THE CHINESE EMPIRE HAS FALLEN

PALMYRA IS NO BONE OF CONTENTION

"You can give the story in the Advertiser this morning the most emphatic denial," said Father Rougier this morning.

Strangely enough Father Rougier's name was omitted from the passenger list, and it was by a lucky chance that a Star reporter met him on the street.

When asked about the possibility of Great Britain and the United States entering into a war over Palmyra island, Father Rougier answered:

"It is one of the funniest things imaginable. Great Britain does not want the islands, and wouldn't have them if they were given to her. They are no good as a coaling station, for, although there are twenty-two islands, there is not a harbor on one of them. They are all small, not more than a few acres in extent, and a harbor could not be made on any of them."

"No; there is not the slightest possibility of any friction between the two great countries. You can give the story in the Advertiser this morning the most emphatic denial."

There was nothing further to be gained from Father Rougier. He was smiling the whole while, and seemed highly amused at the story sprung by the alarmists of the morning paper.

He stated that the sale of Fanning Island to the English syndicate had been completed, and was now out of his hands entirely. Father Rougier has been to Fiji, where he joined the Marama, which no doubt accounts for the omission of his name from the list. He continued his journey in the Marama this afternoon.

It looks as though another medium will have to be taken up, for Father Rougier is an acknowledged authority on matters Palmyra.

QUEEN'S HOSPITAL GREATLY IMPROVED THE PAST YEAR IN BUILDINGS AND EQUIPMENT

At a meeting of the trustees of the Queen's Hospital this morning a lengthy report, including a financial statement and a full presentation of the activities for the year, was read, followed by the election of the president and four trustees. F. J. Lowrey was elected president and the new trustees are A. Gartley, W. E. Brown, H. M. von Holt and J. A. McCandless.

The President's Report.

The Queen's Hospital, on June 29 last, completed fifty-two years of its existence as a chartered society. Under its amended charter, the financial year ends on January 15, and the annual meeting is held on this, the last Wednesday in January. May I recall to your recollection that the membership of the society consists of those persons who—having subscribed the sum of $50 to its funds—have been elected, by the board of trustees, members for life. At this date there are ninety-eight members. A list is attached.

The hospital, as you are aware, exists for the purpose of treating "all medical and surgical cases not of an infectious or contagious character." I wish to lay emphasis on this limitation, because in times past we have been criticised for not admitting infectious cases.

Fractional Additions To Tax Assessments

At last the matter of the property tax that is to be collected this year has been decided upon. The governor this morning had a conference with Treasurer Conkling and Auditor Fisher. The whole matter was discussed, the figures provided by the treasurer and the auditor being gone into.

The last legislature passed an act providing that an estimate be made in January of each year, of the probable receipts and expenditures up till the middle of May of the next year.

If the estimated receipts were not sufficient to meet the expenses, an additional property tax could be imposed, which was not to exceed one-fourth of one per cent.

Such an estimate has been made up by the treasurer and auditor, and checked by the governor, and it has been found that there is no necessity to impose the maximum additional tax. Still, in view of the increase in the old and new appropriations there is not a very big margin.

MANY YOUNG LIVES ARE SAVED BY THE CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

A new measure limiting the ages of the patients in the Kauaikeolani Children's Hospital was passed yesterday afternoon at the annual meeting of the members of the corporation in the office of Judge S. B. Dole. Heretofore the hospital authorities have not attempted to define the word "children," but in the future the age limit will be 14 years for girls and 12 years for boys. The meeting was not largely attended by members "in the flesh," as Judge Dole expressed it, for many of the supporters of the hospital who are entitled to vote are not residents of Honolulu and vote by letter. All of the officers were re-elected, namely: S. B. Dole, president; J. F. Morgan, first vice president; George P. Castle, second vice president; W. O. Smith, treasurer; Miss Goldie G.

Gurney, secretary. A number of interesting reports were presented showing the achievements of the hospital during the past year.

Reports of Physicians.

Following is a summary of the medical and surgical reports for 1911:

From January 1 to June 30, 1911, Dr. W. D. Baldwin was attending physician, assisted by Dr. F. F. Hedemann.

From July 1 to December 31, 1911, Dr. C. B. Wood was attending physician.

During the whole of the year 1911, Dr. W. C. Hobdy was attending surgeon.

The following statistics are taken from the reports of Miss J. N. Dewar, superintendent, and the physician and surgeon for the year:

Famous 1st United States Infantry Coming to Hawaii

VANCOUVER BARRACKS, January 31.—The first United States Infantry will sail for Hawaii early in May.

The First Infantry is a famous organization, dating back to the earliest of the American army. It was stationed in 1898 at the Presidio of San Francisco where General Shafter, who had been its colonel, was in command; and when General Shafter was given command of the Cuban invasion he insisted that the First should be part of it. The day the regiment left San Francisco for the front, under Colonel Miles, there was the first of the great public turn-outs in that city which signalized the war year.

The First Infantry leads the procession of regiments which is coming here to fill up the Oahu garrison to war strength.

Decision for Wilson

The injunction which John H. Wilson, contractor, asked for, enjoining Superintendent of Public Works Campbell and the Loan Fund Commission from approving vouchers for work done or materials supplied under the contract with the Lord-Young Engineering company for the road work for which Wilson was an unsuccessful bidder, was granted by Judge Whitney in the circuit court this afternoon.

In his decision Judge Whitney acknowledges the right of the commission to take into consideration a contractor's fitness as well as the bid he makes for the work, but he severely criticizes the body for making its decision in a secret session without giving Wilson a hearing.

Wilson's bid for the contract at issue was the lowest and the Lord-Young company the next lowest. In making its decision the Loan Fund Commission awarded the contract to the Lord-Young company on the ground that this firm was more competent and responsible. Judge Whitney stipulates that his decision is not to be interpreted as a criticism of the honesty of the commission and he says further that he believes they acted as they did upon an honest conviction that they were serving the public well, but he also asserts that Wilson should have had an opportunity to prove his abilities in an open hearing.

DAVIS CUP CHALLENGERS TELL OF BAD WEATHER AND LARNED'S BAD LUCK

Messrs. Larned, McLoughlin and Wright, the American tennis team that went to the Colonies to challenge for the Davis cup, arrived by the S. S. Marama this morning.

They will stay over here for the S. S. Sierra. McLoughlin will stop with Alfred Castle, Wright with W. Roth and Larned with Dr. Tucker Smith of the naval station.

All three are looking well after their voyage, but were glad to set foot on terra firma this morning.

The distinguished visitors were greeted at the wharf by many friends, who immediately whisked them up town.

Bad Cup Weather.

McLoughlin and the others state that the weather after their arrival at Christchurch, New Zealand, till the date of the tournament was vile. It rained so steadily and heavily that tennis practice was out of the question and the visiting trio had to resort to running on the sand in order to keep themselves fit.

On the day set for the first matches there were three or four inches of water on the courts and the play had to be postponed. Even then the matches had to be played on heavy, damp courts.

Larned Bowled Tendon.

In his match with Heath, Larned, the singles rack, had the misfortune to badly strain a tendon, which put him out of the tournament as far as active playing was concerned.

The Australians could have claimed his games by default, but chivalrously allowed McLoughlin to take his place.

The American players admit that they were surprised by the excellent playing of the Australasians, particularly Brookes and Heath. Dunlop they were not so much impressed with.

Australia Next Year.

According to the visitors, there will be no more Davis cup tournaments in New Zealand on account of the uncertain weather. It is said to be practically certain that the next tournament will be played either at Melbourne or Sydney.

The gate receipts were not so large as had been expected and much smaller than was the case when the last tournament was played, in Melbourne, when 150,000 witnessed the cup play.

Messrs. Larned, McLoughlin and Wright are found in the praises of their reception by the New Zealanders and by their keen, clean sportsmanship.

This afternoon at 3:30 on the Berea courts McLoughlin and Wright will play a match with Alfred Castle and W. Roth.

RABIES RULES IN FORCE MARCH 1

On March 1 the rules and regulations regarding the quarantining of dogs that come from countries where rabies exists will be put into force. By the date mentioned, the kennels and necessary buildings at the quarantine station will be erected, and ample provision for the housing of dogs will be provided.

Dr. Norgaard will be in control of the rabies regulations, and he expects to have a big job on his hands. The rules as amended were approved of by the Governor last week, and the committee on animal industry of the board of agriculture has finally passed on the proposition.

Dr. Norgaard is busy at present making his annual test of cows for tuberculosis. So far, he has examined about one hundred cows. In three or four instances he found that the cows were slightly infected. The tests will be continued till every cow in the county has been examined.

Hawaiian Lodge, No. 21, F. & A. M., will hold a special meeting at seven-thirty tonight.

LIEUTENANT SCOTT SUSTAINS SEVERE BATHING ACCIDENT

Lieutenant Scott of the U. S. S. Glacier met with a painful accident at Waikiki beach on Monday afternoon, through treading on a piece of broken glass bottle and cutting the instep so badly that Dr. Tuttle of the U. S. Army had to put nine stitches in it. Mr. Scott is now confined to his room on the Glacier.

