NO BANK DEAL THOUGH RUMOR IS RIFE

The down town district has been very much excited this week over an alleged deal for the combination of the Bank of Hawaii and the First National Bank. The town had a right to be interested because, if the merger were made, it would be one of the biggest business transactions that has taken place in the business history of the Islands.

Stories as to the terms of the deal have been numerous. There have been yarns of the Bank of Hawaii's desire to obtain National bank advantages and considering the purchase of the First National as the shortest route, how also that the First National majority stockholders held their securities at too high a figure for the Bank of Hawaii pool to reach.

C. M. Cooke, of the Bank of Hawaii, was today the first one of those interested willing to talk for publication. Mr. Cooke said to a Bulletin reporter: "It is all talk. Nothing whatever in connection with the consolidation has been submitted to our Board of Directors. I know there has been all kinds of talk on the streets. I have even had applications for positions. I have heard that we had it all arranged to locate the main bank where the First National now is and that the savings institution would take our place here."

"What is the real story about the deal?"

"There is no story," replied Mr. Cooke, "except that the deal is off. I personally had a verbal option on shares in the National and had in mind a consolidation. The price asked, however, was jumped up $25 a share and I dropped the matter. You may say the deal is off."

W. G. Cooper, cashier of the First National Bank, said: "No option on the control of this bank has been given anyone nor will any be given." Beyond this Mr. Cooper would say nothing.

TOGO REPORTS HIS SUCCESS

WASHINGTON, May 7th.

To SAITO, Honolulu.

Admiral Togo's report on the closing of the Port Arthur channel is as follows:

"Our combined fleet effected the third Port Arthur blocking operation on the 3rd of May. The gunboats, the Akagi, Chokai and the second, third, fourth and fifth destroyers flotillas and the ninth, tenth, fourteenth torpedo-boat flotillas with steamers started on the 2d instant. Strong wind soon arising, greatly hindered the movement and the Commander ordered the ships to stop, but that order could not reach all the vessels, and eight steamers proceeded and dashed into the harbor. Despite the enemy's searchlight, fortress fire, observation mines and mechanical mines five steamers gained the mouth. The Mikawamaru, Totsimaru, breaking the protecting boom, reached the farthest inside. The entrance was considered effectively blocked to at least four of the Russian cruisers and all battleships. Three other steamers were sunk before reaching the channel mouth. Our flotillas remained till morning and rescued half of the crews of the sunken steamers. Torpedo-boat No. 67 was hit at the steam pipe and disabled, but was towed away by torpedo-boat No. 70. The destroyer Azaka was damaged in the port engine but was safe. The flotilla's casualties were three wounded and two killed. No other damage."

BANKS NOT WORRIED OVER LOCAL SECURITIES

San Francisco, April 30.—B. Frank Dillingham's "rest cure" will be a matter at least of weeks, and possibly of months. Such was the statement made yesterday by close friends of the Honolulu capitalist, who had received word from the attendants, who are the only ones allowed to see him in the sanatorium where he lies. And during his term of resting for health's sake he must forget the fact that he has about $3,000,000 worth of property and that his liabilities have just about reached that figure.

The fact that $2,000,000 of his paper is divided among the banks of this city, nearly every bank holding a larger or small amount, did not appear to worry the holders very greatly yesterday. The managers of the institution had expected to go into conference with Mr. Dillingham at once, but they seemed to accept the enforced postponement of a settlement cheerfully.

"I have been around among the banks, and I can say that no spirit of uneasiness is manifested by them," said a gentleman who is financially interested with Dillingham. "From what I have learned today I believe that when representatives of the different banks get together and canvass the assets there will be no difficulty about arranging an extension of time of two or three years. None of them stand to lose anything; it's only a matter of exercising a little patience."

The local feeling seems to be bolstered up by the statement issued by the Honolulu creditors, who made the first investigation, which statement is to the effect that the assets equal the liabilities and that if let alone the assets will have a steady increment.

Z. K. Meyers, of the Hawaiian Trust Co., expects to leave in the Sierra for the Coast on business.

MERCHANTS WANT REDUCED RATES

Travel Would Increase
If Fares Were Cut.

PROPOSITION TO CHARTER INDEPENDENT STEAMER

CONGESTION OF MAINLAND PASSENGER FACILITIES BRINGS UP GRAVE PROBLEMS TO DIRECTORS.

One of the most important questions considered by the Merchants' Association yesterday was that of securing a lower rate of passenger fares on the steamship lines connecting the islands and the mainland. The matter was discussed in its many phases and finally referred to the directors with instructions to formulate some plan of action.

The question of cheaper steamship rates was brought up by Oswald Lutted of the New England Bakery. He referred to the question not as a new one but as one that was especially vital just now considering the depressed condition of business. Mr. Lutted believed that lower rates would be instrumental in keeping a floating population of a very desirable class in the islands all the time. Mr. Lutted thought a reduction of $30 or even $10 would be a great thing for the business interests of the city.

President Smith said there was no question but that tourists were prevented from coming here by the high steamship rates.

J. A. Gilman told of the experience of the Promotion Committee in asking concessions from the steamship companies. Both companies refused absolutely to consider a reduction of passenger fares. The steamship people claim that commissions and rebates bring their net receipts on passenger business down to very little if any better than cost.

F. W. Waldron did not see how the steamship companies could be expected to cut fares when they are without competition and are getting all the business they can handle.

Mr. Lutted suggested that the American-Hawaiian line could relieve the situation if it would fit its big steamers for passengers.

The possibility of the new Hill steamers and a Seattle line were mentioned. Mr. Waldron said there had been talk for ten years of a Seattle line here and that whenever the merchants had taken any faith in it, money had been lost every time.

TO WASHINGTON ONLY FOR APPEAL

Habeas Corpus Taken
From Returning

FEDERAL DECISION AFFECTS HAWAIIAN-BORN CHINESE

INSPECTOR'S WORD IS FINAL
HERE AND DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE ALONE
CAN REVERSE.

A recent decision of the United States Supreme Court will make a great change in the matter of the landing of Chinese at this port, Chinese who claim Hawaiian birth and who return to this country after absence in the Orient.

