ROADS TO STAND BRUNT OF REDUCED REVENUES

Supervisors Pass Budget and Make no Salary Cuts —Supervisor Henning Says County Is Hard Up and Must Curtail—Routine Business.

The principal work of the Board of Supervisors at its session held this week, was the passing of the semi-annual appropriation bill, upon which the county will govern its expenditures for the next six months. The measure, as finally adopted on Thursday afternoon, calls for a total expenditure of $91,722.53; but in order to make this amount, between $15,000 and $16,000 from the special road tax fund, which is ordinarily used for new road construction, has to be added to the maintenance fund. In short it is the road work that will bear the brunt of the shortage from now to January 1st.

The allowances for the various departments will not be materially changed, and there will be no further reduction of salaries.

Supervisor Henning takes exception to the expressed opinion of Auditor Wilcox, as outlined in last week's NEWS, that the revenue for the second half of the year will run close to $100,000. Instead of this, Mr. Henning maintains that about $76,000 is all that can be expected, as he explains in the following letter:

Editor MAUI NEWS:

Dear Sir:—In regard to my statement about our County finances, you in your last week's MAUI NEWS in the headlines said: Auditor says, "Estimates are Wrong" and later on you remarked that Auditor Wilcox expressed the opinion that the supervisors have been stampeded without much cause. Now surely this does not look fair to me, and neither I think, is it fair to our taxpayers and the rest of the supervisors. Mr. Wilcox in his official statement of June 30, gives the following figures:

General Fund Receipts:
Cash bal. from fiscal year 1913. $13,151.54
School Fund Transfer Refund. 9,769.92
Game " " " 148.07
Total $23,069.53
Now this amount is a receipt but not an income of 1914, it is a balance from 1913, part cash and part advanced money repaid when funds did come in, and should not be figured in the expense for 1914, as we must have this cash balance again for the first 4 months of 1915. Our expense for the year must be strictly based on the income of the year otherwise ruin must follow.

Income for the first 6 months:
County Realization $16,437.01
Water Rates 5,449.12
Total $21,886.13
or not even one-half of $50,000.00.
County Realization $21,866.13
Territory Taxes 53,184.26
Total $75,050.39

Expenses have been $84,701.44 or $5,651.05 more than our actual income and this included not all expense of the month of June. It has always been the policy of the County of Maui to keep within the actual income of each period and this ought to be followed this year also and even more yet as there is not much of a chance to get more, but all chances to get less than the estimated amount.

Estimation of income from taxes for the year 1914 are:

From Taxes $109,125.00
County Realization 50,000.00
Total $159,125.00

I do believe that this amount is as high as we can go. In fact I doubt that we do get this much, the income so far surely does not show it. Our total cash on hand in general fund is $19,934.00, and from this the June bills have to be paid yet—say about $12,000.00, so there will be about $8,000.00 to start the next six months, and I don't know if this looks like stampeding or not. It surely don't look very good to me. So far the second payment has always been less than the first, but let us hope that this year it will be the other way.

W. HENNING.

Hana Scout Committee Is Elected

What Dr. Ian McLaren declares to have been the most enthusiastic boy scout meeting yet held on Maui, was the one at Hana last Tuesday night. The court house was crowded to overflowing. A Hana committee was formed composed of—Geo. O. Cooper, chairman; John Chalmers, sec'y-treas.; Father Charles, scout master; Dr. Deas, E. J. Silva, Joe Chalmers, W. P. Haia, W. Wailohoa, J. Olivers, H. E. Palakiko and John Medeiros.

Father Charles was elected a member of the Maui Council. The following associate members were received—Wm. Devereux, L. Y. Aiona, Henry Y. Lun, J. C. Loo, Chung Lung, J. C. Ah Chong, C. O. Jacobs, R. A. Drummond, W. A. Anderson, and Chin Kee.

Three patrols are to be organized in the Hana District, and a fund of $50 was raised to start the work.

Killed Child But Is Cleared by Grandjury

The grandjury, yesterday returned "no true bill" against Yip Chong, who ran over with an automobile, and killed a 6-year old Japanese girl, at Haiku some months ago. A charge of manslaughter had been pending against him.

Angelino Franco was indicted on a charge of having had illicit relations with a girl under fifteen years of age.

Dr. Sheldon Pleases Large Audiences

Large audiences greeted the Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, noted author and lecturer, both at Paia church on last Sunday morning and at the Wailuku Union church in the evening. The sermons listened to were fully up to expectations. Dr. Sheldon is a convincing speaker, of exceptionally pleasing personality. During his stay on Maui he was the guest at the home of D. H. Case, who was formerly a member of his congregation in Topeka, Kansas.

