U. S. STANDS UP FOR STRICT NEUTRALITY IN RESOLUTION OF CONGRESS

URGES MILL RUN BY GOVERNMENT AS PLANTERS' AID

Small Sugar Growers Now at Mercy of Large Grinders, Says Petition to Solons

WILL BE TAKEN UP IN LEGISLATURE'S INQUIRY

Chemist Also Suggests Raising Other Crops to Help Farmer as Well as Industry

A central sugar mill, run by the government, is the recommendation to be laid before the legislature as a remedy for the grievances of small planters. These grievances, as well as the remedy, are set forth in a long communication to Speaker Holstein from William Antoni, a sugar chemist of Hilo. It was on the basis of this communication that Holstein introduced his resolution asking an investigation by the legislature and by Congress into the business methods of the large sugar mills.

If the senate concurs in the resolution the investigation will be begun immediately, probably by the house agricultural committee, of which D. F. R. Isenberg is chairman. It is likely, however, that the senate will ask to name representatives on the committee.

According to Holstein Attorney Irwin of Hilo is in the city and will represent the mills and large plantations in the investigation. Attorney Robert W. Breckons of Honolulu will represent the small homesteaders.

Antoni makes the allegation that the sugar planters are entirely at the mercy of the mills and must accept whatever price for their cane the mills fix. He says also that the price paid by the mills allows the mill to make a clear profit of from 25 to 27 cents on the dollar on cane raised by the small planter at his own risk.

The contracts made by the mills are of the "heads I win, tails you lose" order, he says.

Various of Crops Needed
An additional remedy suggested for the small planter is the introduction of other crops and, Antoni shows, how with government aid, these other products would not only help the farmer but enable the opening of many factories in the islands.

Antoni tells the history of the Hilo Puna Sugar Planters' Union, organized last February by planters' association on Hawaii. The sugar people have, however, refused to recognize the union, Antoni says.

"The really important thing though," he goes on, "is the price the mills pay the small planters for their cane. The contract that is enforced at present by the Brewer plantations is as follows:
"Out of every dollar that the mill receives for sugar it gives the small planter 48 cents. From 25 to 26 cents is consumed by cost of manufacturing and freight, and the rest, 2 to 3 cents, is clear profit to the mill or cane raised by the small planter at his own risk. The contract is of the 'heads I win, tails you lose' variety, sugar may go as low as $10 a ton and the mill will break loss even, whereas the small planter loses heavily; he only makes some money when sugar goes over $50; he never makes as much money on his own cane as the mill does. And the more cane a mill gets from small planters the more money it makes."
"The question now is: Is the mill entitled to an extra profit on the product of the small planter, in which it took absolutely no risk?
Price Rise Helps Mill Only.
"Another injustice lies in the fact that the mills pay the planter for his cane according to the price of sugar in New York during the month the cane was cut. The sugar reaches the market about a month later, and the price may have risen considerably, and it did this season. Is the mill entitled to this extra profit? The planter had to cut his cane when the mill wanted him to; he could not hold his cane for better prices. What can he do? He is absolutely in the power of the mill and has to accept what is handed out to him. Will an investigation help him? That remains to be seen. The mills do not deny the facts in the case, and it will depend on circumstances whether they will make concessions or not. They cannot be forced to do so.

SMART'S ATTACK ON FRED KNIGHT BRANDED FALSE

Attorneys For Mrs. Knight Demand Evidence to Support Charges

MORE "INSIDE HISTORY" ON COMPROMISE RELATED

W. A. Kinney Says Smart Has "Put Child on Market and Named Price"

Declaring that Henry Gaffard Smart's attack on Fred S. Knight of San Francisco is nothing but "character assassination" and a part of the legal fight over the Thelma Parker estate, attorneys for Mrs. Knight are demanding that Smart produce evidence to back up the assertions made in his statement filed in Kona yesterday as answer to Mrs. Knight's original charges.

It was expected today that on behalf of Mrs. Knight a demand would be filed in the Kona court for a bill of particulars to add to what are branded the unsupported accusations of Smart against Knight and his wife, the late Thelma Parker's mother. The accusations against the latter are particularly that she has a vindictive hatred for young Smart and that her home is not a fit place in which to rear a baby son of the Hawaiian heiress.

While this phase of the legal contest is being developed in Kona, the local circuit court has been the scene of more activity. Late yesterday W. A. Kinney, attorney for Mrs. Knight, filed in Judge Whitney's court an affidavit in reply to affidavits previously filed in opposition to the suggestion of Judge Whitney's disqualification to sit in the Thelma Parker will case.

In this he answers the charge made by Frank E. Thompson, attorney for Smart, that Kinney backed out of a compromise agreement after it had been reached. He disclaims in some detail the situation as it developed.

He denies any breach of faith on his part.

Furthermore, in this affidavit he makes the following emphatic charge: "Notwithstanding the protestations of Mr. Smart that he would never consider giving up the child, deponent points out that that is just what he has offered and so far as he was concerned attempted to do in offering (Continued on page eight)

More Defenses For Oahu Carried In Bill Just Passed by Congress

Infantry Redoubts and Other Prepared Positions Expected to Be Constructed

The Star-Bulletin sent a message to the Associated Press today asking if the army appropriation bill had been passed by Congress and received a reply that it had passed. Local army men were much interested in the fate of the bill.

The passage of the sundry civil bill during the closing hours of Congress will mean increased defenses for Oahu, according to the understanding of army officers here. The bill carried an item of $4,000,000 for fortifications and it is understood that approximately $1,000,000 of this amount will be allotted for the land defenses of Oahu.

The plans of the Macomb board which reported on the defense of Oahu two years and a half ago, call for infantry redoubts and other prepared positions and entrenchments, and it is understood that the new fortifications bill will provide for their construction. There are no additions to the seacoast fortifications contemplated at present.

In what form, if at all, the army appropriation bill was passed, is a matter of great interest to the service here. When the bill went to the senate, the proposed legislation to include captives of the Porto Rican regiment in the regular line of the infantry, was cut out, and whether this was put back in conference is not known here.

WILSON CALLS ON COUNTRY TO WORK FOR PEACE

Commenting on Work of Congress, Says Business Has Now Time for Adjustment

SIXTY-THIRD SESSION LEAVES MUCH UNFINISHED

Ship Purchase, Philippine and Conservation Bills Among Those Which Failed

[A. P. by Fed. Wireless]
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4.—With an earnest request that every good American citizen should guard his country's peace, President Wilson's comment on the session of the Sixty-third Congress which adjourned today is that business has now time to turn from legislation to adjustment with the war-clouds as the only disturbing element in the situation.
In the course of his statement concerning the work of Congress he said: "A great Congress has closed. Its work will prove the quality of its statesmanship the more the longer it is tested. Business has now time for calm and thoughtful adjustment, with the war the only disturbing element."
"The constant thought of every patriot should be his country, its peace, its order, its just-tempered judgment in the face of perplexing difficulties."
The adjournment of Congress today brought to a close the public careers of several national figures, among them Senator Elihu Root, who retires from public life after long service.

WORK OF CONGRESS BRIEFLY SUMMED UP

[A. P. by Fed. Wireless]
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4.—Congress adjourned today, also, with no talk of an even session. Its appropriations total $1,120,494,324. The current appropriations for the postal service and the Indian bill were extended one year.

The president has signed the essemment bill, over which there is much controversy. He believes its broad language avoids the violation of the treaties with foreign nations.

He has also signed a resolution voting medals to the "A. B. C." medallion who worked out the plan for adjustment in Mexico.

Among the measures which failed to pass are the ship purchase bill, the conservation bill, the rural credits bill and the Colombian and Nicaraguan treaties.

WEST VIRGINIA MINING MAN HERE; AWAITS MORE NEWS ON FATAL DISASTER

Detailed news of the mine disaster reported by Associated Press from Hinton, West Virginia, is eagerly awaited by W. P. Tams, a tourist in Hawaii.

Tams is a mine-owner and operator in the Hinton district and late yesterday he did not know whether or not the disaster had occurred in any of his mines. He left on the Matsunaka for Hilo but may cut short his visit here and return to the mainland.

"I do not understand how 182 men could have been entombed at night, as stated in the despatches," he comments, "for at 4:30 the day's work is over and no such number of men work in any mine in this section at night."

THAYER SEES NO REAL HUMOR IN 'LAWBOOK FIGHT'

In Formal Letter to Senate He Asks for Receipt for the Missing Volume

Secretary of the Territory Thayer declines to see any humor in the "lawbook fight." He has written a formal letter to the senate about it with a rather summary request that the senate come through with a receipt for one missing volume, Revised Laws of 1915.

As told in the second edition of the Star-Bulletin yesterday a baby typhoon raged around the senate chamber and capitol halls yesterday afternoon because Thayer had taken from the senate chamber a copy of the new Revised Laws and because later the sergeant-at-arms was instructed to get it back.

The situation has seemed to amuse the senators highly but it does not amuse Thayer. He sent the following letter to the president of the senate today:

"Mar. 4, 1915.
Hon. Charles F. Chillingworth,
President of the Senate,
Honolulu, Hawaii.

"Dear Sir: Both in the afternoon paper of yesterday and in the morning paper of today, I see a long account of a debate which took place in the senate yesterday relating to the matter of the three copies of the Revised Laws of 1915 which are in possession of the senate. The implication in these articles and the statements reported to have been made by the senators present a serious charge against myself which I do not feel I can leave unanswered.

