Rifles Up To Date.

An indirect result of the battle of Omdurman is said to be the resolve of the German Emperor to appoint a commission of experts to examine the comparative merits of the Mauser, the Lebel, the Mannlicher, the Springfield-Jorgensen, and the Lee-Metford rifles. The Emperor has received reports concerning the effectiveness of the Springfield edition of the Swedish rifle, as well as touching "the remarkable qualities"—to use the phrase of the German military attaché who was present at Omdurman—of the Lee-Metford; and he wishes to have a full series of experiments made, so as to satisfy himself respecting the merits of all the leading service rifles.

GROCERY PHILOSOPHY.

It isn't uncommon at all for folks to say "No old KONA coffee comes here, and when discussing oil those same doubters say "it's cotton-seed oil."

They're right, there's nothing genuine in the world, everything's a sham, every person is a hypocrite, some folks think.

You have often heard it said "The best fruits of California go east and the ordinary is consumed at home."

Yet when speaking of coffees and olive oils, these same wise acres tell you the choicest is kept at home and the ordinary exported.

FRIDAY, JAN. 27, 1899.

President McKinley is leaving no stone unturned in solving the Hawaiian question, and his first effective step has been to recognize H. W. Schmidt as Consul for Norway and Sweden for the district of the Sandwich Islands. The official organ printed an alleged picture of the Consul yesterday morning, and assured the readers that the new Consul will have his commission framed and preserved as an heirloom. The Norwegian-Swedish colony feels very gratified at this mark of courtesy on the part of Mr. McKinley, and trusts that their Consul will return the compliment by sending a volume of his poems bound in vellum to the great war President while the commission is framed, would it not be well for the "colony" to put the "swelling" Consul in a hoop.

THE IMPERIAL BIRTHDAY.

The Emperor of Germany and King of Prussia to-day passes the line in his life, which marks the words and conditions of "boy and man." The grey-whiskered gentlemen who "know-it all" will put the young Kaiser down as a "foolish boy." They will forget the merits of his reign, because, like Bismark, they only see in him a "boy."

But what a boy has he been! The terror of the old-fashioned diplomats and the horror of the ruling princes of Europe. Kaiser Wilhelm may be erratic, he may have broken and violated all the rules of international customs, but he has never yet proven himself a fool.

The Emperor, who to-day passes the hour, after which he can no longer be called "young," is perhaps the shrewdest living diplomat in the world and a man who knows what he is about. He has lived a clean life devoted to his wife and children. He has apparently been imbued with religious and, according to other judgments, by political ideas, but he has from the day he understood who he was, and what his mission was, been a true German and, alas, a strong Prussian.

And yet to-day the Hanoverians and the men of Schleswig-Holstein "meer umschlungen," and of Alsace-Lorraine, take off their hats to the crowned man, who may yet decide the future of the world. The reasons for the dislikes of the Prussians can not be laid on the shoulders of the young emperor who can only remember, as from a dream of childhood, the outrages committed towards the countries which to-day hail him not as King of Prussia but as Emperor of United Germany.

The Kahuku Riot.

Eight Chinese laborers connected with the row at Kahuku Plantation, mentioned last evening were arraigned before the District Court of Hauls, and each of them was sentenced to jail for three months. The case showed that a police officer as well as a luna, was assaulted by the Chinese and that a serious row was only avoided by the "booses" and "judges."

UP TO DATE.

The Union Barber Shop Has Been Opened By Frank Pacheco.

A prominent passenger on a through steamer asked to be steered to a "decent" barber shop a few days ago. "Come along," said his local friend, and the visitor was piloted into the handsomely ornamented and palm-covered lane which leads to the Union Art Gallery and the Union Barber Shop.

The tourist didn't want to visit a "Palace" but when matters were explained he entered the Union Barber Shop, dropped into the chair of one of the lightning barbers and simply answered, "Well, I will be d-d, this beats anything I ever run across."

And when his face had been shaved in a manner never realized before, and his hair had been trimmed and he felt as a well groomed man, he whistled softly and said to his friend, "Say, what is this, anyway?"

He was told that this was the new establishment of Pacheco, the celebrated tonsorial artist and barber who, during the last few years, has renovated the barber shops of Honolulu and established shops of the very latest pattern.

