Makee Gets Water Rights

The Makee Sugar Co., after a fight covering a period of more than ten years, has succeeded in its attempt to secure water rights from the government for a period of seven years.

For the use of several hundred acres of cane land for the above length of time, the Makee Sugar Company agrees to construct a water system which will include immense water ditches and reservoirs, all of which will revert to the government at the expiration of the seven years. The improvements will cost in the neighborhood of $25,000 and in the opinion of those who seem to know the situation, unless the price of sugar remains up, the proposition does not seem so very promising for the plantation.

Society Girl Leaves

MOKIHANA'S ENTERTAIN

The Mokihana Club entered upon the 9th. year of its existence by a very interesting meeting on Wednesday afternoon last. The subject selected for the years work is "The Dramatic Literature of the Later Peoples," and the first meeting was devoted to Moliere as representing French literature. One of his principal comedies "Tartuffe" was given in character with much spirit and intelligence. The principal parts were taken by Mrs. J. M. Lydgate, Mrs. Hans Isenberg, Mrs. W. H. Rice, Miss C. Ayer and Miss L. Jordan.

Mrs. J. M. Lydgate is president for the coming year and Miss Elsie Wilcox head of the work committee. They promise a very interesting and profitable year, but also one involving much hard work.

A Generous Manager

Manager Alexander of the McBryde Plantation has put up a trophy in the shape of a silver cup for the McBryde baseball series, and the teams are settling down to one of the most earnest endeavors to capture the cup, which has been witnessed in many a day. The McBryde league is composed of the following teams: B. A. C's; McB. S.; K. R. R's; H. S. C's; J. A. A's; L. A. C's; and the N. M. C's.

The whole is one of the finest aggregation of all round players on the island and their first games last Sunday were top-notches.

Breckons on The Job

Last Friday's Hall brought United States District Attorney Breckons down from Honolulu on a still hunt for dope evidence. For some time past a four flush individual posing as a tourist, has graced our midst, and rumor has it that he is now held in Honolulu, pending an investigation in connection with his presence here.

Jurors Are Called

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE FIFTH CIRCUIT, TERRITORY OF HAWAII

NOTICE OF DRAWING OF GRAND JURORS AND TRIAL JURORS

Notice is hereby given that at ten o'clock on the morning of the twenty-fourth day of October, A. D. 1912, at the Court House of the Circuit Court of the Fifth Circuit of the Territory of Hawaii, in Lihue, County of Kauai, there will be a drawing of grand jurors and trial jurors, to serve at the November Term, A. D. 1912, of said Court.

Lihue, Hawaii, October 15th, 1912.

LYLE A. DICKEY,
M. de BRETTEVILLE
Assistant Clerk Circuit Court,
Fifth Circuit Territory of Hawaii.

of very pretty society functions during her visit to the Garden Island, one of not the least by any means, being a party in her honor which was given by Mrs. Moragne on Friday last. Miss Winstead has made hosts of friends during her visit, all of whom regret to see her leave. However, Miss Winstead like everyone else who comes here has fallen a prey to our beautiful climate, and says that she will surely return.

Every child writing a letter to Santa Claus, addressing it to WALL NICHOLS COMPANY, HONOLULU, giving their Post Office address, will be remembered at Christmas time. Don't forget.

PRINCE KUHIO SPEAKS AT THE LIHUE HALL

By HENRY WATAU

Prince Kuhio a Republican Candidate to Congress made an appearance before a mass of Lihueites and made very interesting remarks concerning the future interest of the Territory last Thursday.

Kuhio based his remarks chiefly upon Americanizing Hawaii. To Americanize Hawaii is to import European people, for they will produce better American Citizen than the Asiatics.

The allowing of the aliens to work on the plantations will allow the younger generations of whom he stated that in ten years hence will control two thirds of the majority of voters of the Territory. To depend on younger generation of aliens to work on the plantation in the future will be a theory of doubt, for Hawaii is educating them and to go back into the plantation and work will only be a menace to their proper education. What shall they do? They will leave the plantation and start other business that will injure the working capacity of the American people.

