AFTERNOON REPORT.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 23.—The blowing up of the Russian cruiser Bogatyr of the Vladivostok squadron is now admitted. The ship grounded and it was impossible to save her. The guns were taken from the ship before it was destroyed.

The loss of the Russian cruiser Bogatyr at Vladivostok means a serious crippling of the fleet of four fast Russian commerce destroyers which have been operating out of Vladivostok. The Bogatyr was a vessel of 6,500 tons, 423 feet long, fifty-two feet beam and twenty-one and three-fourths feet deep. She was armed with twelve 6-inch guns, twelve 3-inch, eight 3-pounders, two 1-pounders and four torpedo tubes. Her speed was twenty-three knots.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 23.—It is reported that a land attack on Port Arthur by the Japanese has been repulsed.

TOKIO, May 23.—Three hundred sick and wounded soldiers from General Kuroki's army have arrived at Tokio.

APPRECIATE ATTENTIONS

Mr. Ferguson Conveys Thanks of Philippine Visitors.

Before the departure of the Siberia on Saturday Mr. Ferguson, secretary and interpreter of the Philippine Commission to the St. Louis Exposition, wrote the following note to E. M. Boyd, secretary of the Hawaiian Promotion Committee:

Dear Mr. Boyd: Permit me, through your good channel, to convey to the gentlemen composing the committee representing the Honolulu commercial bodies, who on yesterday made the day so enjoyable and full of interest and profitable information to the members of the honorary board of commissioners to the St. Louis Fair, the sincere thanks of the Government of the Philippine Islands and the executive committee of the honorary board.

It is indeed a pleasure for all of us, on reaching the former advanced guard of our western civilization, to find how well the hardy pioneers of Christianity and civilization builded, and to acknowledge gladly the much that we, as the more advanced outpost now of that same progressive American spirit, can learn from you.

Every member of our party will take with him to our common mother country the most pleasant memories of our all too short stay among you and expresses the hope that your great article of export will ever be emblematic of the conditions of this garden spot in the Pacific.

With renewed thanks and remembrances,

Very faithfully yours,
A. W. FERGUSON.

NO STAMPS FOR THE SETTLEMENT

The Legislature in extra session cut out the appropriation for postage stamps at the settlement, and the amount required for that purpose will have to come from the general appropriation. About forty dollars' worth of stamps were used every month at Kalaupapa, the government buying these for the inmates. This was done as all stamps on letters from the settlement were affixed at the postoffice, a formal solution being used for that purpose.

U. S. District Attorney R. W. Breckons was entertained at the Japanese Club, Waikiki, last night by way of a sendoff to the mainland. Acting Governor Atkinson, Collector Chamberlain, Marshal Hendry, Editor Shiozawa, A. K. Ozawa and Dr. Katsunama were among those present.

GOVERNOR'S BUSY DAY

Health and Public Works Matters Before Atkinson.

Secretary Atkinson had his first experience as governor yesterday and it was a strenuous one. He was engaged with callers until after five o'clock and has a better idea of the responsibilities of government than he ever had before.

In the morning Acting Governor Atkinson had a long interview with Supt. McVeigh on settlement matters, which was followed by a discussion with Representative Sam Kelinohi over improvements to be made on Maui under the loan bill.

Mr. Atkinson also talked over with Supt. Holloway various improvements now under way and about to be started. These included road board matters and rights of way to be acquired on this island. Supt. Holloway will leave for Hawaii in a couple of weeks to inspect personally the public work under way on the big island.

Treasurer Campbell also called on the Acting Governor to consult him regarding applications for liquor licenses. A number of licenses were granted, among them being the following: Kimura, dealers at Wailuku; Otto Meyer, light wine and beer, Wailuku; J. S. Canario, saloon, Hilo; Manuel Leal, wine, beer and ale, Molokai; Oahu; Demosthenes Lycurgus, special license, Hilo. The Acting Governor and Treasurer refused to grant a license to Ah Lee of Waihee, Maui, on the ground that the proposed saloon wasn't needed. There were protests also from the people of the city. An application of Miller for a license at King and River streets was also refused as it was outside the retail limits.

President Pinkham of the Board of Health called on the Acting Governor during the afternoon to discuss the duties of government physicians under the reduced appropriation made by the legislature. It was agreed that they should be relieved of their duty of calling on the indigent sick and would be required only to send statistics to the Board of Health.

JAP IS SHOT BY A NATIVE

In an altercation on Sunday afternoon at Kaneohe between a native named Luihookano and a Japanese named My-mura, the former shot the latter with a revolver, the bullet striking him in the leg. Luihookano was arrested and confined in the Kaneohe jail. The wounded Japanese was brought to Honolulu and taken to the Japanese Hospital on Liliha street. His wound is not dangerous.

SEATTLE OPIUM SEIZURE.

SEATTLE, May 24.—Crude opium to the value of $20,000, smuggled by way of Victoria, has been seized here. Four of the ringleaders in the traffic, who have been operating for years, were arrested.

OIL VESSEL BLOWN UP.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—The schooner Fanny Adele, loaded with oil and gasoline, blew up at her dock today. The schooner was a total loss.

The schooner Fanny Adele, in 1900 and 1901, was well known in the Hawaiian inter-island trade. During that time she was under the management of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co. After leaving here she went into the Pacific Coast trade.

UNRECONSTRUCTED FILIPINO LEADER DISCUSSES THE WHITE "VAMPIRE"

(From the Springfield, Mass., Weekly Republican, May 6, 1904.)

HAWAII AND THE PHILIPPINES.
A STUDY IN RACIAL EVOLUTION.
Being an Argument and a Plea for the Right of the Exploited Peoples of the Earth.

(Written by Sixto Lopez and Thomas T. Patterson* for the Republican.)

The "blessings of civilization," in their application to what are termed "nature peoples," form a concise and, in almost every case, a similar history. The "blessings"—in inverted commas, which should not be confused with the real blessings or benefits attendant upon those within the centers of civilization—are the leas of a purer distillation; they are found only in foreign countries, and are bestowed upon those who have no means of comparing the spurious with the real. Their history begins with the discoverer, continues with the missionary and the trader, and ends in the extinction or the subjugation of the nature peoples and the forcible seizure of their territory. A curious blend of religion and rum, of beads and beatitudes, of grace and greed—the decalog written with the heart's blood of dark men; a picture of mercy seared upon quivering flesh; a proclamation of love that reaches the heart through an opening made with the sword—these are the "blessings of civilization."

A curious blend and a tragic inconsistency; they tell of the glories of heaven—and lay hands upon the treasures of earth; they teach the beauty of chastity—and spread unmentionable diseases; they preach the wisdom of temperance—and open saloons at the corner of every street; they proclaim to the "children of nature" that peace is a jewel from heaven—while Krupp and Maxim ride at anchor in the bay! And when the circle of their destruction is complete, the missionary—still unconscious of the wrong he has unwittingly done—seeks for a new sphere of activity; the trader smiles at the planter and speculates upon future increases of profit; while the politician at home, in a burst of postprandial eloquence, extols the beneficence and profitability of "manifest destiny!"

Deny it? No one denies it, but those who have commercial or political interests to serve endeavor to place the responsibility upon some irresponsible agency: "It is fate"—"It is destiny"—"It is providence!" As if every other ill, which we try to overcome or eradicate, were not equally attributable to these agencies. But then, the self-interested apologist is always ready to humbly submit to providence—when it pays!

But let the facts speak. The Hawaiian islands furnish the most recent example of the results achieved by the "blessings of civilization." The form of government and the social institutions of these people, at the time of their discovery by Capt. Cook in 1778, were doubtless suitable to their degree of development; and their subsequent history shows a rapid progress toward better things. Near the close of the 18th century Kamehameha I.—the Bismarck of Hawaii—succeeded in bringing all the islands under one central government, and from that time onward the progress toward constitutional government was continuous and intelligent. Of the several constitutions adopted under the Kamehameha dynas-

*Both of the authors have visited the countries to which reference is made; and the Filipino, owing to a natural racial sympathy, has had exceptional opportunities of knowing the mind of the Hawaiian and other native peoples. The facts and the opinions relating to the Philippines are vouched for by the Filipino, the Anglo-Saxon being responsible for the general treatment and the argument in relation to primitive peoples.

ty, each succeeding one, was, with one partial exception, an improvement upon its predecessor; and had it not been for the insidious destructive influences at work this "paradise of the Pacific" would have continued to be a paradise instead of becoming the graveyard and inferno of its native people. Up to the time of the unification under Kamehameha there had been internecine wars, but epidemic and contagious diseases were unknown. The people were healthy and stalwart, with—according to Cook—"a tendency to embonpoint." The population at this period was estimated to number 400,000—perhaps a rather high estimate, but there are ample evidences showing that the islands then supported a large population. During the intervening century, alcohol and the white man's diseases have reduced the (native) population to 30,000! Thus, in 1853 the population had dwindled to 70,000; in 1872 it had decreased to 49,000; in 1884 to 40,000; and in 1896 to 31,000. These figures, taken from the official census, show that the decrease in population during the last 40 years, has been at the rate of about 1000 a year. If, therefore, this rate continues, a quarter of a century will witness the practical extermination of this "great island race of a perished past."

But there is yet more to tell—more of the "blessings." It was not sufficient, apparently, to bring diseases and death to this people; to sow the seeds of final extinction; to appropriate its substance and its trade. Notwithstanding these wrongs the decaying remnant of the native population outnumbered the whites by about five to one; they still owned their country; they had their queen and their government. A few short years and these, too, would have passed away owing to the deadly processes at work, and the country would have then have fallen, for good or evil, into the hands of those who had brought the "blessings." But patience and greed were never known to inhabit the same breast, and so the tragedy had to be pushed to its bitter end. It was thought to be wise and humane and honest to "bring the monarchy to its knees" (this was the official phrase), to forcibly depose the queen, to take the government and the country from its robbed and wronged owners, and to set up a so-called republic under which the natives were not even allowed to vote!

In fairness it should be stated that all these things occurred prior to the annexation of Hawaii by the United States. Annexation has simply perpetuated the wrong. It is also true that under American rule the native Hawaiians have been given the franchise; and they showed their opposition to annexation by returning, at their first election, a royalist local Legislature and a royalist delegate to the United States Congress.

The decay and subjugation of the Hawaiian race have been attributed to several causes; but the explanation which is generally accepted, and which serves to still the conscience of all good men who feel an undefined responsibility for the wrong that has been done, is that it is the inevitable result of an inferior race coming in contact and in racial competition with a superior—an outcome of the law of the survival of the fittest; and that there is therefore no cure, and only a philosophical regret, for such a condition in the supposed natural order of things.

This popular misapprehension and misapplication of Darwin's admirable theory is only another evidence of the truth that a little knowledge is a dangerous thing. No one will deny that there is a difference between the Anglo-Saxon and the Hawaiian. The one belongs to an advanced, the other to a primitive race. Each has its place in Nature, and the two are no more comparable than a musician is comparable with a mechanic. Now please observe, the contest of the survival of the fittest is not between two different races or species, any more than between musician and mechanic; it occurs between individuals of the same species, or between musician and musician. It is because of this that the highest and the lowest forms of life co-exist at the present time, with innumerable intermediate gradations. For the same reason the Indian prince co-exists with the pariah; the competition is not between the two, but between prince and pariah, pariah and pariah.

Nevertheless, Darwin's theory is applicable to the Hawaiian situation, but not in the form of a contest between a superior and an inferior race, and not in a manner that will ease the Anglo-Saxon's conscience or prove creditable to his pretensions. Thus, the contest of the survival of the fittest is not only for food and area but in the avoidance of enemies and beasts of prey. And here we reach the real solution of the Hawaiian problem. It is the beast of prey that has caused the downfall of the Hawaiian. It was not due to the contest of an inferior with a superior race, but to the contact of a primitive race with the poisonous dregs of an advanced race. It was the whaler and the early trader, steeped in rum and lust, that brought disease and devastation to the Hawaiians; and it was the trader and the planter, possession some of the intellect of the advanced race, but lacking its moral qualities, that continued the work and consummated the final overthrow of this once vigorous people. A superior race indeed! If the Hawaiians had come in contact with such their history would have been very different. A superior race would have healed, not spread disease; it would have protected, not rebuffed its newly-found fellow man; it would have confirmed him in his territorial possessions and given him of its religion, its wisdom, its morality and its law, protecting him from the vampires of its own race. A superior race would have lived its religion, not merely preached it; its morality would have been of everyday practice, not something merely to point to in a book containing 10 commandments. But instead of all this there was the missionary, who, though self-denying and devoted, was usually narrow-minded, without knowledge of the world and its larger problems, and quite unconscious of the mischief he was working. By his "zeal without knowledge," he gained for the white man the confidence of the native population; he unwittingly became the "confidence man" of the vampire who followed him. The vampire was in turn succeeded by the wolf in sheep's clothing—the "respectable" trader and planter—who scorned to indulge in petty fraud, and so took the whole country, in order that there should be no more defrauding of the natives!

These are the processes which have gone on in Hawaii for the last century, and which are now going on in the eastern and southern seas. In order to succeed in such a contest the Hawaiians would have had to evolve, not mark you, a higher or a more moral type, but a new type of vampire—a vampire capable of withstanding rum and the disease of licentiousness, and an equal or a superior in every form of devilry condemned between Genesis and Revelation. Besides, there is this important point: the contest is never a fair one, for if the vampire be overthrown by the rough and ready methods of the primitive race, the advanced race sends a warship to his rescue. The contest might be simplified if the primitive race were allowed to treat the vampire according to his deserts. But although the advanced race will not protect primitive races from the vampire, it protects the vampire from the primitive race. It is therefore, not the survival of the fittest but the protection of the worst owing to the protection of the strongest.

But in any case, responsibility cannot thus be avoided by an appeal to natural law. Leprosy and small-pox are natural products; do we bow resignedly to Nature in these cases? Do we allow leprosy to wither, and small-pox to run riot, and then wait for the survival of the fittest? Nature might, indeed, evolve a type of being which would be immune to these diseases; it would be the fittest; but would it be the best? We know that it would not necessarily be a high or a moral type, for the set of conditions which evolve an immune are not the same as those which evolve a moral or an intellectual being. The philosopher and the divine are just as likely to fall a victim to these diseases as are the farm laborer or the burglar. Accordingly, we apply our best energies to isolate, to prevent, to cure and to eradicate disease. But we do not isolate our moral leper; on the contrary we turn him loose and protect him while he works destruction upon those whose confidence has been gained by missionary enterprise and by the preaching of a religion which, if lived, would not result in the extermination of a race or the seizure of its territory.

A comparison of the Hawaiians and the Filipinos is interesting as showing the different effect of the "blessings of civilization" upon the two peoples. Since the days when Magellan sailed into the eastern seas the Philippines have been visited by every evil influence inflicted upon Hawaii, and in an even more objectionable form. They had a worse type of vampire—the adventurers of an earlier period. At the time of the discovery of Hawaii the world had become a little more civilized; but for the two preceding centuries the Filipinos had had to suffer intercourse with Europeans of the lowest type. They had an affliction, too, which the Hawaiians never suffered; the incubus of a foreign government which drained the country of its resources and took of its revenues to found and maintain other dependencies, such as Fernando Po. Yet notwithstanding all these evils the results in the Philippines have been very different to those in Hawaii. Whereas, in Hawaii the population decreased to 1-13th of its original number, the Filipinos increased about fourfold. The worst disease of the white man had every opportunity of spreading in the Philippines, for Spain sent all her own diseases, both moral and physical, to her eastern possessions; but although this disease decimated the Hawaiians, it never took special root in the Philippines, nor did it produce even as injurious effects as it did in Europe and other countries.

The excessive use of alcohol has had a most injurious effect upon the Hawaiian population. It is said that in the early days, when a trading ship visited Honolulu, it was a common occurrence to find whole villages, men, women and children, in a state of helpless drunkenness. But although the Filipinos had the same or even greater opportunities of procuring strong drink from the trading ships of every clime and nation, they have remained a strictly temperate people. The following testimony to this fact is given by President Schurman of Cornell University and of the first Philippine commission: "I have never seen a Filipino drunkard. They will take a small wine-glass of liquor, and be content with that; and this temperance in drink is characteristic of their moderation in many other things. Probably no one thing has damaged the American people in the eyes of the natives more than this great vice of ours of indulging too freely in drink." Judge Ide of the present Philippine commission bears similar testimony to the sobriety of the Filipinos, notwithstanding the example of their conquerors.

In religion, too, a smaller contrast is observable. It is a matter of pride with the Filipinos that they accepted the Christian religion voluntarily; it was not thrust upon them by their conquerors, nor was it adopted in imitation of their rulers; and there has been no disposition on the part of the people to return to previous forms of worship. Whereas, in Hawaii the Christian missionaries made little progress in converting the natives until the monarch embraced the new faith, and then it was adopted by the people also largely in imitation of their chiefs. This was nearly a century ago, and yet a tendency to return to former religious practices forever manifests itself, and at the present time the Kahuna, or medicine man, secretly possesses a powerful influence over the people.

Similar comparisons could be drawn in other spheres—in education, in trade, and in the accumulation of wealth. All have a similar meaning and serve to show that the Filipinos are an older and a more advanced race than the Hawaiians. This is especially evident with regard to the vampire; until a people has reached a certain stage in racial evolution the only way in which it could contend with the vampire would be to become vampires. But when this undefinable stage is reached in morals, in intellect and in self-respect—which can only come with age and accumulated experience—the vampire can have no more ill effect upon such a race than he can upon the race that produced him and turned him adrift. It is because of this that the Filipinos and the Japanese have not become the prey of vampires. Nor have the wolves in sheep's clothing been more successful; Japan had the wisdom to exclude the vampire; and in the case of the Filipinos, hanging, deportation, imprisonment, confiscation—these were the only means of laying unlawful hands upon their wealth. But these methods were destined to failure in the end; and instead of the Filipinos succumbing, as did the Hawaiians, it was the wolf who was "brought to his knees," and finally "dethroned."

Even at the present time the charge is that "the Filipinos will not work." The sentence is not complete; it should read: "The Filipinos will not work for foreigners." That is to say, they will not work for the vampire and the wolf whose sole intent is to amass wealth by the labor of others. This is a fact of which every Filipino ought to be proud, for it places the Filipinos in marked contrast with all the peoples of the East, excepting Japan where a similar condition is found. In India and China and in other eastern countries the "white man's burden" consists in making colossal fortunes out of the inadequately paid labor of the brown man. But the Filipinos and the Japanese will not "take up the white man's burden"; they prefer to let the white man carry it himself, and hence his complaint. The Hawaiian, the Indian, and even the shrewd Chinaman are deceived by the professions of those who declare that "it is all for the brown man's benefit." But the Filipino knows that unless this "philanthropy" promises to yield 50 or 100 per cent. profit it will never be put into practice. The Filipino, in short, will not slave for the benefit of foreigners any more than will the American or the Englishman or Mr. Klipping; nor will he barter his substance for rum, and so, the white man finds that when he takes rum to the Philippines he has to drink it himself. That is what is now taking place in the once temperate city of Manila. Rum—using the word in its generic sense—is the only kind of trade that "follows the

A NOVELIST'S CHARACTERS.

Stevenson said that George Meredith once read him some chapters of "The Egotist" while it was still in manuscript. As the character of the Egotist developed he (Stevenson) grew more and more uncomfortable, till at last he interrupted the reading and said: "Now, own up, Meredith, you drew Sir Willoughby from me." Meredith burst into his Homeric laugh and said: "No, no, my dear fellow—he is all of us; but I found him"—tapping his own breast—"mainly here."

MARINE ENGINEERS ENTERTAIN FRIENDS

The ball given last evening at Progress Hall in celebration of the third anniversary of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, No. 100, was a huge success, both in point of attendance and sociability. The Engineers showed themselves capital entertainers. The hall was magnificently decorated. Long strings of signal flags, typical of the profession of the Association members, were suspended in festoons across the ceiling, the walls being hidden by flags of many nations. The interior presented a gay effect with so much color displayed. Refreshments of lemonade, punch and cakes were served in an adjoining room.

About 300 people were present and all entered with enthusiasm into the dancing, which formed the principal entertainment. The heat was intense but everybody danced in spite of this discomfort.

The dance program was unique, being in the form of a booklet shaped like a steamer's propeller, with the outer covers of a bronze hue and each blade having an initial of the name of the organization. The inside leaves were devoted to lists of officers of the Association, ball-room committees and the program. The committees were as follows:

J. A. Colbron, T. E. Sullivan, H. G. Wootton, C. S. Jackson, C. J. Lynch, Arrangement—H. F. Moeline, Geo. Bonner, D. J. Read, J. A. Colbron, Jas. P. Lynch.

Floor—J. P. Lynch, F. M. King, J. Wagner, E. Fernbach, J. H. Quinlan, Floor Manager, H. F. Moeline; assistants, Geo. Bonner, D. J. Read.

The officers of the M. E. B. A. are: P. P. Edwin Hughes; Prest., Jas. Sutherland; 1st V. P., J. M. Little; 2nd V. P., John Grace; C. & R. Sec., T. F. Sullivan; Fin. Sec., Geo. Bonner; Treas., J. Farnsworth; Conductor, Jas. Leach; Chaplain, Jas. H. Davis; Doorkeeper, L. Poulas. Trustees—A. V. Inman, H. G. Wootton, Jas. H. Quinlan, Jas. Leach, J. M. Little.

flag," and those who carry the flag have to drink the trade!

Now it may, with some justice, be urged that those who expose and complain of the evil ought to point out the remedy. It is, however, futile to even suggest a remedy until the evil itself has been realized and admitted. Unfortunately the treatment that has been and is being meted out to primitive races is still regarded as a "blessing." Thus Prof. William Fremont Blackman of Yale university, has recently published a volume under the quaint title of "The Making of Hawaii: a Study in Social Evolution," in which he says: "The remark is reported to have been made at a dinner party in Honolulu, several years ago, that Yale college runs the government, in allusion to the number of her graduates who held conspicuous office under the Hawaiian monarchy, or were otherwise greatly influential. I venture to felicitate the university—and the Hawaiian people also—upon the notable and noble part taken by her sons in the establishment and maintenance of civilization in the 'paradise of the Pacific.'" Nearly all of the facts referred to in this article, and many others having a similar bearing, are recounted in Prof. Blackman's work, and yet, apparently, he does not see the tragic humor of his felicitations. As well might one felicitate the medical faculty upon the "noble part" taken in the "establishment and maintenance" of cemeteries! It must, however, be admitted that Prof. Blackman's felicitations are founded upon what is a very general opinion—an opinion due partly to ignorance, partly to callous indifference, and largely to the self-sufficiency of advanced races. It is still a far cry to a realization of the great wrong that is being done to primitive peoples; and until the wrong has been realized, and especially by those in high places, there is little hope of salvation from the curse of "the blessings of civilization."

SAVED FROM HANGMAN

Kimura Will Stay in Prison for Life.

Acting Governor Atkinson yesterday signed a commutation of sentence for Kimura, the Waiwala Japanese sentenced by Judge Gear to hang for murder. The action was agreed upon before the departure of Governor Carter and the death sentence is commuted to imprisonment for life.

Kimura was convicted of the murder of a woman at Waiwala two years ago. Kimura practically admitted the crime upon his arrest, and his defense in court was very weak, as he was unable to pay an attorney. The Supreme Court refused a new trial, although intimating that Kimura had not been given a proper defense. The document provides that Kimura be imprisoned in Oahu Prison or the Territorial penitentiary for the remainder of his natural life.

World's Best Medicine.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Has Made People Well When Every Other Remedy Has Failed.

Paine's Celery Compound cures disease! It has saved the lives of thousands of sufferers. It has made the weak strong, vigorous, and happy.

Paine's Celery Compound purifies the blood and builds up the nervous system as nothing else can do; it is pre-eminently the great life-giver and health-maker.

Overworked and tired women stand in urgent need of this health giving prescription to make and keep them well. All women should take advantage of the remarkable power of this best of medicine for restoring vigor to the blood and strength to the nervous system. The all-important thing for nervous, run down, and sleepless women is that Paine's Celery Compound fortifies the whole physical system, and by correcting digestion and regulating the nerves, it insures sound, refreshing sleep. In every case of sickness Paine's Celery Compound completely and permanently brings back health. Mrs. Mary M. Myers, Baltimore, Ohio, saved by Paine's Celery Compound after the failures of able physicians, gratefully writes as follows:—

"I suffered for eight years with nervous prostration and the general debility common to women, and had such pains in my back that I could not get around the house. I used several remedies and consulted several of the best physicians without obtaining any relief. Paine's Celery Compound restored me to health."

"I also want to say to all mothers that Paine's Celery Compound is a splendid medicine for their children."

black and Plumaria blossoms. E. J. Walker, Superintendent of the Sunday school, presided at the service and after paying a tribute to the noble character of Mrs. McDonald called upon W. W. Hall, W. A. Bowen and T. McCants Stewart to speak. Mr. Rider, who had taken Mrs. McDonald's class during her absence, also spoke. All expressed their appreciation of her assistance in Sunday school and church work and praised very highly the character of her labors.

The deaconesses of the church have adopted the following memorial to the deceased, which has been forwarded to Mrs. McDonald's bereaved relatives:

"Mrs. Clara McDonald having been called to her heavenly home, we as fellow workers wish to express our deep sorrow in losing her from our midst and to bear some testimonial of our personal regard for her and of our appreciation of her work. In her two years service as deaconess she was earnest, faithful and efficient; loyal to her Master and to His Word. She was faithful to the spiritual welfare of the Church and has been most helpful to all. She had so much to give. Such abundant vitality! She seemed to give it off to tired people as the rose gives its perfume. One always felt stronger for the day's burden and work and brighter and happier after her cheery greeting. It is a pleasure to record that she has borne a varied and responsible part in all departments of Church work. She was wise and winning in her plans and kind and courageous in carrying them out. As deaconess her presence has been like sunshine in homes and hospitals. By true kindness, by tireless and sympathetic ministries, she was ever a comfort and help in the homes of the sick, the dying, the needy and the distressed and her sympathy was so manifestly sincere that many turned naturally to her for help and encouragement. She served in love and was loved by those who knew her; she maintained a clear faith and undaunted courage which now makes our loss a deep sorrow to us all, so we gratefully acknowledge the grace and blessing of God in all her ministry.

Though we are deeply bereaved in our loss, we will not fail to pray and believe that her example may long abide with us and continue to be an inspiration to greater effort in the work she so truly loved.

FAREWELL TO THE GALBRAITHS

The Order of the Eastern Star last evening tendered a farewell reception at the Masonic Temple to Judge and Mrs. Galbraith, members of the Order, who depart shortly for Oklahoma. The reception was followed by a pedro party, the guests being seated in the banquet hall, which was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting. At one end streamers of ribbons with interlacing cards cut to represent aces of different suits, were attractive decorations. The chandelier was covered with American and Hawaiian flags and the piano was draped with an American flag upon which rested bowls of yellow cornucopia.

Following the card-playing dainty refreshments were served. About fifty people were present.

The reception was under the general direction of the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Theo. Hoffmann, and the decorations were the work of Mrs. Hoffmann, Mrs. Herriek and J. D. Tucker.

Before the company separated a silver card tray was presented to the guests of the evening. It had enameled in natural colors on the front the Hawaiian coat-of-arms, and engraved on the back the inscription, "Presented to Justice and Mrs. C. A. Galbraith by their friends of Leahi Chapter."

Judge Galbraith acknowledged the gift on behalf of his wife and himself in a feeling and pleasant manner.

"GREEN SICKNESS"

The unhealthy complexion of green sickness is changed to the rosy blush of good health by Scott's Emulsion.

Green sickness is one of the forms of blood disease found in young women. The change from girlhood to womanhood often upsets the nervous system, weakens digestion and throws the blood-making organs out of gear.

Scott's Emulsion puts new heart into pale girls. It tones up the nervous and digestive system, and feeds the blood. It is a natural tonic.

Remember that 30 per cent. of these cases go on into consumption unless prevented. Scott's Emulsion prevents consumption.

MERIT THE SERIOUS ATTENTION OF EVERY CAREFUL HOUSEWIFE.

The safe, economical and healthful preservation of food is quite as important as the food itself. Fresh, sweet and clean foods should not be submitted to the care of soggy, decaying wood and corroding metal, nor surrounded with dank, dead air; yet that persistent odor in the ordinary refrigerator is proof positive of corruption.

WILKE REFRIGERATORS are lined with either white glazed tile or half-inch plate glass; internal fixtures are all removable. Materials are absolutely non-corrosive, construction is air-tight, and there is a constant circulation of cold, dry air in every cubic inch of the provision chambers.

THE SPLENDORS OF RADIUM.

When San Francisco in 1895 was under the control of the Vigilance Committee, William H. Rhodes, whose pseudonym was "Caxton," wrote a powerful story, the point of which was the end of the career of a conscience-stricken man, who carried in his pocket a bottle, containing a colorless liquid, a few drops of which were sufficiently powerful to destroy the world.

Since the discovery of radium, it almost seems as if this imaginary and tragical possibility had become true. It was first extracted from pitch-blende by a French professor and his wife, M. and Madame Curie, the latter a modern woman, scientific, domestic and charming, and it is now principally supplied, fortunately in minute quantities, from their laboratory in Paris.

The most remarkable, indeed the characteristic, feature in radium, is its extraordinary condensation, independently of any exposure to light or heat, of forces that are at once life-supporting and destructive. Henry Becquerel found that uranium and some other metals gave off continuously rays like the X-rays of Professor Roentgen, which penetrated opaque substances and affected photographic plates. These were called "Becquerel rays" and their characteristic property was radio-activity, which was due to the radium and polonium that uranium, for example, contained, and which, in 1898, were isolated and since then have been subjected to countless experiments. Though far more powerful in its effects, radium is kindred to the Blondiot N-ray.

Many conclusive evidences of the stores of light and heat focused in this substance have been furnished. Dr. Edwin Booth, instructor of chemistry at the University of California, was very successful in his investigation. He substituted rays of radium for the rays of the sun, in a dark room, in a manner that resulted in demonstration. In two photographic plate boxes he placed a key, a pair of scissors and a coin, wrapped in light-proof paper, and over the boxes suspended a tube, containing 100 milligrams of radium or as much as could be put into the end of a thimble. The distance between the tube and the top of the boxes was half an inch, and the rays had to pierce the two covers and the paper. After an exposure of thirty-six hours, the key, the scissors and the coin were distinctly reproduced and the plate was developed as though it had been exposed to the sun.

Similar results have been accomplished in many places. Professor A. B. Crook, of the Northwestern University, says that, without even extracting the very small quantity of radium in it but solely through its presence, photographs can be taken by pitch-blende. Its distinctive capacity is illustrated by the statement that, by its use, the entire population of Paris could be killed within a few hours or days. Sir William Ramsay, before the Royal Institution in London, referred to the emission by radium of helium, supposed to be the principal constituent of the sun's atmosphere. He stated that this emission was not direct, but that a heavy gas was sent forth, which slowly changed to helium and then vanished, and that the gas could be collected in flasks, but would disappear within a month. This he regarded as the same process as a change of gold into iron, and he claimed, in this way, the inconsistency of the elements had been proved, and the problem of the transmutation of metals, which after centuries of effort had been abandoned, become affirmatively solved.

Radium is a dynamo-energy without fuel. If immersed in ice or in the intense cold of liquid air, it continues to give out light and heat, and it is estimated that this emission would last for millions of years. As T. C. Porter, of Eton College, has argued, analysis has broken down the atomic theory, and the new discovery tends in the direction of the theory that there is one basis of all matter, of which the elements are merely visible forms.

In cancer, diabetes, diphtheria, consumption and other diseases, the effect of the use of radium has been decided, though not uniformly successful. Professor Frederick Kohlrausch found that it increases the electric conductivity of water, which it also sterilizes, and, by the communication of radio-activity, kills the germ of diphtheria. Professor Gusenbauer of Austria, in instances of cancerous contraction of the esophagus, ascertained that it could be used to enlarge the gullet, and thus render artificial nourishment unnecessary. Professor Tarkhanov, of St. Petersburg, in a lecture before the Military Association of that city, disclosed two instances of the cure of cancer by the application of radium rays, and further stated that they would revolutionize war because they would penetrate opaque substances and, at long distances, explode powder magazines. One of the Russian professor's propositions has not held good in other experiments with cancer, but the other may account for the remarkable success thus far of the Japanese in the Oriental war.

The concentration of a large share of the sun's power in a small flask has produced remarkable scientific activity, but it is also interesting to ordinary people, who will not be anxious that the demand for radium should be met by the supply. It would appear that a very high protective tariff on this revolutionary substance is not undesirable.

According to the Chicago Chronicle, asphalt pavements in that city are a disappointment. A little more than four years ago the Chicago corporation decided to adopt asphalt exclusively in new street making. From the Chronicle's article on the subject, it is less the material than the mode of using it which is found wanting. Asphalt pavements have proved to have lasting qualities in other cities. What would condemn them at their best for Honolulu, if the question came to a head here, is their capacity of absorbing and reflecting heat.

It is a matter of minor consideration whether the one accused did or did not destroy House vouchers, in comparison with the establishing of the fact that anyone having custody of such records may destroy them only at his peril. There is no doubt for the future that the evidences of how legislative expenses are disbursed constitute public documents guarded by United States law. While the courts will hold the custodians of legislative vouchers accountable for their preservation, the taxpayers should hold their representatives in the Legislature to strict account for the manner in which sessional appropriations are expended.

PLAY HOITY TOITY THIS EVENING

Plenty of good people went to the third performance of Fiddle-dee-Dee last night, and though many of the audience must have been repeaters, laughter was as free as on the opening night.

Hoity Toity is to be played this evening and with the funny stunts of Kolb, Dill and Bernard should again bring out a big house. Big holes have been made in the reserved seat stack and the attendance seems keeping up all through the season. Travesty audiences are certainly a living contradiction of hard times.

Maudie Amber sang Bedelia last night by popular request, the selection being much appreciated by all in front.

The box office is having trouble with those who, having ordered seats and then changed their mind, neglected to notify the box office. It would be a great convenience to the management if those relinquishing seats would take the trouble to phone the box office, as many are turned away early in the evening for the lack of choice locations later left vacant.

Plants Sell Cheaply.

Plants went very cheaply at the Government nursery clearing out sale conducted by W. E. Fisher, auctioneer, yesterday. There were not many people in attendance and the bargains left nothing to be desired on the part of buyers. A goodly variety of growths are left, including quite a number of fruit trees, and the sale will be resumed at 10 o'clock this morning. Any who have ground in which to plant trees will do well to take this last opportunity of procuring healthy seedlings of the best varieties.

PLANTERS THEIR OWN BUG FANCIERS

The sugar planters are establishing an entomological department for themselves at their experimental station. This important advance is announced as follows in the Hawaiian Agriculturist and Forester for May:

An entomological department of its own is being established by the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association at its Experiment Station, Makiki. This important expansion of the Association's activities has been occasioned by the unusual attack on sugar cane by the leaf-hopper and numerous fungi during the past two years. Insectariums, laboratories and office quarters will shortly be erected, and all the entomological work of the Association will then be conducted independently to the Division of Entomology of the Territorial Board of Agriculture. This government service will continue in operation, but with a much smaller staff and at less expense.

DISCOVERY OF HALEIWA HOTEL

As Finest Resort
Known in Any Country.

Mr. Mesick Graphically
Describes Popular

"Eureka"—I have found it! Found what? Why, Haleiwa, the most beautiful, deliciously restful health and pleasure resort in the world. That is a pretty bold assertion, and is quite likely to be challenged by admirers of some of the many hundreds of more or less famous watering places at different spots upon the surface of the globe. But the hundreds of people who, like the writer, are evidently just discovering Haleiwa and its charms, will be willing witnesses in the case if the challenge is ever made.

Haleiwa (pronounced Holly-eva, and meaning in the Hawaiian language, I believe, beautiful home) has been known to and enjoyed by a comparatively few people since its opening to the public August 5, 1899; but it remained for the present manager, Mr. Fred J. Church, to bring the fine hotel and its numerous attractions into popular favor and profitable patronage—and that has all come within three months, since the first of March, to be explicit.

Mr. Church is an ideal host. I don't know whether his experience as a hotel manager has been extensive or not; in fact, it doesn't matter, for he is unquestionably the right man in the right place. And he is ably seconded by his charming wife, who takes a personal interest in every guest, and looks after everyone's comfort in such a gentle, unassuming way that every acquaintance at once becomes a friend.

A stranger is not permitted to remain such very long after he makes his appearance at Haleiwa. He is met at the door with a smiling welcome, and shown to luxurious and in every appointment modern apartments. And the attention does not end there, for as soon as he has had time to remove the travel stains he is introduced to those of the bright, friendly guests who happen to be about, and finds himself at once among friends. I don't know how it happens, but few or no dull and uninteresting people go to Haleiwa; perhaps their friendliness and cheerfulness is born of the delicious climate and beautiful scenery about them, and perhaps in part is due to the hearty welcome they themselves have received; anyway, good cheer seems to be infectious there.

The hotel is certainly arranged for the comfort of its guests—broad verandas, generous public rooms, light, cool and airy chambers, and attractive and well-appointed separate cottages for those who prefer them; and there is the most attractive of detached billiard rooms. Potted plants and cool, fern-bedecked fountains are in pleasing evidence. Rest and comfort; everywhere and in every direction beautiful things that entrance the eye and elevate the soul. Nature and man have worked harmoniously at Haleiwa and have produced a jointly, veritable Eden. What more does favored man desire? Surely he gets much for his money at Haleiwa.

Really the most important part of any hotel is the cuisine. Treat a man's stomach well and you have made a friend. In this particular Haleiwa shines—brilliantly; but it is not wondered at when it is known that A. L. Wyman—the only Wyman—is steward. Very few traveling people don't know Wyman; and I suspect that while Mr. Church is immensely popular, a goodly number of people go to Haleiwa as much to sample Wyman's delicious culinary concoctions as for any other reason. To illustrate how up-to-date the Haleiwa table is, I happened to know that the first cherries of the season reached Honolulu by the Alameda last Friday morning; imagine my surprise to see generous portions of this delicious fruit served to every guest at Haleiwa that same afternoon. And so it is with everything in season.

I append last Sunday's lunch bill as a fair sample of the table service:

Oyster Yagino	Olives
Bisque of Crab
Radishes	Virginia Relish
Boiled Uku, Spanish Sauce
Cucumbers	Fomine Saratoga
Stuffed Sweet Peppers a la Cardinal
Punch a la Windsor
Baked Chicken with Nut Dressing
Cauliflower en Creme	Whipped Potatoes
Haleiwa Special Salad
Apricot Ice Cream	Snow Cake
Crackers and Cheese	Fruits and Nuts

Haleiwa kitchen has some peculiar advantages. Something like forty acres of ground belong to the hotel, on which are now raised its own vegetables and some of the fruits it enjoys. Mr. Church has in full and healthy operation a henry of choice fowls that produce a large water-bucketful of eggs every day. Then within rifle-shot of the hotel is a community of Japanese fishermen who daily supply the house with all the live fish it can use, the surplus of the catches being either sold to the residents of the valley or sent by train to the Honolulu market. Butter and milk are obtained from the Mokuleia ranch. Delicacies from the mainland and ice are received daily by train from Honolulu; but when the Wai'alua plantation gets its ice-making plant installed, ice and cold storage will be obtained nearer home. The hotel has its own water-pumping and electric light plant.

The attractions at Haleiwa in the way of sports are many. Golf has more devotees than anything else just now. I understood little or nothing about golf before my visit to Haleiwa, but I am ready now to declare that golf is all right—it is certainly the nicest way to get plenty of outdoor exercise without realizing that you are taking exercise, that I know of. To chase a golf ball for miles over an uneven country, trying to get it in the link holes with as few strokes of the club as possible, is just the thing. It was a wise man who invented golf; probably he was a humanitarian physician. The ladies at Haleiwa are much interested in the sport, and the way they are developing muscle and skill with the clubs may cause the gentlemen to look to their laurels. The average score on the Haleiwa links is about sixty, I think, but Mr. H. S. Downey, who is one of the guests who linger and linger at Haleiwa, is easily champion of Wai'alua, if not of the Hawaiian Islands, with a repeated score of thirty-five. He will probably lower this.

There is a tennis court on the hotel lawn for those who enjoy this sport. The hotel stable supplies rigs and saddle horses for excursions to the innumerable attractive places on the big and rich Wai'alua plantation. A mountain house connected with the hotel offers attractions of its own, one of which is hunting. The ocean just in front of the hotel, with one of the finest sandy beaches in the country, affords ocean bathing. A big cemented pool of soft fresh water, filled from the wonderful springs on the old Emerson homestead (a part of the hotel property) is a drawing card for those who do not take kindly to the salt water. And then there is the canoeing on the Wai'alua river or out on the ocean, made attractive now by the recent acquisition of a fine Canadian canoe made by Walker of Honolulu.

I came near forgetting to mention, in the line of sports, the exceptional opportunities for ocean fishing. Arrangements can be made to accompany some of the Japanese sampans on short cruises, the visitor himself tying his luck as a fisherman. The catches are pleasing surprises, fish of every conceivable size, shape and color being hauled in.

Everybody knows or has heard of the delights of the railroad trip from Honolulu to Haleiwa, a distance of about fifty-six miles. There is nothing dull or uninteresting about the trip, with the train nearly always at the water's edge, and wending its way over round points and promontories so often that each few minutes presents a new view. If the weather seems warm at places along the road, there will be no such objection raised after Kaena Point is rounded, for then the trade breezes are encountered and the temperature has fallen several degrees almost instantly.

One little thing I noticed that might be remedied by the railroad people. I guess the tickets for Haleiwa are marked Wai'alua; anyway there is a tendency among strangers to leave the train at Wai'alua thinking they are at the hotel, when for a fact Haleiwa is a mile further on, and has a station of its own at which all passenger trains stop.

On the dull days of the week now Haleiwa averages eighteen guests, and on Saturdays and Sundays the accommodations of the house are heavily taxed to care for the crowds of townspeople and tourists who flock there for a brief season of rest or sport. So my advice is for people to telephone or write in advance for rooms if they wish them for those days.

The following are arrivals at Haleiwa for the week ending May 23:

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Musgrave, Honolulu; Mr. and Mrs. M. Ehrman, A. M. Rosenbaum, San Francisco; James A. Low, Aiea, Oahu; W. W. Buchanan, U. S. Navy; W. W. Evans, Oakland, Cal.; C. E. Copeland, Maui; Mr. and Mrs. William E. Brown, 2 children and maid, Honolulu; S. W. Crook, Honolulu; A. T. Taylor, W. H. Babbitt, Honolulu; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. W. Todd, Wai'alua; Mr. Ben R. A Life Saved

Never give up. No matter how ill you are. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has cured some terrible cases, and it will cure you.

Mr. Thos. H. Cashe, Barrell Creek, Driftstone, New South Wales, writes: "I feel it my duty to let suffering people know what a wonderful blood-purifying medicine is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. My illness began with sharp pains in the limbs, while I was handling wet wool. After a day or two I could not walk, and suffered terrible pains. My face turned nearly black, large red blotches came out all over my body, and then I became delirious. I was in two hospitals for some time, and everything was tried, but I grew weaker and weaker, and became convinced that nothing could be done for me. I had heard so much about Ayer's Sarsaparilla that I thought I would give it a trial as the last hope. After taking one bottle I thought I felt a little better. So I procured another bottle, and then another, and still another. I gradually improved, and in due time left my bed for the first time in six months. I am now in good health, and I say to every one that Ayer's Sarsaparilla saved my life."

JAPANESE HIT HARD

The High Price of Rice Sickness Them of Hawaii.

On the steamer Siberia arrived on the 20th of this month among other freight for Honolulu there are 62,163 bags of rice. If it is a cleaned rice weighing 100 pounds each it will pay in landing at $2 a bag, $124,226 in gold duty to the Federal Government. This is only for a fraction of a cargo on a single ship. Rice being a staple food for the Japanese and Chinese, making up together about two-thirds of the population of this country, a staple not produced in sufficient quantities on the islands, it is obvious who is going to pay this part of our tribute to the Federal Treasury. A bag of rice in Japan costs $2.25. Here it is about $5, more than the double. As Japanese and Chinese laborers, who are expected to perform on the sugar plantations the same amount of work as they do in Japan, must also be expected to consume the same amount of this staple food paying for it twice as much as in Japan their purchasing capacity must necessarily be the double of what it is in Japan, and since it depends on wages alone, it follows that their Hawaiian wages ought to be the double of those in Japan.

In Togashima coal mines, near Nagasaki, employing thousands of laborers and providing them with free quarters, the average daily wages before the war of a laborer, are 50 cents gold for ten hours' work, of which only eight hours constitute the actual work in mines. Here the wages on the plantation fields are 65¢ cents, counting $17 a month for only twenty-six days of work, and since laborer has to sustain himself out of the same $17 for four Sundays too, his wages actually are but 50.7 cents a day, viz, but seven-tenths of a cent a day more than in Japan.

The high cost of living on the islands, about twenty-five per cent higher than on the Coast, is one of the potent causes of the Japanese emigration to the American Continent. On that continent they find the living cheaper (Louisiana rice) and the wages higher. If we add to this the larger field presented by the continent to a working man, the chances of betterment of his condition in other branches of industry and skilled labor, chances that he utterly lacks here, being doomed for ever to the work in the field, we will easily understand why together with laborers of other nationalities he regards Hawaii only as a temporary station on the way to the continent.—Hawaii Shippo.

HOW TO AVOID TROUBLE.—Now is the time to provide yourself and family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over, and if procured now may save you a trip to town in the night or in your busiest season. It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful medicine in use for bowel complaints, both for children and adults. No family can afford to be without it. For sale by all Dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., Agents for Hawaii.

AGRICULTURIST ON NEW BASIS

With its May number, the Hawaiian Forester and Agriculturist announces itself as an independent journal, its connection with the Planters' Monthly having been terminated. W. M. Giffard, who retains the editorship, says in noticing the change:

"The journal will continue under the direction and control of the Board of Commissioners of Agriculture and Forestry, but the business management will be in the hands of the publishers, the Hawaiian Gazette Co., Ltd., to whom all correspondence relating to subscriptions and advertising should be addressed. All contributions to the journal must be addressed to the editor, P. O. box 308."

The subscription rate has been placed at the nominal figure of $1 a year for the United States and $1.25 a year foreign, postage paid.

Practical articles in the current number are upon papaya and tobacco cultivation, the method of using leaf-hopper parasites and advice to fruit growers. D. L. Van Dine, entomologist at the U. S. Experiment Station, contributes an article on the pineapple scale, while a letter is printed from Leopold G. Blackman on the introduction of bats. The entire issue sustains the editor's statement in his introductory remarks, viz:

"The few months of its existence have demonstrated that there is a growing demand for a publication devoted to the agricultural interests of the Territory, aside from sugar, and that this journal can supply that demand."

DIAMONDS SOLD ON THE CO-OPERATIVE PLAN

By the National Diamond Co. of California, Rooms, 39 40 Alexander Young Bldg

By taking out a Diamond Contract with us, we will guarantee you by paying $5.00 down and $1.00 per week for the period of eighty weeks to deliver to you a diamond valued at $200.00 or "pay you" $160.00 in cash at the expiration of the eighty weeks. Every policy is underwritten by the National Audit & Guaranty Company of San Francisco, California, with a capital of $200,000, fully paid, incorporated under the laws of the State of California, and every Diamond Contract issued will be accompanied by one of these guaranty contracts and should the National Diamond Co. fail to live up to their contract or go out of business by failing or wishing to discontinue business, the Guaranty Company will pay the amount paid in by holder of any Diamond Contract issued by the "National Diamond Co." the amount paid into the above Diamond Company with six per cent interest. We have written contracts in Honolulu to some of the most prominent business men and will publish a list in the near future through the columns of this paper of the parties taking out contracts with us. The early contracts are the first to mature and will be paid by us first, so those wishing to take out contracts with our company can do so by securing them from our agents or by applying at our offices where we will be pleased to give the desired information to those wishing to become more thoroughly acquainted with our methods of doing business.

Our plan has been in successful operation for many years and has been proved a success. The principal of this system of investment is the same as that which underlies all Life, Fire and Accident Insurance Companies, with the difference that we have no losses. Our calculation is based on the same sort of profit as theirs, namely: lapsations and new business. When you file an application for one or more contracts you pay to the Agent or Representative of the company, one or as much as $5 which pays you one or five weeks in advance, being the most in advance the company will accept on any one contract. On receipt of application the company will issue to you a contract which calls for a payment of $80 in consecutive payments of $1 each. If you do not default in your payments for eighty weeks, then, when the contract has reached the order of performance the company will deliver to you a Commercial White, Clear and Flawless Diamond of the weight of two-karat and of the value of $200. Should you not wish the Diamond the company will guarantee to buy the same for $160 in cash. Our books are open at all times and are audited once a month thus insuring absolute safety to the investor. All officers who handle the funds of the company are under heavy surety bonds, thus further protecting our investors against malfeasance in office. All funds are deposited with the Western National Bank. Inquire of Bradstreet's for a report as to the stability of the Guaranty Co.

Very respectfully,
NATIONAL DIAMOND CO.

DOES BEER CAUSE CANCER?

An inquiry by Dr. Alfred Wolff into the mysterious cause of cancer has yielded an unexpected conclusion which promises temperance advocates a new and powerful argument. Dr. Wolff discovers that all the districts of high cancer mortality are districts in which beer or cider is largely drunk, Bavaria, for instance, heads the list in Germany, and Salsburg in Austria—both great beer drinking provinces. In France the statistics are still more striking. There is the most marked contrast between the high cancer mortality in beer-drinking departments and the low death rate from cancer elsewhere.

It will not be a mere matter of dollars to invade the Mayfair set in London this season, Queen Alexandra having signified her wish that not every Tom, Dick and Harry be presented at court. Last season was a holiday for moneyed Americans who could buy marchioness' favor with a pearl necklace and many a peer was willing to dine in public for a tip on the stock market. So many folk rushed headlong into west end set that a position in this society was cheapened. One woman, whose mother was a keeper of a boarding-house in the west, is one of the best friends of two duchesses. Splendid jewels, discreetly distributed, brought the noble Englishwomen to her feet.

INJUNCTION DISSOLVED

An Important Leasehold Decision by Judge Robinson.

Judge Robinson rendered a decision yesterday in the injunction case of William McCandless vs. Lee Chew. As stated, it was "a bill to enjoin and restrain the defendant from tearing down and removing certain wooden structures or buildings erected by the defendant upon certain premises owned by plaintiff and occupied by defendant as tenant of plaintiff."

The lease was of premises at Palama for five years from January 1, 1900, for a rental of $300 per annum, and contained a covenant that the lessee should at the end of the term, he would peacefully deliver up the premises to the lessor "with all future erections or additions upon or to the same." Plaintiff relied on this covenant in bringing the suit when the lessee, on January 15 last, began to tear down and remove the buildings he had erected on the premises.

Defendant has used a part of the ground for raising vegetables. He kept a hack-stand in town. The buildings were erected and used to shelter and take care of horses and wagons, also a portion of them as lodgings for defendant and his employees. He charged the men $2 a month room rental each but did not always collect it. Defendant claimed the right to remove the buildings, irrespective of the covenant mentioned above, on the ground that they were trade fixtures, being intended for use and used solely by him in his business of raising vegetables and in conducting a hack-stand, and therefore removable by him at any time before the expiration of the lease.

Having discussed many authorities, English as well as American, Judge Robinson holds "that the buildings involved in the case at bar are trade fixtures, removable by the tenant at any time during the term of his lease."

In view of a Massachusetts case, where the covenant was identical with that in this case, the court's opinion is that the "covenant cannot be extended so as to deprive the tenant of the right to remove trade fixtures put by him upon the premises during the term."

"In my judgment," Judge Robinson concludes, "the temporary injunction heretofore issued herein should be dissolved and the bill dismissed. Let a decree be entered in accordance herewith."

One of the interesting citations by the court is the following:

"In the case of Van Ness vs. Pacard, 2 Pet. 137 (7 Law Ed. 274), cited by counsel for the defendant, the Supreme Court of the United States held that the question whether fixtures erected for the purposes of trade are or not removable by the tenant, does not depend upon the form or size of the building; whether it has a brick foundation or not, or is one or two stories high; or has a brick or other chimney. The sole question is whether it is designed for the purposes of trade or not."

MEN, WAKE UP!

IS YOUR BACK WEAK?
HAVE YOU DRAGGING PAINS?
ARE YOU EASILY TIRED?
HAVE YOU VARICOCELE?
Have you lost the fire and strength of youth? Have you "come and go" pains in your back and shoulders? Are you growing old too soon?
If you have these symptoms or any other sign of breaking down of your nerves and vitality, you will find new life in Electricity as applied while you sleep.

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt

Is made for you. It is the best way to use Electricity. It pours a gentle stream of life into the weak parts continually for hours every night. It refreshes the nerves, expands the vital powers, enriches the circulation and makes you feel bright, active and vigorous in one night's use. You get stronger each day, and in a few weeks you are a new man, stronger and younger in the fire of youth. It is grand, this method of mine, and every man who has ever used it is praising it.

WORTH TEN TIMES WHAT HE PAID FOR IT.

Marshall, Cal., Dec. 26, 1903.

DR. McLAUGHLIN—Dear Sir: I have used your Belt for about two months, and must say that it has cured me entirely. I feel like a new man now and can do a hard day's work easily. There are no more pains in my back and arms, and that tired feeling has gone. I am sure that the Belt has been worth ten times more to me than I paid for it, and if you wish you may use my name, for I will be glad to recommend the Belt. Gratefully yours, ARNOLD F. BERRI.

Don't delay trying it. Your future happiness depends on your checking this drain upon your vitality, so stop it now and you can be sure of a long and vigorous life, full of the joys of a healthy vigor.

Don't drug. Drugs can't cure you, as you know, if you have tried them. My Belt cures because it increases your nerve power and vitality. Electricity renews the youthful strength that cures. Send for my beautiful illustrated book, telling about my method. I send it, sealed, free. I have 50,000 cures. Write today. Send this ad.

The Gentle Joy of Feeling Fitted

Is an experience that few men understood until the STEIN-BLOCH SMART CLOTHES began to be tailored. Now the custom tailors are trying to catch up, but the going is very bad.

We sell Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes, and the Spring and Summer models are ready to be looked at.

THEY ALL BEAR THIS LABEL :

It is the little things that make clothes fit. Take buttons, for example. They have to be spaced exactly. If a printer spaces his letters wrongly he gets a ragged line. Just so with the tailor. Perhaps you may have noticed in some of your coats a bulging between the button-holes when they were buttoned. This means bad spacing and worse tailoring. It is not uncommon in custom shop clothes, but you will never find it in Stein-Bloch clothes. Any of their craftsmen would be ashamed to let such a fault pass out from his bench. Only a little thing, but very important.

