Put the Ball Over the Right Field Fence.

WAILUKU DOWNS STAR NINE.

Outplayed at Every Point—Stars Changed Pitchers Three Times But the Maui Boys Found the Ball—Score 21 to 5—Old Tricks Revived—Will Play for the Championship.

There was a surprise party at the League grounds on Saturday to the extent of 709 people, the odd nine being the members of the Star club.
When the champions went to Maui to bring down more scalps and for the pleasure it might give Wilder in putting another star on the front of his shirt, the boys had a good time and with a superior knowledge of the game they won by a few runs. That was supposed to be the end of the playing. But the Maui boys wanted satisfaction and under the terms which they offered to come down the Stars wrote them to come and they would give them a chance. The team arrived on the Hall Friday afternoon and took good care of themselves. Saturday morning they went out and had practice. Kuikahi going on the diamond for the first time in eight months. The Star boys were satisfied that the game was theirs and took no time for practice; now they wish they had.

H. KUIKAHI.
Star third baseman of Maui, who put the ball over the fence.

When the game was called at 3:30, considerable time was wasted in securing the services of competent men to act as umpires. Chan Wilder happened on the ground and was immediately pressed into duty behind the bat and George Angus consented to pass judgment on the runs.

The Stars found in the first inning that the Maui boys were up to snuff in all the points of the game besides two or three that had been overlooked and which the visitors remembered and worked successfully. When Hart in the first inning hit to Mossman at short the ball that there was no time to lose. As usual he ran past the base and Cummings was supposed to have thrown the ball to the pitcher. But this was one of the tricks. Cummings retained the ball and called to Bailey "to play ball." The latter got his hands in position and Hart stepped from the base and Cummings touched him. It was so neatly done that half the people in the audience did not see it. Hart retired with a cemetery grin on his face; afterwards he had the hiccoughs and people thought he was laughing, but he wasn't; he was sore. It is said that when the Kamehameha nine played at Wailuku this trick was played three times in one game.

Ross, of the Wailuku team, was the first to step up to the supposed sacrificial altar. He sent the ball straight to McNicoll's hands, but it bounced to the grounds and the batter made first. Cummings took base on balls and Ross went to second. Meheula hit to third and everybody ran on Lishman's muff. Big Kauka was hit by the ball and took first and Ross came home. Akina hit to center for a three bagger and brought Cummings and Meheula home. Kauka came in on a passed ball. Bailey hit to third for a base and reached second on a wild throw. Mossman hit to short and made first on Babbitt's fumble. Bailey got to third, Kuikahi fanned out. Palea hit to Willis who muffed and let him get to base. Bailey came home. Ross flew out to Carter and Cummings struck out. When the big 6 was marked upon the score board the entire police reserve was not sufficient to keep the crowd from yelling. Joe de Regio, the Maui mascot, waved his cap and pirouetted clear across the lawn. The Stars merely grinned.

The Stars played a short inning at the start. W. Wilder, who had taken McNicoll's place, struck out. Willis flew out to Ross at left field and Hart hit to short for a base, but was put out by Cummings as stated above.

Six to nothing was too much for the champions, so Babbitt was put in the box. The result was different from the previous inning, as Meheula struck out, Kanaka hit to Lishman and was put out at first, and Akina followed suit. The Maui boys were not so cheerful, and their energies were bent on keeping the Stars from scoring.

H. Wilder hit to left for a two-bagger and Pryce flew out at right. Lishman went out at first and Harry Wilder died at the home plate by a neat double play in which the player was not given the benefit of the doubt.

The third and fourth innings resulted in naughty naughts on both sides, and the enthusiasm grew in earnest.

In the fifth Kauka hit to center for first and Akina followed. Kauka went out at second. Bailey hit to right for a three-bagger and brought Akina home. Kuikahi struck foul and was caught out by Willis. Palea hit to right for two bases. Ross hit for first and Palea made third. Then Babbitt grew tired and changed places with Hart. The change of pitchers did not materially affect the batting. Cummings made a jab at the ball and sent it far enough away to bring Ross and Palea home and take him to second. Meheula hit to left and made first. Cummings came home. A wild throw gave Meheula second. Kauka struck out and the bell sounded six times. Then the Stars felt the soreness in their joints.

But in their half of the inning their spirits revived, after two men went out, to have Lishman come in for a run.

The sixth inning ended in a zero for both nines, but it was in the last half, when the Stars were at the bat, that the features of the game occurred. Hart struck a foul to third and Kuikahi ran for it, gauged it wrong and had to bend backward to catch the ball, and when he did he held on to it. Directly afterward H. Wilder flew out to left and Ross made a beautiful running catch.

In the seventh inning Kuikahi hit for a base, and a wild throw by Lishman took him home. Palea hit to short and went out at first. Ross followed, and Cummings made first on a hit to left. Meheula followed with one to right and made first. Cummings safe at second. Kauka hit to left for one, and Cummings came home. Akina made third. Meheula hit to center and brought Ross and Cummings home. Kauka's hit to center gave him first and put Meheula to third. Akina flew out to Carter. Bailey hit to center, took Kauka to third and brought Meheula home. Mossman fanned out and the boys danced over the green when the bell sounded five times.

The eighth inning was a great one for Wailuku. Mossman made a sacrifice hit, followed by the batting of the season, when Kuikahi tapped the ball and landed it over the fence at right field, and Kuikahi and Mossman came home on it. Palea hit for a base and died stealing second. Ross hit for one, Cummings hit for a two-bagger, Ross made third. Meheula hit to center and brought Ross and Cummings home. Kauka's hit to center gave him first and put Meheula to third. Akina flew out to Carter. Bailey hit to center, took Kauka to third and brought Meheula home. Mossman fanned out and the boys danced over the green when the bell sounded five times.

Wilder went out at first on a hit to Kuikahi. Willis hit to left and made safe on muff by Ross, but went out at second. Hart went out at first.

In the ninth and last inning, in their effort to make pace, Lishman took the box, but he was so out of practice that the first three men at bat took bases on balls. The result was two runs for Maui. Then the rain came down, but the Stars insisted upon playing, and got two runs in consequence.

Following is the score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	Total
Wailuku	0	0	0	0	0	2	5	2	2	11
Stars	0	0	0	0	1	0	2	0	2	5

BOATING ACCIDENT.