Hana Takes McLaren For Politician

After riding through the crater of Haleakala and around to Hana, Dr. Ian McLaren returned to Wailuku on Wednesday most enthusiastic over his experience. He made the entire journey unaccompanied, and although he was compelled to camp in the crater for nearly a day, on account of fog, he had no serious difficulty. He was particularly impressed with the scenery on the route, and with the sunset from the summit of the mountain.

At Hana Dr. McLaren aroused great enthusiasm over the boy scout movement, and is sure that a strong patrol will be soon in existence in that district. He states that he was somewhat mystified by the tremendous outpouring of the people to hear him until he learned that he had been announced as a campaign speaker for the republican party, and notices to this effect had been posted in Nahiku and other points for miles around.

Dr. McLaren had expected to return home by way of the Ditch Trail, but lack of time compelled him to return from Hana by boat.

Gets Year For Robbing R. R. Depot

Dan Kaimina, a 19-year old Wailuku boy, was sentenced by Judge McKay on Monday to serve 1 year in jail, on his plea of guilty to larceny. The youth entered the Wailuku depot one night last week and stole $11.35 in cash from the ticket drawer. He was later arrested after some clever detective work on the part of the police.

Complaints of Too Much Rain

According to reports from all of the Islands, the present summer is the wettest for many years. All the windward side of East Maui has been getting an almost constant soaking for the past two months or more, and about the same condition has existed on windward sides of Kauai, Oahu and Hawaii. In some of these districts complaint is being heard that field work has been seriously interfered with.

The roads in the Makawao district are in bad shape and automobilists have been having much trouble recently in negotiating them.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE CONSIDERS HALEAKALA

Proposal to Ask For Prisoners to Build Road Referred to Supervisors—Protest Against Leprosarium Plan—Civic Convention About October 1st.

At a well attended meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held on Thursday afternoon, one of the chief matters discussed was that of making Haleakala more accessible. The subject came up through a communication received from the Hawaii Promotion Committee, in which a letter was enclosed from John P. Clum, the representative of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, who recently made the trip to the summit. Mr. Clum considers Haleakala the greatest attraction in Hawaii, and urges the Promotion Committee and the people of Maui to make the place more accessible.

R. A. Wadsworth urged that the County make an effort to have Territorial prisoners put to work building an automobile road to the summit, and on his motion, seconded by W. O. Aiken, the Chamber will ask the supervisors to take the matter up with this end in view.

Mr. Aiken spoke at length on the subject, and at his instance a committee of the chamber, consisting of W. O. Aiken, L. von Tempsky and Harold Rice was named by President F. F. Baldwin to keep back of the project.

A resolution was presented by Mr. Wadsworth, which after some discussion was carried, by which the chamber strongly protests against the proposition to establish in these islands a national leprosarium. Delegate Kalaniano'ole, who was present, was asked for his views on the matter, and strongly recommended that the resolution be sent to congress at this time.

The plans for the entertainment of the delegates to the Civic convention, to meet this fall in Maui, received some discussion, and it was announced that the committee on arrangements would be ready to make a report at the booster dinner to be held on the 23rd inst. It was stated that the date of the convention will probably be fixed for about October 1.

Diphtheria In Japanese School

Another outbreak of diphtheria this week, caused the closing of the large Japanese school at Camp 2, near Spreckelsville, on Wednesday of this week. Two women teachers in the school are the victims, and several children are quarantined as well as contacts. Neither of the patients is very seriously ill.

Until this new focus of infection developed, it was believed that the disease had been about stamped out on the Island, Chief Sanitary Inspector Osmer having released all the previous patients from quarantine several days ago.

Can County Let Its Live Stock?

Whether or not the county supervisors have a legal right to rent out live stock owned by the county, is a question that will be up to the county attorney to answer. The matter came up through the application of H. R. Hitchcock, of Molokai for the use of the county mules in his district at such times as they are not needed on county work. He offered $1.50 per day per head. The members of the board were rather opposed to the proposition from principle, and so passed the buck to their legal adviser.

CONFERENCE BRINGS BIG CROWD CHURCH WORKERS

Outlook Is For Most Successful Session—Singing
Contest to Be Great Feature—Prominent Churchmen Present.

With 425 delegates present, besides quite a large number of others not officially registered in attendance the 92nd annual conference of the Hawaiian Evangelical Association is making Wailuku a lively place this week. The conference opened on Wednesday but many of the delegates were on the ground as early as Monday. The meetings will continue until next Wednesday noon.

The conference gives every indication of being the most successful in the history of the organization, and much benefit as well as pleasure is being gotten by the visitors, together with a lot of hard and earnest work on the part of a large majority.

