WILSON FOR FREE SUGAR IN 3 YEARS

NEW TARIFF PLAN UP PLANTERS TO OPPOSE IT

Say Temporary Arrangement Simply Puts Off For Short Time Death-Blow To Industry

"The president has given an ultimatum to the Louisiana national committeeman duty $1 sugar Cuba for three years and thereafter free sugar. President would otherwise support Underwood free sugar bill."

The above cablegram came to the local sugar planters this morning from Washington. It is taken to mean that the duty on Cuban sugars, which, under the twenty per cent differential, is $1.34 a hundred pounds, will not be reduced lower than $1 for three years, and therefore that the duty on other foreign sugars will not be cut to less than this and probably not reduced to as low a figure, as that on the Cuban product.

This information, however, does not satisfy Hawaiian planters, and they will not endorse such a program. They point out that to postpone free sugar for three years is simply putting off the death-blow to Hawaii's chief industry and prolonging the agony. They feel no reassurance in such a plan as is outlined in the cablegram received this morning and consequently will continue the fight against a radical slash in the present duties.

The cablegram this morning brings further development of the news published in the Star-Bulletin yesterday afternoon by Associated Press cable, stating that the president and Chairman Underwood of the house ways and means committee have agreed upon a gradual reduction of the tariff until the free-trade point is reached.

SENATORS SAY UTILITY BILL WILL BE PASSED

Leaders of Upper House Declare This Session Will See Definite Action

Offsetting the report given publication this morning that the senate does not propose to pass a public utility bill this session, members of the upper house this morning show that they not only propose to pass one but intend to do so with all speed.

Out of the public lands committee the two utility bills will come to be considered by the committee of the whole next Monday morning, and before the meeting adjourns one of the two measures will be decided upon. It is predicted.

It remained for a little senate bill introduced by Senator Brown and providing for the establishment of a meter inspector office, to bring about this decision, and incidentally to cause quite an eloquent disturbance during which Senators Metzger and Rice, each an author of a public utility bill, and Senators Coke, Judd and Chillingworth pledged themselves to fight for the passage this session of one of the bills.

It was unequivocally denied that they were fostering a plan to have the hold-over committee of the ways and means committee draft a substitute measure during the two-year period.

YOUNG DESPERADOES CAUSE OF HOUSE FIREARMS BILL

Two small Korean boys who purchased a .22 caliber rifle last Saturday morning, later proceeded to "shoot up" the Palama district, and then fell into the clutches of the probation officer, were the cause of a bill being introduced in the legislature yesterday by Representative Sheldon, whereby it becomes a misdemeanor for any person to sell firearms to minors under the age of 18 years. The bill further provides that such misdemeanor be punishable by a fine of $100.

Period of adjournment of the legislature. Senators Rice and Metzger both said something about "having to postpone it over my dead body," which is taken to mean that they will insist on immediate action by the solons.

"There are too many little measures coming in here which properly belong to the public utility bill, and I think it unwise to pass them at this time," declared Senator Metzger when he moved to defer action on S. B. 105, which was the one introduced by Senator Brown.

Senator Coke then broke in: "I was surprised to hear it said that we were not intelligent enough to pass such a bill, and that we should wait two years more before acting on a public utility measure. I submit that we are wise enough now to legislate on this matter, and though in two years we may be able to draft a wiser measure, still we can pass one this year which will be of much benefit to the public."

Senator Judd stated that he was in favor of the bill to establish the office of meter examiner, and that if necessary it could later be incorporated in the public utility measure.

PROGRESS ON NEW PLAN FOR R. T. FRANCHISE

Conferences Result in Discussion of Amendments Leading to Harmony

Amendments to be proposed to the Rapid Transit franchise bill advocated by Governor Frear are expected to bring the controversy to an end in harmonious settlement of the franchise problem within a short time. Following a conference of all sides yesterday afternoon, the governor and Charles R. Hemenway, representing the merchants' association, were at work until an early hour this morning on modifications of the bill.

Unofficial statements from sources close to the Rapid Transit company this morning are to the effect that the corporation is favorably disposed towards yielding a number of points involved in the controversy, feeling that its attitude has been fully set forth and all the charges of unfair dealing have been met and completely disproved.

Governor Frear, Secretary Mott-Smith, Attorney Hemenway, T. M. Church and Ed Towse of the merchants' association, and Richard Ives of the Rapid Transit company conferred for two and a half hours yesterday afternoon and while no decision has yet been reached, it is agreed by all that encouraging progress was made.

One report is that an agreement may be reached allowing the company to capitalize at approximately $1,600,000.

The meeting at 8 o'clock tonight in the house of representatives is expected to bring out the recent developments.

SEPARATE TERRITORIAL AND CITY ELECTION BILL

Hereafter the city elections in Honolulu will be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of May, if the bill introduced in the senate this morning by Senator Udd becomes a law.

Under the provisions of the bill the officers so elected will take office at 12 o'clock noon on the first judicial day of July following their election.

The bill, which passed first reading this morning and will go to the printer reads as follows:

Section 1. All officers of the City and County of Honolulu shall hereafter be elected on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in the month of May. The first election, under the provision of this act, shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in the month of May, 1915. All officers so hereafter elected shall take office at 12 o'clock meridian on the first day in the month of July following their election. If the first day in the month of July be a Sunday, they shall take office on the second day in the month of July.

Section 2. This act shall take effect upon its approval.

FAMOUS FIGHTER COMES TO COMMAND ARMY DEPARTMENT

Brig. Gen. Frederick Funston, who arrived on the transport Sherman this afternoon, coming to command the Hawaiian department.

With the Hawaiian band playing Aloha, as a welcome to Honolulu, Brigadier General Frederick Funston walked down the gang plank from the transport Sherman at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

"I am glad to come to Hawaii," were almost the first words of the new department commander on greeting old friends here. "I believe the duty here will be exceptionally interesting, and besides I'm quite ready to leave the Philippines."

The transport Sherman, from Manila, docking this afternoon, brings the new commander of the Hawaiian Department, Brigadier General Frederick Funston. General Funston is the ranking brigadier general of the army, having worn the single star for just twelve years.

General Funston is accompanied by his wife and young son and daughter, and for the present he will reside at one of the hotels.

HONOLULU MAN GOES TO AID OF THE FLOOD SUFFERERS

When the transport Sherman sails for the Coast tomorrow she will carry as a passenger the first resident of Honolulu to leave for the scene of the disaster in Ohio with a view of rendering personal assistance to the hundreds of sufferers from flood and fire.

Samuel A. Shoup, who was until recently connected with the hospital corps at Fort Shafter, is to leave for

San Francisco where he will join the Red Cross Society and leave for Dayton, Ohio, as one of the nurses. Before coming to Honolulu, Mr. Shoup for some years served with the Red Cross organization in California. He is the first man to leave Honolulu for the scene of the disaster. He is also an expert photographer and has promised to send photographs of the flood to his friends in this city.

SAY CHONG WAS STEALING FOR 3 YEARS

That Goo Tai Chong, the former employee of the First American Savings & Trust Co. carried off for over three years a systematic scheme of peculation whereby he succeeded in embezzling thousands of dollars of the money entrusted to him, is the charge which the prosecution will attempt to prove, according to statement of counsel in court this morning.

It is alleged that from January, 1909, until the 25th of June, 1912, Chong had sole charge of the financial affairs of the company, being at the same time cashier, receiving teller, paying teller and bookkeeper.

Cecil Brown, president of the company, was the first witness for the prosecution to take the stand this morning. He testified as to Chong's handwriting in half a dozen bulky volumes which identified as books in which Chong recorded the transactions of every-day business. Counsel for the defense took up a great part of the morning objecting to the introduction as evidence of these records, but Judge Robinson ruled in favor of the prosecution and the books were accordingly introduced.

Chief among the witnesses to be called by the government is H. Gooding Field, the expert accountant who investigated the books of Auditor Maguire of Hilo. Having made a thorough investigation of Chong's books, he will testify as to the condition in which he found them. He will also, it is alleged, outline the clever plan by which, as is claimed, Chong managed to hoodwink the savings bank authorities for so long a period.

GERMAN AVIATORS IN FIX TROUBLE INTERNATIONAL

Landing of Huge Dirigible in French Territory Causes Riot—Soldiers Seize Balloon—Infantry Called Out

[Associated Press Cable]

LUNEVILLE, France, April 3.—A remarkable happening and one that for awhile threatened to cause serious international complications occurred here today when a huge German military dirigible landed in French territory and precipitated a riot among the inhabitants of the country.

The great airship rose above Lake Constance and was lost in the clouds. Unwittingly, say the German aviators, they crossed the French frontier. While above French territory motor trouble forced them to descend and they landed in the middle of the soldiers' drill-ground here.

The landing of the military balloon started the cry of "Spy!" and the airship was seized by the soldiers, creating great popular excitement, and the tension was so great that it was found necessary to call out a battalion of infantry to drive the peasants away from the aviators.

RELIEF FUND IS STILL GROWING BY HUNDREDS

Money for the flood relief fund still continues to come to the Star-Bulletin and the Buckeye Club, almost $175 having been received by this paper since the acknowledgments of yesterday.

The following subscriptions have come in:

Yee Hing Association	$ 25.00
Wah Yuen	10.00
Ket On Fui Kon Association	49.75
E. H. F. Wolter	5.00
Jack Weday	2.50
Mrs. H. P. Baldwin	50.00
Mrs. Victoria Ward	30.00

BRYAN FOR FULL RECOGNITION OF CHINA

[Associated Press Cable]

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 3.—Secretary of State Bryan has notified all the diplomats here representing foreign countries that it is the intention of the administration to recognize the new Republic of China on April 8. He requests the other governments to concur in a plan to recognize China on the same date.

MRS. PANKHURST TO PRISON FOR 3 YEARS

[Associated Press Cable]

LONDON, Eng., April 3.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the British militant suffragettes and avowed advocate of violence in pressing their claims for suffrage, was today sentenced to three years in prison upon conviction of inciting her followers to burn the country residence of Chancellor Lloyd George.

The jury recommended mercy, but the judge refused to grant it, saying that her crime was a grave one and she must pay the penalty.

LONDON, Eng., April 3.—Sir Thomas Lipton is considering a new uncondition challenge to the United States for the America yachting cup, his condition challenge having been refused.

GEORGE B. CURTIS AD CLUB DELEGATE

Mr. George B. Curtis was today unanimously elected delegate-at-large from the Honolulu Ad Club to the annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America to be held in Baltimore the first week in June. This convention assembles something like ten thousand advertising men and purchasers of advertising from all parts of the United States and Canada, and is attracting a steadily increasing interest from the business world. Mr. Curtis leaves on the Sierra on a business trip east and hopes to find it possible to attend the Baltimore convention. Mr. Curtis in his travels from city to city will naturally get in touch with the advertising clubs of the country and will be in a position to continue his work as the representative of the club in the Sugar-Protection movement, the Honolulu Ad Club having already sent out three letters to each of the 163 advertising clubs of the organization.

The regular monthly meeting of the Free Kindergarten and Children's Aid Association will be held Friday morning, April 4th, at 9:30 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. rooms.

For the third time this evening persons interested in the bills for the extension of the Rapid Transit & Land Company's franchise will be given an opportunity to hear debates on both sides of the question. The hearing will take place in the hall of the representatives at 8 o'clock.

FLYING FISH TO THE RESCUE

Turning from a sad and silent contemplation of a picture of one of the latest aeroplanes in action, then taking note of the playful antics of a school of flying fish that were seen dashing across the waters of the channel, Pilot Macaulay, veteran mariner and raconteur, paused for a moment before seating himself in one of the comfortable chairs at the pilot office and then remarked: "These bird men are only doing what I did many years ago, but I did it to save my life while they do it either for amusement or profit. In my case it was far out at sea, and I had to use my wits. I can safely say that I was the first aviator who ever navigated a heavier than air machine. Incidentally, I piloted this strange craft from near the island of St. Helena to the Azores, and not only escaped from a wreck, but made money on the adventure."

"I had shipped as master of the pretty little bark Elsie. She was a dandy little ship and I was proud of her. We were carrying coke from Liverpool to Capetown, and I had planned to make a record passage. I would have done so if we hadn't struck a half-submerged derelict which battered in my little vessel's bows and she started to sink."

"I ordered the crew to take to the boats. Then I found there wasn't room for me. So, like a good captain, I stayed by my sinking vessel and waved farewell to the men as they pulled away. But when they were really gone I decided that I didn't care to die. By this time it was night. I had lighted a lantern on deck, and this attracted about a thousand flying fish. They came in clouds and piled all over the deck. They flopped around helplessly. But watching them gave me an idea."

"I hustled below and dug up some light canvas. This I tacked over a light framework, which I hastily constructed, shaped something like the modern monoplane. I rigged a seat and rudder and basket for provisions. Then I took 782 of these flying fish and attached them to the aeroplane by very light but strong twine. Then I provided myself with a long hose and several casks of water. As soon as this was all arranged I took my seat and sprinkled the wings of the flying fish. You know flying fish can fly as long as their wings are wet. As soon as they are dry the little fish have to drop back into the ocean. Knowing this, it was easy for me."

