PEARL HARBOR DRYDOCK GETS BIG INCREASE

Million and a Half Dollars Added to Limit of Cost Set
Last Year

NEW ESTIMATE FIXED
NOW AT $4,986,500

Decision in Washington Final Proof that Government, Not Contractors, Stands Loss

An increase of a million and a half dollars has been made in the limit of cost for Pearl Harbor drydock.

This information has come through private and unofficial channels from Washington, and has not even been announced in official circles there. It is the decision of the "higher-ups" in navy department circles and their advisers.

The increase is to become effective on July 1 of this year. It will provide for the reconstruction of the drydock made necessary following its collapse.

The fact that Congress will be asked to appropriate the additional sum for the completion of the structure is conclusive proof that the contractors, the Hawaiian Dredging Company and the San Francisco Bridge Company, have won their claim that they are not responsible for the accident. The government is preparing to stand the financial loss and is thus increasing its cost limit.

There have been several rumors that something like this course would be followed. Now advice has been received from Washington showing that the new limit has been definitely decided.

The limit was originally set at $2,700,000. In 1913 it was increased to $3,485,500, on account of the 200-foot extension. The increase now makes the limit of cost $4,986,500.

News has also come that on July 1 there is to be made available, according to present plans, $20,000 for four officers' quarters and $50,000 to complete the torpedo boat slip.

In Washington the special board of engineers and navy department officials are working over a number of different plans for reconstructing the drydock. They have been ordered to push their work and it is expected that within a few months Pearl Harbor will be again humming with activity.

WHITEHOUSE IS BLAMED FOR BAD SHAPE OF BRIDGE

Supervisors Split Over Conditions at Wahiawa—Investigation Now Started

Bitterly attacking City and County Engineer L. M. Whitehouse because of his failure to repair the Wahiawa bridge, an appropriation of $3700 for which work was made in early part of November, Supervisors M. C. Pacheco and E. H. F. Wolter started trouble at the board of supervisors' meeting last night which may herald and lead up to a hopeless split between the two factions of the board, with Whitehouse in the middle.

So bitter were the attacks on the city and county engineer that at one time Supervisor W. H. McClellan, chairman of the ways and means committee, rose and branded the criticisms as nothing short of abuse, and ended by declaring that the reason Whitehouse had not repaired or rebuilt Wahiawa bridge was that high water prevented the work being done. The tragedy of Sunday was responsible for the outbreak. At that time several Japanese, passengers in an automobile which skidded and at length crashed through the bridge gird and into the water, were more or less seriously injured and one was killed.

Complaints reached the board in November of the dangerous condition of the span, residents of Wahiawa urging its immediate repair. The appropriation of $3700 was made, and the city and county engineer was given the right to proceed with the work of putting the bridge in safe condition.

Mayor Fern took sides against Whitehouse, mildly, last night but strongly this morning. He said that he was going with Supervisors Pacheco and Wolter, Sheriff Jarrett, a deputy from Waiwala and a deputy city and county attorney tomorrow morning and inspect the bridge, and darkly hinted that something sensational would follow this trip.

The engineer was not in attendance

MOSES PUAHI IS STRONG WITNESS FOR TERRITORY

Gives Evidence Tending to Show Premeditation on Part of John W. Marshall

Testimony tending to show premeditation on the part of John W. Marshall when he left Madam Puahi's hula house following his brawl with the party of Charles R. Guertler, whom he later fatally shot, on the night of August 10 last, was given by Moses Puahi, husband of the hula house mistress, in Marshall's trial this morning. His statement, on direct examination, was given clearly and intelligently and probably is the most damaging evidence yet introduced against the defendant.

Moses Puahi said he was first called into the dance hall by his wife, and that he found Marshall on the floor with Dick, Guertler and another white man of the Guertler crowd holding him down. Puahi separated the combatants, according to his testimony, assisted Marshall to his feet and led him to the telephone room on the main side of the building. Marshall's hat and coat were off, but he was still wearing his eye-glasses.

In the telephone room Marshall, according to Puahi, said: "I didn't come here to fight. Bring Dick here," and Puahi sent for that person, who came and talked with Marshall several moments, the couple finally shaking hands and Marshall going outside, through the makai door, opening from the telephone room. Meantime he had recovered his hat and coat. Puahi said he did not understand English very well and did not know what was said between Dick and Marshall.

A moment later Marshall appeared at the front door of the dance hall demanding admittance. Puahi refused to let him in. A few moments later Marshall was at the door of the telephone room seeking entrance. Puahi again denied him, and then the defendant came again to the front door. Here he called for Drew. The latter, said Puahi, was not in the room at the time, so Marshall went to his automobile, got in and drove up the

GREENWELL LEASE ON 85,000-ACRE TRACT ON HAWAII IS RENEWED

The leasehold on a tract of land at Keahou, Kona, Hawaii, comprising 85,000 acres, owned by the trustees of the Bernice Pauahi Bishop Estate, was sold at public auction at noon today in the offices of the J. F. Morgan Company to W. A. Greenwell, acting for Mrs. Elizabeth C. Greenwell, for $4100. The lease on the land formerly was held by the estate of the late H. N. Greenwell, and through the transaction this noon is retained by the heirs of the estate. W. A. Greenwell was the only bidder, although there were several persons present at the sale. The tract takes in portions of

R.A. KEARNS WILL MAKE INSPECTION ON PLANTATIONS

Plans to Spend Two Months in Visiting Camps and Investigating Conditions

Ralph A. Kearns, territorial immigration commissioner, will leave for Hawaii during the early part of next month on the first leg of an exhaustive inspection of the various plantation camps in the territory which are inhabited by Spaniards, Portuguese and Russians. Mr. Kearns made a similar inspection a year ago and, following the completion of the work on the Big Island, he will visit Maui and Kauai and then return to inspect the camps on Oahu.

As pointed out by Mr. Kearns this morning, this tour of inspection is a matter of routine business which complies with the act of the legislature which created the territorial immigration office. The complete inspection, he said, will cover a period of about two months. Every Spanish, Russian or Portuguese immigrant who has come into the territory through the local territorial office will be interviewed personally; living and other conditions will be thoroughly investigated and the laborers will have a chance to make any complaints in person, should such a condition arise.

As far as complaints are concerned, I do not believe there are any," said Mr. Kearns this morning. "At least, none have been entered at this office. Conditions among Spaniards, Russians and Portuguese on the plantations are good and have been for some months. The last complaint to come to this office was made a year ago, but was a trivial affair and was soon settled. When immigrants first come into the territory through this office, they are fully informed as to their rights, and I am sure that if there were any complaints, they would quickly be made to me."

E.M. WATSON TO TAKE OATH AS JUSTICE IN COURTROOM TOMORROW

Edward M. Watson, appointed by President Wilson as associate justice of the supreme bench, will be formally inducted into office tomorrow morning, taking the oath of office in the supreme court room at 10 o'clock. Chief Justice Robertson will administer the oath. No lengthy ceremony is contemplated, it was stated today. Mr. Watson succeeds Justice John T. DeBolt.

Federal Site Hearings to be Held In Washington; Substitutes For Mahuka Location to be Examined

Treasury Department Officials Base Action on Mr. McCarn's Reports as to Possible Grounds That Can Be Secured at Saving to Government

C. S. Albert, the Star-Bulletin's Washington correspondent, sent the following cablegram this morning to President Farrington of the Merchants' Association:

Washington, D. C., March 18. Treasury department officials have decided to make an investigation of all sites proposed as a substitute for the Mahuka federal building site. The investigation begins in 10 days or two weeks. McCarn's second report gave a list of five or six sites suitable for substitutes for the Mahuka site, at a saving of a hundred thousand dollars. The government will examine them.

AUTOMOBILE TO LEAP OVER PALI THRILLS APLENTY ARE PROMISED

There have been a number of serious accidents on the Nuuanu Pali road at different times, but fortunately an automobile has never yet gone over that fearful precipice. Consequently there is no positive information at hand as to what would really happen to a machine which should make the terrific leap. This uncertainty will be dispelled, however, at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning when a real auto, under its own power, will plunge through the fence which guards the brink, and will make the hair-raising leap, apparently carrying with it a load of human freight. The demonstration is to be made by Henry McRae and his company of moving picture artists, and of course will be recorded in film picture, to subsequently become a part of a thrilling photo-play, which has been written by Mr. McRae.

The automobile is a real machine, though not a very good one, probably, as indicated by the fact that it was purchased from the junk yard of C. H. Brown. But it will run, and will doubtless furnish thrills for future audiences that will be very real.

This is one of the first of many stunts of this company during the next few months that it will be in the islands.

SECURING NEW JURY IN BERT BOWER CASE PROVES VERY SLOW WORK

Difficulty in securing a jury is delaying the opening of the second trial of George A. ("Bert") Bower, in the federal court on an adultery charge. The case was opened at 10 o'clock this morning, but at the time of the noon recess only three jurors had been examined by the defendant's counsel.

As in the previous trial, Bower is represented by Attorneys E. A. Douthett and Leon M. Straus. District Attorney Jeff McCarn is being assisted in the prosecution by J. W. Thompson, who recently arrived here from Tennessee.

The jury panel drawn for the case is as follows: W. L. Hopper, A. N. Otremba, D. F. Thrum, S. T. Carr, Albert F. Afong, J. H. Soper, H. S. Gray, Ranney Scott, C. H. Atherton, D. W. An-

LOVE-MADDENED FILIPINO KILLS COUNTRYWOMAN

Tragedy at Paauhau—Laborer with Cane-knife Slays Former Mistress

[Special Star-Bulletin Wireless] HILO, March 18.—A horrible crime due to maddened love was enacted early this morning when Isidro Sanchez, a Filipino field laborer, hacked to death Regina, a woman with whom he was infatuated.