Two Well Known Men Almost Drowned Off the Harbor.

Yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock George Harrison and Frank Gertz went to the Aloha boat house and hired a row boat. Removing their coats, they got into the boat and rowed off.

As they did not return at dark, the proprietor of the boat house began making inquiries and learned that the men had been seen near the quarantine station, trying to get through the breakers. Nothing more was heard from them until about 8 o'clock, when they were brought ashore in the cutter of the U. S. S. Adams.

The men stated that they had lost an oar and rowlock and were on the point of being sunk when officers of the Adams heard their shouts and sent the cutter out to rescue them.

SUGAR TRUST WILL HAVE OPPOSITION.

Arrangements Toward This End Being Made.

DYNAMITER TYMAN IN PARIS.

Concessions by the Porte—Persia's New Shah. Sultan's Claim Denied—Czar and Czarina in Hamburg—McKinley and Sugar—Earthquakes in Europe—Railroad Collision.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The sugar trust has a giant competitor. For a long time it has been hatching under the guidance of as sharp a set of financiers and business men as Wall street and the sugar trade can command. The plan of the new combine is a simple one. It was to unite in one vigorous force all the refineries known to be outside the sugar trust as it now exists. Some of these are as yet not in operation. Others, as Mollenhauer of Brooklyn, have worked in harmony with the prices and operations of the trust and have taken the cue for business entirely from the magnates at the foot of Wall street.

The opposition began by getting the professional advice of expert sugar-makers from German refineries and technical schools, and there are now in this country several of the leading sugar-makers of the Continent. It was decided to secure a sufficient number of refineries to make, from the start, such opposition in strength and resources as could not be crushed by the trust.

Among those in the combine are the big Mollenhauer refinery in Brooklyn with a capacity of 3500 barrels of refined sugar output per day, the Yonkers refinery with 1500 barrels daily capacity, the McCann refinery in Philadelphia, rated at 2000 per day; the Revue refinery, Boston, capacity 12,000 barrels; the Henderson works in New Orleans, capacity 500 barrels; the Galveston refinery, capacity 1500 barrels, the Campden works, New Jersey, not yet finished, estimated capacity 1500 barrels, and the Arbuckle plant in Brooklyn, probable capacity 1000 barrels.

This capacity, it is estimated, will be amply large enough to compel the trust to scare the trade with the new owner and to agree to a cutting down of sugar prices to business men handling the staple and to the consumer as well. It is calculated that instead of being an intensely speculative 12 per cent. stock trust stock will drop to a 6 per cent. basis, and with the great amount of water in the trust capital place it at permanent disadvantage as compared with the new combine.

BANCROFT'S VOYAGE.

No Opposition from the Porte Anticipated—Powers Advised.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The Tribune's Washington special says:

It can be said definitely that the authorities here count on no forcible resistance on the part of the Porte to the Bancroft's carrying out her present orders, which are—and the statement is made emphatically, despite some mild technical denials which have come from official sources—to take Minister Terrell on board at Smyrna and proceed at once to Constantinople. The Porte is expected to protest vigorously indeed against the little ship's passage of the Dardanelles, but the protests will be unavailing. When the Porte learns one fact of great significance to itself it will cease to protest. The fact is that this Government is proceeding advisedly and shrewdly.

Before the departure of the Bancroft for Europe, information was sought from the great powers closely connected with the conduct of Turkish affairs as to whether there was an objection on their part to the American dispatch boat going to Constantinople. Except in the case of Russia, replies to the inquiry were favorable to the plan of sending a vessel through the Dardanelles.

Russia held back her consent for a time. But recently the intentions of this Government were more fully explained to her, it being set forth that the United States had no desire to take any part in the Eastern question, but purposed merely to protect American interests in and near Constantinople.

A few days ago a reply from the Czar's official representative was received here. It was in effect that Russia had withdrawn her objection to the Bancroft's going to the Turkish capital. Russia's consent to the arrangements of the State Department means, of course, that when the Porte learns of this fact it will not seriously oppose the coming of the Bancroft.

CONCESSIONS BY PORTE.

Permission for Armenians to Leave the Country.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Secretary Olney is in receipt of a dispatch from the United States Minister at Constantinople to the effect that he had at last obtained orders from the Turkish Government to permit the departure for the United States, with safe conduct to the seaports, of all native Armenian women and children whose husbands and fathers are in the United States. The subject is one that had been before the Porte for some time, and for this gratifying result credit must be given Mr. Terrell, who has pushed the matter with conspicuous tact as well as indefatigable zeal.

DEMAND FOR INDEMNITY.

Forty Thousand Dollars for the Murder of Frank Lenz.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 15.—United States Minister Terrell has lodged with the Turkish Government a claim for $40,000 indemnity behalf of Mrs. Lenz, the mother of Frank Lenz, the Pittsburgh bicyclist who was murdered by Kurds while traveling through Asiatic Turkey.

SULTAN'S CLAIM DENIED.

No Right to Search Foreign Vessels for Armenians.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 16.—The embassies of the powers have sent an identical note to the Porte refusing its demand to be accorded the right of searching foreign vessels in Turkish waters for Armenians.

TYMAN GOES TO PARIS.

Alleged Dynamiter Soon to Embark for New York.

BOULOGNE-SUR-MER, Oct. 16.—Tyman got his effects at the prefecture this morning. He resents the charges of intemperance brought against him by the British press. When asked for a statement he said: "Talk for the benefit of newspapers? Not at any price. All I can do is to shout with all my might, Down with the English!" Tyman left for Paris later, and will embark at Cherbourg on Sunday for New York.

SPEAKER REED ILL.

The Republican Champion's Voice Leaves Him.

FORT WAYNE (Ind.), Oct. 16.—Thos. B. Reed, who spoke here last night, is confined to his room in this city with sickness and was unable to resume his speaking tour this morning. His voice has given out, and he is unable to speak above a whisper.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Thos. B. Reed arrived here tonight and was put in a physician's care.

Embassador Bayard's Views.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The letter from Mr. Bayard, the United States Ambassador, to Samuel Bancroft, Jr., of Wilmington, Del., advancing Democratic support of Palmer and Buckner, is published here today, and forms the text for several leaders on the Presidential contest in the United States.

