mrs. Roberts was at liberty to give away what she wished. The court was powerless where the deed gave absolute control of the property. It became the judicial duty to pay over the money to whom Mrs. Roberts wanted it paid. Judge Gear could no more have refused to pay out the money than a bank could refuse to honor the check of a depositor. The judges are indignant and it is said that the story was perpetrated by one either exceedingly ignorant of judicial proceedings or else deliberately intending to distort the facts. Opinions expressed by judges and attorneys in the Judiciary building this morning were to the effect that such methods were a disgrace to the community.

BOND BUSINESS TAKES CARTER EAST

It was decided at a conference yesterday afternoon between the Governor and Treasurer Kepolika, Superintendent Cooper, Secretary Carter and Auditor Fisher, to send Secretary Carter to Washington and New York for the purpose of hastening the business of the issue of the Territorial bonds and making arrangements for floating the loan.

The Secretary will immediately proceed to collect the required data and will obtain from the Treasury a statement of taxes and of the present indebtedness. From Attorney General Andrews he will secure an opinion quoting the authorities for the bond issue. Certified copies of the bills and copies of the correspondence between the President and the Governor will also be required by the Secretary.

Carter will arrange with the banks for advances covering his trip and the engraving and printing of the bonds. He will arrange for the carrying on of the business of his office, particularly in regard to the county elections and the Chinese fund, during his absence. The Secretary will go direct to New York, expecting that by the time he reaches there to hear that the President has approved the loan, in which case his work will be confined to New York City.

If nothing is heard from the President, Carter will look him up at Washington or Oyster Bay. If the matter has been left to the Department of the Attorney General, he will confine his efforts to that department.

The Secretary hopes to be able to leave next Tuesday in the Sierra. He will be gone between six weeks and two months. A two-months' trip will add, allowing for all necessary expenses, about $750 to the cost of the bond issue.

THE ONLY No-Under-Shadow Light

There's nothing misleading about that heading.

The Angle Lamp

It, in its effect, exactly like sunlight. It is, like the sun, up out of the way, and throws its clear, enjoyable light both outward and downward with no bothersome shadows to annoy or to spoil the lighting effect. There's no other light does that—no other light that has "NO-UNDER-SHADOW" But don't stop at that; look at the other features, too. With a minimum of expense, of trouble and of heat there is obtained a maximum of light and real satisfaction. Every annoying feature of gas, electricity, gasoline and acetylene is obviated. This tells the story of a great combination. It uses ordinary kerosene (or coal) oil—one quart in sixteen hours. Its light is more brilliant than gas or electricity, with no more heat—no smoke—no odor—no "drawing up"—no removing of globe or top to light—filled while burning.

JURIES ACCUSE JONES

The jurors sitting in the cases of Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Parmenter yesterday afternoon returned the following verdicts:

"That the said Linda K. Jones came to her death at Honolulu, Island of Oahu, on the morning of the 23rd day of August, A. D. 1932, from injuries to her head caused by a bullet passing through it, said bullet having been discharged out of a revolver held in the hands of one Edward Mitchell Jones, said revolver being discharged as aforesaid by said Edward Mitchell Jones with intent to kill the said Mrs. Linda K. Jones."

"That the said Mrs. Parmenter came to her death at Honolulu, Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, August 26, 1932, from a gunshot wound in the head, caused by a bullet discharged out of a revolver held in the hands of one Edward Mitchell Jones, said revolver being discharged as aforesaid by said Edward Mitchell Jones with intent to kill the said Mrs. Sarah Parmenter."

The jurors sat yesterday afternoon. The jurors on the Mrs. Jones case were: H. W. Kinney, G. W. R. King, E. W. Campbell, C. D. Pringle, W. T. Blacker and C. L. Sprinks. On the inquest on Mrs. Parmenter's death were: P. H. Burnette, T. R. Lucas, Chas. Fullerton, D. H. Davies, E. E. Morgan and Ed Paris.

Emerson's Testimony.

Dr. Emerson was the first witness called. He stated that on last Sunday morning he had examined the body of Mrs. Jones. The cause of death was a bullet wound in the head, passing through the brain. The wound of entrance was above the ear. The hair was singed near there and small powder specks were in the skin. This showed that the shot had been fired at close range. Found the bullet on opposite side of the head. The bullet, to which fragments of the skull were still clinging, was exhibited to the jury.

Officer Kane's Part.