"I beg to call your attention to Act 11 of the Session Laws of 1913, which created the commission to compile the Revised Laws of 1915. Section 10 of said act provides as follows:

"The said commission shall be printed and bound and shall be presented by the commission to the legislature at its next regular session; provided, however, that when said commission is completed the secretary of the territory shall cause such a number of copies thereof as to him may seem necessary to be printed and bound, which, when so printed and bound, may be furnished by him free of charge to government officials for official use, and may be sold by him at ten dollars ($10.00) a volume for the benefit of the Territory."

"On Monday, March 1, six copies of the Revised Laws of 1915 were delivered by the Star-Bulletin, Ltd., to the Legislature. These copies should have been delivered, in accordance with the terms of the above quoted section, to the secretary to be by him delivered to the senate and the house. The Star-Bulletin Co. informed me on Tuesday that no more copies of the Revised Laws of 1915 would be ready for distribution until next Monday. As the work of all the executive departments was being held up pending the securing of copies of the new laws, I secured from the house of representatives one copy of the three which had been delivered to it, and I took the same action in the senate.

"You will please note that these volumes were legally placed in my custody by the act referred to, and the mere fact of their delivery to the senate does not relieve me of my responsibility for accounting for them. The statements made in the senate, therefore, that I had acted without right in securing a copy from the senate for the use of the executive department are incorrect. All of the volumes at present in the hands of the senate are still legally in my custody, and must be so until I have delivered them to the senate, and received the receipt of the clerk of the senate therefor.

"If the proceedings in the senate concerning this matter are to remain upon the Record, I respectfully suggest that this letter also be made a part of the Senate Record.

"I further request that a receipt for the volumes of the Revised Laws of 1915 still remaining in the possession of the senate be forwarded to me at your early convenience."

Yours very truly,
WADE WARREN THAYER,
Secretary of Hawaii."

THE MOANALUA LINKS IN GOOD CONDITION.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
Sir: I read with interest an article in your paper of the 1st inst. written from Fort Shafter, February 28, wherein your correspondent, in speaking of the golf course at Moanalua, states that this course has gone off badly in the last few weeks, and is now far from being the source of pleasure it used to be in other days. Being a golfer myself and always having particularly enjoyed playing at Moanalua, I went down there at once with Mr. Frank Halsey for the purpose of inspecting the course, and we found the fairway and greens to be in just as good condition as they ever have been with the exception of the holes, which need to be shifted. This we had attended to at the time of our inspection, and have no hesitancy in stating that the links at Moanalua are second to none in the territory, and that playing there is as great a source of pleasure and satisfaction, to us at least, as it ever has been.

H. B. GIFFORD,
Honolulu, March 4, 1915.

A FACTOR FOR AMERICANIZATION.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
Sir: While we are Americanizing these islands let us Englishize the language. Has anybody ever given attention to the smallest degree, to the "lingo" that is used by gatherings of school boys to express themselves during their play hours in school seclusion, as well as when in their own home neighborhood? In an altercation over a game of marbles a little Japanese boy exclaims to his adversary, "You no can do," to which his FULL BLOODED AMERICAN opponent replies, "For what I can no do? You no can say too much on this game."

There you are. The above is only a sample of the diction one hears continually from the children at play. It is a melting pot composite brought to general use by the children of this city. The school children are not the only offenders in this respect. Listen to the confab of crowds of young men standing on the corners of our streets, especially on Saturday evening, and if you have any sensibilities for the English language as it should be spoken, you will experience several large sized jolts from Young America.

It would seem and is apparently a fact that teaching correct English speaking is one of the principal duties of our public school teachers, but as soon as the child passes the portals of the school room that "attention to correct speaking" drops from him like a cloak and he at once takes up the composite "lingo" that is heard on every side.

That this state of affairs exists will be vouched for by any public school teacher in the territory. Where is the remedy? If this city was located east of the Rocky mountains we would answer that the remedy was right in the home, for obvious reasons. A public school teacher may accomplish very little in school hours towards the acquisition by the pupil of good English without the cooperation of good teaching or example in the home. One of the greatest advantages to children is to have parents who at all times use good English, and who read good books, especially aloud to their young hopefuls.

The teacher in our public schools has about 40 minutes a day to devote to a lecture on the correct use of the English language, and that does not seem to be a drop in the ocean of "English as she is spoke," that the child has at his tongue's end, and which he uses on all occasions except within the four walls of the school-room, and there are moments when he lapses from the straight and narrow path of correct diction even in that sanctuary.

In mainland cities where but two or possibly three nationalities embrace the different races attending the public schools, it is hard enough for the school teacher to contend with the "outside influences" of language "lingo," but here this duty is many times manifold on account of the fact that 10 to 15 races are represented in the scholars attending school.

Parents who labor under the impression that by sending the child to school for a couple of hours a day their responsibility for the child's education ceases, and that they have no further part in the mind training of the youth, are far from right. The parent plays the most important part in the development of the future citizen. The teacher in the schoolroom cannot teach English with any hope of success unless she receives assistance by home influences along that very important line. It devolves on the mother, who is in the best possible position to achieve this great thing. And again we state that through obvious reasons the child in the majority of cases is handicapped on this "parent assistance" essential.

That the present local condition of affairs, where in the majority of cases the child can receive no help from home teaching and assistance for the reason that the parents cannot even speak the English language, is to go on clearly appears from the actions and language of our Democratic President, who thinks it perfectly proper to admit into this country the ignorant, illiterate and un-American horde from every country under the sun. To the writer's way of thinking we will never become Americanized, or have our language Englishized if we extend the glad hand to all comers, regardless of source or condition. There

COUNTY TO SAVE $15,000 PAVING LUSO STREET

The county is to be $15,000 richer, according to the discovery of the road committee in connection with the improvements on Luso street. The last board of supervisors appropriated $5000 for the paving of this street, to which the present board added an appropriation of $10,000.

However, the road committee, of which J. C. Quinn, is chairman, found that by Act '95, passed by the legislature April 23, 1913, $60,000 was appropriated from the general revenues of the territory for the paving of the streets in the Awaolu district, of which Luso street is one. Consequently Supervisors Quinn and Ahia referred the matter to C. R. Forbes, superintendent of public works, and J. D. Tucker, land commissioner, and learned that the county would have the $15,000 refunded when the next quarterly payments on the lots, sold in the tract, come due.

The road committee is planning an automobile trip to the northern end of the island tomorrow to inspect the four-mile road between Waimea and Kalahehi. Two bids for improving this road have been received. The lower bid was $36,800, but Chairman Quinn thinks the work can be done for less than $20,000.

BIRTHS

may have been a time, when half of the country was uncultured, but conditions change.

The first law of nature is self preservation, and this will apply to nations as well as to nature. Let us make sure for the future of our children and their children's children, before we fall over ourselves with a welcome on the necks of countless thousands of foreigners unless they are of a character which will not crowd our own wage earners to the wall and compel us to reduce our present high standard of living.

Representative Nawahine is trying to revive an old bill in the present legislature to the effect that the Hawaiian language be taught in the public schools of the territory. Again, do not lose sight of the fact that this is American territory. Might as well pass a bill to teach the Eskimo language in northern Alaska public schools. Allowing that the Hawaiian language be taught in the public schools of the territory, who is it to benefit? What nationality predominates 10 to 1 in our public schools? Is it the Hawaiian? Scout the idea. Let's get a fairly firm grip on the English language before we bite off any more educational friars.

DAMAGING EVIDENCE AGAINST KUPIHEA GIVEN BY SISTER

Judge Whitney Also Testifies Representative Did Not Protect Daughter From Evil

More damaging evidence against David M. Kupihea, representative from Oahu, was given late yesterday at the third hearing of the house investigating committee when Mrs. Lou Johnson, mother of Rose Johnson, one of the girls concerned, and sister of Kupihea, declared she saw both Kupihea and his wife in company with several soldiers and the girls at the luau in the cottage at the rear of Kupihea's home on Christmas day.

"Was Kupihea at the luau in the uncultured part of the cottage?" asked Chairman Rawlins of the witnesses.

"Yes, both Kupihea and his wife were there. I was passing the front part of the house and the door was open, so I looked in as I passed," she answered in Hawaiian.

"Were the girls there?"

"Yes, I saw the girls and some soldiers sitting down there also," she answered.

"How long did the party keep up?"

"During the day and part of the night."

"How many days did it last?"

"One day."

"Was that on Christmas?"

"I think so."

"Did you make any complaint?"

"Yes, I went to United States Attorney McCann, but he wasn't in. His boy, though, who I think was named Mendel, told me to go to the police. So I went to see Charlie Rose, but he wasn't in. I went to the police again, but nothing happened."

"Why did you complain? Was it about the noise?" Rawlins continued.

"Yes, and also because of my little girl. Mrs. Johnson replied in Hawaiian.

"Did you ever tell your little girl to stay away from the soldiers?"

"Yes, but I couldn't make her obey me. She has an awful temper."

"How did you happen to have the Kupihea girls staying at your place?"

"I felt sorry for them, so when Rose told me that Kupihea had ordered them out of his home and had thrown their clothes out after them, I invited them to live with me."

