DELAYED BY BAD WEATHER

Mail Steamer Met Prevailing Southerly Weather Between Honolulu and San Francisco—Is Going To Manila.

Moderate to strong south and southwesterly winds and heavy westerly swells detained the S. S. Gaelic on her present trip from San Francisco to this port. The vessel encountered some of the heavy weather that has been detaining all of the mail boats from San Francisco. The Gaelic arrived this morning about 10:30 o'clock with two days later mail. She left San Francisco November 25.

She has a small crowd of passengers. She is going out to Manila and the majority of the people aboard are bound for that place. The Gaelic brought no layover passengers for Honolulu.

Among the passengers on the Gaelic is Hec Sang. He is a Chinese merchant of Peru.

F. J. Bardens is a tea man of Kobe. He is returning home with his wife and child.

J. T. Forth is a mining man who is going to Nagasaki where he will take a way steamer up to Vladivostok. He is going out on some mining business.

Henri Wegein is a Frenchman who is making a tour of the world. He is going to Hongkong.

Acton Haven is going out to Manila to accept a position with a commercial firm.

T. J. Owen is a captain in the Philippine Constabulary. He is returning to his post after an absence in the United States.

The Gaelic sails at 6 p. m. today for the Orient and Manila.

HIS BOND IN HIS POCKET

Birbe Encounters the Wrath of the Court and Is Rearrested by Order of Judge Gear.

H. C. Birbe, charged with perjury, and supposed to be released on a bond of $100, walked into Judge Gear's court this morning with his bond in his own pocket and coolly asked the judge to approve it. It was too much for Gear and the result was that Birbe was later ordered into the prisoners' dock and had to sit there until a bond was approved in the regular way.

The circuit judge is supposed to approve all bonds and they are supposed to be filed, but Birbe had his own bond in his pocket and was making no secret of it. It was dated yesterday and served its purpose. Had he filed it with the clerk all might have gone well, but when he presented it to the judge, his honor tumbled to the fact that he had been in some way ignored in the matter.

"How did you happen to be at liberty and walk into court with your bond in your pocket?" asked the judge.

Birbe's attorney, Henry Hogan, whispered something to Birbe, and Birbe didn't answer the court. "Did you tell him not to reply?" asked Gear, and Hogan said that he had so instructed his client.

"All right," said Judge Gear; "Mr. Bailiff take the defendant into custody." Birbe sat with the prisoners for about fifteen minutes, when Gear formally approved his bond, with Clarence Crabbe as surety. He pleaded not guilty of calling Abraham Fernandez the name which is said in the indictment to have been applied to Abraham, and the case was set for trial in its order.

Murder And Manslaughter

Mahelona's Slayer and the Man Who Killed Kaahue Are Arraigned Before Gear.

Lam Chong was arraigned this morning before Judge Gear for the murder of Officer Mahelona on November 19. The defendant appeared in court without any counsel and said he didn't know whether counsel had been employed for him or not, until he had a chance to interview his wife.

After the indictment had been read to him Lam Chong said that he wanted to see Marshal Brown's cook, who would see his wife for him. Asked if he had means to employ counsel to defend him the defendant said he didn't know until he saw his wife. His case was postponed.

Daniel Nuuanu was arraigned on a charge of manslaughter, for the killing of Kaahue, on October 25. The indictment says that "without malice aforethought" Nuuanu choked Kaahue to death, the absence of any charge of malice being due to the fact that Nuuanu is supposed to have been hopelessly drunk when he had a fight with Kaahue and choked the life out of him. Plea was postponed in this case also. E. P. Dole appeared for defendant.

In the case of Camara, convicted of seduction, Judge Gear imposed a fine of $500 and costs. W. T. Rawlins made a plea for clemency, while Deputy Attorney General Fleming said that he didn't think there were any features of the case warranting easy punishment. The motion for a new trial was overruled and an appeal will be taken.

UNIVERSITY BURNED.

Associated Press Cable to the Star.

OTTAWA, Canada, December 2.—The University here was burned to the ground today. A priest was probably fatally injured in the casualty.

The young canvassers are working hard for a sure reward. The campaign closes on the 19th. For details see page 6 of this issue.

PEARL HARBOR BUOYS.

A large can buoy with conical top, is located about opposite the middle of the channel to serve as a fairway buoy. This buoy is painted with black and white stripes, from the water line to the top. The opening to the channel proper is marked by a red spar on the left and a black spar at the right. Half way up the channel on the Waliki side is a dolphin left by the dredger and a little further on is a pile, on the same side.

The Jury Mountain Brings Forth a Mouse

THE INDICTMENT OF BIRBE FOR PROFANITY AS A RESULT OF ITS ELECTION INVESTIGATION—GENERAL CAUSE FOR ALARM AMONG ELECTION OFFICERS AND HOME RULE CANDIDATES.

The indictment of H. C. Birbe, Jr., for profanity at the polls on election day, is the current joke of the town. It was the result of the Territorial grand jury's investigation into election frauds. The jury took up the matter with vigor and summoned about fifty witnesses, mostly members of election boards. Two reports were made on the election frauds, one signed by all the members of the jury, and Birbe was duly indicted for using cuss words.

It appears to be generally conceded that Birbe was not wholly innocent and Birbe does not deny that he used language not altogether unexceptionable. Birbe's reputation is more for strength than elegance of diction, and those who whiled away the day at the polling place of the fighting seventh have been heard to say that they could light their cigars on Birbe's language. It is also said that if the grand jury had chosen to make a general round-up there are very few election officers not liable for profanity, under the provisions of the penal code.

