ROOSEVELT'S MAJORITY 2500 IN OHIO

SENATOR DIXON, HIS MANAGER, URGES TAFT TO WITHDRAW

Peace Dove Has Deserted The Pedagogues

The dove of peace, which was supposed to be "ubiquitous" at the committee sessions of the supervising principals, hastily sought safety in flight this morning. At last reports it was sighted ten miles southeast of Diamond Head, and is supposed to be headed for the crater of Kilauea where supervising principals, educational superintendents and nature study courses do not exist.

According to certain members of the committee, it will probably be necessary to hold over the meetings until Saturday, when the commissioners will meet and can settle all disputed points now under discussion.

For the argument now rages over whether the commission called the meeting to make a change or changes in the course of study and consequently the members of the various committees are at sea whether to go ahead or

PINEAPPLE LAND HARD TO OBTAIN

The man who wants to grow pineapples in Hawaii is going to be strictly up against a serious proposition in securing suitable land for the purpose, according to Dr. E. V. Wilcox, of the federal experiment station.

"It would probably be a very difficult thing to find any pineapple land at all on Oahu that is not already in pines, or that is not tied up in some way for this purpose," said Dr. Wilcox, yesterday. "We certainly do not know of any, although we are constantly receiving letters from persons who want to get into the business. The experiment station is receiving tons of soil samples for analyses for would-be pineapple farmers. The chief thing we analyze for is manganese, and it is an interesting fact that a small area around Wahiawa is about the only place in the Territory that seems to contain this element in any injurious quantity."

Dr. Wilcox states that there is some good land on Kauai, some of which will probably have to be plowed for a few years before attempting to plant pineapples, because at present it is sour from poor drainage. This, he says, is about the only really sour land that the experiment station has found in the Territory.

Memorial Day Program

General Macomb, or some Army officer he may detail in his place, will be marshal of the Memorial Day parade.

Wallace R. Farrington, editor of the Bulletin, will be orator of the day.

These appointments are subject to acceptances that are expected at a meeting of the committee of arrangements of Geo. W. De Long Post, G. A. R., at three o'clock this afternoon.

So far the completed work of the committee consists of the issuance of invitations to federal, territorial and county officials, army and navy officers, consuls, etc., to attend the exercises at the Grand Army plot in Nuuanu cemetery.

Two years ago the federal troops did not participate, the N. G. H. forming the escort by itself. Major Dunning, then commander of the national forces here, on being apprised that no transportation was available for the Fort Shafter troops, declined to send a detachment for the escort. This year there will be no difficulty and a large contingent of federal troops will likely make the observances the most notable in some years.

RAZOR FIEND GOES TO PRISON

Ramon Lopez, who was recently indicted by the grand jury, two indictments being returned, one charging him with having assaulted Babina Cruz with a razor on April 28, and the other charging him with having used the same weapon on Juan Diaz, pleaded guilty before Judge Robinson this morning. On the first count he was sentenced to six months at hard labor, while on the second he got an additional seven months.

Abraham B. Joseph, indicted some time ago by the territorial grand jury on a charge of burglary in the second degree, pleaded guilty before Judge Robinson this morning.

Lord-Yong Engineering Co. is planning to build an electric, turbine-driven dredge for its contract on the Keolu reclamation fill. It will cost about $50,000.

Government To Control Wireless

By J. A. BRECKONS.

(Special Correspondence of the Star)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 10.—If the legislation now pending in Congress becomes a law, the Navy will have one of the most complete and extensive wireless systems in the world. To begin with the Senate has passed a bill which proposes to place wireless telegraphy under government control. This is the bill which has been recommended by the Navy, Treasury and Commerce and Labor Departments. Largely owing to the Titanic disaster it was passed promptly by the Senate and doubtless will go through the House without serious opposition.

In addition to placing the wireless telegraphy under the control of the government, Congress will doubtless appropriate a million dollars for the development of the Navy's system. A provision for this is in the Naval appropriation bill which will be reported to the House on May 14 or 15.

With this system the Secretary of the Navy will be able to keep in constant touch with every ship on the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. High power wireless stations will be located on the Panama Canal Zone, on the Pacific Coast, Hawaiian Islands, in American Samoa, on the Island of Guam, and in the Philippines. It is believed that constant communication can be maintained between all of these stations and the Department at Washington. At present the British government maintains a more extensive system of wireless stations than the United States, but with the completion of those proposed plants it is thought that our Navy and Army will cover even a larger part of the world than the British government.

"Don't Antagonize California," Mr. Starrett Advises

S. T. Starrett, chief of the Market Division, arrived in Honolulu this morning from a sojourn of several weeks on the mainland where he has been looking into market conditions for the benefit of island products and also arranging for a supply of onion seed to institute the large production of this vegetable on the islands.

Starrett was not at all pleased at the published stories here about the enforcement of the quarantine laws of the State of California with respect to the several shipments of sweet potatoes from Honolulu.

"The islands are at the mercy of California," he said, "and it won't do us any good to antagonize the department over there. They can bar every product we have. The inspectors there are given wide latitude under the law and can forbid the entrance of a shipment without inspection on the ground that it comes from territory known to be infected.

"It is true that they cut up one shipment of potatoes without discovering any pest, but they had discovered it in a former shipment. People who ship under such conditions must take what they get. No, I do not think there is any recourse for the shipper because a shipment has been destroyed.

"I do not think the validity of the California law can be successfully attacked. No one has beaten it yet. California undoubtedly has a right to protect herself and in my opinion she has been more lenient with the islands than with some states on the mainland.

"The main thing is to avoid incurrence of quarantine charges."

LONGSHOREMEN TO PUT HUSTACE AND MURRAY IN SAME BOAT

Among the latest of political rumors is one that the longshoremen's union or the poolers, are going to back Charles Hustace Jr., for mayor and Harry Murray for Sheriff.

Since the foregoing appeared in the first edition, a letter credited to "a leader of the local longshoremen" has been published, giving the union whole ticket as follows:

Senators—Hon. A. L. Castle, Hon. Jno. C. Lane, Hon. Joel Cohen.
Representatives, Fourth District—A. Q. Marcellino, Edward Likilani, Ella C. A. Long, Hon. Ed. Towse.
Representatives, Fifth District—Abraham Fernandez, Frank C. Archer, C. C. James, S. K. Mahoe, R. R. Ren-ton, Charles Lucas.
Mayor—Chas. Hustace.

Supervisors—A. W. Aylett, William Ahia, R. Bettencourt, Eben Low, Chas. Arnold, Jim Quinn.
Clerk—D. Kalauokalani, Jr.
Auditor—Edward Woodward.
Attorney—J. W. Cathcart.
Sheriff—H. E. Murray.
Deputy Sheriff—F. J. Kruger.
Treasurer—Jack Lucas.

John C. Lane, the habitual aspirant for the mayoralty, is advocating a preferential vote at the primaries for all municipal candidates. Let candidates announce themselves in advance and have their names go to the primaries doing away with the convention at least with reference to nominations.

L. L. McCandless and W. C. Achi are against von Damm's plan to revert to the district system of electing supervisors. McCandless has a plan of his own for amending the municipal charter, which is given elsewhere.

ROOSEVELT SAYS OHIO SETTLES IT

(Associated Press Cables to the Star.)

COLUMBUS, O., May 22.—Roosevelt is assured of thirty-two out of forty-two district delegates.

Returns from fifty-nine of eighty-eight counties show that Roosevelt carried forty-five.

One thousand delegates will meet in State convention to select six delegates-at-large, both sides claiming them.

In the Democratic primaries Harmon probably has thirty-five counties and Wilson seven.

The Roosevelt preferential majority is probably 2500. La Follette beat Taft in two counties.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Senator Dixon, Roosevelt's manager, urges President Taft to withdraw but Taft is preparing to stump New Jersey.

OYSTER BAY, May 22.—Colonel Roosevelt says the Ohio result settles the nomination.

BEFORE THE RESULT.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 11.—Until

May 21, the day all delegates from this state to the Chicago convention will be chosen, Ohio will fairly sizzle with politics. The state becomes the great battle ground of the campaign, for the feeling is widespread that here is the field upon which the probably decisive battle of the campaign will be fought.

Among the larger states Ohio is the last to choose her delegates. She cannot by her decision, therefore, exercise influence on the popular choice elsewhere, as Illinois and Pennsylvania have done. But she can have an even weightier effect on the final result. This is so because there are many uninstructed delegates, and these probably will be a considerably larger number by the time the pre-convention campaign closes. Then there is a big block of southern delegates—"bread and butter delegates," so-called—Garfield and John D. Fackler. Among—who will not hesitate to disregard the instructions and vote for the candidate they think will stand the best chance to win in November.

If President Taft should carry Ohio by an enormous majority, by as great commerce and labor, and Truman H. a margin according to the number of Newberry, ex-secretary of the navy.

votes cast as Roosevelt carried Illinois, the moral effect of his victory would be strongly felt at Chicago. The national Republican committee, which would have to decide the numerous contests, would be influenced by the result; so also would the uninstructed delegates and the southern delegates. A Roosevelt victory in Ohio would have exactly the opposite effect. It would give Roosevelt a big advantage at Chicago.

Thus Ohio becomes the battle ground. Both Taft and Roosevelt will make many speeches in the Buckeye state before May 21, and Ohio will be fairly overwhelmed with spellbinders. The president will be ably assisted in his campaign by such well-known politicians as Senator Burton, Arthur I. Vorys and former Senator Dick.

Among the Roosevelt Ohio leaders are State Chairman Walter F. Brown of the Republican committee; former Secretary of the Interior James R. Garfield and John D. Fackler. Among the Roosevelt speakers will also be instructions and vote for the candidate they think will stand the best chance to win in November.

Four out of five Republican congressmen were renominated. Fourteen Democrats out of eighteen districts were successful.

Nicholas Longworth, son-in-law of Colonel Roosevelt, was renominated.

SUGAR TRUST SECRETS.

NEW YORK, May 22.—At the sugar hearing today, Havemeyer's Colorado representative, Morey, described the ousting of Bouteille from the presidency of the Windsor company, whereby he was stripped of authority.

THE SAN DIEGO MUSS.

SACRAMENTO, May 22.—Deputy Attorney General Benjamin will probably go to San Diego with Lieut. Governor Webb.

LINDSAY IS RE-ELECTED.

DENVER, May 22.—Judge Lindsay has been re-elected. The reformers beat the Democrats by 20,000.

City Government Plan

Of Link McCandless

Link McCandless has a scheme.

There is nothing new about this, because is always thinking out new schemes, many of which turn out successful—for Link. This time it is a scheme to run the city and county in a proper and efficient manner.

"What we want in Honolulu," he confided to a Star reporter over the early breakfast cup this morning, "is a proper system. In the first place we should have fifteen supervisors, all of whom should serve without pay. They should have the power of appointing all the other officers necessary and the matter of going to the ballot for every petty office would be done away with.

"With only seven supervisors the trouble is that you can always fix enough of them to get things the way you want and in this way the affairs of the city and county are not run as they should be. Now with fifteen men to go round and fix it would be different and it could not be done."

Link went into details as to how the work should be carried out and is greatly in favor of having this system adopted instead of the present one. According to Link there is some-

REAL ESTATE MEN RUSH TO SAN FRANCISCO FOR SPRECKELS PROPERTY OPTIONS

Apparently there is to be some keen competition among local interests for the various pieces of Spreckels estate property in Honolulu. By the Sierra and Wilhelmina which sailed for San Francisco this morning, no less than three real estate men are bound on flying trips to the Coast, which is generally understood in real estate circles have to do with the valuable holdings in question; while by the Manchuria, which sailed last evening, went W. R. Castle, who evidently intends to negotiate with Rudolph Spreckels for the corner at Merchant and Bishop streets now occupied by the Associated Garage under lease, as a site for the proposed joint commercial building.

I. H. Bendle, real estate man for the Trent Trust Company, and F. E. Steere, who holds a like position with the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company, were both passengers in the Wilhelmina; while Elmer M. Schwartzberg, of Jas. F. Morgan Company, sailed by the Sierra.

The Spreckels holdings comprise a considerable part of the blocks bounded by Fort, Merchant, Alakea and Queen streets, besides the splendid "Spreckels mansion" on Punahou street. It has all been tied up for a good many years through a legal fight being carried on by the heirs of the late Claus Spreckels, over the will left by the former sugar king. The decision of the supreme court of California, a few weeks ago, upheld the will, and consequently there is now no legal bar to the disposition of the property.

