DOUBT OF LINERS' SEIZURE TOLD IN LANE'S MESSAGE

Cable to Governor Says Interior Department and Shipping Board Not Advised of Commandeering, But War and Navy Departments May Have Plans

Referring to your wire June 17, shipping board states they have not been advised of any commandeering of the Matson liners Matsonia and Maui, and believe you must have been misinformed as to the intentions of the government.

FRANKLIN K. LANE.

The foregoing cable message received at noon today by Governor Lucius Pinkham in reply to his wire to Washington last week making inquiry as to the replacement of the Maui and Matsonia in the event of their seizure by the government for war purposes, puts an end for the time being to all worry over Hawaii's transportation service.

But it does not put an end to the belief in well-informed quarters that sooner or later—and it may not be long—the big liners are to be taken over, and perhaps others.

The fact that the shipping board and Secretary Lane have not been advised of any commandeering of the vessels does not preclude the possibility that the war and navy departments may have well defined plans for taking over the vessels, whenever needed, as transports or naval auxiliaries.

That Capt. Matson has definite information as to probable commandeering is the belief here.

Shipping circles received the news of Secretary Lane's announcement with relief. It was the general consensus of opinion that for several months at least the Maui and Matsonia will continue to ply between San Francisco and Honolulu and for that length of time there will be no tie-up of the islands' sugar cargo or need to worry about food imports.

Shipping men, though puzzled to account for the original reports that the Maui and Matsonia had been commandeered, agreed that if the government has any present intentions of taking over the liners of the Matson line, Secretary Lane and the shipping board would certainly be aware of it. That Secretary Lane and the shipping board, through him, has announced that neither is aware of any plan at present to take over these boats, is assurance enough to local shipping and business men that they may count on both boats making their regular runs for another year at least.

Despite the reports given general credence last week that the two big liners were to be commandeered by the Matson company in San Francisco and Castle & Cooke, local Matson agents, continued to accept freight and passenger bookings for the Maui and Matsonia, lacking definite word as to when the boats were to be taken over.

"I am not at all surprised," remarked E. D. Tenney this afternoon when informed of the cablegram received by Governor Pinkham from Secretary Lane. "I have no comment to make," he added.

GREECE CUTS LOOSE FROM TEUTONICS

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)

ATHENS, Greece, June 29.—Greece today broke diplomatic relations with Germany, Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey.

PARIS, France, June 29.—Despatches from Athens say that the Greek ministers in Berlin, Vienna and Sofia have been instructed to leave their posts for Greece.

The rupture of relations is based, in the Greek notification, upon the incompatibility of maintaining relations with countries which are warring in Greece territory.

TWO BLACKMAIL SUSPECTS ADMIT IMPERSONATIONS

Men Confess Masquerading as Officers, But Deny They Extorted Money

Two more self-confessed impersonators of local officers have been arrested by Sgt. Kellett, acting chief of the detective department in the absence of Capt. McDuffie who had been working on the case for some time.

The prisoners, both Hawaiians, are Tom Makakane, an engineer at the Inter-Island coal conveyor, and O. Mauna, both of whom are suspected by the police of complicity in the recent blackmail outrages.

Both men admit attempting to make arrests under the guise of officers, but will not admit that they received money for their services. They will be charged later this afternoon for impersonating an officer with bail fixed at $100 each.

Although admitting they operated along the same lines as Tom Saffery, now in the hands of federal authorities, on a similar charge, Makakane and Mauna both disclaim any knowledge of his operations or connection with them.

A 17-year-old mounted policeman's badge was the authority they showed when accosting couples along Ala Moana road, Kapiolani park and Diamond Head road. They admit sticking flash lights into people's faces and "arresting" victims, but declare they turned the latter loose if they begged hard enough.

A third man, Tom Kahale, was arrested yesterday with the couple, but was later discharged. Makakane and Mauna were taken to Kakaako.

Hawaii Guard Exempt From Army's Draft

Members of the national guard in Hawaii will not be required to register, and subsequent to registration men who enlist in the guard will not be subject to draft.

This is the important information received by Governor Pinkham this afternoon in a cablegram from Brig. Gen. E. H. Crowder, provost marshal general, in charge of draft registrations throughout the United States.

The cable came as a direct answer to one from Brig. Gen. Samuel I. Johnson, adjutant-general of Hawaii, to Brig. Gen. William A. Mann, chief of the militia bureau at Washington. It sets at rest queries by all persons interested in Hawaii, national guard affairs, namely: Will guardsmen have to be required to register, and will registered persons who afterward join the guard be subject to draft?

At guard headquarters it was generally believed that the Hawaii organization, not being in the federal service, would be subject to registration.

As to the other question, however, a circular letter received some days ago stated that enlistments could be received in the guard after registration, which gave foundation to the belief that persons joining thus would be exempt from draft. This proved to be correct.

The cable received this afternoon is as follows:

"At the request of the militia bureau the following information is furnished:

"Members of the national guard are not required to register while in the national guard. Such persons are also not subject to draft."

"CROWDER."

GUARDSMEN IN U. S. SERVICE WILL GO SOUTH

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29.—Announcement was made at the war department today that the national guardsmen taken into the federal service will be sent to divisional camps in the South immediately after their service for the national government begins. It has been previously expected that many would remain in the state camps because of lack of tents at the divisional points.

SIX FRENCH VESSELS SUNK IN LAST WEEK

PARIS, France, June 29.—Two French vessels of over 1000 tons were sunk by submarines during the past week. Three or less than that tonnage were sunk.

Robert B. Booth, treasurer of Fred L. Waldron, Ltd., is at home for a few days with an attack of influenza.

LATE NEWS AT A GLANCE

JAPANESE STEAMER SUNK BY FLOATING MINE

(Special Cable to Nippon Jiji)
TOKIO, Japan, June 29.—It has been reported that the Japanese steamer Magami Maru has been sunk by a floating mine in the Indian Ocean. Word has reached here that the English steamer Mongolia was sent to the bottom by a mine off Bombay.

SEAMEN ARRESTED, CHARGED WITH HAVING OPIUM

Byron K. Baird, deputy collector of customs at Hilo, has informed the local port collector of the recent arrest of a fireman and another member of the crew of the ship Enterprise on a charge of having opium in possession. Baird says he took three tins of opium from the men. The case probably will be heard at the special federal court session.

WILHELMINA RELEASED UNDER $10,000 BOND

The steamer Wilhelmina, against which a libel suit has been filed in federal court by Mrs. Catherine L. Dennis, has been released under bond in the sum of $10,000 and sailed today for Kahului as usual. Mrs. Dennis claims damages in the sum of $8100 on the ground that she fell over a chair and fractured her right arm at the wrist while en route to Honolulu in the Wilhelmina.

SHELDON QUILTS CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION

Attorney W. J. Sheldon has resigned as a member of the civil service commission. His resignation has been sent to Mayor-elect J. J. Fern, to take effect, he says, at the mayor's pleasure. Attorney Sheldon says he resigned largely because he is a Republican.

NAVIGATOR OF WARSHIP OLYMPIA IS EXONERATED

NEWPORT, Rhode Island, June 29.—A naval investigation has been held of the stranding of the Olympia, Dewey's flagship at the battle of Manila Bay, near here. The navigator has been held blameless, the board finding that the Olympia struck an uncharted rock. There is still hope of salvaging the vessel.

EXPLOSIONS IN TWO COLORADO POWDER MILLS

TRINIDAD, Colorado, June 29.—Bad explosions took place today in two of the Dupont Powder Company's mills here, the structures being partially wrecked. Three workmen were killed and a score injured.

SCHONER LUKA DEFENDANT IN LIBEL SUIT

Kan Choon Sam, a Korean, filed in federal court late this afternoon a libel suit against the schooner Luka, in which he seeks to recover alleged damages in the sum of $4000. Defendant claims the damages for alleged injuries, ill-treatment, expenses and hospital maintenance.

JURY FINDS VERDICT FOR RAPID TRANSIT CO.

A jury in Circuit Judge Kemp's court today found for the defendant in the case of Mrs. Laurie A. Scott against the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Co., an action for the recovery of alleged damages in the sum of $2500. Plaintiff claimed an automobile was damaged when it ran into a pile of dirt said to have been left in the street by the company's workmen.

IS FOUND GUILTY OF ASSAULT WITH WEAPON

Jorge Diego, a Filipino, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon, was found guilty by a jury in Circuit Judge Heen's court this afternoon. The defendant will be sentenced tomorrow.

MARCONI COMPANY EXCEPTS TO DECISION

The Marconi Wireless Co. this afternoon filed in circuit court its exceptions to a decision handed down by Circuit Judge Ashford yesterday holding the workman's compensation act to be unconstitutional. The company is a defendant in an action for alleged damages brought by J. J. Carroll. Judge Ashford's decision overrules the company's demurrer to the complaint.

GERMAN MERCHANTMAN IS REPORTED SUNK

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, June 29.—It is reported that the German merchantman Westfalen has been sunk by a mine, while en route from Rotterdam to Copenhagen.

CAPT. RIGGS ORDERED TO STATES; MAY GO TO FRANCE

Cable orders received this afternoon from the war department instructs Capt. Kerr T. Riggs, 4th Cavalry, Schofield Barracks, to report to the commanding general of the Eastern department, prepared for extensive field service. This is the first order received here bearing this "extensive service" clause, and is taken to mean that Capt. Riggs will be sent at once to France.

COMPENSATION ACT TO BE FOUGHT TO SUPREME COURT, IS STATEMENT

That the workmen's compensation law, declared unconstitutional by Circuit Judge Ashford in a decision handed down yesterday, will be fought through to the supreme court, and that attorneys for the side temporarily losing are confident the law will yet be upheld, were developments today.

An interlocutory appeal to the supreme court from the decision handed down yesterday by Circuit Judge Ashford, holding that the territorial workmen's compensation act is unconstitutional, is to be asked for by the defendant companies, it was announced today.

This decision was reached following a conference this morning of representatives of the law firms of Holmes & Olson and Frear, Prosser, Anderson & Marx, representing the Hawaiian Dredging Co. and the Marconi Wireless Co., respectively. It was decided, one of the attorneys said, to take the points raised in the decision to the supreme court, probably on only one of the two cases for alleged damages.

The opinion also has been expressed on which the decision is based.

The fact that Judge Ashford has held that the compensation law is unconstitutional, does not mean that it is now imperative. It can become operative only if the supreme court sustains the circuit judge. The defendant companies have 10 days from yesterday in which to answer or otherwise except to the decision and, owing to the vital importance of the decision, it was the opinion in court circles yesterday, as well as today, that an interlocutory appeal would be immediately asked for.

The opinion also has been expressed (Continued on page two)

TERRIFIC BATTLE FOR LENS ADDED TO WESTERN CARNAGE

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, June 29.—Smashing forward steadily upon Lens, the important strategic point held desperately by the Germans, the British forces last night made a brilliant attack in a blinding rain on a suburb of the city.

They took 200 prisoners and a number of machine guns. Fighting in the suburb of Lens, around ruined buildings, cellars and paraphernalia, followed a period of intense bombardment.

