Peace Proposals Not Yet in Hands of Allies; Bonar Law Hints Refusal

BRITAIN DEMANDS "REPARATION AND FUTURE SECURITY"

Members of New Cabinet Speak in House of Commons But Premier Lloyd-George's Address Is Not Made; Greek Situation Taken Up

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
LONDON, England, Dec. 14.—While Premier Lloyd-George did not appear in the house of commons today at the time he was expected to make an important speech on Allied policy, a statement indicating British refusal of proposed German terms was made by Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer in the new coalition cabinet. Mr. Law said that Britain has not yet received the Teuton proposals for peace, and added significantly that the Entente Allies require adequate reparation for the past and adequate security for the future. He also announced that the daily average of England's war expenditures amount to 5,710,000 pounds. The actual expenditure, he said, had exceeded the estimate owing to the increase in munitions and the necessity for additional loans on behalf of the other allies and the British dominions. Lord Cecil, the new "secretary of state for the blockade," said that the blockade which the Allies are carrying out against Greece does not imply a state of war existing between Greece and the Entente group. He told the house that there would soon be presented certain demands upon Greece for the purpose of clearing up the situation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 14.—High diplomats of the Entente embassies here reflect the view that the proposals of the Central Powers will not be rejected without an examination but that the Allies will probably call for a definite statement of the proposed terms.

French Parliament Is For Prohibition

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
PARIS, France, Dec. 14.—The French parliament today decided upon prohibition of whiskies, brandies and other liquors. Premier Briand declared before the chamber of deputies: "This is a grave question which must be regulated in war times. Its solution, which involves the country's salvation, is in the suppression of alcohol." He was greeted with applause. Deputy Mayeras interjected, "for the army," and Briand replied, "yes, for the entire country."

GERMANS DESTROY TWO ENEMY SHIPS

(German Official)
BERLIN, Germany, Dec. 14.—Official announcement is made that a German submarine in the eastern Mediterranean on November 22 and December 3 sunk two great transportation steamers loaded with war material. The steamers were each of 5000 to 6000 tons and both were armed and convoyed by destroyers.

GERMAN OFFICIAL CABLEGRAMS

GERMAN ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Dec. 13.—No special incidents of importance were reported on the war fronts today. They are still making progress in Wallachia against the Rumanians and Russians.

Yesterday on the Somme there was some artillery fire which increased in the afternoon. On the Crown Prince's front, east bank of the Meuse and near the Moselle, strong cannon and mine-throwing activity but no infantry movements by the enemy.

East front, Prince Leopold's army group: Successful patrol enterprises on the Stochod river brought valuable information as to the distribution of Russian forces, gained from prisoners. On Archduke Joseph's front, Carpathian forest, and on the Snoutec, as well as on the Bahaladova river, strong enemy attacks were repulsed. On both sides of the Trosol valley the Rumanians once more launched men and ammunition for unsuccessful thrusts against some height positions. German riflemen brought back from the raid north of Ludova 10 prisoners and three machine guns. North of Sulta

NO PEACE TILL ALLIES AT LAST DEFEAT GERMANY

Japanese Attache Back From East Front Says Fighting Must Be Continued

Marquis Toshinari Maeda, a captain of the Japanese army who has been an attache to the British army at the front, arrived on the steamer Shin-yu Maru this morning from San Francisco on the way to his home. The party with him consists of six, Marchioness Maeda, Lieut.-Col. E. Hayashi, Attendant T. Henmi and two doctors, K. Kuno and R. Nomura. He was seen aboard ship by a Star-Bulletin reporter.

Capt. Maeda, accompanied by Lieut.-Col. Hayashi, spent most of his time in the French lines for a little more than two years and witnessed several great battles.

When asked his opinion as to whether the Allies would accept German terms of peace as now offered, Lieut.-Col. Hayashi said that neither England nor France would accept any terms of peace from Germany unless that nation is completely beaten, which will take some time yet. Both sides still have sufficient fighting power to continue.

Marquis Maeda said: "We have enjoyed our journey through peaceful America. Since we landed at New York from Liverpool we visited Niagara Falls and also beautiful Colorado Springs on our way to San Francisco."

The party was met at the wharf by Dr. J. Uchida, I. Katsuki and Y. Takakura, the president of the Japanese Chamber of Commerce, and Manager Aoki of the Yokohama Specie bank, representing the people of the marquis's clan. An informal luncheon was served by these representatives and Consul-General Moroi and Elve Consul Fujii to the marquis's party at 1 o'clock at the Young hotel and the party was taken to several points of interest.

Marquis Toshinari Maeda is a former feudal lord of Kanazawa clan. He was adopted by Marquis Toshitsugu Maeda, one of the richest nobles in Japan. After he had completed his study in the military college of Japan he was sent to Germany to receive a German military education there. He was an attache to the general staff office and on the outbreak of the present European war he was sent to England and attached to the field army.

The Russians were again driven from a height. On von Mackensen's front in Rumania we are gaining numerous successes. More than 10,000 more Rumanians have been taken. Several cannon and much field material gained.

On Macedonia front the Entente troops have been carrying out desperate attacks daily, especially the Serbians, by storming against Bulgarian and German positions on both banks of the Czerna river but yesterday again they suffered one more of their bloody defeats.

HOTEL COMPANY'S CONDUITS ROUSE MURRAY TO ACT

Had of Water Dept. Finds Corporation Acted Without Supervisors' Consent

That the Territorial Hotel Company, without permission from the board of supervisors, has placed across Kalakaua avenue in front of the Moana hotel a large concrete conduit several feet under the surface, is the assertion made today by Harry Murray, superintendent of the water works, who is carrying on an investigation. According to A. M. Cristy, deputy city attorney, the company's action is absolutely against the law.

The conduit was laid in September, 1916, at which time permission was obtained from the county engineer's office, but that the office exceeded its authority when it allowed the laying of the conduit is evident by the ordinance which governs the tearing up of public streets. Cristy said this morning that the ordinance allows the county engineer to give a permit for tearing up the earth on a public street but if a conduit or similar construction is laid, permission must be obtained from the board as it is a right of way in the nature of an easement.

Bringing the matter to the attention of the board of supervisors Murray intended to send a letter to the members pointing out that the law has been violated and also showing if allowed to continue it is likely to set a precedent to control Murray also said that the hotel company had laid similar conduits at other points.

"Use of the conduit, according to Murray, is to allow the Moana hotel to bring water from its well on the outside of Kalakaua avenue for the hotel. "Anybody in Honolulu, if they object to the charges of the water department, can dig his own well," said Murray, "leaving the poor man to carry the burden of supporting the water department."

Emperor to Amy, Navy

(German Official)
BERLIN, Germany, Dec. 14.—Emperor Wilhelm has issued the following order to the German army:

"Soldiers: Conscious of the victory won by your bravery, I and the rulers our faithfully allied states have decided to offer of peace to the enemy. Whether the aim connected with this will be reached, must be awaited. Have further, with God's help, to withstand the enemy and defeat him."

Theme order was issued to the army, the additional remark: "Thence is also addressed to the navy: I have faithfully and efficiently used its forces in the common struggle."

GERMAN HOLDS SINKING GERMANO JUSTIFIED BY ACTS OF OWNERSHIP

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 14.—German latest note on the submarine sinking is another justification of her case. This note deals with the sinking of the steamer Lanoa, which was sunk by a German submarine off coast of Portugal October 28. That the Lanoa has been in somebath, she was American-owned, a long time under Philippine registry, and negotiations had been held by her owners to sell her to a Negian shipowner. At the time the vessel was sunk she carried papers giving her right to fly American colors and the U. S. government consented to her being a vessel of German registry.

Germany now contends that the sinking of the Lanoa was justified as a legitimate act of war. German authorities claim that the vessel was not a merchant ship, but a transport vessel, having been transferred to German ownership.

DOMIN LEAVES; BEN KALEPUNA IN PLACE

John Ominis, for the last five years assistant clerk Henry Smith of the circuit court, leaves that position today to become associated with the Life Assurance Co. of Canada. This will be succeeded by Ben Kalepuna, former clerk in the division of the circuit court.

THREE JAPANESE ALLEGED TO BE VICE PROMOTERS

Trio Arrested By Immigration Officials; Ran Houses Outside of Iwilei

Charged with running houses of prostitution, all outside of Iwilei, two Japanese men and one Japanese woman were arrested Wednesday and today by United States immigration officials and will be deported unless they can prove their innocence.

Their names are Daiichi Inouye, alias S. Yamamoto; Tama Tanaka, alias Mrs. Tama Miyake, and Yoshimatsu Sakai. The last named man is the worst offender.

The arrests were made by Harry B. Brown, deputy inspector in charge of the local immigration station and acting inspector whenever Chief Inspector Richard L. Halsey is absent; Dr. Tomizo Katsunuma, Japanese interpreter of the station, and D. A. Meek, stenographer.

All three Japanese are being held in detention at the immigration station today. Their bond has been fixed at $1000, which they expected to be able to furnish later today. Dates for a hearing will be set later, to give them an opportunity to secure attorneys and show cause why they should not be deported in conformity with the law.

Sakai, the worst offender, is charged with conducting a house of prostitution in School street, with Portuguese, Hawaiian and Filipino inmates. Tama Tanaka, common law wife of H. Miyake, Sr., is charged with running a place on Fort street, just mauka of the old Skating Rink. Daiichi Inouye, the immigration authorities allege, conducted the Eagle rooming house on upper Fort street, opposite the Hongwanji mission, as a house of assignation.

Sakai came to Honolulu on the Siberia July 1, 1911; the Tanaka women arrived 27 years ago, and Inouye, who is also alleged to be interested with another Asiatic in the lease of certain Iwilei property, landed here from the Siberia June 6, 1914, on his second trip to Hawaii.

JURY'S REPORT ON GRAY IS PUBLIC

The testimony before the civil service commission during the hearing of charges against Jesse Gray, former police officer at Wahiawa, is mentioned in a resolution recently presented to the grand jury by a special committee of that body to investigate the Gray case. The committee was composed of Raymond C. Brown, chairman; Willard E. Brown and J. J. Belsir. In its report the committee recommended the reinstatement of Gray.

Gray was charged with having accepted bribes as protection for persons alleged to have been running gambling games at Wahiawa. The civil service commission dismissed him. The investigation of the grand jury was based on a petition from residents at Wahiawa asking that it take action toward Gray's reinstatement. The jury committee's report is as follows:

"We, the members of a special committee which was appointed for the purpose of investigating the case of Police Officer Jesse Gray, who served as an officer at Wahiawa, Oahu, but who was discharged from his duties by an action of the civil service commission, beg to report that we have gone into the case and made such investigation as has been possible and as a result beg to offer the following resolution:

"Whereas, the testimony produced before the civil service commission in a hearing of the case of Police Officer Jesse Gray was of a very conflicting character; and

"Whereas, the principal accuser of Jesse Gray, to wit, one Chang Chow, has proven to be a person in disrepute among the officers of Schofield Barracks and many citizens of Wahiawa; and

"Whereas, on the other hand Officer Gray has the unqualified confidence of both the citizens of Wahiawa and many officers of the United States Army at Schofield Barracks;

"Be it resolved, that the territorial grand jurors do recommend to the civil service commission the reinstatement of Officer Gray."

The commission has declined to reinstate Gray. It is understood that further correspondence in the matter is to come before the jury.

TO ENTERTAIN AVIATRIX
(Special Cable to Nippon Jiji)
TOKIO, Japan, Dec. 14.—Prominent women of Japan will act as hostesses to Miss Katherine Stinson, the American aviatrix, who is now in Japan, at a dinner at the Imperial hotel in this city, December 21. Miss Stinson will make her first flight in Tokio on Saturday.

Governor Will Receive Jan. 1

Owing to the fact that New Year's Eve falls this year upon Sunday, Governor Pinkham will not give the usual reception and grand ball in the Capitol and Armory that has for several years marked the close of the old year.

In lieu of the night reception, however, the governor has announced that he will receive at his home on Monday, New Year's Day, between the hours of 2:30 and 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

This will be at Lunallilo and Hackfield streets.

The governor announced today that no special invitations will be issued for the occasion but that the public as a whole is invited to attend.

KEUK GUILTY ON MURDER CHARGE

"Guilty as charged," was the verdict returned by a jury in Circuit Judge Ashford's court today in the case of Yee Yo Keuk, the Korean bandit who terrorized Oriental Honolulu for months before his capture by police officers and detectives on December 9, 1915. The jury deliberated a little more than five minutes.

Keuk was alleged to have shot and killed Chee Won Yee, a fellow countryman, a few hours before his capture. Chee Won Yee was the informant whose information led to a subsequent capture of Keuk after a break from prison. According to witnesses, Keuk had sworn he would "get" the informant, as well as Johnnie Woo, Korean interpreter, and another Korean.

Judge Ashford will sentence the defendant at 9 o'clock next Monday. The penalty for first degree murder is hanging. City Attorney Arthur M. Brown represented the prosecution, and Attorney Noe Aluli, appointed by the court, appeared for Keuk. Keuk now is serving a sentence of from five to 20 years for first degree robbery.

SLINGSBY BABY A SUBSTITUTE

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
LONDON, Eng., Dec. 14.—The house of lords today added another chapter to the sensational "Slingsby case," involving two continents, when it refused the appeal from the court of appeals, without calling the respondents, thus upholding the reversal of the lower court's decision that little "Teddy" Slingsby is the legitimate child of Lieut. and Mrs. C. R. Slingsby.