The downtown property ranks among the most valuable in the business district; while the old Spreckels homestead, with its immense, old-fashioned residence, is located in one of the most exclusive residence districts in the city. It is known that various business firms are negotiating for various parts of the first-named land; among these being the Schuman Carriage Company, which desires to purchase the land on which its garages are located. It is also rumored that the Associated Garage, as well as the commercial organizations, would like to get title to the corner opposite Schuman's.

As to the homestead, it is said that several propositions have been made with a view to securing the old home as a location for a fashionable family hotel, for which the big building is probably well adapted.

DAUGHTER OF ITS FOUNDER BUYS NOLTE'S EATING HOUSE

Mrs. J. W. L. McGuire, formerly Miss Frederika Nolte, today purchased the Beaver Lunch Room, popularly known as "Nolte's," and on June 1 will take over the formal control of the popular eating house. The price paid was $20,000, which includes the ranch of W. F. Bellina, in Palolo Valley, the principal proprietor of the place for the past several years. Mrs. McGuire is the daughter of the late H. J. Nolte, who established the restaurant in its present location, many years ago.

Negotiations for the sale of the property have been on for some time past, as reported in the Star last week, owing to the fact that Mr. Bellina had been ordered by his physician to go to Colorado for the benefit of his health.

The restaurant was sold about four years ago by the founder, to Rosenblatt & Kruger, for $1000; and it was sold about six months later to Will and Charlie Bellina, who handled it in conjunction until about two years ago when Will Bellina bought out his brother's interest. For some time past Albert Araujo, son-in-law of Mr. Bellina, has been associated in the business.

Mr. and Mrs. Bellina and Mr. and Mrs. Araujo will leave by the Sonoma on the 12th of June for the mainland. They expect to remain for some time in Nevada, and afterwards to go to Colorado, where it is hoped that Mr. Bellina will completely regain his health.

MARAMA TOMORROW MORNING

Too Late For Doctors Will Come Slowly--Wilhelmina and Sierra Away--
Honolulu From Coast--
Pretty Navigating

The Canadian-Australian steamer Marama will arrive off port at daylight tomorrow morning after a stormy passage from Vancouver. A wireless message received last night stated that she could make port at ten o'clock this evening but when it was found that the doctors would not go out after nine o'clock orders were sent out for her to come along at easy speed and make port in the morning.

The delay has caused considerable excitement round town as there are a number of people wanting to go but unable to find whether there will be room or not until the vessel pulls alongside.

The wireless last night did not state whether there would be any room from here and the matter is still up in the air. The company is coming in for considerable criticism in connection with the very bad arrangements made at this port as far as news of the vessel is concerned. It is understood that the matter will be taken up at the head office in New Zealand.

HONOLULU FROM COAST.
The chartered Matson steamer Honolulan arrived off port from San Francisco early this morning and came alongside the Matson dock at 8 o'clock.

She reports making a fine trip from the coast and brought a number of local people among the passengers. Several horses were brought down for the Haleakala ranch and a blood Arabian stallion for Paul Isenberg.

PRETTY WORK.
When Captain Houdette of the Sierra brought her alongside the Oceanic dock this morning he pulled off one of the finest pieces of navigation that has been seen in Honolulu.

Noising the big steamer up to the makal end of the dock everyone thought he was going to crash into the pier. The bow missed by a couple of yards, however, and the big bulk swung round to the berth with no further trouble.

The berthing was the talk of the front this morning.

LINERS AWAY.
A big crowd was attracted to the docks this morning to see the two popular passenger liners, Sierra and Wilhelmina, clear the port for San Francisco.

A bunch of prominent real estate men were on board, all headed for an option on the Spreckels property. The land played the Sierra out and also sent a farewell fanfare to the Wilhelmina as she pulled out.

This will be the last occasion the Sierra will be seen here for some time as she goes into dock for repairs this trip and her place will be taken by the Sonoma for the next run. After that she will only make the run once a month.

FRYE IN HARBOR.
The big ship Wm. P. Frye that arrived off the harbor yesterday from San Francisco was towed into port this morning by the Inter-Island steamer Claudine.

The Frye reports a fine passage throughout. She is docked at Railroad wharf number two.

BLAKELEY OFF PORT.
The schooner Blakeley arrived off port this morning and is expected to come in either tonight or tomorrow morning.

During today she will be fumigated, operations already being started this morning. She is from Iquique.

CLAUDINE FROM ISLANDS.
The Inter Island steamer Claudine arrived from Hilo and Lahaina early this morning, reporting a fine passage throughout.

She brings a general cargo and reports the Enterprise discharging freight and the Prosper and Kikikat lumber at Hilo.

BOAT LAUNCHING INVENTION.
S. F. Call, May 13: Chief Officer Stewart of the liner Siberia has just completed a model showing the operation of his apparatus for the safe and rapid launching of lifeboats. He patented it several years ago, and during the voyage finished yesterday completed the model with which he will demonstrate his device to the United States steamship inspection service. The apparatus is simple. There are 15 lifeboats on the Siberia. If the davits were equipped with his device, says Stewart, one man could launch all the boats, every boat loaded with passengers to its full capacity, in 15 minutes. The tackle is so arranged that if a sea should hit the boat as it reaches the water it is automatically released from the falls and could not be capsized. The lowering gear is fool proof and panic proof.

W. G. HALL FROM KAUI.
The Inter-Island steamer W. G. Hall arrived from Kauai this morning bringing her usual cargo of sugar.

The number of bags were 5600. She reports rough weather on the windward side of the island.

SUGAR ON KAUI.
The steamer W. G. Hall reports the following sugar waiting shipment on Kauai: Mak. 28,508, V. K. 750, G. & R. 3650, McB. 51,488, K. K. B. 8350, K. S. M. 350, K. P. 12,720, K. S. Co. 4118, L. P. 21,000, G. P. 8515.

Champion Wolgast Was Almost Outed By Willie Ritchie

(Special to the Star.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—The next lightweight with a punch who meets Wolgast will be lightweight champion of the world. Although the general opinion was that Wolgast could not be given much worse than a draw, Willie Ritchie, a light puncher, had the champion all but out twice in their four-round bout here, and in two rounds the local lad had an even break. In the second, he fought Wolgast off his feet. Streaming with blood, Wolgast showed that his long absence from the ring had done him no good. He did not noticeably wince from the body blows which Ritchie landed but straight right crosses to the head and left uppercuts to the jaw made the Cadillac wonder stagger.

Ritchie entered the ring at 3.49 and Wolgast appeared two minutes later. Behind Ritchie were Frank Steffen and Charley Stanfield.

Tom Jones, his manager, Louie Reese, and Hobo Dougherty seconded Wolgast.

While Wolgast waited at the ropes a shower of gold and silver was thrown into the ring for the benefit of Young Togo, the Japanese fighter who is going blind. Wolgast added his contribution.

Jack Welsh was announced as the referee.

At 3:57 p. m. the principals posed for a picture. Wolgast looked brown and strong. Ritchie was a trifle drawn, as though he had had trouble making the weight. His slender figure was in strong contrast with the dark champion.

By Rounds.

3:58—They are off.

ROUND 4—They clinched in the center. Wolgast played for the body, staggering Ritchie. Ritchie missed right swing. Wolgast worked his famous loop in clinch. Ritchie missed with right but landed left to face. Wolgast bored in. Wolgast put hard left to stomach. Wolgast chased Ritchie across ring. Ritchie uppercut with right and blocked three swings. Clinched. Ritchie rocked Ad's head with right and put two lefts to face. Ritchie missed right cross. Wolgast's nose spouted blood. They wrestled. Ritchie uppercut with right and put left to face. They boxed Wolgast's mouth bleeding profusely. Ritchie made him miss several swings. At the bell Wolgast was streaming with blood as he went to his corner.

BIG CHIEF MEYERS, GIANTS' BACKSTOP, IS BATTING WONDER OF THE LEAGUE THIS SEASON

PHOTOS BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

NEW YORK, May 1.—Always a prominent figure in the batting list, Big Chief Meyers has outdone himself so far this season. The Giants' backstop is catching in every game played, and his stick work has been little short of marvelous. Much of the credit for the team's already long list of victories has been due to Meyers' batting. The fans are hoping that his good work will keep up. There is every prospect of this being the case, as Meyers does not belong in the class of "early birds" who blow up after a few weeks.

INTEREST IN SERVICE BOXING IN HAWAII IS STEADILY GROWING

The Schofield Barracks boys are taking a great deal of interest in the coming boxing contests in which Moriarty and Bauersock will figure.

Both men are well thought of at Lihue and are confidently expected to make a good showing against their opponents, who will be Young Gans and either Wahlani or Young Cates. Wahlani won't take on Bauersock unless the latter makes 145 pounds ringside and if the soldier will not agree to this condition Young Cates may be substituted for the Hawaiian slogger.

With the arrival of the First Infantry service boxing is certain to receive a great stimulus and should Moriarty and Bauersock prove successful on the afternoon of June 1 they are sure to have their hands full of flattery work from then on.

At Training Quarters. Last night George Ingle worked out with Young Gans and four fast rounds were boxed. Ingle is working out in great shape and "Uncle Ben" will strike an awkward snag when he tackles the San Francisco boy for the third time of asking.

Young Gans is also looking fine and is today bigger and stronger than ever before. His work with Ingle at the Orpheum last night was a treat to witness.

Ingle will work out at the same place again tonight and will be pleased to box a few rounds with anyone who cares to don the mitts.

A coming bout will be between Kralac of Schofield Barracks and Williams, the fighting mottoman. These two men boxed a rattling preliminary to the Kid George-Patsy McKenna contest, the latter obtaining the decision. Both are anxious to meet again and a match has practically been arranged for June 29.

Kid Miller will arrive by the S. S. Sonoma next month and will probably be matched with Johnny McCarthy. He is a pure Portuguese and his name, curiously enough, is Laurence de Mello. Among those whom he has defeated are: Jerry McCarthy, Moa La Fontelle, Sid La Fontelle, Jack Clifford, Nelson Mose, Billy Morris, Young Gibbs and Tappara, the Tahiti champion.

CHESS.
The standing of the contestants in the Y. M. C. A. chess tournament last night was as follows:

	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Campbell	14	12	2	.857

CHINESE DEFEAT PENNSYLVANIA

CINCINNATI, May 9.—The All-Chinese baseball nine from Hallow defeated the University of Pennsylvania team at Lexington yesterday by the score of 2 to 0.

Luck Yee pitched for the visitors. The game was keenly contested throughout and the Orioles showed unexpected class.

SLIM GILMORE QUILTS IN BOUT

MANILA, April 23.—The hosts presented at the Olympic club smoker last evening were the best that have been seen for some time, and the mitt enthusiasts went away well pleased with their evening's entertainment.

The main event between Fred Nelson, of the Seventh Cavalry, and George Gilmore, slated as the champion middleweight and heavyweight of the Hawaiian Islands, ended in the twelfth round, when Gilmore refused to fight any longer, claiming that Nelson had fouled him several times by bringing his head into play. The referee, Captain Humphrey, of the Seventh Cavalry, partially admitted that this was true, but stated that he was not warranted in giving the decision to Gilmore on a foul, as he had been outclassed in nearly every round, and Nelson's tactics really were not intentional. The match was clearly Nelson's and should the fight have gone the limit there is no question that the soldier would have been given the decision, provided, of course the Honolulu fighter did not land an effective blow in the meantime. Nelson started in the first round with a hard jab to the left eye, and this bothered the island boy considerably. Hard right upper cuts and jabs to all parts of the head were the blows that counted during the affair.

Frank Logan, middleweight champion of the Philippine Islands, challenged the winner of the fight before the contest, and will, therefore, meet Nelson at the club smoker on May 4, as the main event.

MOANA HOTEL TENNIS GAMES

This afternoon at 4:30 Courtenay and Irvine will play Pratt and Williams, and Johnson and Schenkel will be pitted against Timberlake and Vaughan.

Tomorrow and Friday the Donna will play the Moana.

BASEBALL IN GARDEN ISLE

LIHUE, May 21.—Last Sunday's game in Elesee proved to be a one sided affair. The McBryde's started off from the beginning and never had a sign of trouble ahead of them. The score at the finish was 21-2 in favor of the locals. The Lihue team played poorly without any exception could not hit or pick up a ball that came their way.

Over in Waimea the champion Makawell team won out 17-10. The latter team made 10 runs in one winning and after that both teams showed up poorly.

In Kapaa the plucky K. A. C. pulled off a victory from the Col's. They got it by the margin of one run 9-8.

BUT FRACTIONAL SENTIMENT.