PARIS, France, June 29.—German picked troops today made a heavy attack against the French on the Verdun sector, after hours of the most severe shelling. The attack was disorganized by French artillery, the Germans getting only a footing on a few points of the first line.

BERLIN, Germany, June 29.—The Germans today captured French positions on the Alaiscourt road, west of the Meuse, Verdun sector, taking trenches along a 2000-yard stretch to a depth of 500 yards. The Germans also stormed 300 yards of a position at Arrocourt, taking 550 prisoners.

LONDON, Eng., June 29.—The British today report the capture of 2000 yards of enemy position on the Arras sector, west of Oppy.

SOLDIERS GET PAY UNDER NEW RATE OF INCREASE

Enlisted men on duty at Hawaiian department headquarters will get five or six days after the end of the month of June. At the army posts men are paid on muster of June 30 and do not receive their money for five or six days after the end of the month.

Berlin Deep In Plot To Wreck Norway Ships

Foreign Minister of Norwegian Parliament Openly Charges Teuton Intriguing

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)

LONDON, Eng., June 29.—

Charges that the German government is implicated in plots to wreck Norwegian shipping by bombs were made today in the Norwegian Storting (parliament) by Foreign Minister Ihlen, say advices late this evening from Copenhagen.

An account of the plots was given in the Storting. It was declared that the bombs were sent to Norway by the German foreign office, by means of messengers to the German legation at Christiania.

Norway has sent a sharp protest to Berlin over such violation of neutral territory.

PRESIDENT WILL BAR MAKING OF WHISKY FROM FOODSTUFFS, NOT AGAINST WINES AND BEER

PROHIBITION FORCES IN CAPITAL REPORTED SATISFIED WITH PLAN—SHEPPARD APPROVES—LEGISLATION TALKED OVER WITH SENATORS

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29.—President Wilson today entered the prohibition fight centering around the food control bill.

The president agrees to stop the manufacture of foodstuffs into whisky and gin but he does not believe that the making of wines and beer should be stopped.

He talked over the various bills today with senate leaders. The belief is expressed in official circles here that a bill prohibiting the use of foodstuffs in distilling, and empowering the president to stop wine brewing if he deems this necessary, would satisfy the prohibitionists.

Senator Sheppard of Texas, the leader of the prohibitionists in the senate, has approved this plan.

FERN FREE OF PARTY HINDRANCE IN APPOINTMENTS

County Committee Meets Tonight to Pass on Applications for Jobs

"I would like to have it understood," says Senator Manuel C. Pacheco, chairman of the Democratic county committee, "that the county committee will not attempt to force upon Mayor Fern any candidate for appointment to a city and county office. The committee intends to pass on applicants as regards their party affiliation and qualifications, and will leave the rest entirely to the mayor."

What probably will be the final meeting of the county committee before the new city administration is launched will be held this evening, and the session will be an executive one.

To date more than 150 applications for positions under the new administration have been received from Democrats and these are to be considered tonight.

The work of the committee at this meeting will be to weed out from the applicants those who are not deemed eligible to hold positions, and when this has been completed the committee will draw up a list and hand it to the mayor, from which list, it is presumed, he will make his final appointments.

None of the names of these applicants will be made public until the mayor has made his appointments," says Chairman Pacheco.

The problem of how the five Republican supervisors will look upon the appointments to be made by Mayor Fern remains unsolved as far as the Democratic county committee is concerned.

Asked today if the committee believes the Republican supervisors will oppose any or all appointments, Chairman Pacheco said:

"We hope they will not, as we consider the mayor has the right to appoint officials not provided for in the city and county charter. And we further believe that the responsibility for all such appointments should rest upon the mayor unless, of course, he appoints a person or persons as a permanent unit to hold a position. Then we would expect all of the supervisors to vote their disapproval."

The county committee was to receive applications for positions up to noon today.

by the convention to their representative in Washington in a cablegram transmitted by G. W. Faly, secretary of the league.

"That in all probability in the near future this island will be considered a restricted zone in which intoxicating liquors cannot be imported, manufactured or sold for military reasons," was the prediction made in the annual report of George W. Faly, secretary of the league.

Concerning the prohibition bill in the territorial legislature, Mr. Faly declared that the bill had been killed by the action of the chairman of the judiciary committee, and "what seemed at one time like an opportunity to carry at least a concurrent resolution to the United States Congress asking for federal prohibition for this territory, vanished with the adjournment of the legislature."

It was asserted that the league had made an effort to secure prohibition here because of the military reservations and appreciation of the work of Gen. Frederick Strong was expressed along that line. A resolution expressing appreciation of the work of the day press was also passed.

Rev. S. L. Deane of Hilo and Rev. G. A. Young, chaplain of the Hilo boarding school, spoke. Minister D. C. Peters, outgoing president of the league, presided. Rev. Alhaka Akana conducted the song service.

The acting superintendent and treasurer reported that $7000 had been spent during the year.

The following officers were elected upon the recommendation of the non-sectarian committee, consisting of W. D. Westervelt, G. F. Carter and Floyd Edmunds: Rev. Leon L. Loofbouere, president; J. B. Williams, first vice-president; A. B. Larimer, second vice-president; Mrs. J. M. Whitney, third vice-president; T. Okumura, fourth vice-president; W. A. Bowen, treasurer; G. W. Faly, secretary; Theodore Richards, chairman of agitation committee; R. H. Trent, chairman finance committee; A. F. Cooke, chairman law enforcement committee; R. P. Judd, chairman legislation committee.

WAR ORPHAN FUND AIDED BY PRESS

Kahala, June 23, 1917.
Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
Sir: The Committee of Hawaii for the Relief of French War Orphans appreciates greatly the cooperation and generous response which has been manifested by the people of Hawaiian Islands for the little ones of France. Funds sufficient for the maintenance of 500 orphans have been subscribed and will constitute the "Marshall Joffre Tribute" from Hawaii.
Much of the success of this effort has been due to the cooperation and help of the Honolulu press, and the Committee of Hawaii wishes to express to the Star-Bulletin its sincere thanks and appreciation.
Very truly yours,

Secretary for the Committee of Hawaii for the Relief of French War Orphans.

ANTHRAX DEBATE BY HEALTH BODY

Arthur H. Rice, president of the board of agriculture and forestry, said today that he sees no reason for exterminating the herd of cattle on the dairy ground of T. F. Farm because one cow has died since the group was immunized from anthrax.

This cow died on Wednesday and the death formed the chief subject of discussion at a meeting of the board of health yesterday. Mr. Farm and Wade Warren Thayer, his attorney, appeared at the meeting and it was the general sense of the discussion that the remainder of the herd had better be exterminated rather than to take a chance on others contracting the disease.

Mr. Rice said today that the fact that one cow has died does not convince him the serum treatment was not successful. He believes it will be absolutely safe to remove the herd to an isolated spot for quarantine a certain length of time. This is the general feeling of the board, too, he believes. The dairy ground is badly infected, no doubt, and one cow who may have not reacted to the serum treatment caught the disease after several weeks there.

The board was to meet this morning with the board of health, but this meeting was finally postponed to 3:15 o'clock this afternoon. At this meeting free and full discussion was expected.

URICE HONORED BY Y. M. C. A. LEADERS

More than 50 members of the board of directors, trustees and members of the staff of the Y. M. C. A., together with a number of friends, were present at a luncheon given in Cooke hall today in honor of Jay A. Urice, who leaves for the mainland early next month.

Frank C. Altherion, president, presided. W. A. Bowen, who represented the association at the Y. M. C. A. conference this year, told of his travels and also spoke on association work on the mainland. W. A. Horn of the army and navy department of the Y. M. C. A. outlined the work which would be carried on by the association. Following the luncheon, President Altherion, on behalf of the association, presented Urice with a case of Hawaiian views.

Urice has spent five years at the local association, being the first secretary to come here under the secretarial training plan inaugurated by Paul Super. Urice will take up army and navy work on the mainland, going first to a training school where he will assist in the work of training recruits for active duty in the Y. M. C. A. huts at the training camps.

CHESS GAME BY MAIL PROGRESSES

The Honolulu Y. M. C. A. Chess Club vs. Schofield Chess Club correspondence games have progressed to the eighth move on each board. Both clubs are putting up a strong front. Schofield looks to have a slight edge in game "A" while the Honolulu "Y" has a somewhat stronger development in game "B."

There will be a meeting of the Honolulu Club at the Y. M. C. A. this evening at 7:30.

President C. H. Metcalf will be in the chair. Summaries of the games to date:

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Up to noon today 476 applications for Kapa homesteads. This was 32 more than yesterday at noon.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Clifton of the United States naval station at Pearl Harbor, Tuesday.

The town of Terni in Italy was shaken by four earthquakes which caused a panic and did considerable damage.

The wedding of Frank E. Midkiff and Miss Ruth Richards will take place this evening at the home of the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Richards.

A daughter, who has been christened Narcissa, was born Wednesday to Maj. Russell P. Reeder, C. A. C., U. S. A., and Mrs. Reeder of Fort Kamehameha.

E. Flatow, resident sales manager of the Koppel Company, H. Hackfeld & Company, agents for the territory of Hawaii, has gone to the Queen's hospital for several days for a slight operation.

Motorcycle tools, tape, dies and other property belonging to the late Chief Mechanic Robert Wenzel, 1st Field Artillery, will be sold at auction tomorrow at headquarters of Battery F. The sale begins at 1:30.

Charles F. Gilliland of the Hawaiian Trust Company expects to leave in the Mauna Kea tomorrow afternoon for Hilo, where Mrs. Gilliland is already visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Medeiros of Pleasant street.

City Attorney Arthur M. Brown was to present to the territorial grand jury this afternoon the case of Carl Hoff, charged with manslaughter. It was also expected that the case of a Chinese, who is alleged to have committed perjury, would be presented.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gaspar of Kona, West Hawaii accompanied by their daughter and son, left for home this noon. They came down from Hawaii to witness the graduation of their son Louis from St. Louis College on Tuesday of last week.

Mystic Lodge No. 4, Knights of Pythias, meets this evening for the annual rollcall of members as well as election of officers, followed by a social. Every member of the lodge and visiting knight and brother is urged to be present.

The grounds of the Catholic Mission, Fort street, are already decorated for the benefit luncheon and entertainment to be given there tomorrow for the Kaili-ika Orphanage. The Hawaiian band will open the proceedings at 10 a. m.

A preliminary hearing of the case of Thomas Saffery, charged with impersonating a federal officer and believed by the police to be the ring-leader of a purported gang of black-mallers, has been postponed until further notice, the government not being quite ready to proceed. Saffery has retained Attorney Leon Straus as counsel.

Although tomorrow at 1 o'clock the period ends when payments of taxes by doctors, theaters show houses, liquor houses, brokers and billiard and pool rooms may be paid without becoming delinquent, a large number of payments are still due, it was said this afternoon. Doctors seem especially slow this year in making payments. Tobacco dealers are not required to pay the usual taxes.

An entertainment for the Red Cross of Honolulu to be given by the Aloha Temple of the Shrine was endorsed by the advertising committee of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday. The reason for the committee's endorsement as opposite to similar requests which have been turned down, is because every cent taken in will be turned over to the Red Cross while in the case of many others only a certain percentage is given, the rest going for salaries and expenses.