The delegates are being well taken care of in private homes and in the Armory, Town Hall, and several other places, which have been made into dormitories. The big open air kitchen next to the Kaahumanu church is providing good food for the majority of the visitors.

Great interest centers in the Inter-Island chorus competition which is to take place at the Maui theatre Monday evening. Molokai, Hawaii, Oahu and Maui all have strong aggregations and each is confident of carrying off the banner. A committee of judges has been selected as follows: Rev. C. G. Burnham, Mrs. L. Chisholm Jones and Mr. Harry W. Baldwin.

Preceded by an organ recital beginning at 7 o'clock, a special service will take place at the Wailuku Union church Sunday evening. Dr.

A. S. Baker, of Hawaii, will be the speaker. The program also includes musical numbers of a special nature.

Among the prominent church workers present are: Hawaii; Rev. A. S. Baker, M. D., John F. Cowan, D. D., Mrs. Dale, Kohala; Mrs. F. M. Scott, Kona.

Kauai: W. H. Rice, President of Sunday School Association; Rev. J. M. Lydgate, of Lihue church.

Honolulu: W. B. Oleson, Secretary of Hawaiian Board; T. Richards, Treasurer of Hawaiian Board; Rev. John P. Erdman, Superintendent of Hawaiian work; Rev. O. H. Gulick, and wife retired missionary for Japanese and Hawaiian; Rev. John W. Wadman, of Anti Saloon League; Mr. A. A. Ebersole, Mr. Samuel Robley, Miss Emily Warriner of the Friend; Miss Julia Gulick, of Japanese Committee of Hawaiian Board.

Maui: Rev. A. C. Bowdish, Paia Union Church; Mrs. H. P. Baldwin, Delegate; Mrs. A. C. Bowdish, Delegate from Sunday School; Rev. Howard Harris, Kahului Union Church; Rev. C. G. Burham, Lahaina; Agent, Miss Charlotte L. Turner, Wailuku Union Church Delegate.

Hawaiian Delegates: Rev. A. Akana, H. K. Poepoe, W. K. Poi and Mr. S. K. Kamaopili, of Oahu; Rev. Stephen Desha, C. M. Kamakawiwoale, and J. L. Kopa, of Hawaii; Rev. W. Kamau, S. K. Kaulili and J. A. Akina, of Kauai; Rev. Louis Mitchell D. W. K. White, and S. P. Kaailua, of Maui.

Students To Come Today For Series

While the All-Maui team expects to come out right on the score book in its series with the All-Students, none of the local fans expect any walk-over. The school boys played two games on Kauai on the 4th and scarcely left a grease spot. The first game they took by a score of 20 to 2. These boys have been playing some ball, recently, and they are sure to be able to make it interesting for the best that Maui can put forth.

The college boys are true sports, as is evidenced by the fact that they are coming over here purely "on spec" there being no guaranty asked for. If there is anything left over from the gate receipts after paying expenses the visitors will take it, but they are taking all the chances. The team will arrive this morning by the Claudine, and the first game will be played at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The second game will be played tomorrow, beginning at 3 p. m., and the last game of the series will be at 4 o'clock on Monday afternoon.

With the exception of last Sunday's game, Maui did not make much of a showing against the crack All-Service team which came over last Saturday. The first game, played on Saturday afternoon at Kahului was won by the soldiers on a score of 10 to 2. Meyer pitched for the locals. Sunday's game was an exhibition of first class ball up to the 6th inning, up to which point the visitors had failed to score, and Maui had sent one man around. Then for some obscure reason, Bal, who had been pitching an excellent game, was taken out and Meyer substituted. Then things began to happen, and 5 runs were made in the one inning, and another was made in the 8th. The locals managed to brace up and put two men over in the last frame, but it was too late to save the day, the score standing 6 to 3. A series of costly errors lost the game for Maui. Monday's game was pretty ragged for both sides, and was won by the soldiers 13 to 7.

Maui did some good playing, especially in Sunday's game, and some very pretty team work and individual plays were made.

The soldiers were greatly pleased with their visit, and certainly the Maui boys proved themselves good sports in the entertainment they gave. The visitors especially appreciated the luau given for them at Ben Lyons' home on Monday night before they left for Lahaina on their way home.

Planting Well Advanced

Planting for the 1916 crop on the Puunene plantation is farther advanced this year than ever before, due to the early finishing of grinding of this season's crop, and the exceptionally abundant water supply. The outlook for next year's crop is very promising.

That Booster Dinner—July 23!

WHY McCARN HAS FAILED.