Formerly when the Immigration Inspector passed on an incoming Chinese, a Chinese returning here, claimant of birth here, the applicant for admission had recourse to habeas corpus proceedings in the event of his being excluded. The Supreme Court now cuts away this habeas corpus appeal and makes the word of the Inspector final unless the aggrieved applicant takes the matter to Washington; only as the result of favorable action by the Department of Commerce at Washington can such applicant have the benefits of habeas corpus. The question of whether a Chinese, born here and leaving for China, where he resides for a time, forfeits his rights acquired by birth here, enters largely into the matter. It is for the Immigration Inspector to say what is the status of the applicant's citizenship, and if the Inspector decides against the applicant his only appeal lies at Washington.

Says the San Francisco Call of April 27th:

"Consternation prevailed in Chinese immigrant broker circles yesterday over the publication of the decision of the United States Supreme Court to the effect that Chinese immigrants claiming admission to the United States on the ground that they are natives of the United States may not avail themselves of writs of habeas corpus after having been denied a landing without first having appealed to the Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor."

"There are seventeen Chinese immigrants at this port awaiting a hearing on habeas corpus and their friends fear that the decision of the United States Supreme Court may result in their deportation to China. The exclusion act requires that within five days after notification of denial to land the immigrant must perfect an appeal to the department. In the seventeen cases mentioned the time for appealing has passed."

"United States Immigration Commissioner North has wired to Secretary Cortelyou for instructions in the matter."

INSURED IN K. O. P.

J. N. Bell, the Ewa school teacher who died yesterday, carried life insurance for $10,000 in the Endowment Rank of the Knights of Pythias.

Commissioner Shaw In Limited Numbers Would Admit Chinese

Earl B. Shaw, son of Leslie M. Shaw, Secretary of the United States Treasury, returning in the Doric from a four months' trip through the Orient as a special agent in the Immigration Bureau, was seen at the Young hotel yesterday by a Bulletin reporter and asked concerning observations and conclusions made on his trip. Mr. Shaw talked freely of the conditions he had reached and of the recommendations he would make relative to Chinese Immigration, a subject of considerable moment to these islands. He said:

"I have visited the important cities in China and Japan and have studied the people and classes, especially in China, very closely. Generally speaking, I am for more rigid exclusion of the Chinese coolie from the United States. I would make it more strict than we now have it on the mainland, but there should be concessions made for the benefit of the merchant and student class. I have a recommendation to make, however, in this connection which, if carried out, will eventually Americanize the Chinaman. I would impose a high tariff on all food stuffs imported from China to the United States with the purpose of excluding the same. The end sought is to make the Chinaman in America subsist as an American. Make him live as an American lives. If we make it impossible for the Chinese to exist in America as Chinese, they may after all prove good Americans and unobjectionable to American labor."

"As to the admission of the Chinese to our insular possessions, I am in favor of pursuing a more liberal policy. I favor the admission of a definite number each year into the Philippines and into Hawaii for agricultural purposes. The tariff on Chinese importations would apply here as on the mainland and would compel the Orientals to adopt the American standard of living."

"Such a policy would not only be an intelligent effort to solve immediate problems, but would be laying foundations for better relations with a nation which shall one day be among the most powerful on the earth."

"In what way will China become powerful?" was suggested.

"China will be one of the great republics of the earth," said Mr. Shaw. "Mind what I say. If this present war ends as it now promises to end, the effect upon China will be as marked as upon either one of the belligerents. And China as a nation will no longer take a back seat."

"When in Tokio," continued Mr. Shaw, "I went to military headquarters and said that I wanted to enlist in the cause of Japan. I was told that no outside enlistments were wanted, but that my application would be placed on file and if the emergency ever required it I would be notified."

Russians Retreat And Port Arthur Is Now Besieged

[Associated Press Special Cable.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Russia, May 7.—The Russians have abandoned Feng-wang-cheng. The Japanese have occupied the place and blown up the railway to Port Adams. The last dispatch was received from the Port Arthur garrison on Friday. General Stoessel issued an order encouraging the besieged troops to make a strong resistance and fight to the death.

JAPANESE ENTRENCHMENTS

[Associated Press Special Cable.]

SHANGHAI-KWAN, China, May 7.—The Japanese forces are strongly entrenched on the Liaotung peninsula. Their guns are mounted and a strong position taken.

Went Down With Ships

[Associated Press Special Cable.]

TOKIO, Japan, May 7.—Admiral Togo reports that the entrance to Port Arthur is closed to all ships except small boats. The sinking of merchant vessels was accompanied by considerable loss of life. Officers and crews went down with their ships; the warships were unharmed.

CUTTER THETIS AMONG ISLANDS SCOUTING TRIP

The revenue cutter Thetis arrived from San Francisco last night after an uneventful voyage. She remained off the port during the night. She steamed into the harbor this morning and was anchored in the stream.

The Thetis will remain in port for about ten days to clean up and get acquainted with local conditions. She will then start on a cruise to the other islands. It is also possible that the Thetis may be sent to Midway Island to look into the matter of the Japanese who are reported to be killing birds there. The Thetis will at all events remain here until July 1, when she will receive further instructions from Washington. The main purpose here is to investigate the conditions to ascertain whether there is a field for a revenue cutter and the nature of the work she would have to do. She will also do regular revenue cutter work, principally in the line of seeing to it that the navigation laws and regulations are not violated.

The Thetis measures 723 gross tons and 188 feet over all. She has 29 feet beam, 17 feet depth and 17½ feet draught. Her speed is only 5½ knots as she was not built for speed, her steam having been merely intended for auxiliary power when she was built.

The officers of the Thetis are as follows: Captain O. C. Hamlet, First Lieut. C. E. Johnston, Chief Engineer L. T. Jones, Second Lieut. E. E. Mead, First Asst. Engr. E. W. Davis, Second Lieut. F. R. Shoemaker, Third Lieut. H. R. Searles, Second Asst. Engr. W. L. Maxwell, Surgeon S. J. Call, Boatswain Wm. Hallberg, Gunner H. E. Smith, Carpenter R. Hardensen, Chief Officer Wm. Griep.