It is now held that the child has been proved to be the son of Lillian Anderson. In the latest decision, the authorities state that they regret the pain which the decision must cause "a gallant officer now serving his country."

This is one of the most noted cases in legal annals and has been fought on in American courts for the past several years. The case arose over charges that another baby was substituted for little "Teddy" Slingsby, son of Lieut. and Mrs. C. R. Slingsby, and heir to $500,000 property of the Slingsbys by family in Yorkshire, England. The substitution was alleged to have been made in San Francisco. The claim was made that the real Slingsby baby, which was born in San Francisco on September 1, 1910, died and that the mother substituted another infant.

After the case had been thrashed out in San Francisco, the evidence was submitted to the probate court in London, which on February 3, 1915, decided that the present Slingsby baby is legitimate and that no substitution was made. Sir Edward Carson, Unionist leader, has been leading counsel for the contestant of the child's right to the estate.

IMMIGRATION BILL WITH LITERACY TEST PASSES UPPER HOUSE

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 14.—The new immigration bill, containing the restrictive literacy test—on account of which similar bills have been persistently vetoed by Taft and Wilson—passed the senate today, 64 to 7. As it is amended it goes to the house, having previously passed there.

The senate, before passing the bill, reconsidered the clause designed to exclude anarchists who teach the destruction of property as their propaganda. Senator Hardwick offered an amendment to cover the same ground, which was adopted. In brief it permits the entry of persons who advocate or teach the destruction of property "in case of war, insurrection or revolution," but not otherwise, thus barring anarchists who preach destruction of property in times of peace.

FOREIGN SERVICE ROSTER IS AGAIN MADE EFFECTIVE

Private Advices From Washington State Suspension of Ruling Withdrawn

According to word received today in private advices at the Hawaiian Department, the foreign service roster, which was suspended last summer at the time of the Mexican border crisis, has been resumed.

This word will be interesting news to officers on the island of Oahu as well as in the Philippines, as the resumption of the foreign service law will mean officers who have served for three years outside the continental limits of the United States may be allowed to return to the mainland.

Last summer when conditions along the Mexican border required the presence of every officer available, the ruling to suspend the law until further orders was given as it was not felt possible by the War Department to send officers from the mainland to take places of such from island departments as had served out their three-year duty. The letter received today is from Washington.

It was stated today at army headquarters that the resumption of the foreign service roster will affect practically every officer in the department who has been in the islands more than three years. No official information regarding the ruling has been received at headquarters.

ARREST TRUSTY FOR BURGLARY

Kaunui, a trusty, who has been on duty in Mayor Lane's office for some time and who has only 15 days to serve, was arrested this morning by Chief McDuffie, charged with attempting to burglarize Bishop Restarick's home last week and of sacking the Y. W. C. A. homestead quarters on King street yesterday noon.

Nothing was taken from the bishop's home. Kaunui there asked the location of a certain residence which he professed to be seeking and went through some drawers and disappeared while the bishop was searching for the name in the directory.

At the Y. W. C. A. considerable small change and some jewelry was carried away and a handful of valuable jewels which had been tied in a handkerchief was found in one of the rooms, apparently thrown there when Kaunui heard some one approaching. On his person at the police station was found some money and three rings, also some important papers which the mayor had given him to deliver.

ANXIOUS FATHER HUNTS FOR BOY HIT BY AUTO

The little son of R. B. Reedy of the tax office was hit this morning on Waiialea road near Sixth avenue, Kaimuki, by an automobile driven by Mrs. Samuel I. Johnson, who was driving her own son to school. The Reedy boy was standing at the road side when several companions, according to Mrs. Johnson, and started out suddenly in front of her after once going to one side. The injured lad at once rushed to the Beretania sanitarium by Mrs. Johnson, where it was found that two ribs were broken and several bruises and cuts of a minor nature sustained.

The injured boy's father was informed of the accident shortly after it occurred and spent a frantic hour and a half telephoning and going to the various hospitals and doctors' offices before he finally located his son.

Mrs. Johnson not only rushed the boy to the hospital but reported the occurrence to the police and did everything possible for the youngster. It appears that the lad had rushed back to the road for his top. Mrs. Johnson had warned a group of children by sounding her horn.

JAPAN NOT OFFICIALLY TOLD OF PEACE TERMS

TOKIO, Japan, Dec. 14.—Japan has not yet received any official notification of peace proposals from any of the neutral nations. In an interview today, I. Montono, foreign minister, said that he was not in a position to make any statement regarding Japan's attitude on the peace situation, as the Japanese government had only received information through press despatches.

Montono announced that when the full details are given regarding the proposal for peace the Japanese cabinet will then discuss the affair. It is thought that Japan will act with the Allies in all peace movements. Japanese newspapers commenting on the situation do not believe that peace will come for some time, and many make the statement that Tsingtau will not be returned to Germany. Stock exchanges in Osaka, Fukuoka and Nagoya closed today.

TRAGEDY LIKE F-4 IS FEARED ON CAL. COAST

Submersible En Route From Bremerton to Mare Island Hits Shoal Near Eureka Bay in Fog; Heels Over; Rescuers Work Desperately to Reach Crew Thought Imprisoned

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
EUREKA, Cal., Dec. 14.—The U. S. submarine H-3, with 22 officers and men, is ashore near the entrance to Eureka bay, heeled over in fairly deep water, and all the rescue forces and apparatus which can be summoned are at work endeavoring to reach the vessel. There are 22 officers and men aboard, believed to be imprisoned in the steel craft.

The H-3 went ashore while en route, with her sister submarines H-1 and H-2, from Bremerton navy yard to Mare Island. Coming down the coast in the early morning hours in a dense fog the submarine struck a shoal near the entrance to the bay, and stuck hard and fast.

The monitor Cheyenne, acting tender to submersibles, which was conveying the three submersibles down the coast, immediately stood by, together with the tug Relief, and the submarine "first whistled the signal "All safe."

A life-saving crew of the local station began work at once, endeavoring to shoot a lifeline out over the craft. The spot where the submarine struck is between 100 and 200 yards of the beach, and in the fog it is difficult to operate. The water is so shallow that the tug and the submarine tender are unable to come close to the stranded craft.

Soon after stranding the submarine began to heel over. The whistles finally ceased. The tugs have been battered down and it is believed that the men aboard are using submersing equipment and the air-tanks as an air-supply.

The fog continues to cloak the submarine, which the rescuers are endeavoring desperately to reach. The H-3 carries 22 officers and men, being commanded by Lieut. H. R. Bogusch, and E. F. Zemke being second in command.

"DRY" CAUSE WINS POINT AT CAPITOL

Judiciary Committee Reports Favorably on Constitutional Amendment

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 14.—Leaders of the lower house of Congress today agreed to a recess from December 22 to January 2, with the prospect of prohibition being a live issue after the holidays.

The house judiciary committee today favorably reported a measure calling for a constitutional amendment which will enforce national prohibition. The proposed universal suffrage amendment was reported without recommendation.

NOTED PACIFIST IS COMING HERE

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 14.—Charles F. Dole of Boston called on the Wilhelmina yesterday to inaugurate the peace movement in Hawaii.

Charles Fletcher Dole is the father of James D. Dole of this city. He is a noted author and speaker and has been a prominent worker for peace as a member of the American Peace Society and of the Anti-Imperialist League. It is not known here what definite movement, if any, he hopes to launch in Hawaii. With his wife he will visit this son this winter.

ANOTHER PROBE OF HIGH LIVING COST IS STARTED GOING

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 14.—The resolution of Congressman Borah of Missouri, ordering the federal trade commission to investigate the high cost of living, including the producing capacity of the United States, was favorably reported today by the judiciary committee. This resolution contemplates possible prosecution for violators of the anti-trust laws.

JUVENILE WORK HIGHLY PRAISED

Frank appreciation of the work of the juvenile court and of Probation Officer Joseph Leal is voiced in a letter received by Circuit Judge Whitney from Cyril O. Smith, principal of the Royal school. The letter says:

"The Royal school does not wish to close school for 1916 without thanking you for the aid you have given us in the last 12 months. It has made a difficult job that much easier by having your assistance."

"May I also add a word about the very splendid way the boys' work is being handled by Mr. Leal. He is never too busy to help us out and the way the boys look up to him and obey him is an excellent sight to behold. I look forward with pleasure to working with him the coming year."

PEACE IS NEAR, BELIEVES FLOOD

We have with us again in this port for a few hours the eminent George Flood of San Francisco. He arrived this morning as a through passenger on the T. K. K. liner Shinyo Maru, bound for Petrograd.

"Peace is in the air," remarked Flood. "My brother and I have sold all our steamers, including the Mackinaw, Olson & Mahoney and Mazatlan. How much did we make on them? I'd be ashamed to tell you. We are out from under, anyway."

Flood inquired after the health of Fred Waldron, asked the latest developments in Germany's peace efforts, thought the Allies would not listen to them, but that the proposal might be an opening wedge. He opined peace is coming in the near future.

"I am going to Petrograd to look after Russian businessmen with whom I have a deal on," he concluded. "I left my wife with my people in San Francisco."

HARBOR NOTES

The Oahu Shipping Company's power schooner James Macek will be ready to go into active service in the Eberlow fleet after Saturday following her inspection by the local inspectors of hulls and boilers. She is now in the inter-island drydock slip.

With three vessels on today, the inter-island drydock has about all the tonnage it can handle. The light-house tender "Columbia" is being overhauled, the yacht Kulamau for cleaning and painting, and the Eberlow power schooner J. A. Cummins for calking.

Regular service from Honolulu to Panning, Christmas, Washington and Palmyra islands will be established by the schooner Luka, according to her owner, Judge Henry E. Cooper, who owns Palmyra. The present voyage of the Luka is a preliminary trying out of the route to see what time can be made and what the general business prospects at each island are.

Next mail for San Francisco will leave here Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the T. K. K. liner Korea Maru, due at daylight Monday from Yokohama. It will reach the mainland December 24 if the steamer loses no time between Yokohama and Honolulu. She left Japan a day ahead of schedule, probably in order to land her passengers in San Francisco the day before Christmas.

Quartermaster Agent Andrew Ryan and Quartermaster Clerk Jack Bauer of the transport Sherman are on the Sheridan this voyage, the Sherman's complete clerical force having been transferred to the Sheridan on the Sherman's arrival at San Francisco last month. The Sheridan's old quartermaster agent and clerk, Charles A. Roman and Martin Kilecourse, are now on the Thomas, which left here for San Francisco last Thursday.

ARGENTINE LOSER MERCHANT FLEET

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina.—The whittling away of the Argentine merchant marine, freighters, passenger boats and fishing fleet, continues rapidly, owing to the foreign demand for vessels. The best known of the shipping companies in the River Plate has parted with passenger and cargo steamers without, it appears, any immediate intention of replacing them. The sale of two more river boats is announced, the purchasers being European firms who have paid 100,000 pounds sterling for them. Two modern tugs have also been disposed of for 50,000 pounds the pair.

CANADA MOBILIZES INDUSTRIES CREATING WEALTH FROM WASTE

ARTHUR D. LITTLE

Arthur D. Little, of Boston, has undertaken to be master magician and chief alchemist for the Canadian Pacific. His job is not only to make gold out of lead but to transform turnpikes and refuse into necessities of life. Lord Shaughnessy, President of the Canadian Pacific, has made many plans for development of Canada after the war and to keep these plans into effect he has secured the service of one of the best chemists in the United States. Little is the head, has been mobilizing the resources of the country, and has been bearing on the country possesses industrially agriculturally, and in natural resources. This information has been gathered not for the Canadian Pacific's uses only, but for any one who applies. Little has already shown Western Canadians how a few of their raw materials can be used. He has shown how to make excellent profits out of flax straw; how to get alcohol from sawdust and fatten hogs on the by-product; how to make toys and novelties, formerly imported from Germany, without much investment beyond ingenuity and elbow grease, and finally he is about to show them how to make practical household fuel, building boards and paper out of wheat straw. Flax and wheat straw besides being waste to the farmer heretofore often proved to be an expense.

Arthur D. Little, magician, now shows how flax straw taken from the farmer at $3.00 a ton and transformed into paper at an expense of $11.00 will sell for $300.00 a ton, giving a net profit of $289.00. Before the war Germany used to sell about $800,000 worth of toys to the Canadians. As a result of this activity the Canadian market for German toys is cut to nothing. These Canadian-made toys took first prize at the Quebec Exposition this year. This is not as far as the chief alchemist has gone, however, for he and his co-workers are still researching on a ten-hour day basis, expecting to do so as long as there is anything to look for, and Lord Shaughnessy expects to back them to a finish because anything that helps Canada helps the Canadian Pacific.

HARBOR COMMISSIONERS STUDY KAUAI AGREEMENT

As a result of the discussion which arose in the meeting of the harbor board yesterday afternoon over the railway question on Kauai and the non-delivery of freight by rail to the Kapapa merchants, harbor commissioners were today sent copies of the agreement which the Maake Sugar Company entered into with the government.

The agreement, which is signed by former Governor Walter Peary and Charles Judd, former commissioner of lands, states that the road shall "carry all offered freight and passengers to and from said homesteads to Kapapa village, Kealia village or Anahola wharf as required, in any direction at reasonable rates."

