COMMISSION HAS ITS INNING

Saloon Men Are Badly Frightened Lot of Mortals.

The brewery yesterday defied the power of the Board of License Commissioners and flatly refused to respond to the citation issued by that body.

The Board of License Commissioners has placed the matter in the hands of the attorney general and the brewery will be brought to time if it shall prove to be within the power of the authorities to do so.

The four saloonkeepers, where sales of orders for the Sunday delivery of beer brought about the trouble, were brought up before the board yesterday and severely reprimanded.

Four badly frightened little saloon men faced the License Commission yesterday afternoon and promised to be good boys henceforth and forevermore, were their shortcomings in regard to the Saturday-orders-for-Sunday-delivery business overlooked. Any bravado which may have characterized them on former occasions, they had

PRIVATE JUICE IN COUNTY JAIL

Municipal Plant Can't Supply Power for Penal Institution.

The county jail will be lighted with juice from the plants of the Hawaiian Electric Company. Sheriff Jarrett last night informed the Board of Supervisors that the jail is in total darkness, except for the flickering light of lanterns, and said that it is impossible to get any power from the municipal plant. He therefore asked for authority to connect up with the commercial company's lines.

Supervisor Cox, chairman of the police committee, testified to the veracity of the sheriff's statements, and urged the necessity for taking immediate action. He said that the jail is full and that the smoke from the many lanterns, required at night in order to keep the premises reasonably light, is not only offensive, but very unhealthy.

With but little discussion the matter was placed in the hands of the police committee with power to act. The first motion was to place the matter in the hands of the electric lights committee, but Chairman Alia begged that the affair be placed at once in the hands of the police. Such was the action taken.

MEMORIAL TO LATE FATHER CLEMENT

A memorial altar to the honor of the late Father Clement is to be erected in the Kalihi Roman Catholic church, the Church of St. John the Baptist. It was to this little church, one of the most humble of the religious edifices in the city, that Father Clement devoted a greater share of his time during his last few years on earth, and it is fitting to his memory that his memorial should be there.

The ladies of the congregation are the ones who have undertaken to secure the funds for the memorial, which will not be elaborate nor costly, but which will be of the greatest value as representing the love borne by his people for the departed priest.

Father Clement was a catholic Roman priest. His ministrations during the many busy years he spent in this city were confined by no means to his own particular flock nor his own church folk. To anyone in trouble he was a father, be that one Roman Catholic or Protestant, Gentile or Jew, Christian or otherwise. He was beloved by everyone who knew him, the little old man, always upon his Master's business, in rain or shine.

The committee of ladies chosen to act as a committee for the Kalihi church are Mesdames James Holt, Wong Leong, and J. Lucas. These ladies propose to raise funds through the sale of home-cooked viands, the first to be announced being hot luan chicken. This will be sold next week, on Saturday, at the Baltimore Dairy, on Fort street.

MAYOR VETOES MILK ORDINANCES

Does Not Approve of All the Provisions of Proposed Laws.

The milk inspection and dairy ordinances have been vetoed by the Mayor. At last night's meeting of the Board of Supervisors His Honor returned both ordinances without his approval. Ordinance No. 12, providing for the inspection of milk, dairies and dairy cows, was accompanied by a veto covering four pages of legal cap.

The Mayor's objections to the ordinances come under two heads: Unnecessary legislation, and unfairness to the small dealer. Many of the sections of the ordinances, the Mayor points out, are, according to his belief, covered by existing territorial laws, and therefore do not afford any greater protection than that now given.

In referring to section 1 of Ordinance No. 13, the dairy ordinance, His Honor says: "As it now stands, section 1 of this ordinance does not seem to correctly express what I am sure is the intent of the section. Under its terms, should the ordinance be enacted, a person would be guilty of violation of the ordinance, and become liable to punishment, if, for instance, such person should permit a deadly weapon to be brought into or upon the dairy premises."

Certain sections of the ordinance would, says the Mayor in his veto, practically work the confiscation of the property of small dairymen who are not in a position to comply with the terms of the proposed law.

Both ordinances are carefully gone over, section by section, and in both cases Mayor Fern expresses his sympathy with any movement to protect the people of the city from impure milk, but he demands fairness toward the dairymen.

Action on the vetoes was delayed until a later date in accordance with the requirements of law.

Clark Appointment Valid.
Charles Clark is the duly appointed inspector of Kalaupapa Beach road work. That much was settled in an opinion of Deputy County Attorney Milverton, submitted last night and duly spread upon the minutes of the meeting. The legality of Clark's appointment has been a moot question for some time, but, according to the county attorney's opinion, the inspector was appointed considerably more thoroughly than there was any necessity.

In brief, Milverton expressed the belief that Clark's appointment of the inspector was all that was necessary, and that subsequent action by the board had absolutely no effect upon the case.

Object to Autos.
Bethel street merchants, and hack drivers on the Bethel street stand, do not want an automobile stand on the street. A petition, signed by a number of those interested, was submitted to the supervisors, and was duly referred to the road committee. Chairman Quinn of the committee expressed the belief that Bethel street is hardly the place for an automobile stand and his words were not very promising for those who are anxious to station a line of benzine buggies along the side of the narrow highway.

Mayor Fern announced that he had appointed Bill Lau and W. A. Kalai janitors of the Moiliili and Puna public schools respectively. The board approved both of the appointments, evidently agreeing with His Honor as to the necessity for the appointment of the additional dust chasers.

Salary Demands.
A few salary demands were passed upon and ordered paid and the tenders for furnishing the county with supplies needed for the care of the school grounds were also read. The board listened dutifully to the reading

WARSHIPS SAIL FOR SOUTH SEAS

Seabee's Squadron Off on Voyage Over Equator.

At half-past three o'clock yesterday afternoon only a smudge of smoke on the southern horizon indicated the position of the eight armored cruisers of the Pacific fleet, and in a few minutes even the smudge disappeared and the visit of the fleet at Honolulu became a thing of the past. Some time in February of next year the eight will be back here for another stay, before returning to their home station at Mare Island.

