MUCKRAKERS RAKED OVER IN LIVELY STYLE

Acting Governor Atkinson Mingles Hawaiian
Ginger With American Patriotic Pabulum
in His Memorial Service Address.

Nations do not grow in strength and the cause of liberty and law is not advanced, by doing easy things.

The American flag—our flag—floats on distant seas and islands, over men of all parties, of all races, of all creeds and conditions, but of one nationality.

There should be no danger of deterioration in our citizenship, so let us hope that the temptations which overcame men of supposedly high principles in the East will never gain a foothold in Hawaii.

Unfortunately our American citizenship is comparatively small, but the school room is open to every boy and girl. The best sentiment comes from American homes, and as long as we keep the homes pure, so long will we keep our government pure.

Homes must be established here, the homes of those who work and the homes of those who employ labor.

The narrow, fault finding, nagging and bickering disposition that exists here is mean and contemptible in the extreme.

The man with the muckrake would be harmless except to himself if there was no market, no demand for the muck. After the whirl of battle come rest and peace—rest of long, fat days, the peace that with us in this great land of ours is plenty.

(From Acting Governor Atkinson's address at G. A. R. memorial service in Central Union church.)

Veterans of the War of the Rebellion occupied seats of honor at Central Union Church last evening close to the pulpit draped in the national colors. From this patriotic rostrum a Memorial Sunday address was made by Acting Governor A. L. C. Atkinson, directed primarily to the gray-haired soldiers in commemoration of the coming Decoration Day. The address, however, digressed and dwelt mainly upon topics of civic interest.

In fact, the address was one of the most stirring which an executive of Hawaii has ever had occasion to present to an audience. Basing his theme of civic performance upon the sanctity of the home and the integrity of the nation, for which the veterans could be thanked, the Acting Governor presented an array of philippics against muckrakers, knockers, grafters, political wrongdoers and selfish legislators.

On the platform with the Acting Governor were Rev. Dr. Kincaid, President A. L. Griffiths, of Oahu College; President Perley Horne, of Kamehameha Schools, and Rev. John Hopwood, Chaplain of Kamehameha. The service throughout was patriotic. There was an invocation by Mr. Horne, followed by the singing of "God Bless Our Native Land." Mr. Griffiths read the Scripture lesson and the choir followed with the singing of the "Te Deum." Rev. Mr. Hopwood offered prayer, a strong, patriotic tribute to the Divine Authority. The "Star Spangled Banner" was sung by Mr. Hugo Herzer, assisted by the choir, in a pleasing manner. The singing of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" brought forth a volume of voices from every part of the auditorium and following this Dr. Kincaid introduced Acting Governor Atkinson, who read the following address:

ACTING GOVERNOR ATKINSON'S ADDRESS

More than forty years have elapsed since the close of the war which has brought to us, as an annual custom, the observance of Memorial Day. After the expiration of four decades we can look back calmly and quietly upon the causes that led to that terrible contest, knowing that one result has been to cement the national feeling of our people and to bring together those who represented the North and the South in that struggle wherein each thought that right and justice was upon his own side. The Almighty has his own purpose and it was His will that there should be four years of strife and desolation, and in His way He bound up the nation's wounds, which resulted in the establishment of a power than which no other stands greater today. This week the country joins once more in decorating the graves of the heroes who took part in the troubles of forty years ago, but there is no excuse for regrets, no occasion for faint hearts. Nations do not grow in strength and the cause of liberty and law is not advanced, by doing easy things. The harder the task the greater the result, the benefit and the honor.

THE UNION ESTABLISHED.

Within the past decade we have seen followers of Grant and Lee fighting under the same flag and falling for the same faith. Old party lines have loosened and the ties of union have been strengthened. Sectionalism is dissipated, and fraternity and patriotism glow with inextinguishable fervor in every home in the land. The American flag—our flag—floats on distant seas and islands, over men of all parties, of all races, of all creeds and conditions, but of one nationality.

After thirty-three years of unbroken

THE EDUCATIONAL TEST IN IMMIGRATION BILL

W. A. Kinney Calls for Prompt Action to Save the Situation for Hawaiian Plantation
Labor From Europe.

Honolulu, T. H. May 27, 1906.

Editor Advertiser: Many of our citizens throughout the Territory have learned with regret this past week that the new Immigration Law has passed the Senate of the United States, with an educational test. It seems a foregone conclusion that the House will not eliminate that test when it comes to consider the bill, for the Senate has generally been far more conservative in such matters than the House. The whole matter has come up so suddenly that no one here seems to have known anything about it; it is to be hoped our representatives in Washington have kept themselves better posted.

In the "Bystander" this morning it is suggested something should be done, some effort at least made to secure an amendment to the bill before it passes the House. Something certainly should be done, for with an educational test our plan to import Latins would seem to be at an end. Any attempt to eliminate the test itself would be absolutely futile; influences have undoubtedly been at work in support of the test beside which any puny effort on our part against the measure would be absurd. How would it do to cable our representatives in Washington asking that an amendment to the educational test be inserted, to read something like this:

"Provided, however, that upon the requisition of the Governor of the Territory of Hawaii therefor, the Secretary of Labor and Commerce (or whoever under the bill has control in the premises) is authorized for a period of seven years to admit European families into said Territory without regard to the educational test provided for in this bill, such families not to exceed five thousand in any one year."

Of course, it may be said that nothing could prevent these families from using Hawaii merely as a stepping-stone to get to the mainland, but the total number that could be admitted under the bill would be comparatively so small that it ought not to figure one way or the other in the consideration of the merits of the amendment. The Labor Unions on the mainland have expressly favored the admission of Europeans into Hawaii as an offset to Asiatic immigration. That much has been accomplished and is of record, and can be referred to when this bill comes before a committee of the House. In other words, the Labor Unions from their own standpoint ought not to resist such an amendment, and there is, therefore, a chance of getting such a provision through where a wholesale attack upon the test itself would be without avail. Whatever is done should be done quickly, as the matter will probably pass the House almost before we know it.

You will note that my suggestion leaves it discretionary with the Secretary whether he honor the requisition of the Governor of the Territory of Hawaii or not. This should be so; it would aid the amendment but leave it to his discretion, as he would then have control over the class of immigrants that should be admitted.

Yours truly,

W. A. KINNEY.

AN IRISH PATRIOT DYING.

DUBLIN, May 28.—Michael Davitt is dying.

By profession a journalist Michael Davitt has had a strenuous career. He was born in Ireland on March 25, 1846. His father was Martin Davitt of Straide, Mayo county, L. and Seranton, U. S., and his mother Mary, daughter of John Yore, St. Joseph, Mich., U. S. He was evicted in 1852 and in 1857 lost his right arm by machinery in a Lancashire cotton mill. Subsequently he was employed as a newsboy, printer's devil and assistant letter carrier.

Joining the Fenian Brotherhood in 1865, Davitt was arrested and tried in London for treason-felony, 1870, and sentenced to fifteen years' penal servitude, but was released on ticket-of-leave in 1877. He was one of Parnell's associates in founding the Irish Land League in 1879, and was arrested the same year on the charge of making seditious speeches, but prosecution abandoned. Going to the United States to organize the auxiliary Land League there in 1880, shortly after his return in 1881 he was arrested and sent back to penal servitude; released May, 1882, arrested 1883 and, under a law of King Edward III, tried for seditious speech and imprisoned for three months.

He was included in the "Parnellism and Crime" allegations of the London Times and spoke for five days in defense of the Land League before the Times-Parnell Commission. He was first elected to Parliament, by the county of Meath, in 1882 when a convict in Portland Convict Prison, but was disqualified by special vote of the House of Commons for non-expiry of sentence for treason-felony. Davitt unsuccessfully contested Waterford city in 1891, but was elected for North Meath in 1892 only to be unseated on petition; then was returned unopposed for N. E. Cork the same year, resigning in 1893 owing to bankruptcy caused by fighting the N. Meath petition. Unopposed again he was elected for E. Kerry and S. Mayo in 1895 while absent in Australia, resigning in 1899.

Davitt traveled in many countries, including South Africa during the war. His recreations have been reading, walking, traveling, and visiting bookstores and art galleries. As an author his name is attached to the following works: "Leaves from a Prison Diary," "Defense of the Land League," "Life and Progress in Australia," "The Boer Fight for Freedom," "Within the Pale," and "The Fall of Feudalism in Ireland."

Judge Highton Delivers Eloquent Memorial Address.

At the Memorial Day services at the Methodist church last night, an eloquent address was delivered by Judge Henry E. Highton, who pointed out that the day was becoming more and more observed as celebrating events worldwide in their significance, while the partisan feeling has long since been eliminated. Patriotic music formed part of the service. The address, which was listened to by a good-sized congregation, was substantially as follows:

JUDGE HIGHTON'S ADDRESS.
"There is a question in my mind, as well as in the minds of many other citizens, as to whether the Fourth of July or Memorial Day is the greater occasion for rejoicing. One celebrates the birth and the other the adolescence of a nation and both present to the mind of a thoughtful man the greatest question in secular history. Neither of the great days would have been possible without the coming of Jesus Christ and the religion he brought into the world.

"Christianity is the source of all liberty. Christianity used in the broad terms of the liberality of America. Judaism has contributed largely to freedom and underlies the whole progress of humanity, finding its last and best expression in the institutions of our country and of the great mother country from which we came. It has produced our enthusiasm for high ideals, our noble standards and great advancement.

Memorial Day is valuable not merely to give expression to the reverence and love for the soldiers of the Republic who have died for those whose white heads are now catching the gleam of eternity as one by one they vanish, but beyond this it is valuable to the world because of the idea which it represents.