SAILOR ATTACKS CAPTAIN.

The Chilean bark Royal Sovereign arrived from Iquique with a cargo of nitrates this noon. A Chilean sailor shipped at Iquique created a great deal of trouble. He threatened to kill the captain and the mate and on one occasion is alleged to have followed the captain down the hold with a knife. He was only prevented from carrying out his fearful purpose by the cook, who saw him just in the nick of time. The sailor is said to have been a convict who escaped from a Chilean prison, where he had been confined for a couple of murders he committed on board an English vessel. The captain immediately on the vessel's arrival took steps to have the man locked up.

THE ADVANTAGES

CEMENT ROOFING

POSSESSES OVER TIN, IRON AND STEEL ROOFING

IT CANNOT RUST

Gases, fumes, moisture, coal soot and smoke cannot injure or affect CEMENT ROOFING. It is better adapted for application over uneven surfaces, such as old shingles or metal roofs, obviating the expense of removing the same. It will not rattle from wind and storm, nor create any noise from rain falling upon it. The materials used in cement roofing are the best non-conductors of heat and cold known; therefore it will keep the building warmer in winter and cooler in summer than a metal roof. Samples and full particulars mailed on request.

DEFENDANT UNDEFENDED SENT TO JAIL

One of the most peculiar trials ever witnessed in local courts came to an end last evening before Judge De Bolt when a jury found George Harrison guilty of attempting to shoot his wife. Trial commenced in the morning and, although defendant was to all intents and purposes undefended, he was convicted and sentenced before night. Judge recommended "mercy" and Judge De Bolt sentenced Harrison to one year's imprisonment and to pay one dollar.

Harrison's counsel, through the trial, was indisposed and not at his best. Harrison was not defended. It was the remark of spectators that the trial ought to have been stopped; that Harrison was entitled to a defense. Judge De Bolt had frequently to remind the prosecution not to lead witnesses. Defendant had every possible disadvantage; prosecution took every advantage.

George Harrison had no defense except his own clear statement from the witness stand. As reported yesterday, circumstances were such that the defendant not only seemed it wise to discharge his counsel, Henry Hogan, in open court, but Judge De Bolt cited Hogan for contempt, on account of his condition as to sobriety. "You are no longer in this case," said the Judge, addressing Hogan. "You will appear here at 9 o'clock tomorrow, morning or afternoon, for your conduct. This was after the prosecution had rested and the evidence for the defense was supposed to come on."

"I am perfectly willing to fight my own case," said Harrison to the court. But Deputy Attorney General W. S. Fleming, prosecuting, asked that the court appoint counsel and suggested E. Long. Long apparently knew nothing of the case. He commenced by addressing the defendant as "Mr. Harris." He did not even know his client's name and could hardly have been expected to learn the case at a minute's notice. During a five minutes' recess, while the jurors were in the lobby, there were murmurings of protest, the feeling seeming to be that the defendant was having no show at all. This was about 2:45 in the afternoon. It is said that in yesterday's proceedings there were all kinds of grounds for new trial, no trial, mistrial, appeal, "once in jeopardy" and so forth. No such happening is on the record books. The Hogan incident is a precedent as far as this Territory is concerned. As published yesterday, Juror Kidwell was the first to indicate the attitude of the jury by rising in open court and expressing himself in regard to the conduct.

When Harrison took the stand, after Hogan had been dismissed, he told, in substance, the following story in connection with the charge against him that he shot at his wife on car No. 5 on the night of the 27th of March last on Liliha street, corner of School:

"There were two luaus going on that night, one at Mrs. Kekipi's and one next door. My wife had been drinking very heavily and we had some words on the subject. It was between 9 and 10 o'clock. I saw my wife go out of the house. Jimmy Fox and two other men were with her. They started to walk toward the road, whether to get away from me or to get on the electric car I do not know. I did not like the idea of these men taking my wife away. I meant to tell them so and expected to have some trouble with them. I went to a friend of mine who was there at the luau and told him that I was going to see about these men taking my wife away. I told him there would probably be a row and asked if he would come along with me. He said he did not want to get into any such trouble and refused to go with me. All right, so I went into my room and put on my hat and my coat and then I got a pistol and put it into my hip pocket. Then I went out after the men and my wife to see what was going on. On the way to the road, the lane is winding. I saw them all standing near a surrey and a horse which had fallen into a taro patch. I stood near, watching. There were some people trying to get the horse and surrey out of the taro patch. My wife told the men who were with her to go and help the folks working in the taro patch. Finally this was over with and they proceeded along. Two of the men were walking along behind my wife; the other was with her. I went up to the men and asked what they meant by taking my wife away in this manner. There was something said about going for a trolley ride, then the men hurried on and I saw my wife coming back. Thinking that she had at last decided to come home, I stood and waited. The lane was narrow and I stood one side to let her pass. She passed right by me and not a word was said, either by herself or me. Then she suddenly went in the other direction and the next moment she and the men, joining hands, were all running down in the direction of the car, or to get away from me. I heard one of the men say that if I interfered or gave any trouble they would throw me in the taro patch. When they all started to get on the car (the car stopped at the corner of Liliha and School street) I went around on the Ewa side of the car and started to get aboard. My wife boarded the car on the Waikiki side. As I got on I noticed two of the men get on alongside her, standing close to her. I was very angry. I felt disgraced to see these men going on with my wife in this manner. I pulled my gun and fired at the men. I did not fire at my wife. I fired at the men standing near her, but not to kill. My wife must have been frightened for she fell. The men jumped off the car. I fell. The men were not moving at the time. Then I fired again, but not at anybody. Then I jumped off the car. Somebody hit me in the side of the jaw with his fist and I staggered. Charlie Lambert wanted to take me down to the police station, but I told him I was able to take care of myself. I finally went to the police station."

Following were the jurors: H. C. Austin, C. J. Kidwell, John Kidwell, G. Keolohapua, H. P. Kaohi, C. H. Bellina, C. J. Falk, Percy Lishman, S. K. Paulo, W. E. Brown, James Bicknell and W. M. Buchanan.

