PEPEEKEO CHANGES HANDS

The unexpected departure of Charles M. Cooke, President of the Bank of Hawaii, by the Alameda this morning, is the result of one of the biggest and most important plantation transfers that has taken place, probably, since the change of ownership of Hawaiian Sugar, or Hawaiian Commercial, several years ago.

The deal was finally concluded yesterday afternoon, and was nothing less than the sale and purchase of 4,000 shares of Pepeekeo Plantation stock.

C. Brewer & Company made the purchase from Alexander Young, and Mr. Cooke sailed by the Alameda this morning with Mr. Young to complete some details of the transaction, though they are merely details the actual purchase and sale having already been completed.

The price at which the sale was made, is not announced.

Pepeekeo plantation is one of the old established, constant dividend paying plantations in the Hilo district, on the Island of Hawaii, between Oahu and Honolulu, and not many miles from the town of Hilo.

This plantation was originally established by C. Along, and for many years, if not at the present time, his family held a considerable block of stock in the plantation. The total number of shares in the corporation is 7,500, so that the sale of 4,000 shares by Alexander Young gives C. Brewer & Company a clear controlling interest in the plantation. Nothing has been said about it authoritatively, but with this control of the stock, it is to be expected that a change in the agency will take place as soon as present agency contracts expire or are dissolved.

Alexander Young has been a large stockholder in Pepeekeo for many years. The agents for many years past have been T. H. Davies & Co.

POSTPONED TO JUDGE DE BOLT'S TERM

Judge Robinson has made an order postponing all criminal cases on the First Circuit Court calendar to the next term, which opens on April 4, when Judge De Bolt will take up the criminal calendar. Aside from the Jones case, which is in doubtful status, there are about twenty cases left on the calendar, with which to start the new term.

The number of cases is the smallest with which a term has opened for some years, but as there are several murder cases which will take some time there is a good deal of work ahead for the court. The Jones case may be on the calendar, as it is considered not unlikely that Judge Robinson will postpone it. In that event Judge De Bolt may be asked to rule on the question of open venire and to give Jones a trial with jurors drawn from the general citizenship of the island.

Three other murder cases transferred to Judge De Bolt's calendar are the Territory against Osumi, Yoshikawa Dengiro and Man Chong. Dengiro's case is from Kanai, where he was once found guilty. If an order for a change of venue in the Jones case is decided to be illegal Dengiro's transfer will be in the same state. Man Chong is the Chinese accused of the murder of Policeman Mahelona. Osumi is alleged to have killed a Japanese woman in Ewa.

The vouchers indictments against Solomon Meheula, Jonah Kumalae and Enoch Johnson, will also go over to the next term, if the cases are to be tried. Judge Robinson is to hear argument next Monday on demurrers to the indictments.

The term which is now ending was begun during the first week in January and has continued ever since. Judge Robinson has held criminal trials while Gear and De Bolt have sat in civil matters. During the next term Gear and Robinson will attend to the civil calendar.

S. M. Ballou's suit, under which he obtained a temporary injunction, comes up for trial on its merits in the next term of the circuit court. It was brought to restrain the company from stopping Ballou's residence service when he put a desk telephone in his house, the company refusing to allow such a telephone in a residence.

HOW PALMER WOODS CAME TO BE CHOSEN

INFORMATION CONCERNING THE RECOMMENDATION IN HIS FAVOR FOR NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN BY THE SUB-COMMITTEE OF DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE RECEIVED HERE BY CABLE.

The information concerning the favorable recommendation of Senator Palmer P. Woods for Democratic National Committeeman for Hawaii arrived here in a private cablegram. For personal reason the recipient of that dispatch does not care to have his identity disclosed at this time, but the news is absolutely correct.

As a matter of fact the information has probably been received here in advance of the mainland, for the report of the sub-committee which recommended Senator Woods for National Committeeman has not yet been made public, it is understood.

At the time that the fight for the National Committeemanship was on here, friends of Senator Woods sent a cable urging his appointment, to James K. Jones, chairman of the Democratic National Convention. This cable was sent to Chairman Jones at Washington at the time that the National Democratic Committee was in session at that city. The communication was referred to a sub-committee by Chairman Jones for action. Subsequently the local committee endorsed Colonel Charles J. McCarthy over Woods by a vote of eight to five. Chairman Jones was apprised of this fact by letter. What disposition was made of this matter is not now known, but it was probably referred to the same committee that had the Palmer Woods matter in hand. This sub-committee was not expected to make its report so soon, but the committee evidently reached a decision in the matter and has prepared its report sooner than was expected.

Certain interests in Honolulu who urged the appointment of Woods independently of any action by the local committee, have kept in close touch with the progress of the case and were able through affiliations on the mainland, to be informed in advance of regular news channels of the report of the committee. The committee after discussing the matter and viewing the case in its various aspects, as well as the claims of the two contestants, recommended in favor of Woods being named National Committeeman.

Considerable curiosity is naturally felt regarding the interests that succeeded in overcrowding the endorsement of the local committee and having Woods named. The impression of Mr. McCarthy's friends is that some very strong pressure and influence must have been brought to bear on the sub-committee to secure the favorable report regarding Senator Woods.

WILL GIVE CONCERT

Very general satisfaction is being expressed over the arrangements that have been made with Madame Slapoffski to give a concert here on Saturday next at the Opera House. While Honolulu has had but slight opportunity to gauge the beauties of this Australian diva's magnificent voice the little they have heard his coincided so readily with all that has been heard of her Australian success that Saturday's concert will be looked forward to with greater eagerness than any musical event that has visited Honolulu for many moons.

MADAME SLAPOFFSKI.

The program will be arranged with the help of local talent and in addition Miss Flora Donaldson has offered her help. The program will consist in the most part of well known operatic selections, although the singer will doubtless be prevailed upon to render some of the ballads with which she first charmed all ears at the Alexander Young hotel on Saturday last. The full program will be shortly announced and the seat sale opened.
Madame Slapoffski has an almost unlimited repertoire and is being besieged by requests from Honolulu's musical set to sing some of their favorites, requests which she will accede to to the best of her opportunities.

THE BARBER ESTATE.