JEFF McCARN, in a series of letters to the Newspapers in his home town of Nashville, is giving some extremely ex parte information concerning the various troubles in which he has managed to become involved during his short residence in Hawaii. He virtually tells the Tennessee people that everybody in the Islands is trying to get his goat. Attorney General Stainback, a man from his own state, a life-long Democrat, and a resident of Hawaii for but two years, he tells the Nashville Banner, "is somewhat under the influence of his political enemies." He refers to "unfriendly" newspapers, and says—"The truth is I have been assaulted from every angle—not only from the petty criminal, but by the large interests that feel that they would rest better if I were not in this Territory."

The truth of the matter is that the district attorney has no one but himself to blame for his various pilikias. No federal official ever took up his duties in this Territory under more auspicious circumstances. His expressed determination to fight unrighteousness in various forms, and his known attitude on the liquor question, won him the strongest support that could have been given any man. Every newspaper endorsed his program, and continued to hold up his hands, long after he had won the cordial dislike of every reporter whose duty it was to visit his office. He offended the members of the bar, who through real good will attempted to help him to understand local conditions, and chose as confidants and advisors a number of lawyers who have little else than their democracy to recommend them. He needlessly aroused the resentment of the Hawaiians and made himself ridiculous, because he would not be told and would not take time to learn for himself. His lack of self control in the court room, his intemperate outbursts, and his apparent desire for physical combat, did not help him in the good opinion of the better element of the community. And when he finally did become involved in a fistic encounter, his attempt to use a revolver (which he had in his pocket) was but the culmination of his other indiscretions.

Mr. McCarn cannot blame the people of Hawaii for his failure. Nor can he truthfully claim that political influence has had any part in his undoing. The backing which he had in the beginning was uninfluenced by faction or creed, and represents the strongest force in Hawaii today the force that stands for decency and righteousness. Mr. McCarn has failed. His successor will succeed on Mr. McCarn's own platform—provided he is man enough for the job.

THE RIVAL CANDIDATES.

THINGS political are beginning to warm up on Maui. Kuhio and Rice, rival candidates for the Republican nomination as delegate, arrived simultaneously about the middle of the week and have been busy ever since. The line of operations of each seems to be largely the same, viz. the personal contact plan, and neither has been idle since they arrived. George R. Carter, Bull Moose candidate, is expected over next week, and McCandless, of democratic fame may be looked for shortly. There is every reason to believe that Rice will get very strong support from Maui republicans against Kuhio, who has done little in the past four years to merit the confidence of the people of the Territory. He formerly was an effective representative, but in late years the Islands have virtually been without an official representative in the National Capital. The commercial bodies at the present time find it necessary to appoint a private representative to do as well as possible in an unofficial way, what Kuhio should do, and in his official capacity, might be expected to do more effectively. Kuhio pleads illness, but if illness has made him the inefficient figure-head he has been for the past four years, it is high time that he was permanently retired.

DAVID LLOYD CONKLING, territorial treasurer, has announced his candidacy for the treasurership of the City and County of Honolulu. Mr. Conkling was asked for his resignation because of political exigencies, and it will take effect as soon as he has completed the floating of the million and a half dollar bond issue, on which mission he is now on his way East. He will not be able to make a personal campaign, but his friends believe that he can secure the nomination without trouble on his splendid record alone.

THE sudden drop of sugar from $66.50 to $62.50, this week, is thus far unexplained. The only consolation is that the bulk of the crop has already been marketed, and prices may revive before the new season opens.

Two per cent of the voters in Mexico went to the polls on Sunday. The Maui percentage on the bond issue was better than that, anyhow.—Advertiser.

Clarence Cooke a Candidate

Clarence H. Cooke, of Honolulu, has announced his candidacy for re-election to the house of representatives. He is president of the Bank of Hawaii, and of the Wailuku, Paia, and Lahaina banks, and is one of the staunch republicans of Oahu.

Ad Club Coming

A large majority of the members of the Honolulu Ad Club now are planning a trip to Maui in connection with the meeting of the Civic convention. President Wallace R. Farrington has appointed a committee to take charge of the necessary arrangements.—Star-Bulletin.

Costs Least Per Mile

We do not manufacture Red Crown to sell at any set price. We make the best gasoline that our experience and resources enable us to produce. The quality of the gasoline determines its price—not the price it's quality.

RED CROWN THE GASOLINE OF QUALITY

That is why Red Crown may cost you a little more per gallon—also why it costs you less per mile. Red Crown is a product of the best California crude—distilled and redistilled—a product of straight refining, not a mixture. It's absolute uniformity avoids readjustments of the carburetor and assures full power and mileage always. Make it a practice to ask for Red Crown.

