SUPERVISORS IN FINANCIAL HOLE $147,000 DEEP

Auditor's Books Show Board Over-Appropriated Heavily During Last Year

TRUSTING TO 1916 TO STRAIGHTEN OUT DEFICIT?

City Fathers Actually Spent $82,000 In Excess of Revenue for Year 1915

THE LAW
"Excessive Expenditures, penalty. No board of supervisors or other board, committee, department, bureau, officer or employee of any county or city and county shall expend, or aid or participate in expending, during any period of time for any purpose, any sum in the absence of an appropriation for such purpose for such period, or any sum in excess of an appropriation if any, for such purpose for such period, or incur, authorize or contract, or aid or participate in incurring, authorizing or contracting, during any fiscal year or not, for any or all purposes, in excess of the amount of money available for such purposes for such county or city and county during such year, and any person who shall violate any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment." Section 2214, Revised Laws of Hawaii.

Municipal finance—high or low, according to the way you look at it—has brought the supervisors into the beginning of the year 1916 with an "overdraft" of nearly $150,000.

City officials skilled in forecasting revenues estimate that the receipts of the municipality for 1916 will not increase over those of 1915 by more than $20,000. The consequence is, according to the figures of record in the auditor's office, that $130,000 or so of this over-appropriation of 1915 will have to be met by a corresponding reduction in the amount available for 1916 improvements, additions to equipment and other city expenses.

Figures at the auditor's office yesterday showed that the supervisors actually spent in 1915 $82,997.52 more than the city receipts amounted to. In addition to this, they appropriated in 1915 $64,315.72. The like the preceding $80,000, must be met out of the 1916 revenues. It rolls up the staggering total of $147,312.24.

This is in the general fund alone. The permanent improvement fund is also over-appropriated by more than $7000. By law the road tax and school funds cannot be thus over-appropriated so that they are not mortgaged for the future.

HILL LINER HAS 420 PASSENGERS ON BOARD

The Great Northern is bringing 420 passengers. This information was contained today in a radio from the steamer, received by Fred I. Waldron, Ltd., Honolulu agents for the Hill liner. There are 900 tons of freight coming and 185 bags of mail. The big liner is due here Wednesday morning, coming from Hilo. She is due to arrive there Tuesday morning. On her last trip from the coast, the Great Northern brought 379 passengers. On this trip she has 41 more than that number. On her first trip she brought only 220.

JAIL SENTENCES ARE PORTION OF TWO OF USURERS

Vivichaves Must Serve Four Months and Pay $500 Fine; Peterson Three Months

JUDGE ASHFORD SCENTS PERJURY IN TESTIMONY

Bringing to a partial close the fight which the city attorney's department for the last several weeks has been waging in an endeavor to break up an alleged "loan shark" ring, Judge Ashford today sentenced two of the principals, John Vivichaves and E. Markle, W. L. Peterson and W. E. Wayman, convicted of usury, were sentenced this morning by Circuit Judge Ashford. In the cases of Vivichaves and Peterson, but little leniency was shown by the court. In the other cases, Judge Ashford was inclined to go more lightly in the matter of sentence.

Vivichaves suffered the most. Of the 14 original charges of usury preferred against him, the trial of two resulted in convictions. He pleaded guilty to the third. On the first charge, Judge Ashford sentenced him to serve four months in the city jail and pay the costs of the court. His fines total $500.

On the second he was sentenced to pay a fine of $250 and costs, a similar penalty being inflicted on the third charge. In case Vivichaves does not pay the fines, he will have to serve 500 days in jail in addition to the four months. The other charges were nolle prossed at the instance of Deputy Attorney Will T. Carden.

Judge Ashford said that he was convinced that, during the trial of his cases, Vivichaves had committed deliberate perjury. "You have shown absolutely no claim to the merciful consideration of the court," the judge added.

Attorney J. A. Liagoun, counsel for Vivichaves, made a long address to the court in which he stated that he thought the penalty imposed on Vivichaves was a miscarriage of justice.

Peterson, when called up for sentence, said that he was not guilty as far as his conscience was concerned. Attorney Carden said that, in the opinion of the prosecution, Peterson was far more dangerous to the community than was Vivichaves. Judge Ashford sentenced Peterson to serve three months in the city jail and pay the costs of the court. A motion for a new trial has been filed in the Peterson case, and it is understood that, before very long, the matter will be taken to the supreme court.

Prior to his being sentenced on two charges of usury, to which he had pleaded guilty, W. E. Wayman made a long statement to the court in which he declared that he had borrowed money to loan it to another person, the latter having reloaned it and divided up the high interest proceeds with him. He urged that he be given a fine, and not a prison sentence. The court fined him $150 and costs on the first charge and one dollar on the second charge.

E. Markle, a motorman with the Rapid Transit, and who was a witness for the prosecution during the trial of the Peterson case, was fined $125 and costs.

Especially in the trials of Peterson and Vivichaves, testimony was brought out regarding the methods used by the "loan sharks" in their transactions. In one instance, a man was loaned $100 for three months and was charged interest to the amount of $40.

That perjury was committed by both Vivichaves and Peterson during their trials is the stated belief of the prosecution, although no action has been taken toward an investigation in this respect.

000. Perhaps $10,000 is to come in on December collections of 1915 taxes not yet reported in and it is estimated that perhaps $10,000 more may be realized from various sources, leaving about $130,000 which, according to existing figures, must be made up out of the 1916 revenues.

Figures at the auditor's office also reveal that the collection of license moneys other than liquor licenses by the treasurer has fallen below expectations materially. It is reported that the collections of these licenses were estimated by Treasurer Conkling as

HAWAII GROWING IN POPULATION, GOVERNOR NOTES

In Annual Report to Secretary of Interior, Estimates Number now at 232,856

DOCUMENT SUMMARIZED BY SECRETARY LANE

Latter's Report to Congress Gives Comprehensive Survey of Conditions Here

Hawaii's population on June 30, 1915, was 232,856, according to the estimate of Governor Pinkham, in his report to Secretary of the Interior Lane for the fiscal year ending on that date.

The governor's annual report, which contains much of unusual interest to the territory, is thoroughly and carefully summarized in the report to Congress made by Secretary Lane a few days ago, copies of which have now reached Hawaii.

Governor Pinkham takes up a wide variety of matters of official interest. He comments on island industries, population, health, schools, public enterprises of all sorts and accompanies his report with statistical charts and figures illustrating various points. All this is comprehensively summarized in Secretary Lane's exhaustive report. The governor points out that Hawaii continues to be, so far as industry is concerned, largely devoted to sugar and to a much lesser degree to pineapples. The difficulties of the pineapple grower are pointed out. In contrast the prosperity due to good sugar prices is mentioned. He finds that the health of the people of the territory is good and the social conditions improving.

His report is summed up as follows: "The governor of Hawaii in his annual report stated that the year ending June 30, 1915, has been one of unusual prosperity in the main industry of the islands, sugar growing, not only

STORM BATTERS BREAKWATER AT CRESCENT CITY

Hilo Bay So Rough Matsonia Had to Go Outside; Waves Over Railroad and Park

HONOLULU RAINFALL 2.17 INCHES IN THIRTY HOURS

During First Eight Days Precipitation Breaks More of Past Records

HILO, Jan. 8.—Hilo bay is a veritable froth of angry waters, and the Hamakua coast is being battered by the worst storm experienced for the last 20 years.

So rough is Hilo bay that the liner Matsonia has had to get up steam and go out to sea. The departure was made in such a hurry that some of the crew were left ashore. The Matsonia passengers are here, but cannot board the ship until the waves abate. The schooner Mawema, from the coast, in the bay here is still holding to her anchors, but is making bad weather.

So far Kihupah bay wharf is not damaged, but mountainous waves are continually breaking over every inch of the Hilo breakwater. The big derrick at the end of the breakwater is still intact, though being pounded constantly by the waves, which on the town side of the bay are washing up over the tracks of the Hilo Railroad Company. Mochohu Park here is entirely flooded by the sea.

George E. Marshall, the contractor on the breakwater job, reports that his launch for towing the rock barges is a total wreck at the Waipio quarry. The oil tanker Lanesing, which turned back after being four days out-bound for the coast, has wireless for men and medical assistance. More than one man of her crew is badly injured. While the storm lasts the ship will be no better off here than in the open sea, for it will be impossible to render assistance and she may be advised to proceed to Honolulu.

Heavy Rains in Honolulu. If the month of January is trying to make a record for itself in the matter of rainfall, the spell of rainy weather in the last 30 hours has given it a good start with a total of 2.71 inches up to a little while before 12 o'clock today.

January this year has produced so far a total of 3.05 inches of rainfall, and as the average for January in the last 18 years has been but one-fifth of an inch greater than this, it is likely that a few more rains in the next

DR. PHELPS OF YALE TO SPEAK AT ANNIVERSARY

Oahu College Secures Noted Author, Critic and Teacher for 75th Year Program

The 75th anniversary celebration of Oahu College will be made notable not only by the importance of the occasion itself, but by the presence of distinguished representatives of institutions of learning on the mainland United States.

Announcement was made yesterday that the chief speaker for this memorable occasion will be Prof. William Lyon Phelps, Lamson professor of English literature at Yale. Dr. Phelps is internationally known not only as an authority on English literature, but as a critic, essayist and editor of prose and poetry selections, and furthermore he is a public speaker of rare power, charm and distinction of thought.

His services as a speaker are always in demand, and in securing him for the Punahou anniversary a masterstroke has been made. Dr. Phelps is a Yale alumnus, class of 1887, taking his Ph. D. in 1891. Besides his literary attainments, he holds honors of membership in such organizations as the National Institute of Arts and Letters, Authors' Club, Ends of the Earth Club and New Haven Symphony Orchestra Society.

Dr. Phelps has accepted the invitation extended by Punahou. He comes as the guest of the Yale alumni association of Hawaii. While Oahu College is not extending formal invitations to educational institutions of the mainland, still Punahou men here who are alumni of mainland universities are unofficially inviting representative men of these institutions or alumni to come for the 75th anniversary.

Plans for the momentous commemoration next June are rapidly maturing. The fact that in Hawaii an educational institution is able to celebrate a 75th anniversary itself commands wide attention.

BANDITS SHOT AND CAPTURED IN HOT FIGHT

New Jersey Police and Post-office Inspectors Foil Raid of Bold Robbers

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) PENNS GROVE, N. J., Jan. 8.—Burglars who early today attempted to rob the postoffice found the police force and U. S. inspectors on the alert and as a result three of the bandits are in the hospital, wounded by revolver shots, and two others who were captured unharmed have been put in jail.

The captures were made after a fight in which citizens, policemen and postoffice inspectors took part and completely conquered the robbers.

Because of the increase of employees at the Dupont Powder Works and consequent increase in the payroll and cash kept for paying off the men, robbers once before attempted to raid here on payday. Yesterday was payday and the police and inspectors laid in wait for the burglars, catching them in the act of trying to force the post-office.

CITIZENS ORGANIZE TO GUARD LIVES AND PROPERTY; MILITIA RUSHED TO QUELL STRIKE RAID

GOVERNOR AND NATIONAL GUARD OFFICERS RESPOND TO CALL FOR PROTECTION—MEN OF LITTLE TOWN ACROSS RIVER, MENACED BY RIOTERS. READY TO BLOW UP BRIDGE IF GANGS START ACROSS

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless) YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Jan. 8.—With wild mobs filling the streets here as a result of yesterday's sudden outbreak of strikers, a reign of terror grips the city.

A rioting, looting mob, bent on violence and plunder, has laid waste many blocks of the east part of the city and the property loss is already estimated at $1,000,000.

One life is known to be lost and many injured, a score having been shot during the street melees. The strikers who left the Sheet Tube Company's rolling mills have led the mobs to deeds of repeated violence.

At the little town of Struthers, across the Mahoning river, opposite East Youngstown, the citizens have organized for a desperate defense of their lives and property. A mob is said to be rioting in this place now.

Answering the appeals of Struthers citizens, sent out when it became evident that the riots had extended from East Youngstown, two companies of militia have been sent to protect the suburb from rioting, but it is reported that a mob formed there and is engaged in street fighting, the men beating and shooting each other.

Two hundred Struthers citizens organized a defense force, arming themselves and massing at their end of the bridge which leads across the Mahoning. An invasion of strikers from East Youngstown had been threatened. The citizens placed 50 pounds of dynamite beneath the bridge and arranged an electrical connection, ready to blow up the bridge the moment the mob starts across.

General Speaks has ordered four companies of Cleveland militia to the scene, fearing that there would be a new outbreak when the crowd of strike sympathizers assembled opposite the Youngstown Sheet Tube Company plant. The operation of the mill has been suspended. Three hundred office employees are marooned at the plant, spending the night there for safety and being unable to get past the watchful mobs.

In the violence of the last day and a half one life is known to have been lost and many persons injured. Ten blocks of East Youngstown, including the entire business section, have been burned. Thousands were driven from their homes as the result of rioting and looting in the night, and the property loss is placed at $1,000,000.

Later today it was reported that the situation was being controlled but that troops will be kept at the scene. Three regiments are here now.

U. S. PROTESTS TO BRITAIN AGAINST LAWLESS INTERFERENCE WITH MAILS

In the increase in quantity produced but in financial returns. Their second exportable staple, canned pineapples, increased in production and gross value, but individual growers of pineapples suffered greatly from the collapse of prices to a point below cost. Other products are limited and no exceptional changes took place. How generally the notable prosperity of the territory has been diffused can hardly be calculated. Evidence of general prosperity appears in the improvements throughout the territory, particularly in the great number of attractive, artistic, unpretentious homes being erected. No discontent among labor has been apparent. The legislature, session of 1915, has made reasonable appropriations that will increase employment and provide for many necessary improvements.

Imports and Exports.

The imports for the fiscal year amounted to $23,964,855, a decrease, as compared with the previous year, of $9,485,402. The exports amounted to $62,388,356, the exports of sugar amounting to $19,758,187, and of pineapples to $1,257,604, and the increase over the preceding year being $20,774,284.

Customs and Internal Revenue Receipts.

Customs receipts for the fiscal year totaled $1,019,534.63, a falling off of $164,884.32. Internal revenue receipts yielded $419,057.39, an increase over the previous year of $186,082.96.

Receipts and Disbursements.

The territory still collects and pays over to the city and county of Honolulu and the counties the greater part of their revenues, and in turn receives back from them the cost of assessing and collecting taxes and the interest and sinking fund on bonds issued by the territory for the benefit of the counties.

Territorial Finances.

The assessment of property increased $15,413,996 over the year 1914, making a total of $176,601,222. This illustrates the working of the Hawaiian law, making certain taxable valuations subject to their basis as enterprises for profit. Nineteen hundred and twelve was a prosperous year and valuations totaled $176,824,801; 1914 was less prosperous and valuations fell to $161,187,226; while 1915 shows the rise again. The total revenues collected by the territory and counties aggregated $4,691,831.81, an increase of $380,100.41 over the year 1914. Of the above income $2,557,675.73 was by law set aside for the county governments and $2,134,156.08 remained for territorial expenditure. Out of the $3,162,148.16 available for the territory from current revenues, including cash on hand, $2,747,270.35 was expended, leaving a net cash balance on hand at the close of the year of $414,877.81.

The bonded indebtedness of the territory was increased during the year by the sale of $1,179,500 of 4 per cent public improvement bonds of the issue of 1914 at 100.01 and decreased by the payment of $150,000 of the 1903 issue of 4 1/2 per cent public improvement bonds, leaving a bonded indebtedness of $7,873,500 at the close of the year.

Bank Deposits.

Bank deposits at the close of the calendar year were $20,114,610.85, of which $7,736,569.32 were savings deposits. The increase of commercial deposits was $2,006,166.93 and of savings $1,460,778.69.

Corporations.

During the fiscal year 25 mercantile, four agricultural, two savings and loan, one insurance, and eight eleemosynary corporations—49 in all—were created; and eight mercantile, two agricultural, and one eleemosynary corporations were dissolved—11 in all—leaving at the close of the year 935 domestic corporations—an increase of 28. The total capitalization of domestic corporations other than eleemosynary, etc., is $175,086,293, a decrease of $543,400, or 3 per cent for the year. Foreign corporations to the number of 152, as compared with 149 the preceding year, are authorized to do business in the territory. Five national banks also do business in the territory. Prior to the 1915 session of the legislature there was nothing that could be done to wipe defunct corporations off the books. Act 57, laws of 1915, gives the treasurer this authority and he is actively engaged in this work. The corporations that are positively known to be dead are capitalized at $22,637,900.

Population and Its Problems.

The estimated population June 30, 1915, was 223,255 civilians, 9600 army and navy, total 232,855. Orientals predominate, totaling 136,628. In births Orientals predominate far in excess of the average. Native full-blood Hawaiians continue to decrease. The total number of births during the year was 8507, an increase of 1751 over the number for the previous year, showing a birth rate of 36.52 per thousand, estimating the population at 232,856. The total number of deaths from all causes was 3556, a decrease of 151 from the previous year, showing a death rate of 15.03 per thousand on the same estimated population. The marriages number 2730, a decrease of 419.

Public Health.

The territorial department of public health does most of the public health work, although some is done by the local governments, and much assistance is given by various corporations, organizations and individuals, financially and in other ways. The officials of the United States public health service and the territorial health officers work in cooperation. The general health conditions in the territory are best reflected by the morbidity and mortality reports. An analysis of these shows that health conditions have been better than during 1913-14, and that they compare favorably with other states in the Union. At the last session of the legislature a number of new laws on the subject of public health were passed and some amended. Provision was made for the care, control and treatment of persons addicted to the excessive use of drugs or liquor, and increased accommodation for insane persons of the acute and curable class, for the appointment of a commission to compile the sanitary code of the territory, and for the transportation of females to the insane asylum. The sections of the revised laws relating to pure food and statement of nuisances and insanitary lands and to the sale of opium were amended so that the methods of procedure would be more effective, as was also the law relating to the recording of births.

Public Lands.

No notable features have occurred during the past year. There has been normal homesteading, but no areas of moment have by expiration of leases been returned to government control. Much attention is being paid to preparation for action upon expiration of leases covering public lands. During the year 176 homesteads, covering an area of 2,318.58 acres, valued at $37,325.55, were taken up. Since the amendments made in the organic act five years ago 2603 homestead lots have been offered, covering 67,612.14 acres, at valuations aggregating $666,773.38. During the 15 years of territorial government 2926 homesteads have been taken, of which 931, or an average of 133 a year, were taken the first seven years and 1935, or an average of 249 a year, during the last eight years.

Agriculture.

In 1908 the United States reclamation service reported that the maximum of cultivable land in the territory was about 400,000 acres. While this limit has not yet been reached, it has been closely approached. Much time has been devoted to the breeding and distribution of parasites for the Mediterranean fruit fly and horn fly, and large numbers of these parasites have been liberated throughout the islands. Much information regarding the control of certain pests and diseases of plants and vegetables has been given.

Forest Reserves.

Forest reserves should be established on the island of Oahu and some authority secured from Congress of the United States to add to the area from private ownership.

Public Works.

Public works are being energetically forwarded and cover quite a range of objects, particularly that of wharves and water-front improvements. Nearly every island port has had attention, and the coming year should show completion of most projects not in conjunction with those of the federal government. The construction of a modern prison has been commenced during the year and is well under way on a site covering 9.816 acres in area in a suburban district of Honolulu. The sum of $150,000 was appropriated out of loan funds for this purpose. Expenditures during the year amounted to $20,842.28, leaving a balance of $119,157.72 unexpended.

Honolulu Harbor Enlargement.

Plans for material enlargement have been made, but await the necessary appropriations. The board of harbor commissioners is entering on extensive wharf improvements at Honolulu and are completing the few requirements of the other island ports.

Education.

The number of school children increased during the year by 321, making a total of 36,52, and it is estimated that at the opening of schools September 13, 1915, the enrollment will be 37,729 pupils. The school accommodations under the bungalow system of buildings, so adapted to the climate and financial resources, are rapidly supplying the demand for room for the marked increase of pupils. With a lack of skilled employment, the question of occupation for the educated youth presents quite a problem. The only sensible solution has seemed to be to encourage to a greater degree education that will not result largely in dependence upon mental rather than physical employment. The course of study as adopted has the above in view, although every facility and opportunity is provided for those mentally equipped, ambitious, and able, that they may acquire higher education.

WEATHERWAX IS NOW BRITISH SCHOONER; WILL SAIL TOMORROW

Commanded by a British skipper and under British registry, having given up her American registry, the schooner was sold at auction and purchased by the government of New South Wales recently, the schooner J. M. Weatherwax obtained her clearance papers today from the office of Collector of Customs Malcolm A. Franklin, and will sail tomorrow morning for Sydney on her third attempt to carry her lumber cargo to that port. British Consul E. L. S. Gordon said this morning the Weatherwax's registry was changed to British at the consulate here. The new skipper, Capt. R. H. Purdy, also has British papers. The crew of nine men has been obtained from the sailors' union, been obtained from the sailors' union.

$120,000, but only $107,437 has been collected, which is less by $5,000 than the amount turned in for 1914 by his predecessor, Col. C. J. McCarthy. Inquiry was made at the auditor's office yesterday whether a state of affairs similar to this heavy overdrafting had ever before occurred in municipal financing, but it was stated that there is no instance of it. Under the regime of W. H. McClellan, chairman of the ways and means committee of several previous boards, no overdrafts were allowed, the auditors say, as McClellan invariably secured a statement as to city finances and made appropriations conform to this.

GOVERNOR AND STAINBACK TO FILE AN APPEAL

Yes, I guess so," smiled Attorney General I. M. Stainback this morning when asked whether the territory will appeal the Rapid Transit injunction case decided in favor of the company yesterday to a higher court. The attorney general made his answer just after coming out from a long talk with the governor.

Governor Pinkham referred the Star-Bulletin to the attorney general when the same question was put to him, and upon being told what Mr. Stainback had said, replied:

Well, I guess so too, then."

Commenting today on the decision, Attorney D. L. Withington, one of counsel for the Rapid Transit, said:

Judge Stuart's decision is a complete victory for the Rapid Transit all along the lines not only on the company's theory but on the theory of the territory. The judge found that, according to the territory's own figures, the Rapid Transit plant is of sufficient present value to warrant an increase of its capital stock. The decision was very carefully prepared and is well worth reading."

LARSEN TO PROPOSE A HALT ON SPENDING OF PUBLIC TREASURE

Like the lull that precedes a storm seems the quietness in the city hall today in view of tonight's meeting of the supervisors, for the budget is coming up again for consideration, and one supervisor at least is going to tempt to call a halt on the scale of expenditures of the last six months, which a few people are beginning to consider as extravagant.

William Larsen will put his foot down tonight, and judging from intimations gathered here and there about the municipal stronghold, there will be things doing. Larsen has been at work a good part of the day gathering figures in the official books, and tonight when the mayor calls the meeting to order will be fully prepared to meet all comers. The supervisor admitted today that he has it in mind to talk concerning the budget tonight.

"We already have a big deficit," he says. "At the rate we are starting out on this new year we won't be able to find ourselves in another six months."

TWO YEARS IN PRISON FOR WIELDING KNIFE

Circuit Judge Ashford's famous "booze lecture" was delivered in part today prior to the sentencing of Kaua'i, a Hawaiian who pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon. On December 22, Kaua'i and Charles Pihau engaged in a drunken brawl at Wai'alua. Kaua'i drew a knife and inflicted a six-inch wound on Pihau's neck. Judge Ashford sentenced him to serve not less than two years at hard labor in Oahu prison and pay the costs of the court. An indictment against Kaua'i was returned by the grand jury today.

LAST OF WAILALEE BOYS WHO ESCAPED IS CAUGHT

Paul Ho Shing, the last of five boys who escaped from the reform school at Wailalee last Monday, was captured by Probation Officer John C. Anderson on Aiea road at 6:30 o'clock last night. The other four boys were captured by Officer Anderson on Thursday evening. Shing was locked up at the police station. He had no statement to make as to why he ran away from the school. The five refugees, together with two other inmates of the school who have been in jail since the recent "mutiny" trial in circuit court, will be returned to Wailalee tomorrow.

SUN YAT SEN IN YUNNAN HEADING GROWING REVOLT

Dr. Sun Yat Sen, leader of the national party in China, arrived in Yunnan yesterday afternoon. This information was received by one of the leaders of the national party here by cable from Shanghai this morning. Dr. Sun Yat Sen had been seen in Shanghai by one of the revolutionists and the former Chinese president was said to have worn a disguise during his stay in that city.

According to the report received, Dr. Sen will make his headquarters in Yunnan for the time being. The entire province is in the hands of the revolutionary party and the revolutionary troops have already started in their campaign against Yuan Shih-kai's soldiers in another province.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen had been living quietly in Tokyo, and no word has been received as to how he entered Shanghai. Local members of the national party believe that with the former president in Yunnan the movement for independence will be successful. It is expected that he will not accept any office from the independent states, according to the local members of the party.

CHINESE REBELS NAME PRESIDENT

ital of the republic by a vote of the united provinces.

Sam Chen Heia is a young man who has been successful in China. He is well educated, progressive and has always been a close friend of the United States. His policies during the Manchu dynasty were favorably commented upon by all representatives of the different nations who had the opportunity of knowing him. Members of the party in China are unanimously in favor of his nomination.

