SHOT AT A LUNA WITH A REVOLVER

Italian Laborer and German Quarrel At Ahukini.

ASSAILANT RAN AWAY AND HID IN CANEFIELD

GAVE HIMSELF UP TO OFFICER BERGAU NEXT DAY—STATES THAT BUTMAN BEGAN TROUBLE.

The W. G. Hall, which arrived from Kaula ports Sunday morning brought the news of an attempted murder there on Saturday which would certainly have resulted seriously had it not been for the fact that the man who committed the assault was unused to handling firearms and consequently could not hit the object at which he had intended to aim.

The trouble took place at the Ahukini landing and the two people concerned in the shooting, for such it was, were men whose duty it is to handle the freight on the wharf. One was a German luna, Butman by name, and the other an Italian working under him, whose name is Diego. The latter is the man who did the shooting.

It appears that on Friday, Butman was hoisting his men as usual on the wharf when an altercation arose between himself and the Italian. Evidently, both men had been celebrating Christmas, for they were in a very bad mood.

After the altercation at the wharf, the luna went mauka a little way from the wharf and the Italian followed. On the way, the latter went into his room, secured a 32 calibre revolver and, armed with this, proceeded to the place where the German luna was standing.

Some other words passed between the luna and the Italian laborer and the next thing people knew was that Diego had begun firing his revolver at Butman, who was only a few feet away. Evidently the latter was used to being shot at in the German army or somewhere else for he did not budge from his position.

Instead of fleeing for safety, for it could well be seen that he was not hit by a single one of the three shots fired by the infuriated Italian, he advanced towards the fellow at a slow walk, at the same time chaffing the Italian on his bad marksmanship. He said among other things that he had no fear whatever at standing up before Diego and allowing him to shoot at him for a target for he felt sure he would not be hit.

This angered Diego beyond measure and when the luna had covered most of the distance to where he stood, the Italian fired another shot, this time with better result. The bullet entered the German's side and he staggered. His friends rushed to his assistance but it was soon seen that he was in no danger whatever, the bullet having penetrated only the fleshy part of his body. The Italian, upon seeing that he had hit the German, ran away, carrying his revolver with him.

The police were soon notified and officers were sent out to apprehend the assailant of the German luna. It was understood that he was still in his room and the police went there but could not find their man. Then it was learned that he had gone mauka and a search was made for him during the day and again during the night but no trace could be discovered.

It was learned later that the Italian fled to the cane fields immediately upon his firing the shot that took effect in the body of the German. There he remained during the night.

On Saturday morning, the police again made a search and the officers all over the island were notified so that it was only a question of time when the fellow should be apprehended.

Later on it was learned that the fellow had been seen in the direction of Kapala, and the officers started out again. They called at his room but he was not there.

At about the noon hour a telephone message was received to the effect that the Italian had gone direct to Kapala and had there given himself up to Officer Bergau who disarmed him. He had thought over the matter during the night while in the cane fields and had come to the conclusion that the best thing for him to do was to give himself up. He acted on the impulse and was received with open arms and taken to the labor jail.

Hawaiian lodge No. 21 installed its officers for the ensuing year with elaborate ceremony Saturday evening.

Working on Ocean Cable

It will be but a few short hours now before messages will be flashing across the Pacific ocean between this port and San Francisco, and Hawaii, so long isolated, will be in communication with all the rest of the civilized world. So long have the islands been in the habit of receiving news here by steamers a week and sometimes more than that later than its actual happening that it will be some time before people will be able to get down to an actual realization of the fact that the day's news of the world can be secured in Hawaii just as on the mainland.

Cable is Laid. Sunday afternoon the shore end of the cable was laid from the Silvertown to Sans Souci and all that now remains is the laying of the remainder of the three miles of rock cable and the thirty-two miles of deep sea cable to the point where the end was buoyed on Friday morning last.

It had been generally understood Saturday afternoon through the medium of the newspapers and by inquiry at the cable office that in all probability the shore end would be laid on Sunday so that people generally were preparing for the event.

Silvertown Sails. At about 7 o'clock Sunday morning the cable ship Silvertown sailed out of the harbor with Pilot Lorenzen on the bridge and the pilot boat towing along at the side. No other people from shore were allowed aboard on account of the limited space which the men had to do their most important work.

It was thought by the cable ship officers late Saturday that the Silvertown would be able to proceed to sea, do the work of splicing thirty-two miles away, lay the deep sea cable and then, as a final step in the operations, lay the shore end and thus complete the connection with San Francisco today.

As has been stated, this was late Saturday when there were signs of calmer weather in the channel. However, when Sunday morning came, it was found that the task of laying the deep sea cable first could not be performed with safety; hence, it was necessary to change the arrangement of the cable aboard ship, necessitating a part of the delay in the operations yesterday afternoon as the Silvertown lay about a half mile outside of Sans Souci.

Close watch was kept on the way out toward Diamond Head to see if there was any hope of laying the remainder of the deep sea cable first but this being found entirely impracticable, the Silvertown was soon headed up toward Sans Souci and within about an hour's time the cable ship was at anchor only about a half mile off shore. Her men were at once set to work making preparations for the sending overboard of the rock cable which, by the way, is much larger than the deep sea cable and is made to withstand the wear and tear on the sharp coral over which it must pass.

Course Marked. As soon as the Silvertown had come to an anchor Chief Officer A. A. Traut and Assistant Hydrographer R. S. Wood went over the course for the cable landing with Captain Lorenzen acting as pilot. The pilot boat traveled about for some time and then finally two buoys were dropped overboard, one bearing a red and the other a blue flag, these marking the best approach to the Kapus landing at Sans Souci. This work done, the boat went back to the ship and after some time one of Young's launches came ashore with Chief Engineer Benet and Engineers H. P. Benet and H. Raymond Barker.

People Went Out Early. It was now about 9 o'clock and shortly after that people from the city began to make their appearance at Sans Souci, believing from the activity between the cable ship and the shore, which was telephoned into town from

At any minute now, Honolulu may be in communication with San Francisco, for the cable-ship Silvertown is standing off from Diamond Head, in all probability looking for the end of the cable which was buoyed some thirty-two miles off this port on Friday morning last, previous to the entrance of the Silvertown into port.

The cable people do not believe in delay, and this morning it was noticed from the shore that active operations were going on aboard the Silvertown. She was very carefully watched and the cable people ashore were soon made aware of the fact that she intended to start out as soon as possible for the end of the cable anchored thirty-two miles off.

At about 10 o'clock the Silvertown hoisted her anchor aboard and was soon heading away for Diamond Head paying out cable as she went, finishing up the shore end and then beginning again on the deep-sea cable. There was no appearance of ostentation whatever. The people aboard went about their work so quietly that the great majority of people who live in plain view of the place where she was anchored did not know what the Silvertown was about, and so far as the city people are concerned, they were sublimely ignorant.

