The design worked out is thoroughly Hawaiian, the side panels having typical Hawaiian fish, disporting about sprays of coral, while on the upper half of the panels are natural size Ha vailan fruits. Across the top panel in relief is to be carved the Hawaiian national ones to go. But if any of the thirty motto, "Ua may ke ea o ka aina i ka can not go, then No. 31 has the next pono," for the philosophic humorist to ponder over, while on a medallion in the center will be a bust of Kamehameha I beneath the Hawaiian coat-ofarms. The whole design is a decidedly handsome one and merited the praise it received yesterday from the promotionists.

Mrs. W. W. Hall and others are also working on designs for this mantelpiece, the mahogany for which is to be donated for the committee by the Hawaiian Mahogany company.

WARD. Secretary Wood reported that during the month the number of letters from prospective investors coming to the committee were increasing very rapidly, letters of inquiry from people having from five to twenty-five thousand dollars and looking for a place to go into business or into small farming. "The indications are that we will be visited this summer by more homeseekers than have ever before come to the Islands," he said. MARDI GRAS ADVERTISING. A letter from Mrs. W. M. Graham, hood to encourage that particular sking that the Kilohana Art League neighborhood in decorating. e allowed to advertise the Mardi Gras for 1909 on the Floral Parade poster to be issued within the next two months, was read. The request was favorably onsidered but no definite action was passed, somewhat inflated because of extra work in both the local and Los Angeles branches during April. The accounts totaled $495 for the mainland and $453 for the Honolulu work.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE. Chairman Waldron reported that S. M. Oat, the agent of the Merchants' Exchange, had generously offered to supply the Promotion Committee room with his daily bulletins of marine inelligence. The thanks of the committee to Mr. Oat were expressed.

"For more than thirty years I have had your famous Islands in mind to be fondly explored and enjoyed, but thus far, fate has allowed me only a day around Honolulu. I'm now very busy trying to get some long delayed writing off my hands, but be assured, I shall be glad to accept your committee's flattering and generous invitation as soon as possible though I am, at present, unable to say whether the time will be this year or next. THE LAND AND THE FARMER.

The Bulletin of Progress, published by the California Promotion Committee, steady and thousands of new people have made their homes in the State.

There is plenty of room and opportunity to get such colonists here, but most harmful things imaginable.

Thank fortune, if a boom sets in, it will bring such a tremendous pressure American system of farms will come to its own with a rush.

"Trick" of profits. The farmer is ready. His inquiries are, according to the statement pictures are so entertainingly explained that the explanation is as entertaining of the Secretary of the Promotion Committee, coming in faster than ever. What as the pictures themselves. Mystery, and phantom, and vanishing pictures are is to be done for him? Is it not pretty nearly time for the government to make explained in all their ingenious application of the laws of optics, up its mind to renew the Wahiawa plan of Settlement Associations from the mainland?

BUSINESS.

The latest report of Henry Clews on the business status of the country shows a renewed activity in the stock market; in fact, a "substantial recevery." Though some $15,000,000 of gold has been exported and $45,000,000 appreciation of the art itself. more are to be withdrawn from deposit by Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou, enough is left to keep money at an easy rate. Nevertheless, general business conditions are looked upon as unsatisfactory and complex. Says Mr. Clews: "The wave of depression which began in Wall street with the panie has entirely left that district, and is now expending its full force in the various departments of commerce and industry. In some quarters it appears to have exerted its worst effects, while in others the crisis is still acute. In the iron trade depression is extreme; both orders and profits being less than half those indulged in. Covers were laid for six. of a year ago. While there are signs of weakness in prices, the Steel Corporation still adheres to its policy of maintaining values, and orders are much deferred in consequence. It had been hoped that improved conditions in the money market, and renewed ability of the railroads to finance their requirements, would at least lead to the placing of larger orders for structural iron in the last campaign, but it is said by and steel. Such expectations have only been realized to a limited extent; for the railroads are not in need of new equipment while so many cars and locomotives are idle, and will, moreover, probably confine their purchases for structural material to work that must be completed, postponing the unnecessary repairs and new work until prices recede and industrial conditions become more favor- but that there is ro telling what it able. In the textile trade there is also much depression, but the outlook is might do. At any rate the sons of brighter. JUDGE KAULUKOU.

Judge Kaulukou, one of the candidates for District Magistrate at Hilo, in having been the first. Yesterday the succession to Judge Hapai, is a Hawaiian of good standing. He has been a Boy Orator authorized the following lawyer for over thirty years, and was once a District Magistrate of this Island. His politics are those of the ruling party, and yet he has never been an offensive partisan. Should be be appointed, there would be no occasion to question either the Republican ticket. I have considthe integrity or the good judgment of his court.

