THE AVERAGE LIFE.

It is difficult to determine accurately the average life of a good bicycle, but it is estimated that the ordinary person, riding to and from his business and for pleasure, covers about 2,000 miles in a year. There are Sterlings in use that have been ridden nearly 40,000 miles, which would be equivalent to 20 years of average service. One Sterling bicycle was ridden in one year over 35,000 miles, and in doing this the wheels rotated in their bearings nearly 25,000,000 times, and the bearings when examined showed no appreciable wear. The bearings for the '99 model Sterling are the S. & J. special drawn steel, carbonized and ground bone, to diamond temper, and ground on their own centers, making them not only true, but absolutely in line with each other. Felt washers and ball retainers are used throughout. The Pacific Cycle & Manufacturing Co. have 50 of the new improved '99 model Sterling bicycles in transit. They expect part of this shipment to arrive on the Moana.

IMPORTATIONS OF COIN

OVER $500,000 IMPORTED DURING THREE MONTHS.

Minister of Finance Keeps a Reserve in the Treasury to Meet a Probable Hiatus in Revenue.

"The importations of coin into this country for the first three months of the year," said Minister of Finance Damon, "have been and will be very large. In January the importations were $205,000, in February there have been $150,000, and we expect to have $300,000 in March, in all $655,000.

"The orders for coin are heavy at this season of the year because the demand for labor is very great through the numerous new enterprises which are being started. There are hundreds and thousands of acres of land coming under cultivation, which have not borne anything but grass in the past. Then there have had to be quite unusual amounts at the custom house for the importation of machinery, tools and other things required by the new ventures. From this you can see how necessary the importation of coin has been.

"But it is all going towards productive enterprises which will yield a good return for the money that has been invested.

"With regard to the balance in the treasury, that is a mere act of prudence, under the peculiar circumstances that we are in. We are paying out for all the improvements ordered by the legislature, compatible with economy. There has been no cessation in pushing forward public work always with due regard to the proper proportion being carried on from month to month.

"But we must remember that we may shortly lose the revenue from the custom house and from the postoffice, which will accrue to the federal government as soon as the new fundamental law is settled. Had we not a reserve in the treasury to meet the hiatus, which will surely occur, until our new revenues and expenditures adapt themselves, we should be in a very uncomfortable position indeed. We must look forward to the eventualities of the future as well as to our immediate present needs. In fact, to use an old proverb, we must cut our coat according to our cloth, and we must also take care to have cloth enough left to patch any rents that may occur during the process of wearing."

NARROW ESCAPE.

Japanese Sailor on the Iwa Nearly Drowned.

A Japanese sailor on the steamer Iwa had a narrow escape from drowning last Wednesday, near Wailuku, on the other side of the Island. He was on a scow in tow of the Iwa when the heavy seas capsized the scow. He managed to catch an oar as the scow went over and kept himself afloat. A boat was lowered at once but the sea was so rough the Japanese would have drowned before the boat could have reached him. The captain of the Iwa at once turned the steamer about, but it was half an hour before he could get close enough to throw a line. By that time the Japanese was chilled through and almost exhausted. A minute or two more and he would have let go the oar and gone down. The severity of his exposure was such that he has been sick ever since and is just now getting better.

HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC COMPANY'S YEAR.

Business has Been Good and Increasing—Plant has Been Improved—Profits Have Been Handsome.

The annual reports of the Hawaiian Electric Company are now in the hands of the stockholders. The treasurer's report shows gross earnings of $95,114.24, exceeding those of 1897 by $25,429.98. The sources of earnings were: Light and power, $50,754.01; sales of ice, $23,640; cold storage, $9,820.90; profit on merchandise, $8,899.33.

The operating expenses for the year were $48,762.80; profits, $44,351.44. Dividends amounting to $19,750 have been disbursed. The increase of operating expenses over the preceding year was $3,290.13, due to increased consumption of coal incidental to the larger production of light and power.

The assets of the company at the close of the year were $293,087.81; the liabilities $16,561.54. The additions to the plant have been large and costly, and are: Two 300 H. P. Helms boilers; one 500 H. P. Corliss engine; 1,500 light alternating dynamos, which, with the necessary foundations, have cost $56,093.71; there have also been additions and extensions of the poles and lines, amounting to $12,008.59, making a grand total of $48,762.80 expended in permanent improvements and revenue producing enterprises.

Manager Hoffman reports: We have made improvements in the way of increasing our boiler plant from 600 H. P. to 1,000 H. P.; the engine capacity from 500 H. P. to 950 H. P.; the dynamo capacity from 4,000 to 16 C. H. P. lights.