Czar and Czarina at Hamburg.

HAMBURG, Oct. 16.—The Czar and Czarina arrived here today and were present at the ceremonies of laying the corner stone of the Russian church here. Ex-Empress Frederick was also present.

French Botanist Dead.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—Auguste Trecul, the French botanist, died today in a hospital in this city in a condition of poverty.

PERSIA'S NEW SHAH.

Musaffar-ed-Din Mirza to be Enthroned With Great Pomp.

TEHERAN, Persia, Oct. 15.—The coronation of the new Shah, which will soon take place, will be one of the most memorable events that has occurred in this part of the East for many years. This new Shah gets his place by virtue of the assassin's bullet. On May 1, last year, Shah Nasr-ed Din was killed while driving in a carriage to the tomb-mosque of Shah Abd-ul-Asun, a place of pilgrimage at Teheran. The assassin was a follower of the sect of the Babis. His successor is not his eldest son, but a Prince three years younger—Musaffar-ed-Din Mirza—who was selected as Crown Prince when he was still 5 years of age. Prince Musaffar was governor of the province of Azerbaijan, on the Russian frontier, and resided in the capital, Tabriz. Hitherto he had distinguished himself by his fidelity for artillery, but in other branches of education he is behind his brothers. The successor to the throne is well liked by the people, but he has no friends among the powerful court society.

TO SUCCEED BEARDSLEE.

Commodore Miller of the Boston Navy Yard Will Probably be Promoted.

NEW YORK, Eng., Oct. 15.—A Tribune special from Washington says: There is much talk among naval officers regarding the successor of Admiral Beardslee, commander-in-chief of the Pacific station.

The impression prevails that Commodore J. N. Miller, the commandant of the Boston navy-yard, will be assigned to this duty. He is the senior officer of his grade, and has not been at sea since 1892, when he was a captain. He is entitled to a command, and should exercise this authority before he is advanced to the highest grade of the navy.

Another officer also spoken of for the place is Commodore George Dewey, formerly of the Portsmouth navy-yard. He has not been at sea since 1888. He is anxious to have a command commensurate with his rank, which entitles him to the control of a fleet.

McKINLEY AND SUGAR.

Beet Sugar Men Send Him Pleasing Present.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Oct. 16.—The McKinley and Hobart Club sent by express today a sack of 100 pounds of beet sugar, manufactured by the Oxnard Beet Sugar Company of this city to Major McKinley. A letter accompanied the shipment, in which various facts as to beet sugar are given, as also the name of the farmer who raised the beets from which the sugar was made. Confidence is expressed that the victory of McKinley's cause means an extension of the sugar industry of the United States and the united support of Hall County Republicans and wishes for his success are tendered. The sack containing the sugar is inscribed: "The McKinley protective tariff fostered this industry and the Nebraska output in 1896, 8,000,000 pounds."

Fire in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Quebec, Oct. 16.—The most disastrous fire in this city for a long time occurred this afternoon, having its beginning in the building at 31 St. Peter street, occupied by Gilmore & Co., importers of chemicals. As a result three firemen are dead and a dozen more or less seriously injured.

Is Paderevski Insane?

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—A rumor current in musical circles says that Paderevski, the pianist, has gone insane. The origin of the report was a mystery. Paderevski's friends here deny the story, but no denial or confirmation of the story could be secured from Europe.

Earthquake in Europe.

NICE, Oct. 16.—An earthquake was felt at Mentone at 6:30 o'clock this morning.

ROME, Oct. 16.—Earthquake shocks lasting several seconds were felt at 7:16 o'clock this evening at Savona, Porto Maurizio and Altaro.

Collision and Death.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The passenger steamer Magenta ran down and sunk the tug Niagara this afternoon in North river, and three of the crew of the Niagara, and possibly more, were drowned.

Fatal Railroad Collision.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 15.—A head-end collision of freight trains occurred on the Northeastern Railroad this morning near Carrier station. William Fulcher, the engineer, and his fireman, John Alexander, colored, were killed.

Reception to Satoiti.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—A reception and banquet was given this evening by the Columbian Club to Cardinal Satoiti. There were about 500 guests present, among them Mgr. Martini.

Troops for Philippines.

BARCELONA, Oct. 16.—Two thousand and infantry embarked today to reinforce the Spanish troops in the Philippine Islands.

The pearls from Australia and Panama are all of medium and large size. Generally speaking, the India pearls command the highest prices, because of their superior form (many of them being perfectly round) and their brilliant luster.

"DORIC SHIMBUN."

Copies of the Interesting Paper Arrived by Belgie.

The first copies of the "Doric Shimbun," a paper made up by the passengers of the Doric on her last trip to San Francisco and printed in that city recently, arrived in Honolulu by the O. & O. S. S. Belgic Saturday. Following was the editorial staff of the "Shimbun": Burton O. Squier, Miss Minerva Hennessey, George Frederick Clark, Miss Belle Smith, Jesse Piver, caricaturist, and Bob Shewan, sporting editor. Following are a few cuttings from the "Shimbun."

"President Cleveland has had a change of heart and has pledged himself to secure the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands before he goes out of office. Aloha!"

"We have been in Honolulu, and we are here. If we could only live there we would abandon journalism and hard work. Clothing is a minor consideration, and when a fellow gets hungry, all he has to do is to go out in the back yard, shin up a banana bush and eat his fill. It makes us sad to think of the lot of money we have spent for clothing and food, and we are going back to Honolulu to stay."

"Note—The learned Doctor will repeat, by request, his Christmas sermon from the text, 'Bear ye one another's burdens.'"

The caricatures by Jesse Piver are very good and cover four pages. It will be remembered that an attempt was made to have the "Shimbun" printed at this office, but owing to the short stay of the Doric at this port it was impossible to have it done. Of course, after calling at this office, other printing offices were visited, but with the same disappointing result.

AUCTION SALE OF VALUABLE CITY AND SEASIDE LOTS

By Order of the Heirs of the Late W. JAMES SMITH, I Will Sell at Public Auction at My Salesroom, Queen Street,

On Saturday, November 14th

AT 12 O'CLOCK NOON,

The Following Valuable Properties:

First: One fine lot corner of Kewalo and Lunalilo streets, size 137x146. One lot on Lunalilo st., size 146x125. Four lots on Kewalo street, size 100x270 each. One lot on Kewalo street, size 110 feet on street, 270 feet deep, 200 feet at rear, and 145 ft. on mauka boundary. These lots adjoin the residence of J. A. Magoon, Esq., and are the most desirable lots on the Plains offered for sale. (See plan of the lots in the above cut.)

