HONOLULU, MAY 29 1894.

The Freedom of the Floor.

Among all the absurd propositions made by the p. g. supporters, the latest one embodied in a Club resolution takes the prize. The Annexation Club doesn't wish to nominate Thurston for a seat in the Council, as it refused to nominate him as a delegate, but to head off the possibility that Mr. Dole and his seventeen gallant followers may insist in having the "showy" ambassador in their midst, they tender Mr. Thurston the freedom of the floor and asks him to assist in framing the new Constitution—already framed, printed, sealed and ready for delivery.

The constitutional convention is called in obedience to an Act or decree issued by the Councils. It provides that the convention shall consist of the nineteen members of the Executive and Advisory Councils besides eighteen elected delegates. These 37 men are supposed to make a Constitution. That is all the decree authorizes them to do. The decree does not give them right or power to increase their number in any arbitrary manner, and they can no more add Mr. Thurston to their number than they can decrease the authorized membership.

And the humiliation implied in such action! Is it possible that these 37 men, who we have been constantly told possess all the wealth, all the intelligence, and the very incarnation of all virtues are willing to admit that they are incompetent to perform the work which they unbidden have assumed? Do all these brilliant men like W. O. Smith, Mendonca, Josepa or Baldwin stand ready to say that the presence of Thurston "on the floor" is necessary or no constitution can be made? A more idiotic, a more stupendous idea has never emanated from any body of men holding in their hands, although temporarily, the dignity of a nation, the prosperity of a country.

If Mr. Thurston is supposed to have peculiar qualifications for framing constitutions, why can he not be seen in private by the heads of the government and communicate to them his alleged excellent ideas or clever tricks? Surely some of the Ministers must possess ability enough to repeat Mr. Thurston's dogmas as a school boy does his lesson. If they cannot even do the parrot act, they certainly are incompetent to frame constitutions, but then they should have the modesty and good sense to give "the freedom of the floor" to 37 other men who would have ability, knowledge and intelligence enough to act without being prompted by His Excellency L. A. Thurston or placing him on the floor like a talking machine between a janitor and a spittoon. Before the convention is over the members will have learned that they have talking-machines enough among them without hiring any extras. Just wait to the sluices of the "Dam of Lao" are opened.

The most serious part of the business is though that the taxpayers are called upon to pay to Mr. Thurston $500 a month while he is loafing around here. For nearly a year and a half has he been the beneficiary of the p. g. government to that amount. And who will dare to say that he has earned it. He has neglected his official business in a most shameful manner. He has deserted his post, when it is claimed, his presence was mostly needed. He has devoted his time to attend to his private business and he has been extremely prompt and regular in drawing his fat salary from the Hawaiian treasury. It became necessary to send other men as commissioners or secretaries or "what-ever-you-please" to assist Mr. Thurston in his work. And his work was never accomplished. He went to secure annexation, and annexation is further off today than it ever was. He should have ingratiated himself with the Administration and he became a persona ingrata to Cleveland and his cabinet. He should have upheld the dignity of the country he represented; and he turned out as a showman, a stump speaker and a ward politician—and he was consequently snubbed and the p. g. ridiculed. And for this the taxpayers here have paid him $500 a month besides his travelling expenses and "incidentals" whenever he went on a junketing trip. Is it now the proposition to keep him here and continue the salary in the shape of a pension while he exercises the "freedom of the floor"? Verily those whom the Gods wish to destroy they make mad—or members of a p. g.

Two Intellectual Giants.

A correspondence has passed between Allah Dole and his Prophet Walter G. Smith. The letter from the latter to the former is not published, but it contains an offer of the Prophet to go forth—presumably at government expense—and preach before the Republicans of the United States the evangelium of annexation. The answer from the only Dole is so unique and shows the high opinion the two great men have of themselves individually, and apparently—if not sincerely of each other. Allah Dole's letter should be preserved as a proof of the total lack of apprehension of the true feeling in America towards Hawaii, which is so characteristic of the blind moles who cannot even see the tip of their own noses leave alone the writing on the wall, and who call themselves the rulers of Hawaii.

Allah Dole to his Prophet Walter G. Smith:

Honolulu, May 15, 1894.