Miss Doelinda Fraga, a teacher at Walpaha, was married to John F. Perry, connected with the Honolulu Planning Mill, last night by Rev. Father Charles L. Windels, at the Catholic church at Walpaha. Mr. and Mrs. William G. Andrade were witnesses. The bride is a sister of Sister Mary of the Academy of Sacred Hearts, Kaimuki. The couple were given a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Andrade, 1523 Alexander street, after the wedding. They will make their home in the city after a brief honeymoon outside of Honolulu.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, June 23.—For the first time since the war began the weekly report of the Imperial Bank of Germany shows a decrease in the gold reserve. The figure is 76,000,000 marks below that of the preceding week.

LONDON, Eng., June 23.—An Amsterdam despatch says that the gold from the German Imperial Bank has been received in Holland, obviously to pay for foods and to keep up exchange.

SAYS BRITONS IN MESOPOTAMIA O.K.

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)
LONDON, Eng., June 23.—Contradicting the reports of bungling in the Mesopotamian campaign, a correspondent of the London Times claims that the Mesopotamian army is excellently provided for and the medical service is satisfactory. The advance of the British forces has been halted, it is declared, because of the inactivity of

In court circles that other circuit courts now will consider the compensation law invalid unless and until Judge Ashford's decision is reversed by a higher court. While such a holding would not be binding on the other courts, it is pointed out that confusion might result if the act was considered a valid law on Kauai, for instance, and an invalid one in Honolulu.

It was further reported that insurance men of Honolulu, whose business has been suddenly disorganized by the decision, would hold a meeting shortly to consider what action they should take. The insurance men believe that the law is entirely constitutional and will be so upheld by the supreme court, one of them said today.

The decision yesterday is regarded by insurance men as merely the first of a series of steps testing out the constitutionality of the law and in no way as final.

"The result of this decision is that the demurrer of the defendant in this case must be and the same is hereby overruled, and defendant is allowed 10 days from this date within which to answer the declaration."

With this paragraph Circuit Judge Clarence W. Ashford concludes the notable decision holding that the territorial workman's compensation act is unconstitutional. The decision, comprising 30 typewritten pages and handed down yesterday afternoon, is the result of nearly a year of work by Judge Ashford, during which time he consulted hundreds of former decisions on the same subject and citations from other cases. A summary of the decision was given in yesterday's Star-Bulletin.

The decision is based on two actions for the recovery of damages, one by J. J. Carroll against the Marconi Wireless Co., and the other by Edgar T. Anderson against the Hawaiian Dredging Co. Plaintiffs alleged they were injured during the course of their employment and sought relief under the common law on the ground that the workman's compensation law is unconstitutional.

The defendant companies filed demurrers to the complaints, which demurrers are overruled by the decision. Two provisions of the act are attacked; first, the procedure provided for obtaining compensation for such injuries and, second, the denial of a trial by jury.

What Decision Says

In part, the decision, says: "The demurrer raises the point that, by virtue of act 221 of the session laws of 1915, the Hawaiian legislature has swept away any right that may previously have existed on the part of this plaintiff, or others in similar condition, to maintain in the courts any action of this character to recover compensation for injuries such as are alleged in the declaration."

"If said act is constitutional, there can be no doubt that the demurrer should be sustained, but this constitutionality of the act is contested by the plaintiff."

"I have reached the conclusion that only two points need be discussed and decided in order to a disposition to the demurrer in question, and those are the points or questions whether the Hawaiian statute is obnoxious to the constitutional guaranty of due process of law at the point of the notice which should be given to all parties concerned, by the committee of arbitration or the industrial accident board, before proceeding to a hearing and determination of any complaint, or cause submit to it for decision; and also, whether the deprivation of jury trials constitutes a denial of due process of law.

Life and Property
"It will be observed that the constitution has placed life, liberty and property upon an exact equality in the protection which the constitution affords it in this respect, and that no person shall be deprived of either without due process of law. For this reason the decisions of courts where in any of these three constitutionally-protected privileges has come under discussion are equally in point where either of the others is involved."

"However inexplicable it may be that the Hawaiian legislature should have passed the act in question (as signed, as it undoubtedly is, to relieve a condition of injustice and inequality that had long prevailed under the terms of the common law), without having provided for the giving of that notice which is a constitutional sine qua non to its validity, yet the fact remains as stated, the defect in the statute is obvious, and irreparable, and for this reason, if for no other, I find the entire act to be unconstitutional, invalid and of no effect."

JAPANESE LEAD ALL NATIONALITIES ENROLLED IN LOCAL PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Total Roster Shows Gain of 1065 for School Population for 1916-17 Term

One thousand and sixty-five more children attended the public schools of Honolulu during the 1916-17 term than during the 1915-16 term, according to figures which have been made public by the department of public instruction. When the city schools closed a week ago the enrollment was 9735 as against 8669, the total enrollment in June, 1916.

The largest increase has been among the Japanese pupils, the enrollment at the close of this school year being 2870, a gain of 464 over when school closed last year. The figures show that 1662 Japanese boys and 1208 Japanese girls are now of school age in Honolulu.

Statistics compiled by the department show that the number of boys who were enrolled when school closed, 5052, is a gain of 513 over last year, while the enrollment of the girls, 4121, is a gain of 552.

Following is the enrollment in Honolulu by nationalities:

Hawaiian—Boys 385, girls 418, total 803; part-Hawaiian—Boys 691, girls 890, total 1581; American—Boys 265, girls 227, total 502; British—Boys 18, girls 27, total 45; German—Boys 32, girls 50, total 82; Portuguese—Boys 720, girls 820, total 1540; Japanese—Boys 1662, girls 1208, total 2870; Chinese—Boys 1091, girls 780; total 1871; Porto Rican—Boys 38, girls 50, total 88; Korean—Boys 49, girls 63, total 112; Spanish—Boys 34, girls 47, total 81; Russian—Boys 34, girls 35, total 69; Filipino—Boys 15, girls 15, total 30; all others—Boys 13, girls 33, total 46. Boys 5052, girls 4673, total 9725.

These pupils were distributed in grades as follows:

First, 2475; second, 1647; third, 1438; fourth, 1365; fifth, 928; sixth, 629; seventh, 429; eighth, 405; high school, 377; Normal school, 261.

Term attendance was as follows:

Average enrollment, 9784; total attendance, 487,008; total absences, 21,784; average daily attendance, 9365; average daily absences, 419.

The number of pupils enrolled for special subjects was as follows:

Agriculture, 1284; carpentry, 623; cooking, 1487; lace making, 161; weaving, 62; sewing, 1280; paper cutting, 239; laundry, 261; clay modeling, 63; printing, 248; others, 393.

curfew rings—the Ideal's sale ends Tuesday at 10 P. M."

This advertisement is printed as news—it isn't intended to sell anything. It is published, however, in the hope that those who plan to come to this sale will attend before Tuesday 10 p. m. For the sale will close on this date and then sale prices are no more.

This is probably the last advertisement for the Ideal's sale I'm going to write. To be frank, we don't need this one, for we've got more business now than we can take care of.

We "went slow" on advertising this week for the same reason.

This "ad" is largely in the nature of a "note of thanks."

For the cash receipts have already exceeded our own sanguine estimate by thousands, and there are still three days to go—three days that we know will pile up the money to "beat the cars."

It isn't the money that this concern is after. As previously stated, it's room that's needed.

Room, room and more room.

Of course this sale has been "roasted" to a fare-you-well in some quarters. One man bought a Ladies' Silk Sweater Coat here yesterday for eighteen dollars. "I was in here a day ago," he explained, "but I couldn't make up my mind. To tell you the truth, I know no more about silk sweater coats than a hog knows about feathers! But I went shopping, and the way you fellows got roasted in one of the other stores convinced me that you were O. K. So I'm back for the silk sweater coat. Will you take my check?"

And we did!

I really believe that the "roasts" we got helped immensely. A little opposition stirs one to best efforts, you know. Of course one store tried to beat our prices on straw hats—they did beat us fifteen cents on one hat. But that's the only case I know of. There may have been other instances that we know nothing about. But what we don't know about never worries us.

And through all this sale, now coming to a close (for my work's all done Tuesday, July 3), we have not said an unkind word about anybody, either in the store or in the newspapers.

Why should we?

Jealous thoughts, unkind thoughts and words only harm the ones that hatch 'em out. They leave as tiny chickens and they come back roosters, and with claws.

Of the hundreds of people who bought at this sale, not one has said an unkind word, either. Honolulu people are the personification of courtesy and kindness. They waited patiently; they've been quick to decide; they've made liberal allowances for our shortcomings. I think they're the best business people I've ever had the pleasure of dealing with. (Coast papers please copy.)

In conclusion, will you let me ask you to shop early, or late, tomorrow. It will help a lot if you will. For tomorrow is Saturday and we expect another mob.

I invited folks to "stay away from the Ideal's sale" in last week's papers. But nobody paid a d—bit of attention! So now I will ask you to come early or late, for the store will be open till 10 p. m.

Again, I've started out to write an advertisement and have written a sermon. I have gathered a long list of prices—astonishingly low prices—on Men's Suits, Haberdashery and Hats and here's half the space or more used up and I haven't tried to sell you anything!

So I'll begin right now.

$20.00 Men's suits go for $13.85; $22.50 suits for $16.85; $25.00 suits for $17.85; $27.50 suits for $20.35; and the $30.00 suits for $22.85. The highest grade suits that usually sell for $32.50 go at $24.85 and $35.00 suits go at $26.85, and the $37.50 suits at $28.85.

There is true economy in these Adler-Rochester suits.

They are not parsimonious suits, because they possess all the style, workmanship and actual worth found in suits that elsewhere cost much more. They are good looking, well wearing suits and your choice of fabrics is almost unlimited.

Any material your mind has pictured will be found here.

Regular $6.00 Men's trousers for $4.55; $7.00 trousers for $5.35; $8.00 trousers for $6.35, and the $9.00 kind for $7.35. $6.50 white Flannel and Serge trousers bring $5.15; the $7.50 for $5.95; the $8.50 quality for $6.85, and the $9.50 quality for $7.35.

Palm Beach and "Two Kote" two and three button Men's suits, regular $12.50 values, for $9.35.

Croft and Knapp and Blum and Koch Men's Felt and Straw Hats are: $2.50 Hats cut to $1.85; $3.50 Hats cut to $2.65; $4.00 Hats cut to $2.95; $5.00 Hats cut to $3.95; $6.00 Hats cut to $4.55.

$8.50 Panama and Bangkok Hats are cut to $6.35; the $10.00 Hats cut to $7.50; the $12.00 Hats cut to $9.00; the $15.00 Hats cut to $11.25.

One lot of $6.50 Leghorn Hats are selling at $2.95, and they're the best values you ever saw.

One lot of $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00 Straw Hats at 85c.

50c Balbriggan underwear for 35c; 50c Olympic athletic underwear for 35c; 75c athletic undershirts for 55c; $1.00 silk Hiale undershirts for 65c; $1.50 silk undershirts or drawers for $1.05 the garment. Also $1.25 men's fine union suits, summer weight, go for 85c.