At two o'clock the flagship Tennessee, the last to leave port, swung rapidly back into the stream, with the Kukui standing by to give assistance, but so beautifully was the massive ship handled and so well did she respond to propellers and rudder that no outside aid was necessary. In a very short time the Tennessee was headed seaward, and within twenty minutes she was at the head of the column of the first division. By three-thirty all of the vessels of the two divisions were moving southward.

Prettily Executed.
First they traveled in two divisions, four abreast, but suddenly the West Virginia turned eastward and the quartet of the second division crossed the sterns of the first division and reformed in echelon to the left of the first division. Under this formation they disappeared over the horizon in the direction of the equator.

TELEPHONE MEN WILL MEET COUNTY FATHERS

Conference Will Be Held Today in Endeavor to Settle Conduit and Posthole Permit Dispute.

The end of the supervisor-telephone squabble is in sight. Not that any agreement has been reached, but at 1 o'clock this afternoon the road committee of the board of county law-makers will meet with the directors of the Mutual Telephone Company, and all of the differences that have disturbed the two bodies will be talked over peacefully.

The county will be represented by the road committee, the county engineer, the county electrician and the Mayor. The telephone people have not yet named their champions, but it is thought likely that a committee from the board of directors will serve.

Notices will be sent to the directors of the Mutual company this morning, asking them to meet in the assembly room at the City Hall this afternoon at 1 o'clock. At that time all of the differences existing between the county and the company will be discussed, and an honest effort will be made to reach some agreement, according to officers of the company.

Last night a letter from Deputy County Attorney Milverton, explaining the county's stand in the matter, was read through and then, after several abortive attempts to get the matter into one committee or another, Logan moved that the special meeting be held and the others acquiesced.

NAVY DESERTER NABBED
BY A POLICE TRUSTY

Brief was the liberty of H. Cap, master-at-arms, second-class, of the flagship Tennessee. He left the warship yesterday morning and waited for the vessel to get out of port and then came out upon the streets. But he was minus his uniform when he appeared near the fishmarket, and wore plain civilian clothing. He might have passed unnoticed but for a trusty of the police station who had been sent on an errand. The trusty thought the man's face was familiar and then he remembered that the man had been a member of the fleet patrol on duty at the police station. The trusty informed Officer Nawahi, and in a short time Mr. Cap was under detention at the police station. He will be turned over to the naval station authorities for disposition.

Henri Grosse, a member of the crew of one of the warships, who carved up a Honolulu with a razor last week, pleaded guilty in police court yesterday to a simple assault and was fined $40. The money was paid and Grosse returned to his ship where he may have to undergo further punishment.

CONFERENCE IS HELD AT CAPITOL

Important Matters Are Dis- cussed in Office of Chief Executive.

Important matters affecting the Territory of Hawaii were discussed at a meeting held yesterday afternoon in the Governor's office. Governor Frear, Delegate Kuhio, Senator W. O. Smith, Representative A. D. Castro, A. G. M. Robertson, Representative E. A. C. Long, C. E. King, J. P. Cooke and Harry von Holt were present. Speaker Holstein was asked to take part in the meeting, but was unable to do so, being forced to leave for his home on Hawaii at noon.

The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing the proposed amendments to the Organic Act. The subject was not reached, however, there being a mass of other business up for consideration. The meeting adjourned until tomorrow afternoon, when the proposed Organic Act amendments will be taken up and discussed in detail.

ENROLLMENT FORCES CLASS DIVISION

Owing to the large enrollment in the bookkeeping, shorthand and mechanical drawing classes which opened at the Y. M. C. A. night school last evening, it was found necessary to divide the classes into two sections. This will leave room for others who wish to enroll later in all except the type-writing class which opens tonight with a full enrollment of twenty students.

The number of different students now enrolled in the association's evening class is 144 and an enrollment of 150 by the end of the opening week is assured. With the classes in salesmanship and commercial law to be given after January 1, there should be over 200 enrolled in educational work at the Y. M. C. A. this year.

COMMISSION HAS ITS INNING

left behind their bars along with the bungstarter and white apron, and it was about the meekest bunch imaginable that trod the carpet under the austere official eye of the commission.

There was no bandying of words with the commissioners and no talk of legal rights; the four little booze dispensers were scared stiff lest they should lose their licenses, and they were mightily careful that no word should escape them which might be calculated to bring down upon their luckless heads the wrath of the mighty men who could, by a nod of the head, put them out of business.

Oh yes, they sold the orders for Sunday beer delivery all right. They did not deny it for a minute. They sold them, but please, they did not intend to do wrong. Honest they didn't. Just give them another chance and they would walk the straight and narrow path religiously.

And it was probably their frankness which saved their licenses for them. Chairman Cooke of the commission was very evidently affected by the woe-begone appearance of the quartet, for after the first five minutes of the examination he began to take pity on the four miserable chaps and he became considerably less severe in his manner.

Harry Klemme, of the Aloha saloon, was the first unfortunate called onto the carpet. Yes, he sold an order on the brewery on the night of September 24th, and that order almost got a keg of beer on Sunday.

Klemme said that a friend of his, a chief master at arms, dropped in at his place on Saturday night and said that he wanted a five-gallon keg of beer. Klemme gave him an order, and then went over and paid for the beer, it happening that a representative of the brewery was in the saloon at the time.

The next morning Klemme's friend called at the saloon in a hack and asked that the beer be sent for. Klemme sent a man down in the hack, but the man soon returned and reported that the brewery would not come through. Then Klemme, coatless, jumped into the vehicle and went to the brewery. He did not have the order with him, but he demanded the beer which had been set aside for his friend. He was told that there was no order on file, but finally, after pledging his word of honor that he had given the order the night before, he got the beer. He was under the impression that it was Bartlett who authorized the delivery of the beer to him, though it was a native boy who actually got it out of the ice house.

No, sir, he did not go down as in his official capacity as proprietor of a saloon, but simply as a private citizen acting as the agent of his friend, the chief petty officer. No, sir, he did not get any more beer that day, though he learned later that two other kegs had been gotten in his name. He had nothing to do with that and he himself had started out to run to earth the miscreant who had used his name not in vain.

No, gentlemen, he did not know that he was breaking the law. Honest Injun, he had no intention of doing such a thing. Really, the slip from the path of righteousness should be overlooked this time, for there was absolutely no intention of wrongdoing on his part.