Using a cane-knife as his weapon, the Filipino committed the deed at 7 o'clock this morning at Paauhau. The woman was also a Filipino.

The woman, who has a family, is said to have been Sanchez's mistress formerly but had returned to her husband. When she refused to return again to Sanchez, he killed her. The knife severed the cords in her neck and death was almost instantaneous. Sanchez attempted to carry the woman off bodily a short time ago. She was then protected by 12 of her countrymen, who were being investigated by County Attorney Beers on an assault case.

PARIS SEETHING; SOLDIERS POSTED TO STOP RIOTING

[Associated Press Cable]

PARIS, France, March 18.—Excellence over the killing of Calmette, publisher of the Figaro, by Madame Callanx is steadily growing and so aroused are the people over the revelations of scandal in the ministry that serious consequences are feared. The city is seething. Soldiers have been posted at strategic street points to guard against a general outbreak of passion, and the police are constantly busy in dispersing small mobs. There have been several university student riots. The "yellow" Socialists are fanning the flames of discontent and disorder.

Intimates Canal Tolls Bill To Be Repealed If Powers Will Not Intervene

[Associated Press Cable]

JUAREZ, Mex., March 18.—Closely following the murder of Oscar Allen, an American citizen employed as night watchman at the Madera Company's stores and offices at Juarez, bandits broke into the company's warehouses and looted them.

Strict censorship is maintained by General Villa and the progress of the important battles around Torreon are unknown. The report of insurgent reverses is unconfirmed.

INTIMATES POWERS IN TRADE WITH PRESIDENT

[Associated Press Cable]

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18.—A bold intimation that the price of the repeal of the Panama canal tolls bill is the non-intervention of the Powers in Mexico was made today by Senator Jones of Washington, in a speech in the senate today he intimated that the administration has agreed with foreign powers to see that the tolls bill is repealed if the Powers will keep hands off and let President Wilson work out his Mexican policy.

"What kind of a foreign policy is it that requires such humiliating, cowardly, craven action on our part?" demanded Senator Jones, supporting his resolution calling for full information as to the canal toll controversy.

OREGON'S GOVERNOR SAYS WAR IS SURE TO RESULT

[Associated Press Cable]

SALEM, Oregon, March 18.—Governor Oswald West, Oregon's noted executive, believes that war between the United States and Mexico is soon coming.

Returning from a trip to the Mexican border, where he stayed some time, the governor said today:

"I am confident that war with Mexico cannot be long postponed. I cannot conceive of anything that will restore Mexico to a settled condition. Growing pressure from within and without will surely force the United States to intervene."

"I shall notify the members of the National Guard of the state of Oregon to hold themselves in readiness for service soon."

FEDERAL TROOPS RUSHED NORTH TOWARD TORREON

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Mar. 18.—Fifteen hundred federal troops have been sent north to reinforce the government army at Torreon. The detachment that left today is supplied with modern equipment and takes with it 10 high-powered automobiles for scouting purposes.

'UNEMPLOYED' OF SACRAMENTO GET BEST OF ENEMY

[Associated Press Cable]

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 18.—Playing a smooth game, the leaders of the "army of the unemployed" have outwitted the local authorities and police officers who have been trying to drive them from their camps in this county.

Apparently dispersing, the unemployed ostensibly obeyed the orders of the police and deputy sheriffs. However, their leaders bought an acre of land four miles north of Sacramento, paying $70 cash through a Socialist sales agent, the owner of the land being unaware of the sale. When the man whose land had been sold found the "army" moving in to encamp upon it he sent in a riot call. The "army" was mustered for action when the sheriff arrived on the scene, and that official was immediately confronted with the "contract of sale," which he found apparently legal. He holds that he is powerless to evict the idle men and sympathizers are furnishing them with plenty of food. They apparently intend to defy all efforts to drive them from this vicinity.

COLLIER JUPITER AFIRE AND NAVY OFFICIALS IN MUCH PERPLEXITY NOW

[Associated Press Cable]

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Mar. 18.—Naval officers here were considerably perturbed today over a disaster to the new electrically-propelled naval collier Jupiter. The Jupiter, which is preparing to round the Horn with a full cargo, has caught fire in one compartment, which is now blazing furiously, supposedly from spontaneous combustion. Officers at Mare Island say they believe they can get the fire under control.

JUDGE COOPER MAY HAVE KEY TO TREASURE

Treasure to the value of $85,000,000 represented by a fabulous hoard of golden ornaments and temple decorations, several hundredweight of bullion, priceless plate fished from the storehouses of Peruvians and the Incas, was given this morning as the principal mission of Judge Henry E. Cooper, in his departure for the South Seas last evening in the little schooner-yacht Laka, that sailed for the Palmyra group, 1000 miles to the southward of Honolulu.

Judge Cooper will call at his possessions in the Palmyra, where he will leave some provisions sufficient to provide for the temporary wants of a small party of laborers who are to clear several of the 52 islands incorporated in the Palmyra group.

Gold and precious stones, representing lost secured by Spanish invasion into Mexico, Peru and Chile totaling close to the hundred million mark are generally supposed to have been buried on one of a number of smaller islands in the Tahiti archipelago.

Judge Cooper served in the role of a benefactor to a party of stranded Tahitians, who reached Honolulu some months ago, penniless and almost destitute of clothing. It was pointed out today that these men profess to have positive information concerning the hiding place of the hidden wealth which for years has proved an inducement for innumerable searching parties.

As the story that reached Honolulu from the Tahitians runs, the gold and silver were deposited in the Tahiti islands by mutineers. While on his death bed, a survivor of the crew is said to have imparted the location of the concealed treasure to a native wife. The Tahitians, who have spent some time in Honolulu, kept much to themselves, but it is said that one member of the party was supplied with the information as well as an inventory of the princely cache and its position on the lagoon islet before he was finally picked up by a passing steamer and brought to Honolulu.

"There were sufficient provisions put aboard the Laka to keep her away for many weeks," was the comment made at the mysterious departure of the schooner from a berth near the foot of Fort street yesterday.

Judge Cooper sailed with his son, Frank Cooper, and the famous Hawaiian artist, D. Howard Hitchcock.

Captain Emil Plitz, one of the best versed navigators in the South Pacific, is in command of the Laka.

American-Hawaiian Movements.

Two American-Hawaiian freighters on the berth or sailing from Puget Sound for the islands, are destined to bring heavy cargoes of foodstuffs, forage, flour and general merchandise, judging from reports received in this city by C. P. Morse, general freight agent for the American-Hawaiian line. The steamer Columbian is now en route to Honolulu and should arrive here about March 24. This vessel received a quantity of freight while at Salina Cruz that had been transhipped from steamers in the Atlantic service. The Alaskan is to follow the Columbian from the Sound, sailing from Seattle for Honolulu about March 28. A vast quantity of sugar awaits the Columbian and Alaskan at Port Allen, Kahului and Hilo.

Much Joy at Lurline Sailing.

Much joyousness attended the departure of the Matson Navigation steamer Lurline for San Francisco from Pier 18 last evening. Spectators who gathered at the wharf will have occasion to remember the sailing as one of the merriest witnessed in many moons. While the list of passengers was not a large one, it was made up of a number of well-known Honolulu bents on a visit to the mainland. Departing from the usual color scheme, leis of emerald shade were introduced in honor of the celebration of St. Patrick's day. The Lurline sailed with the largest cargo of the season. The list of island products included 6257 tons of sugar, 1000 tons of molasses, and a quantity of miscellaneous shipments of bananas, coffee and 11,000 cases of preserved pineapples. Capt. A. L. Soule, who brought the steamer Wilhelmina into port, took over the command of the Lurline. It is predicted that he may retain the office in the adjustment of the reported retirement of Captain Peter Johnson.

Taking about 100 cabin passengers and a large mail, the Oceanic liner Ventura, from Australia, will be dispatched for San Francisco at 5 o'clock Saturday evening.

MANOA IS NOW ON WAY TO ISLANDS

Due to make its initial appearance at Honolulu on next Tuesday, the new Matson liner Manoa, which recently completed a long voyage from the east coast of the United States by way of the straits of Magellan, has sailed from San Francisco, according to a cable received today at the agency of Castle & Cooke.

The Manoa will bring a fair-sized cargo for discharge at Honolulu and Kahului. The vessel sailed with 2293 tons of cargo for this port, and carries in transit 387 tons of freight for Kahului. Scattering shipments destined for Port Allen and Kaanapali will be left at Honolulu.

The Manoa is to alternate with the Lurline in making a monthly round trip between San Francisco and the islands. The new vessel has accommodations for 78 cabin and a number of staterooms de luxe while other cabins are modern as well as commodious. The Manoa has been provided with a promenade deck of about the same size as that of the Wilhelmina. The vessel uses oil as fuel, and is rated as in every way in keeping with the standard of excellence maintained in vessels in the Matson fleet.

Siberia May Sail for Coast Monday.

The Pacific Mail liner Siberia may be dispatched from Honolulu for San Francisco on Monday, if present predictions concerning the time of arrival of the vessel from the Orient hold good. The Siberia is reported to be bringing 1100 tons of cargo from China and Japan ports. During the stay here, 1000 tons of coal will be placed aboard. The Siberia has room for 125 cabin passengers and this number is said to have been booked at the agency of H. H. H. & Company.

Kalulani Brought Food for Flames.

The greater bulk of the cargo brought to the port from the island of Hawaii in the steamer Kalulani this morning consisted of firewood, more than 100 cords of this commodity being received with the arrival of the vessel. Other items on the freight list included a quantity of scrap iron, and empty drums and containers. A strong westerly wind and a moderate sea were met in crossing the channel.