We have been in business in this town for many years, and we are looking to build up trade by always advising our patrons right.

So when we tell you that we have found the remedy for skin trouble, and we stand back of it with the manufacturer's iron clad guarantee, backed by ourselves, you can depend upon it that we give our advice not to order to sell a few bottles of medicine to skin sufferers, but because we know how it will help our business if we help our patrons.

We know that all skin troubles are caused by the same thing, and we will say this: If you are suffering from any kind of skin trouble, eczema, psoriasis, itchy or stinging, we want you to try a full size bottle of D. D. D. Prescription. And if it does not do the work, this

Circuit Judge Whitney, presiding over the juvenile court, related the past official history of the Kupihea girls. He said that they were first brought before him on April 4, 1912, and that at that time he requested Kupihea to confer with him over the disposition of their cases. He said Kupihea did not heed the request.

Again on June 4 the girls were brought to court for running around the streets at night. The judge said, and Kupihea was asked to take some action, which the court said, Kupihea failed to do. On February 3, 1913, the girls were brought before the juvenile court again and in September of 1913 the younger girl was brought up after it was discovered that she was involved with a Chinaman on Liliha street. Evidence was introduced at that time to show that the Chinaman had a trap door at the Liliha street place and whenever visitors came he would hide the girl under the trap door.

On October 8, 1913, the girls were brought in again and committed to the Girls' Industrial school. A few days later Kupihea made application to the court for permission to take the girls out of the industrial school and place them in a convent. Permission was granted, but a month later, Judge Whitney said, the convent informed the court that Kupihea had refused to pay the girls' tuition and that the girls had consequently been released. Later the girls were sent to a day school.

Rose Johnson, who said she was 14 years old, took the stand and related her part in the affair. She said her father was a season and was usually at sea. She said she had frequently gone in the uncultured part of the cottage with the soldiers and the Kupihea girls. She said she saw Kupihea there at the same time that the soldiers and the girls were there. She said that the soldiers gave the girls 15 cents once to buy candy.

"How many times did you see your uncle David with the soldiers?" Rawlins asked.

"Several times. Sometimes at night and sometimes during the day."

"Who gave these soldiers permission to go into the house with you?"

"They said 'David.'"

The hearing will be continued Saturday at 1 o'clock.

TELESCRIBE SEEN FOR FIRST TIME AT PANAMA FAIR

[By Latest Mail]
SAN FRANCISCO.—Among the remarkable exhibits for the Panama-Pacific International Exposition is the "Telecribe." This is a combination of telephone and dictaphone, and has never before been exhibited at an international exposition, says the Chronicle. It fulfills Mr. Edison's prediction that perfection in telephonic communication would be reached only when means were discovered for combining the telephone and phonograph in order that telephone messages might be properly recorded.

When the receiver of the desk telephone is removed from the hook and placed in the socket of the "telecribe" the acoustic connection of the dictating machine is made and then the user takes up the small receiver attached to a "telecribe," and begins conversation. In this way both sides of the conversation are recorded on the telecribe cylinder and communication with the central operator is shut off, thus preventing "breaking in" on the line.

The value of the telecribe is shown by the fact that the telephone system transmits 60 per cent of all forms of communication in the United States, totaling 15,000,000,000 conversations a year, a grand total in excess of the number of telegrams, letters and railroad passengers in the same period.

ing one or more central mills for his benefit. This could easily be done at Hilo where there is much government land and many small planters nearby. And it must be admitted that the opportunity is splendid. But other planters are too far away from Hilo, too scattered, and without transportation facilities, to reap any benefit from a central mill.

"If they get no relief from their mills they could be helped by the introduction of other crops than cane, crops that have a high value and can afford transportation charges. There are several crops well suited for such a purpose, but the difficulty lies in introducing them. It is comparatively easy to show the men that other crops can be grown, but the main question is: Where can they sell them? The territorial market in solving part of the problem, but other means should be provided. One way would be to grow crops that would furnish raw material for factories."

Flax Profitable.
"Take for instance flax. Dr. Wilcox claims that it would grow here without difficulty. The seed would have a high value and could be sent to a factory for the production of linseed oil. This would be used to make paints and inks, right here in the islands and keep hundreds of thousands of dollars at home that now go to the mainland. From the fiber of the flax we could make linen or other textiles (maybe sugar bags). If the government should take over a local mill, as has been proposed, part of the land could be used for introducing such crops as flax; a linseed oil factory and a textile mill would be added to the sugar mill and an industrial nucleus would be created for the benefit of the small farmers. He would have the choice between several crops and be independent of individual mills."

"Yours very truly,
WILLIAM ANTONI.

BIG BUILDINGS AT SHAFTER TO STORE SUPPLIES

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

FORT SHAFTER, March 4.—It is unofficially announced that Fort Shafter has been allotted funds for the construction of five large storehouses for the storage of reserve materials and supplies for the army in Hawaii. These buildings will be built by contract and will be over 200 feet long with a width of 40 feet. The material for the walls and roofs will be the heaviest of corrugated iron while the framework and floors will be of pine. The site for the buildings will be the plot of ground lying next to the Pacific fertilized works which will give both railroad and electric car line facilities at a minimum expense of construction of switches and connections. The funds for this work will not be available until after June 30 but the preliminaries attendant upon contracts will all be completed before that date so that construction can be rushed. One of the storehouses will be allotted to the medical department for the use of the supply depot that is to be established here by that department.

TINDALL HEARING SET FOR SATURDAY

E. L. Tindall of the British steamer Kestrel, charged by the police with heedless and reckless driving of an automobile, was arraigned in police court this morning. Tindall was represented by Judge W. L. Stanley, who asked for more time to prepare the defense. Prosecuting Attorney Chillingworth consented to the request, saying that he had a number of children now attending the public schools who are alleged to have witnessed Tindall's handling of his car, who would be called to testify. The case was set for Saturday morning. According to Special Officer Chilton, Tindall is said to have run down a motorcycle belonging to C. Williams, partly wrecking the machine.

CHILD WELFARE WORKERS STATE BASIC POLICIES

Statements of Aims Adopted to Be Referred to Individual Organizations

A statement of its general policy was adopted unanimously yesterday by the Central Committee on Child Welfare. This action was followed by a motion which put into the hands of the executive board the application of these principles to individual cases.

Miss Bergen, the social investigator, spoke of the protective societies in Chicago and New York, which work successfully along the lines believed to be needed in this city.

This statement is to be referred back to the various organizations represented for individual signatures, as any organization of women and also any individual woman may become a member of their central committee, and all who so desire will be given a part in this work.

The statement is as follows: "We, women of Honolulu, banded together in a Central Committee on Child Welfare, believe that, whenever the rights of the child are invaded, it is essential to the purposes of this organization to take cognizance of those social questions which affect the integrity of the family, and to do our part in the upbuilding of a vigilant public opinion."

"We believe the young of both sexes are the peculiar prey of evil men and women, who would profit to the destruction of society, and that society owes to all youth the protection of sound social custom, embodied in and enforced by law and sustained by public opinion."

"We deprecate alike the injustice which, insolent and aggressive, shields the boy at the expense of the girl, and the vindictive desire to get even which too often lurks under the cloak of the avowed champion of the girl. An unprejudiced hearing and justice are the rights of every girl and boy alike."

"In maintaining the above named public policies and in securing to individuals the above named rights, we pledge our service."

SUPERVISORS FAVOR WAYSON'S HOSPITAL PLAN

City and County Physician Wayson's plan for adjustment of the difficulties between the city and the Queen's hospital officers finds favor with Supervisors Holtzner and Horner and Mayor Lane.

Holtzner objects to the proposal of the hospital authorities that the city pay the salary of the extra intern which will be required in the event that the hospital builds the proposed addition for city and county patients, while Mayor Lane is working on proposed amendments to the proposal submitted by Dr. Wayson, which he says if carried out will win his indorsement of the proposal.

"I can't see why the city and county should pay the salary of any extra intern which might be needed at the proposed addition," said Holtzner today. "Inasmuch as the city pays so much per head for county patients, the erection of an addition will provide more room for the hospital and eventually will be a necessity from their own standpoint. If that part is taken off, I will favor the proposal."

HIS LETTER AND ITS QUEER TURN

The Bellingham, Wash., Reveille tells this bit of romance involving Honolulu:

"Last August a high school student of the city saw a picture in the current number of a magazine, depicting a group of high school girls of the McKinley high school in Honolulu, Hawaii. Being of an experimental turn of mind, he clipped the illustration from the magazine, pasted it upon an envelope and marked one of the girl's faces with an arrow. A letter addressed to the 'girl with the marked face' was written and inclosed in the envelope. Then he wrote a letter to the principal of the school, stating his reasons for writing, and started the two epistles on the way."

Months passed and the student forgot the episode. Yesterday he received a note from Honolulu from the young woman 'with the marked face' saying that she had just returned from a visit to Seattle and that upon her return the principal had shown her the letter. The picture in the magazine was of a very pretty young girl and since the note, which came yesterday, goes to show that she is a native of the United States and not of Hawaii, the high school student contemplates a journey to the South Pacific to accept the invitation of his correspondent to spend the winter in a country where the climate 'never changes.'"

