LUNA JACOBSEN IS FINED

THIS SETTLES THE TROUBLE AT HEHEIA.

Fifty or Sixty Japs Refuse to Work Unless Jacobson's Conduct is Judicially Inquired Into—Pleads Guilty.

Luna Jacobson of Heeia plantation, was today fined $5, and $3 costs, by the District court of Kaneohe for assault and battery on a Japanese laborer on the plantation last Friday.

It was this assault that led to the troubles over here Friday and Saturday, and which were not finally cleared up until after Jacobson had been arrested and fined.

The account of the assault as given by the plantation managers is that the Japanese assaulted and insulted on being allowed to smoke at least once an hour. As it is a rule not to allow smoking in the cane fields, this Japanese was allowed to go out of the field for his smoke. On Friday, however, he returned to the field with a lighted cigarette in his mouth. He was ordered to throw it away, which he refused to do, whereupon the luna seized him, took away the cigarette and threw the man down. The man claimed to be hurt, "shamed death," it is claimed, and remained lying in the field for several hours, when he was brought home. About 9 o'clock that night he was brought on a litter to Manager Bull's office by a crowd of Japanese laborers, who believed or claimed to believe that he was dead. Dr. Howard was telephoned for and arrived at 1 o'clock Saturday morning. He found the Japanese unharmed.

The Japanese laborers, however, insisted that Jacobson should be arrested for assault and battery, and fifty or sixty of them refused to go to work unless he was. Accordingly a warrant was issued for his arrest. He pleaded guilty and was fined. The Japanese then all returned to work, except the Japanese who was assaulted, who left the plantation.

The deputy sheriff at Kaneohe reports this afternoon that all the laborers are now at work, and that everything is quiet.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

NOTICE TO CATHOLICS.

TO THE CLERGY AND LAITY OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH IN HAWAII.

It is my duty as your Bishop, now that some people are working to substitute cremation, an old pagan rite, to the Christian rite of inhumation, to acquaint you with the rules adopted by the Church in regard to this matter.

On the 19th day of May, 1886, a decree approved by Pope Leo XIII, declares: 1st. A Catholic cannot become a member of any society which imposes cremation. 2d. No Catholic shall ask cremation for himself nor for anybody else.

On the 15th of December, 1886, another decree, approved by the same authority, declares that the ceremonies of the Church must be refused to any one not having retracted his request to be cremated; but the Church allows the ceremonies to be performed on the bodies, at home or in the Church, of those who are to be cremated by orders issued by the government or by some other authority.

These are the rules of our Church in regard to cremation, and my wish is that every Catholic in this country should keep them as the Church has good reasons for imposing them on her children. Yours faithfully,

GULSTAN,
Bishop of Honolulu,
Vicar Apostolic.

JAPANESE WILL CELEBRATE

CROWN PRINCE YOSHIHITO TO BE MARRIED.

The Bride is the Accomplished Daughter of an Old and Noble House—Plans for Celebration Here.

The unofficial announcement has been received here that the Crown Prince Yoshihito of Japan, is to be married May 6. The bride is the Princess Sada Kuno, daughter of the Duke of Kuno, one of the oldest noble families in Japan. In anticipation of the Imperial wedding, a three days' holiday has been proclaimed in Japan, May 5, 6 and 7. The Japanese in Hawaii will hold a celebration in honor of the wedding, probably May 7, though the date has not been absolutely fixed, and will not be until after the official announcement is received, which is expected by the Coptic on April 27.

The Japanese Merchants' Union will have charge of the celebration in Honolulu, a committee having been appointed for that purpose, of which K. Imanishi of the Yokohama Specie Bank is chairman. The Japanese celebration will be held in the garden of the Japanese school on Nuuanu street, but owing to the conditions here, resulting from the plague, by which so many Japanese have been impoverished, the celebration will be as simple as possible. There will be neither a banquet nor drinking. There will be decorations, music and speeches, and a letter of congratulation to the Imperial household will be adopted and sent forward.

On the day of the celebration all the Japanese stores throughout the Islands will be closed, and the committee, together with the Japanese consul, Miki Saito, are using their best endeavors to secure one day's holiday for all Japanese plantation laborers throughout the Islands. In Japan there will be three days' holiday. The Japanese sentiment of loyalty is so strong that it is felt that every Japanese, when he learns of the Imperial wedding, will feel it his duty to take a holiday. A strong effort will therefore be made to secure a general holiday of one day on all the plantations for the Japanese laborers.

The crown prince very recently came to his majority, and under the Imperial regulations, to a marriageable age. He is very popular in Japan, well educated, and an officer both in the Japanese army and the Japanese navy. The bride is a graduate of the Imperial School in Tokyo for the education of the girls of noble families. She is highly accomplished, speaks French and English in addition to Japanese, and is a skilled musician on the piano, and other European, as well as Japanese instruments.

PUBLIC EATING HOUSES

Public eating houses are established in a number of German cities to provide meals for workmen at cheap prices so as to do away with the evil effects of the dinner pail. Those in Chemnitz during 1903 sold 435,000 dinners; receipts were $17,500, and expenditures $15,000. The City of Grenoble, France, also maintains a municipal restaurant at which about 1,200 meals a day are served. At the outset the enterprise needed municipal aid, but it is now self-supporting. The municipality owns the property used, for which it receives a nominal rent, and the accounts are reported in the books of the municipality. Any surplus is deposited in the city treasury, as a reserve so as to do away with the price of provisions are high. There are also other instances throughout France of similar institutions without municipal aid, several establishments being in operation at Paris, Lyons, and Bordeaux.

Somewhat akin to such institutions are municipal bakeries, which are to be found at Rome and at Kharkov in Russia. Stockholm owns a municipal liquor stores for the working classes, who cannot obtain drink without ordering food.—Municipal Magazine.