At all events, the Silvertown continued on out to Diamond Head. As soon as she was well on her way, Superintendent S. S. Dickenson and Mr. Trebell, the cable expert, were on their way to Charley Peterson's house on the point. They arrived there in plenty of time to see the cable-ship at her work.

When the Silvertown was abreast of Diamond Head and between four and five miles off, she was seen to drop a large iron buoy overboard and an examination of the float through the glasses, it was seen that there was a blue flag with a white center floating above. This in the code is "P." The Silvertown had simply cut off her deep-sea cable and was seen to stand off from Diamond Head in the direction of the place where the cable end was buoyed on Friday morning.

Of course, the movements of the cable-ship can only be presumed, but it is thought that the idea of the men aboard is to proceed to the place where the end was buoyed the other day, make the splice and then return to the place where, at 11:45 o'clock this morning, the big iron buoy off Diamond Head was put overboard and the cable cut.

There can be no guess made just when Honolulu and San Francisco will be in communication, but in all probability, it will be sometime late this afternoon. Charley Peterson was communicated with at 12:45 o'clock today, and this is the message that came over the wire:

"Cable-ship Silvertown bearing off in the direction of the cable end which she buoyed on Friday morning. There is no cable showing at her stern so that it is certain that she has cut the cable and is now out on a hunting expedition. The Silvertown was off here between 10 and 11 o'clock this morning."

The people who were out at Diamond Head this forenoon watching the progress of the cable-ship state that she was in the midst of an awful sea and rolling from one side to the other, which would seem to indicate that the work of splicing the cable some thirty-two miles away will not be an altogether pleasant one.

Whatever message is received telling of the fact that communication has been established between San Francisco and Honolulu will be received at the cable hut at Sans Souci, as the connection between the Waikiki and town ends has not yet been made, although the cable has been buried and run into the hut and the ends of the line that was brought in Sunday afternoon, stripped and made ready for work.

The cable people are all on the lookout for the establishment of communication with San Francisco, but as the cable has been cut off at Diamond Head there is absolutely nothing to tell those ashore what the cable ship is doing and no one will know until she has actually connected up the whole system at a point a few miles off.

Of course, there is a possibility that the Silvertown, having located the end dropped Friday morning, will come back to the end dropped off Diamond Head this morning, make the splice there and then continue out to the other end, again keeping up a constant communication with the shore.

At 2 p. m. the Silvertown was across the channel, out of sight. Charley Peterson at Diamond Head stated that it was impossible to see her.

vertown was soon headed up toward Sans Souci and within about an hour's time the cable ship was at anchor only about a half mile off shore. Her men were at once set to work making preparations for the sending overboard of the rock cable which, by the way, is much larger than the deep sea cable and is made to withstand the wear and tear on the sharp coral over which it must pass.

Course Marked. As soon as the Silvertown had come to an anchor Chief Officer A. A. Traut and Assistant Hydrographer R. S. Wood went over the course for the cable landing with Captain Lorenzen acting as pilot. The pilot boat traveled about for some time and then finally two buoys were dropped overboard, one bearing a red and the other a blue flag, these marking the best approach to the Kapus landing at Sans Souci. This work done, the boat went back to the ship and after some time one of Young's launches came ashore with Chief Engineer Benet and Engineers H. P. Benet and H. Raymond Barker.

People Went Out Early. It was now about 9 o'clock and shortly after that people from the city began to make their appearance at Sans Souci, believing from the activity between the cable ship and the shore, which was telephoned into town from various points along the beach, that the actual work of laying the shore end of the cable was in progress. However, they were doomed to disappointment and upon arrival at Sans Souci, were told that it would certainly be 3 o'clock before the most interesting part of the work would begin. Having learned this, many returned to town.

Contractors Unprepared. Contractors Lord & Belser had been given to understand late on Saturday that the work of laying the shore end of the cable would not be undertaken until today and that the remainder of the deep sea work would be the first undertaken. In consequence of this fact, they were totally unprepared for the change of plans and upon the first launch coming ashore with some of the officers, were not in a position to do what was required of them preliminary to the landing of the cable at Sans Souci, such as the digging of holes in the sand for the placing of a "dead man" or two.

Telephones Not Working. Not a telephone instrument in the place could be used so that Mr. Benet found it necessary to take a run to town to make sure of the arrangements with the contractors for quick work as soon as the operations aboard the Silvertown should have been completed. In consequence of this fact, it was after the noon hour before a gang of men could be gathered together to do the preliminary work ashore.

However, when Messrs. Lord & Belser did get to work they showed themselves to be excellent men in an emergency. The holes were dug, the "dead men" were placed in position and before long the engine was on the scene. This was placed on the outside of the entrance to the cable company's property and two large metal framework pulleys from the ship were placed in position, one attached to the dead man near the beach and the other to an algaroba tree near the cable hut.

Crowds Arrive. During the progress of these operations, the crowds began to arrive and police officers were kept busy making the two anxious populace from getting in the way of the men from the ship who were working diligently under the instructions of their superiors. An officer was placed at the entrance to the residence of Mr. Hawes at Sans Souci and another at the entrance to the cable company strip of property running from the Waikiki road clear through to the beach.

Officers on Duty. Still other officers were placed on the beach to prevent any interference and others were stationed about on the grounds to prevent any disturbance. High Sheriff Brown was also on the scene and keeping in close touch with his men, assured perfect quiet on every hand.

The band had also arrived on the scene, having proceeded to Sans Souci upon hearing the one long and four short blasts from the whistle at the power house of the Hawaiian Electric Co.

The people ranged themselves along

PUUNENE CHRISTMAS

WEATHER WAS BAD BUT ALL HOMES WERE MERRY

SANTA CLAUS VISITED HOME OF MANAGER BALDWIN—MAKA-WAO EXERCISES WERE POSTPONED.

Puunene, Maui, Dec. 27.—In spite of the rain much enjoyment abounded on Christmas day. For two days messengers were kept busy distributing tokens of good will. On Christmas eve the serenaders kept the air filled with beautiful music. Refreshments, which were served to them by the inhabitants of the various towns through which they passed, did much to add sweetness to the voices and suppleness to the fingers. That it is more blessed to give than to receive, was experienced by musicians and hearers alike.

Several little ones were heard to remark that they wished Christmas would come every day. Santa Claus gladdened many hearts by his gifts and some by his presence. He regrets that he was compelled to disappoint the Makawao Sunday school. He planned to meet them at their Christmas tree on Friday but the roads were in such bad condition that the little folks could not get out but had to content themselves with receiving their gifts at home. Each child was remembered with a useful present also fancy bags of candy, nuts, fruits, etc.

When good old Santa Claus paid his annual visit to the home of Manager Baldwin he found awaiting him Hon. and Mrs. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Baldwin and a few friends, each of whom he kindly and happily remembered, not forgetting the attaches of the home and a number of the little folks in the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Dinogre bring back glowing accounts of the visit of Santa Claus to Mr. and Mrs. Scott at Kihali.