Members of the national party in Honolulu when asked regarding the selection of the provisional president, all agreed that Sam Chen Heia is the right type of man for the present crisis. One man said, "Of course, Dr. Sun Yat Sen will be the real head of the movement, as he has always worked for a democracy, but in choosing the present man for the executive office the people of China have showed good judgment."

"Dr. Sun Yat Sen has never been anxious to hold office, but he has worked for the policies he has believed in. With these two men in Yunnan, I am sure that the efforts to establish a republic will be successful. Dr. Sun Yat Sen is a thorough progressive, and his ideas will be carried out by Sam Chen Heia, who is today one of the leading men of China," he concluded.

Plan Attack on Canton.
(Special Cable to Liberty News.)
SHANGHAI, Jan. 8.—Five prefects in the Kwangtung province have joined together to make an attack on Canton, the principal city of the province, and the first steps were taken last evening when three of the prefects sent their entire force through the other provinces.

Canton has been known throughout the present crisis as a supporter of the revolutionists, and local military authorities believe that Yuan Shih-kai's soldiers in the barracks there can not hold out against the attack of the people of the five prefects. The prefects which have joined together for the campaign are Waichow, Sun Tuck, Chung Yin, Yong, Kong and Yang Chun.

Revolutionary troops, now in full control of the situation in Yunnan, are marching into the province of Sze Chuen, north of the Yunnan province. The troops have crossed the Kin Sha and Tachong rivers, branches of the Yantse-king river, and the advance guard has reached the river Min on the way to Sing Doo Hu, the capital of the province.

Revolutionists have control of the eastern prefects in the province, and Yuan Shih-kai's soldiers have gone over to the revolutionists in Chan King, which is the principal trading point of the Sze Chuen province. Reports are coming in that the people along the march of the army are joining the revolutionists.

STORM BATTERS BREAKWATER AT CRESCENT CITY

three weeks will help the month keep up to standard.

Between 8 o'clock yesterday morning and the same time at night the rainfall was not heavy, only .55 of an inch falling. The heaviest part of the storm came during last night, when between the hours of 8 o'clock in the evening and 8 o'clock this morning 1.83 inches were recorded by Government Meteorologist A. M. Hamrick.

Mr. Hamrick says that the prevailing direction of the wind during the entire storm has been northeast, and that there is nothing unusual about the weather conditions during the period. As he puts it, "It is simply a good old-fashioned rainstorm."

Damage has been done by the storm but not so extensive as in the last two heavy storms recorded in November and December. At the city engineer's office this morning several complaints had come in but most of them were of minor character.

Car Tracks Not Damaged.
No material damage was noted by the Rapid Transit Company, save for sweeping of silt and small rocks over tracks in the low areas. All trains of the Oahu Railway Company are reported to be on time. Tracks are so far not damaged by slides or washouts.

Molokai district seems to have suffered most from the overflow of water. Automobiles coming along Bevania street this morning in the Molokai section of town plowed fender deep through a torrent of water that was pouring down from the higher elevations.

Molokai ball park is said to resemble a young Holland. St. Mary's school near by stands isolated in an inland sea, and water has risen up to the steps at the entrance. The Japanese residents strolling about through the mud this morning on their elevated sandals made a picturesque sight. Several ironwood trees have tumbled over in the district.

"We had to abandon the Manoa garbage work this morning," said Superintendent R. W. Aylett of that department today. "Deep mud has rendered the roads to the dumping ground on Sheridan street impassable. It will be nearly as deep in mud, but we managed to force the truck through to the dumping ground this morning. Something ought to be done about it, but so far the supervisors haven't given me any help in making the roads passable."

Torrents in Makiki.
Makiki district, especially the low place back of the re station that always gathers water when it rains, has seen several heavy downpours since the beginning of the storm. During the night water swept down from this pond and from Makiki street, uniting to form a torrent that coursed on down to the lower levels.

Makiki stream is running brimful and the Chinese grocery store at King and Piikoi streets was threatened by the heavy torrent of rain that came this morning just before dawn. Storm sewers served, however, to drain off the water sufficiently to avoid much damage.

Palolo residents have been telephoning into the city regarding the wet condition of things in their district. Palolo stream is overflowing in places and much of the district is inundated. Water is knee deep in many places. Punui, always a sufferer from the storm, has not escaped a good soaking this time. Rain was especially heavy in the Liliha street section this morning. At Liliha and Kuakini streets this morning early there were no streets to be seen, but swirling torrents of water.

All intersecting streets that have a grade of more than six per cent in the Kaimuki district were washed clean of all top dressing, that material being carried by the force of the water to the Waialae road, and distributed along that thoroughfare throughout the east end of the city. Especially is this the condition from Tenth avenue to the Kapahulu road.

At Parker lane a large wood pile was swept along by the storm scattering fuel here and there as it departed.

Waikiki An Immense Lake.
"All of the Waikiki district looked like an immense lake," said a resident of Kaimuki who gazed down upon the former section of the city from the heights this morning. This resident said that the Molokai culvert, the second on the Waialae road coming into town, was running full and threatening to overflow, letting the water cross the roads.

All about town it has been a big day for school children, and hundreds of youngsters have spent their Saturday vacation wading, surfing on temporary boards and poling about from place to place.

Manager Harry Murray of the water department says that he has today a depth of 46 feet of water in the big reservoir known as No. 4 in the upper end of Nuanuu, and that all three of the other reservoirs are overflowing.

All pipe laying gangs have been taken off from work, as has likewise the road patching gang at Palolo. Charles Clark, foreman of the gang, says that the condition at Palolo is serious.

Madame Puahi, who lives near the Maake Island lagoon, telephoned into town this morning that she is practically marooned by the high water. Maake Island is almost buried in the flood.

Children and some Japanese men this morning were gathering ducks and fish in Kapiolani park, after the heavy rain of last night.

Waikiki stream brought down the quota of ducks and other farm produce it usually conveys out of Manoa valley after the rains, and according to Detective Swift there were even pigs in the stream.

Fish ran up the mouth of the streams into Kapiolani park in large numbers, and the Japanese were busy seizing them.

Court Clerk Marooned.
Daniel Kaseo, clerk of the police court, was marooned this morning at his home at 2670 Lemon road, and not having a canoe could not come to court. Kaseo telephoned to the court office that he was surrounded by water, which was flooding the ground about his home and could not get out.

Joe Nobriga answered the phone and advised Kaseo to "swim," "hire a launch," "get an aeroplane" and similar things until Kaseo grew angry and hung up the receiver.

Kaseo said the entire district in which he lives was flooded early this morning.

Today's storm has completely disorganized local and island shipping. From various island ports comes news of ships seeking refuge from the storm, riding out the gale as best they can or storm-bound with big cargoes for Honolulu.

A radio received today by the shipping department of Castle & Cooke, Ltd., Matson agents here, from C. Brewer and Company's Hilo office, said: "Bad weather continues. Matsonia left harbor this morning and went outside. Has not discharged cargo."

Minnesotan Takes Refuge.
The American-Hawaiian Steamship Company's local office reported that the Minnesotan, which had been at Kahului, on the weather side of Maui, was compelled to leave and steam around to the lee side of the island for refuge. The office said the steamer will arrive here tomorrow morning to load the balance of her cargo and will sail tomorrow night for New York.

Bad weather all the way over was reported by the American-Hawaiian steamer Panaman, which arrived today from Seattle. At the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company's offices reports from its steamers came in today, indicating that many of them are seeking refuge wherever possible from the fury of the storm.

The Mauna Kea, which arrived early this morning from Hilo, reported heavy winds following her. She left Hilo at 10:45 yesterday morning, Capt. W. K. Freeman stated, and arrived here at 5:55 this morning, making much faster time than usual because the wind fairly blew her along.

At Hilo the swell was running heavier. Mail and passengers were taken out in small boats, also light freight, as the steamer could not lie at dock owing to the heaving swell. Heavier freight was left behind. A strong northwestern wind with heavy northerly swell was met on reaching Olawau. Heavy rains made thick weather.

Molokai Swell Runs High.
At Lahaina the steamer found rains and a heavy swell, but managed to land and brought mail and passengers along. A particularly heavy swell was running in Molokai channel. At Hilo the Nihaui was unable to work alongside the Matsonia.

The Mauna Kea reported the Waiilele at Kukuhaele, unable to take on or unload cargo. The steamer has postponed loading cattle until tomorrow. Later advices today said the Waiilele will arrive here tomorrow morning from Kiholo. She lost one anchor at Honokaa.

Seeking shelter the Maui put in at Koloa, Kauai, and this morning radio advices were that she had left there. She will arrive here tomorrow morning. Inter-Island officials said today.

Storm-bound at Kaneohe, the Eben Low fleet of four boats is tied up and unable to leave. Mr. Low reported this morning at the Oahu shipping company's office. They are in the lagoon at Kaneohe. They made attempts to leave yesterday, but could not. The boats storm-bound there are the J. A. Cummings, Mokoli, Kualihani and Heela Maru. They are all at Libby's Landing.

The boats were bound or Punaluu to

MORNING ON CHANGE

A week of changeable trading, which, however, saw prices keep up well to the crest, saw the market close strong this morning. Many unsatisfied bids, especially for the sugar issues. Oiaa, McBryde and Oahu Sugar are claiming most of the attention of buyers of late, with prices firm but unchanged, save in the case of McBryde, which is up one-eighth from yesterday's close. Sales since yesterday's close totaled 1100 shares, and would have been larger had the bidders raised their prices a trifle, for buyers were not disposed to come down.

MUNICIPAL ECONOMY.

The auditor's books today show the city and county of Honolulu $147,317.24 "in the hole."

That is the book showing for the present board of supervisors after one year in office.

It is made up of moneys actually spent in excess of revenues received during 1915 and moneys appropriated during 1915 but still either unspent or unpaid.

This amount—$147,000—must be deducted from and paid out of the 1916 revenues or the present board will leave office with a deficit, not only a thoroughly bad piece of business but one which the previous Democratic board, with all of its blunders, did not make.

Just what sort of financial policy—if any—has been followed by the present board of supervisors is hard to say. Whatever it is, the board is spending far in excess of its income. To wipe out this deficit, improvements in 1916 out of the general fund will probably be cut to a minimum.

The board cannot claim that it unknowingly rolled up this deficit. The auditor's office has drawn attention again and again to the over-appropriations that were being put across willy-nilly. That, however, has not stopped the city fathers. Either by some process of statistical self-hypnotism they have persuaded themselves there was plenty of money to spend, or they went headlong on their expensive official career trusting somehow that the future would allow them to reimburse the treasury.

The only apparent way in which they can recoup now is to cut out improvements and additions to equipment and be niggardly in carrying on municipal functions. Certainly the figures will probably show that the running expenses of the city have increased considerably, under their solicitous care.

ABUSING FREEDOM OF DEBATE.

The floor of Congress is decidedly not the place for discussion of any phase of the European war except those which bear directly upon the United States. This country is not at war with any of the belligerents, nor has it severed friendly relations with any. It is a time for private utterance to be measured with discretion and for public utterance to be strictly neutral. Congressman Gardner's speech yesterday is not detailed in the press despatches but if it provoked to rebuke members of his own party it must have been intemperate and unwise. Discussion of issues in which the United States has a direct interest is allowable, though even here there is danger of arousing passion and prejudice, but the freedom of debate should not extend to taking sides for or against any belligerent, because the official position of a congressman inevitably makes such discussion unneutral in spirit if not technically.

GETTING AMMUNITION.

The next few weeks are likely to witness some hot fighting in the halls of Congress over the Philippine issue. The Star-Bulletin some time ago told of the exchange between Ex-President Taft and Secretary of War Garrison, in which Taft used the speech made by Governor-General Harrison in Hawaii two years ago and Garrison immediately denied that the Philippine executive had been correctly quoted. Now the fact develops that a man close to Taft and his official friends of the Republican administration has sent to Hawaii to secure full reports of Harrison's speech where he coined that unlucky "saturnine pleasure" phrase.

It was before an audience of local Democrats that Mr. Harrison told of the "saturnine pleasure" it gave him to see the Democrats in a position to kick the Republican dog around, but unfortunately for his later peace of mind, there were reporters present and the phrase was reproduced. Nor was it ever denied, so far as Hawaii knows, until a few weeks ago.

Patriotism will soften the Republican attack on the president's foreign policy. Senator Lodge, for instance, has already upheld the president on the matter of shipments of munitions to belligerents. But the Democratic administration is due for some scorching sarcasm and burning denunciation from the Republican orators in house and senate upon the Mexican and Philippine issues.

"Stay in Hawaii" a real estate expert from California counsels the laboring people of the territory. It is good advice. There are plenty of folks in California now who are stranded and wishing they were back in the Paradise of the Pacific.

THE ANTI-TREATING LAW.

Tribute after tribute comes from London to the remarkable efficacy of the new anti-treating law. The latest in our notice is that of an American just returned to New York from a visit to Germany and England. He writes, in the New York World:

"Whatever else England gains or loses, I believe she has evolved the greatest minor regulation of her existence and one that may go a good ways toward regenerating the nation. I refer to the anti-treating law. In a nation of drinkers throughout society, the army and the workers, it is wonderful how this little law, at first regarded as a joke, works out miracles under your eye.

"It is a punishable offense to treat anyone, and the law is strictly enforced. It is amusing to see the customary congenial groups, each ordering his own beverage and paying for it. Then there is an unwonted awkward pause, while each looks at the other, but the words are never spoken. There are sheepish smiles, but eventually the crowd drifts away or disintegrates.

"Every one had had what he really desired—and no more. The extra three or four rounds—the 'good-fellow' thing—have died a-borning. I commend that regulation heartily and freely to any American legislator. He could go far to solve our temperance problem sanely."

The year closes with trade in generally good condition. There is no abatement of activity in the steel industry and the railroad outlook is better than for several years, not only as to traffic but also as to the attitude of public opinion. The big trunk lines are reporting large earnings, both gross and net, and their chief problem now is to remove the embargo on traffic caused by the congestion of export freight at the Eastern seaports. Our second note to Austria though firm in its demands is pacific in tone and should pave the way for a satisfactory final adjustment. Needless to say a lessening or removal of international friction would have a stimulating influence upon the stock market. The collapse of Villa in Mexico is also a favorable factor, and removes a long threatened disturbance. As a result, an early revival in Mexican enterprises may be looked forward to.—Henry Clews.

"Panchó" Villa is probably no more insane than "First Chief" Carranza. Both of them at times insolently defied the whole power of the United States to stop their banditry—and "got away with it." Both are of overweening conceit, neither over-scrupulous. Carranza has been "recognized," and is therefore a patriot. Villa, hunted like a wolf, is defeated and now declared "insane."

Sugar, rubber and oil stocks are on the rise, twelve millions paid out in dividends of Hawaiian corporations last year, oodles of money in the banks. The pessimist and the obstructor of public improvements ought to be given a simultaneous wallop.

Most of the scores of thousands who died because the Gallipoli expedition was bungled weren't raised to be soldiers, either. Neither were their officers.

We gather from Judge Stuart's decision in the Rapid Transit case that he regards Mr. Pinkham's judgment better in 1899 and 1913 than in 1915.

Corporal Gluud has resigned from the regular army and will hereafter be glued to an official desk at National Guard of Hawaii headquarters.

Of course it continues to be mere coincidence that explosions and strikes are happening in munitions plants all over the country.

Thousands of Serbians are flocking to aid the Allies. A little while ago thousands of Allies were flocking to aid the Serbs.

One can imagine Dr. Dumba helping his fellow-Austrians celebrate the sinking of the Persia.

Perhaps Col. Roosevelt expects to find the lost Bull Moose vote in the West Indies.

Meanwhile we are holding Austria to strict unaccountability.

This weather is entirely too precipitate.

OLD DOC'S TALK

ON WRITING LETTERS

Being a gentleman at table and in the salon isn't the whole thing, my boy.

You must be a gentleman at your writing desk, to those who are absent from you; those to whom you are indebted for letters and notes and other favors. Long-distance discourtesy is common, but it is as bad as any other kind.

The busiest men in the world have always found time to write to their friends, my son. I have found the best correspondence among the great east-men who had a thousand cares and duties.

It is your duty to write letters to several persons who expect to hear from you, and every legitimate note which comes to you demands an answer. If you don't send it you are an inexcusable boor. You may sneer at the letter writers if you will; they are the salt of the earth.

We are privileged to read the classics today, from Euripides down, only because there were careful, patient letter writers to copy them year after year and century after century, till time came to preserve them on the page.

We have history and biography because there were men and women enough interested in others to sit down and, at some cost of time and labor to themselves, write letters. These are the sort of people who plant trees for future generations and perpetuate principles. The selfish, the self-centered, thoughtless indifferent have profited by those whom they hold in contempt for their literary fluency. Had Charles Lamb, Dolly Madison, Jane Carlyle and others of their kind not been letter-writers what delights should we have missed?

What sneer can affect the value to us of a temperament like Roosevelt's which induces him to take an interest in every matter that concerns his fellow men, and prompts him to express his opinion upon all questions? He is alive, and what is more, not only alive to his own personal interests but to the smallest affairs which interest the common people. He writes letters.

He isn't afraid of ridicule or demagoguery when he thinks he ought to say something: a MAN in an age when men are not over common.

My boy, little you know how much good a few lines may do a friend who longs for them, or how much harm your careless, indifferent disinclination to write may do a loving attitude.

For, after all, there is nothing permanent here but the love of our friends; nothing worth struggling for. You may not think so now, my boy, but you will by and by. Sure as fate, and what preserves the love of a friend is the spoken or written word; the bit of sentiment it costs so little to send, and so very, very much to withhold.

Santa Claus Writes

[The Letter Received from Santa Claus.]

North Pole, Dec. 24, 1915.
Well, children—Tony, Lucy, Fanny and Marion—If Christmas isn't here again! I thought I would write you this year to tell you about some of the things in Santa Claus's land.

First, I have been so busy, every day since I got back from my last trip the morning of December 25, 1914. You know that most of my shows these days are made in Germany, did you not? You know, too, those people there seemed to forget about little boys and girls and the things they need and want, and it is nearly two years ago now—instead of using the iron, tin and wood, etc. I had for making toys and other things to make people happy, what do you suppose they did with them? Why, they made things to use to fight with. Now there are fighting the war, and the big brothers of many little boys and girls who live near and far.

You ask me what it is all about, eh? Really, I do not know. I have been so busy trying to get enough toys made anyway that I haven't had time to find out. But it must be something awful, just awful, don't you think, else they would not take the nice things I had and go such long distances, and tramp, tramp through mud and over snow to kill each other.

Mrs. Santa Claus helped me, though. She said she'd try making all the doll dresses. I wish you could have seen that first dress she made! It was for a beautiful long-golden-haired doll named Dolly Dimple that I was going to take to one of those little girls whose papa had been killed in the war. Dolly Dimple pouted and said it wasn't pretty at all, that she did not want to wear it. I got a pair of scissors, a needle and some thread, and we together got her fixed up all right, and pretty she was, too. How that little girl laughed and clapped her hands when she saw Dolly Dimple peeping out at the top of her stocking. After that first attempt doll-dressmaking seemed easy, and Mrs. Santa Claus finally got one dress apiece all around. I took the shop-work. I had to gether up tools. That took so long. When I'd look for a certain one I often found that the Germans had gotten it and made it into war material, or that the Allies—you know that is what they call the people who don't like the Germans and are fighting them—had run away with it. Then I would feel cross to think how naughty they all were, and that I couldn't get my toys made without proper tools to work with. Now wouldn't you? But the next minute I burst out laughing and laughed till my sides ached, as I watched them—shooting here and running off there, or hiding behind a big fort, or trying to make the other believe they had the most of my iron, tin, lead, wood and cookies.

Suddenly I stopped laughing. I could see blood-papas and brothers killed by the roadside, and many were the homes that knew nothing but sorrow or sadness. That made me get right up, and slipping up near I got some of my things back, and ran. I am so fat, you know, I could not run as fast as I wanted to. However, some people, and there are more of them than I thought there were, who do not like guns and war any more than I do, came up and helped me and we got away safely.

I keep a merry heart, and that is what keeps me young and able to get around. Many's the time I have smiled happily to myself when I saw some little ones watching for me, or read their letters to me. I'll just drop in this extra toy, to see them laugh, too. I say to myself, "And wouldn't they, though?"

Well, comes the packing to start! How carefully it must be done, too! Always before this year I pack each toy in as it comes finished from the shop, then I have nothing to do at the

By June I had the shop running and such sawing, grinding, sharpening, planing and nailing you never heard! I did not know there were so many, many children in the world till I had to make all the toys myself. And Mrs. Santa Claus said, "I do believe every girl wants a doll!" Toward the last of the year, in November and December, she had to sit up quite late to get the dresses all finished in time.

I do hope the war will be over with before another Christmas. Really I do not see how I can hold out to visit all next Christmas if we have to make all things ourselves again. Maybe if it isn't there will be some things left to make toys, etc., out of. I'll try to make the trip again anyway, so you will not be disappointed.

You see, I am getting to be very old now. Why, your mother remembers me as an old man when she was a little girl myself. I have to take good care of myself—I always have a long rest after driving all over the world on Christmas Eve night to fill stockings. Mrs. Santa Claus always has the Christmas dinner ready when I get back; it is smoking hot and, oh, so good!

Perhaps you think, on other years than this, that I have nothing to do after New Year's Day till the next Christmas, now don't you? I have to look after my reindeer here all the time. Poor things, they were sadly neglected this year. They must be fed, water and brushed. Besides there is the harness to be gone over entirely—greased and fixed up. However, I am thinking seriously of getting an automobile for my trips. I think a Ford would suit me, and—judging by the number of them I have to take around as presents—they must be good ones. That is the kind I need, a good strong one. And, Mr. Ford, you know, has gone to Europe and is trying to make peace between the fathers and brothers in Germany and the fathers and brothers in the Allies' army.

But I love my reindeer! We've traveled through so many lands together, so many times. Each one of them knows me and follows me around. I believe I'll just keep them anyway. Automobiles often break down, then I would have my old team with which to finish up the trip. Otherwise some of you might be expecting me, and I would not get there.

It is most awful cold here. I have to shovel snow away from my door oftentimes in the early morning before I can get outside. Mr. Peary when he came up to find the north pole found it too cold to stay longer than just to see the pole. Dr. Cook can tell you all about it, too. I was afraid for awhile they would go back and tell the world's little folks all about my plans. But they didn't.

HAWAII'S NATIONAL GUARD IS HIGHLY PRAISED BY GEN. MACOMB

President of Army War College Gratified at Patriotism of Island Men

Hawaii's National Guard is setting an example of development for the whole United States.

That is what Brig.-gen. Montgomery M. Macomb, president of the Army War College, told Senator Charles A. Rice of Kauai when the local man was in Washington recently.

Gen. Macomb's interest in Hawaii is keen. He was formerly in command of the Oahu army forces and while stationed in Honolulu he took a personal interest not only in military but in community affairs. He was always a believer in an efficient and large National Guard.

last but to get myself warmly dressed and go. No hurry about it. You know how I look then. You've seen my pictures; I'm all loaded down. Mrs. Santa Claus always comes running out with this or that I have forgotten, saying, "Here's Lucia's ribbon," or "Tony's buttons," or "Fanny's kimono," or "Marion's rake." If it were not for her, dear children, I do not know how I should ever get fixed up and off.

By and by, whizz! psh! whew! and we are gone. The farther we travel the warmer it becomes, and the warm countries like where you live melt the snow out of my whiskers and off my clothes.

I see a box here, marked "From Santa Claus, North Pole." I'll just drop this letter to you in it as I see some other things in there for your house. The reindeer are prancing so, in such a hurry to start I must go now—

Senator Rice called on Gen. Macomb to renew acquaintance of previous years and found the War College president still deeply interested in Hawaii.

"If the militia of all the states would develop as Hawaii's has during the last few months, we wouldn't need to worry about a civilian reserve army," he told Senator Rice. "I am glad of this opportunity to express to Hawaii the satisfaction it gives to have the guard go ahead as it has gone and is going."

Gen. Macomb made it plain that the higher-up army officers are watching closely the progress of the National Guard here and keeping in touch with the latest developments.

"It was certainly gratifying to hear the Hawaiian guard praised as Gen. Macomb praised it," says Rice.

get in else they might overturn everything. Before closing I am going to ask you if you will not help all the other little folks—and the big, grown-up folks, too—that you can make this new year which has just come a very bright, happy one? In that way you really will be helping me.

Goodby! With every good wish from SANTA CLAUS.

The Non-commissioned Officers' Club of the National Guard will meet at the Armory Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, the principal business being the election of officers for the next half year. A report will be presented by the committee in charge of the smoker given several weeks ago.

YEE YO KEUK TO BE OWN ATTORNEY AT BOTH TRIALS

Yee Yo Keuk, Korean bad man, has a new title. He now is a self-styled attorney and, although he has no license to practise at the local bar, he says he will defend himself in Circuit Judge Ashford's court on Monday morning, January 17.

The two charges now pending against the Korean, one of assault with intent to commit murder and the other first degree robbery, were set for trial in Judge Ashford's court today for January 17. Yee Yo Keuk was in court today in company with a police officer, and he managed to get around quite lively with the aid of a pair of crutches.

John Woo, who, with his family, is said to have been threatened with death by the Korean when the latter was at liberty, acted as interpreter.

The court explained to Yee Yo Keuk that he is at liberty to summon all the witnesses he wants for the trial. The Korean told the interpreter that he had no witnesses.

"Have you means to secure an attorney, or do you wish the court to appoint one for you?" Judge Ashford asked.