SAYS HE GOT THE MONEY

OSCAR LEWIS AS A PORTLAND SHIPPER.

Helped the Portland Chamber of Commerce Committee to Get Information. Ready to Help Charity.

The row over the shipping master business continues to draw the attention of all hands along the water front. The petition that is being circulated by George Carter is getting a very long list of signatures and some of the local agents have gone so far as to forbid the shipping men to even enter their offices, but Turk & Lewis continue on the uneven tenor of their way, and it is safe to say that few sailors are leaving port without their aid.

The report of the Portland chamber of commerce committee, secured by Mr. Carter, was not all new to the shipping men. In fact Lewis was in Portland when the information was gathered by the committee, and says he helped the business men to gather the facts upon which they made such a scathing report. "The financial part of it is straight," said Lewis. "Lewis got the $27,500 for putting sailors on board vessels leaving that city, besides other moneys said to have been collected in other ways. The committee stated that the methods employed had 'few parallels in the annals of crime' and that the whole business was built up by deceit, falsehood and cruelty. The number of sailors 'handled' during the period investigated was 562. As all the money collected is declared to ultimately come out of the pockets of the sailors it would appear that it cost the sailors who visited Portland $60 each to get jobs and leave, not including what was lost through the advance note business."

In addition to the Carter petition there is a movement among agents here to prevent the repetition of Portland's experience in Honolulu. Some of them have refused to have any dealings with the shippers and it remains to be seen if their vessels will get any crews till they come to terms. The principal exception is W. E. McKnight, who contracted with Turk & Lewis to have all his sugar fleet supplied with crews at $20 a man.

"JACK" WINTER DEAD.

John W. Winter, familiarly known as "Jack" Winter, died at his home on King street beyond Thomas Square, about 1:10 o'clock this afternoon of apoplexy. He sustained the stroke during last night, and has been unconscious ever since.

Mr. Winter was in town last night, and was in fine health and spirits. He arrived home about 10 o'clock and retired. About 1 o'clock this morning Mrs. Winter noticed that he was breathing very hard and tried to arouse him. It was then that the trouble was discovered.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made, but will probably be arranged for some time tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Winter was born at Knoxville, Ill., March 16, 1856, and was therefore 44 years of age last month. He arrived in Honolulu 15 years ago and became a bookkeeper in the office of Irwin & Co. The following year he married Miss Kruger, sister to Frank Kruger, the jeweler. Subsequently he became identified with the business of Hollister & Co., and rose by degrees to the office of manager, and one of the principal partners.

Deceased left two brothers and three sisters. Frank Winter is port surveyor at Hilo. William Winter is another brother. The sisters are Mrs. E. R. Hendry, Mrs. Albert Horner and Miss Alice Winter.

LEVY FULLY RECOVERED

LEAVES THE PLAGUE HOSPITAL. A WELL MAN.

Still He Can't Tell Inquirers What Was the Matter With Him, for Physicians Don't Know.

Herman M. Levy left the plague hospital Saturday, where he had been since early in the morning of March 2. Rooms had been secured for him, his mother and little sister, at the Delmonico on Beretania street, and there he is now. He is entirely recovered, although he has not fully regained his strength. He was out today for a walk with his mother, and was down town for a short time.

"I am feeling in excellent health and spirits," he said this morning. "I weighed myself this morning, and find that I weigh just eight pounds less than I did before I was sick. Unlike most men who have a siege of sickness, I don't know what was the matter with me. The physicians say frankly that they cannot tell. I told Dr. Hoffman that I diagnosed my own case as bronchial pneumonia. He laughed, but did not say I was wrong."

"When I went to the hospital I had a feeling that I did not want it to turn out to be plague, though just why I cannot say, for whatever I did have, whether it was pneumonia or anything else, it was as severe as the plague could have been, and yet I survive it."

"My treatment at the hospital was all that I could ask. The medical attendance and the nursing was the best that could be given, and during my convalescence everything was done for me that could be done. The evening before I left, Sergeant Elvin and Mr. Miller, who have been attendants at the hospital from the beginning, and both of whom were good musicians, gave me a serenade."

"My mother is with me now; she wants to take me back to the Coast with her for a few weeks, and I think I shall go, though it is not fully decided yet."

Mrs. Levy is, of course, greatly rejoiced at her son's recovery. The news of his illness, with the uncertainty of what it was; the seeming certainty that it was plague, with the exaggerated rumors of the extent of the plague here, that were circulated in San Francisco, of course greatly alarmed the family, and gave them nothing but anxious moments until she arrived here, and could get word back to her husband.

Mr. Levy looks well; has a color in his face, and while immured in the hospital, took the opportunity to grow a Van Dyke beard.

SOME SUNDAY ACCIDENTS

QUITE A CHAPTER OF VARIOUS KINDS.

Two Men Thrown From Horses—One Falls From a Brake—Car Off the Track—Bad Hack Runaway.

James Thompson, a barkeeper at the Royal saloon, was thrown from his horse near Judge Wilcox's residence in Kalili yesterday, and very badly injured. He is now at the Queen's Hospital, where it will take some days to determine the full extent of his wounds. While returning to town the horse shied and ran under a kiawe tree, breaking the rider's leg, at the same time Mr. Thompson was drawn off the horse, sustaining a bad cut in the back of the head and some internal bruises. The police patrol wagon brought the injured man back to the city.

Joe Rodriguez, a guard at the insane asylum, was thrown from his horse at a point near E. O. Hall & Son's on King street. After brushing the tree at McIntyre's corner the runaway sped out King to Alakea. There an attempt was made to turn, and horse and rider dashed into the side of the Occidental hotel. A large section near one of the doors was blown out, and the horse's hoofs went nearly through the wall. When the driver arrived his horse was flat on the sidewalk, but, strangely enough, was not badly injured.