It was pointed out at the meeting yesterday afternoon that if the railway is used to carry freight in this manner it comes under the provisions of the Interstate Commerce Commission as a common carrier.

AMERICANS ABROAD MAY BE PERMITTED TO HAVE REAL FOOD

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Consul General Lay, at Berlin, is working, with the consent of the state department, to help the American residents feeling the food shortage. He has informed the department of the amount and kind of supplies needed, but so far has not reported the number of those who must be supplied.

It is believed that under a system of safeguards the Allies will enlarge the exemption to permit American residents in the central empires to be relieved.

STONE OF MARKET STILL UNCERTAIN

Though chances were slight the general tone of the local stock market was considered weak and uncertain, waiting further developments in the question of war or peace. There was considerable selling but offers were taken so readily that no serious further declines resulted. Sales between boards were 1614 shares of listed stocks and at the session 775. Besides there were sales of $15,400 Hawaii Railroad bonds all at 94 except $500 at 93 1/2.

Sales of listed stocks as shown by the noon sheet were: McBryde 11 1/4, Olat 15 1/8 and 15 1/4, Ewa 34 1/2 and 34 1/4, Oahu 30, Tanjong 34 1/2, Hawaii Railway A. 8 5/8, and Brewery 19 3/8 and 19 1/4.

Of the listed stocks Mineral Products and Engels recovered. Minerals sold at $1.25 and $1.22 1/2 for 400 shares. On sales of 10,330 shares Engels sold at $4.50, $4.47 1/2 and $4.50, and is quoted at the last figure. Oil continued strong at $4 with $4.05 asked, sales 6100, and Mountain King sold at 44 cents and 45 cents. Montana-Bingham sold at 42 1/2 and 41 cents and Tipperary at 5 cents.

GUARD COMPANY MAKES GIFT TO ARMY SERGEANT

In appreciation of the work one by Sergt. Flater, Company D, 2nd Infantry, Fort Shafter, during his time as sergeant-instructor at the joint camp of militiamen and regulars at Red Hill, Company D of the local guard regiment last night presented him with a beautifully engraved watch fob.

The fob bears on one side the coat of arms of Hawaii and on the other side an inscription: From Company D, 1st Infantry, N. G. H. to Sergt. Flater, 2nd Infantry, U. S. A. Their sergeant expressed his appreciation of a few well chosen words.

COURT'S DIGNITY RUDELY SCORNE

The usual peaceful stillness of Circuit Judge Ashford's court was shattered this morning when the H. G. Hoe, who already has had trouble with the police, rose up while the court was reading instructions in a murder case and babbled in a stentorian voice:

"McHuffie can stop a bullet and so can I. He stopped a big charge. They're trying to ruin his reputation but they can't do it."

The court stopped, astounded. Detective Harry Lake took the intruder by the arm and led him towards the door. But Judge Ashford interfered and ordered Hoe before the bar.

"I'm from New Zealand," asserted Hoe.

"If you attempt to interfere with this court you will be sent to jail for contempt of court," said Ashford. "Now you go back there and sit down and be very, very good."

But Hoe was not inclined to stay. He left, escorted by Detective Lake, and did not show up again.

PRISONER GROWS BLASPHEMOUS WHEN BROUGHT INTO COURT

Prosecutor Chillingworth shielded Judge Monsarrat ducked and assembled lawyers, newspapermen and police officials looked anxiously toward the door when H. G. Hoe, who was arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of threatening B. K. Drew, threw back his shoulders, filled his big lungs with a generous supply of air and forthwith started to use it.

"I don't believe in judges or God or Christ," he hurled at Magistrate Monsarrat for a starter as Bailiff Nobriga tried to stem the tide of an impending torrent of words. "I'll have Drew arrested for perjury if he dares go on the stand to testify to such a charge. He snapped after the charge had been read. 'It's an outrage and the United States government has no authority to hold me.' Further tirade followed.

The big Australian, who says he is going to print a pamphlet on Hell, favoring its reopening, in which the daily press is heartily denounced, started to strut from the courtroom, but several large policemen were on his track.

Finally his case was stricken.

ANGLING IN MOONLIGHT GETS NEELY TWO ULUA

Two big fish of the ulua variety was the result of an hour of moonlight angling in the outer bounds of the harbor a few evenings ago, which Deputy Tax Assessor A. W. Neely took as a matter of investigation.

"I had heard of catching ulua by moonlight," said Neely today, "but I had never put much stock in the stories. I used a Wilson spoon and the glint of it in the water attracted the big fellows in a hurry. I see where I come in for some real sport from now on during moonlight nights."

JARRETT PLANS TO FIGHT ISSUE

Any movement to unseat him as a member of the lower house of the next legislature on the ground that he holds a commission as notary public will be strenuously opposed by James K. Jarrett, he said today. Jarrett is of the opinion that he would not be required to resign as a notary until just prior to his being seated in the house.

In legal circles it is the opinion that Jarrett may be totally disqualified as a representative, if he has not resigned as notary. This, it is said, has been held time and again in the local courts. In the opinion of some attorneys the legislature, as the sole judge of the eligibility of its members, may be called upon to make the final decision in this instance.

It also has been learned that William F. Miles may be disqualified as a member because he has not resigned a commission in the National Guard.

"RUMANIA MARE" PASSES

FOGARAS, Transylvania.—The legend "Rumania Mare" and paper ribbons in the Rumanian national colors, blue, yellow and red, are the only signs left in this region today which speak of the occupancy by the First and Second Rumanian armies, though many a wrecked or burned house gives evidence of the recent passing of some hostile force. "Rumania Mare"—Greater Rumania—has been painted above the doors of nearly all houses in which some Rumanian official had his headquarters. Those who caused them to be placed are gone, and the Central Powers' troops, by transposing the letter "m" have changed the legend to "Arme Rumania"—Poor Rumania. The paper ribbons still hang in the autumn-leaved trees.

TABLE MANNERS NEW STUDY FOR 'Y' OFFICIALS

Take your chair at the table from the right. Slide into it without jerking forward a number of times. Keep your napkin on your left knee.

These are only a few of the table rules that secretaries of the Y. M. C. A.—every single one of them from big "Dick" Whitcomb to little "Tommy" Thomas—are practicing these days since they listened to a talk on the subject by one Fulton, a big cafeteria man of the mainland. Floyd Emmans, who runs the cafeteria at the Y, is said to be making a special study of the rules, as is Sam Robley, director of the boys' department.

Here are some of the others to which the secretarial staff listened a few days ago:

Always wipe your mouth before drinking water. Do the wiping with the right hand corner of your napkin. Bread is to be broken, not cut. Keep the bread plate on the left, the butter on the right. Bite the meat from olives without putting the seeds in your mouth. Don't tip the soup plate. Don't break things into the soup. Don't tip your head back when you are drinking water.

SHERIFF WOULD CORRECT TWO POINTS OFFERED

Sheriff Rose is not in the habit of writing letters to the press or making objections to the various articles which often feature him prominently; he says he is used to it. But he does take issue in a friendly manner with two minor statements in the complete account in the morning paper of Rev. C. H. McVey's address to the Chamber of Commerce at the special meeting called yesterday to consider vice conditions in Honolulu.

There are two misstatements in the story," says the sheriff, "and I do not know who is to blame for them. But I would like to have them corrected, just for accuracy's sake. Mr. McVey was not in my presence when he had his little tiff with Captain McDuffie; I have never had the pleasure of meeting the minister. And the policeman who went to Mr. McVey's house and waited for the minister to assist him in serving the warrant was not smoking as he sat in McVey's easy chair. The officer in question was John Hills and he does not smoke."

CHRISTMAS—IN THIS AND OTHER CITIES.

A beautiful and a splendid idea is that of the Honolulu women who are planning the "Community Christmas Tree" in the Capitol grounds on Christmas Eve.

Honolulu had for several years the "Malihini Christmas Tree," a Christmas morning custom founded on pretty sentiment. It was abandoned for practical reasons after a series of successful years, and since that time there has been nothing like a community Christmas. The nearest approach was that Christmas carol-singing of two years ago, conducted in various parts of the city by groups of young men and women.

The Community Christmas Tree, idea of the Outdoor Circle, is in line with a nation-wide movement for encouragement of the Christmas spirit in cities. An editorial in that well-known periodical, "The American City," recently referred to the municipal Christmas tree as "the most delightful innovation of the country." It has been a striking success in large cities and small.

In Pittsburgh the president of the city council appointed a municipal Christmas tree committee of 26 citizens, six of them women. A private firm gave a great Vermont evergreen and donated the use of a large vacant lot. In Birmingham, Alabama, the chamber of commerce headed the movement, with the invited assistance of public-spirited women of the city. In Racine, Wisconsin, the Commercial Club summoned the mayor, clergymen, superintendent of the park board, heads of women's clubs, Y. W. and Y. M. C. A., Boy Scoutmasters, leading musicians and other citizens and formed a fine, active committee. In Syracuse, N. Y., the local branch of the Consumers' League, backed by the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club and the Syracuse Herald, as well as many organizations and individuals, did the work—and did it well. Providence, Rhode Island, had the inspiring leadership of the Rhode Island Congress of Mothers. In Altoona, Pa., the movement was headed by the Sunshine Society and the Pennsylvania Railroad was foremost in putting the plan in effect. A public service corporation, the Beaver Valley Traction Company, with a wideawake superintendent, led the movement in Beaver Falls, Pa., and this company also stood the major portion of the expense. Organized labor came to the fore in Newark, Ohio, when the Newark Trades and Labor Assembly launched the idea. And the idea was given permanence by the fact that the Christmas tree used was a fine Arbor Vitae nearly 40 feet high, planted the same year, and will be used for every Christmas.

The great open-air celebrations of San Francisco, around Lotta's Fountain, which mark the holiday seasons annually, are nation-wide in their fame. Grand opera stars with the musical world at their feet have been glad to appear here, before audiences numbering 100,000. Chicago, New York, St. Louis, Seattle, Los Angeles and other large cities have in recent years begun the encouragement of the Christmas tree idea.

Springfield, Mass., has developed a finely-wrought pageant, which gives to the annual festival something of the sweet, and sacred spirit that ruled over Bethlehem on the first Christmas, that of the Nativity.

Honolulu's first "Community Christmas Tree" is conceived for two main reasons, to emphasize the beautiful spirit of this occasion—a spirit entirely lacking in the raucous, rowdyish "celebrations" of Christmas eve on the streets here—and to provide for all lonely men and women a common gathering-place with a lighted tree, emblematic of hospitable warmth and gentle festival, on the one night in the year when loneliness most oppresses those far from family and friends.

It deserves all aid and all success.

THEIR OPPORTUNITY.

No impression should be gained from yesterday's meeting and action by the Chamber of Commerce that there is no need for a campaign against vice conditions by the churches of the city.

There is need. There is, in fact, need for action by every organization with a regard for public welfare and with a duty toward public welfare.

What the businessmen of Honolulu did yesterday was to make manifest their intention to take a leadership, as a business organization, in fighting the commercial vice already exposed officially by the territorial grand jury.

The churches and religious duties have a distinct duty of their own, a field of their own. It is to awaken their congregations, their members, all those they can influence, to the necessity for united community action. Their path of duty is as straight and as unmistakable as that of the press. It would be inconceivable that in any great moral movement the organized moral forces of the city should take no part. And it is in recognition of this opportunity for moral leadership in placing certain facts before their congregations that pastors and other church men have called the meeting at the Library of Hawaii for next Monday night.

Some citizens may think that since the redlight district of Iwilei has been closed, the campaign against vice is over. That, unfortunately, is not the case. The grand jury's report estimated that sixty per cent of the commercial vice in the city operated outside of Iwilei. To fight this spreading cancer of evil, there must be put before a now-apathetic public facts which are unpleasant facts but which are also facts that cannot and must not be blinked.

A definite campaign to secure the passage by the next legislature of the "abatement by injunction" act is contemplated. This act is the most effective yet devised in American law to combat commercial vice, particularly vice which seeks to spread secretly through the city. Several states, recognizing its effectiveness, have passed suitable bills. Twice such bills have been presented before the legislature of Hawaii and twice the bills have failed. The reason has been that there was not sufficient public support to secure their passage. But if this community through the eyes of 20,000 fathers and mothers will look squarely in the face the ugly facts of commercial vice, the bill will go before the next legislature with a force sufficient to pass it.

That is why a campaign of public education is needed now. The situation is not a pretty one, but it is an inevitable one. Honolulu has tried to ignore commercial vice and failed; silenced conscience with the plausible theory that it had regulated vice, when regulation had failed. The continuance of this attitude has become impossible.

Honolulu has no right to blame the existence of Iwilei or the presence of commercial vice in any part of the city, on the soldier. The territorial grand jury's report said:

Honest opinion is held by many citizens that Iwilei is necessary on account of the presence of a large number of troops. Officers of the U. S. army, who have appeared before this grand jury, have not, by suggestion or implication, approved of its existence.

For vice conditions here, each of us must share a portion of responsibility. Community apathy has allowed them, as well as much honest difference of opinion on the necessity for such conditions.

LOCAL ENGINEER WEDS AT FRISCO

According to a message received today by Robert Shingle from San Francisco, J. Jorgensen, well known engineer who has constructed many of the irrigation systems on the various islands, was married in that city Wednesday to Mrs. Hyla Coonley, who, until her recent trip to San Francisco, was cashier and stenographer to A. W. Carter, 605 Stangenwald building.

