The arrest was ordered by the Attorney Democratic party itself. One of the General by wireless telegraph, and word was received yesterday that Mr. Baldwin was under arrest. The hearing will be in the magistrate's court and he will probably be bound over to answer to the next grand jury of the Fourth Circuit.

Right of purchase leases form the basis of agent Baldwin's trouble. During his regime government lands were opened for homesteading and applicants were given the privilege of occupying lands, paying thereon $500. They were to make certain improvements on the property, and at the expiration of three years were to come; before the subagent to prove their right to the title of the land. They were asked certain questions as to whether they had complied with the requirements by which they secured the lands, the answers being recorded under oath, and they then deposited money with the sub-agent, taking his personal receipt therefor. Under the mode of procedure the subagent should have sent the ranger to make an investigation in each case to ascertain whether the new had been complied with. If his investigation was favorable, the sub-agent was to have approved the claim, sent the matter on to Honolulu and in due time the Land Commissioner should have sent back a patent to the land.

This is the portion of the procedure which it is alleged that Baldwin falled surprise if Mr. L. A. Coolidge, of this to do. After the applicants had proved city, secures the honor. He is a barrel. Cortelyou May Manage Roosevelt's Campaign. Parker Still the Leading Democratic Candidate-Southern Delegates Uninstructed. A Stirring Campaign Expected.

(Mail Special to the Advertiser.) WASHINGTON, D. C., May 28 .-Democratic politics are now uppermost in the consideration of Washington residents. The Chicago convention, from the Washington standpoint, is chiefly a matter of waiting three weeks. All has been done here in the way of preparation that can be done. President Roosevelt has come to a conclusion with his customary promptness on all the matters required of him in connection with the con-The chief of these was the selection of a chairman of the National Committee. His friends who go to the Chicago convention will carry the word that it is his desire for Secretary Cortelyou to be elected. The vice chairman is yet to be settled upon, but it may be that the President will defer somewhat in that to the nominee for the vice presidency on the ticket with him. It is known that Senator Fairbanks, if nominated, intends to claim that privilege, as it is his desire to have ex-Representative Henry, of Andersonville and Indianapolis named. The President has had several names for the vice chairman-

The question of Secretary to the committee will also be taken up before long, so that the President's wishes may be made known to the new National Committee. Two, or three men have been discussed but it will be no Harvard graduate, has long been a correspondent here for New England newspapers, and is familiar with polltical affairs. One of his closest friends is Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts. Mr. Elmer Dover, long assistant secretary of the committee and now the secretary since Senator Hanna died is by no means certain that he could accept the place if it were offered him, because of a lucrative business offer in Cleveland, which he may feel that it is necessary for him to accept.

The chairman of the National Committee receives no salary, but as Secretary Cortelyou is a poor man and has little means of his own, it is taken for granted here that some compensation will be arranged for him. It is safe to say that this compensation will equal the rate of $8,000 a year, which is his pay as a cabinet officer and that he will also be recompensed for his expenses in travelling from place to place during the campaign. It is not expected that Mr. Cortelyou will have a very active part in the raising of funds for the campaign. That will be left to the executive committee, of whom two of the leading members will undoubtedly be ex-Secretary of the Interior Cornelius N. It is still a question here whether the President will at once announce a new member of his cabinet to succeed Secretary Cortelyou or whether he will allow the assistant secretary to act in the interim. The probabiliTHE DEMOCRATIC OUTLOOK.

A very careful watch is being kept on the trend of the Democratic conventions over the country to ascertain who will be the probable nominee Only about one-half of the Democratic conventions have been held to date and the opposition to Judge Parker seem to think his nomination by no means as certain as it seemed to be three weeks ago. The element of doubt rests largely in the refusal of many States to instruct their delegates for him but it should be remembered at the same time that it has not been the practice of most of the Southern States to instruct their delegates to conventions. The Southern Democrats are inclined to be conservative in party practices and they do not like to set new precedents that may rise up hereafter to trouble them. The same opinion is entertained by Republicans in many States.

Careful observers still think that the nomination of Parker is all but certain, in spite of the opposition talk. Democratic conventions will be held in considerable number during June and there is just enough of an element of doubt in the situation to give intense interest to the developments. If there were any other man who could be as available and as acceptable to the two wings of the party as Judge Parker and at the same time as acceptable to New York, he might beat the Judge from Esopus. But no one has yet been able to find that man.

The veteran politicians who come here from all parts of the country in their private conversations say that it is almost to a certainty going to be a fearful campaign. The Democrats are still a little troubled about the factional quarrel in New York but great pressure will be brought to bear for the leaders in that quarrel to settle up and call it square for a while till the election is over. In Illinois there is also a bitter factional fight among the Democrats but it is known that the probabilities are that the olive branch will be accepted by all concerned before the campaign is on in full force. Of course, if the New York Democrats insist on fighting to the last ditch the party all over the country will have to give up in despair, for unless there is united effort in New York the Democrats haven't even a forlorn hope to lead this year. If they lose New York, as good observers here expect they will, there is not a ghost of a show of their beating

The Democrats have already begun their Congressional campaign by selecting headquarters here and beginning to organize. They have shunned engaging any of the old Congressional headquarters of the last ten years from which unsuccessful campaigns have been conducted. Instead of that they have rented headquarters in the Riggs House, which has windows overlooking the Treasury and within sight of the White House. Considerable talk is heard now and then albut Democrats carrying the next House President Roosevelt should be elected. That is a possibility but not probable. For over forty years the House of Representatives has, with one exception, gone with the party that won the Presidency in Presidential years. The exception was in 1876 when Mr. Hayes was made President. All things considered the House is even more certain to remain Republican than the Presidency and thus it will be seen the cer-

Hawaiian Singers Will It Is Capable of Housing Have Their Voices Trained.

