INTERESTING TALK ON CHURCH AFFAIRS

Word Anglican Does Not Refer to English But to Whole Protestant Communion.

NOT A STICK of the church property and not a dollar is involved in the merging of the Anglican church into the Protestant Episcopal church in the United States," said Bishop Willis yesterday evening in talking over the affairs of the Diocese. "There is but one transfer, and that is of the jurisdiction of the Anglican to the American Protestant church, nothing more nor less.

"An impression has gained strength in the islands, and especially among people who have not studied the matter, that the transfer of the property belonging to the Anglican church corporation will be an intricate affair. This is not the case at all. It is the simplest matter in the world, and the action taken recently by the Synod in adopting the amended charter to read 'Protestant church in the United States' from that of 'Anglican' and conforming to the American prayer book, has completely paved the way for the change that is to take place in April next. The property owned by the Anglican church and held by the Synod trustees remains under the control of the trustees of the Protestant church in the Hawaiian Islands, in just the same manner as the property of the Hawaiian Reformed Catholic church passed into the control of the Anglican church in 1872, when I came here as Bishop.

"There is an important matter I should like to speak about. An impression has also gone abroad that the 'Anglican church' means the 'English church' or 'Church of England.' Merely because the word 'Anglican' is used it is thought to refer to the English church. This is a misnomer. The whole Protestant Episcopal church, whether it be in England, the United States or other portions of the globe, is Anglican in the same sense that it is opposed to Romanism. When the King of the Hawaiian Islands sent an invitation to Canterbury to have a Bishop of the Church of England sent here to establish a church, I was sent. I found here the Hawaiian Reformed Catholic church, founded by Bishop Stanley. It appeared to me that this title was misleading, as it gave the impression of being a branch of the Roman Catholic and not of the Church of England. When a charter was applied for after my arrival the title of the corporation was changed to the 'Anglican church in Hawaii.' The Hawaiian government granted such a charter, and 'Anglican church' it has remained, and will continue so until next April.

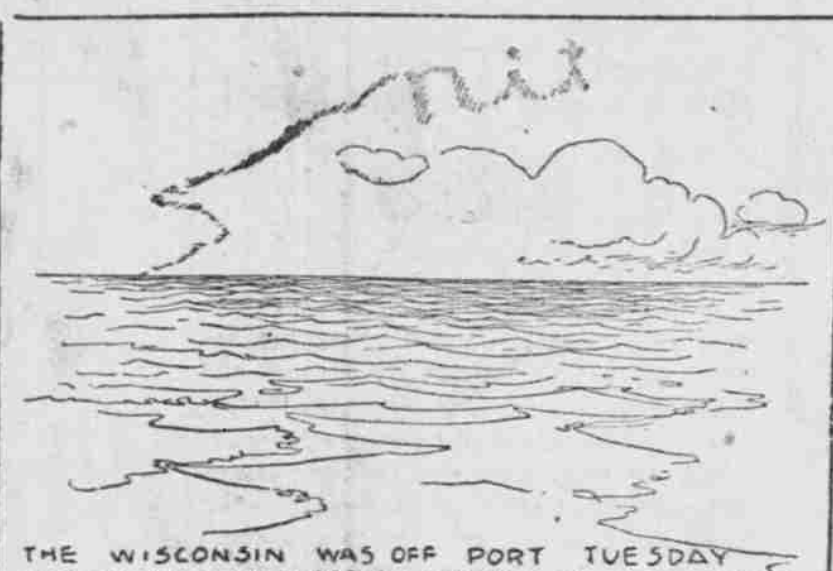

"The 'Anglican church in Hawaii' is not actually a part of the Church of England. The Church of England has no direct jurisdiction over the Anglican church in these islands. How could it have? When the King of Hawaii sent his invitation to Canterbury, it was to invite ministers of the Church of England to come to this kingdom, as it then was, to establish a church based on the doctrines of the Church of England. England and Hawaii were separate kingdoms and the Church of England therefore had no right to exercise jurisdiction here, any more than it would in the United States. Hawaii was not a colony such as Australia, New Zealand or Canada. A comparative case in point was that of St. Augustine when he was sent out from Rome to England in the Sixth century. He was sent to a foreign country, the result being the establishment of a separate church there. It was just the same here.

"I was a Bishop, appointed by the Archbishop of Canterbury, to whom I look for my spiritual guidance, but the physical features of the church were different. The property of the Anglican church here was the property of the Hawaiian Reformed Catholic church, and as it passed from the Hawaiian Reformed Catholic church to the Anglican in 1872, so will

THE STARVING JUROR BEFORE AND AFTER

FOR SURVEY WORK IN THE ISLANDS

Prof. Alexander Tells of the Plans of the U. S. Bureau for Hawaii.

Prof. W. D. Alexander, head of the United States Geological Survey Bureau in Hawaii, who returned in the Sierra, brought back with him from Washington a large amount of information concerning the plans of the United States Geological Survey for these islands. An appropriation of $20,000 has been asked by the survey department with which to commence thorough investigations in the group. The appropriation will be asked of Congress at its present session, and the probability is that the amount asked for will be set apart.

Under this appropriation valuable scientific investigations can be made here in line with the exhaustive work done by the survey in all parts of the United States. Professor Alexander was impressed with the high character of the men in the geological survey under the Department of the Interior and the coast and geodetic survey under the Treasury Department.

He does not believe that the department will do much for Hawaii for the present, as its attention is directed to the Philippines, where a majority of the best men in the survey service are now engaged. The question of whether this work in the Philippines should be conducted by the coast survey or the navy, led to a disagreement between the two houses of Congress. The coast survey finally won. The work is a great undertaking on account of the incorrect and incomplete Spanish charts of the archipelago.

Professor Alexander points to an achievement of the survey department just completed, which is a complete measurement of the longest line across the United States, accomplished by a perfectly organized system of triangulation with accurately chained base lines, giving a greater area of the earth's surface than ever measured before elsewhere. The list compiled by Professor Alexander of the geographical points, places and objects in the islands was placed in the hands of the chief of the survey department in Washington, and will shortly be published. During his trip Professor Alexander attended the Yale bicentennial celebration, being one of the graduates of that institution.

HALF A MILLION IN GREENBACKS

Was Destroyed Yesterday by the Treasurer—Old Hawaiian Notes.

If anyone had happened to stroll into the treasurer's office at the capitol building yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock he could have witnessed the destruction of about a half a million dollars in greenbacks.

The money was part of an old issue of Hawaiian notes under the monarchy, and had never been in circulation. It was composed entirely of fifty and one hundred dollar banknotes in books, and altogether the pile represented over half a million dollars. The crisp greenbacks were placed in the cancelling machine, and perforated so full of holes that even a blind man would not have accepted them as legal tender. The work was done by two clerks under the supervision of Cashier Henry Kapai, and the clerks were racing to see in how short a time they could destroy the little books which at one time represented such a large amount in cold cash. They averaged about twenty thousand dollars a minute.

There are still a number of these old Hawaiian treasury notes in circulation, and at irregular intervals one is presented at the treasury for payment. It is to render these old notes valueless that they were cancelled yesterday, with the same machine that is used in perforating all the old issue as they are brought in for redemption. This money would not have been accepted even if tendered, as it did not bear the signature of the Minister of the Interior, but to avoid the possibility of some of the greenbacks finding their way out, and allowing an opportunity for forging the signature, it was thought advisable to destroy them. The money would have been burned, but as there is no authorization for such an act, the cancellation was decided upon instead.

PUT CHICORY IN THE COFFEE

In the District Court yesterday W. J. Bissel, president and manager of the Washington Mercantile Co., and W. A. Gonsalves of the grocery firm of Gonsalves & Co. were fined $25 and costs each for selling adulterated coffee without having the cans labeled "compound," as required by law.

Food Commissioner Shorey testified that he had purchased the stuff from a dealer named Nunzi and that it contained 15 per cent of chicory.

Mr. Bissel testified that the chicory was put up with the coffee on account of there being a demand for the mixture. He said that as a rule the Portuguese would not buy the coffee unless there were chicory in it. The failure to have the cans labeled "compound" was, he said, due to an oversight on the part of the consignees in San Francisco.

Judge Wilcox said that it was simply a technical violation of law, and he would impose the lowest penalty. He remarked that there was no reflection on either of defendants.

Manuel Gouvera, charged with heedless driving, was remanded until Monday. Anderson and Kennedy, charged with vagrancy, were sentenced to three months' imprisonment at hard labor. They were found asleep on a bench in the capitol grounds, early yesterday morning.

Yesterday's arrests included: Goo Tan, leaving horse untied; fourteen Hawaiians, vagrancy; Inde, feeding a horse on the street; Antone Rodriguez, truancy; Gong Wee, cruelty to animals; Jos, Kapule, drunkenness.

The fourteen Hawaiians were arrested by David Knapa, at the corner of Kukui and River streets.

The police are investigating a robbery which occurred on Alakea street, early yesterday morning. A Japanese store was broken into and $7 stolen.

A Portuguese woman reported to Officer Devauchelle yesterday that her house at Kalihi had been broken into and a gold ring and $10 stolen. No trace could be found of the thief.

MRS. WADSWORTH'S REMAINS CREMATED

The earthly remains of Mrs. Dudley L. Wadsworth, incased in an urn, repose in the parlors of the undertaker awaiting transportation to her former home at South Bend, Ind., for interment. The body was cremated yesterday afternoon after funeral services at the rooms of H. H. Williams, conducted by the Rev. V. H. Kiteat, and which were attended by a large company of friends of the deceased. Mrs. Wadsworth succumbed Thursday evening to acute Bright's disease, complicated by an operation. The fatal illness had lasted for about a week, and the end came after severe suffering.

Mrs. Wadsworth was born in South Bend, Ind., in 1870. She was a very bright woman, an elocutionist of note, and while a student of Buchtel college won the Interstate oratorical medal. She devoted some time to literature, and wrote many short stories which appeared in Munsey's and McClure's Magazines. She was married in 1897 to Mr. Wadsworth and came here with her husband in July, since which time Mr. Wadsworth has been employed in the carriage department of Gus Schuman. Mrs. Wadsworth made many friends here and was looking forward to making this her permanent home. The young couple resided at the Engleide, where Mrs. Wadsworth died.

Berger's New Pieces.

The Territorial Band will play this afternoon at Kamehameha School, Kalihi; tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at Makee Island, Waikiki; Monday evening at Emma Square. At the latter concert the band will render for the first time in Honolulu four new American songs with chorus and orchestration by Captain Berger.

At Murphy Hall.

The Saturday evening free entertainment by the Francis Murphy Club will be carried on as usual. There will be songs and music. Hawaiian songs will be sung by young Hawaiians who have kindly volunteered their services. Everybody welcome, strangers especially. A special praise service will be held at the Murphy Hall Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

WANT A BIG MASS MEETING

Independents Plan to Force Extra Session.

NEW INDICTMENT OF GOVERNOR

Interpret Pres. Roosevelt's Message to Mean That He Favors County Bill at Once.

HOME RULERS, who are not content with their petitions to President Roosevelt to remove Governor Dole, are planning a great mass meeting to demand an extra session of the Governor, with the alternative that his failure to call such a session shall be the ground for a vehement appeal for the vacation of the office of Governor. The matter was sprung at the Thursday night meeting of Home Rulers by John Emmeluth, and will be considered at the special meeting to be held Tuesday night.

The interpretation put upon the Hawaiian paragraph in the message of President Roosevelt by the Home Rulers has been the cause of a decided change in the front presented by the party members. Whereas prior to the publication of the message there was a desire on the part of the Home Rule members of the Legislature to have an extra session, even if there should be necessary an agreement to pass none but fiscal measures, now the Independents believe they can force the session solely upon the grounds that development along American lines means the inauguration of city and county governments. Emmeluth is said to make this interpretation of the message of the President, and to have spoken at length upon that phase of the situation.

The mass meeting planned is intended as a citizens' demand for multitudinous officials, and there was a great fight over the proposition that no party lines be drawn. The proposers of the plan advanced the argument that there were men of all parties who wanted an extra session of the Legislature, and that to attempt to make the meeting a partisan affair would mean that the support of a vast number of influential citizens would be lost. The opponents of the non-partisan plan insisted that as the majority party, the Home Rulers, should make the fight to a finish and pointed out that the Republican party undoubtedly would be represented in the meeting, through Emil Ney, balliff of the courts, and that thus they would control action while remaining in command of the situation. The matter thus was left in abeyance as the stress of argument left it impossible of decision at the meeting.

It was outlined in the speeches of the advocates of the meeting that the plan would be to pass resolutions calling upon Governor Dole to issue a proclamation for an extra session of the Legislature, failing which he was to be assailed at Washington as the only enemy of the President's plan for the Americanization of the Territory of Hawaii, with the expectation that upon this indictment the President would find him guilty and sentence him to dismissal from office. It was intended by the advocates of the non-partisan meeting to issue the call for a date so far ahead that the advocates of special session on the other islands would have an opportunity to send delegates to enter their plea for an extra session.

The deferring of action is expected to give time for the committee which is to confer with labor organizations, (Prince Cupid, Emmeluth and Quinn) time to arrange for unity of action. Many members of the committee believe the petitions sent forward should be given a chance to work against Governor Dole, but they seem to be in the minority.

JURY WORK AT AN END

Liquor Conviction Concludes the Term.

DECLARES LAW
IS INVALID

Schnack and Juen Sentenced to Jail for Twenty Days—Injunction Refused.

The criminal business of the November term was concluded yesterday afternoon in the Circuit Court and the petit jury was finally discharged after having been thanked by Judge Humphreys for their long and untiring labor. The extended term closes next Monday and the finishing touches to the court work will be given today. The criminal part of the calendar was unusually heavy, but that part of the docket is practically cleared of all except the transition period cases.

LIQUOR SELLER CONVICTED.

Richard Kunst was found guilty of liquor selling by a jury yesterday afternoon in spite of the instruction of Judge Humphreys ordering the jury to disregard the testimony of the government as to people coming from the defendant's place with liquor.

In his ruling the court declared unconstitutional Section 437 of the Penal Laws of 1897. The decision, upon a motion by Deputy Attorney-General Cathcart for an instruction in compliance with this statute which reads, "The delivery of any spirituous liquor either by the owner or occupier or by his or her servant or other person in the house or place, shall be deemed to be sufficient prima facie evidence of money or other consideration being given for such spirituous liquor, so as to support a conviction unless proof to the contrary be given to the satisfaction of the jury."

The court held in a written opinion that no statute makes it illegal to give away spirituous liquor in one's own house, and the enforcement of this statute would mean that a man could be convicted for giving liquor to a sick neighbor. The court then goes into a historical review of the enforcement of laws on the plea of necessity, referring to the reign of Stuarts and Tudors and recited a story of Virgil, "when he makes the common Sybil lead his hero through his fabled hell."

In conclusion the court says, "Under the statute we are considering the defendant is practically required to prove his innocence. The fact of a person's going into a house is a perfectly innocent act, but if he is found with spirituous liquor upon coming out, a crime is to be presumed, and the owner of the house, who may have been miles away—beyond seas, is presumed to be guilty of selling."