For several weeks Jorgensen has been in Utah, where he went for the Montana-Bingham Copper Company. It would appear that on his return to San Francisco he met Mrs. Coonley, who left here about two weeks ago, and then got married. The message did not state when they would return to Honolulu.

BENEFIT FOR BELGIAN SOLDIERS

802 Spencer Avenue, Honolulu, Dec. 12, 1916.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin: Sir: It is proposed to hold next Sunday a sale of postcards and Belgian souvenirs for the benefit of the schools for reeducation of Belgian soldiers who are so desperately maimed on the battle fields as to be unfitted to continue their former occupation after the war. These schools are badly in need of funds and the proceeds of this collection (less a small sum destined for the fund known as "the Belgian soldiers' Christmas") will be used for this purpose.

Would you be kind enough to speak in your paper of the sufferings of Belgium and ask your readers to contribute to the fund?

Very gratefully yours,

DOROTHEA EMERSON.

FROM A POLICE OFFICER

Honolulu, T. H., Dec. 14, 1916.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin: Dear Sir: Rev. Charles McVey, who is a man of habits in judging other people like himself, who, in my opinion, do not tell the truth when truth should be told.

I was sent with a John Doe and Mary Doe warrant to Kailhi, where Rev. Mr. McVey would show me or identify the parties he wished to have arrested. When I arrived his wife was at home and I asked her where her husband was. She told me he was attending a meeting downtown. She then telephoned to him informing him that a police officer was waiting for him. When he reached the house I was sitting in a chair, designated by his wife for me to rest in until he arrived.

I do not know whether I was too insignificant, being a police officer, for him to recognize, for he never even said "Good afternoon," as a man meets a man. Is that because he is a reverend and a man of truth?

He found me resting, but not smoking, for I have never smoked in my life. For God instituted one place for us to smoke who tell lies, and that is Hell.

I told Mr. McVey what my orders were, and that he was to point out the man and woman to me. He asked: "How many can you arrest on that warrant?" I said one man and one woman. Then he grabbed a cane (that would tell an ox), and said: "Come along." When we arrived at the place, seeing a man on the porch, he said, "There's one of them."

To save the reverend gentleman any cause for a damage suit, I asked the native whether or not he was there the evening before. The native said he was not there the evening before as he was working. Another man then opened the door and came out on the porch. Immediately on seeing this man Rev. Mr. McVey said: "That is the man." This man then acknowledged he was the man wanted.

Rev. Mr. McVey then pointed to a woman who was lying on the grass with a baby close by. I asked her if she was there the evening before. She said: "I do not belong here. I am visiting." Then I questioned Rev. Mr. McVey as to whether or not he could identify the woman. He said that he could, but that she was not there, but that these women were some of the bunch.

I then said to Rev. Mr. McVey: "You cannot arrest anyone you imagine was there on a charge like this, for you would have to prove it." Then I said: "When you see the woman, telephone to the police station and we will come and get her."

JOHN LYON, a prominent New York politician, arrived on the Lurline to see the islands.

JOHN A. BALCH of the Mutual Telephone Company returned in the Lurline from a vacation in the states.

EBERT J. BOTTS, local attorney, has gone to San Francisco for a flying trip. He expects to return in the next Matsunika.

MRS. H. STUART JOHNSON, wife of the loan fund commission's engineer, has returned to Honolulu from a visit to the mainland.

DICK HOLLINGWORTH of Phoenix, Ariz., and M. Catuna of New York city arrived in the Lurline. They are at the Young hotel and have show rooms in the Hawaiian hotel.

TWIGG SMITH, of whose paintings a current exhibition is given at the University Club, addressed the students of the College of Hawaii at their Monday assembly on the subject of modern art.

MARK J. LEWIS and Mrs. Lewis, who was Miss Margaret McDermott, arrived in the Lurline on their honeymoon to Honolulu, where the groom is foreman of the American Can Company's local plant. The couple were married November 15 in San Jose, Cal., where Miss McDermott lived. A jolly, enthusiastic crowd was at the pier here to welcome them.

EXPOSITION HEAD SENDS GREETINGS

Governor Pinkham today received from Charles C. Moore, president of the San Francisco Exposition, an anniversary greeting under date of December 4, the closing day of the big fair in 1915. The president writes as follows:

December 4, 1916.

Hon. LUDWIG E. PINKHAM, Governor of Hawaii, Honolulu, Hawaii.

My Dear Governor Pinkham: On this, the anniversary of our closing day, our thoughts turn to you in recollection of your untiring interest in the exposition and of the happy occasion of your official visit to it. I send you on behalf of the exposition board, its greetings and renewed congratulations on the successful participation of Hawaii.

The work of the members of your commission deserves the highest credit and it is a pleasure to testify to their ability and their devotion that made Hawaii's part in the exposition so noteworthy.

The interest we were assured you took in the exposition's success was emphasized by your official visit here and while the exposition's work is done, its memories remain and this message of good will is to remind you that here in San Francisco we have not, nor shall we, forget you. With warmest regards, I am,

Very truly yours,
CHARLES C. MOORE,
President.

EXTENSION DEPARTMENT OF Y. W. C. A. ARRANGES BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

Miss Kathryn Williams, who has recently taken up extension work at the Y. W. C. A., has outlined a schedule of games for the various clubs affiliated with the local association. The first game will be held this afternoon when the Camp Fire Girls' Club of Kailhi meets the Maile Club of Kaimuki at the Y. W. C. A.

Altogether there will be five clubs entered in the tournament which will feature a number of star players. The various clubs which have entered the competition are: Maile, Kakaako, Kaula, Camp Fire and Kailhi.

Tomorrow afternoon the Kakaako and Kaula clubs will meet, in what is expected to be one of the feature matches of the year. The Kailhi Club will play the winner of this match. Plans have been made for holding Christmas parties for the various clubs of the extension department.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

CARL B. ANDREWS, chief engineer, Oahu Railway: There is lots of work going on all along the line at present that makes for a better road and system but no one thing of sufficient importance to get excited about.

T. B. THIELE, manager of the Young and Hawaiian hotels: I have found that no matter how good a set of entertainers we give the public on the roof garden after four or five weeks a change of program is welcomed. One of such changes and one of the best of the year arrives in the Wilhelmina next week.

FIRE CHIEF THURSTON: Attention was called at the supervisors' meeting to the fact that no right of way is given ambulances. For that matter, the streets are not cleared here for the fire department when it goes out on a call. People, in fact, get in front of the engines, crowding the street more than usual. The traffic should be cleared off if the city hopes to keep free of accidents when the big fire trucks rush out on an emergency job.

smoking, for it is filthy, even such beautiful animals as the skunk, let alone a pig, would not indulge in this vile weed.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN HILLS,

Police Officer.

P. S.—The above is in answer to a statement purported to have been made by Rev. Mr. McVey as reported in the Pacific Commercial Advertiser of this date, and I would be deeply grateful to you if you will publish the foregoing in your valuable paper.

GIRLS AT PALAMA SECURE NEW HOME

The girls of Palama Settlement now have a clubroom all of their own, thanks to their new director, Miss Florence Lowe, and Wednesday evening it was opened to their friends by an informal reception, although it has been in use for some time.

The rooms are in what was formerly known as the playground pavilion. It has been placed at the extreme end of the playground, where the Palama girls now have a little house and home all of their own. The sides were walled up to offer a protection from the wind and rain and the interior made snug and cozy with books, couches, cooking stove, piano, victrola, etc.

Miss Lowe says the Palama girls started in the basement of the main building, later went to the cottage now occupied by Humphries, thence on to the gymnasium and have been generally buffeted about the settlement until finally they had no headquarters. The latest is the best, she thinks.

The L. P. L. girls were in charge last night, the Sunshine Club will be on hand to meet their friends Saturday night and next Wednesday the Kokua girls will hold forth.

PLACE ORDERS NOW FOR YOUR XMAS CANDIES

The S. S. Wilhelm, next Tuesday, will bring an enormous stock of fresh and delicious Orange Blossom Chocolates and candies to the Honolulu Drug Company for their Christmas trade.

Remember! Last Christmas Eve there was not a single box of this famous candy left for sale in town, and although this large stock will arrive Tuesday, yet we do not believe there will be enough to supply the increased demand this Christmas. We frankly advise that you place your order in advance and have the same reserved for you until you want it and save yourself the disappointment later. Call or phone the Honolulu Drug Company today, Fort street, near King. Phone 2364.—Adv.

WORK STARTS ON THREE DIORAMAS

Preparations are well under way for the turning of the long one-story building in the rear of the Stangenwald building into a studio. Another such studio is to be in a building on Pauahi and a third over Castle & Cooke. In these three studios three dioramas are to be painted and assembled. This is being done under direction of the Pan-Pacific Club and the dioramas will be shown during the Carnival. Those to be prepared here will be the Paik, Waimoa beach and Honolulu, and they are three of the "Seven Modern Wonders of the World." Each is 31 by 19 feet.

In a building to be erected at Bishop square there will be housed these seven dioramas, many other paintings of Hawaii and a large collection of Hawaii art and curios. The building is to be of permanent construction, 200 feet in length by 40 in width and built in 20 feet sections which can readily be moved. Later it will be used to house a permanent Hawaii museum for the Pan-Pacific Club.

PALAMA IS READY FOR CHRISTMAS

"Christmas in Many Lands" is the title and idea of a little entertainment which the Palama Sunday school children will give in the way of a Christmas celebration at 6:30 Friday evening, December 22.

The idea of the affair will be "Helping Out Santa Claus" and children from various nations will demonstrate how old Kris Kringle acts in their country. The arrangements will be in charge of Miss Florence Lowe, girls work director.

There will be a Christmas tree covered with gifts and sweets. Ice cream will also be served.

Following the Sunday School entertainment, which is for the members and their friends, a community Christmas tree, weather permitting, will be offered on the playground. Christmas carols will be sung and the Hawaiian band is to play.

HERE IN INTEREST OF THE BAHAI MOVEMENT

Five times in the last eight years a certain well known traveler has made a visit to Honolulu and here he is again! So well have the impressions of former stop-overs impressed him that this time he will be here for several months. Heretofore his visits were quite brief.

This man is Mason Remey of Washington, D. C., who has traveled the world in the interests of the great "Brotherhood of Man" movement which has gained such a foothold in many countries in the last few years. It is called the Bahai movement and is known to many in Honolulu, where meetings are conducted so far only in private residences.

With Remey comes George Latimer of Portland, Oregon, who has been here twice before. The couple are cozily encamped in the bungalow which Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gould occupied on the Coney estate while visiting here.

Remey said this morning that he had noted considerable growth in Honolulu in the past few years and expressed a hope that the characteristics of quaint Hawaii would not be lost in the rapid advance of mainland ideas and customs. He said such places as the Lanikaia was a step in the right direction.

JAPANESE WILL OFFER GREAT LANTERN PARADE

About 45 Japanese residents attended a meeting of the Japanese Carnival committee last night at the Central Japanese Institute on Nuuanu street and decided to participate in the Carnival and give a lantern parade. Six new committeemen were elected to arrange such parade. Y. Tasaka of the Japanese sake brewery, T. Onodera, secretary of the Japanese Chamber of Commerce, R. Murakami of the Hawaii Choho, K. Wada, R. Shimizu and K. Hagi comprise the committee. Y. Takakuwa, present president of the Japanese Chamber of Commerce, was chosen as Japanese representative to the Carnival committee.

CAPTAIN TOGO IS SHINYO MASTER

With several dozen Japanese and Caucasian notables aboard, the T. K. K. liner Shinyo Maru arrived this morning from San Francisco, docking at 8:30 at Pier 7.

Captain S. Togo greeted his many Honolulu friends again when the liner docked. He has been port captain of the T. K. K. at San Francisco since April and is commanding the Shinyo this voyage during Captain W. C. T. S. Piller's vacation with his family in Southern California.

There is a new surgeon aboard today, too. He is Dr. F. Bass, who is taking the place of Dr. E. L. Wemple on voyage. "Doc" Wemple is enjoying a vacation ashore on voyage, having applied for it several months ago. Dr. Bass will be remembered as having been surgeon of the Chiyu Maru, on one voyage to the Manoa, and formerly surgeon of the U. S. S. McArthur.

"Jack" Bourne is just as polite and urbane a person as ever. He reported the Shinyo's passenger list to include eight first cabin stopovers for Honolulu and 147 through. Second cabin passengers number 81, and stowage 541. Total number aboard when Captain J. R. Macaulay, territorial pilot, brought her alongside Pier 7 this morning was 785, in all classes.

The Shinyo steams at 5 o'clock this afternoon for Yokohama, taking the next mail for Japan and China. A fine voyage from San Francisco, considering the time of year, was reported by the Shinyo's officers. The big turbine was off port at 6:42 this morning. She left San Francisco at 3:56 p. m. last Friday.

LURLINE HAD 66 PLATES DAMAGED

"She's a better vessel now than she was before she struck the coral off Makapuu point," remarked Captain Arthur L. Soule, the new commander of the Matson steamer Lurline, today, discussing repairs made to the steamer's hull in San Francisco at the Hunter's Point drydock.

Captain advice says a total of 66 plates were removed from the Lurline's hull. Of that number 57 were rerolled and put back, and nine entirely new plates put on to replace plates so badly damaged by the liner's grounding on the reef October 18 that they were past repair.

