The confirmation of Charles R. Hemenway as the Attorney General of the Territory of Hawaii, the insertion in the appropriation bill of $6000 for the assistance of the Hawaii Promotion Committee, and the increase of the permanent settlement on the ex-Queen from $625 to $700 a month were the three most important accomplishments of the Territorial Senate yesterday.

In addition, the monotony of the routine work was broken by the receipt of a second message from the Governor, nominating license commissioners for Oahu and other appointees for offices created by the Session Laws establishing commissions. No action was taken on the nominations, consideration of the message being deferred until today.

The House bill, planning for a general revision of the tax law was taken up for consideration in committee of the whole, with Assessor Charles T. Wilder assisting the members of the upper house in interpretation of the measure. Action was deferred until amendments can be drafted by the legal advisers of the Senate.

Pass Loan Bill.

The loan bill was the first measure to be taken up on third reading. As amended it provides $100,000 for the construction of the Kula pipe line and water works. It passed third reading with a unanimous vote.

The bill providing for the payment to the Territory by the County of Maui of the full cost of the Kula water works was then taken up and finally indorsed without a dissenting vote.

House Bill No. 90, placing the appointment of jailers in the hands of the deputy sheriffs, was referred back to the Judiciary Committee.

House Bill 143, providing for a library of Hawaii and an appropriation of $10,000, passed third reading with a full vote, after Palmer Woods amendment that the library be located at Hilo was—as a joke—put to a vote and lost.

House Bill No. 153, establishing educational and taxation districts, passed third reading without a dissenting vote.

House Bill No. 154, regulating the exercise of the right of eminent domain by railroad corporations, passed third reading without a dissenting vote.

House Joint Resolution No. 8, providing for the appointment of a milk commission, passed third reading with a full vote.

House Bill No. 202, dealing with the special gold certificate deposit, special silver certificate deposit and special money order deposit, was referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

House Bill No. 209, relating to stamp duties, was handed over to the same committee.

On the motion of Senator Brown, House Bill No. 167, prohibiting fishing with nets in the bay of Hilo, was taken from the table and referred to the special committee of the Hawaii delegation.

The bills dealing with the question of the transfer of authority to counties were reported by the Judiciary Committee.

House Bill No. 175, extending the powers of the Boards of Supervisors, passed second reading on the adoption of the amending report of the Judiciary Committee.

Lloyd Storm Center Yesterday—Members Not Cheap Guys.

There was more "graft" talked about in the House yesterday, this time ex-Stenographer Lloyd being the storm center. His resignation was presented before the House and the Speaker's acceptance of the resignation put before the House for approval. It was approved but only after a long and bitter debate in which recrimination between members was indulged in and further charges of graft made.

Cohen stated that to accept the resignation in view of developments after the same had been presented would be to do a great injustice to Lloyd, depriving him of the right to meet the charges of graft that were being made against him. Cohen also scored the Speaker and the members of his "cabinet" for the star chamber methods they were adopting in the carrying on of business.

Kaleiopi stated that he had another graft investigation resolution to present later to the House, which was to call for a searching investigation into the whole House, members, clerks and officers, from the Speaker himself down.

"I can prove that some of the committees have clerks under salary to which they are not entitled," yelled this noisy member, "and if that isn't graft I would like to know what is."

The charges made against Lloyd, to which reference was made by Cohen and others are that he attempted to put through a padded typewriting account, that he offered to share in the profits of swollen accounts with Clerk Woodward if the latter would O. K. the bills and that he attempted to bribe Kaleiopi to support a resolution that he be paid for the extra work done.

These charges were made, according to a statement made by Lloyd yesterday morning, at a meeting of the Speaker's "cabinet" on Monday afternoon, and were presented as reasons why he should not be retained further in the service of the House. Without knowing that such charges had been made, Lloyd presented his resignation, on the understanding that it was to be placed before the members of the "cabinet" and not read in the House. On finding out that the serious charges had been made, however, he wanted to withdraw the resignation and fight the charges, fearing that the presentation of the resignation now would be taken as an admission of guilt.

In the presence of a representative of the Advertiser he yesterday requested a chance to make his defense known. "If my resignation goes in now it will be a practical admission that these lying charges against me are true," he said.

"Your resignation makes no admissions of any kind," answered the Speaker. "It is your resignation, which I have accepted and which will go before the House today."

"You promised me that you would first present this resignation to the members of your so-called cabinet," objected Lloyd.

"Are you here to make a row?" demanded Holstein.

"No, I am here looking for a square deal," said Lloyd.

"Your resignation will go before the House this morning," said the Speaker, leaving his private room in the possession of Lloyd, Representatives Cohen and Long and the Advertiser representatives.

"Now you see what kind of a deal I am getting," said Lloyd.

"It does not look like a square deal," admitted Cohen, who went into the House to take up the fight.

Not Cheap Guys.

The Speaker was questioned yesterday concerning the bill of $60 incurred for automobiles to take the members from the Capitol to the naval docks last week.

"I ordered the automobiles," he said. "Do you want the Japanese to think that the members of this House are cheap guys?"

The Speaker intimated that there was an overcharge in the account that was being looked into.

The Judiciary Committee presented its report on Kaleiopi's graft investigation resolution in the afternoon, killing the resolution that referred to "honorable" members and submitting a substitute resolution which was adopted. This resolution called for the appointment of a special committee.

SUGAR ISSUES IN PAYNE BILL

How the Hawaiian Interests Might Be Affected by Them.

By Ernest G. Walker.

(Mail Special to the Advertiser.)

WASHINGTON, March 31.—There is much speculation here about the outcome in the sugar schedules of the Payne tariff bill. An impression seems to be abroad that the Finance Committee of the Senate may restore the duty on refined sugar to the current rates, under the Dingley law, although that rests on no particularly reputable statement.

The Hawaiian sugar interests would welcome a restoration of the duty, because it is argued that in the long run the producers of raw sugar would have to assume the burden of the reduction. The lowering of the duty 5-100 on refined sugar, it has been estimated, might affect the Hawaiian plantations half a million dollars, but there is apparently no disposition to make complaint about it.

The attitude of men in authority here regarding the prospects of Philippine sugar is a matter of some comment. Men high in the administration proceed on the theory that the Philippines are not likely to be a factor in the production, as far as the United States is concerned. The best informed sugar men, however, believe that the Philippines have great prospects in the production of sugar. It is told here that a firm in New York is making ready to erect a big mill with modern machinery in the Philippines, just as soon as it is certain the sugar schedules with the 300,000 limit for free importation becomes law. The promoters of this enterprise reckon that the first men in the field will be able to reap a handsome profit on their investment—in fact, that they will be able to make a profit of 33-1-3 per cent. annually. They can sell much of their product at Hongkong and also some in Japan, and also be in a position to avail themselves before any others of the provisions of the new law with the United States. These men reason that with modern machinery—and they will have a thoroughly modern mill—they can enter the Philippine field more advantageously than in any other sugar producing area in the world.

TELEPHONE LINE TO BE EXTENDED TO KAHUKU

Aerograms whizzed into the wireless station at Kahuku will, within a very short time, be forwarded on to Honolulu by means of both telephone and telegraph the same night as they are received. This is one of the results of the new telephone and wireless telegraph deals recently consummated, for the telephone system will be extended from its present terminus to the wireless stations on Oahu.

This will be welcome news to many people in the city, and the business men particularly. It will then be possible to file a message with Superintendent Jack Baleh at his office during the afternoon and to receive an answer to the same that evening. The work of constructing the telephone line to the wireless stations will, it is said, cost considerably over $5000. Work on this will be started immediately and is expected to be finished before two months are over and perhaps in one month's time.

News from vessels at sea will be received in Honolulu the same evening that they are received at Kahuku. It is expected that a telegraphic connection, as well as telephonic, will be made between here and the stations also. The telegraph system will eventually, it is understood, supplant the telephone, the former being more reliable and easier.

The transport Thomas carried no passengers from this port for Manila.

WHALE AND SHARKS HAD A BATTLE OFF WAIKIKI BEACH

A huge whale, spouting and thrashing in the ocean about a mile and a quarter from Waikiki beach and almost directly in front of the Moana Hotel, caused excitement at the beach yesterday morning about 10:30 o'clock. The leviathan appeared to be battling with sharks, as the forms of dark fishes could be seen at intervals darting about.

The guests at the Moana Hotel had an excellent view of the whale from the roof garden. The guests were watching the approach of the liner Alameda from the harbor, en route to San Francisco, as Captain Dowell always gives a whistle salute to the hotel as he passes by. Just as he was coming up opposite, the whale rose to the surface and blew a column of water high into the air. The whale was between the shore and the Alameda and probably

SHOULD RECORD VOLCANIC ACTION

So Said Prof. T. A. Jaggar, Speaking Before the University Club.

That the action of volcanoes, their causes and results upon earth movements, should be as carefully and systematically studied and recorded as the daily atmospheric conditions, having almost equal value in the determining of future phenomena, was urged last evening at the University Club by Prof. T. A. Jaggar, Jr., of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, in an illustrated lecture on volcanoes and related earth movements. Furthermore Prof. Jaggar said that, in addition to the station for volcanic research to be established at Blue Hill, Mass., near the great Roach observatory, a subordinate station is also to be put elsewhere, and that no better place could be found for it than in the Hawaiian Islands and close to the crater of Kilauea.

Prof. Jaggar finds Hawaii ideal from a seismological standpoint, as it is located in the middle of a great ocean which is an advantage in giving an unbroken sea area for earthquake shocks to be carried through and recorded here. In the volcanoes of Hawaii there is ample opportunity for very close contact with the disturbing elements so that they could be easily studied.