All 75c ties at your choice, 40c; $1.00 ties, 75c; $1.50 ties, $1.15.

$1.50, $1.75 and $2.00 Sport Shirts are selling for 85c.

Trunks and Suit Cases, 25 per cent off.

Just one moment, please! I don't want to tire you with a long rigamarole, but I want to give you a straight tip worth knowing. Buy in this sale now or pay more after.

HONOLULU WOMEN TAKE UP WORK OF MAKING JELLY FOR ALLIED SOLDIERS

Twelve dozen jars of jelly have already been contributed to the soldiers fighting on the French front in response to the appeal made by Col. R. G. Ebert of the medical corps that the women of Honolulu pay less attention to making bandages of cotton which have to be shipped across the ocean twice, and make Hawaiian jellies instead.

Mrs. H. H. Williams, noted in Honolulu for the large quantities of jelly which she has made for charitable organizations, who suggested that jelly be made for the soldiers even before Col. Ebert had spoken, has the honor of being the first contributor. In a letter to W. R. Farrington, president of the Ad Club, she gave the twelve dozen jars of jelly.

With the first donation made, the are many indications that the women of Honolulu are actively considering the plan. Prominent ladies of the city have already expressed their sympathy with the movement.

A special container which will take the place of the ordinary glass jar which is not only hard to pack and ship, but is very expensive, is suggested in a letter written to the Star-Bulletin by Mrs. Dorothea Emerson. She says:

"Guava jelly can be sent to soldiers in little paper pots packed in small wooden boxes such as starch boxes. I believe it to be dutiable on reaching England.

"The jelly will be greatly appreciated," adds Mrs. Emerson. "Some of my soldiers have greatly enjoyed pineapple also."

John Soper, appointed chairman of a committee to look into the matter for the Ad Club, has found a paper container similar to the one suggested which will serve the purpose required. At present the local supply has run out, but can easily be replenished.

Mrs. Walter Dillingham, who has been chairman of the committee to raise funds for the support of French orphans declared that she would be eager to aid the movement. She said:

"I believe that the suggestion is well worth taking up, although it involves many difficulties which might make it unfeasible. Possibly it would not be economical to ship such a heavy and bulky product that distance. I am glad to do all that is possible, but would not give up all of the other work for this. Why not do both?"

Mrs. C. B. Cooper thought the suggestion was an excellent idea provided that it can be worked out along systematic business lines. She said:

"If we can meet all of the difficulties which will arise in getting jelly in the proper containers, properly preserving it, for it must be boiled an extra length of time if it has to go that far, and in getting the fruit properly, the plan should be very successfully carried out. It should be done in a businesslike way in order to assure economy and the proper kind of jelly."

Mrs. W. L. Whitney, although unwilling to express an opinion on the plan, declared that she was glad to do all that she could.

VISITING PASTORS DINED AT Y. M. C. A.

The Japanese pastors from the four islands who are in the city attending the meetings of the Hawaiian Evangelical Association were entertained by the territorial executive committee of the Y. M. C. A. at a luncheon in Cooke Hall Thursday noon. In addition to the visiting ministers local pastors were present.

Frank C. Atherton, chairman of the committee, extended greetings to the ministers and expressed the gratification of the committee at the increasing emphasis being placed upon work for young men and boys by the churches. Dr. R. D. Williams, vice chairman of the committee, spoke on the ideal of the American Christian workers. He stated that in his opinion Christian schools and organizations like the Young Men's Christian Association were a necessary part of the work of the churches. Lloyd R. Killam, executive secretary of the committee, presided and spoke on the new building which is soon to be erected at the corner of Fort and Vineyard streets and its relation to the work of Christianity among the Japanese.

Addresses in Japanese were given by Rev. T. Okumura, who spoke on "The Boy and the Church," and by T. Kawasaki, secretary of the Japanese branch, Y. M. C. A., whose topic was "The Importance of Work for Boys." Rev. Higuchi, the pastor of the Hilo Japanese church, expressed the appreciation of the visiting men for the entertainment.

Thomas A. Boyle of New York began suit in the supreme court on behalf of his son, Harry Boyle, a school boy, for $25,000 damages against Clara L. Hibbits, a teacher in Public School 55, alleging she injured the youngster by beating him.

ORIENT FREIGHT RATE ADVANCE HITS HONOLULU

Soaring prices on rice and general cargo from the Orient to Honolulu are worrying not only American importing firms but the big Japanese importers and local Japanese merchants.

Cable advices received a few days ago by Tom Church, manager of the merchandise department of Alexander & Baldwin, from the firm's Yokohama agent, said that the rate then on rice from Yokohama to Honolulu was $18 a ton by regular steamers, but that on July 1 it would advance to $25 a ton. This confirms reports printed by the Star-Bulletin three weeks ago.

On general cargo the rate on merchandise received by the company on the Korea Maru May 21 was $18 a ton both on rice and general merchandise from the Orient. A year ago it was between $8 and $9. Freight rates on the subsidized liners of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, Tenyo and Shin-yo Maru, cannot be raised except with the consent of the Japanese department of communications, but the T. K. K. can increase the rate on its other big unsubsidized regular steamers, Korea and Siberia Maru, any time it chooses.

Castle & Cooke, local agents for the T. K. K., recently received a letter from the T. K. K. stating that the rate on general merchandise from Hongkong would be $30 a ton on and after July 1.

One of the leading Japanese importers said today he will receive merchandise by the Japanese tramp steamer Unkai Maru, due here next month from Japan, and that he has had to pay $52 a ton for general merchandise from Yokohama and Kobe, coming on that steamer. The rate for the last tramp steamer bringing merchandise to this firm was only $20 a ton.

It is understood that the Japanese businessmen of Honolulu are getting together in an attempt to secure a lower rate. They say that the present irregularity and tremendous increases in rates work great hardships on the importer, retailer and consumer, and that unless a more reasonable rate can be secured some of the smaller Japanese stores may have to go out of business.

CHAMBER WOULD AID BOARD IN BETTERING CITY

An invitation from the municipal affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce to the board of supervisors, to cooperate with the chamber body for the advancement of the city in any way they may find advisable and offering to help in any way possible, was forwarded to the board in the form of a resolution passed by the committee this morning. The resolution follows:

"Resolved, that it be the sense of the committee on municipal affairs of the Chamber of Commerce, that a verbal communication be made from the chairman of the committee to the committee on ways and means and chairman of the road committee suggesting that if the ways and means committee or road committee of the board of supervisors desire to consult with the municipal affairs committee at any time on county and municipal affairs, the Chamber of Commerce committee would be pleased at all times to cooperate, and that the sense of this resolution be also verbally communicated by the several members of the county and municipal affairs committee to individual members of the board of supervisors."

MONDAY BRINGS CAPITOL CHANGES

Among the changes becoming effective in territorial offices next Monday are several of interest.

As provided by the legislature this year, the bureau of hydrography, which has heretofore been under the board of agriculture and forestry, will come under the control of the land office.

Work is to be commenced immediately cutting through partitions in the Capitol to make room for the new desks. George K. Harrison, superintendent of hydrography, will move in on August 1.

Manley G. K. Hopkins, confirmed by the legislature as territorial auditor, will take up his new work on Monday morning, relieving Col. J. H. Fisher, who has been in the office for 17 years.

The bureau of immigration practically ceases to exist on July 1, only an appropriation for the employment of one clerk in the next two years being provided by the legislature. The position of commissioner, held by Ralph A. Kearns, ends with the present period, though Clerk Paul Smith will remain to handle the details of office and look after the odds and ends of the work.

An order issued from the headquarters of the 25th Infantry forbids soldiers to have civilian clothes in their possession. Clothing now in possession of the men is to be turned in at the company storerooms to be returned when connection with the service is severed.

PINE PACKERS GET READY FOR SEASON'S RUSH

With prospects for the coming season promising much, the pineapple canneries of Oahu will be operating at full speed within two weeks.

"We expect to be running full blast by next week," said J. D. Dole, president and manager of the Hawaiian Pineapple Company, Ltd., this morning. Parts of the plant have of course been running throughout the year, but it will not be until the pineapples come in in larger quantities in the near future that we will be operating the entire plant."

The Hawaii Preserving Company expects to be running at full speed by July 15, according to a statement made by its manager, William L. Gifford this morning.

Libby, McNeill & Libby of Honolulu are planning to run their entire plant at full speed in two weeks, says the management.

That there will be any shortage of cans as a result of the decrease in the available tin supply which has come about through the war is not likely this year anyway, according to the management of the American Canning Company, whose factory is in Elmer.

"Most of our orders for tin plates are on the road already," they said this morning, "and we will have plenty of material to supply the demands of the factories. The canning factories will be adequately supplied."

TWO APPOINTED ON FISH BOARD

H. Gooding Field of Oahu and D. T. Fleming of Maui were announced today by Governor Pinkham as members of the board of game and fisheries created by the recent legislation.

One member each for Kauai and Hawaii and one more for Oahu are yet to be named as the law requires five commissioners.

The purpose of the commission is to examine and investigate the question of the protection and propagation of game and fish in the territory, and to ascertain what steps are necessary to secure federal aid in the care of fish and game, together with the establishment of fish hatcheries.

The commission will make a report to the governor not later than December 31, 1918, with such recommendations as the members deem necessary.

BOND PREMIUMS COST CITY $3500

As the municipal government demands that all city and county officials file a bond as a guaranty of good faith, the city stands the expense and will have to pay in premiums for the next two years $3500.

The mayor's bond is for $10,000, supervisors $5000 each, auditor and treasurer $2500 each, sheriff $10,000, county clerk $5000, and attorney $5000.

Bonds for superintendent water and sewer are $10,000, engineer, purchasing agent, superintendent electric lights, fire chief and license clerk $5000 each, park superintendent $2500, plumbing inspector $2500 and all the rest are $1000.

ARMY ORDERS

First Lieut. Frederick R. Garpin, Coast Artillery Corps, is detailed as judge advocate of the general court-martial appointed to meet at Fort Kaneohe, vice First Lieut. George R. Meyer, Coast Artillery Corps, relieved.

The following named enlisted men will proceed to Fort Shafter on July 12, 1917, reporting on arrival to the commanding officer for a four months' course of instruction in the School for Bakers and Cooks, beginning July 15, 1917, on completion of which they will return to their proper stations:

For instruction as baker—Private Clarence J. Harrison, Coast Artillery Corps, 3d Company, Fort Ruger; Private Joseph Pava, Troop F, 4th Cavalry; Private Edward P. Lawson, Company C, 1st Infantry; and Private First Class William H. Henderson, Company B, 33d Infantry.

For instruction as cook—Private Robert B. Moody, Coast Artillery Corps, 1st Company, Fort Kaneohe; Private Ernest May, Troop K, 4th Cavalry; Private George Schultz, Battery D, 9th Field Artillery; and Private William T. Nelson, Company H, 33d Infantry.

Private Clarence L. Gaskins, Company D, 3d Engineers, is relieved from further duty at these headquarters to take effect June 24, 1917, and upon release from confinement he will report to his commanding officer at Fort Shafter, H. T., for duty.

SEALED TENDERS.