Books, Bookish People and Things

We get no good by being ungenerous even to a book.

E. B. Browning.

"G. L." of Maui sent The Bulletin Bookman a clipping about Rev. E. S. Newell, pastor of the Second Church (of Gardiner, Me.) and someone else in the employ of the Maine Central Railroad. This engineer-pastor works hard all the week, then preaches on Sunday. He is a steady, conscientious, skilled mechanic; a kind, sympathetic, broad-minded pastor. (How could he help being the latter, spinning over God's country the way he does? I feel sure there are no cobwebs on his brain.)

At the end of the clipping there is a pencil mark: "I imagine this man's week-day sermons do more good than his Sunday ones."

Some years ago an out-of-the-way Methodist conference (it might have been in Greene County, Indiana, for all I know) took up the subject of minister's work, and one of the delegates asked the conference what it thought a pastor ought to do to employ his time when he wasn't preaching. There was a division of votes upon the matter of remuneration; most of the pastors thought money-making labor should be eliminated, but it was finally decided that general farming was compatible with the spiritual state necessary on Sunday; that store-keeping wasn't.

For most country pastors of small churches, preparing and preaching a Sunday sermon is not excessively strenuous. In fact, it is less of a strain generally than sitting for an hour on a hard seat and listening to the sermon.

As a rule, the minister is quite used to "brushing up" Sunday morning and getting his wife and children off to service. Then a pleasant ride over the pike, a cordial hand-shaking at the church door, music, the delivery of the oracle—all tend to make the chief actor in the case feel satisfied with his duties.

So were most of the congregation satisfied, no matter what the preaching might be. Some slept, others snored; only a few came away with any knowledge of what had been said, for the good pastor never left the straight road of orthodoxy, and was in no danger of shocking his faithful people.

In the last decade or so, however, things have changed; at least, in America. The pastor is no longer clothed with special sacredness; he is not even an authority upon his own subject. We don't believe that the perfunctory discharge of "Sabbath duties" is called for; we use our own reason even in religious matters. So that the pastor, like the King of England, has become only a figure-head. He stands for something, it is true, but he doesn't do much more than indicate which way the theological arrow points.

If such a man has ability, can preach eloquently, express himself clearly; if he has a good voice as well as a good character, is original as well as sincere, interesting as well as sincere, if he can and will tell you the suggest of findings in all the great branches of learning in the world about him, he will be useful in the pulpit, and probably do as much as many of his audience could, in directing the minds of his people to higher things.

But if he can't preach, sing or even bellow melodiously (I have heard several ministers with harsh voices below in the pulpit; if he hasn't anything to say but what one can get in Barne's Notes on the Gospel or the Sunday school lesson, he had better get some work to do.

It is sad to think that there remains one place in our country where the residents will pay a man to stand in the pulpit, utter platitudes, tell stories, relate gossip, flatter the rich and say nothing that could be accused of originality. So far as the visiting part of a minister's work is concerned, as a routine, it is useless and fortunately dying out.

If a minister is fitted for his calling he will have all he can do getting his sermons ready, and no time to hear all the small talk at Mrs. Jones'; nor will he have any time for scavenger work which so many do—the ferreting out of faults in some parishioner's character. The pastor who brings a church member to a churchy inquisition after a bit of detective work of this sort is no better than the manager of a pulp factory, whatever that may be. Neither does the ability to get up a good "social" bazaar or tableau constitute a ministerial efficiency. What a travesty such femininities are on religion! And how small a man must feel fiddling his time away over such ways and means! If a church must have these shows, why not get a good circus man, and be done with the matter.

Perhaps, after all, the Gardiner church has the best plan. Its pastor makes his money at engineering, and gives his pastoral work as an offering to his church.

Personally, I see no use in God's edifying world for a minister unless he is instructive.

STEAMSHIPS AND TOURISTS.

Improvement of the steamship service with a view to offering more attractive rates for tourists is always a timely topic for the business men of this city. So many of the efforts of the past have either been half-hearted at the outset or final failures for want of return cargoes to the Coast, that the task seems hopeless, but unflinching energy and constantly keeping at it ought to bring about changes that will be of advantage to the territory and make the rates of travel more attractive.

Honolulu is completely in the hands of the steamship companies, which will not reduce their fares if they can make a fair profit and fill their steamers at the present rate. This is an ordinary business proposition that must be taken as a basis to work from at the outset. With the new lines now calling at this port the service given travellers has been improved a hundred per cent in the last five years. The advantage in increased tourists has not been as marked as was hoped for. The passenger fare furnishes one reason for this; custom another.

Any tourists can reach Hawaii at a very reasonable rate if they are willing to travel second cabin, which on the larger boats furnishes accommodations almost if not quite equal to the first cabin service of past history. Custom however, works against the second cabin idea. For some reason, the average passenger who would travel second cabin in crossing the Atlantic feels that he must take passage in the first cabin when crossing the Pacific. Why this should be is difficult to explain unless it be the supposition that passengers to Pacific ports are measured in social and business circles by the yardstick of first or second class tickets. If the business men or the social leaders or the tourist promoters could inaugurate a movement to place the second cabin of the Pacific on the same social plane as the second cabin of the Atlantic, there would be less occasion to complain. This may appear impractical, but with Honolulu finances in present condition it can hardly be classed as more chimerical than the proposal for the merchants to start an independent steamship line.

When we get down to the actual brass tack discussion the merchants of this city will be slow to start in with straight opposition to the steamship companies represented locally by plantation agencies that have trade favors to dispense. Results must be brought about by cooperation. Wholesalers and retailers, agencies and merchants are too closely tied up to each other to make it probable that any contest between these interests would be sustained for any lengthy period.

Another matter to be taken into consideration is the ever present possibility that active local opposition to Oriental liners because of a refusal to lower steamer fares might result in Honolulu being cut out altogether and the community find its last condition worse than the first.