The failure of introducing classified people to this Territory was due to poor administration. Ten years since annexation, the administration of today is just the same of ten years ago. No improvement has been made thereupon. We are to fight for better administration that will treat the rich and the poor alike. Administration that will encourage homesteaders. We are to fight for better administration to place this little Territory in a record that they can rule themselves.

Now we are certainly not to be blamed by Congress for this poor administration, because they have appointed the man where we have no right to do it. We are to fight for the protection of the sugar industry that makes this little Territory. The administration of today gives poor results to homesteaders the distributing of the three, four, five, more or less acres to homesteaders of today is considered a failure. How can any man or men make a living on three acres of land. Why isn't the full administration of the Territory enforced to its full extent. The homesteads law requires each homesteader to acquire 85 acres of land doesn't it. The law is a very good one but what about the administration. Does it enforce the law? Its a wonder that to introduce good class of people in this Territory proved to be a serious problem, whose facts was wholly due to poor administration.

The latest, pitiful event that occurred with the Portuguese at Punchbowl, proves to be a very mean piece of work that was performed by the governor. Instead of giving time to homesteaders he cut them up and sold them to those who can afford to pay for them. To protect the interest of the homesteaders, it is absolutely necessary to constitute a body of commission that will make definite charges to equally share the profit between the homesteader and the mill owner or plantation. The sugar tariff that was endorsed by the Democratic party is very bad for it will hinder the progress of our sugar industry.

We want to have people like ourselves, that will support the interest of the Territory in every way like Americans. And to be able to do this, we are to fight for better administration that will support everyone the same and like manner and by doing so we will be able to be class with classified people and we don't have to depend altogether on the aliens for further maintenance of our sugar industry.

A question concerning the constructing of Nawiliwili Harbor was answered by Kuhio. The introducing of the bill for Nawiliwili Harbor four years ago was a failure in each and every time the bill was presented. The trouble was due to the Kauaites. They kept on nagging and chewing for two places and consequently the work was delayed. The allowing of an appropriation permits engineers to investigate the Nawiliwili suppose harbor a few months ago. It is this one thing that Kauai ought to do, get together, pull together and by have a unanimous approval on one certain port, you will get it very quick. But to keep on fighting for a place to build your harbor it will take a long run for it.

A NEW HOME FOR BIG STORE

Plans for a new store building for the Lihue Store are developing, the same being now in the hands of Manager Rohrig for his final approval. If present plans are carried out, the building will be built of concrete. It is to cover a floor space of seven thousand nine hundred and ten feet, with a basement and two stories high. An elevator is to be installed for the convenience of handling the immense amount of freight which is to be transferred from one point to another. Mr. Rohrig's office will be so situated as to enable him to observe every corner of the lower floor, and at the same time give him a view of the street from two directions.

In addition to, and adjoining the main building, is also to be erected another concrete building 32x34 which will house an up-to-date cold storage and meat market. Compartments for fruit, butter, etc., will be provided with doors opening directly into the grocery department.

A Commendable Improvement

Lihue Plantation has in hand a most commendable sanitary improvement in abandoning the open mill-refuse ditch in favor of a covered aqueduct consisting of a series of tunnels taking the waste from the mill and delivering on to the maikai fields. Thus, as is often the case, an offensive by product is converted into an agent of usefulness.

As a further result the waters of Nawiliwili bay are now limpid and blue, so that the ladies have revived sea bathing at Kalapaki and are rapidly learning to swim. Thus do benefits boom rang from one another round the circle.

TUBERCULOSIS CAMPAIGN ON

A Paper For The People, On Tuberculosis.

The world is buckling on the fine armor of modern research and knowledge and is sending its combined strength into the field against tuberculosis. Tuberculosis, an ancient enemy of mankind, which for thousands of years has ruled master over the fate of thousands of lives has been an inexorable task-maker with the power of the high justice, the middle and the low, and there has been no appeal. Armed insurrection against it is an incident of modernity, a matter of only a few years.