W. O. Smith has been appointed by Judge Gear executor of the will of Josephine C. Barber, deceased, as nominated therein, under a bond of $5000. The testatrix died in San Francisco on August 15, 1903, leaving a personal estate valued at $4500. This is bequeathed in trust to W. O. Smith to pay the income annually to her son, Earl H. Barber, living at Newton, Mass., and upon his death, if he leave a wife or child or children, to divide the corpus between said wife and children in equal shares, the lawful issue of any deceased child taking by right or representation. In case of his death unmarried, or leaving no lawful wife or child or children then the estate is to be divided equally between the following named persons of relationship to the testatrix as stated: Mary H. De Graff, sister; Frances M. Williams, sister; Everett B. Simpson, brother, all of Tonawanda, N. Y., and Harriet B. Browning, niece, of Los Angeles, Cal.
It is further provided that if her son should die before herself, leaving wife or children, the estate should not go into trust but directly to them. Also, if he so died without leaving wife or children, it should go direct to the other relatives already named.
The will was executed at Honolulu on July 21, 1903, when deceased was forty years of age and upward, in presence of William J. Forbes, W. W. Chamberlain and Louis J. Warren.

DAVIS PETITIONS

George A. Davis has filed a petition for readmission to practice as an attorney of the circuit and supreme courts. The petition was discussed yesterday afternoon by the three justices and an early ruling is expected. Davis sets forth his qualifications and record and claims that he did not draw up the agreement for which Judge Dole suspended him. He says he has endured much mental suffering as a result of the proceedings against him and has been "punished severely for any errors of judgment." He asks to be called and sworn as an attorney and counsellor.

OAHU CEMETERY.

For the year ending July 31, 1903, the Oahu Cemetery Association had a revenue of $2842.50 and expenditures of $3362, and its net realization added to previous assets gave it a total reserve fund of $18,161.41. The Association had $16,500 invested and $1661.41 cash in hand at the end of the year stated.

"HIGH LIFED" DOG IS A MARVEL

IS FINE NIGHT WATCHMAN, RUNS
ERRANDS AND DOES THE MAR-KETING.

Maanui the canine victim of Frank J. Turk's alleged "High Life" pranks is said to be one of the most intelligent animals in Honolulu. In fact he is an invaluable aid to his owner Kalliwai the watchman for the foundry. The dog is now eleven years old and is the greatest assistance to its master. The canine makes the rounds of the building regularly and always has the keenest scent for a stranger. If the dog discovers any stranger about the premises he at once hurries to his master and Kalliwai goes and ejects the intruder if the latter has no business about the premises.

The dog shows even greater intelligence for it will run errands for its master. The dog goes home and brings Kalliwai's purse when ordered. The dog also understands the commands of its master for when it gets into a fight with other dogs and Kalliwai says "pau, pau" the animal will instantly stop fighting and lie down. The dog also does the marketing. Some days ago it was sent to the market to secure some meat. Maanui was bringing the meat home in a basket when he was attacked by other dogs who wanted to seize the meat. Maanui put the basket down and stationed himself in front of it and then defended the position from attack. He finally routed all of his assailants and then brought the meat home in safety.

Turk is alleged to have "High Lived" the dog Saturday. Kalliwai prizes the dog very highly and he felt greatly aggrieved to see the canine suffer, so he caused the arrest of the alleged perpetrator of the outrage.

JAPANESE COAL SUPPLY.

An article in the Scientific American shows that Japan can be self supporting, or nearly so in the matter of coal for her navy. The island of Hokkaido or Ezo which adjoins the island of Nippon, the largest of the empire, possesses extensive coal mines, the product of which is shipped from two ports, Mororan in the southern coast, on the shore of Volcano bay, and Otaru on the western coast. While the towns are small they are specially important since they are among the largest coal shipping points in the world, and their harbors are ample to float vessels of the largest draught. The island of Ezo is east of the Russian possession and a vessel leaving Vladivostok could reach either port in two days, as they are not over 500 miles from the mainland.

Before 1890 the mines had not been exploited to any great extent, though they were worked. In 1893 the output was 300,000 tons. Last year it was over 1,000,000, one company alone taking out $60,000 tons. This is the Hokkaido Tanko Tetsudo Kaisha, one of the wealthiest corporations in the world. It not only owns coal mines, but railroads, steamship lines, most of the harbor front of the Mororan and Otaru, besides warehouses, coal piers, etc. Its capital is no less than 20,000,000 yen, equal to $10,000,000 in American money, and it has been so prosperous that it has paid annual dividends to its shareholders ranging from 20 to 30 per cent, partly through the contracts which it has to supply the imperial government with fuel.

The mines on the island of Hokkaido are in several great groups, although but a part of the territory of coal bearing deposits has been examined by geologists and mineral experts. They have estimated that the groups owned by the company referred to alone contain fully 250,000,000 tons of coal, near enough to the surface to be easily secured. The Sarachi group is the largest at present operated, and comprises an area of 5,500 acres, upon which have been found ten veins ranging from three feet to seven feet in thickness; but the greatest producers are the mines of the Yubari group, representing about 4,800 acres, for here have been found veins no less than twenty-five feet in thickness. Analyses of the coal show it to be a high-grade bituminous, excellent for not only steaming, but gas and coke making, so the company has built a large number of coke ovens in connection with the pits. The third group, known as the Purowai mines, is considerably smaller, comprising only about 727 acres, while the fourth covers about 600 acres.

To operate the various collieries the company in question employs a force of 8,000 people, of whom about 1,500 are women, but all of the mines are equipped with American apparatus on an extensive scale. For instance, compressed air cutting machinery is used for making the larger veins; mine locomotives, also operated by compressed air, haul the coal to the bottom of the shaft, and the elevating machinery was also built in the United States purposely for the industry. The galleries and shafts are lighted by electricity, and, in fact, everything connected with the operations is as up-to-date as at any mine in this country. The railroads connecting the mining district with the seacoast are also largely built and equipped with American material. The company owns 212 miles in all, one line extending from Otaru and the other from Mororan. The government has built a system in the interior with which both of the coal railroads form connection.