LEGISLATIVE NOTES

Rev. Frank Scudder invoked divine blessing on the senators when the upper legislative branch convened this afternoon. He took the place of the regularly appointed senate chaplain, who was suddenly called to Bwa this morning by the illness of his wife.

An explanation coming from Secretary W. W. Thayer's office today concerning his action in taking a volume of 1915 revised laws from the senate chamber yesterday morning is that he, as secretary, and in charge of the printing and distribution of the revised laws, had not given the books to the senate, and that that body therefore was not regularly authorized to keep them. His version is said to be that the committee or commission appointed to compile the revised laws did not receive at the same time authority to print them and distribute them. The latter duty fell to the secretary of the territory. But the senate recovered the volume in dispute, so the incident was regarded by the senators this morning as a closed chapter.

COMPENSATION ACT FAVORED BY COMMERCIAL MEN

Without indorsing any of the several proposed workmen's compensation bills, the Chamber of Commerce at a special meeting late yesterday voted to go on record as favoring the principle of workmen's compensation for injuries and accidents.

There was considerable discussion prior to the adoption of a resolution over the relative merits of the various proposed bills at this session of the legislature, but the discussion finally came to a close when it was decided to leave the matter of details to the legislative committee of the chamber. The resolution is as follows:

"Be it resolved that the Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu go on record as favoring a workmen's compensation act and leaving to the legislative committee of the chamber the adjustment of the proper principles to be incorporated therein."

Dr. Frederick L. Hoffman, actuary for the Prudential Company, and one of the company's leading statisticians, spoke so convincingly on the subject that it is now planned to have him address members of the senate.

PUNAHOU MOTHERS MEET TOMORROW TO DISCUSS PROBLEMS OF SCHOOL

The Punahou mothers' meeting called by President Griffiths of Punahou, to which invitations have been sent out to all Punahou mothers, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in Charles R. Bishop hall.

The invitations are informal, being sent out by the trustees through the students of the school. If by any chance a mother has not received an invitation the trustees are anxious that she regard herself as invited. It is desired that every Punahou mother be present.

This is the first gathering of Punahou mothers as far as is known. The meeting will discuss plans for cooperation in questions which arise in the training of children and will attempt to work out some plan by which mothers and teachers can work together in solving some of these problems.

The proposal for some such meeting came almost simultaneously from a number of mothers and from the school authorities. Enough questions on which action can be taken have already been suggested to insure the success of the meeting.

BACK FROM THE FIRING LINE

First Aid to the Wounded.

Paris, March 4.—At almost every station on the railroads you will see men shattered and wrecked for life, men who must face the future horribly mutilated, and yet they accept their fate without a murmur of complaint or bitterness. It is the same in England, in France, and I suppose, in Russia, that all soldiers are bearing their sufferings with the greatest of fortitude.

The best aid these men have is within themselves. The human body will best resist infection from bullets when it is healthy, strong, active and with all its functions fully alive and working. The best aid to this condition is a vegetable tonic and alternative that will first put the stomach and blood right, for these are dependent on one another. Good stomach means good blood, and likewise good blood means good stomach.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery helps the stomach to do its work naturally and properly, stimulates the liver. The system is freed from poisons. The blood is purified. Every organ is rejuvenated. This "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce, is free from alcohol or narcotics. It is made from the roots and barks of American forest plants with triple refined glycerine, and is the best blood purifier, because it banishes from the blood all poison and impure matter. It dissolves impure deposits and carries them out, as it does all impurities, through the bowels, kidneys and skin. If you have indigestion, sluggish liver, catarrh, unsteady nerves, or a pimply skin, get Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery today and start at once to replace your impure blood with the kind that puts energy and ambition into you and brings back youth and vigor.—Adv.

CHECKING THE HEEDLESS AUTOISTS.

Judge Monsarrat's severity in dealing with autoists convicted yesterday in police court of law violation ought to go a long way toward checking the heedless drivers and the joy-ride gentry.

A vigorous crusade by the police, backed up with the judicial firmness shown by the district magistrate, will convince the reckless, take-a-chance fellows that they must observe the traffic laws. It is literally true that a large proportion of the men—and women—who drive cars in Honolulu are careless about the provisions of the law such as running on the wrong side of the street. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, nothing happens when the law is disregarded. In the hundredth case there is a collision, or a pedestrian knocked down, or something of the sort. And then comes the police court and its unenviable notoriety.

One phase of yesterday's police court record deserves notice. In passing sentence upon a city official who admitted that he had not thought it necessary to light his lamps at dusk and who further admitted that he tried to drive his car after he found the steering gear defective, Judge Monsarrat said that the driver had laid himself open to full responsibility for the violation of the law. Although his carelessness was in two minor details, he was as fully responsible as though he had injured badly instead of slightly the man he struck. And because he had thus made himself responsible he must be punished.

This attitude on the part of the district magistrate should be a corrective for heedlessness on the public streets. Whether accidents do or do not follow from careless driving, the careless driver is a menace and should be dealt with as a menace. Judge Monsarrat is doing it.

AUTO TROUBLES ELSEWHERE.

Honolulu's auto troubles appear to be paralleled by those of Tacoma. A late Tacoma paper states on official information that "half the automobiles in Pierce county are operating in violation of the state law," and mentions the employment of a man by the county to enforce the law—being one who lost a foot in an accident while employed as county motorcycle officer.

"About half the machines checked so far," the report says, "are said to be operating under licenses that have expired or have the license tag improperly displayed." Several machines have been operated on one license, license tags are so worn as to be unrecognizable and salesmen are imposing on the authorities by operating many demonstrating cars on one license—all of which sounds like the noise made by a meeting of the chamber of commerce of Honolulu on a not remote occasion.

In Honolulu a certain number of cars are allowed under one license for demonstration purposes, but in Washington state it seems the rule is "one license one car." There is a provision requiring the number to be displayed so that it can be easily read at a distance of 100 feet.

A FREE DISPENSARY NEEDED.

In connection with the discussion of improved arrangements for hospital treatment of the poor, the matter of the free dispensary should be considered.

Some years ago the board of health summarily ejected the dispensary from the quarters in which it was found when transferred from territorial to county control, and the municipality having neither land nor money for a building the dispensary thenceforth came to be operated at the private office of the city and county physician. This has been an unsatisfactory arrangement, apart from its being an imposition on the physician.

Whether the suggestion lately coming from Dr. Wayson, of arranging with the Queen's hospital for having an emergency and examination annex to that institution under partly municipal control, be adopted or not, whatever provision is made for the indigent sick and victims of accident among workmen ought to include a free dispensary of modern type.

In this connection a movement lately started by 15 or 20 physicians of Tacoma may furnish a valuable example to Honolulu. From an editorial in the Tacoma News the following excerpts are taken to show the nature of the proposed new style of dispensary for that city:

"It will embody the advantages of the old form of city dispensary but without the evils which in some cases have surrounded it. And it will have the additional distinct public benefit of being able to reach out with helpful hands to gather in those unfortunates who ordinarily must ask help oftener than once before they get it. For these men propose, indeed, a sort of medical survey of the city. Such a survey would serve to check incipient epidemics, seize contagion in its beginnings and discover tuberculosis and other maladies at curable stages."

In the suggestion of the last sentence there is food for reflection on the part of all those benevolent spirits here who are engaged in the campaign against the "great white plague." Referring to the reported interest being taken in the movement by the physicians mentioned, the article says:

"Their altruism is commendable. They propose to welcome to this unselfish work all reputable physicians who are willing to help. The poor thus will be able to procure medical attention equal to that which abundant money will buy. It is an undertaking which benevolence commends and science applauds, and surely the county commissioners scarcely can afford to withhold the slight cost which the plan contemplates—about $150 a month—and surely the medical profession generally speaking cannot afford to place obstacles in its way."

CLEWS OPTIMISM.

"There is one fundamental factor upon which to build confidence; that is there will be a good demand for our food products for months to come, war or no war. We have plenty to spare for export from the crops of 1914; and all indications point to a large acreage in 1915. Europe it is certain will raise small crops next year, even if the war terminates earlier than expected. For many reasons European soil cannot be adequately tilled this year and it will be years before the devastated districts can fully recuperate. We may be sure, therefore, of profitable prices for our surplus food products for some time to come. Additional reasons for confidence are the early adjournment of Congress and the failure of the ship-purchase bill."—Henry Clews' weekly trade letter.

The Central Committee on Child Welfare has an opportunity in Honolulu to accomplish very great good. Hard, persistent and far-sighted work is needed. By the way, what do the women of the committee and the organizations back of it, think of the plan to operate theaters on Sunday? Do they believe it will promote the welfare of the children of Honolulu? Do they consider it wise to amend the territorial law so that moving-picture shows can be given on Sunday? This is a question very likely to be brought up in the legislature soon.

The withdrawal of the Ships' Purchase bill means the defeat of President Wilson on a piece of legislation behind which he had put the full force of his administration. It was defeated not because he had made it a party measure, but because the country at large felt the proposed law was economically hazardous and internationally risky.

SENATORS AS GUESTS OF GOVERNOR EMPHASIZE BROAD WORK FOR HAWAII

Upper House, at Dinner Given by Executive, Glad to Express Its Appreciation

The heartiest good will and the most sincere desire for mutual cooperation between the governor and the upper house of the legislature were strongly in evidence last night at a dinner given to the senators by Governor Pinkham at his residence, Lunailo and Hackfeld streets.