"If I had money to hire a lawyer, I wouldn't be here today," the Korean bad man answered.

"Well, do you want an attorney?" the court repeated.

"I do not need a lawyer," answered Yee Yo Keuk. "I'll try my own case."

The Korean appeared very docile when called before the bar. He did not talk to the interpreter in the high-pitched, commanding voice as was his custom prior to his last escape. He seemed to be suffering somewhat from the wound in the leg which he received when he was captured.

After the date for his trial was fixed, he left the courtroom and sat down on a bench in the hall. Then he lit a cigarette and smiled.

WILDER HELPED WITH POINTERS FOR SCOUT BOOK

Thanks are extended to James A. Wilder, special field scout commissioner for the Territory of Hawaii, for giving a quantity of valuable information to the authors of "The Boy Scout Movement," a book by Ormond E. Loomis and Norman E. Richardson. In appreciation of Mr. Wilder's help, Mr. Loomis has sent him a copy of the book with his autograph on the fly leaf.

The value of the work being done by the Scouts on the islands is shown by two full-page illustrations prepared by Mr. Wilder on which are drawings of some novel methods of cooking and carrying on field work. So unique and effective are the methods originated here that they have been adopted by the Boy Scouts of America and will be used by troops all over the United States.

Scoutmasters and scouts will find "The Boy Scout Movement" a book of great value, Mr. Wilder believes. It is filled with the observations of Scout leaders all over the country and Hawaii has contributed probably as large a portion of the information as any section.

RALLY FOR BOY SCOUTS ON KAUAI

Plans for a rally of the Boy Scouts of Kauai are being perfected, and James A. Wilder, special field commissioner, has arranged to leave about January 21 for the Garden Island to take charge of the events.

The Kauai troop of scouts is still in the formative stage but interest is growing and its success is assured.

On January 28 Mr. Wilder will deliver an address on Kauai at which he will explain the chivalry which scouting encourages, the self-confidence it creates, and the immense value of the scout rule, "A good turn every day."

POLICE GLAD TO HAVE GENELLA CASE AIRED BY COURT HEARING

Sheriff Charles H. Rose and Policeman Robert Akeo have each expressed entire satisfaction with the filing by Joe M. Genella, Company C, 2nd Infantry, of a complaint against Akeo, charging him with making an unnecessary assault on Genella at Aala park last Tuesday night.

Akeo claims he can produce witnesses to prove that Genella was drunk and assaulted a Korean before he was arrested, and then resisted arrest.

The view of the police department is that the only way to get a public hearing of the case is through court proceedings and they are pleased, they say, that the facts are to be brought out fully in the police court Monday.

LIEUT. D. T. GREENE, FORT SHAFTER, WINNER OF DOT-COUNTING CONTEST AND SONORA PHONOGRAPH

Here is a photograph of the large number of answers received in the dot-counting contest. The prize phonograph is shown at the top.

Correct Count, 41,210, is Made By Army Man—Others Very Close, One Coming Within Two of Number—Many Others Show Industry and Skill in Making Tabulation

Lieut. D. T. Greene, 41,210

Lieut. D. T. Greene, 2nd Infantry, Fort Shafter, is the one whose careful attention to detail and accuracy of count places him as the owner of the Sonora phonograph and winner of the dot-counting contest.

The correct count is forty-one thousand two hundred and ten.

Others were very close to it and one came within two of the correct number. Those who came within a very narrow margin of making the correct count were:

R. S. Leong, 41,208; J. M. Kelli, 41,207; G. Baker, 41,218; Mrs. Hattie Haehae, 41,220.

Over 200 engaged in the dot counting business and they were from among the people all through the islands.

The final count was made at the Star-Bulletin office this morning, when for the first time it was known to those who had charge of the contest just how many there were in the great mass of dots.

The system of making the changes was such that no person knew how many dots there were in the bell. The original count was made by Mr. Ellis Fox of the Hawaiian Phonographic Supply Company. This number was placed in an envelope, sealed and deposited in the safe of the Pleasant Hotel. Each day Mr. Bruce, head of the Star-Bulletin circulation department, changed the number of dots in the bell and after writing the figure on a piece of paper, placed it in an envelope, sealed it and deposited it in the Star-Bulletin safe. Mr. Bruce did not know the original number and no one but Mr. Bruce knew the changes made each day.

All the figures of the contestants were checked up on the Star-Bulletin adding machine yesterday, the work taking till well into the evening.

This morning Mr. Fox brought his sealed envelope to the Star-Bulletin office and Mr. Bruce brought his sealed envelope from the safe. The correct number was then determined and the list of contestants canvassed to determine the successful center.

This contest is essentially a test of skill in attention to detail and record for little things, and it is interesting to note that quite a number of young people entered the test and followed it through to the finish. They gained the practise of observing the smallest details and schooling themselves in accuracy when dealing with figures. It is perhaps not surprising that an army man should be the most accurate, since the men of the army are supposed to be especially keen and particularly disciplined in care for small details.

The splendid phonograph was delivered to Lieut. Greene today and Fort Shafter will be regaled with fine music as a result of Lieut. Greene's ability.

Those who engaged in the contest, though not all of them carried the counting through to the end, follow:

SHIPPING & WATERFRONT NEWS

ROUGH TRIP FROM SOUND REPORTED BY PANAMAN

Reporting bad weather and rains all the way from Puget Sound, the American-Hawaiian steamer Panaman arrived this morning with 6000 tons of New York and Sound cargo. Her master, Capt. N. J. Kane, said the steamer had not sustained any damage from the rough weather met on the down trip.

The Panaman brought three bags of mail from Seattle. She is the third American-Hawaiian steamer to reach the islands via the Straits of Magellan from New York. The Arizona was the first, and the Minnetonka the second.

Included in her cargo for Honolulu was 247 tons of freight in transit, being shipped from England to Honolulu via New York. The shipment is for local firms.

DEFERRED MESSAGES TO EUROPE STOPPED

On account of increasing congestion in night-letter business and week-end messages, all wireless and cable companies in the United States are temporarily refusing deferred messages to European countries.

Notice of this refusal has been sent to the Commercial Pacific Cable office, the Marconi Wireless, and the Federal Wireless offices here. There has been no interruption in deferred messages from Hawaii to the mainland, however, and no stoppage in fully paid messages to Europe from here.

Deferred message service to Europe probably will be resumed in a week or so, as soon as the accumulated business is cleared.

Manager W. P. S. Hawk of the Marconi office said this morning there was a similar congestion in deferred business to Germany some time ago, causing discontinuance, which lasted, however, only four or five days. Manager W. Y. Nolley of the Federal today said he thought the present congestion will be cleared up within a week and usual service resumed.

CAPT. BIEHL FREED FROM ALL BLAME FOR WRECK OF HIS SHIP

Exonerated of all blame for the wreck of the Chilean bark Ivanhoe Christmas night during the Kona gale at Port Allen has been given Capt. A. H. Biehl, master of the vessel, as the result of a series of hearings held by J. W. Waldron, consul for Chile, and concluded yesterday.

Mr. Waldron was in charge of the investigation, assisted by Territorial Pilots J. R. Macaulay and John F. Haglund, who sat with him and gave him technical advice.

The pilots made one recommendation, that vessels lying at Port Allen in November, December, January and February be moored with their heads to the south and with full scope of chain to both anchors. These are the months in which Kona gales are most likely to occur. Ships have generally moored there with heads to the east to guard against the trades. Such was the case with the Ivanhoe.

After clinging for more than three hours to the bottom of their upturned power boat, George Hammel and Thomas Patterson, were rescued off Atlantic City, N. J., by a fishing smack. And also that there are other implements to dig trenches with besides shovels.

HARBOR NOTES

Due here January 18 from Australia and Pago-Pago is the Oceanic steamer Sierra.

Only two passengers and three packages of sundries were brought in by the W. G. Hall from Kauai this morning.

The Likie, late yesterday brought in 1263 bags of sugar, 318 of rice and 96 bags of paddy. She reported northeast trade winds and a choppy sea on the inward trip.

The Inter-island steamer Mauna Kea brought 53 cabin, 77 deck passengers, 21 bags of corn, 78 of cabbage and 117 packages of sundries, from Hilo this morning.

To date 55 passengers are booked for the Matsuno, due to sail Wednesday morning for San Francisco. She will take out 2500 tons of sugar and some canned pines.

Coming in for bunkers, the steamer Yucatan arrived early today from San Francisco. She is taking 625 tons of bunker coal from the Inter-island and 600 barrels of fuel oil, and will sail probably tomorrow.

Next mail from the mainland will arrive Tuesday morning in the Matsuno steamer Lurline from San Francisco which has five days' accumulation.

Due Wednesday morning from the mainland is the Great Northern. She is bringing mail from San Francisco and Los Angeles, having left the former city a day after the Lurline.

Arrival at the coast of the Matsuno steamer Hyades is reported. The Hyades left here December 29.

At 10 o'clock Wednesday morning the Matsuno will sail for San Francisco, taking the next mail to the mainland.

Costs of transferring the liner Minnesota's big cargo while the steamer is having new boilers installed at San Francisco are estimated at $75,000. Her cargo is more than 20,000 tons.

Three mails will arrive from the coast next week. They will come Tuesday morning in the Lurline Wednesday morning in the Great Northern and Friday in the Tenyo Maru.

This afternoon the Matsuno steamer Hilonian is due to sail for island ports to discharge cargo and load sugar for San Francisco.

After a passage of 155 days from Columbia River, two months longer than the usual time, the schooner W. H. Marston arrived at Adelaide December 27.

Reports from the coast state that the Sing Fong Company, importer and exporter, is seeking to charter a steamer. The firm will have 2000 tons of cargo ready for shipment in February.

Rough weather on the Hamakua coast of Hawaii is reported in a radio to the Inter-island from its steamer Waiitea. The boat will arrive tomorrow with cattle, a day later than usual.

A cable received by the Hawaii Shippo says seven steamers are being planned by the Toyo Kisen Kaisha. Two will be of 25,000 tons for passenger service, and the remaining five of 10,000 tons each for freight.

American shipyards are now building 150 ocean-going vessels having a total tonnage of more than 25 per cent of the American built tonnage at the beginning of the European war. In July, 1914, only 12 ocean-going merchant ships were under construction in the United States.

Not before midnight tonight will the Matsuno freighter Hilonian sail for Kapaemahu, Port Allen and Hilo. Rains late yesterday and today have delayed her discharging cargo here. The Hilonian should sail from Hilo next Wednesday, January 12, for San Francisco. She will not call at Kahului this trip.

Radio advices received this morning by Castle & Cooke, Ltd., local Matsuno agents, from the Lurline, report the steamer to be bringing 21 cabin passengers, 421 bags of mail, 27 packages of express matter and 3329 tons of cargo for Honolulu. The ship is due Tuesday morning.

When the steamer China arrives here Wednesday morning on her first call under the China Mail Steamship Company flag, she will probably be tendered a reception on board by prominent Honolulu Chinese. Ching Shai, interested here in the new company, and F. W. Kiehn, secretary of H. Kiehn & Company, Ltd., the local agents, are arranging details of the affair. The China left San Francisco Thursday afternoon.

Carlisle's withdrawal from the intercollegiate football ranks is a decided disappointment to the authorities at other institutions as well as to the sport loving public. Two New England colleges will feel the effect keenly—Brown and Holy Cross. The Worcester eleven has made the Carlisle game the big contest of the year, while Brown has for several seasons met the Redskins in a Thanksgiving Day battle.

KINDERGARTEN PLANS TO GIVE CARNIVAL SHOW

With a decision this morning by the members of the Free Kindergarten and Children's Aid Association to hold some sort of an entertainment during the Mid-Pacific Carnival, another event has been added to the list of merriments for the hey-day week in February.

This morning's session was the regular monthly meeting. Mrs. F. M. Swanzy, president, said following the meeting that she will appoint the committees soon for the arrangement of a program. At present very little is known as to the nature of the event, but it will probably be held at night.

On January 21, the third Friday of this month, will be held the regular annual meeting of the kindergarten association and all persons interested in the work of the organization are invited to attend. The meeting will be held in the Henry and Dorothy Castle Memorial kindergarten on King street.

Reports from the various kindergartens and playgrounds under the organization, and from the Castle Home, Manoa, were read this morning, telling of successful entertainments held for the little folks during the Christmas holidays.

DEMAND INVESTIGATION OF GALLIPOLI EXPEDITION

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 8.—Hints of a scandal in regard to the ill-fated Gallipoli expedition refuse to down, and reports were current here yesterday that Gen. Stopford has formally demanded a searching investigation of all the circumstances leading up to the sending of troops to the Golden Horn, and the publication of all the facts. Similar demands have been made from time to time by the newspapers conducted by Lord Northcliffe, but so far no official notice has been paid to them.

JAPANESE IN CANADA WOULD FORM REGIMENT

VANCOUVER, B. C. Jan. 8.—It was announced here last night that applications have been received from more than 500 Japanese in British Columbia, who are anxious for permission to form a regiment of infantry for service with the Canadian contingent in Flanders.

William Smith, aged 55, was found dead in the snow near his home at Bloomingdale, N. J. He had been bleeding to death, and as he was an oil worker with his clothes frequently saturated with oil, it is thought that he accidentally set himself afire.

OLD FOLKS NEED 'CASCARETS' FOR LIVER, BOWELS

Salts, Calomel, Pills Act on Bowels Like Pepper Acts

Enjoy Life! Don't Stay Bilious, Sick, Headachy and Constipated

Get a 10-cent box now.
Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic.
And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets.
One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics.
Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets, and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep—

EMPLOYERS INJURE MILITIA CAUSE IS GENERAL'S OPINION

Selfishness on the part of employers is one of the chief contributing causes for failure of the National Guard on the mainland, says Gen. W. G.
Price of the Pennsylvania militia in an article in which he accuses employers who refuse to give men working for them an opportunity to enlist in the National Guard and attend drills and camps, some extracts from which are:

"I've had years of experience at getting men into the National Guard and trying to protect them in their business so they can attend to their military duties, and it makes one sick to see how the ardent patriots among business men get cold feet when it comes to letting a ten-dollars-a-week man go to camp for a week in summer. They won't do it if they can help it."

"I also say frankly that it is a hard cold fact that men who face the necessity of attending to national guard duties are discriminated against and kept in unimportant positions, so they can be dismissed when they go to camp."

Don't accept it till the last.
Don't give way to doubt and

Men, Books, People & Things by Edgar Allan Poe

There are some remarkably good papers in the American Magazine, on farming and other practical matters.
Ray Stannard Baker's contributions are always good, but with a few exceptions the stories are as poor as they can be. Unfortunately, trashy fiction like "Bambi," "Destiny," "Just Human," nearly fills each monthly issue. In the last few years this magazine has greatly deteriorated.

The Geographic Magazine, the Popular Science Monthly and the Monist keep up to early standards, and find a welcome place upon the thoughtful reader's table.

The McClure publications, Ladies Home Journal, Woman's Home Companion, look tempting with their gaudy covers and advertisements, but one soon tires of their stuff which for most part is Chautauqua-flavored.

Each issue of Harper's Monthly never fails to be good and, as a friend remarked, "better than the last number."

The Metropolitan, barring some light fiction, is excellent. Mr. Roosevelt's contributions alone are worth the price of the journal and the editorials are sane.

St. Nicholas can't be duplicated for the children.
No resident of Hawaii need be ashamed to send to his friends abroad copies of the Mid-Pacific Magazine or the Paradise of the Pacific, for both are far above the average in literary and pictorial excellence.

The place of Bookman and the New York Times-Review cannot well be filled by any substitute.
Harper's Weekly has lost rapidly in bulk, appearance and influence. Greatly it has evidenced its impecunious lacking.

Although Col. Harvey of The North American Review does some thinking of his own on various questions, can say what he thinks fearlessly and forebodingly enough, he is so prejudiced in his political likes and dislikes, so "temperate" in his statements of his partisan opinion, that few impartial readers, whether Republican or Democrat, regard what he says with serious consideration.

Over emphasis and exaggeration are soon neutralized by reactionary processes. They are capsize by their own momentum.

Col. Harvey ought to go to China or Africa where he might scare the natives for a while; in the United States the sound of his popgun is too familiar to disturb any one.

In the recent death of Charles F.
Holder of Pasadena his friends lose a cheerful lover of outdoors, his many readers, a charming writer, and the

'SOCIAL KATYDIDS AND SWIVEL CHAIR PETS' OF NAVY GET RAP

Congressman Howard of Georgia Rallies Bravery to Defense of Daniels

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 22.— Representative Howard of Georgia, formerly a prominent member of the Naval Affairs Committee of the House, has taken issue with a writer in "American Defense," a publication which has seen fit to criticize Secretary Daniels. In a letter addressed to Editor Philip J. Roosevelt of "American Defense" at New York, Mr. Howard says:

"To begin with, I wish to assert with emphasis that I am in favor of an efficient and effectual defensive navy and shall lay my vote and cooperation to such a program that will first balance our navy with the necessary auxiliaries and then branch out to a fixed building program based on common sense and defensive reasons.
My final attitude on defense will be shaped by those who have much more knowledge of naval necessities than I.
"The attack upon Secretary of the Navy Daniels by C. S. Thompson in your initial issue is very unfortunate and untimely. As one in sympathy with this movement for a better navy,
I am afraid it is a very bad blunder to give space in your magazine for such an attack upon the executive head of the American navy."

"Since I have been a member of the House, beginning with the sixty-second Congress, I have had splendid opportunity to judge the sincerity and ability of Secretary Daniels. I have met him time and again personally.
I have heard his testimony before the Naval Affairs Committee, and I know his sincerity of purpose. His record so far for ability, foresight and accomplishment is equal to that of Meyer, Metcalf or, in fact, any of his predecessors."

Interest in Enlisted Men.
"Mr. Daniels' interest in the enlisted men of the navy was not only timely but necessary, as it was at the time of his induction into office—as it is now—almost an impossibility to secure American-born boys as recruits for the navy. He very wisely manifested an interest in the enlisted men and I, for one, am sorry he did not go further in showing his interest in them, and the enlisted men of the navy today have an affection instead of an antipathy for the secretary of the navy. This is true also of the real officers of the navy, the men who feel that they should earn their salaries by giving their expert services actually on duty at sea to the government that has educated them and paid them well for their services. We members of Congress all know that the social katydids and swivel-chair pets of former administrations are posting because Mr. Daniels has exact some sort of duty of them."

"I am sorry that you have allowed Mr. Thompson space in your paper to give vent to his pentup ill will toward the secretary. This sort of journalism will not get national defense far if it is kept up, because this is nothing but an injection of politics into our national defense program, and the men at the helm in Washington are not as nervous and excited as some of those in the country, who have been in the habit of giving orders to Washington and, having their orders obeyed with the alacrity and agility of a circus monkey jumping through the hoop. Information and suggestions are what Congressmen and heads of the departments need from the people, and not abuse and personal ridicule."

They do not step along as if the whole world were looking at them.
Unfortunately for themselves and the section of the world they trouble, the most of these artists live together and mentally in-breeds.

They occupy cottages at Carmel,
Montecito, or in New York.

Their portraits are painted by some famous associate and reproduced with biographical data.
So and so gets up at 2 a. m. to play whist. He eats pancakes for breakfast but always pours his molasses into his plate before he gets the cake. When he swallows water he makes a gulping noise, which is not noted of Shake-spears in any personal sketch so far written.

This artist's pictures generally represent him with his hair over his forehead and a tie that flaps over his shoulders.

Very often these fellows are worldwide celebrities and have real genius.
More frequently they have not really "arrived," but are either minor poets or novelists whose importance is not seriously considerable.

If they enter a company of common mortals, they do so dramatically. They turn their eyes and lift their hands and say something which is epigrammatic. They feel that those who are looking at them will be reminded of a wonderful book entitled, "The Poetical Tramway."

A certain poet took a notion to travel around the world. He expected to make his expenses by reading selections from his published poems. Of course, he advertised the event by circulars in which he appeared with the aforementioned hair and flowing tie.
There were extracts from his poems and press opinions. His friends were asked to drum up audiences for him.

He came—but his audiences didn't.
Neither the interest of his friends, nor the hair, nor the poetry, nor the flowing tie, caught the public fancy.

So the young minor poet, who believed he belonged to a superior class, and was giving the public what they couldn't begin to pay for, got nothing at all, and went away disappointed.

He returned to Carmel or Monte-cito or New York, wherever he lived, and began to write cynical poems.

MILLION DOLLAR MILK SHIPMENT FOR GERMANY

New York Committee Believes Britain Will Permit Relief for Teuton Babies

NEW YORK, N. Y.—At a regular meeting of the "Citizens' Committee for Food Shipments" at the home of Mrs. Samuel Untermyer, it was decided to send out a nation-wide appeal for a million dollars to relieve the situation of the babies and young children in Germany and Austria-Hungary.

Pending resumption of the parcel-post service to Germany and Austria-Hungary, the committee proposes to charter a steamer to sail under government supervision with a shipment of 120,000 cases of condensed milk and other milk products, approximately six million cans of one pound each, consigned direct to Hamburg or Bremen.
The National American Red Cross has offered its aid in making distribution.

Dr. Edmund von Mach, executive chairman, in commenting on the work of the committee, said: "Every minute's delay may mean the life of an innocent baby in Germany or Austria-Hungary. The milk condition is almost unbelievable, because of the shortage of grain to feed the cows, fresh milk is very scarce, and the supply of condensed milk has been exhausted."

"If we would save the lives of over two million babies we must set out on a big scale. The milk can be had here, and thanks to the humane attitude of the leading companies, it can be had at no advance in price, although the demands for export are enormous."

"Condensed milk alone will solve the baby problem in Germany and Austria-Hungary. We propose to make our first shipment just as soon as funds are available and to make it the biggest shipment of milk ever known. Since the presentation of the Red Cross petition to the state department in Washington, we have every reason to believe that the steamer will go right into Hamburg without interference."

OUTDOOR CIRCLE RE-ELECTS MRS. LOWREY LEADER

Mrs. F. J. Lowrey was reelected president of the Outdoor Circle at the annual meeting of that organization held at the home of the president yesterday afternoon. The other officers who have served during the last year also were reelected. They are Mrs. L. A. Thurston, vice-president, and Mrs. W. L. Moore, secretary-treasurer.

The meeting was well attended, about 60 women being present to assist in planning the organization's work for the year. During 1915, the treasurer reported, the circle spent $1055.14, leaving a balance on hand to the amount of $2645.58. Other interesting reports from officers and committees, dealing with the work done last year, were presented. It was reported that the sealing wax palm, imported from Singapore, was a complete failure, but that its place doubtless will be taken by the "Mus-caenda Eritrophyla," a remarkable shrub imported from the Congo.

Some of the drawbacks to the work of the circle were reported as being bad weather, lack of prison labor and delays by public officials. Mrs. Lowrey reported that Governor Pinkham provided the circle with six long-term prisoners and a luna, who will work in Queen Emma park and in Puunui.
Gerrit P. Wilder has offered the circle 30 rare palms for the greenhouse in Queen Emma park.

The latest addition to the circle is a club of 30 young girls under the leadership of Miss Beatrice Castle.
The circle as a whole now has 350 members.

the name of Lionel De Jersey Harvard, the descendant of John Harvard, who was graduated last June at the Amerithe founder. Young Harvard has been granted a lieutenancy in the Grenadier Guards, three battalions of which have already served in Flanders and of which a fourth is now in training in

MRS. FANNY LOVE DIES AFTER LONG LIFE IN ISLANDS

Was a Native of Tasmania; Came to Honolulu When Nine Years of Age

Mrs. Fanny Love, a native of Tasmania and a resident of Hawaii for more than three score years, died yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clarence H. Cooke, 1646 Keeaumoku street. Death resulted from the effects of a severe cold which Mrs. Love contracted on December 1, and from complicated intestinal diseases.

Interment will be made in Nuanu cemetery following the funeral services at 2 o'clock tomorrow from her late residence, Kewalo, near Heulu street. Dr. Scudder will officiate. The interment will be private.

Mrs. Love, whose maiden name was Johnson, was born in Hobart, Tasmania, September 1, 1842, being more than 73 years of age at the time of her death. At the age of nine years she came to Honolulu with her parents who were on their way to California to the gold fields.

Having made the step here to restock their provision supply the family decided to remain, and Mrs. Love has made this her home ever since. She made several visits to the mainland in her 65-year stay here, and last summer attended the exposition at San Francisco. It was on the day before she left San Francisco last month for Honolulu that she contracted the cold which weakened her condition and led to death.

Mrs. Love was the widow of Robert Love, son of the founder of Love's Bakery. She is survived by six children, all of whom were born in Honolulu. They are Mrs. Clarence H. Cooke, Honolulu; Mrs. William H. Hoogs, Calistoga, Cal.; Mrs. F. J. Patterson, Portland, Ore.; and James H. Love, Honolulu. A sister, Mrs. Jane McCornist, and two brothers, Frederick Johnson of Honolulu and Walter Johnson of Portland, also survive her.

The death yesterday brought to a close a life of constant devotion to her family, her friends and her useful work in the community. Her husband, who was a native of Glasgow, died in 1883, and during the 32 years she survived him she led an active life and one of great solicitude for the welfare and happiness of her family. She was surrounded by an unusually large circle of immediate relatives, a fact which added to her own happiness, and during her recent visit to the coast, she was able to visit a number of relatives and friends of the early days, who had settled in the Northwest or California about the time she herself came to Hawaii.

