NOTES AND QUERIES.

In the Legislature this morning Mr. Dole had a resolution passed, asking the Minister of Foreign Affairs to explain the dismissal of the Hawaiian Consul at Brussels. Mr. Thurston had a resolution tabled asking the Minister of Interior for information of the Government's action in the matter of providing homesteads for those desiring them. The bill to define the fire limits of Honolulu came back amended from the select committee and was made the special order for this afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Dole moved a resolution to ask the Minister of Foreign Affairs for a statement of the mission of Mr. Daggett to Washington, and what had been accomplished by it. Mr. Kaulukou moved the indefinite postponement of the resolution. The Attorney-General, oblivious of the fact that the Minister of Foreign Affairs had made return in writing that morning of $1,000 for Mr. Daggett's mission, blandly intimated that Mr. Dole was working on the basis of information got from the columns of the Gazette. Eventually a motion by Mr. Aholo, entirely out of order, to take up the order of the day, was carried, and thus enquiry was choked off.

THE LEGISLATURE.

FIFTEENTH DAY—CONTINUED.

MONDAY, May 17th.
Noble C. H. Judd, by permission of His Majesty, presented a return to the resolution asking him, as H. M. Chamberlain, to give a statement of the expenditures, under the head of "Household Expenses," for the past biennial period. The total amount expended was $28,284.25, and an appended note says, "There are besides the above a number of bills settled from His Majesty's Privy Purse, which belong properly to household expenses, viz., clothing for servants, garden tools, brooms, dusters for palace, wine bills, etc., etc."

Rep. Kalua moved the return be referred to the Printing Committee for the purpose of having it printed. Rep. Kaulukou said he was not present when the resolution was passed, and asked to have it and the return read for his information. The motion to refer to Printing Committee was put and carried. Resolutions were called for, but Rep. Kaulukou pressed his request to have documents read. The resolution was accordingly read, and the return—consisting of bills from "the butcher, the baker and the candlestick-maker"—was also being read, when

Rep. Thurston interrupted the Interpreter to suggest that the rest be read after the house adjourned.

Rep. Dole moved the return be referred to the Finance Committee. A rambling discussion followed, during which Rep. Kaulukou moved to lay the return on the table, and several points of order were before the house at once. Ultimately the motion to lay on the table carried, whereupon Kaulukou moved a reconsideration of the vote referring the paper to the Printing Committee.

Rep. Dole, however, moved the house adjourn till 1:30 o'clock, which carried at 12 precisely.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Rep. Brown moved that the consideration of the Appropriation Bill be deferred until Monday, 24th inst.

Rep. Kaulukou moved the consideration of the resolution be indefinitely postponed. The house has already passed items in the Interior Department and is now considering those in the Finance Department.

Rep. Dole spoke in favor of the motion, and Rep. Aholo of the amendment.

Minister Neumann favored dispatching all items on which the house had information.

RESOLUTIONS.

Minister Neumann gave notice of an act authorizing the Minister of the Interior to release and quit claim to Herman Kockman, Bishop of Oiba and Vicar Apostolic of the Hawaiian Islands, in trust for the Catholic Mission of the Hawaiian Islands, of certain premises occupied by said mission for eleemosynary purposes.

Rep. Dole gave notice of an act to provide for the descent of property to next of kin.

The same member presented a resolution that the Minister of Foreign Affairs be requested to report to this Assembly the nature of the mission on which Mr. Daggett was sent to Washington and the result of such mission.

Rep. Kaulukou asked whether the hon. member knew that Mr. Daggett was sent on a mission.

Rep. Neumann interrupted to say, for the information of the house, that the information was got from the Gazette.

Rep. Kaulukou wanted to know what the hon. member's information was and what he desired.

Rep. Dole said there were some matters that were known to the world without being given officially. This had been a matter of discussion in the newspapers, and of criticism in the community. It would be easy for the Minister to state if there was such a mission and its result.

Rep. Brown would like to ask whether or not, in the report of the Minister of Foreign Affairs this morning, there was an item of $1,000 for the expenses of Mr. Daggett's mission to Washington. If that was correct this house had a perfect right to know what the mission of Mr. Daggett was. He was informed that there was such an item in the Minister of Foreign Affairs' return. That matter was before the house, therefore they were entitled to know what the mission was for and what was accomplished by it, and the Assembly should pass the resolution.

Rep. Kaulukou said that his remarks had not been to shield the Minister, whom he did not know was in any delicate position. He only wanted the hon. member to state what his reasons were. They now had his reasons. He was very sorry the hon. member allowed himself to be led away by what the newspapers say.