"Well, sir, as soon as I had sprinkled those fish they all started to fly, and they picked my aeroplane up off the deck of the ship, and it was all I could do to steer my aerial craft, as she went so fast. I glanced back and saw the old Elsie was going down."

"I headed for the Azores, and at evening on the following day I sighted the islands. All I had to do was keep the hose turned on my flying fish, and they carried me through the air at wonderful speed. When I reached Funchal, the capital, there was a British lord's yacht there, and I sold him the flying fish for $182 and a passage home."

Mare Island Yard to Build New Fuel Ship.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels today directed that the hull of the new naval fuel ship Maumee be constructed at Mare Island navy yard.

The Maumee will be equipped with internal combustion oil engines, which heretofore have been tried in this country only in submarines. This will be the first time steam has been abandoned completely as motive power in an American naval vessel of any size.

The Maumee is to be an exact duplicate of the Kanawha, now building at the Mare Island yard. Completed, each vessel will cost about $1,400,000.

High Honors for Captain Dempwolf.

Captain Chris Dempwolf, who became well acquainted with business interests here during several visits of the Hamburg-American line excursion steamer Cleveland, of which vessel he was master, is in line for high honors, according to a letter received by Shipping Manager Frederick Klebahn of H. Hackfeld & Company, Inc. In leaving the bridge of the Cleveland, Captain Dempwolf was transferred to the Atlantic liner Kaiserin Augusta Victoria. Now it is predicted that Captain Dempwolf is to be promoted to the gigantic Imperator, the largest liner operated by the German company.

Welch Delayed in Getting Sugar.

Some delay has been experienced in securing sugar for the bark Andrew Welch and that vessel may not get away for the coast before Saturday afternoon, or Sunday morning.

The bark is to furnish means of transportation for at least a half dozen passengers. That sailing craft continues popular with a portion of the traveling public is borne out by the fact that in the case of the famous Andrew Welch, one lady passenger arriving in that vessel has decided to return to San Francisco in the same ship.

Lumber laden, the American schooner Salem is reported to have sailed from Tacoma, with destination as Honolulu.

JAPANESE LOSE IN COAL FRAUDS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—Eager to learn the extent of the overcharging of his company for coal as shown by the federal government's examination of the books of the Western Fuel Company, General Manager W. H. Avery of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha called on Treasury Agent W. H. Tidwell in the custom house yesterday.

As Avery expressed it later, he expected to learn that his company had paid for some coal it had never received, but his "breath was taken away from him" when the government investigator, in his usual mild way, informed him that the loss by the Japanese company figured in the neighborhood of $25,000 for the last six years.

The investigation into the losses of the government, the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, the Oceanic Steamship Company and other concerns is still under way. No estimates have been asked for by any one, with the exception of Avery, and have not been made.

The examination of the books, however, has gone far enough to show the investigators that the government is the smallest loser of all. During the past six years the books are said to show that Uncle Sam has paid about $12,000 in drawbacks that should not have been paid. According to law a steamship company is entitled to 40 cents a ton on all imported coal shipped from here in American bottoms. That is called a drawback.

High officials of the federal service declared yesterday that it would be proved that the profits of the indicted coal company on short weights would amount up to the amazing figure of $2,600,000 for the past nine years. Pending the completion of the exhaustive examination now being made of the Western Fuel books, the men in charge declared there was no way of determining what the losses of the steamship companies and others might be. The matter of the local sale of coal has not been gone into at all.

General Manager Avery was given the information that the short weights on the Nippon Maru, Chiyo Maru, America Maru and other liners of the Japanese fleet averaged about 10 per cent. In one instance the Chiyo was supposed to take out 1340 tons, when, as shown by the books, it only really had 1200 tons to burn on the long voyage across the Pacific.

Payments to Engineers. During the proceedings of the federal grand jury preceding the returning of true bills against officials and employees of the Western Fuel company, testimony was given and the entries shown in the books to the investigators of payments of salaries of the engineers on the Japanese liners.

According to report, the enormous losses of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha will be taken as a basis for wholesale changes in the personnel of the company's crews. Dismissals have been hinted at for some time, and, with the developments of yesterday, it is expected the ax will fall. All the engineers on the liners are Japanese.

Figures will soon be compiled, it is said, showing the loss of the government in coal furnished to the transports and revenue cutters.

The Day of Rest.

April, 1913, will go clattering down the corridors of time as notable in local shipping circles at least, for a series of "days of rest" for weary waterfronters and stevedores.

By a peculiar combination of circumstances, it will be noted that each Sunday and Thursday in this month is practically free from possible arrival or departure of a trans-Pacific steamer. Monday is the recognized Oceanic day, with the Sonoma appearing on the 14th and Sierra again on April 28.

Tuesdays loom up like a mad and merry carnival of activity, with five gates in the foreground and from two to four deep sea vessels scheduled for arrival or departure each date. There appears but one Wednesday in the month when any business of unusual importance is predicted and that comes with the arrival of the Marama and the departure of the Wilhelm on April 23. The four Fridays make a promising showing, each carrying from one to two arrivals or departures. Saturday gives promise of becoming distinguished as a day set for the handling of transports.

Making Inroads on Harbortan Coal.

Nearly seven thousand tons Japanese coal brought to this port from Moji in the British steamer Harbortan are gradually going from the ship to the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company. The vessel is expected to be ready to depart for the west coast of the United States by the last of this week if all goes well in the discharge of the fuel. The Harbortan is expected to take a cargo of lumber destined for Australia.

Capt. Gregory Missed a Boat.

Capt. James Gregory, known along the front as the "Irish Admiral" of the Inter-Island fleet, and master of the Kaui liner Kinau, was obliged to remain ashore for a trip at least, on account of illness. Capt. Self took command of the Kinau, sailing for the Garden Island last evening.

Pay Tribute to Ship John Ena.

The old reliable ship, John Ena, reached the coast following an uneventful voyage around the Horn, and receives much fullsome laudation at the hands of coast shipping men. Captain Olsen, the young skipper of the American ship John Ena, evidently took good advantage of the calm which his fine command encountered on the voyage to San Francisco from Philadelphia, for the big windjammer is said to have presented a handsome marine picture upon her arrival. The square rigger looked more like a royal yacht than a huge carrier of merchandise. Her lofty spars, spick and span, towered from the immaculately white hull and the brass work glistened like that of an ocean liner.

The John Ena made the passage from the east coast in 136 days. Calms and light and variable airs marked the voyage. The first news that Governor Wilson had been elected president of the United States was received by the crew of the ship when they spoke the steamer Newlands on December 11. Another speaking made by the John Ena was that of the schooner W. H. Smith, which she passed on February 12 in latitude 312 north, longitude 115 16 west. The voyage and after was 20 days out from Valparaiso for Aberdeen.

The John Ena left Philadelphia under charter to Bates & Cheesbrough, the shipping firm which went to the wall a few weeks ago. After discharging here the John Ena proceeds to Hilo to load sugar for Delaware breakwater.—S. F. Call.

Sewall Sailor Escaped Horrible End.

A sailor in the ship Edward Sewall, now under charter to come to the Hawaiian Islands to load sugar destined for Delaware breakwater, was saved from the jaws of a man-eating shark while swimming in the doldrums.

In the southern latitudes the sailing vessel was becalmed for ten days. The sea was like glass under the tropical sky and the great white wings of the square rigger hung limp on the tall masts. The Edward Sewall was like a "painted ship on a painted ocean."

The heat was oppressive and for several days the crew disported themselves by taking a dip in the ocean. One day, when about a dozen of the hands were in the water, a slight breeze filled the ship's canvas and she leaped through the water. A boat was lowered to pick up the men.

One of the sailors, however, Giuseppe Cardini, an Italian, was taken with a cramp. He managed to grasp a rope thrown to him, but as he was being drawn from the water he fell back. Those on the deck of the vessel were horrified to see the fin of a huge man-eating shark cutting the brilliant water not far away. Another rope was tossed to the stricken sailor, who, in his terror at seeing the shark making toward him, tied a noose around his waist. He was drawn up to the rail as the man-eater flashed in sight, his rows of teeth showing.

"Thus," wrote Captain Quick, in whom runs a vein of humor, in his report to the marine department of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Shark lost a meal and the Italian saved his leg."

Santa Maria for the Union Oil Co. Captain Winnett, master of the Union Oil Company tanker Santa Maria, reported some very rough weather in the trip from Port Harford to Honolulu. The steamer, with 44,000 barrels fuel oil and 200 drums of gasoline, reached the port at an early hour this morning and was sent to the railway wharf to discharge. The Santa Maria will make but a short stay here. A strong wind prevailed throughout the voyage.

Claudine Towed Windjammer to Sea. The schooner Honouliuli, with sugar for San Francisco, was towed to sea from the port of Hana, Maui, on Tuesday, by the Inter-Island steamer Claudine. The Claudine return this morning, bringing a small assortment of cargo including 5 crates chickens, a quantity of bags, 1 auto, 1 horse and 12 mules. The vessel met with rough weather.

HARBOR NOTES

Cargo is being loaded into the Inter-Island steamer Claudine preparatory to that vessel departing for Maui ports tomorrow evening.

Taking general cargo and a few passengers, the Inter-Island steamer Hall is listed for dispatch for Kauai ports at five o'clock this evening.

An arrival from the coast Friday morning, the Pacific Mail liner Siberia should be dispatched for the Orient on or about five o'clock that evening.

Mail and passengers dispatched from Honolulu for the North Pacific coast in the Canadian-Australasian liner Marama, arrived at Vancouver yesterday.

Noon, Saturday, is the time set for the sailing of the Oceanic liner Sierra with about two hundred passengers and a full cargo of sugar destined for San Francisco.

The United States revenue cutter Thetis has been placed on the berth for an early departure for Mare Island. This vessel is to undergo extensive repairs pending taking up work for the summer in Alaskan waters.

The Inter-Island announces that the steamer Maui will be dispatched for Hawaii ports including Laupahoehoe, Kukaia, Kohala and Pailolo, the vessel taking freight only.

There will be a special meeting of the promotion committee tomorrow afternoon in the rooms of the Merchants' Association at 3:30 o'clock, at which will be present the former directors of Hawaii's floral parade. The principal purpose of the meeting will be to discuss plans for the 1914 floral parade and carnival.

aged to be up and doing ever since his college days, and his field of operation has extended from the Arctic circle to the equator. He has explored the burning alkali deserts of the south west; commanded an exploring expedition to Alaska—incidentally floating down the Yukon alone in a canoe—been a newspaper reporter; fought the Spaniards in the cause of Cuban liberty, and later fought them under the stars and stripes; fought the Filipinos; capturing the redoubtable Aguinaldo, and fought earthquake, fire and lawlessness in stricken San Francisco. Truly a red-blooded record for a man just entering his 48th birthday.

Personally General Funston is rather retiring, and is not given to drawing on his large fund of individual experience except when among his intimate friends. Men to whom he has given his full friendship would go through anything to retain it, and friends and enemies alike—and like every man of positive personality he has some of the latter—unite in knowing that he has absolutely no knowledge of personal fear. He faces danger without heroics, and merely as though it did not exist at all.

A Busy Man.

The new department commander is mildly tolerant of society in the generally accepted sense of the word, not meaning that he by any means is a recluse, but merely that he is too busy to take amusement and entertainment very seriously. He spends a great part of his spare time in the company of his books, being one of the most omnivorous readers on military subjects. Book after book, and history after history he reads and assimilates, storing up the experiences of the great commanders of the past for his own knowledge and professional advancement. He has a wonderfully retentive memory, and a faculty for quickly grasping salient points and important passages.

General Funston is a great man in the field, and as a woodsman or plainsman he has few equals. His bump of locality is marvelously developed, and it seems almost impossible for him to get lost when left to his own resources in the open spaces.

From a military standpoint, his specialty in time of peace is maneuvers as a preparation for war. He is a great believer in working all arms of the service in conjunction, and it is safe to predict that although this is not the year for joint maneuvers with the national guard, for which a special appropriation is made by congress, the troops of the Hawaiian department will take the field for a more extended mimic campaign than ever before.

Reporter First.

General Funston was born in New Carlisle, Ohio, November 9, 1865. When he was only two years old, his people moved to Kansas, where he spent his boyhood, rounding off his education at the University of Kansas from 1885 to 1887. He began his life of activity and adventure as a reporter in Kansas City, in 1890, but a year later the roving spirit took possession of him, and he became attached to the expedition of the Smithsonian Institution, which explored the little-known and much-dreaded territory of Death Valley, California. Funston was a botanist of this party. Two years after facing desert heat and drought, he tackled the snow and ice of Alaska, as commander of an expedition sent by the department of agriculture to explore Alaska and report on its flora. He camped in the Klondike during the winter of '94, making his memorable solitary canoe trip in the spring.

Civilization couldn't hold Funston for long, and in 1896-7 we find him espousing the cause of oppressed Cuba, and serving through the grades of captain, major and lieutenant colonel in the insurgent army. He served with distinction for eighteen months, was wounded, and returned to the United States to recuperate.

Colonel of Volunteers. When the war between the United States and Spain broke out, Funston was commissioned colonel of the 20th Kansas volunteer infantry, considerably to his own surprise. He went to the Philippines at the head of his regiment and took part in a number of big battles and innumerable skirmishes, making a name not only for personal bravery, but for sagacity as a military strategist. Among other noteworthy feats was the crossing of the Rio Grande at Calumit on a small bamboo raft in the face of a heavy fire, and establishing a rope ferry by which the U. S. troops were enabled to cross and win a decisive battle. For this act he was made a brigadier general of volunteers on May 20, 1899, and awarded the medal of honor February 14, 1900.