He was appointed District Magistrate for the District of Koolaupoko on search to the highest office within the July 14, 1877; he held that office up to October 23, 1884. He then resigned and gift of the people, I am barred from was promoted to be Sheriff of the Island of Hawaii. While he was holding holding any position under the Territhat office Judge Kaulukon was elected as a Representative from the District tory of Hawaii. In fact the position of South Hilo in 1886; later was appointed Postmaster-General and postmaster of clerk or interpreter in the riouse of Representatives receives more pay of Honolulu. After that he became Marshal of the Kingdom. While he was than bieng a member of the House, but holding the Marshal's office he was appointed Attorney-General of the Kingdom I have taken this course on the repeatfor ten days, and after that went back to the marshalship. The Judge held ed requests of my friends. These rethat office up to 1888, and then resigned. Now that I am twenty-five, I think I will accept the reand Tax Collector, member of the Board of Education and of the Board of quest of my friends, and depend upon Immigration, member of the Privy Council of State and a member of the House my friends to help me in the convenof Representatives or several years. He was Speaker o the House in the year | tion to receive the nomination.

The pieces of ordnance which have come for the Diamond Head fort are not guns, but mortars, and most extraordinary weapons they are. Stationed behind a hill or a ridge, completely out of sight of an enemy, mortars are fired towards the sky at an angle which enables them to drop their enormous missiles on a square of sea or land which has been marked on a map for the guidance of the gunners. In the case of the Diamond Head battery, the sea will be surveyed within the radii of fire and a map made of it in checkerboard form; and, in the event of war, the appearance of an enemy's ship at a certain place corresponding to one on the chart, would either be signaled to the gunners by officers on some high point or the guns would be discharged from the observatory of the fire-control system. The first the enemy knew, a ton or two of explosive steel would descend upon him from the clouds. Mortars have been used with great effect in modern wars, the surrender of Admiral Ting, in the bay of Wei-hai-wei, being measurably hastened by their use.

The Navy Department should have given Honolulu merchants a chance, and may yet be induced to do so if it has not already made contracts for staple supplies covering the period of the cruise between San Francisco and Australian ports. Therein lies the difficulty. Before the fleet left Hampton Roads, a purveyor from Aden, and another from Sydney, were in Washington, it was said, pieces of Embroidery at a very making contracts to cover two legs of the long journey. Doubtless California low price, and have marked same contractors did not lack for a Metcalf invitation. According to Admiral Very and according to common sense, such things are done long in advance of the need. For instance, coal began moving to given points as soon as the cruising program was announced, and we may well assume that the food problem was worked out at the same time. However, if there is any opening for Honolulu our energetic commercial bodies may be trusted to find it.

The noise made by the lads who frequent the Bishop block is not the only thing that makes them objectionable; it is their bad language. As the place was fixed up to be a beauty spot and has never been opened to the public by PRICES 15c to 40c yard putting a gate in the fence, or taking the fence down, we see no reason why the boys should have a prescriptive right to be there. There are other parks for them; and the Bishop Park might well be reserved, as some of the parks of other cities are, to delight the eye. More ornamental trees could be planted and flower beds kept up, convicts taking care of the place as now and the policeman on that beat being instructed to keep the hoodlums that now annoy people in that vicinity off the grass. The petition upon which the request to the Territorial government is based seems reasonable and proper,

If the Queen had her string on that thousand dollars, still another statesman may fail to turn up at Chicago.

MOVING PICTURES.

When any new art or process has reached the stage where a handbook for those engaged in it is deemed necessary, it may be assumed to have established itself. On the basis of this rule, motion pictures may be said to have estabished themselves, even if there were not conclusive evidence of it otherwise.

There has just come from the press a handsomely bound, handsomely illustrated, and exceedingly entertaining book with this title: Handbook for Motion Picture and Stereopticon Operators, by C. Francis Jenkins, hadalist of the Franklin Institute; and Oscar B. De Pue, who is now, and for several years has been, with Burton Holmes. The book is exceedingly well written, and notwithstanding it purports only to be a "handbook," it is in parts fascinating in its descriptions of the applications of very recondite laws and principles of optics, says that colonist travel to California during the two months just past has been electricity, and even of other sciences, to the production of the many variations of animated or motion pictures.