The Lurline's second assistant engineer, Franklin Macfie, contracted pneumonia at the drydock while assisting in the repair work, which was rushed day and night. He died Saturday, December 2. At his funeral the officers and crew of the Lurline sent a lovely floral piece, a propeller made of flowers, with one blade missing, denoting the passing of the well liked young engineer. He leaves relatives on Kauai.

Repairs to the Lurline were completed Sunday morning, December 3, when she was floated off the dock and began loading cargo. She left San Francisco December 6 at 5:30 p. m. Pursuer George F. Roberts reported a nice list of passengers, including a number of Honoluluans. C. J. Lombardo, the Lurline's popular chief steward, is on the job just as much as ever. "Lootie" Serrao is chief officer, as before. William McLennan is chief engineer. The Lurline brought only a handful of mail, 28 bags.

The Matson steamer Lurline will leave for Kahului some time Friday evening.

PROMOTIONS OF MATSON LINE'S CAPTAINS SURE

Dismissal of Captain Smith Upsets Seniority; Maui's Launching Dec. 23

Nine days from today, on December 23, the new Matson liner Maui, which will duplicate the Matsonia in size, will be launched in San Francisco. She will be finished ready to leave on her maiden voyage to Honolulu last week in March.

According to officers of the Matsonia before she steamed for San Francisco Wednesday morning, the Maui's commander is certain to be Capt. Peter Johnson of the Wilhelmnia, as previously announced. A new angle to the situation is that Capt. Johnson will undoubtedly take his other officers and crew complete from the Wilhelmnia to man his new command.

Because of the dismissal of Capt. Troel K. Smith from the Matson line's employ, due to the Lurline accident, the seniority of promotion consequent on the new liner's completion, has been rearranged.

It is now considered likely that Capt. F. M. Edwards of the Manoa will get the Wilhelmnia; Capt. A. L. Soule of the Lurline will be given the Manoa in place of Capt. Smith, who was to get her; Capt. William M. Rind of the Hyades will probably get the Lurline; and a new captaincy will be created to fill the Hyades vacancy.

Capt. Charles Peterson will continue to command the Matsonia and Capt. J. W. Jory will remain skipper of the Hilonian.

Capt. William Matson, president of the Matson Navigation Company, is coming to Honolulu on the Maui's maiden voyage, having said so last summer to the Star-Bulletin's ship news reporter, who interviewed him in San Francisco last June.

SHINYO CROWDED WITH NOTABLES

Here is Jack Bourne's "Who Who" of notables aboard the Shinyo Maru today:

Marquis and Marchioness Mayeda. Miss Laura Willoughby, daughter of Prof. W. W. Willoughby, legal adviser to the Chinese government; residence, Peking.

J. J. Vosburgh, president Farmers and Merchants National Bank, Los Angeles; J. S. Killian, vice-president of the same bank.

Mrs. J. J. Kerrigan, wife of Secretary Kerrigan of the American legation, Petrograd.

Mrs. Alexander McCracken, prominent San Francisco society woman, widow of the late Admiral McCracken, U. S. N.

Maj. W. H. Shutan, Philippine Constabulary.

Capt. Y. Yamamoto, Japanese navy. Lieut. Col. S. Hayashi, Japanese army officer.

D. S. Hirsch, New York capitalist. George Flood, prominent San Francisco shipping man.

Falling asleep while standing up alongside Pier 14, a Hawaiian stevedore dropped overboard Tuesday and fell with a splash into the water, according to Harbor Officer Santos. The man was thrown a rope and hauled himself out fully awakened.

MORE XMAS MAIL ON SHINYO MARU

More Christmas mail arrived this morning on the T. K. K. liner Shinyo, which brought 584 sacks for Honolulu and 317 for Manila, the latter despatch being put aboard the transport Sheridan quickly this morning, the transport leaving at noon.

The Shinyo's accumulation was only two days, as she left San Francisco last Friday, December 8, two days after the Lurline had departed for Honolulu. Total mail landed here by the T. K. K. turbine this morning was 901 bags, including the despatch for transshipment.

The local postoffice worked all Tuesday night sorting the mail for the Matsonia. Yesterday morning there was the usual last minute rush, and although the mails were to have closed on the dot of 8:30, the postoffice held them open five minutes longer. Even at that a number of eleventh hour Honoluluans came rushing up about 8:45 and expected to get their presents away on the Matsonia, although they had been advised for a week before that 8:30 was the closing time. The postoffice sent away every parcel mailed before 8:30. The total despatched by the Matsonia was 698 bags, a record for a similar period, four and a half days having elapsed since the previous mail left on the Great Northern last Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

DANISH FREIGHTER IS VISITOR FOR BUNKERS

Taking 2,111,330 gallons of case oil to Hongkong from New York, the Danish steamer Kina, Capt. S. Nielsen, called here this morning from the canal for bunker coal, 600 tons. She docked at Pier 16 and will leave late this afternoon or tomorrow for the China port.

The Kina bears on her sides painted in large letters the word "Danish" and other signs indicating she is a neutral vessel. The big freighter left New York November 15 and sailed from Colon November 26, reporting an uneventful voyage.

SHERIDAN TAKING RUN OF SHERMAN ONE TRIP

At noon today the U. S. army transport Sheridan, Capt. William A. Carleton, resumed her voyage to Guam and Manila, leaving from Pier 6.

The Sheridan is taking the Sherman's run for one round trip, while the latter transport is laid up at San Francisco for annual overhauling, cleaning and painting.

The army keeps three of its four transports in service continuously, so that one is laid up all the time, in reserve or receiving overhauling.

STEAMER CALIFORNIA BRINGS HUGE AMOUNT

According to the latest issue of the San Francisco Guide to reach this port, in Wednesday's mail, the American steamer California has been sold by J. A. Hooper of San Francisco for a tremendous price, $1,500,000, to Eastern parties.

As the California's net tonnage is 4896, she has thus brought over $306 a ton. The California is not a new steamer, having been built in 1885 at Sunderland, Eng. She is 455 feet long, 58 broad, 31.9 deep, 7574 net and 4826 gross tons, 40 men in her crew, 2800 horsepower. Her home port has been San Francisco.

Next mail from Sydney and Pago-Pago is due to arrive Tuesday morning in the Oceanic liner Ventura.

SEAMEN'S INSTITUTE TO GIVE CHRISTMAS DINNER FOR SAILORS

Christmas will be a real one this year for sailors of the different ships in port at that time, according to Superintendent Charles F. Mant of the Seamen's Institute.

The superintendent said today that invitations to a Christmas dinner to be followed by a Christmas tree with presents for every man, will be sent out this week by the institute.

The dinner will be at 6:30 p. m. Saturday, December 23. There will be turkey, cranberries and other fixings, with real plum pudding to finish up with. The Christmas tree will be illuminated with tiny colored electric lights and on it will hang presents for every man. The Harbor Lights Guild is in charge of the dinner. An entertainment program and social will follow the presentation of gifts to the men.

HARBOR NOTES

Some time this afternoon the Associated Oil tanker Frank H. Buck will leave for San Francisco.

This afternoon the yacht Hawaii and the yawl Mollie were due to go on the Inter-Island drydock for cleaning.

FIRST REPULSE OF RUMANIANS IS CAMPAIGN TO LIVE IN HISTORY

Correspondent Gives Graphic Description of Skillfully Managed Entente Campaign and Shows How Lack of Initiative By Rumania Leaders Resulted in Great Disaster

[By Associated Press]
HERMANNSTADT, Transylvania.—One of the battles of the present war which future generations will study is the one which led to the complete rout and disorganization of the First Rumanian army southeast of this city. For several reasons the battle in question is by far the most interesting of the European war. It caused the retreat of the Rumanian forces which had invaded Transylvania and called for a flank maneuver whose success was possible only with an enemy who took too much for granted.

Entente Face Hard Problem
When Gen. Falkenhayn's forces reached the country north of Hermannstadt, the general military situation was not favorable for the Central Powers' troops. The invading Rumanian troops had occupied good positions and had the advantage of numerical superiority. Kronstadt and the country north of that city had been occupied. The entire valley of the Alt was in the hands of the Rumanians, and the Germans and Austro-Hungarian troops depended for transportation upon a few single-tracked railroads of little strategic value.

Gradually contact was established with the enemy by advancing the Central Powers' right wing. The Vulkan Pass was taken. This done, the Teutonic army passed slowly forward along the Transylvanian Alps, driving the Rumanians before them. The intention of the Rumanian general staff to push as far west as the Theiss river was wrecked.

Rumanians Show Lack of Initiative
Hermannstadt had not been occupied by the Rumanians, a failure due to lack of initiative. The city could have been taken without much fighting, but already the Rumanians had been given several good examples of Falkenhayn's strategy. The Rumanians lay south of the city in a half circle, refrained from offensive maneuvers, and so gave Falkenhayn the very opportunity he needed to set his great drive in motion. Slowly the imperial troops were advanced towards the hills north of the Alt, while against the Ghost forest in the east Central cavalry was thrown to protect the left flank.

This was the situation on September 23. The Rumanians had the Red Tower Pass in their rear and a frontal attack might do no more than throw them upon this. It was necessary to close that pass. This could be done only by sending troops through the mountains west of the pass, a very difficult maneuver since the mountains have no roads of any sort. Artillery and a supply train were out of the question.

Flank Movement Attempted
Gen. Falkenhayn decided to attempt the flank movement, with some German alpine troops, of which Bavarian mountaineers were but a small contingent, many of the "alpine" soldiers being in reality natives of Mecklenburg, men who in all their lives had never climbed a mountain. Three battalions set out. The men carried food for four days and their regular issue of ammunition. Reserve supplies were carried on a hastily organized pack train. Through the foothills of the mountains a road could be used, then paths were followed and finally the crests near the Rumanian border had to be gained through dense forests and across boulder fields.

An odd feature of the maneuver was that the contact established with the Rumanian border guards did not result in the commander of the First Rumanian army taking some precautionary measure for the protection of his flank. The German flankers had daily skirmishes with the Rumanian border troops, but never met serious opposition.

The flanking force was to reach the Red Tower Pass on September 26, on which day a frontal attack was to be made from the direction of Hermannstadt. Despite great hardships and the abandonment at the village of Dus of the pack train, the Germans succeeded in reaching the heights above the Alt defile on the morning of the 26th. Some engineers descended into the gorge and blew up the road at two points where reinforcements made this feasible. Even then the Rumanians seem to have felt absolutely secure. The fact that in their rear an enemy was destroying their one direct line of communication does not seem to have troubled them much. Probably the thought that the road through the Alt Valley and to Kronstadt was open may be responsible for this.

Original Program Postponed
The original program had called for a general attack at 7 in the morning of the 26th. The flank troops were telephonic connection with headquarters, and so learned that the attack from Hermannstadt had been postponed. The situation of the alpine troops was far from reassuring. A movement on their own flank might be undertaken by the Rumanians at any hour. The 26th passed. The flanking body had been divided into three columns, as the pass was approached. The one advancing close to the Rumanian border reached the pass close to Rul Vatului, the Rumanian border point. The central column neared the gorge three miles above, while the third body squeezed itself through between the Rumanians at Hermannstadt and the central range. September 27 passed without the frontal attack occurring. It was learned, however, that the Rumanians were taking their artillery through the defile. On the following day the flanking bodies began to be pressed by the Rumanians. Reinforcements could not be brought into the mountains at short notice, so that the prospects seemed not the brightest.

On September 29 a strong artillery fire in the north announced that the frontal attack was being made. The alpine troops advanced to positions directly overlooking the road in the defile. Already the road was filled with the van of the retreating Rumanians. It was caught in the machine gun and rifle fire of the Germans at two points, one south, the other immediately north of the village of Veres Torony. The slaughter was terrific, as the Associated Press correspondent is able to testify from a visit to the spot. In a few minutes the narrow road was filled with dead men and animals.

From Bolca the Rumanian retreat was pressing those on the road, who on their right had unscalable precipices upon which perched the enemy, and on their left another precipice and a deep river. Men, animals and wagons plunged through the road's guard rail into the surging torrent below, never to come to the surface again. Their bodies were still resting on the rock ledges and sand banks when the correspondents went over the ground.

At Veres Torony there is a stone bridge across a mountain stream emptying into the Alt from the west. A German machine gun platoon reached a height nearby and took the bridge under fire. Soon the space between the ramparts was filled with dead and wounded men and animals. Death reaped its fullest harvest here. Those who were not cut down by the hail of bullets plunged over the bridge into the water, where wounded men and animals formed a writhing mass.

Army Becomes Fleeing Mob
The cry came, "Sauve qui peut." An entire army, or that part of it which had been driven into the gorge, melted of a sudden into a panicky, fleeing mob. Again the river claimed hundreds of victims, and those lucky enough to reach the other side fell under the machine gun fire of the Germans.

The pressure forcing the Rumanians into Red Tower Pass was exerted by the frontal attack which Falkenhayn engineered from the north. Had it been possible to close the Alt Valley east of Hermannstadt, the entire First Rumanian army would have been annihilated. As it was, this route was in part open, though to close it had been intended and had been the cause of the delay of the frontal attack.

With every stick abandoned, the remainder of the First army dispersed in the foothills of the Fogarus mountains and later reached Kronstadt.