Abraham Fernandez is the complaining witness in Birbe's case. It is alleged that Birbe applied a highly objectionable epithet to him and since the indictment Birbe is more than ever ready to repeat it. Birbe learned politics under the famous "King" Maunaloa, King of the Petrows, San Francisco, and nothing could be farther from the mind of the king and all his staff than the possibility that profanity could ever be regarded as an offense. The Hawaiian statute has the following provisions said to be applicable to the language which Birbe and some others used on election day: "Whoever blasphemes the holy name of God, by denying, cursing, or contumeliously reproaching God, His creation, government, or final judgment of the world; or by cursing or contumeliously reproaching the holy word of God, contained in the holy scriptures, or exposing them to contempt or ridicule, shall be punished by imprisonment at hard labor not more than one year, or by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars."

"It shall be unlawful for any person, to use vulgar, profane or obscene language in any street, highway, store, shop or other public place or place of public resort. Any violation of this Section shall be punished by a fine or not more than twenty dollars, or by imprisonment at hard labor of not more than one month."

The epithet used by Birbe is one well known throughout the United States and especially in the west. It is, however, not often heard of in profanity indictments, for the usual result of its being used is either the prompt production and use of a weapon, or equally prompt employment of the "manly art." Now that the grand jury has called attention to the gravity of the offense of using bad words there is general alarm among election officers and Home Rule candidates, for few of them resisted the temptations of election day. With the epithet acknowledged Birbe says his only defense is to prove its correctness and he may go into court and try to prove that his alleged improper language was under the circumstances the only proper language to be used.

TO BUILD WHARF AT PEARL HARBOR

EWA PLANTATION CONTEMPLATING SUCH PLANS TO ACCOMMODATE DATE DEEP SEA VESSELS.

The Ewa Plantation people are contemplating the advisability of constructing a wharf inside of Pearl Harbor. The proposed site is in the west lock on the makai-Ewa side of Kekaha Point.

No decision has been reached as yet in the matter, but according to the plans that are under consideration, the wharf, if built, will be large enough to accommodate big ocean going vessels. Such a wharf could be built for comparatively small cost. The lumber could be gotten to the site with but slight additional cost to being landed in Honolulu. In fact if the weather were good a lumber laden vessel might even now be taken inside the harbor.

If such a wharf be built it would mean that the plantation would load and discharge its vessels at the proposed wharf. A plantation railroad would in all probability, be built down to the wharf from the plantation.

THE JONES CASE.

With 48 more jurors summoned, Judge Gear this afternoon resumed the effort to get a jury to try the murder case of E. M. Jones. The 48 men now summoned are all the available jurors on the list for this term, and if they are passed without the acceptance of a jury, the court will have to solve the problem of how to get more jurors.

RAIN DAMAGES KOOLAU CROPS

CONSIDERABLE RICE WASHED OUT BY THREE DAYS STEADY DOWNPOUR.

Very heavy rains have been prevailing on the Koolau and Waimanalo side of the island. Much damage has been done to the rice crops in that section. There was a steady downpour during Saturday, Sunday and Monday, and a rice was washed away and damage done to the fields and ditches.

The weather was so rough that the steamer J. A. Cummins was unable to get a load from the rice plantations. The rice could not be hauled in time for the sailing of the vessel. The Cummins arrived empty yesterday afternoon from Waimanalo and Koolau ports. She will sail tomorrow morning for the same ports.

WHAT IS A COUGH?

A spasmodic effort to expel the mucus from the bronchial tubes. A cold causes a more abundant secretion of mucus, and when the lungs and bronchial tubes are inflamed, they are extremely sensitive to the irritation. Unless care is taken, the cold may result in pneumonia, which is swift and deadly. If the cold is a lingering one, the more leisurely but equally fatal consumption may set in. Do not neglect a cold or cough. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It always cures and cures quickly. Sold by all dealers, Benson Smith & Co., general agents.

TESTIMONIAL TO CAPTAIN FINCH

Captain William Finch of the steamer Gaelic, while at Hongkong on his last voyage, was presented by Ho Yow, former Chinese Consul-General in this city, with a beautiful silk standard, richly embroidered, as a testimonial from himself and other prominent Chinese who sailed from here for China about a year ago in the Gaelic. The trip was a trying one for a part of the way, owing to tempestuous weather, but the consideration shown by Captain Finch to all his passengers, Europeans and Chinese alike, endeared him to everybody on board. With the testimonial was presented a letter written by Ho Yow in English.—Chronicle.

The storm through which the Gaelic passed was the same one that all but sent the battleship Oregon to the bottom. The Oregon and the Gaelic were both en route from Honolulu to Yokohama. They were about 100 miles apart when the typhoon caught them.

HOARE WANTS
AN ACCOUNTING

PETITION BY CREDITOR OF THE ESTATE OF THE LATE ANTONIO ROSA.

James Hoare, as a creditor of the estate of Antonio Rosa, deceased, yesterday filed a petition asking the court to require an immediate accounting from J. P. Colburn, executor of the estate. Hoare says that large sums have been paid to other creditors and that on account of the failure of the executor to file an accounting he is unable to discover the present condition of the estate.

The injunction suit of Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Co. vs. Walluku Sugar Co. has been argued before the Supreme Court for the past two days. A. S. Hartwell, Smith & Lewis and Castle & Withington appeared for the plaintiff, and Kinney, McClanahan & Cooper for the defendant.

Judge Robinson yesterday heard the jury waived case of Allen & Robinson vs. J. H. Fisher and Hoffman and Riley. Judgment was given for defendant Fisher for his costs, for the reason that the action to foreclose the lien was not begun within the statutory time. Judgment for the full amount of the claim, about $319, was given against Hoffman & Riley. H. E. Cooper for plaintiff; W. L. Stanley for Fisher; Hoffman & Riley in default. The suit had reference to Auditor Fisher's building in Fort street opposite the Club Stables.

A. Richley vs. C. J. Fisher, appeal from District Court judgment of $124.80 for plaintiff, is continued till the January.