The book begins with a carefully studied definition of what motion pictures everything possible has been done to prevent, as if the coming of a few thousand are, both from the scientific and the practical standpoint, and a very compremore people to produce things, divide the tax burden and secure the prosperity | hensive description of the long line of scientific and practical men who worked of the Islands by means of more anchors to the windward, would be one of the on the problem of their production. Then follows handbook descriptions of the mechanisms and processes by which such pictures are made, printed, and projected on the screen for the entertainment or instruction. There are instrucon the land that no combination of land-grabbers can possibly resist it, and the tions as to various means and devices to be used to attain particular effects. There is a resume of the municipal and other regulations as to moving picture The time is ripe, as Congress has set the seal of its disapproval on the shows. There are hints as to the best means of carrying either the picture substitute plan of bringing European labor here to work on the plantations making or the picture-projecting apparatus. There is a resume of the law and ten hours a day and cultivate an acre garden patch the rest of the time-until the litigation concerning copyright of pictures, and patents of processes and the plantation bought in the acre. The story of how that scheme came to grief mechanism. And there are formulae and directions for all the photographic

But there is also a great deal more than this. There is entertaining dis cussion and description of many, if not most, of the curious phenomena and mystifying illusions of the moving-picture entertainment. For instance, there Having come to grief, there is additional reason for turning to the farmer is a very lucid explanation of why, sometimes, in moving pictures the wheels

> One cannot read the book, or even glance through it carelessly, without being struck with the fact that moving pictures are possible only because of profound investigation of natural phenomena, and most ingenious application of the result of this investigation to the mechanical and optical means necessary to produce them. REMOVAL NOTICE

The business of the Myrtle Cigar Store has increased out of all proportion to the facilities and we find ourselves obliged to get into larger quarters. To that end we have moved to the store formerly occupied by the Honolulu Drug Co., Ltd., on Fort Street below King, next to Pacheco's.

So long as we sell standard cigars we expect to do a little business with you, but in any event we want you to drop in and say "Howdy" tomorrow whether you smoke or not, even if you are not a customer of this store you are welcome to come and light your cigar and look around. Take it all in all we have a comfortable place and one that appeals to the man who believes that his store should be attractive.

Besides having a good looking store we are selling some of the best cigars you ever smoked. The kind that burns even to the end. A quality that suggests borrowing the phrase, "There ain goin' to be no leavin's."

The American schooner Helene, only twelve days from San Francisco, arived yesterday morning, reporting a pleasant passage. He declares that he was smitten by the charms of one of to be out of sight of her and he exhibits a silk handkerchief and a gold ting which he claims she gave to him. He lost the Lilliputians in their quick moves from place to place and getting homesick worked his passage home aboard the Helene.

AUXILIARIES COMING FIRST.

Before the big fleet comes to Honolulu and before the special service ply to W. W. Chamberlain, Room 207 squadron, the Maine and the Alabama, arrive here, there will be probably four auxiliaries to the big fleet calling at this port. The idea is to get the supply ships to Honolulu several days before the armada arrives, that they may be coaled and get clear of the harbor so as not to interfere with the warships. The Glacier, Culgoa, Panther and Ajax will leave San Francisco for Honolulu n June 25. The battleships Maine and Alabama will arrive here about the Philippines and Suez.

PEARL HARBOR TRANSPORTATION There is considerable talk on the

With the starting of work on the naval station and other government works there will be a rush o. people with eyes to business who will pen boarding houses, stores, business ouse agencies, saloons and places of entertainment, and the transportation of building material for private parties will be a big consideration. There is talk of the Inter-Island putting on boat, but there is nothing-official in

The week of May 7 the Secretary spent several days on a boat in Hampton Roads resting, but took a few hours off to inspect the Jamestown Exposition. He returned to Washington to remain in his office most of the time till May 21, when he was off to New Haven to attend a meeting of the Yale corporation. Undaunted at the thought of a railroad train, he took a Sunday trip to Leesburg, Va., an hour's ride from Washington, six days later starting for St. Louis to address a millers' convention, and was back in Washington June 1. be deceived. That there are cheats and frauds in plenty everybody knows; but it is seldom or never that any large business house is guilty of them, no matter what line of trade it follows. There can be no permanent success of any kind based on dishonesty or deception. There never was, and never will be. The men who try that are simply fools and soon come to grief, as they deserve. Now many persons are, nevertheiess, afraid to buy certain advertised articles lest they be humbugged and deluded; especially are they slow to place confidence in published statements of the merits of medicines. The effective modern remedy known as WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION is as safe and genuine an article to purchase as flour, silk or cotton goods from the mills of manufacturers with a world-wide reputation. We could not afford to exaggerate its qualities or misrepresent it in the least; and it is not necessary. It is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Ced Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry: and how valuable such a blending of these important medicinal agents must be is plain to everypody. It is beyond price in Insomnia, Anemia, Weakness and lack of Nervous Tone, Poor Digestion, Lung Troubles and Blood Impurities. Science can furnish nothing better-perhaps nothing so good. D. W. H. Dalfe, of Canada, says: "I have used it in my practice and take pleasure in recommending it as a valuable tonic and reconstructive." It is a remedy that can ford to appeal to its record and represents the science and