Caught Willy Emilio.

The feat for which General Funston is probably best known was the capture of Emilio Aguinaldo, which he planned and accomplished while campaigning in Luzon. The story is familiar to every reader of modern history, being one of the most brilliant strokes of daring, as well as one of the severest tests of nerve and stamina, ever recorded. Briefly stated, Funston learned through captured correspondence of the presence of Emilio Aguinaldo in a remote village. He conceived the plan of disguising a company of Macabebes scouts as insurgents, and, paving the way by forged correspondence, to have them march to Aguinaldo's hiding place as reinforcements, himself and four other American officers accompanying them disguised as prisoners. The details of the expedition were most carefully thought out, and it was necessary for more than eighty men to play a part within the enemy's lines for more than a week. The chances of success were slim, but after almost unbelievable hardships, the little band finally reached the insurgent chieftain, and throwing aside their disguise, effected the capture.

In his intensely interesting book, "Memories of Two Wars," General Funston opens the chapter on the capture of Aguinaldo as follows:

"It was the 8th day of February, 1901, and in the room that served as an office in the headquarters building at San Isidro, I was going over the morning's work with the adjutant general of the district, Captain E. V. Smith, when there arrived a telegram that for the moment disturbed our equanimity—a brief message that was to have no small part in the making of the history of the Philippine insurrection.

This was the message telling of the voluntary surrender of some insurgent messengers bearing important dispatches, which eventually led to the capture of Aguinaldo. The Captain Smith referred to is Major Ernesto V. Smith, of the Second Infantry, now stationed at Fort Shafter. General Funston gives Major Smith great credit for his part in solving the difficult cipher in which the communications were written.

A few days after the capture of Aguinaldo, and the return to Manila with the prisoner, Funston was made a brigadier general in the regular army, in recognition of his feat, and former service.

FIGHT TO PREVENT WATER WASTE IS TAKEN UP BY HARBOR BOARD

Commissioner Wakefield Says Authorities Should End the Leakage from Valves

Commenting this morning upon the fact that, as reported at a meeting of the board of harbor commissioners yesterday afternoon, the waste of water, owing to leaky valves along the water front still continues, Harbor Commissioner Wakefield condemned the lack of action on the part of the water works authorities.

"The matter has been brought to the attention of the authorities for the last two or three weeks," the commissioner said, "and there is no reason in the world who the two men whose duty it is to inspect the valves along the water front cannot prevent the waste." It is simply through negligence upon the part of the authorities that the waste is permitted to continue.

The waste of water amounting in quantity to thousands of gallons daily was reported at a meeting of the board of harbor commissioners a couple of weeks ago. It was thought at this time that the water works authorities would at once instruct their inspectors to keep a close watch over all leaky valves. This, according to Commissioner Wakefield, has not been done.

Action was also taken at the meeting of the harbor board yesterday afternoon to stop the waste from the works owned by the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company. It appeared that the company pays a flat rate for the water they use. One hundred dollars annually is charged for the larger vessels, while the rate for smaller craft is as low as sixty dollars. Commissioner Wakefield pointed out that upon flat rate the company were not apt to be concerned about the waste of water. He advised that, unless the leaky valves owned by the company are tended to, the company be treated as a private consumer and its water allowance shut off.

Commenting upon the report of R. B. Parks of the department of public works upon the Hilo wharf, Commissioner Wakefield stated this morning that as long as he had anything to do with the matter the Hilo wharf would be, for the convenience of the public and not for the railroad, "The wharf is a public wharf, not a railroad wharf," said the commissioner, "and the convenience of the public will at all times be the first consideration. Ample provision has been made for the handling of freight which is consigned to the railroad company. This cannot be emphasized too much. The railroad has no rights to the wharf which the board of harbor commissioners cannot dispute. The railroad can run their tracks down to the wharf, but it rests with the board whether or not they run them out on the structure. Although we anticipate no trouble at all, it is definitely understood that the railroad is in no position to dictate to us and the wharf belongs to the public not to the railroad."

CRISCO

For Frying—For Shortening—For Cake Making

and it will be as wholesome as it is delicious

That is the surprising two-fold superiority of the new shortening—Crisco.

It enables the cook to surpass herself in the making of pies, puddings, etc. Makes the crust flakier, tenderer, lighter than ever before. Makes pie so much more delicious that it is in greater demand than ever. But—

At the same time, unlike many things which make foods good to eat but hard to digest, Crisco IMPROVES the digestibility. This is because Crisco is a pure, wholesome vegetable product—not an indigestible animal fat—and of the highest quality, absolutely clean in origin and manufacture, the most delicate shortening known.

Have your cook try Crisco for pie, for pudding or for any other pastry where she now uses lard or butter. The whole family will be so delighted that you will have Crisco used immediately in the preparation of other foods requiring a cooking fat. For making cake you will find that Crisco, though it costs much less, is the equal of creamery butter; this, because of its richness in addition to its delicacy.

The next time you have pie try Crisco in the following recipe:

1 cupful flour
½ teaspoonful salt
5 tablespoonfuls Crisco
2 tablespoonfuls ice water
(Use level measurements.)

Sift flour and salt together. Chop in Crisco very fine and add water slowly. Handle lightly. Put the dough on a board, roll three-eighths inch thick. Line pan and bake in a hot oven. Have all ingredients cold except Crisco, which should be warmed, if necessary, but not melted.

Thousands of women have sent for this Free Cook Book. Have you?

Its 100 tested recipes not only show you the best way to use Crisco from soup to dessert but give you many excellent dishes which you will be glad to add to your own list. Write for a copy to The Procter & Gamble Co., Dept. E, Cincinnati, Ohio.

DON'T SIDESTEP!

We are assured that the senators to whom has been entrusted the fate of the public utilities commission bill have no intention of passing the matter on to the senate hold-over committee for two years of consideration, and we hope indeed that no such action will be taken on this pressing matter.

The legislature cannot sidestep its responsibility. Party pledges and obligations to the people of the territory demand that the legislators provide a commission to supervise public service corporations. The time is short in which to draft and pass a suitable bill, but any suggestion to devote two years to "consideration" should not be heeded, for the two years would be largely wasted. It will be noticed that every time a measure comes up that treads on the toes of special interests, the cry is raised that more time must be given for consideration. So with this public utilities commission. But the people of the territory have spoken, as nearly as they can speak. The act that passes may be imperfect, it may be weak, it may be ineffective, but the way to get a strong bill, an effective bill, is to learn by experience, and two years of experience will point the way toward needed amendments.

THE SPERRY LECTURES

The Sperry lectures at the Y. M. C. A. this week should be largely attended, particularly as Honolulu during the past year has begun to realize the necessity for education along sex lines. Dr. Sperry is an eminent authority on sex education and kindred questions, and his lectures treat the subject in a wholesome, straightforward way in which there is neither prudishness nor offense to the most delicate. His talks are extremely valuable to young men. He speaks each night in Cooke Hall.

DEVELOP PARKS, BOULEVARDS AND BEACHES NOW

The public discussion over the acceptance of "Ainahan" by the legislature brings forward the wisdom of a policy of securing and developing park areas for the future of Honolulu. And not only parks are needed—a large public bathing beach should be acquired by the city and held in trust for the Honoluluans of the future.

Mainland cities are spending millions in the condemnation of valuable property for parks and boulevards and are looking back regretfully to a time when the property could have been much more cheaply acquired.

The Right Hon. James Bryce, ambassador to the United States, once made an address to the American Civic Association in which he said:

"The love of nature is the very simplest and best of those pleasures the power of enjoying which has been implanted in us. It is the most easily accessible of pleasures, one which can never be perverted, and one of which (as the old dandy said about the watermelon) you cannot have too much. It is a pleasure which lasts from youth to age; we cannot enjoy it in the form of strenuous exercise with the same fullness in age, because our physical powers are not the same, but we have perhaps a more perfect enjoyment in some other ways, because we have the associations and memories of those who have in bygone days visited beautiful scenes with us, and also the associations with which poetry clothes lovely nature. Therefore there is nothing which in the interest of pure enjoyment we ought more to desire and study to diffuse than the beauties of nature. Fortunately, the love of nature is increasing among us. It is one of the tests of civilization that people should enjoy this simple pleasure instead of those more violent and exciting pleasures which may become the source in extreme forms, of evil. The love of nature, I say, is happily increasing among us, and it therefore becomes all the more important to find means for safeguarding nature. The population is increasing, too, and the number of people who desire to enjoy nature, therefore, is growing larger both absolutely and in proportion. But, unfortunately, the opportunities for enjoying it, except as regards easier locomotion, are not increasing. The world is circumscribed. The surface of this little earth of ours is limited, and we cannot add to it. When a man finds his house is too small, he builds more rooms on to it, but we cannot add to our world; we did not make it, it was made for us, and we cannot increase its dimensions. All we can do is turn it to the best possible account. Now let us remember that the quantity of natural beauty in the world, the number of spots calculated to give enjoyment in the highest form, are limited, and are being constantly encroached upon, so that it is necessary to save what we have got, and to extend the policy by acquiring and preserving still further areas for the perpetual enjoyment of the people. Let us think of the future. We are trustees of the future."

W. C. T. U. PROGRESS

The great progress of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union is shown in a recent address by the president, Mrs. Lilian M. N. Stevens. Her report shows 11,000 new members have joined in the past year, bringing the total up to the 300,000 mark.

Mrs. Stevens said that the last year had been one of notable progress. Increased numbers of railroads have prohibited the use of liquor and declined to serve liquors on their cars while life insurance companies have discriminated against users of intoxicants.

Mrs. Stevens urged that steamship companies be petitioned to debar the use of liquor, especially among officers and crews of passenger-carrying ships. Mrs. Stevens declared that the high cost of living is to some extent due to the use of intoxicants, explaining that it detracts from the prosperity and efficiency of the people.

Quoting military authorities to fortify her contentions, Mrs. Stevens urged that renewed efforts be made to prevent the repeal of the army anti-canteen laws. The army officers she named were a unit in their opinions that the morale of the army has improved since the enactment of the law.

Mrs. Stevens recommended work for the passage of a bill to prevent interstate shipment of liquors into prohibition states, which legislation has since been attained; for the abolishment of federal taxation on the alcoholic traffic, and that cordial support be given the government officials in the enforcement of the pure food and drugs act.

W. R. Kinslea was the only member of the house to vote the other day against the concurrent resolution protesting to congress against the abolition or material reduction of the tariff. This paper happens to have commended Mr. Kinslea for independence enough to break away from his delegation in a vote on another matter, but his later action is quite inexplicable. Republican and Democrat alike approved the resolution. Kinslea's illustrious chief, President Wilson, has already declared that his ideas on tariff reduction are that no legitimate industry must be hurt, and the resolution of yesterday was quite along the line of the president's public declarations. As a matter of party principle, Kinslea could quite well have voted for the measure. As a matter of duty to his territory, he should have done so.

While the latest investigating committee is probing prison conditions, it might send a tracer out after the plans for the new prison we heard so much about a few months ago.

New Mexico, Texas, California and Arizona are at the present fairly good examples of what Uncle Sam can do with Spanish and Mexican populations.

The passage of the senate civil service bill in the house yesterday is a long, long step along the road to efficiency in Honolulu's public affairs.

Still, Job never had to wait for the outcome of a rapid transit franchise deadlock controversy.

ATTORNEY WILL CLAIM FOR CLIENT JUSTIFIABLE HOMICIDE

Outlining for the first time the case for the defense of William F. Hagemann, the Schofield Barracks soldier now on trial in the U. S. district court for the alleged shooting of Henry Gerkin, Attorney Lorin Andrews this morning in court stated that he would claim for his client justifiable homicide. Andrews explained that he would prove that Gerkin was by nature a bully; that, under ordinary conditions he was overbearing, forcing the men in his company to lend him money to gamble with against their will; and that, when intoxicated, he was so overbearing as to justify Hagemann in committing the crime alleged. The plan of defense came as something of a surprise, it having been thought, up to this time, that the claim would be self-defense. Preceding Andrews' statement, the government closed its case with the examination of several witnesses who, in substance, corroborated the statements made yesterday by Privates Floyd, Evans and others. These testified to the facts immediately preceding the shooting, the facts of the shooting, and the facts immediately subsequent. Private Floyd, who yesterday morning gave promise of proving the star witness for the prosecution, yesterday afternoon minimized, say those who have followed the case, somewhat the effect of his previous testimony by discrediting from the matter in hand to condemn army court-martials and other military institutions. Private Evans, however, made up for whatever deficiency there may have been by his straightforward and direct manner of testifying. He seemed unprejudiced and his testimony apparently favored neither one side nor the other.

In substance he told of Gerkin leaving Hagemann's tent a short time previous to the shooting and after some altercation between the two men; of the three shots that suddenly rang out; of Gerkin's dying statement to the effect that it was Hagemann who fired the shots, and of the trip with the wounded man to the hospital.