Every member of the senate was present and several other invited guests. The broad lanes of Dr. C. B. Cooper's home were effectively and appropriately decorated in the national colors and the Hawaiian flag and during the evening the Hawaiian band, an orchestra and singers provided much-appreciated music.

The dinner, while quite informal in tone, was marked by a number of felicitous speeches in which the senators expressed their belief in the governor's policies of work for the welfare of Hawaii and offered him their support. That the upper house does not look upon its duties in a partisan light, that party lines are to a very large extent disregarded and entirely so on questions affecting the general welfare, that the executive has the support of both Republicans and Democrats, were some of the sentiments happily expressed by the speakers. All of the speeches were extemporaneous and in the nature of friendly talks around the banquet table, the governor setting the keynote in his brief remarks. Several of the speakers laid emphasis on the necessity of legislation that will encourage and strengthen the national guard, and Col. J. W. Jones, adjutant-general, outlined in some detail several of the aims the guard hopes to accomplish. Reference was made also to the desirability of public action to beautify Honolulu and give its public buildings effective grouping and surroundings.

Mayor Lane, one of the governor's guests, in a well-phrased speech humorously depicted some of the troubles of a mayor and ended by asking the senators to cooperate with the city in securing a new city hall.

During the evening every guest was called on for a talk and all responded. President Chillingworth of the upper house sat on the governor's right with Mayor Lane at his left. At the other end of the table was Dr. Cooper, who had on his right Secretary of the Territory Thayer and on his left Senator James L. Coke. President Chillingworth assured the governor that the senators individually and collectively are glad to work with him for the success of the legislature of 1915 and for the territory of Hawaii.

Those present last night were the governor, Dr. C. B. Cooper, Senators Chillingworth, Rice, Coke, Wirtz, Mickle, Baldwin, Baker, Lauke, Robinson, Penhallow, Castle, Quinn, DeSha, Metzger, Makekau, Secretary of the Territory Thayer, Riley H. Allen, Col. J. W. Jones and Mayor Lane.

2ND INFANTRY IN ANNUAL DINNER COMMEMORATES 124-YEAR HISTORY

Regiment's Long Existence and Splendid Record Is Emphasized in Speeches

The annual dinner of the officers of the 2d Infantry took place last evening in the upper dining-room of the Young hotel. The occasion was the anniversary of the organization of the regiment, which event occurred 124 years ago yesterday. The number seated at the long table was 40, and this assemblage was headed by Col. Francis H. French, who presided, and was talked off by 2d Lieut. Woodfin Grady Jones, the latest addition to the command. The committee on arrangements, of which Lieut. Lloyd F. Fredendall was the active head, had provided a handsomely appointed table with decorations in brilliant red carnations with ferns and candles with shades to match the flowers. The officers of the regiment in tropical full dress, assembled on the roof garden of the hotel and precisely at 7:30 o'clock, marched to the banquet room. As the column entered the room the orchestra of the 2d struck up the regimental march, "Annie Laurie," and the diners moved to their places at table to that air.

Col. French officiated as toastmaster for the evening and, following the standing toast to the President, introduced the first speaker to reply to the toast, "The Regiment." In a well digested resume of the services of the 2d, Lieut. Col. B. W. Atkinson, the speaker, pointed out the path of the future as one lighted by the glory of the regiment's past services.

This was followed by the officers rising and singing "Annie Laurie." Capt. Cullison, replying to "The Ladies," made a clever speech and successfully defended his position as a bachelor, while laying a gallant tribute at the feet of the fair sex. Chaplain W. R. Scott, in replying to the subject, "Notes on Equitation," that had been assigned him, made the hit of the evening in a witty series of remarks, ending with a classical appeal and a fervent demand for a toast to "The Horse."

The chaplain represented the class in equitation and right worthily did he perform the duty. The last toast in the list, "To those who are soon to leave the Second Infantry, Aloha," was replied to by Capt. William R. Gibson, as representing those soon to be detached for duty with other organizations. This list includes Capt. Harris and Kay, Lieuts. Mathews and Wright and Maj. Smith. After a glowing tribute to the 2d, Capt. Gibson called on each of those who will shortly leave for remarks, and these responded and each voiced his personal regret at the prospective separation.

Capt. Gibson then concluded with an appeal to the younger officers to remember that the regiment, by reason of the rule of foreign service, would gradually lose the older officers and that therefore the regiment's future was largely in their hands. He was most effective in his appeal and, upon conclusion, was loudly applauded. With the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," accompanied by the orchestra, the banquet was concluded.

The committee in charge of arrangements was the directorate of the regimental mess, of which Col. French is president; Capt. Kay, vice-president; Lieut. Hoffmann, secretary; and Lieuts. Fredendall, Preston, Calder and Silvester, directors.

CITY PURCHASING BUREAU RESULTS IN LARGE SAVING NOTED ACTUARY WILL SPEAK TO MEDICAL SOCIETY

The new purchasing department has already begun to show a saving even beyond the amount predicted by the board when the department was established, according to Purchasing Agent E. J. Botts. The great economy possible through the submitting of bids to the city for furnishing building materials, fuel oil, feed, gasoline and office supplies is gratifying to the supervisors.

The 38 bids received already and tabulated by Purchasing Agent E. J. Botts shows some striking reductions on commodities used by the city and county in upkeep and routine work. Botts points out. Fuel oil, which has hitherto been bought for $1.20 a barrel, can be secured for $1.10 from two firms in the city. This item alone means a saving of perhaps $1000 a year.

Carbon paper, which was sold at $33 per dozen boxes, is quoted at $24, or a saving of $9 a dozen, which is equivalent to 27 per cent. Eberhard Faber pencils have been reduced from 50 cents a dozen to 37½ cents, or a drop of 25 per cent. Gasoline, used in all departments, is cheaper than ever before. The city has been paying 12½ cents per gallon for gasoline, and can now get the same product for 10.3 cents. Likewise distillate has been cut from 10 cents to 7.95 cents per gallon. California wheat hay was bought for $30 a ton in large bales before, but now the same hay is quoted at $27.75 a ton.

Frederick L. Hoffman, statistician of the Prudential Life Insurance company, will address the Medical Society of Hawaii on "Public Health Problems in Hawaii" at the regular monthly meeting which will be held in the society's quarters, Bungalow building, palace grounds, Friday evening, March 5, at 8 o'clock.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

A TOURIST: Why have the "fence bustlers" overlooked that hideous prison-like wall that surrounds the University club? It surely is anything but an asset to the surrounding scenery, and a disgrace to the "kula," the habitation of the building are supposed to stand for.

—SPEAKER HOLSTEIN, house of representatives: I have been reading in the newspapers of many bills being prepared by the county Republican committee and by the Associated Charities and other organizations, but none of them so far have been presented to the legislature. I would suggest that these organizations, as well as private individuals having bills to present, introduce their measures as soon as possible, or some of them may get left in the shuffle.

Mr. E. Durrett Ayers, of Hilo ! Capt. Isaiah Bray, of Honolulu

Wins the $100 Waltham 1785 Wins the $50 Waltham

Extra Prize

We have decided to award an extra prize of a $50 Waltham to Mr. St. C. Sayres, who owns Waltham No. 34,449. This watch, while newer than Mr. Ayers' Waltham, is a great deal older than the next lowest reported, and, too, it has a very interesting history, which we mention below. Right up to almost the last moment it seemed as if Mr. Sayres was to be the winner of the big prize, and then came the letter from Hilo! If Mr. Sayres will call, the $50 Waltham (extra prize) will be presented to him with our compliments.

Winner of the $100 Waltham.
E. DURRETT AYERS.

Messrs. Wichman & Co.,
Gentlemen:—I am sending via Wells Fargo & Co., Waltham watch No. 1785. The watch was given to me by an older cousin in when I was twelve years old. At that time he told me that he received it from his father who had worn it many years and that it belonged to his father, my cousin's grandfather. It has been used by me, since I received it, almost continuously and has kept good time and is now in good condition.
Very truly yours,
E. D. AYERS.

H. F. Wichman & Co.

Sirs:—I would state that my Appleton Tracy open-face Waltham Watch, No. 979,043, with bullseye crystal, was presented to me by Boston friends when leaving home in 1878, to come to Honolulu to take command of the missionary brig "Morning Star." It has therefore been in constant service for thirty-seven years, without any expense except necessary cleaning and renewals of springs.

It was guaranteed to be of the best and most valuable make. At that time a stem-winder was unknown, I think, and for thirty-seven years I have patiently wound with key (13,875 times).

It has sailed down the Atlantic to Cape Horn, through the Magellan Straits, up the Pacific as far north as Alaska. It has been through the Marshall, Gilbert, Caroline, Ladrones and Philippine islands, to China, Japan, and across the American continent several times, without any appreciable error from climatic changes.

It has been three times immersed in the ocean, once while I was swimming with an overturned boat for two hours—without stopping, changing time, or needing cleaning or repairs. I learned to have such perfect confidence in its accuracy that on starting on my long sea voyages I had rated it with my ship's chronometers, and found it as reliable for obtaining the longitude as any chronometer I ever used.

In fact, on one voyage from the Caroline Islands my two chronometers became so erratic and untrustworthy that I relied only on my Waltham. On sighting Oahu I found the longitude only seven seconds out.