In general, Prof. Jaggar stated during his lecture, but more particularly afterward, that the natural places for establishing such observatories at first are lands where the earth's movements are most rapid, and in the regions of volcanoes. He said that the Japanese have taken a leading part in this research and their own empire is girdled with seismic observatories. Prof. Jaggar referred to a monograph which he has just published on "The Messina Earthquake—Prediction and Protection," in which he referred to the proposal to build an earthquake observatory and museum, to be equipped with instruments for measuring earth tremor, earth waves, earth sounds, tilt, gravity and magnetism. It is proposed to secure an endowment which will provide for expeditions as the most important part of the work of the observatory, whereby trained men can be sent to volcanic lands to carry on research which may not be done at Blue Hill, Mass. He realized that Hawaii is a central location, from which, if an observatory station was established here, such trained men could be sent out. His scheme is to have a great endowment and then with a certain sum, establish stations in Hawaii, Porto Rico, Canal Zone, Alaska, Aleutian Islands, Philippines, Sicily, etc. There would be three immediate goals for the investigators: 1, prediction of earthquakes; 2, prediction of

RIDER PUTS HORSE THROUGH WINDOW

Lando, the haberdasher, had a new sort of customer yesterday afternoon at his Hotel street store, when a horse broke through one of his $100 plate-glass windows and shivered it into atoms. A man, apparently a passenger on the Thomas, rode along Hotel street on a horse hired from the Club Stables. When opposite Bishop street the rider wanted to guide the horse down Bishop street and the horse wanted to go along Hotel street. The rider, evidently an inexperienced one, began yanking on the bridle, causing the horse to back until it went up on the sidewalk in front of Lando's, where it slipped on the pavement and fell through the window. It was badly cut on the head, but was given prompt veterinary attention.

DELAY IN EASTERN EXPRESS SHIPMENTS TO THESE ISLANDS

Much trouble has been caused to those who order goods from New England points without specifying that they shall be sent here via San Francisco, by the habit of the Adams Express Co. of forwarding them to Honolulu via Seattle. This express company has control of the business in New England as the U. S. Express Company has in the Middle States and Wells-Fargo in the West; and there seems to be more money for it in using Seattle as an export point than San Francisco. The result is that express packages addressed to Honolulu are frequently stalled at Seattle before being shipped down the coast to San Francisco and are slower than freight.

Mr. J. R. Galt is still waiting for an automobile part which was started from Connecticut long enough ago to have crossed the Pacific and gone around the world twice. It is not here yet.

Mr. Galt took up this matter with the Interstate Commerce Commission, through Delegate Kalaniano'le, and the following correspondence ensued:

"Committee on the Territories, House of Representatives, U. S. Washington, D. C., March 31, 1909.

"Mr. J. R. Galt, Honolulu, Hawaii:

"Dear Sir:—I have taken up with the Interstate Commerce Commission the matter of express shipments to Hawaii, and enclose you herewith letter from Commissioner Lane.

"If you do not get some satisfaction from them within a reasonable time, please advise me, and I will again take the question up with them direct."

"Very truly yours,

"J. K. KALANIANO'LE,

"Delegate to Congress."

"Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, March 26, 1909.

"Hon. J. K. Kalaniano'le, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

"Dear Sir:—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of March 23, enclosing letter from Mr. J. R. Galt, of Honolulu, protesting against the delay in the transportation of property by express from eastern points in the United States to Hawaii."

"In particular, Mr. Galt refers to a shipment of an automobile part from Hartford, Conn., on January 19 last, and which had not reached Honolulu at the time his letter was written. I am today taking this matter up informally with Mr. J. Zimmerman, general manager of the Adams Express Company, requesting an immediate statement of the position of his company in the premises. I shall take pleasure in advising you as soon as his reply is received."

"If it should prove impracticable to effect a satisfactory adjustment of this complaint through informal negotiations, I shall be glad to communicate with Mr. Galt and advise him as to the proper course to pursue in order to lodge a formal complaint with the Commission. I am today sending him a copy of the Act to regulate commerce measure, passed second reading on the adoption of the committee report.

House Bill No. 176, extending the powers of supervisors in the regulation of building construction, passed second reading, Makekau and Baker voting against it.

More County Power.

The Judiciary Committee reported on House Bill No. 88 and 79, relating to the powers and duties of counties. The committee recommended that House Bill No. 88 be passed and House Bill No. 79 be tabled, was carried out. In the course of its report the committee says:

"Your committee has combined the objects of both bills in one bill and therefore recommends that House Bill No. 79 be laid upon the table, and House Bill No. 88, pass second reading with Sections 1 and 2 amended to read as follows:

"Section 1. Section 9 of Act 39 of the Session Laws of 1905 is hereby amended by adding thereto a new subdivision to be designated as 4A, as follows:

"4A. To establish and maintain water works and sewer works; to collect rates for water supplied to consumers, and for the use of sewers. To take over from the Territory existing water works systems, including water rights, pipe lines and other appurtenances belonging thereto, and sewer systems, and to enlarge, develop and improve the same. To build, equip, maintain and regulate, and change, discontinue and reestablish hospitals, school houses, court houses, jails and houses of detention, punishment, confinement and reformation, and to give aid to hospitals. Each county shall provide for the maintenance and repair of all existing school houses, court houses and jails within its boundaries."

Chairman Knudsen of the Judiciary Committee returned the bill providing for the relief of Henry Smith, clerk of the Judiciary Department. Knudsen stated that the committee did not feel able to decide the question involved, and recommended that the bill be taken up in committee of the whole.

Two of Coelho's measures, Senate Bills Nos. 14 and 76, were returned by Chairman Knudsen with the statement that the members could not agree on the bills.

Senate Bill No. 76, relating to mileage and witness fees, was then taken up and passed on second reading.

Senate Bill No. 137, relating to the disposition of the balances of road tax money, passed on second reading.

Senate Bill No. 14 was tabled after a discussion on the proper vesting of authority in the matter of approving county expense bills.

Senate Bill No. 138, the purchasing agent measure, was received from the House with amendments and was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

House Bill No. 55, repealing the imposition of a fine on teachers admitting nonvaccinated children to schools, was taken up for consideration and passed on second reading.

House Bill 180, relating to taxation, and Senate Bills Nos. 20, 21, 22, 23 were taken up in committee of the whole. Bill No. 180 was read section by section and used as a basis for consideration.

When the section regulating the appointment of assessors was reached, Robinson argued that the full appointive power should be placed in the hands of the Governor. The motion made by Robinson was carried. Senator Knudsen pointed out the absurdity of taking the authority out of the hands of the Treasurer, and the vote on the motion inserting the amendment was reconsidered and lost.

Hemenway Confirmed.

When it became known that Secretary McBride was waiting outside the Senate Chamber with a message from the Governor, Senator Smith moved that the committee rise, and when the Senate reconvened, Clerk Savidge read the message, nominating Charles R. Hemenway as Attorney-General, as follows:

"Territory of Hawaii,

"Executive Chamber,

"Honolulu, April 14, 1909.

"To the Senate: I hereby nominate and propose, with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint Charles R. Hemenway as Attorney-General.

"I do this on the understanding that the non-confirmation of Mr. Hemenway's former appointment was the result of a misunderstanding as to the facts, and in the belief that, now that the facts are more fully understood, the appointment now proposed will prove satisfactory to your honorable body."

When the reading was concluded, President Smith asked what action the Senate desired to take on the message. Senator Knudsen immediately moved that "the appointment of Mr. Hemenway be confirmed," seconded by Senator Fairchild.

"I am authorized to state," said Senator Fairchild, "that no further action will be taken in regard to the Senate's failure to confirm Mr. Campbell."

Knudsen suggested that the vote be taken on a show of hands. Coelho asked for a secret ballot. He said that an attempt had been made to deprive him of his home because of his attitude in the Senate, and that another member had been threatened with foreclosure of a mortgage because of the vote on the liquor bill amendments.

Sensor Chillingworth said he was opposed to the secret ballot, but observed that there would be no harm in granting Coelho's request.

The motion for a secret ballot was then put and carried. Clerk Savidge making the circuit of the Senate Chamber and the scraps of paper being dropped into a hat.

There was a "strained silence" during the progress of the counting. President Smith finally announcing that the "appointment is confirmed by a vote of nine to five, one blank being cast."

Consideration of House Bill No. 180 was resumed, several sections of the bill being explained by Assessor Charles T. Wilder.

Veto Sustained.

The Senate sustained the Governor's veto on House Bill No. 35, the bill that attempted to fix $1.50 a day as the minimum rate to be paid laborers employed on public works.

Senator Robinson raised a number of objections to clauses of the bill, but they did not meet with much consideration at the hands of the Senate.

When the committee of the whole rose it was with the understanding that the bill will be taken up again as soon as an amended section is prepared by Attorney Robinson.

Appropriation Bill.

The Senate went into committee of the whole and resumed consideration of the appropriation bill.

Under the heading of hospitals, Robinson asked $11,500 for the Malulani hospital, $4300 for payroll and $7200 for maintenance. Senator Smith supported the amendment. An item of $11,500 for the Hilo hospital was inserted.

A letter was read from the officers of the Associated Charities asking that the appropriation of $2400 be reinserted in the bill. Senators McCarthy and Fairchild supported the insertion and the amendment was carried.

An item of $7200 for the Kapiolani Maternity Home was inserted.

Public Lands.

The appropriations for the Department of Public Lands were deferred, pending consideration of the bill providing for a consolidation of the departments.

The Judiciary Department items were approved as in the House bill. The salary of the clerk of the Second Circuit was raised from the $100 in the House bill to $125.

The expense appropriation of the Fourth Circuit was raised from $8000 to $13,200.

The contingent fund of $75,000 was deferred.

For the Archives Department, the salary of the librarian was approved at $1500; expense were approved at $5000.

Coelho moved to increase the biennial settlement on the ex-Queen to $15,600. Chillingworth supported the increase.