C.E. Copeland Is Defender Of Islands

An editorial writer in the San Jose (Cal.) Mercury Herald recently loaded his pipe with a fresh pill, but made a mistake in the box. The result was that his dream of Hawaii was spoiled by the presence of frightful hurricanes, horrible reptile life, and greasy, odorous, naked savages. The writer drew this unpleasant picture with the apparent purpose of offsetting some of the complimentary things a returning San Jose traveler had said regarding these Islands.

But a champion for Hawaii quickly appeared in the person of C. E. Copeland, erstwhile supervising principal of the public schools on a portion of Maui, but who is now a California resident. His defense, as it appeared, follows:

Editor Mercury Herald: As a recent settler in the Santa Clara valley and a prospective resident here, I was much interested in your editorial eulogy of May 30 upon our local climate and scenery. I am sure that it would be difficult to overpraise the manifold advantages and attractions of this section of the Golden State.

On the other hand, as a resident for many years of the Hawaiian Islands, and from a thorough acquaintance with conditions there, I fear that the mis-statements of fact in your editorial would tend to discourage tourists and homeseekers from visiting Hawaii. In justice to the interests of a beautiful, thriving and healthful portion of our country, I would ask that you give space to a brief statement of facts regarding the features of island life upon which your editorial touched.

The main points on which you seem to have formed totally erroneous conceptions relate to the prevalence of hurricanes in the islands; to the infestation of the islands by snakes; to the supposedly savage characteristics of the natives, and to the implied absence of law, order, civilization and morality in the islands outside of Honolulu. Your characterization may be true of Samoa, Fiji or the Philippines today, but is in no wise true of Hawaii.

As a matter of fact, the Hawaiian islands occupy an area in which no hurricane or other destructive wind has even been known. The northeast trade wind, cooling and beneficent, and the rainy Kona or south wind, fan and water the islands, but never bring destruction.

No snakes of any kind have ever existed in Hawaii, and so careful are the authorities that none shall be brought in that traveling shows and menageries are forbidden to bring even caged reptiles ashore. Picnickers and campers in Hawaii never hear the hiss or rattle of any deadly snake, and the verdure-clad mountains are as free from danger of snake bite as the parlor of your home in San Jose.

As to "the implacable insect enemies," the only one which amounts to a pest is the mosquito, and it is neither more numerous nor more ferocious than are California mosquitoes at certain seasons. Nor do all the insects of Hawaii combined constitute such a menace to human health and comfort as do the flies of the Santa Clara valley in the summer time.

So far from being "numerous, well-fleshed and well-oiled," and "known by presence, though to sight unseen," the native Hawaiians are relatively few and rapidly diminishing in number. The bulk of the population of Hawaii is non-Hawaiian. It is very doubtful whether the average Hawaiian carries more avoirdupois than the average Caucasian, and since the practice of oiling the body is unknown to Hawaiians, except possibly among a few fishermen, those natives whose presence is "known though unseen" probably manifest their proximity by their tuneful music rather than by the odoriferous qualities implied by your editorial.

Civilization was planted in Hawaii by missionaries from New England. For nearly a century the Hawaiians have lived under laws modeled upon the famous "Blue Laws" of Connecticut, and it is doubtful whether either in clothing or in conduct the Hawaiians are less decorous than the people of other civilized countries. The olden heathen songs, dances and clothing are preserved in Honolulu dance houses and other places of surreptitious amusement for the delectation of the tourist only. It would be difficult to imagine a more quiet, orderly, commonplace manner of living than that of the Hawaiians of the present. The "island life novel and full of incident" which you mention lies along the cocktail route, and is especially staged for the benefit of the curious and credulous newcomer.

So well are the islands policed that either in the city or out of it the tourist who attempted "to strike into forbidden paths of nature's choosing" would very quickly find himself in the calaboose.

I hope I have made it plain that the visitor to Hawaii may enjoy its tropical climate and vegetation, its rugged scenery and incomparable sea bathing without fear of hurricanes, snakes or savages, and that while there he will reside in a community as orderly, law-abiding and safe as is to be found anywhere.

Very truly yours,
C. E. COPELAND,
San Jose.

Low Price of Rubber Prevents Tapping in Nahiku

Guy H. Buttolph, who returned to Honolulu last week after making an inspection of the Nahiku rubber district, reported that the plantations are in good condition, but that owing to the low price of rubber at present, the companies are not tapping. Should the price of plantation rubber advance to 65 or 70 cents per pound, tapping will be resumed. The 200 acres of roselle fruit, planted this year as an intercrop with the rubber, gives promise of yielding as heavily as last year, in which case the Nahiku Rubber Company will make a fair profit independently of the main product.

