Party Of Three Cross Mountain

Interesting Account Written Of Trip
By One Of Party Who Hiked
Through Haleakala

(Roughing It Over The Top Of Haleakala.)

Our party consisted of three, Bruce Cumming, Earl Harlow, and Arthur Gilbert, all teachers in the Mid-Pacific Institute. We spent some time camping on Hawaii, and landed from the Mauna Kea at midnight at Lahaina. An Oakland sensible 6, with a very sensible driver brought us over to the Wailuku Hotel, where hot baths, good sleep and civilized meals seemed gloriously welcome. We began camping after one day however, and spent two days in the Iao Valley and vicinity. The Iao Valley is the one place in the world where the mountains are as close and as warm as they seem.

Our main object was the crater of Haleakala, so we were always impatient to begin our trip to the top. We left Wailuku Thursday at 1:30 on the train for Paia. While in Wailuku we had many thrilling experiences dodging people who wanted to rent us a car or shine our shoes. We had never seen so many bootblacks or taxicabs before in one place as we saw in Wailuku. At Paia no one was at all anxious to secure our patronage but after an hour's wait on the comfortable lanai of the Paia Store, a Chevrolet picked us up and carried us to Olinda for $8.00. Olinda has no theater or street cars. It has however a reservoir, at which we filled our canteens.

From this place the trail is marked by a large post every tenth of a mile. We did not deem it wise to leave the fine Eucalyptus forest, so we went in to camp early, to the leeward of a ledge where there was plenty of fire wood. We cut some Ohia boughs for a bed and spreading our blankets upon them slept soundly until morning. The boughs were far superior to the bare ground for sleeping, especially as a part of the party was none too fat. After a breakfast of bacon, hot coffee and some canned goods, we loaded our packs and left the 7th mile post at 7 o'clock. We arrived at the Rest House at 12 o'clock Friday morning. Mr. Aiken told us numerous stories of vandalism concerning the Rest House. If there is a "meanest man" he sure is the fellow who would burn up Rest House furniture or carry away blankets.

St. Louis Alumni Hold Banquet

Former students of St. Louis College held a banquet at the Grand Hotel last Monday evening at 6:30 p. m., in honor of Brother Robert, S. M., who succeeds Brother Frank, S. M., as head of St. Anthony's School, and Herman Luis and Lieutenant Aloysius Spencer, U. S. A., president and secretary respectively of the St. Louis College Alumni.

Toastmaster Joaquin Garcia kept things humming and the affair was a very successful one.

Steps were taken to organize locally. Temporary officers were elected in the persons of Joaquin Garcia, president; Clem Crowell, vice-president and Widdiford F. Affonso, secretary-treasurer.

MAUI AND HILO PLAY CLOSE GAMES

From Hilo comes the word that there has been quite a tussle between the Maui and Hilo ball tossers for the baseball championship, up to Labor Day the honors having been even. The first game fell to Hilo who nipped the Maui men for a score of 7 to 0 and Maui took the game the next day with 8 to 2.

WAR VETERANS ORGANIZE

HONOLULU, Sept. 5—War Veterans meet here tomorrow night to organize American Legion affiliated with the mainland organization. They plan to establish posts on other islands and hold territorial convention for the election of officers about the 1st of the year.

Rice Purchases Coast Cattle At High Figure

Senator Harold W. Rice has purchased a herd of fine Hereford cattle in California for his ranch on the island of Maui, and, incidentally, will probably have the stock for exhibition at the coming fair on the Valley Isle.

Wm. Hyde Rice of Kauai, father of the senator, bought a herd of the same stock a few years ago. They had taken prizes everywhere exhibited and in order to get a bunch of more than 20 prize-winners the Lahue man paid a large lump sum.

Most of the cattle purchased by Senator Rice are from the experimental farm of the University of California. One bull, however, purchased from W. J. Bemmerly of Woodland for $2500 is said to represent the highest price paid for California registered stock. The total put into the herd by the Maui man was over $30,000.

The senator was assisted in making his selection by Prof. Gordon H. True of the college of agriculture of the university and director of the California international live stock show, who is well known in the islands.

The cattle will add much to the attractiveness of the live-stock end of the fair which will open at Kahului on October 9.—Advertiser.

Honolulu Plans For Maui Civic Meet October 9

Six weeks from now the Civic Convention will be opened in Wailuku, Maui, leaving very little time for Honolulu's civic organizations to prepare their program of topics to be discussed on the two days of the session.—October 9 and 10.

Chairman R. C. Brown, of the Oahu committee, has called a meeting for Wednesday, September 3, at 2 p. m. at the chamber of commerce rooms, to which the representatives of all civic organizations are requested to attend.

Maui has allotted two important subjects to the Oahu delegation. These are "good roads" and "social welfare."

Just how these topics are to be handled, and who shall present them is yet to be determined. At the Wednesday meeting Chairman Brown hopes to be able to launch plans under which these topics may be considered and preparations made for presenting various phases at Wailuku.—Advertiser.

REHEARSING FOR PLAY

Rehearsals by the Maui Players club on the play which will be given in October for the benefit of the Mary and Alexander school, "The Importance of Being Earnest" are weekly shaping the cast into a perfectly working organization. Under the direction of Helen Mar Linton the cast is being drilled in the art of stage production and the director promises Maui a play that will be well worth attending. The cast includes: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Blair, R. C. Pitcairn, Miss Margaret Rowland, Miss Armine von Tempisky, Ralph Wilson, Bert Gibb, Mrs. P. H. Ross, and Mrs. Caleb Burns.