At Bolca the remnants of the Rumanian train were seen by the Associated Press correspondent. The imperialists had taken away whatever had value. Over a square mile of meadow land and fields the wreckage of the train spread. Imperial artillery had wrought havoc with the column. The fragments of thousands of army vehicles, farm wagons and carts told an awful tale of the surprise Falkenhayn had worked on the Rumanians. Out of the wreckage loomed high the kitchen wagon of the commander of the 13th Rumanian Division. On the ground lay tons of Rumanian general staff maps, showing Hungary as far as Budapest and Silesia. Bundles of Rumanian flags, intended to proclaim Rumanian sovereignty, lay scattered about. As it was, this route was the stationery which Bucharest had prepared in advance for the civil administration of the annexed territory. No dream was ever more rudely shattered.

With the Red Tower Pass taken, the imperial troops advanced east through the Alt Valley and set out to clear the Ghost forest of the Second Rumanian army, which was thrown upon Kronstadt. Fogarus was taken. The Rumanians were forced beyond Rul Vatului, or better, the reinforcements brought into the pass from the south were halted there by the Germans. Today the Rumanians hold in the Red Tower Pass a line of positions having the Pleasa mountain as its main point of support.

Just Talks With Scouts

Conducted by Mabel Putnam Chilson

Aloha, Mr. Guild! We're glad indeed to have you back again. Here's maulie for your neck lei and plumaria for your hat.

Well, boys, what do you think? The king of Italy has two silver stars on his collar. Do you know what that signifies? It happened one day recently that a young cub of a certain wolf pack saw the king's picture on the movie screen and thought he recognized those two stars as the very same that a cub sometimes gets. The youngster whispered, "He's got his two stars," and the little hands clapped with cubbish joy.

Can you see a green park along the western coast of Ireland, way across the Pacific, and across the United States and then across the Atlantic ocean? It's a long, long way to county Mayo, but over there a full troop of Irish scouts recently held their annual sports. Somebody who saw them said, "Their white legs twinkled over the grass in race after race." Then, although the rain was coming down, they were still sporty enough to have a football match.

But the very gamiest thing about this troop is that it has both Protestants and Roman Catholics in its ranks. For awhile there was some pretty bitter feeling, as over there a fellow has to swallow an awful lump in his throat if the next boy in line believes just opposite his own religion. It's hard, it certainly is; but after all, isn't the same spirit inside of us all, telling us the difference between right and wrong?

True to her word given the editor quite lately, Madame Pele did not send us any hot mud through Diamond Head last week. If she had, it would have been pau with Troop B, who hung their clothes on a hickory limb and did go near the water, both Saturday and Sunday. A few of them got quite wet, but otherwise no harm was done.

According to Scribe Mortensen of Troop V, Scoutmaster Barry says that the bicycle rollers will be ready on Friday of this week; so, any boys willing to compete against this troop in racing are requested to notify Mr. Barry. The usual weekly meeting of the troop will be held on Friday evening, and all scouts are asked to appear.

It is to be regretted that such a valuable man as Dr. Hobdy should feel obliged to resign as health examiner for the boys; but rumors are afloat carrying the names of certain favorites for the office.

Scribe Cooper of Troop 20 sends in word that many boys were absent from the last meeting on account of the rain. Nevertheless a vocal club was formed, also a musical quartet (it is not stated whether instrumental or otherwise). Part of the evening was spent in yelling the yells and singing songs to the absent ones. Twenty-three names were forwarded to national headquarters for registration, and examinations were held for tenderfoot, second class and first class scouts.

No drill was held because there was a great deal of moisture, and on looking up into the sky the boys recognized a certain old scout named Pluvius (or something like that), who was having a grand time emptying a waterering-pot on to their heads below, just by way of a joke. He laughed fit to kill, every time the scouts glanced up, but disappeared wikkiki, being afraid of stones.

Assistant Scribe Horner of Troop IV says at their meeting last week there were eight absent, although 24 were present. Montgomery Clark, Herbert Currie and Colin Lennox got their applications for membership in the troop.

Those in the first aid squad are Neely, Gray, Cassidee and Chillingworth. Those who have recently passed tests are, Clark, tenderfoot, also compass and felling tree (second class); Holt, compass (second class), and Forbes, for enlisting scout, for first class.

Fook Ching of Troop II sends in such a pretty typewritten page that we give it in his own words:

"We did not have many present at our last meeting on Wednesday, but those who came had a fine time. There were 12 scouts and three officials present. Most of the evening was spent in taking tests. Kula Ahuna passed his tenderfoot test and took the oath. Sam Apana takes his tenderfoot test next week. Three first-class scouts from this troop are taking their swimming merit badge test this week."

"The last half hour of our meeting was spent in boxing practise and some fine bouts took place."

"The troop agreed to accept Troop V's challenge to play indoor baseball. Troop II does not boast of either what they are going to do or what they have done, but they feel sure they can give Troop V an interesting game."

"FOOK CHING, Scribe."

See what the little Midget of Kohala, Hawaii, has to say:

"Soichi Nakamura, patrol leader of Troop IV, Makapala Boy Scouts, writes that he has interested the boys at Lahainaluna and a Boy Scout troop of 32—four full patrols—has been organized. They want Boy Scout material. Soichi and Kaku Oshimo are hiking along the right trail."

And boys! Read this splendid report from Maui:

"Boy Scouts are not new on Maui, but Maui people today have a far better conception of what the Boy Scout really stands for than they had 10 days ago. This on account of the part the boys played at the Maui County Fair."

"In truth, the fair would not have been what it was without the diligent work of the members of Troop III (Wailuku) and Troops V and VI (Lahaina). Director Cameron admitted this when he declared that without the aid of the scouts it would have been absolutely impossible to have fed the 2000 school children on short notice as was done on the second day of the fair. On this occasion the boys were called upon without previous notice to line up and serve the small army of children of all ages, and they did it as though the stunt was an everyday job."

"Primarily the work for which the boys were engaged was to guard the exhibits, their schedule calling for two hours' duty per day from each scout. But they were constantly being called upon for other things. Nor did they receive any compensation for their services, such being against the scout rules. It is stated that an attempt was made to break down this rule by a number of persons who re-

BOY SCOUTS WILL STUDY WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY NEXT

[By Associated Press]
CHEYENNE, Wyo.—Boy Scouts of this city are to learn telegraphy, if present plans are carried out. It is intended that two wireless outfits shall be purchased, one to be installed on Roundtop, an eminence near, and to be stationary; the other to be portable and to be taken with the scouts on their regular hikes.

The officers of the company expect to teach the boys how to use the sets and the plan is for messages to be exchanged between stationary and portable stations on all "hikes." It is hoped to exchange messages between the permanent station and some semi-permanent location in Cheyenne frequently.

PROBE BOY SCOUTS FOR LABOR COMBAT

BOSTON, Mass.—A committee to investigate the Boy Scouts of America movement has been appointed by the Central Labor Union. The action was the result of published reports that Charles C. Jackson, president of the Boston Council of Boy Scouts, had advocated training boys to combat labor politically.

Mr. Jackson assured the Central Labor Union that he was misquoted. James E. West of New York, chief scout executive of the National Council, joined in denials that the Boy Scouts' movement was opposed to organized labor.

peatedly offered the boys pay for small services, but so far as is known not one boy forgot his obligation. "A disastrous fire was perhaps averted through the vigilance of the scouts, who discovered and extinguished a blaze in one of the booths caused by an overheated gas engine, about 10 o'clock one evening."

"During the entire three days of the fair the boys of the two Lahaina troops camped in tents on the grounds, and true to the scout code to 'never leave a trail,' broke camp at the close of the time and left their campsite absolutely clean."

"This is the first time that the West Maui scouts have had an opportunity to serve in a public capacity and they acquitted themselves most creditably."

LOWER HOUSE OF CONGRESS SPLIT BETWEEN G. O. P. AND DEMOCRACY

Margin So Close Neither Side Can Afford to Lose a Member Now

By C. S. ALBERT
(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 1.—Three weeks ago the national elections were held. A long, dreary period of doubt and dismay for both the great parties followed. Slowly form and substance came out of chaos. Eventually the reelection of President Wilson was graciously conceded by Chairman Wilcox. Candidate Hughes sent in a tardy message of congratulations.

This brief but welcome wire released a flood of those received from persons of larger faith or more resignation. Included in the batch given out at the White House was a neat, little cablegram from Honolulu. It conveyed the felicitations of Lincoln L. McCandless, John H. Wilson and W. A. Bryan. It was the only communication from the territory made public. If others came undersea they were placed in mothballs for future use.

A mass of election bets, estimated at more than $10,000,000, were loosened up by the sending of Mr. Hughes' telegram of congratulations. These created combined joy and sorrow through the payment.

The senate admittedly remained strongly Democratic. The Republicans gained seven members of that body, but in doing so lost five. Hence, the Democratic majority of a dozen is only cut to 10.

The house of representatives went up in the air and has not yet returned to solid earth. Both sides claim a majority of one or two. In these assertions the Republicans seem to have the best of the controversy. The five independents seem destined to come in mighty handy a year from this time, when the work of organizing the house is taken up. These men are being assiduously courted by both factions. Each contends that with their assistance they will be able to organize and control the lower branch of Congress.

BOY SCOUTS AND THEIR PRINCIPLES

These are the character-development principles back of all the work of the Boy Scouts of America. The Boy Scout Oath

On my honor I will do my best:
1. To do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the scout law;
2. To help other people at all times;

3. To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.

The Scout Law

1. A Scout is Trustworthy. A scout's honor is to be trusted. If he were to violate his honor by telling a lie or by cheating or by not doing exactly a given task when trusted on his honor, he may be directed to hand over his scout badge.

2. A Scout is Loyal. He is loyal to all to whom loyalty is due: his scout leader, his home and parents and country.

3. A Scout is Helpful. He must be prepared at any time to save life, help injured persons and share the home duties. He must do at least one good turn to somebody every day.

4. A Scout is Friendly. He is a friend to all and a brother to every other scout.

5. A Scout is Courteous. He is polite to all, especially to women, children, old people and the weak and helpless. He must not take pay for being helpful or courteous.

6. A Scout is Kind. He is a friend to animals. He will not kill nor hurt any living creature needlessly, but will strive to protect and save all harmless life.

7. A Scout is Obedient. He obeys his parents, scoutmaster, patrol leader and all other duly constituted authorities.

8. A Scout is Cheerful. He smiles whenever he can. His obedience to orders is prompt and cheerful. He never shrinks nor grumbles at hardships.

9. A Scout is Thrifty. He does not wantonly destroy property, he works faithfully, wastes nothing and makes the best use of his opportunities. He saves his money so that he may pay his own way, be generous to those in need, and helpful to worthy objects. He may work for pay but must not receive tips for courtesies or good turns.

10. A Scout is Brave. He has the courage to face danger in spite of fear and has to stand up for the right against the coaxings of friends or the fears or threats of enemies, and defeat does not down him.

11. A Scout is Clean. He keeps clean in body and thought, stands for clean speech, clean sport, clean habits and travels with a clean crowd.

12. A Scout is Reverent.

Meeting was called to order at 7:15, at Japanese Y. M. C. A. First thing we did was to elect some officers and these are the following officers: Shotaaro Yoda, scoutmaster, patrol leader, Toshiyuki Kuninobu for scout scribe, Shigetaro Saruhashi for treasurer, Joe Kasutuma for color bearer and Masachichi Hirano for standard bearer.

Today makes our first anniversary and at first we started with eight boys but now we have 28 boys in the troop. Signaling and first aid tests were taken. The meeting was closed with drills. A Christmas program is being arranged.

REDUCE PRICES TO SUIT BUYERS

(Special Correspondence Nevys & Callaghan, 39 Wall Street.)
NEW YORK, N. Y., Dec. 1.—The market continued in a very depressed condition throughout the week and on extremely light sales the spot quotation has been further reduced to 5.44c, a decline of 24c from last week's close.

Following sales to a local refiner of several small parcels of Peruvians in port at 4 1/2c basis 96 degrees c. i. f.
(5.88c), at the close of last week, additional moderate offerings of Cubas and full duty-paying sugars appeared at this level at the opening of this week. Refiners, however, owing to continued inactivity in refined sugars were unwilling to add to their stocks of raws and were withdrawn from the market. A further easier tendency therefore ensued and holders of sugars in very nearby positions, in order to attract buyers, began to again gradually reduce their asking prices, until Cubas in port and for prompt shipment appeared at 4 1/2c basis 96 degrees c. i. f. (5.64c) and full duty paying sugars afloat and about due were offered at this equivalent, 4 1/2c basis 96 degrees c. i. f. When these levels were reached a refiner accepted one small parcel of 13,000 bags Cubas in port at 4 1/2c basis 96 degrees c. i. f., which marked the first sale of Cuban sugars since November 14, when 5 1/2c basis 96 degrees c. i. f. was paid for 10,000 bags Cubas for immediate clearance. Refiners also accepted about 2000 tons of full duty paying sugars in very nearby positions at 4 1/2c basis 96 degrees c. i. f., but refused to continue as buyers at this basis for full duty paying sugars or at 4 1/2c basis 96 degrees c. i. f. for Cubas, and consequently there still remained moderate quantities of both Cubas and full duty paying sugars unsuccessfully offering at these prices. Holders of one cargo of Cubas that arrived in port uncolored during the week ordered same into store rather than press these sugars for sale, and when it became evident that the market was resisting further declines an operator accepted what appeared to be the only remaining parcel of Cubas offering at 4 1/2c basis 96 degrees c. i. f. This buying had the effect of checking any further immediate decline and giving the market an improved tone, as sellers are showing less disposition to force sales, and a rather better demand for refined appears to be close at hand.