Rep. Dole said he did not mention any newspaper whatever.

Rep. Kaulukou repeated his remark about being led by the newspapers, adding that he did not intend to allow himself to be so led, therefore he moved indefinite postponement.

Rep. Thurston thought this was roughing it, to attempt to shut out a proper request. There was no reason why they should not have a reply to that resolution unless the Minister of Foreign Affairs said it was a state matter. In the great assembly of England, to which they must look in such an Assembly as that, such a thing was never heard of as refusing a request for information except for state reasons. What was surprising to him was that the member for Hilo should be constantly rushing to the rescue and endeavoring to cover things up. This morning—

Rep. Kaulukou rose to a point of order, saying he had moved the previous question.

Rep. Thurston said the motion was not seconded. He asked the President to rule the motion out of order.

Rep. Aholo moved the order of the day.

Rep. Thurston said he claimed the floor and no other member had a right to interrupt him. The whole trouble seemed to be that he called the member for Hilo intelligent. If that was true he would withdraw the statement. [Laughter.] This morning a return from His Majesty's Chamberlain, requested by a vote of 33 to 5, was presented, and a whole hour was spent discussing a motion of the hon. member to lay it on the table. The Ministers did not object to this resolution. Last week the hon. member told him he was sick with a pain in his stomach. He thought it would pay this Assembly to see the hon. member's doctor for keeping him sick.

The President announced that the hon. member for Hana (Mr. Kaai) had asked for leave of absence for a week, owing to a bereavement in his family.

Rep. Brown rose to a point of order, whether the resolution must not be disposed of before the house could take any action on the motion for proceeding with the order of the day.

Noble Rhodes said the motion must either fail altogether or be renewed.

The President put the motion for the order of the day, which carried. He then announced the third reading of an act to amend sec. 1, chap. 90, Penal Code (the Hawaiian version bill).

Rep. Aholo said the Appropriation Bill was a special order for to-day.

Rep. Dickey moved the house go into committee of the whole for the consideration of the Appropriation Bill. Carried.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

Noble Cleghorn was called to the chair and the house went into committee.

Interest on Japanese fund..... $3,000

Noble Rhodes was still of the same opinion as on Friday, that before this vote there should be some explanation from the Minister. In the Finance Minister's report there was an item of some $28,000 as a Japanese fund. There was no doubt that the money was received according to that report, and they had further confirmation on that subject by expressions that fell from the Minister of Foreign Affairs, that money had been paid back to parties depositing it.

Minister Gibson said he would like the hon. noble to understand that he had not had any transactions in the matter. Some money had been paid by order of the Japanese Consul, but he did not know that any direct drafts had been made on the treasury.

Noble Rhodes said he had the impression that moneys had been paid to parties who had deposited it. They were asked for an appropriation of interest, yet there was nothing to state that they were to repay any part of that money in the treasury. Therefore, there was something that struck him as rather irregular in the information of the Ministers, and the sum itself ought to be provided for as well as the interest. It might be said that this fund takes the nature of a deposit with the Government, for which certificates of deposit are given, and can be returned on presentation of such certificates; but he could not look upon it in that way. The fourth section of the Appropriation Bill defines especially that money shall not be paid from the treasury without authorization of law. If those were not certificates of deposit they should not be in the Appropriation Bill, but as they were there, this sum appears as an asset of the country, and he should imagine that they could not be paid out again except by action of the Assembly, and if any of those sums had been paid to the Japanese he should like to ask what part the Auditor-General had in paying them.