The improvements we have made cost a little more than the amount I estimated as the engine and dynamo are of slow speed type, and found to be much more economical in running than the high speed type. In the past year the lights have not been up to standard all the time, the cause was on account of the overload of the machines, and the long wait for new machinery which was not delivered at the time specified.

Vice President James A. Hopper reports that the directors have had some negotiations with the Hawaiian Tramways Company with reference to the supply of current for the propulsion of their proposed electric car line; but so far without practical results, the directors of the company, while under legal advice, have restricted themselves to the simple supply of power to be taken direct from our lines, and leaving the Tramways Company to furnish all the appliances necessary.

ALDRICH CASE TODAY.

Defense Has a Say and the Matter Goes Over to Monday.

The Ed Aldrich forgery case was on again all of this forenoon in Judge Stanley's court. At the beginning of the hearing the jury was excused from the court room and Marshal Brown moved that the case for the prosecution be postponed until the next day. Evidence might be admitted, Mr. Hankey argued against the motion, but in an oral decision, the court allowed the testimony to be taken. Exceptions to this ruling by defense.

W. G. Ashley was called and testified on the other side of the case. A genuine and the fraudulent Hawaiian bills. A $20 bill, of regular issue, was filed in evidence. Mr. Hankey objected. Objections overruled and exceptions taken. Prosecution rests.

Mr. Hankey moved for an acquittal and argued. Marshal Brown argued, and Mr. Hankey replied. The court denied the motion to acquit. Mr. Hankey excepted; exceptions allowed.

In the order named the following witnesses were called for the defense: Gare Dietz, Thomas Buckley, James Dodd, L. Leslie, Lawrence H. Doe, E. Miller, J. W. P. Miller, L. R. Grau, George McNichol and J. G. Gorman.

At the suggestion of Attorney A. S. Humphreys further hearing was at this stage deferred to Monday morning.

In the matter of H. G. Reis vs. Oahu Railway and Land Company, assumption, plaintiff has filed an appeal from the decision of the jury, which was favorable to defendant.

In a recent letter from Washington, D. C., to an old friend, Major G. A. Studer, for twenty years United States Consul at Singapore, says: "While at Des Moines I became acquainted with a liniment known as Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I found excellent against rheumatism as well as against soreness of the throat and chest (giving me much easier breathing). I had a touch of pneumonia early this week, and two applications freely applied to the throat and chest relieved me of it at once. I would not be without it for anything." ## BEWARE OF THE KLONDIKE

ONE WHO HAS BEEN THERE GIVES ADVICE.

Newspaper Boom in the Interest of the Transportation Companies and Outfitters Who Make a Harvest.

Editor Star: Now that considerable newspaper publication is being made of the Klondike, or properly speaking, the Yukon territory, I sincerely trust that our citizens will not be carried away with the glowing accounts as published, and desire to go, like so many have, to disaster and death.

Newspapers have distorted the truth and flaunted the untruth, not for the advantage of Dawson or the Klondike, but for the betterment of the people, but for the gain of unscrupulous outfitters. These send to Dawson a class of persons unfitted for mining, unprepared for the rigors of the climate, and unaccustomed to the hardships of the journey, there to meet with great disappointment. Transportation companies have also profited immensely.

The poor mortal—but a mere skeleton of existence—bemoans his foolhardiness, alone, too proud to acknowledge his mistake and too poor to return. The humiliation of returning to his friends to relate his unsuccessful trip, turn, firmly sets his mind with the desire to "Win or Bust." And the result will be, many will never see their friends again.

The Yukon country offers untold opportunities to thousands of people, but they must be people of means, coupled with strong constitutions, pluck and energy. Dawson today has thousands who would be far better off at home than there, and undoubtedly relief this year must be sent there.

There are valuable mining properties in the Yukon district, but they have long ago been taken up. The output this year should be enormous, but remember people from all parts of the world are assembled there. The ridiculous and exaggerated stories that have been and are being circulated by interested persons and by newspapers should be stopped.

A VICTIM.

MISS LONG'S ADDRESS.

Something of Her Thought Regarding Public Reading.

Monday evening next, Miss Long gives her address on "Teaching Common Sense Reading," at the Y. M. C. A. Miss Long had a very successful career as a teacher of reading and methods of teaching reading in various institutions in the United States, before becoming a volunteer nurse in the army, in which capacity she came to Honolulu.