Second: Two fine lots at the Peninsula at Pearl City, numbered 33 and 34, in Block 25. These have a frontage of 51-7-10 feet on Coral avenue and 145 feet on Franklin avenue; area, 19,222 square feet. These are two of the very few desirable lots on the east side of the Peninsula, facing the water, and are in the same tier of lots as the residences of Messrs. Dillingham, Hall and Hassinger. There is a latticed lanai on the property. Third: Two fine seaside lots at Kala-awai, in Kapahulu, known as Lots A and B of the Kapahulu survey, containing 2 1/2-100 acres. Conveyance from the Trustees under the will of W. C. Lunalilo, deceased, to W. Jas. Smith, dated April 27, 1875.

These lots are on the beach, south of Diamond Head, and adjoin the property of A. Rosa, Esq., and are a short distance from the seaside property of President Dole. This presents an unusual opportunity to obtain elegant Beach Lots. For further particulars apply to THURSTON & STANLEY, Attorneys, or to

RECOLLECTIONS OF OLD MISSION HOUSE.

A Meeting of Mission Children's Society Held on Saturday.

HAWAII'S EARLY DEVELOPMENT.

Large Gathering Present Saturday Night.
New Maile Wreath Committee—Visitors
View House—Mrs. Turner Sings "Home, Sweet Home"—Building May be Restored.

The Hawaiian Mission Children's Society, more generally known as the "Cousins' Society," met last Saturday evening at the old Cooke residence in Kawaiahae. It was called there in view of the probable speedy removal of the old building, now that Mother Cooke has gone.

Among those present were President Dole, Hon. S. M. Damon, Revs. Bingham, Bishop, Gulick, Birnie, W. D. Alexander and a number of the descendants of that large family; Messrs. C. M. Cooke, A. F. Cooke, J. B. Atherton, Mrs. Turner and several others of that well known family, in the second and third generations; W. R. Castle, W. W. Hall, the Hon. Chief Justice Judd, R. W. Andrews, Dr. Emerson and many others directly connected with the old missionary families; Captain Appleton, as well as a larger representation of the more recent elements of Honolulu life and society. Mr. F. W. Damon brought several missionaries passing through. The rooms were not sufficient to contain them all.

The house was thrown open and well lit from garret to cellar, for there is a cellar, as was usual with houses erected in those early days. For half an hour the rooms were thronged with people, anxious to see what an 1821 house was like.

In the cellar was a dilapidated frame of a sewing machine, the most prominent part of which was a large cog wheel attachment. One of the previous occupants said that whenever this machine was used, the noise of its running could be heard many blocks away. Aside from this curio, many old mission utensils were discovered stowed away in various nooks and recesses.

The old piano in the main assembly room was probably the most interesting relic of the evening, not alone on account of its ancient appearance, but on account of the weird, "Midway Plaisance-like" sound that emanated from it upon the keys being struck. Some of these had lost their cunning with age, and failed totally to respond.

The building as a whole, and especially the timbers, were observed to be in good condition, and one of the members of the Cabinet remarked that he would like very much to transfer it to Moanalua, to keep intact as a relic of old times.

The observation of the good condition of the building led several members of the society to remark that it would be a shame to tear down a structure around which was clustered associations of the first advancement of the Hawaiian nation along the lines of civilization—a structure whose doors had admitted daily the kings and chiefs of olden times. By its preservation a boon would be conferred on the Islands at large.

At the appointed hour Rev. O. H. Gulick called the meeting to order, after which came the singing of the hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds." A prayer by the chairman was followed by the report of the Board of Managers, who nominated the following members of the "Maile Wreath" committee to serve during the next four months: Rev. S. E. Bishop, chairman; Rev. O. P. Emerson, Mrs. J. M. Whitney and Miss Brocke of Kawaiahae Seminary.

Miss Brocke agreed to take one of the four evenings in her own charge, furnishing material from various institutions of the Islands, with the assistance of the society.

The collection for the evening amounted to $27.15.

Mrs. Montague-Turner, who was born in the building, was called upon for a song, and responded with "Home, Sweet Home," rendered most feelingly. Miss Nellie Judd struck a few notes on the old piano as a start to "Ott in the stilly night," sung by all.

Then the Rev. Mr. Bingham told the story of the house—how it was framed and fitted in Boston, sent around Cape Horn, and after landing had to wait for the suspicions of the chiefs to die away before it could be put up. Meantime the missionaries, the Bingham, Chamberlains (not the present family) and others of the early band of missionaries erected a short distance makai of the site of the present building. At last the suspicions of the King were allayed and the work was begun. The digging of the cellar excited new suspicions, which were removed by the malicious statements of some jealous English; that the real intention was to capture the country, and the cellar was to be used for storing arms and ammunition. To be prepared for this, guns were taken to the top of Punchbowl hill, and on being put in place were trained on the suspicious excavation. But at last the house was finished and the families all moved in. "All," for there was no other place for them; and for many years it was the home of the mission. As the rooms on the first and second floors were all occupied by the various families, there being only one room in common, which was used for general prayers, it was necessary to use the cellar for living purposes, and the main room there was for a long time the only living or dining room. Much of the time it was spread three times a day for about fifty people.

Sometimes they had salt pork, hard bread, flour and potatoes, but they did not often get them at the same time, and were often without any of them, having then to subsist on poi, fish, kalo or anything else that came to hand. A large number of persons at one time and another were born in the house, among them several Bingham, Judd, Chamberlains, Cookes, Halls and others. An Armstrong and a Bingham were born the same day.

Many of the high chiefs, the royal family, as well as throngs of the common people, were frequent visitors at the house. Sometimes the visits were not friendly. On one occasion a man who had connected himself with the church, but who was thoroughly bad, and whose wicked conduct had been denounced, came, and sitting in the parlor or common room, beside Mr. Bingham, said he had come to kill him, and he looked willing and able to carry out his threat. Mr. Bingham said: "I do not fear; the Lord is my shield." And soon the man left. On another occasion some enraged sailors from a war vessel in port came to the house to kill the occupants. The doors were closed, and while beating on the back door one of the drunken fellows struck the other a stunning blow, which knocked him senseless. In the ensuing confusion and delay an officer arrived and ordered the men off.

