HOW BROWN,

Waterhouse and Robinson Were Nominated.

Union is Strength—Division is Defeat.

The following circular has been issued by the joint Executive Committee of the Independent and Liberal parties:

In all communities where Anglo-Saxon methods of government prevail, it has become recognized that the accomplishment of political ends must be by combination and unity of action.

A hundred men acting each on their own responsibility and according to their own personal preferences, without regard to what the other ninety-nine are going to do, is simply a mob, and will accomplish nothing; while the same one hundred men acting as a unit, on one line of action, with one purpose and towards one end, is a tremendous power.

It is the recognition of this fact that has developed party government in England and the United States.

The principle has not been so well developed in Hawaii, but the day when individual candidates, not representing any particular principle, can nominate themselves, and giving no reason for so doing, run successfully in Honolulu against a nominated candidate representing certain definite principles and a definite party organization, are rightfully and properly past.

The old Honolulu method was for every man in the town, who chose to do so, to nominate himself, and get his name onto as many combination tickets as possible. It was "every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost."

Mr. Cecil Brown does not seem to recognize the changed situation, and is running on the outgrown old method of nominating himself, and running without organization.

THE CIRCUMSTANCES CONNECTED WITH THE NOMINATION OF WATERHOUSE AND ROBINSON ARE AS FOLLOWS:

The by-election had been advertised for two weeks, and the election was no appearance of political activity anywhere except among the reactionary wing of the Liberals, and the Mechanics' Union, which had nominated Hopkins and Maile.

When matters were in this condition, a committee from the progressive wing of the Liberals waited upon some of those who had been active members of the Reform party, and some of those who had organized in the last election to elect Mr. Wilder, and suggested the advisability of agreeing on a ticket to oppose the Hopkins-Maile ticket.

This was agreed to, and a meeting of representative Independents was held, and a large number of others consulted. As a result, a committee was appointed to confer with the Liberal committee, and were instructed that the preference of the Independents was first, Cecil Brown, second Henry Waterhouse.

The Independent committee immediately waited on Mr. Brown, stated all the circumstances to him; told him that they were not authorized to offer him the nomination, but asked if they might present his name for nomination. Mr. Brown replied that he had continuously refused to run, but would consider the matter.

The committee then waited on Mr. Waterhouse and made the same statement. He replied that the committee were at liberty to use his name. If nominated, he would run; if not, he would not run.

The two committees then met. The Liberals named as their first choice, Henry Waterhouse. The Independents named Cecil Brown. This was on Friday, September 16. These and other names were discussed and no conclusion arrived at.

On Saturday, Mr. Brown was still unable to say whether he would run or not.

The two committees met again on Saturday and the Liberals objected to Mr. Brown's name, but would agree to either Mark Robinson or Robert Halstead.

On Monday morning Mr. Brown was still unable to say whether he would accept a nomination or not.

The Independent Committee thereupon reported back what the situation was to the Independent meeting.

The circumstances then were:

1st. The Liberals had agreed to Mr. Waterhouse, one of the nominees of the Independents.

2d. They were willing to agree to Mr. Robinson an unexceptionable candidate, and objected to Mr. Brown.

3d. Mr. Brown would not say whether he would run or not, even if nominated.

Under these circumstances the meeting agreed to nominate Waterhouse and Robinson.

Before making the nomination official, however, the ratification of a larger number of Independents than had been able to be consulted before hand, was sought, and the signatures of over 300 Noble voters were obtained to a written statement approving the nomination and asking Messrs. Waterhouse and Robinson to run.

Mr. Brown was immediately informed by a committee what action had been taken, whereupon he gave expression to his opinions in more or less violent language and announced that he was going to run anyway, which he proceeded to do.

The situation therefore is as follows:—

1st. Mr. Waterhouse was the voluntary choice of both parties.

2d. Mr. Brown was the first choice of the Independents, and his name was dropped partly because he would not say whether he would run or not, the time being short; and partly to arrive at a harmonious combination, securing the approval and assistance of an active and well organized body of voters.

This is the plain unvarnished tale of how Waterhouse and Robinson came to be nominated, and how Mr. Brown came to run independently.

Upon this statement we confidently appeal to all who believe that good citizens, desiring good government, should combine, instead of frittering away their efforts and dividing their strength by dividing their votes among two men, when the sole object in view can be obtained only by concentrating votes upon one man.

