DEED OF HORROR DONE AT MIDNIGHT

Cremation Clandestinely Performed on Infant Remains.

HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC CO.'S FURNACE THE CREMATORY

Two Firemen on Duty are Taken by Surprise With Visit of Stranger Having a Parcel to Burn.

"He had a condemned look." So a fireman at the Hawaiian Electric Company's works said of a mysterious visitor to the furnaces on Thursday night. It was between eleven and twelve o'clock and, though the personality of the visitor remains a mystery, the nature of his errand was discovered immediately after he turned his back and glided into the night as abruptly as he had entered the place.

The stranger came to cremate the body of an infant in the furnace and he succeeded, his only failure being in concealing the nature of his errand. No doubt the fire tenders would have detected the perpetrator of the ghastly deed if they had not been taken by surprise. It was a quick afterthought of one of them which caused them to act barely in time to discover what the visitor had done.

Last night a Bulletin reporter who had heard of the occurrence, went to the fire room of the electric works to make inquiries of the firemen. He found Messrs. Meldon and Sennet on duty, the same men who had innocently aided the stranger in his act. Calling aside the one whose name he had heard, along with that of another incorrectly named to him, the reporter asked him for particulars of the gruesome event. The fireman at first refused to say anything about it, because they had given their word to High Sheriff Brown to keep the matter quiet for the present. When the reporter told him that he already knew the facts in general and would certainly report what he knew in the next day's paper, but desired to have the account correct in every particular, the fireman exclaimed:

Immediately on relieving himself of his burden, the stranger disappeared the way he came.

Just then the published story of the finding of the body of an infant buried in the Kakaako sands flashed into Sennet's memory and he said to his mate: "I think we ought to know what is in that parcel. We had better pull it out."

Suited the action to the word they opened the furnace door and began working with a fire hoe to rescue the object from the flames. Although the fire was a little green at the time, however, the manipulation with the tool caused the wrappings of the package to quickly burn away. They consisted of towels underneath the oil-cloth. As the textures disappeared in flame and smoke the witnesses were horrified to recognize the body, head and hands of a well-developed baby. It was impossible to rescue the remains for evidence, the cremation proceeded so quickly.

Messrs. Meldon and Sennet lost no time in notifying High Sheriff Brown, who enjoined secrecy upon them as related. For their benefit, it may be stated that the Bulletin did not receive its information from either of them, nor did its informant.

HAMAKUA LOOKS WELL

YOUNG CANE UNINJURED FROM THE LATE DROUGHT

C. B. Fisher of Kukuihaele in Town --On the Way Visited Olia Plantation and Mill.

C. B. Fisher of Kukuihaele is in town on business. He said to a Bulletin reporter that Hamakua district was all right now since receiving twelve inches of rain. The young cane never seemed to be affected by the drought and is now looking in fine condition. All of the loss from the long dry spell will be in the old cane.

On his journey to Honolulu Mr. Fisher visited Olia plantation and formed a high opinion of its prospects. Mr. McStocker has done good work, exhibiting among other executive qualities the knack of getting just the right kind of men to handle different departments. Mr. Fisher says the only possible question, in his opinion, is whether the soil will hold out long in fertility. As for the mill, he does not think its equal has hitherto been erected in the Hawaiian Islands.

Gamblers Worry.

San Francisco, Dec. 4.—The reinsurance gamblers are now wondering whether or not they will get their money on the Roanoke. The vessel was bound here, but put into Honolulu in distress, and the chances are she will be condemned there. In that event she will be classed as lost, and not having made her port of destination, the gamblers will lose.

Slavery Does Exist SAYS GRAND JURY But Can't Be Proved

After a prolonged session of over two months, the United States Grand Jury made its report to Judge Esteo this morning and was discharged. The report, which was read by Clerk Mallog, was received by Judge Esteo, who, after hearing it read, complimented the jury on its work. The report, in full, is as follows:

To the Honorable M. M. Esteo, Judge of the United States District Court, Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii: The United States Grand Jury for the October term, 1901, were called and sworn and charged by the Court on October 15th at 10 a. m.

Mr. J. B. Atherton, being appointed foreman, promptly called the jury to order, who from time to time as cases were ready, aimed to carry out the able and precise charge of Your Honor. After several days' session Foreman Atherton was excused, as he was leaving for the Mainland, and Mr. C. H. Brown was appointed by Your Honor in his stead, serving in this capacity to the end of the term.

After the thorough examination of the many witnesses in the large number of cases brought before us, and after very careful deliberation on the same, we have found the following true bills, to wit:

Charles McDonald, assault and battery on high seas; R. H. Ramat, assault and battery on high seas; W. M. Campbell, violation of eight-hour labor law; Ota Makiuchi, violation of eight-hour labor law; Wilson Mahika, forgery; Frank Ratahi, violation of Edmunds Act; Julia Aparicio, violation of Edmunds Act; Henry Allinas, violation of Edmunds Act; Anita State, violation of Edmunds Act; Akai, violation of Edmunds Act; Asa, violation of Edmunds Act; Kunda, violation of Edmunds Act; Haro, violation of Edmunds Act; Apoc, violation of Edmunds Act; Hatchel, violation of Edmunds Act; Apon, violation of Edmunds Act; Saki, violation of Edmunds Act; Rodriguez, violation of Edmunds Act; Miralida, violation of Edmunds Act.