The most practical solution that has yet been offered is the suggestion that the American-Hawaiian line be approached with a view to fitting its steamers to carry passengers—provided, of course, that having fitted the ships it will not find high passenger fares a necessity. Here is a line that has the freight. Its boats are comfortable though not elegant and make the trip in good time. Fitted for passengers these ships would be on the same plane as the fruit liners of the West Indies and many liners of the Atlantic that are fast freighters but carry passengers at a lower rate than the luxurious passenger liners.

The Bulletin believes that under present conditions business men are chasing rainbows when talking of backing new opposition lines, though there is no reason why comfort should be refused any line that will make Honolulu a port of call. A steamship contest costs money. Outsiders will not spend money for love of a fight and the local merchants are not yet strong enough financially to supply the backbone for an independent line that will cut rates.

MACKINTOSH TRIED

WANTED BY POLICE

TO STOW AWAY

D. A. Mackintosh, for whom the police have been searching strenuously during the past week, was discovered this morning on board the bark Gerard C. Tobey, in which he was trying to stow away.

Mackintosh was arrested a couple of weeks ago on a charge of bigamy, it being alleged that he had one wife here and one in San Francisco. Last Saturday he was released from custody, as the police found that at the time they did not have sufficient evidence to hold him. A few hours after he had been released E. O. Hall & Son, for whom he had been working, swore to a warrant for his arrest on a charge of embezzlement. The police immediately started to look for him, but no trace could be found of him.

During the week, Detective McDuffie, who had charge of the case, was informed that Mackintosh would probably stow away on the Tobey, which was to leave for San Francisco today. A watch was consequently kept on the Tobey, but no sign was seen of the refugee. This morning McDuffie made a thorough search of the vessel. After looking all over the vessel he finally found Mackintosh hidden away in a lifeboat. The lifeboat was lying on deck, covered by a wooden cover. Under this the missing man was found. Mackintosh was taken to the police station, where he is now locked up. He told McDuffie that immediately after his release last Saturday he went up on the top of Punchbowl, where he stayed during the night. His movements after that Mackintosh would not divulge, probably from fear lest he should get friends who aided him into trouble. Mackintosh stated to a Bulletin reporter this morning that neither Captain Scott of the Tobey or anyone else knew about his hiding on the vessel.

Mackintosh appeared before Judge Lindsay this morning charged with embezzlement. The case was continued until Monday. Mackintosh's alleged San Francisco wife is expected to arrive here in the near future and the police hope then to be able to press the bigamy charges against him.

FINED FOR CONTEMPT

offense, but whatever his action, whatever he may have inadvertently said or done to offend the court there had been no intention to commit contempt. He believed that he had acted in the interests of his client, as he had always endeavored to do through a long and successful practice.

At the conclusion of the attorney's remarks, Judge De Bolt suggested that respondent had failed to refer in any way to the condition in which he entered the court yesterday. "When you entered this court room," said the judge, "you were intoxicated. Your conduct was disgraceful. One of the jurors drew the Court's attention to your condition. Perhaps this Court should have acted then; perhaps the Court waited too long, but such things are full of difficulties and a judge is obliged to be careful, so as not to prejudice in any way a case on trial, not to commit error, not to make it necessary for new trial. This Court was hoping, at noon recess, that you would go and get a good dinner and come back in the afternoon able to proceed properly; instead of that you came back in a worse condition.

"This is a serious matter; the protection of the accused has to be considered; your gross intoxication rendered you incapable of properly defending your client, who discharged you here in open court; it became necessary for the Court to instruct the jury not to let your conduct prejudice them against the defendant. An offense such as you have committed deserves imprisonment, but, inasmuch as you disclaim any intent to commit contempt, I will not imprison you. I want to be just and I want to do what is right in this matter. I may say that I almost feel it my duty to fine you one hundred dollars; if I were certain that this was my duty I would fine you that amount. I am aware, however, of your financial condition; I am aware that you are not flush with money.

"This Court will say that hereafter the most rigid rule will be observed in regard to attorneys entering the court room in an intoxicated condition; hereafter action will be taken immediately."

Hogan sat silent under the remarks of the Judge. Later he was informed that his fine had been paid. He wanted to know who had paid it. He was surprised, for he was in custody until his fine was paid. He said he did not want anybody to pay his fine for him; he much preferred going to jail.

RICE & PERKINS
SUCCESSFULLY EXHIBIT

Rice & Perkins' opening exhibit and reception given at their new studio last night brought out several hundred people who were pleasantly surprised at the photographic art collection displayed and entertained by music and refreshments, as well as the new ideas shown in picture making.

Down stairs the main room was decorated with American and Hawaii flags artistically draped and photographs showing the highest development of the photographic art were displayed about the walls.

Guests were taken by the elevator to the studio and reception rooms on the third floor where potted plants and palms and pretty flowers were effectively arranged, and the quintet club played while fruit punch and cake were served. By being unfortunately delayed the quintet club did not arrive until about 9 o'clock, but, in the meantime the attention of visitors was engrossed in new treatment of the portraits that were artistically arranged about the walls showing work that has been turned out by Rice & Perkins during the past two years and none but favorable comments were heard on all sides. Altogether the reception was an unqualified success both to the management and to the guests.

WANT REDUCED RATES

Mr. Brasch said he did not believe in asking the steamship companies to do something for nothing. If they reduce passenger rates we should make them some compensating advance. For instance, they might listen to us if we proposed to pay $5 per ton for our freight instead of $3.50.

J. C. Rothwell spoke of the congestion in mainland bond travel and the pressing need of more facilities. He believed an effort should be made to secure a modification of the shipping laws at least during the pressure of World's Fair traffic. It was pointed out by Mr. Smith that Congress had adjourned.

F. W. Macfarlane did not see how a modification of the shipping laws would be of great value for that would only make it easier for people to leave. While the main question of reducing rates to attract more people was lost sight of, Mr. Macfarlane discussed the special steamer suggestion, saying that it resolved itself into a question of whether the Merchants' Association could sustain a steamer with up and down passengers and down freight. Little up freight could be expected from the sugar men because they had their own lines to support.

Mr. McClellan, who is just back from Washington, said the most hopeless of all tasks for Hawaii is to consider that there is any likelihood of securing an amendment to the shipping laws. The irresistible sentiment in Congress is just the other way.

