POPULAR CONCERT

Success Attained at Initial Musicales.

OPERA HOUSE WELL FILLED

Solos and Choruses Were Well Received.

Minister Cooper Deserving of Credit—Thanks Due Those Who Took Part.

The first popular concert by the Honolulu Choral Society was given at the Hawaiian Opera House last night, and was quite up to the expectations of the audience. The choruses represented a great deal of work, and the members and Professor Yarnley, who has instructed them, deserve great credit for the result last night. Much better ef-some person misplacing Professor Yarnley's music, was enough to cause a professional singer to lose her voice. Mrs. Tenney is a strong favorite in Honolulu, and her appearance last night was a signal for a very generous applause. The violin obligato, played by Professor Yarnley, added to the pleasures of the song.

The closing number of the first part of the program was a composition by Thiele, and which is appropriately called "Kaleidoscope," for it affected people differently, but to a number who haunted the lobby during the intermission it was a painful ordeal, requiring upwards of 40 minutes to pass a given point. Professor Berger can afford to let Thiele alone, except on long and forced marches.

In the second part of the program Mrs. Walbridge's contralto voice was heard to good advantage in a pretty ballad. She was liberally applauded at the close, but declined an encore. Originally it was intended that Mrs. Walbridge would sing two songs, but this was changed yesterday morning.
B. L. Marx received an ovation when he finished his violin solo and gracefully accepted an encore. His first number was Richfield's celebrated "Spanish Dance" and the player's mastery of the instrument was far above the average amateur, but his second number, "Pizzicato," suffered by comparison. This is difficult enough at any time and requires continued practice even by professionals, and it was probably through lack of practice by Mr. Marx that occasional false notes crept in during his performance.

FOR A TEST CASE

Difficulty in San Francisco Immigration Office.

JAPANESE CANNOT BE KEPT OUT

Present Method of Evading the Law.

Collusion Between Employee and Boarding-House-Keeper—Chief Justice Judd Interviewed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 27.—The local Commissioner of Immigration, Walter P. Stradley, has received a telegram from Commissioner General of Immigration Stump of Washington that the evidence he has in the case of the detained Japanese laborers who arrived here last week from Victoria was not sufficient for a conviction.

the influx of the Japanese. The system is as follows: A Japanese boss takes a contract to do a certain piece of work on farms in the interior. He sends for the required number of men to one of the Japanese boarding houses here. The Japanese boarding house master is continually importing laborers, and supplies the boss with what he wants.

Commissioner Stradley does not see how the influx of laborers can be prevented unless a definite test is established, requiring all immigrants to read and write English or their native language and to have of their own a certain sum of money. He admits these restrictions would not bar the Japanese entirely.

A SWEEPING CHALLENGE.
Victoria's Right to Rule—Hawaii's Independence Attacked.
Amid the tuneless overtures to the Diamond Jubilee of Queen Victoria's reign there rings out one loud, discordant note. It is the bitter protest made by the White Rose League—the legitimist or Stuart party—against the Queen's sovereign rights. The Legitimist Kalender for 1897 is a publication issued at the expense of the White Rose League and edited by Marquis de Ruigny. The League has as its avowed object the "expulsion of the usurping Hanoverians" and the placing of Mary of Bavaria, "rightful heir of the Stuarts," upon the throne. In January last the White Rose League

AS JAPANESE VIEW IT.

ENGLAND: "Oh, no! Mr. America must not take off this boy."
AMERICA: "All right, you may stay in my home."
HAWAII: "Oh, Uncle! Please help me."
JAPAN: "I must censure your rudeness."

fect would have been produced if the chorus had been larger, but in Honolulu, where there are so many social events to attract the musically inclined people, it is difficult to hold any large number together during the long weeks of rehearsals necessary to give a concert satisfactory to the people. The voices last night were not strong, but they were beautifully sweet and pleasing to the large audience present. One cannot expect to mass 50 odd Parapa Rosa's in a small community like Honolulu, and if any one went to the Opera House expecting a $4 operatic performance for 25 cents they were disappointed.

In so far as the choruses go, a mistake was easily made in doing away with the orchestra in Leslie's "How Sweet the Moonlight." So long as Professor Berger can be made to understand that the loudest is not the best music, it would be better to have the orchestral accompaniment. Ordinarily in Honolulu, everything must make way for the band, but last night was an exception, for the music by the orchestra blended well with the voices of the singers and strengthened them. Their weakness was demonstrated in the chorus without the orchestra. If the chorus had been twice as large the result might have been different.

W. H. Hoogs sang "The Troubadour" very acceptably, and was obliged to respond to an encore. Mrs. Tenney, whose voice is "sweet and low," charmed the audience in rendering "For All Eternity," but the embarrassing wait before she began, through the cornet solo by Mr. Kreuter. He played "Love's Dream," by Millars, in a manner which places him among cornet players several lines above the average who have appeared in Honolulu. He introduced in his number both double and triple tongue, and his execution was fine. He was obliged to respond to the generous applause accorded him.

The next number was a chorus from the "Bohemian Girl," sung by the Choral Society, and was much enjoyed. Balfie's opera is among the standard, and will live forever. It was like an old friend to the audience, and was all the more enjoyable for being so.

The responsibility rests upon Minister Cooper for having given the public an opportunity to enjoy these low-price concerts, but from the success of the initial one the responsibility should be light. That the people for whom the concerts were chiefly intended—those who do not feel like paying a high price to hear good music, did not attend in large numbers, is not the fault of the promoters. The music was there and the admission fee was merely nominal.

BROKEN-DOWN "CONSTITUTION."
Not Worth the Money Appropriated for Her Repair.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., April 21.—Work has not, as yet, been commenced on the frigate Constitution, authorized by Congress, when it appropriated $80,000 to be expended in making her safe to tow to Boston. Those in authority claim that $80,000 would not fit her for sea, and that it would cost more than the appropriation to make her water-tight. It is extremely doubtful, say the yard officers, if she ever leaves the dry-dock. Dry rot has seriously affected her timbers. It is expected that the naval officers will refuse to tow her to Boston, unless she can be thoroughly repaired.

Stradley desired a better interpretation of the questions submitted by him, but he thought his duty was plain in the matter, and he discharged all of the 27 detained Japanese except one, who was deported, as he had a contagious disease.

Commissioner Stradley desired to learn if a certificate issued to a Japanese laborer by American Commissioner of Immigration Penn at Victoria, B. C., was prima facie evidence or conclusive evidence of his right to land. This point has not yet been decided. It is often the case that the immigration officers in this city secure evidence that incoming laborers are violating the laws, whereas the officers at Victoria fail to do so.

For some reason the majority of the Japanese laborers wishing to land in San Francisco come by way of Victoria and not direct from Japan. Commissioner Stradley is anxious to learn if he has to let a Japanese land when he has a certificate, even though he (Stradley) has secured evidence that the immigrant is not entitled to land. It is probable that a test case will be made as soon as the opportunity offers. A man against whom evidence can be secured will be held by Stradley. This will entail habeas corpus proceedings, and the courts will have to decide the matter, as there has been no interpretation of the law on many points.