A Beretania street car ran off the track at the switch near the corner of Beretania and Emma streets last night. The passengers were badly jolted up, but no one was hurt.

A hack runaway yesterday was most remarkable in that no one was hurt and that the horse was not killed. The rig belonged to the Club stand, and started from a point near E. O. Hall & Son's on King street. After brushing the tree at McIntyre's corner the runaway sped out King to Alakea. There an attempt was made to turn, and horse and rider dashed into the side of the Occidental hotel. A large section near one of the doors was blown out, and the horse's hoofs went nearly through the wall. When the driver arrived his horse was flat on the sidewalk, but, strangely enough, was not badly injured.

PHILLIPS BUSINESS SOLD

John Phillips' plumbing business will be sold for $4,000. This was decided by Judge Silliman at the chambers this morning. The administrator, J. A. Gilman, was offered this sum for the business, and had asked permission of the court to sell. It is understood that the purchaser is a new plumber, who will have an active part in the coming work of connecting the sewerage system with houses.

Judge Silliman this morning ordered the sale of the interest of certain heirs in land near the tram stables in Paia-ma. Some time ago a suit was brought by W. C. Achi against Nakamura and others for partition of the property. George Lucas was appointed master in the matter and he recommended that the property be sold. Today Mr. Lucas was directed to arrange for and conduct the sale.

The William Carson damage case was resumed before Judge Silliman this morning. Attorneys are now submitting argument. It is expected that the case can be finished in the next day or two.

J. A. Magoon this morning filed accounts in several estates. The annual accounts in the J. F. O. Banning estate showed receipts, $41,195, and expenditures, $38,610. In the Manuel estate receipts and expenditures were $1,800 each. In the James Love estate receipts were $1,350 and expenditures $2,312.80.

Judge Stanley will likely return to his duties next week. He has had quite a spell of malarial fever. Judge Perry is improving, and may also be on hand in the course of a few days. Lawyers are just now discussing the wisdom of keeping Judge Silliman on duty through the approaching term, it appearing that the two regular judges will have more on their hands than they can possibly attend to.

WATER AND IRISH MOSS.

The case against C. Lambro charged with selling adulterated milk was continued in the district court this morning until tomorrow. It is understood that the case will be vigorously fought by the defense. Lambro's milk is said to have been adulterated with water and Irish moss. It is said that the testimony to be produced on the trial of the case will prove a revelation of some of the methods of some of the dairies.

NEW MALE QUARTETTE.

HONOLULU COSTS MOST

CAPTAINS PREFER THE ISLAND PORTS.

Can Discharge More Quickly and Cheaply at Any of the Other Port. Charges Here Complained of.

"Honolulu is the slowest port for discharging vessels in the Hawaiian Islands," said the captain of a recently arrived ship this morning, "and there is no port like it in the world for assessing ships for every cent that can be got out of them. It seems as though the only idea was to get every cent a captain can be made to pay and this system is hurting the pilots."

The captain has a coal ship. He says that he could have gone to Kahului, Kihel, or any other island port and put his cargo ashore for less than he is paying here and in quicker time. In this he is borne out by many other captains, and there is very general complaint at the charges made here.

The pilot boat fee and wharfage charges are the principal items that arouse complaint. A recent rule compels ships that arrive to pay five dollars each for the boats that bring pilots to them. This is a charge which, it is said, is not made at any other port in the world. The wharfage rules compel the captains to pay wharfage whenever they are discharging freight that goes to a wharf. If they lie in the stream and send freight ashore full wharfage is charged. At thirty dollars a day or more this amounts to quite a big item before a vessel gets away. In other ports the rule is to charge only a half wharfage under such circumstances. "If we go to any of the other island ports," said the captain quoted, "we get through quicker, have less to pay for towing, pilot fees, nothing for wharfage and the labor is cheaper."

The reason for the slow time in Honolulu is simply the old story of an overcrowded harbor. The other island ports are better able to handle what business they have than Honolulu is. Look after its business, and at every one of the island ports the men in charge put forth their best efforts to make the record, for the good name of the port.

BREAKS THE RECORD.

The District court broke the record this morning. Judge Wilcox disposed of 98 cases in exactly 120 minutes. These cases included 20 drunks who were nearly all fined $2 and costs, 65 gamblers who were rounded up Saturday night by Deputy "Chillinsworth" and posse, who were nearly all got the same, and a number of other cases of various sorts. One of these was the case of George Patterson, who was charged with selling liquor at Waikeiki without a license. He forfeited his bail of $100.

EJECTED FROM A CAR.

Antone de Lacruz was fined $10 and costs this morning in the District Court for malicious mischief. He boarded a King street car Saturday night and began using foul and abusive language to the driver in the hearing of all the passengers. The driver immediately put him off the car and the struggle Lacruz struck at the driver with a heavy headed cane, breaking a panel of the car door. The driver was commended by Judge Wilcox for ejecting Lacruz from the car under the circumstances.

WANT AFFIDAVITS.

The Chinese colony is still worked up over the scheme to deport reformer Leung Chi-so. Harry Evans says that "Chinese are trying to find out from him who the parties to the deal were and that he has been asked to make affidavits in the matter. He declares that he has made no affidavit so far."

STORMY DAY AT KAHULUI

THE SCHOONER MOKIHANA IS WRECKED.

A Bark in Collision With the Steamer Centennial—Name of Vessel Which Collided, not Known.

The island schooner Mokihana was wrecked last Wednesday at Kahului, during a heavy northeast blow. She was anchored in the harbor, but the wind reached such violence that she could not hold on and she was driven far ashore. Her bottom is reported to be ruined, and she is so far in shore that there is no hope of saving her. The Mokihana is one of the smaller island schooners, and has been running between Maui and Hawaii ports for some time. She was an old schooner, owned by a Portuguese, and sailed by natives and Portuguese.