Valley Isle Basket Men Lose To Hilo

HILO, Hawaii, Aug. 28—Maui basket ball players made a very weak showing Friday night against the Inter-scholastic team of Hilo, due in the main to the fact that a couple of the players were at the crater and those who played had not got their land legs. The final score was 51 to 8, and most of the eight points scored by Maui were from fouls. The teams were:

Wailuku—Eddie Rodriguez and Joe Silva, guards; Eugene Bal, center; A. Silva and A. A. Reis, forwards.

Interscholastic, Hilo—Kauula and Allie Carter, guards; L. Silva, center; Ah Fook and M. McNicol, forwards.

Big Junior Game Held Next Sunday

A championship ball game is scheduled for Sunday. Promptly at 3:15 p. m. the All-Stars and the Asahis will clash for the second time to decide the Junior League championship of the island for the season.

When the rival teams meet again the advantage will be with the Asahis for they already have one leg on the pennant, having won the first game of the play-off series a week ago last Sunday.

The fans who witnessed that contest will give any amount to see the coming game. They have not forgotten Tadashi's no hit no run victory neither have they forgotten that a record was established when the affair went but an hour and five minutes and baseball played every minute.

The Asahis are going in to make it 2 straight and the All-Stars are going in to even up their defeat. Summed up it is a case of the irresistible force and the impregnable stone-wall.

Just who have been selected to work out next Sunday has not been announced by the rival managers but the nines will probably take the field in this wise:

All-Stars
Wells Cummings, p; De Rego, c; Frank Bal, 1b; Al Reis, 2b; Ed. Rodriguez, 3b; Wm. Cummings, ss.; Baldwin, 1f; De Mello, cf; Correa, rf.

Asahis
Tadashi, p; Kenichi, c; Minoru, 1b; Iku, 2b; Masaichi, 3b; Yanagi, ss; Isami, 1f; Teijiro, cf; Kaneichi, rf.

Maunaloa Seminary Opens On Monday

The new year for Maunaloa Seminary begins next Monday the 8th. All the new members of the faculty will be here unless it is the sewing teachers. The new lead is Miss Fannie G. Bradford who was in the Egyptian Sudan for a number of years as principal of day and boarding schools for girls. Her experience will be invaluable to the Seminary. A strong faculty has been gathered. Mrs. Grace P. Haven continues her faithful service and loving counsel in the grammar grades, having already been in the school for fourteen years. In the primary grades Miss Lucella M. Wieser will continue her careful, thorough work. Miss Ethel Collins is the school nurse and has charge of the play ground activities. Mrs. Louise C. Jones continues her efficient instruction in music.

The new teachers have been fortunate in securing bookings on steamers, Miss Ida Woods comes to do departmental work in the upper grades after several years of teaching in Knoxville College in Tennessee. The sewing will be taught by Miss Margaret Cowden who is a graduate of Bradley Polytechnic, Peoria, Illinois. Miss Norma Hogue an experienced grade teacher comes from Monmouth, Illinois. The matron and teacher of Homer Economics is Miss May Naner, a graduate of in Domestic Science and Household Arts, from the Western Illinois State Normal School.

HANSEN--PROUTY

A quiet church wedding, the service read by Canon William Auli, took place at St. Andrew's cathedral directly after the arrival of the Mauna which brought the bride, Miss Anna Prouty of Ione, California. The groom, Mr. William Robert Hansen of Wailuku, Maui, and a number of friends met the steamer and the party went directly to the Cathedral where the ceremony was performed. Mr. O. C. Scott, a cousin of the bride, giving her away. Miss Ragnhild Hansen, the groom's sister, acted as maid of honor.

After spending their honeymoon at Haleiwa, Mr. and Mrs. Hansen will go to their home at Wailuku, Maui.—Advertiser.

Maui Poloists Win First Honors

Baldwin Family Shine On The Field
And Keep Army Busy, Piling Up
A Big Score For The Valley Isle

Polo Lineups
Maui—No. 1 Frank Baldwin; No. 2 Edward Baldwin; No. 3 Arthur Collins; No. 4—Sam Baldwin.

Army—No. 1 Lieut. Sawyer; No. 2 Lieut. Crabbe; No. 3 Capt. Franklin; No. 4 Lieut. Mewshaw; Sub. Lieut. Coldwell.

Aggressive tactics pursued throughout the afternoon at the first game of the inter-island polo season Sunday procured for Maui the first honors, the game going to them with a score of 22 to 1-1/2.

Spectacular in the extreme, the Maui veterans, who played against the Army team, presented to Honolulu society a game such has not been seen on the polo field for many a day. Edward Baldwin's playing was phenomenal, and the remark was made by a spectator after watching the young polo player "Maui drives the ball while the Army puts it." For all of which Maui is very proud, and will welcome home these members to win the latest laurels for the Valley Isle in the field of sports.