Mr. Rothwell made the suggestion that the steamship companies be asked as a matter of courtesy to the community that had furnished them business to put on an extra steamer during the present congestion of traffic. He favored united and positive action even to the extent of chartering a steamer and cutting the rate ourselves. Some of the members thought it would be impossible to secure a suitable vessel in the Pacific.

On motion of Mr. Rothwell the matter was referred to the directors for investigation with instructions to report to the Association within two weeks.

DAN GROSVENOR SAYS:

"Pe-ru-na is an Excellent Spring Catarrh Remedy—I am as Well as Ever."

HON. DAN. A. GROSVENOR, OF THE FAMOUS OHIO FAMILY.

Hon. Dan. A. Grosvenor, Deputy Auditor for the War Department, in a letter written from Washington, D. C., says:

"Allow me to express my gratitude to you for the benefit derived from one bottle of Peruna. One week has brought wonderful changes and I am now as well as ever. Besides being one of the very best spring tonics it is an excellent catarrh remedy."

DAN. A. GROSVENOR.

In a recent letter he says:

"I consider Peruna really more meritorious than I did when I wrote you last. I received numerous letters from acquaintances all over the country asking me if my certificate is genuine. I invariably answer, yes."—Dan. A. Grosvenor.

A County Commissioner's Letter.

Hon. John Williams, County Commissioner, of 517 West Second Street, Duluth, Minn., says the following in regard to Peruna:

"As a remedy for catarrh I can cheerfully recommend Peruna. I know what it is to suffer from that terrible disease and I feel that it is my duty to speak a good word for the tonic that brought me immediate relief. Peruna cured me of a bad case of catarrh and I know it will cure any other sufferer from that disease."—John Williams.

For special directions everyone should read "The Ills of Life," a copy of which surrounds each bottle. Peruna is for sale by all chemists and druggists at one dollar per bottle or six bottles for five dollars.

Those wishing direct correspondence with Dr. Hartman and can wait the necessary delay in receiving a reply should address Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, U. S. A.

THE BULLETIN, 75c per month

The Board of Directors of the Louisiana Purchase Souvenir Coin Company will set aside an appropriation of $50,000, which will be presented, in its entirety, to the person who sends us a correct estimate of the EXACT number of paid admissions to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, which opens at St. Louis, April 30th, and closes December 1st, 1904. Should no one succeed in estimating the exact number, the money will be presented to the one who sends us the nearest correct estimate. This Golden opportunity to secure a magnificent fortune costs NOTHING. Our object in making this unprecedented offer is to advertise and promote the sale of our Souvenir Coins of Admission to the World's Fair. These Souvenir Coins of Admission are of artistic and appropriate design, are invaluable as mementos of this greatest of all Expositions and are similar to the Columbian Half Dollar, aside from their intrinsic value, we will accept them in exchange for regular tickets of admission to the World's Fair, and for this purpose will maintain a ticket office at the main entrance to the Fair Grounds, which will be open every day during the World's Fair period. Every day wants one of these Souvenirs, but only a limited number will be offered for sale. Price 50 cents. With every Souvenir Coin of Admission purchased we allow one estimate to be made and filed of the total admissions to the Fair. No one has any advantage in this contest. YOU are just as likely to get the $50,000 in Gold as anyone. It is all pure luck. Should there be more than one correct estimate the $50,000 will be divided equally between the persons making the exact or nearest correct estimates. There may be no ties or dividing of this money; the enormous sum of $50,000 may be received by one person. WHY NOT YOU? The Lucky Winner will be notified the instant the official announcement of the total number of paid admissions is made by the

Louisiana Purchase Exposition Company. We will also pay all of your expenses to St. Louis and will deliver the $50,000 IN ONE GREAT BAG OF GOLD as soon as you reach this city. The total paid admissions to Chicago World's Fair were 21,480,141; Paris, France, Exposition, 16,795,167; Pan-American Exposition, 5,360,859

Relief Stencil Decoration

Is one of the most up-to-date expressions of high-class decorative art. It's as far removed from ordinary stencil work as cut velvet is from a cheap calico. It admits of an individuality of treatment and artistic character not found in any other style of mural decoration. While you are considering the question of wall paper and interior decorations this spring let us show you some examples of the new relief stenciling that we offer, just completed in our office.

Social Side of Life

The Prince and Princess Kawanakoa gave a large and enjoyable luau at their residence on Pensacola street last Saturday evening for the principals and chorus of the Pirates of Penzance.

It was an open-air luau, the guests being protected by a large marquee. Japanese lanterns and electric lights softly draped in red, cast a bewitching glamour over the scene, and the pretty frocks of the "chorus girls," to say nothing of the stunning ones worn by the principals, made a picture long to be remembered.

The beautiful Princess wore an Empire gown of broadened yellow satin which suited her down to the ground. Doctor F. Howard Humphris responded to the toast "to the ladies" in his usual clever, witty fashion and created much laughter by his local color. After the luau many of the guests went on to the dance given at the Maternity Home and enjoyed a very pleasant evening. The attendance was increased later in the evening by many coming in from the Kamehameha concert and joining in the dancing, which was continued until a late hour.

Doctor and Mrs. Humphris gave a very delightful and informal picnic at beautiful Waialeale on Sunday last to about sixty of their friends. The guests thoroughly appreciated the comfortable mountain retreat, so cleverly designed by Alan Herbert, and the day was passed most agreeably, for Doctor and Mrs. Humphris understand the art of making their guests happy. Alan Herbert does not only build houses, but he proved on Sunday that he could concoct a delicious chowder—as every one said. The billiard room was most popular, and the bath pool, so romantically situated, was a pleasant interlude. A substantial and delicious lunch was served about 1 o'clock, the guests waiting upon themselves. Most of the picnickers drove into town about 5 after spending a very pleasant day.