"The innocent act is established; the consequences of guilt are not found by the jury on the evidence, but are fastened upon him by the law upon the simple proof of an innocent act. I cannot bring myself to a subscription of this doctrine, and believing the statute unconstitutional, I decline to instruct under it."

The jury was instructed and retired shortly before three o'clock and it required over two hours to reach an agreement of guilty. Mr. Strauss immediately moved for a new trial, which is to be heard this morning, at which time the defendant will be sentenced.

The jury was composed as follows: James Kahalepua, H. C. Rickerton, Alex K. Aona, Alex G. Nicholas, Guy Livingston, George W. Harrison, Jos. Richards, Harry S. Swinton, Isiah Bray, Edwin K. Blake, John L. Hansmann, James K. Merseberg.

SEVERELY PUNISHED.

Severe sentences were imposed by Judge Humphreys upon Wm. Savidge, Harry Juen and J. H. Schnack, found guilty of assault upon an old native woman, while attempting to evict her. Savidge was fined $100, while each of the other two men were sentenced to jail for terms of twenty days each without hard labor. Notice of appeal was given in each case, and the defendants were released under bail, Savidge $100 and the remaining two each $50 each.

"The testimony in this case," said the Court, in passing sentence, "tended to show to the satisfaction of the jury that you are guilty of the crime charged. Kahalepua was in possession of these premises under a claim of title which she thought was good. The defendant Schnack was out of possession, though he claimed title also, and went with Juen and Savidge to evict the aged occupant. The woman failed to leave at their request, and they forcibly seized her and removed her from the premises. The complaining witness in this case is old and feeble, about ninety years of age it seems, and the defendants going on the premises and finding this woman alone and unprotected, proceeded to dispossess her. The case is a peculiarly hard one. Here was an old Hawaiian woman, ignorant of the law, but believing she was in rightful possession, and here were three intelligent men, at least knowing your rights by law, going to the place; not taking into consideration her sex, years and gray hairs; seized her, which you would have been, by your own admissions, too cowardly to do had a man been about the place. Such action calls for severe condemnation, something more than a money penalty. The law allows a maximum fine of $100, while the prison sentence may be six months. The money penalty seems wholly disproportionate to the term of imprisonment, and were I even to inflict the full penalty of $100 fine, men of wealth might think that by simply paying a fee of $100, which the fine amounts to, they could dispossess a person of property coveted by them. The evidence does not show that Savidge laid a hand on the woman,

EXAMINE M'BRYDE PLANTATION.

Judge Humphreys yesterday ordered an examination into the affairs of the M'Bryde Plantation by F. J. Russel, who is master reporting on the guardianship of Annie Parker, whose estate holds bonds of that plantation.

The Court ordered that the value of the bonds be looked into, the number of bonds issued, and whether the minority bond holders were properly secured, and also as to the general state of the plantation. The Court called the attention of the master also to the fact that the stock of the company was selling at considerably less than fifty per cent below par, which he said must necessarily affect the value of the bonds. The master is also required to report as to whether the plantation is newly developed or has been paying dividends.

SCHLIEF ESTATE.

J. A. Thompson, commissioner in the matter of the Schlieff estate, asked the court for instructions as to the disposition of the real which has been paid since the sale of the property. The commissioner and auctioneer were ordered to pay into court, before Monday at noon, all moneys received.

REFUSED INJUNCTION.

Judge Humphreys yesterday refused to grant the injunction prayed for by M. G. Silva, as against John M. Vivas, Silva is the defendant in an action started by Vivas for a partnership accounting. Henry Davis was appointed receiver, and found that the plaintiff owed to Silva $1,524.67. Defendant alleges that plaintiff Vivas is attempting to sell his property in this Territory, and "that defendant, if decreed a recovery from him, would be totally unable to realize on such judgment and decree, and be without adequate remedy."

The Court endorsed the application: "I decline to issue an injunction upon this bill of complaint. The facts do not warrant the issuance of that extraordinary writ."

SOCIETY.

Said a visitor not long ago at a social gathering where the coming holidays were topic for conversation.

"Nowadays when everybody is striving to find original or odd Christmas gifts, you women here in the islands don't half appreciate how much material you have at hand with which to make presents which we Easterners would rave over. Take for instance the plaiting of the bamboo and lauhala into all sorts of shapes—wee baskets lined with a bit of brocade, and for us with my lady's sewing materials; mats for the table; menu cards shaped from spheres of bamboo with a bit of a landscape sketched on sofa cushions of plaited mats dexterously laced together; wall pockets for magazines, made also of the fibre; tiny calabashes for ash-trays, or almond holders at a luncheon, with a silver rim—are not all nice gifts? Why ruin one's eyes doing fancy work, let me ask? Another gift which would be interesting though it would mean far more work, but for the matter of that it would afford the donor that health-giving out of door exercise which many don't get enough of—is a collection of sea weeds and ferns beautifully mounted and encased in a leather portfolio with a Hawaiian scene artistically burned on the cover. I could ramble on hours and you don't know how much such things are appreciated away from here."

"Bohemia" was the scene of a most delightful dinner one evening during the week when its hosts entertained in honor of Mrs. Sargent, sister of Mr. A. Lewis and Miss Sargent, which two ladies are now visitors in Honolulu.

The table, a glitter of rarest china and glass, was almost buried in the profusion of crimson flowers which everywhere prevailed and which made brilliant contrast for the delicate jewelness of the crowns of the ladies who graced the board. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of the beautiful young home were Mrs. Sargent, Miss Sargent, Miss Maude Gillet, Miss Lillian Bacon, Mr. Robert Shingle, Mr. A. Lewis, Mr. A. Young, Mr. J. Tarn McGrew, Mr. Watson, Miss May Damon, Miss Mae Colburn and Mr. Holt. After the most delicious dinner had been partaken of, the Quintette Club furnished music for dancing on the pretty lanai of the Young home.

Mrs. Victoria Ward and her daughter, the Misses Kulamann, Annie and Kathleen, are expected home on December 21, from Montreal and Quebec.

Miss Mamie Phillips looks well after her Canadian trip.

Since his return from San Francisco, Col. W. H. Cornwell has announced the engagement of his daughter, Kate, to Frank E. Thompson, the well known attorney. It is understood that Miss Cornwell will soon leave for the coast, accompanied by Mrs. J. S. Walker.

An informal dance was given at the Healan Boat House Thursday evening by a number of young ladies, which, owing to the cool weather, was greatly enjoyed by the crowd of young people. A quintette club furnished the music, and refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cake and lemonade, were served. As a means of defraying the trifling expenses a fine of ten cents was imposed on every gentleman who failed to cross the floor unaccompanied by one of the fair sex, and a tax was placed on smoking as well. Among those present, were Miss DeLox, Miss Bruns, Miss Osg, Miss McCarthy, Mrs. Simpson, Miss Madeira, Miss Carlson, Mrs. Prescott, Miss Keldland, Mr. Sullivan, Mr. Young, Mr. Schief, Mr. Shafer, Mr. C. Murray, Miss Leaderer, Mr. Livingston, Mr. O'Connell, Miss J. E. Langward, Miss Wilcox, Mrs. Shafer, Miss Genz, Mr. Smith, Mr. Scott, S. Jacobson, Mr. Bickerton, Herbert Simpson, Mr. O'Brien, E. Myhre, Mr. Prescott.

Miss Margaret Davison, accompanied by Mr. A. Montano, returned this week in the Sierra from San Francisco, much improved in health by her sojourn of three months on the coast.

The Thomas concert on Monday evening was well attended by music lovers; the gallery being the favorite place for a number, who realized that from there the program of music could be best enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Castle, Miss Carrie Castle, Miss Maude Kinney, Mr. and Mrs. Chase, Elton formed a party who occupied the front row there. Others noticed among the audience in the main body of the house were Judge and Mrs. Frear, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Halstead, Mrs. Andrew Fuller, Mrs. Freeth, Mrs. Belle Jones, Mrs. Grace Waterhouse, Mr. Lyle Dickey, Mr. Ridgway, Miss Gretchen Koepke, Miss Bernice Koepke, Mrs. Selma Kinney, Miss Iola Barber, Mr. Clark, Miss Osborne, Mr. Crooke, Mr. Harry Cousins, Dr. and Mrs. J. S. McGrew, Mrs. Charles B. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Dele, Mr. and Mrs. Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Brown, Mrs. J. T. McDonald, Prince Cupid and wife.

Mr. C. Gay was an arrival from the Garden Isle during the week.

Mrs. H. Walters and child were incoming passengers from Kaula in the W. G. Hall.

Mr. Aubrey Robinson, who came in from Kaula on the W. G. Hall early in the week, left on the Sonoma for San Francisco, where he will join his family, who will return to their beautiful home at Makaweli in June.

Miss Gertrude Bates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Bates of San Francisco, is visiting in Honolulu with old friends of her parents. At present she is with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Allen.

Mrs. Ashton Potter, nee McNutt, who passed through Honolulu on her way to Manila to be married some two years ago, is welcoming into her family the advent of a wee baby daughter.

Mr. W. G. Ashley was on the arriving passenger list from the Garden Isle this week.

Mr. W. D. McBryde, a visitor to town.

Miss Mary Rice, who is spending some weeks in town, is being much feted in honor of her recently announced engagement. Luncheons without number have been given for her. On Thursday at noon Miss Gretchen Koepke entertained twelve of the intimate friends of Miss Rice at a carnation lunch, scarlet being the color chosen for the decorations, that tinting being carried out, even as to minutest table details, in the fees, the bonbons and the menus, which were dainty little devices of heart-shaped cards, hand-painted with the scarlet pinks. Among the dozen friends about the table were three who, because of recently announced engagements, shared honors with Miss Rice—Miss Kate Paty being one, and one fair young hostess herself the other. Among Miss Koepke's guests were Miss Marion Scott, Miss Bernice Koepke, Miss Nora Sturgeon, Miss Mary Rice, Miss Kate Paty, Miss Belle Dickey, Miss Paty, Mrs. Grace Waterhouse, Miss P. Soper, and Miss Amy Greenwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pettis are planning to leave for the coast by the next foreign boat.

Mr. F. Greenwell is visiting in town from the other islands.

After a two months' sojourn in Australia, Colonel and Mrs. W. F. Allen are at home again.

Recent letters telling of Mr. and Mrs. Harry von Holt's whereabouts locate them for Christmas with relatives in Southern California.

Mrs. Damon and son, who have been the recipients of much attention while they have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Damon, took their departure for home last week.

The Harry Lewers are occupying their new home in College Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Davies are to spend the holiday time with the Clive Davies' at their Nuuanu valley home, Craigside.

Mrs. R. F. Bickerton and son, Spencer Bickerton, who have been in the colonies, have returned to Honolulu.

Mr. C. L. Wight is at present on Maui.

Mr. and Mrs. Hermann Focke have taken the Horace Craft Waikiki cottage on the beach.

Mr. Fred Greenwood is being welcomed among his many friends once again.

The Misses Young, who are now in Oakland, having returned to the coast from their European trip, are being extensively entertained this winter, one of the papers giving an account of an informal "at home" at which Mrs. Alexander was the hostess in their honor, and another having the following in its society notes: "One of the most interesting card parties recently given was by Mrs. Ernest J. Cotton, at their home on Vernon Heights, as a welcome home to her neighbors. Miss Bertha and Miss Mae Young, who have recently returned from abroad. The travelers had an extremely pleasant overland trip, coming

WALTER G. SMITH - EDITOR.

SATURDAY : : DECEMBER 14

President Roosevelt did not get magazine rates for his messages, but he knows it had the widest circulation of any of his literary products.

It is now time for the recurrence of the report that the Republican party is irrevocably split upon tariff and reciprocity. Patience will show the same old winning vote, however.

Secretary Wilson hopes to teach the Filipino all about agriculture, but the difficulty may be that the gentle islander will prove too busy raising Cain of his own hand to take up with the American variety.

Observe this sweetbread from the Bulletin:

Isn't it wonderful? This discovery of Thurston's organ of spite that Attorney General Knox's splendid vindication didn't mean what it said. It is to laugh.

You mean "it is to bleed." As to the "splendid vindication," the Attorney-General only wishes, as does the President, that he had tied a string to it.

In trying to defend himself from the charge of misconduct in the Gussman case, Judge Humphreys, through his lawyer, states that in denying the right of Judge Kaulukou to examine witnesses in the Hawaiian language, he was but following the letter and spirit of the organic law. This is one of the poor excuses that are hardly better than none. Speaking from the bench Judge Humphreys said that he had been permitting lawyers to examine Hawaiians in their own language, but that he would not do it for Judge Kaulukou because of a "false statement" he had made about the court. That is to say, this remarkable "jurist" had been violating the organic law on occasion, but did not do it for a man he did not like. To those who know the "judicial" person upon whom the Hawaiian bar put an ineffaceable brand of shame, the proceeding seems to have been most characteristic.

STILL BANDER-LOGGING.

The Home Rulers now conclude "that because President Roosevelt has expressed the view that this Territory should develop along American lines, he will be prepared to take the advice of the only anti-American political body here. Happily, in his complete understanding of island politics, President Roosevelt is able to measure these Home Rulers inch by inch from the height of their vicious opposition to everything American to the depth of their ignorance and venality. He knows that these are the anti-annexation native monarchists in disguise; he knows that their "leader" offered his ridiculous sword to Aguinaldo; he knows that their Legislature was a farce-comedy, and that they have no more idea about the ethics of government than they have about those of common sense and common honesty; he knows that they make their campaign among the poor natives by telling them that Home Rule meant the restoration of the throne. And knowing all this, the President may be trusted to give their political memorials against Governor Dole—the man who turned their kind out of office by the revolution of 1893—about as much consideration as he would a diatribe from the Populists or a petition from a band of anarchists in session behind a beer vat.

We believe the latest form which the Home Rule bander-logging has assumed is an attempt to have the Republican Governor removed because he refused to sign a Home Rule county government bill. A fine measure copied from some Western county charter will be sent to the President to show what an opportunity to spread the principles of Americanism was spoiled by the gubernatorial veto. The actual bill, the one which reached the Governor, was, as we recall it, a crazy-quilt of paragraphs copied from various charters, some of them retaining the original names of locally. The Home Rulers actually lobbied for a county in the State of Washington. Their rag-bag bill began and ended nowhere in particular, was full of legal loopholes and would have exposed the Governor, if he had signed it, to a reprimand from the President. Even if the bill had become a law, it would have failed to get the aboriginal politicians into all the offices, as was its main object, because the courts would have removed it on a shovel and put it on a dump.

Still we do not want the Home Rulers to be discouraged in their peculiar politics. The more Washington sees of them and the more it hears from them, the sooner it will get in a mood to relieve the American party here from a most intolerable burden. So go on with the petitions and the memorials and the other absurdities, for they will prove the beginning of the end.

FIGHT OVER CUBA.

Among the citizens of this Territory are many who have not been Americans for a sufficiently long time to permit them to get the proper perspective. Those there are who accept the pronouncements of the first message of President Roosevelt as law in itself, but they appear to forget that there is a large and peculiar body which stands between recommendations and law, between the promise of the head of the party and fulfillment by another branch of government.