Mr. Walter G. Smith: Your letter enclosing the communication of Mr. Humphrey, Secretary of the National Republican League of the United States which suggests that some political organization here, or the Provisional Government should delegate you to speak for Hawaii and the policy of annexation before the League convention soon to be held in Denver, has waited too long for an answer.

While I agree with you that it would be "unwise for the Provisional Government or the political organizations which support it to become identified with any political party in the United States when all contain friends and advocates of the annexationist policy," I feel that it would be no easy matter to find one who could represent the cause of Hawaii before the convention with more eloquence and enthusiasm than yourself.

Our request for political union with the United States is to the whole American people, and it is not for us to encourage any tendency that may exist to make a party matter of it. With America it is an American question and many of the best minds in all parties are fully enlisted in its favor—not to speak of the growing public sentiment which is rapidly mastering the situation.

I have the honor to be, very sincerely yours,

SANFORD B. DOLE.

Swedes Not Wanted.

The statement in this morning's Advertiser that Mr. Allen Herbert is to be entrusted with the task of investigating the possibility of obtaining a supply of laborers from Sweden, is worthy of more than a passing notice. The Swedes, and in fact all the nationalities of Scandinavia, are of the sort that go to make good citizens in any state in which the industrious agriculturist can become a freeholder. The government of Queensland for years brought out to that colony Scandinavians free, at a cost to the public treasury of a hundred dollars a head. But when the immigrant landed he was free to start in business for himself, or engage to work for whom he pleased. The agents of the Queensland government selected only agriculturists, or those who were skilled in the working of iron or timber. If the immigrant did not relish the prospect before him, he was free to return home; at his own expense. Here the conditions confronting the new arrival are very different—and in short, without giving numerous reasons, why, they are such that if honestly made known to the Swede at home, would not tempt him to come. Years of contract with the plant and obsequious oriental coolie, has utterly unfitted the Hawaiian planter for dealing with such an independent and liberty loving race as the Swedes, while the surroundings of our system of contract labor would make the Swede rebellious from the start and the usual methods used for enforcement of the labor laws with a gang of Swedes, would prove a new and striking experience to the average Luna.

The statement that they (the Swedes) "are of very different habits to the Norwegians," may be intended to convey the idea of superiority of some sort on the part of the Swede. Perhaps the writer meant that the Swede would require a clean napkin at the plantation table, and matting on the floor of the shed which the planter would give him to live in. But if he stated that the Swede would expect beer with his meals, and a nip of "brantwein" as often as he felt like it, and that these things are part of his food at home and supplied free to every laborer; he would be correct. The Advertiser might have then added that the whole pay of the Swedish laborer would not pay for these liquors, which not even the tracts of the W. C. T. U. would induce him to forego. Mr. Allen Herbert left his native maritime village in the "sund" some fifty years ago, and can hardly be regarded as an authority in the matter of what are the present conditions. If he knows anything about the purchasing power of money here and in Sweden, he will confess that a kroner there, will buy more than a dollar, four times its value as a coin, will do here. Moreover the experiment of bringing men from the snow-clad regions to labor in a tropical sun, is not a success anywhere.

On the whole, if the planters want to reopen the door which the report of Swedish Commissioner Grip closed some years ago, they have a perfect right to try to do so and pay all expense of the attempt. But while ready to yield our support to the introduction of the people who bid fair to build up Anglo-Saxon institutions, we emphatically protest against squandering public money on more than doubtful experiments.

CORRESPONDENCE

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions or the utterances of our correspondents.]

EDITOR HOLOMUA:

It is really astonishing that at this late hour and after that annexation-scheme has been disposed of long ago and declared in all quarters as dead as the proverbial doornail, that anyhow some or the other annexation-crank bobs up serenely telling us about all the profits and beauties expected from annexation etc. Now for the benefit of all such cranks let it be said: that annexation of the Hawaiian Islands to the United States never has been and never will be wanted, whether by the United States Government or by the Hawaiian people, and that annexation against the will of the latter is an impossibility. We do not believe that the p. g. ever has been in earnest with that so-called annexation scheme, it was only to serve as a cloak for other nefarious purposes in which they have been fairly successful so far; none of them ever has desired annexation pure and simple, and the very best proof for this assertion furnishes their own work in the shape of a "treaty" forwarded by them through their commissioners to Washington; as soon as the features of the so-called "treaty" had found publication, we pronounced it then as the work of a lot of fools or of a lot of knaves, or both, and how far we were right or wrong in our judgment, can be seen in what Senator Daniel of Virginia in his speech before the Senate on "the conspiracy against the Hawaiians," says:

"This treaty entailed great obligations upon the people of the United States. The public debt of the Hawaiian Islands including amounts due to depositors in the Hawaiian Postal Savings Bank was thereby assumed by the government of the United States, within the limit of three and a quarter millions of dollars; the late Queen of the Hawaiian Islands, Liliuokalani was therein treated as a subject of such tender interest that she was made a pensioner of our Government in the round sum of $200,000 with an annuity of $20,000 during her natural life, conditioned upon her submission to the authority of the United States and the local government of the islands. The Princess Kaiulani was to receive a douceur of $150,000 from the United States upon the like conditions.

In return for these and other considerations the independency of the islands was renounced and the entire territory transferred to the United States to become an integral part thereof. It was further provided that within a year Congress should enact necessary legislation to extend to the Hawaiian Islands the laws of the United States respecting duties upon imports, internal revenue, commerce and navigation, and these immense sugar bounties would have become a charge of our treasury.

We shall presently see that sugar played a large part in this business, although silence on that point is severely maintained by many who undertake to assign the causes of the so-called revolution.

If Liliuokalani be the unfit and undeserving person, she is now described to be, why is it that she is deemed worthy to be supported in royal fashion by the tax-payers of the United States, and thus grandly welcomed into the bosom of our national household? Why should her name be inscribed upon the pension roll of honor high above that of our generals and admirals and their widows and orphans? Why should we, strangers to her, make for her this provision of reverent munificence, if we have done her no wrong, why this gorgeous reparation to her and the Crown Princess? If she be fit to be a retired Dowager Queen of the United States, why not fit to be Queen of her own country, at the expense of its tax-payers, instead of ours? If she has forfeited all things, why should we pay her for that which she did not possess and could not sell?

or then would-be benefactors are now detractors and none of them have ventured to answer these condemnations as yet.

If she be entitled from us to this magnificent douceur, it is only because she was robbed, and it is tendered as conscience-money. But why should we be asked to join in the conscience-tender, if we did not participate in the deed? The fact that she prefers the turmoil of her own throne to peace with bounty and safety is the best evidence of her sincerity. Did conscience, abashed at the enormity of its offense, prompt the proposed restitution? Why should the Hawaiian commissioners be so eager for the restitution of the Queen to fortune at our expense and so indignant if it be proposed at theirs?

* * * Pause now and remember, Senators, if you please, the situation that President Cleveland had to deal with. A government, but a day old, and confessedly incapable at the time of protecting the life and property of its people, had hastened from its shores, commissioners to sell out its territory and its independence. Before the transaction could be completed, it was so limp, helpless, and insane, that it had hidden its nakedness under the folds of our flag and the proposition pending before the United States to hold the fierce grip of one mailed hand upon the country while with the other it signed the bill of sale.

Abhorrent to common instincts of honesty; abhorrent to every conceivable principle of right; infamous in every Court of equity would such a transaction be between individuals or corporations, and, to my mind, between this great and illustrious nation and this feeble ward of its friendship, however, others may regard it, it is shocking to my every conception of fair dealing."

Now ye annexationist and other schemers smell at that and oblige AMERICAN CITIZEN.

EDITOR HOLOMUA:

The tone of the article signed "Eggs," that appeared in the morning stickler of man-ish machine political women, clearly shows him to be a character not to be trusted after dark anywhere near the hen-roost of his neighbor. Minister Damon has simply done his duty, which is to spend the taxpayers money to the best advantage; but that suits not the principles of Eggs, as he would have the Minister award the contract to the Advertiser at a much higher rate, which is tantamount to stealing the public money. Eggs has shown the rottenness of his character, for if he had been Minister of Finance, he would have committed this theft of public money, in order to help the Advertiser and what is left of the party of Stevens. Mr. Eggs, there is an unsavory smell of rotten eggs throughout your article—or in plain English—it stinks.

DISINFECTIO.

Coxey's Army.