Doctors on Vacation

Dr. William Osmers, government physician, was granted a leave of absence of a month or more by the Board of Supervisors this week. Dr. Osmers expects to be absent during August and possibly a part of September. His place will be filled by Dr. A. C. Rothrock, of the Queen's hospital, who is at present substituting for Dr. Sawyer, of Puunene, who is taking a vacation.

JUDGE KINGSBURY FAILS TO PRESS MURPHY CASE

In opening the term of court in Lahaina yesterday, Judge Kingsbury delivered a charge to the grand jury that in a number of respects was unusual. It was listened to with much interest by not only the jurymen, but also by the attorneys and others present at the time.

The court laid particular stress upon the independence of grand juries, and warned them against delegating their powers to the court officers or in being influenced by the county attorney or other person whom they might call upon to advise them.

As was expected, Judge Kingsbury touched upon the matter of his recent difficulties with Attorney Eugene Murphy, who is at present in Washington on the avowed mission of securing the impeachment of the judge. Before Murphy left, it will be remembered that Judge Kingsbury notified the attorney from the bench of his intention to ask the grand jury to find an indictment against him on charge of perjury in connection with affidavits made by him in the supreme court, some weeks ago. In his charge to the grand jury, however, the judge stated that he would not of his own initiative bring the matter up at this time, owing to the fact that Murphy is not in a position to present his side of the matter.

Judge Kingsbury also took occasion to indicate that he expects soon to be replaced upon the local bench, and to express a deep aloha for Maui and Maui's people.

Judge Kingsbury said in part. Gentlemen:

As you are all aware, the Court has the highest opinion and the greatest respect for our jury system, taken as a whole.

No one can direct you; no one can review your actions,—they are absolute and final, and from them there is no appeal.

Grand Jurors are not so much subject to criticism as are trial juries, and the reason is that they are not so apt to be led astray by learned and skillful attorneys, experienced in legal proceedings and who have in many cases a stronger desire to win the case than they have to assist in the establishment of justice. Such men, under the tactics which are now allowed in jury trials, very frequently mislead trial jurors. However, there are some things that the grand jurors should guard against. In certain states, it was found that the grand jurors practically abdicated all their powers, their judgment and their perceptions, in the performance of their duties, and became tools for prosecuting attorneys, who, under certain restrictions, were allowed—with the consent of the jury—to be in the jury-room and to practically take charge of the proceedings there, and, too, effectually lead and guide the jurors.

Use the prosecuting attorney in the discharge of your independent, judicial functions, but don't allow him to use you. The responsibility is upon you, and the power is in you; and if you make a mistake, he might be the first one to say: "Oh, it was the Grand Jury,—it was not I who did it."

I expect you to discharge those responsibilities as honest, candid, fearless, unbiased men, who have all power, consequently all duty, relative to the matter.

You may get the idea from this charge that it is the opinion of the court that the present danger with our Grand Jury system is the case with which Grand Jurors fall into the hands and under the control of prosecuting attorneys, and, in a lazy way, leave him to determine the matters which the law places in their hands. To get that idea from this charge you will get my opinion. The liberty fought for and achieved by our forefathers, both in America and in Europe needs the independence of the Grand Jury. The liberty they sought to establish is perfected and preserved by our jury system.

I can congratulate you on the probability of a short session for your present term of service.

As you know, I notified a certain man that I would bring him before the Grand Jury on a charge of perjury and I said to him he would have a chance to himself testify and to have witnesses testify for him in order that he be not punished by an indictment before he had a chance to be heard. He is not in this Territory; and, yet, no advantage shall be taken of his absence. For this reason, and for two other good and sufficient reasons, I will delay action on my own initiative. The proofs will keep and are sufficiently well known.

I expect that when you finish the few matters that will be brought to your attention and also such matters as you may wish to bring to the attention of each other that I will excuse you but not discharge you. You may be either re-called or a special session of the Court may be called.

I can not properly sit as Judge in a case where the Court would be subject to the suspicion of retaliation; nor do I want to force the County Attorney to act in a case against his desire, or subject him to blame for not acting.

Soon the way will be cleared for the heavy wheels of Justice.

I do not instruct you what to do or what not to do regarding that matter or any matter, but I simply explain some of my reasons for my delay. No one, not even the Court, can instruct you whom to indict or whom not to indict, or what to examine into or what not to examine into. You are free and supreme as to every function pertaining to your present service.

While I have been on this Bench, the County has, on the whole, been blessed with very efficient, honest, capable Sheriffs; and the men he has appointed his aids have, and deserve to have, the fullest confidence of this Court, and, no doubt, of the people of Maui. Good men, good officers, honest, active and efficient.