With such mines as these, so well equipped, the Japanese as long as they keep the seas clear of Russian cruisers, can supply themselves with all the coal they want. The mines ought to be well guarded for they are a comparatively short distance from the sea coast. The Yubari group of mines, which is the principal producer, is less than 100 miles from either of the shipping ports, and the Sarachi group which is the farthest from the coast is but 117 miles distant. These coal ports of Japan may play a leading part in the war.

LAHAINALUNA.

Lahainaluna is an institution dear to the hearts of the Hawaiian people. Some of the foremost Hawaiians of the past received their education there. It was the place where the first newspaper ever issued in the Pacific ocean was published. Many Hawaiian books were set up in its printing office, and much good was done. Then it began to fall on evil times, and began to go down-hill somewhat. At the present time it has under the management of Mr. MacDonald started on a career of progress which will make it one of the most useful institutions in the Territory.

The need of a good agricultural school in the Territory has been long felt. Every state and territory has its agricultural school. So interested in this is the Federal Government, that where an agricultural school is properly established, a yearly grant is given commencing at $25,000 and reaching a maximum of $35,000 for the purpose of assisting in the support. It is to reach this standard that the Department of Education aims.

It stands to reason that a territory whose dependence is solely upon agriculture should have an agricultural school, where young men can have a good mental training, and can also have practical work in the industries of the country. Where, in point of fact, good practical farmers can be educated. Not, be it understood, farmers by rule of thumb, but farmers who thoroughly understand the why and the wherefore of what they do.

Lahainaluna lands are on the mountain slope about a mile and a half from Lahaina. Their extent is somewhat over 700 acres. There is included in this cane land, taro land, pasture land, garden land and crest. The water supply is abundant. For the purposes to which it is put there could not be a more favorable location. There is such a variety of soil that every agricultural industry carried on here can be represented.

The drawback to Lahainaluna has been its buildings. These were between forty and fifty years old. They were ill-designed in the first place, and through age had become no longer fit for either dormitories or school rooms. The last legislature voted a sum out of the loan act to erect proper and suitable buildings. The old buildings have been removed and the new ones will soon go up. They would have been commenced before now if there had not been a legal tie-up.

During the past year considerable additions have been made to the work shops. There is a good carpenter shop, blacksmith's shop, printing office, from which is issued the school magazine known as "Hawaii's Young People." Taro patches which had gone out of cultivation are now recovered and much land is put out in farming products. The boys are accustomed to look after and care for the live stock on the estate.

Such as far as The Star can learn is the condition of the institution. It is growing in popularity and the number of pupils is constantly increasing, promising to be very much larger next year. It is certainly a most necessary institution. Its standard of excellence will advance as time goes on. It fills a want in the Territory for it is essentially the college of the poor. The boys belong to poor people who cannot afford to supply them with means, and they have to work for wages in order to buy their books and so forth. When the institution is in a position to ask for the Federal grant, it can be put on a basis unequalled by anything of a similar kind on the mainland.

A breath of the trade winds last night revived everyone. If there is anything more depressing than the humid southerly weather one would like to know. Its effect is both physical and mental.

The Jones case is in a beautiful tangle with the possibility of Jones getting off altogether. One really begins to doubt now whether anyone was killed or not. Yet we all know that both Mrs. Parmenier and Mrs. Jones were shot some time ago.

Port Arthur is having a bad time of it even according to the Russian account, which one may be sure is softened down as much as possible. If the harbor is finally blocked as the Japanese claim what is left of the Russian fleet will take no further part in the war.

The rumor that the Ameer of Afghanistan has been poisoned comes from Russia, where the wish is father to the thought. Should it prove true that he is dead, whether poisoned or not, Afghanistan will become the scene of a struggle between the partisans of England and Russia. Russia would dearly like to have a pro-Russian upon the Afghan throne. She is forever intriguing along the British-Indian frontier and this will be an opportunity that she will eagerly seize.

What is this story of armed Mongolians, disguised as pilgrims threatening the Russian frontier? The Russian frontier extends across Asia. One does not clearly see why pilgrims should be approaching the Russian frontier. Have the Mongolians all been converted to the Greek church and are they on a pilgrimage to Holy Moscow? You can frighten all Russia by whispering the word, Mongol. From Irkutsk to Pliem the whole country would be shivering. But then there have been Mongolian invasions in the past and the memory of them remains.

A writer in Gunton's Magazine points out that in 1805 there were in this country only 4,500 spindles, and in 1810 there were 87,000. The growth of the business was very rapid after that year, and in 1815 there were 120,000 spindles, while in 1820 there were 220,000. In 1860 just prior to the war, the number of spindles had increased to 5,235,737, the capital to $98,885,269, and the value of the product to $115,681,774. In 1874 the spindles had increased to

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEEMAN

Col. C. J. McCarthy, who was recommended to the National Democratic Committee for National Committeeman from Hawaii to succeed the late W. H. Cornwell, says he has no information relative to the announcement appearing in the Advertiser this morning that the subcommittee of the National Committee had recommended the appointment of Palmer Woods.

"I know nothing whatever about the announcement," said Col. McCarthy this morning, "other than appears from a reading of it. I have received no word about any such action of the sub-committee of the National Committee. I have not heard who, if anyone has. I do not know whether the announcement is true or not. If it is, it is a surprise to me as the Territorial Committee recommended me for appointment. However, under the organization of the National Committee, as I understand it, the Chairman of the committee, who is Ex-Senator James K. Jones, has the absolute power of appointment to fill vacancies between national conventions. If he has appointed Palmer Woods, that settles it, and makes Palmer Woods the National Committeeman for Hawaii.

The announcement is a little obscure. It says the sub-committee has recommended Palmer Woods; but as I understand it, the chairman and not the committee appoints. However, the chairman may have asked the recommendation of the committee. But I have received no word on the subject. I have not heard how this report was received here, or by whom. It may be true. If it is, it would seem that Palmer Woods would get the appointment."

ALAMEDA CROWDED WITH PASSENGERS

The S. S. Alameda left this morning for San Francisco with one of the largest crowds of passengers in her history. The vessel was crowded in practically every department. Many prominent people left in the cabin. The inclement weather did not cause people to remain away from the wharf and large crowds were at the Oceanic wharf to watch the vessel depart. There were 36 passengers in the cabin.