Honolulu is shortly to lose two of its well known musicians in John Ellis and William Ellis, who leave in July on the steamship Mongolia for San Francisco en route to Paris.

Both the Ellis boys have decided upon a distinctly musical career and to this end expect to spend the next four years in hard study at the Parisian capital. John Ellis has been receiving premier instruction here in recent months from Gerard Barton, organist and composer, with a view to ultimately going abroad for the final cultivation of his voice, John Eliis, known as the Hawaiian tenor, has a remarkably clear, strong and sympathetic voice, one which is believed to be a valuable asset if properly trained. He has had long experience before the public, and his recent appearance at the Opera House with Madame Slapoffsky in a duet from Il Trovatore showed that he was endowed with a voice peculiarly gifted for operatic work. William Ellis, equally well known in the local musical field, has not the voice possessed by his brother, but it is one which will show great improvement with instruction. Mrs. John Ellis and child will accompany the young men, Mrs. William Ellis remaining in San Francisco for some time.

KIDNAPPER IS

The Examiner of May 29 follows up the story of the kidnapping of a Hawallan girl by additional details of the history of the abductor.

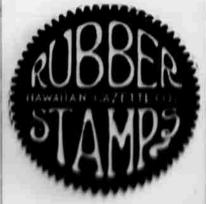

From murder to kidnapping is the scope of a criminal record possessed by Illinois Wise, the Jamaica negro who induced a fourteen-year-old Kanaka girl to leave her island home under pretense of adoption. In this case the intended victim escaped, for the girl obtained protection from the captain of the vessel on which Wise was employed as cook, and on arrival in the city was befriended by Mrs. Haynes of 915 Powell street, to whose house Wise had the girl conveyed upon the mention that she was his wife. Last Friday Judge Murasky delivered the girl from the negro's clutches by placing her in keeping of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

But there is another and higher case against Illinois Wise in which the victim did not escape. It dates from the GUESTS OF THE summer of 1892, when Wise was cook aboard the bark W. H. Dimond. the vessel lay in the harbor of Honolulu a Chinese who had secured pas sage to San Francisco was murdered for what money he possessed, and his body thrown into the bay. Suspicion fell upon Wise and he was accused of the murder. He was placed in irons, and upon the vessel's arrival here was handed over to the authorities. The Hawaijan Government forwarded ex tradition papers and employed Lindley & Eickhoff, the attorneys, to secure the negro's transportation back to the is lands for trial.

Wise employed Carroll Cook, now a Superior Judge, to defend him. The upshot of the affair was that as there seemed to be a conflict of jurisdiction and as the murder took place on board an American vessel, the United States Attorney here had the negro indicted for murder by the Federal Grand Jury. An effort was made to show that Wis was not amenable to the laws of the United States, but this falled.

Upon his indictment Wise offered to plead guilty to manslaughter. The plea was accepted, and on December 19, 1892, United States Judge McKenna sentence ed the negro to the full penalty of the law-ten years' imprisonment in Folsom. Wise served his sentence. Now he bobs up again as the kidnapper of a himself to the girl's mother as a man of wealth and position, and secured her consent to his adopting the girl and bringing her up as his heiress. His purpose was not laid bare until he had taken the girl aboard his vessel, where, as has been stated, she sought and obtained protection.

The circumstances of the murder of the Chinese and its consequence is recalled to mind by Attorney Henry Eichkoff, who related the story yester-

Two Hundred Convicts.

Work on the new prison at Iwilei is proceding at a rapid pace and the first and second stories of a very businesslike appearing jail are well under way. The new prison building will house about two hundred prisoners, is built entirely of brick, cement, and metal, and is located about eighty feet Ewa of the present prison walls.

The cells are arranged in rows on each side of the building which is 117 feet long, a large hallway being built in the center of the building and a corridor running from this to each end. On each side of these corridors the ninety-six cells of the prison arearranged. The walls of each cell are fourteen inches thick and the steel doors are anchored into the walls of the cell. So strong is the precaution taken to make the cells secure that it would be a very difficult matter for one to break out of one of them. At each end of the corridors are openings, barred with heavy iron and these permit the air to circulate freely through the entire building. Iron gates fence off the corridors from the hallways of the prison. The building is to be three stories high. The roof will be of gravel. They were marched back into the walled yard before daylight and it was in this dark march that Sanchez managed to slip out of sight and make his escape. NEW RANGE HISTORICAL FOR LOCHS

Government Dredger is Cotton Bros. & Co. File Reported to Be Breaking Up.

New ranges have been placed at Pearl Harbor by order of the Lighthouse Board and entrance to the lochs may now be easily picked up by all masters of vessels who wish to make an entrance. While the new marks place the range of the dredged channel exactly and are therefore valuable aids to navigation, the navigators themselves are not at present forthcoming the only people who pass in and out of Pearl Harbor channel being the yachtsmen who know the way in the dark and whose craft do not draw sufficient water to compel them to keep to the channel, the rice sloop from Alea, the cordwood schooners Ada and Rob Roy whose skippers still use the old land mark ranges of the Dowsett windmill and the point where Waianae range dips into the plain, and the Japanese sampans whose draught enables them to get in easily as long as they avoid the reef breakers.

The new range however, will be used occasionally by the government tugs and such vessels as may ultimately make use of the lochs and show that the government still takes some interest in the development of the harbor. The old fairway buoy which drifted away has been brought to Honolulu but has not been taken back and its presence is now unnecessary with the new ranges. The entrance proper to the channel is marked with spar buoys, red for starboard and black for port guidance.