Police Officer Kane, who was the first officer to arrive on the scene of the tragedy, stated that at about 12:30 o'clock Saturday night he arrived at Mrs. Jones' place on Kinai street. He met Mrs. Jones and Pixley, who showed him Jones, who was lying in the hammock, apparently drunk. Mrs. Jones and Pixley told Kane to go to telephone for the patrol wagon. Pixley promising that he would look after Jones. Kane went to the police call box and called for the patrol wagon. He was told by the station clerk that the wagon was coming from Waikiki, so he went to the corner of Alakea and King streets to head it off. While he was waiting there Pixley came and told him that there was shooting going on at Mrs. Jones' place, so he went there. He found Mrs. Parmenter wounded and telephoned to the police station. He then looked around for Mrs. Jones and found her lying dead in the garden. He escorted Mrs. Marcus Parmenter and the boy Albert. She was awakened at 12:30 by her sister-in-law, who told her that Jones was drunk on the lanai. She testified to the goings and comings of Mrs. Parmenter and Mrs. Jones before the shooting. The witness warned Mrs. Parmenter not to go out. She went out notwithstanding, and fifteen minutes later the witness heard a shot. Mrs. Jones went into the yard. Jones rushed back and caught her. He said: "Now I've caught you at last. I will kill you and then kill myself." Then he shot and Mrs. Jones fell. Mrs. Parmenter stood in the window and saw her fall. She heard two more shots after that. She locked herself in the room with the little boy. When she went out again it was when Mrs. Parmenter was on Mr. King's veranda. There were about five shots fired altogether. The witness knew nothing about the arrival of the officer because she was in the house. Jones fired two shots at Mrs. Jones.

Dr. Miner's Examination.

Dr. F. L. Miner stated that he had examined the body of Mrs. Parmenter. The cause of death was septic meningitis caused by the impact of a bullet making a round penetrating wound over the right eyebrow, at the junction of the middle and outer third of the supra-orbital ridge. The skin was blackened by powder and the eyebrows partly burned away. A probe passed through the eyeball and came out at the inner angle of the eye, to the angle of the lower jaw. Inside. The wound was further described in technical terms. The bullet lodged below the collar-bone after passing through the neck. This was sufficient to set up the inflammation, which caused death. From the nature of the wound that the woman had not been erect when the shot was fired; that it was fired from above her.

Conductor Pixley Testifies.

C. E. Pixley then took the stand. He stated that last Saturday night at about 12:45 a. m. he first saw Mrs. Jones on Beretania street running up towards the lane leading to her house. He went through the lane to his house, which is next door to that of Mrs. Jones. Mrs. Parmenter asked his assistance since there was a drunk on the stoop. He joined Mrs. Parmenter on the sidewalk. Pixley wanted to go in to take out this drunk but Mrs. Parmenter prevented him, saying it was better to let him sleep until the police officer came. Mrs. Parmenter then left him. Shortly after Mrs. Jones came out, asked for her mother and went back again. She came out and went back several times. She said she did not know what the drunk was. His snoring woke her at 11:40. Pixley said he thought it was a drunk who rode on his car, transferred to Manoa, and coming back came on his car again. The man tried to get off but was prevented from doing so by Pixley until the car came to a corner in the neighborhood. Then he got off and had just time to get to the place at 11:40.

The police officer arrived and asked for the drunk. He was told and then went to ring for the police. Mrs. Jones asked him not to go away but he did go. Mrs. Jones came out again but went back into the house. She spoke of the slowness of the police. Mrs. Parmenter soon arrived. She told Pixley that the drunk was Jones. She thought that he had stolen their jewelry the week before. He had slept all night in the hammock on one occasion shortly previous. Pixley was afraid that he might be taken for a connection of Mrs. Jones by Jones but still remained. She stated that Jones was under bonds to keep the peace and had no business there. Both sat down on the curb together. Some dogs began barking. Pixley kept listening for Jones. Suddenly the snoring stopped. Pixley called Mrs. Parmenter's attention to this. About three minutes later, Jones appeared on top of the gate with the gun in his hand. Pixley whispered to Mrs. Parmenter "Here he comes," and ran. He called back "Don't, oh, please don't." He looked back and saw that Jones had hold of Mrs. Parmenter. Mrs. Jones had come out. She was crying: "Mamma, mamma." He then heard a shot and soon after that another. Pixley kept on running. He had decided to fetch a policeman. While he was thinking, he heard two more shots. He got in a hack which passed by, telling the hackman that he was afraid of getting shot. He then found the policeman. He thought the policeman must have been absent about a half hour. He went in the patrol wagon to the place of the shooting.