She appeared several times here as a reader in public and always to the great pleasure of her audiences. Miss Long has a great contempt for the conventional or theatrical reading, whether public or private reading. Her idea is that reading should be the natural expression of the sentiments or ideas which prompted the words read, and that neither hallowed associations nor long usage, nor arbitrary significance given to punctuation or subject can justify any other endeavor in a reader than to be the means of conveying to the hearer the true thought of what is read.

MATINEE CONCERTS.

JUPITER PLUVIUS DEIGNS

HEAVY THUNDER STORM AND RAIN IN MOUNTAINS.

The Lowlands Have Very Little Wetting, but the Streams all Rise Several Feet—Steamer Reports.

The storm last night ran almost straight up the backbone of the Island. Its range was northwest to southeast, or from Walauea and Waiala almost in a line to Koko Head. Though lightning flashed and thunder could be plainly heard in town, the moon shone brightly over the city nearly all the night and the air was fresh and clear. Once or twice there were very light showers, but these were momentary, passing off quickly.

The downpour of rain on the mountains all the way down to Walauea was quite heavy. In Nuuanu valley there was quite a pour, but by no means as heavy as has occurred before. At the upper reservoir the total fall for the twenty-four hours was 7.45 inches. This means that about 6 inches fell during the storm, which is nearly an inch less than the precipitation in town during the flood of a year ago.

At the government electric light station in the valley the figures were given as 4 inches flat, but there was evidently some error in the measurement. This little pour in the valley above the city caused considerable of a rise in Nuuanu stream, and, as the memory of last year's disaster was fresh in the minds of the people in that locality, some excitement prevailed. The small footbridge near Vineyard and River streets was carried away and some damage was done to the stone wall in the same neighborhood. Some of the yards in the low grounds were flooded with water. In an hour or two the fresher subsided, however, and by this morning the river had resumed its normal status.

On the extreme east line of the Island the fall was also very light, the weather being much the same as in town. Further inland, at Ahuimanu, Henry Macfarlane's place, the precipitation was 1.20 inches. From these points the storm appeared to come from the sea toward the north turn on the mountains and move off to the southeast. It was the opinion of people over there that Honolulu was once more being deluged.

Accurate figures from Walauea and Waiala could not be obtained, but the assumption is that the fall in those places was in the neighborhood of 5 inches. Waiala telephoned that the storm was very heavy and was accompanied by lightning and heavy thunder.

At Punahou the fall of the twenty-four hours was only .69 inches, which shows that no part of the storm had struck with any force there. Professor Lyons charges the storm to the action of air currents above the mountains.

In connection with the fresher on the stream the following communication has been received from a resident of the locality:

"There was a large crowd out last night watching the stone wall on River street being washed away. Of course the expense of rebuilding it will not be very great, the government has lots of money. But who will provide for the poor people who lost property and risked their lives for the second time through the neglect of the public works department officials?"

Captain Mosher of the Ke Au Hou, which arrived this morning, 16 hours from Hanalei, reports the roughest sea he ever experienced crossing the channel. The cabin was flooded and everything on deck had to be made fast. The wind was from the north-east.

The steamer Iwa reports strong winds, heavy seas and heavy rains on the other side of the Island. The schooners and steamers from Molokai and Lanai report strong northeast trades and considerable rain there. The Concord lost her foremast in the gale.

The Noonau reports the sea choppy at Honokaa and Kukuhaele with strong northeast winds and light rain squalls Thursday and Thursday night.

ORDINATION SERVICES.

An Interesting Event at St. Andrew's Tomorrow.

William Ault of Westminster, England, and John Frederic Lane, of St. Nicholas College, Lancashire, England, will be ordained to the priesthood at St. Andrew's cathedral, tomorrow morning. Mr. Ault has been the representative of the Anglican Mission on the Island of Maui for the past two years. Mr. Lane has been head master of Iolani College for the past year. The preacher will be Rev. Erasmus I. Van Derlin, chaplain to the Bishop of Northern California. The bishop will be assisted by Rev. Dr. A. Renouf, rector emeritus, of Hartford, Mass.

POINTS OF MERIT.

Strong, durable, easy running, simple attachments, all the result of constant study for many years, of men who have made a life study of perfecting the Singer sewing machine. With few equals, it has no superior, and is sold as low as any other first class sewing machine. Buy a Singer and you take no chances. If you doubt our word, ask your neighbor who has been using a Singer for the past ten or twenty years. For sale by B. Bergerson, agent, Bethel street.

ALWAYS THE BEST.