The message of President Roosevelt is an able document and sets forth clearly the views of the executive as to what would be the ultimate end in good government for the nation. Should he find, however, that the developments of the next month indicate that it would be better policy to change a view upon any point comprehended in his message, it would be idle to argue that even he would regard his message as dicta on all points of policy. That there are two views he himself recognizes in the paragraphs regarding relations with Cuba. The President of course was an earnest partisan of the Cuban cause, and was one of the enthusiastic ones who never was able to see that there was any real in the basis to the Pearl of the Antilles. So it was that the service of the President in the fight

A CONDITION NOT A THEORY.

The successful building up of American homesteads all over Hawaii would be an ideal condition to reach. If the thing could be done it would prove its value, agriculturally, in adding to the variety of products; defensively, it would enable Hawaii to provision for a siege; economically, it would reduce the cost of living; commercially, it would increase both exports and imports; politically, it would rescue legislation from the unpopularity of the mob. For years all this has been as well understood by the rulers of Hawaii as it now is by national statesmen. Laws have been framed to attract and secure settlers; some colonies have been established; much land has been divided into household tracts. But where is the homestead? First and last, thousands of home-seekers have come here, made inquiries of people who know, looked at things as they are and gone away. The newspapers have not scared them, for it is obvious to every publisher here that the more American settlers there are the more customers for the press and the more money in the life currents of trade.

The question of why the agricultural jury thus "sat on" Hawaii and found it an unprofitable place for small farmers is most interesting. The man with the hoe has found that the larger part of the arable land, lying near the coast, is worth vastly more for sugar produced on a big scale and by means of irrigation, than it is for cabbages or corn or wheat, assuming that these characteristic productions of the north temperate zone could be grown upon it at all. No one seeking a profit, unless it be a Chinaman with a truck farm or a rice field in the environs of Honolulu, would think of growing anything else than sugar on sugar land. He could not afford to do so on land with a sugar valuation, and such a move would be most unbusinesslike in other ways. Prospecting farmers have sometimes thought of taking advantage of the high price of sugar by growing it on ten or twenty acre tracts and selling the cane to a plantation near by; but after counting the cost of planting, of waiting for a mature crop, of getting water on the land, and the trouble of stripping the cane, to say nothing about the mistakes likely to be made in the pursuit of an unfamiliar industry, they have abandoned the scheme. Some men have turned to fruit, but it takes time to grow trees, and when they mature they are not very profitable. Most of our tropical fruits, the alligator pear, mango and breadfruit are not exportable, except on ice, and the local demand for them is limited. Oranges do not thrive well here, and our market prefers the fine California article which, in fact, is cheaper than poor oranges brought in from Kona. Owing to our climate lemons do not cure well. Pineapples are a fairer proposition, but they are a side crop at best. Our bananas, which sometimes sell at the rate of three for five cents in the San Francisco market, are a crop for Chinamen. The growing of vegetables, owing to numerous pests, never attracts white men who, it must be confessed, are less successful when they do try than are the Orientals.

A homestead to succeed must produce enough food for a family, and enough beyond that to sell for the cash needed for clothing, taxes, repairs, insurance, live stock and small comforts. It remains to be shown that this can be done in Hawaii by any white man. We have told why so far as sugar land is concerned, but we have not spoken of the upper levels where the climate shades off from the tropical and the chance of growing ordinary staples would seem, at first thought, to be better. But, unluckily, as we go up hill we get into a region of superabundant rain, and things spoil in the ground. Often at fair elevations the soil is but a thin carpet over solid masses of lava. Distance from the market, from supplies and from schools all count against the homesteader. He is beset with difficulties and he soon gives up. There was hope a few years ago when the Oloa settlers took hold; but now the route through their country is made melancholy by abandoned homes.

We must therefore face the stern truth that this is a sugar country, and not much else; and the stern truth that if sugar is to be grown at a profit cheap labor must be had. We do not say that white men could not work in the Hawaiian cane fields, but it is true that they will not do so any more than white men will work in the cane fields and rice swamps of Louisiana and Cuba. If they would so work their wages would soon drive the planters out of business. Even the price of Japanese labor here is big enough to seriously reduce plantation dividends. In fact, Hawaii is situated somewhat as Jamaica was when her magnificent prosperity of 100 years ago was broken up by an increase in the price of labor. These islands may get out better than their West Indian neighbor did through the fostering care of the United States; but those who claim that, if the sugar industry goes, small farming will take its place, should remember how little this recourse availed Jamaica when her staple industry was crushed.

Too many people, especially people at a distance, theorize about Hawaii. But it is a condition, not a theory, that confronts us. Hawaii is not New England, or Florida, or California. It is a tropical island down on the edge of the equatorial seas, which must bear fruit after its kind or no fruit at all. Men do not gather grapes of thorns nor figs of thistles, nor do they reap in the tropics what is sown in the north temperate zone.

was one full not only of intense action, but as well of sympathy for the people who received the direct benefits from the intervention of the United States.

It is but natural, then, that at this, the first opportunity which he has to show great interest in the people, that he should move to give to Free Cuba all the advantages which come from close relations with the great republic. But there is a side to the matter which it is not well to overlook before the business men of the Territory give themselves up to gloomy forebodings. It is not loyalty to the President to say that all the reforms which he advocates will not be enacted into law. The pronouncement of the chief executive as to reciprocity is as strong as that upon Cuba or exclusion. Yet in the telegrams from Washington so steadfast a supporter of the government as Senator George C. Perkins, of California, did recently that if the Cubans are not given partial relief they will soon be in such a state that the whole people of the United States will be aroused and annexation of Cuba will be the outcome. It is pointed out that the Cubans have lost the market they formerly possessed in Spain. Their products pay duty now, as every other import. They find the doors of the United States customs houses closed to them, except when they can pay a stiff rate of duty, and in this plight it is claimed they are suffering. The high protectionists and the best-sugar men raise the cry that concessions to Cuba will redound mainly to the benefit of the sugar trust in this country. They demand that Cuba shall be given her independence and then left to work out her own economic salvation along with the other nations of the world. "Charity begins at home," is their motto; "let's look out for our own producers first."

The attitude of Danish residents of St. Thomas and its adjacent islands has changed since Grant's administration when they cast a solid vote for union with this country. They now petition the Riksdag to keep them as they are, politically, even though they would be more prosperous under American laws. Evidently the Danish colonial officers, who like their job, have done some skillful electioneering since the purchase negotiations were resumed.

One of the anonymous writers that infest the editorial columns of the independent says: "The Washington Star is referred to by the Advertiser as the organ of the President. If it is true, it is very much out of tune." Indeed! In that case some forcible remarks which the President made about the branded Judge to a recent Hawaiian caller must have been misunderstood.

Catarrh

Is a discharge from the mucous membrane of the nose, throat, stomach, bowels, etc., when kept in a state of inflammation by an impure condition of the blood and a want of tone in the system.

Soothe the inflamed membrane, strengthen the weakened system, and the discharge will stop—to do this purify the blood.

"I was troubled with catarrh for years and tried various remedies but found nothing that would cure me. I then resolved to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and took four bottles which entirely cured me. I have never been troubled with catarrh since. As a blood purifier I can find nothing else equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." WILLIAM SHERMAN, 1030 6th St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cures catarrh radically and permanently—removes its cause and overcomes all its effects.

with Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Lukins. Mrs. Cotton's home was an exceedingly artistic study in pink, very beautifully carried out, with quantities of ferns and lovely pink carnations. Many floral gifts to the hostess of the afternoon represented the many kind thoughts of her guests. Euchre was played during the afternoon, the first prize, a handsome cut glass vase, being won by Mrs. E. G. Lukins. The second prize, a charming water color study, was won by Mrs. Louise Alexander. In the center of the study was a picturesque little red fairy, whose mission is to bring good luck to its owner. The consolation prize, a pretty specimen in cut glass, was won by Miss Carrie Nicholson. Mrs. E. J. Cotton was assisted in receiving her guests by Mrs. Chas. Milnor Goodall, Mrs. W. O. Cullen, Mrs. Geo. De Golia, Mrs. Louise Alexander, Miss Bertha and Miss May Young, and Miss Madeline Blankart. The Mrs. Cotton here mentioned as hostess is the wife of Mr. E. G. Cotton, now in Honolulu, and is well known in our city, where she has lived for a number of times during the winters.

Mr. Lake is making by his efficient management and genial manner a more than ever popular place of the Hawaiian Hotel. The dance there during the week was a most enjoyable affair, and the cooling punch which was passed during the evening's dancing, made a delightful feature of the entertainment. Many guests were present, among the number being Mrs. Sargent, Miss Sargent, Mr. Holt, Miss Bacon, Miss Gillet, Mr. Jensen, Mr. Tappan, Miss Casey, Mr. Teaffe, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Church, Mrs. Styne, Mr. Fred Grimwood, Miss Colburn, Mr. I. Dillingham, Dr. McAdory, Lieut. Hancock, Mr. H. Wilder, Mr. Lowell, Miss Angus, Miss Myra Angus, Miss Grace and others.

Mr. M. M. Scott and family have taken the cottage of Mrs. N. Noonan, corner of Kinau and Pensacola street, and will move from their present home in the valley in the near future.

Mrs. James Cast left on the Sonoma to join her husband, at present in California, and from where they will proceed to Eastern States.

Mr. Willard Baldwin left this week to take the management of Makaweli plantation.

Rev. O. H. Gulick went to the other Islands in the last Claudine.

Hon. J. Frendergast took the Kinau for Hawaii during the week.

Major Wm. A. Purdy, who has been a visitor to Honolulu for a week or ten days, was a departing passenger for Hilo on the 10th.

Mrs. W. S. Harding, who has been in our city for a number of months, went back to her home on Hawaii early in the week.

Mr. A. Stedthander of Hackfeld & Co. is on the other Islands.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Loge Marx are at present domiciled at the James Castle Walkiki place, where they will be the guests of Miss White while Mrs. Castle is away.

Part of Camp Mackale is on a march to Moanua and vicinity.

Professor W. D. Alexander is again in town, after quite an extended sojourn in the East and at the coast.

Theodore Wores' paintings exhibited in the fall exhibition of the Kilauea Art League in Honolulu were received with much favor. Wores is certainly one of our best artists. His Japanese studies are very popular.—Town Talk.

Wednesday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Cooper, Miss Eliza Burrall Nickens and Mr. Robert Hawahurst Jr. were quietly married, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Wm. Morris Kincaid. Miss Nickens is the daughter of the late Johnson Nickens, and though her engagement to Mr. Hawahurst had been announced, it was not planned that the wedding should occur until some time in June, but owing to the sudden death of her father and the fact that Mrs. Nickens being at present in the East, the young lady was comparatively alone, it was decided to arrange for an earlier marriage. Dr. Cooper being the Executive Father of the Elks, of which organization Mr. Nickens was a member, proffered the hospitality of his home and it was there the ceremony took place, Dr. and Mrs. Cooper only being present.

Dr. Smith, Mr. Vogelgesang and Paymaster Sullivan, all well known in Honolulu, were again welcomed by old friends when they re-appeared on the "Wisconsin."

Mrs. H. L. Adams and children were incoming passengers in the S. S. Sierra.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Atwater came home from their coast trip during the week.

Mr. D. R. Banning is again in town.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Beardslee, who have been away for a couple of months, came home on the late foreign boat.

Mrs. D. A. Bender and Miss Bender were arrivals during the week.

Mr. R. R. Berg, who has been making a business trip away, came back on the 12th.

The dance given by Mrs. Mary Gunn in Progress Hall, on Monday evening, was a most delightful affair, and quite perfect in all its details, as are always those dances presided over by Mrs. Gunn, who besides being a very general favorite, is not wanting in the executive ability necessary for insuring the success of such functions. A pleasant innovation was the introduction by way of a break in the regular order of the program of two figures of the German, during which unique favors of the Japanese type were presented to the ladies, while the men were given Chinese dolls. Among those present were Lieut. Commander Tamm, Mrs. Casey, Mr. and Mrs. J. Walker, Mr. Chas. Norton, Miss Grace, Miss Gladys Gillet, Edwin J. Jones, Mr. Mackay, Mr. Mary Wadfield, Miss K. Wad-field, Mr. Southard Hoffman, Major Potter, Miss Myra Angus, Miss Lady Macfarlane, Mr. Kimbal, Mr. Holt, Miss Juliette King, Mr. Lowell, Mr. Walter Dillingham, Mr. I. Dillingham, Miss Dutton, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dutton, Miss Mae Colburn, Mrs. Warren, Miss Warren, Dr. McAdory, Lieutenant Hancock, Miss Marian Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ivers, Mr. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown, Miss Rycroft, Mr. Irvine, Mr. Lewis, Mrs. Sargent, Miss Sargent, Mrs. E. D. Tenney, Miss Paty, Mrs. Paty, Miss Damon, Mrs. Percy Benson, Mrs. Bird, Miss Giffard.

Mr. W. I. Madeira, assistant postmaster, and bride, arrived in the Sierra from the coast.

Mr. P. C. Jones is suffering from an attack of grippe.

Lieutenant Hugh Rodman, U. S. N., who comes to Honolulu station to take command of the Iroquois, arrived in the Sierra of the 12th. Lieutenant Rodman is accompanied by Mrs. Rodman.

Colonel W. H. Cornwell is home again.

Mr. F. B. Damon was on the returning passenger list of the Sierra.

Mrs. B. F. Dillingham reached home during the week. Mr. Dillingham did not accompany his wife, as his business interests demanded his attention in the East.

Miss Alice Jones, who has spent some months in the Eastern cities, reached Honolulu in the mid-week steamer in time for her holidays with her parents.

Invitations have been received from Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dole requesting presence at the marriage of their daughter, Marian, to Mr. Ernest Renwick Jones, on Wednesday, Jan. 1st, at Riverside, California, and enclosed cards tell of the future home of Mr. and Mrs. Jones as Alameda, California.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Swanzy have returned from their trip away.

Mr. F. Klamp and Mr. J. F. Hackfeld, who have been making a business trip to the other Islands, came into town again in the last Claudine.

At a dinner given during the week a beautiful gown was worn of cream liberty chiffon over changeable tea rose taffeta lace. The foundation, circular, was edged with a wide-plaited ruffle, and this was a tea rose mousseline de sole, edged with a ruche. The liberty chiffon drop skirt was trimmed with six gathered graduated circular ruffles, edged with cream fillet lace in Mechlin design, and headed by an insertion above the upper flounce. Graduated groups of reversed tucks from the waist line came to a point in front. The waist also had tucks in groups and crosswise insertions pointed up at the dart line, and at the middle back seam. A little fullness in the fronts bloused over the soft girle of tea rose panne velvet. There was a fichu around the shoulders, with its ruffle edged with lace, and this fichu formed jabot scarf lids. The whole was very stunning.

On the evening of her reception day a recent bride wore an elegant Princess gown of white net dotted with black over white taffeta. The tucked net Princess had a deep graduated flounce of black guipure, with white fillet net, bordered with jet and headed with white fillet Italiane medallions, having tucked black chiffon centers. There was a tiny band on the corsage of the corsage and fillet outlined with medallions, and on the left shoulder was a cluster of black velvet ribbon loops with a jet buckle. The sleeves were tucked elbow sleeves, with guipure and fillet ruffles.