Jose R. Canuta vs. A. McDuffie was discontinued before Judge De Bolt. It was a suit for $250 damages on account of assault involving the loss of a front tooth. Defendant is a policeman and he appealed from District Court judgment of $55.55 against him.

Judge De Bolt allowed plaintiff's bill of costs at $44 as presented, overruling the objection of defendant to certain items, in the case of Goo Wan Hoy vs. Samuel Kaal.

Judge De Bolt appointed Mrs. May Wilcox guardian of Lucy Kaimui (w) a minor, without bonds and with costs remitted. S. H. Derby represented the petitioner.

Fifteen of the defendants in the Japanese conspiracy case, where 50 persons was indicted, were produced in the United States District Court yesterday. When arraigned on the indictment they were allowed to reserve their pleas until Monday.

Solomon Meheula, destroying public documents, and James H. Hakuole, embezzling public money, were also allowed time in which to plead.

Judge Dole conferred American citizenship on Peter Miranda, a subject of Portugal.

NEW SAYINGS
OF THE SAVIOR

WONDERFUL DISCOVERIES MADE IN EGYPT BY ARCHAEOLOGISTS, WHO FIND ANCIENT PAPYRI.

LONDON, November 14.—Many hitherto unknown sayings of Jesus Christ have been discovered in Egypt by archaeologists, who have dug up papyrus buried since the second century 100 miles south of Cairo. Dr. Bernard P. Grenfell, who has been engaged in Egyptian excavations since 1894, at the general meeting of the Egypt Exploration Fund, held yesterday, gave the following details:

Accompanied by Dr. Hunt, Dr. Grenfell found a rich trove of papyri at El Hibeh. The bulk of the documents from the one mound consisted of a collection of sayings of Jesus. They are all introduced with the words "Jesus saith," and for the most part are new. The ends of the lines, unfortunately, are often obliterated. Apparently all the sayings were addressed to St. Thomas. One of the most remarkable is:

"Let not him that seeketh cease from his search until he finds, and when he finds he shall wonder; wondering, he shall reach the kingdom, i. e., the kingdom he shall have rest."

Dr. Grenfell remarked that enormous interest would be also aroused by the discoveries on account of the variations they disclosed from accepted texts.

One variant of mystical saying recorded in St. Luke, "The kingdom of God is within you," was of great value, as the saying in the papyrus appeared in quite a different surroundings from those attributed to it by the evangelist and extended far into another region. According to Dr. Grenfell, these sayings formed the new Gospel which is traditionally associated with St. Thomas.

An interesting variation of the Gospel according to St. Luke, eleventh chapter and fifty-second verse, "Woe unto you lawyers, for ye have taken away the key of knowledge; ye entered not in yourselves and them that were entering in ye hindered," reads in the papyrus, "Ye have hidden the key of knowledge, ye entered not yourselves and to them that were entering in ye did not open."

Another fragment contained a discourse of Christ closely related to passages of the sermon on the mount and a conversation between Christ and his disciples, in which Christ answers a question as to when his kingdom will be realized saying:

"When ye return to the state of innocence which existed before fall." In Latin, giving the text of the epistles to the Hebrews and epitome of Livy's six lost books. This with other papyri, covering the period 150-137 B. C., threw much new and valuable light on the history of the world and marked the recovery of hitherto lost literature of Egypt. A quaint instance of the business methods in vogue 137 B. C. is shown in the discovery of an amusing contract whereby a slave boy was to be taught shorthand for 120 drachmas. The payment was arranged on a thorough businesslike basis—40 drachmas down, 40 on satisfactory evidence of progress, and 40 on the attainment of proficiency.

Priory: Forwards, Lucy Richardson, Lani Cathcart; centers, Etta Cummings, Hattie Saffrey; guards, Elizabeth Maunaloa, Alice Nahalelua. On Friday afternoon Punahou plays High School at Kamehameha.

FUTURE MARKET.

Quinn—"If I had the money I'd go in the umbrella business."
De Fonte—"Think there'll be a demand for them in the future?"
Quinn—"Yes, just as soon as airships begin to navigate safely they'll carry umbrellas as life preservers."

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1903.

THE YOUNG MAN.

One phrase that fairly makes one annoyed is: "Oh! we shall see what he will do. He is a young man." Is all wisdom centered in grey beards? Most certainly not. The world is carried along by its young men, and it is right that it should be. Old men for council, sometimes, not always, but young men for action. Sometimes you find that lusus nature, that return to the original type, a belligerent old man, but in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred you will find no belligerent. Now and again old age asserts itself, and when it gets in flood tide it out Herod's Herod, and youth stands surprised at the vigor of age, but it is rare.

Grant, Napoleon, Washington, Pitt, Roosevelt all did brilliant work before the third or fourth decade of their lives was passed. Alexander had conquered a world, and won the most brilliant of battles before he was thirty. Caesar's best work was done before he was fifty. Tennyson's best poems were written long before he was fifty. Shelley died a young man, so did Keats, Bret Harte and Mark Twain were famous in their third decade. Dickens was a young man when Pickwick Papers set all the world laughing. And so one might go on.

It is true that many men who thus come before the world keep their powers, cultivate and at times improve them. Gladstone was an instance of this, but Gladstone had been a remarkable man before he was forty. Lord Roberts may be taken as a remarkable old man, who won a campaign when he was three score years and ten. But then again Roberts was an able man before he was forty. Longfellow kept the poetic spirit till an honored old age, but the spirit shone highest when he was young.

The youth of our race are the hope of our race. They lead the thought as they lead the strength of the growing world. Youth is the time of ideals, of clear thinking and of able doing. It is all nonsense to talk of the inexperience of a man of thirty-five. If he has not acquired experience by that age, he never will acquire experience if he live till he is a hundred. And there are such men. Men who remain boys, thoughtless, careless, irresponsible boys till long past middle age. Such men are unfit for taking a lead in anything. It is well for a country where its youth matures mentally and can join judgment with the best of physical powers. We are in that fortunate position. We have many young men who possess judgment, thoughtfulness, reliability, responsibility and who have the physical powers for work which older men cannot hope to retain.