AN ALLEGED ASSAULT

Two Portuguese youths, A. Benowitz and M. Souza, were arrested last Saturday afternoon for an alleged assault on a deaf and dumb boy called Monalilli, a bootblack living at Pauoa. They are alleged to have demolished his blacking outfit and then, after tying his arms and legs, to have tied a rope around his neck and proceeded to hang him by suspending him from the limb of a tree. When the poor boy was almost fainting they let him down and renewed his tortures by beating and kicking the unfortunate lad.

A passer-by notified the police, who arrested the two boys. Their cases came up in the Police Court this morning. Benowitz being charged with assault and battery and Souza with aiding and abetting.

Attorney H. W. Robinson, who appeared for the defendants, asked the court that the case be continued, which was granted.

Elizabeth Hall Chang, a Chinese girl of Kaulawela school, and Ted Tracy, were the winners of the prizes offered by the Wall, Nichols Co. for the most original Santa Claus letters sent in at Christmas time. There were a large number of letters to be gone over and the judges had a hard time deciding on the prize winners on account of the excellence of many of the little missives.

GOVERNOR DOLE

ASKED TO ACT IMMEDIATELY

A long wireless telegram was dispatched to Governor Dole at Pauwau, Hawaii, yesterday morning on the subject of the Federal building site. It was signed by L. A. Thurston on behalf of the citizens' committee.

The message asked for immediate action from the Governor on the proposition on a Government land exchange with the Bishop Estate for the lot opposite the Alexander Young building. This proposition received the approval of H. E. Cooper, Superintendent of Public Works, after a series of conferences held with him the latter part of last week, attended by Mr. Eustis, special agent of the Treasury Department; Mr. Thurston, of the citizens' committee; and W. O. Smith, of the Bishop Estate trustees.

The value placed upon the lot is $131,000 and the Bishop Estate will take in exchange lands on Hawaii and in Ewa district on this island, together with town lots in Honolulu, to equivalent value.

This proposition does not involve an appropriation by Congress to buy a site. Therefore it is hoped that it will commend itself to the Federal Government as readily as would a site of public land offered directly by the Territorial Government.

OREGON IN A STORM

GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION BY AN ENLISTED MAN

ALL MANNER OF THINGS OVERBOARD—BOTH LIFE BOATS WERE SMASHED—OTHER TROUBLES.

A letter, dated Yokohama, December 15, which was received at the Naval Station from an enlisted man on the Oregon, gives the following interesting particulars of a big storm the Oregon encountered on her way to Yokohama:

"Got in on the 15th—20 days out. On the 25th we butted into the darndest cyclone you ever heard of. There is not an officer or man on board but admits it to have been the worst he ever saw. It was something frightful, and no one expected the ship to live through it. Both life boats were smashed to splinters and three others were badly jammed and damaged. Thousands of dollars' worth of stuff was either lost, thrown overboard or damaged beyond repair.

"About 11 o'clock that night a big green wave hit us on the starboard main hammock rail that simply buried the ship. It didn't break over us—it just swept over and went on about its business. It went over the crane even. Now don't laugh; these are facts. It flooded all the lower decks, some magazines and all the handling rooms and 'All Hands' ('All hands'! Save the ship!) was piped at 10:30 thought their time had come.

"Earlier in the evening the front of the pilot house and all the windows were completely demolished by a sea. It was the most horrible thing I ever experienced, and I hope by all the gods that I will never have to go through another night like that one. The greatest wonder on earth that no one was washed overboard.

"When excitement occasioned by the 'big storm' had somewhat subsided we had a smallpox scare in the case of a

Jap. It turned out to be a light attack of varioloid and the heathen was sent to duty after a few days. A day out of Yokohama we encountered a severe gale, but it was nothing like as bad as the 'big storm.' However, it delayed us twenty-four hours.

"We reported by cable for duty and got orders to dock at Uraga (about fifteen miles beyond here) for necessary repairs occasioned by the cyclone, and then to proceed to Cavite with despatch. Can't tell how long we will be docked.

"The Crown Prince of Siam is expected to arrive today and all ships and men-of-war are standing by for dressing ship and for a national salute."

FORGED I.O.U. PUT IN EVIDENCE

Waiter A. Wright Under Examination For Embezzlement.

THE BROKEN PROMISE OF TREASURER WRIGHT

WITHDRAWAL AS COUNSEL FOR MAGOON—A SILVA WANTS THE ALIMONY REDUCED.

Walter A. Wright is undergoing his preliminary examination before Judge De Bolt today, on the charge of embezzlement of public money while deputy collector of taxes in Waimea district, Kaula. The defendant was released from Oahu prison under habeas corpus by Judge Gear last week, upon a showing that his commitment had not been regular. He was immediately arrested on a new warrant and Judge De Bolt is sitting on his case as a committing magistrate.

E. A. Douthitt is conducting the case for the Territory, and E. C. Peters that for the defendant.

Elmer E. Conant, who was assessor for the Kaula division when Wright's shortage was discovered, was held long on the stand for cross-examination on behalf of the defense. The amount short was $2800 and odd, to cover which a number of I. O. U.'s were turned in by Wright.

Witness testified that $643 was collected on these securities but not credited to Wright on the books. The reason he did not credit him was that William H. Wright, Treasurer of the Territory then, had at the discovery of the shortage told Conant to pay over whatever might be collected on the I. O. U.'s and he, Treasurer Wright, would pay the balance into the treasury for his brother, the deputy collector.

Judge De Bolt asked him why he did not credit the amount to the defendant when it was paid.

"Because I did not wish to make myself responsible for it until I saw that the Treasurer kept his word about making the whole deficiency good."

The court seemed to think the deputy collector should have been credited with the money, but did not regard the circumstance as being material to the charge. On the occasion of ruling out certain questions previously, the court reminded Mr. Peters that it was a principle of law that crime could not be wiped out by any amendments made after its commission.

Mr. Douthitt objected to certain questions because one I. O. U. exhibited was "a rank forgery." When Mr. Peters had rested, Mr. Douthitt examined the witness directly on that paper. Mr. Peters objected to the evidence as hearsay, but when the witness said it was an admission made to him by the defendant, counsel withdrew his objection.

This particular evidence was that

OFFICERS OF CO. "I."

Waikuku, Dec. 27.—An election of officers of Company "I," First Regiment, N. G. H., took place at the company's armory in Waikuku on the night of December 19. Captain C. B. Cottrell presided. There was a goodly attendance of members. There being only one candidate for captain, W. E. Bai was unanimously re-elected to the position he had held with much success during the past year. First Lieut. G. H. Cummings did not run, and with him out of the company none of the original officers remain. Capt. Keola and Lieut. Boote being the others. The officers of the company for the ensuing year are: Captain, W. E. Bai; first lieutenant, N. W. Aluli; second lieutenant, A. Jackson.

OLAA CHRISTMAS TREE.