All voters who desire good government and desire to use the most effective means to secure it, are therefore urged to vote the straight ticket, Waterhouse and Robinson.

OYSTERS AND SEEDS

Are valuable for what's in 'em. Good and bad oysters look alike in the shell. Good and bad seeds often have the same appearance. Any one can tell a worthless oyster on opening it. The value of a seed must be determined by its growth. This makes its quality worth considering. You want seeds that will grow, and you want the product to be of value. There is but one guarantee: the reliability of the firm from which you buy.

How to Mark Your Ticket.

The ballots will contain five names, which are here given:

H. WATERHOUSE,
M. P. ROBINSON,
C. L. HOPKINS.

Do you want to see the resources of the country developed?
A MASTERLY STRADDLE.

The backers of Messrs. Maile and Hopkins announce their intention to hold a ratification meeting to-night. On this occasion the views of these candidates on the subject of the lottery will be looked for with much interest. Their friends—or those of them who have not received a private tip—will naturally want to find out how their candidates stand. Their patience has already been sadly abused, and they have been compelled to "go it blind" up to the eleventh hour, and beyond. Mr. Hopkins has been applying the powers of his massive intellect to the lottery question so long that he surely ought to know now where he stands. If he has not satisfied himself by this time whether there is any money behind the scheme or not, he must be slower than the Bullet.

The straddle of the lottery which the Cabinet, its candidates and its organ have been making during the past few weeks is certainly a gymnastic feat of some difficulty, and the position must be getting painful by this time. The Ministry dares not support the lottery—for it has not the courage of its convictions,—and on the other hand it dares not oppose it, for that would alienate its boodle support, and leave it not a baker's dozen of votes. The dilemma is an awkward one, and doubtless the anti-pro-lottery Cabinet would have impaled itself ere this, and squirmed to death, if it had not been rescued by the masterly oratorical manoeuvres of Mr. Hopkins, and his anti-lottery-pro-lottery newspaper allies.

THE FRIENDSHIP OF THE UNITED STATES.

The affair of the shipwrecked W. A. Campbell has led to a great deal of ignorant and ill-advised censure of the American representatives. That a communication on this topic found its way by an oversight into the columns of the ADVERTISER is a circumstance for which we hasten to express our sincere regret. A great deal of the criticism referred to springs from sheer thoughtlessness. People do not pause to consider that the attacks on the accredited representatives of foreign powers for acts concerning solely their relation to the home governments, are not only personally insulting, but a gross violation of diplomatic propriety. That the Cabinet permits the use of its official organ for the dissemination of such attacks is an exhibition of anti-American feeling which must arouse the gravest solicitude.

The continued friendship of the United States is indispensable to the prosperity of this country, and to risk the possibility of its withdrawal would be sheer madness. The Great Republic has been from the days of the first Kamehameha, through an unbroken succession of years, Hawaii's benefactor and friend, and that Republic has never been more worthily represented at this Court than to-day. To mistake these facts is folly—to forget them, the basest ingratitude. If common decency and common honor cannot avail to keep them in mind, common prudence, at least, should do so. The imperative need of the hour is a government which shall endeavor to promote and extend the peaceful relations which connect us with the United States, and not one which airs its imaginary grievances and genuine ill-will by secret attacks in the newspapers, and splanetic resolutions in the House.

Honolulu Fire Department

A QUESTION HAVING ARISEN as to the qualification of Honolulu Firemen, I have sought legal advice and am advised to say that all members of the Honolulu Fire Department in good standing whether of senior or junior companies who have the necessary income or property qualifications, are entitled to vote for Nobles at the Election to be held on the 4th instant whether they have or have not the exemption certificates from the assessor or collector of taxes. All that is necessary to do for those who have not their exemption papers is to take the oath before the Inspectors of Election that they are members in good standing of the Honolulu Fire Department, the law exempting all Firemen from the payment of personal taxes.

THE FORT STREET SENSATION.

An Unusual Affair that will Draw Large Crowd.

Hard Times Snowed Under for a Week—An Unprecedented Announcement.

Times are rather hard just now,
but they will be considerably easier for a few days this week. Times will be rather lively, especially in the vicinity of one of our leading dry goods firms. You must come early to get a seat, but no one will care about sitting, for the rush for bargains will be such that the election or the lottery will be no where.