I have seen no signs of their using the powers of office to advance their own private plans. If they are feared, it is by the wicked who always fear good officers.

The Sheriff is an officer of this Court, to carry out the orders of the Court. He is not the head of a department but is one of the hands of the Court.

The County Attorney is also to act as an officer of the Court. There is no such thing as the "County Attorney's Department." The County Attorney is an officer of this Court, not the head of any governmental department.

He is specially charged with acting as attorney for the Territory in criminal matters. His duties are sacred, and his powers are sufficient to enable him to act as attorney for the public. He does not act in any case because he wants to; nor does he refuse to act because he wants not to act. Stern duty must rule him and he must have no wants at all except the desire that the people be blessed by justice being done.

Acting up to these stern requirements of law and of morals he is an officer to be highly respected. Thus, he can command public esteem, while a sense of propriety will not allow him to work for and aim at public approval.

When you make your final report, he will not interfere to aid you, and have in it a section praising him. Decency will not be lost sight of by his assisting you to elevate himself. You need not try to praise or to blame anyone. Be satisfied when you have courteously listened, carefully weighed and justly decided.

Your consciences belong to you, and the responsibilities are upon you; remembering this, the danger that threatens the efficient service of a Grand Jury is passed.

For five and a half years I have had the honor of being your Judge. I look back with great satisfaction upon my life and work among you. This County embraces the moresublime and beautiful islands of Hawaii, whose emerald shores are encircled as jewels set in the amber locks of Earth's greatest ocean.

I must look forward to the not distant time when I leave this Bench. I have endeavored to do good to the people of Maui County. I can see mistakes, but I also see much good accomplished, and this has been secured by your efficient

House Burns May Be Work Of Fire Bug

A fire of unknown origin totally destroyed the beach home of Stanley Richardson, located about two miles east of lower Paia, about 7 o'clock last Sunday morning. Mr. Richardson was at the time in Honolulu with his family, and the place had been unoccupied for some days. There is a suspicion that the blaze may have been of incendiary origin, although Sheriff Crowell inclines to the opinion that some unauthorized person or persons had entered the place and accidentally set it on fire while cooking. Including the furniture, Mr. Richardson's loss amounts to several thousand dollars.

Election Returns Still Unavailable

The official returns of the result of the vote on the plebiscite election, have not yet been received from the 2nd precinct, Honolulu, and the 14th precinct, Keane, according to County Clerk Kaae, in a statement to the Board of Supervisors on Wednesday. Instead of sending the returns in proper form, it seems that the election officials in the two precincts mentioned, carefully sealed them up with the ballots, and now they cannot be opened except by the supreme court. The board expressed its strong disapproval of this way of handling elections, and referred the matter to the County attorney for an opinion as to what course should be pursued, and whether any action may be taken against the careless election inspectors. It was also stated that there had been irregularities in handling the election at Hamakua, and at a number of other polling places.

Why Supervisors Don't Want Aramintha

In a formal communication presented to the Board of Supervisors at its meeting this week, the Loan Fund Commission notified the county fathers that it was thereby turning over to them, one camp kitchen outfit, now at Olinda, and also one mule named Aramintha.

That Aramintha has been a very dead mule for several months, was not mentioned in the letter. Chairman Kalama, who is also a member of the Loan Fund Commission, made this rather startling announcement after the letter had been read. Moreover he declared that Aramintha had been a dead mule for at least a month prior to date of the communication. The Board has decided to accept the responsibility of the kitchen outfit, but balks at taking over Aramintha.

Such advance as has been made through the cooperation of the County Officers and the people of the County with the Court. Public opinion has advanced until all the members of our communities unite in a desire to see the law enforced and justice done. Public opinion is against dishonesty, trickery and unnecessary delays. Today we love our country, our Territory and our County. We love and believe in our Constitution, our laws and our institutions. We believe that in our Islands are being worked out great problems, the solution of which will be for the benefit of all mankind.

My heart will always turn to you, filled with loving affection and rejoicing in your assured success and deserved blessedness.

Bogus Check Passer Gets Nine Months

Fred L. Smith, the young man who passed a worthless check on the Wailuku bank two weeks ago, and who was later arrested by Sheriff Crowell, at Mahukona, Hawaii, entered a plea of guilty in the district court on Monday, and was sentenced to 9 months in jail. The man claimed that he was hard up, but expected to be able to make good the amount before the check was presented to the Hilo bank.

Paia's Crop Near Record

The Paia plantation's crop this year was the second largest it has ever harvested. The total output was 33,660 tons, an increase of 2660 tons over the estimate. The record crop for Paia was that of 1912 when 34,612 tons were marketed.

