

HAS THE SOUTH POLE BEEN FOUND?

ONIONS WILL BE OUR NEXT BIG EXPORT

"Bermuda onions are the coming crop of Kauai and it will not be long before the planters on the island will be shipping five to six hundred carloads a year to the Pacific Coast."

This statement was made by Superintendent of Markets Starrett as a brief summing up of the information he has gained by his ten days' trip to the island of Kauai. He had made three excursions through the island, each time taking Nawiliwili Bay as a starting point and each trip taking in a part of the island where conditions, both climatic and topographic, are different, and where the onion growing experiments were being carried on.

Last October the market superintendent made a trip to Kauai and took with him several hundred bags of seed. The seeds were distributed among the planters, some in one locality and some in another, but each time care being taken to see that conditions were a little different.

The trip from which Superintendent Starrett has just returned was a tour of inspection to see how the experiment had worked out and whether it would be profitable or not in the future to raise Bermuda onions for commercial purposes.

When he returned to his office this morning, he carried a bag, which contained three dozen Bermuda onions, perfect specimens, large and fine-looking and, as the superintendent said, "just like a bunch of fine apples."

Delegate Kuhio Gives His Reply To Taft League

STATEMENT OF THE DELEGATE.

Inasmuch as Republicans unacquainted with the facts, save as they are set forth in the published statement of Mr. J. P. Cooke of Monday, may misunderstand my position on the matters referred to, I deem it advisable to state my position clearly.

On February 15th, the day after my return to Honolulu, I stated in the Evening Bulletin that I was in favor of an instructed Taft delegation and that I did not desire the party to take up the differences between Governor Frear and myself. I still entertain these views and will continue to do so.

A few days ago, in company with Mr. R. W. Shingle, I attended a conference in the Republican committee rooms in the Judd building at the invitation of Mr. Alfred D. Cooper, chairman of the Republican Executive Committee, and Mr. J. P. Cooke, president of the Taft League. These gentlemen submitted an agreement for me to sign, as follows:

"1. All delegates to national convention pledge themselves to work and vote for a renomination of President Taft.

"2. The Kuhio-Frear controversy will not be brought into the Territorial convention to be held April 15th, 1912, and no action will be taken by said convention, save the choosing of the delegates and alternates to the Republican National Convention.

"3. The apportionment of delegates to the national convention shall be as follows: Hawaii 1, Maui 1, Kauai 1, Oahu 3.

"4. Agree to delegates as follows: Kuhio, R. W. Shingle, C. A. Rice, to be national committeemen; Geo. Ranton.

"Delegates apportioned to Hawaii and Maui to be nominated by delegations from those districts, respectively, to the Territorial Convention.

"Agree to Sam Kellinof for chairman of the convention.

"The parties hereto pledge themselves to carry out the above agreement."

I informed these gentlemen that I was already committed in my public statement to the first two paragraphs of the agreement but that I could not see my way clear to accede to their wishes as regards the remaining propositions.

Although appreciating the honor shown me by assuring my election as Delegate, I do not believe it is right, and no precedent can be found for, the selection in advance of four out of six of the delegates to the national convention, the national committeemen from this Territory and the chairman of the convention.

Such a procedure would be too far.

DID SCOTT GET TO POLE SOONEST

(Associated Press Cables to the Star.)

LONDON, March 6.—It is rumored that Capt. R. F. Scott has found the South Pole.

Two expeditions were leading the way, according to the latest accounts. Both are commanded by able and vigorous men of experience, men who know ice and ice conditions thoroughly and who have had ample adventures with temperatures from ten to seventy degrees below zero. First there was Capt. Robert Falcon Scott of the British royal navy and a fellow of the Royal Geographic Society, who is leading his second expedition in quest of the farthest point south. Captain Scott commanded the National Antarctic Expedition in 1900 in the Discovery, when he attained the record up to that time, latitude 82 deg. 30 min. Inspired by his success in that venture, which extended over four years, he determined on one final dash to the pole. On board the Terra Nova, a specially built ship, he left Port Chalmers, New Zealand, November 29, 1910, with a picked crew and a full equipment of ponies and dogs. He made a straight line to the south, and after entering the zone of the icebergs and drift ice he followed closely his old route and the one taken by Lieutenant Ernest H. Shackleton, of the royal navy, who in command of the British Antarctic Expedition of 1907 reached 88 deg. 23 min. on January 9, 1909, which stands as the record up to today.

Pushing straight along the edge of Ross Sea, thence through McMurdo Strait and past Mount Erebus, which, with its columns of steam rising high, stands like a grim sentinel over the great ice barrier to the South Pole, Captain Scott established winter quarters on the great ridge of mountains that is believed to be a continuation of the South American Andes. Here through the Antarctic winter he lived until November, 1911, when he planned to push on to the pole.

CHINA IS BEING INVADED BY AMERICAN TRADE METHODS

By J. A. BRECKONS.

(Special Correspondence of The Star.)

WASHINGTON, February 16.—Unmistakable evidence of the American invasion of China is contained in a report just made to the Bureau of Commerce and Labor by Consul General Anderson of Hongkong. That country which for thousands of years has done everything the same old way and refused to take up with the progressive ideas of other nations is now using wax manikins in modern show windows to display goods and attract trade.

The report abounds in description of Hongkong establishments now resorting to this advanced method; among them one institution displaying a wax figure of a Chinese girl wearing a somewhat foreignized model Chinese gown, in a somewhat foreignized Chinese bedroom interior representing a model apartment designed to appeal to wealthy Chinese with more or less foreign experience and ideas. A hair-dressing establishment located in Hongkong's principal thoroughfare uses several wax busts of American and Chinese women to display the latest styles in doing up woman's crowning glory, while here and there may be seen figures and forms of varying degrees of resemblance to American mannikins, used to display Chinese articles of dress and adornment.

The majority of Chinese shops are too small to permit the use of such figures, but the rapidly increasing number of institutions enlarging their show windows to permit of more modern methods leads Consul Anderson to predict that the "clean sweep sale," the "reduced from $6 to $4.98" placard and other Americanisms in merchandising are sure to follow up this invasion of the celestial empire by the American mannikin.

Giffard and Stackable Endorsed for Offices

Walter M. Giffard was endorsed by the Republican Central Committee at a meeting today for the honorary office of president of the Board of Agriculture and Forestry.

Mr. Giffard was formerly a member of the board and did particularly valuable work as chairman of the committee on entomology. He was the originator and first editor of the Hawaiian Forester and Agriculturist. For some time past, as an honorary member of the committee on entomology, Mr. Giffard has been performing invaluable services as director of the Mediterranean fruit fly campaign.

E. R. Stackable was endorsed by the committee for Presidential appointment to succeed himself as collector of customs for Honolulu. A cablegram will probably convey his endorsement to President Taft.

Walter A. Engle was endorsed as chief clerk of the Public Lands department and sub-land agent of the fifth public lands district of the Territory of Hawaii.

COUNTY CASES HAVE TO WAIT

The plaintiff in the replevin suit of James Carty versus W. P. Jarrett, rested this morning, whereupon the attorney for the defense moved for a nonsuit. The motion was denied by Judge Cooper, and after a recess the defense began the introduction of testimony. The case is expected to take up most of the rest of the week. As City Attorney Cathcart is representing one of the parties to the suit, all the criminal cases set for hearing in Judge Robinson's court have to go over until the private case in Judge Cooper's court is concluded.

TESTIMONY ON RENTALS PAID BY SOME LARGE CONCERNS

C. H. Olson representing the Cummins Estate interest in the Mahuka site case now on trial in the Federal court, rested his case this morning, after the introduction of some evidence intended merely to be corroborative, and tomorrow the Castle & Cooke interests will begin the presentation of their end of the defense.

Among the witnesses on the stand this morning was E. D. Tenney, who was called to testify as to the lease by the Cummins Estate to the firm that Mr. Tenney represents. He bore out all the statements made the previous day by Cushman Carter as to the terms of the lease to Castle & Cooke and Mr. Carter's reasons for leasing the premises at the figure he did lease them for. Mr. Tenney testified that Castle & Cooke wanted to obtain from Mr. Carter a longer extension of the lease than was granted, but Mr. Carter refused to extend the lease more than seven years at a rental of $5400.

Mr. Tenney also stated that Castle & Cooke promised Carter to make permanent improvements immediately, to cost no less than $20,000. This amount he said, Castle & Cooke were given to understand the Cummins Estate was not in a position to spend.

Certain documentary evidence was introduced by the respondent, merely to strengthen oral testimony already given. When the noon recess was taken the question of whether or not Fred Harrison, contractor, should be permitted to testify as to the original cost of the building was being debated.

Richard Cooke was put on the stand during the morning but proved unable to testify as to the matters upon which he had been called and was excused. A Waterhouse gave brief testimony as to the rental paid by Jordan.

Yesterday afternoon A. E. McInerney testified as to the leases in the McInerney building. He said that the Peacock lease was for twenty-five years, at $225 per month. Trent has a lease of ten years from January, 1909 at $290 per month. Minor tenants pay $125 per month and the McInerney store pays $400.

Sam Walker testified as to the gross rentals and expenditures for eight years for the McIntyre building.

The Rev. Arthur Davies, for some years missionary in India, will preach at St. Andrew's cathedral this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Flags of Two Admirals Will Be Interchanged

With the usual consumption of gunpowder, smoke and noise, Admiral Southerland will take command of the Pacific fleet tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, the second division will be abolished and Admiral Thomas will be relieved, his flag run down and saluted and Admiral Southerland's flag broken on the California and saluted. Admiral Thomas will go outside in a ship's launch to join the West Virginia about twelve o'clock, when his flag will be broken on the West Virginia and he will get under way for Bremerton at one p. m.

The short time men on the other ships have been transferred to the West Virginia and the long time men from that ship distributed among the other ships to fill the vacancies. Captain Terhune, who goes to the Coast to command the Pennsylvania, Lieutenant Beauregard and Ensign Howard will accompany Admiral Thomas to the coast.

The California and the West Virginia are now lying on opposite sides of Alakea wharf and the baggage and personal effects of the officers are being transferred today. The Colorado and South Dakota are lying at anchor outside.

NO APPOINTMENT OF CHAIRMEN YET

Governor Frear had not, up till noon today, appointed a new chairman of the Board of Agriculture. As land commissioner J. D. Tucker will not have anything to do with the Board of Agriculture, and it is necessary to appoint a chairman, who will hold an honorary position, without pay.

There are several other appointments to be made, among them being those of chairman of both the medical and dental boards.

Dr. Charles B. Cooper called on the governor to say good-bye this morning. The lieutenant colonel of the National Guards is sailing this afternoon for the mainland, where he will attend the convention at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

CHEMIST SAYS WINE POISONED

Food Commissioner Blanchard has completed the analysis of the contents of the stomachs of the two children, who died suddenly near Pauaio, Hawaii, some weeks ago. After repeated tests for different kinds of poisons, the chemist decided that the deaths of the children can be laid to alcoholic poisoning. The children are supposed to have taken too much wine.

Blanchard has a lot of matters on hand just at present, and he is looking into the proposition of drug stores selling poisons without a license.

The import work keeps the food commissioner busy, as every steamer from the Orient brings in some kind of foodstuff that has to be tested for prohibited coal tar dyes.

SOME REVIVAL SHOWN TODAY

The local stock market showed a slightly better tone today, though sales were light. Many brokers predict that the little panic flurry of the past week has played out, and that confidence is becoming general that the free sugar bill stands no chance of passing the Senate and the President.

Ewa braced up two points since yesterday, selling for 31.25 on the board this morning.

With no sales recorded, Honokaa has braced up, 10.875 being bid, while holders are now asking 12.50.

McBryde is still weak, a few small blocks selling at 8 flat, while bids have dropped to 7.875.

Walalua is also still on the down grade, selling as low as 127 flat on the board; 126.50 was bid and 127.50 was asked at close.

$5000 of Olaa 6s bonds sold at 29, a drop of 50 cents from last sale.

Oahu Sugar strengthened a little, although no sales were made during the session, bids being 38.25, while asking price was two points higher at close.

PAUQA DEMOCRATIC CLUB.

At a regular meeting of the Pauqa District, Tenth Precinct Democratic Club held at Pauqa on Tuesday evening, the 5th day of March, the following were elected as officers for the ensuing period:

Moses K. Palau, President; George Nichols, Vice-President; F. W. Wood, Secretary; Henry Mika, Assistant Secretary; Sol. K. Palau, Treasurer; John W. Waldron, County Committeeman; L. H. Kahliabla, Walter Kaiwi, Nohonua, Judges of Election.

LARSENS ARE BOTH FINED

In the police court this morning W. Larsen and W. Larsen Jr. were each fined $10 and costs for assault and battery on an employee.

Chin Tai, who struck a native boy named Napuli with a hammer, was fined $25 and costs for his diversion.

Roger James, charged with selling liquor without a license, was fined $100 and costs.

Sam Kalahuli, a hackdriver is charged with embezzlement. It is alleged that a sailor tendered him $5 for a ride in his hack and that Sam pocketed the five-spot and refused to make change.

The only arrest this morning was that of Kapae, drunk.

CHINESE GOING HOME IN HONOR

WAIMEA, March 3.—Henry Ho, a recent graduate from Harvard and husband of Mrs. Ho, teacher in the Waimea School, arrived last Wednesday and is the guest of the various prominent Chinese families here. Mr. Ho is en route to China, where he goes to accept a position in the service of the new Republic. He will continue on to China by the next steamer and will be followed by Mrs. Ho in July. An elaborate dinner was given in his honor on Saturday evening, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Pah On, to which many of the Waimea society people were invited.—Garden Island.

Trustees of the Planters' Association held a meeting this morning to discuss the sugar tariff situation. They are keeping in close touch with

LEWIS TO BUILD NAPOOPOO WHARF

The contract for the construction of Napoopoo wharf was awarded this afternoon to James E. Lewis of Hilo, the amount being $9415. There were five tenders submitted the highest being that of A. A. Wilson. This called for $14,460.

ALASKAN BRINGS EUROPEAN FREIGHT.

The American Hawaiian freighter Alaskan is now scheduled to arrive here Friday morning and in addition to coast freight and transferred cargo from the Texan and Oregonian from New York, she will bring a shipment of European general merchandise.

The U. S. Army transport Logan arrived in port early this morning from Manila and Nagasaki with 540 passengers all told, and about thirty tons of freight, twenty-five of which was consigned to Honolulu. Throughout her passage the Logan ran in a strong northeast gale accompanied at times by heavy seas and, on account of the bad weather, arrived here a day behind her schedule.