"There are many analogies between the history of America on a large scale and the history of these Islands on a smaller scale. When the Europeans reached America they brought with them the conception of religion. Religion was the animating motive in the Jamestown settlement in 1607, and in the other settlements the same idea predominated. Here civilization was brought in the hands of religion. True religion, which took root and can be traced in the history since of the country, as in a large way it has contributed to the upbuilding of the United States, through the Declaration of Rights, the edict of toleration and the Constitution.

"The United States government was not in essence a new thing. In formation and practical adaptation to the needs of man it was new, but there has been no period since Adam in which the aspiration for self-government has not existed in the breast of man, and this has been caught up and formulated in the Declaration of Independence. This formed our Constitution, put into operation our institutions of every kind and established civil and religious liberty for all times under the American flag. "But there were discrepancies between theory and practice. The idea was entertained that the union could be broken up by the states. This was first voiced in New England, then in South Carolina and became then rooted amongst some of the people. Slavery was incompatible in principle and fact with the theory of the Constitution, and while secession ideas existed independent of the slavery question, yet the two became associated and the Civil War became inevitable.

"When Fort Sumter was fired upon the position of California was supposed to be questionable, and the act of my life of which I am proudest was the moving of a resolution in a meeting of 23,000 people in San Francisco, after which there was no question of the position of California.

"War is a breach of the human brotherhood, but all war is not wrong. The Israelites fought for their inheritance under the direction of Almighty God; the crusades extended the religion of Christ in Europe; the English civil war resulted in a constitution which has the wonder and admiration of the world, the War of Independence was fought for humanity, and the Civil War, the greatest of all, was a war for all future generations, for civil liberty extending to a universal brotherhood and universal peace.

"The men who participated were fighting that the Union be preserved, the Union which stood before the world for the sovereignty of man under the sovereignty of God. Let no man say that the United States government is a godless government. It is a government of toleration under which bigotry cannot exist, but it rests as much upon the sovereignty of God as that of man. There was a marked difference between the founding of the American and French republics. There, in pride and recklessness, they tried to dethrone God Himself, while this country rested upon the belief in God and the enforcement of the moral law. Through the Civil War its union was definitely settled, and with the extermination of slavery it rose in its full panoply of moral, intellectual and physical grandeur, which has drawn the gaze of the civilized world.

"This is a suggestion of what Memorial Day stands for, bringing a consciousness of the men who gave all but their honor for their country and for the cause which is to result in the end of war. They were workers for peace while giving their lives for the protection of the Union of our country. The struggle was bitter, hard on the resources of the nation and in its bearing on individuals, but under God inspired men carried it through.

"Now throughout the United States

there is no longer a question of the perfect unity of the country, the Unionists and Secessionists engaging together in the great work of uplifting humanity.

"Having determined that the country shall be one and restoring the feeling of fraternity, the United States is now standing for the idea upon which humanity itself stands, stands as a leader in the steps to arrest war and preserve peace.

"When the Japanese-Russian war was coming to its exasperating climax, the words of our President were sufficient to induce the combatants to come to terms. This is the influence which the heroes of the Civil War have produced. Our country stands in the van of civilization and having conquered these questions is now working for the establishment of business and political purity.

"Civilization rests upon God, and the principle of civilization corresponds to the original conception of the platform upon which our government rests. While Right, Principle and Justice are recognized, Memorial Day will be known as celebrating the great events which opened the way for the coming of universal peace and brotherhood."

peace came the unavoidable war with Spain. Happily its conclusion was quickly reached, and with honor to our arms. It was an impressive spectacle of national strength when a quarter of a million men from all sections of the country, from the North and from the South as well as from the East and from the West, freely offered their lives in their country's service. No great emergency had ever arisen in this nation's history such as was then met by the people with unflinching loyalty and fidelity. Righteousness, which exalts a nation, controlled in this solution.

As Lincoln said at Gettysburg, "Let us firmly resolve that those who gave their lives shall not have died in vain, that the nation for which they shed their blood shall not perish from the earth." The nation has so far stood every trial, and in this new century is stronger than ever to carry forward its mission of liberty. We can look forward with congratulation and pride, with confidence and courage.

WEALTH'S EVIL POWER.

But, while we recognize our proud position in the world and our great power for good, we must not overlook the power of evil, threatened by the aggregation of great wealth in the hands of a few. This has been brought forcibly home to us by exposures in the business methods of large Eastern corporations in which almost every family has a direct personal pecuniary interest. Laws have been violated through greed for gain. There should be no danger of deterioration in our citizenship, so let us hope that the temptations which overcome men of supposedly high principles in the East will never gain a foothold in Hawaii. On the other hand there should be no "muckrakers" in this Territory. We want the best class of citizenship, citizens who will lead in the recognition and upholding of the laws, as affecting politics, and civil and criminal procedure. The Constitution of the United States gives every man the right to cast his ballot, and any attempt to prevent his doing so is a cowardly act.

MAJESTY OF LAW.

Unfortunately we have at times experienced here a desire of a few, inspired solely by self interest, to defeat the laws. The fact that men have been elected to frame and enact legislation has been overlooked. Government of the people and by the people has given place to an effort at class legislation to be enacted through the courts for selfish motives. Again, we have seen the proper course of the law interfered with by misguided, though well meaning, citizens who are led away entirely by emotions of false sympathy. They object to the enforcement of a law and array themselves against those who are directed to uphold it. Where an offense has been committed the law should be allowed to take its course without interference. Such sympathy is calculated only to encourage law breakers and to discourage jurors and law-makers. It is contrary to every principle of human liberty. Respect for the law should be taught by every American mother to her child. It should be preached from the pulpits. It should be proclaimed in legislative halls and enforced in courts of justice. But who will respect the law when they see efforts for its evasion by those who should be among the first to aid in its enforcement?

On every hand we hear slimy, mushy, gushy expressions of sympathy for criminals. We have mandarin sentiment in favor of murderers and an absolute forgetfulness of the rights and needs of the families of the murdered. The sympathy is for the criminal, to help him escape the punishment justly due him for the crime that he has committed. But I have no sympathy for criminals. My sympathy is for their victims and their victims' families.

AMERICANIZE HAWAII.

Here in Hawaii we have a small though miscellaneous population, and we have probably the hardest educational problem in the world. But the American people has never failed no matter how grave the crisis, to measure up to the highest responsibilities of honor and duty. Unfortunately our American citizenship is comparatively small, but the school room is open to every boy and girl. In it the rights and duties of citizenship can be learned. The best sentiment comes from American homes, and as long as we keep the homes pure, so long will we keep our government pure. Our American citizenship in Hawaii, however, should be enlarged. We need immigrants of the right kind. They will be of the right kind if their children and grandchildren can meet your own on terms of equality—not otherwise. Both should become decent citizens, working together to uplift the people of the country. They must be so educated that they will stand by each other in time of war as well as in peace. We must prevent the coming here of men with a low standard of living which would reduce the standard of our own people. We should bear in mind what President Roosevelt said in his last message to Congress:

"Hawaii shall never become a Territory in which a governing class of rich planters exists by means of coolie labor, even if the rate of growth is thereby rendered slower. The growth must only take place by the admission of immigrants fitted in the end to assume the duties and burdens of full American citizenship."

Our President, you will notice, used the word "shall." He spoke for the American people, who will insist that Hawaii be Americanized, even at the expense of retarding our growth, for growth away from Americanization is not wanted. The sooner we all learn this lesson the better, for it need not retard our growth if we accept it, but if we rebel and still seek coolie labor, and attempt to grow rich upon it, we shall encounter hostility that will check our ultimate development.

It is the duty of the citizen to cultivate the highest and best citizenship among those who come here. In a little while your children will take upon themselves the duties of citizenship. They must not be brought up as grafters, for a grafter is just an ordinary thief. They must not be taught to wax fat upon the wealth earned through the sweat and toil of cheap labor. They should be taught to toil for themselves, to earn their living honestly, and to be just and equitable in their dealings with their fellowmen.

ESTABLISH HOMES.

It is not intended or desired that Hawaii should be, or remain, a Territory from which money can be drawn to enable those living elsewhere to pass their time in comfort, ease and luxury. Homes must be established here, the homes of those who work and the homes of those who employ labor. In this way, by upbuilding a community of homes we may hope to overcome the local tendency that exists to impugn the motives and place a wrong impression upon the actions of our fellowmen. Such a tendency eventually recoils upon the muckrakers. Let us search for the good that exists rather than for the evil.

THE KNOCKER DENOUNCED.

The "knocker" is the modern muckraker, in slang. Let us judge our fellowmen with charity rather than with a suspicion that is usually the outgrowth of a morbid, diseased and uncharitable mind—or the offspring of idleness, jealousy and discontent. The narrow, fault-finding, nagging and bickering disposition that exists here is mean and contemptible in the extreme. Seeking fault in others, the deliberate misinterpretation of motives suggests need of introspection—the casting out of the mote that is in your own eye before trying to pluck out the beam that is in thy brother's eye. Judge not lest ye be judged.

I have used the term muckraker, which, since President Roosevelt's reference to Bunyan's famous character has become a term applied generally to those who have eyes only for muck. Honest, fair, well-founded criticism or exposure of corruption or error is valuable beyond description. But it is different from slander and from reckless acceptance and circulation of unfounded attacks upon our fellow citizens. It is different also from the small spirit of the knocker. In many communities it happens that, by some accident or other, small men at times are able to seem large critics of public servants, and some discrimination is needed to judge between the healthy honest criticism of the conscientious public-spirited censor and that of the petty quibbler whose motives are personal. Further, in the heat of our political strivings, let us remember that slander is not politics and that innuendo should always be regarded with suspicion.