During the same blow that sent the Mokihana ashore, the steamer Centennial and a bark in the harbor got afoul of one another. The bark ran into the steamer and did a good deal of damage on deck, breaking the cabins. It is not known which of the vessels in the harbor was the one that struck the Centennial. The captain of the Alice Kimball, which was in the harbor at the time, thinks that the Emily F. Whitney, Captain Pendleton, was the vessel. The Emily F. Whitney arrived at Kahului in ballast from Manila, on April 2, to load sugar. The other vessels in the harbor are the schooners Novelty, Helen N. Kimball and Dora Blum, and the barkentine Chehalis.

WE ARE NOT exactly selling our goods at auction, but we are doing the next best thing by selling them at greatly reduced prices. It is not our habit to carry goods over from one season to another, so we must sell our remnants of sizes at once, and at such prices that you will save money by buying of us. ## What Next?

There is a point beyond which the tired brain and worn-out nerves seem to lose all power of recuperation, and when that point is reached the only end is insanity and death. If you are nervous, restless, irritable of temper, have no appetite for food and cannot sleep at night; if you are despondent, melancholy, have no ambition for work and no ability to concentrate your thoughts, ask yourself that question, "What next?" There is one thing you can do that will bring the answer you so much desire. If you will begin at once with Dr. Miles' Nervine it will give you the rest, the quiet, the sweet, refreshing sleep that leads to life renewed and health restored.

"For six months I was so nervous that I could not sleep in bed, and would sometimes have to be carried out of doors to get fresh air. Then my body would get numb and perspiration would drip from every pore. I would have spells of blues and melancholy, frequently breaking out with sobs and crying. The best doctors here could give me no relief, and seeing an advertisement of Dr. Miles' Nervine I decided to try it. After using it two days I went to bed and slept all night—the first time in nearly a year. Then a load seemed to fall from my shoulders and from that day I continued to get strong until my health was completely restored."

CREMATION NOT CATHOLIC

THE CHURCH FORBIDS IT TO ITS MEMBERS.

The Bishop of Honolulu Announces the Position the Church Takes On the Subject—The Proclamation.

As is well known, the Catholic church does not approve of cremation as a means of disposing of the dead, the highest authorities of the church having disapproved of it. It is considered a pagan rite. The great sacrificing labor of the early Christians in excavating at herculean cost of labor and money the catacombs of Rome as a place of inhumation and sepulture, rather than follow the Roman custom of incineration, is pointed to as a proof of the thought of the early church on the subject.

Now that incineration is proposed as a means of disposing of the dead here in Honolulu, the local church authorities have taken opportunity to publicly state the position the church takes in the matter.

The Rt. Rev. Gulestan Ropert, Bishop of Honolulu, and vicar apostolic, has issued the following, addressed to the clergy and laity of the Catholic church in Hawaii:

"It is my duty as your bishop, now that some people are working to substitute cremation, an old pagan rite, for the Christian rite of inhumation, to acquaint you with the rules adopted by the church in regard to this matter.

"On the 19th of May, 1886, a decree, approved by Pope Leo XIII, declares: 1st. A Catholic cannot become a member of any society which imposes cremation. 2d. No Catholic shall ask cremation for himself nor for anybody else.

"On the 15th of December, 1886, another decree, approved by the same authority, declares that the ceremonies of the church must be refused to any one not having retracted his request to be cremated; but the church allows the ceremonies to be performed on the bodies, at home or in the church, of those who are to be cremated by orders issued by the government or by some other authority.

"These are the rules of our church in regard to cremation and my wish is that every Catholic in this country should keep them as the church has good reasons for imposing them on her children."

BY AUTHORITY

SANITARY REGULATIONS OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

At a meeting of the Board of Health held on the 18th day of April, 1900, the following amendments and additions were made to the Sanitary Regulations of the Board of Health adopted January 25, 1900, viz:

Section 6 was amended by adding the words "floor or floors or the ground under the" thereto, so that said section shall read as follows:

"Section 6—All houses, structures, rooms or parts thereof, in which water is used or intended to be used, in such quantity as to render the floor or floors or the ground under the floor or floors thereof damp, shall have such floor or floors made absolutely water-proof with proper drainage into trapped leaders conveying the water away into cesspool or sewer; and the water-proofing of all such floors shall be done in a manner satisfactory to the Board of Health."

Section 8 was amended by adding the words, "unless the sides and bottom are cemented and made watertight," so that said section shall read as follows:

"Section 8—No privy, vault, sink or cesspool in Honolulu shall hereafter be located or constructed within fifty feet of any stream, lake, pond, well or spring of water unless the sides and bottom are cemented and made watertight, nor within two feet of the line of any lot; nor shall it be made more than eighteen or less than six feet deep or placed in such a position that it is not easily accessible for emptying and cleaning."

Section 19 was amended by adding the words "sinks and bathtubs" after "urinals," and the following sentence to said section: "Waste water from sinks, bathtubs, places where washing is done or water closets shall not be allowed to discharge into any stream, lake, pond or ditch," so that said section shall read:

"Section 19—All connection to cesspools or privy vaults shall be made with cast iron, lead or vitrified sewer pipe. All urinals, sinks and bathtubs shall be connected to cesspools, vaults or sewer by trapped waste pipes. Waste water from sinks, bathtubs, places where washing is done or water closets shall not be allowed to discharge into any stream, lake, pond or ditch."

And the following regulation regarding the manufacture of poi in the city of Honolulu be added and made section 30 of the Sanitary Regulations of the Board, viz:

"Section 30—Each and every building where poi is manufactured by manual labor shall be laid with cement floors, with gutters leading into a trap drain connected with a cesspool, or the sewer system when completed."