Minister Neumann said he had made some inquiries, but not enough to answer the questions of the hon. noble who had just spoken, and that was as to what money had been paid out. He might safely assume that none of that fund had been paid back yet, for two reasons: 1st, if there had been any such money paid out it would have appeared in the accounts of the Finance Department; 2nd, the circumstances under which that fund had been deposited led him to think that none had been paid out. He had been informed by the Minister of Finance that since his report more had been paid in. There was no question that the paying in of this money was the receipt of money paid to the Hawaiian Government, and that it assumed it, not as a special deposit but as a security for the parties depositing it. One of the hon. members stated that he would like to know whether the Attorney-General had authorized the treasury to receive this money. He was aware that it was discussed, but although he was not asked for his advice he thought he had said that the Government was at perfect liberty to take it—more than that, there was no reason for the Government to excuse itself from taking it. When the Japanese immigration scheme was first mooted and before any convention was made some Japanese were sent here. Owing to some reason the Japanese Government concluded that it would not favor the emigration of any more Japanese to this country. Negotiations were pending between the Japanese and Hawaiian Governments. Besides these negotiations there were some other matters presented by the Japanese Government, in order that Japanese emigration might go on unobstructed. It was well known to the house that a special commissioner was sent out to this country to carry on negotiations. The result of the negotiation, protocol and despatch was that a convention was made. This convention, while it left out some of the details, yet reference to it shows it contains in special terms, all the conditions that had been proposed by the Hawaiian Government and accepted to by the Japanese Government. Among those conditions was one which was article 11 of certain propositions made by the Japanese Government. Twenty-five percent of the wages and other savings of Japanese immigrants were to be deposited with the Hawaiian Government, at interest of five percent. A treaty has the same solemnity as any law which this Assembly may pass which has the signature of the King. And when it is required what right has the Minister of Finance to receive that money, he replies that it is one of the privileges of the convention. It was a point which the Hawaiian Government did not only not insist upon, but would have been refused had it not been insisted upon by the Japanese Government, so that their people should not be left here as paupers in case of sickness or accident. If this action of the Government, which he claimed was necessary for the purpose of concluding the convention with Japan, was illegal, then other provisions of the convention were illegal. If it is asked what right had this Government, in the absence of legislative sanction, it may be asked what right had this Government to agree that Japanese laborers should be free from taxes for three years. What right had this Government, without sanction of the legislative body, to make such a provision as this—to return Japanese laborers, disabled by sickness or other reason, without their voluntary consent? Would hon. members state why this is legal, which is in direct contravention of habeas corpus law, and yet it will not prevent this Government from carrying it out? There was no Legislature to place it before. He claimed that if the Government had, under those conditions, as they had bound themselves, placed it in any private bank, then their action would have been illegal, but not when they received it at five percent. He quoted from a despatch of the Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Hawaiian Islands, and said that the action of the Government was perfectly legal.

Noble Rhodes explained that it was not the legality of receiving the money that was questioned, but as an appropriation was inserted for the interest there should be one for the principal.

Minister Neumann said he should speak on that hereafter. This policy had saved the Hawaiian Government $7,000 or $8,000. If they had not been bound to do it, it would not have been done. The arrangement had to be carried out till they had the consent of the Japanese Government to strike it out. When the Hawaiian charge d'affaires was here it was concluded that the clause should be stricken out, and that the Japanese Government should seek a bank elsewhere. It could not have been done by this Government ex parte without the consent of the other party, and when that is done the entire fund will be taken away, for it has been nothing but a trouble. When certain items had been inserted in the Appropriation Bill—immigration, waterworks, etc.—it was discussed whether this item should have been placed in "immigration" or not. The Minister of Finance came to the conclusion, and the speaker ventured to say a proper one, that all those items should be left out of the bill and nothing but what was necessary put in, leaving the Legislature to deal with the rest of them. Whether it was proper to put this item in he was not prepared to say, but at any rate it was intended to lay this matter before the Legislature when it came to the appropriation under the loan fund. For fear it might be stated that he had avoided a point, he said the Government had allowed interest according to stipulation. It was not a special deposit with the Hawaiian Government, because if it was paid in in that way it might be paid out of the general fund for any purpose for which moneys can be paid out of that fund. He believed that if ever the Japanese Consul made his demand upon the Hawaiian Government for that money, the long prophesied bankruptcy of the Hawaiian Government would not have taken place. Negotiations were now pending to place this fund wherever the Japanese Government might like to place it.

Rep. Dole was very glad to have the Attorney-General's explanation, because now they had the legal standing of the Government. They did not wish to stop payment of that money, because it must be paid, but to understand well the Government's position. He remembered the Minister of Foreign Affairs to have said that some of this principal had been paid out.

Minister Gibson denied having said so.

Rep. Dole understood that since the 11th of December these accounts had been paid by employers direct. Minister Gibson said it was true that a large proportion had been paid direct, but not all.

Minister Kepena said money had been collected from time to time, and that since his report the amount had augmented to more than $28,000.

After further observations from Rep. Dole.

Minister Galick stated that the matter was entirely in the hands of the Board of Immigration, the treasury simply acting as agent to receive and pay out money. He repeated in substance his explanation of the other day.