Mrs. Alfred Willis has been quite ill for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane will entertain a house party at Ahuimanu over Sunday. The members of the bridal party will make up the list of guests.

LIKES THE "HOT LAKES"

Col. W. F. Allen Was Benefited by Them.

LABOR QUESTION IN NEW ZEALAND

Col. Allen Believes Extreme Legislation Was Done in Excluding Kanaka Labor.

Colonel W. F. Allen, who returned during the week from New Zealand, where he remained for two months for the benefit of his health, speaks in the highest terms of the "Hot Lakes" of that island country, generally known to the islanders as Roratura. They are to New Zealand what the Hot Springs are to the United States, and, according to Col. Allen, work wonders for persons afflicted with rheumatism and other ailments.

"I am sorry that I could not remain away longer," said Col. Allen yesterday, "as the hot baths were having a most beneficial effect upon my system. As it is, I feel much better than when I went away and give the Hot Lakes the credit for the improvement."

"These lakes are kept under government control and the surroundings are made very beautiful. Everywhere the hand of the government is to be plainly seen and everything possible is done to make the region attractive, all with the view of assisting in the improvement in the health of those who use the baths. The government appoints a physician and the fees are paid to him. He in turn passes them over to the government, and in this manner a revenue has been derived that is worth considering."

When asked as to the later conditions in Australia as affected by the recent legislation against Kanaka labor for the sugar cane fields and other industries, Col. Allen said:

"I cannot say much about the labor conditions there, as I did not make any attempt to study them. I learned that the recent legislation has been extreme, as the government is now in the control of the labor party. In the interest of their constituents the labor representatives have passed extreme measures excluding Kanaka labor from almost every industry where it was formerly employed. It is their hope to put all classes of labor into the hands of the whites, representing that there are enough whites in the country for this to be done safely. The legislation of this party does not seem to have had a beneficial effect, and there is a fear that it will mean the stagnation of many industries."

"New Zealand is not a great sugar-producing country. In fact, from what I learned, there is little done towards making this a great industry. There is a finely equipped refinery across the water from Auckland, which I visited. The sugar refined comes mostly from Java, and also from Fiji, where the refinery company owns plantations on which Kanaka labor has been employed."

"It is generally believed that the labor party has gone to the extreme in legislating against the Kanaka or black labor. But this is probably due to what the labor party believes of the party formerly in power. If a happy medium could be effected the chances are that everybody would be satisfied."

"One of the troubles in New Zealand is due to the land laws. A person can take up a large amount of land, improve it, and then the government can step in and take it back, paying their own valuation for it, constituting a loss to the holder. Retaining land in this manner is done for the purpose of breaking it up into homesteads. The land, however, is not taken up by homesteaders to any great extent. In the cities there are too many small shopkeepers, and I believe from what I heard that it would be better if the majority of them to go into the country, take up these lands, and make more money than they can in their shops."

APPROPRIATION IS EXHAUSTED

Redemption of Hawaiian Stamps Must Await Further Action by Legislature.

The appropriation for the payment of Postmasters still having on hand Hawaiian postage stamps is nearly exhausted. The Legislature appropriated but $1200 for this payment, and $165.00 has already been paid out by Treasurer Wright. There are two warrants still in his hands of $53 and $124 which cannot be paid until the Legislature makes another appropriation. Many of the Postmasters sent on their stamps to Washington after cancellation, instead of to the Territorial government for redemption, and they are beginning now to get receipts from the Postmaster-General showing the stamps to have been destroyed. There are probably between $20 and $30 worth of these stamps still on hand.

HOGAN'S NEW HIT.

Will Put on a Trip to Waikiki With Local Songs.

Hogan's great local farce comedy entitled "A Trip to Waikiki," will be presented tonight. The comedy is in three acts, laid at Waikiki beach, and is full of rich fun. There will be plenty of good singing and dancing introduced, together with specialties, during the acts.

Special scenery has been painted for the occasion, one set showing the Moana Hotel, another the Hawaiian Annex, while a third shows the beach with Diamond Head in the distance. Local songs and hits will be sprung as well as local songs written for this farce by Hogan and Wise.

The comedy was written to catch the popular taste of the Orpheum patrons, and will no doubt draw good houses during its run.

Billy McLain, the great negro comedian who has just arrived from Australia, joins the company here, and will make his first appearance in a sketch in which he and Hogan will appear together.

There will be the usual matinee this afternoon for ladies and children, and for their benefit the Carver Brothers will give their exhibition in front of the theater at 1:30.

A Woman's Presence

Is often pleasantly foretold by the aroma of some dainty perfume. In times long gone by the choice scents were made into unguents spread upon the hair and body. Then came the art of distillation and the odoriferous drops were sprinkled on the handkerchief or mingled with the water in which my lady laved her dainty limbs and face.

Not until modern times came the most perfect way of applying the perfume—THE ATOMIZER. Now no toilet table is without one.

Our Selection of Atomizers is Complete.

THEIR SUITABILITY FOR A CHRISTMAS GIFT PERFECT.

Perfect spraying, made in choice designs of cut glass and dainty porcelain. Not expensive, and thoroughly acceptable.

Kodakery.

Everybody looks upon a Kodak nowadays as they look on an umbrella—a necessity. Still, many do not possess them, and many more are dissatisfied with the results from their cameras.

The perverted aphorism, "There is no Kodak but an Eastman Kodak," is a true one. You are absolutely secure in buying any article in photographic appliances when the name Eastman shows as manufacturer. Thoroughly reliable and the best of material, they always give the best of satisfaction. It is hard to devise a better Christmas gift in this land of unrivaled scenery than a KODAK to those who do not already possess one, or having a camera by some less careful manufacturer, are dissatisfied with its results.

Chicago, Nov. 29, 1901.

Editor Advertiser: In November, 1899, the transport Benmore arrived at Honolulu with the boys of the 45th regiment on board, bound for the Philippines. I was one of them and as we strolled about your city we came upon an elderly lady, about fifty I should judge, who invited us in upon her lawn and bade us partake of the coffee, cake, nuts and lemonade that she had placed on tables there. Every soldier was welcome, and upon departing she presented each with a bag of nuts. I was so touched by her generosity that I asked her to tell me her name, but have long since forgotten it.

I remember, however, that she said she was of German parentage, but could not speak that language. She lived on one of the main streets running towards the bay, on the one on which the fire department building is located, I believe, or else the one next to it in the direction of the Queen's Palace.

It seems to me that it was King street, and that it was about half a mile from the fire department, not in the direction of the bay, but away from it.

Her cottage was of modest dimensions, and stood back on the lot I should say about 20 feet from the sidewalk. The lot had a frontage of about 50 feet and was on the same side of the street as the fire department building.

It has occurred to me that you, as editor of the Pacific Commercial Advertiser, may possibly have heard of this lady and can secure her address for me, or help me to trace her whereabouts. I shall feel myself greatly indebted to you for any information concerning her.

I inclose stamps for a copy of your paper of January 23, 1901, and also a copy of present date, and for a reply.

Trusting that you can be of assistance in this matter, I remain, very respectfully yours,

THE ROAD TO SUGAR LOAF

Bids were opened yesterday for the new road to the Sugar Loaf. J. T. Alexander has offered to build at his own expense, the work to be done under the supervision of the Department of Public Works. Eight bids were received altogether, the lowest being that of J. J. Belser, who offered to do the entire job for $25,311.79. The highest bid was by Jas. Makee, who wanted more than double the amount of Belser's bid, or a total of $55,711.23.

Separate bids were called for by Supt. Boyd for the building of the road and also for the culvert work. The road is to be built in three sections and tenders were received for each separate section and then for the contract as a whole.

Contractor Belser's bid is the lowest but there are two other tenders very near his, W. E. Rowell and J. R. Higby each bidding a little more than 27,000. The contract will not be signed until the return of Mr. Alexander, which is expected within ten days. It was generally understood that he has agreed to give $15,000 for the construction of the road, but Mr. Boyd stated yesterday that he had no understanding as to any specific amount, but was simply to go ahead and advertise for tenders. An estimate was made some time ago by engineers other than the Department of Works for a road as intended by Mr. Alexander to cost but $17,000, but Engineer Campbell's estimate was $25,600. The smaller amount contemplated a road cut half out and half fill, but this is impracticable according to the plans of Assistant Superintendent Campbell, whose estimate is for a permanent road, and one which would not be continually caving in from the sides.

The plans call for a road of 27,236 feet or five miles of length, extending from the end of Makiki street to the top of Sugar Loaf. It is to be twenty feet wide, with a one-foot culvert on either side. The grade is to be five percent and the road built curved so as to allow low water drainage. Engineer Campbell is of the opinion that the cost of the road could be lessened by making a smaller cut and thus shortening the distance. The formation of the present route for the road makes impossible any other method than that adopted, and would not allow a half cut and half fill.

The following are the bids submitted to Superintendent Boyd yesterday noon.

SEVENTY FIVE FOR EACH ACRE

Jury Fixes Value Pearl Harbor Land.

BUT ONE MORE CASE FOR TRIAL

Bishop Estate Interest Placed at $52,737.50—Suit Dismissed as to Other Defendants.

Seventy-five dollars per acre, or a total of $52,737.50 was the opinion of the jury as to the value of the land owned by the Bishop estate and condemned by the United States for use as a naval station at Pearl Harbor. The jury agreed upon the verdict shortly after eight o'clock yesterday morning, but it was nearly an hour before the attorneys made their appearance in court to hear the findings.

Within a short time after the return of the verdict dismissals were filed by United States Attorney Dunne virtually settling the remainder of the suits excepting that against the Honolulu Plantation Co., which holds a thirty-year lease upon the property valued by the jury at $52,737. A compromise had been effected as to the Oahu Railway and Land Co. and Oahu Plantation Co. and the John H. Estate, as has been previously noted, and the dismissals were filed by stipulation yesterday morning. A compromise is expected also as to the twenty-three acres still in contest, owned by the H. Estate and also as to the lease held by the Dowsett Estate, which is nearly expired. The remaining defendants named in the petition originally filed are Wm. G. Irwin and Bishop & Co. and agreements already made practically dispose of these interests, their names having been inserted in the complaints as a precautionary measure.

THE JURY'S VERDICT.

The jury labored on the verdict until midnight Thursday, and at six o'clock, after breakfast were taken back to the jury room to continue their labors. Judge Estlin was the first on hand to receive the verdict and E. B. McClanahan appeared for the respondents, while Mr. Dunne came into court just as the jury was brought in.

The jury was called, answering to their names as follows: J. T. Cope-land, W. T. Balding, Stanley Stephenson, W. E. Skinner, Harry F. Davidson, J. G. Smith, W. H. Barth, B. D. Mitchell, W. C. Hollinshead, D. E. Whitman, E. E. Mossman, John Callahan.

The verdict was then read as follows:

"United States of America,
District of Hawaii.
In the District Court of the United States, in and for the District of Hawaii.

"The United States of America, plaintiff and petitioner, vs. the Estate of Bernice Pauahi Bishop, deceased, and Joseph O. Carter, William F. Allen, William O. Smith, Samuel M. Damon and Alfred W. Carter, trustees under the will of Bernice Pauahi Bishop, deceased, and the estate of said Bernice Pauahi Bishop, deceased, et al., defendants and respondents.

"We, the jury in the above entitled action, upon the issues framed in said action between the above named plaintiff and petitioner and Estate of Bernice Pauahi Bishop, deceased, and J. O. Carter, W. F. Allen, W. O. Smith, S. M. Damon and A. W. Carter, trustees under the will of the Estate of Bernice Pauahi Bishop, deceased, defendant and respondent above named, find the following verdict, to wit:

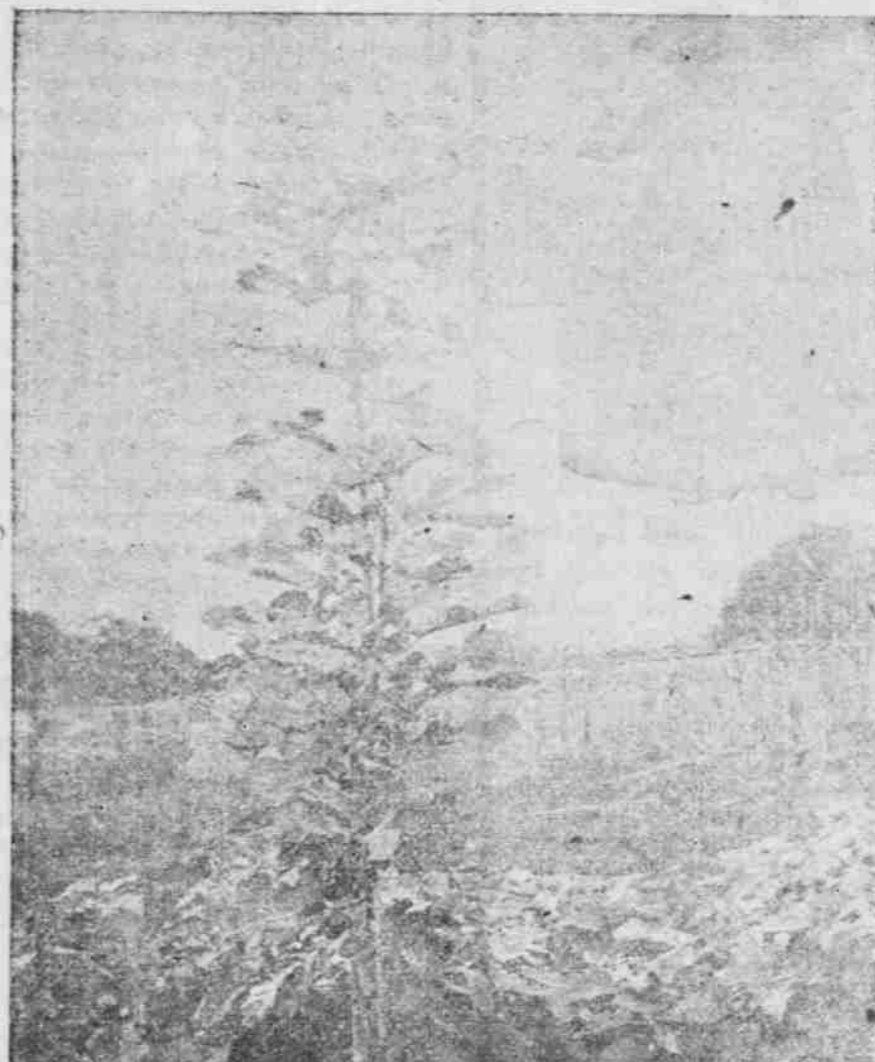

"We find that the above named plaintiff and petitioner is entitled to have all the right, title and interest of said defendant in and to the tracts and parcels of land involved herein condemned for the uses and purposes set out in the petition on file herein, and to take, hold, acquire and acquire said tracts and parcels of land and their appurtenances in fee simple absolute, subject to existing leases, for the public uses and purposes in said petition set out.

SMYRNA FIG CULTURE IN THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS SUCCESSFULLY DEMONSTRATED BY ALLAN HERBERT

Capri Fig (Male) Nine Months' Growth From the Graft.