Mrs. Love's father, F. Johnson, was a contractor and builder, and erected many of the early public structures and residences here, among them the original Queen's hospital and the present jail, the latter having been put up in 1857. Mrs. Love was a life-long member of Central Union church, having been active in the old days of "Father" Damon's Bethel church. Her devotion to her religious duties was not less marked than that to her family.

FIT UP LODGINGS AND MESS FOR FILIPINOS OF GUARD OUT OF JOBS

In the lodging place for soldiers back of the armory, which was planned and fitted out by Maj.-gen. William H. Carter when he was in command of troops on Oahu, no soldiers caught in town and having no place to sleep could find a bed for the night, 30 Filipino members of the National Guard of Hawaii who have no employment and no homes are housed, and will be given meals after a few days, when improvements which are now being made on the building are completed.

Showers have been put in the building for the benefit of the regular army men and the National Guardsmen, and a kitchen is being built. This will have a large range. Next to the kitchen a mess hall is being arranged. The men will be fed here, a fund being available for the purchase of buying provisions, which are not expected to cost a great deal.

In the barrack room there are cots provided with army blankets, and the place has been made very comfortable. Half of the building has been divided off for the regular soldiers who stray in, and the remainder is to be allotted to the Filipinos, all of whom are members of Company M.

Robert Burns Day, January 25, will be celebrated in Honolulu this year with a smoker probably at Phoenix hall. This was the decision last night at a meeting of the British Association Club held with Robert Anderson presiding.

Consisting of songs, toasts and dances, the program will be as one member put it, "such as Bobbie Burns himself would delight in." The following men have been named to take charge of the entertainment:

JURY REQUESTS TRY KAUAI ON NEW COMPLAINT

Finding the defendant not guilty of a charge of criminal assault, but recommending that he be indicted on some other charge, was the rather unusual verdict returned by a jury in Judge Ashford's court late yesterday afternoon in the case of Amoka Laakea Kauai.

The jury deliberated for more than two hours before returning a verdict. Four forms of verdict were given the venire men, three of guilty in various degrees, and one of not guilty. The trial of the case lasted three days, during which time a score or more of witnesses were examined. It was charged that Kauai had taken a young part-Hawaiian girl to a house in Kaimuki, where he brutally assaulted her.

One witness testified that Kauai was a kahuna. The complaining witness testified that she had tried to avoid the man's alleged assault in spite of the fact that she was afraid of him.

During his own testimony, Kauai said that he was an elder in the Mormon church, but Elder Ernest L. Miner, presiding elder in the local church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, denied that the Hawaiian was an elder when he was called to testify in rebuttal.

MATTOS RELIEF FUND GROWING; AID COMING IN

Mrs. Agnelo Da Cunha Pessoa... $5.00
Miss Inez Romelia... $2.00

Brighter days are in store for Mr. and Mrs. Francisco M. Mattos and their five children, including the triplets, who will be six months old next Wednesday.

Help for the family came in fast to day. Several charitable Honolulu women called at the home of Agnelo Da Cunha Pessoa, Portuguese consul general, to whom the family appealed, and said they had clothes for the children.

Mr. Pessoa called today at the office of W. O. Smith, secretary and treasurer of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, in Mattos' behalf, and was promised by Mr. Smith that Mattos would be given an increase in wages sufficient to provide his growing family with food, clothes and a roof over their heads, if he would return to Koloa Plantation and promise to stay there.

This morning Miss Inez Romelia, a little girl, sent into the Star-Bulletin office two dollars, and added them to the relief fund started yesterday by Mrs. Pessoa. This makes the total now contributed $7. Consul-General Pessoa desires Mr. Mattos to call on him at once to arrange for the family's relief.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

—JOSEPH NOBREGA: All the wireless apparatus in Hawaii is still sealed tightly by order of the government and no amount of persuasion will bring permission to use it. Plants put in by amateurs at a big cost to them are rusting away, instead of wearing out.

—DEPUTY SHERIFF JULIUS W. ASCH: Unless automobile drivers whose six months chauffeurs' licenses have expired report here immediately after receiving post cards from this office there will be a large rush of business in the police court, because we will certainly arrest every one of them.

—W. H. HUTTON: Official journals received here from headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America show the organization is making a tremendous growth. In New York City recently $92,000 was raised in a campaign for a budget, and the campaign had not ended. It was expected $200,000 would be raised before the end of the effort to secure funds.

—A. P. TAYLOR, Promotion Committee: In our mail this morning was received one of the Mid-Pacific Carnival postal cards, which carries a reproduction of the Carnival poster for 1916. The card bore the following criticism, in disguised handwriting, and, therefore, anonymous: "Pussel: Find Jap Flag nudder side." First of all, this is splitting hairs with a vengeance and means nothing, and in the second place the poster design did not emanate from the Hawaii Promotion Committee. The Committee finds, however, that tourists here are very pleased with these cards and are sending large quantities away to friends. It is the tourists and the prospective tourists who are to be pleased, and that point once gained, local criticism falls flat. Anyhow, the flag mentioned is probably a house-flag—not a national ensign.

SACKS OF BEANS BURY TWO WORKMEN AT PIER

Buried under a pile of sacked beans, which toppled over on them while they were on a wagon of the United States' army quartermaster's department loading the provisions on Pier 15, J. Miller and W. R. Hughes, employed by the quartermaster, were slightly injured Thursday afternoon. Hughes had his right ankle fractured and was severely bruised, and Miller was cut about the face.

Dock employees and policemen took Hughes and Miller from under the pile of beans, and they were cared for at the Emergency hospital by Dr. R. G. Ayer.

CIRCLE MEMBERS HEAR OF NEED OF ARMY Y. M. HERE

Paul Super Makes Talk at Annual Meeting, and Outlines Cost of Annual Upkeep

That the soldiers on Oahu are men of high character, with as many good traits as can be found in men in other walks of life, was declared by Paul Super, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., in an address delivered before the Outdoor Circle yesterday afternoon at that organization's annual meeting.

"Doing Something for the Soldier" was the general theme of the Y. M. C. A. secretary's discourse. On it he told of the urgent need in Honolulu and the forts on Oahu for army Y. M. C. A. buildings and work, and outlined the recommendations made by J. S. Tichenor, international army and navy secretary of the Y. M. C. A., as a result of his recent visit here.

"These are four in number," said Mr. Super. "First, an army and navy secretary to come to Honolulu and organize the work. Second, an army Y. M. C. A. building for the 25th Infantry; third, an army Y. M. C. A. for Honolulu; and fourth, an army Y. M. C. A. building for Castner."

Cost From $3500 to $5000 Yearly. Part of the money required for this work could very likely be secured from the mainland, Mr. Super thought, but local business men would be called on to furnish the amounts necessary for maintenance and current expenses. This, to begin, would be $3500 a year, and as the work branched out might rise to $5000 annually. "A small sum compared to what Honolulu gets from the soldiers," he added.

In the Spanish-American war, four days after President McKinley's call for volunteers, the international committee met and organized special work for the soldiers in the American army. This led to the formation of regular army and navy Y. M. C. A. activities, so that now there are associations for men of the army at all principal forts and army posts in the United States. The Y. M. C. A. is also doing work in the European war zone among both the Allies and the Teutonic forces.

"Hawaiian Night" Opens Pasadena Season.

"With the barbaric splendor of thousands of Hawaiian leis, intertwined with tropical vines and foliage the ball room of the Hotel Raymond will present a brilliant picture Thursday night, when the big hotel will formally open its winter season with a concert and dance under the direction of Walter J. Raymond," says the Pasadena News of Saturday, December 18, in referring to the transformation of the Hotel Raymond ball room into a Hawaiian lanai interior.

The Hawaii Promotion Committee has received letters from Manager Raymond giving descriptions of the interior and sending clippings, stating "As your Honolulu branch was good enough to mention the fact that we intended using the Hawaiian scheme of decoration, I thought you might be interested in the opening affair."

"A hundred tables have been reserved for the opening dinner and the concert and dance promises to be a very exclusive affair. Our ballroom with the yellow flama leis and greenery looks most attractive. We are planning a series of Hawaiian entertainments during the coming season, for which reservations are far in advance of last year."

The Pasadena News speaks of the coming event as follows:

"The opening ball will be especially picturesque, owing to the effective setting which the intermingling of the Hawaiian leis with flowers and foliage will make. The happy thought of utilizing the South Sea Island wreaths for decorative purposes came to Mr. Raymond during the recent visit to the San Francisco exposition. The gorgeous color of the native lei attracted him and he arranged for several thousand of them to be made in Honolulu and shipped direct to Pasadena. The South Sea Island lei is the symbol of affection and was formerly worn by members of the royal families. Now these brilliant, colored wreaths are placed about the neck by friends at meeting or at parting as a token of sincere friendship and love. This token is especially fitting for decoration for the opening of the Raymond, for when the winter season of the big hotel begins it will find numbered among the guests many who have wintered at the Raymond for so many years they have come to look upon it as their winter home, thus the opening will mark the reunion of many old-time friends."

The Promotion Committee is sending a quantity of Mid-Pacific Carnival posters and postal cards to Manager Raymond for display and distribution among the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Tenney's Dinner Party.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Tenney are hosts this evening at dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sherwood, who are visitors from Portland, Oregon. A huge basket of delicately colored larder orchids will adorn the table and that rare flower will be seen as well in the drawing-room. The Tenney orchids are widely known throughout the city for beauty and rarity. Among the guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sherwood, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit P. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Atkinson, Mrs. Alice Schultz, Miss Helen Wilder, Mr. H. H. Walker and Mr. James Wilder.

Mr. Edward Dekum and Mrs. E. M. Watson Entertain.

Mrs. Edward Dekum and Mrs. E. M. Watson entertained most delightfully at luncheon at the Country Club in honor of Mrs. W. E. Davis, wife of Captain Davis, who departed in the transport on Wednesday. The Davises have been in Honolulu for some time and have made many friends during that time. Mrs. Davis has often been a hostess at tea and was considered one of the most charming matrons of the service set. It was with no little regret that their friends bade them adieu at the navy dock.

The decorations were unique and caused a bit of merriment. In the center of the table a toy ship sailed its stately course in a billowy sea of blue tulle. Place cards were attached to little tin soldiers in blue uniforms. Corsage bouquets of blue and white flowers were given to each of the guests. After luncheon some of the ladies indulged in a game of bridge, while others preferred to spend the afternoon in pleasant conversation.

Covers were laid for Mrs. Davis, Mrs. James B. Houston, Mrs. John P. Visser, Mrs. A. Hocking, Mrs. A. G. Hodgins, Mrs. William Williamson, Mrs. C. G. Ballentine, Miss Hart-argue, Miss Louise Lucas, Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. Parks, Miss Frear, Mrs. Walter Coombs, Mrs. M. F. Prosser, Mrs. Dekum and Mrs. Watson.

For Mr. and Mrs. Jack London.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack London were the complimented guests at a pleasant affair on Monday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Cunha entertained in their honor at dinner.

A wealth of poinsettia and maiden-hair fern was used in the center of the table and in the other rooms as well.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. London, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Shingle, Mr. and Mrs. George Beckley, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cunha, Miss Dorothy Spring, Dr. Harvey Murray, Dr. Jack Peden, Mr. Charles Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Cunha.

Hawaiian Society Plans for New Year.

The Hawaiian Society, a club of local women who are interested in all things Hawaiian, has a number of interesting topics for the New Year. At each meeting they discuss a topic which has been given out at the preceding meeting. Some of the lessons for this year are:

Origin of Polynesian race. Migrations 1 and 2. The Spanish Voyages. First Families. Gods and Helms. Kamahameha I to Present Day Government. Written Literature. Tradition. Myths, Legends and Customs. Hula, Pele and Hiliaka.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. James D. Dougherty, secretary-treasurer of the club, on the last Friday of the month.

Mrs. A. G. M. Robertson is president of the club, Mrs. James D. Dougherty acting secretary, Miss Edith Williams, Miss Henrietta Smith and Mrs. Robert Hair are the entertainment committee.

More Dance Steps Invented.

Hey and a ho for the new dance steps! New York social writers tell all about the recent meeting of the dancing teachers in the metropolis, and their decisions as to the canons of the taperschorean art will before long be noticeable in Hawaii, particularly as Honolulu now has professional ready to bring the latest devices here and teach them to local society.

A New York despatch says: "NEW YORK, December 26.—The dancing teachers came to town today from every corner of the land. Their avowed purpose was to pick up some New York steps."

"They spent today doing so. They will continue their search for new wriggles for several days before gliding away to Pittsburgh, Peoria and points west. There are 80 in the party."

"The teachers gathered in the ball room of the Hotel McAlpin. There a New York teacher, reputed parent of a few new gyrations to carry back west. For more than an hour they pirouetted and took down the steps in notebooks."

"The liveliest man on the floor was Col. Lewis Kretlow, 71 years old, who has been teaching dancing 58 years. Kretlow is president of the Chicago Dancing Masters' Association.

"When the instructor shouted 'Scissors,' which means to turn one's self inside out rapidly, Col. Kretlow scissored with such vigor that his whippers made a whizzing sound as they cleaved the air."

"Dancing did it," he said in response to a request for his own recipe for longevity."

In Honor of Miss Mary Stambaugh.

In honor of Miss Mary L. Stambaugh of Mills school, who is to leave in a few weeks for the mainland, a party was tendered last night by Dr. Robert Day Williams, principal, and Mrs. Williams at their home, 2421 Armstrong street, Manoa. Miss Stambaugh is a member of the English department at Mills, and has been with the Mid-Pacific Institute for the last five years.

Members and former members of the faculties of Mills school and Kawaiahoi were guests at the party. Guessing games and contest games of skill which included ring throwing, bowling, target shooting and the picking of beans out of a dish with toothpicks used as chopsticks formed the merry-making features.

Last on the program of stunts came a telegram contest in which the ladies present used the letters of their names to write out leap year proposals, the gentlemen using the same method to decline or accept. The reading of the questions and answers proved highly entertaining.

After all the telegrams had been read and laughed over, sherbet and cake were served.

Present as guests were Miss Mabel E. Boshier, former principal of Kawaiahoi; Mrs. Hincley, Miss Yeomans, Miss Haynes, Miss Currier, Miss Kallio, Miss Gossett, and Miss Campbell of the Kawaiahoi faculty. From the Mills faculty were Miss Mary L. Stambaugh, Mrs. P. F. Frear, Miss E. J. Jones, Miss Julia R. Peabody and Miss Edna M. Byrd; also John F. Nelson, Merle L. Copeland, Harold H. Yost, Carl Cassingham, George Merritt, H. M. Blowers, William Berney, and Howard L. Botts. Other present were Dr. Doremus Scudder and John F. Stone.

Chamber Musicale of Unusual Note.

Mr. George Casper, the Austrian violinist, will appear in recital next Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the parlors of Central Union church. The event is rendered unusual by the fact that Mr. Casper will play his own compositions, many of them written here and dedicated to his Honolulu friends.

Mr. Frank Moss will accompany Mr. Casper on the piano. He, too, will play some of his own piano compositions. In "The Souvenir," one of Mr. Casper's new numbers, Mr. Lester French will play second violin. Mr. Philip Hall will sing a few numbers by Carrie Jacobs-Bond and other artists.

Mr. Casper has been in Honolulu for more than a year. He came here on his way to fill a 13-weeks' contract in Australia, which was canceled when the European struggle started. He has spent much time in study in Berlin and in Brussels, where he played many times in Queen Elizabeth's music room.

Gen. and Mrs. S. I. Johnson Entertain for Mr. and Mrs. Jack London.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack London were entertained most delightfully at a dinner given by Brig-gen. Samuel I. Johnson, N. G. H., and Mrs. Johnson on Friday evening at their home. Mr. and Mrs. London's return was welcomed by their host of friends.

Pink and blue was the scheme carried out in the decorations, which were most attractive and original. Pink and blue hand-painted place cards marked the cover of each guest and a corsage of the same combination of flowers was used.

Among Gen. and Mrs. Johnson's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jack London, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cartwright, Mr. and Mrs. George Angus, Capt. and Mrs. C. S. Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Mathe-son, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. High, Mrs. C. R. Forbes, Miss Edith Williams, Maj. Arthur Conklin and Mrs. A. L. C. Atkinson.

Charity Keynote in Social Affairs of 1916.

Charity seems to be the keynote of affairs at the commencement of the year. Whether or not it will be so at the close of the year is a question, however, though it seems as if a good many of the New Year resolutions had to do with charity, not only in Honolulu, but in all parts of America as well. San Francisco has started the year off with charity balls, dances and entertainments of all sorts. There has been an entertainment for the Serbian and Italian war sufferers given by the San Francisco society maidens and matrons. The Belgian funds are growing with almost unheard-of rapidity, and of course there are many local needs in the charity line. Honolulu is starting off the new year with two charity balls given for and by the Army Relief Association January 18 and 19 have been set aside for these two balls and practically no other affairs will be given on those two evenings with the exception of dinner parties before and supper parties after.

On the evening of the 18th the army has been engaged for the officers' branch of the relief society and this will be for a general ball. The ball on the 19th will be a more novel affair. It is being given for the benefit of orphans and will be a Country Ball. The ladies who are in charge of the first ball also are taking active part in the second affair. Mrs. John P. Visser is at the head and her co-workers are leading army ladies.

Wedding After 24-Hour Engagement.

The news in the San Francisco Examiner comes as a surprise to the many friends of Lieut. and Mrs. Gardner.

Miss Lois Crosby, niece of Mrs. Charles Butters, wife of a South American millionaire mine man, and Lieut. Daniel Gardner, Jr., U. S. A., of San Diego, were married at the Butters home, Rose Lawn, Claremont, Oakland, yesterday afternoon, ending what is probably the shortest engagement in the history of Bay City social life.

Miss Crosby and Lieut. Gardner were engaged less than 24 hours. They became betrothed at 8 o'clock Thursday evening when the army officer received a telegram from Washington instructing him to report immediately for the Mexican border.

"The newlyweds are now on their way to San Diego, where Mrs. Gardner will remain with her husband's parents while he is absent at the border."

"The marriage is one of the biggest social surprises of the year. Mrs. Crosby, who is a leader in the young social set, met Lieut. Gardner while the latter was stationed at the Presidio last winter."

"Only intimate friends and relatives of the couple were present at the ceremony, at which the Rev. E. F. Gee of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Oakland officiated."

Mrs. Harry Macfarlane a Hostess.

Mrs. Harry Macfarlane was hostess on Friday afternoon at a delightfully appointed tea in compliment to Mrs. A. Schultz of New York, a visitor in the islands. Mrs. Macfarlane received about 40 guests during the afternoon at the beautiful Macfarlane residence in Puhiwa Lane, Nuananu.

Shall School Children Dance?

Shall the high school pupils of California be allowed to dance, or is it quite proper that girls and boys of high school age hold dances? That is a question bothering the heads of the principals of high schools at the state convention in California. The question which came up seemed a hard one for the teachers to decide, and from all accounts they have not decided yet.

Opinion was divided. Some of the principals were opposed strenuously to any kind of dancing, while the more liberal-minded said that if they did not find recreation in dancing they would seek something else. Others said that they should be allowed to dance if the music were the proper kind, that any syncretized music would lead to ragging. Still another said that if dancing were good for adults it certainly should be quite proper for the children. Should not the parents be examples for their children?

Mrs. George Sherman Entertains Informally at Luncheon.

Mrs. George Sherman entertained informally at luncheon on Wednesday at her beautiful home in Nuuanu Valley. Mrs. Sherman's informal luncheons are always most enjoyable affairs, and this one enhanced the reputation of an exceedingly hospitable hostess.

After a delicious luncheon was served, the guests made a tour of inspection of the lovely home and over the spacious and interesting garden. Covers were laid for Judge and Mrs. Sanford B. Dole, Miss Walker, Miss Anna Paris, Mr. Charles S. Dole of Kauai and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman.

Wedding After Repeated Postponements.

The news of the wedding of Ensign Elroy Vanderkloot and Miss Agnes Faber of Los Angeles, California, comes to Honolulu and the ensign's many friends. Ensign Vanderkloot is with the submarine F-1 and three times the wedding of the charming Los Angeles girl and the popular officer was postponed on account of "orders."

Of Interest to Army Folk.

The home of Lieut. and Mrs. James Howell on Van Ness avenue was the scene of an enjoyable dinner party Sunday evening, when less than a dozen assembled about a table bedecked with the flowers of the season. Lieut. and Mrs. Howell have been entertaining at a series of informal affairs during the fall and early winter.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Miss Dorothy Traut Departs.

Miss Dorothy Traut, who has been visiting Capt. and Mrs. William B. Cochran for a number of months, left Honolulu in the transport this week. Miss Traut expected to leave about two months ago, but an accident delayed her. She made a host of friends during her stay in the islands and her departure caused no little regret.

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
FORT SHAFTER, Jan. 8.—Capt. and Mrs. William B. Cochran entertained informally at dinner last Monday evening for Capt. and Mrs. Charles S. Lincoln. After dinner Capt. and Mrs. Cochran took their guests to the Officers' Club, for the meeting of the Monday Evening Card Club.

The many friends of Capt. and Mrs. Charles S. Lincoln regret exceedingly that his new duties oblige them to move to town. They left Fort Shafter on January 1 and have taken a house in the Manoa valley, but it is hoped by all that Fort Shafter will see Capt. and Mrs. Lincoln very frequently.

Lieut. and Mrs. Ralph Holliday entertained informally at supper Sunday evening for Capt. and Mrs. William B. Cochran, Miss Dorothy Trout, Miss Elizabeth Rosenbaum, Lieut. Polhemus and Lieut. Covell.

Everyone is looking forward to the arrival of the 18th at the army in benevolence of the army relief fund. This will be one of the largest social events of the season, and great interest is being taken in the affair by every one and it is looked for to be most successful socially as well as financially.

The Sewing Club met at the quarters of Mrs. John S. Sullivan in the main garrison on Tuesday afternoon. This was the first meeting since before Christmas, so quite a number gathered at Mrs. Sullivan's to help with the needlework.

On January 1 the entire garrison assembled at the quarters of Col. and Mrs. Walter H. Chatfield in the main post to wish them a happy New Year. Miss Dorothy Trout, the charming house-guest of Capt. and Mrs. William B. Cochran, sailed Thursday on the U. S. transport Thomas for San Francisco, en route to her home in Washington, D. C. Miss Trout has been a visitor at Fort Shafter for the past couple of months and during that time has made many friends both at Fort Shafter and at the other posts on the island. Her departure will be felt keenly by the younger set at Shafter, of which she was a jolly member, and it is hoped by all that Miss Trout will again visit Fort Shafter. During her stay here many delightful affairs were given in her honor, and Capt. and Mrs. Cochran's house was the scene of more than one delightful affair.

Quite a number from Fort Shafter were down at the transport before sailing time to bid goodbye to Miss Trout, as well as their other friends sailing on the Thomas for the mainland. ### MAUI SOCIETY NOTES

Miss Inga Orner Heard on Maui.
WAILUKU, Jan. 5.—Miss Inga Orner, the attractive Norwegian soprano, sang last evening at the Wailuku Orpheum before an appreciative audience. The pouring rain interfered somewhat with the attendance of Maui people. In spite of the racket on the roof from the downpour, Miss Orner's rich voice rose above the din of the elements.

Her program was a big undertaking for one individual. She had no assistance from artists and rendered an aria from Faust by Gounod and also an aria from Carmen by Bizet. These were the longest numbers of her program. Fifteen songs in addition constituted the evening's entertainment. The numbers greatly appreciated by the audience were Wiegand and Vergebliches Standchen by Brahms. In these and the Norwegian songs Miss Orner's sweet voice showed at its best, although all her numbers were most heartily applauded and enjoyed by those who heard her. God Nat by Lassen was a beautiful rendering and full of feeling. This she repeated at the incessant demand of her hearers. This number, together with Mot Kveld by Grondahl, Irmelin Rose by Berger, and Vagvisen by Soderberg had never before been rendered on Maui.

Miss Orner will appear at the Kahului Lyceum on Thursday evening and has most generously offered her services to the Pala Union church Sunday evening for special numbers of sacred music. Her visit on Maui is being much appreciated and all who have met her have been charmed by her delightful personality.

New Year's Eve Frolic on Maui.
WAILUKU, Maui, Jan. 5.—On New Year's Eve one of the jolliest affairs ever given on Maui was held at the Pala Community house. Over 100 people of the vicinity turned out for the fun and frolic of seeing the old year out and the new one in. A large number of the guests were young people. All sorts of games were indulged in by young and old during the first part of the evening. Dancing followed, and when the clock struck 12 there was no end to the din that everybody made as 1916 was ushered in.

The delightful frolic was under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Wailuku Union church. This organization also served refreshments before the party broke up amid the glad wishes of the season.

A great system of windmills is being experimented with in Kansas, to pump the underground water to the surface for the purpose of irrigation.

BIG CHUG-CHUG MOWER DUE TO ARRIVE TODAY

In order to arrange some plan whereby the various parks about the city may be mowed in some definite order, Supervisor Ben Hollinger and the members of the city planning commission are making a study of the general park situation.

"We plan to have a sort of rotary method of getting the parks attended to," says Hollinger. "We will split the park gangs into two squads, one of which will work behind the motor mower, and the other will work on the parks where no mower is used. The mower will be here today."

It is estimated that the new grass cutter will take about 15 days to cover Kapiolani park, and that on the remaining half of the month it will be possible to take the machine here and there about the city to the other parks, thus saving much time in keeping them in order.

