THE LABOR QUESTION.

There is no public question of more immediate moment than that of a supply of agricultural labor. While the sugar industry is the mainstay of the country's prosperity, or even existence as a civilized community, it must be sustained and it must have enough labor for its operation. It is useless to talk of the hordes of Japanese and Chinese who have been brought into the country to work on the plantations but who are not working there to-day. That these hordes are not available, or considered so by the planters, is proved by the prompt employment by the plantations of every new lot that comes from across the Pacific, whether under Government auspices or otherwise. Those introduced by the Board of Immigration are practically all taken under contract immediately on arrival. Those thus far so introduced, at brief intervals, have evidently not come up to the demand, for we see more than half of the 900 Japanese brought through a private agency by the Nanshan already shipped for the cane fields. There is a great deal of talk every time a round thousand of Japanese arrives about the flood of labor which it is alleged is swamping the country. Yet a look at the figures of arrivals and departures of labor immigrants, as presented at the planters' convention the other day, will show that the flood has an ebb tide near as great as the inward flow. There was a net increase of labor by immigration the past year of 146 inclusive of females. This is a more trifling view of the increase of planting operations, also of the additional demand for labor caused by the development of the coffee industry. Even the Japanese have not proportionally deluged the land to such an extent as seems to be the popular opinion. The net increase of this nationality for the past year has been 712. As nearly all of the Japanese arrivals have been put under plantation contracts for a term of years, the serious consideration in their particular case is that far postponed. It is a serious consideration, as other statistics laid before the planters in council prove. Eleven thousand Japanese not working on the plantations out of twenty-two thousand brought to the country for that purpose, at great expense, is an astounding revelation, as is the cogent fact of 2216 Chinese out of 14,000 in the country who make no response to the planters' perpetual cry for labor. The problem that is paramount in the whole labor question is how to retain the supply when once secured without constant replenishment. Profound and tactful statesmanship is required for the solution of that problem.

GALA DAY OF CHINESE.

They Celebrate the Dowager Empress Birthday.

Chinatown was gaily decorated yesterday in honor of the birthday of the Dowager Empress of China. A number of new flagpoles were put up over Chinese stores, and the yellow ensign with the dragon in the center floated to the breeze. The chief attraction was at the old hall of the Chinese Protective Union, where exercises were held at noon. The hall was decorated with evergreens and on the verandas were hung Chinese lanterns of variegated colors. Across the street was hung a large Hawaiian flag between two Chinese flags. The China Engine Co. had all their flags flying and Chinatown never presented a more holidaylike appearance before. All Chinese stores closed at noon for a half holiday. The fact that the Japanese had a jolly time on Saturday last excited the emulation of the Chinese, and they evidently determined to put the Japs in the shade. The Hawaiian National band played at the Chinese Protective Union's hall during the afternoon.

There was a gathering of 3000 Chinese in and about the Chinese hotel at Hotel and Maunakea streets in the evening. The building was gorgeously illuminated and decorated with Chinese and Hawaiian flags for the occasion. Music was furnished by the Hawaiian National band. Addresses were delivered by Chung Ming, chairman; Wong Wa Fui, Chung On, Ching Yee Sun and Lee Chiu. The speech of the chairman was as follows:

To-day is our national holiday, the sixty-first anniversary of the birth of our most beloved Empress Dowager. For her great kindness toward us we all participate with deep joy in the festival. You, our fellow countrymen, are gathered in such great numbers that it has been necessary to appoint a committee to address you in congratulation on our Empress' birthday. We earnestly hope that the present dynasty may last for thousands of years, so that our nation may enjoy continued happiness and prosperity.

The chairman then introduced the other members of the committee to address the meeting.

The committee on the celebration consisted of: Lee Chiu, president for the day; C. Afat, chairman; Wong Wa Fui, Chun Ming and Wong Chiu.

The holiday was the greatest the Chinese colony had since King Kalakaua returned from his visit to China.

JUDICIARY JOTTINGS.

The foreign jury are to attend at 9:30 to-morrow.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Attorneys in foreign jury criminal cases are wanted at Circuit Court to-morrow morning at 9:30.