Mrs. Marcus Parmenter.

Mrs. Marcus Parmenter stated that on the night of the shooting she was in the house with Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Parmenter, and the boy Albert. She was awakened at 12:30 by her sister-in-law, who told her that Jones was drunk on the lanai. She testified to the goings and comings of Mrs. Parmenter and Mrs. Jones before the shooting. The witness warned Mrs. Parmenter not to go out. She went out notwithstanding, and fifteen minutes later the witness heard a shot. Mrs. Jones went into the yard. Jones rushed back and caught her. He said: "Now I've caught you at last. I will kill you and then kill myself." Then he shot and Mrs. Jones fell. Mrs. Parmenter stood in the window and saw her fall. She heard two more shots after that. She locked herself in the room with the little boy. When she went out again it was when Mrs. Parmenter was on Mr. King's veranda. There were about five shots fired altogether. The witness knew nothing about the arrival of the officer because she was in the house. Jones fired two shots at Mrs. Jones.

Ante-Mortem Statement.

At this time Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth read the ante-mortem statement of Mrs. Parmenter, as follows: "I think I am seriously injured and that I may die. Believing as I do, I wish to make a statement. About 12:30 a. m. this morning my daughter called me from her room. I answered her. She said she thought that Mr. Gear had come home and was asleep on the veranda. I went into her room and stood by the window to listen. I heard the snoring. I told my daughter that we must go and wake him up. I put on my dress and got a lamp and opened the door of Maria Parmenter's room. I went out on the veranda and touched him, saying 'Mr. Gear.' I then saw it was Mr. Eddie Jones, divorced husband of my daughter. I ran in the house and closed the door because I was frightened. I told my daughter it was Eddie. I said, 'What shall we do?' She said, 'Call up the police station.' My daughter, Mrs. Jones, and I went next to the pumping station to telephone to the police station. Mrs. Jones came home ahead of me. The policeman arrived and saw Jones. The policeman was slow. The conductor came home. I don't know his name. He lives next door. I asked him to come and stay with us until the policeman got back. We stayed outside. The policeman came back and went off saying he was going for the patrol wagon. Three-quarters of an hour afterward we were still outside, the conductor and I. Jones was still in the hammock. In a little while we heard a noise. Saw Jones jump the fence onto Kinai street. Jones chased after the conductor. In a little while Jones came for me.

"Jones chased the conductor towards Waikiki. Jones came to me and got hold of me. I said 'Pau, Eddie.' 'Pau,' he said, 'Pau, eh? You are at the bottom of all this trouble.' He then fired a shot at me with a pistol. The flash blinded me for a minute. I did not know what I was doing. The girls sang out to me when they heard the pistol shot. I did not answer. Before that Jones asked me where Linda was. I do not know whether I was hit then. I called out 'Haul in! M. King! Jones ran into the yard and Mrs. Jones said 'Who is that?' Jones said 'Who is that, eh?' Then Linda screamed and Jones fired the pistol. I do not know whether Linda fell or not. He then came back to me. I called out 'Haul in! He said 'Haul in, eh?' Then he fired, and fired a second shot. I was hit by the last shot and fell down. I put my hand up and felt something warm on my face. I was hit right in the eye. I think he then went to look for Linda. That is the last I saw of him.

"I make this statement believing I am not going to get well. I asked Dr. Walters if I was going to get well. He was slow in answering me, so I trust my life in the hands of the Lord. When I heard an answering voice to Linda's question, 'Who is that?' I knew it was Eddie Jones' voice." G. W. R. King then made the following statement: "Early Sunday morning I awoke. I heard a shot. Three or four seconds later I heard another shot and heard a woman scream: 'Mr. King help. Haul in.' He heard two other shots and rushed out. He heard a man's voice saying 'between me and my wife. I am going to kill myself.' He found Mrs. Parmenter in the street and took her over to his house. He called Mr. Campbell, who later on phoned for a doctor and for Mr. Colburn. After a long wait Kane came. He was told of the trouble. Mrs. Parmenter had said that Eddie Jones did the shooting. Kane went in the little gate of Mrs. Jones' house. He next went to the front door of the house. He escorted Mrs. Maria Parmenter and her little boy over to Mr. King's house. The officer got on his wheel and went off a little later. Soon after that, the patrol wagon arrived.