Among the departing passengers were Count E. Bonzi.

C. Boite was a departing passenger for the mainland.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Swanzy and family departed for the mainland to be absent a number of months on a pleasure trip.

C. M. Cooke went to the mainland on business.

Alexander Young returned to the mainland after a brief visit to Honolulu.

Jones' Right What Colonies Fought For

According to counsel in the Jones case even the heroes of '77 fought for the contentions of E. M. Jones, and one of the important elements of King George's tyranny, which caused the American Colonies to fight under George Washington, was the British custom of taking defendants from their home districts for trial, just as Jones' attorneys say an effort is now being made to take him. Judge Robinson was engaged all this morning hearing argument against transferring the case to Kaula, and during the course of the argument Dunne introduced the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights and Magna Charta.

"One of the reasons why the Colonies parted from the Mother country was what this man is protesting against now," said Dunne. "One of the matters set forth in the Declaration of Independence was that Great Britain had taken accused men away from their own districts to try them among strangers, denying them the right of trial by their peers of the vicinage. This was one of the declarations of rights of 1774." Dunne quoted Cooley and other authorities to the effect that under the common law every accused had a right to trial in his home district, so that he might have the benefit of whatever good repute he had established and of the knowledge the jurors might have of such witnesses as were brought before him.

When the case opened Robertson presented some new objections to the change of venue, whether on motion of the court or of the prosecution. One new ground was that the defendant Jones was unable to bear the expense of getting his witnesses to Kaula. Robertson presented an affidavit of John H. Jones, brother of the defendant to this effect. He also filed an affidavit of his own and one by J. J. Dunne, showing that neither could attend the Kaula circuit court term without serious inconvenience and loss. Robertson then proceeded to argue the objections to a change of venue on the two grounds that it deprived the defendant of his right to be tried in his home district, and that it subjected him to expenses and deprivation of counsel which amounted to a denial of justice.

INJUNCTION IS GRANTED

Judge De Bolt this morning granted a permanent injunction restraining the Superintendent of Public Works from entering into a contract with Lucas Bros. for the construction of the Lahaina school building. The decision was in the suit of Herbert Kendall, who claimed that he was the lowest bidder for the contract, under the terms of the published call for bids. After the publication of the advertisement a change was made in the specifications and all the contractors who were going to bid, as far as Holloway knew, were notified. Kendall, however, received no notification and bid on the old basis.

Judge De Bolt says that it does not matter who was the lowest bidder or whether Kendall was notified or not. The law requiring advertisement for bids was designed to prevent fraud and favoritism and must be strictly followed. The court says:

"If the Superintendent of Public Works after such 'public advertisement for tenders,' is at liberty to make one change in the plans or specifications without re-advertisement, then, upon the same principle, he may make other changes, no matter how great, and award a contract thereon accordingly. This, in my opinion, is in direct conflict not only with the statute, but with public policy and cannot be recognized upon any theory consistent with a fair and impartial administration of public affairs. In the matter of awarding public contracts there should be the fullest and most ample opportunity for competition. Such a doctrine as contended for on behalf of respondents would open wide the door to corruption, fraud and favoritism.

"I fail to see why the principles which are applicable to the awarding of the contract in the first instance, and the observance of which principles are deemed so vital and essential to the validity of the contract, are not equally applicable and essential to any change resulting in another or different contract. In the case at bar the Superintendent of Public Works, in the first instance, under the requirements of the statute, duly caused 'public advertisement for tenders' to be made for the purpose of awarding a certain contract according to certain plans and specifications to the lowest bidder. But, instead of awarding the contract so advertised, he now, without such advertisement, proposes to award another contract. In my opinion, for the reasons already stated, the proposed contract is clearly illegal and the awarding of it, under the circumstances, would be contrary to public policy as well as the statute."

The change that was made in the terms of the contract was by striking out the provision that the contractor must pay for a government overseer to watch the work. It was found that this would not be necessary as the superintendent at Lahaina is competent as overseer. The pay was $4 per day, and the difference, it was claimed, made Kendall's bid a lower one than any other.

A LESSON IN MARRIAGE LAW

United States Marshal Hendry left for Lahaina last night with warrants for the arrest of the two Japanese who were married, under the reported decision by District Judge Kahaloilo that marriages contracted in "other countries" were not according to the laws of Hawaii. The woman had been married in Japan and was the wife of Torataro Matsumoto. She and her new husband are charged with adultery.

The main purpose of the case is to get a definite court ruling before the Japanese, which will counteract the impression left by Kahaloilo's statement, and will, it is believed, do much to prevent trouble. The Japanese consul has interested himself in the matter, as the wrong impressions prevailing among Japs is the cause of much trouble. Many of the Japanese murder cases in the islands result from the entanglements which follow illegal marriages and divorces.

Many of the Japanese have the idea that they can complete a divorce by simply agreeing to separate. The case to be brought before Judge Dole will settle the law in this respect.

Murakami and Mata are the two Japs who are to be brought back. The latter's real husband, Matsumoto, is in Honolulu, having come here to appeal to the consul and Governor Carter. He has with him his family record, showing his marriage to the woman.

"We want a ruling to show the Japanese that we do recognize these marriages when they are valid ones in Japan," said District Attorney Brockton. "The government does not recognize the marriages 'by proxy,' as it is often done, with one of the parties here and the other in Japan."

CORREA JOINS IN OBJECTIONS

A. G. Correa, as counsel for Tewksbury minors, has filed similar objections to those filed by M. T. Simonson, guardian ad litem, to the accounts of Trustee George A. Davis. Correa asks that the matter be referred to a master and sets forth the following reasons for objecting to the accounts:

"That no detail statement of income from the investment of funds in the hands of the Trustee during said trusteeship is shown in the accounts here presented by the Trustee.

"That the vouchers covering expenditures are not in proper form and are vague, uncertain and ambiguous.

"That by and under the Trust Deed the Trustees were limited to the payment of the income arising from all real and personal property to Rita C. Tewksbury during her life and upon her death to pay the same to the two children of Rita Tewksbury and to invest any and all moneys that might come into the hands of the Trustees in making loans in first-class securities.