T. S. Kay, manager of Halawa plantation, is in town. He will visit the coffee district in Kona before returning home.

More Japanese are expected by the S. S. Oceania due the 18th inst. Another immigrant steamer from Japan is also expected in December.

The French warship Duguay-Trouin took on board seven live bullocks this morning for consumption. She sailed at 3 o'clock this afternoon, taking as mail six letters.

W. J. Sadris, the Cingalese jeweler, leaves by the S. S. Nanshan to-day for Yokohama. Previous to embarking his passport was stopped by tax collector Montano, and Mr. Sadris had to "pony up" $50.00 taxes.

Forty-two of the Nanshan's Japanese immigrants have to return to the Land of the Rising Sun by the same steamer. Plantation agency doctors found that large number diseased and unfitted for labor in field or mill.

Several Chinese were engaged removing an old building from the Hotel residence at Palama this forenoon, when a prop gave way and the building fell on one of the Chinese men. The man's injuries are believed to be serious, although their extent is at this reporting not definitely known.

Timely Topics

October 31, 1894.

The first election under the Republic passed off as quietly as an ordinary funeral and Mr. Klemme, the strongest in the opposition, once more proved himself a man whose destiny is to get left by a very small majority. The count showed the regular candidates to be stronger in every particular than their opponents; it showed also that it was the wish of the voters that the "regulars" are to make the laws for the masses. The result is a rousing victory for the party in power, inasmuch as not one of the opposition secured enough votes to carry him to victory. As an object lesson the result will have its effects upon political dabblers; it shows that the Populists, non-Partisans or the Farmers' Alliance are not equal in political generalship to the working members of the A. U. P. The defeat is crushing, but no man, or set of men, can go down a sliding board forever without getting a splinter somewhere in their anatomy. The A. U. P. had every point covered so well that Mr. Klemme was really the only one of the opposition who had a chance to be elected and his vote was so close that he should not feel badly over his defeat.

A reservoir on the slopes of Punchbowl will be of untold advantage to the people whose homes are in that locality, property will increase in value there for the reason that water will be plentiful. If the government could be induced to put Improved Stone Filters in the pipes the health of the consumers would be better. All water used for drinking or cooking purposes should be filtered. Even artesian water is not safe. Boil it and you will find a thousand particles floating around; filter it through an Improved Stone Filter and every one of them will disappear.

If you have a cabinet in your parlor on which there is a vacant space fill it with Rookwood. We have a few choice bits in our makai window that are not duplicated anywhere in the world. The assortment is made up of Vases, Urns, Boxes and Plates, Flower Holders, Ink Stands, Tobacco Boxes, Chocolate Pots, and a half dozen other things both useful and ornamental.

The Hauchin Tap Water Filter at a dollar fills an aching void in the wants of the cook. Handsomely nickel-plated and effective.

French Cook Knives are the best knives obtainable for the kitchen. Made of the finest quality of steel and hardened so that the edge will not turn up when it strikes a bone—75 cents and a dollar.

In the matter of Sewing Machines, we hold that the Wertheim Triplex is the most serviceable in the market because it makes three distinct stitches. For ruffles on the babies' clothing you want a single stitch. The Wertheim makes it.

For good hard sewing on the boys' knickerbockers you want a lock stitch. The Wertheim gives it.

For all sorts of sewing on all sorts of clothing you make your selection of stitches and the Wertheim will do the work.

A TAX ON INCOMES

has received much discussion, its chief commendation, or condemnation, of course, being that it does not hit everybody. When the British Government wished to reach everybody in India with a tax, it was found necessary to levy it on salt, as that was the only article that everybody used.

TO INCREASE INCOME

is the problem to-day engaging every thoughtful person. There are few indeed, who can get along without drugs, medicines, or the good things kept by a modern drug store. Is this not a fact?

THE POINT

we wish to make is this: Do you prefer paying the prices asked for twenty years in Honolulu for drugs and patent medicines, brushes and other sundries, or buy from us at cut rates? We have gained hundreds of new customers during the past few months. Why? Because they have found that they get everything of the best quality at a less tax on their income.

SOME PEOPLE THINK

we have discontinued cutting, but they are misinformed. We have not tried to stop. We like it and we are not sorry we started it. We will continue so long as the public approve of our method of doing business.