We should remember that not only is it wrong to bear false witness against our neighbor, but that it is also an injustice to listen to those who bear false witness. The man or body of men who spread or countenance slander, started by others, bear the guilt and responsibility for false witnessing, fully as much as the originators of the slander.

MARKET FOR MUCK.

The man with the muckrake would be harmless except to himself if there was no market, no demand for the muck. These are considerations which, I believe, we need to apply locally. Our political strife has been full of muckraking. Some of those whose motives are of the highest, whose personal character and affiliations are above criticism and whose attentions are for nothing but what is good, have been led into co-operation with muckrakers, and have lined themselves up as supporters of movements founded upon nothing more than utterly unverified and unreliable personal slanders.

There are few crimes more easily, often carelessly, committed, than that of bearing false witness against thy neighbor and no other crime is there against which the victim is so defenseless. Our politics, I say, are too full of this sort of thing. I hope our muckrakers will try to break the bondage which chained Bunyan's famous character to the muck.

IN THE END, PEACE.

Perhaps I have been digressing somewhat from the object and intention of this memorial service, but reflections upon the past are naturally followed by thoughts upon our more recent national development, which has been the sequence of the strife of forty years ago. After the whirl of battle come rest and peace—rest of long, fat days, the peace that with us in this great land of ours is plenty. The dead, whom we honor today, fought in flame and smoke and fire that this rest and this peace should be ours. To their children, singing in gladness from children's hearts, to these our dead gave rest, and peace, and a common country that is their most glorious heritage. The integrity of the Union, the glorious cause of freedom of men will never be assailed again. The men who died for the South have made that as certain as did the men who died for the North. And so, after the whirl of battle, come rest and peace—rest and peace for us on earth and of the grandest of earth's nations—rest and long peace in God for the men who died that a nation might live.

Have You Considered Gas?

You can sum the points of a gas stove in one word—BEST.

It heats what it is intended to heat, the cooking parts of the structure rather than the house.

It keeps the oven at any desired temperature while it is in use; it may be regulated in a moment by the thumb and finger.

A leading feature is the economy in the use of fuel; with wood it is a case of going to the wood box from the time the match is ignited. With a gas stove there is no wood, no shavings, no litter, no expense, except while you are cooking. The flavor of the articles cooked on a gas stove is better than those prepared over wood for the reason that the heat being even the food is better cooked.

For a quick meal nothing is equal to the gas stove; it has alcohol and the chafing dish beaten in a walk and it does not cost any more to "fire up."

If you have never thought much about a gas stove think now; go to our sales rooms in the Alexander Young Building and look the stoves over, learn the good points by observation, let the salesman tell you all about them. He will be just as well pleased to tell an investigator, a seeker after knowledge, as to sell one to a person who has been a patron of the gas stove quality of cooking for years.

FAST GAME AT AALA

Single Tally Won for
the Ninth.

STANDING OF THE TEAMS.

	Won.	Lost.	Per cent.
Chinese Athletics	4	0	1000
Palamas	3	1	.750
Haw'n. Independents	2	2	.500
Chinese Alohas	1	3	.250
Japanese Athletics	0	4	.0000

The opening game on the Aala diamond yesterday afternoon was as close and interesting a contest as is likely to be seen in Honolulu this season. The winning run and the only one scored on either side coming in the last half of the ninth. Both the teams, the Independents and the Palamas, displayed championship form in the fielding work, although weak in base running, and both batteries worked smoothly and effectively. The winning run came in for the Independents on a well-placed hit by C. Paluki over second, the bounce taking it beyond the center's reach. Marin had got to second on a high throw to first and was chased in by a hundred yelling fans.

This match was played under protest, the Independents putting in two unregistered men. The protest will be decided at the league meeting tonight.

An incident of the game was the fate attending a ball knocked into the river. It was fished out by a diminutive son of Abraham and promptly sold to the first comer for two-bits. The purchaser turned it over for a half and when the players demanded its return it had passed through enough hands to quiet title. The policeman on duty quieted the players.

In connection with the protest, Big Joe Everett, the first-baseman of the Palamas, and also the president of the league, has already rendered his decision.

"De Palamas gits dis game," he announced, as he drew on his coat after the crowd had ceased yelling.

"I like to know how dat come," said an indignant Independent.

"Well, I'm de president of dis here league, an' I'm tellin' yuh," and Joseph settled into his toga and began taking up the collection.

The line-up of the teams was:
Palamas—Kupa, 3b.; Butler, cf.; Dix.

KOOLAU NOTES

The railroad extension from Kahuku has reached a point half way between Laie and Hauula. Work will be resumed in the near future.

Work on the culvert near Hauula is proceeding apace, a gang of ten men working on the job every day.

W. L. Peterson has erected a bathing house on the beach lot recently purchased by him at Hauula.

W. H. Bradley is building a two-story house on his beach lot at Hauula.

Capt. W. Thompson of the steamer Nihoa has planted five acres of his Hauula homestead in cane.

On account of high winds there has been a fish famine on the windward side of the island during the past two weeks.

A big school of akule was sighted off Kahana on Saturday by the fish watchers on the mountain. A large haul is likely to be reported as soon as the mass of fish enters Kahana bay.

County Engineer Gere has located a quarry close to C. Koelling's starch factory at Kaneohe. In a short time a stone-crusher and a 12-ton steam roller will be brought over the Pali. Preliminary work is going on and it shouldn't be long before the Koolau roads are properly macadamized.

The Kaneohe Improvement Club, which was started with a rare hurrah, is apparently dying of inanition. So far nothing has been accomplished but the circulating of a petition and the drawing up of a set of resolutions.

The Pali road macadamizing is progressing under the superintendence of Dan Vida.

The Koolau stages which cross the Pali every day are constantly coming to unpleasantly close quarters with automobiles. It is impossible to see what is coming along the zigzag trail and if a speeding automobile ever connects with a swerving four-mule stage team, there's likely to be big trouble. Some chauffeurs seem to make a point of going up and down the Pali road at as high a rate of speed as possible.

DOG CLUB FOR HILO

A number of Hilonians who are interested in good dogs have decided to get together and form a kennel club. The number of charter members of the club will not be large, but those taking an interest in the club that is to be formed are sufficiently enthusiastic to ensure the success of the organization. The idea is, it appears, to make the organization one for the whole county rather than for Hilo alone, and the founders of the club will welcome applications for membership from outlying places.

Those who have consented to become charter members so far are: Dr. C. J. Stow, Dr. W. H. Schoening, Dr. H. B. Elliot, Dr. O. B. Shipman, A. M. Burns, J. U. Smith, E. H. Austin, G. H. Williams, P. A. Medcalf, R. T. Guard, Carl Wickert, W. H. C. Campbell, H. V. Patten, E. F. Patten, W. H. Shipman, O. E. English, Harry Irwin, R. A. Young, Donald Stewart, K. S. Gjerdrum (Honokaa) and R. Horner (Kukiaia).—Hawaii Herald.

LIVE TENNIS AT PUUNENE

The Puunene Athletic Association will hold its annual lawn tennis mixed doubles tournament for the Puunene Cups on the courts at Puunene on August 12, 1906. The tennis players of Maui are developing much skill and some good playing will be done. All entries should be made at the earliest opportunity that the committee may get through with the preliminary work in good season.

The new tennis courts recently completed by the H. C. & S. Co. at Puunene for the use of the employees on the plantation are well situated and commodious enough to accommodate all who wish to witness the tournament on August 12th.

It is the policy of the plantation to do everything possible to ensure the pleasure of its employees and by so doing make them contented and the more anxious to serve the interests of the company.—Maui News.

YACHT CLUB'S BANNER DAY

Race for All Classes Is Planned for June
Tenth.

Sunday, June 10, promises to be a great day in local yachting circles.

The Hawaiian Yacht Club has decided to bring off a big race for all classes on that date, to be followed by a chowder in the evening at the Peninsula, where the club's headquarters are located.

The matter of the race and chowder was brought up at a meeting of the club, recently held. Committees to look after details will be appointed this week.

The race will start at 1 p. m. and the course will probably be from Pearl Harbor to a stipulated buoy, round the buoy, thence to and round Ford's Island, finishing at the Peninsula.

LAHAINA'S TWO NINES

This dreamland was once more disturbed from its slumbers by the opening of the Lahaina Baseball League for the season of 1906.

A good crowd went out to Kilohana Park to witness the game, and was pleasantly surprised by the splendid showing the boys made.

For the first game the crowd seemed to be pleased with the showing made. Considering the short time that the boys have had to practice, they played fast ball. The La Paloma seems to be a favorite name and their suits are stunners.

Of course they have lots to learn before they can come up to the stars of the last season.

The teams line up as follows:

Pioneers—Hookano, c.; Wm. Searle, p.; Profet, 1b.; Jno. Hose, 2b.; Geo. Morris, 3b.; Nihau, s. s.; Makekau, c. f.; J. Ricard, 1. f.; Paul Jones, r. f.

LA PALOMA IS "A LITTLE DANDY"

Captain Mosher, of La Paloma, has sent home some of the most enthusiastic reports of the cruise of the little vessel yet received. He describes the voyage as a fine one, with no more rough weather encountered than could reasonably be looked for. The yacht acted well under all the conditions met with and wins unqualified praise for her sailing qualities from the captain.

The daily runs of the sailer, aggregating 2930 miles, are given by Mosher as follows: 127, 150, 127, 40, 240, 100, 45, 60, 80, 116, 137, 68, 150, 102, 126, 130, 116, 95, 116, 12, 112, 107, 116, 75, 112, 92, 104, 109, 56. On a corner of the chart, showing the course sailed, Captain Mosher has written:

"You will see that we never headed our course a minute except the last twelve hours, but always kept her going somewhere anyhow. She's a little dandy."