The territorial grand jury in session this afternoon indicted She Moon Biyo on a charge of assault with a weapon, it being alleged that he assaulted a Japanese woman, Myajumai, with a weapon on March 1. An investigation against Merico M. Pedro, on a similar charge resulted in a no bill.

With a view of improving the general sanitation of the whole district embraced in the activities of the Waialae, Kaimuki and Palolo Improvement Club, a post card campaign has been inaugurated by the sanitation committee. The cards give a diagram representing six blocks, and the members to whom they are sent are expected to indicate on them anything in way of nuisance which should have attention. When the cards are returned the committee expects to have a lot of valuable data.

At the request of her mother, a 17-year-old Hawaiian girl this morning was taken into custody by Probation Officer John Anderson just as she was to depart for Hilo in the Mauna Kea in company with her uncle. When the case came up in Judge Whitney's court at 1 o'clock, the mother stated that she did not approve of the girl's leaving home with her uncle on account of the fact that the girl had gotten into some trouble when she last visited the Big Island. The case was turned over to Miss Agnes Maynard, girls' probation officer, for further investigation.

SECURING NEW JURY IN BERT BOWER CASE PROVES VERY SLOW WORK

most of the time until noon was devoted to questioning W. L. Hopper and in arguments to the court concerning his eligibility. Mr. Hopper stated in answer to a question, that he had read of the Power case in the newspapers, and the details of the first trial of the case as this published, and that he had and still has a definite opinion regarding the guilt or innocence of the accused, based on this information.

On this statement he was challenged for cause by the defendant, and much argument ensued between counsel and with Judge Clemens on the matter, the court finally denying the challenge for the time being, stating that he did so without prejudice, and that the jury might later be again challenged. Exception was noted to the court's ruling by Bower's attorneys.

A. N. Ottemba and D. F. Thrum were examined and passed for cause after the usual questions, and the court adjourned until 2 o'clock.

As will be remembered by Star-Bulletin readers, Bower, who is a chauffeur in the automobile rent service, was tried about two weeks ago on a charge of adultery preferred against him by Victoria Mortenson, a part Hawaiian girl. The case attracted a good deal of attention, and resulted in a disagreement of the jury.

"Didn't I tell you the last time you were here," said the magistrate sternly to the prisoner who had celebrated not wisely but too well, "that I never wanted to see you come before me again?" "Yes, sir," replied the prisoner, "but I couldn't make the policeman believe it."—Buffalo Times.

MOSES PUAAH IS STRONG WITNESS FOR TERRITORY

road makai, turning around and coming back and getting out. Meantime Puahi met Drew and Startup, Marshall's companions, just outside the house. They went out to the car and tried to induce Marshall to go away. He refused, and a few moments later Guerrier and Dick came out of the house.

Puahi was then inside the dance hall, near the door. He saw Marshall start toward the road in the direction of his car, and Guerrier and Dick start up the steps, returning to the dance hall.

"As Marshall was walking toward the road," he said "something—all I heard was 'gun,'" said Puahi. Questioned closely by County Attorney Cathcart, Puahi stated that he understood Marshall to say:

"I am going to get my gun." At that, continued the witness, Dick and Guerrier turned and chased after Marshall, who hurried to his automobile, leaped in and was ready to start when his pursuers reached him. Puahi, who had joined in the pursuit, reached the car just as Dick, within striking distance of Marshall, had raised his arms, and thinking he was about to hit Marshall, Puahi, the witness asserted, grasped Dick and pushed him aside.

"At the same time," he averred, he noticed two white men besides Marshall in the car, one of whom dismounted at the moment. Puahi did not know this man, but described him as wearing eye-glasses and garbed in white trousers; he had not seen the same man around the judiciary building in the course of the present trial. This gave the inference that the man in question was C. F. Drew, whom Marshall is said to have returned to get later.

Drew left for the Coast shortly after the shooting and reports came back here later that he was drowned in California. Whether these reports were authentic and whether Drew's body was ever recovered has never been established here, but he has not been heard of since that time.

Continuing his story of the incident at the automobile, Puahi said he noticed Guerrier directly behind the car, and as he observed Guerrier he heard the words, "You'll see!" spoken, as nearly as he could judge, by someone in the automobile. He could not say whether they were uttered by Marshall or by his remaining companion, presumably Startup. Then, he said, Guerrier made a leap to grab Marshall, but simultaneously the car started and Guerrier missed, but did not give up his effort to get at Marshall, giving chase to the automobile and following it down the road a considerable distance. He was forced eventually to give up, and rejoined the party at the resort.

Helen Bower, another of the hula girls, who testified almost entirely in English, virtually corroborated the story told by Madame Puahi, to the effect that she saw Guerrier start toward Marshall and heard him profanely threaten the latter's life.

"Why didn't you tell me that when you were in my office last week?" asked County Attorney Cathcart.

"You didn't ask me what he said," was the witness' answer.

"Didn't you tell me that Guerrier acted as though he was mad?"

"Yes."

"Didn't I ask you what made you think so?"

"No."

"Didn't I ask you if he said anything?"

"No."

"Didn't you then say, 'No, he didn't say anything'?"

"No."

"I asked you to tell me everything you knew, didn't I?"

Attorney F. E. Thompson, for the defense, objected to this, and his objection was sustained, the witness not being permitted to answer.

Opunui, the hula musician or gourd pounder, testified briefly. He did not witness any of the trouble, he averred, being in his room in the cottage at the rear of the main house when the shot was fired that killed Guerrier, and remaining there until the affray ended.

He testified that on one occasion during the night, while he was in the telephone room awaiting his cue to come on with his gourd and entertain the visitors he was warned by Madame Puahi to stay there, as there was trouble in the dance hall. He said he heard swearing but did not know who was doing it.

Helen Bower, the hula girl, raised a laugh when asked if she would know Marshall if she saw him now. She replied that she didn't think she would, "because he's very poor now."

"How do you know?" asked the prosecutor.

"Because of the worry," was her answer.

POLICE STINGS

William Chapman, charged with taking 50 feet of garden hose, asked for more time in which to plead, when arraigned before District Magistrate Monsarrat.

Tom Douglass charged with having disposed of intoxicating liquor and placed under arrest by Special License Officer Fennell, to be released on bail of $100, forfeited this sum when the case was called at district court.

Laden with ice, a wagon belonging to the Barnhart company figured in a runaway yesterday afternoon, the mobile passing in the vicinity of Thurston and Magazine streets. Fred Lopes, driver, and Fred Andrews, an assistant, escaped with slight injuries.

The police have been ordered to serve a warrant upon James Green, a local chauffeur, and driver of car number 1182. Green is alleged to have run down a Portuguese boy, and failed to stop his machine to ascertain the extent of injuries inflicted through the collision.

Judge Monsarrat this morning ordered a case in which Henry Afong was charged with failure to settle an automobile bill, dismissed from district court calendar, it being announced that a private settlement of the account had been effected between the chauffeur and Afong.

Harbor Officer Carter added a neat sum to his bank roll Tuesday through the clever capture of two men giving their names as E. E. Salle and O. C. Jensen, who are alleged to have deserted from Troop M, 4th Cavalry. They were in the act of taking a passage in the Oceanic liner Sonoma for Australia when apprehended by the officer.

When Mrs. Lee Ching Wa called at the home of John Akanao on Dowsett lane last evening and began an animated conversation with portraits and other works of art suspended along the walls, Akanao sought assistance of Police Officer Marabha to eject the woman from the premises. Mrs. Wa is held at central station pending an investigation as to her sanity.

It was by the narrowest margin that Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Dougherty and two children escaped serious injuries in a collision with a heavy auto truck belonging to the 25th Infantry, last evening as they were town-bound from Waiwala. Mr. and Mrs. Dougherty were returning in their car, when passing along Waiwala gulch, the heavier vehicle was met, and before sounding a warning had crashed into the car, smashing the front end of the machine, wrecking lights and fenders. According to Dougherty, the driver of the truck failed to make inquiry or even stop to determine what damage had been done through the contact. The police are today looking for the driver.

Young Brothers, Ltd., for the present will be dropped from the list of those corporations scheduled to pay fees to the Public Utilities Commission this month, according to an action taken at the meeting of the commission yesterday. In a letter to the commission, James H. ARMY NOTES

General Carter, General Macomb, Major Conklin and the department commander's aides, Lieutenants Pillow and Reardon, continued their tour of the Oahu posts and defenses this morning. With the press of administrative work, it will take General Carter several weeks to see all of his new command, but he is anxious to go over as much of the ground as possible before the departure of General Macomb, on the April transport.

The detachment is quite sizeable command, and Sergeant Walsh, who is in command of the department library, performs all the duties of a company 1st sergeant in connection with the paper work. Lt. J. G. Pillow, General Carter's senior aide, has been placed in command of the headquarters detachment. He is also a brilliant. Lieutenant Ricdan, the other aide to the department commander, is inspector of small arms practice.

The 4th Cavalry is working hard over the new tentative cavalry drill regulations, and the general verdict is favorable. The local horse soldiers find the double rank formation simple, flexible, and well adapted to local conditions.

Headquarters of the Hawaiian Department has grown so within the past year that the civilian clerical force is not nearly adequate, and a large number of enlisted men are employed.

General Edwards, accompanied by the members of the brigade staff, returned the call of Major Myers, commanding the marine battalion, this morning.

KAUAI CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TAKES HAND IN CANNERY SITE

Discussion of the Kapua cannery site by the Kauai Chamber of Commerce has added a new feature to a subject that sprang into much prominence when the governor and the land board held partially divergent views as to the amount of land the Hawaiian Canneries Company should be allowed.

The Kauai chamber now urges that the governor deed in fee simple not less than eight, nor more than 10 acres to the cannery company, and that 15 acres adjoining be cut up by the government for the purpose of house lots.