On every steamer Camarinos receives fresh goods from the Coast. His facilities at the Coast for securing the best on the market cannot be excelled. As for Hawaiian fruits and vegetables, he is fortunate in having a plantation of his own. When you cannot get what you wish in fruits and vegetables at Camarinos', King street, it is safe to conclude that it cannot be found in the city.

We estimate that every pair of the J. & M. shoes we sell, bring four new customers. MCINERNEY.

HUMPHREYS IN CONTEMPT

FINED BY JUDGE STANLEY FOR ASSAULTING DAVEY.

Pleaded Guilty to the Charge—Did Not Regret the Blow but was Sorry for the Contempt.

Attorney A. S. Humphreys pleaded guilty in Judge Stanley's court this morning to contempt of court, in assaulting Frank Davey, a witness, immediately outside of the door, and was fined $100. The money was promptly paid. Marshal Brown drew the attention of the court to the contempt in the following words:

"I would like to call the attention of this court to an occurrence that took place yesterday. One of the witnesses in the case of the Republic vs. Aldrich was leaving the court room, the witness was met by Mr. Humphreys, an attorney of this court, immediately outside of the door of this court room, some words passed between them and the result was that Mr. Humphreys struck Mr. Davey and caused him some injury. It seems to me that the conduct of the attorney at the time, although the aggravation may have been great, was uncalled for, unidentified and unprotected by a member of the bar of this court, and was within the hearing of this court. It seems to me the dignity of the court and the rights of the witnesses require that Mr. Humphreys should be cited to appear before your honor at this time, and show why he should not be punished for this disorderly behavior within the hearing of this court."

Mr. Humphreys replied that he was ready to plead, that he was guilty of striking Mr. Davey just outside of the court room, that Davey was a witness in the Aldrich case and that a witness should be protected by the court. He did not regret striking Mr. Davey, and only wished the blow had been harder, but he did regret that the assault took place in the court room. He was prepared to receive sentence and did not wish to ask for any mercy of the court in the matter.

Mr. Hankey volunteered a few words, remarking upon the excellent reputation of Mr. Humphreys for court decorum, etc., and recommended that such circumstances be taken into consideration.

Judge Stanley stated that he regretted most deeply the necessity for taking cognizance of the act, particularly as it entailed the punishment of Mr. Humphreys a member of the bar whose conduct had under all circumstances been most exemplary. He did not believe that, as a matter of fact, there was any heartfelt contempt of court; that the assault was committed in the heat of passion, and was, in a large measure, pardonable. At the same time it was necessary for the court to protect its witnesses. The fine imposed was $100.

MORE IMMIGRANTS.

British Steamship Fausang Arrives With 646 Japanese.

The British steamship Fausang came in, 14 days 10 hours from Yokohama, consigned to T. H. Davis & Co. The immigrants consist of 575 men 60 women and 11 children. They all arrived in good health and were taken at once to the quarantine station from whence they will be sent to the different plantations to which they are assigned.

During the voyage there was one death, that of a child. There was also one birth, needless to say also that of a child.

The Fausang was built four years ago at Newcastle, is a vessel of 2,535 tons gross measurement. She has been engaged in the Java sugar trade. She is officered as follows: Captain N. Moncur, Officers T. A. Mitchell, G. J. L. Netherton, G. Wilson; Engineers D. A. Purves, W. Graham, W. B. Simpson and J. A. Bagley; Purser and Surgeon Dr. Barrett.

The Fausang experienced strong westerly gales to the tropics, thence light to moderate northeast trades. The Fausang will sail for Portland about noon tomorrow.

INCREASE OF CRIME.Novel Theories of Boston's Mayor
Which are Cordially Endorsed by the Best Medical Journals.

The mayor of Boston, says the Philadelphia Medical Journal, is an advocate of the establishment of a public gymnasium in every ward in that city.
The project has not met with as much favor as in the case of public baths, because apparently, councilmen and the public at large have not opened their eyes to the fact that the expenditure of public money in a gymnasium may be a good municipal investment.
The mayor, however, is doing something to educate public sentiment in the matter, and in a recent interview expressed some energetic opinions. He thinks that social science demonstrates that there is a close relation between the lack of physical exercise and crime. An active interest in athletics, and the practice of them, tends no doubt to keep the persons out of evil paths. It promotes an interest in and a desire for physical development and proves with which the excesses of vice are incompatible. The mayor is convinced that there is nothing visionary in the proposition that the more money the community spends on gymnastics the less it will have to spend on hospitals and jails. Putting the case merely on the basis of municipal economy, he claims that prevention is far cheaper than cure, and that the study of the causes of social disorder is the sure way to lead to the discovery of remedies.