Campbell, Sprinks and King stated that they had not gone over to the assistance of Mrs. Jones during the time which was between the shooting and the arrival of the patrol wagon. This time was estimated at about half an hour. Mr. King was occupied with attending to Mrs. Parmenter, who had sought refuge on his porch. At the rendering of the verdict the Deputy Sheriff asked the jurors if they had any recommendations to make and more especially if they wanted to censure the police department. The jurors decided they would not.

RECEPTION TO JUDD.

A farewell reception was given last evening by the members of Palama Chapel in honor of Henry P. Judd, who leaves for Auburn, New York, in Tuesday's Sonoma to pursue theological studies. Mr. Judd has been a hard worker for Palama Chapel during the past year and the pretty reception given him last evening shows how well his efforts are appreciated. A program consisting of many musical numbers, was followed by a speech from Mr. Judd and then refreshments were served. The Chapel was tastefully decorated with flowers and was filled to its utmost capacity with friends of the retiring superintendent.

THE PRIMARY WORK.

The Republican party wants neither autocrats nor grafters for its candidates.

No better sentiment can prevail among Republican voters to influence their action in the precinct meetings tonight and the primaries tomorrow. The Republican party needs men of integrity, men of capacity, men of honest, independent judgment in its county convention. It must have such men if the Republican ticket to be framed by this convention is to be of the character that inspires confidence and carries the vote of the people, business men, taxpayers and honest laborers who make up the stable citizenship of the community.

Men put into the county convention for no other reason than that they are of the type that does as told, furnish pliable material in the hands of either the autocrats or grafters. It makes little difference in whose hands they fall, the damaging result to the party and the advancement of the county is the same. To secure men of character in the county offices, the same class of men must be sent to the conventions. The Republican rank and file have the situation in their own hands. If they remain away from the polls, if they allow themselves to be indifferent to the result of the primaries, they have none to blame but themselves. Vote honestly, work honestly, deal fairly and there is no danger of the Republican party falling by the wayside.

It's about time for some one to gain fame by writing another article on "What's the matter with Kansas?"

Of making many tickets there is no end but unfortunately the sample county ticket has not put in an appearance. Vote for honest men. The vote influenced by race, color or previous condition of servitude backs no American sentiment.

Now that Uncle Sam is involved in the Turkish embargo, Europe will stand back to see whether the young man with a new navy can blow the head off the murderous leader.

It is almost funny to see those who cheered Commissioner Barrett on his Exposition tour now doubtful whether Hawaii wants anything more than a second hand exhibit at St. Louis.

While we are shouting over the yacht races Great Britain has plucked all the lawn tennis laurels in sight and taken them across the water. This ought to furnish some balm for Lipton's sorrow.

Secretary Carter in making his advance on the New York bond market can depend upon it that he will come home bearing his shield or laid out upon it. New York financiers are a cold-blooded lot.

Threats direct or implied to not win votes for any county delegate or faction. The man who cannot win without this chloroforming a possible opponent must have a mighty poor idea of his own strength.

Superintendent Cooper solved the voting place problem by providing the regular booths for the primary voters. There will be small chance of irregularities in the precincts that hold closely to official methods.

So the Kilanea panorama is the only thing Hawaii ever had at an Exposition that attracted attention. It is remarkable with what ease purported experts of Hawaii's progress revert to the loaves and fishes of the midway.

If the people of Hawaii haven't sufficient force of character to defeat Home Rule politicians on their own grounds Congress will be more disposed toward putting men in office who can, than to assist factionalists who want the franchise amended.

"Kill the nigger" is the sentiment with which some of the purportedly "good government" forces are working in the Fifth District. Mark the word "good government." Among respectable citizens the combination of this sentiment with good government is impossible.

One thing can be taken for granted Congress will not restrict the franchise in any Territory on the basis of misrepresentations in the mainland or Hawaii press. Those trying to mislead the mainland papers will find their work thoroughly sifted should the question ever come up in the national legislature and it will prove a boomerang that will mean sure death to the schemes of Organic Act amenders.