The cannery company has been asking for a tract of land approximately 19 acres in size and this request was endorsed by the governor and after spirited discussion granted by the land board.

The Garden Island says of the Chamber of Commerce discussion:

at the meeting last night, but McClellan spoke for him, or in his defense, by giving the reasons the work on the bridge has not been started. "The high water there has made it impossible," said McClellan, "to go ahead with the work."

Pacheco and Mayor Fern contend that this is not a valid argument. "If they are going to wait for the river to dry up before building a bridge, there is no use for it to be built," said the Mayor. "The city and county is apt to get in a bad damage suit on account of Sunday's accident." Pacheco began an investigation this morning into the conditions surrounding the appropriation. He said that he was "not going to let up," but proposed to take a strong stand against Whitehouse on this issue. "This is not a joke," he said. "It is serious business when a public bridge is left in such a condition that traffic on it is eminently unsafe. Something has to be done, and we are going to start right out to do it."

"The money for repairing the bridge became available on December 8, 1913, by the passage of Resolution No. 122. The bridge should have been repaired but nothing has been done, though the money is available." With that he announced that tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock several supervisors and the mayor will visit Wahiawa and inspect the bridge.

ANNUAL MEETING OF Y.M.C.A. TO BE LARGE AFFAIR

Young men—and old—to the number of more than 500, will gather in the games hall of the Young Men's Christian Association Tuesday evening, May 5, to attend the largest annual meeting in the history of the Honolulu association. Not only that, but with 500 covers laid and the men composing the association attending the dinner, it doubtless will be the largest gathering of business and professional men ever held in this city, from the fact that the bulk of the business and professional men of Honolulu is back of the association. They work on committees, direct its activities and handle its finances, and reap its benefits.

The gathering will be in the form of an annual stockholders meeting. Brief, snappy three-minute talks will outline the work which the association has accomplished during the past year. These talks will tell of the benefits which have been received by the different members in the physical, educational and other departments. The plan of seating the members by states, so successfully used recently by the Y. W. C. A. at its annual meeting, will be followed by the men's association, and stunts by the several state delegations will be on the program during the dinner.

Five committees now are being appointed to work up the event. There will be committees on programs, invitations, dinner, decorations and state delegations. The committee on decorations will carry out some plans used occasionally in connection with salesmen's conventions which will give an air of hustle and snap to the annual affair. Some very unique schemes will be used in reporting the work of the association, which doubtless will set a new standard along this line.

Reports from Kauai and Maui are to the effect that there is much disappointment over the fact that the appropriations for improvement of Nawiliwili and Kahului harbors had been left out of the congressional bill by the committee on rivers and harbors.

The Kauai chamber of commerce on March 12 passed a resolution endorsing the Nawiliwili project. The resolution in part is:

"Whereas, There is now before the Congress of the United States of America House Resolution Number 1994, being 'A Bill for the construction of a breakwater at Nawiliwili harbor, island of Kauai, Territory of Hawaii'; and

"Whereas, The breakwater and harbor indicated in said bill are vital to the commercial interests of the island of Kauai, Territory of Hawaii; therefore, be it

"Resolved, By the Kauai Chamber of Commerce, That the Congress of the United States be and is hereby requested and urged to take up and act favorably upon said House Resolution Number 1994, and to make such other provisions as will speedily provide to the harbor of Nawiliwili, Kauai, Territory of Hawaii, the breakwater and shipping facilities appertaining thereto."

Of the non-inclusion of the two items in the river and harbor bill, the Garden Islands says:

"Information arrived here, Friday morning (the day after the meeting of the Kauai Chamber of Commerce) that the appropriations for both the Nawiliwili and Kahului harbors had been left out of the bill in Congress by the committee on rivers and harbors. However, the resolutions passed by the local Chamber will go forward, and every effort will be made to reinstate the item. The letter in regard to Nawiliwili is from John R. Desha, secretary to Delegate Kuhio, is dated February 28, and reads as follows:

"I am taking this opportunity to inform you that the rivers and harbors committee of the house of representatives has seen fit to leave out Nawiliwili harbor from the bill which was reported the other day. The committee adopted the policy of considering only old matter at this session, and ignoring new projects such as the Nawiliwili proposition. "However, we are hoping that at the next session, the Nawiliwili project will be considered. In the meantime, I would urge that all possible data which might be of help be forwarded to this office."

Morning on CHANGE

Pines showed the only change or gain in price of deals made this morning. A block of ten shares was sold, which showed a gain of three-quarters of a point, the price being 36.75. This, and four small deals in Brewery constituted the stock business done on the exchange this morning. Brewery, 30 shares of which changed hands, brought 19.75. Between boards Olaa was the only stock dealt in. Thirty-five shares went at 1, the figure it held at its former sale.

TRAFFIC BILL IS PASSED BY SUPERVISORS

Amendment Added That Militates Against Intoxicated Drivers of Vehicles

Adding one more important amendment, which was put in on the suggestion of C. W. Ashford, the board of supervisors passed the traffic ordinance last night. A summary of this law is given in another place in this paper.

This new amendment is aimed to stop the accidents which happen by reason of intoxicated drivers. It makes a driver who has taken a drink within one hour of the time of an accident in which his vehicle figures prima facie guilty of intoxication, thus shifting the burden of proof on him to show that he was sober.

Attention has been called to the publication, this morning, of a story to the effect that the new amendment applies to drivers of "rent automobiles," the inference being that it applies to them only. This is denied by the framers of the amendment and by the text of the amendment. Deputy attorney Weaver emphasizes that it applies to any and all drivers of any and all vehicles, including automobiles, motorcycles, wagons, buggies, streetcars, etc.

The ordinance passed first reading by title. There was not an objection to it. So thoroughly had it been thrashed out by the supervisors as a committee of the whole that whatever faults they had to find with it originally were done away with or forgotten by the time of the meeting last night.

Although onions are now selling at about 5 cents, it is stated that by the end of next month the price will probably be much lower, owing to the harvesting of the bulk of the crop before that time.

Wherever souls are being tried and ripened, in whatever commonplace and homely ways, there God is heaving out the pillars for His temple.—Phillips Brooks.

TALK IT OVER WITHOUT QUARRELLING

What Honolulu wants is action to get a federal building.

To get action there must be some kind of unity of opinion here. To get unity of opinion now is the motive that has reopened the entire site question. It is evidently the determined stand of the United States district attorney that the enlarged Mahuka site is going to cost the government a lot of money, and that other sites are available as substitutes at a considerable saving. It is just as evident that the treasury department officials in Washington are relying for decisive information very largely on Mr. McCann. No one can quarrel with the district attorney in his efforts to save Uncle Sam any expense possible. We believe that a sane and thorough discussion of the new issues and new developments will leave the community better satisfied than ever before. The folly of a bitter fight and a wide split should be too apparent to permit of repetition.

"UNEMPLOYED AND UNEMPLOYABLE"

There is no particular need to get excited over the news from Sacramento yesterday that the "army of the unemployed" is plotting to mobilize in Chicago, seize the Rock Island arsenal, take commandeered trains to Washington and start a real revolution.

The plan was evolved in the fevered brain of some half-crazed outcast, talked over with his comrades in rags, and to their unbalanced mentalities it undoubtedly seemed feasible. But common-sense brands it as merely foolish. The state of mind of the average "hobo" and "bum" who gets together with his kind easily leads to wild visions, particularly when the gathering of tramps is leavened by anarchists and certain types of Socialists. These—usually the leading spirits—furnish the needed mental stimulus to arouse the outcast often to desperate measures. The recent occurrences in San Francisco and Sacramento show the effects of a few vehement leaders upon a tattered mob of unemployed men.

In the great majority of cases, the man out of work for any length of time, particularly in the western states, is the man who doesn't want to work except at his own terms. The Wall Street Journal recently put the situation epigrammatically when it said, "The problem of the idle worker, in fact, is not so much the unemployed as the unemployable." The Journal's view of it is so well stated and so widely applicable that further quotation is deserved:

Out of the many thousands of idle men in New York only a mere handful consented to shovel snow, and the newspaper reports stated that on Monday even these men "quit" and declined to work in the storm. What would the thousands of telegraph and telephone linemen, working day and night to restore communications, snatching brief intervals of sleep from their arduous labor say to this? The men who quit and the men who refused such employment were the volunteers in the army of the unemployed.

No one who has had the handling of men can have failed to notice how greatly the individual failure has only himself to blame. Eliminating the great cause of intemperance, there are other reasons just as vital. Lack of the power of concentration, want of application, inability to foresee the ultimate market value of character and trustworthiness, beyond present humble employment and small reward—all these go to make that class which lies down under the first reverse.

It is a class which has notably failed to secure the sympathy of the steady workman. To use an expressive colloquialism, the red-blooded American despises a quitter. It is this class which holds up church congregations for doles. It is this class which is willing for any work except that offered, or which refuses the work offered except at a rate of wages it knows to be impossible. This is the soil in which the seeds of anarchy are sown. It is to these that the paid agitators preach of rights while they ignore duties. It is these who think that their fellows must keep them in comfort while they do nothing in return, contribute no surplus of useful production to the common capital.

Let any man ask himself how often has he seen really industrious workmen out of employment for any length of time, except by their own choice in a labor dispute? The man who wants work can get it, and can soon establish a character that will get him better work.

BRITISH AND GERMAN NAVAL RIVALRY

Two features of the announcement yesterday by Winston Churchill, first lord of the British admiralty, concerning naval policy, are of extreme importance. The first is that British policy is to complete eight battleship squadrons while Germany is completing five. The second building site, too!

is the strong intimation that Great Britain confidently expects a renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

The size of the naval estimates for this year, $257,750,000, is of course rather staggering, particularly as it represents a material increase over last year's appropriations, but mere figures in battleship construction count little. It is the proportion of growth between rival countries that is important. Therefore the declaration that Great Britain is determined to retain supremacy over Germany in first-class battleship strength in the ratio of eight to five is the significant fact.

