A WONDERFUL LECISLATURE.

We never have been hampered with a subservient veneration for Hawaiian politicians and great men, either the indigenous or the exotic commodity. At times, in moments of thoughtfulness, we have almost mourned over the depravity of our nature, that could contemplate such an array of high-sounding titles, decorations, and brass buttons, without being filled with admiration and reverence. Then again when reading column after column of empty verbosity about advanced Hawaiian civilization, and listening to fluent ebullitions of bunkum concerning the greatness of the nation, the wisdom of its rulers, and the enlightenment of its lawmakers, we have been deeply impressed with a sense of our own unbelief and hardness of heart. During the present session of the Legislature we have often experienced an almost irresistable impulse to ridicule, satirise, and pasquinade its remarkable proceedings, but by almost superhuman efforts have succeeded in keeping these depraved propensities within due bounds, and have thus managed, on the whole, to treat, what in reality we regard as a ridiculous farce and a burlesque

Talk about "injuring us abroad !" What can injure the country more abroad, or at home, than the rampant prodigality of the House. This will keep capital out of the country, as well as lock up and drive away what is here. The inevitable result of the doings at Aliiolani Hale will be to weaken the circulation of the metallic medium which begets and perpetuates commercial life and agricultural activity, and greater stagnation and deeper depression must follow. Are our legislators so blind as not to see and so stupid as not to understand this? Are they so short-sighted as not to perceive that they themselves must also suffer these consequences of their acts? We know little or nothing about the assessment roll, or by what criterion assessors in this country estimate values; but we do know, or strongly suspect, that property in and around Honolulu has been, and is, valued at a higher figure than it will realize in the open market. A man may take a fancy to a certain piece of property, and be willing to give a fancy price, that nobody else in or out of the community would dream of giving.

114TH DAY.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 29th. House met at 9:30. Prayer by the Chaplain. A quorum was obtained at 10:4. Present: Ministers Gibson, Creighton, Kanoa; Nobles Bishop, Cleghorn, Bush, Walker (President); Reps. Hayselden, Keau. Lillikalani, Baker, Kauhi, Amara, Brown, Kaulia, Kaulukou, Pahia, Kaunamano, Wight, Nahale, Nahinu, Kalua, Aholo, Kaukau, Dickey, Kaai, Paehaole and Palohau. Minutes read and approved. Rep Kaunamano presented a report of the Sanitary Committee on sundry petitions relating to the licensing of opium. The petitions were signed by 21 foreign and a number of Chinese residents. The committee find that a large quantity of opium is smuggled into the country and that the traffic is a very profitable one, and the committee have information that many of the people who signed the petitions were themselves engaged in selling and smuggling opium, and the committee think it would be foolish to grant the prayer of these petitions, as a license law large part of the revenue now de-relating to withdrawal of alcohol from the custom house, has passed Carried.

Rep. Abolo moved the bill relating to taxes, introduced by the member for Lihue, be placed on the order of the day next the bills on lin, on Punchbowl street, on third reading to-morrow.

Rep. Kaulukou asked if the other members of the committee on the bill for the additional judges were ready to report.

Rep. Brown said the report signed by himself and another member of the committee was ready.

Rep. Hayselden said there seemed to be a disposition to dodge this

Rep. Kaulukou moved the committee report now. Rep. Brown said the motion was out of order, that this could only be passed by resolution. Rep. Dole thought the matter could not be brought up without suspension of the rules. Rep. Hayselden presented a resolution on the subject.

Rep. Kaulukou moved the order of the day. Carried.

Continuation of the third reading of the Appropriation Bill.

Rep. Aholo moved the report of committee on petitions of volunteer companies be read. Carried. Rep. Kaulukou moved to amend the item, aid to Military Companies $26,254.34, in accordance with the accommodation of the committee, by inserting aid to military and for the purchase of arms and accoutrements. $46.254.34.