This is high ground upon which to discuss athletics; and, while perhaps the mayor is a trifle optimistic in his economic views, he is evidently sound on the subject of physical culture. We have never doubted that the rational development of a better physique in colleges and universities is a potent influence for good morals and clean living;
and we have made direct observations upon boys and young men, infused with the athletic spirit, and compared them mentally with what we remembered of the preceding generation, and are convinced that a better regime exists at present in the sphere of personal habits. This is true especially, we believe, with reference to the use of alcohol and tobacco, and what is of the first importance, with reference to the age at which such habits are assumed and become fixed.

What the mayor says about the evil influences which lead to crime, and the control—at least, in part—of such influence by physical culture, should have weight in aldermanic councils.
In jails the disastrous effects of sloth and idleness are well known. They lead to disease, insanity and death.
In the shiftless classes outside of the jails—those that contribute the largest share of the criminal classes—these same evil influences are at work, especially in winter. Athletics, perhaps, would not only tend to give physical recreation and health, but would even supply motives and impulses that could not but be helpful in minds too vacant and unemployed to be either happy or useful.

HIS NARROW VIEW.
“So you are absolutely sure there is going to be a great deal of money in circulation?” asked the social economist.
“Absolutely,” answered Senator Sorghum. “Look at the deadlocks in the state legislatures.”

SAFETY.
The president was possibly convinced that the way to hold Luzon peacefully was not to leave it surrounded with hostile territory.—Washington Star.

Corporations are springing up on all sides, and sugar companies are increasing in number. The next few weeks will see several added to those already listed on the stock exchange. If capital comes in that is satisfied with small dividends, it can find plenty of room out here. The trouble with the Islands has been that the rate of interest in the past has been very high.

The government has given Hackfeld & Co. permission to build a wharf at Hilo, under certain restrictions and with a distinct understanding as to the future. Ten to one the citizens of the rainy town will find something to kick about in this. They will be asking why a temporary expedient is resorted to when something permanent should be done at once. In fact there is never any knowing what they will not quarrel with. One of these days they may begin to quarrel with their rain, but no, that would be impossible, for without rain Hilo would not be Hilo, and the tempers of the citizens would be more equable.

River park is in the hands of good people and the Minister of Interior says he is willing to co-operate with them as soon as the land is in proper condition. Meantime the superintendent of public works is building a retaining wall, and will pump up material to fill up the hole which was made by the road supervisor. Had this not been done the park might have been started long ago, instead of having to wait for three or four months, as has to be done now. This park site was never an official favorite, and everything has been done to thwart the scheme. But there will be a day of retribution some time, and they say everything comes to him that waits. Those who have taken an interest in the park can bide their time.

The short sketch of the interior of Luzon from the pen of Paymaster Wilcox, which appears elsewhere in this issue, throws an interesting light upon that province. The remarks upon the priests, who were held as prisoners at Ilagan, are the more valuable as they come from eye witnesses who would have been quick to see if there were any marks of ill usage, and who were perfectly free to express themselves upon the point when they returned to the fleet. There may have been instances of cruelty and there probably were, but it must always be remembered that the stories come from Spaniards, and that the latter have habitually vilified the Americans to the Filipinos, and no doubt vilify the Filipinos to the Americans.

CONSENT OF THE GOVERNED.

Professor Thomas of Haverford College, Pennsylvania, says that in the debate upon the treaty, congress lost sight entirely of the fact that the most conspicuous example of a government without the consent of the governed, was the District of Columbia, although it was straight before their eyes.

Professor Thomas was right in his remark, the District of Columbia, with its 280,000 inhabitants, is a spot of earth where not one of the dwellers has any voice in the government of the District. The Mayor of the District of Columbia is practically the President of the United States, and he is elected by the nation, outside of the District. The inhabitants are deprived of the highest privilege granted by the constitution of the United States, and yet they are not satisfied. In point of fact the citizens of the District report themselves as thoroughly satisfied with their condition and claim to have the best government of any city in the world.

To show that this government is a satisfactory one the citizens of the District point to the fact that their taxes are low, lower than they are in other cities; and further that they are honestly collected and honestly disbursed, which is more than can be said for cities which have the full consent of the governed—to be robbed and wasted at every turn.

Carrying this argument to the Philippines, Professor Thomas shows that in dealing with an inferior race and with men without education and intelligence enough to enable them to determine what is best for their own welfare, there is no necessity to obtain their consent. If the District of Columbia can be governed well without the consent of the governed, so can and so ought the Philippines to be.

ATHLETICS AND CRIME.