Craig said that he had heard that another order had been issued Sunday morning and that on that afternoon Klemme had gone to the brewery and demanded another keg. Klemme excitedly denied that such had been the case.

Then Charlie Lambert of the Orpheum saloon was called before the tribunal. He stood up and twisted his hat around in his hands with a helpless, miserable sort of a look, and waited for the thunder to start. Chairman Cooke settled himself a little more firmly in his chair and started. The dialogue follows:

Cooke—On Sunday, September 26, were there any orders on the brewery sold by you?

Lambert—I sold a good many orders on Saturday which may have been presented on Sunday.

Cooke—Is that a regular practice? A—I have some times placed orders on Saturday and have gotten beer for myself on Sunday.

Q—Do you remember how many orders you sold on this occasion?

A—If I remember rightly there were twenty-two kegs.

Q—There were no bottles?

A—No, sir.

Q—Who advised you to sell these orders?

A—Nobody advised me. I sold them of my own accord; but I had no idea that I was breaking the law.

Lambert was then excused and Joe Silva of the Pantheon saloon was called. He was asked to tell his story.

"When the fleet first came the chief petty officers gave a banquet," said he. "When the ships returned from Hilo the same men again gave a feast and got their food from the Palm I believe. They wanted six kegs of beer and I sold them orders, which I believe were presented at the brewery on Sunday morning."

Cooke—Do you know whether or not this selling of orders for Sunday delivery has been a common practice?

Silva—I never gave any such orders before.

Mike Paton of the Encore Saloon was then called up. Paton did not show quite as much trepidation as the others, though he did not appear any too comfortable. He denied having sold any orders for beer on the occasion in question, though he said that, in times past, he had given orders for beer intended for Sunday baseball games.

He did not know that he was violating the law when he furnished the orders and he said that his instructions had always been to observe the exact letter of the law.

After Paton had finished his testimony, the saloon men were all excluded while the commissioners discussed the sentence which should be meted out to the order sellers. During the thirty minutes which the commissioners spent in deliberating, the saloon men wandered around the corridors of the Capitol with misery written all over their features.

Then Inspector Fennell threw open the doors and bade the victims enter. With a voice that fairly rumbled with solemnity, the chairman proceeded to tell the four that the commissioners had found them guilty of violating the license regulations. Four faces assumed looks of absolute dejection. Then the chairman continued his remarks by saying that the frankness with which the culprits had confessed their wrongdoing, and the fact that they had evidently offended unwittingly, made the board loath to take stringent action with them. Therefore, for this occasion, they would be forgiven. The next offense would mean either a suspension or a revocation of licenses, however.

There was a sound of deep, and relieved breathing, four saloon men twisted their hats in their hands, scurried around with a thank you teacher movement, said "Much obliged" and fled out of the room. They were mightily glad to file.

The brewery has taken the position that its license is not subject to the jurisdiction of the Board of License Commissioners. In answer to a formal citation from the board to appear before it yesterday afternoon, the attorneys of the company, Messrs. Kinney, Ballou, Prosser & Anderson, and E. C. Peters, sent the following communication:

"The Honolulu Brewing and Malting Company, Limited, has referred to us your letter of September 30, citing the company to appear before the board to show under what authority it is operating, or under what license it is selling, dispensing, furnishing and delivering liquors to divers persons on Sunday."

"In reply thereto we beg to state that we feel that an appearance before the board in answer to a formal citation might be construed as an admission of the jurisdiction of the board over the license of the company, and as we do not wish to be understood as conceding this point we must respectfully decline to enter an appearance. "We trust that you will appreciate that the refusal of the company to appear is merely in pursuance of what we have advised them to be a necessary step for the preservation of their legal rights, and is not in any way intended as an act of discourtesy toward the Board of License Commissioners."

The contention of the brewery is that their license is a territorial license, issued in 1903 for a term of fifteen years; that the law under which it was issued authorizes the company to do business anywhere in the Territory; that the law itself has since been repealed, but the repealing acts have in all cases reserved any rights which had previously accrued. The company takes the position that the act of 1907 is a county act, which is not applicable to its previous territorial license, and that the authority of the Board of License Commissioners in each county to suspend and revoke licenses is specially restricted to the licenses issued under its approval.

Allow Beer on Sunday.

With regard to the Sunday delivery of beer to the sailors of the fleet, the officials of the company make the following statement:

"The practice of delivering beer on Sunday in accordance with orders received on Saturday is one which has been followed by the brewery for a number of years, without raising objection from any quarter. In fact, it is understood that, in connection with the closing of the hotel bars on Sunday, all the leading hotels were formally notified by the Board of License Commissioners that drinks ordered on Saturday could be served on Sunday."

Too Much Though.

"The extent to which this practice was carried last week was neither anticipated nor desired by the brewery, nor was it realized that anything was occurring out of the ordinary line of business until a flood of orders poured in on Saturday afternoon. Even then it was not realized that there would be such an open display of the beer by the sailors, which gave Honolulu the appearance of being a wide-open town. "As soon as this became apparent on Saturday afternoon the cold storage room was closed down, further deliveries refused, and money refunded, although a considerable quantity of beer, bought and paid for, was still undelivered."

Few Drunks.

"There was, of course, very little actual drunkenness, as is usually the case where beer is available to the exclusion of stronger liquors, but nevertheless the brewery company has no desire to countenance any such open and wholesale drinking on Sunday, and a resolution of its board of directors has been adopted which will prevent a repetition of this occurrence in the future."

"While the brewery does not claim to be immune from reasonable regulation by law, it has been advised by its attorneys that its territorial license, issued for a term of fifteen years under the act of 1903, is not subject to the powers granted in 1907 to the Board of License Commissioners for each county, and, therefore, any action taken by that board in reference to the brewery, even if not opposed, would be a nullity."

After the meeting Chairman Cooke stated that the whole matter, as far as the brewery is concerned, has been placed in the hands of the attorney general's department. If the attorney general shall decide that the brewery comes under the supervision of the Board of License Commissioners, steps will be taken at once to make the brewery pay for its violation of the law. No steps will be taken until an opinion is received from the attorney general.

THE REPUBLICAN ORGANIZATION.

Possibly the use of the word "reorganize," in connection with the movement within the Republican party, was not wisely chosen. Some few there are who object to it.