Mr. Andrews said in court this morning that the Attorney General's department had been embarrassed by the departure from the Territory of one under indictment by the Grand Jury for breaking into Chief Justice Frear's Tantalus residence. It would seem to be up to the Attorney General to explain why these men were allowed to depart and bring proper proceedings to call to account any person or persons who aided in defeating the course of justice if they are in the Territory. According to his previous assertions the Territorial government is deeply interested in preventing jail deliveries.

HAWAII AND MAINLAND PRESS

Dealing with the misrepresentation of things Hawaiian in the cable dispatches credited to the Associated Press, the Advertiser of August 22, under the heading "Careless Reporting," published the following editorially:

"Much of the Mainland comment on things Hawaiian is based on a hurried and imperfect rendering of the dispatches from here. A cablegram which told how the Hawaiian House had refused to insert an item in the appropriation bill for the support of an immigration agent on the ground that an American influx was not wanted here was made to read that a law had been framed to prohibit the entrance of Americans altogether. This was followed by squibs in the Mainland press about the proposed 'secession' of Hawaii."

It would appear from the foregoing that the morning press, that has gained local prominence by its own telegraphic fakes, was in the throes of sorrow because of the serious misrepresentation to which matters Hawaiian were being subjected in the mainland papers.

This morning the Advertiser publishes lengthy extracts from the mainland press, comments upon the misleading cablegrams previously criticized in a perfunctory way by the local paper. The mainland papers accept these cablegrams as statement of truth and comment accordingly. And the Advertiser this morning says editorially:

"Now it seems that the mainland is stirred exactly as the Advertiser predicted. The great dailies are agitating the subject. Other newspapers of marked influence are manifesting a strong reaction against our native citizens, who, for a lengthened period after annexation, were treated with obvious delicacy and liberality."

In other words, the mainland is stirred by cabled statements which the Advertiser itself has admitted were not true, and which it referred to as "Careless reporting."

Those who know the local situation are well aware that the cablegrams as criticized by the morning press carry out to the letter the spirit of misrepresentation that is a peculiar mark of character in the manner of dealing with local affairs by the morning press and its evening echo. For the morning paper to criticize the Associated Press is like the pot calling the kettle black. These cablegrams follow the trail of the local newspapers that have been endeavoring to arouse a mainland sentiment for the restriction of the franchise since the Territory was established. The truth is not in them, but truth and justice will prevail through the mainland press is led astray.

OUTLOOK IS PROMISING

The whole of the town part of the Fifth District is divided up along sharp lines. On one side stand the Stewart hosts and on the other the Achi fighters. The battle is to be a sharp one from start to finish.

In the Seventh, there will be the Stewart and the Achi tickets. That the latter is pitted against the former does not indicate that he has thrown his fortunes with the Achi faction, for he has not. He is fighting for his own ticket in the Seventh, but he is not fighting for any Achi men in any of the other precincts. The whole battle is in the Seventh.

The Eighth is silent. This is the precinct of W. C. Achi and it is reasonable to suppose that there will be a good representation sent to the convention from this place. Mr. Achi will have a lovely fight on his hands.

In the Ninth, there is quite a little doing. There are at least three tickets and this is one of them: Chas. Mahoe, J. S. Kalakiele, Horace N. Crabbe, George S. Harris Jr., Herman Meek, James Shaw, David Hoapili, A. F. Judd and F. T. P. Waterhouse. There is a stronger ticket than this in the field.

In the Tenth, J. L. Kaulikou will make a hard fight, but he will find a determined enemy to buck against in the shape of Enoch Johnson and Carley Clark.

Polling places will be needed tomorrow in some of the precincts of the Fifth District and perhaps in a few of the Fourth. A delegation from the Fifth called at the office of the Superintendent of Public Works yesterday and made a request that the regular polling booths be placed in their accustomed places when such is the desire of the voters of the precincts. This favor was readily granted.

Messrs. Pond, Dillingham, W. W.

Chamberlain and P. H. Helm head one of the tickets in the First Precinct of the Fourth. It was learned this afternoon that a new ticket—an attempt at a compromise—had been made and that seven white men and four natives had been named. It is not likely that this ticket will go through.

Following is a list of the precincts of the Fourth District with their polling places:

First Precinct—Premises of Thos. P. Cummins, at Pawa.

Second Precinct—Tent in Makiki cricket grounds, Koonamuku and Kinau streets.

Third Precinct—House above Nuuanu bridge, near Pacific Heights Railway terminus.

Fourth Precinct—San Antonio Hall Vineyard street.