The case will be resumed at two-thirty o'clock this afternoon, at which time the witnesses for the defense will take the stand.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

SENATOR BROWN—I have some more shots to fire on the banking bill. WM. BUSH—Our proposed widening of the Kapahulu road is right in line with Senator Judd's scheme, and you bet we want it done, too.

C. HEDEMAN—I am thoroughly in sympathy with the objects of the Japan Society of Hawaii and shall be glad to enroll myself a member.

G. S. RAYMOND (Lahaina)—I sincerely hope that the legislature of 1913 will continue the progressive work for education by passing the bills providing for vocational education.

A. FRANK COOKE—I think it would do the legislators who voted against Representative Irwin's bill a whole lot of good to listen to one or more of Dr. Sperry's lectures on sex hygiene.

SENATOR JUDD—The plan for opening and widening streets, provided for in the senate bill recently introduced, is modeled along the lines of the Denver bill. It carries out the local assessment theory. I should like to get a line on public opinion as to the number of signatures that should be necessary to call for the improvement and the number of adverse signatures that may prevent it.

TOM MERLE—We, in Hawaii, do not advocate duties on raw sugar to protect unreasonable profits. We do not stand for the codding of a stated industry by the use of the tariff-making power of congress, whereby profits are being piled up for the benefit of the few. Such cases may exist on the mainland, but that is no excuse for recklessly applying the pruning knife to the duties on a commodity which is the very life, the very pulse of this territory, with the inevitable result that all, from the capitalist to the poorest, will be the sufferers, even to the third generation.

DONDERO PLAYED A LONE HAND

That A. H. Dondero, who has skipped out of Honolulu leaving a number of debts and trade creditors behind, began to "sting" real estate purchasers after and not before the partnership of Dondero & Lansing was dissolved by the latter is shown by a comparison of the dates mentioned in the complaint of F. G. Rank yesterday and the dates of the partnership.

The partnership with Oliver Lansing was entered into on July 24, 1910, for one year, and at the expiration of the year was dissolved by the action of Lansing, who did not renew it. Legal notice of the dissolution was published in November of that year. Mr. Lansing sold to Dondero his equity in the Makiki tract lots, and all Lansing's connection with this deal ceased early in 1912. In May of 1912 Dondero, according to the complaint, entered into the contract with Wood, who afterward sold the lot to Rank. Friends of Mr. Lansing resent any intimation that he knew of Dondero's

DR. SPERRY IS A FEARLESS SPEAKER

The first extension meeting to be held by Dr. Lyman B. Sperry, who is now lecturing in this city for the purpose of furthering the work of local education along lines pertaining to matters of health and sex hygiene, took place at half-past ten o'clock this morning when he spoke at the Rapid Transit car barns before a large gathering of motorists, conductors and other employees. The subject was "Dope and the Social Evil." Dr. Sperry is in Honolulu at the request of the local Young Men's Christian Association, which organization is now carrying on a campaign of sex education. In his second lecture in Cooke hall at eight o'clock last evening, Doctor Sperry spoke upon the subject "Sex, Home and Human Progress." He spoke of the home as the inspiration of civilization, and he further said that love should be the basis of marriage. He said that, while matches were supposed to be made in heaven, that he knew of some matches which had been made in a vastly different place. Life, he said, was divided into four parts: sexual instinct, love, marriage and patriotism.

In the course of Doctor Sperry's remarks, he paid a tribute to the Young Men's Christian Association by saying that "considering the amount of money spent and the number of men employed, the association was doing more of the right kind of work for the uplifting of man than any other institution." "Dope and the Social Evil" will be more fully discussed at the third of Doctor Sperry's lectures, which takes place in Cooke Hall this evening at eight o'clock. The lectures are free to the men and boys of the city.

GARDEN FETE IS POSTPONED

While the plans for the Garden Fete for the benefit of the children's hospital endowment fund are progressing splendidly, the ladies have found it necessary to postpone the affair one week, so it will take place on the twenty-sixth of April instead of the nineteenth. The cause, being a good one, everyone is willing to help and the services of a number of ladies have been offered. The ladies in charge of the different booths are working with a will that their booths will be attractive and will be filled with things to please the hundreds of people who will in all probability visit the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Lewis, where the affair will be held. Merchants have been as kind this time as they were to the army ladies for they, too, see the good that the children's hospital has already done.

WILL ASK MAINLAND BODIES TO ASSIST

At a meeting of the trustees of the chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon, it was decided to write a letter to the commercial organizations in the seventeen sugar states and in the leading cities of the mainland, requesting assistance in the campaign to prevent any reduction in the sugar tariff. President E. F. Bishop will attend to the matter.

The subject was introduced by E. I. Spaulding and was urged by Chairman Carter of the sugar protection committee, who had no doubt the organizations of the northwest would heartily cooperate, as the trade with Puget Sound ports last year amounted to nearly four million dollars. He mentioned that a merchant had forwarded a large order for machinery with instructions that it was not to be filled until congress had decided upon the sugar tariff.

LEGISLATORS AT NORMAL SCHOOL SEE WORK

Definite encouragement that the legislature will approve appropriations for vocational training in the territorial schools was given this morning by senators and representatives who visited the Normal School and spoke before teachers and students in the assembly hall. Following this, the legislators were shown over the "plant," where they saw for themselves the practical industrial work being done under the guidance of Principal Wood and his capable staff.

The visit of the legislators was a surprise. The school was assembled for memorial exercises for the late Prof. Alexander, with Dr. Gulick as the principal speaker, when the joint committee from the capitol appeared on the scene. Senator Penhallow and Representatives Clarence Cooke, Paxson, Spaulding and Huddy made up the party. The members made brief talks to the audience, and all of them expressed satisfaction at being able to take up work for education in the territory. Chairman Cooke of the house committee on education declared that he hoped that something definite will be done at this session for vocational training, and others spoke in a similar vein.

The visit around the Normal School was greatly enjoyed by the legislators and they expressed surprise at the comprehensiveness and character of the work now under way.

TO INCREASE DUTIES OF COUNTY AUDITOR

To increase the power and responsibilities of the county auditor Representative Goodness of Maui introduced a bill in the house yesterday giving that official supervision over all county accounts.

With the approval of the supervisors he would be empowered to establish a uniform system of accounting in all departments, to have authority over all persons receiving or collecting funds for the county, and required to investigate and demand explanations on any claim before allowing its payment by the treasurer.

HUI NALU WILL DANCE FOR FUND

It is a recognized fact that the sending of a Hawaiian swimming team to San Francisco this summer will do a great deal of promotion work for Hawaii, but in order to send a team funds must be raised through donations and otherwise. While Duke Kahanamoku has been invited to swim it will be necessary to raise the expenses for the relay team.

Because of this fact the Hui Nalu, the club of which Duke and other of the good swimmers are members, has decided to give a series of three dances at the Outrigger Canoe Club. The Hui Nalu dances have been given for the same purpose on previous occasions and have always proved enjoyable, and the present committee, consisting of Alex May, Will King, "Dude" Miller and Lew Henderson are doing their part towards making the coming dance a success, socially as well as financially.

A dance is not a dance without good music and all who intend to participate in this dance may look forward to having the best, for "Dude" Miller, leader of the Hui Nalu Quintet Club, will be on hand with his musicians.

The first of the series of dances will take place on Saturday night. The tickets are on sale at 50 cents, including ladies.

QUESTIONS TERRITORY'S WORK IN PALOLO VALLEY

Taking up the pendulums for the home stretchers of the Palolo valley, Representative Kupihua this morning introduced a resolution calling for explanations from the administration for its action in reserving the waters of the Palomao stream, conveying it by pipe to the land owned by the Palolo Land and Improvement Company, turning over $40,000 to the company and spending $13,000 for a reservoir and pipe line.

The resolution, which was referred to the judiciary committee, is quoted below verbatim:

"Be it resolved by the house of representatives that the Attorney-General be requested to furnish this house official statements and answers to the following questions, to-wit:

"1. What authority the chief executive and the land commissioner reserved the Palomao stream and all riparian and other rights in this stream and the waters thereof from the taro and kula lands of the Palolo valley home stretchers?

"2. Why was Palolo Land and Improvement Co. paid $40,000 for?

"3. Why is a pipe line being laid and the waters of the Palomao stream be diverted from its natural course and conveyed onto lands owned by the Palolo Land and Improvement Co.?

"4. Why is it that the sum of $13,000 paid for a reservoir and a pipe line in Palolo valley the water not being fit for drink?"

DR. SPERRY IN ROUSING TALK TO YOUTH

"When a child is born he is a bundle of possibilities, and not a very big one at that; to become a man he has to develop along four lines—nutrition, motion, relation and reproduction," said Dr. Lyman B. Sperry, the eminent traveler and lecturer, who delivered his initial address in Cooke Hall Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, speaking upon the subject, "Four-fourths a Man." This was Dr. Sperry's first address in behalf of the campaign for the furtherance of sex education which is being carried on by the local association.

More than 100 men and boys attended the meeting last evening. The speaker was introduced by Ulrich Thompson, who first explained the purpose of Dr. Sperry's lectures in this city and the need of a greater insight into education pertaining to sex matters. Dr. Sperry spoke in part as follows:

"I am disappointed that there are not more young men of the city in the hall this evening, for I believe that there are many who are greatly in need of the suggestions which I am about to offer. Before taking up my subject there are a few facts which I would like to mention which pertain in a way to the things which I am going to say. Of the number of children born in the United States, the average number live to be no more than 40 years old; 20 per cent of them die within a year from the day they are born; one-half of them grow to maturity. Now, if every child born were to grow to manhood and become four-fourths a man, people would still be young at 100 years of age. The trouble is that these days there is very little done for human betterment."

"My subject this evening is 'Four-fourths a Man.' The first of these quarters is nutrition. To live, a man must eat. It is food that will make good, red blood. But when a man becomes a glutton, he might as well stop there. The second division is respiration; good fresh air is essential to life. A man may go for weeks without eating but he cannot go five minutes without breathing. The third is brain and nerves, while the fourth, and one of the most important, is reproduction."

"This is an age of physical culture, development and athletics. This age, it will be found, did not begin until after the civil war. Take the condition as it exists today. Eleven men will get on a football field, perfectly trained and in perfect condition, and do the work for which eleven thousand of their supporters will sit on the bleachers and cheer them. The world today wants no more Sullivans, Jeffries or Johnsons. Such freak possibilities are rapidly disappearing. What the world wants today is not a large number of individual 'strong men' and athletes, but it wants a system of all-around culture which will be scattered among the people of the nation."

"Some of the men of today are robing their nerves of all blood and putting it into their muscles; some are putting it into their brains. A man makes great progress between the ages of 12 and 25, but today he is of little use to the world after he becomes 30 years old. Brain and nerves, good food and good blood, and a good muscular system are going to prove the best safety-valve for brain and nerves if one is going to do a man's work in this world."

"There are such things as brain gluttony and muscle gluttony, and also sex gluttony. I pity the young man who has not had some knowledge of sex matters imparted to him while he is young. This condition of sex gluttony prevails among both the sexes. Boys have the right to be started right when young, and it is the young and misinformed or those who have not been informed at all, who will have the most trouble. Now, in my opinion, to have perfect manhood, one must be possessed of these four things which I have mentioned, and I would say here and now that a foundation to perfect manhood cannot be built on tobacco or rum. One will have to cut all those things out if he would become a perfect man. Today the world wants perfect men, strong healthy men with deep voices; not the effeminate man who could not grow a beard if he tried. The world wants men like Gladstone and Disraeli—men who would still be young when they were 100 years old."

SCHOOL EXHIBIT EATEN

Shameless thieves, but very hungry ones, ate up what the Oahu schools brought only to display. The exhibits of manual and domestic training were on display on the third floor of the capitol, and Tuesday evening while the select committee of Oahu was holding a public meeting, on the franchise, the shameless thieves, but very hungry ones, made their way to the third floor and there ate pies, doughnuts, jelly rolls and cream cakes and also salads, littering the floor with taro and ti leaves. The needle in the compass of suspicion has been circling around and around, but has not yet stopped and pointed to any particular capitol employees as the shameless, but very hungry thieves.

Should Be Pleasant to Take

When a medicine must be given to young children it should be pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is made from loaf sugar, and the roots used in its preparation gives it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it pleasant to take. It has no superior for colds, croup and whooping cough. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.—advertisement.

Y. M. C. A. MEN OF ORIENT ARE VISITORS

E. S. Brown, physical director of the Manila Y. M. C. A., and H. P. Voorhees, an association secretary of Japan, who were through passengers on the Pacific Mail liner Chiyo Maru which left for the Coast yesterday, paid a visit to the local Young Men's Christian Association Wednesday and spent considerable time in conference with the secretaries. The two association men from the Orient are on their way to the Coast for a vacation of six months.

During Mr. Brown's three years' connection with the Manila association he has demonstrated the thorough possibilities of physical work being done in a warm climate and has made his gymnasium classes extremely popular both with the government officials and other citizens of Manila. One of the greatest aids of his work, he said, was the fact that nearly everybody there participates in gymnasium work and athletics. Monday evening Mr. Brown held a conference with the secretaries of the boys' department of the local association and Wednesday morning with Physical Director Lau and General Secretary Super, explaining the scheme he has worked out which made his work in Manila a success. Some of his plans, it is expected, will be adopted here.