Dated April 19, 1900, and published by order of the Board of Health.

President.

MONDAY, APRIL 23, 1900.

The plan of the Council of State as outlined by one in their councils is to throw the responsibility of the "Court of Claims" upon the Executive. At present the responsibility rests with the Council of State. It is also more than likely that tactics may be employed to adjourn over tomorrow so that definite news from Washington may arrive before the appropriation bill is finally passed.

Two unfortunate Japanese who lost their all in the Chinatown fire, completed their respective terms of fifteen days each in jail, because they had committed the crime of having no money to pay their taxes. Both of them were turned out penniless, with a shirt, trousers and an old straw hat, to begin the world with. Had it not been that the police authorities chipped in to get the poor fellows over Sunday, they might have starved during that day of rest, and meditated upon the beneficent way in which the Hawaiian tax office is run. The publican of Judea and other Roman provinces, seem to be the models taken. Much wrong may be done in a perfectly legal way, if the wielder of the power only studies how to make it bear hardy.

Judge Silliman, in a communication to the Washington Star, speaks of the "Hokupu" system of labor. The Judge has fallen into a slight error. A "Hokupu" is a reception where the Hawaiians come to some notable person and present time with gifts. These may vary from a bullock to a dozen bananas. In later years it even became the custom to drop money into a calabash, instead of the gift of produce. The term the Judge was aiming at was "Uku pau." In this a certain stint of work is given, and when it is completed the laborer can go home. Under certain circumstances the system works well, and the laborer prefers it to regular labor by the hour, as by working hard he can gain time for himself, and quit work earlier. It does not answer with a class of laborers who are careless and scamp their work. In such cases it only leads to disagreement.

THE SAILOR PROBLEM.

A letter written by a seaman of experience, who has practically gone through the steps of a sea life, till success has given him rest and leisure ashore, appears in this issue. It is from the practical men that light upon the sailor's life is thrown. The Star correspondent points out that the sailor, as often as not, knows more of the methods of shore life than the officers of deep sea vessels, and that if a change is to come it must come from above. If the captains of deep water ships want sailors, they must treat their sailors like men, and not bully them themselves, nor allow their officers to bully them.

The suggestion that the middle man should be done away with is a good one. "An Old Seaman" says that captains should advertise for employees in the same manner as any other legitimate business advertises. He further suggests that notice boards should be put up at the Sailors' Home, and the ships, character of crew, rate of wages and so forth, posted upon these. This would form a sort of sailors' exchange, to which sailors out of work might go in order to find out what billets are to be had.

That the discussion opened up in consequence of The Star's investigations as to the unemployed will do good is evident. It has brought out a variety of opinions, pro and con, upon the subject of middle men. As The Star understands it, Captain Bray does not propose to do away with the middle man, but he intends to show how the duties of the middle man can be carried out in a manner which will be satisfactory to the seaman and the skipper. As was remarked last Saturday, every one who takes an interest in the sailor will take an interest in the work of Captain Bray.

RIOTOUS ASSEMBLIES.

The Japanese problem is constantly cropping up. It was only the other day that the Japanese of Lahaina went on strike, and tried to overawe the authorities of the plantation by a display of force. Some months ago the Japanese upon the Kahuku plantation had a disagreement with their Chinese co-workers, and the affair resulted in an emeute during which several Chinese were killed or seriously injured. Now we have a case where, according to the plantation account, a man was struck, but was not injured, while the Japanese account says he was. But the merits of the case are not in controversy. No sooner do the Japanese have what they consider a grievance, but they immediately do what they did at Lahaina, and make a display of force to overawe the authorities.

This proneness to rush to force is one of the worst characteristics of the Japanese. They have their consul; they have their labor inspector, and an appeal to the one is followed by an investigation by the other, or by both. If, every time an accident happened, or a man in authority misbehaved, as misbehave such men will, people of other nationalities proceeded to show force, we should have a pretty turbulent time from one end of the Islands to the other.

The lower classes of Japanese, according to the Japanese papers, are constantly giving trouble to their own government. They have lost their docility with their increasing prosperity. Outwardly they are most polite, but they are prone to sudden lawless acts. They must be educated into the idea that the law, and not themselves, is the appeal for any wrong done, and that to assemble in a riotous manner, and to use threats, is in itself a breach of the law. The sooner this lesson is thoroughly inculcated, the better it will be for our future.

After a long career, crowned by great financial success James Campbell, who has for many years figured as one of our most prominent moneyed men, has joined the great majority. Starting from humble beginnings the late Mr. Campbell acquired a fortune valued in the millions. He was one of the largest landowners in the country, and possessed a considerable quantity of city property. Though the foundation of his fortune was in the sugar industry, he eventually withdrew from it and made his investments in other directions, some of his vast fortune being invested on the Mainland. As an instance of the ability to acquire wealth in spite of apparently insurmountable difficulties, James Campbell was a notable example among the many successful men of the Western Hemisphere.

RUMOR.

Some people seem to take a wicked pleasure in circulating reports about plague cases. On Saturday some unscrupulous rascal circulated a report of plague, and in a few moments half the town was besieging the health office to know the truth of the report. The medical authorities and the newspapers at once started out to trace the matter up, with the result that it was discovered to be the vilest canard, which had been set afloat "as a joke." It was a very, very poor "joke," and were the "joker's" name published he would find himself learning that such kind of a "joke" is resented by the community at large.

Again, yesterday, there was a similar rumor going round the streets in the morning, and meeting the people as they assembled at the church doors. This was founded upon the fact that there had been a sudden death, but one would think that before circulating a rumor about plague, the people who circulated it would take care to have some basis of authority.