Whatever is proposed to be done for the party, though, whether reorganize, revive, rehabilitate, renew, reinvigorate, remodel—call it what you will, these or anything else—it needs it.

Since the first day of last April until the present time, there has not been a meeting of the county committee at which there was a quorum, although repeated calls for such a meeting have been sent out. Some of the notices were sent to members of that committee who are stating now that nothing is wrong with the organization.

That does not appear to be a very satisfactory state of affairs. A call for a meeting of the county committee was made by the chairman only recently to see what could be done about it. There was no quorum. Then a meeting of the executive committee was called, and an advisory committee to look into things and report was chosen, a committee which had been selected by the members of the county committee who showed interest enough in the party welfare to appear at the last no-quorum meeting, the selection being approved at the later executive committee meeting. There was nothing irregular about either of these meetings.

The committee chosen consists of four active party workers to work with the chairman and secretary of the county committee. They have no powers except to go into the situation, consult with the party men, and report back their findings to the county committee.

They will go out to find out what is wrong. For the sake of the party and the good of the community they ought to be helped, not made the point of attack for a lot of groundless criticism.

Perfect satisfaction with Republican party conditions in Oahu exists only among the members of the Democratic party. They know that if the breaches in the Republican ranks remain unhealed, if the sores are allowed to fester, and the disorganization continues, Oahu will not only elect a majority of Democrats to the municipal offices, but will add very appreciably to their Democratic delegation in the Legislature and to their vote for the Democratic candidate for Delegate to Congress.

The Democrats know this and the Republicans know this, at least those do who have any political acumen.

There is only one thing that the Republicans of Oahu can do. They can recreate their organization, prepare for the next election, and present a ticket upon which the party can unite. Such a ticket can be elected. No other can.

There need be no discussion of tickets at this juncture, however. The party must be reunited first and put on a basis where the next step can be taken. At the present time, so complete is the disorganization that in some of the precincts there are not even precinct rolls to be found. In other precincts there is no organization whatever. To allow such a condition to drag along is neither politics nor business.

BUSINESS MEN AND POLITICS.

It should not be necessary to point out to the business men of this community the necessity for Republican success at the polls, provided that success is not made at the expense of conditions of decency, and there is no reason why any such conditions need arise.

It should not be necessary, either, to have to remind the business men of this community that to properly exercise the influence for good that they certainly can they must cooperate with the various political organizations. They must bear their share of the preliminary burden of the campaign if they expect to reap their share of the advantages of victory.

There are many criticisms indulged in by the business men concerning things political. Everybody has heard them. Some of the things criticized, however, are directly the result of the attitude of the business community generally toward politics.

Honolulu needs Republican success; the Republican party needs the full support of the business community. It is good business to give it and to give it now when it is most needed. That support has been withheld, and the results are plain.

As we understand the situation, it is the desire of the Republican committee in charge in this county to reunite the party. With this end in view, looking the situation squarely in the face, like sensible men, the executive committee has named two of its members and four working members of the party to bring the party back into harmony with the best interests of the country and bring back into the party those who have either left it or have become disinterested through one reason or another.

This committee is an advisory committee entirely, their business being to look for the weak spots and report them, find the strong points in the present organization and report on the means of making them still stronger. It is their province to inquire into the dissatisfactions with the party as it exists. It is their work, in fact, to learn wherein the party organization falls short, wherein it fails to satisfy, wherein it is subject to criticism.

That it does fall short; that it does fail to satisfy; that it is open to criticism, are facts. Now for the remedy.

It is not within the province of this advisory committee to eliminate Republicans, as it has been put, but to eliminate factional feuds within the party. There is no desire to weaken, but to strengthen.

The business men will soon be asked to reenroll themselves among the active Republican workers.

Now is the time to do it; not just before the primaries or the precinct club elections.

Continental Correspondence.

Italy and Russia belong to those countries which for years past have supplied the greatest contingent of emigrants, more especially to the United States of America. But, in contradistinction to Russia, the number of emigrants who find their way back again to Italy is a very large one, as many Italians, as soon as they have realized a modest capital in America, wend their way homeward once more. The number of Italians emigrating and of those seeking repatriation during the last three years has fluctuated considerably, more especially with regard to the principal destination of emigration, the United States of North America. In the year 1907 some 300,000 Italian emigrants, to deal in round numbers, left for the United States; in 1908 the numbers had decreased to 131,000, considerably less than the half of the number who expatriated themselves in the preceding year. The figures made public for the first quarter of the current year show that the decrease of emigrants to the United States, given in the reports for the preceding year, is not to be considered as a permanent one. From January 1 to March 31, 1909, 98,000 Italians emigrated to the States; consequently, should the last nine months of the year keep pace with the first quarter, the figures for 1907 would be surpassed by something like 100,000 emigrants. The difference in the number of those returning to Italy in these years, though not quite so startling, is a considerable one. In 1907, some 162,000 returned to Italy from the United States; in 1908, 220,000. In the last-named year the number of those returning home was in excess of those emigrating. The number of those returning home during the first three months of 1909 is a very small one. Not more than 7700 persons returned to Italy during that period, as against 42,000 during the first quarter of the year 1908. Therefore, we see that the improved economic situation in the United States has led to a notable increase of emigrants from Italy, and to a not less considerable falling off in the number of Italians returning home.

The figures dealing with the emigration of Italians to the South American republics, and with their return, show nothing like the same fluctuations. For example, in the year 1907, 78,000 Italians emigrated to the Argentine Republic, 21,000 to Brazil; whereas in 1908 the same countries show 80,000 and 16,000 respectively. During the first three months of 1909, 12,000 Italian emigrants arrived in the Argentine Republic, and 1800 in Brazil, whereas the figures for the first quarter of 1908 show 14,000 and 4200 respectively. The figures dealing with the return of Italian emigrants from the South American republic show the same amount of stability. In 1907, 50,000 returned to Italy from the Argentine Republic, and 21,000 from Brazil. In 1908 the corresponding figures amounted to 44,000 and 15,000. For the first quarter of 1909 the figures give us 9300 and 2100 as returning home, against 8500 and 2100 in the preceding year.