Just as the transport was leaving Manila, February 14, First Officer W. D. Cameron, who has been in the transport service for a number of years and who returned to the service two years ago after a year's leave of absence on account of his health, died of tuberculosis. The last attack of the disease came on after a visit to China and was attributed to change of climate. He is survived by Mrs. Cameron, now living in San Francisco, where his body is being taken for burial.

The passengers on board include 101 officers and the members of their families in the first cabin, forty-eight in the second cabin, ten in the first cabin from Nagasaki, 341 enlisted men in the troop quarters and one Robert Jones, a destitute American seaman picked up in Manila. In the troop quarters are 149 enlisted men of the navy, sixty sailors from the army, thirty-nine enlisted marines, twenty-two military convicts, and twenty-eight men from all departments of the service in the hospital.

Major A. V. P. Anderson, of the Philippine scouts, is the commander of the Logan on this voyage, having replaced Major Hackney who is returning to the Coast for retirement. Col. J. A. Lundeen retired today from active service upon his arrival here in fulfillment of the regulation regarding age. Colonel H. O. S. Heistand, Adj. General of the Philippine division, is returning to Washington on the Logan to relieve General Almsworth. Mrs. Nolting, wife of Post Master Nolting of Manila, who will shortly be chief of the Internal Revenue service in the Philippines to replace Ellis Cromwell, who died early in February, is a passenger.

The Logan will sail from Honolulu for San Francisco this afternoon at 3 o'clock and will take fifteen first cabin passengers, nine second cabin and thirty-two troops from this port.

Among these passengers will be Lieutenant Andrews, aide to General Macomb, who is returning to the mainland on leave, Mrs. Thomas, wife of Admiral Thomas, Mrs. Irving, wife of Paymaster Irving, Chaplain Houlahan, Captain Marx of the marine corps and Mrs. Marx, accompanied by Miss Stephens, Dr. Johnson, from Schofield Barracks, and Mrs. Johnson.

The Logan took the 15th Infantry from Manila to China to guard the Pekin railway January 12, and Quartermaster Captain Heidt, accompanied by Military Attache Captain Reeves, made the trip to Pekin.

"We arrived there a few days after the bomb had been thrown at the premier," said Captain Heidt this morning, "but during our visit everything was quiet and there was no interference with foreigners nor with traffic. Neither faction seemed to be using the railroad to the detriment of the services and indeed we saw nothing that indicated that the revolution was in progress."

The passengers in the first cabin are: From Manila to Honolulu--Lieutenant Wm. C. Rose, Commander G. H. Stafford and wife.

From Manila to San Francisco: Col. H. O. S. Heistand and wife, Col. J. Lundeen and wife, Major A. V. P. Anderson, Major Stephen M. Hackney, Captain Henry S. Wygant, Captain Carl L. Stone and wife, and two children, Mrs. Eleanor Stone, Captain J. E. Cheatham and wife, and daughter, W. G. Stivers and wife, Captain M. Churchill, Mrs. J. W. Churchill, Lieut. Comdr. E. F. Eggert, wife, and son, Lieutenant A. S. Kibee, Lieutenant J. E. Osborn, 1st Lieutenant G. M. Allen, 1st Lieutenant W. R. Dear and wife, 1st Lieutenant F. S. Wright, 1st Lieutenant L. R. Dunbar, 1st Lieutenant A. D. Davis and wife, and son, 1st Lieutenant A. J. Dougherty, wife and daughter, 1st Lieutenant C. F. Henning, wife and daughter, 1st Lieutenant H. F. AVIATOR HURT IN 200-FOOT PLUNGE

SAN BERNARDINO, February 27.—Aviator Harvey Crawford, while trying out his machine at Association Park this morning, plunged with his craft 200 feet to the ground within sight of a crowd of spectators. He escaped with several bad bruises and lacerations and his scalp was badly torn. His machine was utterly wrecked.

Shawford has ascended to about 1200 feet when the spectators saw his machine suddenly become unmanageable, the motor going dead. The machine plunged 300 feet before Crawford could right it. He then glided downward, but when within 200 feet of the ground the craft struck an air hole and toppled over.

Crawford was pinned beneath the heavy motor and was extricated in an unconscious condition. His escape from instant death was due to the fact that he fell in a recently plowed field. Just previous to his tragic ascent, Crawford had returned from a long cruise about the valley with two passengers.

JAMAICA OPPOSED TO CANADIAN RECIPROCITY.

OTTAWA, Ont., February 27.—The Island of Jamaica is likely to prove a thorn in the side of the advocate of a wide reciprocity pact between Canada and the British West Indies. According to cable advices Jamaica has decided not to send a delegate to the reciprocity conference here.

This decision is based, it is declared, on the belief of the Jamaican authorities that the United States is the colony's natural market and that any attempt in the direction of reciprocal trade with Canada would incur the displeasure of America.

This Wife and Mother Wishes to tell you FREE How She Stopped Her Husband's Drinking

By all Means Write to Her and Learn how She did it.

For over 20 years James Anderson of 911 Elm Ave., Hillburn, N. Y., was a very hard drinker. His case seemed a hopeless one, but 10 years ago his wife in their own little home, gave him a simple remedy which much to her delight stopped his drinking entirely.

To make sure that the remedy was responsible for this happy result she also tried it on her brother and several of her neighbors. It was successful in every case. None of them has touched a drop of intoxicating liquor since.

She now wishes everyone who has drunkenness in their homes to try this simple remedy for she feels sure that it will do as much for others as it has for her. It can be given secretly if desired, and without cost to you. All you have to do is write her a letter asking her how she cured her husband of drinking and she will reply by return mail in a sealed envelope. As she has nothing to sell do not send her money. Simply send a letter with all confidence to Mrs. Margaret Anderson at the address given above, taking care to write your name and full address plainly. (We earnestly advise every one of our readers who wishes to cure a dear one of drunkenness to write to this lady today. Her offer is a sincere one.)

EXPERIENCES OF THE SWIMMING
EXPEDITION ON WAY TO CHICAGO

(Special Correspondence to the Star.)

Aboard the Overland Limited, February 18.—After making themselves comfortable at the Hotel Stewart and arranging appointments over the phone, the boys were interviewed by the newspapermen who had them pose for photographs.

We had to get many things to make our outfit complete before going East which kept us very busy. We all met Mr. Humphrey, president of the Olympic Club, and he extended to us the full privileges of the same.

Several of the members of the club spoke of us sending word ahead on our return so that an exhibition could be arranged, which will probably be done.

Mr. Stewart of the hotel met the boys just as they were about to take the machine for the ferry and presented each with a fine basket of assorted fruits.

Mr. Watkins and Mr. Armitage wished the boys the best of luck on their trip, and Mr. Gay saw us off at the ferry and promised to meet us in Los Angeles on our return.

The weather was exceptionally fine and the boys mentioned in San Francisco that it wasn't any colder than at home.

We soon made ourselves at home on the observation car from which we watched Frisco disappear in the distance.

Missed the Snow.

The snow-sheds near Colfax and the surrounding country were of course all quite new to the boys but somewhat disappointing as there was very little snow.

We ran into a small snow flurry in Wyoming which we soon passed out of. Practically the only snow that we have seen has been on the shady sides of mountains. The weather indicates more snow but as far as we have been able to find out there isn't any in Chicago.

The boys take their walks at intervals of a hundred miles, and their strolls are only of five minutes' duration at that.

Their appetites are not what they were aboard ship but they say they feel well and look well and there is every reason to believe that they will be in good shape for their engagements in Pittsburgh.

We expect to leave Chicago on Monday night, February 19, for Pittsburgh and will let you have details of the Pittsburgh races when we return to the Windy City.

TOMMY BURNS, ONCE DEFEATED BY JACK JOHNSON, THINKS HE HAS A CHANCE TO DEFEAT THE CHAMPION

TOMMY BURNS

SPokane, Wash., February 12.—Tommy Burns thinks he can "come back." He has not been in the ring since he was defeated by Jack Johnson in Australia four years ago, and since then he has taken on weight until he is near the 200 pound mark. Two years ago he was severely injured in a lacrosse game, but he says he has recovered and can soon be in shape for a battle. He wants to meet some of the "white hopes" as a preparation for another go with the negro champion.

WHERE DUCKS ARE THICK

Talk about being thick. Well, here is a story where a farmer found the game birds so thick that they ate the grain during the night which he had sowed during the day, and he was forced to set off fireworks during the night to frighten them away. Listen to the facts:

S. Lyons, a pioneer rancher near Brawley, after an unsuccessful war upon the myriads of wild fowl which raided his wheat and barley fields at night, resorted to fireworks to scare away the marauding quackers. Hunters, scarecrows and trap guns failed to keep the birds away from his crops at night. In fact, the birds in

ALPHABET TO BE RIFLED

Last night on the "Y" alleys the "S" team were defeated by the "W" combination pinfall being 2414 to 2410.

The "S" warriors landed two out of three games played but it was pins not games which paid for the hash.

Some enthusiasm is trying to work up a game between the "X's" and the "Z's" and we wish him joy of his job!

Fur flew in handfuls when the "S's" and "W's" clashed and when finally the ten grimy contestants emerged from the fray, hot and dusty it was found that the "W's" had managed to get away with a lead of four pins although the "S's" had taken two out of three games.

It was a great struggle, full of ginger and excitement right up to the last frame of the last game and the two teams fought like the proverbial Killenny cats.

The noise made resembled a Chinese New Year celebration only it was a little bit worse. Williams had both high score and average for the winners—218 and 170 while for the losers, Scott pulled 191 for high score and Scharlin made an average of 170.

The "S's" won the first game with a rush, pulling 761 to their opponents' 752. In the second game, the "S's" came out on top again with a score of 847 against a tally of 821. But the third game decided the match. The "W's" forged ahead with a score of 841 while the "S's" meekly trotted along behind with 812.

In the final round of the Wall tennis cup R. Sinclair defeated H. S. Gray. This afternoon at four o'clock A. L. Castle, holder, will defend his title against Sinclair on the Beretania courts.

Harry Steiner, now at Yale, and a well-known swimmer himself, in a letter written to his father dated February 23, states that the Eastern papers are full of articles about the Hawaiian swimmers.

HILO LION ARRIVED
BY THE CLAUDINE

Ben de Mello set all doubts at rest by arriving this morning by the steamer Claudine accompanied by his trainer, Jockey Willis.

The invaders had a trying passage, de Mello stating that the seas landed telling chops on the steamer pretty well all the way across.

At that the Hilo Lion looked fresh and fit as he stepped ashore with his valises—he it observed that he hasn't acquired a valet as yet.

The Portuguese says he worked hard in Hilo up to the hour of sailing and that he is in shape to put up the battle of his life. Both he and his trainer are filled with a fair measure of confidence, the latter particularly making no bones about stating his opinion that de Mello will deliver the goods.

De Mello's weight has not been officially noted as yet but there is no doubt that both he and Gilmore will save their forfeits in this respect.

The Hilo boxer is resting today and recovering from the effects of his trip. Tomorrow afternoon he will have a public work-out at the Orpheum, starting at 3:15, to which all interested are invited.

The matter of who will referee the bout, the question of break and other details will be settled at a conference of the principals to be held tomorrow night.

CHICAGO TESTS
NEXT THURSDAY

According to Lew G. Henderson, manager of the Hawaiian swimming expedition, Secretary Levy of the 1915 exposition states that he will put on an exhibition of surfing, canoe surfing, body surfing and diving and swimming during the fair and that an expert team from Honolulu will be invited to visit the Coast to take part in these aquatic.

The reason why Kahanamoku and Genoves will swim in Chicago on March 12 and 13, is that President E. C. Brown announced that the Chicago tests for the Olympic swimming team would be held on March 12.

This announcement caused Manager Henderson to change his plans in order to have his men in Chicago on that date to compete.

France has forged to the front in the thoroughbred racing game, and more money is offered in prizes on the French turf than in any other country in the world. BUILDING UP THE CITY.

The machinery to promote the interests of Hawaii has long been provided and is in good working order. As a result Honolulu and Hilo have become much larger, have gained in the number of their responsible inhabitants and this city gets all the tourists in winter it can provide for and a growing number in summer. As a popular resort Hawaii is now "on the map" and the Promotion Committee put it there.

But there is much more to do and the main thing seems to us to be to encourage the coming to Honolulu and Hilo as settlers of more white people of the class that has built up Los Angeles and San Diego and the 800,000 bay district population of San Francisco. The Eastern states are filled with well-to-do families who want to live in warmer climates than those where fate has cast their lot; but climates which are not only warm but healthful. Many of these contribute to the new population of California and Florida and some have come here. Many more should come and be induced by the Promotion Committee, for the habitable parts of these islands—the entire coast and foothill country—is free from frost, very fertile, snakeless and without any poisonous animal or plant life and subject to a complete civilization. Besides, the cities of the land have every modern improvement and have the richest population per capita in the world. The whole group, particularly the island upon which Honolulu is situated, have no history or legends of destructive earthquakes, and only one island, far from Oahu and Honolulu, has volcanic phenomena, and this is of a tame kind. In health Honolulu has an admirable record, and the island where it is situated is the second most healthful spot for troops under the American flag, Alaska being the first. Great numbers of troops give ample security.

Here is advertising material—always combined with Mark Twain's incomparable prose poem about the islands, which, if pushed in newspapers and magazines, ought to aid very much in building up Honolulu into a metropolis. We have land enough in and about Honolulu to attract at least 25,000 white heads of families of the very best class. We need these people and these people need Hawaii if they only knew it. It should now be the business of the Promotion Committee to tell them so and to encourage big landowners to put tracts on the market in eligible places and thus give newcomers a chance to make homes comparable with the old ones of the place in size and beauty and arboreal endowment. We might well leave the continuation of the direct tourist work by the agencies which profit by it most and then turn in officially for real investors and inhabitants. We particularly want people who stay and help build a big city, create new enterprises and steady the conditions which tend to our advancement in every desirable way.

The time is indeed propitious. Interest is turning toward the Pacific and the building of the canal will increase it. There are to be more ships and lower fares. If a direct line of steamers to the American sound country is established we shall get some trade and permanent population from there, and all these things should be encouraged. The Promotion Committee is able to undertake such work and should be encouraged to do it.

AN IDEAL REFORM.

The Star is quite in favor of the merit system of the appointment of police officers, but it could urge improvements in the plan suggested by Sheriff Jarrett. His idea is as follows:

"I believe the police commission should be appointed by the mayor and should serve without salary. I believe Mayor Fern could pick out a commission from the point of efficiency and would do so. Men like Jack Dowsett and others—who better could be found? And I think Fern would appoint just such men. He has shown that he can both give and receive. He has never been given much of an opportunity to show what he can do under such circumstances. I think any mayor, whoever he happened to be, should appoint the commission.