Mr. Scott was walking through the shallow water on his way to the deep water to have a swim, when suddenly he stepped on the upturned broken bottle. The glass inflicted a deep cut in his instep, and immediately the water was stained with the blood that gushed out. The salt water made the wound sting, and it looked for a time as though Mr. Scott would lose consciousness with the pain. His friends had him conveyed to a house nearby on the beach, and first aid to the injured was administered. Dr. Tuttle was summoned, and soon arrived on the scene. He saw the seriousness of the cut, and after the usual cleansing operations he put nine stitches in the wound.

Later on Scott was removed to his ship by automobile, and now lies in his bed unable to follow his duties. It is expected that the wound will incapacitate him for several weeks, as the wound is very deep. It was a very serious accident.

There was no news of the fleet this morning on board the Glacier. No word as to when the vessels will leave is forthcoming. The Glacier knows nothing at all about this, it was said. There is a belief among the officers of the fleet that the cruisers will be divided up into half, after the return of the Maryland from Ecuador. Two vessels, it is thought, will leave soon for parts unknown, and the other two, together with the Glacier, stay here pending further instructions.

The three cruisers are outside today, and will be back tomorrow. It is expected. They are finishing off their periodical inspections.

BUTTER STANDS THE FIRST TEST

Food Commissioner Blanchard has been working all the morning on some butter tests. The butter came in this morning on the Marama from Australia and, as a shipment received from New Zealand some time ago was refused admittance on account of there being a preservative in the article, much interest was taken in the Marama's shipment.

Many people who, using nothing but Australian and New Zealand butter, have been waiting impatiently for a fresh shipment of the Antipodean produce.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon Blanchard announced that the butter had passed the first test, but a second test would be made to prove up.

SHAW HURT BY BLAST

W. E. Shaw of the Honolulu Monument Co. met with a painful accident this morning.

Some blasting was being done on his premises on Fourth avenue, Kaimuki. A blast had exploded and Shaw went forward to investigate the result.

A second blast exploded as he neared the spot and his face and eyes were peppered with small pieces of rock.

He was removed to the hospital where he will remain for a couple of days.

He is to be congratulated on a very narrow escape from losing his eyesight.

STARRETT FIGHTING A REAL TROUBLE WITH THE BANANA

Market Superintendent Starrett started out this morning on his second day of inspection among the banana growers. As a result of his expedition into the banana country about Waikiki yesterday, the superintendent is far from optimistic. He said that he found scarcely any fruit that was not infected with scale, whether on the plant or cut for the market.

"This condition does not affect the sale of bananas here," said he this morning, "but there would be no use in sending such produce to the Coast, because it would be condemned and destroyed there. I know that in the mountain districts and on the other side of the island I shall not find the scale so bad, but immediately about the city it is very discouraging."

It is not the superintendent's business to suggest or enforce a remedy and there is no legislation here which prevents the shipment of infected fruit, but he is certain that the growers who ship to the Coast will have to take radical steps if they intend to preserve their market. He believes that in most of the groves the scale has progressed so far that spraying will do little good and that the producers will have to depend upon the young shoots, spraying them as they grow, for good, uninfected fruit.

Times of the tide are taken from the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey tables. The tide at Kahuku and Hilo is about one hour earlier than at Honolulu. Honolulu standard time is 10 hours 30 minutes slower than Greenwich time, being that of the meridian of 157 degrees 30 mins. The time whistle blows at 1:30 p. m., which is the same as Greenwich 9 hours 0 minutes. The sun and moon are for local time for the whole group.

ADVICE FOR OLD AND YOUNG.
Don't trifle with a cold is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in case of a child. There is nothing better than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs and colds in children. It is safe and sure. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

The fearful storms that have been raging between here and Fiji were the cause of the Marama being delayed in her arrival here. Ordinarily, she would have got here yesterday, but the severity of the storms forced Captain Morrisby to slow his vessel down.

She came through it all in fine shape and looked none the worse for wear. There is a rim of grass above her waterline, and no doubt there is a great deal more out of sight. This probably accounts for the fact that she could not make up much time when she got out of the storm zone.

For here there were seventeen first cabin passengers and twelve second. The cargo for Honolulu totalled 190 tons, consisting chiefly of frozen mutton. For the mainland she has fifty-nine cabin passengers, fifty-six in the second cabins and thirty-nine in the steerage, with 1200 tons of cargo, comprising frozen mutton and sugar from Fiji.

There was one stowaway on the boat. He was described as a half-American as he had taken out his intention papers. As he is also a part Britisher, the half that has not been made American citizen, the captain has resolved to take him on to British territory, where no doubt he will be prosecuted.

The Marama left at one o'clock, for Victoria and Vancouver. She will be speeded up in an effort to make up the time lost. If the weather is at all favorable those on board say that she can make it all right.

ZEALANDIA TOMORROW MORNING
The storm zone must have been a big one, for one by one the arriving vessels report the effects of it. The Mongolia and Wilhelmmina got it at one side of the Pacific and the Marama got it at the other side, and now the Honolulan and the Zealandia are staggering along toward here with the fierce seas keeping them back.

The Zealandia will be a day late from Vancouver, as she wirelessed last night that she would not be off port until seven o'clock tomorrow morning. She will sail again at noon for Sydney, via Suva and Auckland. KAHUKU COULD NOT BE RAISED.

There would have been a little less anxiety regarding the whereabouts of the Marama had she been able to raise Kahuku. "Ever since Saturday night," said Purser Dodd this morning, "we've been pumping it into you fellows, but we couldn't raise you. We could hear the naval station, but could get no response from anyone. I was in the wireless room several times while the operator tried."

There seems to be some difficulty in working with the local wireless office. From time to time the Makura, the Zealandia and the Marama report failure to get into communication with Kahuku. Whose fault it is can never be known, for Kahuku has been talking with various ships all along, and the instruments on the three Australian boats have always been in working order, for they report on each trip the steamers and land stations they have been in communication with.

Zealandia has excellent long range records to her credit. The distance used is Marconi, and as the Wilhelmmina and the Lurline are both using the same system, there should not be any trouble because the instruments can not be attuned.

KAHUKU TOMORROW MORNING.
The Korea wirelessed in last night that she would be off port at eleven o'clock tomorrow morning from the Orient, and desired to get away at seven the following morning. At first she placed the hour of arrival at five o'clock in the afternoon but evidently the weather is a whole lot better out her way than it was where the Marama has come from, and where the Zealandia and Honolulan are.

VESSELS IN TOUCH.
The local wireless office is in wireless touch with the Zealandia coming here tomorrow morning from Vancouver, with the Korea due tomorrow morning from the Orient, and with the Honolulan due at any time from San Francisco.

CLAUDINE HAD SMOOTH TRIP.
The Claudine arrived this morning from Hilo via Maui with three horses, eighteen crates of chickens, twenty-three sacks of telephone pins, 2500 paving blocks, thirty-five bags, twenty packages of potatoes, ten cords of wood, 192 packages of sundries, eighteen packages of liquor, twenty-two sacks of corn and 250 railroad ties.

WILHELMINA OFF TO SAN FRANCISCO.

The Wilhelmmina pulled out dead on time for San Francisco this morning with eighty cabin passengers and thirty-five in the steerage. There are about 5000 tons of cargo under her hatches, including 4700 tons of sugar, 3000 bunches of bananas, 2000 cases of canned pineapples, and an assortment of island products.

The usual gale-blasted sendoff was accorded her. The Hawaiian band was in attendance, and the Wilhelmmina got away with a profusion of leis coming back to the dock. The Intrepid was not around to help her turn and she had to swing solely on her own power.

She is due at San Francisco on Tuesday morning next.

HONOLULAN TOMORROW NIGHT.
The Honolulan will not get in today after all. The bad weather is proving too much for her, and she is still wallowing around in the throes of it. She wirelessed in last night that she will make port tomorrow evening.

She has some passengers and mail for the Zealandia for Australia. If she is not in till night it looks as though there will be a missed connection, for the Zealandia has wirelessed in that she will be here tomorrow morning and will leave for Australia at noon.

FALLS OF CLYDE EN ROUTE.

The American ship Falls of Clyde is on her way here from Gaviota with a full load of oil for the Pacific Oil Transportation Company. This is the busy times for the steamers, hence the reversion to sailers to carry the oil. She is looked for somewhere around February 9 or 10.

ELFRIEDA STILL OUTSIDE.

The German ship Elfrieda was still outside somewhere this morning. The tug Intrepid went out searching for her, but up to a late hour had not got hold of her. It is expected that they will be in the harbor today some time.

W. G. HALL WITH SUGAR.

The W. G. Hall arrived from Kaula this morning with 5500 bags of sugar, three empty kegs, thirty-six coconut plants, two boxes of frogs, seven boxes of chickens, and twenty-seven packages of sundries.

NIHAU WITH KAUAI SUGAR.

The Nihaui brought in 4500 bags of sugar from Makawell, Kaula, this morning.

SUGAR ON KAUI.

Purser Penke of the Nihaui reports that the following sugar was awaiting shipment on Kaula: M. A. K., 24,744 bags; M. B., 22,284; G. & R., 13,130; K. S. M., 3650; L. P., 6575; K. S. Co., 4700, and K. P., 4470.