The evidence in the cases of the detained Japanese consisted of a lot of letters found on the person of the head man of the gang of alleged imported laborers. The letters showed that a local Japanese had sent to Japan for the men to go to work for a certain sum of money. As the men are too clever to give evidence against themselves or to be caught with any written contracts, it seems impossible to stop marched in solemn procession to the statue of Charles I and laid thereon a memorial wreath, an act that no other Government in Europe, except that of Great Britain, would have tolerated. It is regarded as a fine example of the easy-going nature of the British Constitution that no attempt should be made to stay publication of the Legitimist Kalender for 1897, although it has been printed for the League in London itself.

This daring work, which is intended to mar the harmony of Her Majesty's Diamond Jubilee, is simply an open defiance of British Monarchy, as by law established; a bold effort to show that Princess Mary, wife of Prince Ludwig of Bavaria, should rule over Great Britain and Ireland, in the room of Queen Victoria; and (appalling fact for fair American title-hunters!) a clear-cut assertion that half the peerage of England, Ireland and Scotland has no real right to the titles of which it boasts. But the Kalendrar goes even farther. Not satisfied with flouting England, it flings down the gauntlet to scores of other nations. It denies the right of republics to rule; refuses to acknowledge the independence of Brazil, of Lombardy or of Hawaii; and in dozens of places inserts, as rightful rulers, the names of persons far other than those now occupying thrones of those countries. In fact, the United States alone is allowed by the Marquis de Ruigny, chief editor of this remarkable book, to have rightfully shaken off the rule of another government.

The rightful sovereign of Great Britain and Ireland is described in the Kalendrar as "Mary IV of England, Ireland and Wales and III of Scotland; Queen by the grace of God; defender of the faith; born July 2, 1849; succeeded November 20, 1875; heir apparent, her son, Robert, Prince of Wales, born May 18, 1869; name of usurping ruler, Victoria, a princess of Hanover. "Mary IV" is the Princess Mary of Bavaria, head of the direct line of the Stuart heirs, a quiet lady, who, it is said, gravely discomfited all such efforts to give her absurd prominence. The "Robert, Prince of Wales," is her son, Prince Ruprecht Mary Luitpold.—San Francisco Chronicle.

HAWAII AND JAPANESE.

Chief Justice Judd Talks of the Immigrants.

The Rochester (N. Y.) Democrat and Chronicle of April 18th, has the following interview with Chief Justice Judd: Among the visitors in this city yesterday was Chief Justice A. F. Judd, of the Supreme Court of the Hawaiian Republic. Mr. Judd and his two sons are guests at the home of Thomas Chester, on Granger place, where they will remain until after the Easter season. Justice Judd was associated for some time with President Dole on the Supreme Court bench and was connected with the recent revolution which created the Island Republic of the Pacific. He also had something to do with the Japanese immigration restriction laws over which there has been no small amount of trouble of late at Honolulu. When seen yesterday by a Democrat and Chronicle reporter and asked to explain the Hawaiian-Japanese situation, he said:

"In 1894 we passed laws prohibiting Japanese immigration, copying the United States act. When the test case was brought recently for the release of 700 of them whom we held under the law, we were very fortunate in having the United States Supreme Court decision as to the qualifications of the immigrants to be allowed to land. They try every scheme to be allowed to enter the country. There are six immigration companies in Honolulu, and it is suspected that they are providing the necessary $50 that each Japanese must have. What causes us to suspect them is the fact that a few weeks ago several of the immigrants were asked where they had gotten the money and they answered that they had received those identical gold coins from relatives 12 years before starting from home. Examination of the coins showed that they were the date of 1894, so you see, they were nicely caught.

"Two Japanese warships have been ordered to Honolulu, and we are somewhat anxious about the outcome. The Japanese are pouring in at such a terrible rate that we fear that when they get the numerical superiority they will expect political supremacy. They are a very ambitious race, especially since the war with China, and there is no telling what will become of our commercial interests if they gain a firm foothold.

"This should interest the people of the United States because they get 92 per cent of our trade and nearly all of our carrying trade. We are commercially a part of the United States. We have the same coins, the same language, the same judicial systems, and a visitor could easily imagine that he was in an American town. All the Hawaiian products that are brought to your country are returned in American goods, and so it should be of some interest to the United States to preserve this trade. We get some things from Germany and England, but most of our imports come from America.

"The influence in Hawaii is entirely American. You know that it was an American mission from Boston that first took civilization to the Islands, and then our close proximity to California makes us essentially American. We have a system of compulsory education, and our children are required to learn the English language. The Hawaiian language has long since been dropped from the schools. We have an excellent class of American teachers, and we have no difficulty in getting them, because we pay a little higher salary, perhaps, than they would get at home. And it is a very common thing for the boys and girls to be sent to the American universities for higher education. They enter Yale College from our preparatory schools without conditions."

In referring to the Hawaiian feeling as to annexation to the United States, he said:

"We are almost unanimous in favoring the idea. The only ones who oppose it are a few royalists who would do almost anything to upset the present regime, and some of the planters, who are afraid of losing their contract labor. But in order to secure stability and permanency of government against foreign immigration and possible internal rebellions, we are willing to accept whatever laws respecting labor that the United States may enact. The property owned by the Government is worth a great deal more than the national debt, and if the United States would assume our indebtedness and make out papers of annexation, I am sure it would be a paying investment for her, and I am confident, also, that we shall some day become in reality a part of this great Republic.

"When the revolution was brought about recently, the secrets, of course, were all in the hands of the whites, but the natives acquiesced to all that was done. We do not fear another revolution because we have an organized citizens' guard, of which every household is enrolled as a member. There are stations in different parts of the islands where the guard can assemble at the given signal, and so any indication of an outbreak can be easily quelled.

SHERMAN MAY RETIRE.

Secretary of State Shows Signs of Collapse.

NEW YORK, April 25.—A Times Washington dispatch says: Judge Day's selection as Assistant Secretary of State is believed to mean Sherman's early retirement and Day's promotion to the premiership. The correspondent reiterates the old charges that Sherman's failing memory renders him unfit for the post and declares that this has been demonstrated since his induction into office. The dispatch continues:

"Sherman's health is precarious. He has several times been detained at home when he ought to have been in his office busily engaged. The symptoms of collapse have not been absent. So delicate has been his condition that he has done little more since he took office than attend to personal and unimportant official matters. It has been a subject of remark about the department that business has come to a stop, and the condition of the Secretary has been referred to as causing the apparent stagnation.

"Judge Day is surprised at the change of program for him. He probably knows now why the change is made, but there has been great delicacy at the White House about explaining how suddenly it became necessary to keep him at home, instead of sending him to Cuba. He had purchased sleeping-car tickets for Tampa, and was arranging to leave tonight when informed for the first time that he was to be made Assistant Secretary.

"Here in Washington there would be no surprise at the resignation of Sherman at any time. Day would then be ready to move into the higher place at a moment's warning, and that warning the administration is prepared to give almost any time. In the meantime he will take charge of all the important business before the department.

"Although there is some talk about the President's desire to conduct the department more in accordance with his own views than he believes Sherman would conduct it, it is understood that the uneasiness of the President is not on account of any departure from the policy he had marked out, but rather on account of his concern lest the ill-health and increasing infirmity of the Secretary would render him incapable of carrying out any policy at all."