"That the account shows the lump sum of income to be $554.77 and does not show in detail from what property or investment said income arose, and further shows that while $544.77 was the income of said estate, the sum of $2,678.37 has been expended, only $1500 of which is in the nature of an investment, thereby showing that the Trustees have without authority expended the sum of $623.60.

"That there is a repetition of an entry for payment of drawing deed and acknowledgments lands at Punchbowl slopes amounting to $15, dated September 27, 1930.

"That there has not been made a proper statement of the handling of the Trust funds during the term of Trusteeship.

"That the account shows that said Trustee paid himself moneys without authority.

"That the account filed herein is not a complete and correct account of all and singular the moneys received by said Trustee and all the dealings between said Trustee and Rita C. Tewksbury."

THE LORD DID IT IS THE DEFENSE

The spoliation of the contents of Miss Genevieve Dowsett's trunk while the trunk was being carried on the steamer Kinau last December was "an act of God" for which the company is not to be held responsible, according to the answer filed by the company this morning in the United States court, to Miss Dowsett's suit. The act in question was the sending of a wave ten feet high, which swamped a shore boat and washed a sailor out of it, besides causing the trunk to be flooded and its valuable contents spoiled.

Miss Dowsett's suit was for $422, for a long list of highly expensive articles of wearing apparel which were spoiled while being carried in a shore boat from the Kinau. She claimed the bad management on the part of the Kinau crew caused the accident.

The steamship company says that it had an efficient crew in charge of the boat, but that, as a "vis major," or act of God, a wave ten feet high, followed by another equal one, struck the shore boat. The waves would have swamped any boat the company has, says the answer, and the damage was not to be avoided. The company also sets forth that its receipts for trunks and baggage declare that no responsibility will be assumed over $100 and that libellant has never made any demand for damages beyond that sum.

CAN BELONG TO ONE PARTY AT A TIME

The Democratic Territorial Central Committee held a meeting yesterday afternoon at party headquarters, and appointed a committee of three to draft rules and regulations for the organization and government of precinct clubs. This committee is to report at a meeting to be held next week.

The following instructions to this committee on rules were given:

Resolved, That this committee is instructed to provide in the draft of rules it prepares, that no person can become a member of any Democratic club organized under the authority of the Democratic organization of the Territory, who is a member of any other political party organization. That resignation or withdrawal from all party connection with any other political party is a condition precedent to membership in any Democratic organization in this territory.

Resolved, That this committee is instructed to provide in its draft of rules and regulations, that whenever any member of any club authorized by the Democratic organization of this territory, becomes a member of, or an officer in any other political party organization, his membership in the Democratic organization is ipso facto ended.

DISTRICT JUDGES IN A TANGLE

While there is not exactly war on between the district magistrates still the entente cordiale is strained somewhat between Judge Lindsay and Judge Dickey. Judge Dickey thought he would and Judge Lindsay said he wouldn't and so matters stand, with Lindsay in possession of the field.

The misunderstanding arose over the disposition of the magistrate business. Judge Dickey has always looked after the civil business ever since he has been one of the magistrates. When Judge Lindsay was appointed to the position of magistrate caused by the death of the late Luther Wilcox, Dickey was advised to be first magistrate but there was no change in the assignment of business, Dickey retaining the civil and Lindsay taking the criminal.

During Judge Lindsay's recent vacation on the island of Kaula, Judge Dickey thought he would like to look after the criminal business and so informed Judge Lindsay by letter. The latter did not respond however but waited until he returned this week before making a reply. Yesterday there was a conference between the two judges. Dickey said he wanted to take over the criminal cases. Lindsay declined positively to relinquish that part of the work and so the matter ended. Lindsay took the position that the law makes no provision as to whether the first or second magistrate shall try the criminal cases and as he had always had them he decided to continue with that line of the work.

If you are young, you naturally appear so. If you are old, why appear so?

Ayer's Hair Vigor will surely restore color to your gray hair, and will give to it all the wealth and gloss of early life. It will stop falling of the hair also; and will keep the scalp clean and healthy, entirely free from dandruff.

And it makes the hair grow thick and long. This is because it is a hair-food, giving to the hair just what it needs to make it grow as nature intended.

There's a pleasure in offering to you such a preparation; while you will certainly feel a sense of security in using something that others have used for half a century.

Do not be deceived by cheap imitations which will only disappoint you. Make sure that you get the genuine Ayer's Hair Vigor.

SILVA BLACKED HIS EYE.

Proved a Match for the Crowd That Jumped Him.

If Silva handles Ackermann in the same manner in which he tackled Duvauchelle and a couple of his friends last evening, Ackermann's stock will be low at the end of the first round. Duvauchelle appeared in court this morning with his left optic darkened and Judge Lindsey asked him if he didn't know better than to mix up with a prize fighter. Duvauchelle admitted his foolishness and the episode is closed for him.

Silva's numerous Punchbowl friends who were present in court this morning are however, more than ever convinced of their champion's powers and there are many bucketfuls of bets that may be annexed if Ackermann should chance to win.

Patton backers have come forward within the last twenty-four hours in considerable numbers and a steady confidence is being manifested in his superiority. He is a shifty boxer and many seem to think that Barry has made a mistake in giving away the extra pounds that made such a difference in the weight decisions.

The box office sale will open tomorrow at the Orpheum at the usual hour and usual prices.

THE MORMON VIEW OF POLYGAMY, REVELATIONS, AND DUTY TO THE STATE

Interest in the investigation before the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections of the protests against Senator Smoot of Utah shows no abatement from day to day. Much time has been devoted to introduction of documents subscribed to as the law of the Mormon church. In that connection President Joseph Smith testified that if the plea of plural marriages should be attacked it would be defended by the church.

Intense feeling was exhibited by President Smith against individuals who, he said, had spied on the domestic and matrimonial relations of the high officers of the Mormon church, and for that reason he had favored the passage of the Evans bill to prevent prosecution for polygamous cohabitation, unless complaints were entered by husband or wife against the other. This bill was passed, but vetoed by the Governor of Utah.

RIGHTS OF WOMEN.