Smyrna Fig (Female) Nine Months' Growth From the Graft.

ALLAN HERBERT has great hopes of the Smyrna fig being propagated in the Hawaiian Islands, as he has successfully passed the experimental stage here in the development of this fine fruit. The experiments with the fig tree have been conducted at Mr. Herbert's Kailua place, and he sees no reason why the trees should not now be imported by the thousands, so that the fruit, hitherto brought from far away Africa, along the Mediterranean, can be raised here and the product placed on the market at a price which will give an opportunity for even the school children to enjoy the fig in large quantities.

Speaking on the possibilities of fig culture in Hawaii, Mr. Herbert said yesterday:

"A brief reference to what the Smyrna fig really is will no doubt lead to a better understanding of the value of the fruit. I returned a short time ago from a trip to California, where I was most successful in securing all the information relative to Smyrna fig culture, which will not only be of great interest and value to myself, but to this Territory at large. I do not hesitate to say that Hawaii can produce fully as good figs as are raised in Smyrna. There is a great future for the Smyrna fig industry in Hawaii and when it is once established on a commercial basis, Hawaii will have quite an increase in her annual income.

"The year 1901 inaugurated a new era in fig culture in California. For the first time this fig has been successfully grown, dried and packed there on a commercial scale, and is now for sale in Honolulu. I think I am safe in saying it is the first time the fig has been raised in any part of the world outside of Smyrna. These trees do not mature their fruits unless their flowers, which are always female, have been fertilized from the wild or Capri fig, either by artificially transferring the pollen, or through the agency of the fig wasp, Blastophaga.

"We have here in these islands thousands of acres of land not adapted to the growing of sugar or rice, but which are the natural home of the Smyrna fig. A fig tree needs but little care; it will produce two crops a year; blight and insect pests keep away from it; it is, in fact, a barn-yard tree. No matter how small a parcel of land one may have, there should be a few fig trees growing upon it.

"I have now the wild or Capri and the real Smyrna fig trees growing at my place in Kailua. The No. 1 and No. 2 Capri have made the remarkable growths of over four feet since they were set out in March last, and the female tree has fruit on it already. I have ordered another lot to be here next month, and if any one in Honolulu desires to have some of these valuable trees I shall be glad to order them. The last ones I imported cost sixty-five cents each for the female Smyrna, and $1 for the wild Capri landed here. One year old trees, well rooted, would doubtless be much less in price if ordered by the thousand.

"At all events the people here will have to pay no profit or commissions, as I am not after anything of that kind. It is a labor of pleasure and love. I only speak of this as I can get them better trees, better packing and better cared for, than they could if they ordered them. I have a skilled Japanese to set them out if they desire and it will certainly be a pleasure to me to give directions to any one as to how to plant them. There should be one wild Capri or male to fifty Smyrna or female fig trees. Of course if one plants only five or ten Smyrna trees they must have at least one Capri.

"I shall recommend nothing but what I know will be of value. December and January is the best time of the year to order trees, as they are then dormant. Lycurgus tells us that fresh figs are sold for three cents a pound in his country. Who would not eat delicious fresh figs at from three to five cents per pound? Go into our public schools and ask the hundreds of little bright-eyed children how many of them have had a hat full of fresh figs, oranges or grapes in this Paradise of the Pacific, and hear the answer you will be sure to get. They are not raised here in such quantities that a hatful can be thought of, but they should be."

rupt traffic upon the company's road, and to be completed in all respects to the satisfaction of the company's engineer.

"And upon the completion of such new tracks this company's interest and right in said land to be taken by the United States as aforesaid, shall absolutely cease and determine."

This offer was approved by Captain Merry and his recommendation to the Department was favorably acted upon, as the following telegram shows:

"WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 5, 1901.—Navy Pay Office, San Francisco, Cal.: Mail following to Naval Station, Honolulu: 'Your suggestion in paragraph 11, letter 130, July 13th, regard to Oahu Railway Company land, is approved. Act accordingly. Very respectfully,

"(Signed): P. W. HACKETT."

The Oahu Sugar Company's claim was for $300,000, and after numerous consultations with Captain Merry and Mr. Dunne, the following proposition was submitted by Hatch & Silliman for respondents:

"Enclosed herewith find map and notes of survey of a piece of land along the southeast border of Ford Island, in Pearl Lochs, being the strip lying between the red border and the sea on the southeast side of the island as indicated on the map also herewith enclosed.

"The leasehold of the land which the government is seeking to condemn taken at the very lowest and most conservative estimate, to the Oahu Sugar Company, the sum of $300,000.

"Rather than have the land which the government is seeking to condemn taken over, the company would be willing to convey to the government, with charge, in so far as its interest in said land is concerned, the strip described in the enclosed notes of survey, being all the water frontage on the southeast side of said island. If the government will discontinue its proceedings to condemn the leasehold of the cane lands lying between the red and green lines on the enclosed map, the Oahu Sugar Company will convey to the government, so far as its leasehold interest goes, the strip of land described in said notes of survey for a consideration of one dollar or any other nominal consideration which you wish inserted in the deed."

This was acceptable, and Captain Merry was ordered to make the suggested compromise, Attorney General Knox ordering the dismissal of the case. The order to Captain Merry was as follows:

"No. 4513. Department of the Navy, Bureau of Equipment, Washington, D. C., October 1, 1901.

"Sir—Referring to your letter, No. 131, of the 17th ultimo, in regard to the proposition, copy of which was enclosed therewith, made by the Oahu Sugar Company in regard to lands on Ford Island as proposed naval station.

"The bureau regards the proposition made by Messrs. Hatch & Silliman, attorneys for the Oahu Sugar Company, as most favorable, practically giving the bureau the absolute control of the north side of the channel between Ford's Island and the navy yard proper. The bureau therefore telegraphed you yesterday through the Navy Pay Office, San Francisco, as follows:

"Referring Bureau's telegram, September 7th, suspending condemnation Ford's Island land, bureau much prefers accepting Hatch & Silliman's proposition, which your letter, No. 131, September 7th, and authorizes acceptance. Very respectfully,

"Chief of Bureau.

"Commandant, United States Naval Station, Hawaii, Honolulu, H. I."

The interest of the John H. Estate is only a leasehold, and passes with the title to the property. The deeds to all of this land noted in the affidavit were passed over to Captain Merry in open court. The order of the court in reference to these dismissals is in part as follows:

"Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered as follows, to wit:

"1. That the above entitled action and proceeding be, and it is hereby discontinued as against the above named John H. Estate, Limited, a corporation, defendant and respondent above named, as to all of that tract of land described as being situated on Ford's Island, save and except that certain strip of 23 acres, more or less, upon the southeast side of said Ford Island, being conveyed to said plaintiff and petitioner by deed of conveyance of Oahu Sugar Company, Limited, without costs to either party herein.

"2. That the above entitled action and proceeding be, and it is hereby discontinued as against the above named John H. Estate, Limited, a corporation, defendant and respondent above named, as to all of that tract of land described as being situated on Ford's Island, save and except that certain strip of 23 acres, more or less, upon the southeast side of said Ford Island, being conveyed to said plaintiff and petitioner by deed of conveyance of Oahu Sugar Company, Limited, without costs to either party herein.

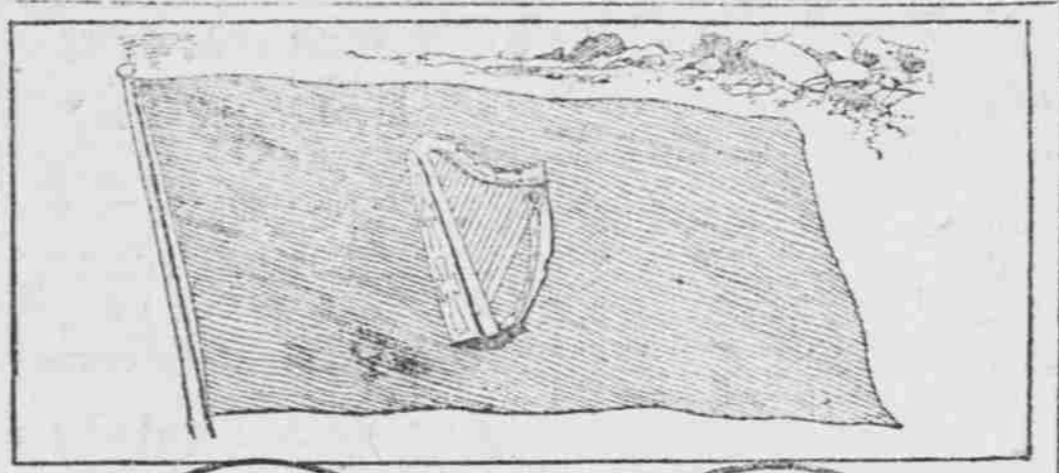

"3. That the above entitled action and proceeding be, and it is hereby discontinued as against the above named Oahu Sugar Company, Limited, a corporation, defendant above named, without costs to either party herein.

"Done in open court this 13th day of December, A. D. 1901.

"CHRIS M. ESTEE,
Judge of said Court."

Mr. Hatch also agreed that the Oahu Sugar Company should pass a resolution approving the order made in the court. This was done yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the directors of Oahu Sugar Company, when a resolution was adopted ratifying the transfer of the deed of the property to the United States.

A. J. Snell wanted to attend a party, but was afraid to do so on account of pains in his stomach, which he feared would grow worse. He says, "I was telling my troubles to a lady friend, who said: 'Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy will put you in condition for the party.' I bought a bottle and take pleasure in stating that two doses cured me and enabled me to have a good time at the party." Mr. Snell is a resident of Summer Hill, N. Y. THE ISLAND LABOR ISSUE FROM ANOTHER STANDPOINT

Honolulu, H. T., Dec. 14, 1901.

Editor Advertiser: As one who is interested in these islands, not only as a citizen, but as an American citizen, and as one who has lived among you for several years, and understands to a certain extent, not only the conditions
here, but in the States, I feel called upon to call your attention to a few points as they appear to me, in the great questions now agitating and indeed I believe threatening the people of these islands. By using the word "threatening," I would indicate a possible menace to the future of this Territory, and it seems to me that the
would-be leaders and possibly your valuable paper are doing much to hasten
the calamity.

Before stating my views permit me
to ask, Do you and the people who are so strongly favoring the importation of Asiatic labor realize what a very small factor these islands cut in the general political economy of the United States? Do you realize that no matter how necessary the employment of Asiatic labor may seem on these islands, its prohibition has been the result of a hard-fought battle in the United States and that those who have come out victorious are going to further fight any step which will indicate the slightest infringement of the old regime on the present conditions? Can you not see by the President's message and its reception in Congress, that any concession to Asiatic labor has poor
chances to be given to these islands?
The precedent so established would be dangerous to the laborers of the States themselves. Do you not know that thousands upon thousands of the laboring classes from the States have visited these islands during the past four years and returned from failure to secure work? Can you say of these thousands that all are "good for nothings?"

Do you not know that among your own people every mail to the States
bears letters to friends and relatives
and that the existing conditions are explained in a way that will carry conviction beyond all the logic that paid
representatives can use?

Do you not know that the American government is "of the people, for the people and by the people," and that representatives to Congress from our several States can be directly reached by every citizen from his State?

Do you not know that the census reports as published in the Advertiser show over 70,000 Asiatic laborers living on these islands, while the plantation
report published in yours of Oct. 24
shows but 32,513 of these people employed on plantations? Do you not see that the President and his associates are going to ask the question, What are these 47,000 Asiatics doing on the islands if not employed in your cane fields? Does it need more than the visiting representative from the President to see these 47,000 Asiatics employed in your stores, shops and constructive work, to see that they are not only not employed in your cane fields, but are filling positions that could be filled by American citizens?

As one who expects to make Hawaii
his home, and as one who has stood
and who stands ready to defend the honor of his flag, no matter whether against an armed foe or an enemy in citizen's clothes, I ask you, are you not making a fearful mistake, one which will bring upon you dire calamity?

In the President's message and by its reception in Congress, coupled with the fact that the republican party for the past twenty years has been pledged for the exclusion of Chinese, is it not evident to anyone who is familiar with the situation that Hawaii will receive no favors under the exclusion act? The question is, can she even hold what she has? And yet we are told by men who ought to know, and through the columns of your paper, that this is absolutely necessary to our future prosperity.

The question by the president, asked of one of our citizens visiting Washington,
as reported in the columns of the Advertiser, as to whether or not the Japanese laborer was being employed on these islands to the exclusion of the American laborer, ought to have given the key to the situation.

Every one must know that if the question is answered in the affirmative, it must not only result in the absolute exclusion of Chinese, but also in the exclusion of the Japanese, so far as our relations with Japan will permit.

Do you suppose that the president would base his future policy on the answer of the citizen in question, or even
on the answer of every plantation owner
on these islands if they waited upon him
as a whole? Certainly not. If he has manifested sufficient interest in the question to ask it, and to involve it in his message, he has had interest enough to put his thousands of sources of information in motion and to learn from the most humble of his people.

The policy for Hawaii to pursue, it seems to me, is as clear as the "handwriting on the wall" in days of old, and may possibly bear like interpretation if read between the lines. If Hawaii wants to keep the Japanese and Chinese laborer to work in her cane fields, she must keep them there alone. Just so long as they are filling positions that can be filled by American citizens, just so long
can you expect unfavorable legislation,
and if it is persisted in, to the exclusion
of the citizens, you may next expect legislation which will segregate your plantations, cancel your water rights, and make Hawaii into islands of small homes.

If the plantation managers, stockholders and agents wish to save themselves
from the inevitable future that the present conditions are bringing upon them,
they should see to it that not a position
on the islands, that can be filled by an American citizen, is filled by any but American citizens. Every luna, engineer, machinist, blacksmith, helper, plowman,
etc., etc., as well as storekeeper, bookkeeper and the like, should be an American citizen. It is not necessary to say that such is not the case at present,
it is only necessary to read your plantation labor reports to absolutely know
this.

As a citizen of these islands, directly interested in the growth and future of the plantations, I feel called upon to ask these questions. I am heart and body for the success of the plantations on these islands, just as far as I can conscientiously be as an American citizen. It seems to me that if any ignorance or lists as to the conditions, as our president

has been accused, it is here at home,
is not realizing how small a factor Hawaii represents in the great policy of the United States, when figured in dollars and cents, and how great a factor
she would be if special legislation was given her, in such a stupendous matter
as the importation of foreign labor.

The policy of Hawaii should not be to antagonize the people of the states in asking rights, which she can never hope to receive, but to attempt to shape her policy to harmonize with the laws and conditions of the states, and to hold the privileges already extended to her.

It seems to me that not a moment should be lost in this question. You are asking to have the Japanese laborer in your cane fields. You cannot for a moment hope to secure him if he runs out one American citizen from Hawaii. If you
the plantations should at once unite, employ the hundreds of idle citizens who
are now in your cities anxious for work,
and keep the Japanese and Chinese
where you claim you want them.

You cannot, however, make the American citizen take his family and live on your plantations if, in front of his house
after the 4:30 whistle blows, are gathered numbers of naked Japanese men and women taking their afternoon baths, or running about wholly or nearly nude,
or squatting beside the public road, objections of all thought of decency. If you must place such conditions about the homes of the American citizen, you must expect one of two things; either he will refuse to work, or you will secure only that class of laborer who, like the Asiatic, has little care for public decency.