McCarthy said that he was opposed to a paltry raise of $25.00 a month, and he seconded Baker's motion to make it $700 a month. The amendment was inserted without a dissenting vote.

Chillingworth moved for the insertion of some provision for the Promotion Committee, stating that it was to the benefit of the islands as a whole that a persistent and established advertising campaign should be conducted. He moved for the insertion of an item of $250 a month for promotion and it was carried.

The following bills were signed by Governor Frear yesterday:

House Bill No. 54, Act 77, entitled "An Act Relating to Inventories of Government Assets."

House Bill No. 170, Act 78, entitled "An Act to Provide for Refunding Bonded Indebtedness of the Territory of Hawaii."

House Bill No. 177, Act 79, entitled "An Act to Amend Section 23 of an Act entitled 'An Act Incorporating the City and County of Honolulu' being Act 118 of the Session Laws of 1907."

House Bill No. 29, Act 80, entitled "An Act to Amend Section 99 of the Session Laws of 1905, entitled 'An Act Providing for the Construction of Roads through and from Public Lands Opened for Settlement.'"

House Bill No. 165, Act 81, entitled "An Act Providing for the Care and Medical Treatment of Persons Afflicted with Leprosy."

House Bill No. 173, Act 82, entitled "An Act to Authorize Public Accountants to Deposit Territorial Monies in Banks."

tee, on which were named Shingle, Coney and Kawewehi.

This committee had a conference with the Speaker after the House rose, and decided to commence their work this morning, asking leave to sit at the same time during which the House is in session. The Speaker's chambers will be the inquisition room and here today will be summoned members, clerks, reporters and anyone else whom the committee suspects of harboring knowledge of anything savoring of graft.

The Speaker could not say yesterday whether the meetings would be open to the press or not, but they will probably be executive.

Show Bill Amendments.

House Bill 157, Furtado, the new show license bill, was returned from the Senate, much marred by amendments according to the view of Cohen, who promptly moved not to concur. Furtado asked that action be deferred until the afternoon, which was agreed to.

The amendments kill all the various degrees of licenses for different classes of shows and puts a flat license fee of $2.50 a day for any show of any kind except those given in and of schools, religious or charitable institutions or for the promotion of art and not for profit.

The Thorny Subject.

The Speaker announced that a communication from the stenographer would then be read. This was as follows, addressed to the Speaker:

"After a quiet consultation with Mr. Castro, chairman of the Accounts Committee, I now find that the arrangements and prices for typewriting agreed upon were to establish a price for the ordinary typing of bills, etc., by outside parties.

"This fact has resulted in a serious misunderstanding of the case on my part. I realize that the influence of yourself and Mr. Castro in a great measure secured me the position of stenographer, hence I have asked Mr. Affonso to withdraw the resolution, if such might be possible, and have the same expunged from the minutes."

"As you have made other arrangements in getting out the minutes, I see the useless necessity of my staying on any longer, and in the spirit of economy you so much desire, I tender hereby my resignation."

"J. W. LLOYD."

Speaker's Reply.

The reply of the Speaker was addressed to Mr. Lloyd, which stated that the resignation had been considered and accepted. The Speaker then read the rules governing the House, which stated that the matter of the relationship between the Speaker and the officers of the House was subject to the approval of the House. He put the matter of the resignation and the acceptance of it by him up to the members.

Cohen Would Refuse.

"I understand that this resignation was written prior to the charges intimated against him and others since and without his knowledge that such charges were pending," said Cohen.

"In justice to Mr. Lloyd, I do not believe we should accept this resignation at this time. As an officer of this House he is entitled to a square deal, and I believe that every one of us desires to give everyone a square deal. I move that we do not accept this resignation until after the investigating committee goes into such charges as have been made and proves the truth or falsity of them."

Sheldon Had No Knowledge.

"I do not know that any charges have been made against Mr. Lloyd," said Sheldon. "We have no knowledge of such. His resignation is in and the chair has accepted the resignation, which he has the right to do. I move that we confirm the action of the Speaker."

Resolution Was Proper.

Affonso declined to withdraw the resolution mentioned in Lloyd's resignation, dealing with the question of paying the stenographer for typewriting the minutes.

"I believed that was a proper resolution and I still believe it is a proper resolution. I decline to withdraw it."

Cohen Says Outrage.

Cohen resumed his speech after Sheldon had sat down. "Are we in this House to have star chamber proceedings and secret sessions of this cabinet, or whatever you call it?" he asked.

"There are charges that have been made against Mr. Lloyd. I have heard of them and every member in the House has heard of them more or less. Are we to allow this business to go on of charges concocted against this man and not allow him an opportunity of defending himself? It is an outrage and a shame. I want to have these charges gone into. I want to know about the charges, who is making them and what truth there is in them."

Correa asked Cohen if there had ever been any charges made against Lloyd in the House.

"I have heard the charges made," answered Cohen.

"Here, in this House?"

"Yes, here in this House."

Chair Knows Not Officially.

"So far as the Chair is concerned," said the Speaker, "it is not aware of any charges being made in the House against Mr. Lloyd."

"I do not think it is any business of the public what investigations we are to make into this matter," said Sheldon, who evidently is as supremely unconcerned about what the public may think as he professes to be over what the newspapers may say. "I do not think it is any of the business of the public to have us settle this matter on the floor of the House. How can I go back to my constituents and explain that we have been wasting time wrangling about troubles with our stenographer? If there have been any charges made, Mr. Speaker, they have been made more against the chairman of the Accounts Committee than anyone else, he and the Speaker of this House."

Kaleiopo Emphatic.

"I am sorry that we are wasting so much valuable time over this matter," said Kaleiopo regretfully, and then proceeded to add to the waste. "Now that charges have been made against all the members of this House, direct charges I am sorry that the Speaker has accepted this resignation, because I want to see the stenographer, as well as every other officer and member of this House, go before an investigating committee. The charges are very serious, and I am sorry that some of the members have made themselves so notorious as to go and publish in the papers charges like this on mere hearsay."

"I want to see every member in this House investigated," yelled Kaleiopo, getting more and more excited. "I want them all investigated, clerks and all. The committees are allowed to employ only permanent clerks, but I see that some committees are employing unauthorized clerks. I am preparing a resolution, Mr. Speaker, taking in everybody, from the Speaker down. I can show that there are committees employing clerks that they have no right to pay and are paying them, and if that isn't graft, Mr. Speaker, I would like to know what is."

Cohen Speaks Again.

Shingle then seconded the motion to accept the resignation of Lloyd, and Castro made an explanation that he had never asked nor advised Lloyd to resign. Cohen then spoke again.

"Mr. Lloyd has heard since he presented his resignation, and I have heard and every other member of this House has heard that charges are now made against him. I think, and every other fair-minded man in this House should think, that he ought to be heard; that he ought to be given a square deal."

Shingle Not Unjust.

"In seconding the motion to accept the resignation I do not think that I am in any way unjust to Mr. Lloyd," said Shingle in explanation, "but I do it to remove a cause of trouble from this House. It is almost too ridiculous to believe that thirty elected Representatives can stay here and quarrel for an hour over the acceptance of a stenographer's resignation when that resignation is in. I second this motion to remove what has been a block in the business of this House ever since it was organized."

Kama agreed that there ought to be a searching investigation, and Cohen asked that the matter be deferred until after the special graft committee had reported. He was ruled out of order, and a rollcall taken on the acceptance of the resignation. It stood eighteen to six in favor of letting Lloyd go, the six opposed being Affonso, Cohen, Furtado, Kaleiopo, Kealawa and Long.

Committee Reports.

The Agricultural Committee recommended Rice's House Bill 196, a bill to give the Board of Agriculture and Forestry more power to regulate cattle quarantine.

The same committee tabled the Kaleiopo resolution regarding the translation of all the publications of the Board of Agriculture and Forestry, stating that the committee proposed to present another resolution along the same but more sensible lines.

The committee also recommended Senate Bill 115, to appropriate the funds to be raised under the Special Immigration income tax for the conservation of natural resources.

Cheaper Supplies Wanted.

Shingle presented a concurrent resolution to institute a system to take the place of the one intended to be in operation when the purchasing agent was appointed. This resolution provides for the Auditor to advertise semi-annually for tenders on all necessary supplies for the government and to notify the departments to purchase from the lowest bidders. This passed first reading. Shingle said he had seen the Governor and the Governor had said it was a good resolution. Coney said he had not seen the Governor but thought for himself that the resolution was a good one.

First of Many.

Kamanoulu presented the following resolution:

"Whereas, One William Naiwi, formerly a printer by trade, has for a considerable time been confined within the leper settlement at Molokai as a leper suspect, etc., and whereas, no symptoms of leprosy appear to have developed in him, therefore be it resolved that the Board of Health be requested to reexamine this suspect and if found free from leprosy that he be forthwith discharged from the settlement."

This passed, after several of the Hawaiian members had spoken in favor of it.

To Investigate Gas Company.

Castro presented the following resolution:

"Whereas, There are now existing in the Territory of Hawaii certain corporations by virtue of franchises granted by the Legislature and approved by Congress for the purpose of furnishing to the community electricity and gas for lighting, power and domestic conveniences, and

Whereas, Said corporations are governed by the provisions contained in their respective franchises and subject to further legislation that may be enacted for their regulation, and

Whereas, Public complaints are made that the services rendered by said corporations are inadequate and prices for furnishing electricity and gas for lighting, power and domestic conveniences are regarded as excessive and inequitable, and

Whereas, Public Opinion is such that a public investigation of the inequity of said charges and the inadequacy of said services should be made with a view of effecting legislation to better regulate said corporations in this respect, therefore

Be It Resolved, by the Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii. That as soon as may be after the approval of this resolution the Governor shall appoint a commission of three competent and disinterested persons to be known as the Commission on Public Utilities, who shall carefully investigate into the matter of the services rendered and charges made by such corporations of public utility in the furnishing of electricity or gas for lighting, power and domestic conveniences. Said commission shall report to the Governor not later than December 31, 1910, transmitting with its report such proposed legislation as it may deem advisable for the public good; and the members of said commission shall serve without compensation whatever, but shall be allowed all expenses incurred while actually performing the duties herein prescribed.

