AN ALASKAN ICEBERG.
A SPARKLING CITY OF CRYSTAL IN A FIELD OF GLASS.

Fairy Land in the Arctic Regions—An Ice Mountain Planted in the Sea—Fate of the Floating Monster—An Awful Sight.

In the morning (it was light now) when the sun rose it shone on what appeared to be a field of glass and a city of crystal.
Ice was to be seen all around as far as the eye could penetrate. There was ice in every size and form imaginable, and the most wonderful thing about it was that many of the masses resembled the buildings of a city. There were houses and churches, monuments, spires and ruins. There were also islands and mountains. Some were low and flat, others tall, with jagged tops, many of them miles and miles in extent. There were a number of bergs or ice mountains higher than the mainmast of the tallest ship. These were almost white, but had in many places a greenish blue color that was soft and beautiful.

The whole scene shone and sparkled so brilliantly in the light of the just returning sun that one could almost fancy that this was the region of fairyland.
Here was a very large berg immediately before us. It was jagged in form and high rather than broad. Great peaks rose up like mountain tops in some wild highland region. There was no apparent motion to this, and the waves beat and rilled upon its base just as they do on the shores of an island. It seemed like a mountain planted in the sea, only it was white instead of green, as a mountain should be. There were cracks and tents and caverns, just as there are in a rugged mountain side, and all of a beautiful blue color. There were also slopes and crags and precipices down which the water of melted ice flowed in wild torrents. Many of these were equal to small rivulets and this large was two miles in circumference at the base and about 300 feet above the water.

TURNED UPSIDE DOWN.
As it is well known that floating ice sinks deep and that there is much more of it below than above the surface of the water you may form some idea of what an immense mass this mountain of ice was.
In a short time great rents will open in the sides and immense quantities of ice will fall into the sea from the top. The center of gravity will then be destroyed, and then this huge monster will turn completely upside down. This I often saw. As the mass goes over with a wild, hollow roar, new peaks and cliffs arise out of the sea as the old ones disappear, while great cascades of uplifted brine pour furiously down the sides. Apart from the danger, this is an awful sight and those who witness it can usually only gaze in solemn silence.

This somewhat has sealed the fate of this dangerous floating monster and its end is near. Let us watch and wait, and from our hut on the ice hummock we listen for some sound that might serve as a signal. In two days we are surrounded by loud reports that sound like great guns. Hastening to our lookout we see great open seams have been sprung in the sides from the top to the water, and comfortless below. By rotten as it is, this berg cannot stand this change of position.
Crack after crack is sprung with deafening report. Lumps of all sizes fall from its sides. Then there is a roar like long continued thunder and a moment after the whole mass sinks down in ruin and with a mighty crash falls flat on the ocean.

This is the history of nearly all the bergs that leave Behring's strait,—Herbert Hall's in the Current.

Value of Black Birch.
The price of black birch of the best quality has recently gone up from $7 to $80 per 1,000. The extraordinary advance is due to the discovery that boards cut out of the first logs are susceptible to a very high polish and can be used for almost any purpose hitherto exclusively reserved for mahogany, which is worth about $250 per 1,000. The advance has been expedited by the discovery that the best black walnut is giving out. Black walnut from Arkansas and the south is so porous that it is of very little use in furniture making.

The best black birch is found almost exclusively on the north coast of Alaska, between Milwaukee and Ashland, where all other timber is stunted in growth and very poor. Here boards out of the butt cut quickly assume a beautiful red tint on being exposed to the atmosphere and can be polished up to a great degree of fineness. The price will soon fall to $50 or $60 per 1,000, as a railroad is being laid right through the very inaccessible region where it grows, and the high prices have tempted several men to open sawmills.
Red beech has also advanced in price very rapidly. It could be bought up to recently in Indiana and Ohio for the bare cost of sawing, but now it is worth $30 per 1,000.

LATEST NEWS.

Dates From the Coast to March 5th, inclusive.