Both Great Britain and Germany are now in the midst of their naval planning for this year. On February 20 Grand-admiral von Tirpitz of the German navy took considerable part in the discussion of the navy estimates. Some reference having been made to the present South American cruise of German ships, the grand-admiral said:

"There is no doubt whatever that the political and economic advantage of the appearance of our ships abroad is in many cases not fully appreciated. We need only ask the Germans who live abroad. They will confirm the fact to the full. It is not only an economic and political necessity for us to bestir ourselves in the foreign service, but it is also a military necessity. A great navy must be in constant touch with the ocean and with ocean conditions, and also with foreign conditions. If in recent years we have not done this in the measure that we could have desired, it has been due to circumstances which I need not discuss more closely. We needed a concentration in home waters corresponding with the circumstances. We must, however, be more active with our navy abroad. The matter is that the number of our ships abroad (Auslandslotte) contemplated by the navy law has not yet been reached."

Von Tirpitz is a navy expansionist. He demanded more large cruisers in 1912, but the claims of the war office for army increases were given precedence. His utterances above are interpreted in England to mean a definite program for further adding to German strength on the sea.

WHY?

Why were the items for the improvement of Nawiliwili harbor, Kauai, and Kahului harbor, Maui, left out of the house rivers and harbors committee recommendations in the bill reported to the house? The improvements are badly needed. Jack Desha, Delegate Kuhio's secretary, wrote to the Kauai chamber of commerce under date of February 28 that the bill had been reported, without the local items, to the house "the other day." Delegate Kuhio's illness, which caused him to leave Washington, was learned of here on February 25. It is probable that the decision of the committee was reached prior to that time.

"Income Tax Blanks Swamp Collector," says a newspaper headline, but, gentle reader, it is not from a newspaper in Hawaii. It is from Brooklyn, N. Y. Quite evidently Brooklyn has no sugar industry under a free-trade bill.

Wellesley college girls made such a good record in handling a dormitory fire that the question is immediately raised if college training shouldn't be made a prerequisite for a job in the fire department.

Food prices in the United States reached the highest level in twenty-four years on November 15, 1913. Of course, under "the new freedom," you don't have to eat unless you want to.

One of the trustees at the city jail yesterday borrowed the sheriff's auto for a joyride. Evidently opposed to monopoly!

The fierce light that beats around a throne is nothing to the limelight that beats around the district attorney these days.

Ad Club members are advised not to forget that reservations for the Kauai trip will close on Saturday noon.

If that "army of the unemployed" starts its revolution the president needn't worry any more about Mexico.

Why don't they finish that Kewalo reclamation job and then argue about it?

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

—E. A. MOTT-SMITH: The question now is, "Shall I or shall I not make that excursion to Japan?"

—P. L. WEAVER: Jean-Christophe may be a great novel; but it is more of a clinic than a piece of art.

—L. L. McCANDLESS: With a force of my own men, one of the most dangerous portions of the windward Pali road has been straightened out. I was willing to foot the bill to insure my own personal safety.

—LIEUT.-COL. W. R. RILEY: A good band would be a great help to the National Guard. Now that Hawaii has a full regiment, and a first class armory in Honolulu, a band is almost a necessity, and we hope soon to have one organized.

—MAJOR A. S. CONKLIN: The winning of the Knox trophy by the 68th and 143rd companies, Coast Artillery, is a big boost for the Coast Defenses of Oahu. As a matter of fact, all the seacoast batteries here made good records during the 1913 target practice.

—JACK CLEARY: St. Patrick sure blessed his people in Honolulu yesterday by giving us the best weather yet. By the same token we want to thank the people of Honolulu who turned out in such a big crowd to observe and encourage our amateur thespians last night.

—T. H. GIBSON: The department of public instruction is continuing to receive letters from persons on the mainland who wish to come to Hawaii as teachers. The majority of the applicants, however, will have to become more proficient in writing and spelling before they will be given consideration.

—EBEN P. LOW: The man who attempts to proceed along windward Oahu on county roads between Swanzy's place and Waikane bridge is entitled to much sympathy. The highway is a disgrace to any civilized community and now in far the worst condition of any time during the past four years.

—MAYOR FERN: Ought to be a law "against Democratic politicians" chewing tobacco these days. They're too vehement. The last one I cornered me made my white shirt look like a piece of tar paper. Don't mind myself, can charge the expense to my entertainin' fund, but it spoils the flies, who keep bothering and sticking around you, and flies don't vote.

—L. D. TIMMONS (secretary of the Kauai Chamber of Commerce): I wish to correct any impression in Honolulu that Kauai is not enthusiastic over the proposed tour of the Ad Club. Not since the visit of the Congressional party years ago have the people of the Garden Island manifested such enthusiasm in any event. The Ad Club may take it from me that the excursionists will not have to "hunt the people out of the bushes," as was literally done at Hilo. The Garden Islanders will meet the Mauna Loa at the dock, and with a "glad hand" at that.

—"SOAPBOX" BARON (whispered from the mainland): Record-breaking crowds are greeting me at every station on my way to Washington. When we get to Washington I'm going to file a complaint with the interstate commerce commission against the railroads, because they were not permitting the train to stop long enough at the stations to let me unburden my mind for the benefit of the common people. If President Wilson doesn't appoint me Honolulu postmaster-instantly I have an offer to become the leader of the army of unemployed in their proposed advance upon the national capital, and I think I'll accept it.

In honor of the 50th anniversary of the arrival in Honolulu of Rev. Mother Mary Lawrence, sister superior of the convent of the Sacred Hearts, the pupils of the Sacred Hearts Academy, Kaimuki, will entertain their friends at a recital in the assembly hall of the school this evening beginning at 7 o'clock.

L. D. TIMMONS, editor of The Garden Island, and secretary of the Kauai Chamber of Commerce, is over on business for his paper, and also to discuss final details of the Ad Club's excursion with the local committee.

WALTER KAMAIOPII, graduate with the class of 1912 of Kamehameha schools, who is now attending the University of Valparaiso, Indiana, gained much credit when he gave a very successful concert at the University chapel the evening of February 22. Both the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. members of the town attended the concert and all had praise for the young Hawaiian who took full charge of the program.

UNIVERSITY CLUB ENDS BEST YEAR IN ITS HISTORY

The University Club closed the best financial year in its history last night, according to reports from the retiring president, secretary and treasurer presented at the annual meeting held at the club.

A year of progress along many lines was recorded in the address of the retiring president, Charles R. Hemenway, who dwelt upon club affairs and prospects for the future in the course of his interesting report. The club members give Mr. Hemenway great credit for his successful conduct of affairs and are highly appreciative of his efforts and those of the other officers in making a notable start toward wiping out the funded indebtedness of the organization. This indebtedness is not large and has been well taken care of under a plan promoted during President Hemenway's administration. Substantial reductions have been made during the year and it is anticipated that the bonds can be all retired even before the scheduled time.

Robbins B. Anderson, secretary, and A. M. Nowell, treasurer, presented interesting reports. The club has now 289 members, the second largest membership in its history. Last year there were five more, but the retention of membership has been exceedingly good, considering all conditions. Of the 289, 198 are civilian and 91 are service people.

New officers were elected as follows:
President—Senator Albert F. Judd.
Vice-president—E. A. Mott-Smith.
Secretary—E. W. Sutton.
Treasurer—A. M. Nowell.
President Judd has just finished a year as vice-president. Admiral C. B. T. Moore, Gen. Clarence Edwards and Dr. H. V. Murray are the additional governors, the latter being re-elected. Gen. M. M. Macomb and Ranney Scott are the retiring governors. M. M. Graham was elected auditor.

HAWAII TELEPHONE CO. MUST PAY FOUR FEES TO PUBLIC UTILITIES

A problem which the public utilities commission has puzzled over for some time past was solved yesterday afternoon when, at a meeting of the commissioners, Chairman E. A. Mott-Smith was authorized to inform the Hawaii Telephone Company that this month it is due to pay four separate fees to the commission in accordance with the utility act. This action was brought about from the fact that, on September 30, 1913, the Hawaii Telephone Company was reformed through the consolidation of three concerns on the Big Island engaged in a telephone and telegraph business.

On September 30 of last year, the Lele and Kau Telephone & Telegraph Company, the Hauakua and South Kohala Telephone & Telegraph Company and the H. T. and Hawaii Telephone & Telegraph Company were consolidated under the name of the Hawaii Telephone Company, the capital being $100,000. The commission has decided to make a demand for fees on each separate company on the basis of its gross income for the nine months ending September 30, 1913, and also on the capital stock in each case. This will be carried out irrespective of their having combined in September, and on the ground that, as separate companies, they had not disorganized before December 31. A demand for fees also will be made on the combination on the basis of the gross income of the company for the three months ending December 31, 1913, and also on the capital stock of $150,000 outstanding December 31.

SOCIETY

Ormiston Anniversary

The celebration of a wedding anniversary is always the most delightful kind of a social affair for everybody attending seems to assume that he or she is a part of the event—that one is more than an invited guest. Such a charming event took place last Monday evening, March 16, when Mr. and Mrs. Archibald McG. Ormiston celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage at their bungalow home on Eight avenue, Kaimuki.

After a spell of the most pleasant weather the skies commenced to weep about noon hour of Monday. The down-pour getting worse with each succeeding hour, until by evening it had settled into what seemed a "good for all night" rain, but nothing daunted, the majority of those invited, having but a short distance to go, tucked up skirts and rolled up trousers were in order, and under umbrellas and capes they braved the elements.

The spacious rooms of the Ormiston home were well filled before eight o'clock. The rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion with thousands of bougainvillea blossoms.