Senator Hoar desired information on the subject of rights of women in the church and whether they hold any priestly authority. Smith said women are regarded as equals of the men in all matters of voting, but that in holding "priestly office" women are not regarded on the same plane. He explained that the women have a charitable association known as the Women's Relief Society, in which they have authority to perform certain prescribed duties. This authority is confined to the relieving of distress, but women are not ordained high priests, apostles or elders.

Taylor asked about M. F. Cowley, one of the apostles, and Cowley's talks on doctrine, and in answer to questions by Senator Dubois Smith said Cowley was elected as an apostle in 1897. Reading from the Deseret News of June 23, 1903, regarding a speech by Smith at the Weber stake reunion, Taylor asked Smith if he was correctly reported in saying that the doctrine of plural marriages was a revelation by God to Joseph Smith Jr., and to reject that would be equivalent to a rejection of God himself.

Smith believed he was correctly reported, and when a list of names of those present, including Senator Smoot, was read Smith said the list was correct. He declared that he would not have had the article published if he had been consulted. Pressed for a reason, he said that he was under injunction not to teach the rightfulness of polygamy and that he had refrained from so doing in public.

SENATORS ARE ROILED.

Senator Hoar asked Smith why he avoided practicing what he had held to be a divine command, and the witness answered that it was because of the more recent manifesto stopping the practice. Hoar persisted that, according to the witness' own statements, the practice had not been stopped, and Senator Foraker interposed abruptly that the witness had gone over that matter fifty times, and he could see no purpose of the continued questioning along that line. Senator Hoar resented the interruption, and said Senator Foraker's statement suggested that he had asked one question fifty times and had received fifty answers. He objected to the inference, and when Foraker arose to answer he, too, stood up. The two Senators faced each other in what threatened to be a serious clash. Foraker said the Senator from Massachusetts "could say what he pleased, of course, but I have not said he asked fifty questions."

"I accept the disclaimer from the Senator from Ohio," responded Hoar, but the aggressive manner in which it was said failed to relieve the situation. After more heated words Senator Beveridge, who occupied a position directly between the two, requested permission to ask a question. He said he wanted to address "Mr. Smoot," and immediately substituted the name "Smith." In the laugh that was provoked both Senators sat down and the hearing continued.

Senator Beveridge desired to know whether the church considered that the laws were being obeyed when polygamous cohabitation had continued since the manifesto of 1890, and Chairman Burrows made the question more personal. He said: "You have said today that you were obeying the laws in not teaching polygamy since the manifesto was promulgated. Do you think you were obeying the law in having eleven children from different mothers since that time?"

"I obey the law so far as teaching is concerned. I have not said that I have obeyed the law in my practice. As I have said before, I preferred to take my chances with the law, rather than to abandon my plural families. Polygamy has not been taught in the church by any of the officials. The church has obeyed the laws, even if I have not," said Smith.

WOULD BE "DESTROYED."

After replying to questions relating to "divine command," Smith called for a copy of the book of doctrine and covenants and read a part of the revelation which he said, has been accepted in the nature of permission to take plural wives and was not mandatory upon the members of the church. Other passages from the same revelation were read, particularly the portions which prescribe the manner of taking more than one wife. It was set forth that if one wanted to espouse a second virgin he could do so by obtaining the consent of the first, but that if the consent of the first was withheld he was at liberty to proceed without it. It is set forth also that where the first refuses consent to share her husband with another woman she would be "destroyed."

Pettus asked the meaning of the word "destroyed" in that sense.

Smith answered that she would be destroyed by the Lord, but that he was not informed "just how the Lord would go about it."

"Then it does not mean that the husband could destroy her?" Pettus asked.

"No, never."

"I take it, then, that the question of getting a wife's consent to marry again might just as well be eliminated entirely," said Senator Beveridge.

"Just as well," answered the witness.

Overman asked Smith if he knew whether any one of the six polygamist apostles had disobeyed the law in regard to polygamous cohabitation since the manifesto of 1890.

"I do not know," answered Smith. "I only know that they were in the same status of polygamy at the time of the manifesto as I was myself. I do not pry into their family affairs. I am happy to say that I am not a 'spotter' or an informer. I am not a paid spy."

"Yet you might know without being a paid spy," persisted Overman. "I know nothing about it. As I have said before, I am not a spotter or informer," answered the witness. "The words spotter and informer were biased rather than spoken."

WEIGHT OF REVELATIONS.

Senator Hoar asked a number of questions to determine the relative weight of revelations and the law of the land when the two come into conflict, and asked particularly in regard to the old revelations.

Smith said that with the old members it was the effort to uphold the laws, but with the younger ones—well, they were a little hard to control.

Bringing the question up to the later periods, Hoar wanted to know what Smith would do if the revelations conflicted with the law.

"Which would you obey?" he was asked.

"With me perhaps the revelation would be uppermost," said Smith.

"Can you say 'perhaps' to such a question?" interrupted Hoar, severely.

Continuing he said: "Suppose you receive a revelation commanding you people to do something which would conflict with the laws of the land. Which would they have to obey?"

After a further statement of the number of polygamist families in Utah Smith read from an interview he gave to a representative of the Associated Press in 1892, showing the following: "In 1890, at the time of the late President Woodruff's manifesto, there were 2451 such families. In October, 1899, it was found that this number had been reduced, as follows: By death, 759; by removals beyond the confines of the republic, 431; by divorce, 95, leaving at that time 1541.

"It is now ascertained that the original number has been reduced by 1554, or 62 per cent, leaving only 897 still living and that the great majority of them are of advanced age."

Worthington asked regarding Smith's son, Hiram Smith, and was told that he is 32 years of age and has a wife and children, but is not a polygamist. He is one of the twelve apostles. The first counselor now is John R. Winder. He and his fellow counselors and other apostles have been appointed since Smith became president. He said he could not say whether these men are cohabiting with more than one wife, but "they are reputed to be the husbands of more than one wife."

In regard to John Henry Smith, a cousin, Smith said that their families are intimate and "I am strongly inclined to believe that he is cohabiting with plural wives."

SERMON OF WOODRUFF.