Unemployed on Rampage.

STOCKTON, Cal., April 23.—The army of the unemployed has returned to Stockton. It had been in Lodi all day, and despite the earnest efforts of the citizens of that place to get the idle men to move eastward they sturdily refused to do so. At 10:30 o'clock this forenoon they seized a freight train that pulled into Lodi, and they are now on it. The men intend to remain on this train until they are arrested or taken on to the East, whither they claim they want to go.

MacLaren's Accusers Fall.

LONDON, April 28.—At the meeting of the Presbyterian Synod, held today at Sunderland, the Business Committee decided to reject the petition, containing charges of heresy, which had been presented against the Rev. John Watson, D. D. (Ian MacLaren).

That Tired Feeling AND GENERAL DEBILITY.

The cause is poor, thin blood, resulting in deficient vitality. To overcome this, the blood needs to be enriched and vitalized, and for this there is no medicine in the world equal to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The cures it has worked, the men, women and children it has restored to health, are countless in number. One such experience is related by Mr. Robert Goodfellow, Mitcham, South Australia, as follows: "I have used in my family for years, and would not be without it. I used to suffer with boils and skin eruptions, attended with great lassitude and general debility. In fact, I was so ill that I could not attend to my business. Being advised to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla I did so, and I am happy to say that the medicine restored me to perfect health. I have since used Ayer's Sarsaparilla for my children, in various complaints, and it has always proved effective. I can safely recommend it to sufferers as

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

A Model Plant is not complete without Electric Power, thus dispensing with small engines.

Why not generate your power from one CENTRAL Station? One generator can furnish power to your Pump, Centrifugals, Elevators, Plows, Railways and Hoists; also furnish light and power for a radius of from 15 to 30 miles.

Electric Power being used saves the labor of hauling coal in your field, also water, and does away with high-priced engineers, and only have one engine to look after in your mill.

Where water power is available it costs nothing to generate Electric Power.

THE HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC COMPANY is now ready to furnish Electric Plants and Generators of all descriptions at short notice, and also has on hand a large stock of Wire, Chandeliers and Electrical Goods.

All orders will be given prompt attention, and estimates furnished for Lighting and Power Plants; also attention is given to House and Marine Wiring.

"EQUIPOISE WAIST"

The most comfortable substitute for corsets ever manufactured.

Makes the form perfect without the slightest injury. The hygienic principle of support from the shoulders is embodied in these waists, and the perfect modelling and careful adjustment of each part with relation to each other, so equally distributes the strain and pull of all garments attached, that their weight is hardly perceptible, and the "state of being balanced" is fully accomplished, as the name Equipoise implies.

Whalebones may be removed in a moment, and the garment laundered with as little trouble as a handkerchief.

KAU NOTES.

Items of Interest About Matters in General.

The Mauna Loa which arrived yesterday brought the following notes of interest from the District of Kau, Hawaii:

"Mauna Loa arrived on the 6th inst. with three tourists for the Volcano. The Ke Au Hou arrived in Honuapo on the 5th. Between the two steamers, Punalau and Honuapo were given quite a lively appearance.

"On Thursday night, May 6th, at about 9:30 o'clock, had a very severe earthquake, which was felt on board the Mauna Loa while lying at Honuapo. Reports from the Volcano give no change in condition of the crater.

"Dr. H. B. Guppy, the English naturalist leaves on Tuesday, May 11th, for a trip to the summit of Mauna Kea. He will try to reach Hamakua by descending on the other side. He will take a guide and two pack animals and has made calculation to be gone about two months.

"About a year ago the Advertiser was kind enough to insert in its columns an account of some recent visits made by 'Kaumana,' the famous rain god.

"Yesterday, another party, conducted by Rev. Mr. Kinney and Professor Dale, and consisting of several ladies and gentlemen, made an expedition, with the object of propitiating the deity and obtaining rain. The god is said to have received them with a strong stare. Somewhat discomfited, the party wended its way homeward, and up to the time of writing there appears to be no prospects of the expedition having been undertaken to any purpose.

"We shrewdly suspect that the visitors made their offerings to the wrong god. The strong stare was probably given by some other than 'Kaumana.'

"The Japanese circus is holding forth at Pahala. The members are being complimented with full houses."

HAWAIIANS LEAD.

Roster of the Honolulu Customs Service.

Deputy Collector of Customs, F. B. McStocker, has recently compiled a list of names of employees of the Customs Department showing the age, nationality and position of each employee, time of service and armed organization to which he is attached. The list is interesting from the fact that it shows the nationality of the men employed. Of the 48 in the service, 26 are Hawaiian born, 14 Americans, 3 Germans, 1 Scotch, 1 Swede, 1 Portuguese, 1 British and 1 Canadian. The term of service varies from one month to 26 years, the latter being W. Chamberlain, First Statistical Clerk. The time of residence in Hawaii ranges from two years to the age of the man who holds the position.

The organization to which the office holders belong are divided. Nine are in the militia, 32 in the Citizen's Guard, 4 in the Sharpshooters' Company, 2 in Mounted Reserve and 1 unattached. Only 7 belonged to the militia who now belong to other bodies and 2 of these retired in 1887 one in 1893, 2 in 1896 and 2 in 1894.

In supplying this data, Mr. McStocker said: "I was tempted to make up the list after the publicity given to the affair by the newspapers. If you will notice the list carefully you will find that a number of the men employed are for the purpose of guarding the shipping and it would be impossible to relieve them to attend to the duties of a military connection. I would enjoy reading Paul Smith's dredger list."

Police Court Notes.

In the Police Court yesterday Yan Lui Lin plead guilty to the charge of having the fa tickets in his possession and was fined $25 and costs.

Kale was sent to the Reform School for the term of one year for truancy.

Kealoha and Makai plead guilty to the charge of truancy. Sentences suspended.

Kaumai plead not guilty to the charge of embezzlement and tried to bring into his story on the witness stand some imaginary person as the party guilty of the deed he had been charged with. Defendant was found guilty and sentenced to six months' imprisonment at hard labor.

The Westfield (Ind.) News prints the following in regard to an old resident of that place: "Frank McAvey, for many years in the employ of the L. N. A. & C. Ry. here, says: 'I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for ten years or longer—am never without it in my family. I consider it the best remedy of the kind manufactured. I take pleasure in recommending it.' It is a specific for all bowel disorders. For sale by all druggists and dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., agents for H. I."

Gentlemen:—Your favor of the 12th inst., together with the 10-foot Perkins Wind Mill and 40-foot tower, all came to hand safely.

I have the wind mill erected and it works like a charm. I have three makes of wind mills on the ranch and the Perkins gives me less trouble than any of the others. There is no doubt of its being a first-class mill. Very truly yours,

LABOR DATA.