The ranges as planned by Lieutenant Slattery and placed by Lieut. Niblack are easily picked up and consist of a diamond shaped target with two small finders one on each side and set well back of this and plainly visible against the green back ground, what is technically termed a windmill, consisting of two cross pieces fashioned like a St. Andrew's cross. When this windmill is completely obliterated or covered the forward diamond the fair way to the harbor is clear and further pro gress plain by the ald of the piles put down by Captain Rodman which mark the reefs of the channel and inner

Last Sunday the naval launch and Conradt's power boat with the yachts La Paloma, Spray, Hawaii and Gladys discovered that a portion of the old government dredger which was sunk remained on the edge of the reef had become detached and was floating in mid channel a menace to incoming or outgoing craft. The body of the dredger was still visible lying in its usual position but this free portion, about a foot below the water apparently, was drifting round aimlessly, constituting a danger to yachts keeping the channel. It has probably drifted to sea or washed up on the reef by this time but it indicates that the body of the dredger is breaking up gradual ly under the stress of wind and tide

Solomon Keapuni, a Reform School lad, was committed for trial to the Federal Court by Commissioner A. F. When his identification as the holder of the order was demanded at the pay window. Keapuni was identified as himself by a letter carrier who knew him. He had taken delivery of four letters out of the postoffice, one of which contained the prize package that may give him penitentlary instead of re-

Agnes C. Galt vs. Lulia Waianuka, ejectment, developed some interesting points before Judge Gear yesterday. S. M. Ballou represented the plaintiff, and D. L. Withington and W. L. Whitney for the defendant. One question seemed to be upon adverse possession in relation to crown lands. Mr. Ballou went largely into history. One of his observations was that, little by a process was accomplished in little. the Hawaiian Islands between 1848 and 1865, which had taken a thousand years to accomplish in England. This was the segregation of the crown lands from the private estate of the sovereign. Owing to the incumbrances that Kamehameha IV. left upon the crown lands, the Legislature in 1864 passed a measure for the relief of the sovereign, which Kamehameha V. approved. Besides providing for payment of the late king's mortgage debts; this law made the crown lands forever inalien-

Mr. Ballou replied that the grant to Spreckels was by Princess Ruth and being attacked the Legislature had to pass a special law to ratify but a portion of the grant, the ahupuan of Wailuku, to Spreckels as a compromise.

J. S. Low Brings Suit to Remove Alf. W. Carter as Guardian of Annie T. K. Parker. Makes Strong Charges.

(From Thursday's Advertiser.) Proceedings were entered in the Circuit Court yesterday to have Alfred W. Carter removed from the office of guardian of Annie Thelma K. Parker, a minor. J. S. Low, as next friend of the minor, makes the motion in probate, Backing it with an affidavit. Judge Gear signs an order appointing J. S. Low as guardian ad litem of the minor in all the matters of the motion, and setting the motion for hearing before him at chambers on June 28. It is also ordered that the papers be served upon A. W. Carter, upon the minor and upon Elizabeth Jane Knight, mother of the Annie T. K. Parker is the daughter of daughter of Samuel Parker, and she owns a half interest in the Parker Ranch. As previously reported, Eben P. Low went to Hawaii in the steamer Kinau on Tuesday, under instructions from Samuel Parker, owner of the other half interest, to take over the manage ment of the Parker Ranch. A wireless message was received from the place yesterday morning stating that F. W. Carter, the manager in possession, refused to surrender the management to Low. Alfred W. Carter is on the ground and said to be advising his brother to make resistance.

J. S. Low, in the suit entered, moves that A. W. Carter "be removed as such guardian on the ground that he is an unsuitable person to act as such guardian, in that he is charging the estate of said minor with unreasonable and extortionate commissions." Further. "that he is mismanaging the estate of said minor, and refuses to consent to a sale of certain of the real estate of said minor, when it is for the benefit of the said minor that the same should be sold."

Mr. Low's affidavit opens with a statement that his mother is the first cousin of Samuel Parker, grandfather of the minor, over whose property A. W. Carter was appointed guardian on September 25, 1899. John P. Parker, father of the minor, and the deponent were reared together in the home of John P. Parker the elder. They "grew from childhood to manhood together, and were as fond of each other as though they were brothers." By reason of such relations deponent "has always taken a great interest in the affairs of said minors." A. W. Carter during all the time has had his home in Honolulu, has been several times absent from the Hawaiian Islands and for several years has had his brother, F. W. Carter, in the actual management of the ranch un-der a salary. Said P. W. Mr. Low goes on to state that the condition being unreasonable and beyond the power of Paauhau Plantation Co., to comply with, the sale of the land was not consummated. The price Carter agreed to accept was a very high price, for the reason that as good or better land in or near the same locality in small lots sells for $40 and less per acre.

Finally, the affidavit says:

"That deponent alleges that said A W. Carter has disregarded the best interests of said minor, and that said minor is being subjected annually to great loss by reason of the mismanagement of her estate in consquence of the acts of said A. W. Carter."

THE PRESIDENTIAL ASPIRANTS.