Mr. Voorhees has had an unique experience in Japan. He went there eight years ago as a teacher in the government schools in the Omi province with the understanding that he could teach private Bible classes outside school hours. Within a short time he had made Bible study so popular that he had more than 800 pupils in his different classes, and at length the Buddhists began to oppose his work. This opposition resulted in his having to resign as a teacher in the government schools. But he was not the man to run away from a hard job, and decided to remain where he was and continue his Bible classes. At the same time he decided to earn his living by practicing architecture, which he had learned while in college.

The Young Men's Christian Association of Japan was attracted by his splendid success, and made him one of the secretaries. This happened six years ago and the man who was "fired" from the government schools now has an employed force of more than thirty workers in his association, is one of the leading men of the province and has been highly commended by the very editor who clamored most loudly for his discharge from the government schools. Mr. Voorhees spoke before the members of the Bible Study Club of the local association Monday evening. The association has invited Mr. Brown to spend a month in Honolulu on his return from the Coast.

DIES FROM HATCHET WIELDED BY WIFE

HILO, March 31.—Charles Anlu, an Hawaiian, died last Saturday morning in the Kohala hospital as the result of injuries inflicted by his wife with a hatchet. According to the police report the assault occurred at Kapaau Saturday morning, at which time the woman, who is said to be slightly unbalanced, and her husband were engaged in cooking the morning meal. As the man bent over to fix the fire the woman stepped up from behind and struck him a blow on the head with a hatchet. The woman withdrew the hatchet and was about to strike again when her son, who happened to be in the room at the time, picked up a bench and threw it at her, whereupon she fled. The injured man was removed to the hospital where he died Saturday night. The woman has been arrested.

YEE HING RECEIVES.

For the purpose of combining the many Chinese clubs of the city into one large society, the Yee Hing Association, which is itself a merger of two or three of the larger Chinese societies of the territory, held a reception last Tuesday noon in the new club rooms on Ala street. There was a large crowd present throughout the noon hour, many of the territorial, federal and city officials attending, as well as a number of business men. The Hawaiian band was in attendance and the visitors were regaled with a feast and cigars.

The Yee Hing Association comprises a membership of 30 per cent of the Chinese here, and from now on will endeavor to absorb other societies. The officers of the association are: Wong Tin Look, president; Lum H. Chu, Chinese secretary; W. Tin Yau, English secretary; Lau Ying, treasurer.

BUSINESS ITEMS

W. B. Thomas, Spencer Buckerton, A. L. C. Atkinson and E. J. Lord have been elected members of the chamber of commerce.

George R. Carter may represent Hawaii, the chamber of commerce having received the usual invitation.

J. P. Cooke has submitted to the chamber of commerce a complaint about the reduction of the salary of the collector of customs at Kahului from $1500 to $300 a year.

A report of the committee on the oil pipe line was presented to the chamber of commerce by E. D. Tenney and adopted, recommending to the harbor commission a maximum rate of two cents a barrel.

A special meeting of the chamber of commerce will be held soon to consider the territorial financial situation as shown in the legislature, which E. I. Spalding, for the legislative committee of the chamber has reported as serious.

Taking of profits by speculators depressed prices in New York yesterday, the downward influence being aided by less cheerful news from Europe. The process had spent itself before the afternoon when nearly all of the declines were retrieved and some stocks made advances. The market closed easy.

NOW HAS THEM ON THE LIST

Complaints have reached the police department of the alleged operations of a quartet of mainland people, said to include two men and two women, who arrived in this city some days ago by a Pacific Mail liner.

Chief of Detectives McDuffie has made a quiet investigation of the movement of the party which is alleged to have participated in a series of card games while en route from San Francisco to this port that were along questionable lines.

Inquiry has also led to the discovery that a male member of the quartet has visited several country hotels, and apparently traveling under an alias.

PUBLIC HEARING TODAY.
The first public meeting on the bill which would grant an electric franchise to Theodore Hoffman will be called at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the senate chamber by the select committee of Oahu senators. The bill was introduced several days ago by Senator Cooke. Persons interested in the measure, on one side or another, have been asked to appear, when they will be given an opportunity to present their arguments.

BRADLEY

BUTTED IN

Bradley simply would butt in, and in consequence throbles fell thick and fast around the devoted head of one Thompson.

The affair is by no means at an end if the flow of excretion sent forth this morning can be counted as presaging a continuance of anathemas.

The prediction was made today that Bradley and Thompson would attempt a final settlement of their differences this evening, the pair having selected a spot not far from the corner of Hotel and Bethel street, as a field of battle.

Mrs. Thompson, it is declared, will be dragged into the general melee this evening.

Meanwhile, merry Jim Post, the San Francisco comedian, and his clever segregation of attractive young ladies, will do what they can to serve as peacemakers at the Bijou Theater, beginning with tonight.

"Bradley Butted In," is pronounced as one of the best rollicking musical comedies yet to be presented by the James Post Company. Packed with tuneful airs and catchy songs, the three-act skit is guaranteed to put the little glooms to rout. This is one of Post's favorites.

The Four Avalos, on the xylophone, carried the Empire audience by storm again last night. These artists will present a complete change of musical selections beginning with tonight and continuing throughout the week. The famous "Avalos March" has become an exceedingly popular air with whistling Honoluluans.

Tom McGuire announces that he has a store of new Scottish songs and ballads in his repertoire that are equal to those he has been rendering with signal success since the first of the week.

Manager Adams has arranged for three matinees weekly with vaudeville, the afternoons selected being Monday, Wednesday and Saturday. New and first run pictures are presented daily at this house.

Ye Liberty, at reduced prices, was well filled last night. Several attractive feature films are now delighting audiences at the big play house. The instrumental accompaniment to the photo plays meets with marked appreciation. Manager Adams has an interesting announcement to make concerning this house within a few days.

PEOPLE SHOULD GUARD AGAINST APPENDICITIS

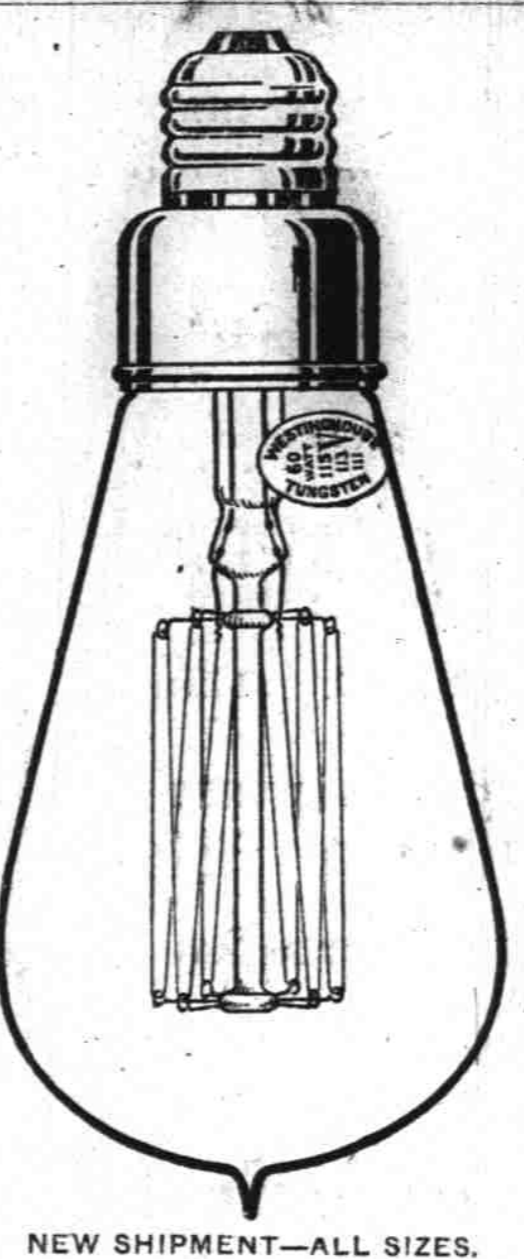

Honolulu people who have stomach and bowel trouble should guard against appendicitis by taking simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as compounded in Adler-Lika, the German appendicitis remedy. A SINGLE DOSE relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation INSTANTLY because this simple mixture antiseptizes the digestive organs and draws off the impurities. BAND CONCERT

This evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Hawaiian Hotel the Hawaiian band will present the following program: March: The Winning Fight. Holzman Overture: Poet and Peasant. Suppe Intermezzo: Frivolous Cupid. Lampe Selection: Nabucco. Verdi Vocal: Hawaiian Songs. ar. by Berger Selection: A Runaway Girl. Monckton Fantasia: Romanesque. Zikoff Finale: Marietta. Thompson The Star-Spangled Banner.

Castle & Cooke, agents for the Matson line at this port, have been advised of the sailing of the steamer Lurline from San Francisco. This vessel is due to arrive on Tuesday, April 8th, bringing a big shipment of mainland merchandise.

CITY FATHERS
HEAR REPORT OF
BUILDING BOOM

Building permits experienced a marked increase during the month of March, according to the report of the building and plumbing inspector, which was presented at a special meeting of the board of supervisors held yesterday. The approximate value of the properties for which permits were issued was mentioned in the report as being $235,664. Fifty-six plans were filed with the inspector during the past month, 133 permits issued, and 152 inspections made. One hundred and thirty-three permits were issued to install new plumbing, and seven permits for sewers. The aggregate amount of the value of the permits was mentioned as being $20,258.50.

The reports of the expenses of the road committee for the past month was read and accepted. The public expense account amounting to $407.50 was also presented and accepted. A bill was presented by the Union Feed Company amounting to $201.84 which was contracted with that company in August of last year by the Waialua road board. The feed company claimed that as yet the road company had not paid the bill and the board of supervisors was asked to make an investigation of the claim. Mayor Fern became indignant at this point, saying that the feed company should have made the complaint long ago.

Another discussion was brought up at the meeting when a communication from the manager of the Denio fire alarm system, asking that that company be allowed to install a box on one of the streets in the city in order to give the system a try-out, was read. Mayor Fern seemed to be in favor of the matter, but Supervisor McClellan said that in his opinion the new system would interfere with the one now under the control of the city. Supervisor Pacheco then came to the assistance of the Denio company and said that the installation of the alarm box on one of the streets was to be only temporary, and that he believed the company should be allowed to make the test. After more beating around the bush it was decided to leave the matter with the police and fire committee for investigation.

WATER DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS DENY REPORT STREAM DIVERTED

Say Situation in Nuuanu Is Bad Enough Now Without Making It Worse

Sensational reports, in evidence during the last few days, to the effect that the water works authorities, in an endeavor, to make the legislators pass a bill satisfactory to them, are exaggerating the dearth of water and the condition of the pumping stations, were emphatically denied at the water office yesterday. It was called to the attention of Superintendent Little that it had been rumored that water is being diverted from the dams in the Nuuanu valley so that the city's supply of water would not be increased to any too rosy extent by the recent rains.

"Conditions are bad enough as they are," Superintendent Little said, "and there is no reason in the world for making them worse. Far from trying to decrease the watershed along the Nuuanu Valley, we have asked an appropriation to dig ditches for the purpose of, as far as is possible, increasing it."

Chief Engineer Rieks drew a vivid picture of present conditions of water supply and demand, sustaining his arguments with figures as he went along. "Every pumping station we have," he said, "is working twenty-four hours every day, with the exception of brief respites that the rain gives us and time necessarily taken out for repairs. As for the present condition of the water supply, we have far less water in our reservoirs than at a similar period last year."

Last year was a hard one with us, and this year promises to be much worse. According to present prospects, our supply this year will last us just about a month less than our supply of last year. In other words, whereas we had difficulty in supplying the city with water as early as September of last year, this year our water famine will probably make itself evident as early as August. Under such conditions," Rieks concluded, "is it not ridiculous to suppose that we would purposely waste the water or divert it from the dams in order to impress the people and the legislators with the seriousness of the situation? As a matter of fact the situation is serious enough as it is, and, if the people had a real knowledge of conditions, they would realize the necessity of conserving the water supply to the last drop."

Rieks explained that the Kaimuki pumping station is shut down for the purpose of repairing the smokestack. He urged the Star-Bulletin to make a special appeal to the people of that district to be sparing in their use of water. During the time the pumps are shut down, the consumers have only two reservoirs to draw upon, and these will be very quickly emptied unless economy is observed.

COPRA KINGS FROM SO. SEAS

Father Emanuel Rougier, owner of extensive interests in the south seas, Manager Richard Fitt, representing the Armstrongs in their Fanning Island investments, accompanied by two natives, returned to Honolulu with the British steamer Kestrel, that steamed to a berth at Richards street wharf late yesterday afternoon.

Captain J. P. Tait stated that in all his experience in north Pacific waters he seldom found much rougher weather than that experienced in steaming through the south seas after leaving Fanning Island behind.

The little Kestrel, with her complement of sixteen officers and men, and a cargo of 13 tons dried coconut, or better known as copra, was at the mercy of the gales that lashed the waters to fury and sent volumes of seas over the ship.

The Kestrel sailed from Fanning Island on March 24, after having been discharged of a quantity of supplies for the British Cable Board, as well as the island planters.

From Washington Island, Father Rougier joined the vessel, effecting the passage to Fanning over some 90 miles of tropical seas in a small launch.