"The chief of police should be appointed by the commission and appoint all his officers on the merit system and through promotion. I believe the deputy sheriffs should be appointed and not elected as they are on this island and on none of the other islands."

The Star would prefer a general law giving the Governor power to appoint a police commission for the islands with an island constabulary under it, somewhat like that of the Philippines, subject to appointment after a physical and mental examination. This method would cost less, the constabulary would be three times as efficient as the police are now and would eliminate the force wholly from all politics. Such a constabulary could be made up of discharged regular soldiers and the picked men of the militia. Then the Sheriff would be merely a peace officer to carry out certain processes of the court, as in mainland communities, with appointive deputies.

MANNING THE LAND WITH AMERICANS.

If disposition could be made of some of the vacant land by settling honorably discharged soldiers and sailors on it under conditions that would enable them to build up homes, it would help serve the military purposes of the government. One of these is to make the islands self-supporting and give them more trained and disciplined inhabitants. The aboriginal folk will neither do agriculture nor fighting; the Orientals cannot get public land, and the Portuguese, who are good farmers, are slowly being provided for. A preferred class, for land which the United States government could condemn for the purpose, might well be ex-United States soldiers and sailors. They are a fine class of Americans and something ought to be done, if possible, to use them in Americanizing the group. We have tried to do it with everybody but Americans without conspicuous success. The time has come for some changes of method and here is one which might easily be used as a reward for longer terms of enlistment and become the means of giving Hawaii the admirable middle-class American population that it needs.

ILLITERACY TEST DROPPED.

The Senate Committee on Immigration has reported the Bill S-3175, to regulate the immigration of aliens, amending it by dropping the illiteracy test which, if retained in the bill, would shut out absolutely immigration of Japanese.

In its report the committee in regard to this matter says: "The illiteracy test, which formed part of the bill as introduced, has been dropped by the committee because in their opinion it is a change of such importance that it ought to be considered as a separate measure and not as part of this bill, the main purpose of which is the revision and codification of the immigration laws, which are very greatly needed at the present time."

It is further stated that one administrative change made by the bill is the consolidation of the Chinese service with that of the general immigration service. The enforcement of the Chinese-exclusion act is under the charge of the Secretary of Commerce and Labor at the present time, but the law requires that it should be carried on as a separate service, which necessitates a double set of accounts and increases the public expenditure for the regulation of immigration and which serves no useful purpose.

It appears that the Washington Post reporter, who published the original interview with Judge Ballou about our relations with Japan, used "may" for "will" and "might" for "shall," leaving the Judge's attitude much less pugnacious than it seemed. So our Japanese contemporaries who took the Judge's supposed blows with patience will forget and forgive and will not misinterpret the Judge's enthusiasm for a new and bigger Pacific navy, which so becomes a member of the Navy League, as anything threatening and ulterior.

The people are ready to obey any reasonable order of the Board of Health may give. All they want, as in the banana case, is freedom from what they regard as unreasonable orders. As things are, the public

No odds how well you do your task, you'll hear the knocks of those who bask in mediocrity. No man ever scaled the heights of fame but fellows jealous of his game with sneers and gibes were free. When, with his mighty, Jovial brush, Mike Angelo above the crush, in noble triumph rose, he doubtless heard the knocks and whines of cheap john skates who painted signs and barns and things like those. The rabble couldn't rattle Mike; he turned out works of art the like of which men had not known; he heeded not the carping jays, but went on painting, fifty ways, and sculpting things in stone. Do you the same, if you would win; reply to knocking with a grin, or with a seemingly jest; you'll make mistakes—all men do that—but keep a cool head in your hat, and always do your best. La Follette's notion that he is still running is shared by a decreasing minority of the insurgent faction. A similar hallucination was shared by the man who kept wandering around after he was dead. It saved funeral expenses but it didn't count for much in the man's former line of business.

If Senator Root could not keep Hawaii from being annexed at a cost of $4,000,000 in debts to be paid, he will find it a still harder job to turn it out after the United States has spent more millions here in forts, cantonments and drydocks.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

THE THEATER SITUATION.
Editor Star: Certain reflections about the theater situation in Honolulu constrain me to an utterance. The public discussion of the Harry Corson Clarke charges against Honolulu a day or two ago are still fresh in the minds of all of us. I can not help but agree with him to a great extent.

While Clarke's company could not be rated as a first-class one, still it was better than anything we have had in the past ten years or more; and the plays it presented were the standard lighter comedies and not the worthless blood and thunder melodramas we have been surfeited with in the past. It is unfortunate that this company presenting this class of plays should have been such a failure. I can not attribute it either to the fact that these plays have been presented before by poorer companies or that the prices charged were too high, we having paid far more for local amateur productions, but rather to the fact that Honolulu has become wedded to the cheap show, and, in the abundance of this variety, has lost much of its appreciation of the legitimate play.

One thing clear is that Honolulu must always remain content with inferior things and need never expect and will never have a first-class company such as Honoluluans see when they visit the East, and such as rarely comes as far west as the Pacific Coast.

Starting with the foregoing as a basis and at the same time considering the difficulties (hereafter set out) a local theatrical promoter or manager must contend with, I shall discuss the "show" as we see it upon the stage here.

At one of the show houses there is at present a number which we would gladly take our wives, our daughters, our sisters and our girl friends to hear, but on the program of the same house are two acts, one of which might possibly be endured, while the other would cause a considerable blush, to say the least, to us and to our company.

That our "shows" are subject to censure all who have not yet been perverted by them must admit, and it is this that I desire to deal with here. The fact is that rarely is there a performance in any of our popular "theaters" which has not an act or two that is "off-color." It seems apparently inevitable that some of the songs, acts or stunts presented must be coarse and vulgar, and often worse than that. That the performers are as coarse as their performances is apparent the moment they make their appearance or open their mouths. They are not such people as we would be proud to count among our friends. They have no legitimate right before the public and, apparently recognizing that they lack attractions and merit, endeavor to make up for it by appealing to the baser and coarser instincts of the audience. Their influence is destructive, especially so to the ignorant, the young, and the impressionable. A constant repetition of this character of performance coarsens the community. It is with this as with other disagreeable and objectionable things that one first endures, then tolerates and finally embraces them.

What, then, is the remedy? For such a state of affairs, in my judgment, certainly demands a remedy. I recognize that from the promoters' standpoint numerous difficulties must be met. Not being a philanthropist he must make a financial success or close down. His peculiar problem lies first in the fact that he must depend for patronage upon a heterogeneous population, not wholly conversant with English, and consequently he must appeal to the eye as much as to the ear. Subtle humor naturally makes no appeal to this mixed population, so the entertainment must be along less delicate and more apparent and blunt lines. Moreover, the care-free lethargic attitude instilled into all by our island climate creates no energetic counter demand for more solid pabulum. The promoter knows this and knows that his success lies not in plays (borne out by the Clarke experience) with a plot which the audience must follow, but in short acts and stunts with plenty of action—in something akin to vaudeville.

Having met and solved this problem he is confronted with the second one—that of securing "talent." High-priced talent he can not very well afford, for he must present frequent changes as Honolulu is small, so he confines himself to something within his reach and eliminates large groups of performers. He is willing, and in fact anxious, to get the best he can get for the money, but being far from the source of supply he can not personally attend to the matter. When he has signed his contract with his performers and paid their transportation down here he must keep them.

Recognizing this, there still is a plain remedy against vulgarity upon the stage. The few managers who are in control of the local houses can readily force their performers to so modify their performances that they will be unobjectionable. In many cases but a slight modification will be necessary, and will not interfere with the real character of the performance, for these vulgar touches add nothing, and can never make a poor act good. This would be the simplest and best method of meeting the situation and of raising the tone of our "shows", something which is sadly needed. Alternatives would be a censorship committee either appointed by the managers themselves or by the proper legal authorities.

MAKING A FOOLISH CRUSADE.

Editor Star: The morning paper is either an enemy of Governor Frear or is his most injudicious friend. During the negotiation for harmony it injected all the disturbance it could, talked of "humbling" Kubio and now wants to have Frear an issue in the coming convention. This was comforting to the anti-Frear men and the Democrats but it was most discouraging to people who were settling aside their mutual prejudices and trying to get the party together for the campaign.

ONIONS

It was then that Starrett made the remark regarding the future of the onion as a domestic product.

"I am well pleased with the result of this experiment," he said. "It was only an experiment. We started over there last October and divided up these seeds among the planters. Some of them were planted in the coconut region but we took care to make a thorough distribution although there were not more than four or five acres under cultivation altogether."

"On the Coast and throughout the States where they grow they can not be harvested until at least six months after planting, while our crop only takes four months to mature. Their onions do not come up to these in quality or size. In fact these are the best onions that I have ever seen."

"The whole island is enthused over the prospect. There will be enough right now for a few trial shipments but next year we will be able to ship five hundred carloads to the Coast before their supply is ready for harvest."

"The whole thing is that we can grow a bigger, better and finer onion in four months than they can in six. The island is onion-wild and there will soon be 1000 acres of Bermuda onions under cultivation. Everyone is enthusiastic over it and it will not be long before the onion will be putting itself up into the front rank with our exports."

Tuesday's Garden Island has the following item in point here:

Representative J. H. Coney is marketing his first onion crop, which proved to be most satisfactory. So enthusiastic is he over the results that a five-acre lot is being prepared for seeding. Mr. Coney stated in an interview with a reporter that in his first experience he discovered the soil to be too rich, and that in planting his five-acre lot he had arranged to overcome this and expects a much larger yield and a better grade.

A FLEET BOY
WRITES HOME

Canton (Illinois) Register, February 14: Mrs. Bella Montgomery Eggleston has received an interesting letter from her son, Arthur Eggleston, who is on board the battleship West Virginia, flagship of the Pacific fleet, now stationed at Honolulu, H. I.

The letter says that the fleet was expected to leave Honolulu for San Francisco January 6, but later orders were received which postponed sailing indefinitely, and the report when the letter was written was that the fleet would remain a month or two longer at the islands, where the citizens were doing everything in their power to make things pleasant for the visiting sailors and officers.

Mr. Eggleston tells of a trip to the island of Hilo, where is situated the Kilauea, the largest active volcano in the world, the crater of which is three miles in diameter. The party reached the island December 20, and on their first visit to the crater the molten lava was about 150 feet from the rim; on the third day it had boiled up to within 50 feet of the overflow mark.

Mr. Eggleston and others went down inside the crater, on the windward side, to within 10 feet of the boiling lava, and had the wind shifted, they would have been scorched. Mr. Eggleston says that it was the most wonderful sight he had ever seen and the strangest experience, to feel the earth boiling and shaking beneath his feet, the lava in places spouting up 50 or 60 feet, like a geyser, from the surface of the molten lake. On December 2 the overflow of lava came within a mile of the city, but there was no danger, as the flow tends always toward the sea. However, Mr. Eggleston says he would not care to live there.

Mr. Eggleston is leader of a quartet on the battleship West Virginia, and the organization has been invited to eight dinners. The natives like music, and the boys never refuse invitations when it is possible to accept. They also have sung in all the principal theaters of Honolulu.

VERY FINE YEAR FOR PEPEEKO

The year 1911 was the most profitable for the Pepeeeko Sugar Company of any since 1908, according to reports made this morning at the annual stockholders' meeting, held in the offices of the agents, C. Brewer & Co. A crop of 7925 tons was harvested, being considerably higher than the estimate.

The net profits of the company for the year were $187,141.83, and of this $112,500, or 15 per cent on the capitalization, was paid in dividends.

Manager James Webster expects a crop for this year of 7300 tons of sugar. He reports conditions in the mill and on the plantation as fairly satisfactory and that, while the labor situation is not all that could be desired, it seems to be improving.

No change was made in the directorate of the company.

CHIYO WILL ARRIVE TOMORROW

The Japanese steamer Chiyo Maru will arrive in this port tomorrow morning and will probably dock about 10.30 at the Backfield wharf. She brings Oriental mail, 190 Asiatics and 1500 tons of freight, and will leave for the Coast tomorrow evening carrying the last mail until the departure of the Lurline, March 19.

OLONA FIBER FOR BANK NOTES

That some one in Hawaii is interested in the possibility of finding a market for some of Hawaii's undeveloped fibers, is the interesting information which comes through a report made to the Bureau of Manufactures, Department of Commerce and Labor, by Consul General John L. Griffiths, from London. The Bureau's Consul and Trade Reports says:

A Hawaiian business man, having in view the utilization of the olona fiber of those islands, desires to know about the composition of English bank notes.

The preparation and manufacture of these notes is done entirely by the bank of England, on the bank premises, and they are made of specially prepared linen paper by a secret process. They in no way resemble the American bank note or currency, nor do they circulate under the same conditions. Every bank note that is returned to the bank of England is burned after the lapse of a certain time, i. e., the bank never reissues a note.

There is, therefore, not the same need for strengthening or re-enforcing such notes as would be the case with freely circulating currency. As regards notes issued by Scottish banks the same conditions do not apply, though the materials for such notes are ordinarily supplied by Scottish firms. A higher price asked for olona than is paid for silk would seem to militate against the ready adoption of the fiber.

As was stated in a Washington letter to the Star printed on Tuesday, experiments with olona fiber are being made by the Department of Agriculture. Prof. Lyster H. Dewey, the department's fiber expert, states that the olona fiber (Touchardia latifolia) grows wild abundantly in the Hawaiian Islands. It belongs to the nettle family and has been used for centuries there in making ropes.

TARS TO GET TRAINING

ON ACTUAL WAR SHIPS.

WASHINGTON, February 27.—Green Jacktars, who used to go to old receiving ships when they enlisted, will now go to full-fledged men of war and get their training.

The battleship Indiana today was designated to take the place of the old receiving ship Lancaster at Philadelphia; the cruiser Denver was ordered to replace the historic Independence at Mare Island, Cal., and the scout cruiser Salem will take the place of the Wash of Civil War record at Boston.

WILLETT'S SCHEME WOULD SHUT OUT ALL FOREIGN SUGAR

By J. A. BRECKONS.

(Special Correspondence of the Star.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 16.

"The House Ways and Means Committee is in a quandary in reference to the revision of the tariff on sugar, and this quandary may terminate in a tie-up or in a measure which will not materially change the present sugar schedule. The committee has found that an ad valorem duty of 35 per cent would reduce the revenue received from imports on sugar by twenty millions of dollars; also that if an internal revenue tax should be imposed upon sugar manufactured in the United States and its insular possessions for the purpose of replacing the twenty millions lost through reduction of the tariff it would not lessen the price of sugar to consumers. Therefore the committee faces the dilemma of making such a change in the tariff laws as might seriously deplete the revenues of the country without benefitting the consumers.