ROLLER POLO AT THE ZOO

The largest Sunday crowd on record visited the Zoo yesterday and the usual good time was enjoyed.

The rink was well patronized and a well contested game of roller polo was played, the contending teams being the Healanis Juniors and the Myrtle Juniors. At the end of the second half the score was 3 to 3.

A Freitas captained the Healanis and Willett Grace the Myrtles.

Fifteen started in a juvenile mile race and after all had fallen, at least once, the prize was awarded to Howard Grace.

PACIFIC SHIPPING ACTIVITY.

Whatever of fact there may be in the reports lately prevailing about Japanese efforts to buy out American steamship lines on the Pacific, no doubt exists that Japan has added greatly to its mercantile marine strength since the war with Russia, and largely as the result of that war. Japan's maritime ambition, too, is growing upon its progressive gratification and it is organizing its enlarged tonnage for fresh conquests in Pacific commerce. If offers have been made by Japanese capitalists, therefore, to the Pacific Mail and the Oceanic companies to purchase their liners, the fact is not in anywise surprising, unless it may be reasonable to wonder where the Japanese command money enough for such weighty transactions in view of their large investments in other tonnage, both by purchase and building, since the war. After the stupendous expenses of the war itself, largely met by domestic loans, such a heavy plunging into marine enterprise as Japan is making, even without considering the matter of the reported attempts to buy the American transoceanic liners, is really wonderful. The maintenance of the country's increased tonnage, while channels for its profitable employment are being marked out and developed, must in itself be a heavy drain upon capital. Some figures showing the rapid ascendancy of Japan's shipping are found in a recent issue of the Japan Gazette.

An estimate is there given that, with purchases of 167 vessels in the last two years, aggregating 313,000 tons, and newly built, 570,000 tons, Japan, after deducting losses by the war, has a net increase of 302 vessels with a total tonnage of 275,000, to which must be added a mercantile fleet, acquired by capture, of about 130,000 tons. "Some of these vessels," the article says, "are, of course, not fitted for the modern carrying trade, but it is probably safe to assume that Japan's mercantile marine now shows an increase, compared with what she could command before the war, of 850,000 tons. This is rapidly being organized, and new services are being planned or already operated." It is related that Japanese steamers are now reported on every Chinese river, and on some of the chief inland arteries of trade controlling the position, besides which there is a Japanese weekly service to all Korean ports with Kobe and Shanghai as the terminals.

The article in the Japan Gazette, which is a British journal published in Yokohama, gives the Japanese marine statistics above quoted only incidentally, its general theme being Pacific shipping activity. So it proceeds to say that "Japan is not the only nation that is stirring in the Pacific," following with some interesting facts that may here be condensed. A Swedish line that has been successfully operating on the Atlantic side of South America is now to be extended to the west coast, and a new German line is to compete with the Kosmos touching at all ports on the Pacific side of the Americas. Being a British paper, the Gazette betrays some concern over what other nations are doing on the Pacific. It mentions that the United States Congress has "recently decided to encourage shipping on the Pacific to a very substantial extent," by which it must have reference to the ordinary schedule of mail contract subsidies, for the "Ship Subsidy Bill" is still very much in the air. Yet the Gazette furnishes evidence that the British shipbuilders are having no cause to worry so far, whatever may be in store for them in the future. "It is true that it is reported from Newcastle-on-Tyne," the article says, "that there is more tonnage being built on the northeast coast of Great Britain than ever before. Last year is said to have added to the British register 1,300,000 steam and 60,000 sail tonnage, all new. One firm is stated to be so crowded with work that it cannot book more orders until the summer of 1907, while many other yards have nine and twelve months' construction ahead. Lloyds Register gives 502,684 tons of shipping under construction in the three northern rivers."

In truth the entire article of the Japan Gazette might be turned to American account as a strong argument for the liberal subsidizing of shipping under the American flag. While admitting that it is not certain that all the tonnage under construction in home yards will fly the British flag, it says the figures indicate an increase of tonnage under that flag and bemoans the prospects that, "as far as the Pacific is concerned, it will receive little encouragement from the home government." Americans may reflect that, no matter how many flags all of that new tonnage may come under, it means so much increased competition with ships under the American flag. And then they may read "American" for "British" in the following passage, when they will have to their hand a pretty neat argument in opposition to academic theories against special favors to the shipping industry:

"Probably the ideal final settlement of a personal dispute would, in the view of some, be a free fight between unarmed champions, though even they would have to be considered physically matched. But if one were known to have a deadly weapon in readiness to use, it would be universally conceded to be folly for the other to enter the lists unarmed, and yet that is precisely what unsubsidized British vessels will do if they propose to compete with subsidized foreign lines for Pacific trade."

One thing about it all is clear, which is that competition in the carrying trade of the Pacific will directly be fierce. Japan will not be her new self if she does not have a big share of the business. The United States and European maritime nations will not be their old selves if they relax in the struggle for their respective shares. And, as the Japan Gazette concludes, "the only silver lining in the cloud, indeed, is the fact that in the coming competition there must be rate-cutting before interests are pooled, and the commercial world will reap a proportionate benefit in the lowered freights for a while." Passenger rates also would likely be trimmed down, and this is where Hawaii would score—in tourist patronage.

AN ENGLISH VIEW OF AMERICAN PROSPERITY.

An English view of American prosperity is presented in a "Report on the Trade of the United States for the Year 1905," by British Commercial Agent Bell, a copy of whose report to the British foreign office has just reached the Department of Commerce and Labor through its Bureau of Statistics. The report says, in part:

"The year 1905 has been one of great activity in trade and industry in the United States. There has been an abundance of money for industrial purposes, the farmers have been prosperous, manufacturing plants have turned out quantities of products in excess of any previous year, there has been no over-production, the mileage of railways has steadily increased, issues of stocks and bonds have been without precedent, and failures have been fewer in proportion to the number of firms in business."

"Over 1,000,000 immigrants have been absorbed by the country without affecting the labor market. Wages have been good, the scale of living has been high, and there has been abundance of employment of labor."

"Money in circulation has increased more rapidly than the population, the average circulation on December 31, 1905, having stood at $31.73 per capita, the highest on record. At the end of the year the stock of gold in the Federal Treasury amounted to over $765,000,000."

"When it is stated that the wealth production on farms in the United States was estimated at $6,415,000,000, it can readily be understood of what importance the farmer is as a purchasing agent. Of all the agricultural products in the United States corn or maize is the most important. It reached its highest production last year with a crop of 2,708,000,000 bushels, and a total estimated value of $1,216,000,000. Hay was second in order of value, $605,000,000; cotton next, $563,000,000; wheat, $525,000,000; oats, $282,000,000; potatoes, $138,000,000; barley, $58,000,000; tobacco, $52,000,000; sugar cane and sugar beets, $50,000,000. The aggregate yield of cereals including rice was 4,521,000,000 bushels, valued at $2,123,000,000, an increase of $145,000,000 over the year previous. During the last five years the value of the real estate of medium farms has increased 33.5 per cent."

"Foreign commerce exceeded that of any preceding year. The imports of the calendar year 1905 amounted to $1,179,135,344, exceeding those of 1904 by $143,226,154, and the exports of domestic merchandise amounted to $1,599,420,539, exceeding those of 1904 by $173,672,401."

"The increase in imports is accounted for chiefly by the extra demand for materials to be used in manufactures. The value of materials imported for this purpose increased from $469,660,209 in 1903 to $561,425,245 in 1905, and formed 47.61 per cent. of the total imports of the latter year, compared with 26.50 per cent. in 1875."

"The importation of luxuries and articles which are outside the bare necessities of life is a good indication of the prosperity of a country. When there is plenty of employment and money is abundant, there is certain to be an increase in the imports of such articles as silk, jewelry, wines, etc., which are not produced in the country itself. In 1903 the value of luxuries imported amounted to about $142,000,000; in 1904 there was a reduction of about 4 per cent, but in 1905 there was an increase of about 16 per cent. compared with the previous year, so that in 1905 more money was spent in luxuries than in any previous year."

"The principal articles imported for use in manufacturing were raw silk, 55 million dollars; india rubber, 48½ millions; fibers, 41 millions; tin, 26 millions; wool, 47 millions; tobacco, 19 millions; wood, 24 millions; hides and skins, 73 millions; chemicals, drugs and dyes, 69 millions, and raw cotton, 10 millions, the above supplying about 73 per cent. of the total imports of manufacturers' materials."

"Of the 346 million dollars' worth of manufactured articles imported the chief were manufactures of cotton, 55 million dollars; fiber manufactures, 45 millions; silk manufactures, 34 millions; iron and steel manufactures, 26 millions; jewelry, 39 millions, and manufactures of wool, 21 millions of dollars."

"The importation of tropical products continues to show an important increase. In 1870 the total imports of this class amounted to 140 million dollars; in 1890, 235 millions, and in 1905, 536 millions, the principal items being silk, sugar, tobacco, tea, coffee, rice and india rubber."

"There are no signs at present of this great activity decreasing. On the contrary, there is every indication that the present year will be quite as prosperous as the past or more so. The country was never more prosperous than at present. Industrial operations are carried on upon a larger scale than ever."

DON'T EXPERIMENT.

YOU WILL MAKE NO MISTAKE IF
YOU FOLLOW THIS HONOLULU
CITIZEN'S ADVICE.

Never neglect your health.

If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness. It's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble and you should use a remedy which is known to cure those troubles safely and surely.

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills is that remedy, and if you wish to be cured of kidney disease without experimenting, do not fail to use it. Others have been cured and cured permanently. Why not follow the advice of a Honolulu citizen and be cured yourself?