FROM PEGGY TO POLLY.

Dearest Polly:

In Honolulu the New Year did start off with the most enjoyable weather imaginable. Well—not exactly the New Year, but the second day of the year, which was to most of our well-known and joyous folk, the first day for coming home at 6 a. m. on a rain first of January after a happy 31st of December is liable to make one sleep and remain quite oblivious to the day, they so hilariously welcomed a few hours before. But that is not telling you that Sunday morning was one of the most beautiful of Sunday mornings that our lovely island has seen for some moons. Some times, betwixt me that our warm, balmy, breezy climate has gone back on us and if the rain does not stop and the wind cease its capers we will have to change our manner of advertising. I wonder if those of the island folk who have come back all done up in their white fox and seal-skin have thought that this is not the best manner of advertisement for their esteemed home and if they were real, loyal countrymen would give up such good-looking comfort and go back to just a warm wrap. But this must be boring you amazingly and I'll talk of lighter and more interesting things. An engagement, for instance.

There really is one somewhere about. I'm sure you'll be interested in it though I cannot tell you the name of at least one rapturous couple, and they are both very well known to most everyone in Honolulu. She is a great beauty, with dark hair and soft, laughing eyes, like sentimental novelists describe, and he is as good-looking as the type of man you see on the back of the Saturday Evening Post advertising the fashionable Arrow collar. The announcement will not be made for some time, I am quite sure, and may not be made here as neither of them are islanders.

The Great Northern brought home a Honolulu, or a Honolulu man who now claims as his home San Francisco. Charles Wall was among the returning passengers after an absence of over seven years. Now seven years is a long time and a town growing as Honolulu does sees many changes in those years. Mr. Wall realized this and brought a brand new automobile so that absolutely none of the sights would be missed.

There has been a big lull in social doings this week, I suppose because in the last two weeks almost everyone has entertained and been entertained until they are simply worn to a frazzle. "Every cloud has its silver lining" and in this instance the silver lining is to appear on the 18th of this month when the Army Relief Association has its ball. Now, everyone or anyone who thinks he or she is or should be considered someone will be there in full regalia and about every dressmaker and designer is busy, for there seems to be nothing too good and little good enough to be worn on this occasion. When the army ladies set out to do anything, they always do it and spare not the least effort in making their affairs a success, so the success of the social side of the ball is quite insured and from all reports financially, too. On the evening of the 19th, the enlisted men are to have their charity ball, which is to be given at the National Guard armory, also. The ladies who are in charge of the first ball also have this in hand and the entertainment is to be in the form of a country ball, thus varying from the previous affair. About the same crowd it is expected will attend this ball also; indeed there is not an officer or his lady who is not as keenly interested in this as in the earlier affair. So smile your wittiest, bow your prettiest and kiss the man you love the best and maybe he'll take you to the charity ball.

Are you following Chloe Malone? That's a question which is very often asked. There is hardly a Honolulu of a country ball, thus varying from the previous affair. About the same crowd it is expected will attend this ball also; indeed there is not an officer or his lady who is not as keenly interested in this as in the earlier affair. So smile your wittiest, bow your prettiest and kiss the man you love the best and maybe he'll take you to the charity ball.

SHEBA FORESEES SPREAD OF UNIONS TO INCLUDE JAPANESE OF HAWAII

"Labor unions in Japan in the future are a certainty," said S. Sheba, proprietor of the Hawaii Shinto today, who returned last week after investigating the Japanese labor situation in California. "Japanese in California are joining the unions now, and in many cases the Japanese workers have been forced to work for the same wage as the Americans."

Baron E. Shibuzawa, who has made a close study of labor conditions in California states that the time is coming when Japanese labor unions in California will be the rule rather than the exception. Economic problems on the coast have brought this about, and I am sure that the Japanese will have a schedule of wages close to that of the Americans. "With Japanese labor unions in California and the work that has been done in Japan by labor representatives it will insure a system of unions in that country. Japan is becoming more and more a manufacturing nation, and with the disciples of labor preaching the doctrine of unionism I feel that it will not be long before the unions become active in Tokio and other manufacturing centers."

"With unionism in California and unionism in Japan, the next point that will come up will be—What about unions in Hawaii? With the labor question being agitated on one side and on the other, it will not be long until Hawaii will feel the strength of the movement. Union leaders have done much to help the Japanese in California and at the recent meeting of the delegates of labor unions the consensus of opinion was that the Japanese must organize."

though for the way he ended "The Little Woman of the Big House." "But why did you kill her, Mr. London?" so many people ask.

"And what would you suggest that I did with her?" comes the author's prompt query and then they don't know. Some think that one character should be made out a cad. But he wasn't a cad. And some think she should have loved her husband more. But she didn't and had she there would have been nothing to write about and we would not have had all those pleasurable hours following the life of a very remarkable trio.

Mr. London's stories mostly are taken from real life. Was this one? Goodbye, Polly.

JUDGE STUART WRITES WORDS FOR SONG 'THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE'

National Marching Anthem
Published in New York
Promises Popularity

Circuit Judge Thomas B. Stuart has a new fad, and one that has just been discovered by his Honolulu friends. It is song-writing; that is Judge Stuart has taken to writing the words for songs, but he gets someone else to set them to music.

Judge Stuart's latest endeavor—at least his friends think it is his latest—is a national marching anthem entitled "The President's Message." On the first music page, and there are 14 altogether, is the prefix "Poem by Judge Thomas B. Stuart." It also says that Gertrude Warren Prentiss wrote the music on "a celebrated Beethoven Theme." The march is copyrighted by her, and she is mentioned as the publisher.

There is considerable sparkle to both poem and music, the former being as follows:

Words of New Song.
All men stand equal before God our Father,

On this truth He builds and gives life unto States.

The "talent" of Freedom, to us He has given.

And increase thereof He expectant awaits.

Wealth, armies and navies are not His kingdom,

His treasures are men, of every fold.

Brave cities are dying, torn nations are crying;

The mother and babe die of hunger and cold.

The fig tree that yielded no fruit for the Master,

Remember my country. Think ye that the tree

Or Liberty planted by Him may be fruitless,

Yet flourish, despite the Master's decree.

He calls "Yield thy fruits to my famishing children;"

While moan at our gates the poor and downtrodden

He's shaking thy tree for the fruit it must bear Him,

He's shaking for "increase," pay promptly thy God.

The old Bible stories ring down through the ages,

Oppressors shall die; the oppressed shall go free;

Crumbs must be given from o'er laden tables.

And Pharos pay heed to the depths of sin's sea.
Scourges Egyptian wrought Israel's redemption;
Mene Tekel Upharsin, wrote the hand of the Lord;
His balance shall weigh, His justice shall judge us;
All nations evolve through the life of His word.

Know ye! To pay Him, you must pay to His children.

Direct do to them as He did unto thee.
Good works are the fruits He demandeth as "increase."

"Take up thy cross daily, and follow thou Me."

Stand not idly waiting, His vineyard is open.

To thy hands He's given his justice and rod.

When 'gainst sore oppressions, His children are crying;

Their cry is the Master's; O, answer thy God.

CHANT.
For I was an hungered, and ye gave Me meat;

I was thirsty, and ye gave Me drink; I was a stranger, and ye took Me in;

Naked, and ye clothed Me; I was sick, and ye visited Me;

I was in prison, and ye came unto Me; Verily, I say unto you, inasmuch as ye have done it Unto one of the least of these My brethren,

Ye have done it unto Me.

The pathway of right is the plain road to Heaven;

For nations and men, 'tis the same, 'tis the same;

Fall not by the wayside; fail not in thy duty;

O'ercome all things wrong, as He overcame.

Blest, blest, be our country; through long living ages;

Press onward and upward with righteousness shod;

For the sum of the duty man owes unto man;

Is the sum of the duty man owes unto God.

Judge Stuart says that he is contemplating organizing a singing club to sing the "marching anthem," as well as other song poems which the circuit jurist may desire to write.

"I think that Clarence H. Olson and D. L. Withington will be willing to join," he adds. "I understand that they can sing very well. I'm something of a singer myself, too."

season's greatest productions.

Victor Moore, the comedy star of the Lasky studios, whose "Chimmie Fadden Out West," produced for the Paramount theaters has been the season's comedy success, says he would copy-right his zebra-striped sweater if he didn't have to send it to Washington, D. C., as exhibit A in the application. He cannot afford to let it out of his hands, as it is a classic of the loom, and it would be hard to duplicate it. Honoluluans will well remember it in his first "Chimmie Fadden" picture here, and he has three more in the series in which the sweater plays a leading part. Where the garment was bought is a profound secret to Victor, and his jealous pride has been stung by the knowledge that a new "Chimmie Fadden" sweater has been placed upon the market and is much sought after by the young athletic element. At any rate, Victor Moore has the original.

The greatest tribute ever paid to any star in the history of stage or screen was accorded Mary Pickford when, in recognition of the fact that she is the most popular motion picture player in the world, the McClure Newspaper Syndicate obtained the exclusive rights to publish a series of articles by her for which she receives $15,000. Still more startling is the fact that the publishers guarantee her a circulation of 35,000,000 per week, which gives her the widest publicity that has ever been afforded any theatrical or motion picture player, and should greatly increase the demand for the Paramount pictures, in which she plays.

"Little Mary" has a close rival, Marguerite Clark, who is rapidly rising, alarmingly close in popularity to Miss Pickford. The race is on, and all America is seemingly taking sides with the two stars. That all records for four days were broken at the Liberty this week during the presentation of Miss Clark's "Seven Sisters," is evidence of her growing popularity. Mary Pickford is to appear for four days, beginning tomorrow at the Liberty, the feature being "Rags." In this, it is claimed Little Mary has even outdone her masterpiece, "Tess of the Storm Country." This photo-play gives her a chance to not only display her art in rags, but carries her through to riches, where she reigns supreme. Again, Marguerite is 27 years of age, while Mary is but 23. Miss Clark has been on the stage for 15 years, while Miss Pickford did very little dramatic work until six years ago.

Pauline Frederick, star of "The Eternal City," and an excellent supporting cast, will appear in an emotionally powerful Famous Players drama, "Sold," next Thursday, on the Paramount program. Even for a Famous Players cast, and no company maintains a higher average, that selected by Hugh Ford for the photo-play interpretation of "Sold" is striking. In "The Eternal City," Pauline Frederick won immediate recognition as one of the most effective actresses thus far seen in pictures. She did not need the prestige of her stage reputation to make her a valuable asset to the screen. She is given a part demanding emotional sincerity, and there are few who can portray it with equal impressiveness. Miss Frederick photographs beautifully, and by carefully judged acting succeeds in con-

THEATRICAL OFFERINGS SPLENDID LIST OF STARS MAKE UP OPERA CAST

Twelve Singers of Note to Handle Premier Roles During De Folco Season Here

Twelve singers of note, only three of whom besides Eugenio de Folco himself have ever been heard in Honolulu before, will handle the principal roles during the Honolulu engagement of the De Folco Grand Opera Company, which opens with "Aida" at the Hawaiian Opera House one week from Monday, January 17.

Johanna Kristoff, the principal soprano, has never been heard in the islands, but her reputation has been growing steadily on the mainland during the last few years. She is an Austrian, especially fitted for such roles as Eliza and Elizabeth in "Lo-hengrin" and "Tannhauser."

Signora Emilia Vergeri was in Honolulu last spring with the Bevani Company, and the beauty of her voice is well remembered here.

The mezzo sopranos are the great Signora Emilia Galazzi, who has never been to Hawaii before, and Bernice Holmes, who was here with the Bevani organization.

The tenors, besides Signor de Folco, are Signor Luigi Poggi and Signor William Giuliani, each of whom will be a pleasurable surprise here.

The four baritones are headed by Signor Parla Galazzi, often called the "new Scotti," Michele Gioacchini, whose "Rigoletto" is well remembered here, is being brought along especially to sing that title role, and the other baritones are Signor Umberto Revere and Signor Marlin Marti.

Has Been at Metropolitan.

Signor Joachimo Wanrell, who has been heard at the Metropolitan in New York, where the famous Tetrazzini stood sponsor for him and sang with him both in opera and in concert, is the bass of the company. The two conductors are Maestro Luigi Schaeche, who has been with the De Folco organization for some time, and Chevalier Luigi Rocca, conductor for the Bevani Company here last April. Joachimo, as stage manager, will be in charge of the big scenic equipment and stage effects.

The entire company, which with singers of lesser note, the 20-piece orchestra, and the De Folco corps de ballet comprises 75 people, is now at sea in the liner Great Northern, and will arrive in Honolulu next Wednesday.

Rehearsals will begin at once to familiarize the company and ballet with the size of the stage and the acoustics of the Hawaiian Opera House before the opening of the four-weeks' season one week from next Monday.

The seat sale begins next Monday morning at the headquarters of the Hawaii Promotion Committee in the Alexander Young hotel building, where Madame de Folco will be in charge.

veying to an audience the moods of a character as they vary through a series of dramatic episodes. She draws the Helen, of George Erastov's story, as a woman of real depth of feeling and self-sacrificing character. The acting is kept consistently in the key of dignified drama; the story is carefully motivated as it works up to a climax, and a sure sense of the fitness of things is manifest in the settings. The photo-play, presented in five reels, leaves the impression of a subject carefully prepared in each detail.

Thrills galore are embodied in the 16th chapter of "The Diamond From the Sky," which is titled "The Path of Peril." The title is indeed aptly chosen, for in the story there are three courses being taken by the principals—courses which are perilous to an extreme, though differing widely in form. In Santa Barbara, John Powell, as Arthur Stanley, is now known, goes for a trial spin in his yacht. (Incidentally, it is the Spreckels yacht Venetia, which has been to Honolulu on numerous occasions.) The yacht collides with Vivian Marston's sailboat, and Arthur dives headlong into the foaming waters to rescue the struggling girl, whom he drags to safety at the risk of his own life. Miss Burton, who plays the role of the adventuress Vivian, gives graphic proof of her intense dramatic ability in the ensuing scenes. She has set her cap to ensnare Arthur, from whom she hopes to obtain the "Diamond from the sky." Arthur is completely won by the gleaming eyes of this bewitching maiden. Her conquest is apparently complete. Arthur is swiftly launched on his path of peril. The comedy element introduced by Orval Humphrey in the role of Marmaduke Smythe is a happy feature of this serial photo-play. In this chapter he reaches his highest point thus far in his laugh-making capabilities. Miss Pickford's ability is also emphasized. She cowers on the small mine motor under the protecting wing of Quabba, and falls into friendly hands at the mine entrance. The whole story is so carefully portrayed that the observer may continually see the progress of each of the opposing factions.

The law under which the action is brought provides a maximum penalty of $5000 fine.

LAST SHOWING OF STORY OF JOSEPH

The Popular theater will show tonight for the last time the educational and Biblical program which has been running during the last half of this week. In addition to "Joseph in Egypt," a three-reel production of the old Biblical story, "A Trip to Madeira" and beautiful views of Pisa, Italy, several new subjects, will be exhibited, and also horse raising in France, showing where those grand Percheron horses, which sell in this country for as high as $2000 are bred. Japanese artisans with crude implements, dexterously making wooden tubs, and other interesting industrial views will be shown. For children these pictures are particularly instructive. A special matinee was billed for this afternoon.

SEATTLE, Wash.—The manager of a large whaling station at Akutan, Alaska, who has just returned from his season's work, reports that his company took 207 whales, yielding 15,400 tons of fresh meat, excellent in flavor and highly nutritious. An effort is being made to place whale meat on the market as a table food, whalers insisting that this flesh is equal to any eaten by man, but not used ashore because of ignorance.

LAST SHOWING OF ARMY MINSTRELS

Just once more—that's tonight—will the soldier-minstrel association of entertainers appear at the Bijou theater, where for the past two nights they have dispensed merriment to fair-sized audiences, that of late, evening being considerably larger than on the opening night.

Seats are now on sale for the closing performance of this evening, and many reservations have been made already. There is every indication that a well-filled house will be on hand tonight to welcome this revival of a form of entertainment that was most prominent in the seventies and eighties and gave to the professional world many of the best actors of several decades ago.

Besides the minstrel show, in which 35 artists perform, there is an opening bill of motion pictures and a closing one of vaudeville. In the vaudeville section of the long program there are six big acts, all of which claim to be the best would be a hazardous task as all are good and all are worth seeing.

LIBERTY BILL IS MAKING RECORDS

"The Puppet Crown," Harold Mac Grath's novel, in picturized form and featuring Ina Claire and Carlyle Blackwell, will be shown at the Liberty theater tonight for the last time. Records, crowds have been the order at the Liberty during the entire past week, the new year opening up a business that bids fair to run well in excess of that of 1915.

That this record will continue through next week is almost an assured fact as Mary Pickford, in "Rags," said to be her banner effort, will be the offering for the first four days, commencing tomorrow evening. In this offering Miss Pickford is seen in a role that is similar to that of Tess in "Tess of the Storm Country," and heretofore considered her supreme screen effort. In "Rags" she is credited with excellent her own best previous effort and "Rags" is branded as "A Genuine Pickford Classic."

"The Romance of Elaine," rapidly nearing a close, will also be on the bill at the Liberty tomorrow evening.

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—The state fish and game commission has planted 46,784,850 fish during 1915, according to a statement just issued; of these more than 15,000,000 were varieties of trout

Yes, "Little Mary" is here again. She will appear tomorrow evening in "Rags," on the Paramount program.

Theodore Roberts, one of the most valuable members of the Lasky company, will be starred in "Mr. Grex of Monte Carlo."

Aloha, Pearl White! Tomorrow concludes the greatest Elaine series, which has been running for 35 weeks in Honolulu. Elaine finds her detective lover, Craig Kennedy, and all ends happily.

Lillian Lorraine and Wm. Courtleigh will succeed the Elaine pictures, in "Neal of the Navy," a picture which should appeal to all Honoluluans. Many of the scenes in this 12-chapter serial have been taken aboard the U. S. S. Maryland, by special permission of the Mare Island Naval Station. The first chapter opens with a shipwreck, and will be presented at the Liberty, beginning January 9.

But Sessue is playing parts of remarkable character strength. He merits much praise for his work opposite Blanche Sweet in "The Clue," in which his loyalty to Japan makes him a credit to his race. He is to appear soon with Fanny Ward in "The Cheat," a modern play, dramatic in the extreme and wholly sensational. In this the stable character of Sessue Hayakawa surpasses all former efforts in the difficult role. This drama is booked to Honolulu on the Paramount program as one of the

KAUAI PHYSICIAN WRITES DR. JUDD TO LEARN FACTS AS TO 'ATROCITY'

Dr. Hofmann Refers to Shelling of French Hospital as Told in Star-Bulletin

Kealia, January 3, 1916.
Editor of Honolulu Star-Bulletin, Honolulu.

Dear Sir:
Your paper of September 30, 1915, contained a letter written by Dr. James R. Judd, in which a passage headed by you "Shelling a Hospital," ran thus: "A few days ago a French army surgeon told us that his field hospital was bombed by airships in spite of the fact that he moved it frequently from house to house. One day he gave out that it was to be moved to a certain house but did not move it and sure enough that house was bombed. The German spy system seems to be very thorough and efficient and that is one reason that none can get to the trenches where the fighting is going on."

Writes to Dr. Judd.
I addressed, on account of this paragraph to Dr. James R. Judd the following letter:

Kealia, October 2, 1915.
Dr. James R. Judd, Ambulance Americaine, Jully, France.

Dear Doctor:
Enclosed copy of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin of September 30 contains a letter written by you in which a very strong charge against the methods of warfare of the German army is mentioned. That a hospital has been bombed even from aeroplanes by mistake would seem not impossible. But to follow up by aerial attack a hospital marked by Red Cross signs and not containing any means for offensive or defensive warfare would be a crime that not only every German would condemn but most of all, I am absolutely sure, all authorities of the German army. The spy story connected with it is unimportant as to the character of the accusation and sounds too much like the old stories of 1870 to be taken seriously.

The accusation itself would be quite irrelevant for me as raised by a French army surgeon, but your name connected with it as authority gives it great importance for the Hawaiian islands. You see by the editorial introduction that a superficial reader has to accept it as your own experience.

I realize that your letter was probably not intended for publication, that you give in it your source of information and that you mention the tale only without any own comment as illustration, why French army authorities do not allow foreigners to go to the front.

But though such accusations have been proved again and again to be without any foundation as soon as followed up closely (you may remember the "Round Robin" published by five American war correspondents, James O'Donnell Bennett, John T. McCutcheon, Irvin S. Cobb, Harry Hansen and Roger Lewis about alleged "German cruelties in Belgium") your name in connection with this story will be accepted here as proof of its truth.

I write to ask you kindly to let me know for truth's sake, which hospital has had this experience, at what place and at what time, if possible the name of your authority, the French army surgeon. After the long time elapsed since the alleged occurrence there can not be a betrayal of military secrets in giving this information; on the contrary it must be in the interest of the French cause to publish the details of such facts. I will then certainly employ all means to get from official sources the German version about the same affair and promise you to let you know it as soon as possible. But I will reserve the right to use it here for publication in the same way as your letter was published.

I was very glad to read in your letter about the peacefulness and the good preservation of the country you describe, because a good part of it has been under German occupation last year and this alone discredits so many of the "Hun" tales so widely propagated by the English.

Hoping that you will find time to give me the desired details of the alleged attacks on this French hospital, I remain,

Yours truly,
DR. K. HOFMANN.

Dr. Judd's Reply.
I received by last mail from Dr. Judd the following answer:

Jully, November 25, 1915.
Dr. K. Hofmann,
Kealia, Kauai,
Hawaii, U. S.

Dear Dr. Hofmann:
In reply to your letter of October 20, I would say that I had no intention of offending my German acquaintances or of entering into any controversy as to whether the Germans had bombed hospitals or not. I simply related an instance which would serve as an illustration of how efficient Germany's knowledge was of what the enemy was doing. There was no mention of the building having been marked by a Red Cross or having contained a single patient. If anyone draws such a deduction from the editorial, the editor of the newspaper is to blame and not myself. I cannot give you any further information as to the incident as I know nothing more about it and have no means of ascertaining anything further. As you write, "the letter was not intended for publication." That is true; it was simply a means devised by my brother to answer the many questions from my friends and acquaintances as to what I was doing.

My position over here as a non-combatant alien exists purely for humanitarian motives and I cannot enter into any controversy with you as to whether atrocities have been committed or not. If nothing has been proved as yet, time and history will decide it and some day the whole world will know the truth.

Trusting that this letter will find you in good health, I remain,

Yours very truly,
JAMES R. JUDD.

Nothing Tangible Learned.

I am very thankful to Dr. Judd for his courteous letter and the statement of his "neutral" standpoint even in midst of his French surroundings.

As to facts, nothing tangible is to be learned to substantiate the charge. I do not see what is left of the character of the field hospital, if it should not have been marked externally as such and had not contained patients and wonder why the Germans should pay a certainly rather expensive spy system and risk their aviators and aeroplanes and spend their bombs to damage medical supplies.

Thanking you if you will give room in your paper to this attempted verification of facts, I remain,

Yours truly,
DR. K. HOFMANN.

[The letters reprinted above, through the interest and anxiety for accuracy of Dr. Hofmann, are of unusual import. The Star-Bulletin would emphasize the fact that there is nothing to justify the inference that this paper commented upon the incidents narrated by Dr. Judd, and to this extent the references to such comment are baseless. All that the Star-Bulletin did was to print the letter as it reached this paper, with an introduction which mentioned what Dr. Judd had said about the shelling of a French hospital.]

NAVY OFFICIALS WANT GOOD TEST OF SUBMARINES

Neither the K nor the L types of submarines have been accepted by the Navy Department. The K boats have done some splendid work on preliminary trials, but the builders are not ready to submit them to the final test. The L boats have not taken a preliminary test, and will not until the contractors have made some changes in them. The secretary of the navy is exercising the greatest care in inspecting submarines, insisting that all should come up to the letter of the government's specifications. He believes that as the submarine is still in the experimental stage the government should be protected against any defects that develop in the boat. It is understood that the chief trouble is with the defective storage batteries. Despite all the claims of the manufacturers the battery problem has not been solved. In some quarters it is believed that a dependable submarine will never be obtained until a single unit of power is developed.

The Navy Department is making some experiments in this direction, and one of the old submarines will be equipped with what is known as the Neff system of propulsion if authority can be obtained this session from Congress for the expenditure of sufficient funds to install the new system of power.—Army and Navy Journal.

BASKET GAME TO BE MAJOR SPORT IN ALL SCHOOLS

Punahou and Kamehameha Will Join in Floor Game This Year

The winter term of 1916 promises to be full of athletics at Punahou and in fact at all the other schools. Basketball is to be taken up first and at the same time the cross-country squad will have to begin training. It is hoped that among the minor sports swimming may be competed in this year. It is one of the sports that is most native to Hawaii and should be included in all athletic calendars.

Basketball is to be regarded as a major sport this year. This is largely due to the fact that a school to be a member of the Intercollegiate League must compete in at least three major sports. It has been against the policy of St. Louis to play football; soccer has been dropped, hence for St. Louis there will be just three possible major sports in which she can compete: Basketball, track and baseball.

Indications are at present that the basketball will be fast this season despite the fact that this is its first year as a major sport. Last year McKinley, St. Louis and the College of Hawaii played a series of games, exhibiting fast, high-scoring and closely-contested matches.