The committee has given some consideration to the plan suggested by Mr. Willett, the sugar expert, who, in his testimony before the special committee on the investigation of the American Sugar Refining Company, in response to a request from the committee for a plan which might insure a continuation of revenue without imposing any additional burdens on the consumers or producers, said: "I would put a duty on all foreign sugars, outside of domestic cane and beet, and sugars from our insular possessions, so high that not a pound would ever come into this country, $5 a hundred, if necessary. I would trust to the increased production of sugars in our country and in our insular possessions to prevent the price rising to anything like the tariff wall.

"The simple idea I give you is getting 40 cents revenue on every 100 pounds of sugar which the consumer uses in the United States. That would figure out more than your present revenue—over fifty-three million dollars. Now, as production and consumption increased, your revenue would increase on that basis, whereas on your present tariff basis, as your domestic production increases and your consumption decreases, your revenue decreases."

As Mr. Willett's plan would necessitate the imposition of a restrictive tariff, it can readily be seen it would hardly meet with favor by the majority membership of the House Ways and Means Committee, which, of course, is committed to a reduction instead of an increase of the tariff.

I would trust to the competition between these countries, which would result in a few years to keep the price down to the consumer."

Asked if he would be afraid of combination among the producers, he said: "Not a bit; but at the same time I would prevent it by legislation, if necessary. If there is any necessity for it, it can be prevented by legislation. Now, having fixed your tariff wall so high that no sugar can come in from abroad, then fix your internal revenue at 40 cents a hundred, the same as Great Britain's duty of 40 cents. Every consumer in Great Britain pays 40 cents a hundred tax in the way of customs duty. No individual in Great Britain gets his sugar without paying something on it.

"We would get 40 cents a hundred on all the sugars produced in Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippine Islands, and all sugars produced in the United States, cane and beet.

"The simple idea I give you is getting 40 cents revenue on every 100 pounds of sugar which the consumer uses in the United States. That would figure out more than your present revenue—over fifty-three million dollars. Now, as production and consumption increased, your revenue would increase on that basis, whereas on your present tariff basis, as your domestic production increases and your consumption decreases, your revenue decreases."

As Mr. Willett's plan would necessitate the imposition of a restrictive tariff, it can readily be seen it would hardly meet with favor by the majority membership of the House Ways and Means Committee, which, of course, is committed to a reduction instead of an increase of the tariff.

CUBA MAY SHOW INCREASE

Willett & Gray's under date of February 21, gives the following review of the condition of the raw sugar market:

The upward trend to the sugar market has continued during the week under review both at home and abroad without change until the close, when a reaction of 2 1/2d. came in beet sugar for February and March, and a larger one of 3 1/2d. for futures in May, the quotations being 18s. 1 1/2d. (5.46c) for the two months and 16s. 3d. (5.56c) Javas cane at 16s. 9d. "floating landing" are now on a parity with Cuba 96 deg. Centrifugals at 3 1/2c. c. & f. The indications now are that the London cane and the Cuba cane will continue to follow each other very closely. There are no new features to be expected in the European crop situation, and thus Cuba will continue to be the controlling influence of all markets for some months to come.

The Cuba crop developments from day to day are therefore of much consequence. At this writing from all up-to-date information by mail and cable we can report that the visible production to date is 170,000 tons short of 1910 season (when 1,800,000 tons was produced), which seems a large amount of shortage to make up, and if to be done from the abundant amount of cane in the field it will be because of unusually good and long continued favorable weather. The latest weather interruptions appear to be against such consummation, yet any close estimate now of the final output would be more or less guesswork.

On the other hand our special reports just received from one-fourth of the total number of Centrals grinding give promise of production by their estates of rather more than their earlier estimates. Instead of less, and, after allowing for the lower sugar yield of the cane compared with last year, it therefore needs caution in reducing the crop estimate, although this may have to be done later on.

From other parts, Porto Rico and Hawaii, all reports are favorable.

DEADLOCK ON SUGAR

SCHEDULE IS UNBROKEN.

WASHINGTON, February 27.—The Ways and Means Committee of the House is still deadlocked on the sugar tariff schedule.

Members of the committee today considered the advisability of taking raw rubber from the free list as a means of raising revenue that would be lost by reducing the sugar duty. "At the most," Chairman Underwood said, "by putting rubber on the dutiable list, we could not raise more than $3,000,000. That would not make up for the loss of from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 that will be inevitable in a big cut on the sugar schedule.

NEW YORK COFFEE MARKET.

NEW YORK, February 27.—E. F.

Hutton & Co.'s wire says:

"European cables are slightly lower, yet better than due. Brazil markets are irregular. Rio being lower and Santos higher. Receipts were very heavy, but this was offset by reports of heavy rains in all districts. The local situation shows no new feature, but the trend seems upward at present, due largely to the bulls' control of the spot division. A little profit taking now and then makes the market look weak at times, speculation not being broad enough to absorb any liberal selling by the trade interests without depressing it."

BIG KAUAI PINE CROP

LAWAI, Kauai, March 2.—The Kauai Fruit & Land Company's big pineapple cannery is busily engaged in putting up the winter crop of pines. The yield is somewhat above the average, and the quality is up to standard. The season's output will probably exceed that of last year by one-third. Superintendent Rath, with thirty helpers, is putting up from 300 to 500 cases per day. Three thousand square feet of extra floor space has been constructed for the accommodation of the increased business this season.—Garden Island.

A Tonic Free from Alcohol

Are you pale, weak, easily tired, and do you lack nerve power? Ask your doctor if Ayer's Sarsaparilla would not be good for you. He knows, and will advise you wisely. Not a drop of alcohol in this medicine. It puts red corpuscles into the blood, gives steady, even power to the nerves; and all without stimulation. Make no mistake. Take only those medicines the best doctors endorse. Ask your own doctor.

Various Complaints Enliven Municipal Board Session

SUPERVISOR LOW OBJECTS TO POLICE APPOINTMENTS — MAYOR FERN WANTS ROADS FOR POOR AS WELL AS RICH—WOOD PAVING OFFER FROM CASTLE—SIDEWALK ORDINANCE INTRODUCED—HACK ORDINANCE AMENDMENTS PROPOSED.

Otherwise tame with little business, and that done without excessive talk, the proceedings of the Board of Supervisors last night were enlivened in spots by complaints of Supervisor Low and Mayor Fern.

Low's first grievance was about the sidewalk ordinance submitted by Deputy Attorney Milverton. He did not like to see it "rushed" through, but he subsided when told that nothing but the usual form of introduction was intended at this time.

After routine business Low mentioned that something was going wrong in one of the departments, and by gradual stages he made it clear that he was charging the sheriff with making appointments of persons not eligible to office. It was contrary to law to appoint men who were unable to qualify for registration as voters, as not having lived in the county for one year, and this he said was the case with William P. Miller, a patrolman. Also it was wrong to appoint men on the force who failed to pay their taxes, and he named P. A. Borabaca and Robert Swaden of the detective force as examples.

The complaint was referred to the police committee.

Mayor Fern brought attention to the bad condition of Punahoa road and the road from Woodlawn to the Chinese cemetery. Nothing had been done for the former since he was mayor. To his suggestion that the road might at least be rolled Engineer Gere replied that the roller would be lost if sent up there at this season. The mayor observed that a man who put up a $6000 house was certain of having a road built to it, and he considered that poor people who had to pay taxes were entitled to roads equally with the rich.

J. J. Dias rose from a visitor's seat to describe the condition of Punahoa road, admitting he did not live there now but saying he left the locality because he could not get to his home over that road.

Dwight did not want to hear about any other roads until the work on Nuuanu avenue was completed. It was started before last year and was not finished yet. The ways and means committee ought to find more money to push the work to completion.

Importation of Birds.

There was some discussion about the expenditure of the hunting license about which Treasurer Shing's asked advice a few weeks ago. It seemed to be taken for granted it should be used to aid in the importation of Japanese pheasants and the talk was mainly about the placing of the birds on arrival.

W. H. Charlock, representing a hunting association, said although it might appear selfish he thought the birds should be placed in game preserves where they would be protected.

McClellan, on being informed that the pheasant nested on the ground, asked if the mongoose would not get away with them. Low answered that the pheasant was a fighter. The quail will run from the mongoose but the pheasant will probably show him fight.

Police Patrol Wagon.

Murray stated that the police committee was considering the advertising for a police patrol wagon, and next meeting would be prepared to submit specifications.

Hack Ordinance Amendments.

Sheriff W. P. Jarrett submitted by letter copies of amendments to the hackstand ordinance. He stated that the changing of the King street stands was done at the request of the city and county engineer. The amendments were not in enacting shape and the letter was referred to the police committee.

Changes of hackstands and of regulations suggested by the sheriff are the following:

No. 1 to west side of Smith street, between King and Hotel.

No. 4 to mauka side of Queen street between Maunakea and Kokaulike streets.

No. 5 to east side of Maunakea street between King and Queen streets.

No. 7 to east side of Liliha street between King and Kukui streets.

No. 9 to mauka side of Beretania, east of River street.

No. 14 to mauka side of Beretania street, west of College Walk.

No. 15 to Iwilei.

No. 16 to west side of Smith street between Punahoa and Beretania streets.

No more than twelve hacks to be registered on a stand, and to have one telephone.

Hacks waiting at the opera house to be changed from "the mauka side of King street close to the sidewalk" to Milliani street.

No hacks to be tied around streets except at stands.

Hacks must be registered each year.

Hack drivers to notify sheriff when they change hacks.

Chauffeurs operating to rent machines must pay license same as hack drivers, must wear badge and must register whenever they change cars. Games on hack and automobile stands to be prohibited.

Nuuanu Street Widening.

It was recommended by the road committee that the plan of the city and county engineer, submitted, for the proposed widening of Nuuanu street from Judd street to Robinson lane. The plan would cost about $5550. It would take approximately 7545 square feet of land from the Oahu Cemetery Association.

It was recommended by the road committee that $200 be appropriated for street signs.

The same committee recommended the adoption of a report of the engineer relative to removing 1000 cubic yards of earth on Lanai street, Punahoa. The engineer advised that the material be advertised for sale.

Wood Paving Offer.

Hawaiian Development Co., Ltd., by J. B. Castle, manager, wrote, upon information that the board was contemplating the paving of King street from Keesomoku to Kalakaua avenue with bitulithic, calling attention to the obia wood pavement on Fort street, and offering to lay a similar pavement on the section of road mentioned above—3in. x 6in. and 3 1/2 in. deep—for $1.35 a square yard complete, under the same conditions as those exacted from the Bitulithic Co. The letter further suggested that one side of the street be made of obia and the other of bitulithic, so that the latter might be laid first and the traffic not obstructed during the operations.

Sidewalk Ordinance.

Fred W. Milverton, first deputy city and county attorney, wrote in reply to a communication from the clerk requesting him to take action in the matter of requiring owners to construct sidewalks adjacent to their property. He stated that the city and county had practically no regulation on the subject, and he had prepared an ordinance on the subject which he enclosed. All that would be necessary after the passage of the ordinance was for the board to pass a resolution requiring the particular property owners to curb and lay sidewalks in accordance with the provisions of the ordinance. Notice of sixty days should be given to owners. The ordinance passed first reading and was referred to the road committee.

Tree Planting.

Mrs. Cherilla L. Lowrey, chairman of the outdoor circle of the Kilohehena Art League, acknowledged receipt of a letter offering to assist in planting trees at Aala Park, and stated a plan the committee had adopted for planting the trees, which it was ready to carry out immediately.

Drinking Fountains.

The health committee reported on a communication of C. H. Dickey, chairman of a special committee of the Civic Federation, stating it was unable to recommend the purchase of drinking fountains on account of a lack of funds. It was thought the proposition was a good one and, if the Civic Federation would purchase the fountains, the committee recommended that the city and county should assume the responsibility of maintaining them, such as painting, etc.

Expenditures.

Votes of money were made on committee reports as follows:

By the health committee, three payroll demands amounting to $521.35.

By the ways and means committee, one salary, one payroll and eight supply demands amounting to $1073.68.

By the committee on roads, etc., eight payroll demands and one supply budget amounting to $5559.53.

Building and Plumbing.

J. J. Michlstein, building and plumbing inspector, reported plumbing work amounting in cost to $16,202 inspected in February, and in the same month, 20 building permits issued and 109 inspections made, the estimated cost of building being $87,754. Fees collected amounted to $431.50.

Various Matters.

Henry Waterhouse Trust Co., Ltd., by its attorney, W. C. Achi, asked permission to lay out lots in a piece of land between Beretania and Hotel streets, Ewa of Alapai street.

Marion Campbell, superintendent of public works, gave notice that he had named the first lane above Paoa church Paoa lane.

Fire Chief Thurston's automobiles traveled in February, the Carter-car 251 miles and the E. M. F. 214 miles. Police machine No. 1 traveled 1026.1 miles and No. 2 525 miles.

Adjournment was taken to the evening of the 12th instant.

CALIFORNIA ANTI-SALOON FORCES ANTICIPATE BIG "DRY" VICTORY

SACRAMENTO, February 27.—In the territory north of the Tehachapi the Anti-Saloon League states that there will be "wet" or "dry" elections in sixty-seven cities and supervisory districts within sixty days. The elections in the cities will be held April 9th, the date of municipal elections for cities of the sixth class. In the supervisory districts special elections must be held. The officials of the league are confident that in nearly all the elections the "dry" will win, according to D. M. Gandler, State superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League.

One supervisory district in Shasta county has voted out the saloons, and elections will be called in each of the other four districts. The cities of Redding and Kennett will vote on the question.

In Tehama county special elections will be held in all five supervisory districts. Red Bluff will vote on license. Corning has been dry for three years. Elections will be held in the cities of Yreka, Elma Mills and Dunsmuir, and Siskiyou will vote on the license question in April.

Humboldt county will have seven elections on the liquor license issue, as the voters of each of the five supervisory districts have petitioned the supervisors to call an election in each of the districts, and the cities of Eureka and Fortuna have decided to submit the question to a vote.

In Butte county at the municipal election the voters of Biggs and Gridley will answer the question, "Shall saloons be licensed?"

Many Cities May Decide.

In April the license question will be submitted to a vote in Colusa City. Wheatland is the only place in Yuba county where an election on the saloon issue will be held.

In Placer county, Lincoln will put the issue of saloons to the test of a vote in April. The residents of Supervisory District No. 2 of El Dorado will vote tomorrow in the different precincts on local option. In Solano county Dixon will be the scene of contest.