The Union shop beats everything in the line ever seen here. E. S. Cunha, the landlord, has spared no expenses in making the new establishment first class and ahead of the other old shops. The new premises have been ornamented in a most skillful manner, and the parquet floor is admired by all customers. Mirrors and chairs and cupboards have been put up, and all the furniture shows the refined taste of the owner and the practical sense of the lessee.

The Union Barber Shop is without comparison the prettiest, cosiest and most convenient place in town to all business men who "firt" with the razor.

Pacheco has at present two assistants and shortly a fourth chair will be placed in the rooms, and another expert engaged. Among the new wrinkles introduced in the Union Barber Shop is the bootblack who attends to the shoes of the customers if so desired, while the artists are shaving or cutting hair, and a man can leave the chair polished at both ends.

Frank Pacheco is to be heartily complimented on the inauguration of the new enterprise and at the high standing he has brought the art of shaving in this country.

With firstclass assistants and a firstclass clientele the Union Barber Shop must make a success and always be at the head of the list.

A Bad Break

Words were sent to the Police Station yesterday from the manager of the Hawaiian Hotel that a room occupied by Mrs. Wm. E. Haskell of Minneapolis had been entered, her trunks opened, and jewelry besides a considerable amount of gold coin abstracted.

Our local Pinkertons took hold of the case and David Kaapa, the famous Sleuth of Honolulu, eventually arrested Jim Massa, a messenger boy, in the employ of the Hotel people.

Massa was arrested and released this morning it being evident that not one iota of evidence could be given against the young fellow who is a son of poor but honest parents, the father being a Japanese and the mother a Portuguese. Massa was allowed his liberty this morning and will bring a suit of damages against the men who caused his arrest and stamped him as a thief. Our Pinkertons should go a little slow before they make a costly and serious break.

The Wall Is Closed.

The Foreign Ministers are a bit piqued to find their liberty of walking on the city wall has been curtailed. Several Ministers have recently been refused permission to promenade on the wall. The authorities say the Empress Dowager herself has issued orders forbidding promenading on the wall. This is an annoyance in retaliation for not removing the foreign soldiers.—Hong-kong Telegraph.

What a Change.

We don't propose to enter into a controversy in regard to saloons and the "Alphabetical Associations who wanted annexation." We simply wish to gladden the hearts of the dear old W. C. T. U. ladies, by mentioning an instance which occurred yesterday in the most aristocratic and select saloon in Honolulu. Alas! they were kamaainas the men who held up the beautiful polished bar and stepped on the bright brass rail. They had been there before, and the polite barkeepers were busy, and all that was heard was "same as usual, judge," a little sody Mr. ———; "Yes general, in a moment—with ginger ale," "beer for Mr. ———" "small glass and much brandy for His Excellency."

And the clatter of the glasses and the bottles and the gentle conversation of the customers and the smile of the little barkeepers made everything feel pleasant and kind of homelike. They had all been used to the old style of mutual goodwill and easy-going ways.

Then enters from the front door (the "front" door!) a tourist; well-dressed and one of the class of men the Advertiser clique apparently banker to bring here and for the presence of whom we eventually must erect a statue for Shingle at Omaha.

The tourist takes a vicious look at all present, waltzes up to the well-polished bar and bellows to the young barkeeper:

"Shay; you's de bloke what mixes drinks here behind dis bar?"

From the paralyzed barkeeper, "Stabu, I tink so."

Tourist, "Well, shay, gimme a whisky and soda, sour, see; and pretty quick to."

He gets his drinks, planks down the coin, bites his cigar and says to the terrified boy, "Tanks! now tell me who are them mugs around here?"

And while the kamaainas fled, one was heard saying "you wanted annexation, eh?"

Japanese Silks at Sachs.

Newspaper Men

Almost every newspaper man is asked by the ambitious for counsel as to the feasibility of undertaking the work. The choice of a calling is a difficult matter to advise about. Much as in getting married, the questioner listens, and then marries whom he pleases, provided she is willing and the old folks consent. To become a newspaper man one usually begins as a reporter. The work is hard, the hours long, but as compared with other work the pay is good. But there are limitations well defined and passed by few. The reporter has little time for domestic or social life. He is exposed to many temptations, and his proneness to waste his salary is proverbial. In a few years he is apt to get into a rut, and having done so, only gets out by dying. There is an army of men who have devoted years to newspaper work, and who wonder, as the first gray hairs appear, why they ever began. It seems to them that had they been farmers or architects, doctors, lawyers, preachers or carpenters they would have had more to show for their efforts. But in all probability the other fellows entertain similar feelings as to their own vocations.—Henry James in S. F. Call.