J. D. Conn, of this city, is a carpenter by trade, and is employed at the Oahu railroad. "I was troubled," says Mr. Conn, "with an aching back. The attacks occurred periodically for years, and especially if I happened to catch cold. There was also other symptoms which plainly showed that my kidneys were out of order. A short time ago, I heard about Doan's Backache Kidney Pills and the wonderful things they were doing."

"Proceeding, then, to Hollister & Co.'s drug store, I obtained some of these. Since taking these pills there is a great improvement in me. I always keep some of the pills on hand now so as to be provided for any emergency. I feel sure if anyone troubled as I was should give Doan's Backache Kidney Pills a fair trial they will not fail to be benefited by them."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box (six boxes $2.50) or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

WHERE THE TOURIST WILL GO

By Anna Alward Eames.

"All I want is a look at the Stock Exchange," said a collier's son San Francisco man a few days after the fire, as he hustled into the Times office in Oakland. "One can't sit around moaning, you know."

This is a sample of the California spirit of the present hour. Not a second of time has been spent in the wringing of hands and lamentations. After the first anguish of sympathy had found substantial vent in relief trains, seventy carloads of provisions and supplies the first day, the whole thought in Los Angeles is for swift recovery. The terrible fear lurks in every breast that the earthquake scare will kill the spring trade in tourists.

A veritable carnival of congresses had been arranged for May and June, with La Fiesta in May the supreme magnet. Everything under the sun will be done to compel the execution of the famous spring program which will circulate throughout California. Although the Shriners' convocation was officially canceled, three thousand Shriners have come anyway. Every child in the public schools has written a letter to some person east of the Rockies stating that Los Angeles has escaped totally unharmed, that the banks were never before in so good a condition nor the country so prosperous. Land values below Alameda street have advanced ten per cent. since the great fire, the shipping has doubled up in southern ports and with it the conviction that Southern California will make good in commercial development what she loses in tourists.

Some there will always be, when the whole country is prosperous, who will elect to take California with earthquakes rather than no California. Southern California is the winter playground of the millionaires of the country. These come here with a beautiful regularity. They pack their autos when they do their suitcases. With them come dollars and dollars and dollars into this country. Because of this, the Southwest is the biggest consumer of dry goods, metals and building materials in the United States. There is not only a real estate boom here, but a trade boom. The volume of shipments into this section surprises even the traffic officials of railroads.

This land boom, tourist boom and trade boom in Southern California is the offering of a perennial tourist spirit here which knows no season, makes the little hills to clap their hands and break forth into corner-lots and the land grow fat. The city officials in common with the humblest citizens beam with it. Speaks a Park Commissioner: "Let our citizens wear straw hats and light clothes the year around to accent the tropical note in our climate; let there be a park made up of orange groves to be always in bloom; let oranges be to the tourist for his picking. Let there be many places of plain, valley, hill and seaboard donated for parks. Have them we must. Because our stock in the national market is beautiful retreats and entertainment for Eastern people."

If this whole-hearted pushing of the tourist business is enterprising for California it is equally so for Hawaii, with her less diversified resources. Twenty years ago great fortunes were to be made here in orange and deciduous orchards. Enter over-production; exit great fortunes. Came that noble industry to the rescue of which the poet sings, "Age can not wither nor overproduction decline." And what small farming under ideal conditions could not bring to pass, what great granaries could not compass, what the orange, the fig and the grape could not do, the tourist spirit has done, and Southern California has become the great Southwest which leads the whole of this enormously rich country in material prosperity.

Some of the tourist contingent will winter in California as usual, others will seek pastures new. Hawaii will draw a goodly number of these. The Mid-Winter Fiesta in Honolulu is a big step in the right direction and the capital description in the Advertiser is effective promotion literature. The overworked American, and the average American man does not travel unless he is overworked, is traveling for rest, diversion and health. Diversion is rest. The brain of the player of the "great game" of Wall Street is a dynamo and when, like the suddenly-arrested engine in his automobile, it goes cu-chug, it is killing itself. Amiable diversions, fiestas, pageants, and the like, engage a brain which has never learned to be inert. Hawaii has genuine refreshing and restoring for this type of tourist. The fresh air fad has swept the whole country. Clever descriptions of the out-of-door life, recreations, unique diversions, pageants and famous celebrations in a semi-foreign country kindle the jaded play-spirit of the man who has been ordered out to play.

"Kamehameha Day" is a fine sounder for a mid-Pacific annual fete. Such a festival permanently staged for the middle of first of May would entrap the winter tourist on the homestretch and be a famous draw. The Chinese section in the Los Angeles fiesta is said to be well worth crossing a continent to see. How liberally could the gorgeous note of the Orient, and mighty dragons, be supplied by the Chinese and Japanese population in Hawaii! The native population might resurrect ceremonies which would give the celebration historical interest. Ex-Queen Liliuokalani and her court, adorning a celebration in honor of the Great Kamehameha, would be worth coming to Hawaii to see. A mid-Pacific annual fete for the Kamehamehas, with a kaleidoscope of Hawaiian, Chinese, Japanese and American color, could not be duplicated for interest. A larger block of Hawaiian stock in the national market than ever before has come to be beautiful retreats and entertainment for Eastern people.

AN AMERICAN REMEDY.

There is probably no medicine manufactured that can be found in more homes in the United States than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It has been in general use for over thirty years and each successive epidemic of diarrhoea and dysentery during this time has tested its merit and proved its superiority over all similar preparations. The reliability and prompt cures of this remedy have won for it the confidence of many physicians who often prescribe it in their practice. No case has ever yet been reported where its use has failed to give relief. This remedy is for sale in this city by Benson, Smith & Co. Agents for Hawaii.

A MASTER-AT-ARMS LURED RUSSIANS

There is the pathetic side to the return of the Russian stowaways to Japan, on the transport Sherman and the escape of four of them in Honolulu. Three were captured during the week by U. S. Marshal Hendry and they are now held to await the next transport to be sent back to the Far East.

It is claimed not only by these men, but by those who are now on their way to the Orient, that they were induced to take passage on the Sherman at Nagasaki through the assurance by sailors and a master-at-arms that they would be allowed to land in the United States. The men claimed, while in Seattle, and this statement was corroborated by Michael Parup, an ordinary seaman on the transport, that a master-at-arms had taken ninety-eight roubles and a watch from the Russians in return for which he was to secure a safe landing for them.

The men were confined in the brig almost as soon as the vessel was out of Nagasaki. They were prisoners when the vessel touched here, but four managed to escape. One is still at large. They had arrived originally at Nagasaki from Vladivostok. According to Parup they wanted to go to the United States to better themselves, as times were very hard in the Russian seaport. Some of the stowaways are men-of-war men and recently left the service of the Russian navy. It is said that the master-at-arms, fearing discovery, quit the transport at Seattle.

CAMBLERS ARRESTED.

A gambling joint on Maunakea street which has given the police considerable trouble at various times was raided Saturday night. Assistant Sheriff Vida was told that a game was in progress and he sent a man there to get into it if possible. The man was permitted inside and he went into the game like a plunger. He bet considerable money, but, unknown to the keepers and gamblers, it was all marked. Then by a prearranged signal the police came and battered the door which was finally opened by the gamblers. In the meantime the stool pigeon gathered the proofs of gambling and when the officers put the keepers and players under arrest, nothing more in the way of evidence was needed. The bolts and bars on the doors were taken to the station to be used as evidence. Paikau was the game being played.

LANDS NOT TAKEN UP

Evidence of Decrease of Natives—Social Items.

MAUI, May 25.—Monday last, Sub-Land Agent W. O. Aiken was at Keanae postoffice for the purpose of receiving applications for Keanae and Wailua homestead lands. The Hawaiian population seems to be on the decrease in that vicinity, for all the leases to these lots comprising fine taro and kula land were not applied for. Only 20 out of the 47 at Wailua were taken up and 14 of the 16 Keanae parcels.

The modus operandi of application for a homestead lease of 999 years' duration is a sworn declaration before the land agent that the applicant is over 18 years of age that he is under no civil disability for any offence, that he is not delinquent in his taxes, that he does not own any land in the Territory not classed as wet, that he is not an applicant for other land under "Land Act, 1895," etc. If the applicant is married then the two last-mentioned requirements must apply to the wife or husband as the case may be.

After making this affidavit the applicant receives a certificate of occupation, but not until six years later does he receive the homestead lease of 999 years and then only on the following conditions: That he has within two years constructed a suitable dwelling house upon the premises; that within the first two years he shall begin to reside on the land and after the expiration of the two years shall continuously maintain his home thereon; that he has paid all taxes on said premises within 60 days after they are delinquent; that before the end of the six years he shall have cultivated at least ten per cent of the acreage, etc.

At the end of six years if all the conditions have been fulfilled—the occupier receives from the Governor his papers granting him and his heirs tenancy of the homestead lot for 999 years.

NOTES.

Local politicians state that Maui Republicans are almost unanimously in favor of the renomination of Kuhio for delegate.

S. R. Dowdle of Makawao has collected by subscription about $300 to be used in rebuilding "Craigielea," the summit house of Haleakala. Mr. Dowdle, who is an architect, has drawn plans for the reconstruction and on June 1, accompanied by a large party, will visit the summit for the purpose of satisfying himself as to the adaptability of his plans.

On Saturday afternoon a good polo game was played on Sunnyside grounds, Pala, between the following teams: F. F. Baldwin, W. O. Aiken, G. S. Aiken and J. A. Reed, versus L. von Tempisky, C. S. Dole, D. C. Lindsay and B. V. Bazata. The final score stood seven goals to two in favor of the former quartet.