Special elections will be held in four supervisory districts in Contra Costa county and the city of Antioch in the same county. In Sonoma county five supervisory districts will have special elections. There will be the same number in Fresno county. San Benito county will have elections in five supervisory districts.

Santa Clara county will have more elections in the near future than any other county in California. In each of the five supervisory districts there will be a special election. Elections will be held in the cities of San Jose, Gilroy, Santa Clara, Mountain View and Los Gatos.

Among the cities that will hold elections next April on the issue are Hot Water, Hanford, Lemoore, Sanger, Clovis, Merced and Richmond. Coalition will have an election on saloon reforms.

In Sacramento county two supervisory districts will have special elections and an election will be held to regulate the saloons in Sacramento.

Mr. Daniels' son, Peter J., is in charge of the plantation with his father's aid.

GUTTERS DOWN TOWN MAY GO

"There is not a gutter downtown in the business section that is not a possible breeding place for the yellow fever mosquito," declared Deputy Attorney General Lymer this morning. "We are going to see all the owners of downtown houses, and ask them what they intend doing about the matter. We have cleared up several blocks in other parts of the city, and have had no trouble as regards the obtaining of permission to tear down gutters that have been proved to be mosquito breeding places."

As Dr. McCoy is away on Hawaii, Judge Lymer is a very busy man, as he is holding down two jobs. The inspectors are all busy in different parts of the city, and they report to Lymer every day.

"The legal department has accomplished a lot of work that is not heard of," said Attorney General Lymer this morning, "and people should give credit for the way in which the notices from that department have attracted up the house and property owners." Judge Lymer will remain in charge of the legal department till March 20.

SHE DANCES THE HULA BUT DOESN'T LIKE IT

New York Review, February 17: Miss Lauretta Taylor is not under the spell of the hula hula, the ancient religious dance of the Hawaiians. In fact the charming leading lady of "The Bird of Paradise" is far from being under the spell of the hula hula, and personally dislikes it very much and only performs a refined version of the dance because it is a necessary part of the performance of the play. The statement that Miss Taylor was coached in her role by Melville E. Stone is incorrect. Mr. Stone had nothing to do with instructing her to play the part.

HAWAIIAN PLAY'S BIG RUN.

H. P. Wood, of the promotion committee, has received a letter from Richard Walton Tully, playwright, stating that his play, "The Bird of Paradise," would, by the time his letter was received, have been running in New York for over 70 consecutive nights. Mr. Tully is very much pleased with the success his Hawaiian drama has achieved. He states that crowded houses have been the rule ever since the play was first put on.

HOME OF TRUTH.

A course of lessons on practical Christian healing is now being given by Mrs. M. M. Hunter-Jones, at the Home of Truth, 1220 Kapiolani street, near Berea avenue. The eighth lesson will be given tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Subject, "The Kingdom of Heaven. Where Is It? What Is It, and How Can We Enter Into It?" A cordial invitation is extended to all earnest seekers of the higher things of life. Telephone 3923.

CUMMINS ENCOUNTERS ROUGH SEA.

The little steamer J. A. Cummins, which went around to the other side of the island a few days ago with plantation supplies and general merchandise, returned early this morning and reported that the strong northeast wind and heavy sea had prevented her from landing much of her cargo at the ports to which the shipments were consigned. She returned however with 800 bags of sugar.

NEW BRIDGE COMPLETED.

HANAPEPE, March 2.—The Hanapepe bridge, the equal of which is not to be found on the island, stands complete, save the withdrawal of timbers supporting the concrete frame. The bridge is claimed by many to have cost much more than was necessary, but this item does not concern our citizens here nor interfere with rejoicing over its completion.—Garden Island.

McBRYDE MAKING RECORD.

McBRYDE, March 3.—Up-to-date the McBryde Mill has produced a little more than 4000 tons of sugar, being a record for the output at this season, in the history of the plantation. A prominent employee of the company, is speaking of the present crop, stated that it would certainly go much beyond the estimate.—Garden Island.

SPANISH CLUB IS UNDER WAY

The first meeting of the Spanish Club was held in the Y. M. C. A. building last night. Eleven names were enrolled and A. E. Latimer, who is directing the activities of the club, is expecting to have several more names added to the list by Friday evening, when the second meeting of the club will take place.

Joseph Rose, who is the interpreter in the local courts, will guide the club members through "Cortina's Spanish in Twenty Lessons."

The club is composed of young men who wish to acquire a conversational knowledge of the Spanish language and will meet twice weekly—on Tuesdays and Thursdays—from 8 till 9 p. m.

Thirty school superintendents, officers and teachers attended the dinner given at the University Club last night to discuss the relationship of the boys' club to the Christian Extension Movement, and although they convened at 6 p. m., there was so much to be said on the subject that it was nearly 10 o'clock before the meeting broke up.

HIGHWAYMAN ON GARDEN ISLE

ANAHOLA, March 1.—Anahola hill was the setting for an attempted hold-up last Tuesday evening, when a Japanese collector who was slightly under the influence of liquor, was attacked by an unknown bandit who was thwarted in his attempt, only by the inferior speed of his horse over that which was ridden by his victim.

The collector was a man who had been sent over from Honolulu, and shortly before the attack, had received a payment of three hundred dollars. The transaction had evidently been observed by the would-be highwayman, and before the collector had gone far, he heard shouts in the rear. On turning to learn the meaning of the shouts and from whence they came, a gun of some kind was fired, almost in his face. His hat was blown off his head and had not the horse become frightened at this juncture and dashed down the road, it is not unlikely that murder and robbery would have both resulted. No clue has yet been found which might lead to the arrest of the robber.—Garden Island.

THE FIRST OFFICER'S DEATH.

The death of the first officer of the U. S. A. T. Logan, W. D. Cameron, aboard the ship while in harbor at Mariveles, P. I., was a sad ending of an active, useful life.

When the Logan left Manila on February 14 and stopped for fumigation, as usual, at Mariveles for twenty hours, Mr. Cameron was ill but not thought to be seriously so, but at two o'clock on the next morning he died. The transport returned the twenty-five miles to Manila where the remains were embalmed and the casket is now on the troopship being taken to San Francisco for burial. Mrs. W. D. Cameron lives in San Francisco.

For over twelve years doing transport duty as the first officer of the Logan the late Mr. Cameron leaves an honorable record and many friends.

"THE STOVE OF SATISFACTION"

Stoves with absolutely "no wicks," no perforated "metal rings" or anything that looks like a wick.

No tall chimneys, causing flame to be 8 or 10 inches from the bottom of the cooking utensil.

In this Stove the Cooking Utensil is placed close to the intense blue flame which consumes every bit of heat out of the fuel directly under the Cooking Utensil.

The burner of this Stove produces a full "hot oil gas fire."

Burns any grade of Coal Oil or Distillate.

These stoves will give as good result as a Gas Stove, and can be run at a cost of fuel equivalent to Coal Gas at 75c per 1000 feet.

Note the saving—Free from Soot, Smoke and Smell, absolutely safe and easy to operate.

Their Traveler is now here.

Call and see these Detroit Stoves early. Demonstrations daily.

KUHIO REPLIES

reaching in the interference with the choice of the delegates to be elected, no matter how good and honest the motives that may have prompted it.

Such an agreement, if carried out, would make the coming Republican convention a howling farce.

Such an arrangement stamps the one hundred and sixty delegates to be elected by the people of the various precincts throughout the Territory to that convention as straw men and political dummies.

At the conference, I called the attention of Chairman Cooper of the Republican Executive Committee to the fact that at a meeting held at my home several months ago, at which he and party leaders were present, I had insisted upon the elimination of my controversy with Governor Frear on a question of public policy.

Instead Chairman Cooper and his committee ignored this suggestion, given in the interest of party harmony and three days later endorsed Governor Frear and has since continued to promote his candidacy.

As for the chairman of the Executive Committee, not only is it not his right to dictate the selection of delegates, but it is his duty to see that delegates be not selected in this manner. To calmly pass up the duties of the convention, to suavely transfer its rights, to dicker with anyone on the subject, with the obvious purpose of using the machinery of the Executive Committee in any way which might interfere with the fair choice of delegates, national committeemen and officers of the convention, is usurpation of power and a violation of the vital principles of the Republican party, which should be frowned upon and resented. No self-respecting Republican should or would submit to such dictation.

It is an honorable ambition to seek selection as delegate of the Republican party in Hawaii to the national convention which will choose our standard-bearer and declare its principles for the coming campaign, and no aspirant for that honor should be peremptorily told by Mr. Cooper or anyone else that the choice lies elsewhere than with the Territorial convention.

I do not wish to go to Chicago as a delegate chosen by any one man. I go at all I wish to go as one chosen by the Republican party in convention assembled.

It must also be borne in mind that the people of this Territory as well as in many states on the mainland, have fought for the enactment of primary laws solely and primarily to enable them to do away with political bosses controlling nominating conventions and to secure to themselves their unquestioned right to select their candidates through the ballot box.

I believe that in order to strengthen the party during the campaign in November, the voters at large must know that those who are entrusted with the care and management of the party are working in good faith for the people and for the Territory. ed.

Without these assurances, we will surely fall at the polls.

I think any other course is a mistake and not true Republicanism. I would rather rest my fate in the hands of the people. Whatever else may be said of me, I am not a dictator.

So far as my return to Washington is concerned, I need say little. No honest man—no fair-minded man can point to a single instance in my career as Delegate where the interests of Hawaii have been neglected by me. Upon this I am ever ready to have my constituency pass. Perhaps I may in some instances differ with others as to the proper course to be pursued; undoubtedly I at times am in error. These differences and these errors, however, may never be truthfully charged to neglect on my part. An endeavor to do so will meet with refutation in every line of my record.

The paramount issue today is how to secure harmony in the Republican ranks. The personal ambitions of any of these so-called leaders or office-holders, no matter how high, should not jeopardize what we seek to accomplish—a united party.

After all that has been said and done, the only real difference of opinion between us lies in the selection of the national delegates; and this can safely be left to an unfettered convention of the party without a program previously arranged by a few political wirepullers.

LODGE'S ALIEN EDUCATIONAL QUALIFICATION PROPOSITION

By J. A. BRECKONS.
(Special Correspondence to the Star.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., February 21.—Senator Lodge today introduced the following bill to regulate the admission of aliens into the United States: "That from and after July first, nineteen hundred and twelve, there shall be excluded from admission to the United States, the following persons: All male aliens sixteen years of age or over who are physically capable of reading and writing, but who are unable to read and write in some language or dialect, such aliens to be tested in this regard in accordance with methods and rules to be prescribed by the Secretary of Commerce and Labor; but an admissible alien may bring in or send for his father or grandfather over fifty-five years of age, or a son not over eighteen years of age, otherwise admissible, whether said father or grandfather or son are able to read and write or not. This provision, however, shall not apply to citizens of Canada, Newfoundland, Cuba, the Bahamas, or Mexico, nor to alien residents of continental United States returning from foreign contiguous territory after a temporary sojourn therein, nor to aliens in continuous transit through the United States, nor to the inhabitants of the Philippine Islands, Guam, Porto Rico, or Hawaii, nor to aliens arriving in the Philippine Islands, Guam, Porto Rico, or Hawaii; but if any such alien, not having become a citizen of the United States, shall later arrive at any port or place of the United States on the North American Continent, the reading and writing requirement shall apply, unless otherwise excluded."

There are some differences in the foregoing from the amendment to the immigration bill, with respect to the educational qualification of aliens for admission, which was deferred at the request of Mr. Lodge as reported in the Star of yesterday.

THE FUTILE NEGOTIATIONS TO PREVENT GREAT COAL STRIKE

LONDON, February 27.—No settlement of the coal dispute was reached at the various conferences in which Premier Asquith and members of his cabinet and representatives of the mine owners and miners participated today.

The official statement of the proceedings issued tonight, which some predicted would report that an agreement had been reached, merely records the fact that various conferences occurred, but tells nothing of what was said or done at any of them. It concludes with the announcement that the conferences will be resumed tomorrow, from which all that can be deduced is that the government still is striving to avert a stoppage of the gigantic industry on which the country's commercial supremacy is based.

Between 30,000 and 40,000 miners in Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire ceased work today, in accordance with notices previously given, and it is now evident that as the time limit provided for in the notices expires the men will lay down their tools and await the action of the Miners' Federation.

The negotiations have not advanced to that stage where it is advisable that the members of the cabinet and the representatives of the owners and the miners meet. It had been expected that such a meeting would be held this afternoon. The position of the miners' representatives is much simpler than that of the owners' representatives. The former are authorized by the National Miners' Federation practically to present the ultimatum:

"A national minimum wage or a national strike."

Until the owners are persuaded to concede the minimum principle it is obvious that nothing can be accomplished by bringing the disputants together. From the fact that this has not been done, it is inferred that the cabinet has not succeeded in inducing the owners to make that concession.

That the sanguine expectations of ultimate success are not yet justified is shown by the answer given to interviewers by James Haslam, member of Parliament and leader of the Derbyshire miners, who attended the conference.

"There is no outlook at present," Haslam said. "The government seems to have gone as far as it can go. The miners are very anxious, just as we are, but it is going to be a hard job."

In Parliamentary circles, where presumably inside information has been obtained, there is an undeniable feeling of optimism, but if government intervention fails y Friday morning practically every collier in the land will be shut down. Meanwhile many thousands of miners are making ready to strike, and the time left to accomplish anything by negotiations is short.

The negotiations continued until near midnight. Premier Asquith had another conference with the owners' committee after 9 o'clock, and neither the premier, Chancellor Lloyd-George nor the president of the Board of Trade, Sydney Buxton, was able to appear in the House of Commons tonight because of the coal situation.

HOW THE BIG MEN FEED THEMSELVES IN WASHINGTON

By J. A. BRECKONS.
(Special Correspondence of The Star.)
WASHINGTON, February 21.—Papers throughout the country seemed to be somewhat amused a few years ago when the item was published telling how Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou took his lunch at a beanyery across the street from his office, perched on a tall stool like any clerk in his department, and ate pie and coffee, at ten cents the luncheon; or a sandwich and a glass of "half-and-half"—which means in Washington half milk and half cream—at 15 cents. Mr. Cortelyou did not relish the badinage and acquired the habit of having his lunch brought in and eating it in his private office. However, the former secretary of the treasury was not unlike many prominent men in his simplicity of diet. They will tell you at the capitol of senators who barely eat at all, in the middle of the day, although their dinners may be a different menu. Senator Perkins of California often omits his luncheon altogether, and when he does take the trouble to go to the "refectory," as the senators call their lunch room, he is very likely to regale himself on crackers and milk. Senator Chamberlain has not eaten anything but graham bread and milk for a long time; but this is on his doctor's orders. He has had a little difference with his stomach about what he ought to eat.