Rep. Dole said the explanation of the Minister of Finance cleared the matter up very much. The Minister of Foreign Affairs said it was paid out, the Attorney-General said it could not be paid out because it was not in the Appropriation Bill. Now the Minister of Finance says it has been paid out. It appears this money has been paid out without any account of it. It does not appear in the report of the Minister of Finance. That is wrong. When it is a realization it should not have been taken out without authority. The Minister of Interior said on Friday he was acting on the Postal Savings Bank Act, but the statement to-day seemed to show he was acting on that, for he has been receiving and paying it out as if through a savings bank. His Ex. the Attorney-General could not stake his professional reputation as a lawyer on that position, because that course was begun before signing the treaty with Japan. And he gets from the treaty provision for relieving the Japanese from taxes for three years as justification. He was without any authority for acting under that clause until that treaty had been acted upon by this Assembly. Sec. 29 of the constitution says the King has power to make treaties and that such treaties or any law based on them shall be confirmed by this Assembly. If they were acting on this could hardly have failed to bring in a request, as soon as this session was opened, that this treaty should be confirmed. The correspondence which preceded this treaty covered time from somewhere in August up to March this year. Here money has been received, as said, under the provisions of this treaty from the 11th of December, whereas the treaty which made it good was signed in March, 1886. Suppose there had been a difference between the contracting powers and the treaty had not been signed at all, where would they have been? And he asked where are they now that this treaty has not the effect or power of law until it is passed. Suppose the treaty had been in existence all that time, so far as he could see, there having been no session of the Hawaiian Legislature, they received their authority from the Japanese Government. And to-day they were asking the Japanese Government, as if they were its agents, to make this change. It is said if this clause goes into effect we would give back this money. How would we give it back if there is no appropriation for it? The Attorney-General says that if they had not been bound to do it, it would not have been done. Who would them to do it unless it was the Japanese Government? It seemed to him an undignified position for any Government to take in the face of another Government. He felt that the Ministry had acted in this case for the public good. The Japanese immigrants had been a benefit to the country. He commended them for their public spirit. But no benefit of that kind could make up for the loss which the country receives when the dignity and supremacy of our own laws are set aside. The example set in high places, to set aside our own laws whenever it is expedient, will not be long spreading to the humblest citizen. He believed the Ministry had acted illegally without knowing each other's views on the matter, and they proposed to do it again. They had done wrong in not keeping an account of those moneys which had been paid out of the treasury. It might be true that they had a right to receive money without authority of the Legislature, but unless it was in the treasury they had no right to pay it out. Suppose a dispute should arise between the Governments about this fund, our Government could not show an account of it. It must have been a necessity for the Government to have this money, otherwise they would have been behind about $9000 on the 31st of March. The Government had been reckless. At the same time he should vote for this $3,000 as a matter of national honor.

Rep. Castle said he asked a number of questions the other day and had tendered his assistance to the Government, but he could not get the information he desired. The Attorney-General had presented no arguments regarding the legality or otherwise of the course pursued, yet a treaty had been made materially altering the laws of this kingdom and it had not yet been submitted. He did not consider for an instant that the Attorney-General did not know all about laws, yet what did he mean by saying that treaty had the force of law, and that this Assembly was bound to carry it out? It was the duty of this Assembly to guard the rights of the country and not to surrender any of them. While agreeing in the commendation of the Government's immigration policy, they had not done their duty in keeping information from the Assembly. The Attorney-General said it was foolish for the Opposition to say the Government was acting as a bank, but the Minister of Interior said that was just what the Government had been doing. They (the Opposition) would not call it a bank, but something in the shape of a bank. So far as he could see the treaty was good, but why it should be kept from the Assembly he did not understand. The fact of the matter was the consideration of the Appropriation Bill at this stage of the session was rather premature. Every attempt made to postpone it seemed to have been regarded as an attempt to defeat the Government. He moved this item be postponed until the Ministry gave further explanations. There was nothing to explain it on the face of the bill.

Minister Neumann hoped the house would bear with him for about four minutes and a half. The hon. member for Wailuku had said that no treaty but needs to be ratified by this house.

Rep. Castle stated that the Attorney-General had said as much as that this particular treaty was not necessary to be ratified by the house, but that the house was bound by the treaty.