Among the early evening diversions were a half dozen tables of pedro for a series of games, with the prizes for the winners in the line of cut glass. At ten o'clock the anniversary supper was served, the long tables being loaded with tempting viands, and winding up with ice cream and cake. The bride's cake being cut by the hostess.

At the beginning of the supper the host and hostess were the recipients of a number of pieces of cut glass, some of it coming from the Schoenings at Walluku, Maui. Among the offerings to commemorate this event was a massive cut glass water pitcher from the Palolo Social Club, of which Mr. and Mrs. Ormiston are members.

During the supper the host opened a large tin package that contained a wedding cake that had been sealed for fifteen years. The contents were found to be as fresh and moist as on the day it was placed in the box. In the box with the cake were several mementoes of the "happy event" just fifteen years ago, consisting of invitations to the wedding, cards of the contracting parties and notices of the marriage.

Dancing was indulged in till the witching hour. Among those invited were: Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Jacobson, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Fleble, Mr. and Mrs. C. Arstad, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. De Roo, Mr. and Mrs. A. Clark, Mrs. Hanna, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Schoening, Miss Elizabeth Danielson, Miss Charlotte Danielson, Miss Louise De Roo, Miss May Arstad, Miss Dorothy Ormiston, Master Douglas Ormiston.

Gregg-Haldorn. Intimate friends of Miss Enid Gregg have always been in the habit of declaring that in anything where this dashing, clever young woman was concerned, the unexpected was always to be expected, for she always did have an original way of her own about everything. So it was quite true to this impression of her last week when, without the slightest ostentation of fuss of any sort, she was married to Stuart Haldorn at the First Presbyterian church, the Rev. William Guthrie officiating. Nothing could have been more typical of the matter-of-fact individuality of both of the young people. They might have had a big wedding, for both are very popular and the biggest church would not have been any too roomy to hold their many friends.

Almost immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Haldorn left on their wedding trip, returning to San Francisco within a fortnight to begin housekeeping at apartments in Jones street, the cozy rooms being even now filled with all manner of lovely gifts. As Mrs. Gregg, mother of the attractive Mrs. Haldorn, has been ill for several weeks, she did not attend the wedding, but Mr. Gregg, Miss Ethel Gregg, Dalton Mann and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Murray, the latter the mother of Mr. Haldorn, were present during the brief ceremony.

Mrs. Haldorn was gowned in a modish blue serge French tailor gown, with a small round straw hat of the sailor type, trimmed with a bunch of small flowers in front. She is the eldest of the two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Gregg and has been one of the most feted and sought after of the belles of society for several seasons. Mr. Haldorn is the son of Mrs. J. A. Murray of Montana. The Murrays live much of the time at Monterey. Mr. Murray is one of the mining millionaires of the West. Mrs. Murray is considered one of the handsomest matrons in society, her gowns and jewels being famous. She and her daughter-in-law have been like chums for a long time and both families are overjoyed at the alliance which now unites them.—Exchange.

Nielson-Nicol. The following account of the marriage of Ensign Leroy Nielson, who spent three months in the islands when the South Dakota was stationed here two years ago, will be of interest to his many friends in Honolulu: One of the surprises of the week was the wedding of Miss Helen Nicol and Ensign Joseph Leroy Nielson, U. S. N. The wedding of this attractive young couple was to have been a smart event of the post-Lenten season, but as Ensign Nielson received a leave of absence and he was not sure just where his ship would be later, he came north on Thursday morning, claimed his bride and left for San Diego, where his ship, the Pittsburg, is stationed, on Friday morning. The wedding took place at 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon in St. Paul's Episcopal church, Rev. Edgar Couper officiating. Only Mrs. Frank D. Nicol, the mother of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hays Smith, her brother-in-law and sister, were in attendance.

Korea Carries Society Folk. The good ship Korea which sailed from here yesterday morning bore quite a delegation of passengers from Honolulu, many of them prominent leaders. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shingle left unexpectedly for Washington, being obliged to cancel their trip to Japan which they had planned for next month. Mrs. W. I. Thomas returned to her home in the South after six months visit in the islands with Mrs. J. B. Castle, Mrs. Babbitt and others. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Jones, nee Weaver, returned to New York. They have been extensively entertained during their month's visit in the latter's old home. Admiral W. C. Wise sailed for the mainland after several months with his son and daughter-in-law, Lieut. and Mrs. W. C. Wise of the Marine Corps. Mr. and Mrs. James McCandless were off again for several months on the mainland—the McCandlesses possess a wanderlust and come and go all of the time. It is delightful to be able to do this—especially for Mrs. McCandless who can stock up on clothes in the States and avoid the dress-making problems of Hawaii. General and Mrs. John McClellan, and Miss Josephine McClellan returned to California after a delightful visit to Mother Halstead. Lieut. and Mrs. C. J. Ohndendhal and their two children returned to the mainland after a year in Hawaii where the former has been stationed on the Thetis. His next station is on the Manning in San Diego.

A wedding of interest to Honolulu society took place in Washington last week when Miss Frances Elward Smith became the bride of Lieut. Harry Baldrige, U. S. N., at the home of her parents, General and Mrs. Robert Smith. The young couple are to spend a brief honeymoon in the East before leaving for San Francisco, where Lieutenant Baldrige is attached to the California, and has scores of friends who will give a cordial welcome to the newlyweds.

During the winter the young officer was a frequent host at informal "deck teas" at which many of the prominent belles and matrons of San Francisco society were entertained, and none suspected that he would soon be a benedict. The news of his engagement came as a delightful surprise.

Lieutenant Baldrige and his bride will sail on the Korea on April 4 for Hongkong, where he will serve as aide to Admiral Cowles of the Asiatic fleet.

Honolulu folk who are acquainted with Lieut. Wayne Tod who has made so many visits to the islands—the last one with the Pacific fleet two years ago—will be interested to read the following account of his marriage last month: The wedding of Miss Alma Wick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Henry Wick, of Ashland, Mass., and Lieutenant E. Wayne Tod, of the Navy, took place at high noon Tuesday, the 24th of February, at Pickwick Place, Ashland, in the presence of a few relatives and friends. Rev. Abner C. Fraser, of St. John's Episcopal Church, of Youngstown, Ohio, and Rev. Reynold Pierce, of St. Andrew's Church, Framingham, Mass., performed the ceremony. The bride wore a gown of white satin, trimmed with duchess lace, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. She had three attendants. Her cousin, Mrs. Armin Elserover, of Youngstown, Ohio, was matron of honor, and Miss Caroline Stambaugh and Miss Emily Ames, both of Youngstown, were the bridesmaids. They wore pink taffeta gowns and gold lace Dutch caps, trimmed with lilies and carried shower bouquets of lilies. The best man was Lieutenant C. A. Dunn, classmate of the bridegroom, and the ushers were Lieutenants C. F. Pousland and Lieutenant A. W. Sears. Lieutenant and Mrs. Tod have taken the Harvard and the Maryland avenue, Annapolis, Md., and will be at home after March 15.

Miss Clara Franck, well known here from her many visits to the islands, is an active member of San Francisco and transbay society. Recently she was hostess at a large and very beautiful dance, among her guests being Miss Mary Englehardt, Miss Anne Englehardt, Mr. and Mrs. William Deal, Mr. and Mrs. George Franck, Miss Phyllis Gormeley, Warner Cope, Miss Lucy Shinn, Miss Alice Shinn and a number of others. Miss Franck had unusually pretty decorations for the affair. In the dining-room and hall fragrant clusters of flowering fruit branches were effectively arranged, white lilies and ferns were combined in the other parts of the house.

General and Mrs. William Carter were feted by army and civilian friends during their short stay here before sailing for Honolulu, Thursday. Mrs. Carter shared honors with Mrs. Jerome Pillar, wife of Lieutenant Pillar, General Carter's aide, at an informal tea given Monday afternoon by Mrs. Bert Allen, at her apartment at the San Maurice. Mrs. Pillar and Mrs. Allen are sisters, Mrs. Allen and her husband having come from the East a few weeks ago to make their permanent residence here. Miss Alfred Baker Spalding, Mrs. Alpheus Bull and Mrs. Edward Robinson were among those who called to greet the travelers.—S. F. Examiner.

The U. S. S. Pittsburg arrived in San Diego harbor about noon on Wednesday, bringing Admiral Cowles, who left at once for Washington. After a few weeks in the East, he will sail for the Orient, where he is to be in command of the Asiatic fleet. The many Honolulu friends of Admiral and Mrs. Cowles are rejoicing in this opportunity of meeting again, and are planning more festivities in their honor than their brief visit here en route to Manila will permit.

Mrs. Wallace Bertholf, who expected Lieutenant Bertholf on the Pittsburg, arriving last week from southern waters, received a telegram containing the news that he has been appointed flag lieutenant to Admiral Howard, in command of the Pacific reserve fleet, with the California as flagship. This will keep Lieutenant Bertholf in Mexican waters until April 1, when he will be appointed to shore duty. Mrs. Bertholf is one of the charming matrons of the younger set in San Francisco is a very graceful dancer.—Exchange.

Admiral and Mrs. Chauncey Thomas, U. S. N., retired, are spending the pleasant March days in Pacific Grove with friends. In the near future the Thomas family will build a home in San Francisco in one of the attractive residence sections overlooking the water. The Thomases have many friends in the islands who remember with pleasure their many delightful entertainments on board the U. S. S. California when it was the admiral's flagship and was stationed in Honolulu harbor.