Tastes differ, however, as greatly among the great men as they do among ordinary mortals, the difference being chiefly that the big men are more simple in their desires. This may be because their appetites have been sated with good things ingested at many dinners and banquets. Many a man, coming to the big cities and getting weary of the French dishes offered to him day after day, has felt like the miner with the big roll, who ordered "ten dollars' worth of ham and eggs." It happens sometimes that the longing is for pork and beans, or corned beef and cabbage; but this statelike desire for the old, familiar brands of food manifests itself very often.

Possibly there were too many complaints about the cost of living by people who sometimes had to patronize the senate restaurant where it is not safe to take in too liberal a sense the injunction not to tip the waiters. At any rate a small restaurant has been opened in the senate office building and although the equipment is entire

MAYOR SHANK OF INDIANAPOLIS ON EASTERN TRIP IN FURTHERANCE OF HIS LOWER COST OF LIVING CRUSADE

MAYOR LEW SHANK

NEW YORK, February 16.—Lew Shank, mayor of Indianapolis, who cut the cost of living in his home town, is visiting New York to get additional material for further conducting his crusade. He criticizes the New York public markets, declaring that the beef trust has crowded out the farmers here, that too few vegetables are on sale and that women do not visit them. He also took a shot at commission men, branding them as highbinders.

UNPRECEDENTED PROSPERITY IN THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, February 23.—Unprecedented prosperity is being enjoyed by the Philippine Islands principally as a result of free trade between them and the United States, and the cry of "hard times" there no longer can be raised, say the members of the Philippine Commission in their report for 1911. The United States has shared in this prosperity by increasing its exports to the archipelago to $49,800,000, or more than $12,500,000 during the year. Free trade has resulted in increased revenues to the Philippines in sugar and tobacco and an improvement in the market for copra.

The opening of new railway lines in various parts of the islands has resulted in stimulating industry and fostering production, the territory through which they pass having awakened to the development of agricultural industries. A steady and healthy growth of the postal savings bank, Philippine depositors having increased 171 per cent over the number of the previous year.

Health conditions of the entire islands never have been better than during the past year.

The following is a summarization of the report issued by the Bureau of Insular Affairs, War Department:

Commercial Development.

It is stated that the cry of "hard times" can no longer be raised in the Philippine Islands, as most of the provinces have enjoyed a year of unprecedented prosperity. The result of the legislation by Congress, which practically granted free trade between the islands and the United States, has surprised even its most optimistic friends and advocates. The second year of experience with this law has shown a decrease of $2,000,000 in exports to the United States. The fact that the markets of the United States were open to the products of the islands has resulted in an increase in the price of sugar and tobacco and an improvement in the market for copra, but these products, as heretofore, have found their way to the natural markets in the nearby countries of the Orient.

Imports.

The total value of imports into the islands during the year amounted to $49,833,722 as compared with $37,067,630 for 1910. The United States headed the list of countries with 40 per cent of the total importations as against 30 per cent in 1910.

Exports.

The total value of exports was $39,778,829 as compared with $39,717,943 the previous year. Exports to the United States decreased from $18,793,678 in 1910 to $16,813,864, but this country still occupies first place, taking over 40 per cent of the total exports. The principal articles of export are hemp, copra, sugar, tobacco, cigars and cigarettes.

KNOX'S GREAT PANAMA WELCOME

PANAMA, February 27.—The Central and South American tour of the American Secretary of State has begun auspiciously with big welcoming crowds at Colon and Panama.

Knox went ashore at Colon from the armored cruiser Washington this morning and was met by Government officials and a great crowd of American residents and citizens of Colon, who greeted him with cheers.

The Panama Government is fulfilling its promise to make the Secretary's visit notable. Secretary Knox said he was surprised at the extent of the preparations for his entertainment and gratified at the cordiality of his reception.

He arrived at Panama by special train this afternoon and was greeted by a committee representing the Government and Maurice H. Thatcher, Governor of the Panama canal zone.

The Secretary and others were escorted to automobiles between lines of police holding back a great throng. The station was fairly hidden by American flags. As Knox appeared on the street the party halted and the crowd uncovered as the band played "The Star-Spangled Banner."

After luncheon, Secretary Knox called on Acting President Chiari and members of the Cabinet, the officials returning the call. The ladies of the American party exchanged visits with the wives of the Panama officials.

The American Minister and Mrs. Dodge gave a dinner in honor of the visitors tonight at thelegation, the guests including Acting President Chiari, President Arosemena, who is on leave of absence from his office; Second Vice-President Frederico Boyd, Aristides Arjona, Minister of Foreign Affairs; Dr. Belisario Porras, former Minister to the United States and now the Liberal party's candidate for President; Aurelia Guardia, Minister of Finance and Chief Justice Espinosa and their wives.

Knox responded gratefully to the speeches of welcome, but reserved his first formal set speech for an official function tomorrow. The dinner was followed by a reception at which 400 prominent citizens met the American Secretary.

LOCAL RIVALRY HURTING KAUAI

By A. J. BRECKONS.

(Special Correspondence of the Star.)
WASHINGTON, February 21.—Rival claims for the two harbor sites on the island of Kauai resulted in the board of engineers refusing to recommend the improvement of either for the present and the superior advantages of each harbor in reaching the greatest number of people so forcibly claimed by the contending parties, the board was unable to decide, evidently, as between the two. In any event no recommendation will be made for either harbor at present, and the intimidation gathered by those who attended the hearing of the board was to the effect that until the rival interests can get together and agree on either Port Allen or Nawiliwili, no recommendation will be made.

We will make the island trip, with party of three or four at $6.00 each; and party of five or six at $5.00 each. Our per hour rates are $2.50, $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00. Holidays, $5.00 per hour. Silva's Auto Stand, Chaplain street, opposite Catholic Mission. Phone 3664 or 1179.

PAPA JOHNSON SAYS NOTHING CAN BEAT TAFT FOR NOMINATION

SACRAMENTO, February 25.—Grove L. Johnson, veteran politician, attorney of Sacramento and father of Governor Hiram Johnson, returned yesterday afternoon from a year's tour of Europe. Interviewed in his apartments at the Hotel Sacramento, he declared that Taft would be nominated and re-elected President and that Woodrow Wilson will be the banner-bearer for the Democratic party for 1912.

Johnson lashed with fine scorn the men who professed deep affection for Senator La Follette and then deserted him for Colonel Roosevelt.

KENT OF CALIFORNIA TELLS WHY HE QUILTS THE GAME

By J. A. BRECKONS.

(Special Correspondence of the Star.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 17.—"It isn't that I could not win as an independent candidate," said Hon. William Kent, who recently made public his intention not to try for another term in Congress; "but I find that I haven't the time or patience to play the game here, and in the meantime my business interests are suffering."

"If I were thirty years old," he continued, "and had infinite patience, and a great deal of time, I would consider it worth while. But it is so difficult to accomplish anything, I am too old for the game. I feel that I can do more in some other field of activity."

Mr. Kent of Kentfield looked sorrowful. "The republican party," he remarked, "is getting away from the policy it formerly believed in as to the tariff. It used to believe in protecting a young industry until it became self-sustaining. Now it wants to fix the tariff at a figure represented by the difference in the cost of production here and abroad. That, it seems to me, is a subsidy, and I am against subsidizing anything. Now with those views, I would have to be explaining how I claimed to be a republican wherever I went, and I do not want to be put in the democratic party, and I am not a socialist."

There are a lot of good men here. There are a good, representative lot of men. They do a great deal of work, but it does not seem to count for much. Take the committees. Many of them go right down to the root of things and work very hard, but when they bring in their reports they may be knocked out because of some political move. It is hard to get results here; I have accomplished something in my time, and I believe I can still do much, but in some other field."

SAN FRANCISCO CLUB WOMEN DENOUNCE IMMORAL DANCES

SAN FRANCISCO, February 28.—Club women, theatrical managers and others interested in the demand that certain dances be banned by the Board of Supervisors gathered at the meeting yesterday of the Public Welfare Committee of the Board.

The "Texas Tommy" was referred to frequently, during the discussion, and Val Harris was called upon, as the author of this dance, to speak. He said: "I wrote the swing that is called the 'Texas Tommy.' I saw it danced three or four years ago in Texas. It is just four little hops and a slide. Other people have put in the dips. It is a decent dance as I wrote it. The 'Texas Tommy' that is complained about here is not the original. Everybody dances the 'Texas Tommy' in his own way. I would be glad to show what it is when danced in correct fashion. I have danced it before the mayor and other good people here."

The committee did not request an illustration of the "Texas Tommy" by its originator. There was no exemplification of any of the terpsichorean movements to which objection was made.

Mrs. J. W. Felt and Mrs. E. H. Barbary Coast section, thus making O'Donnell of the Richmond Women's Club, from which the petition for legislation against immoral dances in public came, said that at a moving-picture theater on Market street and another in the Mission the "Texas Tommy" was given with Barbary Coast surroundings. In the Richmond district at a similar theater the "Apache dance" was given as danced in a resort on Pacific street. They remarked that the Barbary Coast atmosphere and scenes should not be brought into the home districts of the city. The "ragging" in dance halls was also condemned by them. Mrs. Felt stated that the Congress of Mothers had called attention to the all-night dancing in a hall on Fillmore street, at which girls were pined with liquor.

Other Club Women Protest.

Mrs. F. M. Malloye of the California Club, Mrs. Lillian H. Coffin of the New Era League and Miss J. S. Lee, secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, also told about the demoralizing effects of the "rag" dances as given here now.

A saloonkeeper named Mitchell contended that the dance halls on the Barbary Coast were not so bad now as years ago. He stated that the girls who danced there wore more clothing now than at a former period. So he thought that depravity here was not on the increase.

Supervisor Payot, chairman of the committee, caused merriment by asking: "Is there any difference between the 'Texas Tommy' and the dance they call the 'honey-bug' or the 'bunny-hug'?"

Val Harris could not tell, confessing that he was wholly ignorant about the "bunny-hug."

Supervisor Giannini thought that the police could regulate the dancing exhibitions under the State law against obscene or indecent performances.

Probation Officer J. C. Astredo said that when the police made arrests the cases were dismissed either in the Police or Superior Court, the judges holding that the performances complained of were not indecent in the meaning of the law. He considered strict ordinances necessary. Astredo also suggested, as measures for the enforcement of decency, that the sightseeing automobiles should not be allowed to take tourists through the city. The Chinatown guides, who show the alleged vices of the Chinese quarter to visitors, ought to be put out of business. In the dances which were complained about, he said, there was something that was flagrantly improper, but at the dance halls there was a spirit of looseness against which young people needed protection, and urged that ordinances concerning the attendance of minors at such places be passed.

Supervisor A. J. Gallagher observed that the low wages, which he said was paid to young women employed in this city, were as much a cause of immorality as the dances. The other members of the committee said that they could not believe that the industrial conditions here were as Gallagher asserted.

Will Stop Them on Complaint.

In response to a remark that the "Texas Tommy" and "rag" dances were indulged in at exclusive society entertainments, Mrs. Coffin said that what was done at private entertainments was not for the Supervisors to regulate, but it was the duty of the Board to legislate for good conduct in public.

Chief of Police White stated that any indecent performance would be stopped on complaint being made. If witnesses came forward and testified, he had no doubt that the offenders in every case would be convicted. The failure to convict was generally due to the neglect of those who complained to appear at the trial, he said. The chief stated that every officer was authorized to stop obscene or indecent exhibitions in a theater, just as he would if they took place on the street.

Chief White stated that the managers of the larger theaters were willing to eliminate from performances any feature to which objection was made on the score of decency whenever the police so requested.

The committee decided to refer the matter to the Police Commission, with a request that such dances as were improper or had an evil tendency be stopped.

Canadians Agitate Against Fellow Subjects of India

Vancouver Sun, February 16.—That the safety of white women and children in this city will eventually be placed in jeopardy through the increasing influx of Hindoos under existing conditions; that from the same source contagious diseases may originate and spread, and that sanitary conditions are already outrageous, is the belief of several prominent citizens of Ward 7, and expressed last night at a meeting of the Ward Seven Conservative Club.

Some of these citizens who live in the immediate vicinity of the Vancouver Hindoo colony declare that, in some cases, the filth and squalor of the colony is worse than that existing in the slums of London. The outburst of feelings on the part of the Ward Seven residents arose as a result of the recent agitation regarding the admission of Hindoo women into this country.

Mr. James Reid, president of the Ratepayers' Association, when speaking of the question, declared that not only was he against such a proceeding, but that he was also forcibly opposed to allowing Hindoos in Canada under any circumstances.

"When this question became agitated recently," said Mr. Reid, "I made it a point to tour the district where they live and from conditions found I am convinced they are a people whom we would do well to eliminate. In one instance I have learned there were eight Hindoos living in one room. The argument is put forth that the bringing of Hindoo women into the country will result in bettering conditions. I do not believe so. If such was the case, how do we account for the inherent filth of the men? If by nature they were cleanly, they would be so under any circumstances."

A White Man's Country.
Mr. P. P. Patterson, member of the license board, was heartily in accord with the sentiments of Mr. Reid. He stated that he was strongly opposed to Hindoo immigration to this country. "I want to see British Columbia maintained as a white man's country," declared Mr. Patterson. "If every section of Canada would take the stand of the Ward Seven citizens and others in Vancouver and British Columbia, the government would soon realize the fact that it was the sentiment of the people in the majority and perhaps take some action."

Mr. W. T. Campbell, a resident of Ward Seven, also spoke strongly against the Hindoos and their method of living.

"If these people who are in favor of Hindoos residing here were compelled to raise a family in their immediate vicinity I think they would hold a different view of the matter. I do not feel like letting my children out of my yard. Who can tell whether, in their childish innocence, they might not wander into the hovels of these people and contract some fearful disease? I myself found that seventeen men were living in a room which measured only 12x12 feet."

"As to the matter of allowing Hindoo women here, I think that would only make matters worse. On the other hand, not to allow them may result in the safety of our white women and children being jeopardized. My solution of the problem is, return the Hindoos to their own country, or go to some places where their presence is not objectionable. British Columbia and Canada now has a high standard of citizenship and I believe we should work unceasingly to keep it so."

Would Bond Women.

"I believe the immigration authorities should be instructed by the government to exclude Hindoo women," was the statement of Mr. J. R. Jacobs. "As in Hindoos generally, I am opposed to their presence. I would suggest that in the event of it being impossible to exclude the women, that a bond of no less than $7000 be placed upon the entrance of a woman, this sum to insure that she shall live respectably while in this country."