Rep. Dole wanted to know what was the matter with the guns the companies have now, would they not fire, or would'nt they fire straight? He suspected the trouble was with the men and not with the guns. The guns were of modern pattern, and no doubt, if aimed right, they would fire right. It was absurd to have civilians here who knew nothing about military matters, recommending guns, etc., because somebody told them to do so. The troops may be good enough to cope with Chinamen at the Immigration Depot or to put down a riot, but a dozen men who could march straight and handle weapons would rout the whole force. He approved a well drilled body of troops, and if a good drill master were placed over the troops to instruct them properly and enforce discipline, there might be some use in it. Rep. Thurston thought there was a chance for the Ministers of economy and reform to show themselves. The Ministers were somewhat like the man who went over Niagara Falls in a barrel.

Minister Gibson did not know what authority the member for Molokai had for referring to the present Ministry as a Ministry of reform and economy. The former Ministry had recommended certain reductions in the Appropriation Bill, but the new Ministers had not subscribed to any particular measure of reform or to any set of prinwould give to the Government a ciples. For his own part, he did not feel in such an economical spirit as when the revised estimates were submitted. His views on economy had been somewhat modified by the votes of the Assembly. These votes seemed to indicate confidence in the sources of revenue and in the methods of administration. He would be glad if many items had been for less amounts. When the estimates were prepared, it was thought that $26,000 was sufficient for the military companies; but now, a committee of the house had decided that the companies required more arms and accoutrements, and the report of the committee was entitled to consideration. He had seen military reviews in Paris, Manchester and other places, and he had witnessed the evolutions and drill of the military companies here, and the efficiency of the latter was highly creditable. He believed if an emergency should arise, in which their services would be required, that under competent leadership, they would give a good account of themselves, and if proper weapons were placed in their hands, they would know how to use them. Noble Kaae said there were not enough guns for all the men and many of the guns are considerably worn. It was therefore deemed advisable to procure new guns all round. Rep. Dickey referred to Minister Gibson remarks about the position of the Ministry on the question of economy. The present Ministers were appointed after a strong recommendation had been sent to the house by His Majesty urging economy.

He fined the prisoners in sums varying from $25 to $20 each and sentenced them to terms of imprisonment from ten to twenty days. It is gratifying to know that our city Police Justice takes a right view of this Chinese question, and that his strict measures and severe sentences, will tend to crush and stamp out the bad Chinese element INFLATED VALUE. The Gazette says "Property is really worth no more than it can fetch of representative government, as being in fact what it is in name-a body of intelligent representative gentlemen, seriously, patriotically, and conscientiously engaged in legislating for the good of the country and its people. But the proceedings of the last two or three days past are too much for us-more than we can endure. We must open the safety-value, or we shall explode.

Really, men who can conduct themselves as the majority of the Assembly have been doing, are not deserving of much respect or confidence. Led by an inflated windbag, they run riot among the people's taxes, and scatter the revenues of the country around like dust. With a great blast of trumpets, or blowing of rams' horns, economy was emblazoned on every escutcheon as the watchword and motto, at an early stage in the session. Now, preparatory to the close, with a general stagnation of business and a thick pall of depression hanging over the land, the reductions made in the second reading of the Appropriation Bill are ignored in the final revision, and new items are added for frivolous objects.

What man of common sense can read the outline of proceedings, as recorded in the daily papers, for the past few days, and contrast therewith the professions and pretensions of a few weeks ago, and help feeling unmitigated contempt for men who can be guilty of such glaring inconsistency? A long and tedious session has resulted in little else than an exhibition of incompetence, selfishness, corruption, and a condition of human nature so depraved that an appreciation of justice, truth, and honor has become dormant or extinct.

How can we expect the country to be prosperous, or the people contented and happy, with such a parliament and such mismanagement of the public interests? Can there be prosperity and contentment without confidence? And can there be confidence when the legislative and revenue appropriating functions are in the hands of such a reckless and arrogant body of men?

Please state the number of horses used by the Mounted Police at the time they were disbanded, the number of such horses which have been disposed of for the benefit of the Hawalian Government, and the amount of money realized from such sales, and also the amount of money realized from the sale of the said accountrements or any part thereof.

Minister Gibson said the question should be addressed to the Attorney-General's Department.

The painting by Murillo, "Ninos de la Concha," will be on exhibition at King Bros. this evening, and will be left there for a few days. The painting was copied from the original, at Madrid, and is pronounced by connoisseurs to be a very fine copy. It came by the Amana, and is the property of one of the citizens.