As the children were not permitted to play with the native children, on account of the violence then common among them, little Hiram was often very lonely, and as his sisters had some dolls to play with, the father took pity on the youngster and made him one out of a piece of wood. Suitsing the action to the word, Mr. Bingham, in the presence of the amused assembly, pulled the ancient but well preserved doll from his pocket. Some one in the States sent him a box of toy tools, of which naturally he became very fond. But one day the young Lihilo, afterwards Kamehameha III., saw it, and expressing a strong desire to own it, Father Bingham suggested giving it to him. It was hard for the little fellow, but taking out a little hammer and chisel, the rest of the box and contents were given to the young chief, who said many years after, upon the occasion of the presentation of a Bible to him, in 1857 or '58, that he remembered the affair perfectly.

Rev. S. E. Bishop read an interesting paper, giving some other and further facts connected with the old house. Chief Justice Judd, Mr. Hall, Mr. Gulick, Messrs. C. M. and A. F. Cooke and W. R. Castle gave other facts and recollections about the place. Judge Judd had a very lively remembrance of the old white goat which survived the combined attacks of many boys. Mr. Hall called attention to their house on Nuuanu avenue, which, he says, is the oldest frame building in the valley. Mr. Castle referred to the work among the natives, which produced such noble men as Paki, Kekuanooa and others of that cast, whose influence while living was directed toward the salvation of the native race in all ways.

Both Mr. Bingham and Mr. Cooke referred to the little close garret, into which it was possible to crawl through an outside window, and there in dust and silence view almost innumerable idols, relics of the old heathen days. (It becomes a very interesting question where these now priceless things have gone.)

When the old house was built, and for many years after, the whole plain, almost from the harbor to Punahou and to the beach, was a barren waste. Water was obtained by digging surface wells, which produced only brackish water. The source of supply was varied from time to time by getting oil casks of the whalers, which were placed at the house corners to catch the scanty rainfall. Even this became unfit for use, from heat and accumulating foulness, after a while. But with chain pumps, as told by Mr. Cooke, some flowers were made to grow, relieving the dull aridness of the dusty landscape.

Mrs. L. B. Coan read a letter from her mother, Mrs. Bingham, referring to the life at the old mission house. The Sunday afternoon Bible readings and songs by the children were also referred to.

After singing "The Old House at Home," and the mission hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains," the meeting adjourned to come together with Mrs. J. M. Whitney "next moon."

The question of preserving the old house was not reached, but it is not a dead issue, and it is not at all certain that this most interesting old house will be torn down.

GEORGE DU MAURIER.

The death of Du Maurier has removed one more of a distinguished galaxy of London artists. But Du Maurier was more than an artist; he was as successful with the pen as he was with the pencil, and his name is a household word in every part of the world where the English language is spoken.

From 1860, when his first work appeared, Du Maurier's work has weekly appeared in Punch, and illustrations of his were for several years published monthly in Harper's Magazine. His style was as distinct as that of John Leech or Charles Dana Gibson. Once acquainted with his work, no one could fail to recognize it, even when unsigned. It was graceful, clever and decided in type. There was never indecision in it, and the picture told the story. During his long connection with Punch he produced types which have become almost household words. He made war upon the aesthetic craze long before Gilbert and Sullivan produced "Patience." The follies of the day were ever being attacked. The vulgarity of the rich, purse-proud millionaire, the pomposity of the empty-headed nobility, filled with pride of birth; the arrogance of bishops, the humors of the street, all were portrayed and good humoredly laughed at.

It is a great pity that Du Maurier's art was interrupted by means of the old fashioned wood engraving. Had it been interpreted through the medium employed by Life, Sketch and dozens of other modern and up to date publications it would have been more permanent. Much of the delicacy of the original work was lost, and Du Maurier used himself to complain of the wood engravers' butchery of his best work.

It was only a few years ago that Du Maurier surprised the world with his novel, "Peter Ibbetson." Those who read it in the pages of the magazine it was published in recognized the touch of a master hand, but "Peter Ibbetson" had not a great success at first. It was only after the publication and marvelous popularity of "Trilby" that the bulk of readers enquired after the previous story. One more work of fiction has come from the gifted pen, and then, just at the moment of success, it dropped from fingers forever.

Du Maurier's style is peculiarly pleasing, and there is virility and yet exquisite grace in every paragraph of his works. And yet, oddly enough, he delighted in mystical thoughts. The dream life of "Peter Ibbetson," the hypnotism of "Trilby" show a curious train of thought. But what would have been spoiled by a less delicate hand only added a charm when handled by him.

In another way Du Maurier's works are charming and peculiar. We have had authors who have illustrated their own works, notably Thackeray, who drew the illustrations to the "Newcombs;" but Thackeray was only a caricaturist, and no one forms his ideals of the characters in that immortal work from Thackeray's illustrations. Whereas Du Maurier realized his ideal with his pencil, and in representing "Trilby" on the stage, the nearer the characters are to the illustrations, the greater their success.

That Du Maurier's works will become classics there is little doubt, and through them his art work will be remembered, and not sink into the semi-oblivion of such men as John Leech, H. K. Brown, and even Cruikshank, who are known to a generation passing away, but unknown to those of the present day.

SAVE THE MISSION HOME!

The gathering of the Mission Children's Society in the old mission home-stead on Saturday evening was interesting, unique in a measure, and inspiring. To those whose memory goes back to the early days it was almost like gathering about the old hearthstone and renewing the associations of childhood. The question that is now agitating the public mind is whether or no this old land mark is to be destroyed, and it is not alone the missionary children who have taken an interest in saving what is now a relic from the destructive hand of modern real estate purchasers.

The old mission home is to this country what Plymouth Rock is to New England, and what a thousand and one relics are to the older countries whose people have recovered from the rush of "modern development" that carries all before it, and have had time to consider the value of landmarks. Call them sentimental landmarks if so desired, but the sentiment is a worthy one and one that should be cultivated. It is not the object of this paper to decry modern development, but the home of early settlers has an historic value that should not be forgotten; indeed a home whose occupants have figured so prominently before the world ought to be held sacred by those now profiting by the privations of pioneer missionary life. And there is not a man, woman or child in Hawaii today who is not profiting by the work of those early missionary fathers and mothers.