The Democrats, by naming Mr. Hearst for President, would play the Republican game; for with Hearst as carry every northern and western ganization, system, co-operated in-State and break in, as McKinley did, dustries, vast combinations, are the to the phalaux of the South. So Mr. Hearst is the Republican choice for the Democratic nomination, but one which has small chance of being realized. The likelihood is that Mr. Roosevelt will have to face, in Judge Parker, a man whose character appeals to the ments in human advancement. Then, same class of people to whom he looks for financial and independent support. In all presidential speculations one if they touched a counter or a ledger, must not forget the decisive strength and even merchant princes and the of the business interests. The balance of power in all our great elections has been held by the men who command the from what were deemed to be the trade and commerce of the country and higher social circles. Now these tahold its purse strings. These men, or "interests" are not strongly partisan. They defeated Blaine and elected Cleveland in 1884 because they thought the latter was least likely to disturb trade by a fantastic essay in foreign adventure. Four years later they defeated Cleveland because of his free trade message and chose Benjamin Harrison instead. "Icy Ben's" administration did not wholly please and so Cleveland was tried again. The Republicans, seeing the need of a servative ideas which business men approve, next tried McKinley and elected him twice over, defeating a man who rallied the same support which Hearst is now seeking and was. in himself, a vastly abler publicist and a more magnetic leader, Today the business interests are opposed to Hearst, but as between Roosevelt and Parker they are impartial. Either will do. Perhaps there is still an undercurrent of business doubt about Roosevelt but it is growing weaker because of the conservative course which the President has chosen to take and the failure of all attempts to enlist him in a jingo policy. But it cannot be denied that, if Parker is nominated, the Republican campaign fund will not have a mono-poly of business men's subscriptions. The sinews of war will be divided and the result will be left to the common run of voters according to their party strength.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

The commencement exercises in the various universities and colleges of the United States, which are now commanding public attention, are this year marked by unusual depth of thought, united to practical applications. In California, at both universities, the views expressed of their relationship to common life were broadly educational. David Starr Jordan, of Stanford, delivered an address upon typical college men, which was unmistakably great. He showed the tendency throughout the civilized world, and especially in our own country, to use men of university training, not merely in the schools but, more conspicuously, in every department of business. intense earnestness and in graphic and condensed sentences, he asserted the necessity for the employment of graduates in the various divisions of trade and commerce, and he enforced upon his eager listeners the absolute importance of acquiring experience in definite careers and avoiding premature immersion in the flux of politics.

Professor Jordan's address touched the heaving breast of the times. Ortexts of progress in the twentieth cencomplex and elevated forms, has When trade, finance, agriculture, horticulture, and all other phases of producing industry, were conducted by isolated individuals or copartnerships, academical education was profaned by association with these material elea "gentleman," possessed of inherited opulence, considered his fingers soiled shrewd financiers, who virtually ruled the fate of nations, were excluded booed occupations have risen to the top of the human ladder, and have become identified and interwoven with the destiny of man,

THE ELYSEE OF HOTELS.

The glory of the Waldorf-Astoria is bout to pale. John Jacob Astor, brother of the man who owns what is now the finest hotel in the world, has built in New York a better one, to be called the St. Regis-a hotel which will strike the highest attainable note of luxury. The cost is $5,000,000, enough to reproduce, in its external and internal fittings, one of the most noteworthy royal palaces of the Old World. Indeed there is no palace of Europe equal, in its modern comforts, to the Waldorf-Astoria, to say nothing of the more costly hotel soon to be opened to the American plutocracy. Here are some items in point: The hatel will be eighteen stories high. The silken wall-hangings of the ordinary rooms will cost from $7 to $15 per yard and the chairs $75 apiece. Each door will have a gold-plated number. The average cost of furnishing three rooms and a bath is between $3000 and $4000. This is exclusive of the silk wall-coverings. The State apartments cost to furnish between $50,000 and $60,000. The rent of the State apartments will be $100 per day. The cheapest room in the house will be $5 per day. A cheap room with a bath may be had for $6 per day. Suites of two rooms and a bath range in price from $14 to $25 per day. Suites of three rooms and a bath go to $25 and $50. These are prices for single occupants only. In each room there is a noiseless magnetic clock in a mercury gold frame connected with a governing clock in the basement. Marble and bronze are distinctive of the interior finish of the St. Regis though the finer woods are used in carving and wainscoting. The main entrance doors are of bronze and cost $29,000 each. For every room in the house a special design has been made both in colors to dominate and in the styles of furniture and hangings. A library of 3000 volumes will contribute to the comfort of guests. Every known sanitary appliance is in use in the kitchens and wherever else it may be needed.

Already the rooms in the new palace, which will open soon, are in demand, proving the truth of the late George M. Pullman's dictum that the American people are willing to pay for luxury, no matter what it costs.

THE RUSSIAN CRY OF "YELLOW PERIL."

The political forces in Europe, that favor aristocratic and autocratic government and the policy of keeping the masses illiterate and excluding them from all political power, have been recently raising a great cry about the Yellow Peril." They maintain, that the Japanese have, man for man-especially considering their lack of accumulated wealth to draw on in their hours of exhaustion from war-become one of the foremost military nations of the world; that the Chinese, when trained, have shown military capacity quite equal to that of the Japanese; and that should Japan obtain para- tery. mount influence in China, and develope that country as Japan has been developed in the last quarter of a century, the two nations combined may form a force sufficient to overwhelm the civilized world. And they further argue, that as the Chinese and Japanese are kindred races, as different from the white race in social and economical tastes and customs, as they are in their physical development, there is danger of them endeavoring to overwhelm the civilized world and to become, in future, its dominant and ruling race and caste.

These arguments, superficially, are very plausible; but it is a case of the wolf accusing others of the self-same designs he has himself. The Japanese ling the most educated and progresfaithful war correspondent is extra- fact they have accepted the principles, hazardous and the man is kept up to it that all men are equal before the law; that all men have an equal right to justice; that all men are entitled, at least, to an elementary education; and that all men should have a voice in the government of the nation; and they any one soldier. Wherever the fight have adopted a constitutional government and social and political customs, that make the actual practice of these principles possible and enforceable. Now what quarrel can the advanced nations of the West have with a nation, for wanting to force upon them a form of government and principles both social and political, which it is their beast they enjoy already.