CATHOLIC CHURCH ORGAN.

Description of Repairs to Be Made on the Instrument.

Readers of the BULLETIN will remember that, a few weeks ago, the ladies of the Roman Catholic Cathedral held a fancy fair in the Armory, Beretania street, to raise funds for repairing and improving the large pipe organ in the cathedral. The fair was an entire success, the necessary amount required being easily raised. The public will no doubt be interested in the following information regarding the work that is to be done to the organ, and which has been furnished by Wray Taylor, the well-known organist of St. Andrew's Cathedral:

The large pipe organ in the Roman Catholic Cathedral was built by Bevington & Sons of London, England, and has been in the Cathedral about seventeen years. It was presented by a gentleman who did not wish his name to be known as the donor. It has two manuals and twenty-three draw stops. The organ stands in the gallery at one end of the cathedral. The repairs and the improvements to the instrument are to be quite extensive. As it now stands the player has practically to sit inside of the organ to play it.
 This will be done away with, as the keyboard is to be brought out two feet from the case. The draw stops are to be arranged in terrace form, while the draw knobs themselves will be the patent oblique style.
 There will be an entirely new key and pedal action, bushed so that it will be noiseless. The stops for the swell organ draw from the right side, those for the great organ from the left. These are to be reversed.
 A vertical balance swell pedal will be another improvement and a tremolo will be added. Patent pneumatic valves will be introduced to lighten the touch, and all the pipes will be taken out, thoroughly cleaned and re-voiced. The bellows will have three feeders instead of two, and a large wheel will be used in place of a handle to blow the organ. The contract for the work has been let to J. W. Bergstrom, who will carry out the improvements assisted by his brother, who is now on his way from the Coast. The father of these young men is a well known organ builder on the Pacific Coast.
 Work will be commenced very shortly and pushed right along. The organist at the cathedral is Sister Arsene, while the music is under the direction of Father Valentine, a very able musician.

BURGARS BOID.

But Larsen Had His Eagle Eye on Them and They Are in Quod.

A Chinese store on King street near Kekaula street was entered on Monday night and the following articles taken: Thirteen boxes of cigars, eight silk Chinese suits, one leather valise, a cigar holder and $15.50 in cash. Entrance was effected through a rear window, and after the booty had been collected the front was unfasted and the burglars escaped. During the same night a Japanese store on Maunakea street near the China Engine House was burglarized, the following articles being appropriated: Three dozen undershirts, about twenty pairs of socks, a quantity of silk and linen handkerchiefs and a pair of Chinese slippers. The burglars got into the place through a hole cut in the wall to let in fresh air, a couple of batteries being torn away. The burglars committed their depredations while the proprietor and occupants of the building slept the sleep of the just.

These burglaries were reported to Detective Larsen yesterday morning, and he immediately put his assistants, D. Kokona and Chung Poon, on the trail of four suspicious characters, on whom he had had his eyes for some time. These men are sailors on the steamer Mikahala. Today the detectives swooped down on the suspects and caused their arrest. They are Kokona, Kakaia, Keau and Hiki. In a trunk belonging to one of the prisoners several of the missing articles were discovered, besides an ax and a file, which had probably been used in securing entrance to victims' houses.
 Kakaia has admitted in preliminary investigation that the robberies of Monday night were made by them.

TRAMP ON THE SEASHORE.

Two Young Men Take a Walk and See Strange Things.

James Thompson and a companion left town Sunday morning at 5:15 o'clock for a tramp around the weather side of the island. They reached Waimanalo at 1:50 o'clock in the afternoon and the Pali at 4 o'clock. Two hours later the travelers boarded a Nuuanu street tramcar for town. The distance covered was twenty-five miles, a zigzag route having been taken. Evidences of some superstitious proceeding were found at Makapuu Point, the other side of Diamond Head. Large stones were placed at certain distances apart, and on each of them were three smaller stones piled in the form of a cone. Wreckage of toys and lumber was seen strewn along the beach, doubtless flotsam from the wrecked bark G. N. Wilcox.

HORSE RACES CHRISTMAS.

Ranchmen of Oahu Will Provide for a Good Day's Sport.