Minister Neumann stated that he said when the treaty was made it had full force. It was only where a treaty changed the tariff or a law of the kingdom that it required to be ratified. While he did not say that it was not necessary to ratify all treaties, yet he said that this treaty does not change a tariff or any law of the kingdom. They would see by the correspondence that when it was asked if goods belonging to immigrants would be admitted free, the answer was made that the proposal would have to be submitted to the Legislature. He did not say that the members who opposed this item, and then came gradually to allow it, acted from unworthy motives. He objected to the hon. member for Lihue saying, when he (Mr. N.) was a servant of the Hawaiian people, that he took his cue from any other Government. It was simply a matter that the Hawaiian Government could have accepted or could have refused. But it was a point that was so simple in a question of such importance, that he thought the matter could be yielded without any detriment. He was satisfied, from his acquaintance with both the members for Lihue and for Wailuku, that they approved of the action of the Government on this immigration matter. So that it would be unjust to attribute to himself or to any other member of the Hawaiian Government a desire to listen to the promptings of any other Government except as their judgment dictated. But he claimed that all that had been condoned by the consent of the hon. member for Lihue to support this item. That gentleman reminded him of a story told of a very exemplary man otherwise, but who was always finding fault in his lifetime. When he got to heaven and was asked if he was not content now, he replied, "Well, I don't know; my halo does not fit me." [Laughter.]

The item passed.

Salary of Collector-General..... $ 8,000
Salary of Deputy Collector..... 6,000
Salary of Harbor Master, Oahu..... 6,000
Salary of Statistical Clerk..... 3,600
All passed.

Minister Kapena, in reply to a question by Mr. Castle, as to why only $4,500 was expended of the Deputy Collector's salary last period, said he did not know.

Salary of Port Surveyor, Oahu..... $3,600
Rep. Paele moved to amend to $3,000.

Minister Kapena moved the item pass as in bill. The Collector General's report said the work was increased, and recommended a rise in the pay.

Rep. Dole said there was a statement there that officers refused to give their undivided attention to the duties unless there was an increase. In that case they should be discharged at once. He noticed it was the custom of the civil service here, when a public servant showed incompetence, to promote him, but it was time such an untenable position was abandoned.

Minister Kapena hoped the item would pass. In the Hawaiian version the Collector General said the work had increased and that the officers had prevented a great deal of smuggling. There had been thirteen arrests, and the seizures had amounted to $25,000.

Rep. Thurston said this was simply a renewal of propositions constantly coming up, and they should stop it. The officers got half of the value of the opium they seized. Every now and then the newspapers told of an officer seizing a quantity of opium, which meant that he got half the value of it. Better for them to increase the salaries of some poorly paid officers in the country districts.

Rep. Dickey said the report showed a decrease in customs revenue of about $116,000 in the two years, and in view of that falling off he did not see how the work could be increasing. He told the story of the camel getting from his nose to his whole body into the tailor's shop, and warned the house against letting the camel's nose of extravagance get into the Appropriation Bill.

The amendment carried.

Salary of Storekeeper..... $4,000
Rep. Dickey moved to amend to $3,600, the same as last period.

Rep. Brown supported the amendment, especially as there was an assistant in the bill, which there was not last year.

The amendment carried.
Salary of Assistant Storekeeper. $2,400
Rep. Thurston moved it be struck out, on the same grounds as those on which the other items had been reduced.

Minister Kapena hoped the item would pass, as there was more work than one man could do, and the storekeeper had paid for help out of his own pocket.

Noble Bishop, after further discussion by Reps. Dole and Dickey, said he was favorable to reduction of salaries, yet as this office might be necessary, he moved to defer action until members had more information. Minister Neumann seconded the motion.

Rep. Dole that the committee of the whole recommend this item be referred to a special committee of two, which carried over an amendment by Rep. Hayselden that it be referred to the Finance Committee.

Salary of Second Statistical Clerk $3,000
Passed.

Salary of third Statistical Clerk $2,400
Rep. Brown said this was a new item.

Rep. Richardson moved it be referred to the special committee of two. Carried.

Salary of Entry Clerk..... $3,000
Rep. Thurston moved $2,400, same as last period. Carried.

Salary of Second Entry Clerk..... 2,400
Rep. Dickey moved $2,000, but withdrew his motion on Minister Neumann saying the services of the two clerks were equal.

The item passed.
Salary of Collector, Kahului..... 4,000
Rep. Thurston moved $3,000, same as last period. Carried.

Salary of Collector, Hilo..... $5,600
Rep. Thurston moved $3,000.
Rep. Kaulukou moved it pass as in bill. The business at Hilo had increased.

The reduced figure carried.
Salary of Collector, Mahukona..... $3,000
Rep. Castle moved to reduce to $700. Carried.

Salary of Collector, Kawaihae..... $300
Rep. Castle moved $100. Scarcely ever a vessel goes there.