Struck One as Right.

The notice given in the Advertiser yesterday that such a resolution was to come up resulted in the following suggestion coming early in the morning to the Speaker:

"Speaker Holstein, Esq.

"My Dear Sir.—When investigating the charges, etc., of Gas Co., it might be well to investigate their arbitrary methods in dealing with the public and also their charges for installation, saying that unless they made the connections they would not connect the gas. This means: pay me any price I ask for work or go without gas."

A CONSUMER.

"There is a inspector for electric wiring, but Gas Co. do as they like. Would it not be well to have their work inspected?"

Medical Bill.

Senate Bill 86, Coelho, but with little that introduced intended but the title left, was passed on first reading.

Sinking Fund Bill.

A bill to provide a sinking fund with which to pay any present or future bonded indebtedness of the Territory was presented by Rice and passed first reading. The bill authorizes the Treasurer to transfer from current account to sinking fund on the date of the second interest installment an amount that with equal amounts so set aside annually thereafter with interest will pay the bonds on maturity. To this fund must also be added such amounts as come from the counties to meet bond interest and repayment and also all receipts from government land sales made by the Superintendent of Public Works.

Governor's Veto Debate.

When the veto of the Governor of the bill to put a minimum of $1.50 a day for laborers' wages was brought up, Shingle announced himself the victim of a misunderstanding, having moved the day before that the bill pass notwithstanding the veto of the Governor, while as a matter of fact he intended by the motion to sustain the veto. He then moved to sustain.

This brought on a long debate, Kama and Makekau talking for the bill and Kaleiopo for the veto. Like, also, shed some of his wisdom on the situation, stating that he had voted to raise the officials' salaries although he knew such a thing was wrong, but on an idea that that wrong would be justified by boosting the laborers' pay.

A dozen members moved the previous question as soon as Like sat down. The roll call sustained the veto, being fourteen to thirteen in favor of overruling the veto, four short of enough.

Refused to Concur.

After the noon recess the vote was taken on the question of concurring in the Senate Amendments to the Show License Bill, the House being almost unanimous in favor of rejecting the changes made. As a conference com-

The Senate amendments to House Bill 91, the Depository Bill introduced by Rice, which limits the amount to be allowed out of the treasury and put on deposit in local banks, were voted on and concurred in by a close vote of 14 to 12.

Two-County Bill Killed.

Kawewehi's Two-County Bill was on the order of the day again for the fifth time, after having been backed and altered considerably since first appearing in the House. The introducer had a new batch of amendments to offer. Kaleiopo moved to table the amendments, his motion being lost.

"I move to adopt the amendments made by myself," said Kawewehi, and the House smiled and adopted.

The section to allow the precincts and polling booths to vote was changed. Six other amendments came from the introducer, being all carried.

Furtado then presented a batch of amendments. One made the supervisors elected from a particular district and not all at large, as the bill provided.

Cut Off Head and Tail.

Affonso suggested that the House might as well cut off the title and last section of the bill and get it over.

One of Furtado's amendments sounded like "graft" to Kawewehi, this being one to make East Hawaii's share of the balance in the present county treasury 70 per cent, instead of half, as provided in the bill. His motion to table the amendment was lost and the amendment was debated.

Kama came out as a West Hawaii champion, but Furtado quoted statistics to prove East Hawaii's right to more than two-thirds.

Furtado presented six more amendments, to each of which Kawewehi objected, but each of which was adopted. Kama, Makekau and Kawewehi being the only friends of the bill in sight.

One of Furtado's amendments was to include all islands within 200 miles of the East Hawaii coast in the new county. This, as Affonso pointed out, would include the City and County of Honolulu.

"That would be too bad," said Rice, "because then that new library might be built in East Hawaii. I think this bill has been spoiled. I move that it be tabled."

Kawewehi gave up the fight and voted with all the rest of the House to table the bill, and the two-county measure went to its last rest, laughed to death.

Reconsideration of Vote.

Rice moved that the House reconsider its vote on the Senate amendments to House Bill 91, in which the House had refused to concur. He thought the House should concur because the amendments were good ones. Shingle said he wanted something better to go upon than Rice's thoughts and moved to leave the vote until the morning.

Rice said the Treasurer had assured him that the Territory was amply protected under the bill.

Wireless Telegraphy Bill.

House Bill 208, which is a substitute bill presented by the Finance Committee to take the place of the three wireless bills fathered by Shingle, was read a third time. The bill provides an annual license of $25 on all companies making a business of sending messages by wireless, and prescribes limitations upon who shall go into the wireless business; it forbids unlicensed companies to receive or send messages and provides penalties for tapping the air and exposing the flying secrets.

The original bills forbade "drumming," message stealing, eavesdropping along a party telephone line, and several other things that the Finance Committee had a good deal of fun with when considering the bills.

The substitute passed without debate, the vote being 24 to 1. Kama was the sole opposer of the wireless.

AMUSEMENTS

American Girl Proves a Pleaser.

The Ellefords were greeted with another good house last evening at the Orpheum to witness the comedy drama
"American Girl." The piece, which was well mounted, proved to be a most interesting play and one that was filled with lots of good comedy and strong and natural situations. The plot of the play has been told in the advance notices, but to be appreciated must be seen.The stars of the evening were the little Osborn children, who appeared in the roles of Prince Roy and Virginia. They carried themselves like old-time performers and read their lines in a natural and clear manner.
Their specialties were also well received and they were compelled to respond to numerous encores. Miss Auda Due had the trying role of Jasmine and filled the character with credit, and we shall expect some great work from this lady during the engagement. She is a clever, painstaking little actress that works hard to please. Of course George Hernandez was "there with the goods" as Ross Bolter and was ably seconded by Miss Mattie Lloyd Luce as "Twister," and her song in the first act made a hit.
These two work together in all their comedy scenes and always bring down the house. Pietro Sasso gave a manly performance of Philip Devon, and Clarence Ferguson gave a pretty stage picture of an English nobleman, while Lawrence Underwood handled the disagreeable role of Sampson Craft in a painstaking manner. The balance of the cast was up to the usual Elle-ford excellence.The same bill will be repeated tonight, giving way tomorrow evening to the drama "Beacon Lights." By request "Pals" will be given at the Saturday matinee.

"Checkers" Out for a Hit Tonight.

Tonight the Pollards will undertake "Checkers." This is one of the most successful American comedies ever produced and the name part is just exactly suited to Alfred Goulding. He plays the part of a naturally smart American youth who is up against the real thing until he meets the one girl and finally makes a big winning at the race track in Chicago.The piece is full of humor and of clever situations. Eva Moore as the girl is more charming than ever and her dainty stage manner has never shown to better advantage than in this piece. The whole play is so carefully worked out that the interest of the audience is held from the moment the curtain rises till the end of the last act. There is a laugh every minute and some very exciting situations, especially when Checkers is standing in the betting ring at the race track and urging the horse he has bet on to win.
Of course the horse does win but the situation is so cleverly exploited that the people who are watching from the front of the house are worked up to a great state of excitement and, when the word comes that "Remorse" has won, a sigh of relief goes up."Checkers" is admirably suited to the personnel of the Pollard company.
Each one has a part that suits him perfectly. "Teddie" McNamara, as a race track tout, will surely make a great hit. He wears a checkboard suit and has a line of talk that would make a cat laugh. The play is funny and clever and will certainly make a hit.

HOUSE

Board of Agriculture Funds.Shingle, for the Agricultural Committee, presented a concurrent resolution, outlining the desires of the Legislature as to how the spending commission should handle the $150,000 to be raised as the "natural resources" share of the immigration tax.
This stated—"That it is declared to be the opinion of this Legislature that expenditures by the Board of Agriculture and Forestry during the biennial period ending June 30, 1911, should be made, as nearly as may be, according to the following schedule:General—Clerks, stenographers, employes, laborers and other expenses, $36,960; aid to Hawaii Experiment station, $10,000.Division of Forestry—Superintendent, $6000; assistants, laborers, etc., $9000.Division of Entomology—Superintendent, $6000; assistants, inspectors, employees, $9000.Division of Animal Industry—Superintendent, $6000; assistants, employees, $5040.Hydrographic Survey—$20,000.
(To be expended under the direction of the Superintendent of Public Works.)"And that it is the opinion of this Legislature that the Board of Agriculture and Forestry should, during the next biennial period, use every effort possible to accomplish the reforestation of those portions of the Territory where the former forests have died out or been destroyed, more especially in the Kohala mountains on the Island of Hawaii, where large irrigation ditches are conveying the waters gathered from the watershed into the districts of Kohala and Hanalei; that it favors the establishment of substations
by the board of each island, to be used as nurseries for young trees and as distributing centers; that it strongly recommends that the Board have translated into the Hawaiian language and distributed to such persons as are interested, the bulletins issued by the Board from time to time respecting agriculture, animal industry and entomology, which may be beneficial to its citizens;
that it urges upon the Board the advisability of expending the sum of $5000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the sinking of artesian wells at Kapiolani Park, and it recommends that the Board require each of its bureau heads to visit each island of the Territory at least once every six months, or as often as the Board shall find practicable, for the purpose of imparting technical information directly to such of the native Hawaiians and other persons as are interested.""And that it is the opinion of this Legislature that the Island of Kahoolawe should not be leased upon the termination of the existing lease, but that every effort should be made by the proper authorities for the killing of all animal life upon said island and for the improvement and restoration of the plant life thereon."The desire of some of the members of the Legislature to deprive Honolulu of cheap fish was shown plainer than ever before by a resolution presentedby Kamanoula, which is to prevent fishing boats from doing any deep sea fishing for the Honolulu market. It says:
"Be it Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Territory of Hawaii, That the Board of Health be requested to direct its several fish inspectors to prevent the sale of any deep sea fish or fishes that have been kept alive in any storage or fishing boat for more than twenty-four (24) hours after the same have been caught, and that said inspectors be given authority to prevent the sale of any such fish or fishes from any fishing boat or boats remaining away from its mooring in any harbor throughout this Territory for more than twenty-four (24) hours at any one time."