I wish to impress you with the fact that in Hawaii, the board of health, the Anti-Tuberculosis League, private institutions and private philanthropy have combined to muster their forces against tuberculosis. Feeble as are the arms Hawaii has to offer against tuberculosis the invasion of the white plague, these bodies have hopes of attaining a moderate success, of checking the invasion, of saving many lives and of preventing the searing of many others, eventually to place the people of Hawaii in a position where tuberculosis will find scant welcome and bad fare.

The work against this disease in the Territory has been growing for several years. A number of valuable points have been gained and advances have been made that help assure to Hawaii an ultimate complete success. Briefly the stage now reached is that where responsibility shifts shoulders.

If I may term the ardor with which certain individuals have devoted themselves to this work as a fanaticism of philanthropy, I will say that fanaticism has taken the Territory as far as it can. Enthusiasm is the force that must move it hereafter and enthusiasm is a weapon of the masses, just as tuberculosis is a disease of the masses.

So the responsibility rests now upon those who constitute the mass of the people in this Territory. It is a cosmopolitan populace to which the anti-tuberculosis workers now appeal, a mass of many alien component, but we hope that the enthusiasm that must come to the assistance of the now active workers will be the stronger and more direct because it will be shared by numbers who have little other ground in common. Tuberculosis, it may be remarked, considers all grounds common to its activity.

The point is this. All nations of the globe which amount to anything are joining in what may be the greatest popular crusade since that limited Christian one which had for its purpose the attaining of the Holy Sepulchre. Is Hawaii to share this spirit, which is the spirit of generosity and human feeling, or will it wait until the other independent states straighten up from their tasks and after a moment's rest point the finger of housewifery at us and say, "Now we must clean that place?" I do not think that Hawaii will wait once the people here become outwardly educated and inwardly conscious of what the crusade against tuberculosis means to all of us.

Tuberculosis is a peculiarly intimate thing. It resides at our doorsteps and when it is not killing our neighbor's children it is killing our own. It does not prevent that terrible form which like plague or cholera casts its black shadow across human minds, striking terror into the hearts of men and moving them to frantic endeavors to rid themselves of the awful burden. Tuberculosis comes as silently and as invisibly as unconsciousness to an injured man, remains quietly and goes away as noiseless and as sure as a hearse. The Great White Plague is a terrible thing. It offers no grip to the struggler. It took great minds and the essence of human patience of beat through its ghost-

We often see or hear of LOSING FAITH instances wherein some little personality, or else
some little word or so which some "knocker" has ingeniously let slide in, and a reputation is spoiled. These instances are far too frequent, and too often result in after effects which, were they known to the individual or individuals responsible, would furnish them food for much serious thought. To look upon our fellow-man as being dishonest; to suppose him to be so without actual knowledge of such; to condemn him
simply because some "friend"
does; to doubt his word because he is down and out; to think a man cannot be honest unless he has worldly goods enough to "back his word;" all this and much more goes leagues towards making the criminal of today.

Look round you today and your eyes will not close over the horizon ere you discover men who are worth their thousands; men who have been aided in the securing of their thousands by open, frank, honest men; yet the grasping disposition of these men would not—could not—realize that their wealth had been secured by any other means than their own cursed connivery. They cannot see that the trustfulness of their friends was responsible for their success.
This is simply because such a man will trust no man unless that man be a man of power and influence, and then these subservient bits of humanity will grovel in the very dirt to gain the benefit of such influence.

THE Tropical Topics, a breezy

change to challenge recognition.
Editor Ayers has been responsible

by a great big margin. THE GAR-

SOME say that the new bank will be in the new postoffice building,
while others contend that the postoffice will be in the new bank building. It really matters but little if any, which is which, as the fact remains that Lihue is to have a beautiful concrete building of which she will feel amply proud, and its official name will be "the Bank of Hawaii building."