Recently Rev. B. V. Bazata, under the auspices of the Hawaiian Evangelical Association, has been giving biblical instruction to the native Hawaiian pastors of various Maui churches. Not only the ministers but also Captain Lyman of the Salvation Army have been in attendance at these meetings, which have been held in the Wailuku native church, the Pala native and foreign churches and other places. Rev. E. B. Dodge and Rev. Dr. E. G. Beckwith have been invited to assist Mr. Bazata.

Wednesday evening at Pala, a Japanese theatrical troupe exhibited to a large audience. They erected a capacious tent in lower Pala opposite the blacksmith shop and an audience of at least two hundred was much amused by the company of actors composed entirely of women.

On Tuesday nine Japanese gamblers were brought before District Magistrate Chas. Copp of Makawao and upon pleading guilty of the crime were each fined $10. They were arrested by the police the Saturday night previous at Hamakua and put upon $25 bail each.

E. H. Bailey of Makawao has been using a patent hay-loader in harvesting his hay. It is attached to the back of a hay cart and while pulled along on its two wheels throws the hay into the cart. This labor-saving device attracted much attention.

There were two dances Saturday evening last. The Puunene boys gave a most pleasant party and the Pala Club entertained at Pieper's Hotel, Pala.

C. D. Lufkin of Wailuku is a very busy man nowadays, being cashier of two banks 25 miles apart. He spends half the week in Lahaina and the other half in Wailuku.

Last Sunday morning a chorus of 22 Maunaloa Seminary girls took the place of the usual choir in the Pala Foreign church.

Today W. S. Nicoll of the Maui Agricultural Co. will depart for a four months' vacation to be spent in Scotland. Mrs. Nicoll will accompany her husband to Honolulu.

The committee to select books for the Makawao Book Club has recently been appointed by the Ladies' Aid Society and is composed of the following ladies: Mrs. H. P. Baldwin, Mrs. W. F. McConkey and Mrs. D. C. Lindsay. Mrs. Filler and Mrs. Wren of Kahului are at Puunene cottage near Maunaloa, Makawao.

The ship Kinross sailed on the 22nd for Royal Roads, British Columbia. She departed in ballast, being a foreign vessel.

The schooner S. T. Alexander will probably sail today for the Coast with a cargo of sugar.

The mango blight is again destroying all the blossoms on Maui trees.

Weather: Dry. The plantation ditches are lowering.

THE MOLOKAI FEVER.

Dr. K. Hoffmann has made a report to President Pinkham of the Board of Health on his investigation of the fever epidemic at Wailua, Molokai. Altogether eight people had been sick, four of whom recovered. Two young men and two schoolboys died.

Three sick road laborers carried the infection into their homes. None of them had been away from the island, nor even had been in communication with Pelekune, where an epidemic occurred last year. One of the men soon died and a luau was held at his funeral, where three more persons became infected. Then the mattress of the dead man was thrown out into the sun, and a boy from the same house and another from a mile away played on the mattress. Both boys took sick within a week and died.

Before Dr. Hoffmann's arrival Dr. Goodhue from the Settlement visited the place, disinfected the houses and gave the people instructions.

SPARE SPARS.
For thirty-nine days the pumps on the American ship Governor Robie, which arrived Saturday from the Nitrate Ports, were kept going to keep down the water which rose through a breach in the hull seams on the starboard side. For the past two weeks the supply of fuel to feed the furnace of the donkey-engine was limited, and, as a last resource, the spare spars and all available wood was consumed.

When the vessel entered the harbor the water was gaining fast because of the lack of fuel, and, besides, the pumps were out of order. A supply of coal was sent for and by yesterday morning the water was kept down to the minimum.
Captain Grant states that while loading at the Nitrate Ports the cargo was brought out on heavy hardwood lighters. Six or seven lighters at a time would be collected about the vessel. The rolling of the vessel and the constant pounding of the lighters against the sides of the vessel strained the planking and the seams opened up on the starboard side abreast the main hatch and about three feet below the water line. Four or five days after setting sail for Honolulu it was noticed that the vessel was leaking. The pumps were started. The brasses and copper in the pump chambers wore out and then two pumps would not do as much work as a single one under ordinary circumstances. The result was almost constant pumping, for which unforeseen requirement there was not sufficient fuel.

As soon as the vessel discharges about three or four hundred tons of nitrates the leak will be exposed above the surface of the water and the extent of the damage can then be ascertained.

The Governor Robie left the Nitrate Ports for Honolulu on April 13 and had a pleasant passage all the way up. She brings 1000 tons of nitrates for H. Hackfeld & Co. Captain Grant, who has been in command of the ship for about two years, is accompanied by his wife and two children. He was formerly master of the St. David and previously ran to this port as mate on a bark.

PIAN BROUGHT LIME.
The American-Hawaiian steamship American, Captain Colored, arrived yesterday morning from Tacoma after a pleasant trip of nine days. The vessel brings 1000 tons of freight for Honolulu and has about 800 for Kahului and Hilo. In the Honolulu cargo are 3000 barrels of lime and a small quantity of lumber and coal from Tacoma. The remainder of the cargo is made up of New York consignments, nothing having come from San Francisco or vicinity.

The vessel will load 3700 tons of sugar here and take up the remainder of her 8000-ton cargo at Kaaunapali, Kahului and Hilo, sailing thence for Delaware Breakwater.
The American-Hawaiian warehouse now has stored up awaiting shipment 3700 tons of sugar for the American, 700 for the Nebraska and 2900 for the Massachusetts. The American will sail for Kaaunapali on Wednesday at 5 p. m.

The Nebraska is due Thursday from San Francisco via Seattle and Tacoma with a good-sized cargo from California and Puget Sound. The arrival of the American and Nebraska this week relieves the sugar warehouses of a heavy burden.

NEW ZEALAND LINE.
The steamship Pondo, a vessel of 5,000 tons gross register, has been substituted for the steamship Africander, by R. A. Alley & Company for service on the run between British Columbia and New Zealand ports. The Pondo sailed from England for New Zealand the latter part of February, and she should now be about at her destination. The steamship Bucentaur, 6,000 tons, is en route from New Zealand ports for Victoria and Vancouver, having sailed the latter part of April. She is due to reach this port about May 29. She is scheduled to sail from here on her return to New Zealand ports on June 15.—Victoria Colonist.

MAY SELL ECLIPSE.
The Inter-Island Company's gasoline schooner Eclipse, which has long been laid up, is being overhauled and put in shape for inspection by prospective buyers, who it is said, may arrive shortly from the mainland. The Eclipse has been out of commission for a long time. She was purchased from McInnes & Sons, who operated the vessel in company with the Surprise, which was wrecked. The Eclipse is a large schooner and has auxiliary gasoline power capable of making eight knots.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.
San Francisco, Cal., May 15, 1906.
Notice is hereby given that San Mateo Beacon No. 2 and Redwood Creek Beacon No. 6, lower part San Francisco Bay, California, destroyed by earthquake April 18, will be rebuilt as soon as practicable.

SAN PABLO BAY.
Notice is also given that Upper Mid-

Channel Buoy, San Pablo Bay, California, was reported adrift May 7.

HUMBOLDT BAR.
Notice is likewise given that Outside Bar Bell Buoy, Humboldt Bar, California, has been moved about 1/4 mile N.E. by 1/2 E. from its former position. The color of this buoy has not been changed.
Corrected bearings:
Humboldt Unused Lighthouse, E. by S. southerly.
Humboldt Bay Entrance Range Front Light, SE. by S. southerly.
Humboldt Lighthouse, S. 1/4 E. By order of the Lighthouse Board.
H. T. MAYO, Commander, U. S. N., Inspector, 12th Lighthouse District.

Notice is hereby given that owing to damage to the tower at Point Arena Light Station, California, the first order fixed white light was discontinued April 28.
A lens lantern, showing a fixed white light, was temporarily established May 2, on outer gable of fog-signal structure, about 102 feet W. N. W. of center of tower, and about 75 feet above mean high water.

By order of the Lighthouse Board.
H. T. MAYO, Commander, U. S. N., Inspector, 12th Lighthouse District.

RECRUITS MUST BE OF AGE.
Much time was spent in the House, reports the San Francisco Chronicle, in considering the question of enlistments in the navy and the failure of recruiting officers to properly enforce the law as to minors. An amendment offered by Keizer of Massachusetts was adopted prohibiting naval recruiting officers from enlisting seamen, ordinary seamen or apprentices unless their application is accompanied by a certificate of the birth and written evidence other than the applicant's own statement that he is of the age required by naval regulations.

The debate on this amendment at times grew decidedly animated and a bit acrimonious.

ALBERT'S QUICK TRIP.
The American bark Albert, Captain Turner, arrived from San Francisco yesterday afternoon, but owing to the tug Fearless being engaged in towing the ship Willcott to Maui, and with the Inter-Island boats tied up at the docks for the day, she came to anchor outside the harbor. She will be towed in as soon as the Fearless returns. The Albert left San Francisco May 12 and is consigned to H. Hackfeld & Co. She made a fast trip of fifteen days.

TIME WILL BE SAVED.
Army transports, which have heretofore been held several hours in quarantine upon arrival, are to avoid this detention hereafter. It was reported yesterday that all transports would be passed by the Federal quarantine officials upon the showing of a clean bill of health by the ship's surgeon. The new arrangement will be appreciated by army and transport officials.

KAUAI SUGAR LIST.
The following sugar on Kauai awaits shipment: K. S. M., 5000 bags; M. A. K., 26,985; G. & R., 850; McE., 27,698; K. P., 3000; P., 7174; H. M., 24,498; G. F., 407; M. S. Co., 18,198; K. S. Co., 3100.