Fifth Precinct—Next to garbage stables, Kakaia.

Sixth Precinct—Republican Headquarters, 925 Fort street.

Seventh Precinct—School house, Beretania street, near Alapai, near Transit yard.

Following is a list of the town precincts of the Fifth District with their polling places:

Seventh Precinct—Kalihi Detention Camp.

Eighth Precinct—Ninth Precinct—Kapua Dancing Hall, School street.

Tenth Precinct—Residence of J. L. Kaulikou, Aala lane.

The nomination primaries take place tonight at the various places that from time to time during the past fortnight have been announced in the papers by the various chairmen. The interest in the preliminaries tonight and the primaries tomorrow is very great indeed and the promise is that there will be a very large turnout.

Clarence L. Crabbe is being prominently mentioned for the chairmanship of the County Committee. It is understood that A. L. C. Atkinson is out after the place.

Chapter I.—The story opens with Alfred Bishop, a Georgia planter, closing a trade of $5,000 in mill stock for 5,000 acres of mountain land. Mrs. Bishop and their son Alan object to the trade. Mrs. Bishop's brother, Abner Daniel, tells a story. II.—The sale over. Bishop boasts that his land is on a prospective railroad. Tompkins, the former owner, has just unloaded a tract of 2,000 acres adjoining Bishop's. III.—Bishop goes to Atlanta to see Lawyer Perkins, who told him about the railroad. He has been deceived. The old man is so cast down that he returns home without seeing his brother William or his daughter Adele, who is at her uncle's in Atlanta. IV.—Bishop has bought 20,000 acres of mountain land in all and mortgaged his plantation. Abner tells Alan to consult Rayburn Miller, a land speculator. V.—Miller tells Alan about a dance at Darley. Alan's sweetheart, Dolly Barclay, will be there. Frank Hillhouse is attentive to Dolly. The banker, VI.—Dolly tells Alan that her father objects to his love quest. Barclay has also been caught on mountain land. VII and VIII.—Miller gives Alan cynical advice on love. Dolly's mother talks to her of her own love experiences. Dolly unhappy. IX.—Abner and Rev. Mr. Dole discuss religion. Pole Baker, the ex-moonshiner, whom Alan has reformed. X.—Abner goes to Barclay's, and Dolly talks to him of Alan. He tells Alan of his own sweetheart who died and he still loves her. Alan who hopes and wait. XI and XII.—Alan goes to Miller with a project for a railroad to the land. He redeems Pole Baker from the prison gang. XIII.—Miller sends news by Dolly to Alan about his railroad project. She disputes Miller's cynical views of love.

"You bet I do—thick set, about fifty, bald, red faced, sharp black eyes, iron gray hair, an' mighty high always with a cigar in his mouth."

"That's right," laughed Miller. "Now do your work, and we won't forget you. By all means keep him away from meddlesome people."

When Pole had left the office and Miller had resumed his revolving chair, Mrs. Bishop addressed him, looking straight into his eyes.

"I don't see," she said in a timid, hesitating way and yet with a note of firmness dominating her tone—"I don't see why we have to go through all this trickery to make the trade. If the land is good security for the money, we needn't be afraid of what the man will find out. If it ain't good security, I don't want his money, as far as I'm concerned."

"I was jest thinkin' that, too," chimed in her husband, throwing a troubled glance all round. "I want money to help me out of my scrape, but I don't want to trick no man, Yankee or what not, into totin' my loads. As Betsy says, it seems to me if the land's with the money we needn't make such a great to-do. Im' afeard I won't feel exactly right about it."

The young men exchanged alarmed glances.

"You don't understand," said Miller lamely, but he seemed to be unprepared for views so heretical to financial dealings, and could not finish what he had started to say.

"Why," said Alan testily, "the land is worth all Wilson can make out of it with the aid of his capital and the railroad he proposes to lay here. Father, you have spent several years looking up the best timbered properties and getting good titles to it, and to a big lumber company a body of timber like you hold is no small thing. We don't want to cheat him, but we do want to keep him from trying to cheat us by getting the upper hand. Rayburn thinks if he finds out we are hard up he'll try to squeeze us to the lowest notch."