AGREED TO SUE. An agreement was filed for record yesterday with Registrar Merriam which is very interesting in connection with a suit filed the other day in the lircuit Court. The agreement is between William A. Hall and L. Ah Leong, in which it is recited that in 1903 Hall leased to C. Winam the property at the mauka-Ewa corner of King and Aala streets, and that a short time ago he began suit for summary possession on the ground of violations of conditions in the lease. The agree ment with Ah Leong is that he shall prosecute that suit and any other necessary to get possession of the land and that when he does get possession of it free from incumbrance Ah Leong will pay him $20,000 and pay C. W. Ashford, who is Hall's attorney in his suit regarding the forfeiture of the lease, a fee of $500. The agreement is dated April 22

The sult in the Circuit Court is a bill for an injunction by the widow of . Winam, in which she seeks to restrain Hall from taking possession of the property.

Yes, I have just been to the volcano; was it worth while? Well! I should think so; it was worth going around the world to see; I would not have missed it for any consideration; it is a spectacular performance which cannot be described; it is so awfully fascinating that one can hardly leave it: if my business would have permitted, I would have remained there a week. The wonder to me is that your Honolulu people do not make more of it; they can't realize the extent of the present activity; I understand that hundreds went up to see the flow of 1907, and that it was not a bit more attractive than Kilauea is

A BAD MISTAKE!

The only complaint that the representatives of the Tansan agency have had from the citizens of Honolulu has come from a few who objected to purare sure to promote a smile anywhere. chasing it because it was a Japanese water. Is not this very narrow? You employ Japanese labor, you purchase Japanese silks, china, tea, rice and numberless other articles of Japanese manufacture or growth. Why not Tansan?-especially when the springs, the bottling works, the warehouses, etc., etc., are all owned by an English-American Co., whose principal employes are Anglo-Saxons. You purchase certain Japanese goods because they are the best of their kind. Purchase Tansan because it is the best mineral water extant.

PRINCESS PUTS STOP TO RUMORS

GUTTED BY FIRE

The private hospital of Dr. Oyama, situated in the lane opposite the junction of Lilfha street with King street, in Palama, was gutted by fire yesterday afternoon, the blaze being a fierce one for some minutes. There were three patients in the hospital when the fire broke out, but these were quickly removed to a place of safety without suffering any from fright or exposure. Nothing else was got out of the house, however, and the contents of the building and the building itself are complete losses. The contents were insured, but a small insurance was on the building, which is the property of W. Achi, Jr., and was looked after by Castle & Withington.

The fire originated on the back lanai, where a Japanese woman had been cooking with a charcoal stove, which had been left alight. The fire was noted by two boys, Joseph Huli and Jas. Kuong, who turned in an alarm, and by James A. Rath of the Palama Settlement, just opposite, who tried to fight the flames with a garden hose, but who was driven back by the though the flames had not broken through in any place, making the fight to save the buildings close at hand an

Fire Chief Thurston last night was unable to estimate the loss, which will be probably in the neighborhood of a thousand dollars.

Can you dance the Barn Dance? If you can't you're a back number terpsichorially, because the barn dance just now is the rage.

It is ultra popular, captivating boys and girls, men and women, novices and veterans, but like all fads, it has its critics. The dancing masters say it is not artistic, but it is the latest of fads and the people must have it. Those that know it beg for just one more barn dance. The dance is very pretty and and catchy and fits the music beautifully. It ends with a hop step, is why the dancing masters frown at it, but that doesn't interfere with its popularity. All ages have contracted the barn dance fever. It is so popular that even staid matrons catch the fever and find it impossible to sit still for any length of time; they are always practicing it. Whist parties are interrupted while players practice the hop. Luncheons are broken up just to make a try at the fancy steps. Society dances look like assemblages of Highlanders indulging in the Highland fling or Hungarians reveling in the wild dances of their native country.-Exchange.