On the other hand, the "Russian Peril," supported by all those political forces that unite with Russia in crying "Yellow Peril," is a very real and present one. Napoleon said, that Europe would become either Repub-lican or Cossack. The governments of the most advanced nations of Europe are Republican in principle and practice, whether they are so in name or From the days of Peter The the Republicans whose wide-open Great, it has been the unswerving aim methods have left all the avenues of and ceaseless policy of Russia, to absorb and Russianize all Europe, and, ultimately, the whole civilized world, And the Russia of today, with its one hundred and forty-one millions of poople and the vigorous sympathy and active support of the monarchs, the aristocracles and the Church in all those civilized nations that have not yet given their masses either universal Sducation or political franchise, is a much greater world force, than was the limits of Peter The Great, or the

The Japanese must capture Port Arthur and Vladivostok to make themselves secure from another Russian fleet or from the vessels of any ally that Russia may obtain. While these two harbors are under the Czar's flag, a naval relief force from the Baltic, the Black Sea or elsewhere, could find, if it succeeded in fighting its way there, a depot of outfit and repair, Once captured by the Japanese, Port Arthur and Vladivostok would serve the Mi-kado's fleet instead and the Russian European squadrons could not afford to go East, for they would, like Noah's first dove, find no place to rest but on the waters. The chances that both fortresses can be taken by a short slege, if not by actual assault, are so good, that all talk about naval re-enforcements for Alexieff may as well be dropped. fleet which makes the enormous journey from the Baltic or the Black Sea to the Orient, must have a port to go to. It cannot hang about at sea, burning coal and waiting for something to turn up. There must be a definite objective, at a dockyard and a coal and provision depot, Another reason why the Japanese must leave nothing undone to secure Port Arthur and Vladivostok is that the Russian Asiatic fleet, though sadly crippled and demoralized, is still "in being;" and that, so long as it exists disasters like that of the Hatsuse are possible. The ships now in Port Arthur and Vladivostok constitute latent threat to the Japanese blocka-ding fleet and lines of communication; but the moment their land protection is gone they will become negligible quantities.

Ten thousand dollars in gold coin will go into circulation from the Treasury at the end of this month, in addition to what may be paid on outstanding warrants. This is to redeem that amount of old five per cent. Hawallan Government bonds. Treasurer Campbell found it was not necessary to advertise the redemption of these particular bonds, as they were all in the hands of a single holder downtown.

Now they took their stand on Judge De Bolt's own decision in the Pang Chong case, where he quashed the indictment on the plea of jurisdiction. Mr. Magoon for defendant in that case presented the plea, quoting from the Civil Laws to show that the district courts have exclusive original jurisdiction in all matters given to them by law. It appears that the Criminal Laws formerly also gave exclusive jurisdiction to the district magistrates of all tion to the district magistrates of all criminal matters wherein it was not necessary that indictments should be found. When necessarily indictable offenses came before them, the district magistrates could go no further than to commit the defendants to a circuit court for trial. UNUSUAL MEMORIAL Hiawatha Pantomine in Memory of Mrs. W. A. Bryan.

At Windom, Minnesota, the former home of the late Mrs. William Alanson Bryan, who died at Kamehameha Schools, February 5, a unique memorial was lately presented at the local Temple by her friends. It was termed m "Hiawatha Memorial," being a presentation of Longfellow's beautiful poem of that name and was given as a token of the appreciation in which the memory of Mrs. Ruth Goss Bryan was held by all who knew her exemplary life and character. The Windom Reporter of May 26 contains the following account of the Memorial

A crowded house greeted the pardicipants of the pantomine, watha, given in memory of Ruth Goss Bryan at the Temple last Monday evening. It was a very pleasing departure from all memorials hitherto held for the dead.

In an introductory reading written by Mrs. Fred Weld, and read by Mrs. Edna Parso, was teld the origination of the idea of reproducing Hiawatha Windom. Mrs. Bryan had seen it in Honolulu and wished to give her friends in Windom the same pleasure she had felt in seeing it there and it was thought fitting to do so on the anniversary of her birth.

SOME TROUBLE AT THE MEETING

A little band of men and women hold interesting religious services at Oahu Prison for the convicts every Sunday. The services have been going on for months and have proved of considerable benefit to the crowd of miserable men confined there. Under a magnificent shade tree the convicts are grouped in neat seats while their visitors speak eloquent sermons, sing, and pray for them but there is one feature of the afternoon services that Warden Henry had to put his foot down on hard. He had to muzzle the "convict preachers."

The missionaries thought it would be nice to permit some of the more intelligent, religiously inclined convicts to also do some speaking on Sundays. Men like George Wade, who is serving life imprisonment and ten years additional for the murder of Gillespie, were among those who joined the preaching fraternity. Wade is a very man. He had some enemies among other prisoners and proceeded to get back at them on Sunday afternoons, If he had a grudge against some man would look up a chapter in the bible which specially fitted this man's case and then would solemnly read it on Sunday afternoon. Perhaps George would also look the guilty party in the face at the same time. Others did the same as Wade and they managed to make life pretty uncomfortable for some of the other convicts. The offended ones promptly made complaint to Mr. Henry and hereafter the service will be conducted entirely by persons who reside outside of the confines of the Jail.

It is said that Wade hopes for a pardon. He is at times quite a sick

STORY OF THE WORK TOLD IN CONVENTION

Home and School Are Discussed at Lihue---Outdoor Festivities for Delegates Provided by Residents.