While the members of the industrial army of unemployed who went to Washington, are being entertained in jail by the sheriff for not obeying the notice to "keep off the grass," to which they were pushed on by a hungry surging crowd; the several governments of Australia who are also confronted with the problem of how to deal with the unemployed are providing employment for all willing to work. In Australia the public lands are being utilized for settlement, and the industrious are assisted by the state in founding homes. As the railroads are public property, and in the hands of the government; one of the chief aids to agricultural settlement is secured to the people. The following is from the S. F. Chronicle:

In response to general demands that the government should afford assistance to the unemployed, scores of deputations representing them have waited upon the Premier, Sir George Dibbs, during the past two months' and the Cabinet by a majority vote has given its approval to a scheme of state aid by which the government will bear the expense of clearing 2,000 farms of 150 acres each, which will be leased out to skilled people. It is estimated that an expenditure of $1,000,000 will make the land ready for the farmer, and that the state will make a goodly interest on the investment by leasing the land for wheat growing at the rate of $1.25 an acre a year. By adopting the system of small contracts for clearing the land over 10,000 can be employed.

The Way of the Shah.

When the Shah went to England last he visited one of the largest towns in the West Riding of Yorkshire. While driving through the crowded streets of that town he noticed some gamins who had taken up a very prominent position, and were saluting him with great gusto by applying their thumbs to the extremities of their nasal organs.

On inquiring the meaning of this strange procedure, he was told by his attendant that it was looked upon as a great mark of respect in this country.

When the Shah's visit came to an end, he was accompanied to the station by the Mayor of the borough. When they arrived there the train was about to start, and the Shah immediately took his seat.

Just as the train was moving off, amid the cheers of the assembled crowd, the Shah rose, put his head out of the carriage window, gravely applied his thumb to his nose, and spread out his fingers in the most approved style at the astonished Mayor, to that gentleman's discomfort and the great delight of those who were standing round.

The Advertiser who catches a persons eye usually wins a customer. Many different styles of advertising have been adopted and with more or less success, by the believers in the use of printers ink. The manufacturers of Pears Soap, for instance, occasionally buy paintings that have been on exhibition in the Paris Salon and have lithographs made from them for the purpose of bringing their product before the people. In addition to such side issues, Pears spends hundreds thousands of dollars annually among the newspapers and magazines. Some years ago the Agents of certain article on sale in New York made a hit in advertising by having on Broadway during business hours two fatness dressed Negroes wearing very high collars, on the backs of which was printed "Use Smiths Pills." The idea was novel and the public caught on. Rising Sun Stove Polish has been kept before the public for years through persistent, and sometimes expensive advertising. Twenty odd years ago the manufacturers of this polish started half a dozen men across the continent to paint signs on rocks and fences. The Aeromotor Co., of Chicago have increased its sales more than five hundred per cent in two years by the use of printers ink. We believe we have been instrumental in increasing the sales of the Aeromotor by keeping everlastingly at it in Hawaii.

We do not wish to say that advertising will sell any manufactured article; there is no use spending money in advertising "cheap and nasty" goods because the people will not be hoodwinked. If Haviland China was not the superior article it is, all our advertising of it would not have sold the thousands of pieces that we have. We simply call the attention of the people to it and its superior quality is apparent to the customer directly a piece of it is examined.

Printers ink has helped the sale of the James Locked Fence but it would not have done so if it had been as flimsy as the or dimmy wire fence. First; the economy there is in building it recommends it to the plantation manager and then its durability clinches the sale. If the stays and washers cost as much as an ordinary redwood post our sales of the material would not have reached such enormous proportions.

Our average sale of the Panay Iron Stove is about two a day the year round. If was not the best iron stove on the market we would not sell that many in six months. Advertising is the tip to the public the good points in the article sells it just as the good qualities of the Fischer Steel Range make it a desirable article for people who wish to economize in the use of fuel.

We buy only what has proven good after people in the United States or Europe have given it a trial; we profit by their experience if the articles are good we buy and sell them; if they are poor we steer clear of them. When we advertise an article it is to attract attention to it; the newspaper is the button we push, the salesman does the rest.

Persistent advertising coupled with the article being a superior one has sold thousands of the Frank Walcott Emory File. If it had been no better than an ordinary scythe stone we probably would not have sold twenty. When a man finds out that his table knives may be kept sharp at all times at an expense of fifty cents and a very little elbow grease he is quite willing to try the experiment.