Score In Record Time

The first score was made by Frank Baldwin in 2 min. 25 sec. Edward Baldwin made the first scoring for Maui in the second chukker in 52 seconds, catching the ball in midair and driving it to goal in wonderful style. The Baldwins kept the matter of scoring in the family, for the next score was made by Sam Baldwin in 3 minutes 12 seconds. In the third chukker, the game still being in the Baldwin family, Sam got three goals in quick succession then Arthur Collins got a chance to help the score along and was closely followed by Edward Baldwin. In the fourth chukker Collins wasted no time but scored in one minute flat, but Maui got no more for that period. In the second half the Maui team still showed good form and took the aggressive once more, keeping the Army busy chasing them around the field. The plays of the second half were as brilliant as the first, and when the last gong sounded Maui had 22 to her credit to the Army's 1 1/2.

The Maui team will play the winner of the Oahu-Kauai game for the championship.

Contracts Let For Fair Building

The contract for the erection of the Maui County fair building at Kahului was awarded last week by the department of public works to the Maui Fair and Racing Association, its bid being $13,350. Other bids of $13,900 and $31,000 were received.

RAYMONDS ENJOYING SPORT OF KINGS

Dr. Raymond will stay in Honolulu until the end of the races having his hopes pinned to Robert Lee. The races which were to be held Labor Day were postponed on account of wet and muddy track. Angus McPhee has a string of ponies among them Mary Jay which he feels certain will do more this trip than make a second.

BASEBALL MANAGEMENT EXTENDS HEARTY THANKS

The management of the Wailuku Baseball Team takes this opportunity in thanking Messrs. Chas. D. Green, J. W. Bains, Judge T. E. M. Osorio, Judge W. S. Wise, Wm. H. Beers, Manuel Baptiste, Dr. Kubo, Court Mauna Kea, A. O. F., the Hilo Baseball League, the members of the respective teams of Hilo, and the general public of Hilo, for their kind favors rendered the members of the Wailuku Baseball Team during its recent visit to the Rainy City. The manager of said team hopes that the time may come that the many favors rendered will be reciprocated.

DISTURBERS OF THE NIGHT

"In the old days of Hawaii, before commonsense laws had been supplanted by cumbersome and often meaningless statutes, dogs were forbidden to bark at night.

"The dogs of those days may have been no more capable of understanding law than the dogs of today, but nevertheless, they didn't bark at night with the impunity that marks the nocturnal yapping of their present-day descendants. For the law wisely visited the punishment upon the owner of the noisy canine.

"It's a pity we haven't such a law today—or if, by any chance, there is such a law buried in our statute books, that it isn't enforced.

"The Advertiser has during the past week received several letters from indignant citizens protesting against the disturbance of their slumbers by the chorus of yowling, yapping and baying that makes night hideous in all parts of the city.

"Most of the writers said they themselves were dog owners but that they kept their dogs shut up at night, and they thought others should be made to do the same, instead of letting them roam free to disturb people who wanted to sleep.

"Attention has been called to the ruling of an Oakland judge who held that a householder was justified in shooting a dog that nightly kept him and his family awake, and some Honolulu men announce their intention of giving occasion for a similar ruling here.

"This is not a diatribe against dogs. It is not the dogs that are to blame but their owners. There are scores of men in this town who seem to have no regard whatever for the peace of other people.

"If there is no other remedy, cannot the owner of a noisy dog be arrested for disturbing the peace?"

There are several dogs in Wailuku, and an equal number in other parts of the island who, when it comes to barking, are regular Marathoners. We think they will even beat the Honolulu dogs for long distance barking. The Maui News believes that the foregoing editorial, reprinted from the Advertiser, will strike a sympathetic note in the hearts of Maui-ites.

MORE POWER TO 'EM

The Board of Trade of Hilo is instituting a campaign through the papers for the elimination of illicit liquor manufacture, more particularly with respect to the okolehao and swipes which it being manufactured in large quantities on the Island of Hawaii. In this respect Maui-ites might do well to follow Hawaii's example, and warn her citizens not to indulge in the liquor manufactured by these bootleggers. If there is no demand for the vile stuff there will be less encouragement for the manufacturers of this concentrated poison, and instead of there being an increase of the business as is now the tendency, there will be discouragement to them. The Maui news reprints the warning which the Hilo Board of Trade has caused to be spread broadcast throughout the island.

"Owing to the lack of a Deputy United States Marshal on this island there is being illicitly distilled and offered for sale more or less openly a vile liquor called okolehao (o-ko-lay-how) and an equally poisonous brew known as "swipes." If you are offered liquor of any kind or by whatever name, the safest course is to refuse it. SERIOUS ILLNESS, BLINDNESS OR DEATH may be the result should you drink of it.

"Okolehao is manufactured from such scraps and offal as refuse molasses impregnated with poisonous chemicals, rotten bananas, moldy rice and grains, decayed fruits and swill. It is often reinforced with denatured or wood alcohol. It is distilled in filthy cast-off vessels fitted with worms or discarded lead sewer pipe.

"Swipes is made of decayed sweet potatoes, bananas, and other fruit refuse and condemned brown sugar. It is also reinforced in many instances with wood alcohol.

"THESE DRINKS ARE RANK POISON—AVOID THEM"
"The Board of Trade of Hilo."

MAUI DID NOT FAIL

The drive for funds for the Kula Sanitarium is now over, with a better feeling throughout the county on the part of everyone. Each one who contributed to the drive which has been so successful as to insure even more money for improvements to this great institution than was asked, has the feeling that it was their mite that did it. The county as a whole is to be congratulated at having upheld the reputation which Maui has of never failing in anything which it sets out to do.

The thanks of an entire community are due to each individual in the community, as well as the thanks of the patients who will benefit by the generosity of the individuals.