In the other cases brought before us we found no bills on account of the lack of evidence which would warrant indictment. With regard to lack of evidence, we refer especially to:

Traffic in Slaves.
Regarding the traffic in Chinese

Crimes on High Seas.
In the matter of the several sailor cases brought before us, your jury has been most careful in the examination of witnesses and as a rule found that the testimony of most of the sailors was anything but reliable. In several cases the testimony so flimsy that it could not be believed for a moment. We are of opinion that the United States Commissioner should use more diligence and discretion in the examination of such cases of cruelty to the high seas as would warrant no such injury being done in future as was done in the cases of Captain Baker of the American ship Emily Reed and Captain Wallace of the American bark Sea King, who were acquitted by this jury on the same evidence they were held on before the United States Commissioner. We further find that in the cases where no indictment was found the action of the sailors was due to spite against their superior officers.

Federal Work.
Complaints have been made that Federal officers who have charge of the erection of public buildings are permitting Asiatic aliens to perform skilled labor on same, which in our judgment is wrong.

Referring directly to the eight-hour labor law, we find the same practically inoperative here.

Therefore we would suggest that in the future all Federal work be given out to tender from citizens of the United States and all Asiatic aliens be debarrd from same as sub-contractors.

Oahu Prison.
As a result of the visit to Oahu Jail the jury found six Federal prisoners serving sentence and one prisoner being held on commitment awaiting trial. The premises were found in a very cleanly condition, although the quarters were small and much overcrowded at present. The cells were small and occupied by two prisoners each. Under the present conditions the ventilation is poor, but as good as could be expected under the circumstances. The jury would strongly recommend that a separate jail be provided for United States prisoners or that an addition be built to the present jail to accommodate such prisoners.

The Edmunds Act.
Your jury has endeavored through the Territorial officials to secure evidence against violators of the Edmunds Act other than in those cases examined, but has been unable so to do. It is the general belief that this act is being violated in this city possibly to the same extent as in larger cities in other Territories on the Mainland, but that the evil sought to be curbed must first be exposed by the local authorities in their respective districts before definite action can be taken.

In conclusion we respectfully report that while the jury has been in session but a total of twenty days since being sworn in, this has been caused by frequent adjournments made necessary through the many duties of the United States District Attorney, who has had sole charge of the many matters of importance in the District Court, and whose time on this account has not been at our disposal. During our labors one of our members, Mr. G. H. Paris, has acted as secretary, and we would recommend to the Court that suitable remuneration be granted him for his clerical work during the session of this jury. We feel ourselves bound to recognize the great assistance rendered our body by both United States District Attorney J. J. Dunne and United States Marshal E. R. Hendry, who have done everything in their power to facilitate the labor of this jury and have been unfailing in their courtesy and attention to the needs of this body.

Respectfully submitted,
C. H. BROWN,
Foreman.

slaves, your jury is disappointed in having to report no indictment. While we are morally certain that the business is being carried on, so carefully is it done and so unwilling the witnesses to testify that no direct incriminating evidence can be adduced which would warrant your jury in finding an indictment. The jury gave much time and careful consideration to the examination and testimony of many witnesses who would not or could not give evidence which would guide your jury to a placing of the crime of buying or selling their fellow-creatures, on any particular persons.

HELP COFFEE GROWERS ORDER FROM ABROAD PALAU HAS VISIONS

KONA & CHICAGO COFFEE CO FLOATED TO MARKET BERRY

New Corporation Composed of Consumers Who Are All in Chicago--Stock All Taken.

There is good news for the growers of coffee on these islands in the organization of the Kona & Chicago Coffee Co, lately floated by J. Coeper while in the east.

Application will be made today to the Treasurer of the Territory for a charter to do business and then the directors of the company will be elected and work commenced immediately on the marketing of the coffee of the islands all in Chicago.

The new company has a capital of $50,000 which is divided into 2000 shares. They are all held in Chicago in five shares lots by the consumers of the coffee which is to be grown here and sent east. Ovens have been established in the city of Chicago and to these the product will be shipped direct and sold from them directly to the consumers and retailers. The prices thus obtained will necessarily be much better than has heretofore been obtained by growers who dealt through agents and wholesalers and the company has bound itself to ship one thousand bags of coffee a month to Chicago.

The principal plantation of the company is situated in North Kona and consists of about 1200 acres of land, 500 of which are in bearing trees. In case the product of this plantation is not sufficient to fill the demand, coffee will be purchased from other growers here and will be used at the same figure as the product of the plantation of the company.

Mr. Coeper in speaking of the matter this afternoon said that at last a chance had come for the development of the coffee industry of the Islands which has never been properly handled. The growers under the new arrangement will be brought in close contact with the consumer, with the result that coffee will be grown here at a profit instead of at a loss and the industry will be bound to grow in the future.

The first shipment of coffee will be made this month and will consist of 500 sacks of the finest Kona coffee. From the first shipment the shipments will be made monthly and an effort made to keep the supply up to the demand.

HONOLULU IRON WORKS SENDS JUICE WEIGHERS

Australia Recognizes Excellent Work of Local Shops--Three Machinist Sent By Last Steamer.

The management of the Honolulu Iron Works is just now wearing a very large-sized feather in its cap, and with good reason too, for the excellence of the work of the shops has been told abroad with such telling effect that recently an order for three patent cane-juice weighing-machines came from the Colonial Sugar Refining Company of Sydney.