Although local refiners have shown no interest this week in offerings of new crop Cubas, still some additional small business has been put through during the week with operators at 3 1/2c basis 96 degrees c. i. f. b. Cuba for March loading, and at 4 1/2c basis 96 degrees c. i. f. for January shipment to New York. It is understood that further business is possible at these levels but Cuban holders generally entertain somewhat higher ideas, and apparently no considerable quantity could be bought under 3.80c
f. o. b. Cuba for January, February or March loading or under 4 1/2c basis 96 degrees c. i. f. for January, February or March shipments.

The refined market continues dull and uninteresting. All interests continue prices for granulated at 7.50c less 2 per cent, but such domestic orders that come to hand are mostly care for by second hand sellers at 7.25c less 2 per cent, regular refiners' terms. Distributors and manufacturers are generally very low in stocks, but are holding off buying, except for absolute daily requirements, in anticipation of the readjustment of refined prices to conform to the lower market for raws. Export inquiry continues light, but there are slight evidences at the close of the week of some revival of export demand for refined at prices in line with present low levels of raws.

navy, afloat and ashore, includes

VALESKA SURATT IS BARA'S RIVAL

William Fox is probably the keenest student of stage stars and their adaptability to various lines of work.
Fox specializes on a class of photo-drama that is different from the usual.
The emotional appeals to Fox, or he believes it appeals to the public. He might be considered the "father" of the "vampire" women on the screen.
He brought Theda Bara to this country and now he has "discovered" another star of the speaking stage with an ability along this line that is considered by many to be the equal to Theda Bara. Valeska Suratt is the new Fox "find."

Valeska Suratt is now appearing at the Hawaii theater, where Fox features are featured, in "The Soul of Broadway," a drama that calls for a "rag and a bone and a hank of hair."
Miss Suratt fills the bill to perfection.
The offering deals largely with stage life in New York and with the activities of a stage "wanton." It is a play with a punch.

"The Strange Case of Mary Page" has reached the 17th chapter with Miss Mayo gaining in popularity each week. Hearst News Letter completes the bill.

INGERSOLL CO. GAINS PRESTIGE

The Ingersoll Musical Comedy Company will "come back" at the Bijou this evening with another musical comedy masterpiece, "Polly of the Follies." This company of talented players just about struck its stride in "Baby Mine" and the promise is now held forth for a continuation of high-class offerings. This class of performance spells success for the company and for the theater. The last three days have seen a noticeable increase in the attendance at the Bijou and reports from the box office are to the effect that the advance sale for the balance of the week presages even better business.

"Polly of the Follies" is a snappy whirlwind of music and laughter that has been pronounced one of the big successes of the musical comedy stage of the country. It is filled with up-to-date humor and there are innumerable openings for the introduction of the latest song hits. The parts are handled with a jump that would do credit to many traveling companies.

'SMUGGLERS' IS RICH IN COMEDY

Donald Brian, a popular comedian of the stage, is proving one of the big stars of the silent drama and is featured in "The Smugglers," a Famous Players offering that comes to the Liberty theater this evening. Brian will be remembered as the star in "The Voice in the Fog," a tense drama shown at the Liberty a number of months ago. In that offering he became immediately popular with Liberty patrons although he was a trifle out of this line. In "The Smugglers" he should be right at home as it is a clever comedy, or, as the program has it, a "laughable series of comic tragedies."

The hero of the story, or he might be considered the villain, according to the viewpoint, is a man of immense wealth, said wealth having been accumulated through the manufacture of breakfast foods from hay. His wife has social ambitions and to further them feels compelled to dress well and wear expensive jewelry. She is the possessor of a valuable string of pearls and friend husband carelessly loses them, whereat the comedy starts.

Afraid to let his wife know of the loss, the hay-breakfast food manufacturer tried to "cover" with the result that he is discovered and the audience given a large number of big laughs.

RUMANIAN JEWS QUIT WILLINGLY

(By Associated Press)
TOERZBURG, Transylvania.—Prisoners of war being not unwilling to please their captors, their statements must be taken with a large pinch of salt. Though there be no officer of the enemy present, the prisoner of war cannot be sure that his statements do not become known to the powers into whose hands the fortune of war has placed him.

The Associated Press correspondent was able to interview here two score Rumanian officers and men who had fallen into captivity near Rucur, some 20 miles south of here. No Central Power officer was within earshot.
One of the first men questioned was a Rumanian Jew, a man of some education and standing. He had served as a private. Unblushingly he said that he had looked for a chance to surrender. Questioned why, the man almost flew into a rage. He could not see why a Jew should fight for a government which in times of peace gave him no vote and no part in the affairs of his country. He hoped that the Central troops would get to Bucharest in a few days and hang them all; especially Bratiana and Take Jonescu, who had so needlessly involved the country in war. Six other Jews were a little timid in their

TO INVESTIGATE OIL LAND TANGLE

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 14.—A special committee has been appointed by the senate lands committee to investigate and if possible straighten the tangle over the California oil lands. Senator Phelan of California is a member of the special committee. The officials of the navy department are bitterly opposed to the amendment to the bill recently proposed, which Senator Phelan has introduced.

IN WAR ARENA

FRENCH PREMIER WARNS PEOPLE OF GERMAN PROPOSAL. PARIS, France, Dec. 14.—Premier Briand, new head of the French reorganized ministry, in an address before the chamber of deputies yesterday afternoon, uttered what he declared is a "solemn warning to the people of France" to beware of the German peace proposals.

"When a country such as Germany spends years and care and forethought in arming itself to the teeth, when it seizes upon everywhere as food for its armies, and when it violates the laws of God and of mankind by the enslavement of nations, the leaders of the countries menaced by such a nation would be worse than guilty if they did not cry aloud 'beware' at such a proposal as the German chancellor has made."

"The faint hearted among us and among the neutral nations which are our friends are alarmed, but I tell you that nowhere have the successes of the Germans been decisive. They have overridden some small countries and they have invaded others, but their turn is yet to come."

"The Rumanians are their last victims but the Rumanians will return to the fight stronger and better able to meet the attacks of the foe, and aided by the strength of Russia will drive the invaders from their country."

JAPANESE PRESS SAYS PROPOSALS WERE BLIND. TOKIO, Japan, Dec. 14.—Viscount I. Motono, minister of foreign affairs, refused to discuss the chancellor's peace proposals yesterday, declaring that he is not authorized to discuss such questions until he receives formal notification of the proposal from the neutral governments.

Japanese papers declare that the peace proposals are unreasonable, and say that they are but a blind on the part of the German and Austrian governments. Some papers say that German colonies in the South Sea which have been taken by Japan can never be returned to Germany.

ALLIES TO DICTATE TERMS, SAYS DEVONSHIRE. MONTREAL, Canada, Dec. 14.—The Duke of Devonshire, the new governor-general of Canada, declared in a statement yesterday that Canada need never fear the British acceptance of any terms of peace that are not dictated by the Entente Allies.

"The Allies will never sheath the sword until they have gained a peace of their own making and of their own choosing," he said.

DYNAMITER CLAIMS PAID BY TEUTON ATTACKS. (Associated Press by Federal Wireless) SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 14.—Testimony that he was paid by attacks of the local German consulate for his part in the alleged bomb plots to destroy munition ships and factories was given yesterday in court by Louis J. Smith at the trial of Franz Bopp, German consul general at San Francisco, and associates, indicted on charges of conspiracy.

Smith is the government's star witness and is co-defendant with Consul Bopp, E. H. von Schnack, vice-consul; Baron Wilhelm von Brincken, consular attaché; C. C. Crowley, detective employed by the consulate, and Mrs. Margaret B. Cornell, Crowley's secretary. Smith testified yesterday that Baron von Brincken paid him $1254.80 in San Francisco in July, 1915. Previously Smith testified as to how he had been sent by Crowley to blow up the British steamer Talthybius on May 25, 1915.

GEN. TREAT TO LOOK OVER ROAD PROBLEMS

One of the chief missions of Brig. Gen. Charles G. Treat, new commander at Schofield Barracks, who arrived from the mainland on the Sheridan Tuesday night, will be to look into the military road situation on Oahu, the general having been a member of the recent defense board at Washington. Gen. Treat has announced that he can say nothing definite on his mission as yet, as the plans of the defense board were finished just before he left Washington, but he will make a complete survey of the plan immediately.

HALEY HAVING GOOD VACATION IN STATES

John F. Haley, collector of internal revenue for this district, is having a good vacation on the mainland, judging from a letter received by Deputy Collector Ralph Johnstone, who is in charge of the local office during his absence. Haley has returned from Reno to San Francisco and was to go on an automobile trip to Tia Juana and Southern California a few days after his letter was dated. The letter states that in Nevada he met Inspector L. M. Dolde of the revenue office, who was in Hawaii a few months ago.

LYONS AND ROSS NOT DISCHARGED FOR POLITICAL REASONS

The Star-Bulletin prints a report alleged to have come from Maui to the effect that Ben Lyons and Manuel Ross, recent county employees, were discharged on account of their activities in the recent political campaign, working for the election of the Democratic candidates. This is not so. Both Lyons and Ross were extra clerks, only temporarily engaged by the county on work connected with the primary and general elections. The work being completed there was nothing more for them to do, hence their services were no longer required.—Maui News.

AERIAL TRAMWAY TO BE READY SOON

The five and a half mile tramway which the Mineral Products Company has been having built to bring ore from their manganese mines to the main line of the Patterson & Western, will be completed shortly unless bad weather intervenes. Harney & Sotiras, the contractors, have finished all the grading, and the products company will soon begin to lay the steel. A new camp is now being established at Mud Springs, known as Jones Station, which is the end of the main line. The last mile of steel was laid on the main line some time ago. For some weeks the Patterson & Western has been working a ballast gang, and all the tracks through the yards have now been put in first class shape. The line towards the hills has also been ballasted for about a mile. The gravel is taken from Del Puerto creek, where a spur track has been built and a loading chute constructed. Some new ore bodies have been uncovered at the chrome mine, and it is stated that the new ore runs much higher in mineral than the old.—Patterson (Calif.) Irrigator.

Mainland papers received in the last mail say that the will of the late Jack London was filed in San Francisco December 1, and that Mrs. Charmian London, widow, is left the bulk of the estate. In referring to her in the will London says that she is the only person in the world who is entitled to the comfort, joy, happiness, love and assistance that she has afforded him. London's will is remarkable in that by it he seeks to take from his first wife, Mrs. Bessie M. London, who lives at Oakland, control of their two daughters, Joan and Bess, students at the Oakland high school. In the will London "recommends that my daughters be personally housed, cared for and managed by my beloved wife, Charmian K. London, of whose fitness and whose goodness for this duty I am amply confident."

He bequeaths to the two daughters his life insurance, the amount not stated, and an allowance of $25 monthly each to continue until their marriage or death.

To his first wife, Mrs. Bessie M. London, he leaves $5 and the use until her death, or until such time as she shall remarry, of the house at 519 31st street, Oakland.

That his aged mother be suitably housed and allowed $45 a month was a provision of the will. The allowance is to come from the estate. To his "Old Mammy" London leaves $15 a month from the estate, also provided that she be comfortably housed. Mrs. Elizabeth Shepard, the late writer's half sister, besides being named executor and manager of the estate at a salary of $35 a month, was bequeathed $2500.

Another unusual feature of the document is that, although London refers to it as his will, he asks that it be not probated.

'PURE MILK' CRUS ADE THREATENED BY ENEMIES, DR. NORGAARD REVEALS

Medical Society of Hawaii Indorses His Inspection Work
By Resolution

(Urging that inspection of the dairy herds of Hawaii be continued for the safety of the public, Territorial Veterinarian V. A. Norgaard recently laid before the Medical Society of Hawaii facts concerning the inspection and also concerning a movement to abolish it. His paper and the resultant action of the society in indorsing his stand are published below.)

The efforts of the Board of Agriculture and Forestry at eradicating bovine tuberculosis have been continued during the past year along the same lines as reported to this association at the last two annual meetings.

While complete eradication cannot yet be reported, the number of dairies which may be said to be free from tuberculosis infection is steadily increasing and will, when the year's testing has been finished, be found to be close to 50 per cent. Of the 89 dairies tested up to this date, including all dairies in Honolulu and vicinity, or 82 per cent, did not have a single reacting animal. Up to this date, November 25, a total of 4842 dairy animals have been tested, of which number 109 were found healthy and 145 were condemned as tuberculous. Nearly all of these animals were butchered and it is gratifying to state that only a very small number were found on post mortem examinations to have the disease in a sufficiently advanced state to warrant the condemnation of the entire carcass. The most common lesions were more or less extensive tubercular nodules in the retropharyngeal bronchial and mediastinal glands and less frequently in the mesenteric, suprarenal and prescapular glands. Tuberculous nodules in the lungs are becoming more rare with every year, and cases of open tuberculosis are hardly ever met with. It may, therefore, be taken for granted that many of the dairies which still contained reactors this year were freed of the infection with the removal of the infected animals and the thorough disinfection of the premises.

Many Still to be Tested

There still remains about 3000 head to be tested, the majority of which belong to the railroad ranches and the rest to dairies beyond Ewa, in all of which few reactors will be found.