We see, therefore, that the number of emigrants leaving Italy for the South American republics, and the number of Italians returning home from these countries has remained without important fluctuations during the last few years. This is a proof that the Italian emigrants to South America, and more especially to the Argentine Republic, which still remains the country they chiefly favor, find the economic status of these countries to be a stable one.

FEARS OF HOUSEWIVES.

Editor Advertiser:—The Bystander today has certainly hit the right nail on the head in his solution of the local servant problem and really the plan seems too good to be true. One would imagine that the defects of the system suggested would arise from the opposition of the servants themselves, but a greater difficulty to be contended with is that of inducing the Honolulu housewife (?) to leave bridge alone long enough to take an interest in the problem. I hope The Bystander will be able to carry his program through, after which he can begin to reform the housekeepers. CYNICUS.

BOARD OF MISSIONS MEETING OF INTEREST

Unusually attractive was the program rendered yesterday afternoon at the October meeting of the Woman's Board of Missions, held in the chapel at Central Union church. Some interesting papers were read, among them one by Mrs. E. B. Waterhouse on Missions in Algeria. Other numbers on the program were Impressions from Northfield by Miss Lucy Tappan and a letter from Mrs. Dr. Shepard of Turkey, known here in her girlhood days as Fanny Andrews. The collection was for Armenian missions.

CONSUL UYENO WILL NOT PROSECUTE.

Consul-General Uyeno, of Japan, who was injured on the evening of the Delegate's reception for the Congressmen, and whose carriage driver was more seriously injured, has stated that he intends to take no legal steps against the driver of the machine which ran down his carriage. Mr. Uyeno states that he is convinced that the whole affair was purely accidental.

AMUSEMENTS

Comedian and Magician.

A conjurer should be a comedian. It is a difficult matter to make people laugh. For nearly two hours nightly Carter has his audience laughing and screaming with delight.

Wherever Carter has appeared, by reason of his powers as an entertainer and mirth provoker alone, the people look upon the occasion as an event never to be forgotten.

Carter's entertainment is like sunshine to the old and a delightful period to the young. With tears glistening, the aged remark "I have never laughed before so much in my life," and the children in years after look back on a bright phantasm as a pleasant recollection of Carter.

Carter and his company will appear at the Opera House next Monday for a short season of five nights and one matinee. The prices will range from $1 to 25 cents. The box plan opens tomorrow morning at The Bergstrum Music Co.'s store.

The Empire.

Wallace and Way hold the boards at the Empire for another week, and they are making good every time the show is called. Manager Overend made a ten-strike when he held these clever people for an indefinite stay. In conjunction with the motion pictures, they make one of the most entertaining shows in the city. The pictures are up to the usual standard of the Empire, which means that they are very good.

The Park Theater.

Nothing could be more appropriate at this time than to show a series of motion pictures illustrating the recent meeting between Edward VII. and the King of Italy. The men on the Bedford will enjoy looking at this, for it will remind them of home. The series takes in the yacht of His Majesty, and shows the monarchs and their suites on deck with the irrepressible camera hand near at hand. All of the likenesses are said to be excellent. Other pictures at the Park are a mixture of comedy and the other sort, but there is nothing so lurid that it will cause a shudder. The vaudeville features of the Park continue up to a high standard, and the program is pleasing throughout.

of the bids, but the comparative prices of Pennsylvania and other types of lawnmowers were too much for them and they turned the whole bunch over to the county engineer with instructions to dig out the lowest bidders and see that they get the contracts.

When the motion was made to give Gern the job of ascertaining who the lowest bidders might be, Aylett and Quinn were out in the hall. Quinn shouted his eye through the doorway, but Aylett entered the room just as the clerk was entering the vote. Instantly he smelt a rat, and demanded that he be told what had been done. There was a general snicker throughout the room, which only made the irate supervisor the madder, and the clerk hastened to read the resolution, fearing that the portly solon might have an apoplexy. After he had heard the motion he thundered out his eye, announced that he wanted his vote recorded, and forgot all about it.

The board adjourned until 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night when payrolls and other business of importance will be taken up for consideration.

NATURE'S REMEDIES FOR DISEASE.

Nature provides more effective remedies in the roots and herbs of the field than were ever produced from drugs.

Thirty years ago, Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy made from roots and herbs, which has proved most efficacious in curing women's diseases than any other medicine the world has ever known, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is looked upon everywhere as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

"Witness," said the coroner, "do you know what motive the deceased had in committing suicide?" "Yes, judge, your honor," said the witness pompously. "Deceased told me his motive, sir." The coroner, the court officers, everybody, looked interested. "What was, then, deceased's motive, witness?" said the coroner. "Why, your honor, he said he wanted to kill himself," was the reply.—Troy News.

When professional men clash, there is seldom so conclusive a rejoinder as that recalled by the argument between the judge and the bishop, who upheld the primacy of the cloth: "You can only say, 'you be hanged'—I can say, 'you be damned!'" "Yes," countered the judge, "but if I say, 'you be hanged,' you are hanged."

Mr. Green—Now I'm going to tell you something, Ethel. Do you know that last night, at your party, your sister promised to marry me? I hope you'll forgive me for taking her away? Little Ethel—Forgive you, Mr. Green? Of course I will. Why that's what the party was for!—Tit-Bits.

"Do you and your wife ever have any differences of opinion?" asked the impertinent acquaintance. "Only once in a while," answered Mr. Meekton, "when Henrietta changes her mind about something and neglects to notify me."—Washington Star.