The Honolulu Iron Works has turned out any amount of machinery for use in the islands, but never before has an order come from a foreign country. The sending forth of the juice-weighers to Australia marks the beginning of a career for the Iron Works more successful than it has ever attained to before, and opens up possibilities that has made the management tingle with delight.

Miss Margaret Haley and Miss Catherine Goggin, the two young teachers who have compelled the great corporations of Chicago to pay their fair share of taxes, are overwhelmed with invitations to speak on the tax question. THINKS REPORTERS ARE NOW ON HIS TRIAL

His Hot Air Story on Finding of a Bullet --- Hung About Police Station Today.

Palau, the man who has for some time past, been the doorkeeper and bouncer at the meetings of the Home Rule executive committee, and who on several occasions of late, has chased reporters away from the door of Foster hall, caused a lot of excitement at Waikahala last evening.

Palau was out celebrating during the afternoon and, on his return home, carried a load of spirits that began to play havoc with his brain. Among other things, he threw himself on the floor and cried out for help, saying to his wife and other people about that he had been shot.

A call was sent into the police station and the patrol wagon with Captain Kanne and a number of officers responded. Upon arrival at the house, an investigation was made and Palau was found in his room. He showed an arm on which there were a number of scars of old boils and then, pointing to the wall, said the bullet was somewhere in it. The police searched in vain for the bullet.

Palau made his appearance at the police station this forenoon with a bullet in his possession. Where he got it, is hard to tell. However, he made a bluff at putting up a story so full of hot air that even the most sanguine were put to flight. He stated that the reporters on the morning papers had a spite against him because, on several occasions, he has turned them away from the Home Rule meetings. He is sure that one of these very wicked men shot at him. Continuing, Palau said:

"I was mopping the perspiration from my brow at the washstand when I heard the crack of a revolver from the window behind me. Then I felt a stinging sensation in my arm and, looking down, saw that I had had a narrow escape. The bullet had just grazed my arm, hit the wall and dropped. You see, the motion of my body while mopping my head, threw off the aim of the man at the window."

A number of questions might have been asked Palau but his story was so silly and showed such stupidity that he could not have been expected to give intelligent answers.

FILL IN LANDS AND BUILD THE BOULEVARD

Within the next few days articles of incorporation will be filed with the Treasurer of the Territory for the company which is to take in hand the work of filling in the lower lands and swamps of the city.

This project has received extensive notice from the papers already and at last it has advanced to the point of incorporation and preparation for active work. As has been previously stated the proposed company has secured the right to take earth for filling from the Dillingham lands at the head of Manoa valley. The material will be used for filling the swamps about Waikiki and along the waterfront toward the city center.

The floating of this company will also have a direct bearing upon and give an impetus to the proposed boulevard from the town to Kapoli park. The latter project is being very generally endorsed and is receiving good financial support.

KONA-KAU RAILWAY

COMPANY ELECTS OFFICERS AND ACCEPTS ITS CHARTER

Action Taken at a Meeting Held This Forenoon--Coerper Will Leave Tuesday With Corps of Surveyors.

The promoters of the Kona-Kau Railway Co., Ltd., met in the office of the Wilder Bros. this forenoon for the purpose of electing officers. The result was as follows: Carl Coeper of Chicago, president; Jacob Coeper, vice president; C. T. Wilder, secretary; Harry Armitage, treasurer, and M. B. Macfarlane, auditor. These, with W. G. Coeper and Gardner K. Wilder constitute the Board of Directors.

At the meeting this forenoon, the charter issued to the company by the Territory of Hawaii was accepted and the secretary was instructed to send forward to the government notification of the election of officers.

J. Coeper will leave for Kona next Tuesday and with him will go a number of surveyors who will be named by W. A. Wall, the superintending surveyor of the company. Now that the officers have been elected and everything connected with the starting of the work on the road has been settled, it is the intention to push matters along to their completion as rapidly as possible.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR FOR TERM IS CLEARED

William Hall Has Retained Hatch & Silliman--Probate Matters Adjudicated--Commission to Take Testimony.

"I decline to issue an injunction upon this bill of complaint. The facts stated do not warrant the issuance of that extraordinary writ." This writing is a quietus placed on a bill for injunction brought by M. G. Silva against J. M. Vivas as defendant in the suit of Vivas vs. Silva. In his petition Silva says that the accounting of his partnership with Vivas the receiver, Henry Davis, found that Vivas owed him $1924.67, that Vivas is selling off property and buying property in his wife's name. Therefore he prays for an injunction issue against Vivas to restrain him from doing those things until their partnership affairs are finally settled in the courts.

CURIOUS CRINKLES

By LANAI LOUNGER.

If pedigrees might be turned into gold like old Hawaiian postage stamps, there would be at least a spark of rationality in the prevalent ransacking of well-earned oblivion for names of dead taro-patch tyrants.

It makes no difference to past ancestors who claims them.

"Cannot the large and the small proprietor live side by side?" inquires a local essayist. Well, yes; at least until the large one can wrap up a scheme for getting the small one's property.

British teachers are being sent to South Africa to instruct the children of Boer refugees. This is paying the sincerest form of flattery—imitation—to part of the American policy in the Philippines. The United States paid indemnity to Spain for the territory that was rightfully a prize of just war. Such doings by Anglo-Saxon powers constitute probably the nearest approaches ever made by nations officially obeying that law of the universe of Peace, the hardest of all for persons to receive let alone obey—"Love your enemies."