An evening contemporary, with a quiet side slap at Commissioner Fitzgerald's efforts to send white labor to this country, suggests that there are already thousands of white laborers here who form an unemployed multitude. It is also pointedly remarked that the conditions, respecting both pay and treatment are of such a disagreeable nature as to cause this unemployed multitude to shun work upon the plantations. Our contemporary makes a pretty bold statement and we are by no means inclined to believe that it can furnish data to prove its case. The unemployed multitude is not very much in evidence unless Japanese students are figured in the lot. We deny the statement on the same authority that it is made—the opinion of three of four men, possibly more.

Before individual opinions go forth and are accepted as fact we would suggest that the Labor Commission give the matter attention and secure positive data. It cannot be denied that the people of this country are very much in the dark regarding the conditions of labor. The number at work on the plantations is known also the number of contract and free laborers, but outside the plantations a blissful ignorance of exact conditions exists that might be classed as criminal ignorance. There has been no study of the situation, no investigation that probed into the details of the labor market outside the plantations. One man says the country is full of unemployed labor and another says it is not. Appearances favor the statement of the latter, but while men continue to deal in generalities they can prove nothing.

The Labor Commission has been appointed and sufficient time has elapsed for the members to have begun their task. We trust that the absence of Mr. Armstrong will not be considered cause for delay. The majority of the Commission is here and there is no reason why the work should not be started promptly.

The assertion that Mr. Fitzgerald will recruit his laboring forces from Castle Garden graduates, not from real, respectable American labor is a bugbear raised with an intent to do injury, before an honest trial has been given. The same statement was made in California when Mr. Fitzgerald began his work there. He was told that white labor had been tried and proved a failure, that the men who came from the ranks of the unemployed were low lived tramps and good-for-nothings generally. Mr. Fitzgerald proved however, that the secret of previous failures was in the selection of the men. By careful selection, by turning away the tramps and sending to the ranches real respectable laborers, he made a success of the movement. Until proved otherwise, Hawaii has reason to expect the same treatment from Mr. Fitzgerald. The worst criminal is supposed to be innocent until he is proved guilty. Certainly the good intentions of the California Commission of Labor should be given the same chance even by his worst enemies. If a spark of fairness exists among the "it-can't-be-done" individuals of this community let them show a little of it.

The Hilo papers are making numerous pointed remarks concerning a prominent Government employe who made himself conspicuous by offering an insult to the President of the Republic.

We are not disposed to condemn a man for his personal opinions. When a man is honest and stands by his friends and his principles he is deserving of the highest respect from enemies as well as friends. But the individual whose opinions vary according to the views of the persons with whom he is for the time being associated, changing with every political wind that blows, that person should be branded as a renegade, not to be trusted in any camp. If the statements of the Hilo papers are true the individual referred to ought to have honor enough to resign his position. If he does not know when to get out he should be kicked out. Better deal with a sworn enemy than a man who seeks to shroud his malicious spirit under the cloak of friendship. This Government can afford to declare honesty of political opinion at a premium. There is no employe in any Government whose place cannot be filled as well if not better by some other person.

As the time approaches for the Annual Convention of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor to be held this year in San Francisco, the local societies ought to take steps to secure a good sized delegation to represent Hawaii. Of all the religious or political gatherings held in the United States there is no convention that attracts more attention or yields a more mighty power for good than this annual assembling of young people. It is the convention of the year, representing as it does the wide awake spirit of the nation, a broadening of religious thought and the activity of young men and young women in spreading through every nook and hamlet the uplifting influence of the broad principles on which the true church of Christ is founded. Hawaii has several branch societies and is in duty bound to be represented by more than two or three stray delegates. It will be a great many years before the convention will be again held in a city of the far West.

The Boston Traveler, one of the old time conservative Republican journals of Massachusetts is now numbered among the papers that have come out strongly against the anarchy of capital. This revolt in the midst of the theoretical capitalistic Bostonians is a significant straw on the sea of American politics. It shows that even in the hot bed of conservatives, the people are beginning to ponder over the outcome of the present policy that assists in piling up immense fortunes to benefit a small minority.

The exploits of the late Captain Philo McGiffin in the recent Chino-Japanese war were highly romantic; but it was not so much by his remarkable heroism on the deck of the burning and bombarded Chen Yuen as by his uniquely valuable report of the naval battle afterward that his memory will longest survive. The sea fight on the Yalu River was the first decisive test of modern warships and tactics, and Captain McGiffin's account of it as an eyewitness at close quarters constitutes document of the new naval warfare now existent. It is a proud honor for America that one of her sons (Captain Mahan) wrote the greatest work on the modern navy, and that another (Captain McGiffin) gave the world its first expert account of that navy in actual warfare.

HEALTH BEFORE WEALTH

The secret of how to preserve your health lies in the use of reliable and effective disinfectants. Most people imagine that unless they can detect the presence of a disinfectant by the sense of smell that the article is of no use. The universal adoption of

PURIFINE

Has proved this to be false. The many uses that PURIFINE can be put to, where most disinfectants are objectionable, has made it a popular and indispensable preparation among the Medical Fraternity.

The season when a disinfectant should be used is now upon us, and delays are generally dangerous.

The old adage that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure is not a myth when you know that you possess a preparation that is reliable and perfect results from its use.

The many uses where PURIFINE would prove beneficial would require too great a space to give in detail, but suffice it to say that its range of usefulness is from the Nursery to the Barnyard.

On animals its cleansing power is wonderful, producing a soft and glossy coat.

It is generally conceded that cleanliness comes next to godliness, but no one will deny that comes before anything else in this world.

We have on display in our show window the various sizes of PURIFINE. It is within reach of all as far as price goes.

Don't Think

That because a wheel sells at $125 it is necessarily the best. There are numerous rat-traps on the market, got up for show purposes, and to catch the unwary. In selecting a wheel, look first at its "record" for stability—that is the all important point, afterwards comes the question of enameling, plating and general "get-up." We have had considerable personal experience in wheeling, and our opinion after careful consideration is, that the "Tribune" is the wheel par excellence.

It is a thoroughly high grade wheel, embodying all the latest "improvements" in the true meaning of the word. We have only a few left from our big shipment ex "Australia" and can supply in Maroon, Black or Royal Blue Enameling.

NOTABLE CRUISE

Morning Star Visits Islands of Marshall Group.

CHRISTIAN INFLUENCE FELT

Natives Have Built Substantial Churches—Are Eager for the Gospel.

Below will be found a continuation of the narrative of the cruise of the missionary packet Morning Star among the islands of the Marshall group. Probably there will be one more article on these interesting islands and then will come another field. Mr. Harry Swinton tells the story well.

It was intended by Dr. Rife, as I have already stated, to leave Limagen at this station, but somehow or other, there was some difficulty about which I could find out nothing. Those concerned seemed to be rather reticent about the affair, for reasons best known to themselves. It was decided to take Limagen further on and to leave him where he was most needed. We brought his canoe alongside, took it apart, and had it hoisted aboard. Got under way that day (3:30 p. m., October 8th), made Arn, the next island, bright and early next day, but as the passage into the lagoon was some distance off, we did not enter it until 11:45 a. m., coming to an anchorage abreast of the station at 1 p. m.

This island is not a very large one. Notwithstanding that fact, however, it seems to be well populated. The canoes were off, as usual. Mats and other articles were disposed of amongst the crew and passengers. We found there, as in the other islands we had visited so far, that the good work was progressing. They have a very nice little church, with quite a large number of members, as in Mille, Majuro or Arno, but, considering the size of the place, they made a very good showing.