At this writing it is not certain whether Taft or Roosevelt is ahead in Ohio, though the probabilities favor the latter. But it is clear that, in Ohio as in other states, the result of the direct or presidential primary is to only bring out part of the vote and so is a much less complete expression of the public preference as to national nominees than the old one. The application of this truth is the same whether Roosevelt or Taft wins. Either would represent a vast minority of the registered party voters.

The figures of party strength as compared with the limited primary showing prove that the great bulk of Republicans like the old way best, leaving the selection of presidential nominees to a process which goes from convention to convention up to the national gathering, being debated by leading men at every stage and finally representing the whole party action, and then compelling a long campaign on the issues. This is the way of a republic as opposed to that of a pure democracy, and the one which the founders of the nation settled upon as the safest and most wholesome. They feared curbstom caprice; east of all did they believe in off-hand movements to settle grave concerns. The spirit of modern populism, which Roosevelt now exemplifies as much as Bryan ever did, was not their spirit; and under their method the American republic has prospered as no other democracy ever did in the political annals of the world.

There are enough Republicans who are against the innovations of the new nationalism to make it uncertain that the nomination of the author of the new system would be equivalent to election. As between his ambitions and those of a Democrat who opposed the third term idea, even though he were also a beneficiary of direct primaries, and a friend of the referendum and recall, there would be a definite choice by most of the Republicans who are unrepresented in the so-called referential canvass. They are party men, but the idea that the national welfare is above parties, might be very prevalent among them when they came to vote.

ROOSEVELT AND A WAR POLICY.

It is urged that, if Roosevelt meant to have a war when he could, it would have begun one with Japan long ago. But the trouble with that theory is that it would have been no object to Roosevelt to fight a war when and where Japan protested in stern tones at the San Francisco school affair, she had the Philippines, Hawaii, Alaska and the eastern coast of the mainland at her mercy. So the strenuous one would fit to eat humble pie. He sent a cabinet minister to California to implore the school row and fairly abased himself for the sake of peace; and then hurried up the canal, the fortification of Hawaii and the siding of the fleet so as to be prepared the next time, to act differently.

The real point against Roosevelt is that, if given a third term, in defiance of our best American traditions, he would intrigue for a fourth; and if this intrigue needed war to further it about the last part of the third term he is quite the man to bring it on so he could commence his party of the need of his re-election so as "not to swap horses in the middle of the stream." To our mind Roosevelt would do anything tricky to hold power. As Henry Watterson says he "would not save the White House except feet first." Whether he developed a policy against Japan or Mexico or Latin America generally, or the European power, it would be his way to embroil us if it added his fame or opportunity.

NOLTE'S.

As our readers were told some days ago Nolte's is for sale, perhaps has been sold, and to many old Honoluluans the announcement is as momentous as would be that of the sale of Sherry's or Delmonico's to a New Yorker. Not that Nolte's has ever been a cafe similar type or style. It is not known in society, but for a lifetime has been so fixed in the affections of Honolulu business men that in the completion of fashionable clubs and new restaurants did not affect it. No man has ever been so rich or exclusive in Hawaii as to disdain its plain environment or to ignore the abrupt challenges of its inside waiters, as they wiped clean the stone-topped tables, to take roast beef or roast ham, mutton curry and rice or stewed beef Spanish? The menu was not much and the prices matched it, but everybody knew that what he would receive was clean and well-cooked, that the fee was rightly made and that there would be enough to eat. Nolte's is not a place to take ladies into. There were no real silver or diamonds on the table. A man could take off his coat if he wanted to be cooler. But neither were there any bunnies there,—for Nolte's did nothing stronger than carbonated waters, which one could have in the meal instead of coffee or tea—and the drunken man was not come. Democratic as Nolte's always has been, the millionaire and clerk sat side by side, content with their plain living and the small fee and especially satisfied that the felony of a fee did not have to be compounded with the waiters.

When Nolte's changed hands now and then after the old proprietor retired and died, the method did not alter. There were still frills and if there never are the old place will keep its custom for good stout food and modest prices. But its customers cannot be perished with by new hands. They want the old Chinese waiters. They are particular about fresh eggs and the right coffee; they want the newspapers to be handy; and even if they go to the mainland Europe and live in Tai's or Sherry's or at the Ritz-Carltons for a while, they want to be sure when they come back that Nolte's will be the same as ever with its "loasts" and "fried fish." They would highly suspicious of table cloths and a printed menu.

IMPROVING THE WIRELESS.

One of the results of the Titanic disaster is seen in the bill to late wireless telegraphy just reported from the Senate committee. Although three other bills had previously been introduced in that body, it was decided that the committee should report an embodying the essential features of the others, with additions and necessary as a result of the committee inquiries. The difficulty of regulating and controlling wireless communication is better understood when it is known that a wireless message, sent, radiates in all directions with the rapidity of light, just as it extends over the surface of a pond into which a pebble has been cast. Science has not as yet discovered a way to force this energy in given direction. The result is that with several stations working the same range, each transmits its dots and dashes through the waves, and a confused blur hinders the receiving stations. This is technically known as "interference," and may be willfully caused by sender who attempts to send a message while he can hear the other waves. How to prevent this interference is the problem the Senate measure seeks to solve.

The principal means of preventing interference is through the use of varying wave lengths, and the assignment of various wave lengths for various purposes runs throughout the bill. The range of a station is determined in part by the electrical energy it is capable of generating, in part by the height of its wires. The wave length is adjustable up to the maximum sending power. A message sent out on 600-meter wave length will not interfere with one sent on a 600-wave length, and the Senate bill seeks to establish different wave lengths for various purposes as the best means of preventing interference.

The bill requires distress signals from ships to be given preference everything else, and prohibits the sending of any message during periods except by stations directly engaged in communicating the ship issuing the S O S call. Where a ship adds to its S O S letters indicating any certain wireless station, every other station

THE THANKLESS JOB

By WALT MASON.

There's nothing but tears for the man who steers our ship o'er the troubled sea; there's nothing but grief for the nation's chief, whoever that chief may be. Whatever he does, he can hear the buzz of critics as thick as flies; and all of his aims are sins and shames, and nothing he does is wise. There's nothing but kicks for the man who sticks four years to the White House chair; and his stout heart aches and his wish-bone breaks and he loses most of his hair. There's nothing but growls and the knockers' howls, and the spiteful slings and slams; and the vile cartoons and the dish of prunes and a chorus of tinkers' anathemas. Oh, we humble skates in our low estates, who fuss with our garden sassa, should view the woes of the men who rose above and beyond the mass, and be glad today that we go our way mid quiet and peaceful scenes; should thankfully take the hoe and rake, and wrestle with spuds and greens!

is prohibited from answering or sending messages of any sort.

A uniform wave length of 300 meters is provided, as this is the length already in use on the majority of ships. This will insure a distress call being received by any ship within a radius of 100 miles. Another regulation prescribes that Continental Morse be universally used in preference to what is known as American Morse. The combination of dots and dashes for eleven letters in Continental Morse differs from the American Morse, and the Continental is regarded as the more accurate although less speedy.

Under the terms of the bill all amateurs employing power for the transmission of messages must take out a license. Such stations are limited to one kilowatt power, which will permit of operations over an area of about five miles in cities and ten miles in the suburbs.

One of the works that have lived after Bishop and Mrs. Willis' tenure here, in which they both take satisfaction, is the Leahy Home. These estimable people did much to establish that institution, which has become more and more a public necessity as the years have passed. It was the first Episcopal Bishop of Honolulu, we believe, who officiated at the laying of the corner stone of the Queen's hospital and the present one is identified with many works of benevolence and charity, by which the usefulness of the Episcopal body has been advanced along its old lines of effort.

One of the practical things needed in Honolulu, particularly in the business section, are new street signs. The city went without such signs a good while to accommodate the hackmen, who had large political power before the Rapid Transit reduced their numerical strength, but later the signs were adopted. But they were not put up all around and today they are missing at several important points downtown. A really modern city would insist on this convenience, as well as house numbers.

Governor Johnson of California may lose San Diego's support by sending the Attorney General there to investigate, but there would seem to be the need of somebody going to strengthen out a situation which calls for flasks of nitro-glycerine on the one hand and barrels of tar and active kidnapers on the other.

By a slip of the pen in the local report of the Chamber of Commerce banquet, Mr. Cooke instead of Mr. E. I. Spalding was named as President of the Chamber. The Star's attention was called to it by Mr. Cooke and we hasten to correct it in justice to both well-known citizens and ourselves.

Perhaps the politicians who left port the other day were an exploring expedition to find out what had happened to the Kuhio-McClellan "commissioner" who was coming so long ago to investigate Frear.

The Sugar trust would have done better to obey the ancient injunction to burn those letters.

About all one hears of the Chinese republic nowadays is what's the matter of it.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

CAPTAIN SAM JOHNSON—We had a grand time at Los Angeles but we badly wanted a press agent.

CAPTAIN RILEY—Performing dogs may be all right but I would rather see them perform than hear them bark.

CHIEF McDUFFIE—I am saying nothing about getting married. I am going to the coast and you will have to wait and see.

JOE LEAL—The fact that I am wearing my eye in a sling doesn't mean that I have been in a scrap. A catarrh has developed and I expect shortly to undergo an operation.

JAMES KIRKLAND—I saw Jack Britton of Chicago fight while I was in San Francisco and, in my opinion, he is the most dangerous candidate for the lightweight crown now worn by Ad Wolgast.

CHIEF McDUFFIE—I expect to be away six weeks. There is a lot of hard work in connection with my job which the majority of people know nothing about and I feel that I need a lay-off and a change of scene and climate.

DR. E. V. WILCOX—Lend suitable for pineapples is getting to be a very scarce article. I don't know of any available on this island, and it isn't easy to find on the other islands. The Hawaii Experiment Station would be glad to know of such lands, for we are constantly getting inquiries along this line.

C. E. COPELAND—Some people are very hard to please. For instance the Bulletin a few days ago accused me of high crimes and misdemeanors because I wrote a course of study designed to meet the needs of the schools of Hawaii. Yesterday the same paper has the skulls because I won't jump in and write another course of study.

DOVE OF PEACE

Meanwhile the committees are endeavoring to have their reports completed by tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock, when they are to turn them over to the supervisors' meeting for approval, but on account of the apprehension existing over what the commissioners will do Saturday at their meeting everybody is afraid to do anything and prefers to wait.

Superintendent Pope made the accusation this morning that the delay of the committee's work is due to the fact that they wish to hold over to the commissioners' meeting in order to make a personal attack upon him and his work.

"All I want is a square deal," said Mr. Pope. "The committees should easily have their reports ready by tomorrow afternoon, but one person is trying his best to make trouble and delay matters until the commissioners' meeting Saturday when a personal attack can be made upon me."

Mr. Pope declares that the entire fracas is due to a difficulty which occurred eighteen months ago and has a far deeper meaning behind it than simply a case of "whose course of study shall be accepted."

In answer to this C. E. Copeland, who styles himself "manager of this little war," declares that there is nothing personal in the matter and that it is simply a fight to allow the course of study to be arranged by the supervising principals alone.

"We are not making a personal attack upon Mr. Pope or anyone else," said Mr. Copeland, "but are simply upholding the principle that Mr. Pope and Inspector Gibson are not supervising principals and have no right to take entire charge of the meeting, since the commissioners called a meeting of supervising principals to make changes in the present course of study."

All of the committees worked until late last night and started again at it early this morning, but a member of one of these committees declares that Judge Stanley said after yesterday's meeting that their meetings were to be continued on into next week after the commissioners' meeting when the "necessary oil would be poured upon the troubled waters and the dove of peace might be possibly persuaded to return and be 'ubiquitous' once more."

SHRINERS TELL OF VICTORY

Crowned with laurels the first of the returning Shriners arrived in the steamer Honolulu this morning bringing with them the story of how they did it.

"It was through downright hard work on the part of the boys," said Captain Sam Johnson this morning. "On the way up they settled down and drilled six times a day. None of them grumbled and by the time we reached San Francisco we were feeling in fine form."

"At Pasadena we carried everything before us and none of the others could come near us. When we finally came to drill at the big show in Los Angeles twenty of the other teams stated they would withdraw if we entered and it was made competitive. In the face of this the drill was made non-competitive but we were all presented with a fine badge."

"When it came down to an actual matter of drilling before the thousands gathered for the big show in Los Angeles we were paid a special honor. There were over twenty thousand people in the stand and we were asked to drill three times in different parts of the ground so that everyone could see us."

"One thing that we were badly in need of was a press agent and we did not get as much stuff in the papers as we should have. The other shrines brought two men along with them and got a great deal of publicity."