The City of Rio de Janeiro brought a mail with dates to March 5th, inclusive. Following is a summary:

There is no truth in the story that the Irish Executive has decided to proclaim the National League and put Archbishop Croke on trial as an instigator to sedition. Their law officers warned them that no proof of the Archbishop's guilt would be forthcoming.

Viscount Lymington has written a letter which reflects the feeling of the Liberal-Unionists, protesting that the Government's want of action, nerve and courage is paralyzing their treatment of the Irish question and taking day by day all the heart and principle out of the Unionist cause. He declares that a vast majority of the Liberal-Unionists are ready to accord the Government whatever strong measures that may be necessary, but that it is insufficient from any point of view that an Irish Nationalist-Loyalist Government should be permitted to exist, which while refusing Ireland power to govern itself, refuses to govern Ireland. After denouncing the half-hearted, pettifogging measures, such as jury-packing and the policy of fumbling lawyers and confused officials, he concludes: "An irresolute Government is impossible; the only alternative is home rule."

Long Island has been shaken up by an earthquake.

Parliament has been asked to grant another £250,000 for the expenses of the British navy.

Serious charges of corruption have been made against the London Corporation, and a Committee of the House of Commons has been appointed to investigate and report.

A London dispatch of March 2d states that while a body of police at Ballyhannis were taking a number of prisoners, arrested for obstructing the law in attempting to prevent evictions, to the police station, a mob attacked them and recovered the prisoners. They then stoned the police so vigorously that the latter retreated inside the police barracks. The mob made an onslaught on the building, partially wrecking it. The police then opened fire on the crowd with their rifles, compelling the mob to beat a hasty retreat, but otherwise their shots were harmless. Several policemen were injured.

Italy has not pledged herself to give mutual support to either France or Germany in the event of war.

General Boulanger has decided that no officer of the army shall be permitted to employ any foreigner of either sex in any capacity.

A telegram from Shanghai says that China has ceded to Germany, Chusan, one of a group of islands off the eastern coast of China, opposite the estuary of Tsien-tung-Kiang. Numerous towns and villages are on the island, the capital being Ting-Hai, near the south coast.

A sensation has been caused in Paris by the publication in the "Temps" of a dispatch from Cairo stating that all French officials in the Khedive's service have been dismissed.

A sensation was caused by the perpetration of very extensive incendiarism on the night of March 3d, in the country surrounding Limerick city. A large number of houses were burned. The victims in all cases were persons who paid rents. The outrages were set down as political. Great excitement prevails. The aggregate of property destroyed is very large. The fires were caused by armed incendiaries, who escaped. The district was ablaze all night with burning houses and hay.

The London "Standard," March 5th, states that Russia has addressed a note to Spain regarding her resumption of freedom of action in European affairs.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Chief Secretary for Ireland, will resign that office on account of his health. The Government's Irish bill provides that a special jury list, drawn from classes that are not liable to intimidation, shall be formed for the trial of special offenses.

March 4th was the tenth anniversary of the coronation of the Pope, and the occasion was celebrated with great ceremony at St. Peter's. The Pope said a mass in the Sixtine Chapel, this being the only occasion in the year when he appears with the Papal tiara on his head. The garb of Lent was thrown aside for the time being, and the grand altars were decorated in magnificent style.

The release of MacMillan and Macdonald, two Skye crofters imprisoned in Edinburgh for rioting in resisting the rent claims of the Lord of the Isles, was made the occasion of a great ovation by the populace of that city.

A London cable special says, Mrs. James Brown Potter, an American "professional beauty," has signed a contract with the management of the Haymarket Theatre. She will act during the current season, appearing first as Anne Sylvester in "Man and Wife" about the last week in March. Bancroft will pay her three times the salary he paid Mrs. Langtry on her debut. She will play in New York next autumn.

The President did not sign the River and Harbor bill. The Fortifications bill did not pass. The President also "pocketed" the Deficiency bill, which is likely to bring the judicial work and that of other departments to a standstill. Congress adjourned on the night of March 3d, and it is said there will be no extra session.

It is reported that the Czar has formally withdrawn from the Imperial tripartite alliance.