Punahou and Kamehameha did not engage in interscholastic basketball last year, but each school played a series of interclass games and each school has a number of experienced men and is preparing good standard courts and making definite plans to carry off the interscholastic championship.

A large portion of the most experienced players of the various schools have been playing on one of the Y. M. C. A. clubs. These men will be in excellent condition and their enthusiasm will do much towards arousing school spirit in this sport.

FULTON BELIEVES WILLARD WILL BE EASY TO DEFEAT

Rochester Heavyweight States That He Cannot Lose to Present Champion

CHICAGO, Ill.—"Willard won't last 40 minutes with me. As soon as I get the right one over there will be a new world's heavyweight champion and his name will be Fred Fulton."

An extra large party bearing the name mentioned above breezed into Chicago and spent most of the day describing the various things he will do to the aforementioned Jess Willard when the two climb into a New Orleans ring on March 4 to battle for the pugilistic crown of crowns.

"Willard's size will be his only advantage over me," Fulton continued. "In everything else that goes to make a champion I have him beaten. I can hit harder, I can stop about faster, and I know every bit as much about the fight game as he does. I am not going into this fight with the idea that I have just a chance at big stakes. I am going in to win and to win in a hurry."

"I have boxed with Willard and I know what he has. He can't improve any at his age, but I am getting better every time I step into a ring. By the time the fight comes around I'll be a whole lot better fighter than I was when I put Andrew Anderson away. Any one who saw that performance knows I wasn't exactly bad that night, either."

Will Star in Vaudeville.

Fulton came down from Rochester, Minn., his home town. If he fails to make good his boast that he will win the world's title Rochester probably will lose its favorite son, for Fred has told everybody in the old town he will bring back the bacon. Fulton expects to stop here for the rest of the week, then start a vaudeville tour south as a preliminary to his training, which he does not expect to enter upon seriously for a month or more.

"They gave me a great sendoff down home," Fulton related, a big smile lighting his face. "Every one was down to see me off, shake hands, and wish me luck. They made me feel so good I told everybody I wouldn't come back without the title. That will have to go now. I like Rochester, but I don't think I ever could go back if I am kicked. So I just can't lose, that's all."

QUINN'S FRIENDS BOOST VERSATILE ATHLETE AT POST

Last evening a gentleman came into the office and stated that he was not pleased at the articles written regarding J. J. Quinn, both at the New Year's bouts and at the Kapiolani park meet. The writer is always pleased to talk with any lover of sport on any question and will always be ready to answer any statement made.

The first point that came up during the conversation was that the friend of Quinn stated that the Star-Bulletin had declared the bout on New Year's Day a fake. This was quickly disproved by showing the gentleman the article which stated that bouts between members of the same company are not always a success. Because Quinn outclasses Janowski does not make it a fake. The article states that Quinn won easily, which he did. Chaplain Pealy is working for the good of the game and he hasn't a reputation for staging fakes.

Quinn Outclasses Opponent.

A man might be outclassed by another, and credit must be given Janowski for stepping into the ring at the last moment and putting up the fight that he did. Quinn clearly showed that he was the winner and it is to be hoped that the next bout that is staged will show some one capable of giving Quinn a real battle.

Regarding the Kapiolani meet the friend of Quinn said that the article stated that the time made in the mile was below the standard of a high school meet. It was. The mile was run in 5:20, which is slow time for a high school meet. When a high school boy steps off a mile in 4:30 it is considered fast, but a majority of the high school runs are covered under 5 minutes. Three years ago a Portland high school had three milers on their team who could do 4:23. The writer has witnessed many meets throughout the country and in all the time has always been better than 5 minutes for the mile run.

A Strong Runner.

Quinn has plenty of strength and should do better than 5 minutes with a good track on a good day. If he can do 4:30 he will surely be a welcome addition to Hawaii, but from the showing made at the meet last Sunday anyone who knows anything about track work could say that it was not well handled or a success in any way. The writer is always pleased to meet anyone who has questions to ask on any sport subject, and is glad to have this opportunity to answer Mr. Quinn's friend and others who are interested in the work of the Schofield athlete.

In addition it might be well to say that Quinn has heaps of ability stored up, and the fact that he is both clever in the ring and on the cinder path shows the versatility of the Schofield man. There are very few professional milers in Hawaii, and there does not appear to be anyone who can take his measure. The A. A. U. would not sanction a meeting between Quinn and an amateur, so it is doubtful whether a mile race meeting could be arranged here.

CORBETT'S FIGHTER WALLOPS JIM FLYNN

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—Tom Cowler was returned an easy winner over Jim "Porky" Flynn at the American Sporting Club last night. The bout went the prescribed limit of 10 rounds, and Cowler had the advantage in every session.

Willard's weight advantage will not be worth considering. I have been gaining weight steadily and I don't expect to lose much of what I am carrying now.

"Manager Mike Collins is looking after my training arrangements. He will do everything but pick my sparring partners. I expect to hook up about three fighters to get me into condition and I will have one big wrestler to work with besides. You know Willard does a lot of wrestling in the ring and I want to be up on all the tricks of that game when I tackle him."

"There isn't much else to say, except what I said when I started. I'm going to beat this fellow Willard and I'm going to beat him in pretty short order."

He Beat Jim Coffey In Nine Rounds

TRAVELERS WANT GAME WITH FAST OLYMPIC SQUAD

The Chinese Travelers desire a game during the Olympic series. By next week they will have the line-up of the team which will make the trip to the mainland. It is certain that they will have a strong squad and will be in a position to give the Winged-O players a good game. Baseball players and fans are waiting for the announcement of the final schedule with interest as the game would be a good one.

The Chinese Travelers have advertised Honolulu more than any other aggregation of athletes that has represented Hawaii. On the mainland they know our athletes by the performances of Duke Kahanamoku and the Travelers. Each year the ball tossers from Hawaii play hundreds of games in every section of the country, and hundreds of thousands of people have watched them play.

From California to Massachusetts and from Michigan to Texas the players are known, and inasmuch as the people who watch them play are watching them for hours, some kind of an impression is bound to be left on the minds of the players. In addition to the games scheduled the players carry literature with them which goes into the right hands.

From the standpoint of boosting Hawaii, the Travelers deserve a game with the Olympics, providing they will have no better team than the other clubs which are clamoring for games. When the question of their ability is raised, their performances locally and on the mainland would surely give them a chance at the Olympic team. Foster Robinson will be in the box for the Travelers, and the tourists should put up a game that would be entirely satisfactory to the fans.

HARVARD MEN ON BLACKLIST FOR SCALPING PASTEBORDS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—The Harvard athletic council announced that 54 graduates and undergraduates had been blacklisted because tickets allotted to them for the Harvard-Yale football game this fall had been found in the hands of speculators. In the future no application for tickets by these men will be honored. Undergraduate and dental school students were the chief offenders, although one officer of the university was found guilty.

CANADIAN LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPION ENLISTS

VANCOUVER, B. C.—Johnny O'Leary, lightweight champion of Canada, has enlisted for active service with the 65th Overseas battalion, according to word received here from Saskatoon, Sask. A. W. Madden, formerly a jockey well known on American tracks, also has enlisted. Each has been made a sergeant.

Umpire Rigler, who is recovering from an attack of typhoid fever, lost 35 pounds, which the players are mean enough to say will reduce his chest expansion considerably.

The banks have advised Ban Johnson that they won't stand for his friend, Charley Somers, running the Cleveland club another season and they pass it up to Ban to find a buyer. Johnson will have little difficulty finding a buyer. Sinclair, the sept who is so careless with his rubles, is already mentioned as a possible buyer.

Felder Jones, before leaving for St. Louis to take over the command of the Browns, told McCredie that he would give him first chance to sign Art Kores, who finished the season with the Feds.

There was a lot of fun had at the expense of Col. Hedges, who sold the Browns for about a half million last week. Being always out of the race he was the butt of the joke-smiths. Still, he did this much good for baseball—he was the first to banish bars from the grounds, and he did a lot to make baseball attractive for women. And as he entered baseball with $30,000 and left it with almost $500,000 he must have had some business ability.

Some of the Los Angeles rooters are kind enough to boost Doc White for the management of the Angels.

Umpire Guthrie is not worrying about baseball peace or the high cost of porthouse or anything like that. During the winter months he is steam-fitting back in Chicago, and writes that his worst week has netted him $55, and he has gone as high as $105. After the leagues get through slicing salaries it would pay a lot of players to learn this trade.

The ghost of the old California League may get up and walk again next season. It has been a death struggle with this organization to run as far as July 4. Properly managed and financed, it might be made a go. The fans have not taken kindly to the State League since the days of outlaw baseball, and then the salaries were out of proportion to the box office receipts. If the California League could operate as an outlaw League at reasonable salaries it might go, but it is doubtful if it will go simply as a farming ground for the Coast League. The fans resent warmed-over baseball.

Now they say that when Robert Ward died the Federal League lost its main spring. Had he lived the baseball players might now be in an exultant frame of mind.

McCredie is trying to trade Derrick to Birmingham for Meusel, who hit the ball hard in the New York state league. Meusel lives in Southern California.

With baseball peace assured at-

MORAN DEFEATS JIM COFFEY IN NEW YORK BOUT

Pittsburger Knocks Out "Dubline Giant" in Ninth Round; Willard Comes Next

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless]

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Frank Moran, the Pittsburger heavyweight, erased all doubts of his ability to meet Jess Willard last evening when he knocked out Jim Coffey, the "Dublin Giant," in the ninth round of a 10-round contest. Followers of Coffey, of whom there were many, were surprised at the showing made by Moran, and at the conclusion of the bout stated that the boxer from the Smoky City was the one logical opponent to meet Big Jess.

Moran excelled in his footwork, and time and again the Dublin man tried to land a hay-maker, but Moran was away in a flash. It was an exciting bout from start to finish as Coffey was playing a rush game throughout the early rounds. In the third round Coffey made two vicious swings, but Moran deftly blocked them and after that kept away from the wild swings of the Dublin artist.

Coffey showed distress at the beginning of the ninth, and when the gong sounded Moran tried to mix it, and after clinching and feinting, he finally landed a hard blow in Coffey's mid-section, and followed this with a swing to the jaw, which sent the Dublin man down for the count.

Moran's victory last night practically means a bout with Willard, as Tommy Burns, who has taken the reins since Tortorch resigned from the Fulton bout, has been anxious to stage a battle between Moran and Willard. For a time it was believed by many of the fight fans that Moran was not up to the standard of a challenger, but since his recent defeats of Coffey the fans are in favor of a match.

Moran Wins Three.

Moran has a good record during his career in the ring, although he has fought but few bouts. In Paris he held Johnson safe for 20 rounds and last year defeated Bombardier Wells and George Sims in London via knockout route, and sent Jim Coffey to slumberland in three rounds on October 19 in New York. Moran usually weighs in the neighborhood of 200 pounds in fighting condition.

Coffey fought more bouts during 1915, and has a good record for the year. He has won by knockouts over Jack "Twin" Sullivan, Arthur Pelkey, Al Reich, Jim Flynn, Jack Reed and Gunboat Smith. He outpointed Carl Morris in ten rounds in New York. Coffey tops the 200-pound mark.

tion of sport followers is now given to the football situation at Yale. Many men have been mentioned for the coaching berth, but nothing definite is expected until March. As the time for the decision draws nearer the reports that Ted Jones, Exeter coach, will be chosen to handle the Blue, gains credence.

In selecting Colgate as a substitute for Carlisle in this Thanksgiving Day football game, Brown University officials have made a popular move. Colgate now holds a lofty position in the intercollegiate football world and the New Yorkers will be a decided attraction.

How time changes things. Charlie Weighman, who only a few years ago was a waiter, is to purchase the Chicago Cubs. However, this fact won't cause sport fans to seek restaurant jobs.

"Silent" Tom Jones, manager of Jess Willard, has been working overtime creating enthusiasm for the Willard-Fulton bout. He so forgot himself recently that he waxed enthusiastically over Fulton as a fighter and predicted a $50,000 gate at New Orleans. Jones was so excited he even forgot to predict Jess would win by the K. O. route.

The New England magnates, at least a few of them, are sore on Tim Murnane. He blocked the merger, they say. Too bad Tim didn't let them put it through and thus enable them to turn around and endeavor to oust him from his job as president. Murnane has stood by the league for years, its standing by it yet and a crowd of newcomers get sore because he will not listen to their every dictate.

On the face of it, it looks like Tim Jones believes he has picked out an easy opponent for the champion, since Fulton has had a very limited ring experience. Still, the newcomer has been forging to the front rapidly, is big and strong and he may spring a surprise. Champs have been caught napping before when they counted on easy game, and Willard's victory over Johnson was a glowing illustration of this. Had the negro figured Willard such a tough customer he'd never have consented to the match. Wouldn't it be a genuine surprise if Willard's judgment was at fault in the same way?

Six Drivers Lay Claim To Title of Speed King

Resta, De-Palma, Cooper, Rickenbacher, Anderson and O'Donnell Lead Field of Speed Burners Last Year—Ralph De Palma Wins Indianapolis Event—Resta Has Title if Coast Races are Taken Into Consideration

The frenzied efforts of Villa and Carranza to acquire the presidency of revolution-ridden Mexico are a small affair compared to the attempts of several motorists to prove they have an undisputed claim to the title of American speedway champion of 1915, a season featured by 14 races on nine tracks.

There are at least six drivers who are deserving of serious consideration before a monarch is chosen and the date for the coronation ceremonies set. The eligibles are Eddie Rickenbacher, Ralph Resta, Gil Anderson, Earl Cooper, Ralph de Palma and Eddie O'Donnell, each of whom can boast of achievements that would have put them in the king row in any other season than the badly tangled one just past.

Records of Leading Claimants.

The records of these leading claimants for the speedway title are as follows:

Rickenbacher.—First in the 300 mile races at Sioux City and Omaha, first in the 100 mile event at Providence and third in the Chicago 500 mile motor derby and the 100 mile invitation race at New York. He was an "also ran" in the Indianapolis 500 mile classic and the 350 mile contest at New York.

Resta.—First in the Chicago 500 mile event, second in the 500 mile race at Indianapolis and winner of the 100 mile invitation contests at Chicago and New York. His efforts were wasted at Sioux City, the Twin Cities and New York.

Anderson.—Finished inside the prize money in every race in which he completed, taking first in the 350 mile event at New York, second in the 500 mile contest at the Twin Cities, third in the Indianapolis classic and sixth in the Chicago five century derby.

Cooper.—Placed in five races out of six starts, his only elimination being in the 350 mile event at New York. He was first at the Twin Cities, second in two of the Tahoma classics and the 100 mile invitation race at Chicago and fourth in the 500 mile contests at Indianapolis and Chicago.

De Palma.—Won the annual Indianapolis race, most famous of all speedway contests; took second in the Des Moines 300 mile event and finished fourth in the century feature at Providence.

O'Donnell.—Failed to win a single race, but annexed prize money in six out of eight starts, finishing second at Sioux City and Omaha, third at Des Moines, Twin Cities and New York and fifth at Indianapolis.

Two Races Present Problem.

One of the vexing questions regarding the selection of a champion is whether or not the two 100 mile events staged at Chicago and New York should be taken into consideration in making the award. They were invitation, not open, races, and two of the six leading drivers—Anderson and O'Donnell—did not participate in either. In fact, Resta was the only member of the sextet to compete in both contests, Cooper appearing only at Chicago and Rickenbacher only at De Palma at New York. The majority of the critics are of the opinion that these two races should not figure in selecting the speedway king on the ground that they were too exclusive.

If the two invitation events are not considered Rickenbacher can boast of more victories than any other driver laying claim to the title. He has three to his credit, while Resta, Anderson, Cooper and De Palma have only one each. There are critics, however, who dispute the Maxwell driver's claim to the title because he failed to win any one of the four so-called major events—the 500 mile races at Indianapolis, Chicago and the Twin Cities and the 350 mile chase for the Astor cup at New York—for each of which $50,000 or more in purses was hung up.

Some Solutions Suggested.

The suggestion has been made that the speedways be put in two divisions—the larger tracks at Indianapolis, New York and the Twin Cities being given major classification and the one mile ovals at Omaha, Des Moines and Providence, the banked dirt track at Sioux City and the reconstructed road racing course at Tacoma minor ranking—and a champion selected for each division. Under these conditions and with the two 100 mile races eliminated there is a tie for the championship between Resta and Anderson, each of whom has a first and a second. Rickenbacher, however, is supreme in the minor division.

Let's see—McGraw, Moran, Callahan, Bresnahan, Robinson, Jennings, Kelly, Griffith, Mack, Carrigan, Donovan—that's a pretty fair list of Swedish gentlemen managing baseball clubs in the major leagues, all of which shows you can't keep the Irish down.

What healthy Nerves Mean to You

A strong, vigorous nervous system means health, strength and ability to endure hardship and also to enjoy the full pleasures of life.

The man with healthy nerves accomplishes greater tasks with less fatigue. He has a clear eye, an active brain and a sound body. He is enabled to think better and work faster. He has energy. With healthy nerves he can overcome the hardest competition, be successful and gain wealth.

The woman with healthy nerves is never listless, weak or hopeless; she is not irritable, she never suffers from hysteria, she has a reserved surplus of endurance. Healthy nerves will prevent the sleepless mother, although worn with care and nursing, from a "break down" caused by her double or treble duty.

All men and women who suffer from these forms of nervousness—known as Neurasthenia—who have "gone to pieces," who lack energy, who have insomnia, who have succumbed to nervous prostration or nervous exhaustion, either mental or physical, whose condition is one of irritable weakness, will find ready relief and cure in the peculiar properties of

"Do you suppose," irrelevantly asked the Rookie one night after supper, "there are any spies here like there are in Europe?"

"I dunno for sure," Pvt. Kelley said studiously, "but I wouldn't think so."

"Why not?" The Rookie wanted to know.

"I would be ignorant if a spy came over here," Kelley answered. "Any spy would know as he read the papers that there was no chance of getting information here. Secretly Garrison has ordered all army officers not to talk to any man at any time about military affairs, which naturally is a terrible blow to the independent order of spies. Not being informed like the secretly, 'tis a new departure for me, it being me impressing before that spies are newspapers got their information by poking around in other people's business, but 'tis evident I was wrong. Unless they get it from army officers, they get it from the other would be of no use at all, at all."

"Two would be Little They'd Get."

"At they come now 't would be little information they'd get. After finding out he chance we had an army over here, the spy would as course come over an go to the army officers to get information and naturally he'd have a hard time finding out the location of the army's forts as ours at they turned him down—unless he had carfare to go out to the forts."

"First he goes to the officers. 'General,' he says, 'I'm no book agent or insurance solicitor an' will take little as yer time. 'Tis a spy I am and beggin' yer pardon I'd like to find out how much army ye have here where 'tis, an' any little fact about yer guns ye've time to talk over wit' me.'"

"I'm sorry," says the girl, "but 'tis not like the old days anymore, there bein' an order out now agin' givin' out military secrets. Confound it, I'm willin' to go so far as to admit I am a soldier an' we have a army—though I don't know where it is as it gets scattered about a bit at times—an' if I did know, 't would not be for me to tell in the face of orders. As course," he says, "the secretly had not issued the order, 't would be a gran pleasure for me to point out our defenses and show ye the min'—as there was anny," he says, "an' as 't could be managed to give ye a tea in the honor in wan av our gigantic forts," he says, "provided anny av them would hold ye and ye friends, but as ut is 'tis nothin' I can tell ye."

Ask Bartender or Newbie.

"Misther Garrison is goin' to make it hard for spies, undoubtedly, puttin' them be such orders in a position where they can only find out where the forts is an' how minny min we have be buyin' a drink for a bartender or astin' a newbie."

"Tis necessary now t' be quiet. Wanct I knew an officer that almost got hisself court martialled be tellin' some visitors the name av the girl in command and what time the min ate dinner. Since Secretly Garrison made the order I'm tellin' ye av, two claims together will disgus' a army officer be their garrulousness, av he happens to run across them on the beach. All av the conversashun ye'll hear from the officers of wan regiment about the army in a mont' would go on a photograph record an' have room for a complete speech be Misther Brine on the good pints av President Wilson, an' av ye ast an army officer whether he thought 't would be a clear, ca'm day, he'd be afraid to answer for fear av layin' hisself liable for court martial for givin' out information in the garr'd t' the havighashun av aeroplane. He wouldn't even repeat 'The Midnight Ride av Paul Revere' at a banquet whin Misther Garrison was present on account av maybe gettin' imprisoned for givin' out public information regardin' the topography av the country an' exposin' secrets relating to the courier service."

Keep 'Em Off Soapboxes.

"Wanct since the secretly was for'ced to find out the order av silence t' kape officers from draggin' soapboxes out on the strate corners and describin' the forts an' guns an' hantin' the bes' way t' silence them or talkin' freely to anny man that wanted information. I heard a army officer make a speech t' a society for the preservation av peace, or maybe the advancement av war, I fergit which."

"Gentlemen," he says, "I am here not as a army officer, but as a citizen seekin' the safety av his country." he says, "an' wearin' a muffler. Ownin' to t' order emanatin' from a source av which," he says, "I cannot express me candid opinion, 'tis little I can say about anything else. 'Tis not for me to spake av our grate defenses," he says, "or describe their location, but as ye'll look out av the window," he says, "ye'll see wan fort," he says, "over there bein' that tree. Nether is it for me to speak av our grate engines av war," he says, "mounted here for the defense av this fair lan', but av ye'll listen at sunrise," he says, "ye can hear it shoot."

Told What Bugles Meant.

"Tis hard for me to tell how Misther Garrison's order came about, but me opinion is some army officer in a spell av conversashun forgot hisself an' tol' some visitors who come t' looks over the post how many miles was in the corral an' what the bugles meant whin it blew early in the mornin', an' the secretly made the rule t' save the country from the awful effects av exposin' such important secrets."

"Tis a rule av warfare nowadays, in times av peace, that the enemy must not know anny av yer secrets. As course he may have an idea ye know how to dig trenches an' provides ye men wit' rifles, an' ammunition, but be ginral rules av the army I suppose 'tis the game t' thry t' make ivry other army think ye haven't considered the advisability av trenches or guns and are not thinkin' av usin' powder av ye go to war."

Secretly Garrison has put an ind to givin' out information.

"No more information," he says, "is goin' to be made public be officers av the army, and orders is t' be issued at once t' them not to speak annywhere at anny time or about annythin'. If the representatives av foreign nations are in our midst," he says, "let them gather their information be readin' the newspapers," he says, "or spendin' carfare to go out and see the forts an' fortifications av this country, av there are anny. Good in Political Way."

"In the meantime," he says t' his secretly, "please call in them reporters outside in the front room smokin' cigarettes an' waitin' for an interview, it bein' me purpose," he says, "to give out a statement advocatin' the establishment av an army av 250,000 min. 'Twill do me good," he says, "in a political way," he says, "though undoubtedly 'twill do nothin' else after the colleashun av representative citizens that composes Congress meets," he says, "an' begins the annual consideration av ways an' means av gettin' re-elected."

"Are there any orders for privates not to talk?" the Rookie asked.

"Ye could no more stop a private from talkin'," Kelley said, "than ye could induce me old father in the land t' move into a prohibition town or cease t' consider it a pleasure t' fight wit' a neighbor occasional Saturday evening whin he has drunk civil cans av beer from Danny Mahone's place. Talkin' be an officer is indiscreet, but whin a private talks 'tis just conversashun because he hasn't enough dignity t' git an audience an' have his remarks transmitted t' the secretly av war."

ENLISTED MEN AT SHAFTER TO GIVE BIG DANCE

Enlisted men at Fort Shafter and of the Coast Artillery Corps and the Department Hospital will give a dance at the armory the night of Wednesday, January 19, which is going to be one of the biggest social events the enlisted men have ever given here. Admission to the dance is to be 50 cents, and a lunch will be served without extra charge. All proceeds of the dance will be given to the army relief fund.

Decorations put in the armory for the governor's dance New Year's night have been allowed to remain in place and the pretty pavilion in the center will be used for a band stand. One of the army bands will be engaged for the evening.

Social and Military Center of Maui During Holidays

CARTER LIBRARY AT SCHOFIELD IS POPULAR PLACE

Average Circulation of Books
Per Month is 6000; Writing
Room Always in Use

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Jan. 7.—That the general library at Schofield Barracks, a product of the initiative and energy of Maj.-gen. W. H. Carter, is the finest thing that has ever been offered to the enlisted men of the big garrison, is amply manifested by the records that have been kept since it was opened two months ago.

These records were accurately kept under the direction of Chaplain William A. Aiken, librarian, for the purpose of determining just how popular this library would prove.

During the two months' operation the average number of daily visitors has been 406; average daily circulation of books 220, represented among the different regiments as follows: First Infantry 98, 25th Infantry 46, 48th Cavalry 34, 1st Field Artillery 13, Staff Corps 16, civilians 8. The average circulation per month has been 6600, and the largest number of books taken out in any one day, 292.

There is an urgent need of more volumes, and the librarian would be grateful for any contributions. There are at present only 9017 volumes on the shelves, classified in round numbers as follows: Fiction 6500, history and biography 800, travel and discovery 200, science 150, religion and sociology 300, general literature 550, bound magazines, encyclopedias, etc., 200, military books 75.

Among other equipment the library is supplied with several writing desks where all necessary writing material is kept on hand. These desks are nearly always occupied and the records for the last two months show that nearly 250 letters were written at the library each week.