Christmas Day will be observed at Mokuleia Ranch with horse races.
 Already four running races and one trotting race, for which money prizes will be given, have been arranged.
 Louis Warren of Waimanalo, R. Halstead of Wailua, Wm. Rathbun of Koolau and Bonnie Judd have the matter in hand, and they will enter horses from their respective districts. Horse racing has been for years all the go among the ranchmen in the districts mentioned, and Christmas Day is generally decided upon as a fitting day for the events.
 A number of town people intend going to Mokuleia that day.

Bicycle Matters.

The local wheelmen have begun active training for the bicycle meet on Thanksgiving day. Terrill and Griffiths, the visiting riders of the silent steed, go out with the local wheelmen daily and are materially assisting them in their training. The date of the road race between the visitors has not been fixed, but it will be within two weeks. The bark Albert will not leave for San Francisco until about the beginning of next month, and Terrill and Griffiths will probably be induced to ride on the 25th inst.

LADIES' COLUMN.

The demand for white cotlast week has induced us to continue the sale of those on hand until they are all sold.

 Remember this means that YOU BUY THEM AT JUST WHAT THEY COST US, not one cent more or one cent less. We ain't making any money on this kind of sales, but it gives us room for the im-have arrived by the "Australia."

We want to move off our Hosiery at our Quick Sales and Small Profit Prices, so the LADIES' BLACK STOCK-INGS will go again this week at last week's prices, or the $3 per dozen ones at $2.25 per dozen, while the $5 per dozen ones will go at $4 per dozen. The same with Men's Socks: the $3 per dozen ones are now $2.25 per dozen. We also want to call Special Attention to the magnificent White Cotton Embroidered Handkerchiefs offered this week. They are not cheap ones, it's the price of them that is cheap.

The interest also increases in our Volcano trip and it is quite evident from late reports that Madame Pele is making great preparations to do her part for she has been throwing up fountains of fire fifty feet high during the last week and every indication goes to show that by the time you are ready to go she will be in her glory.

Remember and save every check, if you do not have enough you can give them to friends who are making up clubs. This week is a great week for buyers.

 contracted while in camp at Landfield in 1892.
 I have been troubled more or less since that work, much less any lifting. I received only temporary relief from medicines. Last spring I had an attack of the grip, which left me with

 It has done wonders for me, as I have not been

SUICIDE OF A JAP.
He Hangs Himself in Fowler's Yard - Had Some Money.

The dead body of a Japanese named Matsumoto was found early this morning suspended from a railing on a staircase in Fowler's yard. Captain Scott had the body taken down and brought to the Station. Dr. Cooper made an examination and found death to have been caused by strangulation. Matsumoto used a sash, such as Japanese wear, to hang himself. He must have been hanging all night. There is nothing known of the man except that he intended leaving by the S. S. Nanshan to-day for Yokohama. In the suicide's clothes was found $2.75. Among other things found at his lodgings was $70, so that it is evident the man did not commit suicide on account of poverty. An inquest was held at noon to-day and a verdict of death by strangulation was returned.

BLIGHT FIGHTERS.
Exchanges of Useful Parasites Between Here and Abroad.

Commissioner Marsden received by the Australia, on ice, from Alexander Craw, State entomologist of California, a colony of the cynipid lady bird. They were transferred, still on ice, to the steamer Kinan for transport to the Oahu coffee plantations. This species of the lady bird is the natural enemy of a microscopic spider, with the appalling name of tetranychus telarius, which makes the coffee leaves wilt. By the Australia Mr. Marsden will send to California thousands of the cryptine mites, which have had gratifying success in these islands in ridding coffee and citrus trees of insect blight. There is a constant exchange of antidotes for plant diseases and insect blights going on between the Hawaiian Bureau of Agriculture and similar institutions abroad.

Ringed Noises
In the ears, sometimes a roaring, buzzing sound, are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood.

Hood's Pills are the best after dinner pills, assist digestion, prevent constipation.

Henry Wilson, the postmaster at Walshton, Florida, says he cured a case of diarrhea of long standing in six hours, with one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. What a pleasant surprise that must have been to the sufferer. Such cures are not unusual with this remedy. In many instances only one or two doses are required to give permanent relief. It can always be depended upon. When reduced with water it is pleasant to take. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

PAINT
OIL!