"Taking the trip right through it was a good one and I am very proud of the patrol and the work it did. The boys backed me up splendidly and I think we have made Honolulu remembered on the Coast."

thing magical about the number fifteen and some special preventive against "fixing" attached to such a board.

It may have been that Link was not quite awake when he made the suggestion this morning as it was just about six o'clock and he had not started on his breakfast. What his ideas might be after he finished that meal and had another think about the matter must remain for the future to disclose. The above is the scheme outlined by him this morning, however, and maybe, as time goes on, he will add a few more to the fifteen.

WILL MAKE HOME HERE

Among the arrivals in the steamer Honolulu this morning was Captain H. S. Susman, a well known accountant of South Australia, who just returned from a tour of the United States and part of Canada.

Captain Susman was through here some eighteen months ago and was so impressed with what he saw at the time that he made up his mind to return after his trip to the coast. He will in all probability take up a position here when an opportunity offers itself and will make his permanent home in the islands.

He was greatly impressed, during his trip by the progressive spirit and bustle in the States. Vancouver, he also states, is going ahead rapidly and is a fine busy town.

FEW CASES FOR JUDGES

In the police court this morning Ah Kim, charged with disobeying the orders of the hack officer, was fined $5 and costs.

L. H. Ritchey, chauffeur, was fined $15 and costs for exceeding the speed limit.

George Kikila, charged with assault, was fined $25 and costs.

J. J. Ryan, drunk, was fined $3 and costs.

See Hau had to pay $3 and costs for violating the anti-rubbish sweeping ordinance.

ACCIDENTS SEND TWO TO HOSPITAL

Two accident victims of yesterday are recovering from their injuries in Queen's Hospital.

Joseph Kalawalu, aged eight, fell thirty-five feet to the ground from a mango tree in Sam Ladd's Puna place.

He made a hole in his chin, knocked out a few teeth, tore an ear and sustained other injuries.

Jim Crowell, while working the steamer Mikahala's cargo, was struck by a falling sling of ice-boxes and knocked out.

Both cases are progressing favorably.

CATTON-NEILL REORGANIZED.

With the reorganization of the firm of Catton, Neill & Co., Ltd., additional capital has been put into the business which it is understood will make it an active rival to the Honolulu Iron Works in the machine shop and foundry business. As a first step, the company has purchased the property at the east corner of Alakes and Queen streets, on which a large concrete office and retail hardware store building will be erected.

The new officers of the reorganized company are: Robert Catton, president; E. F. Bishop, first vice president; W. G. Hall, second vice president and manager; R. Anderson, secretary. A. Gartley, T. M. Church and John Waterhouse, directors.

DITCH FOR LIHUE POWER PLANT

LIHUE, May 21.—(The Garden Island.)—The ditch system for the Lihue power plant, situated on the bank of the Waiala stream, is rapidly approaching completion. The ditch line, mostly tunnels, will aggregate about four miles in length in two branches uniting a short distance above the station. The capacity of the ditch will be about 25 million gallons a day. The fall will be about 265 feet and about 500 horsepower will be generated which will be transmitted to Lihue over a pole line about six miles long. It is said that reinforced concrete poles will be used and that every precaution will be taken to make a thoroughly durable and efficient line of it, so that there may be as little trouble and expense as possible in the operation. The substitution where the power will be "stepped down" will be on the edge of the Kupaia Valley near the Korean church. The wheels, generators, transformers, etc., are said to be due in September. Mr. Carr, who has the work in charge, representing the Hawaiian Electric Co., has just made a visit to Lihue in connection with the work.

KALAEHO SCHOOL HAS BIG FUTURE

Kalaehe, Kauai, has been pointed to as a place of model homesteads among all those set apart by the government. That the government is still keeping interested in the settlement is shown by the following article from the Garden Island, which shows also that Mr. McBryde continues to display a large degree of public spirit toward the homesteaders:

Through the endeavors of Supervisor W. D. McBryde, the government has set aside a seven-and-a-half acre lot, situated on the hill on the Elele side of the present Kalaehe school grounds, upon which will be constructed when the needs require, a new and modern school for Kalaehe. Mr. McBryde has for some time felt that the present school grounds were inadequate, and in going into the matter, discovered that the only available land for a new site lay along the road towards Elele. Getting into communication with the land officials in Honolulu, he succeeded in interesting them with the result that an agreement was reached whereby the government has set aside the above lot in accordance with Mr. McBryde's views.

Under Mr. McBryde's guidance, the ground is to be plowed and leveled, grassed, fenced and trees planted. According to Mr. McBryde the new school will not become a necessity for several years, but by planting trees and putting the lot into shape at the earliest possible date, will mean that when the building is constructed it will be the climax to an otherwise most complete and pleasing combination.

In Walter McBryde is to be found the personification of progressiveness and ability to carry to perfection plans for extracting beauty from Mother Nature's bountiful store. The Kukulono park, one of the most popular of Kauai's parks, is a monument to his efforts. The beautiful Lualaba gulch with its busy cannery and wavy, feathery, iron-wood trees; the neat little cottages for the housing of his laborers, the thrifty homesteaders with their pretty homes scattered from Elele, to within the vicinity of Koloa, the beautifying of the roads by bordering them with trees, and numerous other improvements, all of which have for their object, the upbuilding of his district, furnish silent testimony of Mr. McBryde's worth as a promoter who has no superior and but few equals.

TRENT FILES SOME ACCOUNTS

Richard Trent, as guardian of the estate of Maria Barges, this morning filed his fourth annual account. He charges himself with receipts totaling $99.50 and asked to be allowed expenditures in the sum of $92.00, leaving a cash balance on hand amounting to $7.50.

As guardian of the Roberts minors Trent files his fifth annual account, charging himself with $522.63 and asking to be allowed $675.80, leaving a balance of $146.80 due the estate.

Mr. Trent also files his seventh annual account as guardian of the estate of Rebecca Patee Humeke. He admits receipts totaling $1202.85 and alleges expenditures in the total amount of $1752.32, claiming a balance of $549.47 due himself.

SEVERAL STOCKS ARE ON THE RISE

Prices of stocks are still firm on the local exchange, but sales are again light. Ewa gained 25 cents and is in strong demand at 33 3/4, while the asking price has advanced to 53 7/8. McBryde again brought 9 3/4, but dera have jumper their asking price to 10 flat. Holders of Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar have likewise advanced their selling price from 43 3/4 to 46. There were no sales of this stock on the board, but a curb sale of 100 shares was reported at 45 1/2—a drop of 35 cents over yesterday's price. Olua is also being held at 1-8 advance over yesterday's asking price. Hawaiian Pineapple is steadily advancing, selling on and between boards at 42 5/8 to the extent of 17 1/2 shares. This is a 12 1/2 cent advance since last sale, and about $5 advance within a month.

REIDFORD TELLS ABOUT VALUES

The second Mahuka site trial has now reached the expert witness stage. R. R. Reidford, the principal real estate expert in the first Mahuka site case, was put on the stand this morning by the respondents and questioned as to his valuation of the property involved. The examination of the witness was conducted by Attorney Olson.

Mr. Reidford, in reply to the questions put to him, stated that in his opinion the value of the Austin Estate holdings on the day the condemnation suits were filed was $60,188.33. On the same date the Cummins holdings, including buildings worth $3600, amounted to $11,620. The present value of the Cummins land he placed at $7959.70, exclusive of the buildings, which he values at $2055, making a total valuation of $10,014.70.

Before Mr. Reidford took the witness stand Clarence Cooke, E. A. McInerney and Sam Walker were interrogated as to their ideas of the value of surrounding property.

The trial is proceeding without any sensational features and promises to be strictly businesslike all the way through.

KANGAROO BUTTER UNDER THE BAN

Butter, full of boric acid and consequently deleterious to health, is being foisted upon the local trade by Australian dealers, according to Food Commissioner Blanchard, who is hard at work examining two shipments of the product brought here yesterday from Australia by the steamship Maluna.

According to the food inspector, this state of affairs is not new, for two months ago the health department was forced to return four tons of the Australian product to the shippers on account of the enormous percentage of boric acid found therein.

When the Makura arrived in port yesterday, the food inspector was waiting to watch for butter shipments. Two were unloaded at five o'clock in the afternoon and were taken to the laboratories immediately to be analyzed.

Analysis of the first shipment showed a large percentage of boric acid. Work on the other shipment has not been completed as yet and it is not known whether any boric acid is contained therein or not.

Both shipments are consigned to local dealers. Mr. Blanchard does not know yet whether both will be returned to the shippers or not.

USUAL MISHAPS OF MANGO TIME

Two children tumbled out of mango trees in Pauoa within a short time of each other yesterday afternoon.

A Portuguese girl had her accident at two o'clock, which resulted in breaking her leg.

At 4:30 Joseph K. Pratt, an eight-year-old Hawaiian boy who is known better as "Hero," had his fall, sustaining two nasty wounds in the head, also one in the chin, and the loss of some front teeth. He was taken to the Queen's Hospital.

LUCKY FISHERMAN.

With a card in one hand, evidently from a business school, she entered the office of a business firm; but no one, apparently being about, she sat down on a chair. She was a dreamy-looking, timid girl, with big brown eyes, hair parted, Madonna-wise, over a low forehead, and a sensitive mouth. Voices could be heard in an inner office, but no one appeared to inquire what she wanted.

After ten minutes or so had passed, another girl, also with a card evidently of a business school, entered. She looked about, but as no one seemed to be in charge of the office, she also sat down. She was a vivid contrast to the first. Her manner was alert, quick, not unpleasantly aggressive but self-reliant. Her features were strong, her eyes a bright blue, her complexion a healthy red and white.

Five minutes slipped by. The dreamy-eyed girl sat lost in abstraction. The other's eyes roamed over the place taking in all its details. At last, she asked the first, "Isn't there anybody around?"

"I don't know," replied the first, and once more relapsed into her day-dreaming.

The other waited a few minutes more. Then she rose energetically.

"I'm going to find out," she said, and walked toward the inner office where voices could be heard.

Her manner was in nowise offensive. It was gracious, and when she made her inquiry of those in the room who stopped talking when she appeared, her tone was perfectly courteous. But she simply wasn't going to waste time sitting there doing nothing. The other probably would have sat there until the crack of doom, unless some one had appeared to attend to her wants.

One girl was probably in no way superior to the other. But one was fitted for the business world, and one wasn't.

The dreamy, sensitive girl should have been working in the home, or with children, or doing beautiful needlework, or laboring in some artistic field, where she either worked individually or with congenial spirits. Her nerves and her body will be worn to fiddle-strings in the frantic rush and scramble of the business world.

The other had just the alertness, initiative, poise, self-reliance that the business world needs. She could hold her own. She wouldn't be trampled on. She could keep her nerves steady and go right on typing in the din of a stock-exchange fray.

Yet fate or circumstances had sent them both seeking the same kind of work. And if the retiring, unassertive girl doesn't get that job probably in time she will get another like it, and in the course of a few years, end a physical and nervous wreck.

She may not have given much thought as to whether she is fitted for the work she is trying to do. Or she may be compelled to take whatever she can get. But how much better off she would be, if she would give thought to the work she chooses for earning her living, and would select that for which she is temperamentally fitted.

And if she and other girls like her discover that they have made a mistake in the choice of their occupation, they need not despair. One is never too old to study, and opportunities for self-improvement are on all sides. One can plan and save and work toward the new condition she wants, and such an ambition puts new joy into life.

KAUAI TO HAVE COUNTY BUILDING

LIHUE, May 21.—(The Garden Island.)—At a special meeting of the Board of Supervisors last Thursday it was decided to secure plans for the new county building which is to grace the newly acquired site, a deed for which passed into the hands of the county officials at the special meeting. The work of getting the ground leveled off and planted to grass will be undertaken at once. A fence is to be built separating the property from that of the plantation as soon as a decision can be reached as to the style most desirable.

In order to pay bills which may be presented for the purchase of the land on which to build the county building and for fencing in said land, the board of its own motion unanimously ordered the opening and keeping of a new account to be called "County Lot & Building" by the proper county officials. The board also of its own motion appropriated the sum of $3000 for county lot and building, same to be paid out of all money available in the county treasury.

LAWLESS FILIPINOS.

LIHUE, May 21.—(The Garden Island.)—Among the various cases disposed of in the Lihue district court last week were eight Filipinos charged with assault on a fellow countryman with a weapon obviously dangerous to life. The quartet were committed for trial before the grand jury at the July term. The committed are Florentino Kalog, Geo. Castarlo, Lucas Bautista, Honario Castro, Sebastian Philip, Barbas and Macario Ramona.