GOOD NEWS

Many Honolulu Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast," and the thousands of bad back sufferers in Honolulu are glad to learn that prompt relief is within their reach. Many a lame, weak and aching back is had no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands upon thousands of people are telling the good news of their experience with the Old Quaker Remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

Elmer E. Pitts, 10 Pine St., Skowhegan, Me., says: "If there is anyone who has reason to be grateful to Doan's Backache Kidney Pills it is I. Several years ago I was employed as a motor-man on the street railway and it was while thus engaged that I felt the first symptoms of kidney trouble. I believe the complaint was caused by constant standing and the jarring I received. The first symptom was backache, which caught me directly over the kidneys. I paid little attention to this trouble, thinking it would soon pass away of its own accord, but such was not the case. I gradually grew worse and after a hard day's work it was all I could do to get home. My health continued to decline and I was finally compelled to take to my bed. I remained there for four months and was unable to work for over a year. I had a constant backache and at times my back felt as if it were disjointed. A kidney weakness set in and I was bothered both day and night by a frequent desire to pass the kidney secretions. My feet and limbs were badly swollen and the doctors said I had dropsy. I took any amount of medicine, but I did not improve and finally the doctors told my wife that they could do nothing more for me. I had lost flesh until I weighed but ninety pounds and I was in despair. At this critical period my wife noticed an advertisement about Doan's Backache Kidney Pills and was convinced that they would help me. She procured a supply and though I had but little faith in them, I began their use. I had taken Doan's Backache Kidney Pills but a few days before I could see a slight improvement and by the time I had used seven boxes I was able to be up and around. From that time on my health and strength rapidly returned and I was able to go to work. As I took no other medicine at the time I was using Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, I give them the full credit for my cure. Last fall I caught a severe cold which brought on a return of the trouble. I again used Doan's Backache Kidney Pills and the contents of three boxes drove away the attack."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box (six boxes $2.50) or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

Confidence Man—Why, how do you do, Mr. Wilson. I met you last—Westerner—See here, young fellow, my name ain't Wilson. My name's John Jones alias Pete Rodney, alias Jim Hall, alias Joe Peters. So you better move on.—Western Times.

A political speaker was attacking the government of the day with more venom than reason. A man at the back of the hall at last cried out: "You're wrong, sir!" A little nettled, the orator continued, without heeding. Presently in answer to another strong assertion, came again: "You're wrong, sir!" The speaker looked angry, but continued on the warpath. "You're wrong, sir!" again rang out. Angriest of all, the persistent one, the orator cried, "Look here, I could tell this man something about this government which would make his hair stand on end!" "You're wrong again, sir!" came exultantly from the critic, as he stood up and removed his hat. His head was as bald as the proverbial billiard ball.

A kindly lady who lives in New Jersey evinces great interest in the personal welfare of her servants, an interest which led her not long since to make inquiry of a new maid-of-all-work touching the latter's domestic felicity. "I understand, Nora," said she, "that you have a model husband."

"Shure, mum, he's the finest a gyrl could have," was the enthusiastic response. "If ye could see the way he treats me, mum, ye'd be after sayin' he were a frind instid of a husband."

Tomorrow, Thursday, is cotton picking day on Palolo Heights and W. L. Howard will escort a party to the cotton trees, leaving the Waiiale terminus of the car line at 8:30 o'clock. The superintendent was in the habit of dropping into the different classrooms and demanding a recital of lessons from the pupils. One day her active mind hit upon physiology as the study for examination. But the little girl to whom the first question was put so bewildered the superintendent and made her lose her patience that there was no more questions of a similar nature asked. "Tell me," said the superintendent, "what a skeleton is." The little girl thought for a short time. "A skeleton?" she asked. "A skeleton? Why, a skeleton is a man with his insides out and his outside off."

One of the oldtime conductors on the Louisville and Nashville railroad grew suspicious of a written pass presented regularly by one of his passengers and took it up. He carried it to the office of President Guthrie and said: "A farmer has been riding on this pass for about a year. Do you want him to continue to use it?" President Guthrie put on his glasses, looked the paper over, and said: "Why, this is not a pass. It is a receipt I gave a fellow for a load of wood about a year ago."

A lady afflicted with cross-eyes presented herself at a hospital and complained that her eyes were so much at cross purposes that when she wept the tears ran down her back. I just treated her for back-teariness."

One of the wittiest of Parisians, in a friend's box at the opera, was listening to "Thais," or rather trying to do so, for his hostess talked incessantly and dandered the music with her shrill voice. As this is the monthly missionary concert, the topic will be treated with especial emphasis on the campaign for the gospel amongst the Koreans in their own country.

Stop Women And Consider

This Fact—that in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers twenty-five years.

The present Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, was for years under her direction, and has ever since her decease continued to advise women.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty causes them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. Such questioning and examination is unnecessary. Without cost you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

MRS. PINKHAM'S STANDING INVITATION:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pinkham has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

SUGAR BACK TO HIGHEST MARK

Monday's Drop Made Up Again
—The Best Figure for Four Years.

Sugar is higher now than it has been at this season any time during the past four years.

Cabled advices, received yesterday by the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, give the New York prices for 96 degree centrifugals as $4.235 again, a jump of three cents and five mills over the quotation of the day before. It touched high water for this season on September 21 last and has continued almost constant since.

The best previous quotation for the month of October was in 1906, when 96 degree centrifugals reached $4. The highest figure reached during October, 1907, was $3.95, and the best during October, 1908, was $4.03. The latter quotation was received on October 24; on the 31st the price fell to $3.95.

The primary cause of the present high price is the shortage of the European beet crop. The German beets were late in maturing and soured in the ground, not being far enough along to ripen during the warm weather. The Cuba cane crop has also fallen short according to recent advices, and it is believed by those in close touch with the sugar market that there will be little or no falling off in the present price, and a further advance would not cause any great surprise.

Should the present quotation hold, many Hawaiian planters will profit handsomely thereby. There is now a large amount of sugar on the way that will probably reach market under the present price conditions.

The Sewell ship Dirigo with 5052 tons on board, is due to arrive at Delaware Breakwater shortly, while there are four big ships of the American-Hawaiian company en route. The Texan, with 12,000 tons of sugar on board, is now beating her way up the Atlantic coast, having made the long trip around the Horn. There are three other large ships of the same line carrying sugar by way of the Isthmus of Tehuantepec which are due very shortly. These ships carry a total of some 36,000. Then the Pleiades has on board 3500 tons.

The Hyades, which sailed last night for San Francisco via Port Allen and Kahului, carries 2900 tons of sugar. Of this, 2400 tons is Castle & Cooke sugar while 400 tons is from Kahuku plantation. The R. P. Rithet, which may sail today, will carry 965 tons of Hawaiian Agricultural Company's sugar. The Lurline, which sailed yesterday morning, carries 519 tons of Castle & Cooke's sugar.