Sealed tenders will be received by the Acting Superintendent of Public Works up until 11 a. m. of Monday, July 9, 1917, for furnishing a Complete Electrical System for the Administration Building of the Territorial Penitentiary, Honolulu, T. H.

The Acting Superintendent reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Plans, specifications and blank forms of proposal are on file in the office of the Superintendent of Public Works, Capitol Building, Honolulu, T. H.

W. R. HOBBY,
Acting Superintendent of Public Works.
Honolulu, June 28, 1917.

MINERAL PRDCTS. DROPS BACKWARD

After running the gauntlet of fluctuating prices for several days Mineral Products collapsed under the strain today and settled back to the former quotations of 30 to 37. Yesterday afternoon, however, the stock was a strong trader at the higher level of 35. Approximately 10,000 shares changed hands. On the other hand Montana Bingham continued firm, two points to 49 on a mild demand. Sugar stocks continued to retain their rising proclivities in the face of a 6 cent market, which means thousands of dollars extra in the purses of the plantations.

LANE TO TURN FARMER ON RELINQUISHING OFFICE

The "back to nature" bug has bit ten Mayor John C. Lane.

He announced this morning that he intends to put his name in for the drawing of homestead lands at Kapaa, Kauai, which takes place soon, and if he is lucky will go to Kauai and become a farmer.

"I was reared on a farm," said the mayor, "and since I have been in public office I have often felt that I would like to get back to the land. An opportunity now presents itself and I intend to take advantage of it."

The mayor says that next week he intends to go to the other side of the island for a rest.

Fort Shafter Notes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

FORT SHAFTER, H. T., June 29.—

The Fort Shafter Kindergarten held its closing exercises on Thursday morning at the kindergarten rooms in the cantonment. A number of mothers and interested parties attended and enjoyed the dancing and songs of the little tots. Their circle dance and song was well rendered and after this ice cream was served at two little tables which were decorated with sunflowers and hibiscus respectively, while the children all wore hats made by themselves in sunflowers and hibiscus designs. The entertainment reflects much credit upon Miss Chapin, who had charge of this school, and also upon Miss Lipscombe, her assistant.

Sgt. Sutzman, who has been absent from his regular duties for some time attending the school for instruction of enlisted men as officers, will be back at his post as steward of the Post Exchange on Monday.

A moving picture machine has been installed at the recruit camp by Lieut. George M. Halloran, the efficient post exchange officer, and is adding much pleasure to the three hundred and fifty recruits who are still in camp. The pictures are shown in the big tent and are most enthusiastically received each evening.

The popular local picture house, in addition to the improvements which have been made lately, such as the new drop curtain, new piano, addition to the number of musical instruments, beds, rustic rails, new benches, improved peanut stands, etc., will shortly be given a coat of paint which will add greatly to its appearance. A hedge of beautiful hibiscus will be also planted all across the front of the theater.

Capt. William E. Hunt has been appointed to audit the accounts of the Post Exchange for the month of June.

The old baseball grounds which have been left unused for sometime is at last to be put under cultivation, the contract having been let for turning it into a rice field.

The commanding officer of Company I, 2nd Infantry, Capt. William E. Hunt, has made some changes in his company. Pvt. 1st Class Frank E. Hunsinger has been appointed a corporal and Corporal Smith was reduced. Private 1st Class Roy H. Rider has also been made corporal to fill an existing vacancy.

Capt. Thomas B. Harker, Quartermaster Corps, will pay the troops of Fort Armstrong, Fort De Russy, Fort Kamehameha, Fort Ruger, Fort Shafter, the Department Hospital, Schofield Barracks, Kahaluka and Pearl Harbor on the muster of June 30, 1917. Capt. Harker will be furnished guards and escorts by the commanding officers of each post.

Master Engineer Ernest Meyers of the Senior Grade Third Engineers, is now on special duty as draftsman in the office of the Department Engineer, and has been relieved from the temporary duties he was performing at the Headquarters Hawaiian Department in consequence.

MILITARY HONORS SHOWN AT BURIAL OF NAVAL GUNNER

Full military honors were paid Chief Gunner Bert E. Staples, who was buried from his home here, says the Standard Union of Brooklyn. A detachment of bluejackets from the electrical class at the Navy Yard, in command of Chief Gunner Frederick Petry, escorted the body to Greenwood Cemetery, where the remains were interred. "Taps" were sounded, and a volley was fired over the grave of Staples, who was the first officer to give up his life for his country since war was declared against Germany.

The strain of working night and day supervising the work of installing the guns on the ocean liners was the real cause of the death of Staples, navy officers say. Staples was attached to the ordnance department of the Navy Yard and was the right hand man of Lieut. Rensselaer Weston Clark, ordnance expert of the Navy Yard. At the time the war broke out Staples was in poor health and was thinking of asking for a leave of absence. Previous to the declaration of war against Germany Staples had been hard at work in putting guns aboard the American liner St. Louis, even while his health was gradually failing.

The official declaration of war made him change his plans and without any one but his most intimate friends knowing that Staples was a sick man the Chief Gunner gritted his teeth and went to work on the liners. He kept up the work until a week ago, when he collapsed, and he died on Thursday.

There was general regret expressed at the yard when the death of Staples became known. Immediately Rear Admiral Usher made preparations for the military funeral, and the chief gunner was laid to rest with the flag he worked so hard to defend twined about his casket.

Information that the war department intends to hold no examination in October for civilians who seek commissions as second lieutenants in the army has been received at army headquarters. The regular July examinations will be held, however.

Captain Samuel H. Tighman, C. A. C., has been detailed as assistant to department intelligence officer, vice First Lieutenant Charles B. Lyman, Infantry, relieved. Lieutenant Lyman will remain on duty at department headquarters until further orders.

Leave of absent for fifteen days on account of illness has been granted Capt. Walter S. Greacen, Infantry, on surgeon's certificate of disability, with permission to visit the island of Hawaii.

Funeral services for Jonathan Shaw, prominent kaamaina, whose death occurred Wednesday night at his home in Manoa valley, will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Central Union church. The body will be interred in the missionary's plot in Kawaiahae cemetery after the services at the church.

NO WORK OF THE PLANTERS.

What Recompense For Greece?

Greece's formal severance of diplomatic relations with the Central Powers follows as a logical result of recent and radical changes at Athens.

The power of the independent government set up under Venizelos; the untenable position of King Constantine, between the upper and nether millstones of opposing world-interests; the constant charges that his royal consort and his court were pro-German; the military situation in Macedonia—all of these combined to overthrow the constitutional monarchy under the king and replace it by a government of Venizelos and the Allies.

In this war it is a case of "all who are not for us are against us." Greece's geographical position made it impossible for her to continue neutral. She had to be Ally or Teuton. Her harbors and her army had to be for one side or the other. Constant pressure by the Allies at last forced Constantine from the throne. But Greece will not be a full and willing participant in the war unless she has a definite pledge of territory to be given as fruits of her toil and sacrifice.

Greece wants Northern Epirus, included by Italy in the latter's Albanian protectorate. Greece wants the withdrawal of the Italian armies from Janina, from the Greek Dodecanese. Perhaps most of all Greece desires Constantinople, of old a Greek city and still with 400,000 of her nationals. And Thrace, the western portion of Asia Minor; Smyrna and Broussa, are included in that wide area of Hellenism which the Greeks consider their rightful inheritance of blood and tradition.

Atlantis, the leading Greek organ published in the United States, speaks with some bitterness of the abdication of Constantine at the demands of the Allies. "There was never a question as to whether Greece ought to fight on the side of the Entente or as ally of Germany," says this paper, which represents independent Greek opinion in the United States. "As a principle Greece always favored the Allied cause. The king shared this sentiment and four different times proposed to the Allies the cooperation of Greece. The king held, however, that Greece had the right to choose herself the time of her intervention in the war and to fight only under the condition and for the purpose of the complete emancipation of the Greek race. This was the real policy of King Constantine. To this policy, purely patriotic and not in the least pro-German policy, the ambitions of Russia and Italy were opposed. Because the cooperation of Russia and Italy were far more valuable to the cause of the Allies than the assistance Greece could give, the other powers of the Entente sacrificed the Greek rights for the sake of the first two powers. To conceal the true aspect of the Greek question the charge was invented that King Constantine was pro-German."

Now that the United States has gone into the war, Greek sentiment in this country is a factor with which to reckon. For the United States will have a seat, and an important one, at the round table when the nations negotiate for peace. The United States will have to consider such questions of right and of recompense as the Greek situation offers.

A SOLDIER'S SECONDARY BATTLES.

(From the Philadelphia Ledger)

In another column there is quoted editorial comment of the Reading Herald on Judge Buffington's plea for adequate support for the army Y. M. C. A. The speaker, it appears, would have the country recognize that putting a uniform on a man does not suppress his personal instincts nor stifle his sociable inclination. The soldier by the nature of his calling is cut off from many normal human pleasures, and of all men he most needs the diversions that do not demoralize and undermine. For our men who are to go to the front there must be a long period of drill and of camp life, and later there will be many days of enforced inaction in the trenches as the summons to action shall come. The moral prophylaxis depends on just such a provision as Judge Buffington urges, of wholesome and inspiring amusement. To rust in idleness is to decline in character. The Y. M. C. A. has an invaluable function. The men now on the firing line cannot word their gratitude and praise for its service performed. The work still to be done is of mammoth proportions. Our people will see to it that the great enterprise is not limited in its scope for want of funds.

NO WAR TO WORLD-EXHAUSTION.

(From the Magazine of Wall Street)

It has been said that history furnishes no parallel in any way comparable with the condition that now exists; that the depletion of the resources of the nations at war is enormously greater than has been the case in previous wars, which condition is likely to extend to the United States if the conflict is sufficiently prolonged, is producing a state of affairs that finds no parallel, and that, therefore, it is unsafe to rely on past experience. To this it may be said that, by comparison, the resources of the Allies are not being strained to a greater extent than were those of England during the twenty years of Napoleonic wars, and that the entrance of the United States, as a belligerent as well as an economic factor, so strengthens the resources of the Allies that no apprehension need be felt as to the final result; the economic effect on this country.

That 10 per cent tax on cabaret doctores will not

Those who took the trouble to ascertain the facts do not need a prompt denial by the sugar planters that they opposed national guard mobilization through their Washington representative. The story of such opposition never amounted to more than vague rumor for whose authenticity no one would stand sponsor.

It has been more or less of an open secret that the territorial food commission, foreseeing disaster to Hawaiian industry if the guard as it existed a few weeks ago was mobilized, conferred with the governor and with General Strong; that the result of their conference and of the army's own view of the situation led to the recent orders to consolidate the guard into two regiments.

Had the entire guard as previously organized been mobilized, it would have swept thousands of laborers from the plantations at the very time when they were most needed—and at the very time when Hawaii's sugar is needed as never before to help feed the nation and its Allies in war.

The American sugar industry must be kept going full speed ahead to meet a tremendous emergency. This fact is known in Washington as it is known in every sugar-producing state and territory. The national government is just as vitally concerned in seeing that the sugar industry does not lose in productivity as is any community, including Hawaii.