Lieutenant and Mrs. David P. Wood (Sarita Van Ollet) are already busy with their social world, and entertaining as delightfully as experienced housekeepers. Last week they made Major and Mrs. Robert W. Rose the motif for a pretty appointed dinner at their home at Fort McDowell.—Exchange.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Foster Dutton spent the week-end in Burlingame with Mr. and Mrs. Mountford S. Wilson. Mr. and Mrs. Dutton will travel extensively during the next eight months. After a trip to Honolulu and possibly the Orient, they will go to Europe for another pleasure tour.—S. F. Examiner.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Whitman are still at their Fifth avenue home in New York and will not leave for California until some time in April. Their small son, Frederick, will accompany them for his first visit to his great-grandmother, Mrs. Easton, who is keenly anticipating his coming.

Miss Katherine Strickler departed Saturday evening for Albuquerque, where she will remain indefinitely with her father, Mr. Willard W. Strickler. Miss Strickler's brother, Mr. Kennedy Strickler, will sail in March for the Orient and will make a tour of the world before establishing himself in business in Paris.

Among those to arrive on the Mongolia last week were Mrs. George Rodolph of Oakland and her daughters, the Misses Marion and Helen Rodolph. Miss Marion Rodolph is one of the debutantes of this season and since her debut has been the motif for much social attention on both sides of the bay. The party will remain in the islands about five weeks where they will visit with friends.

Mrs. Richard Ivers and her son and daughter in law, who have been visiting Mrs. William G. Irwin, left Wednesday for Honolulu. Mrs. Ivers will spend the summer in the islands and may be joined later by Mrs. Irwin and Mrs. Charles Templeton Crocker.

FOR 25 YEARS' SERVICE

In recognition of his faithful services for 25 years, George P. Denison, superintendent of the Oahu Railway & Land Company was yesterday made the recipient of a beautiful watch, the gift of the company, together with a letter expressing the pleasure of the management of the company in having years.

Mr. Denison came here from Cali-at once took up his work with the railroad company, under the direction of C. H. Kluegel, at that time chief engineer. The road was at that time being constructed, and he rendered valuable service in the building of the system. In later years he has had charge of the operating end of the railroad, and is considered one of the most valuable men in the company's service.

'GRAND IRISH NIGHT' REFLECTS CREDIT TO YOUNG ERIN SOCIETY

Entertaining Program at Ye Liberty by Amateur and Professional Talent

Ireland had her innings in Honolulu yesterday and last night and, whatever the outcome of the home rule bill, the entertainment furnished at Ye Liberty theater by the Young Erin Society and its host of friends, including the members of the Spaulding Musical Comedy Company, was everything that had been promised. It was billed as a "Grand Irish Night." It was!

Amateur and professional talent vied for thespian honors and amateur and professional alike received round upon round of well-merited applause. Irish songs, Irish stories, Irish plays, Irish colors and Irish pictures, moving and posed, went to make up an evening's entertainment that could not fail to delight the former residents of Old Erin, their children and grandchildren. In fact, anyone who failed to find enjoyment in the Young Erin Society's thespian bill-of-fare would be hard to please.

Ye Liberty was well filled when the house was darkened and the first picture thrown on the screen. "The Shaugraun," a typical Irish drama of the days of short breeches and old-lace ruffles, was the opening number and from then on until the finale Ireland came into her own and her many loyal sons and daughters breathed the atmosphere of the "Little Green Isle" for several hours. W. H. Hutton entertained with a number of humorous Irish stories, followed by song. "Dublin Daisies" was the initial offering by Mr. Hutton, who was compelled to respond to a hearty round of applause, which he willingly did, notwithstanding the fact that he was badly handicapped with a severe cold.

Miss Kathleen McTighe and Jack D.

Clearly entertained with an Irish jig. The dance was good and the audience would have liked more of it. "The Irish Emigrant" by T. P. Sedgwick was ably rendered, Mr. Sedgwick responding with a pleasing encore. Another run of motion pictures, of Irish scenes, preceded the tableau. "The Wandering Minstrel," Miss Cartledge posing. "Dear Little Girl" by Mr. Hutton was the next number, followed by a "Four handed—eight footed—Irish jig," by the Misses Lillian McTighe and Marjorie Kennedy and Messrs. William Warren and Daniel Cummins. Another motion picture preceded a violin solo, "Souvenir," by Miss Julia Hollinger, accompanied by Miss Nellie Hollinger. In response to the insistence of the audience Miss Hollinger responded with a number of sweet Irish melodies, ably rendered on that sweetest of all instruments, Miss Evelyn McCandless accompanied the singing numbers, while members of the Young Erin Society assisted Mr. Hutton in his rendition of "Dublin Daisies."

Shortly after 9 o'clock the members of the Spaulding company from the Bijou commenced to drop into Ye Liberty, to lend their aid to the success of the "Grand Irish Night." They did! The "tango dance" by the members of the Spaulding chorus was good. It was cleverly handled and called for a repetition. George Chesbro and Emma Audelle in "Songs and Non-sense," also pleased, and showed an adaptability to vaudeville as well as musical comedy. George L. Spaulding showed an intimate acquaintance with his "Old Friend Casey" in a clever monologue. The DeVon sisters in song and their famous "limber dance" were compelled to respond to a number of encores, which they did with right good will. The program closed with a dramatic sketch, "The Outlaw," by James Guilfoyle, George L. Spaulding and Miss Geraldine Wood, in which

EPITOME OF NEW TRAFFIC BILL

For the convenience of the public, the Star-Bulletin herewith gives a brief summary of the proposed new traffic ordinance. It passed first reading at a meeting of the board of supervisors last night. It is more than 7000 words long. It has been under way of preparation for more than five months, and on it four special meetings of the supervisors have been held. This law, when supplemented by a speed and registration ordinance, will cover entirely the field of vehicle regulations, taking the place of old ordinances which are or will be repealed. Having passed first reading, the traffic ordinance will be printed and passed at the next meetings of the board on second and third readings. A new section was added to the ordinance last night, one throwing the legal presumption of intoxication on a driver who has taken a drink within an hour of an accident. Following is the summary:

The "congested district" is bounded by Richards street, waterfront, Beretania street, Nuuanu stream.

Vehicles must be driven with due care for the safety and convenience of pedestrians.

Vehicles upon meeting other vehicles shall turn to the right, and shall, at all times possible, travel on the right side of the street.

IRWIN PROPERTY STILL ON MARKET, SAYS SPALDING

Hotel Project of Syndicate from Northwest Not Abandoned—
Land Worth $200,000

The magnificent Waikiki beach property of the late Wm. G. Irwin is on the market, according to a statement made by E. I. Spalding, who has charge of the Irwin interests in the islands. Mr. Spalding returned last week from San Francisco where he had been called in connection with the settlement of the estate of the deceased multi-millionaire.

Although various parties have considered the matter of purchasing the Waikiki home, Mr. Spalding states that there are no definite negotiations pending. It is understood, however, that a syndicate of capitalists from the Northwest which had tentative plans for buying the property and converting it into a hotel, have not given up their project, and may yet be able to carry out their object. The Irwin place is perhaps the finest beach property in Honolulu. It has a frontage on the beach of 1000 feet, and about the same frontage on Kalakaua avenue, with an average depth of about 250 feet. It fronts on a fine, sandy beach, which had been much improved at heavy cost by the late owner. The house, which is a veritable mansion, cost, so Mr. Spalding states, in the neighborhood of $100,000, and a large amount was also spent in developing the grounds.

It is not known what price is asked by the estate for the property, but it is probably not much under $300,000. The sale of the Westervelt and Bocus properties, a short distance from this place, only a few weeks ago at the rate of $200 per front foot, fixes a rate which would make the Irwin property worth $200,000 exclusive of buildings. The property is directly opposite Kapiolani Park, and the main house and other buildings, it is said, are eminently adapted for hotel purposes with comparatively little alteration.

For a number of years before his death, Mr. Irwin had had his entire estate incorporated, and its settlement was simply a matter of transferring the stock according to the terms of the deceased's will. Mrs. Irwin owned half of this stock before her husband's death, and with the exception of a few hundred thousand dollars made in bequests to friends who had been associated with him in business for many years, the entire property went to her. Mrs. Irwin's property is said to be worth approximately $10,000,000.

CENTENARY OF KAMEHAMEHA III IS MARKED WITH IMPRESSIVE SERVICE

Handsome Tablet Is Unveiled
Accompanied by Sacred
Chant of Loved King

The unveiling of a handsome tablet of Hawaiian lava granite, to the accompaniment of sacred chants composed a century ago, marked the 100th anniversary of the birth of Kamehameha III, the third of the Kamehameha line, which yesterday afternoon was observed at old Kawaiahae church by the Daughters of Hawaii. It was a fitting memorial to that ruler who, known to his subjects as the beneficent king, gave to the inhabitants of these islands their first written constitution, and, to make the observance further complete, the tablet will be taken to Keauhou, Kona, where it will mark the birthplace of ka mo'i lokonai'kai.

The historical structure of Kawaiahae, around which is woven innumerable tales dear to the heart of the kama'aina, was occupied by more than 2600 persons, the majority of whom were Hawaiian. The memorial tablet occupied the center of the platform, hidden from view by the royal standard of Liliuokalani, and by the flag of the monarchy, loaned by her majesty for the occasion. On either side of the tablet were seated Queen Liliuokalani and High Chiefess Elizabeth Keka'ani'ula Pratt, both lineal descendants of the Hawaiian king who was the founder of the Kamehameha dynasty. Feathered cloaks of almost priceless value draped the chairs in which they sat.

The strange, yet beautiful, setting doubtless was a perfect replica of a court scene in the days of the old regime when the Kamehamehas held sway. The costume of the participants was perfect, and there was presented a spectacle in which was brought out many ancient and rare relics which today are treasured by Honolulu families and which are seldom seen other than in private homes, where they are held almost sacred.