We congratulate the Lihue Library on the tasteful new catalogue which it has just issued which we note with fable pride is the work of THE GARDEN ISLAND press. As the result of some intelligent manipulation of the numbers we find that the Library has 1200 volumes of carefully selected books of all departments of literature. As we run through, our editorial mouth waters and we sigh. "Would that we had time to read a lot of these good books!"
We haven't but we trust our readers have and that they will read them,—after they have read
THE GARDEN ISLAND.

We are informed that the Island
Association of the churches of Kauai will meet at Hanalei on Friday next and remain in session for some days. In connection with this convention the dedication of the beautiful new church recently erected there will take place on Sunday forenoon. It will be a red letter occasion for Hanalei and the surrounding country.

In offering a silver cup to the winners of the McBryde ball series, Manager Alexander displays a spirit which not only redounds to his credit, but one which shows a knowledge of the value of producing entertainment and subsequent contentment among his employees.

PRINCE KUHIO made one of the finest addresses last Thursday

Plans are under way which are said to include a trip around the

Hawaii And Some Responsi- bilities

ly intangibility to a spot substantial enough to be vulnerable.

RESPONSIBILITIES.

There are three responsibilities
upon us.

There is the responsibility to take care of the person who is afflicted with tuberculosis. The government must do this in large part. Unfortunately so many victims of this disease are unable to care for themselves. The government must meet this responsibility as best it can. Its lawmakers must offer enough of their pity of suffering human kind to make it possible in some part; the administrators must make the fight even one for their own people; the judiciary must permit itself to be influenced by the untechnical call of humanity and uphold this need in its courtrooms. The government, with the earnest private assistance given to it, hopes that it can take upon its shoulders the care of every person who needs
it. It must be done. It looks as if it can't be, but the world moves
a little every day.

The second responsibility rests upon those who are in the clutch of the white plague, or even whom is held its deadly menace. Upon them is the duty to protect the people with and among whom they live and who protect them.
The government will seek to spread a gospel of education in every man's way. Those who do not avail themselves of this are moral criminals in the community, who stoop even to murder to attain the

TO SMIE AT

A bachelor had courted a girl for a long time without coming to the point. One evening in Leap Year, the young lady being musical, he took her to a concert.

The orchestra played No. 6, a selection that seemed to the bachelor very beautiful. He bent over his companion and whispered:

How lovely that is! What is it, do you know?

She smiled demurely and replied in a low, thrilling voice:

"It is the 'Maiden's Prayer'."

"The 'Maiden's Prayer'?" he repeated in astonishment. "Why—"

But she handed him her program, pointing to No. 6 with her finger.

He read and started, for the real name of the selection was "Mendelssohn's Wedding March." He bought the ring the next day.

The practical man and his wife were moving from one flat to another and were discussing ways of saving moving expenses.

"We can carry lots of things ourselves," said the wife. "For example, I will wear my winter coat over and then leave it and come back for my spring coat, which I will wear over on the next trip."

This idea charmed the impractical man. "Why, I can do the same thing!" he cried. "I can wear one suit of clothes over and leave it and come back for another."

The trouble with our judges is that too many of them confound their antipathies with their duties.

Sketches of Young Couples

The Cool Couple

DO YOU RECOGNIZE THIS COUPLE?

There is an old-fashioned weather-glass representing a house with two doorways, in one of which is the figure of a lady. When the weather is to be fine the lady comes out, and the gentleman goes in; when wet, the gentleman comes out, and the lady goes in. They never seek each other's society, are never elevated and depressed by the same cause, and have nothing in common. They are the model of a cool couple, except that there is something of politeness and consideration about the behaviour of the gentleman in the weather-glass, in which neither of the cool couple can be said to participate.