Hawaii has more small proprietors in its agricultural development than is commonly recognized. Every owner of a share in the capital stock of a plantation is a small proprietor. The class includes men, women and children—yes, widows and orphans—people helping out civilization just as well as any lot of self-working farmers. Small hoe-wielders are all right, but there are others.

Mentioning the fact that the imprint of the American Bank Note Company appears on a new postage stamp of Newfoundland bearing a portrait of the Duchess of Cornwall, the Illustrated London News says "it is a strange thing to be allowed by the authorities. For 'The oldest British colony' to give such a job of fine printing to an American shop is surely not more dreadful than for the Imperial Government to buy Kentucky mules for its forces in South Africa. Yes, and what about London receiving the boon of rapid transit from an American? The remark of the I. L. N. quoted above is one of the best specimens of untempered and unconscious English humor ever uttered. When the concealed joke is discovered in England, within a year or two, it will be dragged out and decorated for Punch.

Before the end of the twentieth century cooks will be punished by law for spoiling food, as purveyors are today for selling adulterated or corrupt provisions.

So the promised police alarm system is going to be installed in Honolulu, although a criminal alarm system is what seems to be needed. Crooks and cracksmen are growing bold these times.

If it is all regular to advance money to the Government and let the lender trust to the Legislature for repayment, why does not some wealthy citizen erect a new building for the Royal School and so wipe out the vile disgrace of the Aala plague warehouse?

THE GREATEST WEALTH IS HEALTH.

Many a rich man suffering and sick would give all his wealth for the return of good health. Rich and poor can keep healthy if they pay attention to nature's warnings of approaching disease. If your liver is sluggish, if you feel dull, drowsy or inactive; if your heart doesn't pump right, palpitations, thumps, sometimes vigorous, and sometimes faintly; if your bowels are inactive, or overactive; if your stomach fails you; if your kidneys fail to act naturally; your health is threatened; but there is still help for you if you will take Kickapoo Indian Sagwa. You must act quickly. Disease is progressive; you must stop it at once. Kickapoo Indian Sagwa will do it. Hobron Drug Co., agents for Kickapoo Indian Remedies.

CROKER GETTING OLD.

New York, Dec. 2.—In an interview with Richard Croker, the Evening Post quotes the Tammany leader as saying: "You won't see much more leading on my part in the future. I am getting old and worn out, and I can't be a field horse for everybody any longer. I admit that the leader of Tammany Hall should stay in New York all the year round, and I can't stay here for more than a part of the year. If I tried to stay here all of the time I could do no work at all."

"All this talk about me being State leader and trying to dictate in national politics is nonsense. I am in no condition to do any kind of leading, but, of course, I will always take a deep interest in Tammany."

When asked if he was training anybody to succeed him as leader, he replied: "Oh, I have not come to that yet, and I have not planned my future. I want to see I will go to England in January or February. The Tammany executive committee meets next month and you may hear of the matter then."

TWO ANTI-TRUST MEASURES.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Representative Pearre of Maryland has proposed a plan of dealing with the tariff and trusts somewhat similar to the plan proposed last year by Representative Babbcock, which caused much discussion. Pearre's bill authorizes and directs the suspension of tariff duties upon imports when their sale or manufacture is monopolized. Provision also is made for a commission to report to the President on the subject.

Senator Jones of Arkansas today introduced without amendment the anti-trust bill which passed the House during the last session of Congress, but which failed to pass the Senate.

Verestchagin the Great Artist of the Wars

[Written for the Bulletin.] A dispatch dated "Chicago, December 5, 1901," has it that Vasil Verestchagin is to undertake a painting "Roosevelt at San Juan Hill." This is capital. It will fix the President as the hero-leader of the land fighting of the Spanish-American war. It will invest him with genuine fame as a soldier. It will fix the war in history as one of the great wars of all time.

M. Verestchagin is the chief of military painters of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. All and sundry who take any interest in art are hypnotized by his productions because they are real. And then the artist is such a man among men. This transcendent genius is soldier, painter and author. His home is in Moscow. His largest studio is in Paris. He has been adopted as a Londoner. He is considered a distinguished guest in every capital of Europe and now that he becomes acquainted in the United States, he will have staunch friends there.

A bit more about the man. He is almost 59 years of age, is strong and handsome. He has been painting more than forty years. The lad was sent to the naval academy, graduated first in a class of sixty. With his diploma of graduation he received the silver medal of the Academy of Fine Arts. To enter upon art he disobeyed and disappointed his parents. His first stay in Paris was for three years under Gerome. Then he went with a Russian army detailed to Central Asia to discipline marauding Turcomans. He fought. He was in a camp of 500 besieged by 30,000 savages. The barbarians rushed the place but the small force was saved by the arrival of help in great strength. Verestchagin served actively in the Russo-Turkish war. He loved fighting and was little less than great as a soldier. He went on to Constantinople. He explored India—extreme northern India. He, with his wife, scaled the highest peak but one in the Himalayas. He spent two years in the Holy Land. He spent years in study of Napoleon. He was intimate with Moltke, with the father of the present Emperor of Germany and is the close friend of the Emperor of Austria. He once incurred the most violent displeasure of the Catholic church. He produced so many paintings that he was once charged with having some of the work done by others. This was by the Munich Society of Arts. He was honorably acquitted. It was learned that he arose at 6 each morning and worked sixteen hours and above each day.