Again, when I took the steamer "Lehua" from Honolulu to San Francisco, I navigated the 2100 miles entirely by my Waltham Watch. On sighting the Farrallones I found the landfall, or longitude, absolutely correct.

The watch is keeping as perfect time today as when I first received it, thirty-seven years ago, and I have perfect confidence that it will as faithfully serve me for the balance of my life.

(Capt.) ISAIAH BRAY.

Winner of Extra Prize.
ST. C. SAYRES.

Following is a brief synopsis of the interesting history of Mr. Sayres' Waltham.

Originally owned by his grandfather, Henry D. Sayres of Wilmington, O., who sent it as a gift to his son, Lyman Davis Sayres, who was at the time corporal of Co. H, 39th Ohio Volunteers. The watch was carried to Corporal Sayres from his father by Mrs. Fannie Strickland Corbin (wife of General Corbin), who accompanied her father, Captain Strickland, to Vicksburg; carried by Corporal Sayres through the capture of Vicksburg and many other engagements and thrilling adventures in the Civil War.

The Waltham, being highly prized for its history and reliability, was carried back to Wilmington by Corporal Sayres, who wore it for many years longer and finally passed it on to his son, St. C. Sayres of this city. The Waltham is now in good order and is soon to become the property of Robert Abilly Sayres, who is looking forward to the day when he will become the proud possessor of Great-Grandfather's Waltham watch.

TO THE PUBLIC.

We desire to thank the public for the interest shown in the Waltham contest. Especially do we desire to thank those who sent in numbers and who wrote letters. The three hundred and fifty odd numbers submitted to use revealed two very interesting things. First, the wonderful quality of the watch, which has served its owners faithfully for so many years; second, the very old Walthams which are owned in this Territory, as shown by the remarkably low numbers submitted. The contest was a success far beyond our expectations and we are greatly pleased with the results.

STATEMENT BY THE JUDGE

Gentlemen:—It has been no easy task to do justice to the merits of the letters submitted to me and to judge of the most interesting true account from the standpoint of "Why I Bought My Waltham," or "How It Has Served Me." Many of the letters are excellent. Special mention is due the interesting letters of Mrs. J. T. Warren, Miss Helen Sprinks and C. B. Hofgaard. However, all points considered, I have selected the letter of Captain Isaiah Bray as easily the prize winner. Trusting this is satisfactory, I am, yours very truly,

STRATHENDRICK HARBOR NOTES

BACK IN PORT
AFTER YEAR

Covering thousands of leagues in the Pacific and visiting many lands since departing from Honolulu more than a year ago, the British freighter Strathendrick is back in port with 5401 tons of coal, consigned to the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company.

Captain H. Brown, Mrs. Brown and their son viewed with delight the picturesque setting of Honolulu from the deck of the steamer as it came to a berth this morning.

The Strathendrick was one of a number of vessels which were brought into service with the breaking out of hostilities between the European nations. The vessel is now on the last leg of a tour which included a visit to the west coast of South America, ports along the Japan, China and Indian coasts, at British Columbia and return to Australia.

The Strathendrick was delayed in steaming from Newcastle to Honolulu because of storm and heavy seas. The steamer left the Australian coast on February 7. It did not call at Suva, as has been the rule with coal laden freighters traveling between the colonies and the Hawaiian islands.

QUICK RELIEF FOR DYSPEPTICS

The worst and most confirmed dyspeptics, those who for years have been unable to eat without discomfort or intense pain can quickly overcome the trouble and enjoy the pleasure of eating a hearty meal of the good things they have been denied for years, if they will only use a little common everyday "horse sense," says an eminent specialist who recently returned from a six years' stay in Europe. In explanation he said: The great majority of all cases of stomach trouble—dyspepsia, indigestion, gastritis, etc., are primarily due to excessive acid and food fermentation. Tonics, opiates or artificial digestants which merely cover up the trouble or temporarily assist digestion are as useless and foolish as it would be to mend a punctured tire without removing the nail that caused the trouble. What must be done—and it's the only logical thing to do—is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation which has for years been irritating and distending the stomach. For this purpose I have found nothing quite so good or convenient as taking a teaspoonful of ordinary "bismuth" magnesia immediately after meals or when ever pain is felt. No matter how severe the case may be this should be tried for I personally know of many cases where patients after suffering for over 20 years, attending hospitals and even undergoing such serious operations as that for appendicitis, have obtained quick and permanent relief by following this simple common-sense advice. I may add that I understand from inquiries I have made that most druggists in this country are now able to supply bismuth magnesia in 5-grain tablets as well as the ordinary powder form. Two or three of these tablets are usually sufficient to give instant relief even in the most severe attacks of acute indigestion. The United States army transport due to depart on Saturday for San Francisco probably will be given a later mail for the mainland.

The American-Hawaiian freighter Kentuckian has left for island ports to complete a cargo of 11,500 tons of sugar destined for the east coast of the United States.

The steamer Norea will be despatched on a special trip to Kanae this afternoon. The vessel will return with sugar.

T. H. Davies & Company, representing the Canadian-Australasian liner Makura, expect that vessel from Australia tomorrow.

The Pacific Mail steamer Manchuria, on the way from San Francisco with a number of passengers and a large mail for Honolulu, is due here tomorrow morning.

Taking a number of layover cabin passengers, the Japanese liner Nippon Maru steamed for San Francisco at 5 o'clock last evening. The vessel carried a large mail.

The Inter-Island steamer Helene has been placed on the berth to steam for Makaweli, Kauai, at 5 o'clock this afternoon. The vessel has been ordered to the Garden Island for sugar.

In addition to 1482 sacks of sugar, the steamer Claudine brought 131 empties, 10 barrels of wine, 3 horses, 93 head of hogs and 144 packages of sundries from Maui ports today. The vessel met with fresh winds and rough seas.

The Inter-Island steamer Kilauea may be substituted for the Claudine on a run to Maui ports tomorrow evening. It is intended to place the Claudine in drydock for general repairs.

Rough weather has delayed loading a large shipment of canned pine to the schooner W. B. Flint at Punaluu, windward Oahu. The vessel will take cargo to the California coast, supplied by Libby, McNeill & Libby's cannery. The Flint may sail the early part of the week.

Steamer Clark May Take Pine. Arrangements may be completed today to forward a shipment of pine to the Pacific coast in the steamer O. M. Clark. The vessel is at Pearl Harbor naval station where 1,000,000 feet of lumber and piling to the United States government is being discharged.

Hector Carries Unique Freight. The United States collier Hector, with three small type submarines, is an object of interest to hundreds of visitors to the waterfront. The undersea craft are securely cradled on deck. They will be launched at Olongapo, Philippine islands. The Hector has been given coal since its arrival Tuesday night from Seattle. It is planned to despatch the vessel for Manila by way of Guam this evening. A crew of 10 workmen accompanies the submarines to their destination. The party is in charge of Ensign Buto.

Maul Shipping. Purser Piper in the steamer Claudine, an arrival from Maui today, reported the Matsun steamship Hyades taking sugar, molasses and pineapples at Kahului. The vessel had been discharged of mainland freight. The schooner Resolute is discharging lumber at Kahului, brought from the North Pacific coast. The Claudine towed the schooner Defender from Hana, Maui, to the open sea on Tuesday afternoon. The Defender had been supplied with a full cargo of sugar for San Francisco.

Transport Sherman Due Sunday. The United States army transport Sherman, from Manila by way of Nagasaki, Japan, will not reach this port before Sunday evening, is the opinion of the local branch of the army quartermaster department. The Sherman will probably berth at Pier 6. It has no cargo to be discharged. A quick despatch to San Francisco is in order. The vessel may sail on Monday morning.

PACIFIC MAILER TO BRING MANY TOURISTS

The vast throng attracted to the California coast by the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco is having direct effect upon the passenger traffic to the Hawaiian Islands, say local steamship representatives.

More than 50 per cent of cabin passengers who left San Francisco in the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria are for Honolulu.

Captain Adrian Dixon's radio message to H. Hackfeld & Co., this morning says the liner is due at the port tomorrow afternoon with 73 cabin, 27 second class and one steerage passenger. Continuing to the Far East are 114 cabin, 10 second class and 223 steerage.

The Manchuria has a small amount of cargo. It will take 500 tons of coal. It is the intention to despatch the vessel for Japan, China and the Philippines Saturday morning.

The Mongolia, a sister ship, traveling in an opposite direction, left Yokohama one day behind its regular schedule. It is due next Tuesday with 3500 tons of Oriental cargo. H. Hackfeld & Co. may despatch this vessel for San Francisco about 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. The Mongolia steamed from Japan with room for 30 cabin passengers. There is a large booking to the coast in the liner.

While the Pacific Mail steamer Nile is carried on the trans-Pacific schedule, it is not believed that this vessel has been released by the British admiralty. The Nile was taken over soon after the beginning of the European war. It was pressed into service as a transport. Some months ago a report was received here that the Nile had been wrecked off the coast of Japan. The vessel which met disaster proved to be the Peninsular and Oriental steamer Nile. The Pacific Mail Nile is believed to be employed in the movement of men and supplies between the Far East and Europe.