The facility with which rumors are circulated in the Islands is a peculiarity. Not long ago it was stated on Hawaii that Bob Scott had died of plague, and an obituary notice of him appeared in a Hilo paper, which he must have pasted in his scrap book. A couple of years or so ago the rumor came from Maui that Judge Kalua had died, and the Honolulu papers published obituary notices of that gentleman, who has since exercised his judicial functions with considerable vigor.

It was only the other day that a passenger on the Australia, announced, for a "joke," that Harold M. Sewall was appointed governor. The rumor mongers never paused to think that no appointment would be made until the bill had passed, but the rumor was passed from mouth to mouth, until it appeared in very full detail, one particular Ananias stating that he had seen the appointment.

Again, yesterday, there was a rumor that Lahaina mill had been burned down by striking Japs. Investigation proved that there no truth in the matter.

The success of these rumors depends upon their possible probability. Some times they are the result of misinformation and misunderstanding, sometimes of hasty generalization, and sometimes, like the plague rumor of Saturday, are to be charged to direct falsehood. The Hawaiian Islands are not the only place where rumors run riot. In the early fifties the whole military force of Siberia was put in motion on account of a rumor that there was a rising of the Tartars. Their numbers were put down at a couple of hundred thousand, and horse, foot, and artillery were promptly concentrated on the River Irtysh to meet them. The rumor arose from the escape of a dozen or so Persian prisoners from the mines.

Every country is full of rumors. Every age has had its crop of rumors. Better communication and the electric telegraph have done much to put an end to rumor, though they sometimes disseminate it quicker and to a wider extent. How to deal with rumor is a hard problem. Sometimes it is spread in perfect good faith; sometimes it is absolutely malicious. But the rumor spread in perfect good faith, may be more hurtful than the malicious rumor.

As long as the human race has the power of speech and of imagination, as long as it has the unmathematical proclivity of adding two and two together and making five out of the combination, so long will rumor spread from mouth to mouth and influence mind and mind. Exercise as much care as we may, be as cynical and unimaginative as we may, rumors will have their effect upon the strongest minded among us. Rumor is an insidious foe, and it is hard to keep it out, even by the best of safeguards.

We have received Ex "Warrimoo"

What we believe will be the last shipment of European Goods to come in under the old tariff, and while we have been importing all kinds of staple and fancy dry goods direct right along, the shipment just to hand, will place us in a very enviable position. Out of the very many kinds of goods included in this shipment, we desire to talk of only one kind to-day, the kind of goods that we excel in, and the kind that every lady in the land is interested in. We mean:

"Black and Colored Grepons"

Dame fashion has decided, that crepons will be more largely worn this season than ever. We had a presentiment of the kind, and made our purchases accordingly. The result is,

The largest and most representative line of Popular and Exclusive Designs ever Imported,

Only one piece of a kind tho' don't forget that, it is important. We found out long ago, that in a small community like ours, it is a mistake to import more than one piece of a kind. Ladies do not like to feel that there are dozens of the same kind of dresses to be seen on Fort Street every day in the week. We wish to impress upon you however, that although our stock is large to-day, the ever increasing demand for popular and good wearing materials will soon diminish it, "and that these goods cannot be replaced at the prices we are offering them at to-day."

ANOTHER WAR IN PALAMA

THIS TIME THEY ARE AFTER JUVEN.

Church People Petition Against the Establishment of a Saloon There, Ishiwaras Being Located.

Palama people are on the war path again. This time their "Oom Paul" is Harry Juen and the object of attack is the saloon he purposes establishing opposite the lumber yard of the Oahu Lumber & Building Company. Juen has his license and is preparing to open business. Palama residents are getting up a petition to the Government against the establishment of a saloon in that district.

Juen has had rather hard luck in the past few months. As proprietor of the Louvre saloon in Nuuanu street, he lost his property during the plague here. He asked the government for another site and was told to select one. A half dozen selected were not satisfactory. The one in Palama was approved.

The fight of Palama residents against the establishment of Ishiwaras in the same locality was only partially successful. Marshal Brown has addressed a letter to them telling them to go to twif. It is understood that they not only refuse to comply but that the building for them is already going up rapidly and will soon be occupied. The punishment will be that their registration certificates will be cancelled. This will not be effective, however, as convictions in all such matters are next to impossible. The recourse of the police will necessarily be to the vagrancy laws.

It is learned from the men having the matter in charge (who are among the most prominent Japanese in the country) that the building will go on and the women be established there. They affirm that at no other place can the evil be more successfully handled, from a police and every other standpoint.

PUBLIC CONCERT.

POWER HOUSE BIDS.

The bids for the power house of the new wireless back company were opened Saturday, and resulted as follows: Lucas Brothers, $42,976; Burrows, $42,912; John Oudekirk, $37,133; Campbell & Bettus, $29,705. The last bid is for a concrete floor, the others being for brick. A meeting of the officers will have to be held to decide which plan shall be accepted. The building is to be completed in three months.

WOMAN DIED SUDDENLY.

The sudden death of a native woman in a hack yesterday was the cause of another plague rumor. The woman, whose name was Pihua, lived in Iwilei, and had been sick a long time with a common disease. Sunday morning it was decided to remove her to the Queen's Hospital. She was put in a hack and died on the way. The body was taken charge of by the police and sent to the morgue, where an autopsy was held by Dr. Hoffman.

ACCIDENTALLY SCALDED.