COMMERCIAL FEARS.

Germany has been suffering from a great commercial depression, but the records of the last three months show that there has been return of industrial activity in the empire. A very sensitive and trustworthy barometer is said to be found in the daily records of the labor market. Like almost everything else in the empire it is under official control, and its condition is easily known. In September, 1902, for every 100 open situations there were 137 applicants, in the same month of this year there were only 111 applicants, showing that more people were now employed.

Another sign of returning prosperity, according to the German commercial papers, is the increased activity in the building trades. In Berlin, Magdeburg and Altona the demand for this class of labor exceeds the supply. Still another sign, which we regard with so much care in the United States, is in the iron and steel trades. According to our commercial theorists prosperity and a large output of iron are synonymous terms. The large iron and steel firms of Germany have orders booked ahead well into next year, so that section of the labor world is well provided for.

But with all this returning prosperity there is a constant and ever present fear of the United States. It is true that the United States has been the chief customer of Germany for the past year, yet the German chambers of commerce all most universally express anxiety as to the future, when the United States will change from its position of a big customer to that of a sharp and able competitor of Germany and all Europe. The fear exists that the strong manufacturing combines in the United States, owing to their superior organization and working methods, their heavy capital and the advantages they have in the rich natural resources of the country will be able to undersell European manufacturers in the foreign and even in their own European markets.

The immense strides which we have taken in manufacturing is not only felt as a menace in Germany, but in every manufacturing country in the world. It is not our size, not our immense population, not our military organization or our navy that the world fears. It is our commercial progress, our manufacturing skill and our powers of organization. Essentially a country of peace, our victories will be victories of peace.

SUGAR.

In spite of the supposed effect of the Brussels conference, the London Statist, an able commercial paper, believes that beet sugar production will exceed, this year, the production of last year. This is largely due to results expected to be obtained in Austria and Russia. The forecast is 5,935,000 tons as against 5,505,000 tons last year. But forecasts are not always correct.

Estimating on the cane sugar crop, there are increases on a large scale to be expected from Cuba, Mauritius, Brazil and Java, while Louisiana and small producers down for a decrease of 100,000 tons. This latter seems a very large figure. The total cane crop is put down at 3,900,000 tons.

The next thing to consider is the world's consumption. The abrogation of the bounty system has cheapened sugar on the continent of Europe, and this has naturally increased the consumption. In England on the other hand, where consumption has steadily increased until it has reached nearly 100 pounds a head, there has come a check upon consumption, and the regular increase need not be looked for this year according to the Statist. However the total increase of consumption for the world is put down at 600,000 tons. The writer then makes out the following table:

Stocks September 1, 1903.....	1,977,000 tons.
Beet sugar estimate.....	5,935,000 tons.
Cane sugar estimate.....	3,900,000 tons.

Total.....	11,812,000 tons.
Against this comes the estimate of the world's requirements.
Total supply.....	11,812,000 tons.
Total consumption.....	9,750,000 tons.

Stock September 1, 1904.....	2,062,000 tons.

HARBOR IMPROVEMENTS.

The progress of a country can be pretty well gauged by the improvement of its seaports, its harbors. Hawaii has not been backward in this matter. But the progress of events which is rapidly making of the Pacific, the highway of the world's traffic, is pressing the accommodations and facilities of Honolulu harbor very hard. The acquisition by the United States of territory in the Far East, the developments of trade with the Orient, and the anticipation of the Isthmian canal, have greatly stimulated shipbuilding for the Pacific ocean. Vessels of deeper draft than ever before ploughed this ocean are now being built. Trade will bring them to our shores, if we will provide for them. The provision required is the dredging and other improvements to the harbor which have already been appropriated for out of the loan fund. This work should be done as soon as possible. The Territory will be the beneficiary of the improvements made. We cannot afford to wait for congress to do the work, even if it had not already been announced that there is to be no river and harbor bill this year. It is more than three years since the Territory was organized and Congress has not yet provided the means for taking care of our lighthouses. To wait for Congress would be a very slow wait, and meanwhile the benefits of an augmenting commerce are being lost.

A. L. C. Atkinson who has been nominated by the President for Secretary of the Territory, has been very active in the Republican party since its organization in this territory, and especially in the last two campaigns. His appointment is an indication that the President thinks that the proper men to run a Republican administration are Republicans. Atkinson was born in the Islands and has a very wide acquaintance here. He has been active in athletics all his life, and has been especially interested in boating.

Joe Gilman will make an excellent Chairman of the Board of Supervisors. His duties will be somewhat heavier than those of the other members of the Board.

According to the South African Gazette, the output of gold in the Rand, South Africa, was 1,704,419 ounces in 1902; 1,837,124 ounces for the first eight months of 1903; 4,069,166 ounces in 1899; and 4,295,602 ounces in 1898. In 1890, during the war, it was, for January, February, and March, 251,921 ounces; for the last eight months of 1901 the production was 238,991 ounces.

According to advices there is not much likelihood of a rise in sugar during the coming year. It is always well to look ahead, but when estimates are made, they often are out. The beet sugar production will in all probability fall considerably below the Statist's estimate. It was only the other day that The Star published the fact that a large beet sugar factory had closed down in Germany and that the building had been sold for other purposes. Then the consumption during next year may be very large. Of course as far as we are concerned, the dangerous element in our market is Cuba, but Cuba, with the treaty passed has till $27 a ton the worse of our sugar. If prices remain as they are we shall be all right.

to the tax collector why the amounts granted from the legislative fund do not appear on their schedules. The Federal Grand Jury caught a great many fish in its net.