Olaa, Dec. 26.—The closing exercises and Christmas tree at the Nine-Mile School was well attended (there was no rain) and a program of unusual merit was carried out, after which, Santa Claus appeared upon the scene, dressed in his scarlet and ermine robe and covered with the proverbial snow flakes. He entertained the children for several minutes, and then the big doors into the next room were opened and disclosed a giant Christmas tree fairly groaning under the weight of gifts and goodies, which Mrs. F. B. McStocker, who takes such a lively interest in the school, had provided us. All felt disappointed, however, that she was not able to be present owing to illness. On Sunday the pupils of the Sunday School at nine miles enjoyed a similar treat from the same generous lady, and as most of the school children attend the Sunday school as well, they have reason to remember their double good time.—Tribune.

HILO'S HAPPY CHRISTMAS.

Hilo, Dec. 26.—Christmas festivities in Hilo have never before been as interesting as they have been this year. The children in all the Sunday schools and missions of the city have been working for a month past, under the tutelage of industrious and patient teachers in preparation for the eventful week. The little folks, as a result have not only entertained the crowds that have gone to hear and see them, but they have given their elders an object lesson of what may be accomplished by earnestness of purpose and industrious application. This year every church in the city was the scene of happiness and good cheer upon some one night.—Tribune.

VISITED HIS OLD HOME.

WE

Recommend a saver, an investor, a safe investment. An investment where the managers, directors, etc., have sufficient of their own money invested to insure the careful handling of yours.

Good laws, laws that State specifically the security upon which loans should be made. Rigid State control and Commissioners appointed by the State to inspect regularly the condition of such investments.

Loaning of money in desirable towns on improved real estate (people's homes). Loaning to home getters, who have a two-fold object in view, saving and paying rent to themselves, making better security to themselves as well as the lender.

Invest now, because the tendency is toward lower interest rates. Ten years from now the banks will be paying 2 per cent and 3 per cent instead of 3 per cent and 4 per cent, while Building and Loan Associations will pay 8 per cent and 10 per cent in place of 10 per cent to 14 per cent. Capitalists on the Mainland are looking for long-term investments with reasonable guaranteed interest rates. Why should you not do the same, whether you have three dollars per month or whether you have $10,000 to put in at one time?

The Phoenix guarantees cash values on its stock, bonds or deposits from one to twenty years.

"Mahope" and "manana" and "bye-and-bye" are words to be eliminated from your vocabulary, if you expect to save. If you do save our bonds will be a good addition to your worldly assets. They are guaranteed in every particular.

The following combinations are included in the Phoenix: The best elements of a savings bank and Mortgage Loan Company. A paid-up and guaranteed capital to guarantee stockholders against possible loss, the same as good commercial and private banks have. Capitalists managing it and interested in its Reserve Fund and other stock number 27 of the most prominent financiers of the Pacific Coast; men versed in every particular and detail of financing; a combination of small shareholders of three dollars per month with those who are able to pay ten thousand dollars at once. Of home getters and home builders, who are interested sufficiently to have enough object in paying off their loans to the Company on installments, making loans absolutely safe. A combination of the old-time reliable Building and Loan Associations' systems with modern, up-to-date principles of doing business.

The Phoenix hustles for business and gets it. It treats its stockholders in such a way (by giving an interest in all profits) that they are only too glad to recommend it to their friends.

It has paid everyone connected with the Company, this manner and method of up-to-date management. It is a combination of all the sound principles of banking (from the inception of banks) with up-to-date methods of safety and new features of getting business where it would otherwise go to waste. It will give you a combination stock, which if you do not care to stay you may withdraw at end of a year, and receive a stated sum; or allow it to remain a few years longer, and receive a guaranteed profit. It will guarantee you a stated sum at stated time, according to amount paid. The same stock owned can be made to pay you an annuity for five years after first 5 years—after ten years for the next ten years, making twenty all told. It gives you 16 different options on this class of stock. This stock is $65.00 per share if paid down, $8.00 per year if paid annually. It can be paid monthly, quarterly or semi-annually.

Class A, sixty cents per share, can be made to mature quicker by paying faster. One hundred payments are all that are necessary on this Class to make it mature. It will be withdrawn from the market soon. In fact, we could give you a good many more combinations, but we think that you are satisfied that the Phoenix Savings, Building and Loan Association is an absolutely safe proposition. It wouldn't hurt you to investigate, the few minutes' time lost could not be better spent, and while we are always busy we are never too busy to talk stock of the Phoenix Savings, Building and Loan Association.

Senatorial Discussion Of Burton's Hawaii Amendment

Mr. Hoar—I want to ask the Senator from Ohio whether his committee received this report and considered this particular amendment?

Mr. Foraker—No.

Mr. Hoar—That is the question I previously put, and I so understand. Now I want—

Mr. Foraker—Will the Senator allow me to say a word in answer to that?

Mr. Hoar—Certainly.

Mr. Foraker—Our committee has not received a report. The report has not yet been fully prepared. I was about to inquire whether it had been prepared as to this point, namely, as to the industrial conditions obtaining at this time in Hawaii.

Mr. Hoar—But as to the legislation in this particular amendment, I understand it does not come with the authority of the Senator's committee.

Mr. Foraker—No; it does not, because we have not had any opportunity to consider it.

Mr. Hoar—Perhaps it is a very old-fashioned notion, but my point is that whatever be right or wrong in regard to dealing with a man who has got unlawfully into this country—and I am not speaking about that now—when you come to take a human being and drag him or carry him against his will 5,000 miles from a place where he lawfully is on the ground that he has broken a contract or that he has no valid excuse for failure to work at a particular occupation, you are violating the fundamental and decent principles of all human justice or law; and it is an outrage to do it without surrounding that transaction with some security for its justice and its propriety. Whether this transaction is so surrounded now the Senator from Ohio does not know, and the Senator introducing the amendment does not know, and the Senate does not know.

Mr. Burton—The Senator did not allow me to answer that part, and I will do it. I will wait, however, until the Senator from Ohio (Mr. Foraker) is through.

Mr. Tillman—Mr. President—The Presiding Officer—Does the Senator from Ohio yield to the Senator from South Carolina?

Mr. Foraker—Certainly.

Mr. Tillman—I understood the Senator to say that this amendment had its origin in the fact that a subcommittee of the committee of which he is chairman had been appointed to visit Hawaii during the recess to examine conditions, and that those conditions are such that they have given rise to this proposed legislation. It seems to me that it would be fairer to the Senate that that committee should be allowed to formulate its ideas and submit them to us, so that we could examine some of the reasons instead of having one member of the committee rush in, although he tells us that there will probably be opposition from some other member. I say I think it would be fairer to us if this matter was brought in in an orderly way by letting the full committee pass upon the action of the subcommittee so as to get it before us in a proper manner.

Mr. Foraker—Mr. President—Mr. Tillman—I have another question, but I will not press it now.