The Uganda Railway.

The latest news from the Uganda railway is that work has been started at the Great Rift, two-thirds of the line having now been completed. From Mombasa the ruling gradient is 1 in 50, rising to 1 in 66, and at the Great Rift the land falls away so abruptly that a system of cable haulage will have to be adopted with a stationary engine on the hill. Local labor is practically nonexistent. Only in times of famine will the natives of the country seek employment, and it has become a matter of conviction with the railway authorities that the opening out and developing of Uganda is dependent upon the transfer upon a large scale of Hindoo and Mohammedan cultivators from India.

Timely Topics.

Honolulu, Jan. 18, 1899.

HAVE YOU TRIED THEM?

They are so simple that a child can work them, and yet they make the clearest, finest, and purest coffee in the world, preserving the beautiful aroma and bouquet, and keeping the liquor perfectly free from grounds.

We refer to the

Telescopic Coffee Pots.

These are made on the principle of the famous French cafetieres. Inside of the coffee pots is an adjustable cylinder which can be raised or lowered and maintained in position at will. Having affixed your straining cloth and raised the cylinder to the point you require, insert the ground coffee into it and pour on your boiling water. Let it rest for five minutes or so and the result will be a perfect cup of coffee, delightfully fresh, fragrant and stimulating and rich in color.

These TELESCOPIC COFFEE POTs we keep in several sizes ranging from a pint to two quarts, and the price is extremely reasonable. As we have not an extremely large stock on hand we wish our patrons to examine them as soon as possible.

AT PUUPUEO.

A Charming Musicales at the Manoa Mansion.

The Amateur Orchestra Entertains and Society Greets the Hospitable Hosts.

Last night the very numerous guests at Minister and Mrs. H. E. Cooper's handsome and comfortable mansion in Manoa were unanimous in their expressions of the perfect beauty of the lovely moonlight night and the inexpressible charm of the views over land and ocean.

It was so delightfully cool that the warm and hearty hospitality of the host and hostess was in marked contrast by their genial and generous hospitality which ensured the success of one of the pleasantest evenings representative society has enjoyed in Honolulu.

Society too was well represented, Diplomacy numbered among its ranks the representatives of Great Britain and Portugal, while the Chief Justice upheld the dignity and honor of the Bench. The vast majority of those present belonged to the ranks of "carriage people" and enjoyed the long and beautiful ride over very excellent roads.

The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Cooper with an affability and cordiality that made all present feel genuinely at home. The Amateur Orchestra under the direction of Mr. Wray Taylor was stationed in the spacious and handsome music room, while the guests either seated themselves on the spacious verandahs or whosoever they pleased, gathered in the quaint and beautiful entrance patio or court, or wandered about to the sweet strains of the music.

The following program was rendered by the Orchestra in a very pleasing and most efficient manner:

March—From Athalia. Mendelssohn Gavotte—Captivating. Tobani Overture—The Venus. Biggs Waltzes—Daughter of Love. Bennett Operatic Selection—Queen of the Isle. Isenman Schottische—Pansy Caprice. Walker March—The Liberty Bell. Sousa

Marked excellence was especially shown in the The Venus overture, the beautiful Pansy Caprice of Walker's and the ever popular Liberty Bell march of Sousa. Honolulu is naturally very proud of her Orchestra, for it has a great future before it, if its progress is to be proportionately marked by the milestone feats of the past.

The substantial refreshments furnished by caterer Steiner were in excellent taste and much appreciated by the guests.

The concert over and the refreshments discussed, Minister Cooper struck up such enticing music from the grand organ that the invitation to the dance was too irresistible to be declined, and the well polished floors were soon genially warmed with the nimble toes of the beautifully begowned and staidly attired dancers.

The memory of the delightful evening will be carefully enshrined by all who were present, and the word "perfect" be labelled upon it as it is placed away in the pigeon holes of the mind.

HEROIC SURGEON.