Referring to Senator Bailey's questions yesterday in regard to the manifesto, Worthington read from a sermon of President Woodruff, delivered a year after the manifesto against plural marriage, in which President Woodruff declared that he was moved, and 10,000 Latter Day Saints were moved, by the spirit of God to abandon the practice of plural marriage.

Senator Bailey contended that it was obedience to the demands of the law or fear of the consequences of the law that brought the revelation. Continuing he said:

"For my part I don't have much faith in a doctrine that does not get a revelation commanding the change of conduct until there is a statute compelling it."

"All that, of course, is a matter of opinion," said Senator Foraker.

"I don't think it is a matter of opinion, either," said Senator Bailey. "I myself have been compelled to submit to certain rules because it was the law, and vicious law at that. Just how far I would have submitted if I had received a revelation from God to do something else I am not prepared to say. I think the whole thing was more a matter of law than of revelation."

"When the laws were passed which were not in harmony with the teachings of our church," said Smith, "we held that they were unconstitutional. Of course, our own rules commanded that we obey the constitution and the laws, but we fought the validity of the new laws from the lowest to the highest court, and when it was settled by the Supreme Court of the United States that plural marriages could no longer be indulged in, of course we were inclined to obey."

"But we had a revelation of our own statute books in regard to plural marriages, and it was necessary to obey that in order to obtain certain blessings that could not be received without obeying it. Whether we should obey the law of the land or continue to practice the law of the church was a serious question."

DOCTRINE OF REVELATION

"We hold that the president of the church is entitled to receive revelations inspired by the Almighty God. President Woodruff sought guidance in the Lord and the Lord made it manifest to him that it was his duty to stop plural marriages. He proclaimed that revelation and it was submitted to the entire church and accepted by the entire church and thus became binding and from that day to this the law of the land has been kept so far as plural marriages are concerned."

"But there is a great difference between taking a plural wife contrary to law and in taking care of the wives taken before it was a violation of the law. I would not desert my wives. I would not abandon my children. I will run my risks before the law."

President Smith's voice sank with emotion. He showed more feeling than he had at any previous time exhibited as he leaned forward and said: "But it is to the laws of Utah that I am answerable; it is the law of my State that has the right to punish me. The courts of Utah are of competent jurisdiction. Congress has no business to interfere with my private affairs."

"If the courts of my State do not see fit to call me to account for my conduct I cannot help it. Congress has no right to interfere—it has no right to pry into my marriage relations and call me to account."

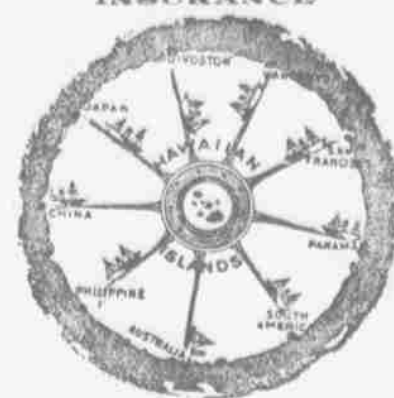

Chairman Bowers at this point questioned the witness. He asked:

"You say you would not abandon your wives or your children. Why do you consider it necessary to have issue from your plural wives, in order to clothe and care for your children that had been born before unlawful cohabitation became a crime?"

"Because my wives are like all other women. It is necessary to maintain peace, harmony and good will between myself and my good wives. That is the kernel in the nut. That is why I have chosen not to obey the laws of my State prohibiting polygamous cohabitation."

BAILEY QUOTES SCRIPTURE.

"The church gave me my wives, and I do not think the church could be consistent in taking them away," said Mr. Smith in answer to a question as to why he did not agree to the Woodruff manifesto.

"The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away," quoted Senator Bailey from the Scriptures.

Continuing, the Senator said it appeared that polygamous cohabitation is forbidden by both the law of the land and the law of the church as laid down in the Woodruff manifesto, and addressing the witness, he asked:

"Then, as head of the church, are you violating the laws of the land and the ordinances of your church as well?"

"Not the ordinances of the church," said Mr. Smith.

"Well, the law, then?"

"No; the rule," said the witness.

"The rule after all is the law for conduct," said Senator Bailey. "I was only trying to emphasize what the revelations are. I don't know as much about the nice distinctions in religion as I hope I do about the law, but it appears that both the rule of the church and the law of the land forbade polygamous cohabitation, and you, as the head of the church, violated both."

"I will not quarrel with the Senator about that," the witness replied. Later he said that Senator Bailey's assumption was cordial.

In answer to Senator Overman Mr. Smith said that the revelation of the manifesto of 1890 had not been published in the latest edition of doctrine and covenants, but that this was an oversight and would be corrected.

DOESN'T TEACH POLYGAMY.

Replying to Chairman Burrows, Mr. Smith said that he does not teach polygamy, and added:

"I am not openly and obnoxiously practicing polygamous cohabitation."

"How could you better teach polygamy than by practicing it?" Burrows continued.

The reply was: "I am not practicing polygamy. I am practicing polygamous cohabitation—which is not polygamy. Polygamy is plural marriage, and I have taken no plural wives since the manifesto of 1890."

Replying to a question from Senator Overman, Smith said that the pamphlet containing the manifesto did not state that it was a revelation from God, but that the statement was made that it was published by authority of the church, which was sufficient.