THE POLICE ARE IN IT.

A policeman or two will guard each door and when the building is comfortably full, the doors will be closed for the time. This will permit every one to size up the immensity of the bargains offered, and have time to regain their breath.

When one dollar will do the work of three or four, it is time to hunt around for your wits, and use them, too. Never before has such an opportunity been offered to the people of Honolulu, and if you want to be in it, you must be on hand.

"NOT TO BE MENTIONED."

This all means that, for some time to come, the entire stock of a large dry goods house will be at your disposal at prices not to be mentioned.

It means that you have the chance of a life-time. Prices are cut to pieces, abolished, annihilated!
Everything goes! An entire stock will be sold for cash at unheard of rates!

Be on hand and prepare for a surprise, prepare to be dazzled, rattled, thunderstruck with the multitude of bargains. Bring a dollar or two and a wheelbarrow and see that wheel-barrow fill up.

BEDROCK AND UNDER.

The above refers to the fact that the Temple of Fashion will inaugurate a BONA FIDE closing out sale, in which prices will be away below bedrock, and when you see the bargains your two eyes will bulge out like saucers. All lines of goods have been reduced to hard pan figures.

You have heard of instantaneous pictures? You come around to the Temple of Fashion before it is too late, and you will see some instan-taneous work that will surprise you.
Instantaneous bargains, that is it.
Instantaneous isn't the word.
Quicker than lightning on a down grade, is about the size of it.

KEEP COOL.

Keep cool—take a day off, and join the crowd and be happy. Take a few pointers on instantaneous bargains and fill that wheelbarrow. A dollar is as big as a cart-wheel, and will do wonders.

FIFTEEN MINUTES SUFFICIENT.

The proprietors of the Temple of Fashion stated to one of the ADVER-TISER reporters that the sale from now on will be unique; the prices will be unique, for they have never been touched before in Honolulu;
the sale is genuine, and will be continued until the entire stock is disposed of. A reporter saw some of the prices on hosiery, velvets, ribbons, embroideries, etc., and he thought at those figures that the

HYGIENE!

If you intend to do your part in looking after the sanitary condition of Honolulu, we wish to call your attention to the following disinfectants and their uses:

COPPERAS, or SULPHATE, OF IRON is considered a powerful disinfectant. It is easily used by dissolving in water and thrown upon the decomposed matter.
As we have nearly half a ton of this on hand, we can furnish it in large quantities at a very low price.

CREOLIN is a disinfectant and deodorant used largely during Cholera epidemics. During the epidemic of 1890, the Egyptian Government used alone
during the month of August 15,000
litres to disinfect Cairo and Alexandria.
This is sold at 50 cents a bottle, which is enough to disinfect 100 cubic feet of garbage or other matter.

CARBOLIC ACID, crude or pure is well known to all. We have this by pint or gallon.

CALVET'S CARBOLIC POWDER is the right article to use about hen houses, etc.

CONDY'S FLUID or solution of Permanganate of Potash, is a powerful oxidizing agent and is more applicable to the sick room than elsewhere.

LYSOL is a coal tar product. As a bactericide it is equal to Creolin. It is a general disinfectant and especially applicable for closets, for the laundry and sick room.

Remember that disinfectants can be obtained in any quantity and at very low prices at

ANOTHER SUCCESS.

The Opera House Crowded on Saturday Night

For the Benefit of the New Church Organ.

The entertainment given for the benefit of the organ fund of the Central Union Church drew a large audience to the Opera House on Saturday night. Every seat was sold and there was an extensive demand for chairs. After an overture by the Royal Hawaiian Band, under the able leadership of Prof. Berger, the Misses Young opened the vocal part of the programme most auspiciously with a charming rendering of Kucken's "O Swallow, Happy Swallow," which elicited a burst of well-earned applause; later, Miss Bertha Young sang the "Flower Girl," by Bevigani. Dr. H. S. Williams is a stranger in Honolulu, whose acquaintance every music lover was delighted to make Saturday night. He is the possessor of a cultivated baritone voice, and scored a hit with Cowen's "It was a dream," followed by Mattei's "Hearest Thou" as an encore.