More than 100 cabin passengers left for Hilo last evening in the Matsun steamer Natsiona. A number of tourists will visit the volcano before returning to Honolulu on Sunday morning.

GIRTON SAYS CENSORS ARE WRONG IN CONDEMNATION OF 'THE ESCAPE'

Scene from "The Escape" at Ye Liberty Theater.

"Should the local board of censors decided to stop the production of 'The Escape' at Ye Liberty theater, as has been reported to me as contemplated, they will work a great injustice upon the public of Honolulu and place the ban on one of the greatest educational pictures ever filmed," said Perry Girton, who is handling the wonderful picture on Hawaii. "It is true that there are some scenes in 'The Escape' that may be considered a trifle 'beyond the pale,' but these are absolutely necessary in order to drive home the lesson that Paul Armstrong intended."

"I do not believe I am exaggerating when I state that Armstrong is one of the greatest, if not the greatest dramatist in American today and merely a reference to some of the big things of the last few years which carry Armstrong's brand is necessary to establish this fact. Witness 'Salome Jane,' 'Romance of the Underworld,' 'Alias Jimmy Valentine,' etc., ad lib. Now it stands to reason that this man is not endeavoring to palm off on the public an immoral show for the purpose of parading morality. He has a reason for taking his audience on a junketing trip to the underworld and of portraying a scene on the 'Stanford White' episode.

"It strikes me that this talk about the immoral side of 'The Escape' is foolish and that those who are making complaint are inclined to be narrow-minded and to lose sight entirely of the educational feature, which is stronger in this film than any that has ever been shown in Honolulu."

ALPHIN MUSICAL COMEDY COMPANY IN NEW PROGRAM

The Alphin Musical Comedy Company will make its regular mid-week change of bill tonight at the Bijou theater and for the latter half of the week will be seen in "O-U-Kid." It is another of the Alphin made-for-laughter playlets, with new songs, new dances and new costumes. Jules Mendel, Ethel Davis, Rose Mendel and Bessie Hill will all have specialties with the Baby Dolls.

The three big star vaudeville acts which have been thrilling and delighting Bijou audiences all week, will continue as an added attraction. Wright and Dietrich are proclaimed by all who have heard and seen them as the hottest singing team which has been heard in Honolulu in many moons.

The Helen Leach-Wallin Trio continue to startle the spectators with their astonishing and whirlwind iron jaw and slack wire walking act.

Brown and Lawson get a big laugh every night, but are a good natured team and accordingly liberal with their encores. Their songs are new and original, their patter is witty and clever and their dancing the last word in eccentricity.

A RAFFLES PLAY IS FEATURED AT EMPIRE THEATER

In primarily a character study, Rex Hitchcock, Rose Tapley and Ellene Jensen, who have leading roles in the great drama, "Eve's Daughters," to be shown at the Empire theater today, have made much of the play. It is founded upon a successful serial in a popular magazine. It is a story that holds the interest of young and old. An artist's model on vacation at a seashore resort falls in love with a multi-millionaire. Later they are married and the truth about each other's identity is learned. Love triumphs after a series of stirring scenes.

There are plenty of actors brought into the two-part drama, "The Crowned Glory," a play telling an up-to-date Raffles story with a plot that is gripping. The production fairly bristles with excitement. Earl Williams and Lillian Walker, taking principal parts, are involved in a host of troubles and dangers before they are entirely free from peril and traps set by their enemies. The scramble for an immense estate is a motive for a band of clever crooks to attempt to do away with the heirs.

Barry O'Moore was never cast in a more congenial role than that assigned him in "The Mystery of the Missing Legacy." The Empire bill will close with the presentation of the drama, "The Head Waiter."

MAGICIANS AT ASAHI THEATER

A party of famous magicians arrived from Japan via Nippon Maru yesterday morning and will give a special performance at the Asahi theater, Maunakea street, this evening.

Many clever tricks are claimed for this troupe. Articles, produced upon request, in mysterious ways will be presented to the "doubting ones" at close of the performance.—Adv.

SMART'S ATTACK ON FRED KNIGHT BRANDED FALSE

Richard to third parties on the condition named in black and white by his attorneys that Mrs. Knight should abandon all of the extremely valuable claims Mrs. Knight has under the second will and should allow probating of the third will to go through without contest on her part.

"In other words, Mr. Smart then and there put his child upon the market and named his price; the only point now being that the rights over the child he was willing to give to strangers he denies now to the child's own grandmother."

Mrs. Knight has postponed her trip to the coast and it is not certain when she will leave Hawaii.

Mrs. Knight's Attitude Toward Smart. The feeling toward Smart by Mrs. Knight is shown in the following excerpts from Attorney Kinney's affidavit of yesterday:

"That affiant (Mr. Kinney) is informed and believes that Mrs. Knight in asking Mr. Smart for the control and custody of the child has at all times distinctly recognized that it unquestionably was for the benefit of the child that he should be taught to love and respect his father and should be kept as far as possible from the humiliation of believing or suspecting that his father was not worthy of such respect and love."

"Furthermore, deponent (Mr. Kinney) is informed by Mrs. Knight that she has never addressed a discourteous word to Mr. Smart from the day she met him to the hour of her daughter's death except on the occasion when he had violated his honor and broken his pledge that he would wait a year before claiming her daughter's hand in marriage, on which occasion in her desperation she told him that she then believed that he was wholly mercenary and without honor; but that thereafter and as soon as she fully realized that her daughter's happiness depended upon making the best of the situation and up to the day of her daughter's death she has never allowed herself to address him otherwise than in a courteous manner, and that she distinctly denies that their relations have ever been marked by a single quarrel, and while she does not and cannot respect him, she does respect and has respected his rights, and would continue to do so after receiving the custody of the child, and that if more is required of any custodian many otherwise eligible would not be able to qualify."

Says Letter Omitted. In his affidavit Kinney further says that the recent correspondence on the compromise negotiated, as filed by Thompson, omits one very important letter. This letter he reproduces. It is as follows:

Honolulu, January 23, 1915.

"Mr. W. A. Kinney, Honolulu.

"Dear Sir:

"Confirming our conversation of even date in regard to a tentative plan for settlement in the Smart litigation including not only the probate of the will but the custody of the minor child and in line with your suggestion that it be permanently embodied in writing to be in confidence, however, and solely for the purpose of a statement of the proposition for your consideration, that the third will be permitted to be probated, prior to the time of its probate, Mr. Smart to enter into an agreement in such form as we may mutually consent to by the terms of which he will convey to the child absolutely upon the child arriving at its majority two-thirds of the entire estate as contemplated by the will, one-third to remain in him. The income of the estate, until the child shall achieve its majority, to go 75 per cent to Mr. Smart and 25 per cent to the child. The child to remain in the territory of Hawaii until it is at least 13 years of age and not to be removed, excepting upon the consent of Mrs. Knight and Mr. Smart, unless certificate of two reputable physicians states the necessity for a change, one physician to be selected by each party and in the event of their failure to agree then the two to select a third and the decision of the majority of these to remain final. During the time the child shall remain in the territory of Hawaii it shall be in the custody of a person mutually selected, or in the event Mrs. Knight and Mr. Smart can not agree upon a person then each to have the right to nominate three people, the six to select a seventh and of the seven so chosen each shall alternately strike one person until but one remains, or in some other mutually agreed method of elimination."

"The costs thus far incurred by either party to be presented to the court and in so far as allowed taxed against the estate, the attorney's fees for both parties to be presented to the court and in so far as allowed to be paid by the estate."

The following is reproduced as memoranda taken by a stenographer during a conversation between Kinney and Thompson on the compromise plan:

Mr. Kinney: What provision for access to the child and visiting and association with the child, both on the part of the grandmother and Mr. Smart?

Mr. Thompson: Each to have unlimited access to the child.

Mr. K.: Supposing there is dissatisfaction with the custodian or dissatisfaction on the part of Mrs. Knight with Mr. Smart's relations with the child, visiting the child, or vice versa, opposition on Smart's part to Mrs. Knight's actions in connection with her personal contact with the child, supposing for example Mr. Smart comes back and says Mrs. Knight has been visiting the child and using her right of access to poison the child's mind against him or Mrs. Knight that Smart has?

Mr. T.: I would not know how to cover that.

Mr. K.: Would you cover it by reserving to either complaining party the right to appeal to the court without being prejudiced by this agreement?

Mr. T.: Giving the court jurisdiction over the agreement?

Mr. K.: No, if either party is dissatisfied with the action of the custodian or dissatisfied with the use either is making of the right to visit the child would you agree the complaining party could then appeal to the court without being confronted with this agreement?

Mr. T.: Any agreement made shall be without prejudice to the right of either party for good cause shown to apply to the court for a guardian or for such general relief as the court may see fit to grant.

Mr. K.: How about Mr. Smart's attitude toward the trust deed, there has been a great deal of talk of his bringing suit.

Mr. T.: We have no quarrel with the trust deed, the beneficiary is dead, in other words any settlement of this question would be presumed to terminate all litigation over property rights and would be construed to mean acceptance and endorsement by Mr. Smart of the trust deed. You can incorporate in my letter that it will be in full settlement of all matters and in conformity and ratification of the trust deed heretofore made.

Mr. K.: Now this is all new to me.