Minister Neumann—Perhaps the collector prevents opium smuggling.
Rep. Dickey—He gets half.
$100 carried.

Salary of Collector, Koloa..... $200
Rep. Castle moved $100, which carried.

Salary of Collector, Kealahou..... $200
Rep. Castle moved $100, which carried.

Salary of Port Surveyor, Kahului $2,400
Rep. Thurston moved $2,000, which carried.

Salary of Port Surveyor, Hilo..... $1,800
Passed.

Salary of Keeper Steamer Warehouse..... $1,200
Minister Kapena, in answer to Rep. Thurston, said this officer kept the lower steamer warehouse, which was used for storage of sugar when the others were full. The same man had held the office at the same salary for several years.

Noble Walker moved the item be referred to the special committee of two. Carried.

Salary of Keeper Kerosene Warehouse..... $1,800
Rep. Dickey moved to reduce to $1,200, same as last period.

Rep. Dole said in 1882 it was $180, in 1884 it was raised to $1,200, a very good salary.

Rep. Kaulukou moved to reduce to $1,000.
$1,200 carried.

Assistant Guards at all Ports..... $20,000
Rep. Dole moved to defer the item till the Finance Committee have reported on it. Carried.

Custom House Boat..... $1,200
Incidentals Custom House Bureau..... 5,000
Both passed.

Rep. Richardson moved the committee rise and report progress. Carried.

The Assembly on resuming heard the report of the chairman of committee of the whole, which on motion of Rep. Brown was adopted.

The President appointed, as the committee of two requested, Rep. Dole and Minister Kapena.

Rep. Kalua moved, it being 5 o'clock, that the Assembly adjourn till 10 o'clock to-morrow. Carried.

A HANDSOME PRESENTATION.
A very interesting ceremony took place yesterday in the office of the Minister of Finance. The occasion was a presentation from the President of the United States to the five Hawaiians, Charles Makai, David Pau, Levi Samoi, Joseph Aka and George Mahiai, who, at the peril of their lives, heroically rescued the Captain, officers and crew of the American bark Hesperian, wrecked on the 13th December last, on the reef at Kahului, Maui. There were present His Excellency the Minister of Foreign Affairs, His Excellency Governor Dominis, Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, their Excellencies Chas. T. Gulick, John M. Kapena and Paul Neumann, His Excellency

Hon. George W. Merrill, United States Minister Resident; the President, Nobles and Representatives of the Legislative Assembly, Colonel Claus Spreckels and a number of citizens. The presentation consisted of silver medals and $20 gold pieces, a medal and a coin to each man. His Excellency the Minister of Foreign Affairs, addressed the men in an eloquent speech, commendatory of their conduct. Each medal is inscribed on one side with the name of the recipients, and the words "For humane services in rescuing the crew of the bark Hesperian, December 15th, 1885," and on the other side, with the words, "Presented by the President of the United States." The men were also addressed in appropriate terms by His Excellency, the United States Minister Resident, Charles Makai responded for the crew, saying that they had no expectation of reward, but went to the rescue when they saw the crew in distress. The brave Hawaiians were vigorously hand-shaken and congratulated by those present.

HAWAIIAN LIME.

LAHAUNA, May 11, 1886.
MESSRS. ALLEN & ROBINSON, Honolulu.

DEAR SIRS:—In reply to your favor of last week I beg to state that we tested lately both the Hawaiian and the California Lime in our Sugar Mill and I am decidedly of the opinion that the Hawaiian Lime stands higher in every respect for the reason that it is much stronger, thus causing a considerable saving. It furthermore does not coat our pipes and drum so much as the California Lime and should therefore be used in every Sugar Mill. I remain, dear sirs, yours respectfully,

JAS. CAMPBELL.
The Hawaiian Lime has to be slacked in hot juice in order to use it to advantage.

"It would never do for the Senate to attempt to conform to the eight-hour law," said De Wiggs the other morning. "And why not?" asked Le Diggs. "It would sometimes compel Senator Evarts to break off in the middle of a sentence."—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

Public speaker (to reporter)—"You told me that you took all the points I made in my speech yesterday, and here you have only got two lines, simply saying that I addressed the meeting. And spoke at least an hour." Reporter—"I assure you, sir, that every point you made is in my report."—[Boston Transcript.]

Sarcastic wife—"Coming home as usual, I suppose?" Fond-of-staying-out-late husband—"Yes, certainly." "Well, put this letter in the mail in the morning, and if you meet the milkman tell him to leave two quarts."—[Judge.]