Mrs. E. S. Cunha was at home on Tuesday to about sixty of her friends in honor of her sister, Mrs. MacLeod. "Pedro" was the attraction for the afternoon and that game was indulged in until 5 o'clock. The players then put out the darts, and refreshments and discussed the prizes which were won as follows: First prize, a large cut glass bowl, Mrs. Charles Cooper; second prize, a tall cut glass vase, Mrs. Percy Benson; third prize, a green Bohemian vase, Mrs. MacLain. Among those present were Mrs. MacLain, Mrs. Susha, Mrs. MacLain, Mrs. Campbell-Parker, Princess Kawanakoa, Mrs. A. M. Brown, Mrs. S. M. Wilder, Mrs. Henry Macfarlane, Mrs. Byron Baird, Mrs. High, Mrs. Beckley, Mrs. Booth, Mrs. Freeth, Mrs. Raymond, Mrs. W. Lewis, Mrs. Spillio, Mrs. Lake, Mrs. Humphreys, Mrs. Faxon Bishop, Mrs. Kelley, Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Riggs, Mrs. Brewster, the Misses Bradley, Miss Beckley, Mrs. Emmet May, Miss Roth, Mrs. Alan Dunn and many others.

Mrs. F. M. Hatch was the hostess of a very charming supper last Sunday evening at Sans Souci. The evening was perfect and many of the guests amused themselves by a musical dip in the sea. Mrs. Hatch is a charming hostess and one is always assured of a good time at Sans Souci. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Baird, Miss Winston, Miss Gaudie Macfarlane, Miss Jessie Kaufmann, Mr. Potter, Mr. Wright, Mr. Anderson, Mr. Walter Dillingham and Mr. Bliss.

They say that Mrs. William Irwin has introduced the opera carriage in San Francisco, and it has become so popular that all her friends are thinking of ordering one like it. It is very like the one Mrs. Hatch drives about in here. It holds six persons and one can go about and pick up one's friends when a theatre party is on the tapis, or a ball. It saves a lot of annoyance and is very convenient for stormy weather, for it is covered in glass on two sides, and one is always sure of arriving in good condition. I wonder they are not more popular in Honolulu. I think Mrs. Hatch has the only one.

The papers say that Ashton Potter, so well known here, has resigned from the army to please his wife. It must be so for he was in love with the life and tired of being merely a New York idler. He looks exactly like a Gibson idler and it's a pity the army lost him. Mrs. Potter, so they say, finds the army very trying both to her temper and looks, and it simply tears in pieces her ideas of exclusiveness. When she goes to a post she must return the calls that are paid to her or be considered a frightful cad. This is a grief to her for not all the officers have the social position out of the army that Lieut. Potter has, and many of the women had no position at all, and Mrs. Potter holds up her hands in horror at the idea of knowing some of the wives of even generals. The life of the army has ruined her good looks and she was very peevish about it, for she said she would not know women of less social position than hers. Ashton Potter recently tried to become an attaché abroad but failed, and that I believe was what moved his wife to insist upon his resignation. She thought he might be an officer's wife if she could live at some European court for a few years. Now they are going to build a house of their own at Santa Barbara, where there is a fashionable Eastern colony, and pass a good portion of the New York season with Mr. Potter's relatives in that city. The papers say that Mr. Potter is under the complete domination of his wife. She takes charge of his money, tells him how many drinks he may have and all that sort of thing. As he was formerly a very gay young man, it is said to be a splendid thing for him. I believe he offered his wife to let her have and sell her twice. He left San Francisco soon afterwards and the McNutts and Mrs. Robinson Reilly went out to the Philippines, where the couple were married.

Miss Eleanor Terry, the admiral's daughter, was very popular in San Francisco society a few years ago. She possesses an unusual type of beauty and much wit. She is one of the most popular girls in Honolulu and is invited everywhere.

The Misses Bradley, who are being much entertained, are making a very good impression. Mrs. Campbell-Parker intends giving them a large masquerade ball during their visit here, and many card parties and dances are being planned in their honor. They are both charming and attractive and are very much delighted with Honolulu. They are the guests of Prince and Princess Kawanakoa. The Princess and the Misses Bradley were at the convent together and are old school friends.

A very pretty luncheon was given by Miss Jennie Giffard on Monday in honor of the bride, Mrs. Wesley Hamilton. The guest of honor was dressed in soft white, and wore a picture hat of blue forget-me-nots, and looked very lovely. In the center of the table was a basket of pink roses tied with pink ribbons, and across each chair were leis of the white entwined with bunches of violets tied with broad green ribbons, making a very artistic effect. The place cards were pink paper poppies. The guests were Mrs. Montague Cooke, Mrs. S. M. Wilder, Mrs. Percy Benson, Mrs. Kimball, Mrs. Baird, Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Mrs. Tenney, Miss Irmgard Macfarlane, Miss Benson and Miss Terry.

A large and fashionable audience greeted the Ahkud of Swat on Thursday evening, and the bright little opera in the hands of Honolulu amateurs proved attractive from beginning to end. The costumes were particularly good, the chorus looking very fetching in all three acts. Mrs. Tenney, in the part of a southern belle, looked charming, and danced with grace and spirit. Her costume was exquisite in the first act, a symphony in lavenders and greens. She carried a huge ruff of chiffon with violets attached and her bouquet of violets added a chic touch. She responded to an encore in the second act, her perfect figure showing to great advantage in the bathing costume. Miss Leontine Hartnagie, as the country girl, made a decided hit. Her round full voice was listened to with pleasure, its dramatic quality being particularly noticeable, and she made a very sweet and fetching dairy maid. Her song was enthusiastically encored, Mrs. Hilberdine and Mrs. Camp were very much admired, the yellow rainbow frock being especially commented upon. Mrs. Percy Benson looked very handsome and acted with much artistic feeling. Miss Fisher looked young and attractive and was very well received. Mr. Dougherty, Mr. Brown, Mr. Herzer, Mr. Livingston, Judge Stanley and Mr. Viera were all unusually good and Mr. E. M. Boyd did a very clever bit of acting as Patrolman Flynn and took off his superior officer to the life. Mr. Barton deserves all the pleasant things that are being said about him and has proved himself to be undoubtedly possessed of enormous talent. The house is already nearly sold out for tonight. The Prince and Princess Kawanakoa occupied their box and the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hawes, the Misses Bradley and Miss Rose Cunha. The livers were in the stage box and their guests were Miss Terry, Miss Scott, Mr. Terry and Walter Dillingham.