Is Awarded the Victoria Cross for His Pluck at Candia.

The Queen has been pleased to signify her intention to confer the decoration of the Victoria Cross upon Surgeon William Maillard, M. D., R. N., for his conspicuous bravery during the outbreak of Candia on Sept. 6. The act of courage is officially described as follows: "During the landing of seamen from H. M. S. Hazard Surgeon Maillard, who had disembarked and reached a place of safety, returned through a perfect deluge of bullets to the boat, and endeavored to bring into safety Arthur Stroud, an ordinary seaman, who had fallen back wounded into the boat, as the other men jumped ashore. Surgeon Maillard failed to bring into safety Arthur Stroud in only through the boat being adrift, and it being beyond his strength to lift the man (who was almost dead) out of so unstable a platform. Surgeon Maillard returned to his post with his clothes riddled with bullets, though he himself was unhurt.—The People.

Christian in China.

Native dispatches from Chungking report that the restoration of the hospital and dispensary belonging to American missionaries which were destroyed last year at Kiangpeh, began some time during the first part of the current month. The people round about Chungking are said to be getting excited and hostile against Christians again, owing to the rumor now current that the attempted arson at the barracks on the night of the 14th November which caused a number of panic-stricken women to commit suicide was the work of a Chungking convert. The high provincial authorities consider the situation so complicated and grave from this fresh hostility, that they have been recently considering the desirability of temporarily removing all the converts now inside the walls of Chungking to the South hills near the city, where being in a body the officials will be able to give them better protection for the time. The converts, however, object strongly to their ejection from Chungking city, and a proclamation will therefore be issued by the Viceroy exhorting them to obey.—N. C. D. News.

A Good Story.

In a lecture on the Philippine Question, Mr. G. F. Seward, formerly U. S. Consul-General at Shanghai, and Minister at Peking, tells the following amusing story of Shanghai in the good old days: "A predecessor of mine at Shanghai, having on his hand a hundred or more refractory sailors, and no prison, sent the whole lot to the native governor to be confined. They stayed there a little while and then marched out of the prison and down the river road in front of the Consul's office, each one bearing on his shoulder a pole which he had taken out of the prison stockade. The Consul wrote about the case to the Secretary of State, giving the facts, and urging upon his attention the disgrace attending the situation. He got this answer: "I have received your dispatch of—date. In writing to this department hereafter, please use cap paper, leaving a margin one inch wide, all around. Yours respectfully, Daniel Webster." Now, perhaps, this may be an extreme instance but it was an actual instance.—N. C. D. News.

A STIRRING STORY OF OMDURMAN.

Why Lieutenant De Montmorency Got His V. C.

We are able to place before our readers an interesting pendant to Major General Maurice's article in one of the reviews on what might have happened at Omdurman if the Khalifa had not been hoodwinked. It appears that young Lieut de Montmorency got his Victoria Cross not only for rescuing the body of his dead comrade Grenfell in the charge of the 21st Lancers, but for going the day before the battle into the enemy's lines disguised as an Arab hawker, and finding out all their plans. He went despite Lord Kitchener's warning "that you take your life in your hands." That day his charger was shot under him, and he went into action and into the charge of the 21st Lancers mounted on a polo pony.—The People.

Foreign Medical Practitioners in Japan.

A bill has been introduced in the House of Representatives by one of the members, providing for the organization of Association of Medical Men, and interdicting the practice of medicine by any person not a member of such an association. Approval of the measure has been announced by the Government Delegate, and in the statement of reasons attached to the bill we find an explanation that the measure is considered necessary in view of the operation of the Revised Treaties and the possible advent of foreign medical practitioners, concerning whose qualifications the general public can have no knowledge, nor any means of obtaining knowledge. In short the Associations are to assume functions partially similar to those discharged by the College of Surgeons in England, for although they can not grant licenses to practice, they will endorse the diplomas held by desiring practitioners. This, we presume, is the method devised for judging the qualifications of foreign physicians or surgeon who may seek to practise in Japan after the complete opening of the country. Some method is obviously necessary, for it would be clearly out of the question to give an entirely free hand in any one and every one. Recklessness of that kind is not shown by any civilized country. The plan proposed should work well enough unless it is disfigured by some vexatious rules, but we may reasonably hope that such will not be the case.—Japan Mail.