THE CAPTAIN AND THE COLONEL.

Captain Jenks says that during the voyage in the Elsinore, from Honolulu to Newcastle, Australia, and return, he caught only one fish, and that was a shark. The monster was hauled on deck and killed, and then thrown overboard again. The Captain says that if Col. Norris had been on board "we would have had a stew." The Colonel retaliates by declaring that he knows only one way of getting even with the Captain, and that is by sailing with him, or, in other words, paying for two weeks' board and getting 60 days.

RETURN OF THE S. S. Waialeale

She Brings Good Tidings!

At an early hour this morning, a steamer's whistle was heard throughout the town. It proved to be the S. S. Waialeale on her return from her expedition to Ocean Island. On landing, the whole party was received with a hearty welcome. On the news being imparted that Captain Martin and the 22 men who were with him, had been rescued and taken on to Valparaiso, there was a general feeling of relief to all dead infant. A canoe at length concerned. Captain Hall, who ladies and the Indians took the commanded the expedition reports having light trade winds and fine weather all the way down, arriving off the Island on the 20th inst., at 10 A. M. Anchored within a cable's length of the stranded vessel. One boat was sent ashore and one boat to the ship.

A Woman's Sufferings and Gratitude.

A Voice from Austria.

Near the village of Zillingdorf, in Lower Austria, lives Maria Haas, an in-telligent and industrious woman, who e story of physical suffering and final re story of physical sintering and main re-lief, as related by herself, is of interest to English women. "I was employed," she says, "in the work of a large farm-house. I was compelled to take to my bed for several weeks. Getting a little

bed for several weeks. Getting a little better from rest and quiet, I sought to do some work, but was soon taken with a pain in my side, which in a little while seemed to spread over my whole body, and throbbed in my every limb. This was followed by a cough and shortness of breath, until finally I could not sew, and I took to my bed for the second, and, as I thought, for the last time. My friends told e that my time had rearly come, and that I could not live longer than when the trees put on their green nce more. Then I happentheir green nee more. Then I happen-ed to get one of the Seigel pamphlets. I read it, and my dear mother bought me a bottle of Seigel's Syrup, which I took exactly according to directions, and I had not taken the whole of it be-fore I fold a most show for the bottle and I had not taken the whole of it be-fore I felt a great change for the better. My last illness began June ', 1882, and continued to August 9th, when I began to take the Syrup. Very soon I could do a little light work. The cough left me, and I was no more troubled in b eathing. Now I am perfectly cured. And oh, how happy I am ! I cannot ex-press gratitude enough for Seigel's Syrup. Now I must tell you that the doctors in our district distributed hand-bills cautioning neople against the bills cautioning people against the medicine, telling them it would do them medicine, tering them it would do them no good, and many were thereby influ-enced to destroy the Seigel pamphlets; but now, wherever one is to be found, it is kept like a relic. The few pre-erved are borrowed to read, and I have lent mine for six miles around our district. mine for six miles around our district. People have come eighteen miles to get me to buy the medicine for them, know, ing that it cured me, and to be sure to get the right kind. I know a woman who was looking like death, and who told them there was no help for her, that she had consulted several doctors, but none could help her. I told her of Seigel's Syrap, and wrote the name down for her that she might make no mistake. She took my advice and the Syrap, and now she is in perfect health, and the people around us are amazed. The medicine has made such progress in our neighbothood that people say they don't want the doctor any more, in our neighborhood that people say they don't want the doctor any more, but they take the Syr. p. Sufferers from gout who were confined to their bed and could hardly move a finger, have been cured by it. There is a girl in our dis-trict who caught a cold by going through some water, and was in bed five veges, with constructes, and the unatic years with costiveness and rheumatic years with costiveness and rheumatic pains, and had to have an attendant to watch by her. There was not a doctor in the syrrounding districts to whom her mother had not applied to relieve her child, but every one crossed them-selves and said they could not help her. Whenever the little bell rang which is rung in our place when somehody is rung in our place when somebody is dead, we thought surely it was for her, but Seigel's Syrup and Pills saved her life, and now she is as healthy as anybody, goes to church, and can work even in the fields. Everybody was aseven in the fields. Everybody was as-tonished when they saw her out, know-ing how many years she had been in bed. To day she adds her gratitude to mine for God's mercies and Seigel's Syrup. MARIA HAAS." The people of England speak confirm-ing the above.