THE STRENGTH OF CIDER

Speaking of prohibition, Maine seems to have solved the moonshine problem, through the medium of cider. The Maine legislature refused to ratify the Federal prohibition amendment unless the Government consented to let them manufacture cider, and also withdrew the right of search and seizure clause. And as Maine was the first among prohibition states, and put these provisions in her original prohibition law, the Federal government acceded to her request. Now fellows, all fall in line, for cider has possibilities you know!

GET IT BACK

So cowboys had to raise $15,000 to ransom two American army aviators from Mexicans. When is the day coming for the American army to go over the border and take that money back again?

DO YOU GET IT?

It is reported that anyone can now send a cablegram to Germany at a cost of $1 per word. What most of us would want to say would cost just $3.

THEATERS

"The Marriage Price"

Elsie Ferguson, the beautiful and talented star, will be the featured attraction on Maui the coming week in her latest photoplay entitled "The Marriage Price." Some critics have acclaimed this the greatest of all Miss Ferguson's pictures—all agree that it is one of the best that she has done. Adapted from Griswold Wheeler's story of the same name it tells of the career of Helen Tremaine, a beautiful society girl, suddenly reduced from the greatest wealth to the most abject poverty. Her suitors are many and the propositions that come to her ears from all sides make her head turn.

The path that Helen chooses is far from the right one at first. Among her suitors, she is unable to distinguish the dross from the gold and she only has it revealed to her after a sequence of highly entertaining episodes have been developed. The climax is one of those rare occasions that offers the spectator a real thrill. "The Marriage Price" was adapted to the screen by Eve Unsell, one of the most accomplished of scenario writers, who by the way, was the author of Miss Ferguson's last picture while the direction of the work was again in charge of Emile Chautard.

The picture has been given a lavish production and its varied scenery unfolds as a series of delights to the eye. Her support, too, is of the highest type, being headed by Wyndham Standing, an accomplished leading man, and Lionel Atwill, one of the most sought after actors on Broadway, who is now playing in the Balasgo stage success, "Tiger! Tiger!"

Helen Tremaine, a society girl moving in the richest of all sets, considers herself engaged to Kenneth Gordon, an idler. A westerner, Frederick Lawton, rich Wall Street man, admires her but she does not return his admiration. On a morning following a particularly lavish party Helen hears of the death of her father in Chicago and that she has been left penniless. Kenneth, without substantial funds himself, suggests that she marry Lawton but she refuses. Van Orden, a wealthy married man, calls later supposedly to offer condolences. Instead he attacks her. Lawton arrives at the moment and throws the intruder down the stairs. Van Orden vows to ruin Lawton through the market.

Helen finds it an almost futile proposition to earn her own living. Gordon obtains employment with Lawton as his western manager but is, in reality, playing against him hand in hand with Van Orden. In New York again Gordon plans to take Helen to lunch. Lawton discovers the scheme and sends Gordon out of town, meeting Helen himself and acting the host. He again asks her to marry him and this time she consents. He takes her to his aunt's home where he gives her a block of stock saying it was saved from the wreck of her father's estate.

"Bonnie Annie Laurie"

Something new in the way of war pictures will be seen on Maui next week when the latest Fox feature starring Peggy Hyland entitled "Bonnie Annie Laurie" is shown. The scenes of this production are laid in Scotland and France—the battlefields of France—and the story concerns a Scotch lassie, her admirer from her home village and her devoted lover from the United States. Chance places the girl in a position where she is obliged to choose between the two men. And whichever way she chooses she knows full well she will break a heart. It is this appealing situation which forms the crux of the action of "Bonnie Annie Laurie"—it is a dramatic moment that will bring tears to the eyes—tears of pity and admiration.

The picture has been excellently handled from every standpoint. Not alone is the atmosphere of Scotland faithfully reproduced on the screen but Director Harry Millarde has gained some striking realistic effects of the battlefields of France. Miss Hyland does beautiful work in the title role and receives adequate support from her two leading men, William Bailey and Sidney Mason.

The story of "Bonnie Annie Laurie" was inspired by the memorable poem of Robert Burns. While of course the story cannot be traced through the lines of the verses, it was the picture painted of the girl, Bonnie Laurie, that gave the author, Hamilton Thompson, the will and the inspiration to conceive the plot of the play. And it is a picture which, in every way, does justice to the cause of its inspiration. It is not just a "hurrah" war picture, but a human, vital story—really a chapter from life.

Early Rebellions Of Missionary Days

Rev. A. D. Shaw, Ph. D.

About 1825 there commenced the cry against the missionaries that they meddled in government affairs. So far as their influence affected the chiefs this was true. That they gave advice in emergencies when asked, is evident from the home influence they exerted and the encouragement they offered the loyal chiefs in the rebellions at Kauai in 1824.

In the early stage of the career of the rebellions, the rulers formed an attachment to them and to the religion the mission fostered. Hence the government was influenced by the missionaries who were the origin and the active causes of the good intentions to act justly, wisely, mercifully and righteously. The charge was true, indirectly that the missionaries did "meddle" in government affairs in order that justice and goodness might prevail and become the heritage of the whole Hawaiian people.