(By our Special Correspondent.)

LIHUE, June 6.-Last Friday the Lihue meeting proved its Puritan descent by centering its thought upon the "Little Red School House." "The Home and the School" was the topic. To the public school teacher its message was Recognize that your sphere includes the Home. Enter it hand in hand with the boy or girl. Win the friendship of father or mother. Take into the home your ideals, your culture, your wider learning and with these purify, elevate and enlarge its life. Thus you can serve your nation and the world most fully and leave the impress of your character permanently in the entire community."

To the home it said, "Look upon the public school teacher as your especial friend. Remember that you are entrusting your dearest possessions-your children-to him at the most impressible and important period of their lives. It is your business to know him intimately, to invite him to your home, to help him in his great work. The unmarried youth or maiden who takes a school in a country district in this Territory is exposed to most dangerous and insidious temptations. It is your business as Christians to shield these teachers, to help them in their fight for upright character and to surround them with influences that brighten, inspire and strengthen. If any protest and secure his removal. Bring your testimony to the Hawaiian Board and if after investigation it is clear that he is unfit we will help you. But if the teacher be faithful to his trust he needs your support. Give it to him freely. First of all by leading your children to love him. Second by standing by him when he disciplines your children and third by helping your children to learn their lessons. Fill your boys and girls with the ambition to do their best. The great need of the Hawaiian race is aspiration, a burning desire to make the most of themselves. Put this passion into your little ones in their schooldays and it will go with them through life.

Passing from the public to the Chris-tian Boarding School Rev. Mr. Poepoe paid a beautiful tribute to the unselfish noble character of the long line of Christian teachers who have built this nation's civilization while Rev. O. P. Emerson made a most eloquent plea to the gradu-ate student to stand by his old home, not to be ashamed of those in it who have not had his advantages but to pour the treasures of his own education into it and thus brighten and uplift it.

WOMEN TO THE FRONT. The evening of Friday was one long to be remembered. After a stirring appeal to the young people by Rev. Mr. Yajima of Hilo, Mrs. M. K. Nakuina opened the discussion. BACK TO THE EARTH. Saturday brought us and to a lovely spot at that. was on deck with his magic lantern and on Sunday evening the Hall was crowd-ed to the doors, the little brown men squatting all over the floor and hanging in at the windows to see what the Chris-tians could say in reply to the cham-pions of Buddha. Without a word of controversy, ready to grant all the good points of the old Hindu system, Mr. Okumura pointed out that the first battle of the present war had been won by Admiral Uryu, one of the leading Christians of the Empire, touched upon one another of Japan's Christian heroes and then threw on the screen a view of the Christian Boarding School in Honolulu which showed the boys at drill, the young generation of soldiers preparing to fight the battles of either the Sun Flag or the Cross. With this stirring bit of militant Christianity, a late afternoon communion service in-spiringly conducted by Rev. E. S. Timoteo and O. H. HOLY OF HOLIES.

Here Judge Kahele, Mrs. W. H. Rice, S. Wilcox and Treas. No better leader for this task could be desired than the Lihue Judge with his Christian heritage and his ripe experience. Rev. S. Kaili seconded him well. No one present will ever be able to blot from memory the impassioned appeal of Mrs. Rice to the assembled mothers. There were a few dry eyes among them and more than one will date a new determination to be true to her great privilege and sacred responsibility from that solemn hour. Of Mrs. Wilcox's sweet suggestive paper it is enough to say that it elicited an immediate vote to publish it entirely in the "Garden Island." In his inimitable style and under Mr. Desha's unrivaled interpretation Mr. In his inimitable style and under Richards pressed home to every father who heard him the necessity for a pure life, for gallantry to his wife and for the spirit of companionship with his boys and girls both in their sports and studies. Then step by step he led them up into the higher realm of showing how the father could be priest in his home, revealing God in his own purity and rectitude.

No one attending this remarkable gathering has been able to escape the retired list. At one time he was con-blessing of coming face to face with nected with the Foreign Office as an his worst self and realizing its terrible power nor can any one return home without the glorious conviction that with God's help he has the power successfully to down the beast in him and enthrone the man. It has a greater range than the Nordenfeldt and can be operby four men. It is with these deadly weapons that the Japanese are wiping out the Cossack sotnias wherever they meet them. THE ATTACK ON LANDSORFF. ST. PETERSBURG, June 1.-Reports of an attack upon Count Lamsdorff Minister of Foreign Affairs, which grew last night into a rumor (later denied) of attempted assassination, have their foundation, as nearly as can be ascertained in a personal assault committed Monday evening by Prince Dolgoruky a disappointed office-seeker. The Prince is an opponent of Count Lamsdorff's policy and is said to have become insane through brooding over his alleged grievances.

Dolgoruky formerly was an officer in the Imperial Hussars, but is now on the attache at Vienna. Since then he is said to have been a constant applicant for a position in the foreign service but without success. He belongs to the Slavophile party, strongly opposed to the Pacific policy of the Minister of Foreign Affairs.

According to the story current in the city the Prince met Count Lamsdorff in the street Monday evening and without warning struck him on the head and by Miss K. C. McLeod of Kawai-ahao. These three addresses formed the classical trio of the entire session and will be separately published by the name of the whole Russian people.