Tommy Burns Will
Try and Come Back
As Champion Boxer

Tommy Burns, ex-champion heavy-weight boxer of the world, is a through passenger by the S. S. Marama, which arrived from the Colonies this morning.

Burns is looking fit and chipper and weighs stripped 190 pounds. He has been in light training for the past six weeks and has a gymnasium fitted up aboard the steamer which enables him to take regular exercise. He has reduced 18 pounds since leaving Sydney.

Every morning he has done an hour's running on the deck and every afternoon has boxed and wrestled with anyone on board who cared to take him on.

His weight has come off surprisingly well, and what is best of all, from Burns' standpoint, his game knee has not troubled him any since he started exercising.

This knee, it will be remembered, was hurt in a railway accident between Tacoma and Seattle.

May Fight Again.

"I am going to have a bout in Canada," said Burns to a Star man this morning, "and if my knee does not trouble me, and I feel that I can come back successfully, I intend to get into the game again and will return to Australia to fight the winner of the return match between Langford and McVey. If I win that I shall challenge Jack Johnson."

"I'm going to be sure that I can come back, however, before I attempt it. I'm not going to do as Jeffries did. When I make another match the public may rest assured that they will get a run for their money, as they have always done in the past."

Speaking of ring matters in Australia Burns said:

Boxing in Australia.
"The decision given by Snowy Baker in the Langford-McVey fight was a bad one. The betting was 5 to 4 on Langford. McVey only had three rounds out of the twenty."

"We got the news that Jim Barry had beaten Lang in eight rounds, on board the steamer."

"An effort is being made to rematch Langford and McVey, but the latter says that he will meet any six men in Australia, but not Langford. He claims that he injured his hand in his bout with the latter. The truth of the matter is that Sam McVey doesn't want any more of the other Sam's game. I believe that they will be rematched before long, however, as McVey is bound to McIntosh for a return match with Langford."

"Jack Lester has gone bad. He was beaten in fourteen rounds by Dave Smith, the Australian light heavy-weight, who is a very good man. I still retain my interest in him and hope that he will improve as he gains experience. I doubt that he will ever make a first-class boxer, however."

"The fight game is very good in Australia. The efforts of the anti-boxers petered out, and the outlook is now bright."

Burns Boxed Langford.
Just before Christmas Burns boxed four rounds with Langford in aid of a local charity before a crowd of 20,000. It was the first meeting of the two and the first time that Burns had ever seen Langford in action.

"The bout was valuable to me," said Burns this morning, "in that it showed that the black has nothing on me. I weighed over 200 pounds when I stepped in the ring with Sam."

Burns was sorry to learn of the death of Billy Delaney. He was much surprised to hear of the defeat of Kaufman by Palmer.

"It looks as if Flynn is the best white man in the world today," said Burns. "At that he will be easy for Johnson. I regard the match as an unfair one."

Mehegan is Good.
Speaking of other fighters, Burns said that Hughie Mehegan was easily the best lightweight in Australia and that he would stand a good chance with the mainland lightweight, provided he can make the American lightweight limit.

"Cyclone" Johnny Thompson, Burns said, is nothing like the fighter he was six years ago. In his last fight in Sydney Bandaman Rice obtained a twenty-round decision over him.

Burns is the same quiet, deliberate fellow as ever. He is going to join his wife in Seattle, and will then proceed to Calgary, where he owns a clothing business and where he will probably make his reappearance in

CRACK TENNIS
THIS AFTERNOON

This afternoon at 3:30 on the Beretania courts Maurice McLoughlin and Beals Wright will play a tennis match with Alfred Castle and W. Roth.

McLoughlin and Wright were members of the team which went to Australia to challenge for the Davis trophy.

Castle and Roth are the strongest team that can be got together locally. The public are cordially invited to attend the match.

ORPHEUM FOR BOXING BOUT

The De Mello-Hoao boxing bout will take place at the Orpheum on the night of Saturday, February 17.

It was at first proposed to have the contest a week earlier, but it was impossible to obtain a theater for that night.

The Orpheum was booked this morning by the promoter.

De Mello will arrive on Saturday by the steamer Mauna Kea, accompanied by Jockey Willis, who will train him for his engagement with Hoao.

Hoao has been doing light training during the past week and will start on the serious portion of his preparation right away.

The preliminaries have not yet been definitely announced, but may be a six-round go between Soldier Copeland and Soldier Prince and Kid Herrigan and Young Gans.

JACK JOHNSON AND AL M'LEAN
NEARLY SHED BLOOD IN HONOLULU

Alec McLean, former trainer and manager of Jack Johnson, is telling the story of Jack Johnson in the Baseball Magazine, and in one of the installments there appears the following interesting account of the fracas between McLean and the black champion which came near coming to a head in Honolulu, on the return of the pair from their Australian tour:

"We both sailed for America on the same ship, although I admit there was no friendly feeling between us. When Johnson was paying me the disputed money in his attorney's office the day before we sailed from Australia, he made the remark that there were two men going aboard the ship, but that only one would get off alive."

"Hearing this statement, my attorney advised me to arm myself, which I promised to do. This was the first and last time I ever carried a gun, and I never want to do so again."

"In spite of Johnson's threats everything went well until we struck Honolulu on our way back. The minute we docked there, we were surrounded by newspaper men. They wanted a story from us concerning our trouble in Australia, as the news of this trouble had reached them even there. Johnson has always prided himself in the ring that he could make any man lead to him. This was one occasion when his theory did not work."

"I let him leave the boat first, and tell his story to the press. Then I knew just what stand to take, and what to say. Johnson thought he had all the best of it and waited patiently until the papers came out in the afternoon. When they did, I think he must have bought every paper in Honolulu, or pretty nearly every one, to see his story."

"There were four column head lines on the first page, entitled 'Johnson's Version of His Trouble with Manager McLean.' Then followed his story, but under it read, 'Manager McLean's Story of His Trouble with Johnson,' which was followed by my view of the trouble."

"When Johnson saw this he immediately rushed down to the boat and declared he would murder me at sight. I happened to be on my way down at the time, and some of the passengers who had heard him make the threat met me and told me to be careful, that Johnson had a loaded gun, and was going to shoot me on sight."

"When I walked down to the boat Johnson was there, standing at the end of the gang-plank. I stood a few feet away from him, talking with some friends who had heard him make the threat met me and told me to be careful, that Johnson had a loaded gun, and was going to shoot me on sight."

"After the ship had put out to sea, and the pilot had left us, everything seemed to be all right. I was standing on the upper deck with my hand against the railing, talking with some friends, when Johnson came up with a crowd following him. When he got within ten feet of me, he asked me what I had said in the press about him. I had my hand on my gun in my coat pocket. I told him to stop where he was, and he told me he was going to break my neck."

"Did you say that I was not game?" he asked.

"Yes," I answered, "and I am going to prove it."

"Then he asked me if I had a gun, and I said yes, that it was loaded, too, and if he moved I would shoot."

"I have a gun, too," he said.

"Well, go ahead and get it, and I will show you you are not game, for this is the one place where I have an even chance with you."

"You are not going to shoot while I am going after it?" he asked.

"No," I answered. "Go ahead and get it."

"Somebody tried to stop him, and said, 'don't go, Jack, we don't want to have anybody killed here.' But Johnson went downstairs to get his gun."

"He went downstairs all right, but he did not come back. In fact, he never appeared on deck again until we reached Pisco, and he did not threaten me with any more injury, either."

PHILADELPHIA, January 20.—Australia promises to become the Mecca for the professional sprinters. Later Cartmell and Fred Ransdell, both former University of Pennsylvania stars, have just received invitations to visit the land of the kangaroo and race the stars of the earth there in the biggest professional championship races ever held.

Cartmell is now the world's champion by reason of his victory over A. L. Postle, the English runner, who previously held the title, and Ransdell is the champion of the intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association.

It was the intention of Cartmell to quit the cinder path at the end of last year; in fact, he tossed his running shoes overboard on the trip across the ocean; but the call of the large purses and the possibility of adventure are almost sure to capture the Southerner, who is now coaching at the University of North Carolina.

CARTER AND FREAR.

Ex-Governor Carter denies that he told the Bulletin, when he went away, that Governor Frear "was not close enough to the people," but says that he based his opposition to Frear's reappointment on the ground that the latter was not close enough to the administration, having been overruled or ignored by the President in the matter of three recommendations. It all appears in a morning interview from which we quote:

Three times Governor Frear's recommendations have been ignored in Washington, or have not been acted upon, and that means the office he holds has been belittled. Being ignored and submitting to it does not add to the dignity or luster of the office. It is most important for the future that we have someone as Governor whom the Washington administration would treat differently.