Since the discovery of the islands, licentiousness was the practice throughout the islands, until the landing of the missionaries in 1820, so that at the first appearance of any restraint being placed upon this evil the advocates of it viewed the inauguration as an infraction of their rights. It is not to be wondered at then that the vicious whites encouraged and started opposition to the missionaries. This brings the history of the missionaries from 1820 to January 1827. Up to this let it be clearly understood that no missionary ever set foot upon these islands, except the two American parties who landed here in 1820 and 1823, sent out from New England by the American Board of Missions, and also Messrs. Herman, Bennett and Ellis, who arrived in Honolulu in 1822 as a deputation from the London Congregational Missionary Society and also Rev. William Ellis and wife and two Tahitian teachers sent on a visit to these islands by the same society. These were the only missionaries in these islands up to 1827.

In this way God took two parties of American missionaries and evangelized a heathen nation. He took a heathen people, opened their eyes to see the beauty of the christian religion and to-day all the christianity, the education, the commercial prosperity of the people can be traced as a result of the lives of these men of God.

On The Other Islands

Rev. Akaike Akama was the guest of honor at a large social given Friday evening in the Sunday school room of the Kawaiahao church, of which he has been pastor for several years. The program included many addresses by officers of the church, and a talk by Judge Sanford B. Dole, who told of Kawaiahao church in its early days, and the work which it has done for the community. After the program refreshments were served.

Mr. Akama is leaving for the mainland on the September transport and will go to Hartford College, in Connecticut, for a post graduate course in theological work.

Land Given To Boy Scouts—An area of government land at 29 Miles, Hawaii covering a little more than 64 acres has been set aside for the use of the Kilauea Council of the Boy Scouts of America by an executive order issued yesterday by Governor C. J. McCarthy.

Heavy Fine Imposed—A new high record for fine was made in the Honolulu police court recently when Feliciano de la Torres, Filipino, was assessed $1000 damages by Judge J. B. Lightfoot for allowing his room to be used for immoral purposes.

Mayor Becomes Peevish—Criticism of the luan held recently in honor of Secretary of the Navy Daniels "give me a pain," declared Mayor Joseph J. Fern yesterday. Hizzoner was decidedly peevisish over the unkind remarks about the luan which were passed at the last meeting of the supervisors, especially as he was of the opinion that the critics were trying to "pass the buck" to him for an entertainment for which they themselves voted.

New School Directors—The Puulua Japanese language school has elected a new board of directors, and has severed its connection with the Hongwanji mission. This is the first school to separate from the mission following a resolution passed at the last conference of Japanese teachers recommending that the Japanese religion and education be separated.

U. S. TAKES OVER MORE

(By The Associated Press)

COBLENZ, Sept. 3—Foch decided to extend territory in Rhine district held permanently by Americans so as to be twice as large as that held when last combat division left for home.

War Loan Director May Be Permanent

Probable That Island Man May Be Appointed To Care For Federal Securities In Territory

Will Hawaii's new war loan director become a permanent Government official, in charge of a department corresponding in size and importance to those of the Collector of Internal Revenue, Collector of Customs and Immigration Inspector?

Recent announcement that a salaried war loan director is to be appointed for the territory, and that he is to have full control of activities in all federal war loan securities has given rise to much speculation among bankers, brokers and others who had active share in the Liberty Loan and W. S. S. campaigns.

It is generally thought the new officer will be an island man. It is not yet known how much salary the territorial director will receive. The actual standing of the office is certain to be measured largely by the income it offers, for upon that depends the calibre of the man to be chosen.

Before making recommendations to the federal reserve governor Mr. Tuleton queried him on this point, but to date has received no definite reply, the California official being temporarily absent from his office.

If the remuneration is comparable to that given the Collector of Internal Revenue, for instance, it may be possible to find a high type of business man having considerable knowledge of financial affairs, to take the responsibility.

Needs Of Loans Still Evident

From the fact that the Government now favors placing its war loan work on a more strict business basis, it is thought likely that the activities may continue indefinitely, becoming a distinct and fairly permanent branch of the Treasury Department.

In this event Director Tuleton believes investment in government securities will become a conspicuous feature in the lives of the poorer people of Hawaii. While thrift stamps and Liberty bonds offer smaller returns than most industrial stocks they will contain the superior value of greatest safety, which is regarded as (Con. on next page, Column 3.)

Fortunes To Be Had In Reindeer

Large Profits Said To Accrue To Raisers Of Arctic Animals

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 19—(Associated Press)—New fortunes still lie in the far north for adventurers who will go into the Arctic sections of Canada and Alaska and raise reindeer for the outside world markets, according to Vilhjalmur Stefansson, Canadian Arctic explorer.

With the meat supply of the outside world decreasing annually, some day the bulk of the meat used in Europe and America will be brought down from tundra plains lying along the northern edge of the world, the explorer predicted here recently.

"Reindeer carcases can be sold in Seattle at present at a total cost of between $7.00 and $8.00 and bring an average of about $30.00 each, leaving a clear profit of about $22.00 for each animal," Stefansson said.

At present a large amount of reindeer meat from the Seward Peninsula section of northwestern Alaska is being sold in Minnesota. The meat retails at a price a bit higher than beef but it is expected to drop in price as the supply increases.

Investigations are being made by Stefansson for the Canadian government regarding the feasibility of transplanting reindeer into northeastern Canada for raising for outside markets.

Over 1,000,000 acres of northern Canada lie ready for the herds, Stefansson estimated. These lands are rich with northern vegetation which it is said will support the animals the year round, regardless of good or bad weather conditions.