No representation was needed by the planters at Washington as to the advisability of keeping on Hawaiian plantations as large a proportion of male labor as possible; no representation by the planters at Washington was needed to show that mobilization of the guard under the old plan would cripple the industry disastrously. Nothing more was needed than the fact that the National Guard of Hawaii was heavily recruited directly from plantation laborers. That fact was known to the food commission, and the Star-Bulletin's information has been that the food commission and not the planters took the initiative of action.

Their action was taken, it has been definitely understood, with the full knowledge and approval of the military authorities here—moreover, upon a statement of the military as well as the economic situation.

CHURCHES TAKE STAND FOR PROHIBITION

The following announcement from the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America shows the council's stand for prohibition:

"In this time of crisis the Federal Council urges the churches to use their utmost endeavors to secure national prohibition as a war measure, demanded alike by economic, moral and religious considerations. The liquor traffic consumed last year foodstuffs sufficient to feed 7,000,000 men for a year, required the toil of 75,000 farmers for six months to furnish these foodstuffs, engaged 62,920 wage-earners needed in legitimate industry and exacted a heavy toll of life. The nation cannot afford this economic and moral waste."

"Wet" and "dry" forces are campaigning in Washington—with this difference, that the "wets" have their back to the wall, fighting the best sentiment in the country, while the "drys" are battling for a righteous cause and a cause that is commanding increasing respect as a sound economic move. The result can be foreseen though it may not come quite as early as the prohibition advocates hope.

The Star-Bulletin will issue an "Anniversary and Progress" number tomorrow, marking its own fifth anniversary as well as the notable progress of many other business houses and institutions in general of the territory. The issue will include a large number of special articles on the progress and upbuilding of the territory.

KATHERINE STINSON CONQUERED JAPAN WITH HER DARING FLIGHTS

American Aviatrix Received With Enthusiasm of Remarkable Heartiness

By BESSIE BEATTY
(Miss Beatty is traveling around the world for the San Francisco Bulletin. The article herewith is an unusual pen picture of an unusual American woman.)

If young Japan could take to wings its joy would be complete. The name for aviator over here is "Sumisu." It is the nearest contortion to "Smith" which the Japanese tongue can conveniently twist and Art Smith is the idol of Japan.

The school boys in their dotted kimono, full skirts and military caps, come by the thousands to watch him fly.

Yesterday in Ueno park I found a group of chunky little chaps, clacking about on their wooden clogs, throwing bits of paper into the air and shouting in wild glee: "Sumisu! Sumisu!"

They shower him with flowers and write him letters in blood. They implore him to teach them to fly; to let them black his boots, to take them to America with him, anything and everything they will do to be allowed near him.

He is frequently in demand as a speaker, and his anti-cigarette arguments are probably having more effect on young Japan than those of any other ten persons.

Today I met Katherine Stinson, the American girl aviator, who has dared both China and Japan.

When she came first Japan did not know quite what to make of her. The newspapers said she could fly, but Japan went to see her with a well founded mental reservation. Perhaps she could and perhaps she could not. Mrs. Fugisawa, a Japanese woman, did what was in Japan quite as daring a thing as any accomplishment of Miss Stinson. She was actuated by a desire to show what the women of another country could do, offered to pay 2500 yen to the American girl if she would make a night flight over Tokyo free to the people of her city. Miss Stinson made the flight and it was all the newspapers promised. Japan believed, but what to call her, became the question.

She could fly, therefore she was "Sumisu," but "Sumisu" did not wear skirts or have long brown curls. They finally arrived at "Sumiso-jo," which means Smith girl.

Since then she has won the right to wings of her own in their estimation, and the populace now calls her "Sumichinson-jo," which is its nearest possible approach to Stinson.

In China Miss Stinson is called "Fly-fly Missle," and a room boy who has aspirations to pass and wanted to make sure she was going up inquired of her mechanic:

"Fly-fly missle walkie topside proper today?"

The attitude toward aviation in China and Japan is entirely different. Japan overwhelms the aviator. The Japanese crowd in thousands around the machine, waving both hands in the air and shouting "Banzai! Banzai!"

China takes the flying machine for granted. It was made to fly, so of course it flies; just like the telephone current makes the American cars go. China assumes that all America is flying and resolves the aviator with silent curiosity, but no demonstration.

In Nanking, where the people had never seen a flying machine, Miss Stinson's experience proved an exception. A military parade ground was used as an aviation field, and a fence of bamboo and matting was erected to enclose it for the event. The people filled the enclosure and when there was no more room on the inside, those outside just took the fence down and joined the party. The people in their curiosity about the machine crowded so close there was no room to start. One man who was urged to move said in Chinese:

"I won't go up. What is the use to move?"

Even the police who were trying to clear the place did it half-heartedly, agreeing with the philosopher friend.

When Miss Stinson finally flew away the crowd was asked to leave a space clear for the machine to come back.

"It won't come back," said the positive Chinese.

"But you said it would not go up," argued another. "It went up."

"Yes, it went up, but it won't come back."

At Peking Miss Stinson made a night flight over the official residence of President Li Yung-Hung, who gave her three thousand dollars and a silver loving cup for the achievement.

On this flight, Miss Stinson carried her only passenger in the Orient; 5-year-old Doris, daughter of the proprietor of the Wagon-Lite hotel.

Art Smith has just commenced his second conquest of the East, and Miss Stinson is just finishing her first. She returns to America after having had an experience that is decidedly unique. She is a Southern girl, pretty and young, with soft dark eyes and a wealth of dark hair. She has gone through the East alone and unchaperoned. She has been honored and feted everywhere and has remained a simple, competent, independent American girl.

At home she conducts a school of aviation with her sister and brother. Last year they trained 50 young Canadians who are now in the flying corps at the French front.

She came to the East because there was money to be made here, and besides carrying back all sorts of trophies, she has received an offer from the Chinese government to return and start an aviation school.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology graduated the largest class in its history at this year's commencement exercises. Three hundred and sixty-seven degrees were conferred.

CALENDARS OUT MONDAY MORNING

Bright and early Monday morning the distribution of Alexander & Baldwin's steamer day calendars for the third quarter of 1917 will be distributed. Owing to delays, only half of them will be available that day. The remainder will be given away Tuesday.

A. Hubert Jones, manager of the insurance department, who has charge of publication of the calendars, said this morning the delay this time is due to the uncertainty of future sailings of the Maui and Matsushima, which necessitated waiting until the Matsushima Line cabled that they would continue on the run indefinitely, and also to the time taken up in securing permission from the War Department to print the names of steamers. Special permission was granted through the Hawaiian Department.

This time 10,000 of the calendars have been printed, and will be distributed not only in Honolulu but in all other parts of the territory. The increase each quarter has been 500 copies. The names of all steamers are included, with the exception of the Canadian-Australasian liners Ma-hura and Niagara. The British Admiralty refused to allow the local agents to make their sailing dates public. Transport sailing and arrival dates are printed as usual.

Calendars will be given out from the shipping department of A. & B. and from the merchant street taxi stand opposite.

ECONOMY LESSON IN INSPECTION OF GARBAGE, SAYS U. S. BUREAU

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)
WASHINGTON, D. C. June 15.—"Have your city food chemist analyze your city garbage from week to week and publish prominently what he finds as an index of food saving or waste in your community," is the suggestion the U. S. Department of Agriculture is making to municipal authorities throughout the country. Where there is no official chemist, the department points out, local chemists capable of determining percentage fats, protein, starch, and organic matter wasted in garbage can render great service to the nation by volunteering to make these analyses in their localities.

Vast amounts of bread, meats and edible fats are wasted in garbage and tons of valuable feedstuffs for animals are lost to the food supply of the nation by usual garbage reduction or disposal methods. One of the first results from the careful analysis of city garbage should be the passage of more rigid enforcement of garbage collection ordinances, requiring that no glass, tin, wood, burnt matches, paper, string, or inorganic trash be mixed with the vegetable material, meat scraps, or bones which can be used for feed.

This dual collection of garbage and trash is being enforced by Germany in all cities of 40,000 people. Garbage so collected from a population of 17,000 people in Germany, although the German garbage pail always has been far leaner than the American one and is especially light at this period, furnished briquettes rich in protein which when fed to dairy cattle produce 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 quarts of milk daily.

In most American cities, however, garbage is sent to reduction plants where all the fat and oil it contains is recovered for use in making soap or greases. The residue after the oil is extracted is used as fertilizer or dumped into the ocean. This practice has been highly profitable because the American garbage pail is very rich in fat, American garbage averaging 3 per cent fat, while German garbage rarely shows even 1 per cent of fat, as the German people never have been wasteful of animal or other fats. Another reason for the use of the reduction method is that in many cities ordinances prevent the use of garbage for feeding animals, particularly dairy cows, although there is no valid hygienic objection to the use of dried and properly sterilized garbage as food for the cattle or hogs.

The department specialists believe that as the thrift idea gains ground less and less fat will be thrown into the garbage pail and are hopeful that the time is not far distant when the amount of fat will make reduction for the recovery of oils hardly worth while. This will mean that a lot of excellent and valuable foodstuff now being wasted as food will never get into the garbage pail. Even when all fat is eliminated, however, and waste of bread and cereals and meat has been reduced to a minimum, the garbage pail nevertheless will contain in the form of parings, plate scraps and trimmings a vast amount of material which should be conserved and used as feed for the hogs, cattle, or poultry. First, however, the people must face the facts and know the truth of their waste, and in bringing this waste home local chemists can render effective service.

NORWEGIAN RECIPES

By Mrs. C. B. Hofgaard
of Kauai

(Mrs. C. B. Hofgaard of Kauai whose Norwegian recipes published in these columns some weeks ago attracted much attention and have been widely followed, has sent the following additional suggestions):

MEAT OR MUTTON WITH CABBAGE

Cut your meat in 2-inch square pieces. Cut your cabbage in eight pieces. If too small, only in four. In a block saucepan melt 1 tablespoon crisco. Then add 1 layer of meat with the fatty part down to the bottom of the pot. Over this put a little flour, salt and whole pepper. Then put a layer of cabbage, then of meat, then of cabbage and over each layer sprinkle a little flour, salt and whole pepper. Press it all down, then add water, about half. Let it come to a quick boil, then draw it aside to boil slowly; be sure to stir it off and on, but do it carefully so your cabbage does not get smashed up in small pieces. Taste the gravy and add more salt if necessary, also-hot water if too little. When meat is tender it is ready to be served.

In Norway, mutton takes the place of round steak, and if you can get mutton for this dish you will have the real "Faar i kaal."

MEAT CROQUETS WITH BUTTER MUSH

Make your butter mush first by boiling 1 big cup milk. Then in another saucepan melt 2 tablespoons butter, add while stirring 4 heaping tablespoons flour, then add little by little your hot milk—don't get it lumpy—and you won't if you don't put in too much milk at once. Add a little salt. Cook. Grind any leftover meat from roast or soup meat, add this to your butter mush; also add 1 well beaten egg or 2 well beaten yolks, also salt, pepper. Four this substance into small croquets, roll in breadcrumbs and fry in a little hot crisco.

If you have any leftover gravy heat it, add a little Worcestershire sauce, and if you like also 1 tablespoon whiskey and 1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet.