Save Half the Amount of Your Oil
Bill Through Saving in Pigment.

Every painter should use LUCOL instead of Linseed Oil, because:

1. Lucol is more durable than Linseed Oil.
2. Lucol is more economical than Linseed Oil.

PROOF THAT LUCOL IS MORE DURABLE

Six years of actual use in exterior house painting in California (the most trying climate for paints), in the burning heat of the Arizona Desert, the Arctic cold of Alaska, and on the Atlantic coast, have fully and practically shown that Lucol always outwears Linseed Oil under the same conditions. All the acid works in San Francisco have discarded Linseed Oil for Lucol.

ILLUSTRATE THIS YOURSELF.

Put strong ammonia on Linseed and Lucol paints. The Linseed paints are destroyed in a few minutes; the Lucol paints are practically unaffected.

PROOF THAT LUCOL IS MORE ECONOMICAL.

Break up 1½ lbs. paste white lead in one pint of Lucol, and the same quantity in one pint of Linseed Oil. Spread the paints on similar dark surfaces for comparison. The Lucol paint spreads as far as and covers much better than the Linseed paint. To get equally good covering with the Linseed paint you have to use 2½ lbs. of white lead to one pint of Linseed Oil. This means a saving of ¼ lb. of paste lead to each pint of Lucol used, or 6 lbs. to every gallon, equivalent to your saving more than half the first cost of the Lucol.

Lucol is not in competition with cheap Linseed Oil substitutes.

Contributions toward the funds of the Red Cross Society of Japan have been received from many foreigners in Tokio and Yokohama.

It is stated that the Imperial treasure in Moukden amounts to twelve hundred millions of dollars—the accumulation of two centuries.

Captain Feng of the Chih-yuen is said to have been beheaded for cowardice. We don't believe it, but if it were true it would be curious as well as horrible. The Chih-yuen was the only vessel that escaped of the three that encountered a Japanese flying squadron on the 25th of July, and she escaped in a condition described by foreigners who saw her afterwards at Port Arthur as very shocking. Having undergone the necessary repairs she is said to have been present with the Chinese fleet on the 17th inst. But her captain, thinking that he had already had his fill of fighting, made a gallery of his ship and looked on at the battle. He was naive enough afterwards to describe what he had seen and his simplicity and garrulity would seem to have cost him his head.

There has been a great influx of Japanese traders into Corea since the fall of Pyong-yang.

A Japanese clerk in the service of the Ordnance department at Tientsin, has been decapitated.

From the 1st of August up to the 21st inst. public subscriptions to the amount of yen 224,832 were received by the Naval Department.

Major von Hanneken is reported in China to have rejoined the Chinese fleet, having only been wounded in the battle of the Yellow Sea.

Otani Kabei, the great Japanese tea merchant of Yokohama, has presented a thousand bags of tea to the War and Naval Departments.

The value of gold dust, silver specie, and Corean money captured by the Japanese army after the occupation of Pyong-yang is estimated at yen 955,520.

A Chinese troopship was wrecked near Wenchow recently. When her passengers, consisting of some 1000 Hunan troops, made the land, they at once decapitated the steersman and mutilated other members of the crew, alleging treachery as an excuse for their diabolical behavior.

THE GREAT NAVAL BATTLE.

The Japan Mail obtains the following report of the great naval battle of September 17 from the native press:

The object of the Japanese squadron's proceeding northward was to intercept any troops that might be sent from China to re-inforce the army in Corea. The Third Flying Squadron, together with the Amaki and the Iwaki had been sent up the Ta dong river to co-operate with the land forces. The First Flying Squadron (Yoshino, Takachiho, Akitsushima and Naniwa) were in the van of the line with the Yoshino at their head. Then came the Principal Squadron (Matsushima, Chiyoda, Itakushima, Hashidate, Hiyei and Fuso), and the rear was brought up by the Akagi and Saikyo.