We left this island on the 10th of October at 9 a. m., being there but 21 hours. As the next island is close, too, we came to an anchor that same day at 5:05 p. m. Being so late, Dr. Rife and his people did not go ashore to hold a meeting. Mr. Gordon, a trader, came on board to see Dr. Rife about his little daughter, whom he wanted to be taken under his care for tuition and to be brought up in his family. This Dr. Rife agreed to do. Mr. Gordon pays him $5.00 a year for her board, lodging and tuition. This I consider very reasonable.

Here we left Mr. Limagen, the man we brought away from Majuro, and took aboard the old teacher of the place. To judge from what I know of Mr. Limagen, the people there will be the gainers by the exchange.

We found the same progress, morally and religiously, although not so marked as we saw it at Majuro. However, as the teacher we left was the very man who made such progress at Majuro, it is to be hoped he will infuse some of his zeal into the people at the new station, so that when the Star reaches there next year she may expect to find a very much improved community. She is sure to find a marked difference, religiously, among the people.

We left this place at noon on the 12th of October, having spent the Sabbath in Mulwunlap. At 4:40 p. m., we came to an anchor just inside the passage out of the lagoon, it being too dark to see our way out. The length of the lagoon formed another obstacle. Early next morning, weighed anchor for Warchi, one of the new islands to be visited this year. Came up to the entrance just at sunset. Notwithstanding the fact that Captain Garland had not been there before, he passed into the lagoon and came to an anchor in 33 fathoms of water, half a mile or so from the entrance.

Daylight next morning, got under way for the supposed new station, arriving abreast of it in an hour's time.

We did not have as many alongside as at the other places we visited, owing, I suppose, to the fact of this being a new place, and the people somewhat shy. Nevertheless, in the appearance of the inhabitants we could see very plainly the influence exerted by the godly men and women among them, and that was not "labor in vain."

Even here they were dressed in European style. I did not see a single person with old-fashioned or absence of clothes. All seemed to have "caught on" to the comforts of civilized dress.

Dr. Rife went ashore to see the people and to find a place for the pastor.

He found that the people had already built a small church. Miss Palmer, Captain Garland and the school boys and girls also went ashore with Dr. Rife.

On this island there is a pond of fresh water close to the place they had picked out for a mission station. There are other ponds of water on the island besides this one. These are something unusual to find on a coral island. Of course everybody had to go ashore on a tour of inspection to see the wonderful pond, with the exception perhaps of the mate and one or two of the crew. They found the pond, sure enough, but it did not pan out to be what they had expected. It was not so deep as they were led to believe. It was good water, however, not very clear, but rather of a darkish hue. When they returned on board each one was decorated with a vine found growing on the banks of the pond. Here we left the teacher brought from Am. We found even here, notwithstanding they never had a teacher before, people wearing foreign clothes, and to all appearances civilized.

Left there the next day, the 15th, at 7 o'clock, passed out of the lagoon an hour and fifteen minutes later, bound for Migit, an island to the northward of us, some 90 miles distant. On the way there we fell in with stormy weather for the first time in this group. Sighted the island after three days' dead beat to windward, under sail, against a strong westerly current, with heavy swells coming from the northeast and trade winds blowing fresh. Did not get up to it that day.

As soon as we were abreast of the station we lowered the big boat. Dr. Rife, Miss Palmer and some of the school girls and boys got in and were taken ashore. We found here a very neat little church. The people have made nice roads leading to the church from their residences, in fact all about the church, which could be seen from the ship. The morals of the people here are good; they are well on as far as civilization is concerned. Two of the pupils on board, a girl and a boy, are of royal blood.

We found there that the good work was progressing. The island is not a very large one. The natives are the proud possessors of a fine church and the congregation is quite large. Taking it all in all, the majority of the inhabitants belong to the church, or, perhaps, speaking more correctly, are church-goers.

3:45 p. m.—Dr. Rife, Miss Palmer and the school boys and girls returned to the ship. We at once squared away for our next island (Alingalaplapp) some 200 miles to the southwest of us. We sighted the island on the 21st, but did not enter the lagoon, it being too late to do so. Early the next morning we went in, anchoring abreast of the mission station in 20 fathoms of water.

The teacher of this island boarded the Star as we anchored. We found here, as elsewhere, signs of religious progress. The usual quantity of canoes came alongside with their traffic in the shape of curious, which were disposed of among the passengers and crew.

Here we left two married couples, both from the training school, one to relieve the one we took away from Alingalaplapp, and the other not as a teacher but for another reason. I am informed that they were "unprofitable." In other words, they were dull and could not learn, even if they were kept at the training school in Kusale for ten years or more. It was deemed expedient to dismiss them in order to make room for those who could be "profitable."

After taking on board the old teacher of this place and his family, we weighed anchor at 3 p. m. on the 23d. Just before we hove up anchor we lowered the little boat. Mr. Douse, the chief engineer, and Dr. Rife got into her, taking two school boys for a crew, and sailed down the passage. They were to land on the weather side of this passage, and as we passed out take a snap shot at us with their camera, which they happened to have along.

Went out through the passage at 4:20 p. m., October 23d, on our way for Namu. Sighted land at 2 o'clock that night. Daylight found us close to the south end of the island. The mission being at the other end of the island, some twenty-five miles ahead, we steamed and sailed. Before entering the passage we encountered one of those squalls which the Marshall Islands are noted for. This lasted about fifteen minutes. Entered the passage into the lagoon at 10:45. Just before coming to an anchor, at 12 noon, we encountered another squall with much rain. It seemed a wonder to me how the Captain, on the topsail yard, could see his way to the anchorage. He did, however, and that, too, nobly, the squall notwithstanding.

After anchoring a good breeze sprang up from the northeast, accompanied by much rain. Owing to the wind, the lagoon was quite rugged, a nasty little choppy sea was running. This kept the canoes from the shore from coming out to us. Toward evening, however, one did muster up courage enough to come off. This turned out to be one with the teacher of the place in it. Dr. Rife went ashore in the big boat during the afternoon. He did not take Miss Palmer or the crowd with him. It was the first time during the trip that Miss Palmer and her school girls did not go in with the Doctor. Being late in the day and somewhat rough, the Doctor deemed it best for her and the school girls not to go in. The next day being Sunday, they could all go then and hold their meeting with the people just as well.

There are not many people in this place. The island where the teacher lives is situated at the extreme north end of this lagoon, some distance from the other islet of the lagoon, consequently the only congregation they have for the church is composed of those who live there on the island, those on the other islet deeming it too far to go away from their own home to bother themselves to attend church.

They do attend sometimes, but this is not very often.

While there we saw four or five large canoes hauled up on the beach. They had come from the other islet.

They have here a very nice little church, but the members are very scarce. However, it corresponds favorably with the rest, considering its size.

Sunday, Oct. 25th—Dr. Rife, Miss Palmer, all the school girls and boys went ashore to church and to hold a general meeting with the people; returned in the afternoon.