Honolulu audiences are always keen to hear Miss Dale, and they certainly had no cause for disappointment. Miss Dale has never sung in public in a duo before, and the number "When thou art near me" by Abt, in which she appeared with Mr. Williams, was, perhaps, the gem of the evening, the voices blending most beautifully. The solo, "Heaven hath shed a tear," with flute obligato by George H. Paris, was exquisitely rendered. In response to prolonged applause, Miss Dale sang the well known serenade, "Good night, good night, beloved." The music by Ethelbert W. Nevin, one of America's most promising young composers, is far more beautiful than the commonly sung version by Balfe, but has never, I believe, been heard in Honolulu before. Miss Dale gave this tender and passionate serenade a most auspicious introduction to Honolulu art lovers.

The second part of the programme consisted chiefly of an exhibition of Indian views, which with the interesting and often witty running commentary of the Hon. Mr. Marsden, were enjoyed to the full. In connection with a view of Lucknow, Mr. G. C. Potter gave a spirited rendering of Tennyson's poem commemorating the trying days of the famous siege. The entertainment closed with an exhibition of Scotch and Hawaiian views with statuary, and was voted most successful by all present. The greatest thanks are due to Mr. Young and his family for their untiring efforts in behalf of the affair, to Mr. Marsden, and to the singers and others who devoted so much valuable time and labor to the charitable cause. The following is the programme:

Good Rules.

These are not particularly new, but they are good, all the same, and worth repeating over and over again: "Pay as you go. Never fool in business matters. Learn to think and act for yourself. Do not kick everyone in your path. Don't stop to tell stories in business hours. Keep ahead rather than behind the times. Do not meddle with business you know nothing about. Use your own brains rather than those of others. A man of honor respects his word as he does his bond. No man can get rich by sitting around stores and saloons. Have order, system, regularity, and also promptness. If you have a place of business be there when wanted. More miles can be made in one day by going steadily, than by stopping. Help others when you can, but never give what you cannot afford because it is fashionable. Learn to say no. No necessity of snapping it out dog fashion, but say it firmly and respectfully."—Good Sense.

A NEW HOME INDUSTRY.

The Hawaiian Pork Packing Company's Commendable Enterprise.

A Corporation that is Not Diminished by Dull Times—A New Market for Island Hogs—The Manufacture of Pure Leaf Lard.

Previous to last March, the pork slaughtering business in Honolulu was indiscriminately carried on by Chinamen and others, without any regard to sanitary matters. But since then the Board of Health has required that this business shall be conducted at Iwilei under the inspection of a health officer. The Hawaiian Pork Packing Company was recently organized for the business of slaughtering hogs, and at present does this class of work for the retail dealers.

The company has about 500 hogs at the yards, mostly imported, and only choice grain and bran is used in fattening the same. The company import hogs only from necessity, as the home supply is not adequate. The pens are built over salt water and are thoroughly cleansed twice a day. This fact and the character of the feed used guarantees the pork to be of a superior quality, and free from any noxious taint. The flesh thus produced is firm and even in grain owing to the superior nature of the food used.

The company is a stock concern, E. C. Winston being president, and Hon. John Ena treasurer. The stock is owned by leading business men of Honolulu. In addition to slaughtering, the company will furnish sucking pigs and roasters of any size, either slaughtered or on foot. Hogs and pigs of any size are also sold in quantities to suit, or will be slaughtered to order.

As all the pork sold by reputable dealers is furnished by this company, it follows that none need refrain from using the same, fearing that it may be unwholesome or improperly prepared. Foul slops or rubbish is not used for food, as the company import grain from the Coast.

The fact that the company has provided the citizens of Honolulu with an appetizing quality of pork which may be eaten by the most fastidious is a matter for congratulation; and, in addition to this, the company has just completed arrangements for the manufacture of leaf lard.

A plant is now in operation, and a superior quality of extra leaf lard is being produced which is far superior to any imported article. Many thousand pounds of lard and "lard-compound" are consumed annually, and the proposition to manufacture this staple in Hawaii is one which should commend itself to everyone. Certainly new industries and manufacturing are greatly needed here, and the Hawaiian Packing Company in instituting this industry are marking out a way which, it is to be hoped, will be followed by others. That the corporation will receive the support of consumers is a foregone conclusion.