In many respects the old mission is the Mount Vernon of Hawaii, and if properly restored, relics of former missionary days can gradually be collected so that the place will in days to come stand a monument to the early settlers, a spot interesting and instructive to tourists, to say nothing of the younger generations of this country. It is to be hoped that the last meeting of the Mission Children's Society will be the beginning of a movement that will accomplish the restoration of the "Mission Home."

A Hilo resident prominent in Legislative circles, writes the Advertiser: "D. H. Hitchcock is strongly endorsed by all of the solid men of this island for the circuit judgeship. The Hilo Tribune is backing him for the position." From the general tenor of this correspondence, we draw the inference that the Tribune and anti-Tribune forces of Hilo have joined hands. We are pleased to note the breaking down of factional barriers, and certainly from the legal and political standpoint no better man than D. H. Hitchcock can be found for the position. The only question that could possibly be raised is whether Mr. Hitchcock's health is such as to allow him to accept the position.

The press correspondents now state that the Bancroft will not force the Dardanelles, but the United States Minister has used his influence to such good purpose that Uncle Sam's dispatch boat will be allowed to pass the Turkish forts without molestation. It would have been just as well to have stated all this in the first place. When the United States navy desires to force its way into foreign waters the unsuspecting public need not expect that any small material will be sent to do the work, unless, as the San Francisco Chronicle suggests, it is the intention to get the ship past the forts by using a fishing smack disguise.

The character of the ball playing and the enthusiasm of the crowd displayed at the interisland game on Saturday ought to leave no question of the success of an Interisland League next season. The Maui men are a gentlemanly lot of fellows, as well as good ball players, and bringing the young men of the Islands together in athletic contests cannot fail to have a healthy effect and inspire a new enthusiasm.

PERSONAL AND PECULIAR.

Murdoch invented or discovered a means for producing illuminating gas. Sir Walter Scott joked about "sending light through street pipes." "And lighting London by smoke." Subsequently Sir Walter's house was lighted by it.

Every American warship has an outfit of over 150 flags.

Paul, surnamed "the Hermit," Paulus Eremitanus, toward the close of the second century, is usually reckoned the first hermit, though St. Jerome, at the beginning of the life of that saint, says it is not known who was the first. Some go back to John the Baptist, and others to Elias.

ALL JESUITS.

A gentleman who came over from France and settled at Macon, a few years ago, was worried because he could find no Catholic congregation with whom to worship. He said they were Jesuits, all of them, whether they acknowledged it or not, and he would attend any Protestant service in preference. Some of his family worshipped with Baptists and some with Presbyterians.

He afterwards moved to Atlanta, and is known by some of our readers. He said it was the same thing there. No Catholics, in reality—Jesuits all of them.

He said France drove them out, and if we loved our country we would keep them out of office and not let them control in politics anywhere.—Southern Eagle.

A Hot Bath

In this climate does one more good than even a dip at Waikiki. People should understand this. It cleans the skin more thoroughly than a cold water bath, and allows the system to breathe through its pores; aids digestion, and cools one off by contrast. We have just received a fine line of

Enameled Iron Bath Tubs

Full length size, with nickel fittings, standing on massive iron legs and ready for use, only needing connection with your water main and hot water tank. The price is $40, or $45 with handsome hard wood rim. We also wish to draw your attention to Peck's Double Bath Cock which can be used in connection with any bath tub and is intended for hot and cold water. It is a massive, nickel, ornamental bath cock and sells for $9.

In This Climate

where there is a great demand for the services of bugologists, upholstered furniture is not sought after to any great extent. Besides the trouble caused by the bugs, the natural high temperature is against anything that adds to the discomfort by making the body warmer. For this reason then, the inclination of the people is toward cool furniture.

Wicker Ware Chairs

and couches fill the bill and are more comfortable. At Eastern summer resorts some people furnish their homes throughout with wicker and rattan furniture, and the result has always been satisfactory. We have

Straight Chairs

and Rockers in an endless variety of shapes. Some fancy ones are works of art. These goods differ in fifty ways from the cheap goods manufactured in China. They are better finished and in better shapes. The Chinese have not the machinery for treating the wicker in the same excellent manner as the Americans, nor have they the same skilled labor to weave the beautiful designs. Our goods are genuine

American Goods.

For a very small cost, this style furniture can be stained to imitate natural wood and by this means, whatever signs of crudeness may appear to the eye in the virgin ware, is obliterated.

BELGIC PASSENGERS.

Good Time Aboard Ship and Flattering Remarks About Officers.

The Belgic came into port Saturday afternoon with a large number of through passengers for China and Japan aboard. Among the number were: Mr. Barbour Lathrop, so well known in Chicago and throughout the United States. He is off on a trip, and passengers of the Belgic said yesterday that he was absolutely indispensable on board, his witty remarks, his singing and his piano playing being calculated to make life on the ship very happy.

Mr. A. J. de Souza, who represents a large Chicago business house in Kobe, Japan, was also one of the passengers.

In a talk with a reporter of this paper he spoke very encouragingly of the business prospects at present in Japan. Mr. de Souza also took occasion to remark on the excellent service aboard the Belgic, and spoke in most flattering terms of Captain Rinder and the other officers. Mr. de Souza is a man who has traveled very widely and is qualified to speak on the subject. Other passengers spoke in the same terms. Mr. and Mrs. Curtiss of London, who are on a tour around the world. It is their intention to go to Japan and China first, passing through Honolulu on their way to the Colonies. Mr. Curtiss is one of the wealthiest men in London.

BICYCLE GIRL BARRED.

Accident Insurance Companies Will Not Insure Her.

The bicycle girl cannot be insured. This is the decree of the insurance companies.

The reason for this is as odd from a business standpoint as the fact itself. It is because of the frivolity of woman; that is, she makes frivolous claims for damages.