NORWEGIAN FISH PUDDING AND FISH BALLS

To a fish of 7 lbs. you need about 1 lb. suet or if very good suet ½ lb. To make the fish pudding you need a large, black iron pot and a wooden pounder. Clean your fish, cut off head and cut your fish in half from tail and upwards. Scrape your fish, then from tail and up each half of the fish, and grind this once on your meat machine. Take the suet, cut away all skin and cut it all fine. Then grind your scraped fish and suet four times more and add salt, mace and ginger. The suet will cling to your meat machine, so you must scrape it down. Take your fish substance and put it in your black pot; now pound it well, adding a little fresh milk or tin milk diluted with water at the time. Then at last 1½ tablespoons corn starch and 2 well beaten yolks of eggs, and at last the well beaten whites. To try, if your substance is not too hard, make an oblong ball and boil it slowly in a little water to which salt has been added.

Add more milk if your ball is too solid; also if necessary, salt, ginger and mace. For the fish pudding, crisco a lard tin and add bread crumbs then add your fish substance, about ¾ full in your tin, put on cover and steam it about 2½ hours.

GRAVY
Take head, bones and skin; put it in a pot, add salt, a few whole peppers, a finely cut carrot, a little green onion, parsley and celery; boil this well with water, strain, thicken with sour cream mixed with flour, add 1 big tablespoon of household sherry and more salt if necessary.

NORWEGIAN FISH BALLS

Make the fish substance the same as your fish pudding—form oblong balls. Boil them in water to which salt has been added, strain; when all are cooked, pour fish water, thicken it with sour cream mixed with a little flour or tin milk and flour; add salt, add your fish balls and let them come to a boil; serve hot.

NEW OFFICERS OF S. A. R. NAMED AT ANNUAL MEETING

Members of the Hawaiian Society, Sons of the American Revolution, devoted their attention to the formation of special patriotic committees at their twenty-second annual meeting last night in the Lanikaia theater. Following the suggestion of W. A. Bryan, president of the organization, and a talk by Arthur E. Larimer, executive secretary of the Y. M. C. A., the following committees were appointed:

Recognition of patriotic service, William R. Castle, Gerrit P. Wilder, and C. B. Cooper; widows and orphans' business advisors, Lorin A. Thurston, Charles H. Atherton, and Wallace R. Farrington; sympathy and assistance, Rev. L. L. Looftbourow, J. T. Taylor, and John Effinger; legal advice and assistance, A. F. Judd, W. W. Chamberlain, and D. L. Withington; medical assistance, Dr. James R. Judd, Dr. C. B. Wood, and Dr. John S. B. Pratt.

L. R. Killam was appointed chairman of a committee to gather sufficient volunteers, about 5000 being necessary, for work in the registration of the men of Hawaii for the draft.

The following officers, recommended by John Effinger, Charles B. Cooper, and A. F. Judd, nomination committee, were elected:

W. A. Bryan, president; G. P. Wilder, vice president; J. T. Taylor, secretary; G. H. Tuttle, treasurer; E. T. Whelan, registrar; H. B. Mariner, I. R. Killam and J. L. Coke, members of the board of managers.

William R. Castle, Rev. Leon L. Looftbourow, and Francis J. Green delivered speeches, and music was given under the direction of George A. Andrus.

ELSASS' STATUS STILL UNSETTLED

Although the big freighter has been ready for two days past to begin loading sugar here, the ex-German merchant steamer Elsass has not yet been turned over to the U. S. shipping board by the navy authorities, and her status is still "up in the air." No sugar can be loaded until the vessel becomes the board's property.

This morning Castle & Cooke, local agents of the Matson line, which has chartered the vessel from the shipping board, sent a cable to Captain Matson informing him that the navy department has not yet given permission for the Elsass to load here, that the steamer is tied up empty at the sugar berth, where she has now been for 36 hours, and asking Captain Matson to instruct the local agents if they are to go ahead and load her. An early reply is requested.

The local representative of the shipping board called two days ago to Capt. A. F. Pillsbury, Pacific coast agent of the board, telling him the boat was ready for cargo, but has not received a reply as yet, although one is anxiously awaited.

ALTERATIONS TO P. O. IN SIGHT

Plans to make alterations to the mailing room of the postoffice are being taken up by Postmaster D. H. MacAdam with the postoffice department at Washington.

Today Herbert Cohen, superintendent of construction, U. S. public buildings, who supervised construction of Hilo's new federal building, began an inspection of the Honolulu postoffice, at the request of Postmaster MacAdam.

Postmaster MacAdam said that he is taking up with Washington plans to get additional space for the mailing floor of the postoffice. "We need more space very much and perhaps some changes can be made which will improve the facilities of the present office and tide us over until Honolulu's new federal building is ready."

HARBOR NOTES

Shipping & Waterfront News*HERMES KEELSON*CHOPPED IN TWO

With what Teutonic thoroughness the German crew of the gas schooner Hermes put the vessel out of commission last February was learned when she was towed from Rotten Row of the inter-island drydock for repairs. The Star-Bulletin was told today of the destruction wrought.

Not only was the schooner's powerful Atlas motor ruined with the exception of its frame, but the masts were sawed so far through that only the rigging kept them from falling over.

About the most effective damage done by the Germans in their "trickiness" aboard the vessel was that the crew took axes and chopped the keelson completely in two. The keelson is a beam running lengthwise of the keel and bolted to the middle of the floor frames to stiffen the vessel. In other words, it is the vessel's backbone, and when it is chopped in two the boat is rendered unseaworthy.

Supt. J. Alex Lyle of the drydock has shipped the Hermes' motor to San Francisco for repairs and has ordered new mast timber to be sent here from Puget Sound to replace the two sawed through masts. The Hermes sought refuge here October 24, 1914, coming from Jaluit, Marshall Islands. Her sister ship, the Aeolus, was captured and burned by the Japanese cruiser Hizen.

CONTRACT LET FOR 16 SHIPS

According to the San Francisco Examiner of June 19, the Moore Shipbuilding Company of Oakland has been awarded by the U. S. Shipping Board, the largest single order for ships ever placed on the Pacific coast.

The order calls for the immediate construction of sixteen cargo carrying vessels of 9400 tons deadweight capacity, to be of steel construction and to be built at a total cost of $25,000,000.

Fifteen months is the time allowed for the completion of the order, which means that the yard will have to launch one vessel each month during the period of the contract.

Word of the awarding of the contract was contained in a telegram received at the office of the Moore Company from R. S. Moore, now in Washington, D. C.

In order to handle the enormous order it will be necessary for the company to spend at once about $500,000 in enlarging and improving its plant. New slips will be necessary, as well as new machinery and machine shops, boiler shops and supply departments. The present payroll of the company, carrying the names of about 2000 workers, will be practically doubled, and a total of about 4000 workers will be employed at the yard.

PAPAYAS MAKE MUCH TROUBLE

One of the Java Pacific Mail Service steamer's chief stewards evidently got "in Dutch" at San Francisco recently because he tried to bring some papayas into that port. The Chronicle says of the incident:

"Fifty luscious papayas, that delicate fruit from Hawaii, were destroyed at a California port by representatives of federal fruit inspection while a steamship steward and his assistant nearly wept. On account of the Mediterranean fly prevalent in Hawaii all fruits, with the exception of pineapples and bananas which have been inspected at Honolulu, are barred from entry into ports of the mainland.

"The officers on the steamer are new to fruit quarantine regulations on the Pacific coast and bought a large supply of papayas and other fruit for their tables while on this coast. Their disgust when the papayas were destroyed was too strong for words."

GOVERNOR RUNS DOWN COAST GUARD CUTTER

Two plates were damaged and four frames bent as the total damage to the Pacific steamship Governor as a result of her cutting down and sinking the coast guard McCulloch off Point Arguello a few weeks ago during a dense fog. This was the word sent to Vice-President R. J. Ringwood of the company here by F. M. Barry of the operating department of the company, who is now in Los Angeles.

The Governor proceeded to San Diego yesterday morning and an investigation of the accident will be held here by Supervising Inspector of Steamships J. K. Bulger when the vessel returns to this port. After the investigation the Governor will go north on her regular schedule and will be laid up in Seattle for necessary repairs. The naval investigation will be held in San Pedro. —San Francisco Chronicle.

T. K. K. EXPRESS*YARN UP AGAIN

About the fifth announcement concerning the long heralded express passenger service between Yokohama and San Francisco has just been made again by Japan newspapers. The first one was made more than a year ago. Two big liners are to be used in the service. They are not yet building, however.

The latest advice concerning the new liners is that contracts for their construction were recently signed with the shipbuilding yards in Japan. Most of the materials have already arrived from America.

Simultaneously with this announcement, it is also learned that the T. K. K. president is contemplating the establishment of a dockyard at Uchida, near Kanagawa, Yokohama. He will invest $20,000,000 yen in this project. Here Mr. Asano will dock his two new liners and other ships of his fleet, including the Tenyo Maru and the Shinyo Maru for their annual overhauling.

It is said that when the new liners, one of which will be named the San Francisco Maru, are completed, he will place the Tenyo Maru and the Shinyo Maru and other ships on the run between Yokohama and Hongkong. Equipped with every modern convenience, the two big liners will chiefly engage in passenger trade, carrying only a small shipment of raw silk and other valuable cargo, such as specie. These two liners will have accommodations for more than 300 saloon passengers and will sail at a speed of 23 knots an hour.

WHAT IS LOVE?
By DOROTHY DIX
The World's Highest Paid Woman Writer

UPON no other subject in the world have we been misled into so many erroneous beliefs as we have as to what love is.

Poets and romancers, the self-constituted authorities on the matter, have used up many a barrel of ink and wasted many tons of good, white paper, picturing it to us as a sort of dope dream—a trance of ecstatic bliss in which we experience strange thrills, see pink gods and goddesses in ordinary commonplace men and women, and are otherwise afflicted with hallucinations.

According to these false prophets, love is wholly a matter of the emotions and a state of temperature. They describe it as a vague, intangible feeling over which we have no more control than we have over the wind, which goes and comes as it listeth—and mostly goes—and, like the wind, is equally liable to kiss our cheek with a soft caress or blow us to pieces.

This fallacious doctrine has been the cause of many confounding people mistaking a mad attack of chills and fever for the grand passion, and contracting marriages from which they suffer ever after. It has also furnished a blanket excuse under which myriads of little, mean souled individuals have tried to cover up some of the most despicable traits in the human character by claiming they were the result of love. Still other men and women have been so confused by all of these mysterious theories about love that they have been at a loss to diagnose their own symptoms, and tell whether they are in love or not.

Stuff and nonsense! Love is not mysterious. It is one of the most practical and concrete things on earth, and there is no difficulty in knowing whether one is in love or not, or whether one is loved. There is one solid fact that never fails to show whether sentiment is pure gold or pitchback.

For this is the real definition of love: Real love is the feeling we entertain towards another that makes us prefer that other above ourselves; that makes us think of that other's happiness before we think of our own; that makes us find our own happiness in ministering to another.

This is the only real, genuine, blown-in-the-bottle brand of love. All others are spurious counterfeits.