The rising of Bulgarian troops at Silistria was suppressed without bloodshed. A more serious military revolt took place at Rusechuck, a Bulgarian fortress on the Danube. The mutineers killed the Commandant and proclaimed the Metropolitan Clement regent. They then summoned the infantry to surrender. The latter attacked the insurgents and dispersed them. Several made their escape across to Roumania, others were captured and shot. It was the work of Russian agents. Sofia has been proclaimed in a state of siege, and two prominent politicians who were in correspondence with the rebels have been arrested.

Signor Depretis has failed to form a Cabinet, and has resigned his commission. Signor Depretis tried to form a Coalition Ministry without the help of the chiefs of the different groups. His resignation leaves the situation most complicated. Signor Baccaris has been summoned by the King of Italy.

More Opium.

In the Police Court Saturday morning a Chinaman named Ah Wah, of quite respectable appearance, was fined $1,000 and sentenced to two years' imprisonment at hard labor for having opium unlawfully in possession. He pleaded not guilty, but by the advice of his attorney withdrew this plea and pleaded guilty. He was arrested a few evenings ago by Officer Hopkins with thirteen half-pound tins of opium concealed in the sleeves of his coat.

CONTEMPT OF COURT.

A Decision by the Justices of the Supreme Court.

On Saturday a decision was given in the case of the "Hawaiian Gazette" Co., charged with publishing an article in reference to suit of H. Ackerman vs. J. H. Congdon. There were present on the bench the Chief Justice and Justices McCully, Preston and Bickerton. The Chief Justice delivered the opinion of the Court, of which the following is a summary:

At the instance of one J. H. Congdon, defendant in a case then pending in the Supreme Court, wherein H. Ackerman, Master of the American schooner Geo. C. Perkins, was plaintiff, the Court issued a rule citing the respondents, H. M. Whitney and A. T. Atkinson, as publisher and editor, respectively, of the "Hawaiian Gazette" newspaper, to appear and show cause why they should not be adjudged guilty of a contempt of Court in having printed and published in the said newspaper of December 28, 1886, an article entitled "The other side of the question."

The affidavit of the applicant for the rule alleged, that the material statements in the article were false; that they reflect seriously upon the petitioner, and are calculated to cast unjust suspicion of dishonesty upon his character and to prejudice the public with respect to the merits of said case and to prejudice and impair his right to a just and impartial decision of said case pending. * * *

After reviewing the arguments of counsel at length, their Honors came to the conclusion that an act of misconduct may be found by the Court to be a contempt, though it is not one of those enumerated in the section of the Penal Code under discussion. The next enquiry to meet is whether the article in question is of such a nature.

The suit of Ackerman vs. Congdon was to recover freight on an invoice of hogs. The defense is stated to be that a number of hogs died on the passage, for which the shipper seeks to hold the plaintiffs responsible. The statement is made in the "Gazette" that as far as the ship is concerned, no accident occurred to cause death, and the only excuse was that the hogs were overfed and died from suffocation. This is put forward by petitioner's counsel as a "publication tending to influence the result of a pending suit, and therefore a contempt of Court."

After citing several authorities, the Court is of opinion that the publication of the article in the "Hawaiian Gazette" is a contempt of Court. * * * As this case was the first instance of constructive contempt of this character brought to the notice of the Court, and as it is not a serious one, they impose no fine. The judgment of the Court is that the respondents are guilty of a contempt of Court, and must pay costs, which are taxed at $5.

Justices Preston and Bickerton concurred in the opinion of the Chief Justice, while Justice McCully dissented.

ISLAND NOTES.

Hilo, Hawaii, March 12th.

A Hilo Foreign Church sociable was given at the house of L. Severance, Esq., on the 8th inst. A goodly number were privileged to be present and listen to a reading by Mr. W. E. Scott, recitations by Mrs. W. E. Scott and Mrs. J. A. Beckwith, which were charmingly rendered. A vocal solo by Mrs. H. C. Austin—Schubert's Serenade—was given with the finest effect, the lady doing full justice to so difficult a composition. Mrs. Austin possesses a rich voice. There were several tableaux—Sedan mirage and camping in Sierra Nevada. The entertainment closed with a chorus by Macfarren, entitled "Ye Merry Birds That Sit and Sing," accompanied by Mr. L. Severance.