This means you will obtain only the poorest class of American labor, or else
a better class forced by necessity to temporarily accept your conditions.

Neither can you hope to secure American labor at the prices you pay Asiatics.
They will not and cannot live on such a wage. If you would spend less money in fighting the policy of the United States,
and more money in wages to American citizens, and in making their homes on the plantations places fit to live in, you would do more in a month's time in securing favorable legislation from Washington than you will do in years under the present policy of fighting American principles and asking special favors.

The solution of the labor question rests with yourselves now and is in your own hands. The entire United States is watching your action in the matter. If you are able to stand on your own legs Congress will not interfere, but if the conditions on these islands are such that they require props, foreign to the principles of the Stars and Stripes, Congress will not only remove the props, but apply the remedy seeming most expedient.

Respectfully,
CIVIL ENGINEER.

DO YOU WANT TO BE STRONG?

To feel as vigorous as you were before you wasted your strength?
To enjoy life again? To get up in the morning refreshed by sleep and not more tired than when you went to bed? To have no weakness in the back or "come and go" pains? No indigestion or Constipation? To know that your strength is not slipping away? To once more have bright eyes, healthy color in your cheeks and be confident that what other men can do is not impossible to you? In short, do you want to be a man among men?

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt.

There is nothing so penetrating, nothing so invigorating, nothing that will relieve weakness and pain as speedily and surely as Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt. It is simple, but grand. It assists nature by a general reinforcement of the vital energy by infusing a mild, invigorating current of Electricity into the nerves and by supplying the system with the very essence of nerve vigor and nerve strength.

Lame Back and Vital Weakness.

DR. McLAUGHLIN—Dear Sir: Your electric belt has done for me all you have claimed it would, and has improved me to such an extent that I am now able to do a hard day's work, something I was incapable of before commencing your treatment. I rest well at night and my general health is better than ever. You can refer to me, and it will give me great pleasure to speak of the merits of your treatment. Very truly,

All Run Down

No Appetite. Weak. Discouraged.

Warm climates always debilitate the nervous system. The digestion is slow, and the liver becomes sluggish. Impurities in the blood accumulate, and you go about downhearted and depressed. All this may be quickly changed with proper treatment.

Mrs. C. Kennedy, of 26 Erskine St., North Melbourne, Victoria, sends us her photograph and this letter:

"I had lost my appetite, was very weak, and all run down. Nothing did me good, and I was discouraged. I then tried and it brought me right up to my usual health and strength. And I want to add a word here about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has cured me of such hard coughs and colds that I feel I could not do without it. For family remedies I rely on that word, 'Ayer's.'"

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

Keep your bowels in good condition with Ayer's Pills. Take just enough to produce one good free movement of the bowels daily.

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

Rev. Frank Crane has accepted a call to the People's church, Chicago, at a salary of $7,500.

The Methodist Board of Church Extension at its recent meeting voted $500 for the Philippines and $800 for Pacific-Japanese work.

Charles Warren Stoddard has resigned from the Catholic University, after thirteen years' service, his resignation to take effect September 30, 1902.

At the recent Santa Cruz Cathedral Bazaar twelve booths and three auxiliary ones netted $18,492.95. The Cathedral booth took in $4062.80; three others took in respectively $2700, $2500 and $2165.40.

George C. Thomas has given $5,000 for the erection of an Episcopal church in San Juan, Porto Rico. The proposed church will cost $10,000, and the remaining amount has been subscribed.

Compelled by throat trouble, the Rev. Robert McIntyre has resigned the pastorate of St. James' Methodist Episcopal church, the largest in Chicago, and has settled in Los Angeles for a year's rest. He will lecture in various cities during the winter.

The Society of White Fathers reports under its care 65 stations in Africa—served by 261 missionaries, 140 sisters and 1,000 catechists. There are 60,000 neophytes, 150,000 catechumens, 14 schools and 9,500 pupils. More than 312,000 sick have been cared for.

Thirty missionaries sailed for China from Seattle last month. About half belong to the China Inland Mission and the others to an independent mission under the lead of Rev. W. W. Houlieng. A splendid farewell was given them by Plymouth church.

In his address before the general committee on India, Bishop Thoburn said: "One hundred thousand converts are now waiting and have made application for Christian baptism. In many places the mass of the people have abandoned idolatry and desire to accept Christianity."

For the last year Methodist missionary gifts make a total of $2,639,582.57. Of this $1,233,186.65 is given by the church; special gifts, $111,904.80; twentieth century offering, $14,560.33; Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, $426,795.28; Woman's Home Missionary Society, $234,246.21.

Rev. G. T. Meeker, pastor of the Disciples church at Winters, has requested the ladies of his congregation to remove their hats in time of public service. The Woodland Home Alliance makes approving comment and says that the Woman's Christian Temperance Union has always advocated that propriety.

The First German Methodist Episcopal church, Los Angeles, celebrated a week ago its twenty-fifth anniversary. Rev. Dr. Bollinger, its first pastor, preached the jubilee sermon. The church now has $27,500 in bank for hospital and benevolent work. Dr. C. Zahn left the church $16,500 of this amount by his late will.

Rev. and Mrs. Edward H. Smith, Mrs. L. H. Hodson and Dr. Emily D. Smith of the American Board, sailed from San Francisco recently for Foochow, China. These young missionaries will be a much needed reinforcement to the Foochow Mission; one of them, Dr. Emily Smith, is to be supported in part by the Woman's Board of the Pacific.

Since 1863, the Hawaiian Board of Missions has spent $29,947 in its mission work. Of this amount $384,395 were spent in the home work, not taking into account the much larger sum spent in building and maintaining churches. The board has now a yearly income of $10,000 aside from $30,000 in annual contributions. Work is carried on among the natives, the Japanese, the Chinese, the Portuguese and Porto Ricans.

The corner stone of a home for aged orthodox Jews has just been laid in Chicago. The site cost $12,000 and is paid for. Of the $40,000 needed for the building Abraham Slinger of Waverly, Ill., has given half on condition that the remainder be in hand by December 15th, which condition has been met. The home will accommodate 100 persons.

Rev. S. C. Swallow, editor of the Pennsylvania Methodist and prominent as a Prohibitionist candidate, is under a temporary suspension from the ministry. The charge is that he is untruthful, and he will be tried at the next annual meeting of the conference. He made accusations against another minister who did not agree with him on prohibition.

The new century begins with 249 missionary societies, 15,460 Protestant missionaries, 1,317,684 native Christians, 355 hospitals, treating 2,579,651 patients annually, 148 printing establishments, issuing yearly 34,964,379 pages, and 20,407 schools with 1,049,378 pupils enrolled in them. These figures are given by the Sunday-school Times, Philadelphia.

Professor F. G. Peabody of the Harvard Divinity School, after the publication of his book, "Jesus Christ and the Social Question," has been in demand. He addressed the Baptist Union of Boston recently and then went to the Baptist Divinity School at Colgate University, Hamilton, N. Y., and delivered two lectures on "Ethical Theories and Social Problems."

At the Oklahoma Conference, recently held, Bishop Hamilton opened negotiations with the Methodist church, South, representatives to establish and conduct a university under the joint management of the two Methodist churches. The California Advocate says this is the first attempt to open a university under the joint management of the two Methodist churches.

Congregational statistics of Northern and Central California for the year ending October 1st report: Benevolent contributions for foreign missions, $7,668; education, $18,899; church building, $3,481; home missions, $10,214; American Missionary Association, $1,686; Sunday-school Society, $867; ministerial aid, $134; other benevolences, $14,715; total, $57,646; gain, $16,122; home expenditures, $143,312; increase, $3,517.

The Rain's Horn of Chicago says: The union is proposed of the five great national organizations of Christian young people—the Christian Endeavorers, the Baptist Young People's Union, the Young People's Christian Union, the United Presbyterian church, the Epworth League and the Episcopalians. It is suggested that the five societies hold one meeting at the same time and place and one set of prayer-meeting topics for all.

John R. Mott, head of the World's Christian Student Federation, has been holding meetings and doing evangelistic work in Japan. In Sendai he spent three days and 140 young men declared their purpose to become Christians. One hundred and twenty-five who attended a four-days' meeting in Tokyo were moved to greater efforts and conversion. During his two days' visit to Kyoto, 173 declared their intention to follow Christ. Great audiences greeted Mr. Mott at Osaka and Okayama. At Osaka on the first night 139 students stood up for Christ. At Okayama the church was packed with an audience of 800 and 200 were at the windows. Two hundred young men decided for Christ. Mott is now in China and will go thence to India, and will preside at the volunteer meeting at Toronto, March 2, 1902.

COUGHS AND COLDS IN CHILDREN.
Recommendation of a Well Known Chicago Physician.

I use and prescribe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for almost all obstinate, constricted coughs, with direct results. I prescribe it to children of all ages. Am glad to recommend it to all in need and seeking relief from colds and coughs and bronchial affections. It is non-narcotic and safe in the hands of the most unprofessional. A universal panacea for all mankind.—Mrs. Mary R. Melendy, M.D., Ph.D., Chicago, Ill. This remedy is for sale by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents.

LEUT. HUGH RODMAN, U. S.
N., who arrived in this city a few days ago, to succeed Captain Pond in command of the Iroquois, is at present busy arranging his quarters on that vessel. Lieutenant Rodman is by no means a stranger to this country. He was here in 1883, 1884 and 1885,
and during the crowning of King Ka-lakaua and the death of Princess Ruth and that of Queen Emma. He is much impressed with the great developments
which have taken place in this city
and along the waterfront during his long absence, and expresses himself as much pleased to be a resident of such a city. Mrs. Rodman, who arrived here in the Sierra, is at present slightly ill from a cold which she caught in California. She is at present confined to her room at the Hawaiian Hotel, but will probably be about soon.

Before Lieutenant Rodman was transferred to the Iroquois he was the executive officer of the Albatross for two years. The Albatross is at present lying at San Francisco, and will later proceed with the fish commission to begin work in Island waters. The Albatross was originally expected to leave San Francisco for Honolulu on December 1, but this date was later postponed to January 1, and it was finally decided to postpone the sailing date to some time in March. This last date will probably be the final one.

There were several reasons for these changes of program. There was not a sufficient appropriation for the fish commission to enable it to continue active work for the full term of six months from January 1st to July 1st.
If the Albatross comes in March, however, there will be a sufficient appropriation on hand to enable the commission to carry on their work for three months, at the end of which time
a new appropriation will be forthcoming, which will enable the commission to continue its work. Another reason for the postponement of the trip is that
Dr. Gilman, of the fish commission, preferred finishing the term at Stanford University, at which he is a professor, before going on the cruise.

It is the intention of the commission
to carry on a thorough biological survey of the waters surrounding this group, and deep sea dredging will be a very important feature. If it is possible, the commission will investigate the waters to the leeward, possibly even as far as Laysan Island. The commission may also do some deep-sea
investigation between San Francisco and Honolulu, during the trip down here.

The intention of the fish commission
is to develop fishing banks, etc., and to classify the specimens found, both fishes, crustaceans, shells, etc., and also the life pertaining to the bottom and intermediate strata, as well as the pelagic and surface life. If opportunity offers, an investigation of the waters
near the beach of these islands will form an important feature of the investigation. The life of sea birds are as a matter of fact, of all animals
whose life in the slightest degree bears
on the fish world, will also be made a subject of investigation.

The whole object of the commission
is, generally speaking, a deep-sea exploration of the waters surrounding the group. The Albatross will have Honolulu as her headquarters, and will work out, radiating from this point
and returning to this port for mail,
coal, provisions, etc.

The arrival of the fishery experts on the Albatross will be a great advantage to people resident on these islands who are interested in the establishing of hatcheries, the importation
to these waters of foreign food fishes,
and all other matters of interest petaining to fishery, by giving them an opportunity to lay their plans before
the experts and benefit from their experience.

Railroad Wharf is Fumigated.
The fumigation of the longest of the two railroad wharves was completed
yesterday, and showed itself to be a success. At about 8 o'clock yesterday morning Jack McVeigh took his fumigating barge up to the mauka end of the wharf and let loose his fumes of bichloride of mercury. There are four divisions under the wharf, and during the day the barge tied up to each one and gave each a dose. The railroad people kept quite a large gang of men at hand in order that the fumes, which might appear could be stopped at once. The wharf showed itself to have been made almost airtight, and the work put into the building appears to have been very successful. The only place where there was any leakage to speak of was at the mauka end of the wharf
toward the Iwilei side, where the flooring joins the earthwork. There the sulphur fumes managed to work their way through the holes and crevices

which penetrated the coral rock and dirt, but the leakage was very promptly remedied by filling the cracks with loose dirt or cement. The flooring and the sides of the wharf were practically tight, and wherever a small leakage appeared, the crack through which the fumes issued was promptly caulked
with oakum and pitch.

The fumigation of the wharves will probably render them entirely rat proof. The wharves will probably be fumigated again after a period of about ten days has elapsed.

For Samoan Islands.

The schooner Winchester has been chartered to carry a hospital from Portland to the Samoan Islands, and will arrive at Portland early next month to take on board the unusual cargo. This hospital, together with its equipment, is being constructed in this city on an order from Mr. Gustav Kunst, of the big exporting firm of Kunst & Albers. Mr. Kunst recently purchased the home of the late Robert Louis Stevenson in Samoa, and resides
in that beautiful land for a portion of the year. Since his residence there
Mr. Kunst has become very kindly disposed toward the South Sea Islanders around whom Stephenson has woven
such a halo of poetry and romance,
and it is to show his good will for them that he is making them a present of this hospital. All of the work except putting the frame together and adjusting doors, windows, beds, etc., will be performed in this city and the building will go forward in knockdown shape.

The Winchester will arrive in Portland about December 15, and as she is a small craft will be loaded quickly
and get away shortly after Christmas.
Mr. Henry Mett, local agent for Kunst & Albers, is looking after the preparation of the cargo in this city, and if there is any more room on the schooner than will be needed for the hospital and its equipment, he may send some other Oregon products along with it.—
Portland Oregonian, Nov. 23.

New Treasury Decision.

Official Emoluments, Customs Service,
and their Accounting.
Treasury Department,
November 21, 1901.

To Principal Officers of Customs and Others Concerned:
The attention of principal officers of the customs and others concerned is called to the difficulties caused in the office of the Auditor for the Treasury Department in determining from the reports or statements received the exact amount of official fees collected in cash from private parties by collectors and by surveyors of customs.

In settling the accounts of such officers,
it is necessary to determine absolutely
the amount of these fees collected, because they enter into and are a part of their compensation.

It frequently occurs that there are differences between the sworn statements
and stub receipts furnished by collectors and by surveyors of customs which are difficult to reconcile.

In order to remove these difficulties,
you are directed:

1. To hereafter deposit such receipts in the manner prescribed for all other receipts, and to make requisition for such amounts as are required to pay the maximum compensation allowable to the date
of such requisition.

2. To credit the United States in "Expenses of collecting the revenue from customs" account, with the "Official fees collected," and charge the United States in the same account with "Collector's compensation from official fees."