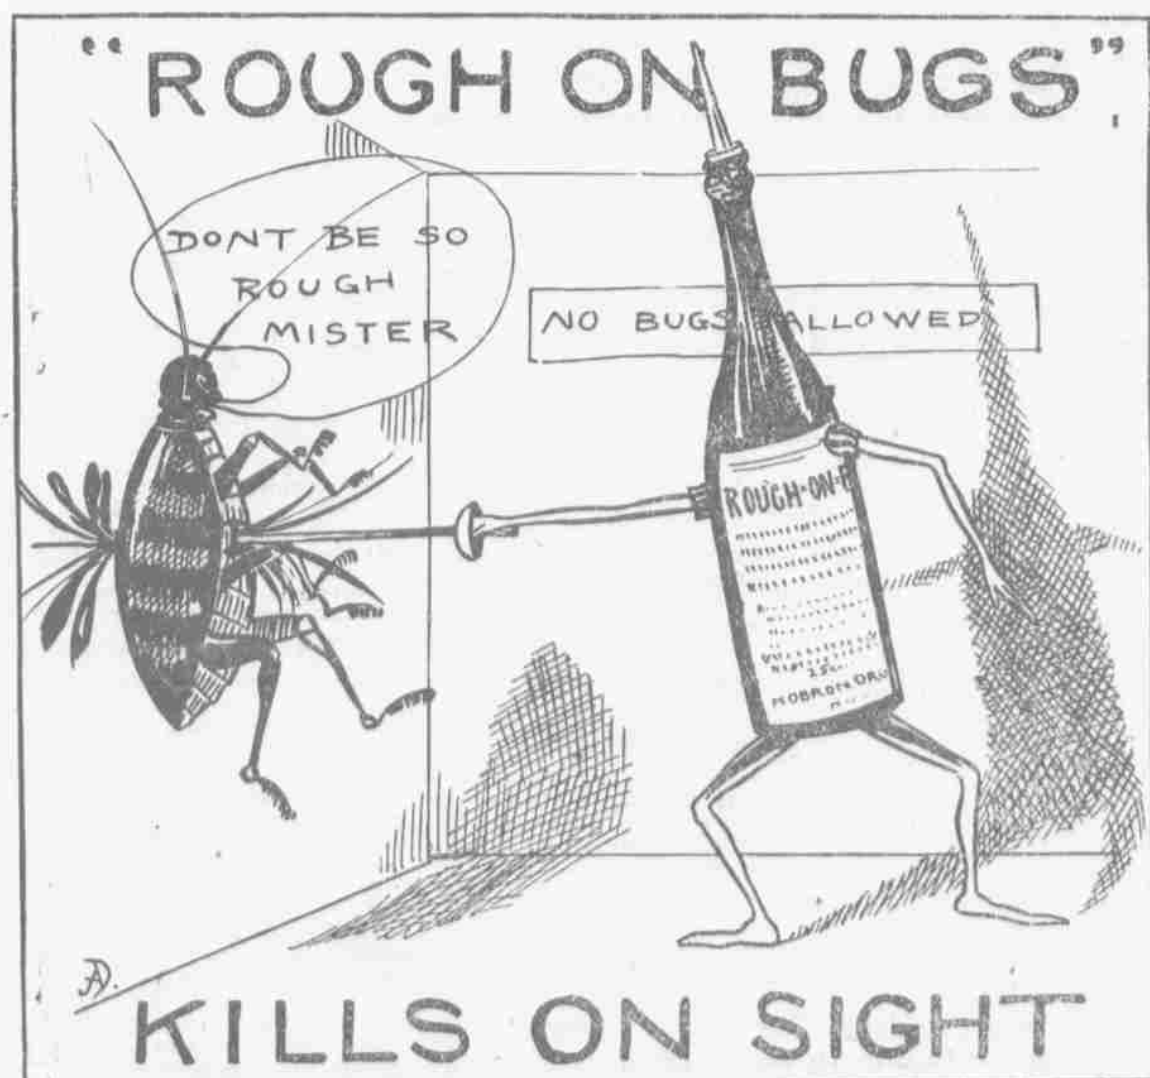

It then appeared that the manifesto had not been put in evidence, and Taylor then introduced it with other documents.

SHE HAD A SABLE LOVER

AND THE GREEN EYED MONSTER CONSUMED HIM—HE WAS CERTAINLY TOO GOOD FOR HER.

A case of romance in low life was shown in the police court this morning when Anderson Grace was charged with threatening to kill Mrs. Kalaiala Kanikau. The man is a negro and as black as a coal, while the woman was evidently a Portuguese with possibly some native blood.

It appears that some time ago the woman was sent to the Queen's Hospital to be nursed for a broken leg. Grace was an attendant at the hospital and he became enamored of the woman. He showed her the best of attention that lay in his power and when she left the hospital, it was to become the man's mistress. He testified that he had drawn all of his savings from the bank for the purpose of providing the woman, who was still lame from her broken leg, with delicacies and food.

The woman appears to have repented of her bargain, however, for she evidently tired of the man. She testified that he had threatened to shoot her with a revolver and had become very jealous of her. She went to the police station to ask the assistance of the police in getting rid of her sable lover and the man came into the Deputy High Sheriff's office with the darky in pursuit. She claimed she feared he wanted on that occasion to kill her, as he owned a revolver and a slung shot. She had however brought the revolver to the police station with her.

The defendant claimed, however, that he had merely gone to the police station to try and bail the woman out for he had supposed she was under arrest. He had not intended to harm her. Judge Lindsay discharged the defendant but warned him not to molest the woman in future.

Eugene Devanchelle and A. Silva, the Punchbowl prize fighter, got into an altercation night before last at the head of Emma street and both were in the court today charged with affray. Devanchelle was also charged with assault and battery on Silva. Devanchelle was fined $3 and costs for the latter charge and the other cases were nolle prossed.

Hosoi and Fukuda, the Japs who are alleged to have acted as the "fence" for the gang of petty thieves caught this week by the police, were arraigned in the police court this morning on a charge of receiving stolen goods. Their cases were continued until April 5.

GUARDIANSHIP OF H. A. P. AND GRACE CARTER—NINETY-THREE THOUSAND DOLLARS INVESTED.

A master's report by M. T. Simonton on the accounts of George R. Carter in the estate of H. A. P. Carter and Grace Carter has been filed. It shows the income for the year reported on to have been $8,522.53. The total received in the hands of the guardian is $93,672.39, of which $93,100 is invested. The report of the master says:

"I find all the items of expenditure stated in the account to be supported by proper vouchers, which vouchers were produced and exhibited to me by the guardian, and upon careful examination I find that all of the items of expenditure correspond with the vouchers, and to be in order and correct.

"The Guardian has charged the estate of his wards with the sum of $55.25 being commissions at the legal rates of ten, seven and five per centum upon the sum of $5,505.33, the total amount of income accounted for by him, which charge the Master finds is correct.

"The Guardian's accounts being comprehensive and correct in every particular, I recommend that they be approved and passed by this Honorable Court."