The indictments of the Federal Grand Jury are of a rather startling character. The Japanese indictments belong to what may be called the Eastern, Oriental or Alien class. These are cases which offend morals in a western country, but are in Japan not regarded as crimes. Indeed in Japan this class of case is not regarded as criminal. It has been unfortunate that the parties brought their immoralities outside the Empire of the Crysanthemum. Outside of these cases of peculiar nastiness, there are two cases of embezzlement against young Hawaiian men, who have evidently been led astray by loose methods among those they should look up to, and lastly there are two indictments against Solomon Meheula, clerk of the House of Representatives. Meheula is certainly in remarkably good company. The question might be asked who was the most disreputable. The Japanese unfortunate woman, or the clerk of the House of Representatives who has wilfully, and knowing better, prostituted abilities and honor for the sake of some hundred, or mayhap some thousand of dollars. It is a question between prostitute bodily and prostitute in essence. Clerk Meheula stands in a very unpleasant position.

The Panama Government is evidently going to put through the treaty with a rush. And no wonder the safety of Panama depends upon the canal being pushed through and the United States holding its six mile strip of Territory.

The valley people are rejoicing in the Rapid Transit. Even some of the old conservatives are now convinced against their will. The cars will soon be beyond Judd street. The climb up the hill from Bates street to Sweet home is the steepest grade the Rapid Transit company has yet tackled.

SARAOFF AND THE MACEDONIANS

[Adapted from the German of Heinrich Renner in Die Woche of Berlin.]

It is the old familiar battle cry of freedom, "Liberty or death," with which for their slogan the Macedonian insurgents are struggling today against the might of Turkey. "Swoboda ili smrt" are the words in their tongue, and encircled by a wreath of oak leaves they stand upon the flags of the scattered patriot bands. The same defiant motto is upon all the letters and papers which the Macedonian committee sends to consuls and to embassies. It is no empty warning. Daily, in bloody conflicts from the Bulgarian boundaries on the north to the Aegean sea on the south, from the vales of Thessaly on the west to the Black Sea and the Dardanelles on the east, on the wild mountain slopes, in burning towns and villages, the same cry goes up. Railroad trains are blown to pieces—dynamite is used upon the banks, as in Salonica, upon customs offices, as in Zibedsche—everywhere is destruction carried forward with the cry "Liberty or death." Nor is it a cry new to the Balkans. There, as in other parts of the Ottoman empire, it has rung out before, and with it for a watchword more than one enslaved people have through bloody strife won from the Turkish rule their freedom. So has it led the Bosnians and the Herzegovinians, the Bulgarians and the Cretans to victory, as now the Greeks and the Macedonians are sworn to conquer or to die.

The horrors of which the Macedonian insurgents now make use, the destructiveness of dynamite, which wrecked even a Hungarian passenger vessel, were not employed in the earlier uprisings in the Balkans. The insurgents of those days used less improved weapons and left the Turks, through the commission of atrocities, to stain their names. Today the insurgents and Turks stand alike in their barbarity, and every day brings news of villages given to the torch or of whole communities slaughtered together. It is impossible to hold a people that is struggling for its liberty responsible for each separate outbreak, but no expression could condemn too strongly the attempts of the insurgents upon the railroads. They have utterly failed in their purpose of making the transportation of troops impossible and have injured only the innocent. But still less is there an expression strong enough to characterize the fearful atrocities which the Albanian redits and bashibazooks of "the sublime porte" have committed in Monastir and on the march into Adrianople.

It is a strange role which the Albanian element is playing in the Macedonian uprising. At first it seemed that the Albanians would attack Serbia and Bulgaria. Then their rancor turned against the Turks. Finally it became necessary for safeguard to send some 100,000 Turkish troops from Anatolia to Ueskub, Djakovio and Ipek. This was "the reform commission," and the troops remained in Sand, since after a few skirmishes the Albanians kept to their mountain fastnesses, where the Turks dared not follow. Here they awaited further events in Serbia and Macedonia, in readiness at any time to quickly take the field against Turkey. In consequence the porte dared not withdraw its troops from Kosovo, although it could well have used them in the district of Monastir. In their inmost souls the Turks had no trust whatsoever in the Albanians who, better than any other people in Turkey, knew how to guard their independence.

The Macedonian committee, however one may regard some of its tendencies, has accomplished wonders. It has overcome all dangers in Sofia, passed through its so-called dissolution and steadfastly held its aim in view. When one of the leaders is forced to disappear for Bulgarian reasons of state, at once there comes to the front a new man, and in Kustendil, as in Dubnitza, in Monastir, in Florina and Vodena, among other places, the work of the cause moves ever forward, as in Ochrida and Salonica or wherever Bulgarian emissaries and other agitators labor for the freedom of Macedonia.

In the mountains and the forests, which the Turks so dread, there are stores of weapons and ammunition; also manufactories of bomb shells, which give good witness that there are experienced soldiers with the insurgents. But the soul of all is Boris Saraffoff. Only 30 years old, he has the elasticity of youth, the fiery enthusiasm of the patriot struggling for liberty, and yet the sagacity and iron persistence of the Bulgarian, never losing sight of his goal. Often he has been reported dead, only to reappear at Monastir, then at Paesba or Ochrida-sec. Times beyond number the Turks have thought they have captured or killed him. Yet, like a phoenix from the ashes, Saraffoff has come to life again. Already the insurgents hail him "Boris First, King of Macedonia." And yet if he were to fall in battle, what would it matter? Another would step into his vacant place, for, be he a general or a Macedonian peasant, there are many who serve well the cause of freedom.

It is impossible from the Turkish or from the Bulgarian dispatches to form an idea of the present situation of the rebellion, or, better, of the war. One cannot reckon with the reports which come, since for one thing the places are given today their Turkish names, tomorrow their names in Greek or Bulgarian. The confusion is great, but it is certain that all Macedonia is in disturbance. And there lies the greatest danger which yet increases as the insurgents carry the terrible struggle for freedom into the vilayet of Rumili, that is to say, Adrianople, and also along the road from Salonica toward Dedeagatch (a place on the Aegean coast). They have no fear and they will not give up their struggle even though Turkey hurls against them all the forces at her command.