The mayor of Boston is a practical man, and has striven and is striving to unravel the social problems which face every one who lives among the complicated life of a great city. The mayor carried the question of public baths, to be erected with municipal money. He has assisted in the formation and up-keep of public playgrounds—he did not put obstacles in the way as some have done here in the case of River park—and his latest effort has been to put up public gymnasiums. But all this can be found in another column and his reasons for putting forward his scheme.

What strikes one when reading what this mayor has done, what the ladies of Denver have done with their summer playgrounds, and what others have done in New York and elsewhere, is that the crusade against crime and vice is taking fresh lines, and lines which are more practical than any that have been put forward up to the present.

It has dawned upon the practical philanthropist that cold preaching will not drive men and women into the right paths, because those who need it most, will not come and listen. It is not much use distributing tracts because the unregenerate light their pipes with them, and it is very little use going into the poverty stricken homes and giving advice, because in nine cases out of ten it is resented.

In looking round as to what had better be done, it has at length dawned upon the modern that he should inculcate practically cleanliness and exercise, which will give the healthy body, and when you get the healthy body, in nine cases out of ten, you get the healthy mind. In this we are after all going back to the wisdom of the ancients leaping backwards over the slough and corruption of medievalism into the purer atmosphere of classic models.

We have in our great cities on the mainland and in Europe, many beautiful buildings, but they are not for the people. We have parks, but they are usually far removed from the centers and cost money, however small in sum, to reach.

The classic city idea was to have fine public buildings, but they were really for the public. They were not the homes of officials only. The poor man might have restricted sleeping quarters, but he had magnificent baths free. He had the free use of gymnasiums. Lofty colonnades, spacious temples, ample open spaces in the city were his, free. These were decorated with the skilled productions of the masters of the plastic art. They were not locked up in galleries, but were there for everyone to enjoy from the multi-millionaire to the penniless outcast. There were great public gardens, free. There were fields for exercise, free.

This is the idea that we are coming to gradually. We find that we must not hold all the aesthetic pleasures for those who have money, but if we would raise, we must put in the way of those who have barely the means of existence means of cleanliness, means of healthful exercise, and we further find that money invested in this way gives a good return.

Whatever we do in this direction must be easily accessible, and it must be free and untrammelled with any red tape. A better and brighter era will come upon the world if many more civil officers like the mayor of Boston take in hand the physical advancement of their race.

GET YOUR STRENGTH BACK.

We all like to be strong. We like to feel our muscles creeping under the skin, as though they wanted us to call them to act and to work. But what is strength? What creates it? In five words—strength comes from digested food. When this vital process is retarded, what should you expect to follow? Why, weakness, to be sure, and by and by Torpid Liver, Loss of Flesh, Mental Despondency, then a Hacking Cough and, very likely, either a slow Consumption that may make you miserable for years, or a quick one that will send you to the churchyard in six weeks. That's how strength goes and what happens afterwards. If there is any power to help in such cases it is

A LITTLE COMMON SENSE!

Do you want a home, or do you intend paying rent all your life? Now is the time to decide. It wasn't long ago when you might have had a block of land on the PLAINS for a trifle—you thought then it was too high at any price. Relieve your mind of such pessimistic ideas and BUY A LOT and BUILD A HOME. Don't you think your family is entitled to this consideration. GO TO-DAY and look at the PAWAA TRACT of land. Study its situation, on the two principal highways of this city—the boulevards of Honolulu—on the line of the proposed electric lines—facing Beretania and King streets. Size of lots, 75x140. PRICE, $1,600. Terms, $250 cash, balance in monthly installments. Building is cheap, and you may build upon making your first payment.

The same influences that have operated in the past will operate in the future. Look at the many buildings going up in the neighborhood. Estimate their cost and realize that the present opportunity for investment or speculation is one that will not be repeated in your lifetime.

THE INTERIOR OF LUZON

DESCRIBED BY TWO AMERICAN NAVAL OFFICERS.

The Country is Rich, No Barren nor Unfertile Spots—Condition of Spanish Priests Held as Prisoners.