Every "Verestchagin" is celebrated and he has painted well into the hundreds. As has been said, he stands alone as the military artist. But he has made a series of fifteen Napoleonic pictures—including the one of the immortal Frenchman in the peasant's hut where, "for a whole day he sits, thinking, thinking, but never speaking a word to the expectant marshals who await his orders."

The Holy Catholic church made battle upon Verestchagin for his "Resurrection" representing the Savior stooping in emerging from the tomb. Verestchagin was thrown on this picture and its author promptly destroyed it altogether. Verestchagin was compelled to destroy a canvas showing Russian soldiers in retreat, another of a wounded Russian soldier "forgotten" and alone and with birds of prey hovering over him; another of Russian soldiers smoking their pipes while sitting about the bodies of dead comrades. Moltke visited the Berlin exhibition of Verestchagin, but put the ban upon the place for German soldiers.

Verestchagin's "Execution of the Nihilists who Murdered the late Czar" is one of his foremost efforts. The foreground is the black crowd. Snow is falling. There are a few mounted officers. One side of the hollow square about the killing structure is dim. Visible: Four bodies hanging from short horizontal timbers fast at the tops of uprights. The fifth body is hidden by the head and shoulders of a horseman. You look at the picture (or a photographic reproduction) and you have seen the execution.

"All Quiet at Shipka"—The fate of a sentry, is three pictures. And they are war pictures. First—The sentry, heavily clothed, piece at "support," standing in snow knee deep. Second—The rifle perpendicular, butt resting heavily above the knee, snow almost to the waist, the man leaning forward. Third—Part of one shoulder, part of the head of the prostrate sentry, a foot of the barrel of the piece indistinct above the snow drift. "Prisoners of the Indian Mutiny Blown from Guns" is the same relation to actual conflict as "All Quiet at Shipka." One turns from a line of field guns, a line of attendants with main body in the rear and a line of captured flags, in the white of innocence firmly bound to the mouths of the cannon. Take "The Road to Plevna." It is a way curved at the foot of a slope. There are birds of prey on the single wire of the telegraph line. A few birds are in the center of the road. On either side—again so indistinct as to be almost incidental—are the bodies of those "left behind"—"missing."

This is Verestchagin's own word portrayal of his pictures of real fighting: "Men writhing in agony, torn limb from limb, mangled and bleeding, headless bodies and arms and legs strewn about the field, dying men crushed by horses falling over them, heroes bleeding to death and dying of fever and want." Of his mental or personal view of war and of the artistic aspect of it he says, giving it briefly: "When a soldier kills another man, he does not ask of himself, 'What have I done?' On the contrary he thinks himself more worthy of reward if he is able to kill ten men rather than two." "War is the loss of all human sense; under its influence men become animals entirely. The artist looks always for passion and passion is seen at its height on the battlefield. Every hour of war brings something new, something never seen before; it is the reversal of Christianity and for the artist, the author and the philosopher it must always have a supreme interest."

Verestchagin dedicates a cairn of human skulls piled in a desert to "all conquerors—past, present and to come."

Therefore, "Roosevelt at San Juan Hill" will be the greatest of all American war pictures. It will be a thing broad and international and Vasil Verestchagin will set firmly in a new country the impress of his compelling and amazing art. ED. S.

WORK OF DESERTERS

Washington, Dec. 2.—According to Manila newspapers, copies of which have been received at the War Department, the massacre of Company C, Ninth Infantry, at Balangiga, Samar, was planned by deserters from the American army. The newspapers state that two such deserters are known to have acted as spies two days before the massacre. It is said that when the First Infantry was relieved by the Ninth on the island of Samar, these deserters obtained some uniforms which had got adrift during the transfer, and thus equipped passed as American regulars.

Deserters in Samar are becoming very bold. It is stated, and it is not an infrequent sight to find notices written in English posted on trees and shrubbery, inviting Americans to join the insurgents and instructing them how to enlist. It is also said to be a generally understood fact that deserters from the Ninth Cavalry (colored) are responsible for all the trouble the American troops have been having in the Batangas province. It is said that deserters from this regiment led the fight near Lipa in July, in which Captain Wilhelm and Lieutenant Ramsay, Twenty-first Infantry, and Lieutenant Lee of the Engineers, were killed, General Smith, in Samar, and the Twentieth Infantry, in Batangas, are said to be hot on the trail of the deserters.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1901

The conviction of the Federal Grand Jury that slavery exists among Asiatic residents of the city but is incapable of proof ought to warrant the Federal Government in adding a force of deputies to its service who could obtain the proof as it has been obtained in other portions of the United States.

The Philippine decision leaves the executive department in a most unpleasant muddle as regards the status of the islands under various laws of the country. The Supreme Court of the United States is not a legislative body. It finds the facts according to the law of the land and executive officers have to make the best of it. The marked difference between national court methods and the local "transition period" mongers is apparent to all men. The law of expedients has no recognition in American law when a matter of right and justice is at stake.

"As to the 'splendid vindication,' the Attorney General only wishes," says the President, that he had tied a string to it."—Thurston's organ.