Mr. Foraker—Mr. President, it is not necessary for me to explain the action of the Senator from Kansas, for he has already explained it, and it is not necessary, certainly, for me to defend him against the charge of having rushed in prematurely. The Senator stated that he was loath to introduce this amendment to the pending bill simply because the subcommittee had been unable to prepare and lay before the Senate their report; that he had been holding his amendment back until that report could be laid before the Senate, but had been compelled to offer it now or not at all, because this bill was about to be put upon its passage.

I called attention to the fact, when the bill was about to be reported to the Senate from the Committee of the Whole, that the amendment had not yet been offered, because the Senator and those associated with him on the subcommittee had told me, quite naturally, I being chairman of the committee, something of what they had found to be the existing conditions in Hawaii, and the necessity for some such legislation as this. I had been told that they contemplated preparing an amendment and having it offered to this bill. I thought that if it was to be offered at all it ought to be offered now and I called attention to it, because being chairman of that committee, I feel a responsibility with respect to it.

We ought not to allow the islands of Hawaii to suffer for want of legislation which we may enact, if we find upon consideration that this legislation should be enacted. I am taking no position now as to that, one way or the other, but I feel it my duty, before this matter passes from consideration, to give this proposition a chance to be heard. I should much rather have the benefit of the committee's report, as the Senator from South Carolina suggests; but I do not regard that as indispensable.

Mr. Tillman—I desire to clear up any idea that I am criticizing the Senator from Kansas. I have no purpose or desire to pass any strictures upon that Senator's action. He has a right to introduce any amendment he pleases. The only question that presents itself to my mind is that we had up the whole subject of Chinese immigration to the United States proper and to the United States improper, as some of us consider the Philippines, and everything else last spring; we discussed it exhaustively, and I thought any question as to the conditions in Hawaii and the necessities of that insular annex was sufficiently considered then to make it unnecessary for us six months afterwards to rush forward under the claim that there is a terrible dearth of labor in the Hawaiian Islands and that they are about to get into a condition of industrial collapse and all that kind of thing.

It has occurred to me also that there might be other parts of the United States that would want labor and want it now and want it badly, and I do not really see why we should be discriminating in favor of a few corporations which own sugar plantations in the Hawaiian Islands and leaving out of consideration the millions—well, millions is not big enough—of acres of Southern lands that need drainage and need cultivation. I should like to have some explanation as to why these sugar plantations in the Hawaiian Islands are such pets of ours that we can not pass a Chinese exclusion bill at one session but that we must come along and modify it at the next.

Mr. Mitchell—Mr. President—Mr. Foraker—Will the Senator allow me to say one word in answer to the Senator from South Carolina?

Mr. Mitchell—Certainly.

Mr. Foraker—This amendment has no reference to sugar plantations, as a class, to the exclusion of other people in Hawaii. It is intended for the benefit of all the people in Hawaii. There are a few sugar plantations there, I do not know how many; it is a great industry in the Hawaiian Islands and when it languishes, when sugar plantations can not be conducted except at a loss, and such I understand is the fact now, there is poverty and distress in the whole of the islands; all classes suffer.

Mr. Tillman—Then there is another question I should like to ask the Senator.

Mr. Foraker—I should like to be permitted to answer that first and then I will yield to the Senator.

Mr. Tillman—The Senator is so prolific of ideas in my mind that I must beg his pardon if I respond too quickly.

Mr. Foraker—The Senator from South Carolina starts all my ideas.

Mr. Tillman—It is the same with me.

Mr. Foraker—This is not intended for the benefit of any class. It is proposed upon the theory that it will benefit all classes.

Now, what I wanted to say in answer to the Senator, before I quit on that point, is that a few moments ago I asked the subcommittee whether this portion of their report had yet been prepared, and if so, I will now ask that it may be at once printed, in order that we may have the benefit of it before we do act finally on this bill.

Mr. Mitchell—Mr. President, I happen to be the chairman of the subcommittee. Only three members of the subcommittee appointed were able to visit the Hawaiian Islands—the Senator from Kansas (Mr. Burton), the Senator from Washington (Mr. Foster), and myself. Under the authority imposed on us by the resolution of the Senate we investigated quite a number of rather important matters in Hawaii.

A great amount of testimony was taken, some 176 witnesses were examined in all, and a great many memorials and petitions were presented to the subcommittee for their consideration.

Among the subjects investigated was this one of labor in the islands. On that subject we received a great deal of testimony and a number of memorials, petitions and letters, all bearing upon the question of labor in the islands.

The Senate will see that necessarily a considerable amount of work was imposed on the subcommittee in undertaking to digest the large amount of testimony we brought home with us. It was not convenient for the subcommittee to meet as a whole in Washington until a few days before the meeting of the Senate. We have been diligently at work trying to digest the testimony on the various subjects and in the preparation of what we desire to say to the Senate and to the committee of which we are a part.

There are several subjects that we have completed and acted upon. So far as this particular subject is concerned, it has not been completed; it has been very little discussed in the subcommittee, and only in an informal and perfunctory way. It certainly, so far as I am concerned, has not been decided upon by the subcommittee one way or another, and as chairman of the subcommittee I frankly say to the Senator from Ohio that I am unable to say now what the report of the subcommittee will be on this particular question. That it will be, judging from what has occurred here, a divided report I have no doubt; but on which side there will be two and on which side one I do not yet know.

Mr. Foraker—Mr. President—Mr. Mitchell—One moment, if the Senator will allow me.

Mr. Foraker—I only want to ask the Senator from Oregon for some information on the point he is just touching upon.

Mr. Mitchell—Certainly; I yield to the Senator.

Mr. Foraker—The Senator from Oregon says the report will, he thinks, be a divided report on that point.

Mr. Mitchell—I should judge so from what has occurred here today.

Mr. Foraker—Will the Senator allow me to ask him whether he refers to the industrial condition now obtaining or to the question of admitting Chinese labor?

Mr. Mitchell—I refer to the question of admitting Chinese labor.

Mr. Foraker—There is no division, I understand, on the industrial condition.

Mr. Mitchell—I agree that there is at present great industrial depression in the islands.

Mr. Bailey—Will the Senator from Oregon permit me to interrupt him?

Mr. Mitchell—Certainly.

Mr. Bailey—I wish to inquire whether the committee will take the trouble to enlighten the country as to the wisdom of acquiring territory that can only be rescued from an industrial collapse by an importation of Chinese labor?

Mr. Mitchell—That is a question we have not reached. As I said, I find no fault with the course taken by the Senator from Kansas (Mr. Burton). He has a perfect right to offer any amendment, as any other Senator has, to any bill which comes up here for consideration. Still, it does seem to me that so far as any action is concerned by the Senate upon this particular proposition as to whether or not it will loosen up the existing legislation on the subject of Chinese and admit them into Hawaii, it should not be decided until, in the first place, the committee of which we are a part, and then the Senate, shall hear what we, as a subcommittee, have to say on the subject.