Two young American officers, Paymaster W. B. Wilcox, who was here in the Monadnock, and was well known, and Cadet R. L. Sargent, made a tour into Luzon lately. Concerning what they saw they write as follows:

A start was made from Manila with five servants, eight horses and between 300 and 400 pounds of baggage, including a camp outfit, two rifles and a shotgun with ammunition. "For the first five or six miles from Bayambang we found the roads in good condition and traveled with ease. About 11:30 o'clock in the morning we passed the small town of Alcala. There were in all twelve soldiers stationed in this town, in charge of a sergeant. They were armed with Remington rifles." The travelers were treated courteously at Rosales, where twenty soldiers were stationed, though surprise was expressed at their lack of passports. "From Rosales to Huminan, and on to San Jose our experiences of travel were much the same as those already described. Throughout this part of the province of Nueva Icaja almost the only form of agriculture encouraged at present by the natives is rice growing. A pound of sugar is also raised. The land is also very rich. We encountered no barren nor unfertile spots. There were very few forests and practically no cattle. There are a great number of buffalo, and these are of extreme utility. The principal labor of the natives at this season of the year is threshing rice.

"In the villages of Huminan and Lupao there are a few Spanish prisoners—priests, soldiers and civil officials. We have seen representatives of each of these three classes in these towns. We could detect no signs of ill treatment nor of undue restriction. On the contrary, they appeared to possess the freedom of the towns in which they lived.

NATIVE OFFICIALS.

The presidente local and other local officials are native Filipinos. Most of them have received a certain amount of education at religious schools in Manila. They are intelligent men and are extremely eager to learn news of the outside world. Their knowledge of modern history and geography is extremely limited, and their ignorance of current events is surprising. We brought them their first definite information with regard to Cuba and to their own present status. One or two of them had heard of the congress at Paris, but no one had any idea as to its object nor as to its relation to themselves. They were well grounded on only three points—the destruction of the Spanish squadron in Manila harbor, the surrender of Manila and the declaration of the Philippine government at Malolos of the independence of the islands and the establishment of a republican form of government, with Sn. Aguinaldo as president. Even on these points the details they had received were very inaccurate.

SOME SPANISH PRISONERS.

"There are many Spanish prisoners in Ilagan—civil officers, priests, soldiers. Eighty-four priests were paraded in the street for our inspection, only four or five of them wearing the robes of their office. Nearly all of them were long hair and beards. They appeared in good health, and we could detect no evidence of maltreatment. These priests had been assembled from different parts of the province. They are kept under stricter guard than either of the other two classes of prisoners, for the reason that the native officials fear that if permitted to go among the people they will use the influence they possess through their position in the church to incite them against the Philippine government. We also met Don Jose Perez, a Spaniard, who had previously been governor of the island. He was well dressed and seemed to be enjoying the ordinary comforts.

In these two days we passed out of the province of Isabella, and entirely through the provinces of Cagayan. These are the leading tobacco provinces in the island. An idea of their wealth can be obtained from the fact that, before the Philippine insurrection three million dollars in tobacco alone came yearly from the one province of Isabella. The tobacco of this province is preferred for exportation to that of Cagayan. Both provinces raise also sugar, rice, cocoa and coffee. Cattle also are shipped from Aparri.

THE CITY OF ILAGAN.

This town is the capital city of the province of Isabella. It has a population of between 10,000 and 15,000 inhabitants and has many large wooden houses roofed with corrugated iron, giving it rather a European appearance. It is well situated for defence, being at the junction of the Rio Pinauan with the Rio Grande. It is protected by these wide streams from all points except the south. To attack the city by land from the south it would be necessary to bring troops up the eastern side of the Rio Grande, where there are no roads. The site of the city is raised, moreover, about 40 feet above the level of the river. In this town we were entertained at the house of a wealthy citizen. The first night after our arrival a ball was given in our honor, at which there were over fifty young ladies and an equal number of well dressed and gentlemanly men. The ball was well conducted; the dances were Spanish. The next evening we were invited to the theater to see two one-act Spanish comedies, presented by the society young people of the town. They were both excellently given, and spoke well for the intelligence of the players.

"This is the sentiment of quite a number in Honolulu," said the company, "and we have ordered them to be fitted with the perfect light. You think it over and make up your mind. ## WOMAN'S FATE.

From the Record, Bushnell, Ill. No woman is better able to speak to others regarding "woman's fate" than Mrs. Jacob Weaver, of Bushnell, Ill., wife of ex-City Marshal Weaver. She had entirely recovered from the illness which kept her bedfast much of the time for five or six years past, and says her recovery is due to that well known remedy, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mrs. Weaver is 56 years old, and has lived in Bushnell nearly thirty years. She is of unquestioned veracity and unblemished reputation. The story of her recovery is interesting. She says: "I suffered for five or six years with the trouble that comes to women at this time of my life. I was much weakened, was unable much of the time to do my own work, and suffered beyond my power to describe. I was downhearted and melancholy."