The Attorney General "only wishes" does he? This wish according to other statements of Thurston's organ is due to claims made by Thurston's friends since the vindication. As the Thurston aggregation lied before the vindication there is no reason why it should not follow up the same policy at this time. Their efforts to mislead the Attorney General will be of no avail though they continue for a life time.

One Senator has gone so thoroughly "exclusionist" that he would exclude the Japanese from the United States along with the Chinese. That Senator knows he is talking nonsense and the lack of interest which the people here represents have in our relations with Japan is the only thing that saves him from a laughing stock in his own community. His exclusion bill can be put down as nothing more or less than a play to the galleries. That the present friendly status of Japan and her people with the United States will be disturbed by any foolish exclusion business is too ridiculous to be argued.

Jacob Coe's success in the promotion of the Kona-Kau railroad is a source of satisfaction to every citizen of the Territory. This proposed railroad will open up a large tract of hitherto almost inaccessible land for the small farmer and every other tiller of the soil. When he started out Mr. Coe promised to not only get the railroad but to bring to the country first class American families to populate the district which the railroad opens up. He has so well fulfilled his first promise that there can be no doubt in the public mind that Mr. Coe will carry all his plans to a successful end.

As the Republican Territorial committee seems in a fair way to settle its internal warfare in a manner acceptable to the rank and file of the party, it ought to have enough surplus energy to turn towards further consideration of the municipal law for Honolulu. The charter commission did an immense amount of work that ought not to be lost or forgotten. Municipal government will be the slogan of the next campaign and the Republican party should be in a position to meet it with a law fully competent to fulfill the necessities or the "peculiarities" of the local situation. Excuses or evasions will not gain votes in the next campaign.

THE PRESIDENT'S POLICY.

It now appears that some of the good people of this town are disposed to take the President's reference to Hawaii in his message as an attack upon established industry. No conclusion could be more foreign to the obvious intent of the message and the character of the man as he is known in public life.

By his reference to the large estates titled by cheap labor some men seem to think the President is bent upon a policy of driving every large estate in the Territory to the wall and by his reference to the land laws and the importance of following the general lines of the American land policy, that he intends to enter upon a policy of dispossessing every sugar plantation of the lands it holds under lease from the government. Here again the impression is wrong if it is an honest one and maliciously vicious if, as is probable in some instances, it is put forward for the purpose of creating a scare, or with the direct intent of misrepresenting the executive policy.

Except to those who believe that the country will go to the dogs unless Chinese labor is given the plantation there is not a word, not a thought in the President's message that indicates a policy of antagonism or destruction of the sugar estates of this Territory whether they are titled by cheap labor or not. There is not a word or a line to suggest the conclusion that seems to be drawn by many that the President wants to cut up the lands of these plantations where held under leases from the government and parcel them out to others. Vested interests have their rights, their just claim to consideration from all men and certainly the President will not dispute those rights nor has he done so.

What the President does declare himself as opposed to is the land policy which fosters, or abets the large estate titled by cheap labor. He is not envenoming against the past except in so far as it has been productive of a mistaken policy. He does look to the future and if Theodore Roosevelt understands the English language he has put himself firmly on record as against a future land policy of which cheap labor and vast acres titled by cheap labor shall be the chief motive and the certain result.

Our present plantation properties will not be disturbed. The man who says otherwise is either intentionally endeavoring to misconstrue the President's words or is so densely ignorant that his maudlin wanderings are not worth a passing consideration.

Our plantations will maintain themselves in the future as they have in the past, obtaining their labor in the available markets, and as for the lands, possession is nine points of the law and it is safe to say the United States will not enter upon a campaign of eviction nor will any President nor any executive officer of the government propose or support such a doctrine.

The President has said, "In Hawaii our aim should be to develop the Territory on traditional American lines." This does not mean more than it says as many would seem to have it, nor does it foreshadow an immediate and general reorganization of every sugar estate in the islands. The sugar plantations are just as strong in their present vested rights as they ever were, and they will not be disturbed. The plantation men know it. But it is plain that in the development of the future the man who tills the land he owns must have first consideration; that the American coming to these islands must have the same opportunities to obtain land that he has in any other portion of the United States and having obtained it success or failure rests solely with himself.

There are no dangers but there are vast benefits in the American policy outlined by President Roosevelt in his first message. Hawaii cannot fail to gain material, moral and social wealth by following the general line of action which is there laid down. It will take us out of the old grooves and lead us in some untrodden paths but that those paths are dangerous to the present industrial establishment or in any way inimical to the general welfare of the community has yet to be proved.

Thurston's utterances before annexation and his position now shows him to be a man who has not the courage of his asserted conviction or else is dishonest. The annexation of Hawaii foreshadowed certain events and now we are in the midst of them the part of the honest, manly citizen is to go forward accepting and endeavoring to work out the problem with the same spirit of enthusiasm which characterized the efforts to create the problems. The problems of the present day were not unforeseen, and the man is a moral coward who now runs to cover or seeks a different loophole from that which American laws and customs provide. Manhood, energetic and honest, is as much or more in demand today than during the days of the annexation fight.

NOW AND THEN.

"The successful building up of American homesteads all over Hawaii would be an ideal condition to reach. If the thing could be done it would prove a great value, agriculturally. In addition to the variety of products; defensively, it would enable Hawaii to provision for a siege; economically, it would reduce the cost of living; commercially, it would increase both exports and imports; politically, it would rescue legislation from the un-American mob."—L. A. Thurston paper, the Advertiser.