The assault was the result of an attempt to recover an erring spouse who had left her husband and taken up her abode with another Filipino named Lucas. The husband enlisted a number of his friends in his cause and, armed with knives, they proceeded to the home of Mr. Lucas where they succeeded in slashing him so seriously that he was taken to the hospital. The affair took place in the Lihue camp.

Public School Musical--Buddhists Are Celebrating--Various Athletic Events--The Maunaloa Seminary Annual Concert.

(Special Correspondence of the Star.)
WAILUKU, April 21.—A pleasant musical was given at the Wailuku public school last Friday morning by the teachers and pupils. Invited guests enjoyed seeing the work of the school and hearing the singing by Miss Carrie Short's class. The neat little programs for the morning were done by the school and consisted of a few lines set to music. The music for the rhyme was written by Ben Kaumeheiwa. The words were as follows:

Come today,
Hearts are gay,
Join with us in Music's play,
Guess the name —
That's our game
Thus you'll win great fame.
You must know your music well
Or these names you cannot tell;
Do your best
Leave the rest.
For another test.

This introduced the games, which pupils, teachers and guests all played. The names of songs and musical indications were pictured on the blackboards, and the duty of each was to get the name. After this contest was over, the principal of the school, Miss Lida Crickard, gave a musical story on the piano. Some twenty songs were played—just a line or two of each—and the name of the song fitted into the story.

Church News.

Rev. and Mrs. Frank S. Scudder have been on Maui for the last few days. They have been guests of Rev. and Mrs. R. B. Dodge, and of Miss Charlotte L. Turner while in town. Mr. Scudder came especially for the organization of the Wailuku Japanese Church on Sunday. He preached at Kahului for Rev. Mr. Judd on Sunday morning and at the Wailuku Union church in the evening. His sermons were very greatly enjoyed. On Monday and Tuesday his time was taken up with meetings of committees of the Japanese from central Maui. On Monday night he held service at Punene. A large number of people were present. He and Rev. Mr. Hori of Honolulu made the principal addresses of the evening. T. Matsomoto was examined as to his Christian belief, and after having passed a satisfactory examination was baptized by Mr. Hori. The Buddhists of Wailuku have been celebrating for the last four days, having had big gatherings every night, with theater, staged largely with local talent, bazaars, etc., for the benefit of the school connected with their work. The attendance has been very large and the receipts in the hundreds of dollars.

Memorial services will be observed in the Makawao and the Wailuku Union church next Sunday.

Sporting Notes.

An unusually large number of members in the Alexander House Gymnasium, Wailuku, have entered the 30-game handicap tournament for the Wailuku Sugar Company's cup presented by H. B. Penhallow, manager.

The Punene bowling team beat the Kauai team by a score of over 200 points. The final game was played off last Saturday evening, the scores being sent by wireless.

Punene Athletic Club rowing crew did some good practice work last Sunday morning. There is more than usual interest in the work of the crew this year. Seven good men, who are new material, have turned out to the practice.

Personal and Social.

Mrs. Judge Andrews of Hilo accompanied by Miss Cameron, head of the Chinese rescue home in San Francisco, and Miss Caroline Bailey, daughter of Mr. Charles Bailey of Grass Valley, California, have been visiting Maui. For several days they were with Mrs. H. P. Baldwin at Maluhia, and then in Wailuku with Miss Turner. Mrs. Andrews had not been on Maui for several years, and was greatly impressed with the many decided improvements.

The annual concert and sale of the Maunaloa Seminary, which is always such a popular event on Maui, will be held at the Seminary building on Saturday. The teachers and pupils have been working hard to make the affair a greater success than ever before.

NOT THE FIRST PIPE ORGAN HERE

Probably few persons in Honolulu ever suspected that pipe organs are manufactured in the little village of Hagerstown, Md.; but our ignorance is only a few degrees more dense than that of the Maryland villagers, who evidently imagine that Honolulu is a little settlement of naked savages, a few zealous missionaries, and some wicked sailor-men all dependent on grass houses or the "shade of the sheltering palm" for domiciles. It would probably not be believed in Hagerstown that half a dozen churches in Hawaii have had pipe organs for more than a generation past.

But it seems that pipe organs really are made in Hagerstown and here is the way the Hagerstown Weekly Globe modestly declares the fact in an issue which made its advent recently:

"M. P. Moller, the eminent pipe organ builder of Hagerstown, has just received a contract for a large tubular-pneumatic organ to be placed in the First M. E. church, Honolulu, Hawaii.

"This is probably the first order for a pipe organ ever received by an American builder for a church in Hawaii and demonstrates the reputation of the Moller organs.

"Mr. Moller has built pipe organs for churches in Australia, Denmark and Bermuda, and is now in correspondence with churches in a number of other countries."

COST OF LIVING.

This high-cost-of-living discussion continues to elicit uncomfortable revelations. One comes from the butchers, who say that if housewives, who think that nothing but porterhouse steaks are good enough for them and their families, did but know it many dishes that appear on fashionable restaurant menus under high-sounding names and cost from half a dollar to a dollar per order are really but hash or stew made of 6-cent meat and are better and tenderer than porterhouse. It is said that it is because people will not buy the cuts from which these dishes are made that butchers have to charge two prices for the cuts that everybody demands.—Ex.

AN AUTO TRUCK FOR THE ICEMAN

S. F. Call, May 12: In adopting modern business methods the people of our island possession would appear to be as fully abreast of the times as those of this country. As an instance of this the Oahu Ice and Electric company of Honolulu has just placed in commission a Pierce-Arrow, worm driven motor truck of five tons capacity which it will use in the Hawaiian city for the hauling of ice.

The body, the plans for which were made at the Pierce-Arrow factory at Buffalo, is one that has many unique features. The floor and sides to the height of twenty-four inches are covered with heavy zinc plate which forms a tank for catching water from the melting ice and drains it out at the front end of the body.

Protection from weather is given to the men on the truck while weighing

DISTINGUISHED POODLE DOG
TAKEN AWAY IN GREAT STATE

There was a sound of revelry by night in the neighborhood of the animal quarantine station this morning, the occasion being the departure for San Francisco of "Beauty," the little Japanese poodle, the ownership of which, erroneously attributed to Mrs. George M. Pullman, sent that worthy woman back to the mainland in disgust.

"Beauty" has been the star attraction at the quarantine station ever since her advent on the Wilhelmina two trips back.

When her owner, Mrs. W. D. Wilbur, found that her little pet could not land, she appeared to the Governor and, finding that useless, created for the use of the ball of fuzz a palatial canine mansion at quarantine. She secured a big tent the approaches to which were decorated with palms and growing flowers. The interior of the tent overflowed with silken cushions for the use of "Beauty" and a Japanese servant was engaged to wait upon the little brute.

The servant benefits by the departure, because Mrs. Wilbur gave him the tent and furnishings and Sato, now able to begin housekeeping, will send for a picture bride from Japan.

The transportation of "Beauty" to the Wilhelmina was accomplished with pomp and ceremony. Mrs. Wilbur was not allowed to take her pet on board, the quarantine officials assuring her that they would do the work in proper shape. At 9 o'clock, a Filipino orchestra engaged by Mrs. Wilbur appeared and serenaded the departing dog, while at the same time 100 made to order were hung about the animal's neck.

A finely grilled mutton chop was served as the last meal on shore and then a uniformed official of the quarantine station approached, and placed the dog on a cushion. He took up the line of march for the boat which conveyed the dog to the ship and was followed by a number of satellites marching two and two. Sato, the dog's valet, brought up the rear, his arms full of sofa cushions and mutton chops for which "Beauty" had found no use.

On arriving at the Wilhelmina, the dog was tenderly carried on board and presented to its mistress, who wept a few tears at the reunion and exclaimed "Brutes! Brutes!" with what seemed to be unnecessary emphasis. This indication of displeasure was due to the fact that the officials had not permitted Sato time in which to give "Beauty" her usual morning bath in violet scented toilet water.

Passing into the care of her mistress, "Beauty" was wrapped in a couple of soft elder down slumber robes and put to bed in the stateroom to recover from the nervous strain brought on by life on the island.

The quarantine officials waiting hard by in the hope of receiving thanks for their care of the beast, again heard the word "Brutes" ejaculated with fervor, wafted from "Beauty's" stateroom, and departed rather hurriedly.

"Beauty" will not be officially welcomed if she ever visits this port again.

Supervisors
In Session

Owing to deficient specifications the board of supervisors will have to call for new bids for band instruments. A large number of bids were opened at the meeting last night, coming from centers in mainland cities, in London and in Honolulu. They ranged from $600 to $2500 the set. Deputy Attorney Milverton advised the board that the specifications were too vague to base an award on.

Engineer Whitehouse submitted estimates for street paving as follows: Bishop street, two-inch bitulithic surface over four-inch concrete base, $2400; over macadam base, $2100, and this he recommended as the traffic on that street is not heavy.

King street, obia block on concrete base with cement top, $12,500; two-inch surface of bitulithic on same base, $10,700. He recommended the obia block, so that it could be compared with other paving.

Emma street and Emma Square, oil macadam six inches with bitulithic finish, $14,600; warrentite instead of bitulithic finish, $12,200. He preferred warrentite.

Prospect street, oiled macadam three inches, $3500.

A meeting to consider the proposed compromise on Hotel street widening damages and betterments will be held in the city hall on Monday evening next.

Marston Campbell, superintendent of public works, notified the board that sewer pipe laying in Queen street is completed but that an oil pipe line is to be laid there within three months. This will further put off the laying of pavement on Queen street.

The board will reduce the width of the temporarily fenced in park on Kakaia avenue to twelve feet. Chairman Dwight of the road committee would prefer to cut out the middle parking scheme and reduce the paved area of the avenue by widening the sidewalks and parking them. Clearing of Queen Emma park in Nuuanu will be done by the board.

Ed Towse, of the Central Improvement Committee, appeared before the board to advocate free garbage, rather with autotruck service for the suburbs. Being informed by McClellan that money was not available, he said he thought Kaimuki would be willing to pay for the service for the present, being without any at all now.

Honolulu Plantation Co. wants to be paid $15 a month for water supplied to Ales school, which it is now supplying free.

Two demands of $117.25 and $125 respectively, for maintenance of the mayor's auto, were ordered paid.

The board declined to buy automobile starters for the fire auto.

PARTING HONORS
TO HERR BERGER

Owing to his departure by an earlier steamer than first planned, Captain Heinrich Berger, the veteran bandmaster, will have his benefit concert, given by the bandmen, in the Opera House on Monday evening next. He will leave in the Honolulu on Wednesday.

A luncheon in honor of Captain Berger will be given on Friday of this week at noon at the Commercial Club.

PAUOA SPRINGS
PURCHASE PLAN

Attorneys for the C. W. Booth estate called on Acting Governor Mott-Smith this morning in regard to the condemnation proceedings about to be instituted by the government for Pauoa springs and adjacent water sheds. The attorneys for the estate are especially desirous that proceedings be instituted as soon as possible.

As the elevation is about 600 feet causing good pressure, the springs will be a very material addition to the local water supply system, doing away with the present water shortage in the Maunaloa section.

Under the loan act of 1911, $100,000 has been appropriated for this purpose, but this fund can not be used until provisions have been made to negotiate another loan.

HAWAII'S BIG HEALTH BILL

With the exception of Pennsylvania, the Territory of Hawaii expends more money for health matters, including sewer and general sanitation than any other state or territory in the Union.

$2,164,330 has been appropriated for public health matters, of which $1,081,330 is 1.3 of the total current revenues of the territory for two years ending June 30, 1913. These figures include territorial health expenditures only and are entirely separate from the funds applied for city and county health matters.

"This is a very good showing," said Acting Governor Mott-Smith this morning, "and shows the stress of the times to protect the health of the citizens and to maintain general cleanliness."

Most of us would be glad to get rid of our experience for less than coat backs on the stand at one time, the rest of the string pushed around into Bishop street. They said it would ruin the business. Their protest was referred to the police committee.

KAMEHAMEHA GIRLS' SCHOOL
INDIAN PLAY SATURDAY NIGHT

Next Saturday evening at 7 o'clock the spacious grounds of the Kamehameha School for Girls will be given over to moonlight (D. V.) and Indians. Warriors and squaws will steal among the trees, Indian scenes and songs from Hiawatha will be presented. Faithful attention has been paid to costuming and setting. The Peace Pipe will be disclosed likewise, and all is so arranged that the spectator may easily forget he is in the land of the palm and be carried far away to the land of pine and birch, of cedar and tamarack.