Father Rougier is en route to Europe. Manager Fitt brings a report of conditions found at the island copra plantations which will be forwarded to Armstrong & Armstrong of London.

The two natives are to be taken to France, where they will be educated. The Kestrel is said to remain here for some time before being dispatched on a return trip to Fanning and Washington islands.

CHILDREN DIE FROM MEASLES

Four deaths have been recorded among the children with the party of Spanish and Portuguese immigrants by the British steamship Willesden, since that vessel touched at a berth at Quarantine wharf.

Two deaths occurred on last Monday, with an additional number recorded for Tuesday and Wednesday. Measles is said to be responsible for the demise of two little ones.

No births are so far recorded among the 1388 immigrants who journeyed across many thousand miles of ocean to seek a new home in Hawaii.

Many new cases of measles are reported. It is one of the trying problems that confront the medical staff with the Federal quarantine station. The segregation of the sick from the well is a matter that requires constant supervision and care.

At the rate of five hundred people a day, the last of the immigrants left the Willesden this afternoon. Dr. Trotter and his staff of medical officers now propose to fumigate officers and crew of sixty men tomorrow. The Willesden will also receive a general cleansing and fumigation before going to a wharf at the Mauka side of the harbor.

Customs inspectors also have their troubles. In the hold of the Willesden are six hundred pieces of baggage or personal effects belonging to the recent arrivals. This assortment of goods and chattels must be given a careful inspection by the federal customs. The baggage also comes in for a fumigation before being turned over to the owner or claimant.

MASCOTO FERNANDES IS FAST RECOVERING

Manuel Mascoto Fernandez, charged with the murder of his wife, Johanna Mascoto Fernandez, a teacher in the public schools and who in attempting to take his own life, shot away a goodly portion of his face, besides inflicting injuries to a number of little children who were pupils at Kālihi-uka school, is still at Queen's Hospital but improving at a rate that presages his early recovery.

Fernandez's case has been repeatedly called at district court but has been continued over pending his removal from the hospital to the custody of the officers of the law.

It is understood that Fernandez has placed his case in the hands of a local attorney who will enter a plea of temporary insanity in defense of the act committed by the Portuguese on January 17.

If you love good pictures, as most everyone does, you will find some splendid reproductions of the masters in the Hollywood Prints, at the Honolulu Photo Supply.

For Fat Ankles

We have secured for those of our lady patrons, whose ankles, being a bit heavy, find difficulty in fitting their feet to a shoe that suits their fancy. The new scheme is for a high button boot, lacing beginning in the front about three inches from the top. The buttons being as usual on the side, gives the shoe the appearance intended and the ankle freedom of action. These shoes are made from our suggested designs and are sold exclusively at this store. An inspection by ladies who have experienced difficulty, owing to large ankles, in being fitted with shoes are invited to inspect them.

LEAGUE MEMBERS FAIL TO AGREE ON ADMISSION OF A FIFTH TEAM

Deciding Vote Lies with President Chillingworth, Who Reserves Judgment—Coast Artillery Team Has the Edge and Will Likely Be New Member

There will be five teams in the Oahu Baseball League this coming season, as was the case last year. This much was decided last night at the meeting of the league directors, but just what organization will take the place of the Japanese Athletic Club is not definitely known. Two teams are in the running, the Artillery aggregation and the regimental team of the Twenty-fifth Infantry. Last night the directors balked on the admission of the Artillery team, and the vote resulted in a tie, the representatives of the Stars and Hayahis being for its admission while the Portuguese and Asahis voted no, announcing their preference for the colored team. It was then up to President Chillingworth to cast the deciding vote, but he passed decision until a later time.

The Artillery team had in a formal application for membership, in due form, agreeing to abide by all the regulations of the league and guaranteeing to turn out a team for every scheduled game. The Twenty-fifth had in no application, and all that the directors had to go on was the statement of officers and men that the regiment would like to be included in the circuit, and newspaper stories to the same effect.

Transportation Difficulties
The admission of a Schofield organization was informally discussed, and the point brought up that the teams coming down by train to play a Sunday game would have to take a train arriving in the city at 9:15 a. m. This would force them to spend the whole day in the city, and to take the 5 o'clock train to return, or wait until 11 p. m. It was pointed out that if the weather was uncertain, it would be necessary to make a definite decision as to whether or not a game was to be played, as the Twenty-fifth would have no way of coming to town after the early train had left. In wet weather it is often uncertain up to noon whether or not a game will be played. In the case of the Artillery, it was argued, this same objection would not hold good, as two of the posts were within trolley ride of the park, while the players from Fort Kamehameha have a number of trains each way from Puuloa.

President Chillingworth stated before the meeting adjourned that he strongly favored the admission of the Artillery team, for these and other reasons, and from what he said it is almost a foregone conclusion that he will vote yes on the tie, and that the coast defenders will be the fifth wheel in the league wagon. The Twenty-fifth would also be a strong drawing card, and it is a pity that both these teams can not enter the pennant race.

Schedule the Same
It was decided to play off the same schedule as last year, dividing the season into two series of ten games apiece for every team. Manager A. Q. MacCallino, of the league, was instructed to frame the schedule, using numbers in the pairings, the teams to draw for numbers when the playing dates are determined on. As previously announced, the season opens Sunday, May 4.

The system of Sunday double headers will be continued, Manager MacCallino stating that he had made inquiries among the players as to the possibility of their getting off for Saturday afternoon contests, and that there were several on each team who could not possibly fill a Saturday date. The league magnates were agreed that double headers every week were tiresome in the extreme, but there seems no chance of a change at present.

President Chillingworth announced the appointment of Captain Norris Stoyan as umpire in chief. He said that he was satisfied that Captain Stoyan, besides having a thorough knowledge of the game and being a reliable arbitrator, could maintain discipline in the field, and would keep the games going with a snap. He said that he looked to the team managers and the players to back up his selection. The choice of Captain Stoyan met with general approval. He will work behind the plate in all games. Who will be his assistant is not known just yet.

Agitates Short Contract
Captain David Desha of the Hawaiis spoke in favor of a one year, instead of a two year contract for the players, but the other managers looked on this with high disfavor, as it would practically mean the signing of an entire new team each year. Under the present plan there are a number of men available at the beginning of every season, even though the contracts of some may have run out. The Stars, for instance, will sign six new men this year, and these will be holdovers next season, although the bunch that signed last year will be free agents after the present season closes. No change will be made in the arrangement.

There were a number of releases by all the teams but the Asahis, and the untimely death of one player removed him from the list. This was "Johnnie" Nascimento, of the Stars, who lost his life while surf fishing a few months ago. Manager MacCallino, of the Stars, paid a high tribute to Nascimento's sportsmanship and reliability, and said that besides losing a valued friend, the Stars had lost a valuable and dependable member of their team.

The matter of a regulation ball was discussed, E. O. Hall & Son submitting an offer of a cup and four medals, provided that the league would make either the Spalding cork center or rubber center ball official. Last season the league used the Goldsmith ball. All three balls will be given a thorough test before action is taken.

The league renewed its agreement with the Athletic Park management on terms satisfactory to both parties. As the Oahu League as an organization owns nearly one-fifth of the park stock, it is to the advantage of the former to do everything possible to help the management of the latter.

CLUBS BOLSTER UP THE PLAYING LIST

Here is the way the clubs line up for the coming season:

Stars.
Retained: B. M. Sumner, G. W. Schumann, James P. Winne, F. H. Joy, C. Dobeky, Jos. Fernandez, W. Hughes, Kan Yen, Lai Tin.

Released: W. A. Meyer, E. B. Hamauku, A. K. Lota, John Meyers, Oliver Jones, George M. Quital.
Signed: H. A. Chillingworth, Wm. Hampton, F. J. Markham.

Each team being allowed to carry eighteen men, this leaves the Stars with six vacancies to fill, the Asahis with four, Portuguese three, and Hawaiis five. It will be noted that several of the men whose names appear on the lists are now touring the mainland with the All-Chinese, and will not be available until late in the season.

IN-AND-OUT BALL IN TWENTY-FIFTH 'CHAMP' SERIES

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, April 3.—That L company would defeat M company yesterday in the Twenty-fifth Infantry series was generally accepted as a certainty, for L company had six regimental team players in its lineup while the other team had Thomas and such men as he could scrape together to represent the company, so, when in the first of the opening inning Thomas' braves gave in five runs and sent his entire team to bat, the game promised to be a surprise party. Williamson, first up for L company, hit the first ball Thomas pitched for a home run. Thomas fanned Slaughter, then proceeded to pass the next two up but pulled himself out of the hole by fanning the following pair.

The enthusiasm of the M company fans was short-lived, however, for L company found Thomas in the second for four hits, assisted by M company errors, netted them nine runs. Williamson taking his second clean home run in two innings. Slaughter, in the third, drove the ball far beyond center field limits for another home run, sending Williamson in ahead of him. Thomas ended this inning by fanning two more but it was evident that whenever he couldn't retire L company by strike-outs they would hit him hard, not giving his fielders a smell of the ball. In the sixth, L company's last time at the bat, Williamson knocked a double, Cross, a double, Smith a home run and Johnson, Ward and Franklin each a single.

It is many a day since Schofield Barracks has seen such a batfest. Smith pitched a good game for L. Score 23 to 8.

Second Game.
The second game of the afternoon between "I" and "K" companies was an entirely different kind of a contest. With the loss of four of its players of last year's team—the team that played off a tie for second place in the Fort Wright games last autumn—"K" company's success will depend largely upon the number of men Scott, with Swinton to catch him, is able to send to the bench over the strike-out route. Scott was in fine form yesterday, giving no passes but varied the monotony of his ten strike-outs by hitting two batters. For "I" company, Grundy was on the mound, and while he hasn't much speed, he had splendid control, and "K" company could not seem to hit him safely. Behind the bat was a new recruit, Mimms, who is the most promising catcher shown so far in this series.

Collins played a star game at second and hit safely each of his three times at the bat. It is a pity this mighty

GOLF GOSSIP

While all Hawaii can go a-golfing if the spirit moves, the frozen East is just beginning to sit up and take notice of the fact that the royal and ancient game will soon be in season. The more fortunate club swingers have gone south with the swallows and the baseball teams, and have been playing on the Florida and California courses during the winter, but the great army of American players have been enforced stay-at-homes, and for them Old Man Winter has been going his round with laggard legs.

Some interesting gossip of the Southern courses, together with the golfing outlook for the season proper, is given by Steven Armstrong in the Christian Science Monitor.

The well known golf critic says: Here we are almost half way through March and golf looms up again in our horizon. Already some events have been carried through, among them the women's championship of Florida. We offer our congratulations to the successful candidate who is well worthy of the honor and whose satisfaction in winning must be enhanced by the fact that Mrs. Fittler also competed. Mrs. Fittler, as most people know, had won this title on every former occasion that she had entered the tournament, and was beaten in this last one only at the nineteenth hole, upholding the standard of Boston women's golf, for though she now lives in Philadelphia we do not forget that she learned her game here before her marriage. In the last three years her golf has improved wonderfully, and she has gradually won recognition worthy of it, till now she is acknowledged as one of the best women players in the States.

Mrs. H. C. Phipps is much to be congratulated on disposing of so formidable an opponent. The open championship of Florida has also been decided, the title going to Charles Thom of Shinnecock Hills, whose victory was well deserved, for in the first 12 names there are those of national champions past and present—W. J. Travis, McDermott, Alex Smith and others almost equally famous. Thom's total was five strokes better than that of W. J. Travis, his nearest rival, and he also had the best score for a single round—68.

Previous to these events was the victory of Miss Louise B. Elkins in the St. Valentine tournament at Pinehurst. Miss Elkins is an ex-holder of the championship of the North and South, having won that event in 1911. She is one of the best players of that strong golfing organization, the Oakmount Club of Pittsburgh. Miss Elkins' swing is easy and graceful and her short game very good.

The season may therefore be said to have opened most auspiciously. One cannot help wondering what it will bring forth. We are going to send worthy representatives to both the British amateur and open championships. Every one regrets that there seems but little chance of our amateur champion going over there, but at least it seems likely that the runner-up will compete. He will be warmly welcomed by the many friends he made on his previous visit, and every one will be curious to see what difference there is in his game. May the best of good fortune go with him, and as all who are personally acquainted with Mr. Evans know, we could have no finer sportsman nor more popular golfer to represent us abroad. We trust that others will accompany him, and a number of well-known players have been reported as likely to do so.

Then McDermott, Alex Smith and several others are intending to enter the open, which means we shall be worthily represented in this event also. The British papers are full of complimentary things in regard to the courtesy shown by the U. S. G. A. in rearranging the date of our national championship so as to make it possible for Ray and Vardon to compete. There is no doubt about it that it is going to be a great year for golf in this country.