Now, another thing. The Senator from Kansas states, and his statement is confirmed by the Senator from Ohio, that this is the proper time and place for this proposed legislation. I deny that. The history of legislation from the earliest period of Chinese restriction in the United States shows that legislation in regard to Chinese immigration has always been kept separate and distinct from general legislation on the subject of immigrants.

The question of excluding Chinese laborers because they are Chinese, because of their race, is a question that has never been considered in connection with a general law on immigration, or, if considered, provisions of that character have never been incorporated into legislation which relates to immigration generally.

Therefore I say that the particular subject involved in the amendment introduced by the distinguished Senator from Kansas is one that ought to be considered separately and apart from the bill now pending instead of in connection with it.

Our subcommittee, as I have stated, have not yet considered this particular question, except in a most informal manner, and will not until we have thoroughly digested all the testimony and memorials, affidavits, and letters presented to us relating to this particular branch of our inquiry.

Therefore, Mr. President, it does seem to me that this is a matter that cannot be considered now in connection with the pending bill, and that it ought not to be considered now in connection with this bill, but that the amendment of the Senator from Kansas should go to the appropriate committee, of which the distinguished Senator from Ohio (Mr. Foraker) is chairman, and it should there await the report of the subcommittee which has been investigating this matter in the Hawaiian Islands, for our report will be accompanied by an appendix showing all the testimony taken by us, so that the committee will have the

While the subcommittee, I presume, under the rules of the Senate, have authority to report directly to the Senate instead of to the full committee, it has been my intention, so far as one member of the subcommittee is concerned, that as to this particular branch of the inquiry at least we should report our conclusions to the full committee; and if I can have my way that will be done, so that the full Committee on Pacific Islands and Porto Rico may look into this question in all its various phases and then report to the Senate their conclusions as to what ought to be done or what ought not to be done in regard to this particular proposition. MONDAY, DECEMBER 29, 1902.

Should Governor Dole reply as promptly as expected to the wireless sent him by the committee on the Federal building site, one of the first messages sent over the cable will be the assurance to Washington friends that will enable them to urge the appropriation necessary. There ought to be joy at the National capital when it is learned Honolulu has found a subject on which a speedy agreement can be reached.

The success attending the landing of the cable land line on Sunday and the apparent continuance of the work this morning by the Silvertown promises that immediate advantage will be taken of any improvement in the weather for placing Honolulu in telegraphic communication with San Francisco. At any moment citizens of Honolulu may wake up to find themselves in touch with the outside world. It behooves our people to be on watch that the first messages shall not be delayed or the exercises planned shall not be behind time.

The Treasury Department has made an interesting observation of recent conditions in the coffee market which ought to furnish an additional argument in favor of Hawaii and Porto Rico's request for a protective duty. Overproduction of coffee everywhere has resulted in breaking the price paid to the producer to the lowest figure heretofore known, particularly in Brazil. Within the past month cargoes of No. 7 Rio, the standard grade, have sold in New York at 5 1/2 to 6 cents a pound. Nevertheless, there is no appreciable reduction to consumers. The retail prices are practically the same that prevailed in 1896-97, when the wholesale price of No. 7 Rio standard coffee in New York was almost double the quotations of the present period. The Treasury officials deem it extraordinary that a fall of more than 50 per cent in the primary cost of all coffees has not carried with it some reduction in their retail price. They also deny the claims of dealers that the reason is found in the prices of Java and Mocha not feeling the slump. This condition in the coffee market proves one of the fallacies of free trade. With coffee at the lowest price for years as far as producers are concerned the workingman finds the coffee for his table costs the same. With reasonable protection the consumer would pay no more for his morning cup of coffee and the American producer would be able to grow his coffee at a fair profit.

an I. O. U. purporting to have been given by Sun Quong Sing to Wright was bogus.

"Now, Wright, what is the use of you beating about the bush?" Conant said to his deputy. "Does Sun Quong Sing owe you this amount?"

"No, he does not," was Wright's reply. This was the report of the interview the witness had with his deputy. He testified that Treasurer W. H. Wright had written to him about his brother's shortage, but "unfortunately" he destroyed the letter when moving his office.

"Yes, unfortunately for us," Mr. Peters remarked.

M. G. Silva, by his attorneys, Creighton & Correa, moves that the alimony of $60 a month be ordered in forced proceedings on May 31 to pay to his wife be reduced. He says he is without means to pay so much and that he, his estate and his creditors will suffer loss if the order be continued in force.

Judge Robinson granted the motion for amendment of bill, so as to give a better description of certain premises in the partition suit of Harriet Bailey et al. vs. Elizabeth Cunningham, et al., and continued the hearing on the commissioner's report until January 12.

Robertson & Wilder, counsel for plaintiff, have withdrawn the motion to set for trial filed in the equity suit of Ernest L. Huetter et al. vs. John M. Dowsett.

Humphreys, Thompson & Watson today filed their withdrawal as of counsel for the defendant in the case of "Territory of Hawaii vs. J. Alfred Magoon, accessory after the fact to a felony." The firm was among the host of volunteers for the defense when Mr. Magoon was indicted, but its relations with him became strained in the summer case.

J. H. Coney, Sheriff of Kauai, testified to an admission Wright made to him the night before he was arrested. He acknowledged he had taken about the amounts shown on a memorandum by the sheriff. The money, Wright told him, came from different kinds of takes and he had spent it.

The Sans Souci fence, the beach and the pier and many watched the operations from canoes and other small craft which were arranged in a semi-circle line on the Kwa side of the point where the shore end of the cable was to be laid.

On the Irwin board fence were ranged a hundred or more spectators, among the number being some of the wealthiest of Honolulu's citizens. The frail dividing structure swayed back and forth several times but a bright thought occurred to those who were standing on the dangerous side of the fence and it was quickly propped up with spade handles. However, it is not at all unlikely that Mr. Irwin will have a bill of repairs on his hands as a result of the too vigorous leaning of yesterday.

About 700 Present.
At a liberal estimate, there were probably seven hundred people on the scene. It was difficult to judge with any degree of accuracy because a large number of people were in boats along the shore and even out on the reefs which line the channel near the shore.

Signals went forth between the shore and the cable ship while the work was going on so that every detail as it was carried out was known at both ends.

Blue Flag Goes Up.

Finally at exactly 3:45 o'clock, the American flag which had been flying from the pole on the cable company's strip and near the beach, was lowered and in its place, a blue flag was sent up, indicating to the men on the Silvertown that all was clear and that the men ashore were ready to receive the line that was to bring the cable ashore.

Rope Leaves Ship.

There was another period of waiting and then the crowds saw with two launches leave the Silvertown with a couple of the ship's boats in tow, the latter carrying immense coils of rope, aggregating some 650 fathoms and furnished with five gutta percha buoys.

Canoe Took the Line.