Graft Committee.

The Judiciary Committee reported on Kaleipou's resolution calling for a committee to investigate the charges of graft, tabling his resolution and submitting another. The substitute resolution, which carried unanimously, was:
"Whereas, Certain statements have been made in the columns of the daily press of Honolulu, to the effect that certain members of this House have received compensation for their duties other than that provided by law as such legislators;"And, Whereas, It is the sense of this House that such statements be thoroughly investigated and a report made thereon."Now therefore, Be it Resolved, That a special committee composed of three members to be selected by the Speaker, be appointed to thoroughly investigate the matters hereinabove referred to, with full power and authority to subpoena witnesses, employ legal counsel if necessary, and to use every means to the end that a full, fair and complete investigation be made in the premises."And, Be it Further Resolved, That said committee render its report in this House not later than Tuesday, April 20."The Speaker nominated Shingle, Coney and Kawewehi to carry on the investigation, his selection being from among the wing of the House which has agreed with him that no graft can exist.

Wife Beater's Bill.

Douthitt's bill to make the maximum penalty for assault and battery one year in jail instead of six months, as at present, was recommended by the Judiciary Committee.The committee also approved of House Bill 198, which allows "bystanders" to be drafted in as jurymen when the regular panel runs out, and of Senate Bill 127, relating to the accounts of executors and administrators to hurry the settlement of estates.Affonso's bill to allow a garnishment to follow a debtor from job to job until satisfied was also recommended.

Bouquet for Agriculturalists.

The Agriculture Committee presented a long report reviewing its work of the session in reference to the parts of the Governor's message referred to it. The Speaker, after the report was adopted, complimented the committee on "the excellent work it has done."

DIRECTOR NEWELL'S SUMMARY.

The Hawaiian Islands are a part of the United States forming the Territory of Hawaii. Though small in area, the Territory, from its location, has a peculiar importance in the national welfare and defense. It is agricultural and now devoted to one industry—sugar.

The prosperity of the sugar industry and hence of the Territory rests on the unstable basis of the Federal protective tariff and a migratory alien labor class, composed mainly of Orientals.

There is a conspicuous lack of the body of citizenship which has made possible the existence of the American commonwealth, namely, the "plain people," property owners of moderate means with thrift, energy, and high civic ideals.

The climatic conditions and natural resources are highly favorable to the increase of diversified agriculture and to the building up of a class of independent small farmers—needed for national growth and defense.

The artificial conditions—those of human control—social and otherwise, such as arise from the presence of a preponderance of Orientals, are not now favorable to the success of this class.

It is possible by wiser use of natural resources and broader statesmanship to remove many obstacles and to stimulate the increase of property-owning citizens.

This is being done in part by the Territorial government utilizing its public lands as far as practicable for homesteads, but, being done in a small way, it is not bringing to the Territory the class of citizens who are building up other Territories.

The reclamation of considerable areas of public land by the Federal government, as is done elsewhere under the terms of the act of June 17, 1902, would attract this class of small farmers and stimulate diversified agricultural industries as no other known agency would.—From the Report of F. H. Newell, Director of the U. S. Reclamation Service.

JUSTICE FROM THE SENATE.

The Senate is to be congratulated on the sober second thought which has induced it to take up the case of Mr. Hemenway again and confirm him; and Mr. Hemenway is to be congratulated on the showing made in his behalf. The whole thing adjusts itself nicely with the sentiment of the community.

Can not the Senate now see its way clear to recall its action in regard to Treasurer Campbell? He is also a deserving official; and when a man of his honesty and capacity may be had for Treasurer, it is no light thing to cast him aside, especially out of pique. Good treasurers are hard to find. Few of them can be discovered in active politics; and fewer yet can be induced to leave the high opportunities of business to give their time to the public for a small salary. That Mr. Campbell, who is far from needing the place, is willing to help out by taking it, commends him highly to the business and tax-paying community; and it ought to commend him to the Senate.

We may add that the Governor has done nothing to deserve the snub which the nonconfirmation of Mr. Campbell implied. This is his administration, not the Senate's. Being responsible to those who appointed him for the success of that administration, he ought to be as free in his choice between good men for heads of departments as the Senate is in the choice of its clerks. It was never intended to divide the appointive power of the Executive with the Legislature; the "advice and consent" clause was merely put into the Organic Act as a check against the policies of a dishonest or incompetent Governor. In dealing with such appointments as Governor Frear has made or is likely to make, the Senate should, in justice to the Executive, accept them. Assuredly if it wishes to preserve its dignity it should not let the small grievances of individual Senators stand in the way.

DON'T AMALGAMATE.

The idea of turning over the tasks of the Superintendent of Public Works, Land Commissioner, and Surveyor to one man, does not strike the friends of American development here as wise. If adopted, it would be quite certain to relegate the land interests of the Territory to second place behind the administrative detail of the Public Works Department; a thing which these undeveloped islands can least afford to let happen.

The Land Department, inclusive of the Bureau of Survey and invested with the full control of the Territorial real estate in the city which is now administered by the Department of Public Works, ought to be the most useful and the busiest branch of the administration. Certainly it should not take second place to any other. Its importance is too great to permit its absorption, or its neutralization. What it needs is building up, not tearing down.

As to the Department of Public Works, if it is to do its full duty, it should not be burdened with outside responsibilities. Its work is enough for one man to profitably direct; and instead of taking on land concerns it ought to be relieved of those it now administers.

IN NEVER NEVER LAND.

One of the things that makes the Star so pleasing is its guilelessness. In its gentle belief a President is always on a plane so high that he never does politics, not even with a Hanna or a Hitchcock at his elbow. If he talks gravely about the fitness of the unfit for self-government, it is manna from above, not to be mistaken for the leavings of a Fourth of July picnic. God forbid, while the Star stands by, that any of the sweet talk about Philippine self-government should be intended either for the gallery or to turn the eyes of critics from the obvious defects and defeats of the experiment. The stellar view is that all is fairland on the Washington level of politics. In that pure atmosphere no one says anything for effect, people believe all they hear and humbug never shows its smug and oily countenance. One can hardly pause before the rapt expressions of the Star without remembering Peter Pan, just from among the fairies. "You do believe in fairies, don't you? Just wave your handkerchiefs and tell me that the fairies really live." Who could be so worldly as not to yield and say they do?

Beverly, Mass., will now succeed to the fame of Oyster Bay. Taft will live there summers. Since Lincoln's time many a town has earned a fine celebrity as being the private dwelling place of the President, but some of them are now almost forgotten. Springfield, Ill.; Greenville, Tenn.; Long Branch, N. J.; Fremont, Ohio; Mentor, Ohio; Buzzards Bay, Mass., and Canton, Ohio, revive old memories, though one has to pause and think who it was that gave some of them their evanescent fame.

Hobson now wants to "exclude or segregate" the Japanese, which seems about the only scheme left to bring on that much-propheied war. There would be more enthusiasm in the country, however, if the remedy could be applied to Hobson himself.

Perhaps if those lazzaroni can't come here themselves they can spare their monkeys. Whatever the cost may be, nothing should delay the promised boon of Americanization.

The school exhibit which is to go to the Yukon fair will be, in many respects, the most creditable display that Hawaii has ever made away from home.

The kamaaina sharks along the reef gave just the right sort of a reception yesterday to a carpetbagger whale which had come in to run things.

What would those bloodthirsty Turks do if they had our Hawaiian parliament in front of them?

We hear that the report of an intention to annex Hawaii to Wyoming as a county is premature.

If the Senate wants more speed, it should have no trouble in cranking up.

Army and Navy News

A teamster named Cottrell, employed by the quartermaster's department, U. S. Army, was arrested at Schofield Barracks by the guard, for forgery. It seems that Captain Day received a check for one John Southwell, a teamster, and according to news from the post, Cottrell represented himself to be Southwell, and gave Captain Day a receipt for this check, signing it Southwell. He cashed the check somewhere and started in to blow in the $46 represented by it. The matter may be brought up in the local courts for adjustment.

A short time ago a check was presented at the First National Bank and cashed, but it turned out the wrong man got the money, and some army officer, who endorsed it, may have to make good unless the man who cashed the check can be located and made to disgorge his ill-gotten gains. It is said, however, that the man has left the Territory.

Off for Marine Shoot.

Ten members of the Marine Corps, Camp Verry, left on the Alameda yesterday morning to compete in the National Rifle Competition shoot at Camp Perry this summer. They go to Philadelphia and will practice near there until the time of their departure for Camp Perry. Private Robinson has competed before. The team is as follows: Sergeant Connette, Corporal Petersen, Corporal Scherlitzner, Privates Otto, Pynn, Stevens, Robinson, Doerman, Gilleland and Worsham.

MOKOLII AND LUKE SECURED

The grand Yacht Club opening and excursion to Pearl Harbor on May 9 is going to be one of the greatest affairs of the kind ever pulled off in Honolulu. The Yacht Club has chartered the steamer Mokolii and the large schooner yacht Luka, which will be towed by the Mokolii, and the two vessels will carry three hundred people between them.

The excursion is going to be open to the public and tickets will be on sale within a short time. The actual price has not yet been decided on, although the committee in charge states that they expect to be able to make a round-trip fare of $1.50, or $2.50 for a gentleman and lady, including the big chowder at Pearl Harbor.