Early next morning (5:30 a. m. the 26th) got under weigh for Kwajalein. Had to run half way down the lagoon to get out, as there were no other passages nearer. After getting out had to steer along the land outside of the lagoon, running the same distance over again. This, of course, made the distance to Kwajalein so much greater.

We took away with us the old teacher of the island, replacing him with a married couple and their children from the training school. The old teacher told me through an interpreter that he had taught the people all he knew, which he himself admitted was not much. He thought it was pretty near time that some one else should take his place, as he wanted to go home to Jaluit, where he belonged. His wish was gratified.

Sighted Kwajalein that afternoon (the 26th). Just as the sun went down we came up to the mouth of the passage into the lagoon. It was a little too late to enter, so the Captain concluded to lay off all night. Kept close to the land and went in next morning at 8:30 o'clock, coming to an anchor abreast of the station at 9:45, one hour and a quarter later.

Found here, as in the other islands we have visited, a great awakening amongst the people, religiously; and here, too, as elsewhere, the people were all eager to get the Gospel. That afternoon Dr. Rife, Miss Palmer and the school girls and boys went ashore to see the people.

Here, while waiting for Dr. Rife, we improved the spare moments by getting through with the work of taking rock ballast aboard.

Left the next day (October 27th) for our next island, Lae, which we made bright and early next day. Got up to the entrance at 7:30 a. m. and found a strong tide coming through the passage. It was low tide, and the entrance being shallow in consequence, the Captain concluded not to try to get in until it was high tide. Entered the passage at 2:30 p. m. and came to an anchor abreast of the station at 3:10, forty minutes later, this in 7 fathoms of water.

Here we found a very snug little lagoon, but very few people. They have here a teacher, as in the other islands, and have built themselves a very nice church. We left here the teacher we took from Namu. This island has the misfortune of having a number of lepers. It is the only island in the group thus afflicted. There are some very bad cases among them. I did not see any, as I did not go ashore. All I know about them is what I heard from Dr. Rife and Mr. S. Rilling, the second officer.

It was while here that Mr. Douse, our chief engineer, was taken suddenly sick, on November 24th. On examination by Dr. Rife it was found he had a hemorrhage inwardly. If we had had no doctor on board Mr. Douse would have been in a very bad predicament. He was a very sick man, and I would say here that great credit is due Dr. Rife for bringing him out of his trouble. Even when we got back to Kusale he was still sick. It was deemed best by all concerned to leave him there in care of Dr. Rife until our return from the Gilbert Islands. We never expected to see him alive on our return to Kusale. Great was our joy to hear on our return that he was still in the land of the living, and doing very well under the circumstances.

While in the lagoon we met with heavy weather, severe squalls accompanied by much rain. It became necessary to let go the second anchor.

When the work was finished here we could not get away; in fact we were weather bound. After being penned up there for four days we weighed anchor with the hope of getting out of the lagoon. Found when near the passage out that seas were breaking clean across.

I forgot to state in last week's article on the trip through the Marshall Islands, that there are two training schools at Kusale, one for the Marshall Islands and one for the Gilbert group. The former is in charge of Dr. Rife and wife, the latter in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Channon.

The girls and boys (amongst whom are to be found some very "old boys and girls") of each group are gathered up by the Morning Star annually as she goes from island to island, and are taken to Kusale to the training school. Every year these girls and boys are taken on board the Star to their homes to see their relations and friends. If a teacher or pastor is wanted on any island, those who are well advanced in their studies are left there by the principal of the school, he picking out the one he sees fit for the position.

Instead of having fifteen passengers, as was stated last week, when we left Kusale, we had thirty school boys and girls, some four or five married couples and the teachers, making fifty odd all told, this, of course, not counting the crew.

The Blohm & Voss Shipbuilding Company, of Hamburg, has lately completed a floating dock, which is the largest of its kind. It has a lifting capacity of 17,500 tons, and will accommodate the largest merchant ships, as well as the heaviest war vessels. It is 190 meters long and 36 meters wide.

CAPT. WHITE STILL.

Co. B. Has a Jolly Good Time at the Drill Shed.

Company B was very much in evidence at the Drill Shed last night. They were all there—members, ex-members, Captain White and many of the N. G. H. officers. It was a delightful time. Every one present enjoyed himself and said: "Long live Company B."

After the regular company drill the men repaired to the Company B room, and there they found that the partition between this and the Company C room had been knocked out with a hammer, and there before them was spread out a most bountiful repast, with Caterer Chapman in command.

The boys were ready for something to eat, and they certainly did justice to what was spread out before them.

When the supper was well along, the speeches began. Major McLeod officiating as toast-master. Major McLeod, in starting the ball rolling, said that the object of the gathering was to bring the members, ex-members and captain of Company B together and to awaken new interest in her welfare.

He then introduced Captain White, who, much to the delight of the boys, said that he would remain with the company. He did not intend to go chasing about after those who did not choose to attend the company drills and meetings, but he would do all in his power to keep the organization in a position worth mentioning.

Other speeches were made, and then came the following program, interspersed with other numbers:

Vieria, McGuire and Jackson, comedians, in an original sketch.

A. H. Jackson—Song, with banjo accompaniment.

Guitar solo—G. Schermerhorn.

Recitation—A. L. Morris.

Banjo and guitar—C. Johnson and J. Gagle.

Song—W. Thompson.

Gramophone—C. Ramsey et al.

The decorations of the room were especially well done. T. P. Cummins and others are guilty.

AMUSEMENT COMPANY.

Informal Meeting Held Yesterday Afternoon.

As a result of an item, which appeared in the Advertiser regarding Nat Goodwin, yesterday morning, about 20 members of the Amusement Company met at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon, and discussed the future plans of the organization.

The consensus of opinion was that an executive committee should be appointed to co-operate with Manager R. L. Scott in the matter of engaging companies to appear here. It was thought that, as the summer season is approaching, the time when most companies take their annual vacations, prompt action was necessary in order to secure satisfactory combinations to play engagements here. Those who were present expressed themselves favorable to accepting Mr. Goodwin's offer to come under a reasonable guarantee.

Letters from Mr. Goodwin's manager, received by Mr. Macfarlane and Mr. Scott, were read and commented upon favorably. In order to effect proper organization, it was decided to hold a stockholders' meeting at the Chamber of Commerce room on Thursday at 10:30 a. m. At this time an executive committee of five will be appointed; stockholders who cannot attend, should hand in their proxies. Whatever is done regarding the Goodwin proposition will be communicated to him by the steamer which is due to leave here on Friday next.

PHYSICAL DRILL.

U. S. Naval Battalion Makes Its Appearance

Nearly 400 officers and men from the United States warships now in port, and commanded by Lieutenant Ingersoll, landed yesterday morning and marched to Makiki baseball grounds for drill. The procession was headed by the flagship's band, which discoursed some popular music.

After passing through various military tactics, the men were put through the physical drill, the commands being given entirely by the bugle, and the various exercises with the guns being to the music of the band. Loud and frequent applause was given during the drill. Quite a number of people occupied the grand stand and carriages.