This seems to be a puerile objection. Every Territorial Governor of the recent past has made annual and special recommendations to the White House, only some of which commended themselves to the larger view of the President; yet among all these incumbents Governor Carter himself is the only one we recall who specialized in anger over small rebuffs and was over-quick to resign his office. For this habit President Roosevelt called him "My Hawaiian sensitive plant." As for other appointed governors of the period they held themselves to be agents of the Federal power, not governors of sovereign states. They were in high office to carry out the policy of the President, not to direct or harass him or to get into a huff whenever he chose to exercise his higher Territorial prerogative. In this respect Territorial governors have commonly conformed to the rule which cabinet officers and military and naval commanders observe. The other day when Secretary Hitchcock, in his formal report, advocated the purchase of the telegraph lines, did he resign when the President summoned him to the White House and called him to account? Did Secretary Wilson resign when the President ignored his recommendation to discharge Dr. Wiley? Quite the contrary. These high officials no more thought it their duty to resign or to get on their dignity than a circuit judge does when he is overruled by a higher bench or than an admiral does when the Secretary of the Navy or Congress pigeonholes his recommendations or proceeds to forget about them. Can a Territorial governor follow a better example than theirs? If he takes a sane view of his situation he must know that, even in the matter of appointments in his own sphere, especially Presidential appointments, the man in the Washington watch-tower is likely to have a dozen points of view to his one.

Ex-Governor Carter says further: "The 'tactical' mistake I would see in Frear's reappointment has nothing to do with the demands of politicians at all, but would come in the fact, in my opinion, that Frear and the administration in Washington have not been in close enough touch to make his reappointment wise. In my opinion the position of Governor is such a one that we should all, but would come in the fact, in my opinion, that Frear reach the ear of Washington.

Does not Mr. Carter remember the order made by President Taft about the time of Governor Frear's appointment and understood to be due to the constant lobbying or meddling at Washington of some of the Territorial governors under Roosevelt, politely directing such officials to stay away from the capital unless they had previously gained permission to come? Governor Frear has conformed to this request and has not been in much evidence at Washington since, but we fail to see that his conformity to a general order has brought him out of touch. In fact every Hawaiian who has seen the President and talked with him about the governorship of Frear knows the chief executive's respect for him; and the latter's decided refusal to send a commission here to investigate him in spite of Kuhio's charges, taken with the complete probability of his reappointment, is enough of a reply, we think, to the charge that he is "out of touch." The man distinctly out of touch is the Delegate from Hawaii, who ought to be the main agent of Territorial contact with the national capital.

Says the ex-Governor in further phrase: "The opposition to Frear has grown, I think, because of his failure to demand a hearing from Washington when the occasion arises for such a demand.

There is no sign of such opposition to Governor Frear except on the part of Carter himself. Kuhio makes no such charges; and he is sore because the Governor is in close touch there with a plea in rebuttal. Holstein, who is helping to play the aboriginal game, urges nothing of the sort and is chiefly concerned because the Governor is out of touch with the dog-eating Polynesian majority. Asford does not show any Democratic feeling on the subject which Mr. Carter names. He is only aggrieved because the Governor has got a hearing at Washington. Inquiry among business men of Honolulu is as fruitless of such a complaint as it would be among officials at Washington. One can but think that, in formulating a charge like this, the ex-Governor merely uses language to conceal his real reasons and his own ambitious motives.

PALMYRA ISLAND.

There is no cause for any misgivings about the course of the British government towards Palmyra island even if, as the late owner, Father Rougier denies, that course looks towards occupation. England, it is said, claims the island or group by right of original seizure or discovery while the United States claims it by inheritance from Hawaii. When the claims are compared, if the ambassadors of the two powers cannot agree, reference will be made to a third power or The Hague and the title settled. It is reported that England, if it gets the place, will make a naval rendezvous of it, for the protection of its canal commerce in the mid-Pacific. If it does not make good with title the existence of a navigable harbor there—which the local Captain Walker as well as Father Rougier denies—might make it incumbent on the United States to fortify the place against seizure in time of war by some third power. But so far as Great Britain and the United States are concerned all is well in any case, though some of our jingoes might not like to have Palmyra acquired by an ally of Japan.

SWAMP RECLAMATION.

We again call to notice the possibilities of getting something done towards the reclamation of the Waikiki swamps by the building of a drainage canal, with funds supplied through the Agricultural Department. The idea of using the reclaimed land for other purposes than agriculture might not comport with the plans of the Department, but we take it for granted that the Territorial or city governments wouldn't care if the great tract were turned into orchards or potato patches providing they could get the reclamation done with Federal money—not having any of their own for so big and necessary a job.

Following is the text of a bulletin from the Department of Agriculture just received:

WASHINGTON, January 15.—The annual report of Dr. A. C. True, director of the Office of Experiment Stations, to Secretary Wilson shows a great amount of drainage work done by his office. In treating with the subject the Director says:

The following projects of survey drainage have been completed and are in course of construction:

Arkansas: Black River levees. Delaware: Redden farm. Georgia: McRae farm. Kentucky: Marra farm. Maryland: Bureau of Animal Industry farm, Princess Anne Academy farm. Mississippi: Tusculum River, Walnut Grove plantation, Rogers farm, Bolivar county drainage district. Nebraska: Elkhorn River bench lands. North Carolina: Chadbourn drainage district, Pantego drainage district, Broad Creek drainage district, Pender county test farm, Lyon swamp canal, Cape Fear River levee. South Dakota: Vermilion River drainage district. Texas: Burston drainage district, Morgan horse farm. Virginia: Truck experiment station farm, Berkeley swamp. Reclamation of lands subject to overflow, as by floods: Alabama: Little Hurricane Creek. Nebraska: Bench lands of upper Elkhorn River. Oklahoma: Black Bear Creek.

Reclamation of lands continually wet—swamps, marshes, etc.: Arkansas: Crooked Bayou drainage district. Mississippi: Belonzi drainage district. North Carolina: Back swamp and Jacob swamp. South Carolina: Little Wambaw swamp.

The Poet Philosopher

When bitter is the winter day, and tempests sweep the moor, I go my cheerful, kindly way, to help the worthy poor. The poor man's children, sick and sore, are eating whey and curds; then I come rapping at the door, and bring them helpful words. Alas, the storm is not more rude than the reward I get! There's no such thing as gratitude on earth, already yet! The poor man listens to my spiel, with darkly brooding eyes; "I'd rather have a sack of meal than all your words," he cries. "My children, by misfortune vexed, regret that they're alive; they will not fatten on a text; on proverbs they don't thrive. They can not warm their naked feet or fill the empty stove with sentinets, however sweet, from poets' Treasure Trove. And language will not plug the crack through which the cold winds blow, or make immune the poor man's shack from icicles and snow. Oh bring us to our inglenook sauerkraut and roasted birds! We have an old time spelling book on which to draw for words!"

It is true as the Argonaut says that business does not seek civic centers any more than it does parks and graveyards, but this does not imply that public buildings like postoffices are objectionable when they are set up in a business neighborhood. The New York City postoffice never worked that way, nor any other that we recall. Of course postoffices, sometimes seek undesirable streets to save taxes or ground rentals, but when a postoffice is built on a main highway it tends to increase values as it did in the neighborhood of the Mahuka site when the mere news came that the place had been chosen for the Honolulu Federal building. The fact that near-by lots were bought by retail and other business houses, to be utilized when the Federal structure should rise, is a fair index to the commercial view of such proximity.

What a pity that George Rex didn't again come back a "changed man."

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

CHIEF McDUFFIE—A sprained back is not the nicest thing in the world, and I feel like a cripple at present.

W. D. DOUTHITT—I would have liked to see McCormack give a concert here, but it could not be arranged very well.

JUDGE LYMER—There may be a number of cases brought up soon—that is if the householders who have been warned do not obey the orders given them.

FRANK SULLIVAN—We had a big day at the postoffice yesterday, but the delay in the Marama arriving gave the staff a chance to get the Mongolia mail distributed quickly.

PAUL SUPER—It is a simple matter to enlist the services of the men of Honolulu in any good work, but it is more difficult to interest them in the expression of religious conviction. That is why we are giving so much time to the Christian Extension Movement.

JACK WEDAY—I am afraid that I will have to wait awhile before letting loose my bulldog on those waterfront gamblers. He is a bit too savage yet. I let him go on one crowd. As soon as they saw me in the distance they clambered over woodpiles and out of the way. They didn't wait to grin at me that time.

E. W. CONGDON—Sydney is certainly some town. They gave me so good a time down there that I would have been reduced to a shadow had I stayed longer. I think that the announcements to be made with regard to theatrical people coming here will prove interesting.

M. C. PACHECO—This is a great town. One week the Board of Health compels people to clean up, and following that the county garbage department threatens householders with the law if they put out their rubbish for removal. If we had free removal of garbage, Mrs. Ferreira, who was burned to death last Friday while burning rubbish, would be alive and well today.

W. C. HAMILTON—The only thing for the banana growers of this island to do is to start again from the beginning. It is almost impossible to find a bunch that is not infected with scale and one can scarcely blame the Californians for refusing to receive this infected fruit. To clean out the pest as it should be done will be hard upon the grower, but the sooner they begin it the lighter the burden will be.

Dr. Wood's report states: "There is hardly a doubt that over 50 per cent of the entire number of cases (medical) admitted would have died had they remained in their own homes."