TOUCHING SCENES AT CHARLESTON.

One of the very touching incidents of the earthquake shocks in Charleston, S. C., on last Tuesday night is thus told: Charleston has a large Catholic population. After the first and severe shock they rushed for their churches, where the blessed sacrament is always kept, before which is a perpetual light, and the priest relates that as soon as he felt the shocks he rushed for the yard. In the streets were gathered thousands of Catholics who wanted to enter the church. He closed and locked the high iron gates, keeping the crowd from entering the church, which he feared might fall at any moment. Then he opened the church, that the multitude might look upon the tabernacle where rests the Holy Ghost. Instantly all fell on their knees and began praying. Donning his cassock he went out gather in even greater numbers, who, falling on their knees before him, made their confessions, he giving absolution to each as he passed among them, hearing as many individual confessions as possible. The priest tells me that nearly, if not all, of the other priests of the city did as he had done.-Troy

The Daily & illetin. WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 29, 1886.

THE NEW HEBRIDES DUESTION.

One good result likely to flow from the unexpected change in the political situation of Europe, is that France will feel more disposed to come to some amicable arrangement with Britain respecting the New Hebrides question, and matters connected therewith. So long as she kept angling for an alliance with Russia, and perceived the prospect of Britain being embroiled in a Russian war, her rulers were evidently prepared to take full advantage of their position, and do their utmost to exact from Britain a concession obnoxious to colonial sentiment. But by this time France must have discovered that in trusting the Muscovite she was leaning on a very unreliable support, and will now be desirous of re-establishing cordial relations with Britain. For sake of Germany's connivance at her open disregard of the Berlin Treaty, and her aggressive designs upon the Balkan Peninsula, Russia has manifestly sold France; and the idea of an alliance of the Western nations to counteract one existing among the Eastern nations of Europe, is therefore once more to the front. This will account for the announcement made the other night in the House of Commons by Mr. Stanhope that he had strong hopes of a settlement of the New Hebrides question favorable to the colonies being arrived at with France at an early date. It is only a few days ago that the Premier of France was quite supercilious over this question, and seemed determined to irritate the colonies by curtly intimating that the sending of crimi-nals to the Pacific would be conti-accepted. This has the effect of making the colonies think of retalative measures such as France could not afford to disregard; and events have since happened to make her reconsider her position. The open advocacy in Bismarck's organ of the expediency of allowing Russia to intervene in Bulgaria, and advance on Constantinople, has opened the eves of France to the truth that she cannot trust Russia, and cannot afford to quarrel with Britain or her colonies. Hence, as our cable informs us, the Secretary of State for the Colonies had stated that the British Government are pressing the French Ministry to abstain from deporting criminals to the Pacific. This is an unmistakable indication of a change having come over the spirit of the French rulers, and that the negotiations between the two Governments have assumed a friendly tone. We may therefore expect before long to hear that the dispute over the New Hebrides has been amicably settled, and that, in respect of the Balkan question, France has resolved henceforth to act in concert with Britain .- [Auckland

RAPHAEL IN LECEND. There is a pretty legend connected with the composition of the Sistine Madonna. Raphael, so the story goes, was one time painting an alta-piece, which was, for the nonce, veiled from the curious gaze by green curtains while the paint was in process of drying. The artist, weary with his work, had fallen asleep before the closed hangings, but though his body slumbered, his wondrous mind still wandered through the realms of fancy, and as he lay in sleep he saw the curtains open, and standing between them, surrounded by myriads of cherubim, glorious vision of the Madonna and Child. For a moment only the apparition lasted, and then the painter awoke to find the curtains closed before the alta-piece. Next day he received an order to paint a Madonna and Child for the Sistine Chapel, introducing Pope St. Sixtus. Raphael still haunted hy the remembrance of his dream, resolved to paint what he had seen. He sketched the Madonna surrounded by angel heads, with the green curtains drawn back on both sides. St. Sixtus knelt down in adoration, his tiara resting on the alta ledge. St. Barbara occupied the other side of the painting. The picture was complete, the vision was there, and the requirements of the order fulfilled. Still something was wanting. The bare ledge troubled the artist's eye, till one day, going to his studio, he saw two boys leaning on the side, looking intently at his work. He seized the happy moment and fixed them on his canvass as the adoring cherubim.-[German letter in Albany Journal.