The new equipment added since the library was opened includes a very fine victrola with 50 records, a large map showing the theater of war in Europe, new magazine racks, and a framed photograph of the brigade.

There are a few specimens of rock crystal from island quarries and some specimens of coral. The librarian would be glad to receive more of such articles or island curios.

Gymnasium Needed.

If the war department or the Y. M. C. A., or the city of Honolulu will build at Schofield a large and well equipped gymnasium, the pleasure which our soldiers get out of life at our largest army post would be more than doubled.

There is at present no place to play basketball, handball and indoor baseball. Sports are confined to the few that can be played outdoors. A big gymnasium, centrally located, would be a place where the gymnasts and athletes of all the regiments could assemble, and where the young men anxious for development in this line could receive instruction and encouragement.

All of our other big posts have gymnasiums—Fort William McKinley, Fort Leavenworth and Fort Riley.

NEW ARMY SHOE MAY HAVE TOP
OF CANVAS TO SERVE AS LEGGING

While the military authorities who have to do with the wearing apparel of the army are not inclined to reopen the question of footgear, they have lately been interested in a new type of shoe. This embodies a covering for the foot of the regulation pattern with an upper extension of canvas, which has the effect of converting the shoe into a canvas-top boot.

This is, in other words, a combination shoe and legging, the latter part so arranged that it may be easily adjusted. There are obvious advantages of an arrangement of this sort in that it avoids the separation of two articles so commonly used at the same time in the service. Any change of this sort, of course, would mean an extra expense, and the benefits derived from a new form of foot covering would have to be considerable to justify that cost. Constantly the experts are discovering slight modifications of the adopted shoes, and these will be made in new lots as opportunity is afforded for a change in the specifications.

OFFICERS DON'T LIKE 'GAG' RULE
OF SECRETARY

Army and navy journals and newspapers not specifically devoted to military interests are alike joining in protest against what is referred to as "Secretary Garrison's Gag Rule" for army officers. The chief objection is that officers are so strictly forbidden to discuss military affairs or the military situation or to talk of affairs of the army by Secretary Garrison's order of February 23, 1915, that the interests of the army are not conserved but affected deleteriously by the rule. The order to which objection is made prohibits "any army officer from giving out for publication any interview, statement, discussion or article on the military situation in the United States or abroad."

Critics declare the rule is so broad officers do not know how far they can go in talking of the business of being a soldier or in carrying forward discussion dealing with their work and meant to be of general advantage. One letter published in New York regarding the order, written of course by a civilian, says that in Germany, Russia, and France much freer discussion is allowed than in the United States.

SIX OFFICERS, ON RETIRED LIST, ARE MADE MAJOR-GENERAL

The president has ordered the promotion of six retired brigadier generals to be major-generals under the act of March 4 last. Although they will have the rank of major-generals they will receive only the pay of brigadier-generals. The officers are Brig.-gen. Thomas M. Anderson, retired January 21, 1900; Brig.-gen. Frank D. Baldwin, retired June 26, 1906; Brig.-gen. William M. Graham, retired September 28, 1898; Brig.-gen. Jacob F. Kent, retired October 15, 1898; Brig.-gen. Peter J. Osterhaus, retired March 17, 1905, and Brig.-gen. James H. Wilson, retired March 2, 1901.

OGAN WAS ONCE COMMANDER OF TENDER ALERT

Was Also Inspector of Machinery When K-7 and K-8 Were Being Built at Coast

Not many Honoluluans know that Lieut.-comdr. Joseph V. Ogan, now on board the U. S. army transport Thomas, on his way to Washington, is a former captain of the U. S. S. Alert, tender of the third submarine division, of which the popular young officer was commander until Wednesday afternoon of this week, when he sailed for the mainland, with many leis around his neck and a soft spot in his heart for Honolulu.

Two years ago, when the Alert was stationed with the first submarine division, between San Francisco and San Diego, he was captain of the tender. After a short time promotion came to him, and he was relieved from that duty and assigned to act as inspector of machinery at the Union Iron Works of San Francisco, which built the K-7 and K-8, the K-3 and K-4 having been built at Seattle.

Lieut. Ogan inspected the building of the K-7 and K-8, and had charge of fitting them out and selecting their crews. "He has been with them ever since their keels were laid," said Lieut. F. J. Lowry, captain of the Alert, the other day.

Lieut. Ogan was present at the contractor's trips and trial trips of both submarines, and when the K-7 was commissioned, he was made her commander by the navy department, and thus had the distinction of commanding the submarine he had helped build.

Helped Set New Record.

The third division began with the K-7 and K-8, and the K-3 and K-4 were added to it when completed. Lieut. Ogan thus became commander of the division, and brought it here October 14 under its own power, establishing a new long-distance record for submarines of the American navy.

Two months to a day from the time he arrived in Honolulu, Lieut. Ogan was promoted again, and left Wednesday on the Thomas for Washington. He was detached December 14 from command of the third division, and was ordered to proceed to Washington for duty in the bureau of ordnance, a branch of the navy department.

What his duties here will be are not known. They may be any one of several dozen, ranging from a position in the gun factory or proving grounds, to inspection or other similar work.

Lieut. Ogan has made many friends in his short stay here. His departure was the occasion for a gathering, at Pier 10 just before the Thomas sailed, of fellow officers and civilian friends who wished him the best of prosperity, happiness and good fortune in Washington.

With clearer weather to work in the 27 men sent out by High Sheriff Jarret to build the Puncbowell rifle range for the National Guard are getting it into better shape and the fight against the ever-growing weeds is now being won. The men have gone over the ground time and again and each time the weed crop has been a little reduced, so there is now a considerable cleared space. In a few months it is hoped to eradicate the weeds and with a little work now and then to keep the drill grounds and rifle range clear.

Fits for the targets are being dug by the prisoners and the work has been progressing although some trouble has been caused by the washing of the heavy rains which fell during the latter part of December. The range will be ready for use in the

BROUGHT HERE

Supply of Rifle and Gun Shells, Wagons, Etc., for Army is Being Stored for Future

Large quantities of ammunition for small arms and for the larger guns, wagons for the use of the army, and quantities of other supplies have been reaching Honolulu recently, showing the disposition of the War Department to accumulate here an adequate supply of munitions.

While it is not possible to secure detailed information it is known through information from the waterfront that several heavy shipments of ammunition have reached here recently, a large part of the small arms supplies being sent to Fort Kamehameha. Previous to this shipment of rifle ammunition, there was a month or more ago a heavy shipment of ammunition for the big guns. Wagons have been received in large quantities, the majority of them having been sent to Schofield barracks.

During the past few months unusual activity has been noticeable in army circles in the matter of getting supplies, but far greater quantities of supplies are needed than have yet been sent by the War Department.

Old Policy Huge Jest.

Since the European war demonstrated the need of great stores of ammunition in event of war, military men have more than ever taken the view that the policy heretofore adopted of accumulating the so-called two hours supply of ammunition is a huge jest. Gen. E. M. Weaver, chief of coast artillery, will, it is reported from the mainland, call the attention of house military committee when he appears before it to the shortage of ammunition as the most serious deficiency that exists in accessory material for the coast defenses.

Army and navy experts state that the supply of ammunition kept by the United States is far from adequate and at outlying posts would be exhausted after a period of fighting of too short duration to allow any gain to be made.

It is well known that the military authorities are now endeavoring to get a large store supply here and that Washington is cooperating by shipping ammunition as fast as possible under present conditions. The United States now boasts one of the largest and most productive ammunition factories ever built, at Hopewell, Va., where several kinds of munitions are made, but most of this output is being sent to Europe.

K BOATS BEING GIVEN ANNUAL CLEANING UP

Receiving their regular overhauling, having their hulls scrubbed, faces washed, hair combed, or whatever corresponds to that in a submarine, the four K boats, forming the third submarine division, have been taking life easy in drydock this week, and their crews have been enjoying life in Honolulu instead of at the sequestered and mosquito-haunted retreats of Magazine Island at Pearl Harbor.

The K-3 and K-8 were the first two submarines to go into drydock, and came out today. The K-7 and K-4 go in Monday. The things done to them during the regular overhaul period include the following:

Examining all valves, renewing all zincs, polishing propellers, examining stern tube glands, and seeing if any further overhauling or repairing is necessary. If it is, then it is done. Painting is also included in the program.

After the submarines are through with their looking over, the submarine tender Alert goes into drydock. It is expected she will be there about 10 days, as one side of her hull has to have scale removed by means of a sand-blast. The other side received this treatment a year and a half ago, when the tender was at Mare Island Navy Yard, San Francisco.

When the K-8's hull came to light as the water was forced out of the drydock Tuesday, her bilge keel was seen to be somewhat battered, as the result of her accident Tuesday, December 14, when she plowed her nose into a mud bank on the shore of Ford Island, Pearl Harbor, while making a practice run. Her rudders stuck, making it impossible to steer the submarine away from the shoal. She sustained no material damage.

Franklin K. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, said in a recent speech at Flushing, L. I., that the army needed at least 500,000 men and the navy needs more battleships, more cruisers and more submarines.

spring, when target practise, drills, maneuvers and possibly a camp for training business men will be established.

ARSON, PILLAGE AND BLOODSHED IN TRACK OF FRENZIED OHIO STRIKERS

Ironworkers Run Amuck and Rolling Mills Set Aflame By Mob

NINETEEN RIOTERS SHOT, AND SCORES ARRESTED

Governor Asked to Send Militia; Police Are Unable to Cope With Trouble

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Jan. 8.—Nineteen persons have been shot, three of them fatally, during the rioting which broke out yesterday afternoon among strikers from the Sheet Tube Company's rolling mills.

More than 5000 strikers, demanding more pay, terrorized the entire district in which the mills are situated and when their demands were not met, began using the torch, starting a conflagration that already has done nearly $1,000,000 damage.

The heroic attempts on the part of the police to save the buildings, when the striking men and the throngs of hoodlums who followed them began setting fire to the mill buildings, precipitated the first clash in which half a dozen men were wounded, some seriously.

Police Helpless.

The police, however, proved unable to handle the situation, even with the aid of a posse of citizens, and the wave of strikers swept on to other mills, which they fired. The flames spread quickly as the strikers refused to permit the firemen to work, cutting the hose of the engines, breaking through the fire lines which the police tried to establish, and toppling over the ladders which the firemen attempted to raise.

By midnight the conflagration had taken in ten mills, and the structures were burning fiercely, lighting up the entire city and threatening the extensive business district of East Youngstown.

Estimates of the damage were vague and ranged from eight hundred thousand to one million dollars, with the certainty that it would be higher unless the flames could be got under control at once.

Loot Store for Dynamite.

Led by strikers a mob of several thousand men and boys broke into a store of explosives and stole 500 pounds of dynamite. Armed with this they started through the streets of the city toward the residential district, vowing that they were going to blow up the homes of officials of the Sheet Tube Company located there.

Word of this reached police headquarters and a party of police and a posse of citizens, armed with rifles and revolvers, was rushed to head off the mob. They met at the junction of two streets and the posse leaders, after ordering the mob to disperse, gave the word to fire. Six strikers dropped at the first discharge, and the mob fled, dropping the dynamite.

In the meantime other sections of the mob had begun to break into the smaller stores in the mill district and were looting everything in sight. Efforts of the police patrols to stop this were abortive, although scores of arrests were made. In many instances the arrested men were snatched from the officers by their friends.

Rioters Refuse Compromise.

Early in the evening officials of the three rolling mills involved in the strike attempted to reach a compromise with the strikers, and offers were made of raises in the pay of the workers to 22 cents an hour.

This offer, when communicated to the men by the members of the committee which had acted as representatives of the strikers, brought out prolonged howls of derision and the repeated demand for 25 cents an hour minimum.

Call for Militia.

At 10 o'clock the chief of police and the sheriff held a consultation on the situation, and it was agreed that the local authorities were quite unable to cope with the emergency, which has passed all expectations of earlier in the day when the rioting began, and it was decided to telegraph to the governor of the state and ask for militia to quell the rioting. It was expected that the militia would reach the city some time after midnight.

More than 9000 men are employed by the Sheet Tube Company, and of these 3000 were affected by the strike order. Since then other workers have gone out, the trouble swiftly spreading.

At the head of Pensacola street, Honolulu, the U. S. Agricultural Experiment station under the direction of J. M. Westgate is working out problems of great interest to farming in Hawaii. At the substation at Haiku, Maui, other work is being carried on. The present article, prepared by the station staff, largely by F. G. Krauss, who is in charge of the Maui substation, gives important information on the distribution of farm seeds and plants, in which the federal experts are anxious to cooperate with the farmers of Hawaii.

DISTRIBUTION OF FARM SEEDS AND PLANTS

The following list of seeds and plants were grown at the U. S. substation and demonstration farm, Haiku, Maui, during the past year. Most of the crops represented have been grown successfully for the past three years at the Haiku station, but have not yet been introduced to general agriculture. A ready market appears to await most of the crops given in the list, the product from some 18 acres distributed among the list of varieties having met with ready sale so far as offered. There is especially a growing demand for the various leguminous seeds suited for green-manuring crops from the sugar plantations. White potatoes and sweet potatoes of the varieties offered in the following list have also met with a good market. The newer varieties of grasses, including the Uba or Japanese cane, are being sought after by stockmen. Taken altogether the list is sufficiently new and diversified to mark a new era in Hawaiian agriculture if the farmers of the territory will avail themselves of this opportunity to secure select stocks of those tried crops and incorporate their culture into their present cropping scheme, which has in the past been so limited and strikingly one-sided.

The beginning of a new crop-year should give our farmers new courage. And we trust they will cooperate with us in the introduction and trials. This phase of agricultural extension work is very warmly approved on the mainland and we hope and believe in this instance will bring us into touch with the enterprising farmers in all parts of the territory.

Aims and Methods of Distribution.

To reduce as much as practicable the large amount of correspondence entailed upon the extension division by the distribution, we would appreciate applicants giving careful consideration to the following points:

First—Do not apply for things not mentioned in the list. While we test out a great many varieties of new crops during the year, only such are offered to the public as give promise of success. Nor do we offer such seeds and plants as can usually be purchased in the open market. Do not make a general request for the whole list of seeds offered, or "for anything which will do in this locality." Apply specifically for what interests you, or may prove of value to you. However, we are always ready and glad to offer suggestions when called upon to do so.

Second—We require the applicant to pay a small amount for each thing received, partly to bear the cost of growing and distribution, but chiefly to insure that he has not purely an idle desire for what can be had for nothing, but intends to make a trial for a definite end. A brief report upon the outcome of the trial planting is designed by the extension division. Such data will be carefully summarized at the end of the year and will be issued in bulletin form for the benefit of all concerned.

Third—Application may be made for one or more kinds of seeds, but an application should not ask for more than one allotment of any one kind. The amount of seed and plants sent out to individual applicants will depend upon the demand. But in any case it will be sufficient to try out the variety and enable the planter to grow stock enough to plant a field area the succeeding season.

What Can Be Done.

To illustrate what can be accomplished in this regard, it may be of interest to site the case of our propagation of the so-called "Modera" or "Kauai" sweet potato. In March, 1915, 300 cuttings of this variety were purchased from the planter controlling the stock. The cuttings were so immature that less than a dozen grew. Five hundred additional cuttings were purchased in May. From the latter purchase, plants have been produced in this short interval to produce about 25,000 cuttings which are now ready for distribution. Field corn will multiply a thousand fold within a season. Most of the legumes will do about as well. And nearly all the allotments sent out under the present distribution will enable the recipient to develop a stock sufficient to plant an acre the following season. It would be well for applicants to make a second choice in anticipation of stocks running short, especially as the season advances.

The following brief descriptions and accompanying cultural notes will enable planters to make intelligent selections and plant same with reasonable assurance of success. Only such seeds should be asked for as can be used to advantage.

Field Corn.

New Era Yellow Dent.—A select, medium early, medium size grain yellow dent corn. The type most in demand in the Honolulu market. Yielded at the rate of 64 bushels per acre and shelled 84 per cent grain at Haiku in 1914. Average yield for three years over 50 bushels per acre. (Note: See Press Bul. No. 42, H. A. E. S. entitled "Corn Culture and Improvement.")

Hickory King.—An old standard. Small cobs, large seeded, white variety, succeeding well at Haiku. Very weevil resistant, but not acceptable to Hawaiian markets because of white color and large size of grain.

Cultural Notes.—Field corn may be planted in rows three feet apart, eight inches apart in the row. Plant as early in the year as the weather conditions will permit. For green fodder and silage the so-called "Kula" corn of Maui gives very satisfactory results, especially in a wet season. Corn is a greedy feeder and requires a rich soil and ample moisture to mature a maximum crop. New lands usually give good yields when well tilled. If lacking in organic matter old land should be given a heavy dressing of barnyard manure, or a heavy growth of some leguminous crop should be well worked into the surface eight inches deep. When the organic matter is well rotted the crop may be planted with the assurance, climatic conditions being favorable, and seed of adaptable kind, that a good crop will result. It will often pay to use commercial fertilizer—500 pounds per acre of the following formula:

5 per cent nitrogen (12 nitrate, 1.2 blood).
8 per cent phosphoric acid (W. S.).
6 per cent potash (sulphate).

has given good results when applied in the row at the time of planting at the Haiku Station.

Forage and Pasture Grasses.

A commendable interest is being shown by our farmers and stockmen in the introduction of new grasses. The Hawaii Experiment Station has done much to encourage the planting of new varieties. The following brief list covers well tested varieties which are recommended for trial by those not yet being familiar with them. (Note: See Bul. No. 30, Haw. Agri. Exp. Sta. entitled "Grasses and Forage Plants of Hawaii.") The Hawaii Experiment Station at Honolulu has established an extensive grass garden where a good idea may be obtained of the characteristics of a large variety of economic grasses.)

Sudan Grass.—Few grasses offer for soiling or pasture, have met with greater favor than this new grass. It is closely related to Johnson grass, but is devoid of the underground stems so difficult to eradicate in the latter variety. It yields five or more cuttings per annum and produces a succulent and palatable forage suitable for all kinds of stock. At Haiku an original planting has persisted into its third year. Under conditions favorable for curing it may be made into an excellent hay. It is doubtless well suited for silage. As a soiling crop it should be planted in rows two or three feet apart like sorghum. It responds to frequent cutting. Likewise, irrigation during the drier seasons of the year. It will pay to manure or fertilize after the first year. Five to 10 pounds seed will be required to plant an acre when sown in drills. If wanted for hay or pasture close drilling or broadcast sowing at the rate of 20 pounds of seed to the acre is desirable. The crop should be cut when in the "milk stage." If left on it is too mature it may rust badly and the vitality of the plant be lowered.

Uba or Japanese Cane.—This is a small stemmed, very succulent cane, or thrives especially well at Haiku and has yielded heavy crops of palatable forage suitable for cattle, work mules and horses. The cane should be cut three or four times per annum to avoid stems becoming too hard for mastication. When shredded the stock will eat the entire plant. Recommended especially for wet, windy locations. When once established it requires little care, although it responds to deep and thorough cultivation. The cane cuttings should be planted end to end in the bottom of shallow furrows four or five feet apart.

Giant Bermuda Grass.—This is comparatively a new grass and was recently introduced by the Hawaii Experiment Station from Florida. It may be termed a very large type of Bermuda Grass, our common "Bermuda." While it is much coarser and ranker growing than the common Bermuda it is much relished by all kinds of live stock including horses, mules, cattle and swine. It will outyield common Manilla three to five times under like conditions. While primarily a pasture grass it gives promise of producing a valuable hay under conditions where it can readily be

GARDNER SCORES TUETON-AMERICAN METHODS IN U. S.

Precipitates Acrimonious Debate; Counter Charges of Pro-British

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 8.—Echoes of the war in Europe reverberated in the halls of Congress yesterday at one of the most exciting sessions the house of representatives has seen for years.

Representative Gardner, Republican of Massachusetts, precipitated the storm when he began a vitriolic criticism of the methods adopted by German-American citizens of this country to aid their Fatherland in its struggle.

Mr. Gardner did not measure his words, and he did not stop with criticism of hyphenated Americans. His strictures were addressed equally to Germany for her conduct of the war.

Gardner Rouses Wrath.

For a time the house listened in comparative silence although there were angry mutterings, but at last the speaker was interrupted by Representative W. H. Stafford of Wisconsin, a Republican, who rose to point of order and so got the floor.

"The remarks of the gentleman from Massachusetts," said Mr. Stafford, "sound to me more British than American. Is that his patriotism?"

Representative H. A. Conner, also of Wisconsin, and a Republican, jumped to his feet and attacked Mr. Gardner bitterly.

Remarks Out of Place.

"Why," shouted Mr. Conner, "his remarks in this place, the legislative halls of the nation at war with none, and certainly not at war with Germany, sound like they might have been uttered on the floor of the British house of commons. Such utterances are out of place in the house of our country, to say nothing of its capital."

The announcement was made yesterday afternoon that President Wilson will not comply with the request that he make public the names of persons involved in ineffectual plots within the United States.

His determination to that effect was made known in a letter to the house judiciary committee in which he explained his stand by saying that he believes such an act would be against public interest.

IN WAR ARENA

SLAVS USE MANY GUNS AGAINST CZERNOWITZ DEFENSES.

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 8.—With Petrograd reporting continued successes on the Styrr front, and with Berlin admitting that the situation in that district is rapidly becoming critical, the Russian advance in Galicia, which threatens the continued Austrian occupation of Lemberg, still holds the center of the stage in the great war drama that is unfolding from day to day in Europe.

Details of the assault by the Slav columns on the Teutonic line, and the smashing of the German-Austrian defenses are beginning to come in, although slowly. Petrograd dispatches last night announced that the war department of the czar had reported that 400 heavy guns of all sizes and calibers were used to pound to flinders the Teuton trenches, and prepare the path for the infantry's entrance into Czernowitz. For more than 50 hours the cannonade was kept up, until the ground in front of the foe was churned to a pulp and the barbed wire fortifications cut and useless.

From Berlin comes the formal admission that the situation in Galicia "is becoming critical," although the battle is not ended.

Russian Losses 50,000.

Vienna has little to say regarding the latest Russian drive, but the official statement of last night reports that the Slavs lost 50,000 men in the fighting that followed the advance from the old lines in Bessarabia.

TURK COTTON HELPS TEUTON ALLIES.

LONDON, Eng., January 8.—Mail advices from Athens received here yesterday report that the railroad line between Berlin and Constantinople has been open and doing business ever since the middle of last month.

It is also reported that the Germans purchased the entire cotton crop of the Turkish province of Adana, during the first half of 1914, and that the opening of the war closed the gateway and prevented them from bringing the staple into Germany. Much of this crop is now available for the manufacture of munitions.

Still another source of supply for the Teutons has been found since the opening of the rail route to Turkey. The copper mines in the Argynia district have been tapped, and it is said that the ore is being rushed to German and Austrian factories.

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 8.—Winston Churchill, formerly first lord of the British admiralty and, after the formation of the coalition cabinet, chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster, has been promoted to the command of a battalion of the Royal Scots Fusiliers. Mr. Churchill resigned his post with the cabinet and volunteered for duty on the Flanders line. He has been at the front almost continuously ever since.

SUGAR PROBES SAIL FOR CUBA TO INVESTIGATE

Members of U. S. Body Praise Cooperation of Hawaii Planters

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 8.—The department of commerce is determined to leave no stone unturned in its investigation of the sugar industry of the world, and the report of the investigators is expected here to furnish the most complete collection of data regarding all phases of that industry ever compiled.

The investigators, under the leadership of Frank M. Sheridan, who visited Hawaii last July and August, have been here for some time at work on their materials gathered while in the islands, but yesterday they sailed for Cuba, where a searching inquiry into conditions of production and export will be made.

In speaking of the work done in Hawaii, one of the members of the commission said yesterday just before sailing that he hoped they would receive the same cooperation and support in Cuba the planters of Hawaii had afforded them in the Pacific islands.

"Nothing was left undone by the people of Hawaii that could in any way aid us in our work," said the commissioner.

He added that the work of the investigation probably will be completed and the report made public by May.

The members of the commission are Frank M. Sheridan, George Lunt, Thomas Mills and Frank B. Meador.

ANCONA LIFEBOAT BEARS MARK OF SHELL, SAYS ITALIAN PAPER

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] ROME, Italy, Jan. 8.—The Giornale d'Italia prints the story that a life boat belonging to the steamer Ancona, sunk by an Austrian submarine, has been picked up by fishermen. The boat, it is said, contains clear proof that the Austrians fired upon it, although it was loaded with helpless women and children.

MRS. WILSON HOLDS FIRST BIG RECEPTION

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 8.—The social season at the White House formally opened last night. A reception in honor of the delegates to the Pan-American Scientific Congress was the leading event. Four thousand invitations were issued for this. Last night also marked the first social appearance here of Mrs. Wilson since her marriage last month.

DEEP DRAFT SHIP GOES THROUGH CANAL

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] PANAMA, C. Z., Jan. 8.—The steamer Newton, Captain Abbott, last of the fleet of vessels delayed by the slide in the Gaillard cut, passed through the Panama canal yesterday afternoon, drawing 27 feet of water. The Newton left San Francisco September 30, bound for Stockholm, and reached Balboa, October 15, just in time to be tied up indefinitely by the closing of the channel of the canal.

Gen. Goethals, engineer in charge of the canal, in an interview yesterday declared that even yet the canal is not in condition for regular traffic, and that the opening for passage now is but temporary.