Dr. Hobdy says: "Of the surgical operations performed during this period (that six months of 1911) a little more than half were done by other surgeons than the regular attending surgeon of the hospital. These were divided among at least five men, which shows that the usefulness of this beneficent institution is steadily being more and more recognized among the members of the medical profession, and that they are coming to use more and more the splendid facilities which it affords."

Of the deaths recorded above, nineteen were in a dying condition on admission.

At the end of each quarter year the treasurer has submitted to the board of trustees an itemized statement of the financial affairs of the institution, which statement and the accounts in the treasurer's office have been examined and audited by the Audit Company of Hawaii, Ltd.

In addition to the regular stated reports a tabulated monthly statement has been kept in which the various items of expenditures have been classified and presented in a tabular sheet so that the expenditures under the various heads for each month can be compared.

The total number of patients admitted during the year 1911 has been 291 as against 354 for the year 1910. The daily average attendance has been 16.47 as against 16.835 for the year 1910; and the average cost per day per patient for 1911 has been $13.17 as against $10.8 for 1910.

The financial management at the hospital by Miss J. M. Dewar, lady superintendent, has been maintained with her usual efficiency and good judgment.

Respectfully submitted,
W. O. SMITH,
Treasurer.

GOOD DRAMA WANTED.

Editor Star: Now that we have a good company of players here may we not hope that they will give us something that is really worth while. Something which will show us more of the beauty, pathos and elegancies of life, and something which is worthy of their talent, and of themselves.

Most actors come here with the idea that all that is wanted here is some roaring, side-splitting, barn-storming kind of play, and which is a great mistake.

What is really wanted is something that is really artistic and which calls forth all the best talent of the actors. For it should be known that Honoluluans can appreciate what is really good. Nor is there to be found anywhere a people with a more critical taste or an audience that has a high er appreciation of talent.

Neither do they want too many one-man plays, or for that matter too many one-woman plays.

We should remember that variety in play, as in everything else, is the spice of life.

What would take here above everything is some good play like Faust. If this were done it would be seen whether Honoluluans can appreciate good plays or not. In fact, if this company can make good in this kind of play the opera house will not contain all of those who will want to see them and it will demonstrate more than ever the need of a larger theater for this city.

What we need here are not only plays of real merit and of absorbing interest, but those void of all vulgarities and indecencies, and to which the people can take their children without having to blush for doing so—not that this company is likely to give anything objectionable.

NORWOOD ARRIVES IN THE MONGOLIA

PROFESSOR NORWOOD.

Professor H. M. Norwood, supported by a company of eight people, will open at one of the houses of the Honolulu Amusement Company Monday next.

Professor Norwood is a hypnotist of the highest order, and while his performance is mirth-provoking from start to finish, it is conducted on such a high plane and without any attempt to mystify the audience that it might be called an illustrated lecture on the power of suggestion and concentration. He does not enshroud his work in mystery and term it "black art," as a great many do, but explains fully what he does and how it is accomplished.

QUEEN'S HOSPITAL

tious cases. Even a layman can appreciate the importance to the community of having a hospital where operations can be conducted with a certainty that the risk of infection to the wound from other patients does not exist. It is sufficient, however, for the trustees to say that the medical staff are quite clear in their insistence on this feature.

The hospital also serves the community as a city infirmary and holds itself in readiness to render first aid free, in all cases of emergency and accident. Our professional staff is called on at all hours of the day and night to afford this service.

For the benefit of members who are not now residents of Honolulu, I may state that the institution now consists of three wings, somewhat in the shape of an inverted T—the main entrance and offices being placed at the center of the head. The lower floors of the three wings are occupied by nine wards for men, containing eighty-five beds. Coming to the second floor, in the wing on the Waikiki side, are five wards for women, containing twenty-six beds. The second floors of the mauka, or Bishop wing, and of the Ewa side, or Pauahi wing, contain fifteen private rooms with single beds. There is a third floor to the Pauahi wing containing four additional private rooms. The hospital has therefore fourteen wards and nineteen private rooms, containing a total of 136 beds.

The main operating room is on the third floor of the Pauahi wing. The emergency operating room is placed immediately at the front entrance of the hospital.

The resident staff consists of the superintendent, Mr. J. F. Eckardt; the house physician, Dr. J. M. Thompson, and two assistant doctors; the head nurse, the housekeeper, and a staff of fifteen nurses. These, together with an office assistant, and the hospital attendants, bring the total number of employees up to fifty-one.

During the twelve months to December 31 last, there were admitted to the hospital 1272 patients, while 1232 were discharged. The highest number of inmates for the year occurred during February, being ninety-seven—the lowest for the year being forty-seven, in August. There were 337 major and 229 minor operations. The figures I give are exclusive of patients applying for "first aid." Attention of the surgeons, but not requiring to be detained at the hospital.

The total hospital days for the year were 27,153. Of these it is interesting to note that 8551 were indigent sent under contract with the county, while 2034 represents free occupants of endowed beds. Thus 49 per cent were patients unable to pay for themselves.

The average cost of each hospital day for the year was $2.27, while the corresponding receipts were $1.95—a deficit of 32 cents for each hospital day. As a matter of fact, the hospital has had to fall back on its income from endowments to the extent of $8655 in order to pay its way during the year.

A comparison with the figures reported last year shows an increase of twenty-eight in the admissions. The number has steadily increased every year for the last four years. The number of operations—major and minor—was 1911, forty-seven more than the previous year.

Trustees—The trustees have held twelve regular and four special meetings during the year—a total of sixteen. The third Wednesday in the month was adopted as the regular meeting day.

Visiting Committees—A visiting committee consisting of a trustee and two members of the society has been appointed for each quarter, and has made reports as to the condition in which the institution was found.

Medical Staff—Four physicians, four surgeons and two specialists are elected annually to form the medical staff, and they arrange a schedule for the year, so that each acts for one quarter, in turn. To the whole medical staff, however, the rules commit the welfare of the hospital—to report to the trustees anything requiring attention. The rules call for regular meetings of the staff each month, and that the chairman for the time being should attend the monthly meeting of the trustees and submit the report of the staff for the month. At only six of our regular meetings has the medical staff been represented, and while we thank these doctors for their help in assisting thus to keep up the observance of rules, it is hardly satisfactory not to have the staff always represented. Nor can it be said that the working of the monthly meetings of the staff has been satisfactory, and I suggest that the president of the hospital should in the future be invited by the medical staff to attend their meetings in order to maintain a contact between the trustees and their medical staff.

Change in Board of Trustees—During the year Mr. North resigned, to our very great regret, and Mr. von Holt took his place upon the board.

Resident Staff—Dr. Troutman retired from the position of house physician, and on May 17, 1911, Dr. J. M. Thompson was promoted from the post of interne to be house physician. In July Dr. E. Beasley joined the hospital staff as first interne. For it was found necessary, in order to meet the requirements of the operating room and of the visiting doctors, to provide a second interne. To this position Dr. A. Bowen was appointed in August.

Miss L. A. Sax, the head nurse, having completed her year, left the hospital at the end of last August, and Miss S. G. Parish succeeded to the position. There have naturally been various changes in the personnel of the nursing staff during the year.

Grounds—During the year the hospital acquired for the sum of $2500 the lot on Miller street belonging to the Hawaiian board. The acquisition of these premises enables the hospital to control what has frequently been a noisy nuisance to the patients—especially as it is so close to the Pauahi wing. It leaves other lots, however, on each side, which should also be placed under the hospital's control.

The Beretania street front was improved by curbing the sidewalk and laying down a cement pavement with grass border. At the same time the fence was removed, leaving the hibiscus hedge to act as a screen. By arrangement with the superintendent of public works, in consideration of this improvement, we were allowed to pipe water without extra charge over the portion of the grounds fronting on Luso street. This area was without grass on it owing to lack of water. We are now proceeding with grass planting, which will make that part of the grounds more sightly.

The nurses' tennis court has been reconstructed at an expenditure of $285. On the drives we have expended the sum of $..... Part of this was necessitated by the change in the buildings referred to later, whereby a new main entrance to the hospital was provided. The new location of the drive from Vineyard street directs traffic in a way which we hope will lessen the discomfort to patients from the noise and fumes of thoughtless carriages and motor cars which formerly drew up so close to the Pauahi wing. Practically all the drives have now been put into first-class condition.

Building Improvements—During the greater part of the year the hospital has been a very unpleasant place for our professional staff and nurses, for there has been a great deal of alteration work going on. A visit to the hospital itself will best enable the members to learn what these alterations are. Here it will suffice to say that this work has cost about $19,000, and has in the main been directed to improving the administration department of the hospital. The elevator has now been placed in the center of the hospital, so that it serves not only the Pauahi wing, but all other wards of the institution. A new front entrance has been arranged at that point and we have grouped near it: An entrance lobby, the elevator, the superintendent's office, the house physician's office and examination room, and the emergency operating room. Convenient to the lobby are also the head nurse's room, an office for the medical staff, a new pharmacy, drug store, and linen room, together with an improved room for dressings.