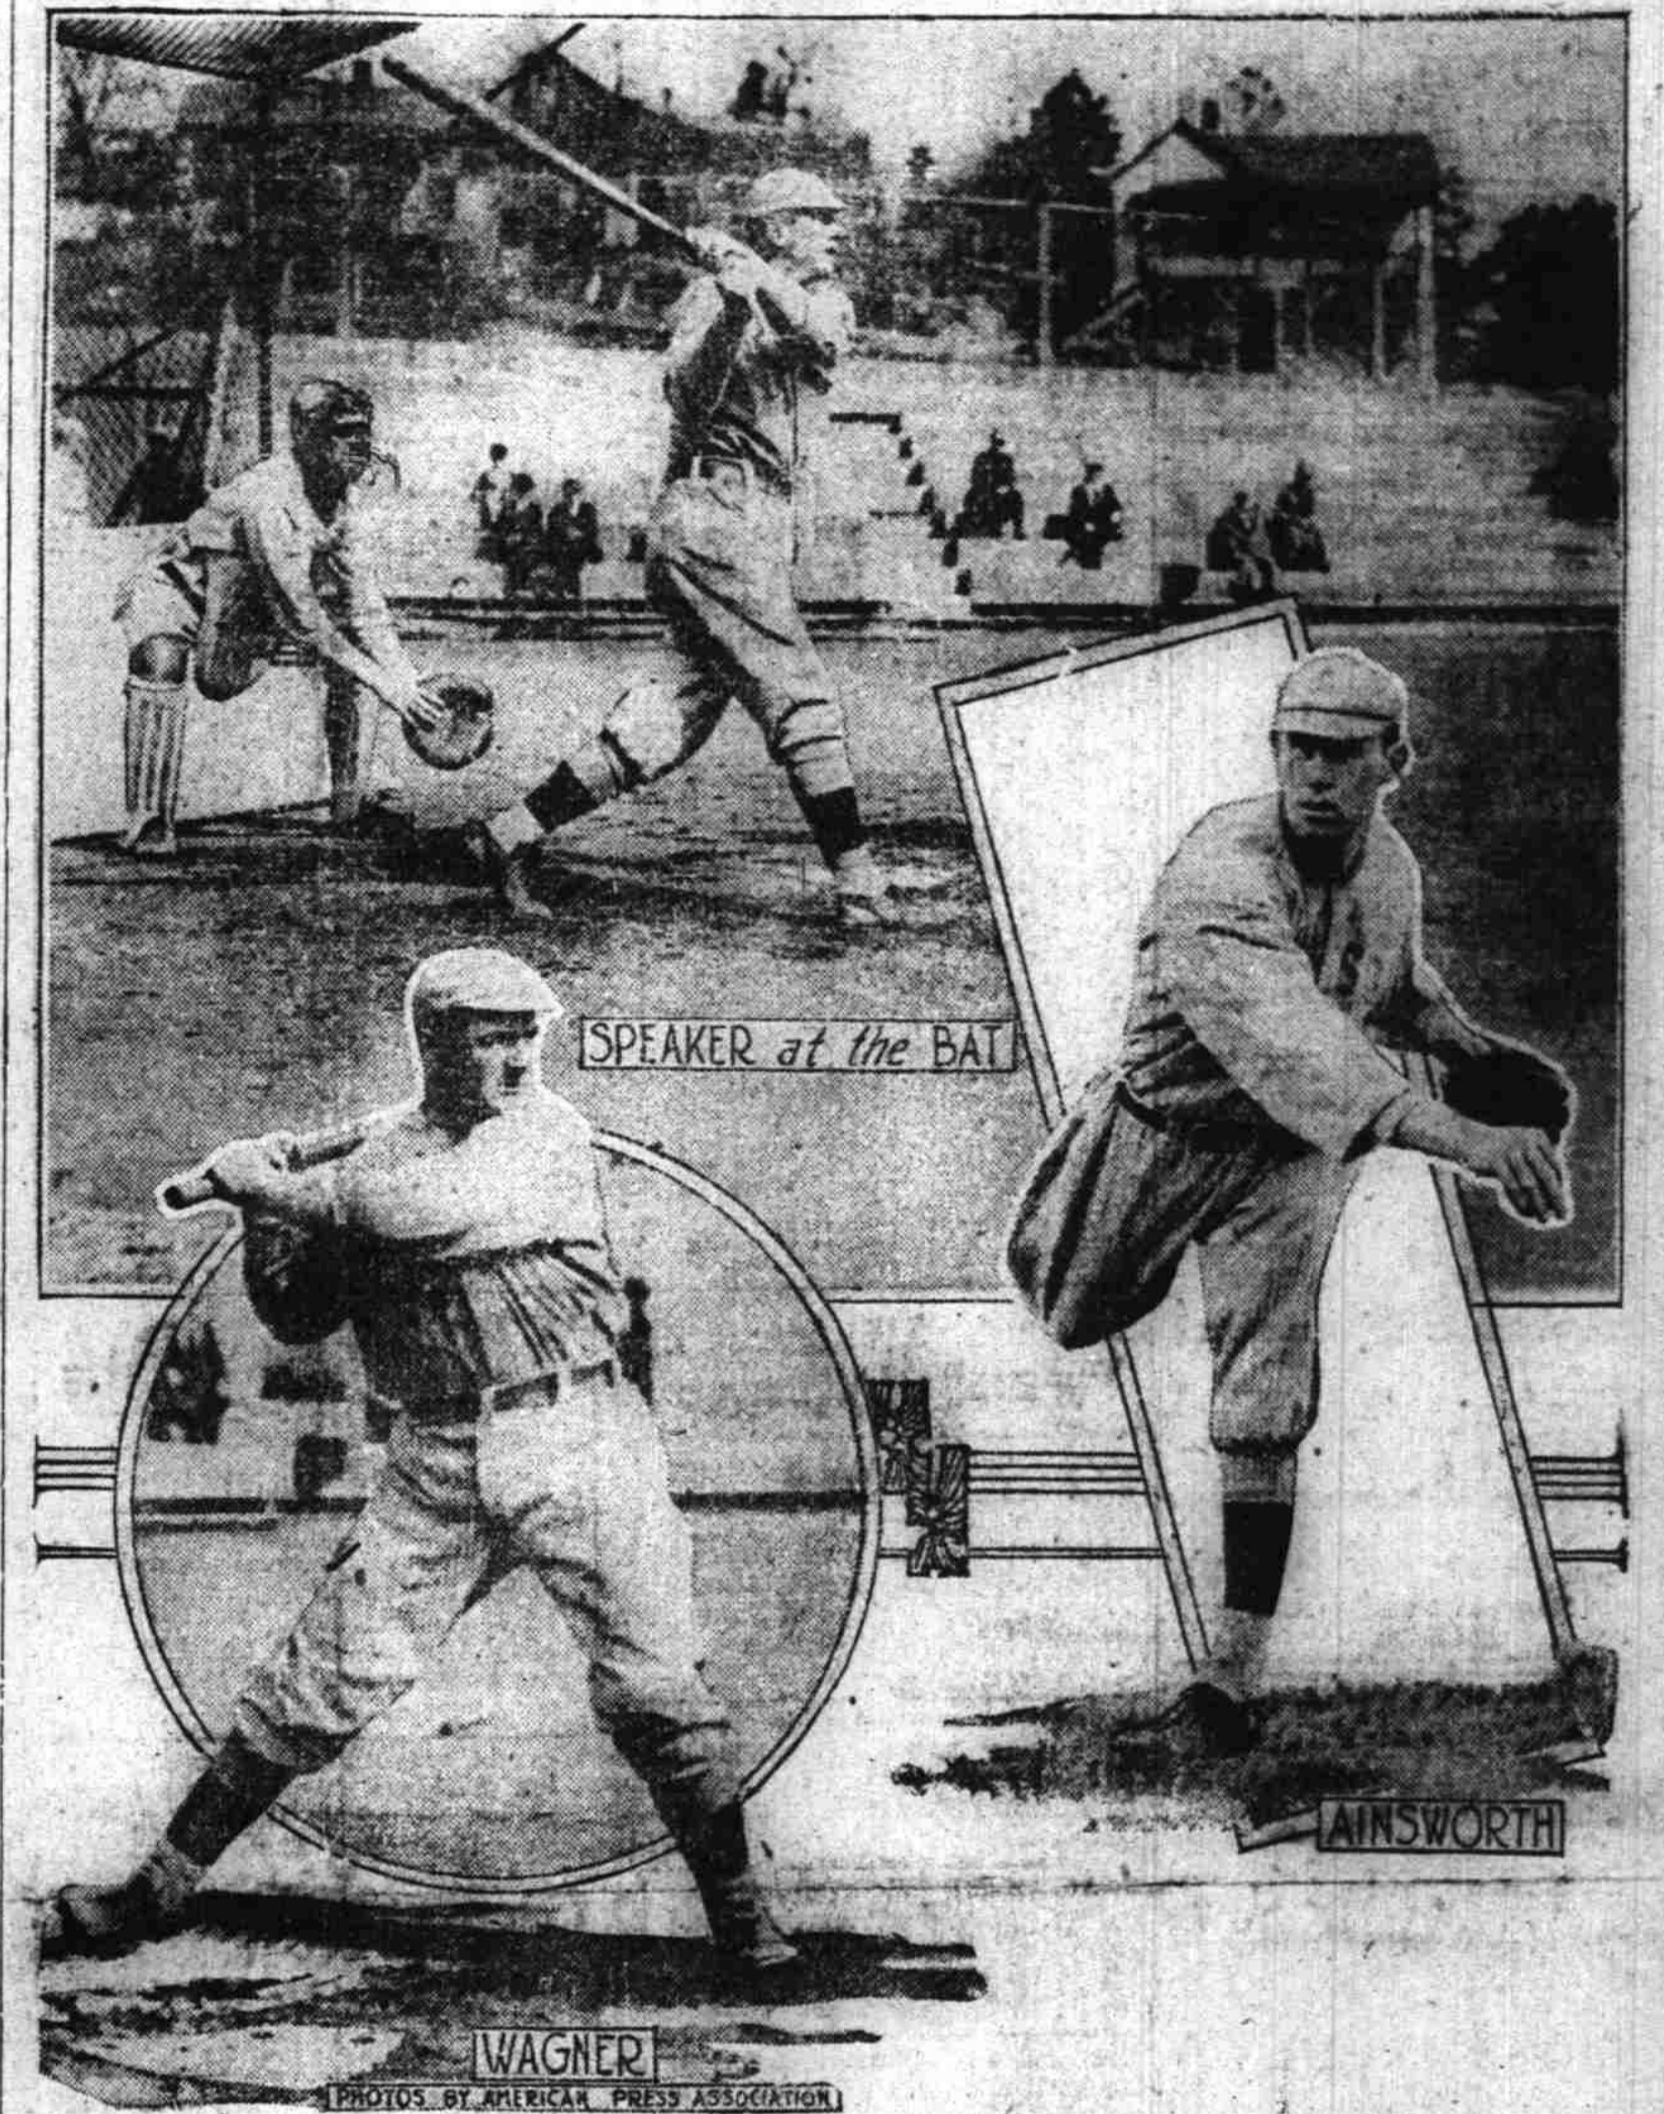

I wish only that some of our lady players were going across for the L. G. U. championship. I should very much like to see what Miss M. Curtis could do over there now that she has improved her game out of all recognition of what it was on her previous visit. However, rumor has it that there is a chance that Miss Ravecroft and some others may come out to America in the autumn. I hope they will.

The Brunswick-Balke nine has issued a challenge to the Bethel street back drivers' team for a game of baseball to be played a week from next Sunday, possibly at Athletic Park.

BOSTON SPEED BOYS ARE SHOWING MIDSEASON FORM AT HOT SPRINGS, ARK.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—Baseball experts who have watched the Boston Red Sox perform here on the diamond are of the opinion that the world's champions are in fine condition for the opening of the campaign. This is due to favorable weather conditions and a seven game series with the Pittsburgh Nationals. While the regulars were tackling the Pirates the youngsters were playing their daily practice games. Manager Stahl says that if the team gets off to a good start the Sox will, barring accidents, capture another pennant. Stahl will not permit Heinie Wagner to play in any of the practice games with the Pittsburghs. Last year Heinie hurt his arm at the spring training camp, which forced him to lay off for some time. Wagner is in good condition and is seen in the daily stunts with the youngsters. Speaker is the wallop kid in the preliminary battles. Ainsworth, the young twirler, according to the critics here, is assured of a regular berth with the Sox. He has shown up well in practice games and gives promise of developing into a crackerjack.

MORE BASEBALL FOR WEEK-END

The week-end baseball card consists of a meeting between the All-Artillery and St. Louis teams Saturday afternoon, and a game between the Twenty-fifth Infantry and Asahis as the Sunday attraction. Both contests will take place at Athletic Park, the Saturday game being called probably at 3:30 and the Sunday event at 3.

The meeting of the husky colored soldiers and the diminutive Japanese players will be of considerable interest. The Asahis have not been seen in action as a team for some time, and the fans will welcome a chance to look them over.

The Saturday game has a very classy look, and should prove a great pitchers' battle with Lawson working for the coast defenders and Barney Joy doing the flinging for the Stars.

LINCOLN'S WIN CROSS COUNTRY

The Lincoln Club was again victorious yesterday. Amid great excitement the club team won the cross country run with a score of 41 points. The Stonewalls came second with a score of 23, Kamehamehas 18, McKinnies 16, Washingtons 14, Napoleons 5.

The time was 13 minutes 15.5 seconds for the course a trip over two miles.

The Castle Cup tournament at Berea is interesting the tennis players. The event will start next Monday afternoon, weather permitting.

Many a young man would get a hard bump if thrown on his own resources.