At the close the battalion marched into town, halting at Kawaiahaeo Church, where they were drilled into scaling the wall. Many of the men were recruits at this branch of the business, and the time made was, consequently, slow—much longer than by the crew of the Philadelphia, when on her last visit here. It is understood that these drills will be held every Tuesday. Those who can spare the time to attend at the ball grounds will be amply repaid.

MILLAIS EXPLAINED IT GENTLY.

Here is a little story of the late president of the Royal Academy, which he himself was fond of telling occasionally, and which is too good to be lost. I give it in Millais' own words, says a writer in the Boston Transcript:

I found myself seated one evening at a rather grand dinner next to a very pretty gushing girl to whom I had not been introduced. She fired into conversation directly she had finished her soup, and as it was May, began with the inevitable question: "I suppose you've been to the academy?" I replied that I had. "And did you notice that Millais? Didn't you think they were awful daubs? I can't imagine how such things ever got hung." She was going on gaily in the same strain, while I sat silent, when suddenly the amused smiles of those round her and the significant hush brought her to a sudden stop. She colored rather painfully, and whispered to me in a frightened voice: "For heaven's sake, what have I done? Have I said anything dreadful? Do tell me." "Not now," I replied; "eat your dinner in peace, and I'll tell you by-and-by." She did so, rather miserably, vainly trying to extract from me at intervals what the matter was, and when dessert came I filled her glass with champagne and told her to gulp it down very quickly when I counted three. She obeyed without protest, and I took the opportunity when she couldn't speak to say: "I am Millais. But let's be friends."

FURNITURE NEWS
April furniture selling exceeds all months in the year with us. Not that the month makes the price; but our orders in December for April delivery saves us a lot, and you get the benefit. We can sell as cheap in July if there are any left-overs but there are not—often.

We are making new records this month—others may be tempted to copy, but where's the use, our prices are the lowest—everybody acknowledges that. Such values are not to be missed.

Enameled Iron
Bedsteads

with full brass trimmings, are among the prettiest novelties introduced in the furniture line. We have a half dozen styles, one prettier than the other. Full width and length, made for wear and comfort. Kings sleep on the $12 style, why not you?

It's only fair to repeat the notice we have had before. We do reupholstering at a trifle above cost of material: this is an odd season and we must keep our factory men busy. It doesn't pay to spend even a little money in making over cheap furniture, but it does pay to reupholster really good frames.

Tennis Tournament Will Begin This Afternoon.

Contestants and the Courts to Be Occupied--Points to Be Kept Clearly in Mind.

Starting with this afternoon, the tennis tournament will be on in all its glory, and sleepless nights will be the portion of a goodly proportion of the contestants. The games on the Pacific, Beretania and Valley Tennis Club courts will be preliminary, but nevertheless, there will be some exciting contests, as many of the players are well matched. Following is a complete list of the players to contest this afternoon, together with the courts upon which they will play:

ON THE P. T. C. COURTS.

3 p. m.--Mumford (Kam.) vs. Adams
(P. T. C.), on makai court.
4 p. m.--D. Ross (B. T. C.) vs. Godfrey (P. T. C.), on mauka court.
4 p. m.--Woods (B. T. C.) vs. Cunha
(P. T. C. Junior), on makai court.
5 p. m.--C. H. Atherton (B. T. C.)
vs. Roth (P. T. C. Junior), on makai court.

ON THE B. T. C. COURTS.

4 p. m.--Wall (B. T. C.) vs. Wight
(P. T. C. Junior), on Walkiki court.
4 p. m.--Arthur Mackintosh (V. T. C.)
vs. H. Dillingham (P. T. C. Junior), on Ewa court.
5 p. m.--Wodehouse (B. T. C.) vs. A.
St. M. Mackintosh (V. T. C.), on Wal-kiki court.

5 p. m.--Shanks (B. T. C.) vs. Norton (P. T. C.), on Ewa court.

ON THE V. T. C. COURTS.

4 p. m.--Hartwell (V. T. C.) vs. Hyde
(P. T. C.).
4 p. m.--Kalaniana'ole (V. T. C.) vs.
G. P. Wilder (P. T. C.).
5 p. m.--Nichols (V. T. C.) vs.
French (Punahou).

5 p. m.--G. Waterhouse vs. Potter.
It is learned that G. C. Potter, of the P. T. C., will not play today, so the sets will go to G. Waterhouse by default.

W. F. Dillingham has drawn out of the doubles on account of illness. He will only play the winner in the contest of singles. E. R. Adams will play with Dickey, instead of Dillingham.
The 1896 rules of the American Association will govern the present tournament.

DISEASED HOGS.

Evidence Brought Out in the Winston Suit.

In the trial of the cause of Winston vs. Hawaiian Pork Packing Company, some facts were brought out which would bring a feeling of nausea to every lover of the American hog. The suit was brought to recover a sum due and in dispute.

Mr. Winston, it appears, was a member of the company, as well as a purchasing agent, and in the latter capacity became a creditor to the company to a considerable sum. The claim was disputed and suit was threatened.
Then Mr. Winston offered to compromise for $150 less than his claim, rather than take the case into court. The pork company declined to make the compromise, and the suit followed.

Some of the testimony brought out a condition of affairs, bordering on the dreadful at the hog slaughter house.
A Chinaman, who claimed an interest in the business, testified that when he saw a hog in a very sick condition he always stuck it, so as to save loss.
And this diseased pork was sold to consumers in Honolulu.

In one of William McCandless' letters to the plaintiff, while the latter was in California, shows that there were sometimes evidences of sickness, even to the manager of the company,
but, apparently, that made no difference; the idea was to realize on the hogs, no matter what the result.

Following are some extracts from the letter, signed by Mr. McCandless:
"Honolulu, November 21, 1896.
"Mr. Winston:
"Dear Sir: * * * The hogs have been wet a good deal of the time and have got the running at the nose but just as soon as see one a little of I run him in and had him killed so that is all that saved me from loss we had them well in hand be fore it began."

If the evidence in this case could be published the demand for pork in Honolulu would visibly decrease.

Warm Weather Needs.

The present periodical heated temperature is such as warrants greater expenditure of ice or more economy by the use of a Gurney cleanable refrigerator.
This make is recommended by the persons who use it even more flattering than the manufacturers. W. W. Dimond, agent for the Gurney cleanable, recently sold a handsomely finished one to the proprietor of a Honolulu restaurant for $180. He has others at $20 that are just as economical of ice and with all the interior fixings. The Gurney cleanable is an improvement on the ordinary Gurney.

Portions of the Pratt premises, Waikiki, are advertised for sale by J. M. Monsarrat, Merchant street.

Nothing to say, except that you get 25 per cent discount on the original cost at the Temple of Fashion.

Feather dusters, 10c. Sturdevant's.

K. Furuya shows silverware and jewelry in his window, which he offers at 30 per cent below actual cost.

There will be a special meeting of Honolulu Royal Arch Chapter, No. 1, this evening. Work: Mark Master degree.

A reward is offered for the return of a valuable diamond pin, lost at the side entrance of the Opera House last night.

House to let on the Pratt premises, Waikiki, furnished or unfurnished. Apply to J. M. Monsarrat, Merchant street.