The statements of the men quoted above resulted from an argument by F. E. Round, made during the meeting, who advanced bringing Hindoo women into this country, declaring it was not good for man to live alone, and setting forth arguments expounded by other men regarding the safety of the white women and children.

A vigorous campaign will be inaugurated and maintained during which all the individual and political power possible to be brought to bear will be exercised by Ward Seven residents to bring about the ultimate exclusion of the Hindoos.

AN ALASKAN INDIAN OF HIGH LINEAGE PROCLAIMS HIS WOES

JUNEAU, February 16.—That the Alaska Indian has few rights which the white man is bound to respect is shown by the following letter written by the son of the last chief of the Auk tribe and an Indian of some education and addressed to the register of the land office here. The letter is as follows:

"I, Jack Yagan, the writer of this letter, am a full-blooded Alaskan Indian. My father, Klow-Kek, was head of the Auk tribe.

"My father and myself, and our forefathers, years and years before any white man ever came to Alaska, owned or claimed to own the great country around about the district of Juneau as our hunting ground. So when gold was discovered in the basin, we knew the ground well.

"My father and I brought over the first party to Juneau in our canoe. From the first landing of the first party in Juneau, we all, whites and Indians, camped in tents in what is now the heart of the town of Juneau.

"A few years after the landing of the first party, more and more whites began to come, and the whites began to crowd the Indians, and the Indians crowded the whites, so that the good white men decided to separate the Indians from the white men. Now it was also decided that the Auk tribe go one side of Juneau, and the Taku tribe being in the village known to the white men as Auk village, or Indian town, on the northern side of Juneau, and the Taku tribe towards the southern part of Juneau.

"Now then, my father and I went to the Auk village and cleared the ground as I have already mentioned, we were told to move there and be it known to you that every part of it was thickly covered with large trees, and it took many months to clear that ground so we could live there and it also known to you that I have lived there always since.

"Some years after we cleared the ground, the city laid out its streets, and to my great sorrow one of the street lines fell in the same ground my father and I cleared, but I never knew it until four or five years ago, when the city marshal ordered me never to build there again. I say that is the first time I ever heard of it. I have always tried to be friendly and honest in all my dealings with the whites.

"Although the city marshal ordered me never to build on the ground, I have never given up my possession of the ground, having no other place for my canoes and fishing boat. I put up a platform on the said ground and kept my boats on it for safety. I told the city council that I will not give up my right until they pay me for my troubles. I heard no more from them until three or more months ago while I was away from home and only my wife and children at home. The city marshal then ordered my boats away again against my wife's protest, with a threat of arrest if the boats were left on my own ground.

"The marshal says it is the government's ground, but I say it is mine, and the government has no right to give it away to anybody without first settling with me for it. Since my boat and canoe were moved away from there, they are cracked and damaged. I feel bad the way the white men are treating me. I am writing you this long letter and telling you my bitter woes. I am not asking the city, nor anybody any favors, for I am not taking anything that belongs to them, but I do want them to treat me fair and square, and to you, the land agent, I say that I feel sure that you will do your duty, as an agent of an honest government."

THE MOON BEFO' THE WAH.

Shortly after the war of '61 a visitor to Charleston was admiring the old battery and the harbor. Looking toward Fort Sumter he commented on the effects of the war, and while expressing his admiration of everything that was really Charlestonian, his guide almost tearfully reminded him that he should have seen it "befo' the wah!" It happened to be a bright moonlight night and the stranger called attention to the brilliant reflection on the water, only to be met with the remark, "Taint so bright as it was befo' the wah, sir; you should have seen it then." There is no change in the brilliancy of the moon down at Charleston, and a dance there, such as the guests enjoy every month, is worth while. There is an auto in the rent service at the hotel.

BY AUTHORITY

PORT REGULATIONS OF THE TERRITORY OF HAWAII.

Adopted By
THE BOARD OF HARBOR COMMISSIONERS,
February 28, 1912.

1. All vessels that may enter any port of the Territory of Hawaii, shall be anchored as designated by the Harbor-master, and moved from one anchorage to another as he may direct; and no vessel, excepting inter-island coasting vessels, shall leave its anchorage or mooring, or any wharf, until the commanding officer shall have received the written permission of the Harbor-master.

2. Assigning of berths to vessels at wharves shall be under the direction of the Harbor-master or his assistants. Applications for berths must be made of the Harbor-master except for the vessels of such companies as have been assigned preference berths, and such applications must state the length, draught of the vessel, kind of cargo and locality desired. Berths will be assigned in the order of application, provided, however, that vessels ready to discharge cargo shall have preference right over those to receive cargo.

3. Vessels must leave the berth originally assigned, move to new berth, or haul into the stream at their own expense, when ordered by the Harbor-master so to do. Upon failure to obey any such order the Harbor-master may cause such removal at the expense of such vessel and owners.

4. No person, officer, sailor, deck hand or employee of any vessel or company, shall make fast any rope, chain or moorings, or means of mooring, to any dolphin, shed, post or part of any structure, and shall only make fast any rope, chain or means of mooring to mooring piles, mooring bits or rings provided for such purpose.

5. No person, officer, sailor, deck hand or employee of any vessel or company shall stretch mooring lines or any lines across a slip to a wharf or mooring without the prior permission of the Harbor-master, and shall lower or take in any such mooring line or lines when directed by the Harbor-master.

6. Any sailing vessel entering a port shall, if so requested by the Harbor-master or any pilot, rig in their jib, and sparker booms, and spital sails, and top their lower and topsail yards, within twenty-four hours after anchoring in such port; and in all cases before attempting to come alongside of, or make fast to any of the docks or wharves, and keep them so rigged in and topped until within twenty-four hours before leaving the harbor, and until after removing from any wharf or dock.

7. All vessels moored to any wharf, must have on board at least one person in charge, who has authority to take action in an emergency, if the same may be necessary, and to obey any reasonable order that may be given by the Harbor-master.

8. No combustible materials, such as pitch, tar, resin, or oil, shall be heated on board of any vessel within the harbors of the Territory of Hawaii, but all such combustible articles shall be heated either on shore, or in a boat, or on a raft, at a reasonable distance from the vessel, of which distance, the Harbor-master shall be the judge.

9. No substance that will sink, or rubbish, garbage or refuse shall be thrown from any vessel into the harbors or upon any wharf in the Territory of Hawaii, under the penalty as herein provided.

10. Owners, masters and engineers of oil burning steamers, must not pump bilges or discharge any waste oil or fuel oil in any harbor of the Territory of Hawaii, and the owners, masters and engineers of oil burning steamers, or oil burning transports, will be held responsible for any infraction of this rule and subject to the penalties as herein provided.

11. Owners of pipe lines or other oil carriers whose equipment from leaks or other causes, shall allow the discharge of oil into the harbors of the Territory of Hawaii, shall be subject to the penalties as herein provided.

12. When ballast, stone, coal, brick, ashes, cinders, dust, rubbish or other loose matter or loose material that will sink is being landed from any vessel upon a wharf, or being transferred from one vessel to another, shall have a tarpaulin properly stretched and spread, so as to prevent any of the material handled from falling into the waters of the harbor.

13. No person or persons shall throw or cause to be thrown, leave or cause to be left, upon the shores or reefs of any of the harbors of this Territory, any dead animal.

14. Every steam engine when used upon any wharf for loading or unloading cargo, and steam engines on scows or pile driver engines, when working near or alongside of any wharf, must have upon its smoke stack, a bonnet or spark catcher, that will effectually prevent sparks from falling on any wharf or any vessel.

15. Donkey engines operating under any sheds, must be provided with a bent or curved pipe with spark arrester, extending to the outside of the shed. The owners of donkey engines or hoisting engines operated on any wharves or along the waterfront, must at the close of each day's work, clean up and remove all ashes, cinders and wastes from their engines.

16. Coals, screens, donkey engines and stevedores' tools and appliances must be removed from the wharf when directed by the Harbor-master.

17. If any vessel leaves a wharf without the permission of the Harbor-master, unless forced to do so by stress of weather or fire, without first paying dockage, such vessel will not be permitted to use any wharf or bulkhead without first paying the amounts due and $50 in addition.

18. In case any damage is done to any wharf, shed or other structure belonging to the Territory of Hawaii, on any waterfront in the harbors of the Territory, by any vessel or otherwise, the said damage, together with the name and address of the person causing it, must be reported in writing forthwith by the Harbor-master to the Chairman of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, giving the date and hour, if possible, and the name and address of such persons witnessing accident, and the expense of repair of such damage shall be charged against said vessel or person. The Harbor-master shall keep a record of such transactions in some appropriate book kept for such purpose.

19. It shall be the duty of the Harbor-masters of the Territory of Hawaii to board all vessels arriving from foreign ports, as soon as possible after they shall have entered the harbor; to direct them where and how to moor or make fast; to change their anchorage or moorings from time to time as circumstances may require; and to see that the commanding officer and agents of vessels have printed port regulations.

20. Any person or persons who shall violate any of the above rules or regulations, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be subject to the penalties as provided by Section 9, Act 163 of the Session Laws of 1911.

REGULATION PROHIBITING MOTOR VEHICLES FROM ENTERING ANY ENCLOSED PORTION OF ANY WHARF IN THE TERRITORY OF HAWAII.

21. All motor vehicles using gasoline, either in internal combustion engines or for the purpose of generating steam, will not be permitted to enter under any enclosed portion of any wharf in the Territory of Hawaii. Motor vehicles destined for transshipment must have the gasoline securely shut off and be moved by hand.

Motor vehicles used for the transportation of freight will be permitted to enter upon any wharf for the purpose of loading or unloading freight under the following conditions:

Each such motor vehicle must have a certificate showing that it is in good mechanical order; such certificates must be renewed every thirty (30) days and must be in the possession of the driver of the vehicle, and shall be exhibited upon the request of the Harbor-master or his representative. Certificates of inspection must be issued by some competent authority who is satisfactory to the Harbor-master, and who is familiar with the operation and control of motor vehicles.

REGULATION GOVERNING THE DISCHARGE OF NITRATE OF SODA UPON THE WHARVES OF THE TERRITORY OF HAWAII.

22. No nitrate of soda shall be stored, awaiting transportation, upon any wharf within the Territory of Hawaii, unless same be packed in sound and non-leaky containers. All nitrate of soda so stored shall, at the expense of the consignee, be under the continuous care of a competent watchman until removed.

Masters, owners and consignees of nitrate of soda cargoes must keep the wharf at all times swept clean and free of any loose nitrate of soda during the entire process of unloading and removing the cargo. No loose nitrate of soda will be permitted to be landed. In all cases nitrate of soda must be landed from ships in sound containers.

During the process of discharging or removing said cargoes, it shall be obligatory on the part of the ship or agents of said vessel, to provide water containers of not less than fifty (50) gallons each at intervals of not less than fifty (50) feet apart with suitable buckets placed alongside each container; said containers to be filled with a solution of water and nitrate of soda, to be used in the case of fire. Any violation of this Regulation will be subject to the provisions of Act 163 of the Session Laws of 1911.

CHAPLAIN PRUDEN OPENS THE NEW ARMY CHAPEL

The Other Chaplains Requested Their Congregations to Turn Out--Father Houlihan's Success--Capt. Marix Goes

At the occasion of the opening of the new post chapel, Schofield Barracks, on Sunday, February 19, at ten-thirty a. m., Chaplain Aldred A. Pruden held the first and only religious services given on that date in the beautiful new army chapel, that was contributed by the generous people of Honolulu, through the untiring efforts of Chaplain Pruden.

As host and founder of this first army chapel built in Hawaii, Chaplain Pruden conducted the only religious service, the Episcopal, at the first opening of the chapel doors to worshippers, on the 18th of February.

The right of Chaplain Pruden to hold a sole and first service in the house he was responsible for, was accorded, with cordiality and cheer, by the other two chaplains in the post. Chaplain Samuel H. Bell, First Field Artillery, and Father James F. Houlihan requested their respective congregations to join them in being members of Chaplain Pruden's congregation for this great and happy occasion, the opening of the new post army chapel at Lihuehau.

On this Sunday the Department Commander and Mrs. Montgomery M. Macomb motored out to Schofield Barracks to attend the opening service of the new chapel.

The attendance was so large on that bright Sunday morning that the seating capacity of something over five hundred of the chapel was severely taxed to accommodate all present.

Chaplain Pruden conducted the morning services of the Episcopal church. The choir on that day was composed of the Priory surplice choir of Saint Andrew's cathedral. Chaplain Pruden invited the young ladies to sing for his opening services and saw that they were comfortably taken out and brought back from Schofield Barracks in two large automobiles.

The communion set of elegant brass for the post chapel was presented by an army officer at present stationed here. It was an acceptable, gracious gift, but the donor does not want his name known in this valuable present.

Father Houlihan's Success.
Chaplain James F. Houlihan of the Fifth Cavalry stationed at Schofield Barracks is another success as an army chaplain. Father Houlihan has the happy gift of getting and retaining the confidence and admiration of not only the rank but the file also of the troops at the Lihuehau reservation or wherever he may be.

The very large congregations at the regular Sunday morning mass, which is held at nine o'clock at the new army chapel at Schofield Barracks and the hundreds of men attending the special services held by Father Houlihan attest without one word of comment the popularity of this energetic army chaplain.

In camping on the old camping ground, and at the government reservations, as well as elsewhere, there are so many hearts looking for the right, that Chaplain Houlihan helps and assists very materially in the up-building of the personnel of the service.

Just before Ash Wednesday a few weeks the entire reservation of Lihuehau were delightfully entertained by a fine minstrel performance gotten up and given for the most part, by the soldiers serving at Schofield Barracks, which was the inspiration and work of Father Houlihan, who managed the entire arrangement.

Father Houlihan will be a passenger on the U. S. A. T. Logan for the Coast tomorrow. He is going for a three-months' leave of absence on the mainland.

Remembering Senator Hawley.
The entire service of the U. S. particularly the army, will remember the late U. S. Senator Hawley of Connecticut who was for so many years chairman of the military committee of the Senate.

Probably no other public man excepting Senator Frances Warren of Wyoming has had quite so much to do with the molding and sustaining the present standard of the army as did Senator Hawley, during his many and busy years in the public service at Washington, D. C.

The life and times of this well-known "public servant" is being recalled on the occasion just now of the presence of his half sister, Mrs. Withers, and sister-in-law, Mrs. Selah Merrill, in Honolulu.

These traveled and charming women are tarrying here for a short time and tell of the long and eventful instances in the history making career of their relative, Senator Hawley, who died only some three years ago.