A sample tin of the lard has been left at the ADVERTISER office, and its purity is beyond question. Containing only pure leaf lard, with just a sufficient quantity of nutmeg to give it a proper firmness, it is far ahead of the heterogeneous compound of cotton seed oil, alum and refuse, which often passes for "lard," but which is by law in some States compelled to be labeled "lard compound."

An ADVERTISER reporter visited the yards at Iwilei and found a well appointed and well conducted slaughtering outfit, that is as complete as any of the large establishments in the States, and which can be enlarged as the business demands. The huge scalding tank is heated by steam, and the different operations, from separating the hogs to delivering to the wagons, are carried on systematically and expeditiously.

At Iwilei, leaf lard is only made from the largest and fattest animals, and only choice portions are used. The fat is thoroughly cooked, strained, settled and the lard is then manipulated in a tank until nearly cool, when it is drawn into tins.

The company aim at absolute cleanliness and as great a degree of purity as can be obtained. These points will be guaranteed.

A gentleman who is acquainted with the lard manufacture in the States made the following observations: "The so-called 'lard-compound' is not lard." The legislatures of many States compelled pork packing establishments to distinguish between "lard," and base imitations. Lard-compound is a compound, but into its composition pure lard hardly enters. And to begin with, the refuse of the slaughterhouse is cooked, and this is the origin of the lard portion. Cotton seed oil, tallow, alum, and other substances are mixed together to form the compound, and the odor therefrom is evidence enough of its noxious character. People should examine the lard pails, and reject everything that has a 'compound' name, for it certainly is a compound."

Boodlers fear Waterhouse and Robinson as the Devil fears Holy Water.

INSPECTORS IN COUNCIL.

The Attorney-General Asked for an Opinion on Important Points.

An informal meeting of the chairmen of the different Boards of Election was held yesterday in the Fire Police Hall. As the election law is indefinite on some points and silent on others of importance, the meeting was called for the purpose of securing the opinion of the different chairmen, and to enable the various boards to work in harmony, and make uniform rulings.

The main points considered were the qualifications of voters. It was decided that anyone who has sojournd in this kingdom three years—no matter when—and who has been in the country three months preceding the election, is qualified as far as residence is concerned. Also, that all persons from the other islands who are otherwise qualified, who have been on this island three months, are entitled to vote. This will allow some of the members of the Legislature from the other islands to vote on Tuesday. There was some opposition to this ruling, as it was held that the law means that a person should be a bona-fide resident of this island for three months; and that simply remaining here on business, etc., for that time does not entitle one to vote, if his home and family are on another island.

The question of challenging voters, and of swearing in voters was referred to the Attorney-General. A person may present himself as a voter, when the Board has conclusive evidence that the person applying is not entitled to vote. It was claimed that under such circumstances the Board must allow the vote. This being disputed, the following questions were addressed to the Attorney-General:

(1.) Can the inspectors of election reject a vote where the person offering such vote is sworn, and answers all proper questions, which shall be put to him, and by such answers it appears that he is qualified to vote?

(2.) Can the inspectors of election on the day of election examine any one under oath other than a person offering to vote, as to the qualifications of the challenged party?

It was also decided that all persons voting must have received an income of $600 or over for the past twelve months, whether names were added last year or at this election.

Mr. Gunn, by request, presided at the meeting.

The questions above were referred to the Attorney-General who answered both in the negative.

If you don't want to give away the Electric Light Privileges for

CHECKING THE POLL LIST.

Only a Small Portion of the Registered Voters Have Qualified.

Last Saturday afternoon representatives from the different Boards of Inspectors met in the Tax Collector's office for the purpose of checking the names of those who have paid the annual tribute to Caesar. To the surprise of all it was found that the tribute money had been systematically forgotten by three-fourths of the registered voters. Each inspector was provided with a voting list of his precinct and as Mr. Brown read the names of those who have paid personal taxes, the names were marked on the precinct registers.

It was also discovered that the same name, in many cases, was on two, three and four different registers. Some times different parties would have the same name, but in most instances the names belonged to the same person. Whenever this occurred a memorandum of the case was taken, and all such cases will be looked after on election day.