There will be no Ladies' day at the courts of the Pacific Tennis Club today on account of the tournament which begins this afternoon.

Read the local testimonial to E. O. Hall & Son on the merits of the Perkins windmill, if you have any doubts about the kind of mill you are going to erect this summer.

Tin dippers, 5c. Sturdevant's.

Companies of the First and Second Battalions, N. G. H., are ordered to appear at the Drill Shed on Thursday evening, May 13th, at 7:30 o'clock, for regimental drill and parade.

A practical man advertises for a wife. He asks only the ordinary requisites of a good housewife, and guarantees a good home and liberal allowance of pin money. Young and giddy girls need not apply.

S. F. Chillingworth came down on the Mauna Loa yesterday for the purpose of conferring with attorney Neumann on the recent murder case of the Japanese at Spreckelsville plantation. Mr. Chillingworth represents the defense.

The friends of the Pacific, Beretania and Valley Tennis Clubs are cordially invited to the courts on Union Square, Beretania and Kwakini streets, from 4 to 6 today, to witness the preliminary matches in singles in the annual tennis tournament.

There was a runaway of a dray belonging to the O. L. & B. Association near Brewer's wharf, just as the Philadelphia and Marion men were returning from their drill yesterday forenoon. The horse became detached and kept on going. No damage.

Light-weight office coats are a comfort these hot days. M. McInerney, Merchant and Fort streets, has the largest and finest assortment in town to select from. Men's negligee shirts, with collars and cuffs, are selling for $1.25 a piece; a bargain, if there ever was such a thing.

The delivery wagon of the Pantheon Saloon came to grief on Alakea street, outside the Telephone Exchange, "tearly yesterday afternoon. A big block of ice was placed in the rear, and its weight when combined with a twist given by contact of one of the wheels with the groove of a car track, produced a total collapse.

Bread toasters, 5c. Sturdevant's.

Hi-u, a native lad, was arrested yesterday morning on the charge of larceny. It seems that the lad was a trusted errand boy for George Allen who works in Allen & Robinson's lumber yard. A few days ago George missed a gold ring and three shirt buttons. Suspecting Hi-u, he had him watched and yesterday morning, spotted the ring on his finger.

Next Friday evening at 8 o'clock the Rev. L. Byrde, of Kohala, will deliver a missionary address in the St. Andrew's Sunday school room. Members of the Anglican Church, and others are cordially invited to attend, as all seats will be free. Mr. Byrde is an able speaker and his address will have special reference to Africa and Uganda, a subject in which he is thoroughly versed. Remember the date.

Council of State.

There will be a meeting of the Council of State at 2 p. m. today, for the purpose of considering several applications for pardons. It is understood that the friends of Ryan are making strenuous efforts to have him released.

Negotiations Begin.

Minister of Foreign Affairs Cooper has been officially notified of the presence of Commissioner Akiyama, and the desire of the Japanese Government to investigate the recent refusal of this Government to allow several hundred Japanese to land at Honolulu. So far Minister Cooper has merely been notified regarding the presence of the officials, and the possession of certain papers bearing on the case.

those who keep the hens. Honolulu people are great poultry eaters, but the price is too high for the man of average means to satisfy his appetite. The price is regulated by the supply and demand. DEMAND is ALWAYS STRONG while the supply is generally weak. LOOK AT THE CAUSE.

Young chicks are hatched and within a few days are covered with vermin. DISEASE FOLLOWS AND SUPPLY IS NIL.

Price of broilers, consequently, goes up to $1.00. Too much, you say.

WHERE'S THE REMEDY?

Medicol Eggs.

They are guaranteed to drive away any mites, lice or any other vermin that may be on the fowl or in the nest. The shell of the MEDICOL EGG is filled with POWERFUL DISINFECTANTS and will prevent disease.

No more blind chicks.

One MEDICOL EGG will answer for a nest egg and will bring beneficial results not obtainable in china eggs. One egg will last several months and retain its disinfecting power.

Good for song birds.

A MEDICOL EGG placed in a bird cage will free the bird from parasites in a short time.

Mr. Alan Herbert of Honolulu is using these eggs with great success. They KEEP THE FOWLS HEALTHY.

The cost is trifling—anyone who raises chickens will find ONE MEDICOL EGG better than a dozen spraying preparations and at one tenth the cost.

WHARF AND WAVE.

DIAMOND HEAD SIGNAL STATION, May 11, 10 p. m.—The weather is clear; wind, ligh north.

The Helene will sail for Olowalu, Mahukona, Paauhau and Oolaka at 4 p. m. today.

The Mikahala is on the boards to leave for Naniwili and Hanamaulu at 5 p. m. today.

Purser Bickerton of the Kaala was slightly indisposed yesterday. His place was taken by Henry Crane.

The Norwegian bark Fortuna is on the boards to sail in ballast for the Sound some time during the day.

One hundred tons of fertilizer from the Kalihi Works were sent to Lihue plantation on the W. G. Hall yesterday afternoon.

The bark R. P. Rithet hauled over to the fishmarket wharf yesterday for the purpose of discharging her cargo of general merchandise.

The Ke Au Hou returned from Kau yesterday morning. She brought a cargo of sugar from Lahaina, at which port she stopped on her way down.

The schooner Moi Wahine sailed for Hamakua yesterday. The Kaukeao and Luka will follow her today. Ka Moi left Monday so that tonight all the Mamakua sugar schooners will be out.

The Mauna Loa came in from Maui and Hawaii ports early yesterday afternoon. She brought psual cargo of sugar. The Mauna Loa made a good run of something over 6 hours from Lahaina, including a short stop at Kaunakakai.

The six sailors, who refused duty on the steamer Mokoli, were brought up for trial in the District Court yesterday. One plead guilty to the charge of deserting contract service, and returned to work. The others went to jail. A new crew was obtained for the Mokoli.

The Gay & Robinson launch was discharged from the barkentine Irmgard yesterday, but in doing so she was thrown against the side of the vessel and a hole stove in her. She was taken to the Oceanic wharf, where a piece of copper was put over the hole and the water bailed out. The damage is considerable.

The American four-masted schooner Robert Lewers, Goodman master, arrived in port yesterday morning, 16 days from San Francisco, with the small cargo of 400 tons of general merchandise, for H. Haeckel & Co. Light winds, with calm and pleasant weather was the experience of the Lewers throughout the trip.

A CARD.

TO THE PUBLIC:

Having bought out my former partner and thereby regaining complete control of the HOME BAKERY, I am now in a position to supply my formerly celebrated HOME-MADE BREAD. In equipment the Bakery is second to none in the Hawaiian Islands, and in one important respect vastly superior to any. My Raising Room is situated in a stone basement, in which the Bread is not subject to sudden changes in temperature, which, as all bakers know, is the most essential feature in bread making. The temperature in my bread room does not vary two degrees in any 24 hours.

My HOME-MADE BREAD is made from the celebrated Blue-Steem Wheat, raised in the cold climate of Eastern Washington, and the yeast I import every month per "Australia" fresh from one of the greatest sanitarian yeast factories in the United States.

Added to the large list of good things formerly carried are PARKER HOUSE ROLLS, hot every morning, except Sundays, by 6 a. m.