From present indications the 1915 crop should be at least equal to this year's crop. The abundance of rain, both on the plantation and in the mountains has put the growing cane in fine condition, and unless some unforeseen contingency arises the results year should be very satisfactory.

Champion Japanese Wrestler to Visit Maui

Local Japanese are making elaborate plans for a big athletic meet to be held in the Kahului race park, beginning probably the latter part of next week. The chief attraction will be the visit of their champion wrestler of Japan, Tachiyama, who arrived in Honolulu from the Orient on Tuesday. With this famous athlete are some 30 other experts in various branches of Japanese sport, who will come to Maui also.

Some indication of the importance of Tachiyama's visit may be gained from the fact that the local Japanese are prepared to guarantee $3500 and a share of the surplus receipts to the visitors. A large arena is to be built in the grounds, and seats will cost from $1 to $3.

Who Paid the Bills?

Editor MAUI NEWS: Dear Sir,—So the Plebiscite is dead. But they have made up their minds to change the law, at the next legislature, so they could win anyhow.

Does it not seem strange, that the Governor and Secretary, should go stumping for something that does not concern them? Who paid all their expenses, while traveling around Maui? Who paid the expenses of the Maui Supervisors, when they went around Maui stumping for the loan? Who paid the expenses of the other people, who went around stumping? Or did they all pay their own expenses because they loved the dear kind people of Maui so much? (Before the election, but not now)

Yours for Maui,
K. K.

SHE WAS NOT AFRAID.

There Was No Reason Why She Should Dread the Indians.

Among the frontiersmen who closely followed the footsteps of Lewis and Clark across the Rockies was Colonel Joseph L. Meek. He settled in Oregon, and, like all the earliest pioneers, he was obliged to choose his helpmate, so the Portland Oregonian says, from among the dusky maidens of the forest.

During the early settlement of the territory the Cayuse Indians were quite menacing in their demonstrations of hostility to the little band of pioneers, so much so indeed that a meeting of the settlers assembled to take counsel about the safety of the community resolved to send two of their number across the mountains to implore aid from the government at Washington.

Colonel Meek and Squire Eberts were appointed, and they set out across the mountains and the deserts and in due time reached their destination. While there the colonel was invited to a levee given by some one of the political notables. He was introduced to a lady who naturally enough made inquiries about Oregon, the hostile Indians, and so forth.

"But your wife," began the lady in a full throated thrilling narrative, "or haven't you a wife?"

"Yes," replied the colonel, "I have a wife."

"Why," said the lady, "I should think she would be so afraid of the Indians."

"My wife afraid of Indians!" exclaimed the colonel. "Why, madam, she is herself a squaw!"

HEROIC MUSICIANS.

Conductors For Whom the Orchestra Is Merely a Pedestal.

Dr. Max Nordau has an amusing article in the Paris Revue on the evolution of the orchestra conductor. Formerly the conductor was a modest man who took infinite pains with the rehearsals and effaced himself on the great day of the public concert.

Nowadays he is a hero. You only see him. The orchestra is merely a pedestal for him. In the French army of former days there was a personage who could be compared with him—the drum major. He has the same prestige without the aid of the drum major's stature, lace and stick. He must be a finished actor. He must play the part of the lion which shoots the water into the fountain.

There was Gustav Mahler, the most astounding artist in dumb show. All the muscles of his clean shaved face were contracted into the furious mask of a samurai when he let loose the heroic sonorities and relaxed into ecstasy during the pianissimo.

Arthur Nikisch also "reflects" tragedies and idylls, but grace suits him best. In the pastoral symphony (Beethoven) he is the rocco shepherd tickling with the outstretched finger of his left hand the fair neck of a pretty shepherdess.

Once Considered Waste, It Is Now a Very Valuable Product.

The sawdust man in New York is a very important business man. The wholesale sawdust dealer advertises all kinds of sawdust and requests that you will telephone your needs so that there may be an early delivery.

It used to be that any one who wanted sawdust went to the sawmill and asked for as much as he wanted. There was only one kind of sawdust in the good old days and that was an unimportant product, which anybody could have for the asking. Now the sawdust wholesaler will tell you that sawdust is a very valuable product and that the sawdust business is offering greater opportunities.

There are about sixty kinds of sawdust on the market, so says the sawdust expert, and all of them have their stated uses in the realm of trade.

All the way from the preparation of food to the polishing of precious metal ranges the usefulness of sawdust. The hardwood dusts are used for polishing in some jewelers' shops and cheaper sawdusts are used for polishing less valuable metal work. In packing and making cushions, for the covering of floors and in the fur business, sawdust is useful.—New York Herald.