It will, therefore, be seen that the danger of transmitting bovine tuberculosis to children with milk, even when uncooked or unpasteurized, has been diminished to a considerable extent when compared to the conditions obtaining six years ago, when more than 30 per cent of the dairy cattle of Honolulu were tuberculous and many of them affected with advanced forms of the disease, such as tuberculosis of the milk glands or udder.

A further safeguard against the disease is the excellent pasteurization plant installed by the Honolulu Dairymen's Association, where 83 per cent of all the milk consumed in Honolulu is handled. The Gouche electric milk purifier, mentioned in my previous papers before this association, has recently been replaced with the best known pasteurizing plant on the holding system. The electric plant was a so-called flash pasteurizer, while the new one heats the milk for half an hour to a temperature of 145 degrees Fahrenheit, thereby insuring the destruction of all pathogenic micro-organisms. The temperature and length of exposure is automatically registered and the record sheet filed daily with Food Commissioner Hanson. In a similar way all cream and butter fat mixtures entering into the manufacture of ice cream are sterilized at a temperature of 160 degrees Fahrenheit, a fact of importance since the Rockefeller Institute found the principal lesions of poliomyelitis to be in the large intestines and surmised that ice cream might be one of the vehicles of infection.

A "Smarter Aspect" Developed

While nothing but good can be said about this excellent plant of the Dairymen's Association, there is, nevertheless, one sinister aspect to it which I shall take the liberty to lay before you. I have been given to understand that a strenuous fight is going to be made before the next legislature for the purpose of abolishing the efforts of my office at eradicating bovine tuberculosis and substituting compulsory pasteurization of all milk. As stated, there still remain about 2 per cent of tuberculous dairy animals, or there did at least before the last test was made; at any rate sufficient of a nest egg to start the disease spreading again. And while it has taken six years to reduce its prevalence from 30 to 2 per cent, it may safely be predicted that it would not take two years for it to regain its former status. If it is, of course, possible for a dairyman to keep his herd free of tuberculous cattle, if he so desires, but when there is no inducement to do so, it is doubtful if many of them will go to the expense and trouble in connection with it. On the other hand, pasteurization cannot always be relied on, the plant might become incapacitated and if even for one day only, unpleasant results might follow the consumption of a few thousand gallons of unpasteurized milk from a lot of diseased cows. I will, therefore, ask you gentlemen singly, as practicing physicians, as well as through your organizations, to help me in averting what I believe would be a very poor policy on the part of the dairyman and far from their own interests. A sick cow cannot furnish the same quantity of milk as a healthy one, and I am sure that most of your patients would prefer milk from healthy cows to that from tuberculous animals, even if rendered innocuous by pasteurization. To terminate the efforts of the Board of Agriculture and Forestry at eradicating bovine tuberculosis at the present time when a large majority of the diseased animals have already been disposed of, and the possibility of their transmitting a fatal disease to the children, whose welfare it is our solemn duty to protect, can be viewed only as a step in the wrong direction. And what of the 70 or 80 dairymen who have already cleaned their herds of tuberculous animals? A barbed wire fence is poor protection against the badly infected tuberculous herd of a next door neighbor. And the many so-called "family cows," some of which, if they become infected from a nearby diseased herd, would almost be sure, sooner or later, to transmit tuberculosis with their milk, because, unlike the milk coming from a larger or smaller dairy, it would be consumed undiluted, day after day, by the same people or children. Of course, such milk could and should be pasteurized, but, gentlemen, you undoubtedly all know what home pasteurization amounts to, especially when left to servants. Would it not be much safer to have healthy cows only?

To Safeguard Consumer

In conclusion, I beg to reiterate my statement from last year: The milk consumer of Honolulu pays for clean milk from healthy cows and consequently is entitled to get just that and nothing else. Pasteurization and clarification are excellent adjuncts to safeguard the consumer against milk-borne diseases, but they should never be used as excuses for continuing a few diseased cows in otherwise healthy herds, as little as for filthy milking methods and dirty utensils.

As I fully believe, gentlemen, that you all agree with me that bovine tuberculosis must go, I venture again to ask for your support and cooperation to that end. I thank you for the opportunity to lay the matter before you and for your courteous attention.

Discussion

Dr. C. B. Wood: "Mr. Chairman, I move that a copy of Dr. Norgaard's paper be sent by this society to the daily papers with the request that they publish it as part of the proceedings of this meeting."

Dr. W. C. Hobdy: "I move to amend Dr. Wood's motion by adding the words: 'With the indorsement of this society.'"

Dr. C. B. Wood: "Amendment accepted."

Dr. A. N. Sinclair: "I move to amend the amended motion by adding 'and that a copy of Dr. Norgaard's paper be sent also to the governor, the president of the senate and the speaker of the house of representatives, and that the secretary be instructed to memorialize these gentlemen in any way unfavorable or obstructive to the board of agriculture's efforts at eradicating bovine tuberculosis, will be viewed by this society as unwise and contrary to the welfare of the community, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the president of the board of health.'"

The resolutions committee, composed of Drs. H. V. Murray and A. N. Sinclair, drew up and recommended the following resolutions, which were adopted unanimously by the society:

Whereas this society is reliably informed that an effort is to be made at the coming session of the legislature of Hawaii to abolish the testing of dairy cows with tuberculin, and the exclusion of such cows as are found to be infected with tuberculosis from dairy herds, and

Whereas it would be immensely detrimental and dangerous to the health of the community to substitute any other means to prevent the spread of tuberculosis from milk, be it hereby

Resolved: That it is the sense of this society that the present rules regarding the testing and exclusion of infected cows from dairy herds are of the utmost importance to this territory, and should under no circumstances be abolished, nor should any measures be entertained as a substitute for such testing and exclusion, and be it further

Resolved: That a copy of this resolution be sent to the president of the senate, the speaker of the house, and the president of the board of health.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ACTS TO CHECK COMMERCIAL VICE IN CITY

Special Committee is Named With View to Calling Public Meeting Soon

Businessmen of Honolulu in a special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon got down to facts on the local vice situation in a business-like way.

Deplorable conditions of vice in Honolulu, even after the closing of the hotel, were recognized; the apathy of the police and of the general public, too, and how to minimize it, was freely discussed, and a resolution strongly favoring and endorsing a public meeting for consideration of the whole problem, with date to be announced later, was unanimously passed.

There was no inancing of matters at the Chamber of Commerce meeting; some few present who might have thought that the grand jury's action in closing the restricted district had automatically eliminated the necessity of further public action, soon discovered their mistake and entered seriously and heartily into the discussion. If a spade was a spade it was called such; what those present thought was true and pertinent they said, and, with some differing ideas but all along the same general idea of reducing the evil to the minimum here, each was accorded a respectful audience.

W. R. Farrington was the first speaker. After reviewing general conditions here, he said, that on upper Fort and School streets are vice districts perhaps even worse than the one in Iwilei had been. He referred to street walkers, to drug and opium traffic fostered by vice, and gave a graphic description of "Bloodtown" at Wahiawa.

James A. Rath told of the Iowa law, which darkened for a year houses where acts of prostitution were discovered, and recommended its adoption here.

Blames Public Tolerance
Other speakers were Rev. C. H. McVey of the Kalia Union church, who blamed the general passive tolerance of the people themselves for conditions here; Frank C. Atherton, who believes now is the time to stamp out vice; Judge Sanford B. Dole, who wants vice checked at least so it will not be a continual temptation to the passions of youth; W. R. Castle, who said that, even admitting a district like Iwilei is necessary and proper for the soldier, there was no reason why it should be saddled on Honolulu. "Take it to Shafter or Schofield," he said. "We don't want it."

Immediate Action Sought
A few of the members present were in favor of putting the whole subject up to a special committee, but generally the sentiment of the meeting was "not to pass the buck" but to decide at once on a public meeting and discuss the time and method of holding the same later.

"Strike while the iron is hot," was the idea of most of those present, "and keep on striking until the whole disgraceful blotch on Honolulu's good name is removed."

Other speakers were Judge W. L. Stanley, Supervisor Robert Horner, J. Buchly, H. E. Vernon and President George W. Smith of the chamber.

Mr. Atherton introduced the resolution, which was passed unanimously, as follows:

"Resolved, that the president appoint a special committee, immediately to make a study of the social conditions of this city, with a view to calling a public meeting at the earliest possible moment after it has devised a definite plan which will arouse the public to take action and clean up the evils existing in this city."

President Smith appointed on the committee Judge W. L. Stanley, chairman; W. R. Farrington, Robert Horner, Judge Sanford B. Dole, Frank C. Atherton and James A. Rath, to meet at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Action by the churches and other religious bodies was referred to. While the businessmen have no opposition to agitation by such organizations, they do not believe that it should or need hamper in any way the work of business institutions like the chamber, and they do not expect to turn over to churches what is directly in the scope of a broad organization like the chamber.

THREE QUARTER MILLION WOMEN IN ENGLAND REPLACE MEN WORKERS

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Eng.—The saying that woman's place is in the home has little application in war time. There are now in the British Isles 3,219,000 women employed outside their own homes. It is generally recognized that their rally to work "in the national interest" is going to make it difficult for Parliament to refuse the demand for suffrage which will be renewed when hostilities end.

During the first two years of war the increase of women workers, exclusive of purely feminine occupations, was 866,000. Of these 768,000 directly replaced male labor. In other words, more than three-quarters of a million women left their homes to replace men in the military service. In most instances the women went into the munition plants, where a considerable number of them have given up their lives in "doing their bit."

Women Rise to Opportunity
There seems to be no limit to the class of work women can do. At first it seemed strange to see girl conductors on the buses, girl window cleaners, van drivers and messengers. But as the war progressed the field broadened and now even in building, mining and quarrying scores of women are employed. The metal trades also have claimed their share of the new industrial army. It must be understood that this is an army in skirts. As a matter of fact, skirts are worn for the most part only in those occupations which bring women in touch with the public. In most of the factories and shops, the breweries and the railway yards, jumpers and regulation overalls are the approved costume. The bus and tram conductors, or "conductresses," are jaunty in their neat blue tunics and skirts reach just below the knees—low enough to overlap close fitting black leather puttees. There is seldom a glimpse of stocking. The bus companies issued an order recently that no silk hosiery should be worn.

War Workers Are 3,000,000
It is stated that probably 1,000,000 of the women "war workers" have been recruited from those formerly engaged in purely feminine occupations—domestic, dressmakers, milliners, etc. The servant problem is becoming more and more acute, for the demand for munition workers is increasing day by day and the wages offered are far beyond the dreams of avarice to a majority of the English domestics.

The number of women employed in railway work has increased more than 200 per cent. Ordinarily the only railway posts open to women were clerks, ships and carriage cleaning tasks. Now there are women ticket collectors, porters, engine cleaners and workshop laborers. In Glasgow and some other cities women are being tried out as tram drivers and motorwomen.

Statistics Are Compiled
Interesting statistics regarding woman's part in war work have been collected by the employment bureau of the Board of Trade. The number of women recruited to industrial occupations between July, 1914, and July, 1915, was 362,000. Of this number 263,000 directly replaced men. In commercial occupations the increase in the number of women workers was 158,000, while the number of women replacing men in this class was 201,000. This apparent discrepancy is accounted for by the transfer of women from the feminine side to the male side of the establishments. The increase in women clerks amounts to only 45,000, all of whom, however, have replaced men.

The increase of woman workers in hotels and places of entertainment is only 19,000, yet the number of men replaced in these establishments is 31,000, many of the old female employees now doing the work of men.

There has been much more discussion lately as to whether the city woman is a success on the farm and the point is far from being settled. Nevertheless 66,000 more women are working steadily at agriculture today than in July, 1914. In 1914 there were only 2000 women employed in government arsenals and dockyards. Now there are over 70,000. The English breweries formerly employed 8090 women. Now they have 18,000. And so it goes through all the industries.

After a while the industrial post-war problems are going to offer much food for reflection, and, to be amicably solved, will require an intelligent skill of direction and "square dealing" equal to the best thought and energy put forward in the war itself.

GLASGOW PEOPLE LIVE IN TERROR OF APACHE GANG

GLASGOW, Scotland.—Gangs of street ruffians of the Paris Apache type are terrorizing this city at night. In certain sections the citizens are practically living under a reign of terror. Women and girls are attacked constantly, and the gangsters often enter shops, smash things and mistreat the clerks and carry off what they please.

These gangs have picturesque names. One is the "Redskins," whose leader is a young woman, called the "Queen of the Redskins."

The "queen" has just been arrested, charged with assaulting another woman.

They had quarreled at a dance and agreed to fight it out the next night. During the melee it is alleged that the "queen" stabbed her rival 14 times.

Before the police could arrest the woman they were severely handled by members of the numerous gangs.

The other day an avowed "Redskin" was relieved of his weapon while in an entertainment house. This ugly instrument consisted of a rubber tube loaded with lead at one end and bound with whiplcord. It weighed about four pounds. This is quite a common type of weapon among these gangsters.

People are clamoring for better police protection. On the other hand, it is urged for the constabulary that so far they have received scant support from the city magistrates, several of whom are regarded as far too lenient with the prisoners when caught.

There is a call for the introduction of the "cat." So far the sheriff has been the more severe, although birching and the "cat" have not yet been ordered.

Five thousand miners at Johnstown, Pa., went on strike.