Attired in feather cloaks and helmets, High Chief Fred Kahapua Beckley and High Chief Albert Kalanin'oua Hosiipi, the spear and kahili bearers respectively, occupied places just back of the queen and High Chiefess Pratt, representing the figures which are seen on the royal Hawaiian coat of arms. Both are lineal descendants of chiefs of the court of Kamehameha I, High Chief Beckley being a descendant of Kameleamoku, and High Chief Hosiipi a descendant of Kamehameha, the royal kahili bearer. Boys from the Kamehameha school, to the number of 16, acted as court attendants and kahili bearers, and occupied places on either side of the court representatives. They were attired in feather capes and other accessories adopted by the Hawaiian warriors of other days. Above this gathering was suspended the royal standard of Kamehameha, as well as other Hawaiian flags, their colors blending in perfect harmony with the vivid green of the palms and ferns with which the nave was banked.

Chant Never in Writing.

The services were opened by the congregation singing "How Firm a Foundation," and following an invocation by Rev. Henry K. Poepe, pastor of Kaunakapili church, Mrs. Naka Hakuole, the royal chanter, chanted the ancient koihonoa which dealt with the genealogy of Kamehameha and which was listened to with rapt attention. The church was stilled, and not a sound was audible other than the weird, rhythmic song which told the story of those from whence the beneficent king descended.

When the chant had been completed, the queen released her personal flag which covered the memorial tablet, and at the same time High Chiefess Pratt released the Hawaiian flag, and the handsome stone was uncovered. The "Prayer of Life," the most sacred of all Hawaiian chants, was then chanted by Mrs. Hakuole. This chant, it is said, since the birth of Kamehameha III, never has been set down in writing, but has been conveyed by word of mouth from generation to generation. The history which surrounds it is that Kamehameha III, at his birth, was as one dead, and the royal babe was restored to life when the royal chanter invoked the assistance of the gods by chanting "The Prayer of Life." Following the chant, there were several addresses given both in Hawaiian and in English, the speakers being Judge A. S. Mahaulu, Rev. W. B. Oleson, and Rev. O. H. Gulick. The services came to a close with the rendition of the Pauahi and Kamehameha songs, dedicated to Mrs. Charles R. Bishop, by several girls from the Kamehameha School. Many prominent residents of Honolulu, including Gov. L. E. Pinkham, Judge Sanford B. Dole and Mrs. Dole, Chief Justice A. G. M. Robertson and Mrs. Robertson, Senator John C. Lane, W. R. Castle and W. O. Smith were present. The Hawaiian societies which participated in the services were the Daughters of Hawaii, Kamehameha Lodge, Aha Hui Kaahumann, the Daughters of the Warriors, the Chiefs of Hawaii, Aha Hui Olu'ona Wahine, Aha Na Pua O Hawaii and Aha Hui Poole O Na Wahine.

Address of Rev. W. B. Oleson.

Following is the address delivered by Rev. W. B. Oleson:

"It is fitting on this centennial anniversary of the birth of Kamehameha, son of Kamehameha the Great, and himself the beloved king of Hawaii, for over a score of years, that we should recall that it was he who strongly urged the erection of this building in which we are assembled, generously subscribing $3000 toward its cost; that it was he who at the dedication of this house of worship in 1842, presented the church with a deed to the building and the site; and that it was he who, on the occasion of the restoration of the national sovereignty in 1843, at a special thanksgiving service held in this auditorium, addressed the great congregation and uttered the words which became the national motto: 'Ua mau ka ea o ka aina i ka pono'—the life of the land is perpetuated by righteousness."

"It is fitting therefore that this should be the scene of special recognition of the statesmanship and personal worth of the great benefactor of his people."

Broke Down Tabu System

"Covering a span of only two-score years, his life began with the breaking down of the ancient tabu system, and ended with the establishment of constitutional government throughout the nation."

"Notwithstanding he was born into the world a well-nigh lifeless babe, he was destined to achieve for his people more than all the monarchs of Hawaii.

"Thus he was permitted by the sanction of his brother, the king, to sit down in his Kona home and to eat with his mother, thus doing a forbidden thing; and by that act, though he was a mere child, he dealt the death-blow to the tabu system that was already tottering under the weight of its cruel oppressions."

"Accustomed to dissolute associations, and apparently hopelessly entangled with reactionaries, he surprised the whole nation when, at the early age of 20, in assuming full sovereignty, he placed himself squarely before his people on the side of righteousness by the choice of the Christian princess, Kinau, as his premier."

"King John of England granted Magna Charta to his rebellious barons under the stress of armed constraint. But Kamehameha, when only 26 years of age, without constraint and of his own free will, proclaimed a bill of rights such as no other sovereign probably has ever accorded his people voluntarily. That bill of rights emancipated the common people from serfdom, and conferred on them the privilege of owning their own lands, and of enjoying unhindered the labor of their hands."

"It does not detract anything from the honorable record of Abraham Lincoln to recall that however much he desired the emancipation of the negro, he was not able to effect it until political and military necessity compelled it. Kamehameha emancipated his people from their inhuman bondage not through compulsion, or the force of circumstances, but by reason of his own generous regard for the happiness of his people."

"Later on he made the emancipation of his people effective by setting apart one-third of the land so that every Hawaiian might become a landowner. This was known as the great mahele, and this act of Kamehameha's will always stand out in the history of Hawaii as the noblest effort of a generous monarch to promote the progress and prosperity of his people."

"Most nations have arrived at constitutional government through the grudging concessions of rulers and the slow processes of agitation and civil conflict. But Kamehameha conferred constitutional government on his people as the natural climax of what he had undertaken in their behalf. And so he gave them first the constitution of 1840, and finally the simpler constitution of 1852, admitting the common people to a share in the enactment and execution of laws for the common good."

"For 22 years Kamehameha was the progressive and statesmanlike leader of his people. And he was such in the face of great crises and changes in the national history. Two great epidemics decimated his people. Repeatedly the independence of Hawaii was menaced by the unjust encroachment of foreign nations. The great awakening created conditions that necessitated schools, and courts, and land commissions, and systems of taxation, and all the paraphernalia of a civilized community. The doctrine of religious toleration had to be established. Protection for his people from the ravages of strong drink, was a commanding issue. So was the necessity of shielding his people from the lustful assaults incidental to the presence here of as many as 500 whaling vessels in a single year."

Ambition to Serve People.

WILSON MESSAGE ON CANAL TOLLS BRIEF, EMPHATIC

Says Repeal Is Only Course the United States Can Afford to Adopt

The text of President Wilson's message to Congress on March 5, urging the repeal of the Panama Canal tolls provisions, was received in Honolulu today. It is as follows:

Gentlemen of the Congress:

I have come to you on an errand which can be very briefly performed, but I beg that you will not measure its importance by the number of sentences in which I state it.

No communication I have addressed to the Congress carried with it graver or more far-reaching implications to the interest of the country, and I come now to speak on a matter with regard to which I am charged in a peculiar degree, by the constitution itself, with personal responsibility.

I have come to ask for the repeal of that provision of the Panama Canal act of August 24, 1912, which exempts vessels engaged in the coastwise trade of the United States from payment of tolls, and to urge on you the justice, the wisdom and the large policy of such a repeal, with the utmost earnestness of which I am capable.

In Contravention of Treaty

In my own judgment, very fully considered and maturely formed, that exemption constitutes a mistaken economic policy from every point of view, and is, moreover, in plain contravention of the treaty with Great Britain, concerning the canal, concluded on November 18, 1901.

But I have not come to you to urge my personal views. I have come to state to you a fact and a situation. Whatever may be our own differences of opinion concerning this much debated measure, its meaning is not debated outside the United States. Everywhere else, the language of the treaty is given but one interpretation, and that interpretation precludes the exemption I am asking you to repeal. We consented to the treaty; its language we accepted, if we did not originate it, and we are too big, too powerful, too self-respecting a nation to interpret, with too strained or refined a reading, the words of our own promises, just because we have power enough to give us leave to read them as we please.

U. S. Must Withdraw

The large thing to do is the only thing we can afford to do, a voluntary withdrawal from a position everywhere questioned and misunderstood. We ought to reverse our action without raising the question as to whether we were right or wrong, and so once more deserve our reputation for generosity and the redemption of every obligation, without quibble or hesitation.

I ask this of you, in support of the foreign policy of the administration. I shall not know how to deal with other matters of even graver delicacy and nearer consequence if you do not grant it to me in ungrudging measure.

ambition was to serve his people well and to hold them to what was right.

"He had his faults, but no one knew them or regretted them more than he. To the young chiefs gathered in their school, he said: 'I wish my lot had been like yours. I deeply regret the foolish manner in which I spent the years of my youth.'

"He was a remarkable man, in the forefront of remarkable changes in the life of a whole nation. The marvel is that one short life should compass such a transformation as Hawaii experienced from 1813 to 1854, and that that life should have been a part of it all."

"In no small degree was this due to the pronounced influence of three noble daughters of Hawaii—Keopuolani, Kaahumanu and Kinau. Sturdy in their loyalty to Christian ideals, their counsels were of inestimable value to Kamehameha in giving direction to his convictions and in helping to shape his decisions in great exigencies."

Tablet to Perpetuate Memory.

"This memorial tablet, when finally erected at his birthplace, shall speak to coming generations as they shall read the inscription. But an even nobler memorial is that which is written in the hearts of the Hawaiian people and of every lover of their race."

"It is fitting that I should quote in closing, the words uttered by Kamehameha IV in this house of worship in his address on the occasion of his taking the oath to maintain the constitution, January 11, 1855:

"The age of Kamehameha III was one of progress and of liberty, of schools and of civilization. He gave us a constitution, and fixed laws; he secured the people in their title to their lands, and removed the last chain of oppression. He gave them a voice in his councils and in the making of the laws by which they are governed. He was a great national benefactor, and has left the impress of his mild and amiable disposition on the age for which he was born."