Police agents rushed to the scene and seized the Prince who immediately handed them a card, saying it was a private affair. Nevertheless he was placed under arrest. Count Lamsdorff called upon the Emperor Tuesday, it having been his regular day for an audience, and therefore not necessarily connected with the assault. The Count's friends are deeply incensed over the affair which is re garded, however, as the act of a mad-

IMPERIAL LIME WOMAN'S MISSION BOARD HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Mrs. Andrews Resigns the Presidency Which Is Given to Mrs. Doremus Scudder---Reports Presented of Departmental Work.

ng of the Woman's Board of Missions was held yesterday at Central Union Church, at which time reports of various departments of the Board's work were presented and read, and new officers

Contrary to the usual rule no morning session was held, the first order of business being a very fine luncheon served in one of the Sunday School rooms to the members and friends.

At 1:30 p. m. the regular session was held for the hearing of reports and the transaction of other business. Mrs. Andrews, the president for the past year, announced her resignation, stating that she intended shortly to depart for the mainland to take up a residence. Mrs. Scud-der, wife of the Rev. Doremus Scudder, was elected as president for the ensuing year. The other officers are: Vice presidents, Mrs. O. H. Gulick, Mrs. S. E. Bishop and Mrs. Theodore Richards; secretary, Miss Sheeley; treasurer, Mrs. B. F. Dillingham.

The report of the recording secretary was a resume of the past year's work, giving a list of the many interesting papers read before the Board, and the missionary aid given both locally and to foreign parts.

Mrs. Whitney's report for the treasurer showed that the receipts for the year were $2,359.25; disbursements, $2,-050.05, leaving a balance on hand of $301.20. In addition the sum of $246 was raised for Armenian work, and $304.20 for Pundita Ramabai, the Hindoo woman reformer. The report of the Hawaiian mission work, presented by Miss Laura Green, was as follows:

HAWAHAN WORK.

As I have faced the many difficult problems in the Hawaiian work, some old truths have impressed themselves upon me with fresh force during the past

One is, of the necessity of teaching this people—not only by word, but by conduct also,—that true living is to do right at all times, and at any cost; to do it because it is right—whether seen of men, or not. If we could but convey to them "the dignity of their being—one hefore their eyes the yest presents." open before their eyes the vast prospects of the eternity which awaits them in that Kingdom, into which can enter nothing that defileth or maketh a lie—yet into which they may enter if they only will,"—and to emphasize the fact that this kingdom is to be begun within them, here and now!

Also of "the exceeding greatness of God's power," which not only transforms, but keeps the soul given to Him, and His service. More and more, do I feel that "the sinfulness of sin" is not considered earnestly enough in their lives. I would that the belief-so common among them-might be dispelledthat as long as their wrong doing is not found out, it is no sin!

Another thought, is the need of their depending more on their own effortsboth in matters temporal and spiritual. No plant will grow strong by constant sheltering-neither will the mental, moral and spiritual in man be able to bear he storms that some time, or othermust come-if allowed to depend continuously on stronger natures than he himself possesses.

I feel we should help them all we

I find, as one of the sad features in the work, their lack of sympathy for, and wish to be of benefit to their own people. It is so foreign to their old

It is hard to obtain suitable Bible Readers among the younger women. Can you tell me the reason why?

As we go from one district to another, and from house to house, in our weekly MOUNTAIN RESORTS:

and Fraser Canon.

and irom house to house, in our weekly calls, we are often oppressed with a sense of moral depravity among those we see,—and disheartened with the thought of how little we can do to help it thought of how little we can do to help it thought of how little we can do to help it devery evening, and was well patrons these needy ones. Many come from country homes to lose themselves in the darkness of sin here in Honolulu.

The Reading Hall was opened every evening, and was well patrons accommodating those desiring to study English were made. Some of our leading citizens cheerfully offered their services in citizens.

It makes one "heart sick" to see the dissipation of men and women—the homes made more than unhappy by the curse of drink, or unfaithfulness of either husband, or wife. Especially so, when innocent children have to suffer. I often wonder, after our calls—if any fruit will spring from this "stony ground."

The Hawaiians realize this condition their efforts, that hearts are still heavy and sore—obtaining no peace, nor rest. Changing from one form of religion to another, is a pittful feature in these days. The churches, in many instances, show a lack of power—so many persons are simply members in name but with little or no activity manifesting itself. There are of course wonderful contrasts in the homes and hearts of the Hawalians. We find the people more confortable in some localities than others—and a great more homes are, outpassing at least, models of arainess and happiness.

wardly of the property of the property of the end of the property of the desired of the property of the bounce was every hundred and purious to be all on the main stars when and the property of the property

(From Wednesday's Advertiser.) calls have been accomplished by the The annual lunch and business meetBible Readers. I made 222 of these with them, but we generally divide our forces in our weekly visits, to make as many as possible. I have made 151 calls besides. The storms in February proved a hindrance in the Readers going every week, as I do not approve of their running the risk of sitting in damp clothing. The Friday afternoon prayer-meetings have been of profit during the year at Kawaiahao church,

Though we could wish for greater numbers, especially among the younger women, the spirit has been very helpful —so that we can truly say, "it was good to be there." We miss those who have slipped out of this life into the beautiful "beyond"—but have been glad to wel-come new faces, and doubly so when they have entered into the work with heart and voice.

Some have come back into the church work after years of indifference, or sin. One woman said, "I used to be active in the Master's service-but after I came to call of the enurch bell; then I became interested in the Sunday School through my little girl who attended, by her invitation of, 'mamma, let us go.' Now I come to prayer meetings and soon I wish to connect myself to the church." God used a consecrated neighbor of hers, to help on the good work, by pray-hers, to help on the good work, by prayer and counsel.

It is a joy to meet those among the Hawaiians, who show by life and conversation the genuineness of Christianity. Will they not be among those whose names are entered into the "book of remembrance," as they "that feared the Lord and that thought upon His Name" and that "spoke often one to another" and that "spoke often one to another" of goodness and love?