The following selections will be given:

Program.
 I.

 "Listen to this Indian Legend,
 To this Song of Hiawatha."
 "All the tribes beheld the signal,
 The Pukwana of the Peace-Pipe."

STARRETT ADVISES

 ing the animosity of California, for, as I said before, the horticultural inspectors there have a wide latitude. California is spending several million dollars a year fighting pests and it behooves her to be careful. Furthermore, California is sending the territory $8500 to conduct the fight here, which might be withdrawn if it was deemed that the islands were not in sympathy with her protective measures.

"I secured enough onion seed to plant 200 acres, and the crop can probably find a market here, if debarrred from the coast, inasmuch as we import onions to the value of $30,000 yearly.

"Another thing, California knew nothing about the stem borer being present in island potatoes until the officials there received a bulletin from the board of agriculture and forestry here with a history of the pest, whereupon rigid inspections were ordered with the result that several shipments were rejected.

"California did not know that the fruitfully had reached Hawaii and was admitting produce from Hilo until the newspapers announced the fact that the dreaded pest had reached Hawaii."

BIG PLUMBING

FORBES TO KUKAIAU.

A. Forbes, one of the best known sugar men in Hawaii, has been appointed manager of the Kukaia plantation, succeeding Albert Horner, who retired as manager upon the acquisition of the Kukaia property by Theo. H. Davies & Company, a short time ago. Mr. Forbes resigned the management of the Pacific Sugar Mill, at Kukuhaele, Hawaii, on June 1, 1907, for the purpose of taking his family to Europe where he intended to make his permanent residence. He, however, decided to join the come-back club, and returned to the Islands about a year ago.

Mr. Forbes is an enthusiastic agriculturist apart from sugar, his experiments with various diversified products having antedated all experiment stations in Hawaii.

MAY NANNERY.

May Nannery, now appearing at the Bijou theater, will be remembered as leading lady of the Dailey Stock Co which played several seasons at the Royal Hawaiian Opera House some years ago. She became quite well acquainted with many Honolulu people at that time, by whom she will be pleasantly recalled.

Mr. Dailey, husband of May Nannery, is now manager of one of the leading theaters of Denver. Genevieve, a younger sister, who was also here several times, is in Salt Lake City.

THE CLEVELAND'S HISTORIAN GETS IN SOME INTERESTING IMPRESSIONS OF HONOLULU

Edgar Allen Forbes, the magazine writer, who made the round trip on the last world-encircling cruise of the S. S. Cleveland, as official "historian" of the tour, has begun to get some of his impressions in print in "syndicate" form in various mainland newspapers. As to Hawaii, his taste seems to have centered largely in the expurgated hula arranged by the Hawaii Promotion Committee for the benefit of the passengers of the Cleveland, for the one article which has thus far appeared from his pen deals almost entirely with that festive entertainment.

It is currently whispered, however, that Mr. Forbes was not at all satisfied with the Promotionists' hula, and as a consequence managed to hunt one out for himself and a few of his companions—one that more nearly conformed to the average mainland ideas of what a hula is, or should be.

The article in question is illustrated with a cut of Madame Puahi, Honolulu's chief professional hula purveyor, together with a number of pictures captioned "Types of Hula Dancers." Mr. Forbes' story follows:

A week out from Yokohama and on the way to Honolulu, the big Cleveland was being shoved steadily through a choppy sea that would have made an ordinary ship hop about like an "Old Hickory" farm wagon bumping over a road of loose cobblestones. From some cavern of the winds off the port side came an infant gale, testing its strength against the steel plates and making the promenade deck creak at times to such an extent that pedestrians making a turn across ship had all the sensations of running down hill. The Lady Chaser (so named because of his principal occupation afloat and ashore) was promenading with the Porch Lounger, a wealthy lady of the party.

At one of the turns, both came down the hill like Jack and Jill, and brought up sharply against the rail. "What a perfectly jolly roll!" exclaimed the Lounger, gasping for breath.

"There seems to be a list to starboard," said the Lady Chaser, who had been impressed with that nautical phrase in one of the magazines.

"Surely you do not mean that my weight caused it!"

"Try no means!" said the Chaser. "It may be due to that coal that we took on at Nagasaki."

"Wrong again!" called out the Nye Humorist, who often said near-funny things after carefully working them out in his stateroom.

"Then what?" demanded the Chaser.

"The list is due to the weight of the come-on literature piled up in the chief steward's warehouse."

"Where'd he get it?"

"Hawaii promotion committee."

"What is that—an examining board?" asked the Lounger.

"Not exactly," explained the Nye Humorist. "It is a crowd of Honolulu gentlemen selected because they have strong lungs, and it is their job to yell about the glories of Hawaii, to yell so loudly that everybody afloat on the Pacific shall hear, and then to keep on yelling. In reality, the name ought to be Hawaii com-mo-tion committee."

"I think I have heard of it before," said the Chaser.

"Both before and behind," said the N. H. "If you haven't, you better see an ear doctor. They began the joyful chorus when we were at Singapore and the only intermissions since have been for the purpose of refilling the lungs. Didn't you hear the announcements at the close of the ball last night—three days out from Honolulu?"

"No; what were they?"

"Wireless from the H. P. C.—Welcome to Honolulu! Another wireless from 'Promotion'—Elks of Honolulu preparing a great feast for the antlered herd on the Cleveland. Another wireless—Shriners on the Cleveland requested to wire number will accept hospitality of Honolulu shrine. Another—How many tickets at the opera house shall we reserve for Cleveland party? All this three days out at sea, mind you!"

But let us drop the rest of the conversation into the Pacific and skip along to the story. As soon as the Cleveland had been sighted off Diamond Head, the members of the H. P.

C. pulled one another out of bed and climbed into the fastest steam launch in the harbor. Without waiting for the health officer, a man named Wood and another, named Jordan climbed over the ship's side like South Sea buccanniers and began to pin badges and buttons upon every passenger caught standing still, at the same time stuffing his pockets with literature about the "Paradise of the Pacific."

Then came another launch with a cargo of Hawaiian girls, each dusky beauty loaded down to the gunwales with flowers. In an incredibly short time these (the flowers) were hanging about the necks of the passengers. Then, the Royal Hawaiian band broke loose—but why go on? We all know the symptoms of a dynamo in action.

Suffice it to say that, among a lot of other advertisements and advertisements, the H. P. C. engineered a Hawaiian musical at the opera house, with reserved seats down front for gentlemen passengers traveling alone. A gleeful club of native young men sang Hawaiian songs for an hour and picked sundry tuneful selections from the strings of guitars and baby guitars. Then came the real show—the "hula" dance.

To have visited Honolulu and come away without seeing the performance that has made the islands famous—that would have been a misfortune. So reasoned the passengers, and so had reasoned the H. P. C. But when the committee of joyful yells let it be known in Honolulu that a "hula" was scheduled, another crowd of strong-lungers was heard from. "The 'hula' is all right in its place," said the megaphone, "but its place is in some low dive at the end of a dark alley!" The H. P. C., somewhat experienced with the mental processes of the world tourist, decided that this fact, if true, would be only another reason why some of the Cleveland's passengers would care to see it. They also figured it out that our sociological education (begun at Cairo) would have a yawning gap in it without an advanced course in "hula." And then the spinal column of the H. P. C. became ankylosed and the dance remained on the program.

And it wasn't so wicked, after all! In fact, it was not wicked enough to please the men down front, but it had the genuine Hawaiian atmosphere about it. A troop of about a dozen girls could be dimly seen upon the darkened stage as the curtain went up, swaying and chanting to the music of a couple of tom-toms. Little by little the light was turned on as the gentlemen in the front seats made signs of impatience, and then it could be seen that the girls were young, dusky, good looking and mischievous.

The dance was directed by Madame Puahi, who was one of the retainers of the court in the old Hawaiian days. The years have left their impress upon her handsome and intelligent features, but life is still in her blood and the light in her eyes. She had her heart in her work and so did the girls—but there was a suspicion that the police were also on the job. In the phraseology of the society reporter, the dancers were simply and attractively gowned. They wore short green skirts covered over with green fiber, brilliantly red waists festooned with wreaths of yellow flowers, and their own hair. Their feet and ankles were bare—at least, this is the substance of the report of the gentlemen who occupied the front seats.

The "hula" dance—according to Dr. Emerson, a distinguished gentleman of Honolulu, who has collected all the varieties—is a religious performance with infinite variation. We saw only one variety, but could guess the rest. It is far ahead of the Cairo performances, for the Egyptian dance is a solo and has no rhythm. It is superior to the nautch and the Cingalese dances, because there is no listlessness in the Hawaiian movements. And, partly for the same reason, it has the goisha beat a mile. The nearest thing to it is the Cairo dance, however. But while the Egyptian stands still in her tracks, the "hula" girl is circling in her tracks, and swaying in perfect time—perhaps chanting at the same time.

After it was all over, the front row pronounced the dance "all right!" But no one, so far as the investigation has yet gone, agrees with Dr. Emerson that the "hula" is essentially a dance to express or to arouse religious emotions.

But let us drop the rest of the conversation into the Pacific and skip along to the story. As soon as the Cleveland had been sighted off Diamond Head, the members of the H. P.

WAIOHINU WATERWORKS CALL FOR IMMEDIATE ATTENTION

(Special Correspondence of the Star.)

HILO, May 20.—County Engineer Southworth returned from Waiohinu on Sunday last. He went over to inspect the waterworks at that place, and he says that the extension of the system is imperative. The water shed belongs to the government and, as soon as certain water rights are settled, the extension and enlargement of the water system is to be proceeded with.

The last legislature provided an appropriation for the necessary extension, and the scheme is to do the work, and then hand the whole system over to the county supervisors. A superintendent of waterworks will then be appointed, and the management and regulation of the whole waterworks should then be easy. At present there is no proper supervision and there is a great amount of waste.

Engineer Southworth reports that the road down to Pahala is much improved, and that the application of gravel has done a lot of good. Julian Monsarrat has been overseeing the job, and the work has been well done.

The Volcano Stables company has helped out a lot by carrying gravel from the pit to the site of operations. One mile of the road is now finished, and that portion is a pleasure to travel over.

The new "prisoner's" road, on the Kau side of the volcano, is coming along splendidly. The first section is thrown open to stages and automobiles, and the job is a credit to the construction gang. The road is twenty feet wide and the surface is as level as a billiard table.

HAWAIIAN TARO MAY BE MADE INTO BREAKFAST FOOD

Under the title of "Possible New Breakfast Foods," the Consular and Trade Reports of the Bureau of Manufactures of the Department of Commerce and Labor, makes reference to the recent visit of W. K. Kellogg, the big manufacturer of breakfast foods in Battle Creek, Mich., to Hawaii, and suggests a number of local products which might find favor with rosy-fadists, or others. The article follows: "An American breakfast-food manufacturer is in Hawaii investigating the taro plant with the view of putting on the market a new food product made therefrom. Taro is a popular name for Colocasia antiquorum, and especially for its variety esculentum, a tropical plant, grown in the islands of

AGRICULTURE IN ALASKA FEASIBLE ON EXTENDED SCALE

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 1.—Prof. C. C. Georgeson, who has charge of the Alaska Agricultural Experiment Stations, has just arrived in Washington and reported to Secretary Wilson on the agriculture of the Territory. He shows that agriculture is practicable on an extended scale.

The economic conditions prevailing in Alaska prevent speedy settlement of the Territory by farmers. Transportation is too expensive for the poor man to go there and take up land, and the farmers who are well-to-do do not leave the States.

A special homestead law for Alaska allows citizens of the United States with homestead rights to take up 320 acres of unsurveyed land for homestead purposes, but the locator must pay the cost of the survey, which amounts to several hundred dollars.

Professor Georgeson by crossing a cultivated variety of the strawberry which was too tender for the climate with the wild Alaska strawberry, has produced a large number of hybrids, many of which are not only hardy and thrive well in the climate but are very productive and yield large berries of excellent quality. He also produced a number of hybrid barley by crossing varieties excellent in themselves but requiring a longer growing season than the Alaska climate affords, with early maturing varieties which are undesirable because they are small producers and have heavy heads. Many of the hybrids resulting from this cross are early enough to mature in the interior of Alaska in normal seasons and having no beard can be used for hay and fed to farm animals without being threshed. This result is of importance, for it is becoming more and more apparent that to succeed in grain growing, Alaska must develop varieties which are better suited to the climate than the grains which are introduced from southern latitudes.