In the following table is given the number of enrolled voters for nobles in each precinct, and also the number who have paid personal taxes up to last Friday night:

| DIST. | PREC'T. | TOTAL NO. | PAID TAXES |
|-------|---------|-----------|------------|
| 1     | 1       | 152       | 51         |
| 2     | 1       | 374       | 137        |
| 3     | 1       | 220       | 55         |
| 4     | 1       | 270       | 70         |
| 5     | 1       | 297       | 53         |
| 6     | 1       | 237       | 63         |
| 7     | 1       | 342       | 45         |
| 8     | 1       | 270       | 60         |
| 9     | 1       | 168       | 40         |
| 10    | 2       | 161       | 37         |
| Total |         | 2491      | 612        |

It is estimated that 200 more may qualify Monday; those exempt will number possibly 300, and the outlying precincts may number 200. This will give a total of 1312 voters and the vote cast to-morrow will possibly not exceed these figures.

The Tax Collector will to-night furnish each Board of Inspectors with a list of those who receive tax receipts during the day.

Monday, Oct. 3, 1892.

In every city of any importance, there is always one place where people go for bargains. New York has its Macy's, Philadelphia boasts of Wanamaker's and Chicago of Marshall Fields', while the Bostonese will tell you that in Jordan Marsh Co. you have the quint essence of perfect stores. These few stores do the business of their respective localities, each one throwing out its grapple for suburban trade. It cannot be said either of them does the business of the country or even the State. How much greater it is when a certain store, ours for instance, does the business of an entire Kingdom. Yet that is just what we do. If the man who lives so close to the volcano that he can expectorate into the crater wants anything he writes to us; if you or your neighbor here in Honolulu want anything, you telephone to us or come down to the store where you find salesmen specially employed to wait on people who come in to admire, to inquire or to buy. The reputation we have made during the past three years for keeping superior lines of goods warrants your ordering of us without having to visit us at all—you're willing to rely upon us. When we tell you we have a novelty, your mind is made up at once that it is a good thing and you want it.

This time we have an article of real merit—an article that the ravages of time will not effect; something that should be in every house in the Kingdom. Every man, woman and child knows that the sewage system of Honolulu is a conspicuous nothing. It has been made the subject of articles in the columns of the newspapers with no apparent benefit. What are you going to do about it? We'll tell you:

In New York City, they have a contrivance for disinfecting rooms and closets thoroughly without any unpleasant odors. In patent closets, where sewer gas exists, the little machine effectually counteracts any ill effect which may come from the deadly gas. In the sick room where the air becomes heavy and infectious, the "Ozonator" makes it as fresh and pure as any you will find on top of Mauna Loa. The Trans Atlantic S. S. Cos. have them in different parts of the vessels and pronounce them the most perfect disinfect or known to them. We would be glad to sell you one of them. You will like it because it is an ornament, you will value it because it will decrease your chances of illness through defective sewers. It is made of brass and glass; a liquid poured into the glass receptacle is absorbed by a wick and passes by evaporation through the perforations in a brass cylinder. No dirt, no unsightly chemicals or unpleasant odors. One Honolulu merchant has six distributed through his house and would not be without them. Will you have one—or six?

The celebrated French rat traps are on the "Dimond;" may be here as you read this. You've been waiting for them for weeks—so have we. The supply in San Francisco was exhausted when our order reached there and had to be sent East. Delay followed delay; if you have rats in your house or barn, order now don't delay.

Our order for Haviland China has been placed with the manufacturers in Limoges, France. In addition to the regular 2,196 patterns we have ordered four sets with the blue decoration, the same as those imported a few months ago. The ladies raved over it as they do over an Easter bonnet. It's the neatest and prettiest design we have ever handled.

FROM MAUI.

ELECTRIC LIGHT CO. DISSOLVED.

On Thursday night, the 29th inst., the Maui Electric Light and Power Co. held a final meeting at Kahului. It was decided that it would not be profitable to carry the enterprise further. Not only have the misfortunes to the machinery been many, but owing to "hard times," the number of consumers have lessened very materially. When the undertaking was started by Messrs. Stolz, Laws, Treadway and others, they had the promise of about 170 lights which would have paid a handsome premium, if the assurances of Lockwood had been verified in regard to the action of their electric plant. "An contraire" the windmill was a failure, the engine proved inadequate as to power, break downs were frequent, and instead of demanding only three or four hours daily to store up sufficient power (as Lockwood prophesied), it required the entire time of a manager. All this made loss far exceed profit, hence electric bulbs will no longer adorn Kahului drawing rooms. Too bad!