It so happens that I have some personal experience in these disturbed reigns of the earth. I took part in the Bosnian-Herzegovinian insurrection of 1875-6, the various wars in the Balkans, the Austrian war of occupation and the Herzegovinian insurrection of 1882. I have passed a time in the Albanian camp and been condemned to death by the Turks. In such long years one learns something and when one considers all the dispatches and memoranda of the insurrectionists to the powers and the answers one gains an interesting view into the field of diplomacy. There are secrets which one would never betray and which one first learned only after being bound upon one's word of honor, and today I find myself in the same situation as nearly 30 years ago. At that time I urged the Bosnian insurgents to continue the struggle through the winter. A movement which halts temporarily is dead. There must ever continuously be news of fighting. The men did not well comprehend, they wanted winter quarters, and would have begun the struggle again on "Georges day." But the better mind won and through the winter we kept the Turks in ceaseless movement.

How well the bands of Boris Saraffoff are organized is shown by the fact that a veritable general staff has been appointed, which, high up amid the mountain peaks, lays its plans as in the European army maneuvers, and that even hectographed and printed documents are prepared in the mountain huts. The headquarters of the insurrection were a short time since upon Mt. Peristeri, a giant among the peaks, which like a strong watch guard overlooks the green Pelagonian plain to northward and to eastward, and the other mountains to the west. When from the heights of Peristeri the Bulgarian-Macedonian looks over the green sea from Ochrida, over the old summer palace of the czar Samuel, easily there comes over him a dream of a great nation, as the history of the past mingles with that unborn. . . . We live in the present. We let pass each day's happenings. What will become of Macedonia one cannot say. At least she will win her freedom, if only through the help of Russia or Austria. Both powers have clearly defined their spheres of interest in the Balkans, but it is not impossible that causes of friction should yet arise. First of all, every man desires peace. Yet that it will come is scarce to be expected so long as the "Sick Man" rules in the Balkans.

GRAND JURORS ARE DRAWN

GEAR INCREASES THE TERRITORIAL JURY—DOES NOT CONTROL THE SELECTIONS.

Judge Gear yesterday had six more Grand Jurors drawn from the general jury box to serve with the present territorial Grand Jury and when they are sworn in the jury will probably be charged to look into the legislature's vouchers.

"The action was not begun by me of my own motion," said Judge Gear, "but the matter was brought before me by the attorney general. I shall wait and see what he desires before I take any further action. I do not know what the facts are or what charges may be considered by the jury in connection with the vouchers. The federal jury's report does not state any offenses against the laws of the Territory, as far as I am at present informed, but the other jury may be able to find some."

"As far as the selections of jurors is concerned I have nothing to do with it and never had. If the circuit court doesn't get the best jury material it is the fault of the law, I suppose. One defect is that the trial and Grand Jurors come from the same list, which is not the proper thing."

"The present list of 250 jurors from which all trial and Grand Jurors are selected, was made up by Judge De Bolt. I have not the slightest control over the drawing of men from that list."

THE NEILL SEASON

James Neill and his company will arrive by the Alameda on Friday and will open their season at the Hawaiian Opera House on Saturday evening, in "A Gentleman of France." The sale of seats opens at Wall, Nichols Company tomorrow morning. "A Gentleman of France" is the romantic drama in which he has been starring the past season. Neill's repertoire for this season is the best he has ever had. It includes a number of the latest successes of the British and American stage, among them being "The Christian," "Little Minister," "The Cowboy and the Lady," "Puddin' Head Wilson," "Under the Red Robe," and "Contented Woman."

BALL'S JAPS ARE HELD UP

FIFTY MOANA IMMIGRANTS ARE REFUSED LANDING BY BRITISH COLUMBIA AUTHORITIES.

Miki Saito, the Japanese Consul, yesterday received a cable from the Japanese consul at Vancouver, stating that fifty Japanese immigrants from Honolulu, arriving on the Moana had been held up by the immigration authorities. The cable was as follows: Vancouver, B. C. December 2, 1903. Miki Saito, Japanese Consul, Honolulu. Fifty immigrants who arrived at Victoria by the Moana from Honolulu under similar conditions as lot on the Aorangi through Ball and others, have been refused landing here. It is said more will follow. Hope to arouse your serious attention to this matter.

MORIKAWA. (Japanese Consul-General at Vancouver.) The Ball referred to in the dispatch is J. P. Ball, local attorney, and has been securing passage for numerous Japanese and sent a lot away on the Aorangi some weeks ago. They were held up like those on the Moana. Consul Saito and other prominent Japanese have taken the matter up and will try to prevent more more Japs from taking passage when they are likely to be refused landing. Under the laws of British Columbia rejected immigrants have to return to the land from whence they come at their own expense or be subjected to fine or imprisonment.

RUSSIA AND CHINA. Associated Press, Morning Service. PARIS, December 2.—Russia and Japan are on the verge of a settlement by the terms of which Japan secures various rights in Korea including that of keeping a garrison at Seoul. She accepts the Russian treaty with China regarding an open door to Manchuria. The integrity of Korea is guaranteed.

ADMIRAL EVANS' SHIPS START. Associated Press, Morning Service. YOKOHAMA, December 2.—Rear Admiral Evans' squadron has sailed for Honolulu.

ZION CITY IN RECEIVER'S HANDS. Associated Press, Morning Service. CHICAGO, December 2.—Two receivers have been appointed for the property, known as Zion City, controlled by John Alexander Dowle. The latter claims to be solvent.