The schooner Rosario, Captain Christensen, arrived on the 10th, 16 days from San Francisco, with general merchandise for H. C. & S. Co., C. H. Dickey, Waluku Sugar Co., and three horses for Quong Fung & Co. She will load sugar and sail for San Francisco about March 16th.

Samoa Affairs.

It appears that the Hawaiian Embassy is making headway in Samoa, and that the idea of federation under the Hawaiian flag is gaining strength at Apia. This will impose responsibilities upon the Hawaiian Government, but having started out upon this enterprise it should be equal to the emergency. The following items, under date of January 14th, which appeared in an Auckland paper, will be news to many people here:

On January 13th, the German rioters were tried in the Police Court of the municipality. The Magistrate, Mr. Martin, himself a German, acted very impartially. They were each fined the utmost penalty the law could impose upon them. It is understood the defendants are going to appeal. It leaked out that before the assault on young Allan they had given considerable annoyance to the Hawaiian Embassy, who took up their quarters in the International Hotel. These gentlemen are here for the purpose of establishing friendly relations between Samoa and Hawaii. Their names are John E. Bush, His Hawaiian Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Samoa; Henry F. Poor, Secretary of Legation. Accompanying them is the Hawaiian Government artist and photographer, Mr. Bush has his family with him, and they had to quit the hotel and seek residence in a Samoan house. The Germans, since the affair, have apologized to the Embassy.

A banquet, which passed off very successfully, was given the other night by the Hawaiian Embassy to King Maitetia and his Cabinet.

The Proposed Pacific Cable.

LONDON, February 4th.

The Pacific Cable Company has not yet been officially announced. Mr. Harold Finch Hatton has been appointed Secretary. The provisional directors are: Earl of Milltown, Viscount Folkestone, Captain Palliser, Messrs. Murray, Hatton, S. P. Slade, R. H. Want, Cook, J. Corry, and Owen Jones. The Canadian Government will pay the expenses of Captain Moresby in the Alert's survey of the route of the proposed Pacific cable from Vancouver to the Sandwich Islands. The other expenses will have to be borne by Great Britain.

MELBOURNE, February 7.

The Victorian Government, in replying to a circular from the promoters of the Pacific Cable Company, stated that they were unable to move in the matter until fuller details had been received. The subject would probably be discussed at the Imperial Conference.

The Makah.

The barkentine Makah, which left Newcastle, N. S. W., February 11th, for Honolulu, with 1,134 tons of coal, put into Sydney on the 18th, having sprung a leak during a heavy gale on the night of the day she sailed, and had been in imminent danger of foundering. Her commander, Captain H. A. Thompson, did not expect to reach land again when the "southerly buster" was blowing on the night of the 11th, as the pumps got choked; but the sailors worked with a will, and the vessel arrived at Sydney as stated. At one time the men were up to their waists in water working at the pumps; for five days they never had a dry stitch of clothing on, but they stuck to their work manfully. When the Alameda left Sydney the Makah was being repaired. Of the 1,134 tons of coal with which the Makah is loaded, 160 tons were on deck.

A Good Templar Fraud.

The following is from the Auckland "Herald":

"Dr." Gilbert, who some time ago raked in a lot of money in New Zealand by lecturing in favor of religion and morality, and was afterwards sentenced to a term of hard labor in Australia for the trifling misdeed of having married several wives, is now out of prison, and "running the same old racket" in America. He is announced in the San Francisco papers as "Dr. J. S. Gilbert, late of Australia, the celebrated lecturer, traveler and demagogue of free thought." The American Good Templars are running the nucleus-married "doctor."

Hawaiian Baseball Club.

At a meeting of the above organization, held recently, it was decided to participate in any games the Baseball League might promote during the coming season. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, F. J. Testa (re-elected); Captain, Henry Kila; Secretary, Morris K. Keohokalo; Treasurer, F. J. Testa. Several new members were also elected. Mr. Testa was also re-elected Delegate to the League. The members are already hard at practice on certain days on the Esplanade.