Mr. T.: Let me tell you something: I left a meeting at the brewery at a quarter of 12 and as I passed the Stangenwald building I thought I would go over and see Kinney and they said they thought he was over in his room in the Young hotel; this is absolutely new to me.

Mr. K.: Of course there is great issue involved and my inquiry has been directed to the personal care and custody of the child, admitting that the central issue is the possession of the child.

Mr. T.: Well, I have given way a great deal more than the will contemplates so you see we are not after the money.

Mr. K.: Now let me browse over this. I will say your position is such as to arrest my attention and my favorable consideration, if there is any flaw in it it will be in the consideration of what the practical outcome will be in reference to the welfare of the child and that I would like to think over.

Mr. T.: Let me say this is just a proposal and the details will have to be worked out for me as well as for yourself. I have given you just a general idea of what I know Mr. Smart will do and what I think will be fair. In other words this is not intended to cover the technical part, just a general view.

In his affidavit filed in the court of Judge William L. Whitney of the second division of the first circuit court, Attorney W. A. Kinney discusses at length an interview held recently in Honolulu between Mrs. Knight and Smart. He says concerning it:

"That a long and trying interview took place, as deponent is informed, in which Mrs. Knight was left utterly prostrated, in which it developed that the main use made by Mr. Smart of said interview was to make a desperate and prolonged attempt to plant suspicion in the mind of Mrs. Knight against her husband, Fred Knight, and to bulldoze Mrs. Knight into an acceptance of absurd and impossible conditions as to the control of said child by menacing threats that he could destroy her married life and that it would be destroyed if she did not accept his terms."

Accuses Husband. "That among other things, as deponent is informed and believes, Mr. Smart at said interview told Mrs. Knight, 'We can prove terrible things against Mr. Fred Knight—things that if you knew you would divorce him, accompanying these statements by repeated assertions that 'I am telling you nothing but the truth and I want you to believe me,' which assertion was repeated again and again in said interview, with every effort to persuade Mrs. Knight into a belief in said charges. That Mr. Smart further stated at said interview, as deponent is informed and believes, that voluntary offers were pouring in to Mr. Thompson's office of those willing to offer evidence that would practically destroy Mr. Knight. Mr. Smart further represented that his attorneys were eager to get at Mrs. Knight as well as Mr. Knight, and that all this would have to be spread upon the records if he, Mr. Smart, said the word; that he was holding back out of consideration for her, but would be compelled to allow this attack to be made if she did not make a settlement satisfactory to him, Mr. Smart. That in said interview, as deponent is informed and believes, Mr. Smart proposed to Mrs. Knight that she should be given the child, but upon no written agreement, that she was simply to take delivery of the child from him, that he was to reserve his parental control and authority over the child, that he was at liberty to take the child on visits to Virginia or to Honolulu upon his own decision, and that he was to have the right not merely to visit but to live in the same house with Mr. and Mrs. Knight when in San Francisco."

"Mr. Cathcart himself finally told deponent that Mr. Smart and Mrs. Knight had better not attempt to settle directly again; that Mrs. Knight has denied to deponent and Mr. Smart that any such accusations against her, and to the best of her knowledge and belief against her husband, are true and has stated that she is prepared to go through the ordeal of Mr. Smart's attack rather than give up the child; that she feels that her daughter and her granddaughter, Elizabeth, would both be alive today but for the carelessness and neglect of Mr. Smart, and that she looks upon his determined and prolonged attempt to drive the wedge of distrust between herself and her husband as simply an attempt to reach and destroy one more vital tie in her family relations."

"Tried to Dig Up Scandal."

"That the threats directed as aforesaid against Mrs. Knight manifestly disclose the intention to dig up any gossip or scandal that ever research can possibly find, however toothless with age, and regardless of the fact that anything of the kind in the past, if true, is too remote to have any possible bearing upon the propriety of now leaving this child in the hands of Mrs. Knight, that Mr. Smart knows that this same Mr. and Mrs. Knight brought up his wife Thelma beautifully and purely, and that there is no reason whatsoever why Richard can not be brought up by them as carefully and properly; and affiant charges that all of these threats have no element of good faith in them but are resorted to to coerce Mrs. Knight into accepting any terms Mr. Smart sees fit to impose and in this connection points out that in the interview in which Mr. Smart claimed to have possession of infamous charges against both Mr. and Mrs. Knight he offered almost in the same breath to put the child in their possession and custody, and wanted to make his own home with them whenever he was in San Francisco."

Smart Replies. In the answer filed at Kona yesterday in Henry Gaillard Smart's behalf Smart asserts among other things that his late wife was kept in ignorance of her property rights until she became of age; that within a few days after she was prevailed upon by her mother to execute the trust deed of the ranch, divesting herself and her family of legal title to it and of any residence right on the property.

Smart estimates the value of the Kona ranch at $1,500,000 to $2,000,000. Under this trust deed, Smart says, his wife, the rightful heir, received only a portion of the income, but Mrs. Knight, her mother, was to receive an income of $1000 a month with certain provisions which will be fulfilled this year, raising Mrs. Knight's income to $1500 a month.

He avers further that Thelma Parker was further induced to deed over to her mother the home in San Francisco, valued at $75,000.

These statements are as follows:

"Respondent is informed and believes and upon such information and belief alleges that prior to the coming of age of the said Annie T. K. Parker Smart, she was kept in ignorance by the said petitioner, Elizabeth J. Knight, of her property rights and the extent thereof, and within a few days after the said Annie T. K. Parker Smart became of age the said petitioner, Elizabeth J. Knight, and others, secured to be executed a deed of trust of substantially all of the property and estate of the said Annie T. K. Parker Smart, consisting almost entirely of the ranch and ranch property situated at Waimea, in the third judicial circuit of the territory of Hawaii, and known as the Parker ranch, which said ranch and ranch property has been variously estimated to be of the value of from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000, and that under said deed of trust the said Annie T. K. Parker Smart was divested of the legal title to the said ranch and ranch property and the whole thereof, and was entitled merely to receive a portion of the income derived from said ranch and ranch property during her lifetime. Deprived of Property."

"That under said deed of trust the said Annie T. K. Parker Smart was not only deprived as aforesaid of the legal title to said ranch and ranch property but said trust deed did not even reserve or set apart for herself or for her family any residence, or right of residence on said ranch property, and neither said Annie T. K. Parker Smart nor her family had the right at any time to go upon said ranch property except upon the consent and sufferance of the trustee named in said deed of trust. That under the terms and conditions of said deed of trust the said petitioner, Elizabeth J. Knight, was and is entitled to receive a large income out of said ranch and ranch property, and under the provisions of said deed of trust has continuously received since the execution thereof on April 25, 1912, up to the present time, an income of $1000 a month and will, under the provisions thereof, within a year, receive an increased income to an amount of not less than $1500 a month for the remainder of her life. That within a few days after the coming of age of the said Annie T. K. Parker Smart the said petitioner, Elizabeth J. Knight, further secured from the said Annie T. K. Parker Smart a deed and conveyance of a home the said Annie T. K. Parker Smart then owned in the city of San Francisco, Cal., which home is of the value of about $75,000."

Child Not Disinherited.

"Respondent further says that he is informed and believes and upon such information and belief alleges that counsel for the said petitioner, Elizabeth J. Knight, are making the contention that the last will, known as the third will of the said Annie T. K. Parker Smart, does not obligate respondent, Henry Gaillard Smart, to share with his child Richard any part of the estate or income of the estate, that there is not expressed in the will anything which legally obligates respondent to share the income of the estate with the child, and that the child is practically disinherited and not recognized by the will so far as any binding, legal obligation or right is concerned, and respondent further alleges in this behalf that he has requested his counsel, Frank E. Thompson, Esq., Fred W. Milverton, Esq., and John W. Cathcart, Esq., to see that the spirit as well as the letter of every wish of his late wife, Annie T. K. Parker Smart, as expressed by said last will, to wit, the third will, be carried out and has been advised by his said counsel that under the terms and conditions of such will the child Richard is entitled, as a matter of right and of law, to two-thirds of the income of such estate from the time of his majority, and that he, the said Henry Gaillard Smart, is entitled to one-third of the income of such estate only, after the coming of age of the said Richard Smart, and that if he, respondent, dies at any time before the death of the said Elizabeth J. Knight, the whole estate under the terms of the will, becomes the property of the child, Richard. Respondent further alleges that acting under instructions from him, his said counsel will, in the said probate proceedings, instituted as aforesaid, for the purpose of probating said third will, attempt to secure an interpretation of said will from the court consistent with the interpretation so placed upon it as above stated. That counsel for the said Elizabeth J. Knight have been advised as to the construction placed on said will by respondent's said counsel and have been advised as to the intention of respondent to secure an interpretation of said will as above stated, but nevertheless, as respondent is advised and believes, and upon such information and belief alleges, contemplate the carrying on of legal proceedings based upon the assumption that such expressed wishes and desires of the said Annie T. K. Parker Smart as set forth in said third will, are not binding and obligatory and that therefore the said child, Richard, is practically disinherited and that if such contemplated legal proceedings are carried out by counsel for the said Elizabeth J. Knight, they will result in a needless wasting and squandering of the estate of the said child Richard without any benefit to him whatsoever and for the sole benefit of the said Elizabeth J. Knight, and in furtherance of her plan as aforesaid to secure a larger share of the profits of said Parker ranch and ranch property."