Melville, the eight-year-old son of Fred J. Turner, was badly scalded at noon on Friday, and is still in a bad condition, though much better than on Thursday. He was out playing and ran into the dining room just in time to meet the waiter carrying two plates of soup. There was a collision, and both plates of the hot stuff went on the little fellow's breast. Dr. McGrew is in attendance. Nearly all the skin is off both sides of the breast and one arm.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

The services at the Christian church last night in memorial of Rev. William A. Gardner, were well attended. The members of George De Long Post, G. A. R., of which post the deceased was a member, were in attendance. The services were conducted by Rev. J. C. Hay, pastor of the church. The services included short memorial addresses by W. C. Weedon, J. T. Taggart, Rev. W. K. Azbill, Professor Howland, H. E. Coleman, Rev. J. C. Hay and R. J. Green of the Grand Army Post. Letters were read from Rev. G. L. Pearson of the Methodist church, and Rev. William M. Kincaid of Central Union church. A poem, "Fallen! On Zion's Battlefield," was read by Mrs. J. L. Hopper.

Rev. William A. Gardner was for a year pastor of the Christian church, finishing his pastorate a few months ago. He died early in this month in California.

Dr. Davis expects his family by an early steamer from the Coast, after which he will probably open an office and settle in Honolulu. His friends are urging him to do this.

Chills

Ever become chilled through and through? The acute sensation of cold is followed by feverishness and aches in all parts of the body. Finally the whole trouble settles in the throat and lungs in the shape of a cough. There is nothing so bad for a cough as coughing.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

will cure these chills and coughs. A few doses are sufficient at first. More time is required later on.

Stop coughing and you will get well. Keep coughing and you invite bronchitis, pneumonia, or even consumption itself. Better stop your cough at once and thus end the whole matter.

THE SHIPPING PROBLEM

REMARKS FROM AN OLD SAILOR

He Favors a System of Advertising, and Would Do Away With the Middle Men Entirely.

Editor Star: Complaints appear at different times about the difficult problem of dealing with Jack ashore. Like his prototype, Tommy Atkins, he is looked upon as rather a fine fellow when at his work breasting the billows, but directly he gets ashore he is considered fair game, to be robbed of his hard earnings, and to be hustled off to sea again as soon as possible. The average Jack of the present day (I am speaking now of the merchant service only) is not a very sensible fellow, or he would not follow such a precarious mode of livelihood, but he is, at the same time, not so foolish as most people give him credit for being. He only wants to be treated like an ordinary man to develop into a respectable member of society. That no successful effort has been made in this direction is due almost entirely to the fact that being a bird of passage, he has no political influence in this or any other country.

The reform, to be effected, must start with the captains and officers. Paradoxical as it may appear, Jack, who comes ashore every night, and then, knows more of the world than the average master or mate of a sailing vessel. Jack goes to sea a young fellow; his head filled with all sorts of romantic nonsense. A very short time suffices to knock all that out of him. After being completely disillusioned he is induced by some old shipmate to make a break ashore in California or Australia, perhaps. He gets away up country, and finding for the first time that he is treated like a man, he contrasts the civility he meets with ashore with the bullying that he gets even on the best ship afloat, and from that time he only goes to sea (in deep water) when he is compelled to, or when he wants to go to some other country.

The average officer has not this experience. He has perhaps risen from apprentice to mate or master; he has a comparatively easy billet, and therefore, no inducement to clear ashore. He may pass half a lifetime without having any acquaintance with shore usages, beyond what can be seen in a few hours run. He has no opportunity of seeing how work is carried on without any necessity for the bullying style which is considered absolutely necessary at sea. Consequently, he carries on in the same old style that may have been suitable fifty years ago, viz., that of treating men as children. To be coaxed or bullied while, as a matter of fact, some of those men know more of the world than he is ever likely to know.

A man that really likes the sea tries to get a job on a steamer or coaster, where he gets a certain amount of civility, and only goes on deep water, when he cannot help himself.

The letter of a captain, stating that shipping runners are a necessity, shows clearly that he is one of the old school. He says, also, that sailors cannot be trusted to come on board on time, without being rounded up like a mob of sheep. Now, there is a good opportunity of proving or disproving this contention, right here in Honolulu, and Captain Gray of the Sailors' Home, who having had some experience on shore, appears to me to know how to handle the matter.

When a vessel arrives here wanting hands, if the captain would simply notify Captain Gray, instead of employing some longshore loafer, to get him a crew, I have no doubt that Captain Gray would be willing to put up a notice board at the Home, stating, every morning, what ships wanted hands, where bound, wages and all other particulars. A seaman on shore here, who wanted to ship, would call down to the Home, examine the board, and when he had picked a ship to suit, could either go on board and see the captain personally, or make arrangements through Captain Gray. This would do away with the middle man, whom Jack detests, and, of course, charges him accordingly.

Under the present system, a ship arrives here and is boarded by the longshore loafer aforesaid. He sees the captain, and if hands are wanted, he of course, explains on the difficulty of procuring them, and tries to impress the captain with the belief that he (the loafer) is the only man capable of doing so. The captain agrees and troubles no more about the matter. If a seaman on shore wants to know of a ship, he has at present to inquire from the crimps, who plays the same game on him that he has done already on the captain, viz., he tells him that he can get him a ship, but it will be difficult and, of course, charges him accordingly.

There have been a number of sailors employed ashore here at different jobs, and I think that if the employers of these men were questioned they would freely admit that a sailor is a willing and reliable worker. There are, of course, some bad eggs among them, as with all other classes, but I have heard employers here and in other parts of the world say that for a willing, resourceful and reliable worker the sailor ashore cannot be surpassed. The secret of it is that the sailor, finding himself treated like a man, goes to work with a will, and is just as much to be depended on to keep his engagements as any other individual.

The captain having left the selection of his crew to the crimp, gets his crew at the last minute. This crimp, of course, explains that this is owing to the immense difficulty that he has in rounding them up, and when the ship puts to sea, the captain finds that perhaps four or five of them have never been to sea before. If, instead of deputing his business to another, he advertised for men, as any employer would do, he could see the men himself, and judge of their capabilities before shipping them.