The accident insurance policy usually calls for payment of $5,000 in case of death, and in case of disability the weekly payments range from $7 to $25 a week, according to the extent of the injuries. The annual payment to secure this insurance ranges from $4 to $20 in different companies. Scarcely a day passes that feminine bicycle riders do not visit the insurance companies as applicants for the policies, but now they are invariably told they cannot be insured under the rules agreed to by the underwriters.

In the early stage of bicycling women were insured, and it was found that claims for trivial or imaginary injuries were made by them so frequently and persistently that the underwriters would be bankrupted if one-half of them were paid. So the companies, at a joint meeting made a rule that women bicyclists should be debarred from accident policies.

All women are not excluded, however. Those who possess separate estates and who are engaged in business which requires their personal attention and involves travel by rail or steamer are treated as desirable risks. If they are injured while riding a bicycle for health or pleasure, they receive the benefits of insurance. Bicycle riding is not considered "extra hazardous" except in the case of professional riders. The ordinary rider for health and pleasure, even if he is a "scorcher," is considered a desirable risk.

A cyclist may fall from his wheel and get both eyes blackened and yet not recover compensation if insured under an accident company. If all depends on the nature of his business. If he is a lawyer, a doctor or a bank clerk, he will recover damages, because the injury makes him non-presentable, and he is "disabled" from attending to his duties. But if he happens to be a mechanic or a truck driver and his vision is impaired, he receives no money, because his personal appearance is not supposed to count. This is one of the queer phases of accident insurance.

Superintendent Eaton said that nearly one-third of the claims recently made for damages under accident policies came from bicycle riders. Those who break an arm or leg or are otherwise incapacitated from attending to business receive $25 a week while they are laid up.—Chicago News.

WATER WASHES OUT DISEASE.

Water, much as men may dislike it, is good for men to drink. It is possible to prevent many diseases and to cure others by drinking large quantities of water. An eminent French physician says that typhoid fever can be washed out of the system by water. He gives his patients what would amount to eight or ten ounces an hour of sterilized water. Experiments have been made with diseases caused by bacteria which demonstrate the curative value of water. In cases of cholera, where the system secretes a large amount of fluid, enormous quantities of hot water are of great benefit, and will cure many cases without other medicines. One doctor says that perfectly sweet cider, taken in large quantities, has been known to cure cases of bowel complaint. The acid kills the bacteria, which are speedily thrown out of the system. Hot water in fevers is of great use, and an ordinary tumbler full of water as hot as can be taken, once an hour, is one of the very best remedies. The important thing is to get into the system and out of it a sufficient amount of water to prevent accumulations of poisons and toxins within the body.

THE BABY'S GOD.

Sitting in the summer twilight
With a happy golden head
Pillowed on my arm one evening
To my little one I said:

"Up above the shadows, darling,
Far above the tree-tops tall,
Higher than the stars in heaven
Is God's home beyond them all.

But his eyes are strong and loving
And he sees us sitting here,
Every word that we are saying Though we whisper, he can hear."

Naught she knew of sin to pardon
Nor of guilt to wash away,
Naught of burdens hard to carry;
Life to her could mean but play.

Deep the wide round eyes went searching
As to pierce the spaces through,
While she whispered, gazing upward,
"Pretty Jesus, peek-a-boo!"

Fellowship and sweet communion
In the little world were blent,
Faith as strong and love as tender
As in prayer of wisest saint.

Could I chide her, blindly thinking
That the love which taught us all
With the glad to mingle gladness
Would not listen to her call?

We who are but older children
Scarce with wider wisdom pray
Pleading him to speed the project
Which is but a larger play.

Yet we find him in our gladness
Quite as much as in our pain,
Sharer of our joy and sadness,
Sanctifying loss and gain.

He who hears the falling sparrow
Hear the happy song-bird, too,
Love that bore the world's great sorrow,
Heard the baby's "Peek-a-boo!"
—A. E. Miller in The Kingdom.

The "button fad" has, indeed, reached startling proportions; and what was at first senseless but harmless has become obnoxious. Buttons are worn by men and boys which bear not only grossly suggestive but absolutely indecent inscriptions. It is decidedly unpleasant for any self-respecting man or woman to sit in a car and have these vile mottoes displayed by a "button fiend" sitting opposite. Some restrictions should be placed upon the manufacture and distribution of these buttons, which are equally as harmful as were the pictures given away with cigarettes.

Anheuser Busch Beer

Will be served on Draught at the "Hawaiian Hotel"

We quote from a letter of Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association, dated Sept. 8th, the following:

"Your honorable firm having represented us for so many years, we believe it is useless to call your attention to the merits of our article, but we should like to repeat again and call your attention to the fact that ours is THE ONLY PURE BARLEY MALT BEER MANUFACTURED, and corn cereals and other adulterants, as well as acids, for the preservation of beer, are unknown in our establishment. With the above you may go before the public and publish the same."

"ANHEUSER-BUSCH BREWING ASSOCIATION."

This beer received the highest awards at the World's Columbian Exposition. No encomium of ours can add to its deservedly high reputation. Its introduction in any and every market establishes it as the favorite. It is without a peer! without a rival! and even without a competitor!

To bring it within the reach of all it will be sold at the prevailing price of 12 1-2 Cents a Glass.

Let everyone get the best for the least money.

W. W. DIMOND.

Some time ago there was an item going the rounds of the press in the United States to the effect that a young lady, who was ill, wanted to secure one million postage stamps, to give a physician who had promised to cure her on receipt of them. The girl who did that was a man, and he was deluged with stamps; then he came to Hawaii and he is here yet.
While he was collecting postage stamps, little Dolly Washburn was on another lay. She wanted to save her poor dear mother all the time she could around baking days, so she invented an egg separator, which takes the yolk from the whites with the greatest ease. The separator sells for 50 cents and Dolly has already made enough out of it to employ a good cook and live in New York.

In this country most servants light fires with the assistance of kerosene. Those who live through it get along all right, but they waste lots of oil. We have a contrivance whereby oil may be saved and all danger of explosion may be averted. The price is little.

Mr. Paxton must have been a man who hung around the kitchen a good deal, for he has given to the world a combination dipper, strainer and funnel, that is about as cute as anything ever seen in the kitchen. You can strain soups, milk and other things or you can have a dipper or a funnel combined, for a quarter.