One of the launches left the boats about half way in and, casting off, lay to while the other launch towed its burden ashore. Arriving at the pier, a man from the launch shouted out to the half dozen or more canoes near by: "Will some of you take this line ashore?" There was a shout, a scramble and a dipping of oars but A. W. Booth, Dr. A. C. Wall, Olaf Sorenson and two natives in a fine boat were quicker than the others and were soon alongside the launch. The small line was passed to the man in the stern and the end of the big hawser was soon splashing in the water. The small line was pulled in and the hawser was then passed through the two iron pulleys and thence to the engine stationed outside. It was just 3:47 when the big hawser was landed.

The two boats were then towed out into the channel and the hawser was paid out. The other launch gave a helping hand and in a short time the hawser had been passed aboard the Silvertown, all the boats making for the side of the ship to await further orders.

Cable Starts From Ship.

At 3:58 o'clock, everything having been done for the actual bringing of the cable ashore, there was a straining at the big hawser and soon the rope was on its way ashore. A couple of minutes later a blue flag went up at the fore of the cable ship, the big launch approached the bow of the Silvertown and at 4:02 the first buoy with the end of the cable was seen to slide down into the water. The launch immediately attached a line to the cable end for the purpose of keeping it in the proper course and then people stood on tip toe for an hour while the laborious work of getting the cable ashore was going on. The launch tugged and strained at the cable, finally getting it in such a fine position that one of the officers on duty ashore cried out when the launch was not far away: "It could not have been better."

It was growing dark very quickly and the photographers who had intended getting snap shots when the first balloon touched the beach, were forced to leave their vantage points in great disappointment.

Balloon after balloon kept disappearing over the bow of the Silvertown only to reappear again floating on the surface of the water and finally making a complete line of 85 which dotted the channel from ship to shore.

Landed Amid Cheers.

At exactly 5:41 o'clock the first balloon reached the shore and the people, no longer able to contain themselves, threw their hats into the air and shouted as the cable end appeared above the water and entered the first pulley near the beach. They jumped into the narrow slip of land, bent down and felt of the cable and then forming a guard of honor on either side, walked along with it as the end was drawn up to a position a few yards mauka of the cable hut. All the while they shouted and cheered, showing their enthusiasm at the arrival on Hawaii's soil of the means of electrical union with all the world.

The hawser was soon detached and the engine's fires were scattered about in the sand. Then the rain came and the crowds hurried away to their homes, a large number of people remaining, however, to hear the final culmination of the work of the afternoon.

"The Pacific Cable."
The band must not be forgotten. While the rope was being hauled ashore, the new march by Captain Berger and entitled "The Pacific Cable," and other selections were played. Just as the end of the cable was about to be drawn ashore, the band again played "The Pacific Cable," followed by "Aloha Oe" and "Hawai Ponoi."

"We Welcome Thee."
It was almost dark when S. S. Dickenson escorted Mrs. A. G. Hawes to the cable end in the midst of a copious shower. When the lady had arrived at the appointed place, a circle was formed and Mr. Dickenson, picking up the end, said: "Mrs. Hawes, this is the end of the Pacific cable." The lady then stooped over and with a graceful motion, entwined the cable end with a lot of malle and ilma saying at the same time and very distinctly:

"Pacific Cable we welcome thee to Hawaii!"

The words were hardly out of her mouth before three cheers for the cable were being given. Next came three cheers for Mrs. Hawes, Mr. Dickenson and then Mr. Gaines and the people left for home.

The next work of the Silvertown's force was that of releasing the balloons, but this did not take long. Upon the completion of this part of the cable laying, the Silvertown blew her whistle and all was over.

Among those noticed at Sans Souci yesterday were the following: Chief Justice and Mrs. W. F. Frear, Justice Perry, Major Robinson, U. S. A., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Waterhouse, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wood, General A. S. Hartwell, Judge Gear, Judge Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton J. Hutchins, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Cooper, Dr. and Mrs. F. R. Day, High Sheriff A. M. Brown, John Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davey, E. A. Mott-Smith, Postmaster and Mrs. J. M. Oat, W. F. C. Hannon, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Pocke, F. W. Macfarlane, Harry Lewis, J. A. Gilman, L. P. EARLY MORNING FIRE

At about 8:15 o'clock this morning, an alarm of fire was turned in from box 17, the fire being in a lean-to back of Andra's store on Hotel street near Nuuanu. The department responded very quickly and in a few minutes the fire, which had gained considerable headway, was checked.

Manager James of the Moana hotel has arranged for a big dinner and dance there on New Year's eve. There will be several swell dinner parties at the place and the entire hostelry will be in a happy hubbub until the time of the ringing of the bells and the blowing of the whistles announcing the new year.

J. K. Mokumalia, a resident of Moanalua, was sentenced to four months' imprisonment by Judge Wilcox in the Police Court this morning, for assault and battery on Moanalua, the half-witted Hawaiian youth who is one of the well-known street characters of this city.

T. Thomas Fortune gave a most interesting talk in the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon. There was an unusually large audience in attendance.

WORK FOR CHILDREN WANT THREE COUNTIES

SETTLEMENT SCHEME IS PLANNED FOR HILO

DEVELOPMENT OF THE MISSION FOUNDED BY C. C. KENNEDY. IN CHARGE OF GOOD WORKERS.

Hilo, Dec. 26.—That part of Hilo known as Waiakea has seventy-five children between the ages of 4 and 6 without the advantages of kindergarten teaching and without proper home care and training. These children are of different nationalities. They are Hawaiian, Japanese, Porto Rican and Chinese. They are at home in the street both in wet and dry weather and are in constant danger from passing wagons and horses. They are growing up under surroundings that are bad. During the past year, since establishment of the Waiakea mission, a splendid start has been made for the social betterment of the residents of Waiakea and their children. Three years ago the late Mrs. Abbey began a work of philanthropic teaching among these people holding classes in the little Waiakea church. A little more than a year ago, through the liberality of C. C. Kennedy, the mission building, furnished with a piano and chairs and electric light, was placed at the disposal of that community. Services of various kinds have been held there during the last year, the ladies of Hilo under the leadership of Mrs. L. C. Lyman, having been untiring in their work.

It is now recognized that more systematic and advanced work must be done among these people and Hilo is to be called upon to maintain a Social Settlement. Social Settlement work among the poorer classes of Chicago, under the excellent management of Jane Adams, has attracted the attention of the philanthropists of all lands. It is proposed to do in Hilo upon a small scale what is done on prodigious lines in the great cities.

A permanent salaried officer will be put in charge of the settlement. The choice of this person has been most happy. Miss Wright of the Hilo hospital having consented to take up the charge. Miss Wright is an accomplished woman in many lines and is a practical nurse. She will begin her new duties at once and it is confidently expected that the people of Hilo will be liberal in the manner of needed financial aid.

A hospital dispensary will be opened each forenoon where Miss Wright will receive and attend the sick. She will visit the homes and look after the needy. She will instruct in the art of tidiness and order in the home and by various methods inculcate in both parents and children, a desire for the better side of life. A library and reading room will be established. In the matter of thrift and economy, better habits will be promoted by a Savings bank which will also be managed by Miss Wright. As the work progresses and public interest is aroused Miss Wright will have an assistant.