First Oxford-Cambridge Boat Race Was Rowed In Year 1829

LONDON—The Oxford and Cambridge boat race of March 13 is known all over England as "The Boat Race." The long period of practice and training of the crews, extending from early in January to the day of the race, has its conclusion in the annual struggle of the Oxford and Cambridge eights over the famous Thames course between Putney and Mortlake. It is as long ago as 1829, since the first record of an inter-varsity race, and this was decided on the upper reaches of the river at Henley, and won easily by Oxford. The course at that time cannot have been so long as at the present day, for the time was considerably less, and though in 1836 the race was rowed over a far longer stretch of the river, it was not until 1845, that the Putney-Mortlake course was first adopted.

No race took place between 1829 and 1836, and in the latter year the crews met over a course extending from Westminster to Putney, a distance of about five and one-half miles. This was repeated in 1839, 1840, 1841 and 1842, after which there was a lapse of two years without a race, and in 1845 the crews again met, as stated above, on the present day course which measures just four miles and two furlongs. A few dates in the history of the boat race stand out as landmarks and may be of interest.

The 1846 race was the first inter-varsity race rowed in outriggers, while in 1857 both eights were constructed according to present style without keel and the oars used for the first time were round; 1873 marked the first occasion on which sliding seats were employed. Since 1864 the race has always been rowed from Putney to Mortlake. Over the same course in 1859, Cambridge sank, a fact which will recall the disastrous events of last year. In 1877 the Oxford bow broke his oar, but in spite of this a magnificent race resulted in a dead heat. Seventy races have now been rowed, of which Oxford has won 39, Cambridge 30 and one dead heat. Turning now to the race which has just been won by Oxford, both crews got through some good work on the tidal waters. Oxford came to London a more advanced crew than their rivals. This very fact, however, was sufficient to instill Oxford as favorites, for the probable improvement of the Light Blues was not so pleasing to their supporters as was the superiority of the Oxford crews to those who had been watching their doings. Nevertheless, there was no doubt that the Cambridge eight had a good chance; it proved to be a considerably better one than had been their lot for some years past. The rhythm and steadiness of the Light Blues increased considerably but they were not quick into the water, nor had they the pace of their opponents. It was possible that they might adopt the center seated eight which has been built for them. A craft of this description has seldom been used in the boat race, but the Cambridge crew appeared to sit the boat well. The Dark Blues were, as mentioned above, quite a good crew as a whole. With a fairly good entry into the water the stroke was well rowed through. A great deal, of course, depended upon the staying power of the crews and though this was hard to judge, when the men were not racing, it seemed as though both eights could keep it up well. The Oxford crew was slightly the heavier, a fact which has been of advantage of recent years, for the last six winning crews have all been heavier than their opponents.

Stewart cup contenders will probably be reduced to four this coming Sunday. The Country Club course is much improved by recent rains, although the wind has been too high lately to permit of really good golf.

Ed Walsh Says Pitcher Must Have Plenty of Confidence on the Mound

CHICAGO—"I've always made it a point to believe I can retire every batter who faces me at the plate," is Pitcher E. Walsh's viewpoint.

The mighty White Sox twirler talked freely of his past and his hopes for the future during the day he lay around idle in Chicago waiting for the special train to start for the coast.

"Sometimes they call this feeling confidence, and I guess that's the way it shapes up. Even when I was a scrub pitcher back in the mining country, I was lucky enough to have somebody tell me that the moment fear enters your heart you might just as well get out of the game and go home for good."

Player Must Have Conceit.

"During the year or more I helped decorate the bench at Comiskey's park, I felt all the time that if I was out there in the game I could win for the Sox. Many a time I saw Roy Patterson, Frank Owens, Nick Altrock and the others get beaten, and I always kept thinking, 'Gee if they'd only let me out I'd show 'em a thing or two.'"

"Today I realize that was conceit, according to the opinion of many persons. But I claim that if you don't feel that you have no business in major league baseball, today I know I was a punk twirler then. Perhaps I might not be with the Sox now if I hadn't gone through with the preliminary process."

"One of the recruit catchers who used to work with me before the games during practice time has told me since that the ball I threw landed in the glove like a hunk of lead. That was the time I was trying to use the spit-ball. I had seen Chesbro use it, and realized that in it lay my only hope of a big league career."

Others Have More Speed.

"I am a big fellow, all right, but there are other pitchers with much more speed. Ed Reulbach of the Cubs, Frank Lange of our own team, Walter Johnson of the Senators and Joe Wood of the Red Sox, probably pitch a faster ball than I do. Then I couldn't seem to make the ball curve sharply enough. My change of pace wasn't up to snuff. So it was a mastery of the splitter or the bush leagues for me."

"Just keeping hammering away at that style while Manager Jones and President Comiskey retained their patience is what made me what I am today—whatever that is. They took a chance with me just like John McGraw did with Marquard."

"I've heard persons tell that I am too slow and deliberate when I go into the box to relieve a pitcher who has been going bad. They even say that I look all swelled up over myself. Let me tell you the secret of that behavior of mine—a secret I figured out long ago from observation and experience."

"When a team gets a sudden batting streak all the men become anxious to be up there hitting away at the ball. They become impatient of delay, wanting to slug hard before the streak passes. When a pitcher then goes in with deliberate motions, a pitcher who studies his man every time he delivers the ball and who seems to appear contemptuous—if I may use that word—the edge is likely to be taken off the assault."

Tris Speaker Hard to Cross.

"The batters are more than likely to swing wild. They sweat even before the ball gets to them in their anxiety. So by slow delivery and a careful mixing up of eyes you can come closer to stopping them than by any other method I have figured out."

"I have found some batters who are hard to cross, even during a batting assault by their own team when I was called on to stop them. Chief among these is Tris Speaker of the Boston champions. He looks every ball over carefully and comes closer to outguessing me than any other batter in the business. Ty Cobb and Sam Crawford of the Tigers are a couple of the others whom it is exceedingly hard to stop."

"You notice, these three are left-handed hitters. That style of a batter can make me pitch to them better than the men who hit from the other side of the plate. I expect to have my best year this season."

UNION BARBER SHOP IN NEW GARB

The carpenters and painters who have been at work on the interior of the Union Barber Shop have "packed up their tents and levanted" but not until they had converted the oldest tontorial parlors in the islands into a beautiful and up-to-date shop.

The place presents a very attractive and inviting appearance in its new coat of white paint, so much so that it has been referred to by patrons of the place as the "White House."

The Union Barber Shop is the best known barber shop in Honolulu, having occupied the same premises longer than any other shop. Under the management of M. Vierra, the present proprietor, it has grown to such an extent that additional space was imperative. It now has four sanitary hydraulic chairs and the four first-class artists are kept busy practically the whole day long—advertisement.

for Infants and Children.

'The Effects of Opiates.'

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"Your preparation known as Castoria I have used for years in children's complaints and I have found nothing better." JOHN J. LEVY, M. D., Cleveland, Ohio.

"I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild, laxative effect and freedom from harm." EDWARD PARKER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Your Castoria is a meritorious household remedy. It is purely vegetable and acts as a mild cathartic. Above all, it does no harm, which is more than can be said of the great majority of children's remedies." VICTOR H. COFFMAN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I have prescribed your Castoria in many cases and have always found it an efficient and speedy remedy." A. F. PEELER, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild, laxative effect and freedom from harm." EDWARD PARKER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a sure and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments." J. A. PARKER, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

Water continues to flow through the gap in the Big Four levee north of Cairo and it is predicted that within two days the low land will be covered with from ten to twenty feet of water. Southeastern Missouri has received warning that the greatest flood since 1815 is coming.

Governor Cox is the custodian of a fund of nearly $1,000,000 raised for the relief of the flood sufferers.

It is said food supplies in Dayton will last only three days. John Patterson, president of the National Cash Register Company and head of Dayton's Relief Commission, went to Columbus today to confer with Governor Cox and Miss Mabel Boardmann, of the National Red Cross.

Without waiting permission from the French government, the body of J. P. Morgan was started on a special train for Havre, France, at six o'clock this evening. It was accompanied by Herbert Satterlee, Morgan's daughter and Helen Hamilton.

There is considerable red tape to be gone through in both France and Italy before a body can be removed, but Satterlee attempted the trip trusting that American ambassadors at Paris and Rome would arrange matters before the special train reached the French frontier.

Most of the Italian formalities already had been met. Before the body was removed from the Grand Hotel, the German ambassador, acting under direct orders from Kaiser Wilhelm from Germany, deposited a huge wreath on the casket.

Despondent over her husband's transfer to the Philippines, Mrs. Hull, wife of Col. John Hull, U. S. A., kept her head first eighty-five feet into the Missouri river from the Douglas street bridge at Omaha in view of hundreds, and was drowned.

Colonel Hull is the youngest officer of his rank in the army. He left Des Moines for San Francisco a week ago and expected to sail from the latter city for the Orient on April 5.

News of a serious bread riot at Hermosillo, Sonora, where thousands of men are unemployed as the result of revolutionary activities, reached Douglas, Arizona, today.

The governor asked three hours to consult with his advisers, but failed to appear in the Plaza to address the mob according to his promise. Several hundred men then looted a score of Chinese produce houses.

Admitting that they are mystified, the police of Los Angeles are seeking today a solution to the shooting and killing of Mrs. Irene Smith, twenty-one years old, by James Murphy, as the young woman sat playing cards with Murphy's nephew, Morris Bohon.

Murphy was arrested and officers are searching for Mrs. Moore, Bohon's sister. Bohon believes Murphy's bullet was intended for him. According to his story Murphy leveled his gun, after firing one ineffectual shot, and Bohon struck it aside, the bullet striking Mrs. Smith through the heart.

After following a trail of blood for two hours near Fresno today, a posse came across the body of an unidentified thug, who is believed to have aided in the murder of W. B. Quick, an aged grocer, here, last night. It is believed the thug accidentally shot himself in the leg while running away from the posse and, when unable to drag himself further, succumbed from loss of blood. His body was still warm when found.

Quick was killed in endeavoring to aid his son in resisting three armed men who were robbing his store.

Alleged to have been overcome by the stigma of being married to a negro, Mrs. Julia Kellogg, former wife of Chas. Gearhart, a wealthy St. Louis real estate owner, swallowed two ounces of bromide and is dead. She is alleged to have divorced Gearhart to marry L. W. Kellogg, a negro butler at the Gearhart home. Until her marriage to the negro, Mrs. Gearhart was a prominent St. Louis society woman.

The committee which had in charge the national popular subscription, undertaken a year ago, for presenting the Italian government with an aerial war fleet, has completed the addition of the various subscriptions. It showed a total of more than $660,000.

Owing to the superiority of the dirigible over the aeroplane for participating in war purposes, as demonstrated in Italy's war with Turkey, that type of air craft will be bought exclusively.

The Pennsylvania State senate at Harrisburg today ratified the constitutional amendment providing for direct election of United States senators. It already has been passed by the house.

Pennsylvania is now the thirty-fifth state to ratify the amendment and only one more ratification is required to bring the amendment into effect.

Servian troops this afternoon began a terrific bombardment of Scutari, independently of the Montenegrin troops. Scutari is in flames and its fall is hourly expected.

President Wilson and the members of the house committee on ways and means have agreed to remove the existing tariff on raw wool. Schedule K, instead of the sugar schedule, is to be the main object of attack in the revision of the tariff downward.

The senate committee discussed only the wool tariff schedule today. President Wilson agreed to a reduction on wool and woolen products which will be equivalent to that in the Democratic bill vetoed by President Taft.

This is said to conform to the ideas of Secretary Bryan.

The latest phase of the suffragette movement in England, namely, the outbreak of mob violence against the militants, though long anticipated, is exciting much uneasiness, as there is no saying to what lengths it may be carried. The Globe today warns the government that such spectacles as that of Sunday in Hyde Park are bringing England to the verge of a sex war, and are calling forth the basest instincts in the human brutes who exist on the outskirts of society.

The spectacle, renewed again yesterday, of women lawbreakers escaping imprisonment by the trick of the hunger strike, infuriated men who know how certainly they will have to suffer the full penalties of their own law-breaking.

Mr. Reginald McKenna, the home secretary, defended himself with considerable warmth in the house of commons yesterday in reply to the attack of Harold Smith, who criticized the home secretary's methods of dealing with the suffragettes.

Mr. McKenna said that his experience with the suffragettes had shown him that the militants could only be dealt with individually and by using patience. Humanity, he believed, would slowly but surely break down the movement.

From Sylvia in Prison

The militant suffragette union yesterday made public the contents of a letter received by Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst from her daughter Sylvia, now in Holloway Prison. It was in the following terms:

"Dearest Mother—I am fighting, fighting, fighting. I have four, five or six wardresses every day as well as two doctors. I am fed through the stomach tube twice a day. They pry open my mouth with a steel gag, pressing it in where there is a gap in my teeth. I resist all the time. My gums are always bleeding. I am afraid they may be saying that we do not resist, yet my shoulders are bruised by the struggling while they hold the tube in my throat. I used to feel that I should go mad at first and be pretty near it, too, as I think they feared, but I have got over that and my digestion is the thing most likely to suffer now."

Marked by the impressive rites of the Greek church, the state funeral of the late King George, who was assassinated at Salonika recently, was held today.