I regret that the cooking school was obliged to be discontinued-but hope sometime it may be revived.

Sewing classes twice a week have been a pleasure. I have enjoyed the larger girls who have attended Mrs. Wilcox's sewing school. They have improved in so many ways since I first became ac-quainted with them. Mrs. Waterhouse, on her return to the Islands last fall, took charge of the work at Maemae, and Miss Marion assists. Through the kindness of the ladies of this Board, who have supplied car fare, and of Miss Pope, two young ladies from Kamehameha have continued to help us.

"The glory is not in the task, But in the doing it for Him."

The report of the Chinese Mission work was presented as follows:

CHINESE MISSION WORK. The work of the past year has been so beset with barriers, which seemed in surmountable that we are constrained to can, but with this object in view-that confine ourselves to the outlook for the they are to do their part—and besides this, to be filled with a desire to help one of the past few months.

Last September the heart was filled with high aspirations, and bright hopes for a long step in the advancement and development of new interest in the Chinese work. The first hindrance met was the void made by the absence of Miss Sunter, upon whom we had grown ac-customed to depend much for consulta-

Plans for enlarged work in connecaccommodating those desiring to study English were made. Some of our lead-ing citizens cheerfully offered their services in giving Saturday evening lectures to the men. These meeting have always been well attended and much interest manifested with the subject presented. Classes formed for Bible Study on Sunday afternoon before the Gospel services. We were surely gaining favor with the non-Christian class, as we were invited to hold Gospel service in the Chinese theater and did so on several occasions. Suddenly a halt was called. The Hawaiians realize this condition to a certain degree. In one of our women's meetings—an old lady compared the nation to "Simon the sorcerer—in the gall of bitterness"—running to every "healer" for help—and finding after all their efforts, that hearts are still heavy and sore—obtaining no peace, nor rest. January, though we have through much discouragement continued the open air meetings and the Gospel services on Sabbath afternoons, and have had an occasional Saturday evening lecture for the men. Last week one was given on the subject of optim to which at least three hundred Chinese men gave an intelligent attention. A rearrangement of plants was deemed advisable and attention was then turned more directly in the line of our almost work. But with a money and fewer workers the resultance thereof the power and fine uping a state of the power and fine uping a directly in the line of our almost work the resultance of the field is upon and fine uping a directly in the line of our first works to a saturday of measures. Much can be done for them in this way. It will open avenues through which they can develop their own latent powers. They have shown much ability in leadership in our work in the Chinese Hospital and elsewhere. All this will prove a fine preparation for the coming year, only we need to have it more systematically carried out. The future woman's work is hopeful. The way is open and we have many friends who welcome us cordially into their who welcome us cordially into their homes and confidence; but there is no authorized worker nor money to prosecute an enlargement. I pray both may come another year. Awakened by contact with the Occidental people and the national experience of the past score or two of years, there has been formed all over China and indeed wherever the Chinese people are found, groups of eager inquirers and here on our Islands where so many opportunities are offered for advancement and development, care is needed that they be guided in the right direction.

The need, as we see it, may be classified as Field work as general city mis-sionary effort, Educational work and Press work. Education of the women not only intellectually and physically, but in respect to the Christianizing them. Chinese have a high civilization—they lack Christian civilization. Our young women can receive the best "book learning" in th epublic schools of the city, which any educator can see is working up to a high standard of excellence, but they need a home culture such as the Miss' Institute gives to the young men coming from all parts of the Islands. The day is past when she can conform to the regulation to which her grand-mother so religiously clung; but will break away, and cony the "foreign style." It is our duty since awakening the desire for progress to guide and control until judgment and proper edu-cation is sufficient to direct her.

The national retiring disposition of the Master's service—but after I came to Honolulu I gave it up,—and attended luaus on Sunday instead of going to meeting; but after a time the voice of conscience awoke, and I listened to the call of the cnurch bell; then I became had a very happy and prosperous year, with over seventy boys enrolled. Our corps of teachers has done most excellent, earnest and faithful work, therefore there is a good spirit throughout the school. While it saddens our hearts not to be able to speak of conversions, yet there are those who are thinking seriously, and none will go out from us, without knowing and feeling the truth of the gospel in their hearts. The seed is there, and only needs to be quickened by the spirit of God, and I trust our prayers will soon be answered for them.

prayers will soon be answered for them. Our earnest thanks go out to all our true friends wno so loyally stand by us, not only with their generous gifts but with their loving words of sympathy from time to time, and by their personal help in various ways, all of which we most truly appreciate.

May none of us grow faint hearted in the Master's vineyard.

Respectfully submitted, MARY HOPPER DAMON.

Often it is the "stepping stone" to something better, further on.

In all these things may we remember those who recommend people for audiences of the Pope that they must guarantee that such persons will conform to Vatican etiquette in kneeling and kissing the nand of the Pope. This notification was issued as a result of the conduct of some Americans, a few weeks ago, who refused to kneel when the Pope appeared.

THE WORRIED WOMEN.

They say men must work and women must weep; but alas, in this too busy world women often have to work and weep at the same time. Their holidays are too few and their work heavy and monotonous. It makes them nervous and irritable. The depressed and worried woman loses her appetite and grows thin and feeble. Once in a while she has spells of palpitation and has to lie up for a day or two. If some disease like influenza or malarial fever happens to prevail she is almost certain to have an attack of it, and that often paves the way for chronic troubles of the throat, lungs and other organs; and there is no saying what the end may be. Let the tired and overladen woman rest as much as possible; and, above all, place at her command a bottle of WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION
