SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

The following extracts are from Williams, Dimond & Co.'s circular dated San Francisco, November 22d:

SUGAR.—The Western Sugar Refining Co. have made two reductions in price of refined since the 25th ult.

The price for export to Honolulu continues at 5c. granulated. Prices of refined in this market were kept up for some time after Eastern prices declined, but importations from Hongkong were gradually increasing and the reductions were made here partly on this account.

The Western Refinery is still closed down for the annual clean up and repairs.

Mail advices per steamer Mariposa, 12th inst. have given full particulars of the victory of the Democratic party in this country, and it is now to be hoped that the new administration will be of benefit to the Islands, although it is yet early to predict what changes will take place in the tariff.

Light's first estimate of the best crop 1892-93 is 3,400,000 tons, against a crop last year of 3,490,927 tons.

The uncertainty of the sugar question caused by the election does not diminish, and is growing very disquieting to all concerned. It is considered a severe blow to the best and cane sugar industry as there will be no further extension of these industries until the new administration takes definite action regarding the bounty law. It is the opinion of lawyers that this law may be repealed as far as any new enterprises are concerned or extensions of the old enterprises, but for present factories or sugar producing estates it cannot be repealed until its expiration.

European and foreign markets steady. Estimates best crop unchanged, but reports are less favorable from Germany. Cane crop is estimated the same as last year. Trust certificates (P) 102, (C) 104.

Rice.—Market dull; jobbers buying only enough for immediate wants. Sales from wharf at $30 net. Rice in warehouse is being held at 4c net, which figures we quote. Japan and Bangkok, no sales, holders refusing to meet the market prices. FLOUR.—G. G., Ex. Family, $4 per bbl., f. o. b.; G. G., El Dorado, $3.10 per bbl., f. o. b.; G. G., Crown, $3.95 per bbl., f. o. b. BRAN.—Coarse, $13.50 per ton, f. o. b.; Fine, $12.50 per ton, f. o. b. MIDDINGS.—$20 to $23 per ton, f. o. b. BARLEY.—No. 1 feed, 90 c. to 92 c. per ctl., f. o. b. OATS.—Fair $1.35; choice $1.45 per ctl., f. o. b. WHEAT.—Chicken, $1.32 to $1.35; Milling, $1.37 to $1.40 per ctl., f. o. b. HAY.—Compressed, $9.50 to $12 per ton, f. o. b.; large bales, $10 to $12 per ton, f. o. b. LIME.—$1 to $1.15 per bbl., f. o. b. CHARTERS.—Rates have again declined during the period under review. One large carrier (iron) closed 3d inst. at 22s. 6d., orders, since which time a gradual improvement has taken place, and yesterday several others were taken at 24s. 6d. to 25s. orders as to size.

of placing valuable under lock and key, dates back to the time when the human race first gathered together in towns and cities. The strong box then, was made of wood, thought to be the acme of security for the age.

In 1797 such a chest kept the crown jewels of Scotland. No attempt seems to have been made to construct a fire-proof safe until about 1825. Then a Yankee produced an oaken chest of solid planks, saturated with brine, and covered with iron sheets. The key weighed a pound. About 1850 the filling between the outer and inner lining with fire-proof compositions was adopted. Constant progress has been made until to-day, the Hall's safe stands the unopposed champion of the age. If in doubt which is the best safe, ask some business man. But there is no doubt about a Hall's for they have always stood the test. This is no idle boast, but an undisputed fact.

THE DAILY

PACIFIC COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER

Six Pages.

Be just and fear not:
Let all the ends thou aim'st at be Thy Country's, thy God's, and Truth's.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1892.

THE House did a very good stroke of work yesterday, killing a number of bills, and passing others. At this rate there is some hope of seeing the end of the session before the next general election, and the economists who were confidently expecting to see the prorogation of one House and the opening of another combined into one ceremony will be disappointed.

RECONSIDERATION.

There is one point in which perhaps the rules of the House might judiciously be amended. The prevalent habit of moving a reconsideration of a vote, as soon as taken, is certainly an abuse, which ought to be put an end to. No doubt the practice has its good sides. It prevents further lobbying. But if the rule which permits a reconsideration of any action within twenty-four hours is a good one, then the practice which reduces that rule to a dead letter must be bad. Legislators are unhappily not all as long-headed as the Seven Wise Men of Greece, and they sometimes have occasion to repent at leisure the sins of haste. The repentance cannot bear the fruit of good deeds when the usual bogus motion to reconsider has made a bona fide attempt in that direction impossible. Would it not be advisable to remedy this state of things by providing that the motion to reconsider cannot be made on the same day, or at least at the same sitting, when the original action was taken?

THE BAND AT CHICAGO.

There appears to be a disposition in the Legislature to strike out the item for sending the Band to Chicago. Owing to the masterly inactivity of one of the late Cabinet, the opportunity for making a proper exhibit at the Exposition was lost, and now a few mistaken individuals propose to jump from "the frying-pan into the fire," and give up all idea of any sort of representation at Chicago.

There is probably no way in which Hawaii can advertise herself, and get better results at a less cost than by sending away the Band. The assertion has frequently been made that an American tour of our Hawaiian musicians would be profitable, not because their skill is particularly wonderful—though it is by no means to be despised—but because they would be a novelty which would excite the curiosity of thousands. The secret of all advertising is simply to draw attention to the thing advertised. The object is to make it widely, universally known. What we in Hawaii want is to draw the eyes of the world to Hawaii as a place of resort. If people know the place they will try it, and if they try it they will like it. And hardly any way can be devised of making it known, which is cheaper or easier than sending the band to a spot which will be visited and revisited by millions.

Of the item inserted in the Appropriation bill, but $8000 is required for the Band, the rest being for the distribution of advertising matter. Of this sum it is not extravagant to expect that a large part will be returned in the way of earnings so that the ultimate cost will probably be little, and may be nothing, while the returns to this country are sure to exceed the outlay, many times over.

There seems to be a disposition among certain members of the House to regard the Band as an appendage to the cyclorama, and they are inclined to oppose the item for fear it may be of some use to the latter enterprise. We have always been at a loss to account for such petty jealousies and spite. The Cyclorama Co., if it employs the services of the Band, will probably pay for them like anyone else. And those who fear that they may unwittingly benefit some of their fellow creatures may comfort themselves with the reflection that the cyclorama will be of vastly greater advantage to Hawaii than the Band can possibly be to the cyclorama.

The attention of legislators is earnestly invited to the real usefulness and importance of making this small appropriation, as well as that for the distribution of literature. To strike it out would be penny wise and pound foolish.

CORRESPONDENCE.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the statements made, or opinions expressed by our correspondents.

MR. EDITOR: During a very short stay in Honolulu, I have been interested in watching the ravings of such sheets as the Bulletin, Ka Leo, Holomua, and papers of similar stripe, about an alleged letter to Mr. Thurston, from Hilo, about the abortive attempt at an election November 20th.

Having observed that your paper seemed to believe in fair dealing, I will be obliged if you will let me state the facts.

The letter to "My dear Thurston" was sent to my office, with the request that I look it over. I did so, and knowing that the views enunciated in the letter were merely those of one individual not shared by others, thought it would be unwise to send it, and this opinion was confirmed by conference with several prominent men in Hilo. It was laid on my desk. Several times during that day, this man West came in and hung around, and on being requested as to his business, replied that he had no business in particular, but would come in again. He appears to have done so to good (bad) purpose, for the next day I heard that he was showing a letter about town which appeared very similar to the one laid on my table.

After looking for it I discovered it missing, so readily guessed that it had been stolen. Subsequently, being charged with the theft, Mr. West admitted having the document in possession, but refused to return it.

Perhaps it is needless to say that this man is one of Nawahi's heels, and probably one is as unscrupulous as the other.

Hearing later that Mr. West was on his way to Honolulu, where a steamer was to leave for Honolulu, I procured a warrant of arrest, and he was brought back to Hilo, tried for larceny and, upon the clearest evidence, was convicted. I think all will agree that larceny of this character, so easy to perpetrate, so difficult of discovery, should be summarily dealt with.

Shall I add that such conduct is characteristic tactics of the leaders who elect men like Nawahi, and, naturally, they hoot and howl to turn the eye of the public from themselves by the cry of thief.

Perhaps also, they would like to have further light thrown on a very remarkable petition asking for Nawahi's candidacy and filed by him, signed by 31 names all in one handwriting. That the Hawaiian is acquiring his education at a galloping rate must be inferred from the fact that several of the signatures on this petition are by men who could not sign their names as late as 1887-88, while others again are not qualified voters for the district, as required by law; and what seems exceeding strange is the fact that all these signatures are in every way like the handwriting of the man convicted of larceny, who, by the way, has already served his country in the past for eccentricities of this kind.

A. B. LOEBENSTEIN,
Honolulu, Dec. 1.

Molokai Objects to a Bogus Claim.

MR. EDITOR: If I am not greatly mistaken, I saw where some committee had recommended $200 for damage to pond.

Now, I am on the ground and have been for fourteen months. I know something about the pond and damages claimed. As a taxpayer on Molokai I protest against any money whatsoever being paid to the owner of said pond, if, as I understand, the pond is the one at Pukoo, owned by J. Eli.

I have noticed for several months a claim before the Legislature for damages to pond, but could never find out what pond was damaged until this morning.

Now, this I know to be a fact: Either in June or July of this year, (June, I think,) Eli ordered his wall to the pond to be opened, to let the fish go in and out. By so doing, he made it almost impossible to get to the landing at Pukoo, as the coming in and out of the tide dug a deep channel directly across the road to the wharf. At high tide it was almost impossible to cross, as the sand was shifting and was soft and sinking.

In July the Road Board, after being growled at, moved the wall, broken down as it was, about 20 feet, (making the pond so much larger,) and built up the wall again so that the public could get to the wharf without being in danger of getting drowned.

The claim for damages never ought to be allowed, and any who have made such reports must be expecting to get a share in the proceeds. I do not mean the committee, but those who testified before the committee.

MOLOKAI TAX PAYER.
Molokai, Nov. 25, 1892.

A Registrar Appointed.

MR. EDITOR: It is gratifying and pleasing to hear of the appointment of a Registrar—that of Geo. E. Smithies, Esq.—by His Excellency P. C. Jones and his colleagues.

The appointment deserves the highest praise which could be bestowed upon our Ministers of State as their first fruits of office, which is heralded from lip to lip by public opinion, satisfactory and praiseworthy. The young gentleman selected for the position could not have been better, as he is an honest, intelligent and trustworthy, whom I have known from boyhood to manhood. He assumes a very responsible position of trust, which I hope his friends will assist him in the beginning of fulfilling the functions of the said office. Prior to his appointment as Registrar, he was employed in the Interior Department as clerk, which he has filled faithfully and honestly for the last ten years, and set himself as an "emblem" for his race and nation, and carries the aloha of his friends.