According to one scheme suggested the reindeer would be brought across the Atlantic from Scandinavian countries for the transplanting in northeastern Canada. The northeastern section would be selected because of the fact it is closer than other parts of northern Canada to the markets of Europe. It is said that it costs more to transport reindeer meat from northwestern Alaska to Seattle than from northeastern Canada to England.

Nome, Alaska, people who recently formed a company to raise and ship reindeer have four large herds and are considering taking an airplane north for use in herding the animals.

Island Boy Back From Two Years In Air Service

Lieut Herbert F. Cullen, Royal Air Force, arrived on the Lurline this week after serving about two years in Europe. He wore the handsome new uniform of the Royal Air Force, a light blue, made of cloth manufactured in England for the Russian army. The Russian debacle left 3,000,000 yards of cloth on the manufacturers' hands and it was then decided to utilize it for the air force.

Lieutenant Cullen is the son of the Rev. F. N. Cullen of Paauilo, Hawaii. He is a graduate of Oahu College and was a student of the College of Hawaii when he left Honolulu in March, 1917, and went to Canada where he enlisted in the Canadian Infantry and went into training at Toronto.

In December, 1917, he went to England and on application was transferred to the Royal Air Service, and was trained at the Royal Naval College, Greenwich, and later at Vendome, 80 miles from Paris.

Shot Down Once

When he went into active service, he was attached to Squadron 46 B. E. F., and was at first engaged in scout work in a single seater. Later, during the great drive, he was put at what was called "ground straffing" that is, attacking Hun troops on the roads, as they advanced or retreat. On one occasion he was shot down, the shrapnel piercing the petrol tank of his plane. He landed just inside the British lines.

In the squadron were 25 men, and of these at one time there were only four left, the rest being reported as missing, killed or taken prisoners. The men of the squadron were from all parts of the world and included three Americans.

Honolulu Near Hongkong?

Lieutenant Cullen reports that it was hard to get into the heads of those of the officials providing transportation that he was not to go from London to Honolulu by way of Hongkong, near which they thought Honolulu was situated.

Lieutenant Cullen is the guest of Bishop and Mrs. Restarick. On arrival, a wireless was sent to the Rev. F. N. Cullen, who is visiting Lahaina, and he and Mrs. Cullen arrived Thursday morning to meet their son.

DR. JOSEPH Y. TING, D. D. S., Who Will Open An Up-To-Date Dental Office In Wailuku This Week.

Dr. Joseph Y. Ting, brother of A. K. Ting of the Baldwin Bank and Young Ting, manager of the Wailuku Hardware company, announces that he will open his dental office this week on Main street opposite the Wailuku hotel.

Dr. Ting is a graduate of the Northwestern University Dental College, at Evanston, Ill., a suburb of Chicago. He has also had a year's practice in dental work on the mainland and has successfully passed his Territorial Dental Board examination, being now duly licensed to practice dentistry in the Territory.

While at college Dr. Ting did much to advertise the Territory, making a six weeks tour on a Chautauqua circuit in which he lectured about Hawaii.

Dr. Ting is a native of Wailuku, the son of one of the Island's old time Chinese preachers.

Pacific Fleet As Seen By Poet

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1—(Associated Press)—"Lords of lightning and steam and fire" are they who manned the Pacific Fleet when it swept through the Golden Gate today in the words of Albert Rupp, shipyard poet.

Rupp, a "bolter-up" in one of the great plants across the bay from San Francisco, attracted considerable attention by his writings on war time ship building.

The arrival of the fleet today he celebrated in these verses:

THE ARRIVAL OF THE FLEET
By Albert Rupp
Mother of Oceans' mighty tide!
Here, for thy empire-building pride,
The Golden Gate is open wide,
O'er-canopied by clouds of glory!
And here for a new immortal day,
To our mountain-locked magnificent Bay,
Welcome the Fleet, whose power shall sway
Our fate in civilization's story.

Hark, as the bells in the steeples ring,
And our eager millions loudly sing!
Come in, oh Fleet! and your blessings bring,
For the peace of our majesty and splendor!

With your masters of air, and wizards of wire;
With your lords of lightning, and steam, and fire;
Woe to the foe who dares desire,
To be our sacred land's offender!

Gallant heroes of sky and sea!
Guards of our precious liberty!
Stalwart sons of our homes of the free,
Whose deeds have filled the world with wonder!

Thrilled by the glow of your noble zeal,
Great are we in our wealth of weal,
As ye man our country's walls, of steel,
And speak for us with their throats of thunder!

LONDON, Sept. 3—Moscow wireless says Kolchak evacuated Omsk and moved forces to Irkutsk.

the thing most needed by the small investor.

Before the war it was practically impossible for the poor man to buy government bonds because they were of large denomination and were sold in huge blocks. Now it is possible to buy them in blocks of $5 each and to accumulate even this sum by daily or weekly investments of 25 cents each. A large part of the money saved by small installments in W. S. S. is expected to find its way into the banks as investment in industrial stocks, as the savers accumulate it in sufficient quantities to enable them to buy the better-paying commercial securities.

Alaska Army Post To Be Abandoned

NOME, Alaska, Aug. 21—(Associated Press)—Fort Davis, a few miles from Nome, one of the five American army posts in Alaska, is to be abandoned, according to word received here. Next to Fort Gibbon, at Tanana, Alaska, Davis is Uncle Sam's farthest northern army station.