The announcement that this excursion was contemplated, in the Advertiser yesterday morning, aroused great enthusiasm round town. The number of people who have never even been to Pearl Harbor is surprising and this chance to enjoy a fine day's outing, inspect the yacht Hawaii and see the government works in the harbor, will be eagerly taken advantage of by hundreds to whom it has never occurred to think of going down to the beautiful island sea.

Several prominent yachtsmen expressed themselves as very much in sympathy with the excursion yesterday. One of them visited this office and stated that he thought it would be the biggest boost that yachting could have. "The only trouble," he said, "is that I am afraid we shall have a crowd yelling for tickets and we shall be unable to accommodate them. If the people take as much interest as I expect they will, the committee will have to charter all the Inter-Island fleet to accommodate the crowd."

to the price an article should cost the consumer—as there is to the price of glasses.

Naturally, the cost of those which are the result of painstaking and accurate eye-examination, followed by careful manufacture and adjustment to one's eyes, cost more than the "ready-to-wear" variety.

Still, everyone does not require specially-ground lenses, and our examination will determine this for you. When special lenses are required, they cost according to the complicated character of the formula—and only that.

Glasses may cost you two dollars and a half, or they may cost more—the nature of your eye defect determines the cost.

LEAVING HERE, SWINDLER DROSSNER TRIES SALT LAKE

C. J. DROSSNER, ALIAS PRATT, WHO TRIED TO FLEECE HONOLULUANS, AND WAS EXPOSED IN SALT LAKE WHILE POSING AS "J. D. SPRECKELS, JR."

A few months ago a young fellow blew into town on the steamship Tenyo Maru from Japan and immediately started out to raise ready cash among the church people. He succeeded until the Advertiser put the public wise to the fact that he was a grafter and was traveling under an assumed name. He had given the name of C. J. Drossner to some and showed cards bearing that name. On the Tenyo Maru he was known as Pratt.

The police authorities, at the suggestion of church people, notified Drossner aboard the ship that his intention of remaining in Honolulu and growing up with the country, was not to their liking (and he was advised to move on). He moved on, and now he has turned up in Salt Lake City, still trying to raise money in the same old way. There he posed as the son of John D. Spreckels. The story of his unmasking is told in Goodwin's Weekly as follows: C. J. Drossner, who dropped into town before the town dropped onto him, pretending he was Claus Spreckels, Jr., started his exciting career in McCornick's bank where he nonchalantly presented a draft for a little old hundred and fifty.

He was asked to wait a second and while he waited a clerk phoned to an office up stairs in the same building for a young and handsome Californian who had had some experience with the sugar coated scions on their native heath.

As soon as the identifying kid entered, Drossner assured him that they had met.

"Nix," said the other quickly. For a moment the conversation lagged after the variance in the memories of the two had made the situation a little awkward.

Then the man from upstairs asked, "You're J. D.'s son, aren't you?"

"Sure," said the bogus one.

"I used to know your brother Jack very well—um, er who did he marry?"

"Miss Cunningham," replied Drossner quickly.

"Is that so," reflected the man from upstairs, "I didn't know that. I thought he married Miss Huntington."

But by that time Drossner's color had reached a height that necessitated a sudden retreat to the open and the fresh air, and the hundred and fifty was still there.

Drossner, between drinks, and occasionally while taking them, was mixing with "some of our best families," the callow ones proudly introducing him to their friends, all of which is a reminder that a good front in a restaurant is worth two in der chair, and also that too few questions are asked of strangers.

F. Going Schuler was the boy who saw through his disguise and beat him in the Marathon for the serimmaged eggs, and Drossner's medals now decorate the boudoir of F. Going.

OOKALA PLANTATION WILL BE CONTINUED

Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars is the price said to have been paid by Theo. H. Davies & Co. for the property of the Oookala Sugar Plantation, which they secured yesterday. The charter of the company expired on the first of the month and, according to law, the directors of the corporation became the trustees for the stockholders. They have now sold out, and it is understood that the plantation will be continued with W. G. Walker as manager.

T. H. Davies & Co. will be the agents for the new company. The details of the future action with regard to the conduct of Oookala have not been learned. It is stated that the stockholders of the old plantation will receive between twenty-three and twenty-four dollars per share for their stock, the par value of which was twenty dollars.

JAP 'PHONE BACKERS MAY LOSE ABOUT $4000

With the absorption of the Mutual Telephone Company by the new automatic 'phone company and the wireless interests, the Japanese stockholders in the Standard Telephone Company fear that all the cash they have put into the latter company will be lost. They stand to lose about $4000. Whether the Standard Company will make a fight or seek absorption for whatever franchise it has is not definitely known. The Japanese, however, would like to get their $4000 out.

The foods we eat furnish energy for the body just as burning coal makes steam for an engine.

The experiments of Prof. Frankland, Ph. D., of London, show that cod liver oil yields two and one-half times more energy than starches or sweets.

Scott's Emulsion

is pure cod liver oil combined with hypophosphites of lime and soda. It forms fat, gives strength, enriches the blood, invigorates the nerves, and repairs tissues.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Hawaiian Tribe No. 1, I. O. R. M., meets in K. of P. hall at 7:30 this evening.

The regular weekly meeting of the Promotion Committee will be held this afternoon.

The Pythian Sisters will meet hereafter on the first and third Tuesday of each month.

The case of Lau Dam et al. v. L. Ah Leong, was argued before the Supreme Court of the Territory yesterday.

There will be a meeting of Olive Branch Rebekah Lodge No. 2, I. O. O. F., in Odd Fellows hall at 7:30 this evening.

J. Oswald Lutted has sold his pretty cottage in College Hills to another local man. Mr. Lutted's wife may go to the mainland.

Nine Chinese gamblers were bagged last night in a room near the corner of Liliha and Vineyard streets, Officer Apana making the arrest.

A large shipment of cold-storage beef arrived on the Hilonian yesterday for the Metropolitan Meat Company. Since the water-famine on the other islands, which killed many cattle, the local meat market has been supplied a great deal from the Coast.

A magnificent gold watch was presented to Edward Worthington, for many years head luna at the Oahu Sugar Company at Waipahu, the other day by a number of his fellow-workers. Mr. Worthington left on the Alameda for a vacation on the mainland.

Yesterday afternoon the Hawaiian band played on board the transport Thomas up until a few minutes before she sailed. Captain Berger gave a number of the old-fashioned Southern airs, in honor of a number of officers who are from the land of Dixie, and these were the signal for a great ovation.

Postmaster Pratt issued a statement yesterday to the effect that he knew nothing of the charge of incompetency which has been made against him and that he would keep at his work until he received some word from the department. He stated that Inspector Hare had called him the right man for the place when he sought reappointment.

The school exhibit will be open all day in the Armory today, and it is probable that there will be a large number of people in attendance. A special invitation to call and view the local exhibition is extended to any and all school children, as well as the general public. The display will be open in the evening from 7:30 until 9 o'clock.

"PARKS AND PLAYGROUNDS."

The social section of the Men's League is to take up another very important subject at its meeting in the parish house of Central Union at 8 o'clock this evening. One of Honolulu's crying needs is more small parks and some public playgrounds for the children of the poorer classes. The meeting tonight is called for the purpose of taking up the matter to see what may be done. There will be a paper by Mr. Rath of Palama Settlement, and short addresses by several men who have made a special study of the situation here and have some practical suggestions to make.

It is an open meeting. Teachers and parents and all interested in the welfare of the children are urged to attend at 8 o'clock in the parish house.

THE KILOHANA ART SHOW.

But three days remain before the close of the Kilohana Art exhibit, for most of the work is to be sent to the Yukon exposition. The exhibition will be open this evening and Saturday evening from 7:30 to 9, and Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 9 to 5.

Mr. L. Marsh Hale, who has been in Honolulu for a few months and whose California pictures attracted much attention at the last semiannual exhibition, has contributed several Hawaiian pictures for the present exhibition of the Art League. The one of the harbor is very attractive.

A. B. Arleigh will leave for the mainland shortly to join his wife, who has been in ill-health. While Mr. Arleigh still holds the controlling share in the store on Hotel street which bears his name, he will no longer keep the active management, merely returning to this place for visits in the future.

J. T. Crawley, formerly of Honolulu, has resigned his directorship of the largest U. S. Experiment Station in Cuba. When the new Cuban government came in, it took over the station and discharged its staff, giving the places to Cubans. Mr. Crawley was told that he might stay, but he preferred to get out. His future home will be in North Carolina.

Captain Tullett, who was sent from here to Washington as the representative of the Masters and Pilots Association, returned home on the Hilonian yesterday. ### BREADWINNER GONE.

S. S. Morse, whose sad case aroused much interest here and whose family has been aided by local philanthropists, went to the Coast some time ago to seek relief from heart trouble. Word has just come that he died in San Francisco April 6. Mr. Morse leaves a wife and six children, the eldest child being sixteen and the youngest two and a half. Those wishing further particulars about the situation of the family can get them from Mr. Rath of the Palama Mission.

FAN SUGGESTS A SERVICE TEAM

In answer to the following letter, Mr. Steere states that the suggestion made by the writer of the letter was acted upon some time ago by the baseball authorities. Unfortunately no such arrangement could be made as the service teams are never sure of being able to have a full representation on any given date. Sundays and Saturdays are not always the most convenient days for the men to get off and it is absolutely necessary for the success of the team that they have their best men on the diamond at each match. This is the letter:

"P. E. Steere, Esq., Honolulu.
"Dear Sir: As one of the interested baseball fans of this city, I would like to make a suggestion in regard to the coming baseball season. Why not let one of the service teams, or a combination of service teams into the league, either in place of a team, or in addition to the regular four teams. This, I think would make baseball more interesting, and the difference in attendance would be soon noticed, as there are about 1000 soldiers in and around Honolulu who would take an interest in the big league, if a team composed entirely of service men were allowed to enter.
"Hoping this suggestion may be of service to you, I am, yours, for baseball.
HONOLULU FAN."