A poet writes: "Why are the spirits thus concealed?" How thoughtless in him to think for a moment that any sane man would have his spirits bottle lying around loose in the same locality with a thirsty poet.—[Yonkers Statesman.]

A Woman's Sufferings and Gratitude.

A Voice from Austria.

Near the village of Zillingdorf, in Lower Austria, lives Maria Haas, an intelligent and industrious woman, whose story of physical suffering and final relief, as related by herself, is of interest to English women. "I was employed," she says, "in the work of a large farm-house. Over-work brought on sick headache, followed by a deadly fainting and sickness of the stomach, until I was unable to retain either food or drink. I was compelled to take to my bed for several weeks. Getting a little better from rest and quiet, I sought to do some work, but was soon taken with a pain in my side, which in a little while seemed to spread over my whole body, and throbed in my every limb. This was followed by a cough and shortness of breath, until finally I could not sew, and I took to my bed for the second, and as I thought, for the last time. My friends told me that my time had nearly come, and that I could not live longer than when the trees put on their green robe more. Then I happened to get one of the Seigel's pamphlets. I read it, and my dear mother bought me a bottle of Seigel's Syrup, which I took exactly according to directions, and I had not taken the whole of it before I felt a great change for the better. My last illness began June 1, 1882, and continued to August 9th, when I began to take the Syrup. Very soon I could do a little light work. The cough left me, and I was no more troubled in breathing. Now I am perfectly cured. And oh, how happy I am! I cannot express gratitude enough for Seigel's Syrup. Now I must tell you that the doctors in our district distributed handbills cautioning people against the medicine, telling them it would do them no good, and many were thereby influenced to destroy the Seigel's pamphlets; but now, wherever one is to be found, it is kept like a relic. The few preservers are borrowed to read, and I have lent mine for six miles around our district. People have come eighteen miles to get me to buy the medicine for them, knowing that it cured me, and to be sure to get the right kind. I know a woman who was looking like death, and who told them there was no help for her, that she had consulted several doctors, but none could help her. I told her of Seigel's Syrup, and wrote the name down for her that she might make no mistake. She took my advice and the Syrup, and now she is in perfect health, and the people around us are amazed. The medicine has made such progress in our neighborhood that people say they don't want the doctor any more, but they take the Syrup. Sufferers from gout who were confined to their bed and could hardly move a finger, have been cured by it. There is a girl in our district who caught a cold by going through some water, and was in bed five years with costiveness and rheumatic pains, and had to have an attendant to watch by her. There was no doctor in the surrounding districts to whom her mother had not applied to relieve her child, but every one crossed themselves and said they could not help her. Whenever the little bell rang which is rung in our place when somebody is dead, we thought surely it was for her, but Seigel's Syrup and Pills saved her life, and now she is as healthy as anybody, goes to school, and can work even in the fields. Everybody was astonished when they saw her out, knowing how many years she had been in bed. To-day she adds her gratitude to mine for God's mercies and Seigel's Syrup.

The people of England speak confirming the above.

After Many Years.
"Whittle Woods, near Chorley, December 26, 1882."
"Dear Sir,—Mother Seigel's medicine sells exceeding well with us, all that try it speak highly in its favor. We had a case of a young lady that had been troubled many years with pains after eating. She tells us that the pains were entirely taken away after a few doses of your medicine.—Yours truly, E. PHEL."

After Sixteen Years.
"95, Newgate Street, Workop, Notts, December 26th, 1882."
"Gentlemen,—It is with the greatest of pleasure I record my testimony as to the efficacy of Mother Seigel's Syrup. My wife, who has suffered from acute Dyspepsia for over sixteen years, is now perfectly better through the sale help of your Syrup. I have sent pounds in medicines from doctors—in fact, I began to think she was incurable until your marvellous medicine was tried. I remain, yours, respectfully, ALFRED FORD."

FIRE.
In consequence of having been burned out I beg to notify my friends and the public in general, that I have removed to 106 Nuuanu street, next to the Commercial Hotel. Coffee and Lunch at all hours, as before.

WILLIAM WALL, Manager.

Great Excitement in Wales about a Marvellous Cure.

Living Six Years Without Going to Bed.

MR. EDITOR.—While spending a few days at the pleasant seaside town of Aberystwith, Cardiganshire, Wales, I heard related what seemed to me either a fabulous story or a marvellous cure.