On the second floor, the diet kitchen has been much enlarged and improved, and a good deal of unused space has been made over into useful lavatories, storerooms, etc. At several points stairs have been replaced by inclines; and it is now possible, with the help of the elevator, to convey a patient in a wheeled truck from the ambulance wagon at the new entrance, to any point in the hospital, without encountering any steps.

In addition to these changes in the main hospital building, we made additions to the nurses' and doctors' cottages, and have built a substantial shed for automobiles. All these changes and additions to buildings and grounds have been carried out at an expenditure of about $22,500. It will be remembered that a forecast of an expenditure of but $5000 for this purpose was made at the last annual meeting. The work has been much more thorough and comprehensive than was then anticipated.

It will naturally be asked where the money for this expenditure has been obtained, and the reply is that the bulk of it was supplied by the accumulations of income from the Queen Emma endowment. The good year of sugar prices fortunately swelled that part of the income which is derived from rental of cane lands.

X-Ray Apparatus—During the year this apparatus has been put into working order. It is under the charge of the house physician—a regular scale of charges for photographs having been adopted by the staff.

It has frequently been remarked that the benefactors of the hospital have been but few in number, and that this most important public institution was not often the recipient of large donations for endowments. It is a gratification, therefore, to be able to announce the establishment of the M. S. Grinbaum Memorial.

During the year the trustees received on account of this memorial the sum of $5000 to form an endowment fund, the income of which is to be used in connection with the training of nurses. This is a subject which the trustees are giving attention to, and they are considering the establishment of a training school for nurses, though they are not yet in a position to take action.

Lands—The hospital possesses several pieces of land on Hawaii, etc., some of which are not yet fenced and surveyed. Steps have been taken during the year to have this done, so that the hospital may be in a position to use its holdings to the best advantage in the future.

Accounts—Through the care of our treasurer, assisted by a special committee of the trustees, the hospital accounts have been put into good order. The various endowments clearly show the investments in which they are held. The following is a statement of assets and liabilities:

In closing my report I cannot refrain from congratulating the hospital on the faithful permanent staff which they have. In Mr. J. F. Eckardt they have the unique instance of a man who has served the institution through a long period of development, and whose keen interest in the place has never flagged in spite of changing conditions. He has had the grace to work faithfully under changing boards of trustees—many times under difficult circumstances—subordinating his own opinions on many matters to the views of the trustees. The hospital will never have a more faithful servant. It is because a sudden attack requiring operation has prevented his being with us and making the customary report, that I have enlarged on statistics in this report. I am sure that you join me in expressions of thankfulness that he is making such a good recovery from the painful operation he has had to undergo.

In the anxiety and strain of caring for the lives of those who come to them for help, physicians and nurses must sometimes become weary and overwrought with the sight of suffering and the very monotony of an always recurring routine of work. It is for us who—while responsible for the conduct of the hospital—are removed from its drudgery and professional anxiety, to encourage them with the assurance of the gratitude of a community, and with the uplifting thought that their work, faithfully and with sympathy accomplished, enables them to follow more closely than most of us along the path that in this life was trod by the Great Physician.

PAINTING BOUGHT FOR COOKE LIBRARY
Mrs. C. M. Cooke purchased the painting, "Concentration," one of Miss Withrow's finest works, for the Cooke Library, Oahu College. Miss Withrow, who left with her mother in the Wilhelmina today, takes several portrait orders with her. She and her mother expect to return next year for a stay of four months. Both are delighted, as they expressed themselves before leaving, not only with the scenery and climate but with the pleasant reception they have had from local society.

STOCK DIVIDEND RUMOR OF OAHU

The sudden activity of Oahu sugar shares during the past few days seems to be explained by an apparently well founded rumor on the street that a stock dividend of $140,000 will be declared by the directors of the company at a meeting to be held this afternoon. Last week the stock was selling generally under 35 and was rather quiet. On Monday two blocks of 100 shares each sold between boards for 35.75, and yesterday 555 shares were reported sold at 3 6/8 flat, closing with 36.25 asked. Today sales were even heavier, with 36.50 bid. Three hundred and seventeen shares were sold at this last-named figure, and 445 shares were reported sold between boards at yesterday's price—36 flat.

The Oahu Sugar Company is capitalized at $360,000, shares $20 each par value. The report is that the capital is to be increased to $500,000 by the issuance of $140,000 in paid-up stock to stockholders. The plantation paid a dividend on the 15th inst. of 30 cents per share.

All other shares are holding strong, and the activity of the past few weeks was fully maintained today.

Waialua advanced to 127 from 126.50 yesterday.

Olan sold for 6.375, an advance of one point over last sales. Several blocks of from 10 to 30 shares went at this figure.

Ten shares of Pioneer sold on the board at 242, an advance of $2 over other recent sales.

MANILA SANE ON BANANAS

A Manila lady returning by the Mongolia says that they are not much troubled with mosquitoes in that town, but when a flock makes its appearance the householders in the neighborhood are regarded as personally responsible, and they lose no time in hunting for the breeding places, which are either destroyed or properly oiled. A feeling of pride regarding mosquitoes makes people vigilant and careful, with beneficial results for the whole city.

When asked whether bananas are allowed, she replied that Honolulu's frantic excitement and action in the matter of banana plants were the cause of much amusement at our expense.

"Banana trees are abundant in Manila," she said, "and no one objects to them in any way, and the health officers are exceedingly vigilant."

A STREET CAR DERAILED.

Shortly after half-past one this afternoon Rapid Transit car No. 45 proceeding to Kailua, was derailed in King street near River street. The service was disorganized for awhile, for piling up behind it were the cars bound for Kailua and Liliha street.

Since collectively, we are in many ways getting a broader outlook on life, since we are becoming more and more enlightened on many subjects, why can not we, as a whole, get a better view of the question of friendship between men and women?

We have advanced on the question of woman's economic independence, of suffrage, of labor. We are even beginning to put war in the category where it belongs, as not really an expression of patriotism, but a survival of the brute instincts. We are far ahead in scores of ways of what we were one hundred years ago. But when it comes to the question of the relations of men and women, we are still in the Dark Ages.

Let a married man or woman show any signs of friendship for a member of the other sex, either married or single, and immediately the majority of us, lift the eyebrows, shrug the shoulders, and the tongue of gossip begins to wag. Many of us seem to think that it is impossible for a married man to enjoy the companionship of a married or single woman in a purely friendly fashion; or that a married woman can find pleasure in association with a man, unless some emotion deeper than friendship is at the root of it.

This is not theory. Almost every one knows in his circle of acquaintances some such case, and of the gossip that followed.

A prominent business man and philanthropist, known the country over for his high standing in financial circles, as well as for his philanthropic work, has been gossiped about interminably. In fact, almost slandered, because of his friendship for a young girl. The girl is rather exceptional mentally, and this man finds pleasure in her companionship. There is nothing but a sincere friendship between them. Yet because he is married, the world seems to think such friendship should not be.

A prominent clergyman has been criticized bitterly by friends, and members of his congregation, because of what seems favors he has showered upon a trained nurse, who has been a member of his household for several years taking care of an invalid daughter. He looks upon this nurse almost as one of his family, and has a real regard for her. But despite his hitherto irreproachable character, many look upon his attitude toward her as wrong, and seem to think he can have no feeling for her but what is a reflection upon his wife.

The case of Madame Curie and her fellow-worker is another; though at this distance and with the many conflicting reports, it is difficult to tell just how matters stand. But abstractly, is it not possible for a woman of her liberal education and scientific attainments to find pleasure in the friendship of a man working in the same field of research, without there being anything in the feeling to justify a wife's jealousy? Surely, it is possible. It is only the narrow, suspicious, and really unworthy spirit who misconstrues such a friendship.

Can we not, as women, get beyond this narrow spirit? Can we not refrain from judging and gossiping and criticizing, when we see such an intimacy between a man and a woman? Can we not be big enough to believe that a pure friendship, a simple pleasure in each other's society, is possible, without any deeper emotion being stirred, even though one or the other may be married?

This is not meant to condone unfaithfulness, or to encourage unfaithfulness, to marriage vows. Nor is it meant to infer that there is no such thing; for we all know that there is only too much of the coveting of thy neighbor's wife. But it is meant that we should not immediately put all friendship between a man and a woman into this class, nor think that all friendships between married men and women are of this kind and that there is no other.

Let us refrain from criticizing and judging. Let us be big enough to admit that such friendships are possible. Let us advance in this matter, as we have in many others, into a larger and kinder consideration of each other.

SOCIAL NEWS OF THE DAY.

Miss Butler of San Francisco is the house guest of Captain and Mrs. E. A. Sturges at their Fifth Cavalry home in Schofield Barracks.

Miss Withrow and her mother, who left for San Francisco on the Wilhelmina, made a great many friends during their stay here and will be received with a royal welcome when they return next year.

Mrs. R. F. Schwerin, a popular society matron of Burlingame, arrived yesterday on the Mongolia and is at the Moana Hotel. The friends of the handsome, magnetic Mrs. Schwerin will be sorry to learn that she is not well at present.

Miss Daisy Marquet will leave on the Thomas next week for her home in Pennsylvania. She has been visiting her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Marquet, for the past few months, and has been a great favorite at Lihoua. She will be greatly missed from a large circle of friends.