Real love is unselfishness. It is sacrifice. It is not selfishness. It is not poetry, nor romance, nor fine speech, nor hot and cold flukes when you hear certain footstep approaches, nor an aching void in your breast when you are parted from some particular man or woman. It is what you are willing to do for that man or woman. It is the way you treat that particular man or woman when you are with him or her.

If your one thought is to make that man or woman happy, if your one thought is to advance his or her interest and well being, and you count every sacrifice sweet that you make for him or her, then you love.

But if your whole desire is to possess another, to monopolize him or her regardless of whether or not you are blighting his or her life; if you permit your jealousy to turn you into a jealous who makes a prisoner of another; if you are bound to have your own tyrannical way no matter what it costs; then, indeed, you love, but it is yourself you love. Not another. That other only exists so far as he or she ministers to your own happiness and comfort and pleasure. You are supremely selfish and supremely egotistical and no egotist can be a real lover.

It is queer how many crimes are committed in the name of love, and how many people honestly think they love another when the only real passion they will ever know or that they are capable of experiencing in their self centered hearts, is for themselves.

THIS WOMAN TOLD TO CHOOSE

Between Operation and Death. Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Des Moines, Iowa.—"My husband says I would have been in my grave to-day had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered from a serious female trouble and the doctors said I could not live one year without an operation. My husband objected to the operation and got me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon commenced to get better and am now well and able to go to my own housework. I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any woman as a wonderful health restorer."—Mrs. BLANCHETTE J. JENNISON, 703 Lyon St., Des Moines, Iowa.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from highly prized roots and herbs, has for many years proved its value in such cases. It is now everywhere being called for.

I know a girl who is married to a brilliant young lawyer. He is ambitious and keen to get on in his profession, and he has explained to his young wife that in order to do this he must study at night at home. But the minute he gets out a book or paper and begins to work, she begins to weep.

"I can't bear it," she wails. "I want you to hold my hand and tell me how much you love me. You are away all day and I do nothing but sit and think how much I love you, and then, when you come home you get out that horrid old book and absorb yourself in it so much that you might just as well be down at your hateful office."

The husband tries to explain to her the necessity of his studying if he is to succeed and keep up with his competitors, but she cries out that she doesn't care whether he succeeds or not, that all that she wants is just him. And when she thus tries, to deliberately wreck her husband's career to gratify her silly vanity in being flattered, this poor little selfish idiot thinks she is showing how much she loves.

An older woman, remonstrating with this young wife, said to her: "Once my husband had a big offer in a business way that necessitated his going away to a place where he could not take me, and stay three years. It meant everything to him in the way of advance. He left the decision to me, and I packed him up and sent him off without ever letting him see anything but a smile on my face."

"You don't love your husband like I love mine," said the young wife. "No," replied the older woman with quiet poise, "I didn't love my husband like you love yours. I loved him enough to be willing to make a stepping stone out of my bare heart for him to climb up on, if he needed it."

Mother love is supposed to be the purest and most unselfish love in the world, but how often do you see a mother sacrificing her children to the pleasure she finds in their society? She may know that it is for their good to leave her, but she will not let them go.

Not one of us but who could point to a dozen old maids, eking out a bare existence at sewing or teaching or keeping boarders, living the barest and most forlorn of lives, who are the victims of selfish mothers who would not let them marry when they were young, because their husbands would have taken them away.

And every village has its unsung martyr of a man, clerking at a starvation wage, whose mother shut the door of opportunity in his face when he was a boy and she wept and begged him not to take the offer he had to do a wider field, far from home. And these mothers ruthlessly sacrificed their children on the altar of their own selfishness in the name of love.

The in-law question, which is the cause of more real misery and domestic unhappiness than anything else on earth, is nothing more nor less than the result of self love. A man's mother is sure that she adores her son. His wife is certain that she worships her husband. Yet if the misguided man tries to put the two to living together they fight like cats and make his life unbearable because neither mother nor wife loves him enough to sacrifice her own little ways and opinions enough to get along with the other woman in order to make him happy and his home peaceful.

Jealousy is often excused on the ground that it is inspired by love. Some even go further and say there can be no love without jealousy. That is true as regards self love, but real love knows no jealousy, it triumphs in his or her triumphs, and it is made happy by whatever gives pleasure to its beloved.

Real love has in it no room for mistrust, or suspicion. It could not doubt its idol and still worship and it is above the pettiness and greediness that would seek to monopolize every thought and interest of the one it loves. It is not true love, but self love that makes a man turn green-eyed if his wife shows frank pleasure in the society of some interesting man who happens to be at her dinner party, or that makes a wife go into hysterics if her husband dances twice with a pretty woman at a party.

No. Love is not a state of feeling. It is a state of action. We are blasphemers when we talk of loving a person yet do that person a more deadly wrong than hatred itself could invent. I know women who prate incessantly of their love for their husbands, but who are killing them with their bad cooking, and harassing them into the grave with their extravagance.

I know men who make a great virtue of their absolute devotion to their wives, yet who never give them a penny to spend as they please, and who raise rows over every bill that makes the women wish they were dead. I know other men who, to gratify their own temper and spleen, say cruel and insulting things to the wives they profess to love, and who have never done one single thing since they were married to make their wives happy.

Oh, there's plenty of love of the kind poets and romancers tell of, the love that takes itself out in fine, high sounding words, and sloppy sentimentality, but of the real love that prefers another before itself there is very little. Such affection is as scarce as hens' teeth, and its price is above rubies.

BEAUTY CHATS

By EDNA KENT FORBES

Milk Baths

Is Quo Vans, there is a message describing the driving of a flock of milk goats from Rome to a sea-shore summer palace of the Roman Emperor Nero. Poppo, his wife, bathed daily in goat's milk; her cream-white skin, her wonderful complexion, her delicate beauty, it was alleged, came from this daily bath.

Historians and researchers into the lives of the wealthy men and women of these days, show an almost unimaginable luxury and a love of beauty. We of to-day with our scientifically prepared creams and perfumes, have not yet attained the splendor of those we look upon as almost barbarians. They went through the most elaborate bathing process daily, and the women bathed in rich milk.

No doubt it was fattening. Some of the oils and fats that all good milk contains, must have been absorbed by the skin. The acids also bleached and gave that lovely milky tint so much desired by womanhood all these centuries. Indeed, such baths are beautifying, but with the price of milk going steadily upwards, there are very few who can afford such care.

However, a pint of milk would make a very good face wash. A pint of buttermilk in a basin, can be used several times to bathe the face, and it will bleach the skin, and often remove freckles. Pure sweet milk should also help make the skin soft and white. Every woman who can afford it, will find a daily wash with warm milk extremely beneficial.

Questions and Answers
The hair in the nape of my neck grows down two inches into a point; consequently I dress my hair high—which style is most becoming to me. My hair looks very untidy as the nape of my neck. Can you suggest anything to remove it? Do you advise cutting it short and bleaching it with peroxide, thus preventing its growth, or can you suggest a harmless method of removing the hair?—Inquirer.

Reply—Peroxide and cutting it short will not prevent the hair from growing again, nor will any depilatory kill the roots. In fact only electrolysis would do this.

And I fancy you would not want the bother of that. If the hairs are too fine and too short to be kept up by a hair net, cut them and use hair tonic on them each night. Then they will come in coarser and longer and can be caught up with a net or pins.

Sweet milk or buttermilk has a splendid tonic effect as a wash.

LAND IS SECURED FOR EXPERIMENTS IN AGRICULTURE

Plots of land for experiments and demonstrations in agriculture are being obtained and set aside on different parts of Oahu by John M. Watt, the food commission's county agent for this island. Already two or three such tracts have been turned over to the agent by the owners without charge, for such work.

On these plots Watt will plant varieties of certain staple vegetable, grain and forage crops, giving them treatment which growers in those sections can apply conveniently to their own fields. An effort will be made to ascertain the staples which can be produced commercially and profitably by the average farmer or livestock man.

One of the most important features, however, will be the demonstration of various treatments for prevention or checking of blights and pests.

"I found a farmer the other day who was spraying his potatoes with a highly expensive, patented preparation that he sent all the way to Chicago for," Watt says. "A cursory examination proved that this was nothing more than a quite common chemical, which the farmer might have purchased at a Honolulu pharmacy for one-third or one-fourth the money he paid the Chicago people."

"This same man refused to have anything to do with Bordeaux mixture, the best known spray for tubers, because he had ill luck with it 10 or 15 years ago. He probably had used the undiluted mixture, which would kill his plants, of course. But he is not going to take my word for this; I'll have to prove to him that Bordeaux will do the work he wants done."

ORPHANS' FUND REACHES $26,000

The French orphans' fund reached a grand total of over $26,000, according to the report of Mrs. A. G. Hodgins, with the last 20 subscriptions of the 500 which go as a gift to the French people in honor of Marshal Joffre.

Those subscribing to the fund to complete the 500 were: Mrs. Mettie L. Scott, Mrs. George C. Watt, St. Andrew's priory, Mrs. Edith S. Mier, Mrs. W. D. Adams, Mrs. James Wilder, Miss Mary E. Merrill, C. G. 25th Infantry, at Schofield Barracks; Companies C, B, G, I, K, L, M and the headquarters company of the 32nd Infantry; Miss Edith Emma Floggett, Miss Dorothea Floggett and Miss Margaret Floggett.

Further contributions to the fund will be solicited, says Mrs. A. G. Hodgins, who has been treasurer of the committee in charge of the movement, the first five hundred merely completing the gift in honor of Marshal Joffre.

POSTAL GUIDES TO BE CHANGED

Postmaster D. H. MacAdam announces he has received advice from the postoffice department that beginning with next month's issue the annual Official Postal Guide will be sold to the public in the complete cloth-bound edition only, experience having shown that the demand for the other editions is too small to justify their sale.

This Guide contains three complete lists of postoffices, one arranged alphabetically, one by states, and one by states and counties; a list of postoffices discontinued during the previous three years; a list of postoffices of the first, second and third classes, with salaries of postmasters; and a large quantity of general postal information covering a wide range of topics of interest to the public, as well as rules and instructions for the guidance of postal employees.

Supplements, issued monthly except in July, contain latest changes regarding the postal service and keep the annual edition up to date.

Remittances for subscriptions should be made by money orders payable to "Disbursing Clerk, Postoffice Department, Washington, D. C." Currency is sent at sender's risk. Postage stamps, foreign money, defaced or smooth coin will not be accepted. The guides will not be ready for distribution until the latter part of July, but subscriptions should be filed as soon as possible to enable the department to place orders for the publication. Copies of the Postal Guide and monthly supplements may be examined at any postoffice.

"Every merchant in Honolulu should have a Postal Guide," said the postmaster today. "We have application blanks at the postoffice for them."

ORDER Saturday's Star-Bulletin. THE PROGRESS EDITION

Mother knows it's good!

She gives the youngsters Appju after school—and sometimes between meals. A glassful takes the place of several apples. Appju is in season the whole year.

Appju

DRINK AN APPLE

The juice of big, fine, sound apples. Our process makes it light, sparkling, refreshing. Appju has the flavor and bouquet that have made Oregon and Washington apples famous the world over.

In bottles, 10c and up. Served by fountains, hotels, restaurants, clubs and on dining cars.