Police Court.

BEFORE JUDGE JUSTICE DIXON.

SATURDAY, March 12th.

A Chinaman named Ah Wah, for having opium unlawfully in possession, was fined $1,000 and sentenced to imprisonment at hard labor for two years.

Two Chinese, who had gone bondsmen for a fellow countryman, had to show cause why they should not forfeit the amount of the bond. At their request His Honor allowed them to go and look for the defendant, and the result was they quickly returned with him. They were remanded to the 14th.

The boatswain of the Government vessel Kaimiloa, James Bennett, for assaulting the Captain, was remanded to the 14th.

W. H. Vance, for assault with a pistol on E. C. Marden, was found guilty and fined $100, with imprisonment at hard labor for four months.

To-night's Dramatic Performance.

The Alleyne-Wade Company will make their first appearance this evening before a Honolulu audience at the Hawaiian Opera House. It is so long since a company was here that it is no wonder the tickets have been in great demand. Those who do not wish to be disappointed should call early at A. M. Hewett's book store and secure seats. The pieces are described in another column. There is every prospect of a crowded house greeting the company.

The Auckland "Weekly News," in noticing a performance of "Puck" by the company, says:

The opening piece selected for the company, of which Miss Florence Wade and Mr. Henry Alleyne are the principals, was an adaptation of one of Ouida's best known works, "Puck," and it was cleverly staged and well played throughout. The leading part, in fact that in which the chief interest centers, is that of Aviee Dore, into which Miss Florence Wade has entered with all the powers of genius, and portrays to the life that class of heartless, beautiful she-devils which Ouida is so fond of painting. That the picture was a realization is unquestionable, so far at least as such an unnatural ideal would allow. Miss Wade has a handsome presence, classical features and with a natural manner, and at once established confidence, and her heartless vanity, which led her to rob her brother and sacrifice everything for the worst form of woman's vanity, showed a depth and power and skill not often realized. Mr. Henry Alleyne sustained a dual role—that of Ben Dare, the unsuspecting, loving and tender brother of the deceptive Aviee, and that of Carlos, the painter, the infatuated lover. His conceptions of both are very fine and artistic, and although so diverse in character we should hesitate to say in which he appeared best.

Bark Thomas

On February 26th the relief steamer Sir John Douglas was dispatched from Victoria, B. C., to the west coast of Vancouver Island to investigate a reported wreck. She returned March 3d, having on board Captain Rugg and seventeen of the crew of the Hawaiian bark Thomas R. Foster, who had been given up as lost. Captain Rugg stated that after the vessel left Esquimaux on December 4, 1886, she encountered heavy gales off Cape Flattery, and sprung leak on the 12th. The vessel attempted to enter Neah Bay and Barclay Sound, but being met by heavy, unfavorable gales, was unable to do so. On the 14th the leak increased, and on the 18th, in the afternoon, there was twelve feet of water in the hold. The Captain decided to run the vessel ashore near Cape Cook, on the northern end of the island. Two boats were smashed in launching. The third small boat, in three trips, brought all up to the barren shore without sufficient clothing and only a box of crackers and thirty cans of fruit and meat as food.

They built a tent with the old sails, and for twenty days lived on one cracker per day and what mussels, seaweed, gulls, etc., they could procure. They endured fearful hardships in trying to find an Indian camp. At last ten men on a raft reached an island and next day, when sailing across the sound, discovered some Indian canoes. The Indians took and cared for them, and went back to camp for the balance of the crew and kept them all for nine days. Then Father Nicolay, a Catholic missionary, found them and took them to his post. He cared for them kindly for six weeks until the Douglas arrived, which took them to San Francisco. The crew saved nothing, and had only the clothes they stood in. Although they had been 74 days on the coast, they were in good health. The bark was registered 1,122 tons, and was part owned by Welch & Co. of San Francisco. She was built at Freeport, Maine, twenty-one years ago. The bark was loaded with 1,650 tons of coal, in which C. Brewer & Co., Honolulu, had an interest. The loss, on which the small insurance is a $35,000.