The purposes of this movement are strictly practical. The boys of Waiakea are to be taught how to make of themselves men, and the men are to be shown how they can better support their families and better serve their employers.

The work is in the hands of a committee consisting of Mrs. L. C. Lyman, chairman, C. C. Kennedy, Miss Deyo, Rufus A. Lyman and Mrs. McTaggart. The people at large are not to be besieged with subscription papers, to support the Waiakea Social Settlement. Contributions are to be entirely voluntary and those in charge expect a liberal response. During the past year the work of the mission has been handsomely supported in this way and it is believed that the practical program of the Social Settlement will be promoted with the same generosity.—Tribune.

NEW PUKOO SHERIFF.

Waikuku, Dec. 27.—Since the resignation of Mr. Pala Naki when he ran as Democratic candidate for House of Representatives and was defeated, no one has been appointed in his stead as jailer at Pukoo, Molokai. Sheriff Baldwin is considering several applicants but that of A. K. Laumana, an ardent Republican leader on Molokai, will likely receive the appointment.

NAALEHU REPUBLICANS ARE ORGANIZING FOR BUSINESS

PRECINCT CLUB OFFICERS NAMED WILL PROTEST AGAINST BEING INCLUDED WITH HILO.

Naalehu, Kau, Dec. 22.—The Republican voters of the seventh precinct, second district, Hawaii, met on Saturday the 20th and formed a precinct club under the Territorial rules. There was a large attendance and a good deal of interest displayed.

Dr. Thompson was made permanent president, with G. G. Kinney secretary. D. Kaulani and J. H. Waipulani were elected vice presidents. Geo. C. Hewitt, treasurer. L. P. Lincoln, C. G. Macumber and W. Hayselden were made judges of election. Wm. Thompson, Y. K. Kapan, F. E. Eaton, J. C. Searles and R. L. Wilhelm executive committee.

As the meeting was only called to organize, no matters were officially discussed. When the proper time arrives, however, the club and the citizens of Kau will enter a decided protest against being included with Hilo in county formation. The desire here is for three counties on Hawaii, one including the Kona and the Kaus, one the Hilo and Puna and the other the Kohala and Maunaloa.

MAUI EPISCOPALIANS AND CHURCH WORK

Waikuku, Dec. 27.—Rev. Canon Ault held Christmas services on Christmas Day at the church of the Good Shepherd. The little church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with vines and potted ferns. The attendance was not very large, however, owing to occasional heavy showers that fell during the day. The committee appointed by Rt. Rev. Bishop Henry Bond Restarick while on his recent visit on Maui, met with Rev. Canon Ault last Monday at the office of the First National Bank of Waikuku and ways and means for carrying on the affairs of the church during 1903 were devised and agreed upon. Treasurer C. B. Wells is already circulating a subscription list for clerical stipend fund and has met with good success, the church people subscribing liberally towards aid of the pastor.

BEERS-HANSEN.

Hilo, Dec. 26.—Wm. H. Beers and Maude Hansen were married at 4 o'clock p. m. last Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Curtis at Olaa, Rev. S. L. Desha officiating. The wedding was a quiet one, only a few intimate friends being present. The Curtis home was beautifully decorated with flowers. After the ceremony a splendid wedding dinner was served. Mr. Beers is well known in Hilo, having been a teacher in the Hilo Boarding School for nearly five years. He is at present clerk of the District Court and is associated with I. E. Ray in business. His bride is a graduate of the Oakland Normal School and came here a little over a year ago to accept a position as teacher. They will reside in Hilo on School street.—Tribune.

FROM MAUI WAY

(Maui News.)
A match game of baseball was played at Kahului last Sunday between the Waikuku and Kahului stevedores, and of course the Waikuku won.

The wind on the Olowalu side of the point yesterday blew so hard that the stage had to be ballasted with stones to prevent it from being blown over.

When all the prominent muddy roads on Maui are macadamized, road building will only cost a nominal sum, of which Main street, Waikuku, will be a good example.

Within the past two or three years the ferocious day mosquito of Honolulu has made its way to Maui, probably in the wake of some particularly juicy and tender tourist.

Court Clerk Crook states that the law books and papers which journeyed overland to Lahaina and return met the usual disastrous results in the way of wear, tear and damage, which can only be avoided by holding all future terms of Circuit Court at Waikuku.

THE DUTRO LUAU.

Waikuku, Dec. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Dutro are giving this afternoon a luau at their home at Kala, Waikuku, in honor of the third anniversary of the birth of their little boy. The festivities will last the entire afternoon, and almost the whole town of Waikuku are down there enjoying the many good things prepared for the guests by Mr. and Mrs. Dutro.

MAUI CATHOLIC CHURCH AND ITS TWO BISHOPS

Waikuku, Dec. 27.—Should the church in the Propaganda fell upon Rev. Father Joseph of Waikuku as the successor to Rt. Rev. Bishop Damien, Waikuku will have cause for congratulation for the elevation to the Bishopric of three of its curates. The late Bishop Olin and Bishop Olin were both in charge of the Waikuku Catholic church, which can now be properly called the Home for the Propagation of Future Bishops. In church and state affairs, Maui can furnish enough men to run both.

WILL MISS KEPOIKAI.

Waikuku, Dec. 27.—Treasurer and Mrs. A. N. Kepoikai leave for Honolulu per Claudine this afternoon. They will be greatly missed in Waikuku, for truly Honolulu's gain is Maui's loss. But Mautes console themselves in the fact that one of their number has been elevated to one of the highest positions in the gift of the Governor of the Territory and the Senate.

SMALL SCHOONERS IN ROUGH WEATHER

The small inter-island schooners which arrived from various Koolau ports last Saturday afternoon and yesterday all report having experienced very rough weather. Luckily no damage of any extent was done to any of the small vessels.

The schooner Ada left Kaalaen in Koolau with a load of 500 bags of rice last Saturday morning. She had a very rough time in the Mokoli channel outside this place. Breakers were coming through this passage and the schooner was flooded by them from stem to stern. The chain box forward was smashed and the lashings of the small boat kept on board were broken. The boat was knocked about on the deck but was secured in time.

Captain Moses of the Kawaiiani stated this morning that he never thought he was so near to destruction as when he was battered in the Mokoli channel last Saturday. He had, however, been lying at Koolau for seventeen days and was anxious to get back to Honolulu.

The schooner Ada left Kaalaen yesterday morning at 7 o'clock and also had a hard time getting out to sea through the channel. Once well outside, however, this staunch little vessel made good use of the strong wind making this port in seven hours.

The schooner Rob Roy arrived from Wailua and Koolau ports last Saturday afternoon. She also reports having had a hard time with rough weather at Koolau.

Captain Nelson of the Kawaiiani reports that the schooner Lady is lying weatherbound at Kaalaen with a full load of rice, her owners being unwilling to risk sending the schooner out during the prevailing rough weather.