The cool couple are seldom alone together, and, when they are, nothing can exceed their apathy and dullness; the gentleman being for the most part drowsy and the lady silent. If they enter into conversation, it is usually of an ironical or recriminatory nature. Thus, when the gentleman has indulged in a very long yawn, and settled himself more snugly in his easy-chair, the lady will perhaps remark, "Well, I am sure, Charles, I hope you're comfortable." To which the gentleman replies, "Oh, yes; he's quite comfortable,—quite."—"There are not many married men, I hope," returns the lady, "who seek comfort in such selfish gratifications as you do."—"Nor many wives who seek comfort in such selfish gratifications as you do I hope," retorts the gentleman. "Whose fault is that?" demands the lady. The gentleman becoming more sleepy returns no answer. "Whose fault is that?" the lady repeats. The gentleman still returning no answer, she goes on to say that she believes there was in all this world anybody so attached to her home, so thoroughly domestic, so unwilling to seek a moment's gratification or pleasure beyond her own fireside, as she. God knows that before she was married she never thought or dreamt of such a thing; and she remembers that her poor papa used to say again and again, almost every day of his life, "Oh, my dear Louisa, if you only marry a man who understands you, and takes the trouble to consider your happiness and accommodate himself a very little to your disposition, what a treasure he will find you!" She supposes her papa knew what her disposition was,—he had known her long enough,—he ought to have been acquainted with it; but what can she do? If her home is always dull and lonely, and her husband is always absent, and finds no pleasure in her society, she is naturally sometimes driven (seldom enough, she is sure) to seek a little recreation elsewhere; she is not expected to pine and come to death, she hopes. "Then come, Louisa, says the gentleman, waking up as suddenly as he fell asleep, "stop at home this evening, and so will I."—"I should be sorry to suppose, Charles, that you took a pleasure in aggravating me," replies the lady; "but you know as well as I do that I am particularly engaged to Mrs. Mortimer, and that it would be an

to stay at home, and that it's no fault of mine we are not oftener together."

With that the gentleman goes away to keep an old appointment at his club, and the lady hurries off to dress for Mrs. Mortimer's; and neither thinks of the other until by some odd chance they find themselves alone again.

But it must not be supposed that the cool couple are habitually quarrelsome one. Quite the contrary. These differences are only occasions for a little self-exercise,—nothing more. In general they are as easy and careless, and dispute as seldom, as any common acquaintances may; for it is neither worth their while to put each other out of the way, nor to ruffle themselves.

When they meet in society, the cool couple are the best bred people in existence. The lady is seated in a corner among a little knot of lady friends, one of whom exclaims, "Why, I vow and declare! there is your husband, my dear."—"Whose—mine?" she says carelessly. "Ah, yours, and coming this way, too!"—"How very odd!" says the lady, in a languid tone. "I thought he had been in Dover." The gentleman coming up, and speaking to all the other ladies, and nodding slightly to his wife, it turns out that he has been at Dover, and has just now returned. "What a strange creature you are!" cries his wife, "and what on earth brought you here, I wonder?"—"I came to look after you, of course," rejoins her husband. This is so pleasant a jest that the lady is mightily amused, as are all the other ladies similarly situated who are within hearing, and, while they are enjoying it to the full, the gentleman nods again, turns upon his heel, and saunters away.

There are times, however, when his company is not so agreeable, though equally unexpected; such as when the lady has invited one or two particular friends to tea and scandal, and he happens to come home in the very midst of their diversion. It is a hundred chances to one that he remains in the house half an hour; but the lady is rather disturbed by the intrusion, notwithstanding, and reasons within herself, "I am sure I never interfere with him, and why should he interfere with me? It can scarcely be accidental: it never happens that I have a particular reason for not wishing him to come home, but he always comes. It's very provoking and tiresome; and I am sure when he leaves me so much alone for his own pleasure, the least he could do would be to do as much for mine." Observing what passes in her mind, the gentleman, who has come home for his own accommodation, makes a merit of it with himself; arrives at the conclusion that it is the very last place in which he can hope to be comfortable; and determines, as he takes up his hat and cane, never to be so virtuous again.

Thus a great many cool couples go on until they are cold couples, and the grave has closed over their ends of their complete selfishness. There are not many of these.

The third responsibility is a great one. It is even greater for that there is not attached to it the ambition of the government official who is situated amidst ideals he can plainly see and is entrusted to carry out, or that sad personal interest of the tuberculosis patient who sees in everything attached to his disease something peculiarly intimate to himself.