TARO MALOO.

"Taro maloo" is the name under which a preparation similar to macaroni is patented. Epicures wishing to snack their lips over a dainty viand will please invest in a box of these pipe-stems; place a small quantity in a dish, add fresh milk, grated cheese, etc., bake it, and presto—"Jack Horner and the Christmas pie" will be blotted from history. It is a most tempting, appetizing dish even before cooking. A prominent Honolulu lawyer recently bought a box, intending to regale his family at dinner with Hawaiian macaroni and cheese; but, alas, he inadvertently tasted a bit in the raw and found it so fascinating to his palate that another package had to be purchased before the promised delicacy appeared on his dining table.

This new Hawaiian manufacture is prepared at Wailuku by the Fruit and Taro Company, in addition to the flour which as it becomes better known is growing more and more popular. Mr. E. H. Bailey, manager of the company will soon take a trip to San Francisco and perhaps farther east, in search of new machinery. The demand for the company's products is already so large that the capacity of the old plant is overtaxed.

HERE AND THERE.

The first polo game in weeks was played by the Makawao Club on Miner's field during Saturday afternoon, the 24th instant. The play was fast and furious; not a goal was made by either team. Mosseman's men had the advantage during the first heat of ten minutes, while the von Tempelky quartette forced the contest in the vicinity of their opponents' goal flags during the last innings of twenty minutes. Several of the fair sex sat upon their horses under the lone tree, and, by their presence, induced some brilliant rushes. Only one sore head is reported. Another contest is in prospect for this afternoon.

It is rumored that the next evening of the Makawao Literary Society will occur some time next week at the Wilder's, Kahului. The train will run of course.

Expresses bearing Chinamen, their wives and families have been hurrying and scurrying over Makawao roads for a day or two. The explanation is, that a bona fide Chinese wedding will take place to-day, at high noon, at the residence of George Miner, of Makawao. The name of the bride is Amoo, a Chinese girl who has been brought up in the Miner family. The bridegroom is known as Apolili, the son and heir of Apo, a Chinese butcher. Rev. Keapuni of Hualo will tie the nuptial knot exactly at 12 noon to-day, and at 1 p. m. a magnificent luau will be given in honor of the joyful event.

A 40-acre pasture fire in Makawao, occurred on property belonging to Enos & Co., of Wailuku. Haleakala Forest fields were saved by ploughing arrows. Such conflagrations have been very frequent during the dry season in Makawao. The largest one some weeks ago consumed from one to two thousand dollars worth of fire belonging to the Burdard estate.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. R. Ballentine, of Lahaina, was in Kahului last Saturday. He has recently sold Billy, the famous pacer, who gave Johnny Hayward such a close race at Spreckelsville Park during the Fourth of July races. He did not ship the horse per Claudine to Honolulu as intended, owing to some difficulty about a lighter. The racer will be despatched to his Honolulu owner to-day.

Hon. C. H. Dickey returned from Hana on Saturday evening. Charles Buchanan, Esq., who has for a number of years acted as manager of Umpalakua Ranch, recently resigned the position, and will go to Molokai to look after some property there—mullet-ponds, etc.

Attorney-General Neumann and Hon. C. W. Ashford arrived per Claudine this week. They together with John Kalua, Esq., it is reported, are engaged upon the Wailuku water case.

Mr. W. O. Aiken, in addition to his arduous duties as Postmaster of Kahului and agent of the Waimanalo Steamer Co., will superintend the finances of the Douglas blacksmith shop for a time.

It is pleasant to remark that Mr. A. R. Laws, of Hamakua, who has been seriously ill for some weeks, is convalescing at the home of his son, Mr. H. Laws, of Paia.

Chauncey Miles has recently returned to Maui from Kohala, and reports the sale of the last eight mules, formerly the property of the Hualo Plantation.

Per Claudine to day, several of Maui's recent guests depart for Honolulu: Miss Lelia Wodehouse, who has been visiting Mrs. L. von Tempelky of Kula; Mr. W. W. Hall, who has been entertained for a short time by Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Wilder, of Kahului; and J. O. Carter, Jr., who has been doing some shooting and enjoying vaquero life as the guest of W. F. Pogue, of Haleakala Ranch.