"America has given him (the native Hawaiian) a taste of American liberty and civilization. America wards lies the full freedom and the proud status of republican citizenship. Unless annexation take place, the only future for the native Hawaiian is retrogression to the status of the Asiatic coolie, who is already crowding him to the wall."—L. A. Thurston's annexation pamphlet.

"Less than a hundred years ago, Hawaii supported a population of 400,000 souls with crude methods of cultivation then known."—L. A. Thurston's annexation pamphlet.

"There is no reason why Hawaii cannot support a population of a million as easily as it does 100,000."—L. A. Thurston's annexation pamphlet.

"UNDER ANNEXATION, THE ASIATIC SUPPLY OF LABOR WILL BE CUT OFF (the italics are Thurston's) and this slight advantage will be eliminated."—L. A. Thurston's annexation pamphlet.

The conditions existing in Hawaii today do not vary one iota from those mapped out by Thurston in his annexation pamphlet and which were foreseen, recognized and accepted by the men advocating annexation.

What good reason now exists for antagonizing an American policy now when it is possible by earnest, honest work on the part of every American citizen to work out the American destiny which annexation offered as a certain result? Why not be honest?

TISER STORY THE CAUSE

WEIGHER R. M. MACAULY
THRASHES COAL AGENT

Trouble Over Fake Yarn of Coal
Stealing Published in Recent Advertiser.

There was a passage at arms between two gentlemen aboard the barkentine Jos. L. Evison this morning which was the result of the publication several days ago in the Advertiser of a fairy tale about the stealing of coal from ships discharging at this port.

In the article the blame for the alleged stealing of the coal was placed on the weigher, R. M. Macaulay. This nettled the latter and he denied the statement. It was a good story, however, and so the morning organ ran it as it does a great many other things which are found to be without foundation upon a close inspection.

Mr. Grey, the agent for Alexander and John Brown of Newcastle, who was responsible for the slur which was cast on the weigher, refused to contradict the statement although called upon so to do. The matter rested as it was until this morning when the two interested parties met on the barkentine which is discharging her cargo at the coal wharf. The man who made the charges was accosted by the weigher who asked him if he was ready to change his statement. Grey replied that he was not. Then Macaulay told the man what he thought of him and smote him so that he fell to the deck. Arising, Grey started a foot race and grabbing a chair used it to protect himself with until the weigher was pacified by the captain of the vessel and several bystanders. Grey then lost no time in getting away out of sight.

G. R. COLLINS IS MOVED

C. R. Collins is now permanently located in the handsome new building he has just erected for the accommodation of his harness and saddlery business on King street near Fort.

Mr. Collins established this business in Honolulu nineteen years ago and is thoroughly acquainted with all the needs and requirements of the community in this line and has now a stock of unusual excellence consisting of harness, saddlery, buggy robes, fine whips, and everything else for horse and stable.

The top floor of the new building is used as a manufactory where harness is made for both wholesale and retail trade. Mr. Collins will be pleased to see his old friends and customers at his new place and will be glad to show anybody interested through the establishment.

THE ALII CIRCLE.

In answer to "Mrs. Defries wants proof" in the Advertiser of Nov. 15th, 1901. You have admitted the truth, when you say "that they are not your equal," of course you are not, for you do not belong to the "Alii Circle," or as the Hawaiians term it, "Ka Poha Alii," and you make a mistake when you say, "No genealogy, no chief." Known chiefs have no need to brag about their genealogies.

PHILIPPINE DECISION HARD NUT TO CRACK

Washington, Dec. 3.—Everybody from the President down is at sea for the time being as to the Philippines. The full scope of the Supreme Court decision is unknown yet. The decision was the topic of discussion at the Cabinet meeting and at the Capitol it shared with the message the attention of Senators and Representatives. Attorney General Knox says frankly that he is not prepared yet to advise the President in the matter, and it is said that a Justice of the Supreme Court declared that that august body was by no means acquainted with the extent of changes demanded by the decision.

That the duties heretofore collected must be refunded is clear. The free trade exists at present between the islands and the United States is not so clear. Some people think the Dingley tariff has jumped across the Pacific forthwith, while others believe there is no law until Congress acts. The navigation laws, the revenue laws, immigration laws and other important general laws are in doubt so far as the Philippines are concerned. The Treasury Department is inclined to believe that the Dingley tariff is effective in the Philippines, and that the war tariff is revoked. A special message from the President is expected outlining the legislation needed.

At the Capitol the general belief appears to be that Congress must act soon and frame special laws for the Philippines and extend the general laws to the archipelago wherever practicable. It is hard to find many representatives who favor free trade between the Philippines and this country. They give various reasons for their belief in putting up at least a low tariff wall. Others argue that immigration laws must be passed so as to prevent an influx of Chinese from the Philippines.

Boren—Some of us are organizing a new society that you should join. Sharpe—Haven't time. I'm thinking of organizing a new society myself. It's the "S. S. U. S." Boren—What's that The "U. S. S." sounds patriotic, anyway. Sharpe—It's more than patriotic. It's the "Society for the Suppression of Useless Societies."—Catholic Standard Times.

A WOMAN'S PRESENCE

Is often pleasantly foretold by the aroma of some dainty perfume. In times long gone by the choice scents were made into fragrant sprays upon the hair and body. Then came the art of distillation, and the odoriferous drops were sprinkled on the handkerchief or mingled with the water in which my lady laved her dainty limbs and face. Not until modern times came the most perfect way of applying the perfume the ATOMIZER. Now no toilet table is without one.