The soldiers at Davis are to be transferred to Fort St. Michael, Alaska, which lies south of here near the mouth of the Yukon River. Washington probably thinks St. Michael a better place for the men as the point is busy during the summer months with the transferring of passengers and freight from ocean steamers to the Yukon River steamboats.

Nome does not want to see Fort Davis abandoned and a number of protests have been sent to Washington. The order to give up the post was made in line with the government's new retrenchment policy, it is believed.

Davis is located closer to overseas foreign shores than any other American mainland army post, it has been pointed out. The Nome Nugget, a newspaper, speaks of the sad plight of the soldiers who would be in a sloop load of hostile Bolsheviks should sail across from the "eastern Siberian shores, not far from here.

Shipping Board Outlines Service For American Merchant Marine Fleet—Flag To Go To Every Port

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—(Associated Press)—Trade routes reaching every quarter of the globe have been established by the Shipping Board as part of its program of converting the new American Merchant Marine fleet from war to peace work.

The board announced today that it had 729 ships of 4,288,971 deadweight tons operating in 62 regular cargo line services and in general cargo and "tramp" service. This is exclusive of more than 2,500,000 tons still in service for the Army and Navy and in overseas civilian food relief work. Additional trade routes will be opened and more ships assigned for this purpose as tonnage becomes available.

Villa's Ammunition Coming From U. S.

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 27—(Associated Press)—Francisco Villa has obtained his ammunition for equipping his men for his bandit raids by smuggling across the United States border or by capture of Carranza troops. It is believed that in the past, millions of rounds of ammunition have been smuggled into Mexico for Villa from Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. Small fortunes are said to have been gained by the smugglers.

The United States has stopped the smuggling by wholesale, by compelling ammunition dealers to obtain permits from the Army Intelligence Department and by requiring them to make reports of sales showing who receives the ammunition and the use to which it is to be put.

Nevertheless, it is claimed small quantities of ammunition still are being smuggled over the border.

Villa has often boasted that he obtained a large part of his ammunition in many rifles from Carranza troops. He captured 40,000 rounds of ammunition intended for Carranza at Parral last spring. Prior to Villa's last attack on Juarez a few weeks ago, a Carranza customs official was discovered delivering ammunition to Villa's spies in Juarez.

Villa finances his revolutionary movement by compelling foreign mining and cattle companies to make "forced loans" in return for protection and by seizing and selling cattle, silver and other property. Instance in which he has forced "loans" have been reported within a few months. When Villa was encamped near Juarez he carried a travelling bag filled with American gold and currency obtained from companies in northern Mexico.

It is known that he has captured some of the horses sold by the United States army remount depot at Fort Bliss to the Carranza government.

Misa Carrie has taken a school on Maui this year and a new teacher is expected to take her place at Kaunakakai.

All of the Cookes left their summer home on the 4th of this month.

Chang Tung and wife will be leaving shortly on an extended trip to China. Mr. Tung is one of the long-time merchants of Kaunakakai. Ah Leong will take charge of the business during Mr. Tung's absence.

Mrs. Hitchcock left for Honolulu on the 29th.

Father Thomas went to Honolulu last week to place a young Japanese boy in the St. Louis College.

A merry party made Wailu from Kamalo on foot last week. They made the trip without accident.

Three lots at Pukoo between Lin Kee's store and Duvauchelle's were bought by the latter last week.

The Association at its regular meeting Saturday recommended the reservation and improvement of two lots of land for recreation purposes, one of three acres Government land at Ualapue, the other between the Ranch office and Mr. Otto Meyer's store at Kaunakakai.

Fenced in and sodded with manieie these would give the three base-ball clubs here a field for activities.

There is a healthy rivalry between Kualapuu, Kaunakakai and Kamalo.

The Road Overseer of this district guarantees that with his present appropriation and the new auto truck, BREST, Sept. 3—Cardinal Mercier sailed for the United States on transport Northern Pacific.

he will soon have our roads well ditched and gravelled all the way to Kaunakakai from Wailuku and Kalae.

Arrangements are being made for Molokai exhibits at the coming Fair on Maui.

There should be some good Hawaiian products hats, mats, fans, etc., stock, and agricultural products.

The long continued dry weather on Molokai has given the Humane Officer of this island some work to do in looking after disabled horses and cattle.

Many have died and others were saved a lingering illness by shooting them.

Some dogs and cats came under the solicitude, and one boy was removed to Honolulu where he will receive the needed attention.

Two chickens and one turkey with fractured legs were personally treated and cured—and one mule at least will have a smaller load to carry at Kaunakakai.

Mr. J. F. Brown of Puuhoku did not sell his ranch as generally reported. He does not intend to leave Molokai.

Your correspondent is permitted to give a list of contents of the coming issue of YOU BET which will be issued a little later than expected. This will be the first paper published on Molokai.

Among other contributions will be:
"A Plain Statement of the Case."
"Arrived."
"I Love You Molokai" (poem).
"On And About Molokai."
"Uncensored Remark a Symposium."
"Molokai net: District and County."

Senior Baseball Season Is Over

Wailuku Team Carries Off Most Of Honors—Robinson Big Batter

The 1919 baseball season is over insofar as the Seniors go. During the past few nights the official statistician has been turning in during the wee hours of morn. Now that his report is finished he will be given an opportunity to make up lost sleep.

In the fielding department Wailuku topped the other teams, getting a percentage of 894. Batting honors go to the Paia aggregation who lead with 232.