The still remaining participants of our island hospitality are Mrs. W. D. Alexander and Miss Mary C. Alexander, who have for some weeks been enjoying the society of their relatives at Hana; Miss Milly Beckwith, who has been forgetting Honolulu for nearly a month at "Sunnyside," Rav. and Mrs. T. L. Gulick's residence; and George Hardey, Esq., kamaaina of Honokaa, Hawaii, who is again at Puumalei Dairy, regaling his friend Swift with his sea yarns. Mr. Hardey has resided on the islands over forty years.

Mr. E. H. Bailey makes a business trip to Honolulu.

PORT ITEMS.

Last Saturday afternoon, the 24th inst., the brig J. D. Spreckels, Capt. Christiansen, was towed out by the Claudine and sailed for the Golden Gate. Her cargo was principally scrap iron and number 2 and 3 sugar from Spreckelsville plantation.

The steamer Claudine is very regular in her Hawaii trips. She usually leaves Kahului Wednesday evening and reaches Paunahau Thursday morning and returning sets out generally Friday evening. The schooner Anna, Capt. William, arrived at Kahului Tuesday the 27th inst. She made the voyage from San Francisco in 17 days and brought as cargo bricks for Spreckelsville and merchandise for Kahului store. She also was the first to bring to Maui the news of Sullivan's defeat.

Weather: no change, though Kula had a heavy downpour of three hours accompanied by thunder and lightning during Wednesday afternoon. Maui, Oct. 1, 1892.

Hana Snap Shots.

Things in Hana during the past week have been rather quiet, but now that moonlight nights are coming on, parties, walks and races are being arranged for almost every night.

Messrs. C. Bolte and M. Louison arrived here last Wednesday and will make a short stay.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Center gave a pleasant musical evening last Thursday that was quite a success. Singing and instrumental music were diversified by pleasant strolls through the moonlight grounds.

Mr. Oscar Unua returned from Honolulu last Wednesday.

The Police Department have awakened to the fact that goods are being sold without due respect to the law, the slight formality of obtaining a license having been overlooked. The result has been several convictions and a handsome increase in the revenue of the Judiciary.

Two gentlemen of Hana are supremely happy. In days gone by they strenuously asserted that some day the great "John L." would meet his match. As the fight between Sullivan and Corbett drew nearer and nearer they waged all their small change on Corbett as opportunity offered. Many were the jokes cracked at their expense, but revenge is sweet, and they are now preaching "the laughs best who laughs last" in the most approved fashion.

Hana certainly seems a favored spot. While all around us we hear cries for rain, we are having occasional showers that at least keep the dust settled.

A man was guillotined in Switzerland two weeks ago for murder. It was the first execution in Switzerland for twenty-five years, capital punishment having been abolished in 1871, and that method of inflicting punishment having been resumed recently.

Women in Swiss Universities. Switzerland is most liberal in her treatment of women at her universities, and in the Samstee there are no less than 224 ladies studying at the five Swiss universities—in Bern, St. Geneva, Zurich, 70; Lausanne, 5, and Basle, 1. One hundred and fifty-seven of these students are studying medicine, 62 philosophy and 5 the law. From Russia come most of the female students, their number being 116; 21 belong to Germany, from North America there are 11, 21 are Swiss, 9 of Austrian nationality, 7 Bulgarians, 4 English women, 3 Romanians and 3 Armenians.—London Letter.

A Hint from Paris. "Tell Maude," said a lady writing from Paris the other day, "that a gored skirt trimmed with a ruffle or two, a simple waist with a band of ribbon around it, four loops of ribbon at the back and a band of ribbon with a small rosette at the back of the neck, and very large, full sleeves coming just below the elbow form the details of the very latest gown. Absolute simplicity for girls is 'de rigueur,' and in that and in the cut and finish of their gowns lie their greatest claim to distinction."—New York Tribune.

In Memory of a Brave Nurse. The cross which has been put up in Ayr cemetery to the memory of Nurse Coates, who died last December in the county infirmary of typhus, is of blue Ayrshire stone, and bears the inscription, "In Loving Memory of Letitia Coates," with the date of her death and birth. She was only twenty-two years old, and contracted the fever while in attendance on the typhus patients. The cost of the grave and cross has been given by the directors and friends of the hospital.—London Hospital.