Claims have been made for over a year past that Dowle was in severe financial straits but in every tight pinch previous to this one he has managed matters so as to stave off the appointment of a receiver. A year ago Dowle issued "to the faithful everywhere" the following command: "I do not ask for gifts to help the great financial and commercial institutions of Zion, but I lovingly direct you, as God's minister and your general overseer, to come immediately to our help by making immediate investments or immediate advances to the fullest extent of your power."

If it is not convenient for you to invest in Zion's stock, I shall be glad for you to lend upon my personal note, my signature to which controls every cent of the $25,000,000 of Zion's assets. We shall receive sums of $5 and upwards for periods of three, six, or nine months, as may be most convenient. These notes will bear interest at 6 per cent per annum. Interest payable quarterly if desired, or payable with principal when the note matures. I am sure that the response to this appeal will be prompt and large, and I send it forth in full faith that every one of you will realize at this time the unity of the spirit in the bond of love and peace, of faith and hope, and of joyful co-operation, which characterizes Zion everywhere.

FRAWLEY WILL JOIN MERGER

NEILL AND MOROSCO ARRANGE A NEW THEATRICAL COMBINE TO COVER THE COAST CIRCUIT.

PORTLAND (Or.) November 21.—Another theatrical merger has been arranged between James Neill and Oliver Morosco and next February the present Neill company will lose its identity and be known as a Neill-Morosco company. There is already one Neill-Morosco company which will be maintained. In addition to the two repertoires companies, it is probable that Neill and Edythe Chapman will be given another company by the Neill-Morosco people and Neill will be turned through the West as a dollar star. The Neill-Morosco management will also bring Daniel Frawley and Mary Van Buren from Australia and send them on the road featured in repertoire. The towns interested in these proposed changes are Portland, San Francisco, Oakland, Seattle, Tacoma, Salt Lake, Denver, Omaha and Los Angeles. Morosco has made contracts with theaters in the towns mentioned, covering a period of five years. He has contracted for dates in Los Angeles, Oakland, San Francisco and Denver which run up to 1908. In addition to the arrangements for time, the Neill-Morosco people have secured right for a large number of plays which are to be produced by the various companies.

Details of Plan

The Star's idea is to gain the services of every bright school boy and girl in Honolulu and is willing to pay liberally for their aid. The work will not interfere with their school duties; it can be accomplished after hours by devoting one or more hours each day to a thorough canvass of their neighborhood to gain subscribers for the Star. For this service we will pay school children ONE HALF of all new subscriptions they may receive. If 75 cents is collected for one month the boy or girl will receive 37½ cents; if $2.00 is collected for one quarter, we will hand over one dollar; if $8.00 is collected for one year, we will give the little business man or little business woman $4.00.

In addition to the generous commission the Star will award the sum of One Hundred Dollars in gold coin, divided into four prizes. The boy or girl who secures the largest number of new subscribers will be paid $50.00; prize for second highest number $25.00; third prize, $15.00; fourth prize, $10.00.

With energy, perseverance and tact, any bright school girl or boy may easily make some Christmas money and win a cash prize and the reward in each case will be worth the effort. At this season of the year it is an easy matter to gain subscribers for The Star.

Subscription envelopes of the following form, which may be had at THE STAR office, must be filled out in ink by the subscriber to constitute a bona fide new subscription. Subscription made in any other form will not be considered in the contest.

THE HAWAIIAN STAR,
Honolulu, Hawaii:
I desire to become a subscriber to THE HAWAIIAN STAR through the personal solicitation of name (of boy or girl).....
Address.....
Please deliver THE STAR beginning.....
I certify that I am not a subscriber at present and that this is a bona fide subscription.
I enclose { 75 cents for one month's subscription, which please continue until further notice. If at any time after the first month I decide that I do not wish the paper continued, I will so notify the office.
Subscriber's Name.....
Address.....
1903

The time to start to work is right away, for those who start in with a will early in the contest are most apt to reap the richest harvest. The contest ends December 19, 1903.

Any one calling at The Star Office will be given a sufficient quantity of subscription envelopes, as above, to start the girls and boys at work.

HUSBAND WAS NOT CRUEL

MRS. KNUBBE SAYS THE ALLE-GATIONS IN HER PETITION FOR DIVORCE ARE UNTRUE.

Mrs. Carolina Freda Knubbe whose petition for divorce was filed in the Circuit Court last Friday, says that the petition was filed without her consent, was not signed by her, nor are the allegations of cruelty on the part of her husband true. She says that she has never had any trouble with her husband nor has he treated her in any other than a proper way. She says that it is her father who caused the filing of the petition without her consent, as her father does not like her husband.

Her husband, who is a fireman on the steamer Mikahala arrived this morning on that vessel's return from her Kauai voyage, and learned for the first time on his arrival here that the petition had been filed.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Knubbe called at the Star office this forenoon to deny that there was any trouble between them, or had been, and to ask for a publication of these facts that their friends might know the truth.

SPRECKELS ILL

The Examiner of November 29 says:
"Claus Spreckels is seriously ill at his residence on Van Ness avenue. About a month ago he had a stroke of paralysis in the tongue. A day or two ago he suffered a second stroke. It affected his vocal cords and he can hardly speak. Several physicians and John D. and A. B. Spreckels have spent most of their time with him during the past two days.

Owing to the nature of the trouble and their patient's 75 years, the physicians are very much worried over his condition. Mr. Spreckels recently returned from the East and Europe and his family and friends were much rejoiced over his appearance of good health. The two strokes of paralysis have therefore come as a great shock to them. Mr. Spreckels has always been of a robust physique, which, together with abstemious living, may have the effect of aiding in his recovery.

ism in Norway and Sweden.

TRIBUTE TO THE SUNFLOWER

POETIC LANGUAGE USED BY THE LEGISLATIVE BILL CONCERN-ING STATE EMBLEM.