3. To charge the deposit of such fees and credit the draft, including the same in the same account.

4. In the "Emolument account" to charge the United States with "Compensation for services rendered private parties (official fees)" and credit the check drawn on a United States deposi-
tary in payment.

Secretary.

A GOOD COUGH MEDICINE.

[From the Gazette, Toowoomba, Australia.]

I find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is an excellent medicine. I have been suffering from a severe cough for the last two months, and it has effected a cure. I have great pleasure in recommending it.—W. C. Wockner. This is most respected citizens, and has been voluntarily given in good faith that others may try the remedy and be benefited, as was Mr. Wockner. This remedy is sold by Benson, Smith & Co.,

SPORTS

CITY MAY HAVE ATHLETIC GROUND IN SIX MONTHS

There probably is not another piece of ground within a mile of the center of the city like that which the Boys' Brigade has secured for athletic purposes. There was considerable enthusiasm Thursday night at a meeting of two hundred of the boys of this city, when it was assumed that in six months' time there would be a first-class baseball and athletic ground right in the heart of the city. The history of the movement to establish this recreation ground shows that the Board of Education found that they had two and a half acres in close proximity to their school at Kauluwela, and that to make it available for a first-rate playground, a large sum of money would have to be spent. They offered to the Boys' Brigade this piece of land under certain conditions which do not interfere with its purposes at other times than during school hours. The Board of Education's land, however, was not as big as was needed for such a purpose.

Another adjacent two and a half acres of the Bishop estate solved the problem, and after a great many preliminaries concerning leases, this fine combination of land, five acres in all, was secured for a term of years.

The conditions of the lease make it necessary to put the grounds in shape, which, of course, the management are only too willing to do. The place will have to be thoroughly ditched, as there has been taro and rice planted there until very recently. Then there is perhaps four feet difference in the grade from the upper to the lower part.

The difficulty, as with most difficulties nowadays, is a matter of money. If the Brigade had the money which they expect to get from the fire claims commission awards, they could handle the thing themselves; lacking this, the idea now is to let some other athletic interests in with them temporarily, provided these people will help to meet the expense. It is proposed to let the grounds out on certain days in the week to other organizations which feel the need of recreation grounds. It should not be hard to raise $2000 for such a purpose.

It has been suggested that there be some benefit athletic sports to help meet the expenses, and the Brigade

BASEBALL AT KAMEHAMEHA

The following teams of Kamehameha boys will play baseball this afternoon on the Kamehameha School campus, commencing at 3 o'clock:

Catcher.	J. Keoluha
Pitcher.	J. Puuna
N. Lemon	A. Richards
First Base.	J. Pa
D. Kaal	Second Base.
A. Arnold	E. Hamauka
Third Base.	E. Morton
A. Patten	Shortstop.
C. Lyman	Right Field.
E. Hardee	W. Siemsen
J. Williams	Center Field.
D. Pokipala	Left Field.

As the above game comprises the Founder's Day athletics, the Territorial Band will be in attendance.

Y. M. C. A. ATHLETICS.

The opening of the Young Men's Christian Association indoor baseball league has been postponed until the first of the year. There will, however, will be glad to listen to proposals from any athletic club in the city willing to share the expense, as well as the privileges involved. The original idea of the Brigade was, of course, to fence the area and then grant permits to local clubs all over the city for specific afternoons, and as it will be possible for two games of ball to be going on at once, the athletes of the city could be pretty well accommodated in the course of the week.

It is understood that the boys themselves intend to do something toward raising money for the recreation ground fund.

MYRTLES AND HEALANIS TO PLAY GAME OF POLO

The first of the series of league polo games will be played at Kaplani Park this afternoon, commencing at 3 o'clock. Following are the teams, positions and handicaps:

Incas	Handicap	Pos'n.
S. Potter	3	1
C. A. Rice	4	2
W. F. Dillingham	4	3
R. Atkinson	3	Back
Total	14
Hornets	Handicap	Pos'n.
J. T. Irvine	2	1
Rev. J. P. Erdman	2	2
C. W. Dickey	3	3
G. Angus	3	Back
Total	10

The league schedule is as follows:

Dec. 21—Lawyers vs. Artillery.
Dec. 28—Lawyers vs. Business Men.
Jan. 4—Incas vs. Artillery.
Jan. 11—Incas vs. Lawyers.
Jan. 18—Business Men vs. Artillery.
January 25th is an open date.

Between January 18th and February 1st a committee will decide who shall represent the Oahu Polo Club in the contest with Maui, to take place in March. The selected team will, on February 1, 8, 15 and 22, practice games with other teams organized for the purpose of giving the first team the hardest practice possible. At the conclusion of the four practice games the committee will make such changes in the representing team as may seem best, basing such action on the form shown by the players in the practice matches.

The handicaps in the league matches will be stationary.

On Christmas day a game will be played at Kaplani Park for the benefit of the Myrtle Polo Club. The teams which will be made up of players in sympathy with or connected with one of the boat clubs, will be as follows:

Myrtles—R. Atkinson, A. J. Judd, W. F. Dillingham, G. Angus.
Healanis—J. Fleming, Lieutenant Hancock, C. A. Kidd, C. S. Dole.

Tickets for admission to the Christmas day game will be 25 cents each. Regular match rules will obtain, and four periods will be played. The teams will meet on a scratch basis, as each team's handicap totals 13.

The spectators are requested to wear Myrtle or Healanis colors. The ticket men at the three gates will be arrayed in the historic red coats of the Myrtle Club.

Valalua. They will carry with them an alarming aggregation of spears, hooks, nets and all the paraphernalia to entrap the unwary denizens of the deep. The young men will camp out tonight and are taking with them enough incidentals in the way of provisions and liquids to last a week.

The commissariat, however, has calculated only upon remaining tonight, and a part of tomorrow, as the return to Honolulu will be made tomorrow evening. Torches will be used to locate their prey and if their expectations come true the party will bring back to the city nothing short of a carload of fish. Frank Armstrong and Will Love are in charge of the commissary.

ASSOCIATION BALL AT MAKIKI

The second match of the association football league will be played at Makiki this afternoon, starting at 4:15 o'clock sharp. Following are the teams and positions:

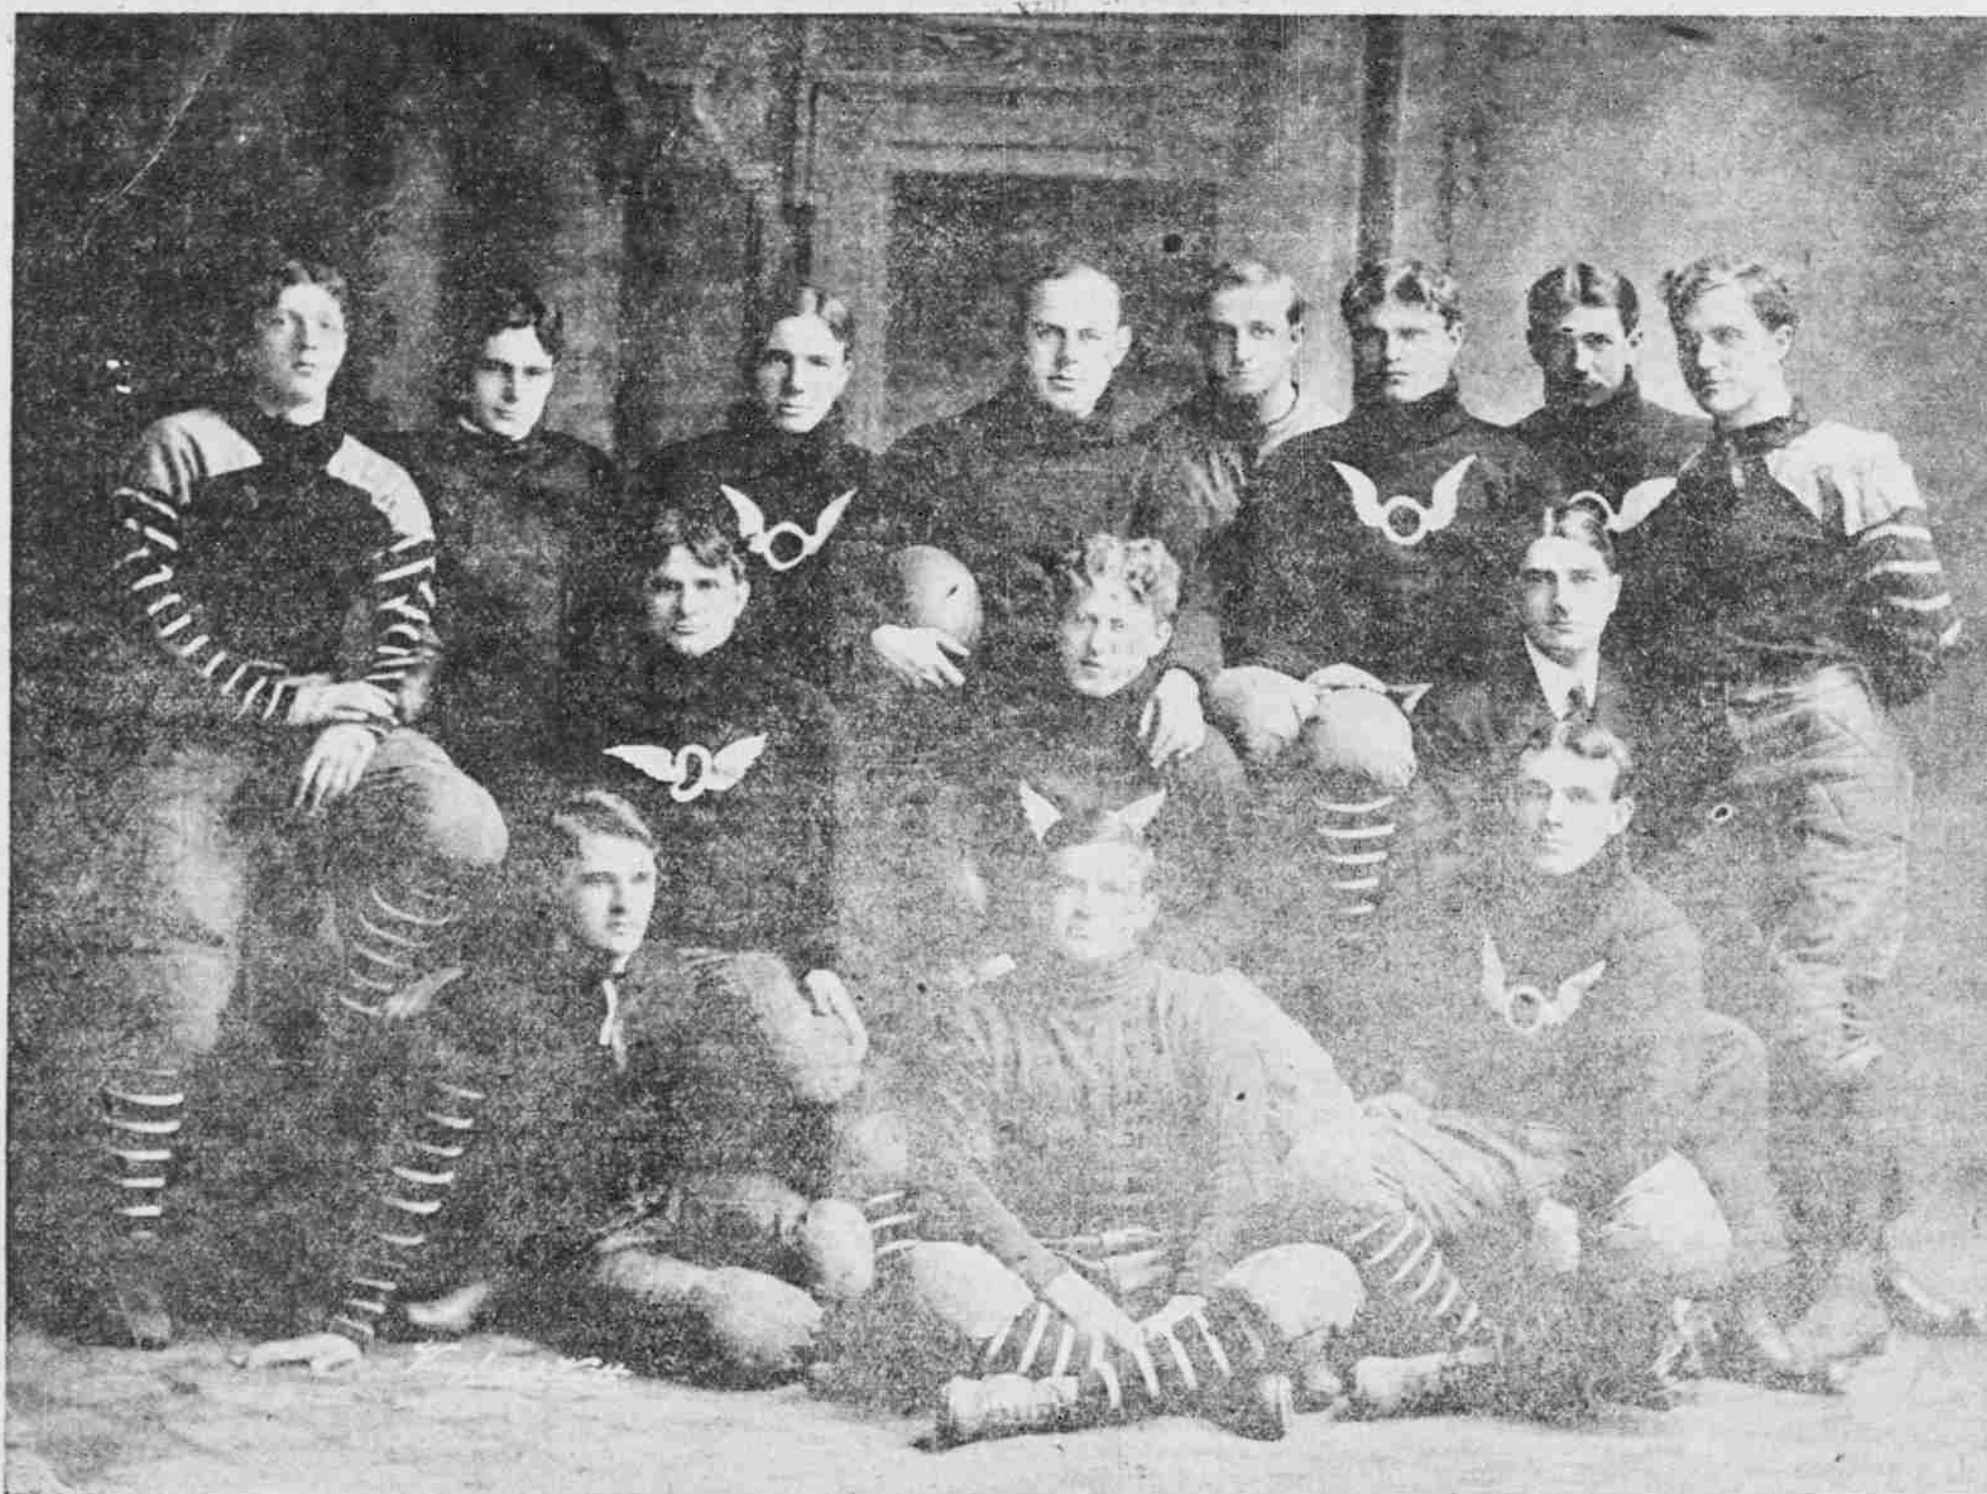

Honolulu—Goal, Gleason; backs, Soper, Harvey; halfbacks, Parish, Irish, Anderson; forwards, McWhirter, Kay, Goudie (captain), Eldes and Glass.
Hickfield and Davies—Goal, Sinclair; backs, Ross and Duisenberg; halfbacks, Robertson, Catterall, Brett; forwards, B. Clarke, Beardmore, Churton, Morse (captain) and Guild. Reserves, Hopp and Byer.