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE FILLS NUMEROUS VACANCIES

The Democratic Executive Committee met at Waverley Hall last evening and filled vacancies left in the committee by resignations and withdrawals. The committee is composed of twenty-five members and ten new ones were added last evening, among them being R. B. Kidd, who is Hearst's manager in Hawaii.

The new members of the committee are C. F. Iaukea, W. S. Noblitt, R. B. Kidd, John K. Prendergast, John Emmeluth, David Kahaleaahu, D. E. Metzger, S. K. Kaloa, W. A. Kinney and H. T. Moore.

A number of reports were received from precinct clubs showing that Democratic organizations are being perfected in various parts of the city.

THE COMMONS' "EGG BOILER."

In the British house of commons, as soon as the question to be decided is put from the chair, a clerk at the table sets in motion a huge sand glass, familiarly known to members as the "egg boiler," probably because it takes three minutes to run out. As the last sand runs through the glass the sergeant-at-arms instantly locks the massive oak doors of the chamber, and only those members who have succeeded in getting through the doorway can vote.

Leonard D. Baldwin of ex-Attorney General Griggs's law firm told the other day of an Irishman who was taken by his priest in an intoxicated condition to a cemetery and propped up against a gravestone. The priest had a lot of the Irishman's friends come to the cemetery dressed in winding sheets to scare him. The friends watched, while one of them went behind the gravestone and poured enough cold water on the Irishman's face to wake him up. The Irishman looked around him. He saw the tombs, the tombstones and the figures in winding sheets. "Shay, you fellers," he said, "ye've been here longer than Oi have. Whar kin Oi git a drink?"

Some amusing incidents marked the closing hours of the fifty-eighth congress. When the vote came in the house on a bill to re-instate some cadets dismissed from Annapolis for hazing, four athletic democratic congressmen, who favored the bill, surrounded Mr. Baker of New York, seized him by the arms and legs and tried to lift him into the air so that he would be recorded as voting for it. Baker is the man who declined to appoint a cadet to Annapolis because he disapproved of the institution. He showed unexpected physical prowess and stuck to his seat. The bill was defeated and the result was greeted with much applause.

BUFFALO CARRIES AN ITALIAN BAND

When Prince Luigi arrives here to-day or tomorrow on the Italian warship Liguria, he may be sure of a warm musical reception from the band of the United States training ship Buffalo. The members of the band, with probably one exception, are Italians.

A band composed of foreigners is not altogether an innovation in the American navy, but as the sons of Italy are generally good musicians, it sometimes happens that in recruiting for Uncle Sam's naval orchestras the Italians have an inside opportunity to get on the payroll.

The Buffalo's band, while not a large one, is pronounced to be all right. Yesterday while the vessel was taking in 800 tons of coal the band was stationed on the main deck amid clouds of coal dust and discoursed popular airs which set the sailors to performing cake-walks as they trundled coal baskets from barges and the dock to the port holes. Music is always an incentive to quick work by the sailors during coaling times and the officers know it. Therefore the band is always on duty during the dirty coaling period of ship's duty.

Last year the commandant of one of the Atlantic seaboard naval stations asked for a band. To his surprise every man jack of the bandmen was an Italian and but few could speak English. The result was an explosion of protest on the part of the commandant, and in due time the Italian band was replaced by one in which English was the official language.

GIANT CABLE STRAND ON SCOTIA IS IN JEOPARDY

It is understood that the giant cable which the Commercial Pacific Cable Company proposed to lay from Guam to Japan is on the Scotia, the ship of the Cable Maintenance Company, which was wrecked on the island of Guam some weeks ago as announced by cable in this paper at the time. The Scotia had in her specially constructed tanks the costly strand to unite the island belonging to the United States and the territory of the Mikado, and her movements were attracting special interest as it was said that the Russian government would protest against the laying of such a cable in time of war.

The Scotia was under the American flag, having obtained a registry while at Hongkong not long ago. She is of unusual draught and went ashore in the Gaspar straits some months ago. When she stranded at Guam, the Patrol was dispatched to her assistance from Singapore. When the Patrol got to Guam the Scotia was lying at an angle of 36 degrees on the reef, with heavy seas breaking over her and every indication that she would go to pieces. The crew were all ashore, and the Patrol was hoping for good weather to save the cable. More than six weeks ago a dispatch from St. Petersburg said that a proclamation had been issued by the Czar which would make contraband of war a cable laid during the existence of the war from foreign to Japanese territory.

It is now learned that the United States government has not received any formal application from the Commercial Pacific Cable Company to lay a cable from Guam to Japan, but that the government had been appealed to in a tentative way by representatives of the company so as to ascertain how the United States would view such an application if it should be made. No decision had been reached, although, in the light of present information there, disposition is manifest to regard such a request as reasonable and proper. It is considered that the laying of the cable would be purely a commercial transaction, and that to grant permission for the landing of the cable at Guam would not violate the position of neutrality which the United States has assumed in respect to the Russo-Japanese conflict. As heretofore indicated, if the permission should be granted, it is likely that the use of the cable, at least while the war is in progress, might be brought about by certain conditions, but even as to that point no definite decision has been reached. It is said at the War Department that this is the only outlet possible for Japan under present economic conditions. The Great Northern is the only company which has cables running into Japan, and that is a Danish company, under Russian control, it being the land line along the Siberian railway to the Asiatic coast. Russia has made no protest to the American government against the granting of permission to land the cable at Guam. It is assumed by officials at Washington that if a protest is made it will be filed through the regular diplomatic channels. What action the United States would take in that event cannot be foretold, as it would depend entirely on the circumstances of the case.—Manila Cable News.

NOTICE.

Honolulu, Hawaii, May 11, 1904.
To the Public:

The last Legislature having failed to provide funds for the maintenance of the Government Dispensary or provide medicines or supplies therefor, and also having failed to provide for a Government Physician for the District of Honolulu, the undersigned physicians have mutually agreed to render their services free of charge for the care of the indigent sick and helpless through the Dispensary until July 1st, 1905, or until the Legislature meets and otherwise provides.

The necessity of this step is disclosed by the fact of there having been 366 treatments at the Dispensary and 62 outside visits in the month of April. There will be an increase of calls upon the Dispensary. To meet expenses $125.00 per month will be required.

We believe the object will appeal to the charitable and the funds be voluntarily forthcoming. Contributions may be handed to the undersigned physicians, or forwarded to the President of the Board of Health.

ONE JUROR IS LACKING

Meheula Is Again Before the Court.

Cotton Brothers Suit Being Heard by Gear.

Representatives to Be Asked if They Received Code Book From Meheula.

A jury will probably be secured in the Meheula case immediately upon the opening of court by Judge De Bolt this morning. Eleven jurors have already been obtained and the defense has exhausted the last of its peremptory challenges. The jurors now on the panel, who will serve, are: James Bicknell, G. Childs, John Coffee, E. O. K. East, J. J. Dias, John Kidwell, P. Ryan, R. W. Davis, E. S. Norrie, J. H. Craig, A. Lucas.

J. H. Craig was the last of the jurors accepted as satisfactory. Ashford tried to have him disqualified but without success. After asking the usual formal questions Ashford wanted to know if the juror didn't recollect a little quarrel he (Ashford) had had with him on election night in the Eighth Precinct.

"Yes," replied Craig, "but after election day I am through with politics."

"Then you are not prejudiced against the defendant's attorney?"

"Not at all," was the reply.

Mr. Wodehouse was excused on peremptory challenge by the defense and the panel was then exhausted. Judge De Bolt sent the bailiff to pick jurors from the bystanders, but when the first arrived Mr. Ashford objected and the court held that the procedure could not be followed out unless by agreement on both sides. A special drawing of five jurors was made from the box, but Deputy Sheriff McGurn could find but two of the men, and Ashford again objected to examining either of these unless the drawing should be made from the five names. It was then decided to take an adjournment until this morning at 9:30 o'clock, when all five jurors are expected to be on hand.

Judge De Bolt overruled the motion to quash the indictment of Meheula upon the opening of court yesterday morning and the case proceeded to trial immediately. Meheula is being tried now on a charge of gross cheat, it being alleged in the indictment that he cashed a warrant for which there had been no consideration. He is alleged to have sold to the Government thirty copies of

THE TRUTH ALWAYS.

"When you are in doubt tell the truth." It was an experienced old diplomat who said this to a beginner in the work. It may pass in some things, but not in business. Fraud and deception are often profitable so long as concealed; yet detection is certain sooner or later; then comes the smash-up and the punishment. The best and safest way is to tell the truth all the time. Thus you make friends that stick by you, and a reputation that is always worth twenty shillings to the pound everywhere your goods are offered for sale. We are able modestly to affirm, that it is on this basis that the world-wide popularity of WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION rests. The people have discovered that this medicine is exactly what it is said to be, and that it does what we have always declared it will do. Its nature also has been frankly made known. It is palatable as honey and contains all the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. A combination of supreme excellence and medicinal merit. Nothing has been so successful in Anemia, Scrofula, Bronchitis, Influenza, Loss of Flesh and Wasting Diseases, Weakness and Low Nervous Tone, and all complaints caused by Impure Blood. Dr. Austin D. Irvine, of Canada, says: "I have used it in cases where cod liver oil was indicated but could not be taken by the patient, and the results following were very gratifying." It cannot deceive or disappoint you, is effective from the first dose and comes to the rescue of those who have received no benefit from any other treatment. It represents the dawn of progress. Sold by all chemists everywhere.