Legal phraseology does not yield readily to symbolism or imagery, and we seldom find anything ornate or poetical about an act of the Legislature. So poets and rhetoricians everywhere should come with bowed heads and grateful hearts to contemplate the Kansas law of 1903 establishing a state flower. We quote the law in full:

"Whereas, Kansas has a native wild flower common throughout her borders, hardy and conspicuous, of definite, unvarying and striking shape, easily sketched, molded and carved,
having armorial capacities ideally adapted for artistic reproduction, with its strong, distinct disk and its golden circle of clear, glowing rays—a flower that a child can draw on a slate, a woman can work in silk or a man can carve on stone or fashion in clay; and whereas, this flower has to all Kansas a historic symbolism which speaks of frontier days, winding trails, pathless prairies, and is full of the life and glory of the past, the pride of the present and richly emblematic of the majesty of a golden future, and is a flower which has given Kansas the world-wide name, "The Sunflower State;" therefore,

"Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Kansas that the Helianthus, or wild native sunflower, is hereby made, designated and declared to be the State flower and floral emblem of the State of Kansas."—Kansas City Journal.

MAY HEAD NEW YORK POLICE

WILLIAM ASTOR CHANLER URG-ED ON MAYOR-ELECT MCCLELLAN TO SUCCEED GREENE.

NEW YORK, November 14.—Congressman William Astor Chanler is being considered by Mayor-elect George B. McClellan for Police Commissioner. When Congress reconvened last Monday, several members of the New York delegation presented the name of Congressman Chanler to the Mayor-elect. Word to this effect was received at Tammany Hall today and later confirmed by a prominent member of the delegation, who said: "I was one of the members to urge upon McClellan consideration of Chanler's name for the place of Police Commissioner. Chanler is not averse to accepting the appointment."

In political circles today Chanler was discussed for the Commissioner-ship and the opinion was freely given that he will make an efficient official if appointed.

REFUSES GIFT OF MILLION DOLLARS

ELBERT HUBBARD WILL NOT AC-CEPT A GENEROUS DONATION TO AID HIS INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

NEW YORK, November 14.—Elbert Hubbard, head of the Roycroft enterprises at East Aurora, N. Y., and who about a year ago founded the Roy-croft University, on a novel plan, has just refused a gift of $1,000,000 from John Farson, the millionaire and well-known financier, of New York and Chicago.

In a dispatch from East Aurora tonight, Hubbard said: "It is true Farson offered $1,000,000 to assist the Roy-croft Industrial University, and I have refused this offer. You see to for me to go straight back to what the school is a protest against. The biggest and best part of life lies in supplying yourself with the things you need. The industrial college to meet its aim, must be self-supporting, and I want to carry this thing through without a dollar's help from any one.
All the capital now in the Roycroft shop has been made by the concern."

A NOVEL PLAN.

A clergyman at Bethel, Me., has adopted the novel and rather sensible plan of devoting the 10 minutes preceding his Sunday sermon to a brief review of the good deeds done during the week, as reported in the newspapers.

PICTURES WIN CASE IN COURT

NOVEL EVIDENCE INTRODUCED IN FEDERAL TRIBUNAL CAUSES
ATTORNEY TO WIN A SUIT.

BINGHAMTON, (N. Y.), November
14.—Attorney R. S. Taylor of Fort Wayne, Ind., has established a new record in United States court practice by introducing moving pictures as evidence in a case of international importance. It is the first time that a United States Court has been called upon to recognize and utilize this modern method. The title of the action is Charles P. Chisholm and others of Cadiz, O., against the Canastoga Canning Company, and was brought before Circuit Judge George W. Ray in the United States District Court to secure an injunction restrain-ing the canning company from using the process for hulling peas discovered by Madame Faure of France several years previous to the invention of the machine used by the defendant company. Gustav Bissing of Brooklyn appeared for the complainant and Attorney R. S. Taylor for the defendants. The principal object of interest in the case was the moving-picture machine produced in court, showing the process in full operation. This was accepted as conclusive evidence by the Court, and on it Attorney Taylor wins his case.

For several months past Japanese here have been urged by representatives of Pacific coast employers to go to San Francisco and other parts of the coast, and they have consulted a number of local attorneys about how to go there. It is said that of the Japs arriving here from their native land recently a considerable proportion are men whose real destination is California. The Mikado prohibits immigration of his subjects to the United States at the present time, but allows them to come here. They can take passage for Honolulu and after arriving here they are free to continue the trip. San Francisco employment agencies have been corresponding with agents here for some time, in the effort to get Hawaiian Japanese for California, which has had a period of scarcity of labor. The reports made by representative Japs, however, is to the effect that the wages and work in California are not so good as here and that the statements as to big wages made by those seeking to persuade Japs to ship are far from the truth.

EAST LYNNE

The Walter Sanford Company of players will present "East Lynne" at the Orpheum tonight. As book and play "East Lynne" has had more readers and hearers than probably any other novel that was ever dramatized. As a book it has been more widely read than any English novel, its sales exceeding those of the novels of Dickens and Thackeray. Its story has held the interest of the masses for two or three generations and is perennial. The old story of the wife who listens to the temptings of the villain, is alas! a too frequent picture. In Lady Isabel's case in "East Lynne" the punishment is so severe that the sympathy of the auditor is aroused, and when as a final stroke, she returns to her husband's home in disguise, to find him remarried and her child, Willie, dying, her punishment is felt by all to be severe. This version introduces Lanty O'Moore the gardener as a comedy character and contains several laughable scenes between him and Joyce the waiting maid, supplemented by funny play from Miss Corney, Archibald's sister, Miss Laura Wall will be the heroine Lady Isabel, William Desmond will be the Archibald Carlyle, Ethel Earle the Barbara Hare, Tommy Shearer the Lanty O'Moore, and Adelaide Smith will play Joyce. This bill should fill the house at every performance.