SHIPPING NOTES.
The tug Fearless returned from Maui at 11:30 last night.

Purser McNamara of the steamer W. G. Hall reports light showers on Kauai. The officers and crew of the German training ship Herzogin Sophie Charlotte attended services yesterday morning at the German Lutheran church.

The American-Hawaiian steamer Arizona arrived at Delaware Breakwater last Thursday. On the same day the Californian was scheduled to leave Honolulu for the same place, bound from this coast with sugar and general merchandise.—Chronicle, May 19.

The wedding of Albert Hubbard Moffitt, passenger agent of the Oceanic Steamship Company, and Miss Lucile Francis Smith, daughter of Superior Judge L. F. Smith of Santa Cruz, will take place on June 17, at the bride's home in Santa Cruz. The young couple first met on a trip to Honolulu, on the steamship Alameda.—Call.

Sugar awaiting shipment on Hawaii is as follows: Olan, 37,000; Waiakoa, 17,000; Hawaii Mill, 5312; Waiakoa, 21,000; Onomua, 26,000; Pepeekeo, 12,500; Honoum, 9800; Hakalan, 23,300; Lanipakeehoe, 3500; Oskala, 4500; Kukaian, 4400; Hamakua, 20,000; Paauhau, 19,500; Honokaa, 7000; Kukuihale, 250; Honuapo, 1390.

An interesting relic of the San Francisco earthquake is to be seen at Chris Johnson's boathouse in Queen street. It is a life-boat from the bark Andrew Welch and is about as complete a wreck as one would care to see. The first earth shock threw the wharf shed down against the Welch, smashing the boat and davit, but fortunately doing no other damage.

The U. S. Fish Commission Albatross, in command of Lieut. Comdr. L. M. Garrett, sailed from Sausalito, Cal., May 3, on a scientific expedition to Japan, via the Aleutian Islands, Commander Islands, Petropaulski, and the Kurile Islands. The mail address of the vessel is Yokohama, Japan, and letters and papers should be prepaid with the usual foreign postage.—Army and Navy Journal.

AGRICULTURE IN SCHOOLS

Former Principal Coke Discusses the Subject.

Hugh M. Coke, editor of the Maui News, was not long ago principal of the Waihee school. Therefore the following editorial in his paper ought to be worthy of consideration as a contribution to the discussion of an important educational question. Under the heading, "Agriculture in Schools," the News says:

"The teachers of Hilo have petitioned the Department of Education to furnish them an expert instructor in agriculture, and tools and implements that they may be enabled to make agriculture a more prominent branch of study."

"With all due respect to the teachers of the rainy city, we submit that it is not the sphere of the public schools to undertake a complete course in this branch of study, nor do we believe it a sound business policy for the department to undertake the scheme on the extensive scale asked for by the teachers there."

"As a result of the policy adopted by the Governor, which was made necessary by the extravagance of the past legislatures and other officials, the pay of the teachers now on the force was cut down to such a low ebb that many of the best teachers have resigned, and either have left the Territory or have gone into some other field of labor, or are preparing to leave as soon as there is a better opening for them elsewhere; and for the department to undertake the further reduction of pay by the employment of teachers to do work that is not now being done would hasten the exodus of more of our best instructors, and tend to still further lower the standard of the system that is about at its lowest ebb at the present time."

"The attitude of the various plantation managers throughout the group has at all times been the most friendly toward the schools and such tools as are necessary for the cultivation of all that the schools can grow has at all times been given to such teachers as would make use of them for the mere asking."

"We believe the teaching of such nature studies as are commonly taught in the schools and the practical application of the studies by the growing of such plants as can be grown with the tools and implements at hand is as far as the public school should attempt to go in this direction, and that they should leave to the agricultural college such instruction as they desire to incorporate into the common school. While it should be the policy of the State to give its children a course in the rudiments of education, it is not for the best interests of the State nor the children themselves to attempt to do for them what they should do themselves. It has been said that the most serious charge that can be laid to the doors of the missionaries is that in their zeal to help the children they carried them through all difficulties and consequently left them as helpless as they were at first, without practical knowledge that comes from self-effort and unfitted to meet conditions that necessarily must be met by all who would make a mark in the world."

"The great trouble with our schools today is that they attempt so much that is useless, that nearly all our children leave school without sufficient knowledge essential to one who wishes to transact any business or put to practical use that which they have been given a smattering of in school, and in consequence feeling themselves above work and fitted for anything else they are failures through their entire lives."

"Let all fads be cut out of the course of study and encourage the young people to seek higher instruction in such of our schools as the Territory is now well provided with, but above all things teach them self-reliance. There is no reason whatever why any young man in the Territory should go without the advantage of a course of study in higher branches than are taught in the common schools of the Territory, but financial assistance is too often fatal to the object sought and leaves the recipient without a proper appreciation of the same."

"Pupils who are afraid to soil their hands and must have the rough work done for them will never be worth the time and money spent on them."

ORIENTAL OIL TRADECalifornia Oil Men Are Crossing Pacific
for "Biz."

Henry J. Crocker and W. S. Porter of San Francisco passed through Honolulu on Thursday en route to Japan. Crocker was going partly on business and partly for pleasure. Porter, who said he was following up President Stewart of the Union Oil Co. Porter is vice-president of the Associated Oil Co., and Crocker is vice-president of the California Petroleum Refineries, Ltd. Both were interested in knowing just how far the oil business extended in and about Honolulu. The San Francisco Examiner of the 17th tells why Crocker and Porter are going to Japan. The paper says:

The departure on the Occidental and Oriental liner Doric yesterday for Japan of W. S. Porter, vice-president and general manager of the Associated Oil Company; Henry J. Crocker, vice-president of the California Petroleum Refineries, Ltd., and W. L. Stewart, vice-president of the Union Oil Company, marks an important epoch in the production and distribution of California fuel oil. Japanese naval authorities and the owners of the several steamship lines, including the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, whose steamers sail in and out of this port, have invited them to present bids for supplying millions of barrels of oil as a full substitute for the coal they now use. There will be keen rivalry in submitting bids for their companies and their success will be watched with keen interest in shipping and naval circles, as well as in oil and financial circles. Aside from the Standard and its local adjunct, the Pacific Coast Oil Company, the three concerns mentioned are the largest producers and sellers of California oil, which ranks today as the best economic fuel in the world.

KEEP PLANS SECRET.
Porter, Crocker and Stewart are keeping their intentions and plans to themselves as to the bids they will make for delivery per barrel on the other side and the quantity they can deliver at any given time.

It is known that they expect to bid for contracts calling for 3,000,000 barrels a year for a period of ten years, or a total of 30,000,000 barrels. Once a contract of this kind is signed, it will constitute the first big foreign outlet for the California fuel oil and mean the entering wedge for a remarkable market for oil in the Orient.

The Toyo Kisen Kaisha people, in order that they may get the best possible kind of contract for themselves in this connection, have ordered W. H. Avery of this city, their assistant general manager for the United States,

SELF CURE NO FICTION!

MARVEL UPON MARVELS: NO SUFFERER NEED NOW DESPAIR, but without running a doctor's bill or falling into the deep ditch of quackery, may safely, speedily, and economically cure himself without the knowledge of a second party. By the introduction of the New French Remedy, THERAPION, a complete revolution has been wrought in this department of medical science, whilst thousands have been restored to health and happiness who for years previously had been miserably dragging out a miserable existence.

THERAPION No. 1 is a remarkably short time, often a few days only, effects a cure, superseding injections, the use of which does irreparable harm by laying the foundation of stricture and other serious diseases.

THERAPION No. 2, for impurity of the blood, scurf, pimples, spots, blotches, pains and swellings of the joints, gonorrhea, rheumatism, secondary symptoms, etc. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and thoroughly eliminates all poisonous matter from the body.

THERAPION No. 3, for nervous exhaustion, impaired vitality, sleeplessness, and all the distressing consequences of dissipation, worry, overwork, etc. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigor to the debilitated.

chambers should see that the word "Therapion" appears on British Government Stamp (in gold) by the principal Chemists throughout the world. Price in England, 2/6 and 4/6. For white letters on a red ground affixed to every package by order of His Majesty's Home Office, and without which it is a forgery.

ANCIENT ORDER HIBERNIANS,
DIVISION NO. 1.

Meets every first and third Wednesday, at 8 p. m., in C. B. U. Hall, Fort street. Visiting brothers cordially invited to attend.

BUILT UP HER HEALTH
SPEEDY CURE OF MISS GOODE

She Is Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Writes Gratefully to Mrs. Pinkham.

For the wonderful help that she has found Miss Cora Goode, 255 E. Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Ill., believes it her duty to write the following letter for publication in order that other women afflicted in the same way may be benefited as she was. Miss Goode is president of the Bryn Mawr Lawn Tennis Club of Chicago. She writes:

Miss Cora Goode

"I tried many different remedies to build up my system, which had become run down from loss of proper rest and unreasonable hours, but nothing seemed to help me. Mother is a great advocate of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles, having used it herself some years ago with great success. So I began to take it, and in less than a month I was able to be out of bed and out of doors, and in three months I was entirely well. Really I have never felt so strong and well as I have since."

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating (or flatulence), displacement of organs, inflammation or ulceration, can be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Her experience is very great, and she gives the benefit of it to all who stand in need of wise counsel. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

to come to Tokio and assist them in their negotiations with Crocker, Porter and Stewart. It was on that account that Avery, too, was a passenger on the Doric.

The fight will be one of the bitterest three-cornered contests in the history of the oil industry. Porter and his Associated Oil has the backing of the Standard and Harriman interests, for it is an adjunct of the latter, and only through their favor has it grown to its present importance. The Southern Pacific Company has a large minority interest in the Porter company and could get the control away from Canfield, Porter and their associates were they not working in harmony with it and the Standard.