"I took many different medicines, in fact I took medicine all the time, but nothing seemed to do me any good. I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and some of my friends recommended them highly. I made up my mind to try them. I bought the first box in March, 1897, and was benefited from the start."

"A box and a half cured me completely, and I am now rugged and strong. I have not been bothered with my trouble since I began taking the pills."

"I have recommended the pills to many women who are suffering as I suffered. They are the only thing that helped me in the trial that comes to so many women at my age."

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 23rd day of October, A. D. 1897.

O. C. HICKS, Notary Public.

When woman is passing beyond the age of motherhood, it is a crisis in her life. Then, if ever, proper attention to hygiene should be exercised. The attendant suffering will disappear and buoyant health will follow as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are used.

These pills exert a powerful influence in restoring the system to its proper condition. They contain in a condensed form all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood.

Almost daily we hear the virtues of Chamberlain's remedy extolled by those who use them. This is not an empty puff, paid for at so much a line, but is voluntarily given in good faith, in the hope that suffering humanity may try these remedies and, like the writer, be benefited.

We bake enamel and decorate equal to new. Make any part not in stock. Lubricate with Bailey's Best Bicycle Oil.

ABOUT WOMEN'S BANKS

FAIR SEX'S BUSINESS METHODS VINDICATED.

Women Give Bankers Very Little Trouble—Ordinary Objections Made by Bankers are Quite Unjust.

The Fifth Avenue National bank of New York has 5,000 women depositors. It is situated at the corner of Forty-fifth street and Fifth avenue, in the midst of the residences of the wealthy classes and is almost exclusively patronized by rich women, who keep their household accounts and pay money there. The receiving tellers are very busy during the first few days of every month, when patrons of the bank bring in the allowances they have received from their husbands or fathers, but the rest of the time they have comparatively few deposits to take care of and plenty of time to assist the paying teller in cashing checks that have been drawn to meet grocers' or dressmakers' bills. It is also the favorite institution of women who are rich in their own right and make large deposits on interest and dividend days and when the bank needs the entrance to the Lincoln National bank in Forty-second street, near Madison avenue; the Columbia bank, at the corner of Fifth avenue and Forty-second street; the Bank of New Amsterdam, at Broadway and Fortieth street, and the Plaza bank, near the entrance to Central park, are also favorite depositories for women.

Many bankers have a prejudice against women depositors, because of their lack of punctuality, their indifference to business rules, their tendency to overdraw and their inability to keep their balances straight; but the officials of these particular banks say that such objections are unjust, and that when a woman once learns how to look after money she gives very little trouble. So far as the matter of overdrafts is concerned they have more trouble from men and men customers as a rule expect accommodations which women never expect. New York bankers have a rule not to pay checks drawn by women in excess of their deposits, and therefore there is no loss on that account. Women have no notes to be discounted, no drafts to be cashed and never ask for loans on doubtful collaterals.

All the banks referred to have deposit and check books of an attractive appearance, made especially for their women customers, and upon the fly leaf of printed rules for their instruction. The Lincoln National bank furnishes its lady patrons with a list of "Don'ts" as follows:

"Don't draw a check unless you have the money in the bank or in your possession to deposit."
"Don't test the courage or generosity of your bank by presenting or allowing to be presented your check for a larger sum than your balance."

"Don't draw a check and send it to a person out of the city, expecting to make it good before it can possibly get back; sometimes telegraphic advice is asked about such checks."
"Don't exchange checks with anybody; this is called 'kiting' and is soon discovered by your bank. It does your friend no good and discredits you."

"Don't quarrel with the teller because he does not pay you in money exactly as you wish; he does the best he can. In all your intercourse with the bank officers treat them with the same courtesy and candor that you expect and desire if the situations were reversed."

"Don't give your check to a stranger. This is an open door to fraud, and if the bank loses through you it will not feel kindly toward you. When you send your checks out of the city to pay bills write the name and residence of your payee thus: 'Pay to John Jones & Co., of Boston.' This will put your bank on guard if presented at the counter."

"Don't commit the folly of supposing that because you trust the bank with money the bank ought to trust you by paying your overdrafts."

"Don't suppose you can behave badly in one bank and stand well with the others. Remember, there is a clearing house."

"Don't think it is unreasonable if your bank declines to discount an accommodation note. If you want an accommodation note discounted, tell your bank frankly that it is not, in their definition, a business note."—Exchange.

RAPID CALCULATIONS.

"I am afraid that man isn't loyal to our cause," said the officer.
"Well," answered Aguinaldo, "I do not know that it makes much difference whether he is loyal or not. I do not believe he has any money."