Hackfeld & Co. have some 10,000 tons of sugar, either on the way or yet remaining to be shipped. All of this will probably get in under the new rate, which will mean no mean advance on the right side in the balance sheets.

From Honolulu plantation there yet will be considerable sugar shipped. This plantation is rather backward owing to labor difficulties, but the refinery is now running full blast and everything is pretty well cleared up.

FANTAN BANKER IS HEAVILY FINED

Chow Pong, who was charged with conducting a fantan game at Waipahu, was fined $200 in the police court yesterday morning. This is one of the heaviest fines assessed against a Chinese charged with gambling.

The warrant was sworn to personally by A. M. Brown, prosecuting attorney, on September 16. The game is said to have been conducted just outside the plantation in a sort of stockade, where Korean watchers have been posted. The plantation officials have often requested that this particular bunch of gamblers be raided but for some reason or another the gamblers continued to gamble without hindrance.

The prosecution employed as a witness against Chow Pong, his former cashier, who testified that he was paid when Chow Pong had lucky strokes on the fantan table, but he received no pay when the players started in to break the bank.

An appeal was noted and a bond was yesterday filed for Chow Pong's appearance in the Circuit Court.

A long list of Chinese and other Orientals who are alleged to have violated the license law, appeared on yesterday's court calendar but all went over for a few days. The case against Charles Bartlett of the Honolulu Brewery also went over.

A young man in Pratt said to the divine object of his adoration: "Do you think your father would object to me marrying you?" She replied: "I don't know. If he's anything like me he would."—Kansas City Star.

RECEPTION AT HOME OF THE KALANIANAOLES

Princess Kalaniana'ole's reception yesterday afternoon from three to six o'clock brought a large number of society folk out to enjoy the fine hospitality of the charming hostess. The guests were met on the pathway by Edward Lilikalani and by him escorted to the Princess, who received alone. The hostess was regal in a handsome gown of white real lace over white satin. She was assisted by Mrs. Pierre Jones and Miss Maud Jones. From the depths of the beautiful punchbowl a delicious punch was served and refreshments were served in the beautiful old silver once so well known during the days of the Queen. The only flowers noticeable were a cluster of beautiful American Beauty roses in the huge cloisonne vase which rests upon the koa table in the large hall.

Among those who attended were Mrs. Walter Frear, Mrs. B. F. Dillingham, Mrs. James Wilder, Mrs. Kiebaum, Miss Agnes McIntyre, Mrs. A. N. Campbell, Mrs. Weaver, Mrs. L. ## MOST HOSPITABLE, SAYS A VISITOR

Victoria Man Very Enthusiastic
Over His Sojourn in Hawaii.

In B. H. Anderson of Victoria, B. C., Hawaii has a loyal and enthusiastic champion. Mr. Anderson has just returned to his home after a visit in these islands, and in an interview, published in a Victoria newspaper, he speaks glowingly of what he saw while here.

"I want to say that the people of Honolulu are the most hospitable and free handed people in all the world," says Mr. Anderson. "At least I have to humbly submit that I shall have to travel farther to change that opinion."

"Upon arriving there you are greeted with strains of welcoming music from the very excellent Hawaiian band, and as you look over the ship's side as the vessel slowly swings to her berth at the wharf, you behold a sea of faces all smiling up at you a great aloha (meaning welcome), and as you get nearer to the dock one is particularly struck with the cosmopolitan makeup of the crowd, for it seems to embody within itself every type and characteristic peculiar to the nations of this world. You quickly learn that that is typical of Honolulu, for a more heterogeneous, dissimilar or diverse population could hardly be imagined."

As you trip down the gangplank on the wharf the good-natured, happy crowd closes in on you with shouts of 'Aloha Nei,' at the same time placing 'Leis,' or garlands composed of beautiful fragrant flowers, around your hats. I know of nothing that surpasses that beautiful Hawaiian custom of bidding strangers welcome to that wonderful righty termed the 'Paradise of the Pacific Ocean.' A great number of tourists are attracted towards these islands of the mid-Pacific and one is naturally agreeably surprised at the very moderate hotel rate and the modern excellence and comfort of those very necessary institutions to the traveling public. You see very little of the many beautiful attractions that nature has prodigally lavished upon beautiful Hawaii the first days. You are tired out by the long but very pleasant voyage, so you retire to the sanctuary of your room to awake in the morning refreshed and eager to see the natural wonders on all sides.

"This would be indeed a terrible long interview if I attempted to—I was going to say, expatiate, on its thousand and one charms and the wizardry of its composition, but that would be impossible. So it is with the deepest regret I realize the necessity of being very brief. Birds are everywhere in Hawaii and their music fills the air. Fruit of almost every variety grows with reckless prodigality and flowers are everywhere in profusion, their fragrance being caught up by the balmy breeze to be dissolved in the atmosphere. Palms of every specie and avenues of that most magnificent of all palms—I refer to the 'royal' palm—are to be met with everywhere, and all around are hills to be climbed and valleys to be explored which in their turn yield wonders undreamed and unthought of beyond expression. You take a walk along the palm-fringed shores of the Island of Oahu either at night or day and you can see and hear the waves as they come rolling in from the Pacific breaking on the outer reef that girdles the island, and, if you are so minded, enjoy in comfort the pleasure of a bath at anytime of the year, for the climate of Hawaii is the most equable known; as they say down there, 'Every day a June day.'"

"I have referred but briefly to its natural beauties. There are also many other attractions—the museum, the aquarium, the palace, and its many historical places of interest which I regret I have no time to touch upon. Honolulu can boast of beautiful parks and squares and the Hawaiian band is to be heard with pleasure every evening in one or the other; and to sit on a beautiful moonlit night under a royal palm listening to the beautiful Hawaiian airs as they are carried down to you by the gentle zephyr breezes, is something, once experienced, never to be forgotten, but still greater your pleasure if, by chance, a beautiful, laughing Honolulu maiden be by thy side. The cost of living is moderate and the prices at the various stores reasonable. There are excellent stores there, and almost anything wanted can be secured. The business of the place, which is considerable, is enjoyed both by the whites and Orientals. Chinatown, of Honolulu, is larger than the whole of the business section of Victoria with Chinatown included, and there are thousands upon thousands of Chinamen, Japanese and Koreans in Honolulu, and to go through their quarters offers and affords you a very good idea of the Orient. The city is kept very clean and rigid inspections are made daily by the large staff of the health department, and is of vital importance for many obvious reasons."