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS.
It is said the contracts to be let in Japan for ten years will have a money value of between $7,500,000 and $8,000,000, and Porter, Harriman and his Southern Pacific and the Standard crowd are going to make every effort to capture the prize.

On the other hand, the Union Oil Company and the Crocker concern have the strongest kind of backing. The Union ranks as one of the most aggressive and successful oil corporations on the coast. It is this company which is building a pipe line across the Isthmus of Panama and is getting together a large fleet of tank steamers to be used on both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. Like the Porter and Crocker companies, it has an unlimited supply of oil in California and the most modern means of handling its output.

Crocker has the financial and executive support of some of the best business men in San Francisco and London and his British connections in Japan are said to be very strong. He, like Porter and Stewart, is said to be going with full authority to act as the circumstances of the case demand and he like the others, anticipates a very warm competitive struggle before the Japanese act on the bids.

HALEY'S FRIENDS
BID HIM FAREWELL

At the Y. M. C. A. Hall yesterday, the services partook of the nature of a farewell to Fred Haley, who for some time has been the physical director at that institution. G. C. Hunter was the main speaker and a number of short addresses were made by members of the Y. M. C. A. and by those with whom Mr. Haley has been working for so long. Among those who voiced the general regret at the departure of their associate were Frank Cooke, C. Mayfield, C. J. Day and R. Law.

Mr. Haley, who has accepted a position on the Waiwala plantation, will be missed by many around town besides the boys of the Y. M. C. A., with whom he has been very popular.

LAME BACK.

This ailment is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles and may be cured by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm two or three times a day and rubbing the parts vigorously at each application. If this does not afford relief bind on a piece of flannel slightly dampened with Pain Balm, and quick relief is almost sure to follow. For sale by Benson, Smith & Co. Agents for Hawaii.

PILKIAS
OF FISHESLocal Aquarium Sheds
Light on Piscine
Ailments.

The tanks at the local Aquarium are arranged, as far as possible, in accordance with the natural habitat of the inmates. Each fish is provided with the utmost freedom of motion and each species is imprisoned with surroundings peculiar to its wild and natural state.

In this world, among fantastically-shaped pieces of coral and over beds of silver sand, numerous varieties of many interesting species of Hawaiian fish, sleep, play, feed and fight before the eyes of the spectator.

Unlike warm-blooded creatures, when a fish is wounded it betrays no evidences of pain. A chunk may have been bitten out of the back of a fish, leaving an ugly, ragged wound, yet unless the hurt be fatal, the victim will continue on its way as if nothing had happened. A dorsal fin may have been bitten off as clean as a whistle, still the injured fish does not appear to mind. It swims without seeming to suffer, progressing drunkenly, unable to maintain direction, until the fin grows back again, providing, of course, that the wound was not struck deep enough to injure the spine.

These interesting facts the Aquarium has revealed.

The manager of the Aquarium has performed to be somewhat of a surgeon; for fish, like humans, occasionally meet with accidents.

For instance, a new fish when placed in a tank for the first time swims about madly, coming in contact with the glass of the tank and with other obstructions that are new to him, and he bruises himself. These hurts sometimes develop into abscesses requiring surgical treatment.

Then the patient is scooped into a net and held under water while the manager's lancet makes its incision, cutting an ample opening. The abscess is then kneaded gently, the pus exuding and giving relief until, the wound cleaned, the patient is released, while the cut mends rapidly and the subject is as healthy as ever.

Among the surprising things connected with the study of fish diseases is the sensitiveness of the skins, or scales. Indeed, the very lives of most fishes depend upon an invisible, slimy-like film which covers their scales and which serves them much as the rubber suit of a diver serves the human creature venturing beneath water.

Were this slime to be wiped off, the fish would be dead within three or four hours, for it is this film which prevents the water from penetrating beneath the scales and waterlogging the fish, as is illustrated in cases where the scales themselves are extensively injured. If this hurt be slight, the wound merely resembles a burn as sustained by the human skin. But if the wound is extensive, water will penetrate it deeper and deeper, soaking into the flesh and eventually reaching the fish's vitals.

Among other ills to which the fish at the Aquarium are heir, are the fresh water and the salt water parasites and fungi that settle on the scales, eat into them and penetrate the flesh of the victim.

At large, in oceans and streams, countless fish are lost annually owing to these scale diseases; but in aquariums the experts have learned to effect a simple cure. A fish beset with freshwater parasites is immersed in a salt-water solution and long before the fish itself may suffer because of the transformation of its element, the parasites have been killed. Salt-water fish infested with salt-water parasites and fungi unable to exist in fresh water are plunged into fresh water until their minute enemies are dead.

From the few instances cited it might appear as if science had conquered many of the ailments common to the denizens of the deep; yet such is by no means the case.

The manager of the Fisheries will tell you that, aside from the few troubles mentioned, fishes suffer from kidney and heart and gill troubles and many exquisite exhibits are lost annually in aquariums all over the world because experts have been unable to fathom diseases in creatures so radically different from the warm-blooded creatures that are so much better known.

A sick fish, in eight cases out of ten, is a dead fish, and the most merciful way of relieving him is to knock him on the head with a stick.

WHERE WILL HONOLULUANS
SPEND THE SUMMER?

The calamity that has befallen San Francisco has caused many changes in the plans of Honolulu people with reference to their summer vacations, and many who have been in the habit of spending two or three months in the Coast metropolis during the heated term are casting about for new places of retreat. Refugees from San Francisco will doubtless crowd all adjacent towns, even down to Los Angeles, for many months to come, and hotel and boarding house rates will be correspondingly high. In such circumstances Honolulu people are fortunate in having a splendid mountain resort close at hand, where a whole month can be spent, including traveling expenses from Honolulu and return, for less than the cost of a round trip steamer ticket to the Coast. In fact, Messrs. Trent & Co. are offering purchasers of $10 volcano tickets, a whole week's extra board at the popular Volcano House for only one additional five dollar gold piece. This is an expensive kind of advertising, but it will probably result in keeping the Volcano House full to the doors all summer.

RAPID TRANSIT
CAT CATCHER

A cat may look at a king but a feline must treat a trolley car with the full measure of respect coming to it, otherwise the fur is apt to fly.

As car No. 24, bound Waiakae, was splitting the air on Beretania avenue, near Punahou College, yesterday morning, a cat was sighted standing in the middle of the track some 200 yards ahead of the car and apparently regarding its approach with interest.

With the car only a few yards away, the animal turned round and calmly walked down the track. The motor-man dropped the fender and pussy was picked up in the cat-catcher and deposited in a ditch by the roadside, apparently unharmed.

CRUEL ASSAULT
ON A CHINAMAN

An old Chinaman, named Ah Lum, was struck in the face with a bamboo stick at Kaneohe on Sunday about noon. The assailant is at present unknown, though suspicion points strongly to a certain person. The wound was two inches long and penetrated right through the cheek.

Mr. Montell, chief officer of the Hawaiian Isles, who happened to be near the courthouse, rendered surgical assistance to the injured man, staunching the flow of blood. Later Ah Lum was taken to town to receive professional treatments.

ELOPEMENT FROM CAMP OF THE REFUGES

BY J. F. SHERIDAN IN SAN FRANCISCO BULLETIN.

Chubby, dimpled, tiny and two was baby Alfred. Fair and five was his playmate, Phyllis. They had eloped, or, as baby Alfred would say, "des yund' away," from the refuge camp at Lafayette Square, where their parents lived in adjoining tents, and where the tykes themselves had been inseparable companions ever since the great fire rendered them homeless.

Like all elopements, of course, there had to be a separation. It came just one short half hour after the babies had wandered from the little city of tents on the square. Phyllis, wearing of the companionship of tiny Fred, and strayed away, leaving him alone.

For three long hours the little man roamed about the streets alone. He was never more than two blocks away from the parents' tent, but he was hopelessly lost, just the same, and his tears had washed deep furrows down his dust-grimed cheeks when great, big, kind-hearted Policeman Collins picked him up. He cried out lustily when the officer tried to question him, and it was not until he had his baby face buried in a bowl of warm milk, and had been supplied with a goodly number of cookies from the police department commissary, that he thawed sufficiently to remove the impression that he had been born dumb.

It developed from the "sweating system" to which baby Alfred was subjected by the most skilled cross-examiners in the police department that his papa was "dood," that his "mamma was home," and that his name was "Ated." Try as they might, the police could get no further information from the little man. It was his afternoon sleepy time; his hunger had been appeased; he had forgotten his sorrow at being deserted by Phyllis, and he might have been the victim of the "Sand Man" in a few short moments had it not been for the arrival of a nervous little woman, who was very much excited, and who was searching for a lost child.

A sight of Alfred with his curly head still buried in his milk bowl answered her first query. "Have you a lost little one here?" She charged the youngster like a company of cavalry.

"Oh, you naughty, naughty boy!" shrieked the excited woman. "Why, why did you take little Phyllis away from home?"

The woman's voice startled the last child. Raising his face from the now almost empty milk bowl, he looked at his questioner with wide-open eyes, and solemnly said:

"Phyllis took'd me away. Den she lost'd me, too."

Before the police could question the woman who had accused two-year-old of abducting fly, she was gone. Ten minutes later Phyllis was brought into the station. She was lost, and had been weeping, but a sight of her baby boy companion and a plentiful supply of the milk and cookies which had soothed the heartache of Alfred soon made her forget her tears.

They were as happy as children well could be when Alfred's mother came to the station and "took'd de yun couple" back to their tent home.