The Chinese ships, when sighted, were on their way back from the Yalu, whither they had convoyed some 10,000 troops. The squadron consisted of the Ting-yuen, Chen-yuen, King-yuen, Lai-yuen, Chih-yuen, Ching-yuen, Chi-yuen (?), Ping-yuen, Chao-yung, Yang-wei, Wei-yuen, Kwang-chia, Kwang-ping, and one other, with six torpedo boats. The ships were hugging the shore as though to escape observation, and were evidently heading for Port Arthur. When first seen they were in one line, but they presently changed to two ranks in echelon. The Yoshino signalled their presence, and Admiral Ito ordered the fleet to prepare for action.

As the squadrons drew near, the Chinese slightly altered their course and opened fire at about eight thousand metres. The Flying Squadron made no immediate response, but moving on rapidly through smoke and shells, commenced practice at 3000 metres. The effect of the Japanese fire soon made itself apparent. The Chao-yung burst into flame, and the Yang wei had to be run ashore. At 1 p.m. the Saikyo ran up a signal that the Hiyei and Akagi were in danger, and the rest of the squadron went to their assistance, but the enemy now left the Hiyei and Akagi and directed their attack against the principal squadron. The Admiral now signalled to the Hiyei and Akagi to draw out of the fight, which they did, the latter assisting the former to put out a fire that had broken out on board. The Saikyo Maru, at this stage, had her steering gear destroyed, and the ironclads Ting-yuen and Chen-yuen pressed her so hard that her only means of escape was to steam between them. The two big ships sheered off, as she approached; they probably feared ramming. Three torpedoes were fired at her, but all were badly aimed. The enemy's fire now began to slacken, and the Japanese redoubled theirs, the Chih-yuen was sunk.

A part of the enemy's fleet, consisting of four ships, steamed off towards the coast at this stage, pursued by the flying squadron, while the principal squadron held the ironclads and their consorts, which were evidently disposed to retire. Shortly afterwards the Ting-yuen caught fire, and the flying squadron, coming up with the fugitive ships, forced the Lai-yuen out to sea again and sank her. She lost her steering gear and was moreover in flames; and settling down by the stern, she went under amid the shrieks of her crew. It was now 5:30 p.m. The flying squadron had been obliged to desist from the pursuit of the other three fugitives owing to shallow water. The Yoshino, however, went after one of the enemy's torpedo-boats, but was almost immediately signalled to return. The first engagement lasted about one hour. During it, either the Chao-yung or Yang-wei was sunk.

In the second engagement the Flying Squadron and the Principal Squadron separating, ranged themselves on both sides of the enemy, and sank either the Chih-yuen, or Ching-yuen, the Chen-yuen and King-yuen being set on fire. The third engagement began at about 3:50 p.m. and lasted until 5:37 p.m. It was conducted in two parts, the Flying Squadron pursuing a section of the Chinese navy that had fled, and the Principal Squadron fighting with the ironclads and their consorts. At every hit made a shout was raised by the firing side. Once the enemy getting within easy torpedo range of the Hiyei, discharged a torpedo at her, and were so confident of sinking her that they cheered as the torpedo left the tube. But the Hiyei, by a turn of her helm, avoided the danger, and destroyed the torpedo with one of her quick-firing guns as it passed, the Japanese cheering the incident lustily.

A TERRIBLE ORDEAL.

In the Nichi Nichi Shimbun we find some particulars showing through what a terrible ordeal the Matsushima passed in the naval battle on the 17th September. When the order was given, at a few minutes past noon, to clear for action, the gunnery lieutenant mustered 62 gunners at the various batteries. An hour later only 6 remained fit for duty: the rest had all fallen, killed or wounded. The decks were in an appalling state; strewn with limbs and mutilated trunks and covered with blood. Yet the crew fought on undaunted. Presently a shell from one of the Chen-yuen's 37-ton guns struck the second barrette gun on the starboard side, and bursting carried death and destruction to every one and everything in the vicinity. All the forward cabins on that side were wrecked, a huge hole was rent in the deck, numbers of men were killed, among them the gunnery lieutenant, whose body seems to have been completely swept to sea, since nothing was found of him but his cap and telescope. Another shell of the same calibre set the ship on fire, and though the conflagration was soon extinguished, several men were burned, some fatally. The ship remained at her place throughout, despite this terrible handling.