The story was that a poor sufferer who had not been able to lie down in bed for six long years, given up to die by the Doctors, had been speedily cured by some Patent Medicine. It was related with the more implicit confidence from the circumstance, as was said, that the Vicar of Llanyrtyd was familiar with the facts, and could vouch for the truth of the report.

Having a little curiosity to know how such stories grow in travelling, I took the liberty while at the village of Llanyrtyd to call upon the Vicar, the Rev. T. Evans, and to enquire about this wonderful cure. Though a total stranger to him, both he and his wife most graciously entertained me in a half hour's conversation, principally touching the case of Mr. Pugh, in which they seemed to take a deep and sympathetic interest, having been familiar with his sufferings, and now rejoiced in what seemed to them a most remarkable cure.

The Vicar remarked that he presumed his name had been connected with the report from his having mentioned the case to Mr. John Thomas, a chemist of Llanon. He said Mr. Pugh was formerly a resident of their parish, but was now living in the parish of Llanddaniel.

He strongly vouched Mr. Pugh's character as a respectable farmer and worthy of credit. I left the venerable Vicar with a livelier sense of the happy relation of a pastor and people, feeling that he was one who truly sympathized with all who are afflicted in mind, body, or estate.

On my return to Aberystwith, I was impressed with a desire to see Mr. Pugh, whose reputation stood so high. His farm is called Pannoc-Mawr, signifying "above the single," situated near the summit of a smooth round hill, overlooking a beautiful valley in which is situated the lovely ivymantled Church of Llanddaniel. I found Mr. Pugh, apparently about 40 years old, of medium height, rather slight, with a pleasant and intelligent face. I told him I had heard of his great affliction and of his remarkable and almost miraculous relief, and that I had come to learn from his own lips, what there was of truth in the reports.

Mr. Pugh remarked that his neighbors had taken a kindly and sympathetic interest in his case for many years, but of late their interest had been greatly awakened by a happy change in his condition. What you report as having been said by him, is substantially true, with one exception. I never understood that my case was ever given up as hopeless by any Physician. I have been treated by several Doctors hereabouts, as good as any in Wales, but unfortunately no prescription of theirs ever brought the desired relief.

Fifteen years ago, he said, I first became conscious of a sour and deranged stomach and loss of appetite, which the Doctors told me was Dyspepsia. What I could not hold in my stomach seemed to do me no good, and was often thrown up with painful retchings. This was followed after a time with a hoarseness and a raw soreness of the throat which the Doctors called bronchitis, and I was treated for that, but with little success. Then came shortness of breath and a sense of suffocation, especially nights, with clammy sweat, and I would have to get out of bed and sometimes open a door or window in winter weather to fill my lungs with the cold air.

About six years ago I became so bad that I could not sleep in bed, but had to take my quiet rest and dreamy sleep sitting in an armchair. My affliction seemed to be working downward into my bowels as well as upwards into my lungs and throat. In the violent coughing spasms which grew more frequent, my abdomen would expand and collapse and at times it would seem that I should suffocate. All this time I was reduced in strength so that I could perform no hard labor and my spirits were consequently much depressed.

Early in this last spring I had a still more severe spasmodic attack, and my family and neighbors became alarmed, believing that certainly I would not survive, when a neighbor, who had some knowledge, or had heard of the medicine, sent to Aberystwith by the driver of the Omnibus Post, some seven miles distant, and fetched a bottle of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup.

This medicine they administered to me according to the directions, when to my surprise and delight no less than my own, the spasm ceased. I became at ease, and my stomach was calmed. My bowels were moved as by a gentle cathartic, and I felt a sense of quiet comfort all through such as I had not before realized in many years. I could walk around the house and breathe comfortably in a few hours after I had taken the medicine. I have continued to take the medicine steadily now for something over two months, and I can lie down and sleep sweetly at nights and have not since had a recurrence of those terrible spasms and sweatings. I have been so long broken down and reduced in my whole system that I have not tried to perform any very hard outdoor labor, deeming it best to be prudent lest by over-exertion I may do myself injury before my strength is fully restored. I feel that my stomach and bowels have been and are being thoroughly renovated and renewed by the medicine. In fact I feel like a new man.

I have been much congratulated by my neighbors, especially by the good Vicar of Llanyrtyd, who with his sympathetic wife have come three miles to shed tears of joy on my recovery.

I bade Mr. Pugh good-bye, happy that even one at least among thousands had found a remedy for an aggravating disease.

Believing this remarkable case of Dyspeptic Asthma should be known to the public, I beg to submit the above facts as they are related to me.