A youthful visitor sought the judgment of a well-known critic. "Sir," said the poet, indignantly, when the expert had advised him to burn his lines, "poets are born, not made." "Young man," rejoined the critic, smiling, "do not try to shift the blame onto your parents."—Philadelphia Press.

Cholly Sothed—Say, Mr. Killtime, I—er—love your daughter, and want to marry her. Is there any insanity in your family? Mr. Killtime—No, young man, there's not, an', more-over, there ain't goin' t' be!—Chicago Daily News.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

This is the age of research and experiment when all nature, so to speak, is ransacked by the scientific for the comfort and happiness of man. Science has indeed made giant strides during the past century, and among the—by no means least important—discoveries in medicine comes that of

THERAPION.

This preparation is unquestionably one of the most genuine and reliable Patent Medicines ever introduced, and has, we understand, been used in the Continental Hospitals by Ricord, Kossan, Robert, Veilpeau, Maisonneuve, the well-known Chassaigne, and indeed by all who are regarded as authorities in such matters, including the celebrated Lallemand, and Roux, by whom it was some time since uniformly adopted, and that it is worthy the attention of those who require such a remedy we think there is no doubt. From the time of Aristotle downwards, a potent agent in the removal of these diseases has (like the famed philosopher's) not been the object of search of some hospital, generous minds; and far beyond the mere power—such could ever have been discovered—of transmuting the baser metals into gold is surely the discovery of a remedy so potent as to replenish the failing energies of the confirmed case, in the one case, and in the other so effectively, speedily and safely to escape from the system without the aid, or even the knowledge, of a second party, the poisons of assumed or inherited disease in all their protean forms to leave no taint or trace behind. Such is which may certainly rank with, if not take precedence of, many of the discoveries of our day, about which so little ostentation and noise have been made, and the extensive and ever-increasing demand that has been created for this medicine wherever introduced appears to prove that it is destined to cast into oblivion all those questionable remedies that were formerly the sole reliance of medical men. Therapion may be obtained of the principal chemists and merchants throughout the world.—Diamond Fields Advertiser, Kimberley.

THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY

Therapion may now be had in tasteless form.

THE WORKER MUST BE WELL

In these days of sharp competition everyone who works should be keyed up to the highest pitch of efficiency. The rewards of business life go to the clearest thinkers, to the men and women who know and do things better than other people.

But who can do his best work when the health is impaired, when the appetite fails to demand the food necessary to sustain the body, when strength is lacking and ambition gone? Surely the part of wisdom is to begin at once to build up the body to its normal condition, and this may be done more certainly by the use of

than any other medicine. It checks hacking coughs, sharpens the appetite, aids digestion, enriches the blood, restores flesh to the emaciated, and renews health and vigor. It is so agreeable to the taste that its regular use is a pleasure. Get it at your chemist's and be sure you get STEARNS'—the genuine.

POOR LITTLE CUPID HAS A VERY BAD DAY

Poor little Dan Cupid is going to have a bad day in court when the attacking forces ranged against him yesterday have their hearing before the judge. His match-making does not seem to have worked out very well, and those who thought they were pierced by the arrows of love find they were only stung by the shafts of some little ugly fiend that has a grudge against the human race.

Tomazo Pereira seems to be the hardest stung—and she has been twice stung. She was married to Manuel Pereira, but found that life with him was not one long blissful dream, for Manuel amused himself by beating her when things went wrong. So, on November 16, 1907, she got a divorce from him on the ground of extreme cruelty.

But the entreaties of well-meaning friends and the solicitations and promises of Manuel, who pledged himself to reform, induced her, on December 19 of the same year, to remarry him.

But Manuel's promises were not of much value, for not a month had passed before he commenced a course of systematic cruelty. About once every two weeks he would leave his employment as guard at the Insane Asylum, go out and get drunk, and then come home and amuse himself by beating his wife. He acquired the pleasant habit of kicking her, knocking her down on the floor and otherwise maltreating her. In March of last year he assaulted her with even more than his usual violence, finally knocking her down and threatening her life with a knife if she dared to get up. Then he lifted her by one arm and a leg and threw her on the bed.

That was the last straw, and she left him, fearing that if she remained with him he would kill her.

The libellant says she is in fear of her life, and, pending the hearing of the suit for divorce, she prays the judge to issue a restraining order to prevent her husband from molesting her.

Sarah Boots sues for a divorce from Elmer Ray Boots, alleging nonsupport as the ground of action.

Helen Keahi wants a decree divorcing her husband, who, she claims, has deserted her.

FORMOSAN SUGAR SUBSIDY.

With regard to the question of subsidy to Formosan sugar manufacture, about which Mr. Oshima, chief of the Formosan Administrative Bureau has been negotiating with the Finance Department, an appropriation will be asked for during the coming diet.

A Philadelphia man came home and found his wife poring over a seed catalog. She had a long list of seeds written on a sheet of paper.

"This is a list, my dear," she said, "that I want you to buy for me tomorrow at the seedman's."

Her husband looked at the list. Then he laughed. "You want these flowers to bloom this summer, don't you?" said he.

"Yes, of course."

"Well, those you have put down here don't bloom till the second summer."

"Oh, that's all right," the lady said easily.

"All right? How is it all right?"

"I am making up my list," she explained, "from a last year's catalog."

A drill sergeant was unpopular among his men. One day he was putting a party of recruits through the funeral exercise, and, by way of practical explanation, walked slowly down the lane formed by the two ranks, saying as he did so: "Now, I'm the corpse. Pay attention!" Having reached the end of the line, he turned, regarded the men for a minute, and then remarked, "Your hands are right and your heads are right, but you haven't that look of regret you ought to have."

"I don't see why you are dismissing me," said his chauffeur, angrily. "Didn't I take you out in your car twice last month?" "Yes," answered the owner, "but you wouldn't take me where I wanted to go."—Life.

Mrs. Bleeker (upstairs)—Bridget, have you turned the gas on in the parlor as I told you? The New Domestic Jewel—Yes, mum; can't you smell it?—Christian Advocate.