Foster Robinson, captain of the Paia team, was king pin of them all when it came to the stick. Out of 39 trips to the plate Foster connected safely on 13 occasions. O'Rourke, a member of the same nine, came second with 333 and Shim of Wailuku finished third with 308. The other players in the 300 class are Pashao and Lemon of Lahaina, who got 304 and 300 respectively.

WILSON'S TOUR SPEECH

(By The Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Sept. 4.—Wilson, opening tour, declared in address his purpose to go out and report to fellow countrymen. He said it seemed necessary that he make report because he read many speeches about treaty and was unable to gather from them what the treaty contained. He said that the treaty undertook to punish Germany but there was no thought to overwhelmingly crush great people. He declared that the League of Nations was formed in fulfillment of promise and that U. S. was fighting this war to end business of that sort forever and not to establish league which would be unfaithful to those who died. Said that League of Nations was only thing that could protect recurrence of this catastrophe. He called criticism of treaty a violation of American traditions. He said he was proud that he too belonged to old revolutionary school and that he was following vision which fathers had seen. He said that treaty was attempt to right wrongs of Europe and in his humble opinion it was measurable success.

Abolition Of The Submarine Is Not Probable

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(Associated Press)—Abolition of the submarine as an instrument of modern warfare does not seem probable to American naval officers who have given careful study to the arguments put forth before Allied naval commissions investigating the subject. It is the belief of these officers that submarines will become more and more numerous in the principal navies of the world during the next few years.

In reviewing the deliberations of the Allied Commissions on Naval Terms, American officials find that while many pertinent arguments were developed against the use of submarines, many strong points also were advanced in their favor. The principal argument for these abolitions was that as long as the submarines were recognized as legitimate instruments of warfare there would remain the danger of some nation repeating the ruthless and inhuman campaign inaugurated by Germany. Advocates of the submarine, however, do not believe such past inhumanities should be the determining factor in deciding whether the submarine should be abolished.

The naval faction both in this country and abroad opposed to the abolition of the submarine believe that the factor of possible mercilessness of the undersea craft should not be separated from the equal and possibly worse horrors of gas warfare, bombing from the air and mines. The parallel between the submarine and the marine mine seems closest particularly since the mine is now and has for many years been recognized by all nations as a legitimate instrument of war. Figures gathered by the British during the war show that the losses to British merchant shipping through mines amounted to 6,777,000 tons compared with 5,737,000 tons sunk by submarines.

The argument has been advanced that despite the fact that the best inventive genius of several nations worked on the problem of devising means to wipe the submarine out of existence, the sub-surface craft remains the only long-radius vessel that alone and unsupported, can go nearly anywhere and, entirely discounting its main purpose of torpedoing enemy warships, its unique defensive qualities makes it a naval weapon of the utmost usefulness even when restricted in its against merchant shipping.

At the worst, naval strategists point out, it is never a liability that must be protected and defended. It is admitted among naval men that the big ship still rule the seas. How long this will be true is the question now taxing the best naval brains of the world. It is conceded for the present at least that the nation that holds blindly to one line of naval development and neglects another, particularly the submarine, will be in great ultimate danger.

Will Study Origin Of Hawaiians

A two-year investigation in the South Seas to determine the origin of the Polynesians, and to investigate the migration of the race from which the Hawaiians sprang, is being planned by the trustees of the Bernice Pauahi Bishop estate.

It is expected that arrangements will be completed so that a ship may leave Hawaii next spring, carrying a party of explorers, scientists and other investigators.

The investigation will be conducted principally to ascertain where the Polynesians came from originally, how they came and where they stopped on the way, the latter question being one that has never been settled definitely, as far as known locally.

Th trustees of the estate will have administrative charge of the expedition and will aid it financially. It is also expected that other financial assistance will be secured from a philanthropist in the east and from scientific institutions on the mainland which are interested in the various phases of work to be undertaken.

The executive staff will be furnished by the Bishop museum, this staff to have complete charge of the expedition. It is estimated that it will take at least six months to complete preparations, and it is hoped that the specially chartered ship will be able to leave early next year.—Star-Bulletin.

carrying four canteens of water, which proved not to be enough, and more than enough food. At 10:30 we were at the Bubble Cave, and at 12 at the grove at the far side of the crater. There is no water at the grove and a saddle horse had died the day before we entered the crater and was lying right in the trail where he had fallen. Half an hour was as long as we dared to rest at the grove and we began the decent at 12:30. Goats were very plentiful and some of them quite tame. The only shots we took, however, were with a kodak. We found the trail very steep, and, for the most part filled with loose, rolling rock. Our toes pounded the front of our shoes until we were very sore footed. We arrived at the school house at Kaupo about 6 o'clock, ate our supper, and slept on the lanai. It is not necessary to carry as heavy a supply of food as we did, as there is a good store at Kaupo.

The hike from Kaupo to Kipahulu is seven miles of very steep trail crossing four deep canons, but it was enough for day. Our toes were so sore we much preferred the uphill to the downhill. From Kipahulu to the end of the road near Keanae we took a Ford at a cost of $10 and two hours time, but it is better to hike over the road because the scenery is worth while. At the end of the Ditch Trail we shouldered our packs and began hiking. The trail is easy, water is everywhere, and there is much wild fruit, so the man who goes afoot is unwise to carry a very heavy load. It is a very rainy region and we suffered some from the rain and wet feet, so the car that picked us up at Kailua was mighty welcome.