Mr. D. W. Anderson will referee the game.

Prince David's sorrel horse Weller, which will fight out with G. S. McKenzie's Socialist, the question as to which is the best horse at a mile. The race will take place on New Year's day at Hilo.

One hardy fisherman from the windward side of Hawaii told a number of friends yesterday that there was a species of eel where he lived which emerged from the water on moonlight evenings when the dew was on the grass, and entered thickets for the purpose of pursuing mice, lizards and such small deer.

He said that it was simply wonderful to witness the way that such an eel would squirm down a mouse's hole and catch the little rodent at the end of it. Asked as to how he first made the discovery of this remarkable animal, the old man said that one night he was walking home and tripped over what he thought was a branch of a tree. Investigation showed it to be a meandering eel. He stated that the eels cannot go a-walking unless there be dew on the ground. Otherwise they get clogged up with dust and dirt. The species of eel mentioned is greyish white in color, with dark spots.

Another anecdote recently brought in from the sea-marge relates to a species of squid which climbs the tauhala trees

THE QUEER CHARACTERISTICS OF THE LATE R. M. DAGGETT

Judge C. C. Goodwin, former editor of the Salt Lake Tribune, writes as follows about R. M. Daggett, former Minister to Hawaii:

In San Francisco, week before last, R. M. Daggett ceased to live. It is a little late, but the Tribune ought to have mention of him, for he was a distinct force on the West coast for many years. He was editor of the Territorial Enterprise, member of Congress from Nevada and Minister to Hawaii. The news of his death came as a personal sorrow to me. In the long ago an accident brought us into close business relations, and thereafter for some years the currents of our lives ran side by side, and so closely that I learned to know the full strength of the robust tide of his life and to analyze the springs that fed it. A rare nature was his. Within him was a fund of humor inexhaustible and contagious; an audacity as superb as it was boundless, and given to manifestations that convulsed friends and astounded enemies.

Filled with contradictions, he could paralyze a tough and blackguard with his own weapons, and yet when he took the hand of a lady, especially an elderly lady and looking into her eyes, told her of his pleasure in meeting her and expressed his warm wishes for her welfare, it was in a way that made that lady such a friend that it was useless thereafter to hint to her that, after all, something more than wings were needed to convert Daggett into an angel.

He had a scorn unspeakable for all false pretensions and all parvenues, and he was utterly lacking in reverence for many things that the world bows down to. He would have snubbed the heir-apparent, even in the moment when he, unable to lift up an unfortunate brother, was preparing to lie down beside him.

To a wealthy candidate for office, who desired him to pursue a certain course with the paper, he said: "See here, old man. The paper will have to carry your reputation through this campaign, and you ought to know that there are places in it which will require my utmost efforts as an artist to keep them so painted that the public will not see how damnably out of repair it is. You will have to let me run this business my way."

There was a streak of Indian in his nature if not in his blood. Met on the street and told the news of the Custer massacre, he exclaimed: "Those Sioux! They are as straight as arrows; they have noses like eagles and old Romans; they can ride and shoot; they are Americans, and I am proud of them."

In his enthusiasm for the red man, he seemed to forget the white men that had died up on the Rosebud.

Daggett's droll expressions, convulsing as he delivered them, would fill a book; but if sometimes he seemed to forget his own self-respect, he could be lordly enough when he engaged to be.

He had not much wit, but his exhaustless humor and quaint forms of expression often passed for it. He was perpetually laying himself open for a sharp thrust at his own expense, and when it came he would laugh until the tears ran down his cheeks, every moment hurling appalling imputations upon the head of the one who had given him the thrust.

He was short and stout, and when in a recumbent position was not, in form, unlike a hippopotamus.

When his children were little it was his wont to fall upon the floor and declare that they had knocked him down, and as they beat him with pillows and heaped tidies upon him, all the time screaming with laughter, he would assail them with threats and anathemas that would have caused an outside listener to believe that he was about to murder his whole family.

But he had his serious side. He was a journalist by instinct as well as profession. His journalistic judgment was superb, his taste faultless, his cogency all-comprehending. He went down front the California placers to San Francisco and started the Golden Era. It was a charm to the coast from the first, filled with fresh literary jewels.

But his best efforts were on the themes that came to a daily journal that deals with the worldly affairs and politics of the day. The way he could lambaste a man or a cause that needed it was something awful. His pen was then tipped with fire, and words of invective followed each other with lightning intensity up to the climax, which was a lava flow.

But when his heart was touched there was no sweeter pen, no tenderer phrases than he could indite. He could sweep the whole gamut of human hopes and sorrows, and it was a diction as true and rounded, as deep and full and high, as Macaulay's highest inspirations. This was in the old days when his health was good and all his hopes rosy. Of late he has been working as men work when their object in life has ceased to move them.

Then, too, he had been following a dream that the knowledge of what is to be in the world to come was his; what his status was to be when the change should come which has now come. A letter received from him not long ago said he was assured of the future and was ready.

Poor, great Daggett! It is to be hoped that all his hopes have been realized, but the minds of those who knew him well can picture him naturally as when his soul was crossing the Styx, so devilish Chiron about the condition of his ancient ferry and the need of modernizing it, that the old boatman was ready to "break his oars" and "give up his job."

The world never had but one R. M. Daggett. It will never have another. November 23, 1901. C. C. G.

SEVEN TO ONE

From reports received we figure that one bottle of Scott's Emulsion sometimes builds seven times its weight of solid, healthy flesh! Why is this so?

Because Scott's Emulsion is itself the richest and most digestible of foods.

Because Scott's Emulsion gives strong appetite.

Because Scott's Emulsion makes all good food do good—strong stomach—strong digestion.

Because Scott's Emulsion wakes up the dormant system—new life to the tissues—so that the body uses its food for bone making and flesh building.

We'll send you a little to try if you like.

SUES FOR HER LAND

Leper Asks Return
of Property in Manoa.

NEUMANN ESTATE MADE DEFENDANT

Property Was Conveyed by Paul Neumann From Metcalf to His Wife.

In a suit filed yesterday in the Circuit Court, the late Paul Neumann is alleged to have financially wronged Emma Metcalf Ikaika, a leper now residing at the leper settlement, Molokai,
in a real estate transaction. The land in question is valuable property in Manoa Valley now used as a dairy, which is alleged to have been transferred to Mrs. Neumann by her late husband without a proper right. Thomas Fitch appears for the plaintiff, who is represented by Alice Metcalf as trustee for Emma Metcalf Ikaika. This woman, esteemed quack, has brought suit against E. S. V. Neumann, executrix
of the estate of the late Paul Neumann,
and Herman Focke, to cancel deeds and declare a trusteeship in the defendants concerning a certain piece of ground known as Kamohali and Piliplili, situated in Manoa Oahu. The plaintiff recites in her petition to Judge Humphries that she is a widow, and that Emma Metcalf Ikaika is also a widow and a resident of the Island of Molokai.
That by the provision of the last will
of Theophilus Metcalf, the grandfather of Emma Metcalf Ikaika, she became as devisee under the said will entitled to the possession of an undivided one-half of the above named property. On Oct. 31, 1895, Mrs. Ikaika, being herself a leper on Molokai, desiring to secure the services of a competent person to act as her agent and attorney for the purpose of disposing of and caring for her property and interests on the island of Oahu, made, executed and delivered to Paul Neumann a certain trust deed,
at which time Frank Metcalf was living,
and that said Paul Neumann at the time designing to wrong and defraud
her to sign said trust deed; and your oratrix further shows that after making to F. H. Hayselden the deed authorized to be made by him by said
deed of trust, said Paul Neumann on May 27, 1896, for a consideration of one dollar, procured from said F. H. Hayselden, a deed to Mrs. E. S. V. Neumann, the wife of said Paul Neumann,
of the land previously conveyed to said
F. H. Hayselden as aforesaid, and that thereafter on August 31, 1898, Paul Neumann procured from his wife, E. S. V.
Neumann, then in London, England, a conveyance to him of said land and on the 9th day of November, 1898, said Paul Neumann conveyed the same to his son-in-law, H. Focke.

"That on the 18th day of April, 1899,
said Paul Neumann, contriving to wrong and defraud your oratrix, Emma Metcalf Ikaika, represented to her that it was necessary that she should sign and acknowledge a request to him to convey to H. Focke, all her title in certain pieces of land at Manoa, Honolulu, known as Piliplili and Kamohali;
and that your oratrix signed and acknowledged said request without any consideration whatever and relying upon the good faith and integrity of said Paul Neumann.

"That on the 29th day of April, 1899,
designing to wrong and defraud your oratrix, Emma Metcalf Ikaika, Paul Neumann, conveyed all the interest of your oratrix in said lands for a nominal consideration of $70 to his son-in-law, H. Focke, and that at said date an undivided half was of the value of not less than $10,000.

"Your oratrix further shows that on the 9th day of March, 1900, Frank Metcalf died and your oratrix became for the first time of an undivided one-half of the fee of the lands and properties hereinbefore mentioned.

"Therefore, the premises considered,
your oratrix prays that the conveyance of 1895, from Paul Neumann to F.
H. Hayselden, and of May 27, 1896, from
F. H. Hayselden to E. S. V. Neumann, and of August 31, 1898, from Paul Neumann to H. Focke, and of April 1, 1899, from Paul Neumann to H. Focke, be annulled and vacated and set aside.

The plaintiff states that the value of the properties are "now of the value of $20,000," out of which they have "been juggled."

er additional consideration was paid by said Paul Neumann to your oratrix, Thomas Metcalf for the said deed of January 14, 1901, the same being as security for professional services there-
before rendered and thereafter to be rendered by said Paul Neumann to your oratrix, Thomas Metcalf. Your oratrix further shows that on the 9th day of November, Paul Neumann made to one
H. Focke, a conveyance for a consideration of one dollar of all his right, title
and interest in the land known as Piliplili.

"Your oratrix further shows that during the time of his minority he received small sums of money as advances from Paul Neumann, but that the total amount of such advances did not exceed the sum of $500, and that Paul Neumann performed for your oratrix
some small legal services the total of which did not amount to more than $300; your oratrix admits that he is indebted to the estate of Paul Neumann
for the advances, and that he stands ready to pay and now offers to pay the same upon the reconveyance to him of the property aforesaid."

Still another suit by Frank Godfrey, as trustee for Frank Metcalf has been filed against Helen Rohand, Hing
Chung, J. F. Francis, Kondo, E. O.
Hammond, Jose de Espirito Santo, W.
O. Smith, trustee and H. J. Gallagher.
The trustee states that he has been the owner in fee since August 30, 1901, of an undivided one-half of certain pieces
of land situated in Honolulu, as follows: Land at Kawaiahae and land adjoining this piece, leaving the property to his only lawfully begotten son,
Thomas Metcalf, and that on the 10th day of March, 1900, the said defendants unlawfully and wrongfully entered upon said land and ousted the said Thomas Metcalf therefrom and took possession of the same and ever since have unlawfully and wrongfully withheld the possession therefrom from the plaintiffs.

It is alleged the properties realize $200
in rents per month.

Thomas Fitch appears for plaintiffs
in each case.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

The financial barometer, the stock market, has shown no signs of disturbance over the President's message, the fact being that the week's business was indicative of strength, rather than weakness. There was not a single instance of a great slump, as seemed to be indicated by the first discussions of the Hawaiian paragraph of the message; but, instead, there has been a stiffening of some prices and a general feeling of confidence. While the sales have not been large, there has been developed no inclination to sell above the usual realizations, but the brokers find rather a more confident tone imparted to the market.

Holders of stocks have had much to give them confidence in the better conditions reported from many places on the group. There is a feeling that there will be no change in the situation but for the better, as there will be inaugurated managerial reforms which will be of value to the stockholders. The Chinese recommendations have been discounted to such an extent that there was no great amount of surprise. The references to Cuba were expected, so the investing public had all the facts at hand with which to form opinion as to the future, and the fact that there has been little done in the way of realizing indicates that there will be no sort of a panic or slump, whatever may be the result of the deliberations of Congress.

The feature of this week's business was the advance shown in Oahu, which stock was sold at 12 for the paid-up, and 3 for the assessable. This, too, in the face of an assessment. But the fact that Oahu is in such good shape has had all to do with the present status of the stock. The paid-up is in greater demand, and there seems to be little on the market. The assessable was sold in a lot of 150 shares at 3. There can be no doubt but all this strength is due to the fact that next year's crop of cane on this plantation is all in, and the present crop will be cut at once. The mill will begin its work next week, and there will be no stop until the entire output has been put through.

The same amount of Oahu was sold, and there again the price was well-advanced, the sales being between 100 and 150. This is a clear advance of five points. This was the rate at which there were several private sales recorded. Wailua is strong at 55, with 60 asked, and there seems to be none of the shares in the market at this figure. There will be a higher before a lower rate for this stock according to the general opinion of the brokers. Kihel sold with some facility at 19, but the purchasers were greater in number than the sellers, and the stock seemed to have the same amount of strength that is evident in the rest of the list.

There has been some trading in Rapid Transit, the prices having been about the same as those of last week. There were sales at 90, and then the prices followed the trend of the previous movements, and went back to $1.50, but the holders are willing to sell only at 95. There is a fair demand in the market for the stock, but Pain laughs at the story that he is the purchaser, or wants the control of the stock. For the past week the Kailibi extension has been in running order, and the carrying capacity of the line has been greatly increased by it. The receipts of the line have been swelled by this extension about $300 a week. There was a sale of First National Bank stock registered at 119.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING.

The market for real estate has been as quiet as usual, though there have been the customary number of small sales. There were two of the Campbell houses in Wilder avenue transferred, but the prices have been withheld, as they are said to have been made more on a basis of cost than worth. There have been some sales and there is reported a fair inquiry for lots in Manoa, in the subdivisions there. The usual number of persons looking over property is reported from the agents of the properties which are being brought into closer contact with the center of the city through rapid transit extensions, but the sales are still light.

Bids are being received by Architect O. G. Traphagen, for the remodeling of the store building of T. H. Davies & Co., and some additions to the building. The old office will be torn down, and the plan is to have a building take its place of unpretentious style, but of the same solid appearance which marks the other buildings of the firm in Kaahumanu street. The work on the basement for the new Lewers & Cooke building is being pushed night and day, as by the installation of a new electric pump the excavation can be kept clear of water, and the work kept going on, so that there will be little delay in the event of stormy weather.