Practically, about fifteen and twenty years ago Senator Hawley was to the army of Uncle Sam, almost what the general staff is today. For whenever anything particular was desired for the good of the service, or individually as the case may be, the rule was to "see Hawley about it."

Like most great men the mainland has produced, Senator Hawley was modest, retiring and unassuming. His manner of going and coming and treatment of all while at the Capitol was a criterion for all public and men in private life as well. Kindly and gracious but withal a positive, strong character and a knowledge of the needs of the U. S. army that told of his perfect conversant with affairs military.

During much of this time Hon. Gardiner Tyler, son of President John Tyler of the U. S., was chairman of naval affairs of the House of Representatives.

Captain Banker's Arrival.
Captain E. W. Banker, U. S. M. C., has arrived and reported to Rear Admiral Walter C. Cowles, U. S. Navy, for duty under the command of the ranking service officer of the U. S. government on Hawaii.

Captain Banker has assumed the duties at the Marine battalion station, recently performed by Captain Marix. Captain and Mrs. Banker traveled here from the Coast by liner and are receiving a cordial welcome.

Captain Marix Relieved.
Captain Arthur T. Marix, U. S. M. C., has been relieved from duty in this department and ordered to the Norfolk, Virginia, naval station for service.

Having served months over his regular tour of assignment, Captain Marix has been very successful in his discharge of marine battalion duties, officially and unofficially. He is military and capable, and withal a genial, delightful man and friend.

Captain and Mrs. Marix leave a place in army, navy and marine circles that will be very hard to fill.

After a few more months at Norfolk, on shore duty, Captain Marix will be sent to sea on one of the first American Dreadnoughts, probably the Arkansas, that will shortly be launched on the Atlantic side of the United States.

The Panama Canal.

When it is completed two years hence the Panama Canal will be the only ship canal with capacity to pass the greatest vessels afloat. Its locks will take vessels nearly 110 feet wide, more than forty feet deep and 1000 feet long. These dimensions were insisted on by the General Board of the United States after the Consulting Board and Canal Commission had suggested a size that has already been proved inadequate. The German government is now paying dearly for constructing its Kaiser Wilhelm Canal too small. This canal was built in the years of 1887-95, requiring eight years to complete. In less than fifteen years it became inadequate, so that the largest vessels were compelled to go around the Cape Skagen route. Now the canal is being enlarged at enormous cost in order to accommodate Germany's merchant and war fleets. The Suez Canal is also being deepened. The Canal Company recently being compelled to borrow 150,000,000 francs for this purpose. Herr von Thierry of Berlin, a noted expert on this subject and a member of the International Technical Commission of the Suez Canal agrees with Leemans and Corbelle that the size of vessels is likely to increase and that canals must be enlarged to accommodate them.—Army and Navy Journal.

TO JOIN THEIR REGIMENTS.
WASHINGTON, D. C., February 16.—The following named officers are to be relieved from their present duties on dates specified and to then join their regiments:

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

Balance of Trade.
For the first time since 1904 the balance of trade was against the islands to the extent of $10,055,098. This difference, however, is less than at first appears if we take into consideration the value of articles imported free of duty by the army and navy, the government of the Philippine islands, and government-aided railways. These importations, amounting in value to $4,865,933, have been included in the figures for 1911 for the first time.

Revenues.
There was an increase in customs revenues of nearly $1,000,000 and in internal revenue of more than $1,500,000.

Peace and Order.
Tranquility has reigned throughout the islands with only such disturbances as might be expected in any community, and having no other than a purely local significance.

Railroads.
Railroad construction has progressed steadily during the year. The main lines in the islands of Panay and Cebu are in full operation and only short branch lines remain to be laid.

In Luzon the work on the northern line is nearly complete and the construction on the lines south of Manila is being rapidly pushed. All portions in operation have proved unexpectedly productive from the start.

The opening of these lines had an almost magical effect in stimulating industry and fostering production. The territory traversed, which has been abandoned, has experienced an agricultural awakening. The province of Bantanga shipped 10,000 tons of oranges the first year.

Health.
Health conditions have been better than ever before. Cholera has been a lesser menace than during any previous year since its first appearance after American occupation, and no other dangerous epidemic has gained headway in the islands. Extended investigations have resulted in discoveries which have enabled the health officials successfully to combat a number of dread diseases, notably beriberi, which has wholly disappeared in government institutions. The number of lepers is steadily decreasing in response to preventive measures and treatment.

The general hospital, which is now in successful operation, is said to be the best arranged and best equipped hospital in the Orient. Free dispensaries, and free medical, obstetrical and surgical service for the poor are beginning to play an important part in improving health conditions at Manila.

Education.
The increase in school attendance has been very satisfactory, the average attendance being over 50 per cent of the 600,000 children enrolled. The public school system, established and conducted on the lines of that in the states, has met with great public favor with the people. They also appreciate the work of the University of the Philippines as shown by the fact that 57 per cent of the high school graduates have entered this university, which is twice as great as the proportion of high school graduates in the United States who enter college.

Special emphasis is now being placed on practical agricultural and industrial training in order to meet the needs of the people and improve the economic conditions now existing.

Postal Savings Bank.
The growth of the postal savings bank since its creation has been steady and healthy. At the close of the fiscal year 1911 the gain in Philippine depositors was more than 171 per cent over the previous year, and more than 80 per cent of all the open accounts were held by Filipinos, as compared with 65 per cent on June 30, 1910. There was an increase of 97 per cent in the number of deposits made during the year and 26 per cent in the amount of the same. In number the withdrawals increased 56 per cent and in amount 20 per cent.

HEALTH FOR THE CHILDREN

Every parent notes with anxious eye the first symptoms of the children's falling health; the pale cheeks, listless manner and capricious appetite speak more plainly than any words, for the well child is a veritable storage battery of animal spirits.

Renewing the appetite is the first step back to health and

given faithfully for a short time will do it. The children need not even know it is a medicine for the taste is very pleasant and does not suggest cod liver oil in the least. But the effect is certain.

For persons of every age Stearns' Wine of Cod Liver Extract is an unfailing tonic, appetizer and strength renewer. Get it at your druggists and be sure you get STEARNS—the genuine.

Morning Cable Report

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Affirmation between England, France and the United States was indicated by a lengthy debate in the Senate yesterday. The senate today votes on the treaties designed and negotiated by President Taft and almost the last doubt that they will be successful has been lost.

LONDON, March 6.—A detail of police raided the suffragists' headquarters during a meeting yesterday afternoon, arresting Mrs. Pankhurst and the editors of the suffragette paper. It is believed that they will be tried for conspiracy against the laws.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Roosevelt's managers yesterday issued a challenge to the Taft forces to put the presidential issue squarely before the country that the people may express their preference between the candidates.

The challenge was directed by Senator Dixon of Montana, to Representative McKinley, national manager for Taft.

Later in the day, McKinley replied to the Montana senator asking him if he was acting as the chairman of the Roosevelt committee by the authority of the college himself, or whether he was usurping it on the strength of Roosevelt's announced preference for him.

SEATTLE, March 6.—The majority elections here yesterday resulted in a close vote, and it is not yet known which faction won. Both the reform party backed by the feminine vote, and the "open town" faction led by ex-Mayor Gill are represented in the running.

PORTLAND, March 6.—Looting was continued here yesterday but the foreigners are safe. It is believed that the disorders will cease when the soldiers reach their homes after disbandment.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—In spite of the desertion of a large part of the La Follette League of this State to the banners of Colonel Roosevelt here tonight by Colonel Housner, La Follette's national manager.

MEXICO CITY, March 6.—Dispar was evident in official circles yesterday afternoon upon the report that one of President Madero's most trusted lieutenants, Ambrosio Figueroa, had gone over to the rebels.

CITY OF CHIHUAHUA, March 6.—It is admitted here that the rebels are in control of this state, following the defection of Ambrosio Figueroa.

EL PASO, March 6.—One hundred and fifty Americans, most of whom were women and children arrived here today from Madera, Mexico.

HOW THE BIG MEN

ly new and up to date, all cooking being done by electricity, the charges are moderate and the service quite passable.

This little lunch room is a boon to the many employees in the building as well as to visitors and sightseers. The senators too patronize it, their portion of the room being screened off by movable screens. The menu, while somewhat higher in price than that of the average lunch room, is not expensive as may be judged by the following prices from a recent bill of fare: Baked beans, 10 cents; chili con carne, 15; hot turkey sandwich, 25; chicken sandwich, 10; ham or tongue sandwich, 5; milk, 5; half and half, 10; cream, 15; coffee or tea per cup, 5; coffee or tea per pot, 10; cocoa per cup, 10; home-made pie per cut, 10; ordinary or factory pie, 5; two doughnuts, 5; bread and butter, 5; but one portion of bread and butter goes free with each "steam table" order. Two slices of toasted bread cost 10 cents.

This is the regular bill of fare, but every day there are a number of specials. On one day, these were as follows: Cream of chicken with rice, 10 cents; Irish stew, 25; fricasee of chicken giblets with rice, 25c; spaghetti, Italian sauce, 20; ham and egg sandwich, 15; baked apple dumpling, wine or hard sauce, 15.

These prices are very low for the quality of food and the service. In a first-class hotel they would have to be multiplied by three, or even by five. And at this season of the year it is hard to get anything like fresh vegetables although there are some vegetables in the markets, like cauliflower from California; yes, even from France, and the latter sells for 50 cents a head. There are now strawberries, also, at $1 per box. And they are not very good at that.

It isn't much wonder that Congress the nomination and the action of his class that asks the third term for its

RUSSIAN LABOR MAKES TROUBLE

EDMONDS, Burnaby, B. C., February 16.—The sixteen stolid-faced Russians who faced Magistrate Walker in the municipal court this morning were somewhat of a more meek and docile frame of mind than they were at about the same time three days ago, when they brandished clubs over the head of Samuel McIntire and threatened to murder him if he didn't produce $250. The magistrate gave one of the sixteen, a youth, his freedom, because the witnesses could not positively identify him as being with the gang on Tuesday. The others were formally charged with extortion under a threat and were committed to be tried before the next higher court of jurisdiction and were taken to the New Westminster gaol.

Mr. McIntire, the contractor employing the Russians, and who was the object of their threat, was the first witness. Mr. Bull, for the defense, asked him if his treatment of the men had anything to do with their uprising. He also asked him if they were not poorly taken care of and poorly fed. He further asked why the Russians demanded the $250.

Mr. McIntire denied that the men were improperly cared for. He said he was at their camp once a day and personally saw that they had plenty of food. He said that they have had four hundred and fifty pounds of fresh meat in the last twelve days and now have one hundred and fifty pounds hanging in their cook house. This particular gang of men, he said, were working for Pete Saccob, who had a sub-contract to clear twenty-one acres of land. He had already cleared seven acres and the $250 that he and his fellow countrymen demanded on Tuesday was for a release of the contract as regards the remaining fourteen acres. Mr. McIntire testified that the Russians were behind in his work and prevented his finishing the contract within the time limit.

PAPA JOHNSON

favorite "progressive." In many cases men who previously declared for La Follette and are now for Roosevelt are but the dupes of the foxy colonel and his astute political managers.

"The so-called Roosevelt boom is merely a political fizzle, a fad. His followers are largely pseudo-progressives and imitators. His talk is buncombe and purest political twaddle and gets him nothing but the sycophantic applause that is always given to the demagogue.

"La Follette has said that Roosevelt asked him to get into the race and said he could rely upon the support of Roosevelt and his friends. There is no reason to doubt the truth of the assertion made by the Wisconsin man. It is natural to assume, therefore, that Roosevelt and his friends had an ulterior purpose in protesting to much good will for La Follette. Of course the colonel has not formally announced his candidacy, but he declared to a party of admirers that 'my hat is in the ring.' I believe that Roosevelt has meant to be a candidate for the third term for some years.

Taft Will Be Nominated.

"Taft will be the Republican nominee, for the very simple reason that the people want him. Taft has made good and enjoys the confidence of the plain people. Everywhere I went I talked with the porters, cab drivers, street car men and men in all walks of life. I talked politics with doctors, lawyers, architects and many others, and I found sentiment crystallized for Taft. Nothing can beat him for the Republican nomination.

"Woodrow Wilson will surely be the candidate of the Democratic party and will just as surely be defeated by Taft. If I were a betting man I would bet every cent I possess that Taft will succeed himself as President of the United States.

William J. Bryan, notwithstanding what has been said to the contrary, is one of the strongest men in the Democratic party today, wielding tremendous personal influence.

Insult to Bryan.

"I suppose you have heard about the 'How Shall I Vote' club organized in Congress? It was done as an insult to Bryan. When some members of Congress feel real smart and cute they send Bryan a telegram asking him how they shall vote on certain measures. It is insulting to a distinguished gentleman, and is resented by the plain people. That sort of thing has helped to make Bryan friends, and his power is considerable. He will do nothing for Harmon, Underwood, or Clark. He will throw his power into the balance for Wilson, and it will materially aid in the nomination of the college man. Clark, who will be the most serious contender with Wilson, will not receive the Northern vote upon which he is relying. Clark will be second in the race, but he will be hopelessly outdistanced by Wilson. The New Jersey man is clever, honest, a good politician, and his campaign is being well managed. The sentiment of the Democratic people of the country is for Wilson, and nothing can prevent his nomination.

"The money interests want Roosevelt nominated, and it is freely said in New York that George W. Perkins of the Morgan banking house will finance the colonel's campaign. But the people want Taft, and now and then, you know, the voice of the people is heard. The money interests want Clark, but the people want Wilson, and there you are. I don't believe that Hearst's advocacy of Clark will do the latter much good.

Toured Old World.

"Depend upon it, Taft and Wilson will be the nominees, and Taft will succeed himself."

The returned traveler, who was accompanied on his tour of Europe by Mrs. Johnson, shows the effect of his long rest from the cares of his profession and the political game. He is in excellent physical health, and stated that few happier people were in the train coming down the Sierras than Mr. and Mrs. Grove L. Johnson, as the long miles of snow sheds were left behind and the beautiful orchards of the foothill region came into view.

The Johnsons were in London during the coronation ceremonies, and were in Italy during the early days of the war with Turkey. They witnessed many of the great events that transpired during the past few months in Europe. They left Sacramento last April, and spent most of the time they were abroad in continental Europe. The train was several hours late on which they arrived yesterday, reaching this city in the early afternoon. They were met at the depot by Mrs. Johnson's sister, Mrs. H. J. Kilgarriff, her husband and W. F. Purnell.

Johnson declared that he could not state that he would be a candidate for the assembly, as reported, as he had not given the matter any thought, and did not even know the boundary lines of his district. He said he would look into the local political situation within a short time and would then be in better position to say whether he would be a candidate for office.