The Service Bridge Club of Schofield Barracks met at the home of Mrs. Marquet at the Second Infantry post quarters on Wednesday. Miss Scales won first prize, which was a handsome sandal wood picture frame. Mrs. Beemer, wife of Dr. Chas. H. Beemer of the medical post, won a pretty lacquered box for the second prize.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Egan of Manila, through passengers on the Mongolia, were given a luncheon yesterday at the University Club by Royal D. Mead. The guests invited to meet Mr. and Mrs. Egan were Mr. and Mrs. E. Paxon Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Tenney, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dowsett, Mr. Schaefer, the Misses Walker, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Quite a number of members of Kilo-hanna Art League were present at the initial meeting of the outdoor circle last evening. Mrs. F. J. Lowrey, the president of this department, stated the hopes of the committee to enlist the enthusiasm and co-operation of a sufficient number of people to make Honolulu what it ought to be as a beauty spot, not alone as a tourist asset, but for the gratification of those who live here.

Mr. Ralph Hoamer read an interesting paper on the planting of trees for ornamental uses.

Mr. McChesney's paper was concerning the park proposed on both sides of Nuuanu stream and the work accomplished thus far in connection with it.

The reflectoscope was then used to reflect pictures of parks, streets and beauty spots in other cities in the world.

Mr. Gerrit Wilder spoke of the possibilities of hibiscus as a means of decorating streets and gardens, and of the club which has recently been formed to further interest in that plant.

The reflectoscope was then used to show pictures of what has been accomplished in other cities in the way of parking streets and beautifying gardens. The contrast between the streets which had been planted according to a prepared plan and those which had been planted haphazard was shown, and the thought of much-needed co-operation emphasized.

The pol luncheon at the residence of Colonel Sam Parker yesterday was served in Hawaiian style. About sixty people sat down to the table and found a malle lei at his place. No knives or forks were in evidence, and twenty round-the-world tourists who had been invited investigated the mysteries of the packages of fish in ti leaves, and so on in ti leaves, with ti's aid of their fingers.

The luncheon hour was kept lively

PASTOR DODGE DEFINES POSITION

Wailuku, Maui, T. H.,
January 30, 1912.

Editor Star: The dedication of the new Wailuku Union Church was admirably and very accurately told by your special reporter. The church people all appreciate his full account.

In justice to myself I desire to clear up, if possible, the meaning of the rather unfortunate last paragraph, which has not been understood by those who were not present at the whole of the proceedings of the council of Saturday, the 20th.

I should state that your reporter did not remain through the afternoon session, and hence did not hear the discussion, when I was asked again to meet the members of the council after they had met in private, as is always customary. Had he come in, when I was recalled, I feel sure he would have given out a somewhat different impression.

He quoted me fairly successfully as far as it was possible to quote particularly the questions and answers such as formed the last part of the examination he heard. Partial quotation, in this case, however, practically amounted to misquotation. My position, I would like, therefore, to make clear by the following statement:

First of all, I believe in the Immaculate Conception of our Lord, and am a thorough believer in His Divinity, and believe He now holds a position in the thinking of the Christian world as equal with God the Father.

Unfortunately, in the brief time given at the council, I apparently did not state the method of approach clearly enough, so that all understood me. The system under which I was trained, and in which I believe, is the so-called "historical method."

It is little understood and is less appreciated by those who have not been in touch with it. Yet it is a method of approach that is gradually breaking down the unfortunate and un-Christian barriers between the different denominations.

The "method" is the same as that adopted so largely today in philosophy and psychology, and attempts first of all to clear the mind of the student of all preconceived notions and set opinions, and have him begin, as if the subject he is to study had never before been presented to him.

Naturally, therefore, as a method of approach, the life of Jesus would not be looked upon from our present viewpoint back through the centuries—a viewpoint, which because of history and Christian civilization, definitely places Him in a fixed category; but the modern student in the up-to-date theological seminary or university must study Jesus first of all through the glimpses we have of Him in babyhood, then childhood, youth, His call to minister, etc., down to His death. This method is ideal, and does what no other method can possibly do, namely, it presents the humanity of Jesus, which our fathers were apt to entirely forget. This method also brings Jesus where He meets the needs of the men of our age. We see Him in His struggle with temptation, in His absolute reliance upon God, in His final victory over Himself, when He says, "Into Thy hands I commend my spirit." Had He failed at any point, and the "historical method" shows up the possibility of failure all along the years of His career, He would have been no different from any one of us, and no more in character and worth than any one of us. But He did not fail. More than this, He passed through a unique experience with death, such as none of us men has ever had. The "historical method" shows how completely He surprised His disciples, who had gone back to their work at fishing and other occupations which they were following, before He had called them. They lost all faith in Him. Right here the method shows how completely scientific it is, for it treats all the resurrection story from the standpoint of psychology—how those men were astonished, how they rallied about their Lord, how from that very moment they turned from their work to preach Him, not merely as their Lord, but as the Lord of men everywhere; how He was immediately exalted as head of the Church and the Savior of men, and one who because of His experience with death, and because He was completely under the power of God, and in a new and peculiar way represented God to men, was therefore worthy of the highest worship. Paul said, "He emptied Himself." The "historical method" shows how completely. The "historical method" shows how rightly after His resurrection He held His position in the estimate of the church, and rightly is worshipped by all Christians, whether they admit that they worship Him or not.

The method merely is disturbing, and not the results of the method, to all who have not been trained in this way. It is the method of the Ritschlian school in Germany, the method that Harnack in Berlin largely uses, and the method adopted by all progressive schools of thought in America. It is truly scientific and holds the admiration of the thinking world. This method is making theology one of the most attractive sciences of the day. More than all else, this method is uniting Christendom in an accurate, spiritual approach to the greatest problem of the ages—the understanding of the life and work of Jesus of Nazareth, who is called the Christ.

I thank you for your courtesy.

Sincerely yours,
ROWLAND B. DODGE.

THE THEATERS

The Opera House.

The last performance of "What Happened to Jones" will be given at the Opera House tonight by Harry Corson Clarke and his supporting company. Mr. Clarke has been so well and so favorably known in this city that there was never any doubt of his personal success and Monday night proved to the people of Honolulu that Mr. Clarke had kept his word and brought them as clever a company as could be found on the mainland.

Tomorrow night and for the rest of the week, with a special Saturday matinee, Mr. Clarke will present for the first time in Honolulu "Lost—Twenty-Four Hours." There is an added interest in the presentation of this play, for in it William Taylor, the well-known English actor, will make his first appearance in Honolulu. Mr. Clarke tells us that Mr. Taylor is a second Frank Worthing and as for the comedian himself, well—he will assume the role of "David." It is a most original character and entirely different from "Jones." It has been said of Mr. Clarke's impersonation of this part—but after all words can not describe it, it must be seen to be appreciated.

To make room for our incoming spring stocks

Once a year we hold this out-of-the-ordinary February disposal of furniture, to clear our floors and storehouse, to make room for our spring and summer furniture to come. Without discriminating between the handsome pieces that have been shown but a few months, or that portion of spring stock that has already arrived, we have gone through our entire stock, making extremely low reductions throughout. We think that this event will outclass any of our previous efforts.

A meeting of the directors of the Hawaiian Irrigation Company was held this morning in the office of P. E. Thompson and was adjourned to be recalled by the chairman, without the transaction of any business. The bylaws of the corporation require that the annual meeting be held in January, but as the reports for the year are seldom prepared by that time the January meeting is seldom more than a formality. The annual statements will be ready by the end of February, however, and at that time an election of officers will be held.

HARRY BRUNS SUE FOR DIVORCE

Too much mother-in-law appears to be at the bottom of the trouble that has culminated in a suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Mildred Bruns against Harry C. Bruns. Money, the root of all evil, also seems to be responsible in part, while it is probable that the inability of the two young people to adapt themselves to the changed conditions created by matrimony are largely responsible for the breaking up of a once happy home.

Mrs. Bruns is the daughter of W. H. Smith, the shoe man, and she alleges in her complaint that her husband, thinking his father-in-law to be rich, was bitterly disappointed at the amount of her dowry.

Trouble really got a good start, though, when Bruns' mother-in-law came to live with him and his wife. He had at first agreed to her coming, provided she paid half the household expenses, but later repented of his bargain and, according to the complaint, tried to stir up a row between mother and daughter. The trouble culminated in his striking his mother-in-law and leaving the house. Later he returned and asked his wife's forgiveness, but, though he obtained it, he showed himself no more reasonable than before. He got into the habit of locking himself up in his room, denying his wife and his mother-in-law access. He wouldn't let his wife caress him, saying he hated it, nor would he take her to dances. Likewise, he objected to the amount of money she spent on clothes, telling her that he was not a millionaire and couldn't afford the way she dressed.

The trouble has finally come to a climax and Mrs. Bruns has decided that she would rather return to a state of single blessedness than remain in wedded unhappiness.

MIGHT BE LIE BUT NO PERJURY

Charlie Ah Nun, alias Chun Mow Nam, who was indicted by the Federal grand jury on a charge of perjury committed before the grand jury, was yesterday freed by the trial jury at the direction of Judge Dole.