"Well," sighed Mrs. Bishop, "I'm shore-I never had no idea we'd resort to gittin' Pole Baker to tote anybody around like a hog after a year or corn. I 'lowed we was goin' to make an open and shut trade that we could be proud of an' stop folks' mouths about Alfred's foolish dealin'." But—she looked at Abner, who stood in the doorway leading to the consultation room—"I'll do whatever Brother Ab thinks is right. I never knowed 'im to take undue advantage of anybody."

They all looked at Abner, who was smiling broadly.

"Well, I say git his money," he replied, with a short, impulsive laugh—and Alan do the talking. You see, if you sit perfectly quiet he'll think you are reluctant about giving such big security for such a small amount of money, and he will trade faster."

"Oh, I'm perfectly willin' to keep quiet," agreed the old man, who now seemed better satisfied.

Pole Baker left the office with long, swinging strides. There was an entrance to the Johnston House through a long corridor opening on the street, and into this Pole slouched. The hotel office was empty save for the clerk, who stood behind the counter looking over the letters in the pigeonholed key rack on the wall. There was a big gong overhead which was rung by pulling a cord. It was used for announcing meals and calling the porter. A big china bowl on the counter was filled with wooden toothpicks, and there was a showcase containing cigars. Pole glanced about cautiously without being noticed by the clerk and then withdrew into the corridor, where he stood for several minutes listening. Presently the dining room door opened, and Wilson stroiled out and walked up to the counter.

"What sort of cigars have you got?" he said to the clerk.

"Nothing better than 10—three for a quarter," was the respectful reply as the clerk recognized the man who had asked for the best room in the house.

Wilson thrust his fingers into his vest pocket and drew out a cigar. "I guess I can make what I have last me," he said, transferring his glance to Pole Baker, who had shambled across the room and leaned heavily over the open register. "Want to buy any chicken-fine fryin' size?" he asked the clerk.

"Well, we are in the market," was the answer. "Where are they?"

"I didn't fetch 'em in today," said Pole dryly. "I never do till I know what they are a-bringin'. You'd better made a bid on a dozen of 'em anyway. They are the finest ever raised on Upper Holly creek, jest this side of whar old man Bishop's lumber paradise begins."

Pole was looking out of the corner of his eye at the stranger and saw his hand, which was in the act of striking a match, suddenly stay itself.

Wilson pulled out his watch. "Do you happen to know where Mr. Rayburn Miller's law office is?" he asked.

"Yes; it's right round the corner. I know whar all the white men in this town do business, an' he's as white as they make 'em an' as straight as a shingle."

"He's an acquaintance of mine," said Wilson. "I thought I'd run in and see him before I leave."

"It's right round the corner an' down the fast side street toward the courthouse. I ain't got nothin' to do; I'll p'int it out."

"Thank you," said Wilson, and they went out of the house and down the street together. Pole puffing vigorously at his cigar in the brisk breeze.

"That you are," said Pole.

Wilson entered Wilson all round and then gave him a chair near his desk and facing him rather than the others.

"This is the gentleman who owns the property, I believe," said Wilson gravely as he indicated Bishop.

Miller nodded, and a look of cunning dawned in his clear eye.

"Yes. I have just been explaining to Mr. and Mrs. Bishop that the mere signing of a paper such as will be necessary to secure the loan will not bind them at all in the handling of their property. You know how cautious older people are nowadays in regard to legal matters. Now, Alan here, their son, understands the matter thoroughly, and his mind is not at all disturbed."

Wilson fell into the preliminary trap. "Oh, no; it's not a binding thing at all," he said. "The payment of the money back to us releases you—that is, of course," Wilson recovered himself, "if we make the loan."

Igorrotes Wholesale Counterfeiting Trade

Washington, Aug. 18.—The War Department has been informed that four-fifths of the population of Lepanto Bonito, a province in Northern Luzon, is engaged in the business of wholesale counterfeiting. The system is carried on by Igorrotes and originated in Spanish times. The natives take copper from the mines, batter it out into the shape of coins, and stamp them with an old Spanish stamp. Merchants came up from the coast to buy the coins and set them at the rate of 120 for 1 peso, Mexican. Fifty or a hundred miles distant these merchants get a Mexican peso for eighty or the coppers. Thousands of them are in circulation in Manila.

The natives do not understand that it is against the law to make bogus coppers. They were not bothered by the Spaniards, and they are not anxious to learn American ways. A civil guard has been sent to teach them a lesson. The new currency law will go into effect September 1st.