The police were never known to cast upon all persons whatsoever the smiles that they did on Saturday after their matches with the "Sawed-Off" element of Company D and the champion shots of Companies F and G, all of which they overcame by their good eyes and their trusty rifles. On Sunday their smiles were really so noticeable that an order for the suppression of grins was issued for the purpose of upholding the dignity of the police department. The following scores will explain the smiles:

The above match was shot in the afternoon at the Kakaako range, and as will be seen, the police bested their short opponents by 13 points. Chamberlain with 44 led for the policemen, and Burnette with 43 for the Lilliputians.
Lieutenant Fernandes of the police fell much below his usual average.

In the match between the police and Companies F and G, the former shot at their Iwilei range in the morning and the military men did their work at the Kakaako range in the afternoon.

for the native volunteers, made the highest scores.

There were twenty-five members of Company H out for target practice at the Kakaako butts yesterday morning.
Captain Murray was on hand and remained with the men all morning. The shooting of this organization is gradually becoming better, and the large attendance at the butts goes to show the interest that is being taken by the men.
The incentive just now is the medals.

Hooray for Football.

Today, in all probability, the last game of base ball for the season will be seen, and now foot ball is engaging everyone's attention. Robinson has worked hard and the boys have reciprocated by coming out for daily practice, and at present it is an assured thing to go out and find plenty of material hard at work. The lecture practice, accompanied by illustrations on a blackboard of the different plays, besides signal practice, is being continued. The candidates for the trip to the coast number about forty-three players, and include such well known athletes as Hitchcock, Tuft, Parker, Cock-ett, Dayton, Holt, Long, Scott, Kawa-

nanakoa, Thompson, Koli, Damon, Thrum, Cunha, Armstrong, Johnson,
Hapai, Wilder (2), Petrie, Angus, Lish-man, Waterhouse, Conrad, Vida, Berger, Hazleton, Murray, Ross, Andrade and Cornwall. These gentlemen have been faithful in practice, and there are others not mentioned above who have signified their intention of coming out.

Punahou Preparatory School.

Under the direction of Principal French the popularity of the Punahou Preparatory School is evidently increasing. The total number enrolled at present is one hundred and nine, eleven of whom are Chinese. The grade of the school has been steadily rising and classes have been formed in Algebra, English literature and French, and the trustees have recently voted that Latin should be added to the course.
Miss Bessie Foster French, of the New York Art League, has charge of the classes in free hand drawing and Miss Jessie R. Axtell, of the New England Conservatory, gives instruction in choral singing.

An immense stock of new goods to arrive by the Australia for N. S. Sachs, including worsted dress goods and millinery novelties.

Among the arrivals from Maui ports on the Claudine Sunday were R. R. Berg, L. M. Baldwin, J. M. Sims, Father Matthias and A. Enos.

W. Lathrop MacMillan and wife arrived on the Belgic and are guests of Prof. Maxwell. Mrs. MacMillan is a sister of Mrs. Maxwell.

The S. N. Castle has a complete sugar mill on board, presumably for one of the plantations for which Castle & Cooke are agents.

The O. S. S. Australia is due from San Francisco today with quite a number of Honolulu people aboard, returning from pleasant trips in the States.

If Lucullus were alive and lived in Honolulu, he would call on H. E. McIntyre & Bro. after the Australia got in, and sample their ice house goods.

Among the passengers from Kanai on the Mikahala Sunday morning were W. H. Rice, Mrs. C. M. Cooke and H. Morrison, manager of Makaweli plantation.

Two umbrellas, three pairs of over-shoes and a silver pin, picked up at the Myrtle Boat Club House on Friday night, are awaiting owners at E. O. Hall and Son.

The gentleman who took a heavy linen duster by mistake from the Myrtle boat house on Friday evening, October 23d, is kindly requested to leave it at the Hawaiian News Co.

Corporal Schmedon of Company A will be unable to run for the office of second lieutenant of that company on account of his duties in his present position on the Custom House force.

The Hawaiian National Band has been engaged by A. B. Spreckels to play at Ingleside race track the first week of the season, consequently they will not return by the Australia today.

There was a very satisfactory rehearsal of Il Trovatore at the Opera House Saturday night, at which the orchestra was present. The finale of the second act was excellently rendered.

The five Portuguese concerned in the PUNCHBOWL riot of several months ago, and who were out on bond pending the action of the Council of State, were sent over to the reef Saturday to serve out their sentences.

At the morning service at St. Andrew's Sunday morning Rev. Alex. Mackintosh alluded feelingly to the late Archbishop of Canterbury. At the close of the service Wray Taylor played the Dead March from Saul.

The high wind played havoc with the signs around town last night. The immense spectacles over Wichman's was loosened and hung by one iron. Other signs were blown down, and for a time it was dangerous to walk along the streets.

Already people acquainted with Hugo Fisher's paintings have begun asking at the Pacific Hardware Company for private views. The paintings have not been placed yet and will not be until next Monday, when the exhibition will be open to the public.

On the day of the departure of the Belgic for Honolulu, October 17th, Hon. Paul Neumann left San Francisco for Guatemala. Mr. Harbour Lathrop, one of the passengers on the Belgic, and who is an old friend of Mr. Neumann, said that he had so far recovered that he looked once more "like the old Paul."

A five-mile handicap road race will take place next Saturday afternoon, beginning at 4 o'clock, the course being from Kapiolani Park to the finish at the usual place on Union Square. All those wishing to take part must enter at the Hawaiian Cyclery on King street before Friday noon, October 30th. The fee will be a dollar.

Ben Paakai and Waiola each guilty to the charge of selling spirituous liquor without a license. Sentence suspended.

Other minor cases were set for this week.

FOR CHAMPIONSHIP.

Stars Will Play Wailuku Today For Island Championship.

Late last night managers of the Star and Wailuku teams met at the Hawaiian Hotel and arranged for a return game of baseball, between the same teams as played yesterday, to take place at the League grounds at 3:30 this afternoon.

It was agreed between the representatives that only members of the Star team should play on that nine and that the game will be for the Inter-Island Championship. The only change in the Star team will be Donald Ross who will probably play in place of J. O. Carter, Jr. The Maui team will play same nine as on Saturday.

If the championship goes to Maui this will open up the way for an Inter-Island League and will guarantee larger crowds at the games. The admission today will be 25 cents to everyone except member of teams, umpires and scorer.