Charlie was accused of having lied to the grand jury regarding the movements of Felix Ludnek when he was asked if he had seen Ludnek in a house at Hilo where smuggled opium was supposed to have been concealed. George A. Davis, the attorney defending, contended that the Government had failed to show that there was any connection between the house and the opium, and as it was the opium that the grand jury was trying to trace, Ah Nun did not commit perjury in telling an untruth in a statement that concerned the house only.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Rev. A. A. Ebersole's lecture upon "The Life of Christ," illustrated with the Tissot pictures, was repeated last night in Cooke Hall and those who were present at both lectures were impressed by the improvement in the stereopticon reproduction of the pictures. The lecture in Central Union church on Sunday night attracted an unusually large crowd but the pictures were not satisfactory; last night the pictures were excellent but the attendance was comparatively small. Under the direction of Dr. Doramus Scudder the personal workers' training class will meet tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock in Cooke Hall to discuss the topic "Equipment for Work." The policy of this class has recently been to limit the number to those who attended the first few meetings but an effort will now be made to enlist all the men who are interested in the work.

The executive committee of the Christian Extension Movement will meet tomorrow at 12:30 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. building. The various committees which will carry on the extension work are being rapidly organized and the personnel of these bodies will be announced soon.

BURBANK'S BROTHER TO STUDY ORIENTAL PLANT LIFE

SANTA BARBARA, January 21.—Professor Albert Burbank, who has spent nearly thirty years, in California studying plant life with his famous brother, Luther Burbank, will leave tomorrow for other tropical countries to further his experiments. He will visit the Philippines, Hawaii, Japan and other countries, the object of his work being to discover plants that can be crossed with California flora. Professor Burbank will represent the University of California.

Mr. Burbank passed through in the Mongolia yesterday.

MAUI NOTES.

A severe Kona wind has been blowing all Tuesday. With only a few days of intermission a Kona has been slowly blowing for the last four or five weeks. Rains have been looked for, but all hopes have been disappointed except occasionally a few light showers have relieved the exceptional dry season. It is said by old residents that this is the loneliest dry Kona known for years.

Stanley Livingston and Earle G. Bartlett, teachers in the Kamehameha School for Boys, came to Maui in Saturday's Claudine and made a rapid tour of Paia, Haiku, Panwela, Wailuku and took the Kilaua from McGregor's on Monday night. They expressed themselves as delighted with this first visit to Maui, and hope to know the island better in the future.

Frank C. Atherton and Mr. Barnes came to Maui in Saturday's Claudine, spent the next two days in and about Wailuku and on Monday went to Ulupalakua where they are to reside for ten days in that most fascinating and healthful part of Maui. Ulupalakua is one of the ideal places of the islands.

The Puunene Store has given up its Tabard Inn Library and has generously donated all its books to the Maui Library Association with headquarters at Wailuku. The new library is meeting with popular favor and bids fair to be of great service to all parts of the island.

The courthouse in Wailuku, built of concrete blocks in imitation of lava stones, is being given a thorough coating with the S. and W. waterproofing cement wash, so as to prevent any possible leaks in the future.

The Wailuku boys and the Puunene boys have a bowling tournament this week, Thursday night, at the Wailuku gymnasium. There is considerable excitement over it. The Puunene alleys are being put into first-class shape this week by W. Dingle, who was the head carpenter on the new Wailuku Union church building. As soon as he is finished with these alleys he will redress the Wailuku alleys.

A masquerade ball will be given on Saturday, February 24, at the Wailuku gymnasium. The event gives promise of being the star event of the season. Everybody is enthusiastic and several costumes are already planned with a view to winning the prize offered for the best mask.

The Makawao Union church has been thoroughly renovated in the interior of the building. The ceiling of the auditorium and Sunday school room has been painted a dead white, the walls have been tinted buff, while a fresh coat of varnish is on all the darker wood work. The carpets and cushions for the church have not arrived, but it is understood that green is the prevailing color scheme of the upholstery. Mrs. H. P. Baldwin has recently ordered a memorial window for Mr. Baldwin. It will be placed on the opposite side of the auditorium from the beautiful Beckwith window. It is understood the same firm will put in the new window. The subject of the memorial soon to be erected in the church is "The Sower."

W. R. Patterson has been awarded the contract for the building of the new stretch of sidewalk in front of the residence of W. F. Pogue, the new Wailuku Union church and the schoolhouse. It is to be a six-foot sidewalk with grass plot and then a stone curb, modeled after the designs for walks so popular now in eastern cities.

Mrs. H. P. Baldwin has been confined to her house for a few days with a severe cold. She is making plans to remodel "Maluhia," making this residence her permanent home. The situation is ideal, commanding one of the finest views in all the islands. The climate is usually cool, and the rains of winter never very severe here.

FINE PINEAPPLE LANDS AT AIEA

Land Commissioner Judd, Surveyor Wall and Superintendent of Forestry Hosmer went down to Aiea yesterday and looked over the tract of land that is to be thrown open for homesteads in the near future. The exact area is not known at present, but the surveyor is working on the tract now and will soon have the area figured out.

The tract is situated mauka of the cane fields and is of splendid quality for pineapple raising. The soil is the ideal red color, and the rainfall is ample for the raising of pineapples.

When the land is surveyed there will be a general drawing for the lots, and the fortunate winners will get very fine homesteads. The party that inspected the tract yesterday felt very enthusiastic over the matter, and the commissioner stated this morning that, from every standpoint, the land that is to be thrown open is excellent. The soil is good, the rainfall is sufficient, the land is as good as cleared, and only some guava trees have to be taken off. The view from the heights is magnificent, and the tract is within easy distance of town.

Mr. Hosmer also inspected the forest reserve that lies mauka of the new tract. The trees are doing well, and it is probable that more trees will be planted.

BROWN LANDS SOME OLD PLACE

Word was received today that Raymond C. Brown, who was sent to Europe as the agent of the Immigration department here, had "landed." To the local officials this meant little, for they are not at all certain where Mr. Brown landed, although they believe he is either in London or Gibraltar. At any rate he is safe on the other side of the Atlantic.

Between thirty and forty immigrants who have been held on the island station will be brought over today to the federal station opposite Channel wharf and later transferred to the Territorial station. A few, however, who have had typhoid fever will be taken directly to the hospital, where they will be held during their convalescence. The two families which have been in the Territorial station awaiting a means of transportation to take them to their new homes are now disposed of, so for a few hours at least the big yard will be deserted today.

FRACTIONAL ADDITIONS

The treasurer has estimated the property tax rate for the different islands, and he has gone fully into the matter. The method is new and complicated and he had to be very careful.

The rate of the property tax, for each island of the group, will be as follows: Oahu, 1.1-10 of one per cent; Maui, 1.15-100 of one per cent; Kauai, 1.16-100 of one per cent; Hawaii, 1.18-100 of one per cent.

On last year's assessments the revenue to be derived will figure out as follows:

Oahu .....$ 815,017.15
 Maui ..... 339,902.38
 Hawaii ..... 360,403.82
 Kauai ..... 190,975.66

Total .....$1,706,299.01

From the total revenue from property taxes, the sum of $801,393.45, which is made up as follows, has to be deducted: Schools, school buildings, furniture and fixtures, $676,716.06; interest and sinking fund, $50,927.39; and collection of taxes for 1912, $73,750. The balance left after this deduction will be available for the counties.

The counties will receive the following amounts, based on the assessments of last year:

Oahu .....$370,585
 Permanent improvements ..... 123,528

Maui .....$494,113

Current expenses .....$147,196
 Permanent improvements ..... 49,365

Hawaii .....$196,261

Current expenses .....$152,615
 Permanent improvements ..... 50,871

Kauai .....$203,486

Current expenses .....$ 82,593
 Permanent improvements ..... 27,531

Total .....$110,124

The above figures are all based on the assessments of last year and should the assessments be larger, later on the counties will get more money.

REFORM SCHOOL GIRL IN CASE

William Kamelamele, a grandson of Mrs. Nakuina, is on trial in the United States district court, charged with violation of the Edmunds Act.

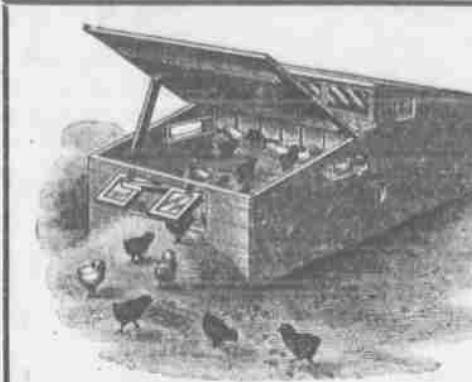

The girl in the case is a young Hawaiian who was sent from Hawaii county to the girls' reform school. Mrs. Nakuina applied to the school for a girl to work for her and the matron sent the Hawaiian girl, who is now the chief witness against Mrs. Nakuina's grandson. It is alleged that young Kamelamele and the girl maintained illicit relations for several months prior to the boy's indictment by the grand jury.