Mrs. Harry Couzens, who departed with her husband for the coast on Friday, was the hostess of a very pretty luncheon at the Alexander Young hotel on Monday. The hostess presented her guests with a specimen of her own handiwork in the shape of exquisite miniatures as parting souvenirs.

Miss Maggie McIntyre gave a large card party on Friday afternoon at her home in Nuuanu valley.

Mr. George Bliss is expected from the other islands today.

It is a matter of great regret that Mr. and Mrs. A. Hays are leaving the islands for the coast. They are great favorites in Honolulu.

Miss Winnifred Dole, cousin of Judge Sanford Dole, is making hosts of friends. She is very fond of sports, and like her cousins, excels in all she undertakes.

Mrs. Wesley W. K. Hamilton will be at home on the first and third Tuesdays during May and June at the residence of Mrs. Claire Williams, Waikiki.

Monsieur Vizzavona, the French Consul, is stopping at the Alexander Young hotel.

Miss Caroline Castle's musicals will take place on the 22nd inst. at Moana Valley.

St. Clement's Flower Festival will be held on the 14th. Many novel features are being introduced and, under Mr. Laborne's able management, success can be assured.

The Haleiwa Hotel is as popular as ever and everybody speaks well of Mr. Fred Church.

Mrs. Mabel Wing Castle expects to spend the summer in California in search of health.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Wilder expect to arrive in Honolulu about July 3rd, accompanied by Mrs. A. F. Judd and the Misses Judd.

Those little dances at the Moana hotel on Friday evenings are very popular.

St. Clement's flower carnival will undoubtedly be one of the prettiest affairs ever given here as well as an innovation. On all sides there is much discussion about the decorations of the carriages, and there will be much good natured rivalry, not only amongst the "grown-ups" but amongst the babies. Some charming ideas have already been evolved—but that's a secret.

MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION

At yesterday afternoon in the routine business President Smith reported on the work done by the directors since the January meeting. The directors sent a memorial to Delegate Kubio in January asking him to work for the location of a regiment of infantry on Oahu. In February the most important work was the joint action with the Chamber of Commerce in securing the payments of Government warrants. The Secretary of the Territory had been asked to aid in the enforcement of the bankruptcy law. The Secretary has asked that all firms file with the Territorial Secretary their co-partnership papers. The directors had also endorsed the Gardner bill for the aid of American shipping. Mr. Smith reported the result of the conference with Senator Herrick of Washington, who promised to do all he could to induce the Hill line to establish permanent connections between Honolulu and Seattle.

Mr. McClellan gave a detailed report of his work in Washington as heretofore reported in the local press.

The work of the Association having grown to such proportions, President Smith recommended the election of a paid secretary. Theo. F. Lansing was elected at a salary of $50 per month.

The directors were instructed to revise and suggest amendments to the by-laws.

The new rooms of the Association are cozy and well furnished and cost less than their former quarters.

Transport Sherman From Philippines

The U. S. A. transport Sherman arrived from Manila, P. I., last night and was docked at the Naval wharf. She carries no less than 1,200 passengers, including the Twenty-ninth U. S. Infantry, several hundred casualties and men of the signal and hospital corps and also a large list of first-class passengers.

The Twenty-ninth Infantry is commanded by Col. B. C. Lockwood. Among the passengers is Mrs. Burwell, the wife of Captain Burwell, of the battleship Oregon; Judge Odlin of the Court of First Instance at Manila, and Superintendent Moses of the Army transport service.

The Twenty-ninth Infantry was first stationed in Cebu, Paragua and Panay, where part of it took part in fights against the Moros. The regiment was then stationed on the island of Guimaras where it remained until called home. On arrival on the mainland the regiment will be split up and sent to Fort Douglas, Utah; Fort Bliss, Whipple Barracks and Fort Duchesne.

FREE KINDERGARTEN MONTHLY MEETING

There was an unusually large attendance at the regular monthly meeting of the Free Kindergarten and Children's Aid Association Friday morning.

The coming exodus of Honolulu's population to the Coast and Eastern States for the Summer will affect the working committees of the Association and several resignations were of necessity handed in and respectfully accepted.

Reports were read from the various committees showing the kindergartens in a prosperous condition. The band concert given to the children Monday at Thomas Square was largely attended and thoroughly enjoyed by the primary grades as well as the little people of the kindergarten.

Miss Bray, director of Kawaihau kindergarten, was given a leave of absence for the month of June and the resignation of Miss Ashton, director of Palama kindergarten, was accepted with regret. It was voted to grant diplomas to Misses Winnifred Sharp and Neva Eaton at the close of the school year, for successfully completing the two years' course of study in the Honolulu Free Kindergarten Training School.

Reports from the Castle Home were read showing that institution is doing a noble work. Two new children were accepted, making a total of twenty-one boys and girls being mothered under one roof.

The financial condition of this public charity is very precarious and may be largely due to a misunderstanding as to the proper source for its maintenance. The use of the property, salary of matron and all expenses of the outside management are given by the former occupants of the premises, but the support of the Home must come from the general public and unless some arrangement can be made for meeting the running expenses of the institution there are grave fears for its continuance.

After a lengthy discussion as to ways and means of securing funds for the Association work, the meeting adjourned.

MEYER AND BIERBACH

BUY CHAMBERS DRUG

Papers will be signed today by which August W. Meyer and Otto A. Bierbach will take over the control of the Chambers Drug Co., Ltd. The deal transfers to these gentlemen the stock hitherto held by Mr. Chambers and places in their hands the interest held by W. A. Nichols. Unless some unforeseen hitch occurs the new management will assume control Monday morning.

Mr. Meyer has been dispensing clerk with Benson, Smith & Co. for five years and previous to that was with the Honolulu Drug Co. four years. Mr. Bierbach is a graduate pharmacist and has come in contact with the Honolulu public across the counters of the Honolulu Drug Co.'s store. They have secured a good business in a good location and their experience and acquaintance goes a long way toward guaranteeing them a successful business career.