I might cite here the example of Captain Gray of the old Great Britain. His invariable custom was to see, personally, every man that joined her, and when he got men he treated them with respect and insisted on his officers doing likewise. The result was that when the gold fever was at its height in Australia, and ships lay for months in Melbourne harbor, unable to get crews, the Great Britain was never delayed a single day, and Captain Gray was well served to the day of his death.

AN OLD SEAMAN.

A GOOD THING.
There's one good thing when they feel dry.

That business men cannot pass by. For far and wide it's fame you hear. They stop to drink of "Rainier" beer. On draught or in bottle at civilization.

JAMES CAMPBELL IS DEAD

FOR FIFTY YEARS A RESIDENT OF HAWAII.

Came to the Island as a Ship's Carpenter Early Engaged in the Sugar Industry—Amassed Wealth.

James Campbell, for fifty years a resident of the Hawaiian Islands and a considerable figure in their industrial development, died Saturday afternoon of uremia, at his residence on Emma street, aged about seventy-two years. The funeral will take place from his late residence at a quarter to three o'clock this afternoon. The services will be conducted by Bishop Willis. The interment will be in the family lot in Nuunuu cemetery. The pall-bearers will be: Joseph O. Carter, H. von Holt, E. S. Cunha, J. M. Dowsett, and Godfrey Brown.

Mr. Campbell had been sick for about three months, most of the time confined to the house. He was taken ill while on a visit to the coast. He arrived here about two weeks ago on the Australia, and though well enough to walk about for a few days, became worse soon, and died Saturday. James Campbell was born in Londonderry, Ireland, and came to Hawaii as a ship's carpenter on a whaling vessel, landing at Lahaina in 1852. There he took up his trade as a carpenter, and lived in the family of a white man known as Baria. He married Hannah, a daughter of his host. She died about 1858 without issue. In the early sixties he engaged in sugar planting, and in connection with Harry Turton established Pioneer Mill plantation. This was brought up to be a very valuable property, and shortly after the ratification of the treaty of Reciprocity, Campbell offered to sell his interest to Turton or buy Turton's for half a million dollars. Turton bought, though for various causes the property did not prosper under his single management, and Campbell afterwards bought the property. For the last fifteen or twenty years of his life Campbell was not directly interested in sugar planting, investing his capital in lands and buildings, both here and on the coast, a fine hotel in San Jose, California, being one of his latest investments. He owned much of the land included in Ewa plantation, the Ehlers and Ellis blocks in Honolulu, besides much other property. It is estimated that he was worth at his death $3,000,000.

He himself said that the principle upon which he had accumulated his wealth was in always living on less than he made. While not prodigal in his expenditures, he gave much to causes both political and charitable in which he was interested. The last fifteen years of his life was spent largely in travel for the education and pleasure of his children. Four years ago, while visiting in San Francisco he was abducted and kept in a house in the Western Addition for two days and nights, the purpose being to compel him to pay a big ransom. One of the men alleged to have been his abductors, Oliver Winthrop, was sentenced to life imprisonment after a trial that attracted a great deal of attention.

In 1879, Mr. Campbell married Abigail Mainpine Bright, who bore him eight children, four of whom with their mother survive. These are: Abigail and Alice who are at Notre Dame seminary, San Jose, Muriel and Mary Beatrice.

THE BEST IN THE WORLD.
We believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best in the world. A few weeks ago we suffered with a severe cold and a troublesome cough, and having read their advertisements in our own and other papers we purchased a bottle to see how it would affect us. It cured us before the bottle was more than half used. It is the best medicine out for colds and coughs.—The Herald, Andersonville, Ind. For sale by all dealers. # Gent's Shirts

Just received direct from the factories at Troy, N. Y., a splendid line of GENTS' SHIRTS, in dress, colored and negligee. In buying these shirts we have exercised the greatest care, first as to their fit and correctness of style, and in case of the colored ones in the very exacting manner of our examination in regard to their fastness of color, we doing our best to satisfy ourselves that we were getting but absolutely fast colors in these shirts, and hope we have succeeded.

Call and see them and the line of Gents' FURNISHINGS and UNDERWEAR we carry. To housekeepers who might require them in a hurry, we wish to state that housekeeper who might require them in SHEETS and PILLOWCASES, ready made in all sizes and qualities and at prices we think will be satisfactory.

We have placed on sale this week a line of LADIES' FAST BLACK HEMDORF DYED HOSE, received direct from the factory in Germany (thus avoiding the American duty), which we are offering at the very low price of six pairs for $1.00. Now this is an opportunity not often offered for ladies to supply themselves with a good staple article of every day use at such a very low price. We do not claim them to be the finest, but a good strong article of absolutely fast dye.

In addition to the above we have our usual complete line of LADIES' AND GENTS' MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S NOSIERY Which have their own established reputation.

We have just received a small choice line of

Genuine Scotch Zephyrs

Now we do not advertise these as cheap goods at all, but just the kind a lady would select to make a gown of that which she would look stylish in, but that would stand the kind of laundering it would receive here.

A small and carefully selected lot of Printed Pure IRISH LINEN LAWNS in neat and modest designs and colorings, twelve-yard lengths, which we are offering at just about half the price that they will have to be sold for when imported under the American tariff laws.

Of course all ladies know of the great durability of Irish Linen and its delightful coolness, and here where we use wash goods the year around it pays to buy a good article that one can feel justified in expending the time and money necessary in making up in a manner that one would—not on a cheap article that one would have to cast aside after the first laundering. For trimmings these same goods we have a very complete assortment to choose from, of Embroideries of all kinds, CAMBRIC, NAINSOOK and SWISS EDGINGS and INSERTIONS, and All-overs and Laces of every description. These all imported by us direct from Europe in bond.