Yours truly,
GEORGE MARKHAM.

FLOODED!

We can honestly say that we have been flooded with new goods during the past few weeks. The Martha Davis from Boston, had for us

Oakum, Horse Shoes, kegs Wire and Cut Nails, Turpentine, Ship and Cut Spikes,

Pitch, Benzine, Cotton Duck, Wrapping Paper, assorted Oars, Mast Hoops, assorted

Handles, Rakes, Road Scrapers, Pick and Ax Mattocks, Axes, Hatchets, Forges, yard

Brooms, Batteries, Shovels, Spades, and Scoops, horse Nails, boat Nails, Hinges, Sand

Paper, ball Wicking, Tacks, Fodder Cutters, Scales, Blocks, copper Paint, mixed house

Paint, dry orange Shellac and many other items.

Those Wostenholm pocket Knives we spoke of have come, and you are sure to find one among the lot to suit you in price and style. Our assortment of those fine drab Fish Lines is now complete from 0 to 9.

If you want a good pocket Cork Screw, we now have the article, compact and strong.

We carry the largest and most varied stock of Oils to be found in the islands, among which are several brands of Cylinder Oil, light and heavy engine Oil, black or Carbox Oil, Castor, Olive, Peanut,

Colza, Coconut, Paraffine, Sperm, Polar, Dynamo, Sewing Machine, Mineral Castor, Lard, Neatsfoot, pale and dark boiled Linseed, Raw Linseed and Tar Oil. We can sell you anything from a quart bottle to a barrel of any of these oils.

We have a Cylinder Oil and an engine Oil both of which give perfect satisfaction, and we will at any time send samples to any one wishing to try them, free of charge.

While we are speaking of oils, we may as well say that we handle a good many thousand cases of Kerosene Oil every year.

We were going to say something about Wood and Schultz Powder Cartridges this time, but it's no use, we had a sample lot of five thousand by the Mariposa and have only 600 left of the lot. We will tell you when the next lot comes, in a few weeks; it will pay you to wait for them. To those who load shells we would say that we have just received a lot of Dupont's & Hazzard Powder, also new lot of Metal and Paper Shells, Wads, Chilled Shot, etc.

By the Australia yesterday we received a large lot of goods, including nine rolls of Leather.

We are putting away Goods received by the Albert and we have a lot more on the Transit due next week.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

A By Authority notice appears in this issue.

Taro flour has become a household word.

The Band will give a concert at the Hotel this evening.

Mr. Theo. H. Davies is booked to leave on the Australia.

A respectable young Japanese desires a situation. See advertisement.

A stable and carriage shed is for rent. Apply to G. West on Fort street.

The carpets for the new church arrived by the Australia and are being laid.

An imported thoroughbred bull terrier is for sale. Inquire of Charles L. Carter.

The bill to abolish the office of Fire Marshal was killed in the Legislature yesterday.

A case involving water rights occupied the time of the Supreme Court in banco yesterday.

The "Bachelor's Club" of Makalei, Kauai, will give a dance at that place to-morrow evening.

H. F. Wichman, the jeweler, has new goods on exhibition that are bound to please the general public.

The great Baldwin locomotive works of Philadelphia are to build branch shops at or near San Francisco.

A petition was read in the House yesterday praying that only a duty of ten per cent. be levied on bicycles.

The S. S. Yamashiro Maru will leave for Yokohama next Tuesday afternoon. For freight and passage apply to Wm. G. Irwin & Co.

Lieutenants Boughton and Washington, detached from the U. S. corvette Alliance, will leave for their homes on the Australia.

Mr. W. E. Rowell has been commissioned as Superintendent of Public Works, in place of the late Henry W. McIntosh, deceased.

The new Central Union Church presented a busy scene last night, musical rehearsals for the dedication exercises being in progress.

A Gospel meeting will be held at Bethel Hall this evening under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Song service begins at 7:30 o'clock.

Jas. F. Morgan holds his first Christmas sale at his rooms to-day at 10 A. M. Programme, part first—stoves of all kind—wood or coal burners.

A large number of Chinese will leave on the S. S. Yamashiro Maru next Tuesday on a pilgrimage to their native land, to spend the Chinese holidays, which will fall in January next.

Through the kindness of Mr. Theo. H. Davies the Sunday school children of the Second Congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral will have a picnic at Makee Island to-morrow afternoon.

Mr. F. G. Eyton-Walker will leave by the steamer Yamashiro Maru next Tuesday as an agent of the Hawaiian Bureau of Information to Japan. He will be gone about three months.

Topic for to-day's prayer meeting at the Y. M. C. A.: Prayer for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon all men and the conversion of the whole world. Isaiah 44:1-5; Micah 4:1-7. G. P. Castle, leader of meeting.

"The Kilauea Glee Club" are rehearsing for their coming concert, to be given at Kealia, Kauai, on Christmas night. The proceeds of the entertainment will go to the Kilauea Church Fund, as the church needs repairs.

The Friend for December is out and is edited with the usual ability. With this number the periodical completes the first half-century of an honorable existence. Some special commemorative features are promised for the January number.

Mr. S. Fugi, the new Japanese Consul, and the other cabin passengers on board the S. S. Yamashiro Maru, will be released from quarantine this evening. The Japanese laborers now at the Immigration Depot will also be released to-day.

The Hawaiian Bureau of Information has issued a handsome pamphlet descriptive of Hawaii. It is for free distribution abroad. The pamphlet was printed in the GAZETTE office, and without doubt is the most artistic piece of job work ever turned out in Honolulu.

Booked to Leave.
The following persons are booked at the office of Wm. G. Irwin & Co. to leave on the Australia: Theo. H. Davies, Sheldon Painter, Mrs. Hebbard, Sr., C. C. Gardiner, Mrs. H. Halstead, Mrs. E. Halstead and child, E. C. Damon, J. A. Buck, Lieut. Boughton, Lieut. Washington, P. E. Haslett and wife, Miss E. C. Dallum, K. K. Cutler and wife.

WILL NOT COME.

The San Diego Excursion Is Abandoned.

Some time ago mention was made in these columns of the projected departure from San Diego of the S. S. Manuel Dublan with an excursion party on board. The excursionists were to visit these islands. Mr. Jas. W. Girvin, Hawaiian Consul at San Diego, in a letter written to a friend in this city says: "I am sorry to inform you that the excursion from here to Hawaii has collapsed after it had reached a stage of almost ready, having sixty-five names on the list. I am told that the U. S. Boiler Inspector burst the boiler and the company owning the vessel does not care to go to the expense of putting in a new boiler. The excursion company does not find it convenient to charter a new steamer. Some of the tourists have gone north to take the steamer and some have postponed their going."

Coffee Culture.

Mr. Editor: In your issue of the 10th inst. there is a letter from Messrs. J. A. Folger & Co., respecting the quality of some coffee sent to them to be tested as to quality. I wish to correct some of the minor portions of the letter. In the first place, the coffee sent was produced in North Hilo, and we of North Hilo are jealous of our laurels.

In the second place, the coffee is just plain uncultivated coffee, picked off trees that are at least thirty years old, planted by natives in years gone by. As I only commenced to pay any attention to the coffee business two years ago this month, it will be plain that I have not had time to raise any cultivated coffee, and the sample referred to above was picked just a year ago.

The only reason I can see for the coffee turning out so well is that care was taken in properly fermenting the berries and also careful drying. Yours truly,
E. W. BARNARD.
Laupahoehoe, Nov. 24, 1892.

Considerable of a Girl.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15. — Aama Battailard has arrived in New York. Aama is only 16 years old, but she is seven feet six inches tall and weighs 236 pounds. Physicians say that after a year or two she will be two or three feet taller and some 100 pounds heavier. The girl was of ordinary growth until she was 10 years old, and then she began to shoot upward. She is one of thirteen children of a wood-cutter who lives in France, near the Swiss border. One of her sisters, who accompanies her to this country, is only two feet ten inches in height.

Miss Battailard is tall and well-proportioned, and seems to be proud of her unusual development.

Father Searle, of the Catholic University, has made some observations of the new comet, and decides that it is not Biela's. It was nearest the sun on October 11. It is receding from the sun and earth now, and is getting fainter. It is now about 150,000,000 miles from the earth. It has an elliptical orbit, moving around the sun in about six years. Its least distance from the sun is about 200,000,000 miles, and its greatest distance about 350,000,000 miles. "The theory of its approaching the earth," says Father Searle, "arose from a mistake of ten minutes of time in the original telegram."

The adoption of masculine saddles by a number of ladies who have devoted themselves to the Somerset, England, hunts is a prominent topic in society. It is startling to see these ladies attired in divided skirts, blouses and manish hats, foremost in the hunt astride their horses. Some of them appear in long riding coats, boots and breeches. The most generally accepted riding habit, however, is the divided skirt. The style meets with approving comment from the men.

The Theosophist Society of England is going to send propaganda missionaries all over the world. Annie Besant will go to America. Secretary Walsh, an old and wealthy enthusiast, will go to India, and Mrs. Oakley will go to Australia. Mrs. Besant means to work chiefly in the West, from Seattle to San Diego.

WHARF AND WAVE.

DIAMOND HEAD, Dec. 1.—9 P.M.: Weather, cloudy; wind, light N. E.

The schooner Kulamanu, which has been undergoing repairs to her hull for several days, will come down from the marine railway to-day.

The steamers J. A. Cummins and Pele arrived yesterday from their respective ports without any cargo.

The Japanese steamship Yamashiro Maru will leave for Yokohama next Tuesday. She is now taking on board 145 tons of coal. All her cargo for this port has been landed.

The iron bark J. C. Glade was moved to the I. I. S. N. Co.'s wharf yesterday to wait for a cargo of sugar.

The steel bark R. P. Rithet will load sugar for San Francisco after finishing unloading her coal.

The Kinau will leave on her regular route this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The famous association of Transcontinental lines has at last gone to pieces at San Francisco and will cease to exist after Dec. 31st. This will deprive the Pacific Mail Steamship Company of its $75,000 per month subsidy and some lively competition on the water route via Panama to New York is expected.

U. S. NAVAL NOTES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Commodore Skerrett, now commandant of the Washington Navy Yard, is to be detached from his present position, and will probably go to the Pacific coast and succeed Commodore Brown, now acting as Admiral in charge of the Pacific station. Captain W. P. Sampson, in all probability, will be made commandant of the yard here. He was a few months ago in command of one of the Pacific cruisers. Lieutenants J. W. Carlin and A. C. Abury and Ensigns G. H. Burrage and H. E. Parmenter to hold themselves in readiness for orders to the Monterey.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The recent investigation of the machinery of the U. S. ship Miantonomah developed the fact that there is much faulty material in the heavier parts, and that the engines are likely to collapse any day.

"August Flower" The Hon. J. W. Fennimore is the Sheriff of Kent Co., Del., and lives at Dover, the County Seat and Capital of the State. The sheriff is a gentleman fifty-nine years of age, and this is what he says: "I have used your August Flower for several years in my family and for my own use, and found it does me more good than any other remedy. I have been troubled with what I call Sick Headache. A pain comes in the back part of my head first, and then soon a general headache until I become sick and vomit. At times, too, I have a fullness after eating, a pressure after eating at the pit of the stomach, and sourness, when food seemed to rise up in my throat and mouth. When I feel this coming on if I take a little August Flower it relieves me, and is the best remedy I have ever taken for it. For this reason I take it and recommend it to others as a great remedy for Dyspepsia, &c."

Waikiki Property for Lease.

THE LEGISLATURE.

One Hundred and Thirty-Fifth Day.

THURSDAY, Dec. 1.

The House met at 9 A.M. Quorum obtained at 9:25.

The minutes of the preceding day were read and approved.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

Noble Baldwin, for the Finance Committee, reported on the petition from Portuguese residents for a Portuguese clerk in the Police Office. The committee does not think it proper for the Legislature to interfere in the matter. The report was adopted.

Rep. Ashford presented a report from the Judiciary Committee, on Resolution 109, calling for the insertion in the Appropriation bill of an item for payment of the balance due to H. Vischer, for work done in surveying in the Kohala mountains. The committee find the claim valid and recommend its payment. The report was adopted.

Noble Baldwin, for the Finance Committee, reported that the committee had destroyed the bills for rations, etc., in the Board of Health Office, as requested by the board. The report was accepted.

Minister Jones read by title an Act to amend the Audit Act.

Noble Dreier wanted to know whether the Opium Committee was ever going to report.

Noble Marsden said the committee had had a meeting and agreed on an amended bill, and they were waiting for the member from the Third District to draw up the amendments.

Rep. Kamaoia moved to reconsider the vote on the army, in order to increase the item. The men were under contract and therefore it would be necessary to increase the appropriation.

The motion to reconsider was carried.

At 10:03 A.M. the House proceeded to the ORDER OF THE DAY.

The special order was the Mail Subsidy, which was deferred.

Third reading of Bill 79, to regulate the practice of dentistry.

Rep. Kamaoia opposed the bill.

Rep. Smith favored it.

Noble Marsden objected to making a close corporation of the dentists. He moved re-reference to the committee.

Rep. Pua said there were cases where people had nearly been killed by dentists. He favored indefinite postponement of the bill.

Rep. R. W. Wilcox said that was the very reason for passing the bill. We did not want a lot of quacks here.

Rep. Ashford approved the general outline of the bill. On the whole, he was in favor of passing Section 3 as it was, because it was not feasible to disturb those who had been practicing here for two years. He favored the passage of the bill as it was.

Noble Marsden insisted that everyone should be compelled to pass an examination. He moved Section 3 be stricken out.

Noble Ena moved the bill be indefinitely postponed. It looked to him as though it were brought in in the interest of a few dentists, who wished to keep all the business in their hands.

Rep. Kaunamano favored indefinite postponement of the bill.

Rep. Akina favored reference to a committee.

Noble Young hoped the bill would pass just as it was.

Rep. Smith called attention to the fact that Noble Ena's arguments would apply to lawyers and doctors. Let everyone practice law and medicine then. That would follow. The bill was simply to protect the public health and safety, and there was no trust or monopoly about it. It was done in every civilized country in the world.

Rep. Ashford said Noble Ena wanted the bill indefinitely postponed in the interest of the poor. In the interest of the poor it should be passed. The rich could take care of themselves, and they never failed to do so, in this or any other country. In order to prevent the operation of professional jealousy, he would move to amend by making the Board of Examiners consist of five members, three physicians and two dentists.

Rep. White supported the bill. He did not like the idea of barbers pulling teeth. He had studied medicine himself; had been in a doctor's office a year and a half. While the doctor was in Honolulu, Mr. Halstead came in and wanted a tooth pulled. I told him I didn't know anything about pulling teeth. He said he would give me a dollar, if I pulled it out. I got the Deputy Sheriff to hold him, and it took me about five minutes to pull the tooth. When it was out Mr. Halstead said he would never patronize a man again who was not a dentist. The speaker said he would take that back about the four hours. It was only a little over a half hour.

The motion to indefinitely postpone the bill was lost—17 to 15.

The bill was referred to a select committee.

Third reading of Bill 110, to abolish the office of Fire Marshal.

Noble Thurston moved the bill be indefinitely postponed. Lost.

A motion to table the bill was lost.

At 11:53 the House took a recess.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The House re-assembled at 1:40 P.M. Consideration of the Fire Marshal bill was resumed.

Rep. Ashford called attention to the fact that a committee of the firemen had concurred in the bill. The bill was a good one, but the fate of the nation did not depend on it.

The motion to pass the bill failed on the following division:

Ayes—Minister Robinson; Nobles Malle, Kanehine, J. M. Horner, Hind, Marsden, W. Y. Horner, Bess, Bipi-kane, Ashford, Pua, B. W. Wilcox, A. Horner, Kaunamano, Kamaoia and Smith—15.

Noes—Ministers Wilcox and Brown; Nobles Berger, Ena, Pua, Williams, Hoapili, Young, Baldwin, Anderson and Thurston; Reps. Wilder, Kanhi, Wai-puiani, White, Kanehine, Edmonds, Kaluna, Iosepa and Akina—20.

Absent—Minister Jones; Nobles Hopkins, Peterson, Cummins, Walbridge, Kanoe and Dreier; Reps. Aki, Bush, Kaobon, Kapahu, Nahinu and A. S. Wilcox.

The President appointed as committee on Bill 79, relating to dentistry: Waipulani, Marsden, Williams, Smith and Kaunamano.

Noble Thurston, under suspension of rules, presented a petition from the business men of Honolulu, requesting that the duty on bicycles be reduced from 25 to 10 per cent. The duty had been fixed on carriages at 25 per cent, and the Custom House interpreted that as including bicycles.

Referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Noble Thurston presented a report of the Public Lands Committee on the bill authorizing the Minister of the Interior to issue royal patents for certain Government land to certain individuals. The land in question belonged to the Government because at the time of the great mabele no claimant had perfected any title. They had been in the hands of the Government ever since, and were just as much the property of the Government as any other. The committee recommend the bill be tabled.

Noble Thurston moved the report be adopted.

Rep. Kamaoia moved it be tabled for consideration with the bill.

Noble Thurston contended that such a bill was simply a steal, and the House should stand as a single man against it.

After a considerable debate the motion to table with the bill was carried.

Second reading of Bill 189, an Act relating to railroad mortgages.

Passed to third reading—on Saturday.

Second reading of Bill 108, an Act to confer upon the Board of Fire Representatives greater control over funds.

The committee recommend the bill be passed with an amendment.

The report was adopted and Saturday set for the third reading.

Bill 145, proposed amendment to the Constitution.

The object of the amendment is to make members of the House eligible for diplomatic positions. The Judiciary Committee recommend the bill be tabled.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Second reading of Bill 146, proposed amendment to Article 54 of the Constitution. The amendment provides that a member of the House under trial for an offense be permitted to take his seat under parole of five members.

The Judiciary Committee recommend the bill be tabled. Adopted.

Second reading of Bill 154, to amend Article 59 of the Constitution by reducing the property qualification for voters for Nobles to $1000 property, or an income of $300 per year. Deferred to await majority report.

Bill 175, to regulate hours of labor of certain Government employees. The Act provides that the hours of labor of Government employees shall be not less than seven and a half, and that officers shall not be paid for time when they are absent from their posts. The Labor Committee recommend the bill to pass.

Noble Marsden moved that the report be adopted.

Rep. R. W. Wilcox thought the House should go a little slow. In Noble Marsden's country it was cold, and a man had to get up early and stir around or he would freeze up; but here it was different. The climate was warm, and there was no use in working so much.

Rep. White related how he had tried to get a money-order when he drew his salary—that was a long time ago. The clerk said "Wait till 9 o'clock." I replied "Don't you know I am the honorable member from Lahaina." "You may be, but you will have to wait till 9 o'clock just the same." I decided then that I would help Horner to pass the bill we killed in 1890.

The bill passed to engrossment, to be read on Tuesday.

Second reading of Bill 42, to amend Master and Servant Act. The Labor Committee recommend that the bill pass.

The bill passed, to be read a third time on Tuesday.

Second reading of Bill 149, to amend Master and Servant's Act.

The Labor Committee recommend the bill be tabled. Adopted.

Second reading of Bill 108, to amend Section 3 of Chapter 34, Penal Code, to punish the use of profane and obscene language in public places. The bill passed to be read on Tuesday for the third time.

Second reading of Bill 5, to repeal the Act of 88, relating to leper suspects.

The majority of the Sanitary Committee recommend the bill be tabled.

The minority recommend it pass.

The House adjourned at 4:02 P.M., without taking a vote on the bill.

A Suggestion.

Mr. Editor: I have been much interested in the communications of Messrs. Davies, Oleson, and others, lately appearing in our daily papers, and as all the gentlemen appear to have the public good at heart, I venture to make a suggestion as to a domestic policy, which I hope will meet with their approval, partially owing to the extreme cost of living here, and partially to the shrinkage in values, both of investments and labor, and notably in the case of Government employees, who form a considerable portion of this community, it will be necessary henceforth to practice the strictest economy to make ends meet. In the case of the Government employee, his purchasing power is reduced by the parsimonious policy of the Mean Committee 16 to 20 per cent, he will either thus purchase less or run larger credits.

Now, I would suggest to Mr. Davies (I mention Mr. Davies because he is not only in the front rank of our philanthropic citizens, but he occupies an unusually favorable position for the forwarding of the proposition) to incorporate his so-called universal Bazaar as a co-operative establishment, causing it thus to become, instead of a money making machine for the few, a benefit to the many. I need not urge the claims of co-operation or profit-sharing, which to-day occupies the minds of our best citizens, but would urge that this is a brilliant opportunity to make a beneficial illustration of practical philanthropy.

stinct, like reverence or filial affection. One of the most terrible wrenches that a true patriot can undergo, comes when he has to make up his mind that patriotism demands the sacrifice of his loyalty, not only to his sovereign, but to the autonomy and integrity of his native land.

Such a position the Rev. S. E. Bishop announces that he has now reached, and I take note of the announcement with sincere sorrow.

This statement involves a decision in which I have no desire to take part, and I can only thank you, sir, for the courtesy with which you have opened your columns to my contributions.

As I am on the point of departure from Honolulu, I must let this letter conclude my share in the correspondence.

In closing, permit me to add that I should be deeply grieved if I thought that I had written one word that had given pain to any of my friends or your readers. I have tried to express in honest language convictions honestly held.

SPECIAL TERM, DECEMBER, 1891.

KANAMU (W.) vs. C. B. WILSON, MARSHAL OF THE KINGDOM.

TRESPASS.

BEFORE JUDGE, C. J., BICKERTON AND DOLE, J. J.

A man, claiming to be the father of a certain child, complained to the Marshal that a native man was going to take his child to Kanai. The Marshal directed a police officer to go to the wharf to prevent any disturbance, and if the matter could not be settled there, to bring the parties up to the Station House to settle it, but did not order the arrest or detention of any one. The officer brought a woman, the child and others to the Station House, where they remained until the Marshal came in.

The woman brought an action of trespass against the Marshal, and the jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiff.

Held: That the Marshal was not liable, there being no sufficient evidence that he ordered the police officer to arrest the woman, or to detain her at the Station House.

Held: That the Marshal is only liable for the acts of his deputies.

OPINION OF THE COURT PER BICKERTON, J.

This is an action for an alleged false imprisonment, involving wrongful arrest. The case was heard before the Chief Justice and a mixed jury at the October term (1891) of the Court. The jury rendered a unanimous verdict for the plaintiff, and assessed damages at $375. Defendant's counsel noted exceptions to the verdict as being contrary to law and the evidence and gave notice of a motion for a new trial, and there-after filed his written motion on the grounds, (1) that said verdict was contrary to law and the weight of evidence, and (2) that there was misconduct on the part of the jury in arriving at their verdict. On December 11th, 1891, the motion was argued before Chief Justice Judd who ordered the verdict to be set aside and a new trial granted, on the ground that there was no evidence to support the verdict. At this hearing, the second ground, that of misconduct of the jury, was abandoned by the defendant, and the plaintiff, by her attorney, excepted to said order and ruling. The matter is now here on the plaintiff's bill of exceptions.

The plaintiff claims that she was arrested by a police officer acting under order of the defendant on the wharf of the Inter-Island Steamship Company, in Honolulu, on May 9th, 1891, when about to embark for her home on Kauai, and was taken to the Police Station at about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and there detained until about 9 o'clock p. m.

The question is: Was there an arrest and detention by order of defendant, the Marshal? If an arrest was made without the order or direction of the defendant, he cannot be held liable for the same. The Marshal is not liable for the acts of police officers, he is only liable for the acts of his deputies. (Laws of 1888, Chapter 8, Sections 8 and 11.)

The evidence of what orders or instructions defendant gave Officer Crabbe is that of the officer himself, the defendant, and his deputy, Mr. Mehrten. The evidence of Crabbe cannot be relied on, it is very contradictory and uncertain; then, after the evidence of C. W. Ashford as to his conversation with Crabbe, how can it be given any weight? Such evidence would certainly not be sufficient in itself on which to base a finding of fact by a jury. The evidence of the defendant and Mehrten is positive and certain in this regard. It is, that a man named Enders came to defendant and complained that a native man was going to take his child, and that defendant then asked if he, Enders, was the father of the child, to which Enders replied he was; that defendant said, "If you are the father of the child, why do you not go and get it back?" Enders said he was afraid of the native, that he might do him some bodily harm. Thereupon defendant instructed Crabbe to go with Enders and see that there was no disturbance, but no orders were given to arrest any one, and that nothing was said about a woman. The defendant also says, "I might have given Crabbe instructions to bring them up to the station house in case they could not settle the matter down there; this custom is quite general; had no idea any force would be used." This evidence is uncontradicted. The only occasion on which defendant was in any way concerned in this matter before the arrest was when Enders came to him and asked for the assistance of a police officer. How could defendant then have ordered the arrest of the plaintiff (a woman), when as far as defendant was informed, there was no one but the native man and child in the matter. It may be true that Crabbe did say, as the plaintiff says he did, that he arrested plaintiff by order of the Marshal. This does not by any means prove that defendant did order the arrest; it is necessary to show the authorizing words of the principal himself.

We are therefore of opinion, that the evidence does not support the finding that defendant authorized or ordered the arrest of plaintiff. The next question is, was there such subsequent ratification by defendant as would make him liable? It is clear that officer Juen, the station keeper, telephoned to the marshal, who was at dinner at the time, that the parties whom Crabbe brought were at the station house, but both he and the defendant said that no names were mentioned at the time. Juen says that the marshal told him "to keep them there." The defendant says he does not remember saying this; even if he did, it could not in any way be construed to mean the detention (if it meant such) of the woman, for, as far as the evidence goes, there is nothing to show that he had any information that there was a woman in the matter, or that the arrest of any one had been made, much less the arrest of the woman.

When the Marshal returned to the Station to settle the matter, all agree that he came in and found the parties sitting and standing around; that he sat in the midst of them and discussed the matter with them, and that there was no charge entered against any of these people.

We are of opinion that there is no evidence to support the finding of fact that defendant ratified, or intended to ratify, any arrest that may have been made, for there is nothing to show that he knew that an arrest had been made of any one, and certainly not of the plaintiff, a woman. In regard to the woman's being prevented from going home to Kanai by the steamer Mikahala, the evidence shows that Pankani (the native man), went on board the steamer to see if the purser would take his horse that trip and the purser refusing, that Pankani then returned to plaintiff and told her that they could not go. This, if true, would account for and explain their remaining.

To warrant a verdict for plaintiff, the jury would have to find that defendant ordered the arrest of the plaintiff, or if he did not order it, then that after the arrest (if there was one), he ratified it. As we have said before, there is no evidence to support these findings of fact. It may be as argued by defendant's counsel, that the jury decided the case on the supposition that it turned solely on the question of ownership of the child, but that was not the issue in this case.

We therefore overrule the exceptions and order a new trial upon the ground that there is not sufficient evidence to support said verdict.

Ashford & Ashford for plaintiff; Thurston & Frear and Rosa for defendant. Honolulu, July 30, 1892.

DISSENTING OPINION BY DOLE, J.

The plaintiff claims damages for illegal arrest and imprisonment by the Marshal. The issue now before this court is solely whether the verdict for the plaintiff was against the law and evidence.

It is a settled principle in this court in such cases, that it may not consider whether or not it would have decided the case differently from the verdict of the jury, but must simply seek to ascertain whether there was any substantial evidence supporting the verdict.

It is not denied that there is evidence showing the arrest of the plaintiff by Officer Crabbe; there is in fact a large amount of testimony on this point from Pankani, the plaintiff's escort, Kia Enders, the plaintiff's sister, and the plaintiff herself. There is also the evidence of Officer Juen that at the Station House Crabbe passed the plaintiff over to his custody. But it is contended by the defendant that if the plaintiff was arrested he was not liable therefor because his instructions to Crabbe related to a man instead of a woman.

This being supported by the evidence and there being no evidence against it, would relieve him of responsibility in the matter if the case ended there. But there is evidence to the effect that during the evening Juen telephoned to the Marshal this message, "I have got these parties here that Crabbe brought here; child case. What shall I do with them?" This was a quarter or half past 7 p. m. There is evidence that later the Marshal arrived at the Station House and immediately devoted himself to the solution of the question of the custody of the child, who was then in plaintiff's arms. About three-quarters of an hour was occupied in the matter, and then the child was taken by Enders from plaintiff's arms, under the active supervision of the Marshal, and according to one witness, by force, leaving the plaintiff weeping. She was then allowed to depart.

There is considerable evidence to the effect that the Marshal authorized the unwarranted arrest of some one, a native man, supposed to be in possession of the child. The Marshal in his own testimony says, "I did not tell the officer to arrest any one; I might have given Crabbe instructions to bring them up to the Station House in case they could not settle the question down there. This custom is quite general. Had no idea that any force would be used." This alone, taken in connection with the fact that the defendant said the jury had the right to conclude that the Marshal authorized an unwarrantable arrest of somebody. There was evidence enough to lead the jury to believe that when the Marshal learned by telephone that parties in possession of the child in question had been brought by Officer Crabbe to the Station House, he gave orders to "keep them there." When the Marshal arrived at the Station House and found that the party brought there by Crabbe was a woman instead of a man, as he had supposed, he did not clear himself of responsibility as he might have done by instantly releasing her, but there is sufficient evidence to have justified the jury in concluding that he ratified the previous arrest and imprisonment, by continuing the latter for a period of three-quarters of an hour and that he used the terrifying influences of this forcible detention in the Station House to deprive the plaintiff of an infant which was in her possession with its own mother's consent.

I find, therefore, that there was evidence to prove the arrest of the plaintiff by Officer Crabbe at about 5 o'clock p. m.; there was evidence that she was taken to the Station House and placed in charge of Officer Juen, and kept by him in detention against her will until a little after 8 o'clock p. m.; there was evidence that the Marshal authorized the arrest of some unknown man and after the arrest of plaintiff, authorized her continued detention until he should arrive, without, however, knowing it was the plaintiff who had been arrested; and there was the evidence of Officer Juen, Sam'l Koula, Pankani, Kia Enders, the plaintiff, Deputy Marshal Mehrten and the defendant, which tended to prove that the Marshal continued the detention of the plaintiff from the time he arrived at the Station House until she surrendered the child.

There was substantial evidence upon all these points, and the jury having found for the plaintiff, this court may not disturb their verdict.

in designing the Mimeograph took as his principle, the style of the writing implement of man, since the art was first invented. It is the natural instrument by which the hand can trace characters. This is one of the reasons why this machine has achieved such popularity.

The pen or stylus glides easily over the prepared stencil paper with just enough friction to make writing identical to that done with a hard lead pencil.

It is used by jobbers sending out price lists; retail stores use it sending circulars direct to their customers; secretaries, in printing notices of meeting, programmes, etc.; hotels, printing bills of fare and printing bill and letter heads; musics, sketching, maps in colors, and in fact anything that a lead pencil can do, this machine does. It is simple, cleanly and strong. Prints on any kind of paper. Reproduces copies of type-written work that are exact fac-similes.