It is the responsibility of the hale and hearty and the well-provided for, the responsibility to think of number two, always a difficult duty to reconcile oneself to. Only an interest in this crusade will fulfill this responsibility. If the hale and hearty become interested in it, the chances of the afflicted increase a hundredfold. If every such person became interested, then the interest would be an intense one, the more intense in ratio to the number of people interested. The chances of the afflicted leap even to a thousand or more. Interest, I would remind you, is digging the Panama Canal.

I would like to stand on every road on this island and point to each one of you as you passed and tell you to become interested. I can't do it. I wish I could.

Responsibility rests upon the healthy because tuberculosis can be cured, I may say easily, if it is treated in its inception. It becomes the duty of each person in the Territory of Hawaii, no matter to what nationality he may belong to closely watch those nearest and dearest to him and give them their fighting chance by reporting the case at once.

FIGURES

Listen—The statistics from sanatoria for consumptives where patients in all stages of the disease are received show that twenty-five percent. leave as absolutely cured, and forty to fifty percent. leave as much improved, many of them being again capable of earning their own living. In constitutions where only patients in the early stages of the disease are received as many as seventy to seventy-five percent. have been cured.

Last year 303 people died in this Territory from tuberculosis. All of them once passed through the early stages of the disease. Two hundred and twelve of them should have lived out their lives by your side.

Your lack of interest did that. The Anti-Tuberculosis League and the Board of Health will see that within the next few months every person in the Territory has a chance to become as familiar with the symptoms of early tuberculosis as Uncle Hiram is with his rheumatiz. If a people has this knowledge and acts upon it, there is an iron wall presented almost at once to the invidious attack of the white plague. Nor is there reason to be like the hero of Jerome's Three Men in a Boat who read a patent medicine catalogue and promptly felt all the symptoms of every disease he read about, reducing himself to a physical wreck and, I believe, eventually catching the mumps.

Sooner or later there will be in Hawaii an honor roll of men and women. They will be people who realized that upon their activity rested matters of life and death. At the end of this time there must be either that or a list of mortuary tablets. A name on the first will mean a name from off the second. Those dead will not have died bravely in that best deaths, where duty has lighted the path to the last precipice. They'll be dead because this community did not do ITS duty.

DR. SINCLAIR.

EDITOR'S NOTE:—This is the first of several papers by Doctor Sinclair, others of which will appear in the columns of THE GARDEN ISLAND from time to time. They are of exceptional interest and vitally important to every home. We trust that they will be studied with care.

"Can you imagine," said the facetious teacher of natural history, "anything worse than a giraffe with a sore throat?" "Yes, sir," came the answer from one boy.

"What, pray?" asked the teacher in surprise.

"A centipede with corns."

A newly married couple and a friend were traveling by train, when they were suddenly plunged into the darkness of a tunnel. There was no light in the car and when they abruptly returned to daylight the bride and the bridegroom were caught kissing furiously.

The friend was embarrassed, and he said the first thing that came into his head: "That—ah—that tunnel cost two million dollars."

The bridegroom nodded his head wisely. "Well," he said in lightheartedness, "it was worth it."

Covet a good woman and she will forgive you, but if you don't desire her she never will.

The farmer's mule had just balked in the road when the country doctor came by. The farmer asked the physician if he could give him something to start the mule. The doctor said he could, and reaching down into his medicine case, gave the animal some powder. The mule switched his tail, tossed his head and started on a mad gallop down the road. The farmer looked first at the flying animal and then at the doctor.

"How much did that medicine cost, Doc?" he asked.

"Oh, about fifteen cents," said the physician.

"Well, give me a quarter's worth, quick!" And he swallowed it. "I've got to catch that mule."

"I'm writing a letter to Lillie Smith," was the answer.
"But, my dear," laughed the mother, "you don't know how to write."
"Oh that doesn't matter, Mother! Lillie doesn't know how to read."