NEWELL ON THE LABOR QUESTION

Extracts From His Report on Conditions in This Territory.

The cost of bringing in the Japanese has been estimated at $70 per individual, of Chinese $75, and of Portuguese $115. Of the total imported, probably a half have gone home, others have died or left the fields and gone into varied industries, leaving about 45,000 laborers on the plantations.

One of the latest and most successful attempts to bring in labor has been that of introducing Portuguese and Spanish. Three steamers brought in during 1907 an aggregate of 1400 men, 1143 women, 2141 children, in all 4684 individuals. This was done at an average cost, including the general superintendence of the work, of $62 per individual, or a little over $200 for each adult male. The wages paid these men will average at first probably about $20 per month.

As part of the systematic efforts of the Territorial immigration commission, there have been brought back to the Islands from San Francisco a considerable number of Portuguese laborers who left the Islands to seek work on the mainland, hearing of the high prices paid in California after the earthquake. These people were glad to return to the Islands, but did not have sufficient funds. The Territory paid for their return passage at an average cost of $52 for each adult male, or $28 for each individual. There were thus returned 187 men, 63 women and 98 children.

Home Making.

The supreme need of the Islands from the standpoint of the national interest is that of increasing the number of citizens owning homes upon the lands. The relatively great proportion of laborers who are not citizens and the fact that there is such a small number of citizens who are landowners and who have been brought up under democratic institutions, forms a source of weakness. Every possible effort should be made by public and private interests to put upon the land the best obtainable men, who will live upon small farms, cultivate the soil and become independent, self-supporting citizens. This need has long been recognized; many attempts have been made to remedy conditions, but most of these have not been successful, owing to a variety of reasons.

The development of an agricultural citizen class—intermediate between the corporations owning large sugar plantations and the landless migratory laborer—is favored by natural conditions and by popular sentiment. The chief obstacles arise from the overshadowing interests of the great sugar industry and the resulting presence of Oriental or other low-grade labor, which tends continually to crowd out or take the place of the citizen engaged in individual enterprise. The Chinese in past years gradually replaced the small farmer and the local tradesman and mechanic. In turn he is being displaced by the Japanese, who, coming originally to labor on the plantation, sought easier work, took small contracts, started little stores to supply his countrymen, and now is getting into all agricultural lines excepting rice.

It must be admitted that as matters now stand the newcomer finds difficulty in getting located. He is welcomed and treated with hospitality and if he is a laboring man or mechanic may find work, but the demand for such men is not large. If he is a farmer he will be more than welcome in sentiment, but from a business standpoint he will find it difficult to learn of a piece of land which can be secured on reasonable terms. It is probable that he will fall in with several of that numerous class of men who, not having succeeded themselves, spend their time in telling others of the disadvantages. This is a common condition throughout all countries which have reached a certain stage of development and where new men attempt to secure a foothold. In initiating a number of the reclamation projects on the mainland which have since proved successful, one of the first obstacles encountered lay in the old inhabitants, who seemed to make it a business to scoff at the efforts of the newcomers and to assure them that the conditions were such that they could not make a living. The fact that they had failed was to them proof that no one else could succeed.

The attitude of the present landowners toward increase of settlement is favorable in theory. Each man concedes that it is for the public good to subdivide some of the larger holdings and to put these in the hands of the best class of citizens. It is, however, inseparable from human nature for Jones to think that Smith should subdivide his land first. There are always some special reasons why Jones thinks that his case is exceptional and he should not be called upon to make possible concessions to the public good.

There has been and possibly now is a fear among a few plantation managers that the small farmer will become a competitor in bidding for the services of the laborer brought to the plantation at great expense. There is some reason in this, but in the long run it is believed that the dangers imagined from this source will be more than outweighed by other benefits. The Territorial government is at-

HOTEL FAIRMONT, SAN FRANCISCO.

Two years ago, when the fire was raging at its worst, the sight of the classic outlines of the Fairmont Hotel, standing out white against the black clouds of smoke, lent hope to the anxious thousands. When the flames swirled fiercely about it, to many it seemed that the last hope was gone. At that time the Fairmont Hotel was just about to open. Three years of time, and more than three millions of dollars had been spent in the construction of the building and the furnishings of its interior. How well the building was constructed is evidenced by the fact that it came out of the stress and trial of both fire and its accompaniments without a single injury other than the complete destruction of everything inflammable to be found inside of its walls.

After the reaction of the first month had passed, work was immediately commenced to rebuild and refurnish the entire building, at a cost of over two million dollars, the work of reconstruction went on. Over a million dollars was spent in interior furnishings and furniture, and the magnificent appointments of the house as it stands today speak well for the care and taste used in the selection. The formal opening of the hotel to the public took place on the 18th of April, 1907, just one year after the catastrophe, at which time the Chamber of Commerce gave a banquet in celebration of the event. On the 21st of April, 1907, the doors were thrown open to the public with a splendid reception, to which nearly all San Francisco came.

The hotel was not fully complete at that time. Some of the rooms on the upper floors were not ready, but when the Palace Hotel Company, which formerly operated the old Palace Hotel on Market street, took hold, determined to push things through, the work went on with amazing rapidity. Today, more than any other building in San Francisco, the Fairmont stands a monument to the energy and determination of her citizens.

A Wonderful Hotel.

In it San Franciscans have a hotel of which they can justly be proud, as in the matter of location, it stands absolutely unsurpassed in the world. In the matter of appointments, service, and exclusive features which make hotel life pleasant, it is without peer. The Fairmont Hotel today has capacity for tempting through the wise use of the public lands to promote settlement, and has from time to time modified the laws with this end in view. The practical difficulties are great, but, nevertheless, continued efforts are being made and every possible solution is being considered. The commissioner of the public lands, having the disposal of lands in direct charge, is studying from time to time the best method of subdividing each piece of government land as the lease expires, but, with limited assistance and the restrictions necessarily imposed, these results come slowly.

The chief obstacles to more rapid subdivision of lands and settlement of the Islands lie, first, in the prevailing ignorance concerning the country and its possibilities; second, in the present character of the land ownership; third, in the presence of a great body of Orientals; fourth, in transportation problems; and, fifth, in the absence of local or agricultural banks.

First. Although the Islands have been part of the United States for more than ten years, it is probable that relatively few persons on the mainland seeking new homes or larger opportunities are aware of the attractions afforded by the climate and fertile soil. This condition is being remedied by active efforts of the Territory and of various semi-official organizations, such as the Promotion Committee, which is circulating literature and calling attention to the opportunities.

Second. The chief difficulty met by a prospective settler upon reaching the Islands is to find any piece of land available for his use. It is true that the Territorial government is subdividing lands and offering these from time to time, but most of the attractive places are immediately taken by men resident on the Islands, some of taking care of one thousand guests. Its entertainment features are so numerous and so varied that, as has happened many times, as many as six different gatherings, including banquets, balls and public meetings, can be held under its roof at the same time, and under such favorable conditions that one assembly scarcely realizes there is any other in the house.

Marvelous Outlook.

The view from the Fairmont is such as to make the most blasé and experienced globe-trotter stand in wonder and amazement. From its windows (for every room in this magnificent hostelry is an outside room) can be seen the superb panorama of the Golden Gate, the Bay of San Francisco, crowded with ships from all parts of the world, the mountains and hills of Contra Costa County on the other side of the bay, with Mt. Diablo 30 miles to the south-east, and Mt. St. Helena over a hundred miles to the northeast breaking the skyline. In the immediate foreground of the hotel lies the busy city, in which new steel sky-scrapers are rising in place of the old style business houses which were destroyed.

In the Center of the City.

Chinatown, almost entirely rebuilt in a new and better way, is but a few minutes' walk from the door of the hotel. By means of the various street car lines which pass its doors all parts of the city, the ferries and railroad stations, the banks and exchanges, retail business and theater centers, as well as the residence portions of the city can be easily reached.

Unique Among the World's Hotels.

The Fairmont Hotel differs from almost any similar institution in the number of unique features which it offers for the entertainment of its guests. Because of these, it is easily the social center of San Francisco; you might say, of the State. Just as the old Palace Hotel, which is now being rebuilt on a new and greater scale at the old site on Market street, was one of the most famous hosteleries of the world, and entertained guests of all nations, so the Fairmont, under the same management which so adequately took care of the affairs of the Palace, is most cosmopolitan, and in its halls will be found the experienced travelers from every country of the world.

Unequaled Entertainment Features.

The ball room of the Fairmont Hotel is one of the most beautiful, as well as one of the largest, in existence. It has one of the few spring floors to be found in the country, making dancing peculiarly delightful. It is decorated in white and gold, with hangings of blue satin tapestry. Its walls are covered with mirrors, between which are decorations by the most famous mural artists of the world. And the ball-room is not merely an ornament. San Franciscans are a very sociable people, and the records of the ball-room show that it is occupied an average of three times a week during the social season. Behind it is the famous red banquet room, which has, perhaps, held more distinguished company than any other room of its kind west of Chicago. On the floor below is the magnificent Norman Cafe banquet room, a hall of superb proportions and simple grandeur. It is the best illustration of a hall of the Norman period. Even the tessellated floor is made of special design, a characteristic of the Norman times. From the lofty ceiling hang chandeliers of quaint design, made of hand-wrought iron in Paris especially for this room. The long French windows, which cover the entire north side of the Norman Cafe, open on the terrace, a broad, flagged promenade, which overlooks the Bay of San Francisco and the city. Upon special occasions of large entertainment, the terrace is canvassed in, making another hall, almost as large as the Norman Cafe itself. On warm days the terrace presents an animated scene, reminding one largely of Paris or the embankment in London. Here parties of convivial spirits gather around the tables where lunch is served in the open air, overlooking the most beautiful panorama of mountain and sea.