Attorney General Andrews and High Sheriff Brown were present, as was also Conductor Pixley who, deprived of his liberty and his wages as a car conductor, was brought to court from the jail. Pixley wore his uniform and looked worried. He told the Court that he was not sure of again securing a position with the Rapid Transit people if he was kept away from his duties and incarcerated for an indefinite period.

The Attorney General, in a manner sympathetic, pointed a sweet picture of the comforts of prison when a man had committed no crime. He said that if Pixley had anything to complain of, he had the right to complain as to the treatment received in jail. Really, the Attorney General said, the only thing that he could possibly find to object to in prison was that there was a certain restraint necessary. Pixley would be free to do as he liked "except leave the jail premises."

Pixley's face worked during the argument of Mr. Ballentyne and the Attorney General. The eloquence of Mr. Andrews did not seem to comfort him much; he seemed prejudiced against going back to prison and the wearing of his uniform spoke loudly of his expectation that his imprisonment would not be for long. Hope shone in his face while his employer ably pleaded for his liberty.

The Attorney General started in with a statement that without the evidence of Pixley the case of the Territory against Eddie Jones, charged with murdering his wife and mother-in-law would fall to the ground.

Manager Ballentyne, asking permission to speak in behalf of the conductor, as his employer, said that he realized the gravity of the case in which Pixley was held as a witness. He said that Pixley had had three opportunities to leave Honolulu, if it had been his desire to do so, since the night of the shooting. Pixley had no wish to leave. His name had been sensationally and unnecessarily connected with one of the women who had been shot. There was absolutely no reason for such connection. Pixley, living next door, returned home from his duties on the road at a late hour and was called into the affair. Mrs. Parmenter, with whom he had talked at the gate just before the shooting, testified that she did not even know the conductor's name.

Pixley under such circumstances had any idea other than that of leaving the country. It was his desire to remain and free himself of any claim which might have attached to his name, by going on the stand and testifying in the matter. It was to Pixley's best interests to stay here. He had a good, steady position and was receiving a fair remuneration.

Pixley had done nothing wrong and there was no reason for him to leave and so create the impression that he had done wrong.

It was all very well to say that Pixley was only "detained" as a witness, said Ballentyne, but the man was being deprived of his liberty through no fault of his own and he would suffer mentally, physically and financially.

Mr. Ballentyne had been present at the coroner's inquest. He said Andrews was not present at the taking of all the evidence. Ballentyne did not think Pixley's evidence was as material as Andrews would have it. Mrs. Marcus Parmenter was the most important witness. She had testified that she saw the shooting and saw Mrs. Jones fall. Pixley saw no shooting. Ballentyne urged that the order of restraint be rescinded. He thought the order harsh and unnecessary.

Andrews referred to the leaving of the three soldiers who entered Chief Justice Frear's Tantalus house and said the Attorney General's Department did not want further embarrassment of the kind. He then said it was with the greatest reluctance that he urged the "detention" of Pixley and went on to speak of his living not costing Pixley anything in prison. He also said that Pixley would receive witness fees. (The Territory doesn't pay detained witnesses fees. The Federal Court allows one dollar per day.)

Andrews said it would not be a matter of months, as Ballentyne had suggested, but only a few weeks before the case was disposed of. This did not seem to encourage the prisoner, or the witness.

Ballentyne suggested that Pixley be given his liberty and be required to report to the High Sheriff twice a day. Judge De Bolt said the court had no authority to make such an order. Andrews said it would be easy enough for the witness to report to the Sheriff and then walk aboard a steamer.

Ballentyne once more suggested that there ought to be some evidence that Pixley intended to leave the country before he was imprisoned. He did not think the Attorney General and the High Sheriff should have taken these harsh steps in the case on a mere matter of opinion.

Judge De Bolt said it was a very serious matter to deprive a man of his liberty. It was also a very serious matter, said the Judge, to deprive the prosecution of an important witness in a criminal proceeding. He would reduce the amount of the bond required from $2,000 to $1,000, but he would rescind the order restraining the witness. He said the whole community would blame the Attorney General's Department and the Court if the absence of an important witness affected the administration of justice.

The Judge said it was a very harsh measure, but it seemed necessary. He asked Pixley to come before him whenever he had anything further to bring up in the matter and, if there were good reasons, the order of the Court would be changed.

The prisoner was returned to jail. Pixley, as pointed out by Andrews, has neither relatives nor property here and nothing to hold him in Hawaii should he want to leave.