WHOSE FAULT IS IT

A Local Occurrence That Will Interest Many Readers in Honolulu.

If, when a fog horn warns the mariner to sheer off the coast, he still hugs the shore and wrecks upon it, whose fault is it? If the red switch light it up and the engine driver deliberately pulls ahead and pitches into another train, blame the driver. If a careless workman will in spite of warning try to find out how many teeth a buzz saw has, and the saw tries to find out how many fingers the workman has, blame the workman, not the saw. If a sick man knows that a certain medicine is doing him good, and he carelessly neglects to use it, blame the man, not the medicine. If Honolulu people who have kidney complaint and backache will not take Doan's Backache Kidney Pills when they are endorsed by scores of citizens, blame the people, not the endorsers. Read this endorsement:

Mr. John E. Bush of Punchbowl st., this city, is attached to the Hawaiian Interpretation staff at the Supreme Court. He says: "I had kidney trouble, and acting on the recommendation of a friend, who had tried your invaluable remedy, I got some of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills at Hollister Drug Co.'s store. They were just as beneficial to me as they had been to my friend. It is well the virtues of these pills should be made known, for they really are an excellent medicine for kidney trouble."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box, or sent by mail on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Remember the name—DOAN'S—and take no other.

The code, which he had obtained from the Secretary's office.

An effort is being made to have the members of the House residing on Maui and Hawaii examined this morning, in order that they may leave on the Kinohiwa at noon. The representatives are simply to be questioned as to whether or not they received the copies of the codes which were alleged to have been turned over to the government by Meheula.

COTTON CASE ON TRIAL.

The trial of the case of the Territory of Hawaii vs. Cotton Brothers, being the suit for $25,000 damages for the loss of the government dredger in Pearl Harbor, was begun before Judge Gear yesterday. Ex-Supt. Boyd was on the stand and the government is still engaged in proving ownership and value of the property lost.

GRAND JURY REPORT.

The grand jury made another report to Judge De Bolt at three o'clock yesterday afternoon. Seven indictments were returned and all were placed on the secret file. Among the indictments is said to be a new one against F. J. Testa for criminal libel.

COURT NOTES.

In the Maage divorce suit Judge Gear yesterday allowed Mrs. Maage alimony of fifty dollars a month, and fifty dollars as temporary attorney's fees. Judge Gear, at 9:30 this morning, will give a hearing to settle interrogatories in the Maage divorce case for sending with Miss Ryan's commission to San Francisco.

Notice of appeal has been given from judgment for defendant in the case of C. S. Desky vs. C. W. Booth et al.

Judgment was entered yesterday for plaintiff in the sum of $201.19 in Clark & Henery vs. H. Hackfeld & Co.

MEHEULA MUST BE TRIED AGAIN

Judge Dole yesterday granted a new trial to Solomon Meheula, previously convicted of destruction of public documents. Meheula will probably not be tried at this term, and it is doubtful if he can be convicted again, unless additional evidence is disclosed before the second trial.

Judge Dole in his decision holds that there was sufficient proof that Meheula acted as clerk of the House and grants the motion for the new trial on the point suggested by the court during the argument, namely, that admissions made by the defendant in the grand jury room could not be used against him in a criminal proceeding. Concluding the court says:

On the first point made by counsel for the prosecution, to-wit: that Section 860 of the Revised Statutes only refers to evidence obtained from a witness by means of judicial proceedings which he is compelled to give or which is in the nature of involuntary evidence, I do not find that he is supported by the authorities. The wording of the statute offers no loophole for such a construction, it says no "discovery or evidence obtained from a party or witness by means of a judicial proceeding in this or any foreign country shall be given in evidence or in any manner used against him or his property or estate in any court of the United States, in any criminal proceeding or for the enforcement of any penalty or forfeiture." In the case of Counselman vs. Hitchcock, 142 U. S. 564, the Court, in discussing the extent of the application of this statute, says, after quoting the statute:

"It follows that any evidence which might have been obtained from Counselman by means of his examination before the Grand Jury, could not be given in evidence or used against him or his property in any court of the United States in any criminal proceeding, or for the enforcement of any penalty or forfeiture. This, of course, protected him against the use of his testimony against him or his property in any criminal proceeding in a court of the United States."

GARNISHEE NOT LIABLE

Bank of Hawaii Had No Time for an Answer.

The Supreme Court in an opinion written by Chief Justice Frear, for the unanimous court, reversed the Circuit Court yesterday in the case of Bank of Hawaii vs. W. C. Parke. Judgment by default was entered against the bank as garnishee in the sum of $556.10, the defendant having failed to answer.

The following is the syllabus of the opinion:

"Under the statute, an order of default cannot properly be entered against a garnishee for failure to appear and answer at the opening day of the term to which the summons is returnable. No written answer is required of the garnishee. He may appear and make his disclosure orally under oath at the trial or at any time before the trial."

"Such order of default should be set aside on the garnishee's motion made between the first and second days of the trial, and a final default judgment against the garnishee should not be entered for his failure to appear and offer to disclose while that order remained unreversed."

FALLING HAIR STOPPED.

Baldness Cured by Destroying the Parasitic Germ That Causes It.

Baldness follows falling hair, falling hair follows dandruff; and dandruff is the result of a germ digging its way into the scalp to the root of the hair where it saps the vitality of the hair. To destroy that germ is to prevent as well as cure dandruff, falling hair, and, lastly, baldness. There is only one preparation known to do that, Newbro's Herpicide, an entirely new, scientific discovery. Wherever it has been tried it has proven wonderfully successful. It can't be otherwise, because it utterly destroys the dandruff germ. "You destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Hollister Drug Co., Special Agents.

McVEIGH IS NOW A MAGISTRATE

J. D. McVeigh, superintendent at the Leper Settlement, was yesterday appointed by Acting Governor Atkinson as district magistrate for Kalaupapa to succeed the late Thomas Nathaniel. There is a salary attached to the office of district magistrate in the settlement, but McVeigh has agreed to serve without pay, and the appointment will be a measure of economy on the part of the government.

Mr. McVeigh's appointment is only temporary. At present there is no candidate for the position who is believed by Acting Governor Atkinson to be exactly suitable for the place, and Mr. McVeigh will fill the vacancy until some permanent appointee is decided upon.

A bill of indictment for embezzlement against Emmett May, filed yesterday by the Territorial Grand Jury, was served on Mr. May last evening. His surety, on a $1,000 bond, is H. P. Roth.

FISH IS CHEAPER THAN MEAT

Supt. McVeigh is buying fish for the settlement now instead of meat and is effecting a saving of about two hundred dollars per month. Beef costs the settlement nine and a half cents per pound, while Supt. McVeigh can buy fish from the fishermen for five cents a pound. The inmates prefer fish to meat very often, and as it is quite a saving to the Territory the new plan will be tried.

Interesting Glove Contests.

On Saturday evening, May 23, at the old Chinese theater, Liliha street, will be given one of the most interesting glove contests of the season. Lightweight Joe Decker, who has never been defeated, will defend his title against Kid Modlin, of Camp McKinley, who also disputes the lightweight championship of the Territory. Five other interesting contests will be given. See posters for details and future announcements. Don't confuse this interesting exhibition with any other announcements for the same evening. Popular prices will prevail.

The Evangelical Services.

"The Church of the New Testament Scriptures" will be Mr. Hamilton's subject of discourse at the Christian church tonight. In the treatment of this subject it will be the purpose of the evangelist to make inquiry as to whether the Scriptures give everything necessary as to creed and organization, and, in fact, all that is essential to the existence of a church. The subject of "Conversion" was previously announced for tonight, but has since been changed to the above. Last night's discourse by Mr. Hamilton, on "Practical Christianity," was an able effort and held the close attention of the congregation.

YACHTS OFF ON FRIDAY

Crews Will Attend the Luau at Haleiwa Saturday.

The officials and captains of yachts of the Hawaii Yacht Club met yesterday and decided upon the itinerary of the cruise around the Island of Oahu. The plan is to leave Honolulu at 10 o'clock Friday night, cruising to Waiwae by moonlight, and arriving off the Haleiwa Hotel premises by daylight on Saturday.

Saturday will be spent at Waiwae, the forenoon being devoted to sleeping. Luncheon will be had at the Haleiwa Hotel, and in the evening Manager Church will seat the crews of the vessels, about thirty-five in number, and a number of friends who will go to Haleiwa from Honolulu on Saturday by train, at a luau.

The yachts will depart on Sunday, either at 10 a. m. or 2 p. m. for Kaneohe, the time of departure depending upon the wind.

It is proposed to stay at Kaneohe that night, and start for Honolulu on Monday morning by daylight.

While cruising at night all yachts will be compelled to abide by the regulation which requires side lights to be carried. One gun to start will be fired on Friday night, the Spray starting one hour beforehand in order to be with the yachts when they arrive at Waiwae, as all the yachts will proceed to the anchorage in fleet order. It has been decided that the captains of yachts and the crews will appear at the Haleiwa Hotel luau and dance following in yachting costume, no effort being made to wear formal evening dress. The yachtsmen and friends will be seated at one table by themselves.

The yachts will be decorated with flags on Saturday and in the evening some attempt will be made to make them look gay in the offering by dressing them with Chinese lanterns.

There will be five yachts in the cruise, as follows: Helene, Spray, La Paloma, Gladys and Hawaii. Two cups are offered for prizes.