Numerous Dining Places.

Another thing for which the Fairmont Hotel is noted is the number and variety of its different dining places. In them one may find a place to dine as suits his convenience. The Laurel Court, which is immediately behind the lobby, offers a convenient grill for ladies and gentlemen. Further on is the main dining hall, with accommodations for three hundred people. This room is done in white and gold with silken tapestries. From its windows, as one dines, he may look out over the bay and the shipping. Then there is the beautiful grey breakfast room, which is particularly well adapted for private dinners, luncheons and banquets. In other parts of the same floor are found the special tea and card rooms set aside for the use of guests who wish to entertain in a less formal way. Then there are private dining rooms, where organizations may meet around a friendly board. On floor A is found the crypt, one of the most unique cafes in existence. It is in the corner of Mason and Sacramento and is extremely popular with the business men of San Francisco. It offers a comfortable grill and bar for men, where special attention is paid to the cooking of steaks and chops and old country dishes. The service here is swift and efficient, and it is immensely popular as a luncheon place for business men.

Epitome of Hotel Excellence.

The Fairmont, as it stands today, is the epitome of hotel excellence. The vast experience which the Palace Hotel Company had in the celebrated Palace Hotel has been utilized in this house. To Colonel John C. Kirkpatrick, General Manager of the Palace Hotel Company, was given the task of instilling into a brand new house the spirit of hospitality which made the old Palace Hotel celebrated in two hemispheres. How well he has succeeded in doing this is evident the moment one enters the doors of the Fairmont. For the Palace Hotel spirit of hospitality enfolds one like a garment, making his visit one of delight, his leave-taking one of regret, and his memory of the time so spent one of great pleasure.

Only hotel in the world in which every room has a bath.

The Fairmont Hotel offers to the traveler all the conveniences and luxuries known to the best modern hotel, together with many exclusive features, some of which we have spoken of above. Every room in the entire hotel has a bath attached. For $2.50 one may thus enjoy a pleasant room, beautifully furnished in mahogany, with a dainty white-tiled bath; or, for as low as ten dollars, a suite of rooms. Visitors to San Francisco may rest assured that at the Fairmont Hotel they will find only the best of accommodations and service.

EMMA ROSE WRITES AGAIN ABOUT OLD HONOLULU

Southampton, March 29, 1909.
To Mr. James Steiner.

Dear Sir: The postals, album and papers, received, and I thank you very much for the kindly interest you have taken. The scenes are exceedingly satisfactory and some seem very familiar, also, many of the names. The places most prominent in my memory are the Catholic cathedral, the "Fuller" house, and "Father" Damon's on Chaplain street, Dr. Hillebrand's, home of P. C. Jones (and I think he would remember my father, Captain Jetur R. Rose of barks Pacific and Trident), and a large frame house on corner of Fort and Beretania avenue, once the home of Alfred J. Cartwright, and where we boarded when we were in port for a short time only. Pictures of these places would seem very home-like. Should you be able to locate the house in which I was born, I would consider it a great favor, if you would send me a picture of same. If you are successful in the matter and would notify me in advance, I would forward the amount for a larger picture than postal size. I noticed the postage on package sent, was twenty-five cents, so inclose stamps for same, also a few views of Southampton and one of my home. Is the F. B. Damon, assistant cashier of The Bank of Hawaii, son of "Father" Damon or grandson? Please excuse questions, but it is the only way to obtain information, and the recalling of half forgotten scenes and memories, seems to have brought me more in touch with my Island home. I have several copies of The Friend, which serves as another link, and a few years ago, I obtained a publication "Picturesque Hawaii," that I found interesting.

Hoping to hear from you again, I remain, yours respectfully,
EMMA ROSE,
Southampton, Suffolk Co., N.Y., U.S.A.

NEWELL ON LABOR

whom may already have a home elsewhere. There is practically no private land for sale, but there is some offered for lease at what appear to be very high prices.

Third. The presence of the Oriental laborer, forming the great mass of population, produces an artificial condition of social and business life not conducive to settlement by whites. In the arid States of the mainland where men take up land and make it valuable by their own labor, every man is on the same social plane with his neighbor and vies with him in physical as well as mental energies expended in daily labor. In the islands, where practically all the physical labor is performed by Orientals, the tendency is for the white settler to endeavor to have his work done by Orientals. He tries to secure a larger piece of land than he could cultivate himself and to work it by cheap labor rather than take the small area and intelligently till it by his personal efforts. It is not that the climatic conditions are unfavorable to physical exertion, but largely because it is not customary for the white man to do work which can be performed by Japanese.

Another unfavorable condition growing out of the presence of the Orientals is that they are willing to pay large rent for a piece of land instead of trying to own it, and are content with relatively small earnings. The white man can not compete with them in their own lines. His standard of living is so different that, although he may possess superior intelligence, he can not profitably utilize the ground to the same degree as his Oriental neighbor.

Fourth. The problem of transportation is one which is ever present in a growing community. The present facilities of communication between the islands are in their way excellent and are constantly improving. There are also on some of the islands the beginnings of railroads more or less encircling them and bringing the products to convenient ports. There are only three of these, however, where steamers can lie at a dock, namely, at Honolulu, on Oahu, at Hilo, on Hawaii, and at Kahului, on Maui. At all other ports on the three islands named, and at all points on the other islands, the products must be lightered, usually in small boats, resulting in considerable expense and some uncertainty and danger in transfer.

There are on most of the islands excellent wagon roads and others projected to reach the productive land. These roads, originally built by the provisional government and continued by the Territory, are now in the hands of county officials. Some are well maintained, on others the funds have not been effectively expended. The cost of transporting products, therefore, to the main lines of trade is frequently high, but with increase of production it is proper to expect that the facilities will be improved and the cost notably lowered.

Fifth. There are practically no banks or institutions advancing money to farmers. The sugar industry is financed by a few large agencies who have little or no interest outside of this particular line. The fruit raiser or packer or the small farmer does not have the facilities of obtaining money possessed in most agricultural communities on the mainland. The Japanese have already appreciated this fact, and by white assistance are starting a bank to help their fellow countrymen finance sugar-planting contracts and similar enterprises.

Home-Making on the Public Lands.
The apparently obvious thing to do, and the action proposed by every person when he first considers the subject, is to cut up the public lands as soon as the leases run out and distribute the lands in small tracts to citizens. For example, the Territory owns 34,000 acres of rich land now leased to the plantations and cultivated in sugar cane. This land has a value of from $50 to $200 per acre, and would yield an annual rental of $8 or $10 per acre or even more. The question is frequently asked, Why not cut up this cane land into tracts of 40-acre homesteads? This seems to be a simple way of treating the problem. It has, however, been put to trial, without success. In general effect it has proved as advantageous to the public as it would have been to give each applicant $2000 to $8000 in gold. The recipient of this gift would be greatly pleased, but the public treasury would be depleted by this amount.

The giving away of this rich, highly cultivated land upon condition of residence upon it has resulted in the recipient making some indirect arrangement by which he virtually leases to the adjacent plantation the land which has been given him. Pending the time of securing complete title he establishes a nominal residence with the apparent intention of selling the land as soon as he can obtain title from the government. The home has usually consisted of the cheapest possible house or shack in which a human being can sleep occasionally and occupying the least possible amount of land, the remainder being devoted to sugar cane or other plantation purposes. The homesteader has not added to the value of the land in any respect, either by his personal labor or by intelligent supervision of the work of others. The conditions are similar to those on the mainland where homestead entries were received on valuable timber lands. Merely nominal residence was established, and when title was received the land was promptly sold to some large lumber company. As far as benefit to the commonwealth was concerned the government might better have sold the land directly and converted the proceeds to public uses.

The experience had in these lines illustrates the fact that lands which are most valuable for some established and highly profitable line of industry will not be actually used as homesteads even if subdivided and given to applicants. No way has yet been devised for keeping a man on his homestead after he obtains title if he believes that he can make money more easily by selling his land to some corporation. To have a successful homestead, one which is a benefit in increasing the prosperity of any country, it is necessary to have, first, a man who really desires to own and cultivate a piece of land, and who has the ability, physical and to a certain extent financial, so to do; second, the land open to homestead entry must be of such quality and so located that the entryman can raise food for home consumption and will prefer to live at home; and, third, the surrounding conditions of market and transportation must be such that the products can be sold at prices profitable enough to support his family. If he can make as good or nearly as good a living by renting his land he will probably do so. Nothing can keep a homesteader on his land but the fact that this is, in his own opinion, the most suitable place to live, and when the earnings which he receives from cultivating the soil are higher than those obtained in any other way.

One of the difficulties of bringing about actual homesteading is that inherent in distinguishing between the bona fide settler and the speculator. At present the territorial laws do not limit the number of homesteads that a man can take, with the result that having secured one homestead the owner can dispose of it and get another and another in succession without adding to the population of the country. A somewhat active sentiment on the part of the majority of citizens is to the effect that the preference should be given to natives. The idea prominent in public discussions when homesteads are mentioned is that the public lands should be divided up among the present population.

WHO PAYS for the advertising?

There are still a few non-advertising concerns in this enlightened age that claim they can give better value than others because they do not spend money in advertising. It would be just as sensible to say that they can give better value because their trade requires only one salesman! Does advertising add to the cost of selling goods, or reduce it? Let's see:

A shoe store paying $10 per day for rent, and selling ten pairs of shoes, would have to charge you $1 per pair for rent alone.

If, by spending $10 per day additional for advertising, the same store can sell 100 pairs of shoes instead of 10 pairs, then the rent and advertising combined would cost only 20c. instead of $1 per pair.

It is the volume of sales that reduces the cost of selling. And the quickest and easiest way to get volume, when you have the right kind of goods, is by advertising.

Let us have a talk.