Winter rye and winter wheat can be successfully grown in interior Alaska whenever the snowfall is deep enough to protect the grain against severe winter temperatures, say from 2½ to 3½ feet. Rye is harder than the Pacific, where it forms a principal food. Its starchy, stemlike tuberous root is now boiled or baked, made into bread or into poi, a fermented product. The young leaves and tender leaf stalks are used, respectively, like spinach and asparagus.

"Cassava, or manioc, another starchy tuber, which grows abundantly in tropical America, might also prove valuable for conversion into breakfast foods. Cassava has long been sold in flaked form in India.

"Bananas and plantains are also now flaked and crisped, samples of toasted plantain flakes from the Dominican Republic being among the exhibits at the Bureau of Manufactures in Washington; they will also be introduced to interested firms.

SCIENTISTS AT VOLCANO

(Special Correspondence of the Star.)

HILO, May 20.—Up at the Volcano House at the present time, two scientists, Dr. Day and Dr. Shepherd, are located. The new arrivals are working on scientific lines and are making daily observations regarding the volcano.

Temperature records are being made and the results will be tabulated and compared with previous records. Not only the temperature of the active crater will be taken, but the instruments will be located at every point where heat is known to exist.

The scientists have also got a splendid equipment of cameras and other instruments. Photographs of every possible variety will be taken, and a most interesting collection is expected to be gotten together. For three months the experts will remain in the vicinity of the volcano, and they hope to have gained much information in that time.

CINDERS USED IN STREET REPAIRS

(Special Correspondence of the Star.)

HILO, May 20.—On Front street an experiment is being conducted with cinders from the railroad. Holes and small ruts are being filled with the cinders, and the plan will be given a fair tryout. Many people are of the opinion that the cinders are of no use, but others think that the stuff will do for topdressing.

Superintendent Miller, of the railroad company, is giving the cinders for nothing, and there is an abundant supply of the material on hand.

Should the cinders prove to be a success as road repairing stuff, a difficult problem will be solved, and there will be no excuse for ruts on any of the Hilo streets.

BOSTON TO HAVE A HOSPITAL FOR THE BLUES

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 9.—Boston is to have a hospital for "the blues," the first of its kind in the world. The hospital for "the blues" will be a branch of the Boston State Hospital, and will be conducted on the theory that all insanity cases are simply forms of physical sickness which can be alleviated with proper treatment.

To that end, the place will be a sort of clearing-house for those whose brains are out of gear. They will be differentiated and classified according to the kinds of mental diseases they show, and the remedies will be sought for each class of patients.

There will be an out-patient department for dealing with incipient insanity, and it is expected that this branch of the work will afford striking opportunities for the relief of many mildly insane persons without subjecting them to the stigma of insanity.

VANDERBILT IS SUEED FOR GROCERY BILL

NEW YORK May 9.—William K. Vanderbilt Jr. says he didn't get 'em, didn't eat 'em and doesn't owe for 'em. He refers to $642 worth of groceries which Albert Klenk, a Fourth-avenue grocer, declares he supplied to the millionaire about five years ago.

Klenk has filed a suit against Vanderbilt alleging that between April 22, 1907, and September 4, 1907, he supplied edibles to the total value of $888, which went to stock the cook's galley of the private yacht Tarentula. He says $246 was paid on the account, and the amount sued for is balance due, which Vanderbilt has neglected to pay. Vanderbilt, through his attorneys, Anderson & Anderson, today filed an answer which is a general denial.

WHERE THE WATER IS REFRESHING

There is a lot of pleasure going into the surf where one may fall on his knees and not get cut with coral according to one of the characters in Katherine Yates' story and all the pleasure which bathing in the briny affords may be had at Haleiwa where the best beach in the islands is located. There is always something doing; you are pretty sure to meet a friend no matter when you go there and you are always sure of getting a worthwhile dinner or luncheon. Trains go to the door and there is an auto in the rent service on the premises.

ENTHUSIASM IS SHOWN WHEN HOME RULE BILL PASSES WITH INCREASED MAJORITY

LONDON, May 9.—The government carried the home rule bill on its second reading in the House of Commons tonight by a majority of 101, as against ninety-four for the first reading. The vote was 372 to 271.

It was the most largely attended House of the present Parliament. Both sides had done their utmost to secure every available vote. Balfour, former opposition leader, and Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, returned from Weymouth in order to be present.

The announcement of the figures showing an increased majority occasioned enthusiastic demonstrations on the government side, and the Prime Minister was given a great ovation on leaving the House with his wife and daughter by the crowd that assembled outside.

The bill was referred to a committee of the whole House, but as home rule and Welsh disestablishment are being taken concurrently it will now be the turn of the Welsh bill. The committee stage of the home rule bill is not expected to be reached until after Whitsuntide, and probably will occupy a couple of months, even with Liberal application of the cloture rules, as the opposition is preparing an endless list of amendments and will adopt every possible means to obstruct the measure.

Curiously, the second reading of the home rule bill coincides with the disappearance of the word conservative as the official designation of the Tory party. A conference of the Conservative and Liberal Unionist parties today finally resolved on a fusion of the two parties under the title of "National Unionist Association." Thus the Liberal Unionists, who seceded from Gladstone on his espousal of home rule, now become part and parcel of the Tory party.

"Threatens British Union."

Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, assailed the bill fiercely. The government, he said, was setting up custom houses not to create a union, but to destroy the union which already existed. He denounced the safeguards in the bill as utterly futile, condemned the financial provisions and drew a gloomy picture of Ireland's future under home rule.

"Every new Parliament of inexperienced men," said the speaker, "had tried to get the Millennium in a hurry. The new Irish parliament would launch all sorts of schemes for improving the condition of the country, borrowing money for the purpose. As a result, the imperial parliament would become liable for a huge capital sum it would not have sanctioned and for expenditures over which it had absolutely no control."

Referring to the example of South Africa, which had been cited to justify home rule, Law said that in South Africa the two races wanted union, but that one of two races in Ireland, numbering a million, was bitterly opposed to home rule. He asked in such circumstances under what principle did the Prime Minister justify forcing the acceptance of the bill on Ulster.

Asquith in Brilliant Speech.

Premier Asquith wound up the debate for the government in a forceful speech which aroused great enthusiasm on the part of his supporters. No serious attempt, he said, had been made by the opposition to meet the argument with which he opened the discussion—the character and persistence of the Irish demand. Had this demand been made under similar conditions by any community of their own race throughout the empire, there was not a man on either side who would not say that it was entitled to consideration.

A demand so persistent, continued the Prime Minister, was one to which a democratic parliament in these days was bound to yield. If the Irish vote were eliminated in the House of Commons there still would be a majority of fifty or sixty for home rule.

Referring to the Ulster threats, Asquith said he believed the British people to be just and generous. They detested intolerance and persecution in any form, but they were not the people to be frightened out of what they believed to be just by language of intimidation. The government had asked repeatedly what further safeguards were desired, but the only answer of the opposition was that they would receive from Ulster nothing but unyielding and uncompromising resistance.

Dealing with the safeguards, the Premier said that if the Irish Parliament passed acts transcending the bounds that the government had set, these acts became void. No one was bound to obey them; no one could be punished for disobeying them. The bill was final in the sense that it was the settlement of a long standing warfare, but no one claimed for it that there might not be a necessity hereafter to modify some of its provisions.

In conclusion, Premier Asquith said the claim of Ireland was a paramount urgency, because there was no part of the United Kingdom to which the Imperial Parliament owed so long and so deep a debt.

PACIFIC FLEET SHIPS AT MANILA

MANILA, April 27.—The cruiser California, flagship of Rear Admiral Southard, which has been lying at Olongapo for the past two weeks undergoing repairs, receiving her semi-annual overhauling in the drydock Dewey, dropped anchor off the breakwater at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

The sister ships of the California, the South Dakota and Colorado, are still at Olongapo, where minor repairs to them are being completed. The Colorado has been docked and her repairs are practically completed. It was stated by an officer of the fleet last night that the Colorado would come to Manila early in next week, and would be followed later by the South Dakota.

No one has yet learned the probable length of the stay of these three vessels in Philippine waters or on the Asiatic station. As yet no orders have been made public detaching them from the Pacific fleet, of which they are a part, and ordering them to report for permanent service on the Asiatic station.

The vessels are due to hold their regular spring target practice as soon as the supply ship Glacier arrives from Mare Island with the new model rafts. The Glacier is expected in Manila about the middle of May, but it is said to be very probable that the three cruisers will leave for the China coast before she arrives.

AMERICAN ROAD CONGRESS EXHIBIT

WASHINGTON, April 22.—An interesting exhibit at the American Road Congress to be held next fall will be presented by the United States Department of Agriculture. Secretary Wilson, of the Department, has authorized Director Logan Waller Page of the Office of Public Roads, to give a complete exhibit of the Government's work on the public roads of the country, showing how unimproved roads hurt the farmer and how improved roads aid not only the farmer but the consumer.

Four of the biggest associations which are working for the improvement of public roads are consolidating their forces in order to make the next American Road Congress the biggest affair of its kind in the history of this country. They are the American Road Builders' Association, the American Association for Highway Improvement, the American Automobile Association and the National Association of Road Material and Machinery Manufacturers. All of these associations have previously held separate conventions. It is expected that farmers' associations and other associations interested in the improvement of public highways will likewise take part in the Congress.

A "Classified Ad" in the Star will bring results when all other expedients fail.

FOR PASTEURIZING MILK IN THE HOME

"Directions for Home Pasteurization of Milk" is the title of a bulletin by Bacteriologist L. A. Rogers, of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Commerce and Labor. The document reads:

"Milk delivered in the cities in the summer months frequently contains bacteria in such large numbers that it is not a safe food for children, especially for infants whose food consists entirely of milk. In many cities a special milk may be secured, but this is sometimes difficult and always involves additional expense. When it is impossible to obtain milk entirely free from suspicion it is advisable to pasteurize the milk, especially if it is to be consumed by small children. The pasteurization should be done in such a way that disease-producing bacteria as well as those likely to produce intestinal disturbances are destroyed without at the same time injuring the flavor or the nutritive value of the milk. This may be accomplished in the home by the use of a simple improvised outfit.

Milk is most conveniently pasteurized in the bottles in which it is delivered. To do this use a small pan with a perforated false bottom. An inverted pie tin with a few holes punched in it will answer this purpose. This will raise the bottles from the bottom of the pan, thus allowing a free circulation of water and preventing bumping of the bottles. Punch a hole through the cap of one of the bottles and insert a thermometer. The ordinary floating type of thermometer is likely to be inaccurate, and if possible, a good thermometer with the scale etched on the glass should be used. Set the bottles of milk in the pan and fill the pan with water nearly to the level of the milk. Put the pan on the stove or over a gas flame and heat it until the thermometer in the milk shows not less than 150 degrees Fahrenheit. The bottles should then be removed from the water and allowed to stand from 20 to 30 minutes. The temperature will fall slowly, but may be held more uniformly by covering the bottles with a towel. The punctured cap should be replaced with a new one, or the bottle should be covered with an inverted cup.

After the milk has been held as directed it should be cooled as quickly and as much as possible by setting in water. To avoid danger of breaking the bottle by too sudden changes of temperature, this water should be warm at first. Replace the warm water slowly with cold water. After cooling, milk should in all cases be held at the lowest available temperature.

This method may be employed to retard the souring of milk or cream for ordinary uses. It should be remembered, however, that pasteurization does not destroy all bacteria in milk, and after pasteurization it should be kept cold and in a clean manner and used as soon as possible. Cream does not rise as rapidly or separate as completely in pasteurized milk as in raw milk.

When milk is to be used for infants the pasteurization should be done in the nursing bottle to avoid the possibilities of contamination and the necessity of warming the entire lot of milk each time a feeding is taken. This will require, on account of the smaller bottles, a slightly different method than for ordinary bottles. A bottle should be provided for each feeding with the exact amount of milk required. An extra bottle should also be provided, as there is always the possibility that a bottle will be broken in the process. If the milk is modified this should be done before pasteurization. Bottles not provided with seals may be plugged with ordinary (not absorbent) cotton and the thermometer held in one of the bottles by the cotton plug. A wire or tin basket to hold the bottle upright in the water is very convenient. Place the bottles in the pan of water and heat until the thermometer shows that the temperature of the milk is 145 to 150 degrees Fahrenheit. Put the bottles back in the water and cover with a bath towel or other suitable cloth. Hold in this way at least 20 minutes, and then cool by running water into the pan. When the milk is cooled to the temperature of the tap water it is an excellent plan to pack broken ice about the bottles and hold them to the refrigerator in this way.