Weekly News. HOW STEVENS' BICYCLE RIDE WAS IN-TERRUPTED.

Calcutta, Aug. 8 .- Mr. Stevens, an American gentleman who is attempting to travel around the world on a bicycle, has arrived in India, and has published an interesting account of his adventures in Afghanistan. Finding that the Russians would not allow him to carry out his original plan of proceeding by Merv to the Oxus, he applied to Sir West Ridgeway for permission to join the camp of the Boundary Commission, with a view of finding his way thence to India. Sir West Ridgeway replied that the plan was impracticable. Thereupon Mr. Stevens went from Meshed southward to Birjan, where he succeeded in crossing the Afghan frontier and reaching Farrah. Thence he hoped to go to Quetta by way of Candahar, but the Governor detained him and eventually sent him to Herat. He was kept some days outside Herat and was then sent under escort to the Persian frontier. The attempt to ride across Afghanistan was thus baffled. Mr. Stevens proposes to wheel himself to Lahore and to Calcutta and then go by sea to Canton, to ride to Northern China on his bicycle, and finally to take ship for Japan and America.-London Times.

Having a little curiosity to know how such stories grow in travelling, I took the liberty while at the village of Llanthe liberty while at the village of Llan-rystyd to call upon the Vicar, the Rev. T. Evans, and to enquire about this wonderful cure. Though a total stran-ger to him, both he and his wife most graciously entertained me in a half hour's conversation, principally touching the case of Mr. Pugh, in which they seemed to take a deep and sympathetic interest, having been familiar with his sufferings, and now rejoiced in what seemed to them a most remarkable cure. The Vicar remarked that he presumed The Vicar remarked that he presumed his name had been connected with the report from his having mentioned the case to Mr. John Thomas, a chemist of case to Mr. John Thomas, a chemist of Llanon. He said Mr. Pugh was former-ly a resident of their parish, but was now living in the parish of Llanddeinol. He strongly vouched Mr. Wm. Pugh's character as a respectable farmer and worthy of credit. I left the venerable Vicar with a liveiter sense of the happy relation of a master such people feedbar relation of a pastor and people, feeling that he was one who truly sympathised with all who are afflicted in mind, body. or estate. On my return to Aberystwith, I was impressed with a desire to see Mr. Purh, whose reputation stood so high. His farm is called Pancom-Mawr, signifying "above the dingle," situated near the summit of a smooth round hill, over-looking a beautiful valley in which is situated the lovely ivymantled Church of Llanddeinol. I found Mr. Pugh, apparently about 40 years old, of medium height, rather slight, with a pleasant and intelligent face. I told him I had heard of his great affliction and of his remark, able and almost miraculous relief and On my return to Aberystwith, I was able and almost miraculous relief, and that I had come to learn from his own lips, what there was of truth in the re-Mr. Pugh remarked that his neighbors had taken a kindly and symp-athetic interest in his case for many years, but of late their interest had been greatly awakened by a happy change in his condition. What you report as hav, ing heard abroad, said he, is substant. ing heard abroad, said he, is substant-ially true, with one exception. I never understood that my case was ever given up as hopeless by any Physician. I have been treated by several Doctors hereabouts, as good as any in Wales, but unfortunately no prescription of theirs ever brought the desired relief. Fifteen years ago, he said, I first be-came conscious of a sour and deranged came conscious of a sour and deranged stomach and loss of appetite, which the Doctors told me was Dyspepsia. What food I could hold in my stomach seem. ed to do me no good and was often thrown up with painful retchings. This was followed after a time with a hoarsc-mass and a raw commers of the threat was followed after a time with a hoarse-ness and a raw soreness of the throat which the Doctors called bronchitis, and I was treated for that, but with little success. Then came shortness of breath and a sense of sufficient, espe-cielly rights with classified and the sense. cially nights, with clammy sweat, and I would have to get out of bed and some-times open a door or window in winter weather to fill my lungs with the cold