OUR SELECTION OF ATOMIZERS IS COMPLETE—THEIR SUITABILITY FOR A CHRISTMAS GIFT PERFECT.

Perfect Sprayers, made in choice designs, of cut-glass and dainty porcelain. Not expensive, and thoroughly acceptable.

KODAKERY!

Everybody looks upon a Kodak nowadays as they look upon an umbrella—a necessity. Still, many do not possess them, and many more are dissatisfied with the results from their cameras. The proverbial aphorism, "There is no Kodak but an Eastman Kodak" is a true one. You are absolutely secure in buying any article in photographic appliances when the name Eastman shows as manufacturer. Thoroughly reliable and the best of material, they always give the best of satisfaction. It is hard to devise a better Christmas gift in this land of unrivaled scenery than a Kodak to those who do not already possess one, or, having a camera, by some less careful manufacturer, are dissatisfied with its results.

MANY VAGRANCY CASES

The fourteen natives spoken of in yesterday's paper as having been arrested on River street for having cash tickets in possession and for gambling, appeared in the Police Court this forenoon on the charge of vagrancy. J. T. De Bolt represented eleven of the men, W. R. Castle, Jr., one, and J. K. Kaulia, one. The native left over said his boss would defend him.

The prosecution stated that it could not proceed with the case, and a continuance until Monday was granted. Attorney De Bolt stated that the defendants being ready for trial, they should be released on their own recognizance. It was manifestly evident that the men could not furnish bail. There was some objection on the part of the prosecution, two or three of the men having failed to turn up on previous occasions when they were released on their own recognizance. However, Judge Wilcox finally allowed them to go on the promise that they would appear Monday.

It is hard to conceive how the majority of the natives can be found guilty of vagrancy, for they are men who work along the wharves and they were not found on the premises of any other person or persons, unlawfully, by night.

Three Porto Ricans, arrested on the charge of vagrancy, were discharged.

Washington, Dec. 3.—A joint resolution has been introduced by Representative Moody of Massachusetts proposing a select committee of three members to be appointed by the speaker, to investigate and report whether at the Congressional election in Louisiana the rights of any of the able-bodied inhabitants of that State were denied or denied whether if the right of any person to vote was denied or abridged, the members from Louisiana so chosen are entitled to their seats, and whether Congress should enact further legislation to carry out the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments to the Constitution of the United States.

BITTEN BY SHARK.

Vallejo, Dec. 5.—One hundred and thirty-two men were brought up on the Umatilla from the transport Hancock today, among the number thirteen prisoners, five under seven and eight years sentences for mutiny on the ship Manila. The long-term prisoners will only be held temporarily and later transferred to San Quentin.

There were also five sick men. One case, that of Quartermaster S. McKie of the gunboat Annapolis, was particularly sad. With a party of shipmates he was enjoying a swim in the harbor of Vallejo, when a shark fastened itself to one of his feet, dragging him to the bottom. He freed himself by forcing the monster off with his hands. When taken on deck the limb was at once amputated above the knee.

The matter of pensioning McKie came up, and it was contended that the accident occurred outside the line of duty; but Admiral Kemp, in ruling upon the case, held that, inasmuch as the party had asked and been granted permission for such recreation, he was virtually on duty. The unfortunate is about 25 years of age.

MASON AND HIS FRANKS.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Senator Mason delivered a speech in the Senate during the last session upon his pure-fiduciary investigation, in which he made an assertion that appealed to a champagne firm as excellent advertising. The firm is sending out thousands of copies of this speech under Senator Mason's frank.

When asked today whether he had authorized the use of his frank for this purpose, Mason stated that he had, and that he considered it perfectly legitimate, and not a violation of the letter or the spirit of the law granting Congressmen the privilege of franking official communications and public documents. Mason explained that the firm had informed him that it desired to send broadcast a large number of copies of the speech for the advertising it contained, and asked him to save them postage. "Of course, I had no objection. Why should I?" he declared. "If any one wishes to mail copies of any speech I have made or may make, I will cheerfully furnish my frank. The firm paid for the envelopes. I have no excuse or apology to make."

NAVY DEPARTMENT BILLS.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Senator Hale today introduced a number of bills, drafts of which had been prepared at the Navy Department and were recommended by Secretary Long. One provides for creating the grade of Vice Admiral, with four admirals of that rank, and reducing the number of Rear Admirals to fourteen; and others to increase the number of Lieutenants from 300 to 350, and the number of Junior Lieutenants and Ensigns from 350 to 600; to increase naval constructors from 21 to 40; to change the title of naval cadet to midshipman and to increase the number of cadets by allowing ten annual appointments by the President.

OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS UNTIL 10 P.M.

WHITNEY & MARSH, LIMITED.

To realize that another year has slipped away, and that the glad Christmas tide is here again. Not Christmas day nor Christmas week, but the plan time—the best time—when loving hearts are planning the happiness of others. It is a beautiful custom, and our store has spared no pains to make this coming Christmas a fitting first one of the new century. We've studied long and worked hard in bringing this beautiful array of Christmas attractions together, and we think that you will be surprised when you see the show. But, remember, don't procrastinate; purchase while the time is young, and be forehanded.