The milk should not be removed until immediately before it is used, and if bottles are warmed and not used they should be discarded.

AMERICANS PERFORM GREAT SHOOTING IN TIENTSIN MATCH

TIENTSIN, April 19.—Constant range practice and expert marksmanship by the naval and military forces of the United States has again been justly rewarded, for the Marines of Peking and the 15th Infantry won the rifle championship of North China and the first seven prize medals in the annual shoot of the Tientsin Rifle club, under Bisley rules, which closed yesterday afternoon.

Private N. Hendrickson, Marines, captured the championship closely followed with only four points short by Sergeant Morris, 15th Infantry, one of the five best shots in the United States army. Captain Holcomb and Private Bowers, both Marines, tied for third, Private Moore, Private Hogan and Captain Lovelace, all Marines took fifth, sixth and seventh. Of the twenty prizes all told thirteen were won by the American soldiers. Six went to Britishers and one, the last, to a German civilian. It was a clean sweep for the Americans, unprecedented in North China, and one which drew unstinted praise from the British and German contestants and hearty applause from the hundreds of cosmopolitan spectators who visited the range.

The majority of the fifty contestants were Britishers, enrolled from Royal Inniskillings Fusiliers, the Somerset and the Tientsin Rifle club. There were fifteen American entrants, ten Marines of the legation guard at Peking led by Captain Holcomb, and a team of five from the 15th Infantry, who were captained by Sergeant Iorgger. Only a handful of Germans entered, and the Russians, Japanese, French and Austrian forces did not compete.

In the shoot on the opening day, for 200 yards, Sergeant Morris and Captain Holcomb each made thirty-two out of a possible thirty-five. Private Bowers and Private Hendrickson were next with thirty-one each. The 500 yard competition was featured by the brilliant and sensational work of Sergeant Morris, who made a possible thirty-five hits out of thirty-five shots. Hendrickson was close behind with thirty-four. Bowers pegged thirty-three, but Captain Holcomb dropped to thirty.

Equally exciting was the third and last competition at 600 yards, which was fought in a high wind and drove the rain. The round started with Sergeant Morris in the lead with a total of 67 points. Private Hendrickson stood second at sixty-five, and just behind was Sergeant Iorgger, 15th Infantry, and Private Bowers with sixty-four each. Mr. Greenland, Mr. Mac C. Anderson and Private Hoglin had sixty-three each, with Captain Holcomb and Private Shaffer at sixty-two.

Owing to the heavy weather, it was anybody's victory. All shot low, and many made less than twenty of a possible thirty-five. The twenty-four made by Sergeant Morris brought his grand total to ninety-one, which was regarded as the winning score. But Hendrickson made one hit after another to the astonishment of the cheering observers and his record of thirty-one gave him the round and the championship with ninety-six out of a possible 105 for the three events.

The prizes were presented to the winners by the popular Mr. W. T. Greenland, of the Tientsin Rifle club, who won eighth place as the leading British contestant. In the ladies' tournament there were fifty-six entrants, first and second prizes going to Mrs. Whittington and Mrs. Payne respectively.

to survive without protection. The probability is, therefore, that fruit growing aside from berry bushes will never be a success in Interior Alaska.

The Fairbanks station, which has 90 acres under cultivation, has the task of demonstrating how far general agriculture, such as would be practiced by the average farmer, can be made a success in that region. Fairbanks is located in the Tanana Valley, in which it is estimated there are about 15,000 square miles of land available for agriculture. Grain growing and the cultivation of vegetables, particularly potatoes, are the lines of work followed at this station. By way of demonstrating that potato growing can be made a success in that valley, 20 tons were raised on seven acres the past season, which if sold at the low average price of five cents a pound would be worth $5000. Last year the station sold several tons of potatoes at the rate of $180 a ton. It is interesting to note that the first self-blender which has been brought to Alaska was operated at 67 points. Private Hendrickson stood second at sixty-five, and just behind was Sergeant Iorgger, 15th In-located in the Yukon valley in latitude 65° 30' north. Thirty acres of land are at present under plow, all of which is devoted to strictly experiment, the production of new varieties, the growing of pedigreed grains, and the introduction and testing of forage plants which give promise of being useful.

The Kodiak Experiment Station, located on the island of the same name, is devoted exclusively to cattle breeding. Eighty-five head of pure-bred Galloway cattle of all ages are now at this station. There is also a flock of long-wool sheep, which appear to be remarkably well adapted to the climate. The Galloway breed of cattle was chosen for the reason that their original home, southern Scotland, has a similar climate. Nature has provided them with a very heavy coat of long hair which protects them against the cold rains; they are very excellent rustlers and can find their own living wherever the snow is off the grass; moreover, they have no horns and can, therefore, be shipped and handled with greater ease than horned cattle. They are an excellent beef breed and there is a ready market for beef in towns and settlements along the Alaska coast, but they are poor milkers, and one of the problems which this station is trying to solve is the evolution of an all-purpose Galloway cow, that will give milk as well as provide good beef, and doubtless the efforts will be a success.

THE MORNING CABLE REPORT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—Governor Frear of Hawaii was feted by the Bohemian Club yesterday afternoon, when a formal luncheon was given in honor of the territorial executive. The host was Mr. Ribeth, of the California-Hawaiian Sugar Refining Company. Among the guests were Mayor Rolph and Mr. Moore, one of the World's Fair Commissioners. The decorations of the big room were beautiful. Leis were everywhere and Hawaiian music was played. Governor Frear declared he was delighted to have an opportunity to renew his friendships in San Francisco.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 22.—With only the third district total vote to hand the result of yesterday's presidential preference primaries held throughout the State is still in doubt, although Colonel Roosevelt was leading in the scanty returns. The third district, comprising the counties of Butler, Montgomery and Preble, gives Roosevelt 59,054 votes to President Taft's 41,431, and the indications are that the same ratio will be followed throughout the State.

The indications at midnight here are that Roosevelt may carry twenty of the forty-two districts in the State. The majority of the delegates will have the election of the six delegates at large in their control, under the election laws of Ohio. This would give Taft twenty-two elected delegates and the control of the delegates-at-large, or a total of twenty-eight to Roosevelt's twenty.

One of the most remarkable features of the fight here has been the vote given La Follette, which has surprised the State, people and politicians alike. Harmon, the State's favorite son, will probably go to the Baltimore convention with twenty-four out of the State's forty-eight votes. Speaker Clark so far has not shown at all on the ballots, and but few scattering returns have mentioned him. Wilson is running well. The complete returns in the Democratic fight may change the entire aspect of the struggle.

Washington dispatches report Senator Dixon, campaign manager for Colonel Roosevelt, as saying, "Mr. Roosevelt will get forty-four of the forty-eight delegates from the President's own State, and will undoubtedly be nominated on the first ballot at Chicago. The voting in Ohio today has been lighter than we expected, considering the interest that is being taken in the race, but this was largely due to the fact that the farmers, where by the way not a little of the Roosevelt strength lies, were unable to leave their work in the fields to go to the polls."

SACRAMENTO, California, May 22.—Dispatches last night declared that San Diego is most intensely aroused over the action of Governor Johnson in ordering an investigation of the labor troubles there. The really board of the city, as soon as the Governor's order was learned of there, called a meeting and adopted resolutions condemning Johnson for "interference."

CARTOONS MAGAZINE.
Many improvements in the new magazine Cartoons are to be seen in the May number, especially in the presentation of more full-page reproductions of recent cartoons, which are especially meritorious, the number of pages of the magazine being increased to make up the difference. Parolan and other European caricature and art is given much space to advantage. In the field of politics alone, which is but part of the magazine, Cartoons is collecting a wonderful record of the present great campaigned portraits and biographical sketches of Rogers, of the New York Herald, and Fox, of the Chicago Post, are other features.

A PHILIPPINE RUBBER EXHIBIT

MANILA, April 25.—The Philippine Islands are to be represented at the International Rubber and Allied Trade Exposition in New York City from September 23 to October 3, this year. Such a decision was reached by Governor General Forbes before he sailed for the United States. One of the last official acts of Mr. Forbes before his departure was to name a committee consisting of Director Frederick W. Taylor of the bureau of agriculture, the late Paul C. Freer, director of the bureau of science and W. W. Barclay, who successfully conducted the Philippine Exposition, to prepare an exhibit of rubber and see to having it installed in the New York exposition.

A fund has been aside for the work and preparations are being made to get together the exhibit. The committee is getting in touch with those who are interested in rubber in the islands and are likely to have material available for the exhibit.

The death of Dr. Freer leaves a vacancy on the committee which will probably be filled in the near future by the appointment of some one else by Acting Governor General Gilbert.

CHINA HAS YET SOME TROUBLES

PEKIN, April 21.—Another plot of the Blood and Iron society of Tientsin has been nipped in the bud. The government forces raided the headquarters of the organization and seized a large quantity of bombs, rifles, ammunition and miscellaneous explosives. Hundreds of arrests have been made and the government proposes to deal sternly with the plotters.

PEKIN, April 25.—The new republic is facing another obstacle in the form of three million Mohammedans in Kansu province who are arming against the government and preparing to set up an independent organization of their own. Steps are being taken by the Pekin government to send sufficient troops to the Kansu region to reduce the opposition and establish the authority of the central government.

TIENTSIN, April 20.—Six of the Chinese river pirates who participated in the murder of an American teacher named Hicks on the Yangtze river three weeks ago, and the wounding of his companion, who escaped to Sianfu, have confessed their crime and have been executed.

CRUEL REWARD FOR BLIND FAITH

Blind faith is regarded as a good thing when applied in some directions, but it does not always reap a righteous reward, as its eloquently shown by an ornate sign that recently decorated a restaurant in Kobe, Japan. The proprietress of the establishment, desiring to set forth the excellence of her fare in English to catch the eye of the tourist, entrusted the work of preparing a sign that would contain these facts, to a customer, an American or Englishman, whose sense of humor was most acute. The product of his labors, which was transferred to the sign with large splashes of vivid paint, follows:

NOTICE!

Having lately been Reddited and preparations have been made to supply those who may be given a look up, with Worst of Liquors and Food at a reasonable price, and served by the Ugliest Female Servants that can be procured.

The Establishment can not boast of a Proprietor, but is carried on by a Japanese lady who would not be thought handsome even in a crowd. The Cook when his face is washed is considered the best looking of the company. Come up and see us, and don't let the Japankishman bluff you by saying there is no such place as LONDON-HOUSE.

ELIOT IN PEKIN.

PEKIN, April 22.—Former President Charles W. Eliot of Harvard University, was the guest last night at a banquet given in his honor by the Harvard graduates in Pekin, of whom there are many, mostly Chinese but some Americans. The venerable educator and publicist was most enthusiastically received by his former students and welcomed to his work in behalf of peace in the Orient. Dr. Eliot is the guest of Minister Calhoun.

HOW CALIFORNIA GOES AHEAD

The monthly bulletin of the California Development Board gives the following data concerning progress of the state for the month of April, 1912:

The discouraging weather conditions early in the season have given place to brighter prospects for agricultural and horticultural crops and the realization of predictions for a prosperous year seem to be well justified.

Subdivision for colonization purposes of large tracts continues to attract the attention of investors in every section of the State. The railroads are enlarging their equipments and improving their facilities for better handling of shipments.

Mining operations are active and the new district in Modoc County is drawing many prospectors and investors.

The outlook for the oil industry continues to brighten. Cereal crops promise well with added acreage from spring sowing.

The new plantings of deciduous and citrus fruit trees has been very large. It is estimated that 1,000,000 fig trees have been planted in the San Joaquin Valley in the last three years.

The dairy, poultry and livestock industry have been much extended. A dairy and creamery ranch in Tulare County has been purchased for $130,000 and will be much improved.

The Hoiland-American Dairy Company are setting 5000 acres in alfalfa in Sacramento Valley and will import Holstein Frisian Stock and bring families from Europe to care for the work.

The orange crop is paying well. The shipments are in full blast now; 21,284 carloads up to the 22nd inst., or 6415 carloads less than up to April 24, 1911.

Melon shipments from Imperial County will reach 2600 carloads.

The apple shipments from Pajaro Valley are expected to reach 4500 carloads the coming season.

The cherry crop is expected to be a record breaker.

The Ramie factory in Sacramento is installing their machinery.

The number of new registrations of auto vehicles for the month of March as reported by the Secretary of State was 4470.

Two banking days less this month than in April, 1911.

The best investment today is the "Classified" page of The Star. It is a certain dividend payer.