"It is probable," said Gen. Goethals, "that the canal will be closed for a considerable period yet, although I am unable to give any idea of the length of time it will take us to put it in shape for traffic. It is in no condition for continuous traffic."

Asked for an estimate of the time necessary to clear the Gaillard cut, Gen. Goethals declined, saying, "there are too many unknown factors in that problem."

U. S. BANKERS HELP PANAMA WITH LOAN

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] PANAMA, C. Z., Jan. 8.—Officials of the Panamanian treasury announced last night that the difficulties in which the government has found itself have been removed by the closing of a deal for a loan of $1,250,000 in the United States. This money has been provided by New York and Chicago banks. The bonds are to carry five per cent interest. The money, it is said, will be used to meet long outstanding obligations.

YOSHIHITO DECORATES PROMINENT FINANCIERS

(Special Cable to Nippon Jiji.) TOKIO, Japan, Jan. 8.—N. Kataka, president of the Japanese Life Insurance Company of Tokio; Dr. H. Miyaki, a member of the House of Peers; T. Shidate, president of the Japanese Industrial bank, and I. Matsukata, vice-president of the Fifteenth National bank of this city, have been decorated by Emperor Yoshihito for their activities in organizing Japan's financial system.

HUGE SUGAR ORDER RECEIVED FROM EUROPE

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 8.—Orders for 100,000 tons of granulated sugar have been placed in the local market by agents acting for the governments of several European countries during the past month, and inner circles assert that these are but the start of a series of such orders.

After clinging for more than three hours to the bottom of their upturned power boat, George Hammel and Thomas Pattern, were rescued off Atlantic City, N. J., by a fishing smack.

TERRITORY WILL HAVE TO SEEK NEW IMMIGRATION SITE SHORTLY

Will Need Quarters of Sufficient Size to Harbor Indigent and Unemployed

Where shall the territorial immigration station be moved when the federal government takes charge of the present site, following the land exchange recently approved by the governor and the board of harbor commissioners, and awaiting now only the final seal of the secretary of war?

This is a question over which territorial officials are puzzling, and Governor Pinkham says frankly that he does not know what place will be chosen as a favorable site for the station.

Though the suggestion has been made that about the only station needed is an office to transact routine business, the governor says that the territory's indigent must be cared for, and that the immigration station for these is a necessity.

Several years ago the station site was a fish market where fishermen and fish merchants plied their trade. Later it bore a few Chinese stores until taken over by former Governor Frear for immigration purposes.

Sometimes Held 1400 People.
When immigration was booming high, with shiploads of Spanish and Portuguese coming to the territory to work upon the plantations, the building used to harbor as many as 1400 people, while today it harbors about 50 or 60. The territory has gone out of the immigration business and so the slump has come.

Commissioner Ralph A. Kearns of the station says that whatever site is chosen a building of sufficient size to take care of a good number of immigrants is necessary. He looks partly to the future which bears possibility of the territory again taking up the business. Also he takes consideration of those who come in daily from the plantations and who finally land at the station with their money and jobs gone.

"Many of these people are not to blame," says the commissioner. "Their fellows on the plantation like to tell of what great sums of money can be made in the city, and so they come to seek it. Sometimes they want to get other jobs, sometimes they want to go back to the old country and sometimes they are sick and unable to work. We can't turn our backs on such cases as these. Somebody has to care for them."

Examined by Physician.
When a man comes to the station claiming to be sick, Commissioner Kearns takes a good look at him and if he appears not to be well sends him to a doctor for a report concerning his condition. If the doctor pronounces him sick the case goes before the board of immigration, and the board accedes to or declines the request to ship the man home.

"If a man become a public charge within three years after being brought here, the territory has to take charge of him and ship him back to his native land."

"Some do not want to go back when they land here at the office," says Mr. Kearns. "They want to get work and for such we try to find places. But always we take them in and feed them at least."

"We have about 60 in here now," said the commissioner, leading the way through the office into the enclosure where these people are kept. Some Do Family Washing.

Within one finds five or six women at work on the family laundry in the wash room, others sewing and darning, and still others nursing babies. One woman, evidently soon to be a mother, addresses a request to the commissioner.

"No escriba carta?" she says.

"Have you written the letter?"

"This woman," the commissioner explains to the visitor, "has been deserted by a husband who went to the states with the idea that he would immediately get a good job."

"For several weeks she heard from him, the letters being mailed at Winnemucca, Nevada, and stating that he was without work and freezing with the cold. I have written a description of him to the authorities of the place asking them to hunt him up and get work for him if possible, but I realize it is pretty much like finding a needle in a haystack."

Had No Place to Go.

"This woman came to us saying that she had no home, and no one to take care of her. She had to have something done for her, so we have taken her in, and will have her placed under the care of a doctor when the time comes."

In another part of the shed are men—weak looking men for the most part—playing cards. They are without money, and are waiting to be sent back home.

"This woman is Spanish," says the commissioner, pointing to a figure bending over a wash tub. "Her husband is in Lehi home nearly cured of tuberculosis, and in a short time they will be allowed to leave and go back to Spain."

Before the war broke out in Europe these people were sent by way of Kobe, catching North German Lloyd steamers through the Suez canal and on round Gibraltar to their homes, but at the present time this is impossible, as all the German steamers are off this run. Washington has now granted permission to have them cross the states and reach their homes in this way.

OLD GUNS OF MORRO CASTLE KEEP GERMAN SHIP FROM SAILING AWAY

Interned Vessels in Porto Rican Waters Giving Uncle Sam Lots of Trouble

SAN JUAN, P. R.—The interned German prisoners here are causing a lot of trouble for Uncle Sam's officials and, incidentally, some of the Teutons now in charge of the military authorities in San Juan may face a firing squad in Germany when the war is over.

Rusting their sides in the San Juan harbor are the Odenwald, a German steamer, and the K. D. III, originally a British merchantman, which became a German prize through capture on the high seas and was manned by a prize crew from a German cruiser, the Karlsruhe. She was later forced to put into San Juan harbor to escape capture, and who she belongs to now is problematical.

Nominally she is German, as possession is the greater part of the law, but as she was obliged to seek a neutral port for safety, it can hardly be supposed that she will be turned over to Germany without claims from Great Britain, while the United States might annex her on some obscure point of international law.

She also brought into port a number of Chinamen and the beri-beri, the former being against the immigration law and the latter an intense form of fever or sleeping sickness.

After the Chinese problem was solved by officialdom trouble started on board the newly manned K. D. III among the crew, and, by the special request of the German officers of that vessel, she was placed under military control, a guard had to be placed on board and several of the crew were brought on shore and placed in confinement.

On March 21 last, the Odenwald tried to put to sea without proper clearance papers. She had to be fired upon from Fort Morro, a procedure, by the way, which almost brought down the foundation of the ancient castle but which was effective in sending the Odenwald back to her anchor.

A little while later one of the crew of the Odenwald attempted to commit suicide because he was unable to get to fight for the fatherland, and a member of the crew of the K. D. III committed some act of insubordination and was slated for court-martial with the possibility of being condemned to be shot immediately upon arrival in Germany.

Prisoner Escaped.
Shortly thereafter he escaped. One report has it that he got back to Germany and is fighting for the kaiser. Then trouble started with the men in confinement on shore. They returned late from leave, which was granted to them at intervals, and two of them resisted arrest by the San Juan police. One of the "resisters" attempted to stow himself away on the steamer Carolina shortly before she was due to leave this port and was hauled ashore again. A similar attempt to stow away was made by another of the confined men within the last week or so but he was also recaptured.

It is fairly certain that the result of these actions in Porto Rico will extend to Germany, for, upon their return to the Fatherland—if they ever do return—these men probably will be liable under martial law for offenses committed against duly appointed officers of the German navy.

DETAILS OF BANNER YEAR FOR MAINLAND BEET SUGAR GROWERS

Preliminary returns from practically all operating beet sugar factories in the United States indicates a production of 866,200 short tons of sugar during the current campaign. The area harvested amounted to 624,000 acres, and the beets, 6,462,000 tons. This is the largest acreage and tonnage of beets ever harvested in the United States, and the sugar production exceeds the highest preceding crop, that of 1913, by nearly 133,000 tons.

Imported sugar, however, has been coming in smaller quantities. During the nine months ended September 30, 1915, imports were about 227,000 tons less than during the corresponding nine months of 1914. Approximately one-half of the sugar consumed in the United States is of foreign origin; one-fourth comes from American island possessions, and one-fourth from the beet and cane sugar industries of the United States proper. During the year ended June 30, 1915, about 2,546,000 tons were imported from foreign countries, 1,098,000 came from Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands, and about 969,000 tons were produced within the United States, making a total of 4,613,000. Exports, which are usually quite small, amounted to 275,000 tons, leaving a net supply of 4,338,000 tons, not counting stocks at the beginning of the season. In 1910-1914 the yearly consumption of sugar in this country averaged nearly 83 pounds per capita.

The 1916 Studebaker Six-Fifty

A 50-55 HORSEPOWER SIX-CYLINDER TOURING CAR

- 1 The most powerful six-cylinder car ever offered at less than $1650.
- 2 The first six-cylinder automobile, at less than $1650, finished as Studebaker finishes it, with 25 color and varnish operations, and upholstered with Number One, hand-buffed, straight-grained leather.
- 3 The first six-cylinder automobile, at less than $1650, in which so many of the vital parts are made of high-grade chrome nickel and chrome vanadium steels, and which is equipped with the highest grade full-floating axle and with 13 Timken bearings.

- 4 The first six-cylinder car, under $1650, in which the standard of accuracy, inspection and workmanship are equal to that of the highest priced car.
- 5 The first six-cylinder car, under $1650, that so completely measures up to every essential quality point which goes to make up a high-grade car.
- 6 The largest, roomiest, most comfortable automobile in the world at its price.

Studebaker sets a new price for high-grade medium price automobiles

Yet in establishing this price Studebaker did not set out to manufacture a low-priced car; it did not set out to compete with other manufacturers merely on a price basis. It set out to build, first and foremost, a car as essentially good as a car can be built, let the price be what it might. You have a year to test the truth of this statement, and Studebaker knows that you will find it true.

That the price happens to be low is due to these facts:

- First: Volume of production.
- Second: Concentration on only two chassis.
- Third: The manufacture of nearly all its own parts.
- Fourth: Great engineering and manufacturing advantages.
- Fifth: The development of really wonderful manufacturing economy.
- Sixth: The development of manufacturing machinery which effects great saving in labor cost.

USE CARLOAD OF OLD CLOTHES IF WE HAD 'EM, SAYS E. E. BROOKS

From the Kula tuberculosis sanatorium of Maui has come a request to the Associated Charities for old clothes, and Superintendent E. E. Brooks of the local institution has issued a call for such garments. Mr. Brooks says that the Associated Charities will be glad to take charge of whatever is brought, shipping it to Maui at once.

Following is the list of needed clothes:
Winter clothes for eight Filipino men and for one Filipino woman; clothes for five gaunt old Chinamen; several sets of clothes for average sized Japanese. Hawaiians and Portuguese: clothes for a few fat persons; winter clothes for four boys of 11 years, and for three girls of the same age.

"Maui does not have as much travel to the mainland as does Honolulu," says Mr. Brooks, "and for that reason there is not a large supply of discarded winter garments there."

Clothes are also badly needed by the charities organization for people in Honolulu. Mr. Brooks says that the local closet is getting low, and that gifts will be appreciated to replenish it.

"Why, we could use almost a carload of old clothes if we had 'em," he says. "Of course we couldn't store that many at once, but we could dispose of them very rapidly. People do not realize the need of clothing for the city's poor."

are being arranged to form a club among the young Chinese, and later on Hawaiians and Portuguese will be asked to cooperate with the Citizens' committee.

In the report as given by Mr. Steel, it was planned to cooperate with the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution in the prize essay contest on "The True American Citizen." The committee today gave a vote of thanks to Judge C. F. Clemons for the preparation of a pamphlet on "Naturalization." The members of the committee are W. F. ## Local Filipinos Ask Law Makers For 'Dry' Hawaii

"Down With the Devil's Child" is Slogan of One Petition Signer

The Filipinos of Hawaii have forwarded to Washington, D. C., a petition urging upon Congress to close all saloons in Hawaii, the local branch of the Anti-Saloon League reports.

In their "humble prayer" to the lawmakers, the Filipinos include, among other things, the following statements:

"The saloon is our terrible foe. Saloons are the root of all evil. Saloons make people insane. Liquor causes crime. Wine robs poor man. Saloon is the cause of all evils. The saloon is hell.

"We do not like the bad business at all.

"Saloons do no good.

"No like saloon.

"Away with the bad business.

"Saloon is the key of all immorality.

"Saloon is the popular hell's office.

"Down with the devil's child."

These are but a few of the remarks made by the signers of the petition, which is now on its way to the national capital, addressed to Senator Grona, the sponsor for the bill for the prohibition of the liquor traffic in Hawaii.

MAN'S SUCCESS DEPENDS UPON ASSOCIATIONS

So Declares Hugh Chalmers, Auto Manufacturer, Who Studied in "Y" Class

Years ago, says "Association Men," Hugh Chalmers, automobile manufacturer, studied in the Dayton, Ohio, Y. M. C. A. educational classes. He has the following to say regarding the results of that early training:

"I owe a great deal to the early training I received in the Young Men's Christian Association at Dayton, Ohio. Not only did I visit it regularly and use its reading rooms, gymnasium, baths and other features. Perhaps the most tangible results were obtained in the educational classes in which I studied nights after a hard day's work. But real benefit and encouragement came to me also from the Sunday afternoon meetings and Bible classes.

"It is the finest institution in the world for helping to shape a young man's business career. Especially is this true of one who leaves home in the country to go to the city to take up employment. He cannot associate with better young men than those connected with the Y. M. C. A. nor with better older men than these who are conducting its work.

"A man's future success depends a great deal upon his environment and associations, and I know of no better or more healthful atmosphere for a boy to get into. A false notion has existed in the past with reference to the Y. M. C. A. and many young men stayed away because they thought it too 'sloppy-goody.' Nothing could be farther from the truth.

"A man cannot help being influenced, favorably or unfavorably, by his associates and surroundings. I would rather have a boy of mine go to the Y. M. C. A. during his formative period for entertainment and friends than to any other place.

"It meant much to me during my early life and helped me in more ways than I shall ever be able to say."

Detected in an attempt to blow open the safe of the post office at Fort Washington, a suburb of Philadelphia, four yegmen escaped in an automobile after a revolver battle with the police.

SAFETY FIRST FOR CHURCHES TO BE SUBJECT

Rev. L. L. Loofbourov Will Tell Methodists of This Important New Project

"Safety First" on the street cars, "Safety First" in the factories, "Safety First" in banking institutions, and no "Safety First" in the churches.

The First Methodist church has announced tomorrow as "Safety First" day. The history of the "Safety First" movement, as inaugurated first by the United States Steel Corporation, will be sketched by Rev. L. L. Loofbourov, as well as the legislation that has grown out of it. What if the safety engineer of the big industrial plant whose business it is to supervise the entire operations of the company with a view to preventing accident should come into our community? What recommendations would he make? What changes in the interest of safety first should we make in our civic life? What changes in our homes, our churches, our habits and characters? These are some of the questions the minister will ask.

Rev. Mr. Loofbourov is to speak at the morning service on "Safety First for the Other Fellow," and in the evening on "Safety First for Number One."

SERVICES AND BIBLE CLASSES IN CANAL ZONE

Government Club Houses in Panama, Directed By Y. M. C. A., Gain National Repute

Writing in the current number of "Association Men," F. M. M. Richardson described the government club houses in Panama, which are directed by the Y. M. C. A., as follows:

"Twilight is short in the tropics. At the same time every evening the year around in Panama with but imperceptible variation between extremes the sun hurries over the range of the Cordillera and disappears for the day in a gorgeous golden glow behind a western horizon. In time to catch its last rays upon polished steel the evening train from Colon comes rolling down the south slope of the continental divide into its Pacific terminus, the coolness of evening settles down upon a heated landscape, and the restfulness of coming night pervades the atmosphere.

"Sunset Sings." "Timed at this hour of the close of a Sabbath day and in such a setting it is only natural that the Sunday evening song services of the Canal Zone Associations have come to be known throughout the Zone as 'the Sunset Sings at the Y.' These Sunset Sings have had no small part in conserving the religious life of the people, especially in interior towns without either chapel or resident minister. In many instances through the past eight years they have provided the one means of offering an opportunity to the people of a community on a Sabbath day to give expression to the religious life, to give expression to the atmosphere of a big construction camp these song services have likewise often offered the sole practicable means of rounding out our program of service in an effort to fulfill our part of an agreement 'to do Y. M. C. A. Work' in the Canal Zone government clubhouses.

"In working out the plan in 1907 by which the clubhouses were to be operated by the Association organization it was feared by some of the government officials, not familiar with the practical workings of the organization, that the usual Association religious activities might offend some of the employees. Therefore it was agreed that 'Sunday clubs organized voluntarily among members will promote social life in the building and arrange for practical talks by prominent laymen on subjects vital to men's lives.' The announcement as printed further states that 'On occasion the clubs present noted speakers from abroad, who address men's meetings in the entertainment hall. These meetings are strictly non-sectarian. Good music and good fellowship will be prominent features.' Time Proves Wisdom.

"This is no doubt the arrangement to which General Goethals referred in writing of the social and religious aspects of life on the Canal Zone. Time has proved the wisdom of the arrangement. It has given a basis to the challenge of the secretary, who says to the membership, 'If you want these religious activities it's up to you.' The acceptance of the challenge has shown that the four-fold program of the Association can operate in government clubhouses without soft peddling the religious.

"Of the five clubhouses now in operation two are without Bible classes. In the combined total adult population of 702 people in the two towns

Indianapolis Is Chosen As Place For Big Meeting

June 26 to 29 Dates for National Convention of Anti-Saloon League

Indianapolis has been chosen as the place for the next national convention of the Anti-Saloon League of America, and the dates fixed are June 26 to 29.

Tomlinson Hall, with a seating capacity of 35,000, has been engaged, with four nearby large churches for overflow meetings. The Claypool Hotel will be the headquarters, with the Emerson as an adjunct. The best well-known pulpit and platform orators of the day are now being engaged for the mass meetings, while arrangements are being made for large workers' conferences, including school-of-methods meetings and round-table discussions.

It is expected that all state superintendents, with their assistants and other workers, more than 500 in all, will be present. The national superintendent, Dr. Purley A. Baker, writes to the headquarters of the league in Honolulu, most enthusiastically of this great convention, and refers at length to its important political bearing upon the presidential and other elections to take place a little later in the year.

'GUATAMA AND GREAT ASIATIC REVIVAL' TOPIC

Owing to the disarrangement of the schedule of mid-week services during the Brown-Curry meetings the various sections of Central Union church members have been at sea as to the program. But hereafter regularity will rule again.

Next Wednesday evening, January 12, Principal C. T. Fitts of Punahou preparatory will have charge of the theme, "Guatama and the Great Asiatic Revival," a topic of unusual interest. This movement took place so far away in time and historic setting that few people in occidental countries realize what a tremendous religious upheaval the Light of Asia, as Guatama has been called, caused.

The only historic phenomenon comparable to it was the emergence of Christianity. These two religions now are face to face on many mission fields. They present great similarities and even greater differences. They are both living religions. On January 19 the annual meeting of the church will occur and a week later Miss Knapp is to unfold a program of great value on the topic of our missionary schools.

INSTRUCT MOTHERS UPON RELIGION IN CHILDHOOD

Miss M. E. Cross's course for mothers and teachers in "Religion in Childhood" will meet in the parish house of Central Union church at 3:30 on Monday afternoon, January 10.

In which these clubhouses are located there are only 39 Protestant adult church members. In the three other clubhouses there are four Bible classes in operation with three additional classes in social subjects with Christian motive and lead.

"The Sunday Club of the Balboa clubhouse is one of the most active of these groups. Bible study is the pivot point about which the group operates. For ten weeks this group has been studying Fostick's 'Mankind of the Master.' When this article is read the group will be well advanced in Burton and Sharnan's text. Sunday is the club's busy day for service. At Fort Grant on the Pacific fortifications several members conduct the soldier's Sunday evening song service.

Services in Balboa

"They also conduct the Sunset Sings in the Balboa clubhouse, providing speakers and program. One member does an extension work in Panama City, and another the local Boy Scouts group. The Bible classes in the other clubhouses are study classes without the service objective.

"Every clubhouse has its Sunday evening song service. Sometimes the program is given over to the singing of familiar hymns, with occasional evenings spent with favorite writers of song; sometimes the program is varied with slides or pictures; sometimes an address is made appropriate to the day. Occasionally a secretary speaks. Recently the Roman Catholic priest of the diocese, the auditor of the Panama Canal, the superintendent of the Mechanical Division, and a judge of the Land Court spoke during one month at one or another of the five clubhouse song services. In this activity, as in all others, the clubhouses provide the means for a nor at expression of the worthwhile things in the life of the people."

Dr. Charles Maskins, dean of the Harvard Graduate School, and Dr. Jeremiah D. M. Ford, professor of languages in the university, were notified of their election to the Royal Academy of Fine Arts of Barcelona.

News and Notes of Work of the Hawaiian Board

Rev. Yee Kuei of Wailuku, Maui, departed on the steamer Manoa last Tuesday afternoon for California to attend the Pacific Theological Seminary at Berkeley. Mr. Yee, who has been in the service of the Hawaiian Board for the last 14 years in Hilo, Hawaii; in Waimea, Kauai, and in Wailuku, Maui, plans to spend the best part of 1916 in studying at this well-known institution on the coast.

During his absence Rev. Lo Yuet Fu, formerly of Hanalei, Kauai, will take charge of the Wailuku and Keokea churches on Maui.

Rev. T. Oho, pastor of the Hanalei Japanese church of Kauai, arrived in the city on Wednesday. During the last year a kindergarten building was added to the equipment of the church in that village. Plans are being made for an increase in the equipment of the Japanese church at Lihue, Kauai.

Rev. Sam K. Kamaopili returned to his work on Kauai by the W. G. Hall on Thursday of this week. He will continue to make his headquarters at Lihue and from that center go forth to many points on the island.

At the meeting of the Young Peoples' League last Sunday 12 new members were received and several applications for membership have been filed. This organization has profited greatly by the evangelistic campaign conducted by Messrs. Brown and Curry, and Mr. Akana, its leader, reports that the new year has begun in a most favorable way for the league.

On Sunday morning, January 9, the communion service of the Second Chinese Congregational church will be held at 11 o'clock. Rev. Tse Kuei Yuen, the pastor, will receive several persons into fellowship as new members.

Rev. Akako Akana will leave on the Mauna Loa next Tuesday for a tour of the island of Hawaii in the interests of Christian Endeavor work. He will begin his campaign with meetings in the district of Kona, thence will proceed to Kau, and from that district will go over to Puna to attend the Hawaii Association meeting at Kalapana. After that he will travel through Hilo and Hamakua and will complete his work on the island by a tour of the district of Kohala, returning to Honolulu in the second week in February.

Rev. John F. Cowan, pastor of the Union church of Kohala, Hawaii, was a visitor in town this week, arriving January 1 and returning to his home by the Mauna Kea on Wednesday, January 5. His purpose in coming to the metropolis was to attend the Christian Endeavor rally at the Kawaiahae church last Sunday evening, and to be present at the C. E. conference Monday morning.

Rev. Norman C. Schenck, superintendent of the Chinese department, will leave for a tour of the Chinese churches on Kauai on January 11. He plans to be back in Honolulu on January 16. He will be accompanied on his tour by Rev. Tse Kuei Yuen, pastor of the Second Chinese church, who is also general evangelist of the board.

The board will be represented at the meeting of the Hawaii County Evangelical Association at Kalapana, Puna, Hawaii, by Rev. Akako Akana, who goes up to the Big Island next week, and by Revs. John P. Erdman, N. C. Schenck and H. P. Judd, who leave for Hilo on January 19. Judd and Schenck will make a tour of Central Maui in the interests of church and Sunday school work, after which they may make a similar tour of Molokai.

The Mission Memorial building is progressing so favorably that plans will soon be made for the service of dedication. It is likely that the edifice will be ready for occupancy by the middle of February.

LIFE OF JOSEPH IS SHOWN YOUNG PEOPLE OF CENTRAL CHURCH

Thrilling episodes in the life of Joseph, the famous Biblical character who was sold into bondage in Egypt by his traitor brother, were shown to the young people of Central Union church Thursday night through the medium of motion pictures. The film was shown as a part of the program of an entertainment held on the church lawn, and largely with the idea of encouraging local picture houses to display more films dealing with things religious. While the reels were being changed George Casper, the violinist; Dr. E. D. Kilbourne and Kathryn Kilbourne entered the large audience.

Gold held by the Bank of France reached a total of 5,000,000,000 francs, a world's record.

AN IMPROVED QUININE DOES NOT AFFECT THE HEAD

Because of its tonic and laxative effect, LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE will be found better than ordinary Quinine. Does not cause nervousness, nor ringing in the head. Remember, there is only one "Bromo Quinine." The signature of E. W. Grove is on each box.

World's Strides In Temperance

Board of Health.

The department of health of the city of New York has for many months been conducting a definite campaign against alcohol. From all over the country strong commendations of this movement have come from medical and sociological societies, and in many cases, similar movements have been inaugurated by the health departments of other cities.

Branded Desserts.

The state-wide prohibition law of Colorado, which went into effect January 1, 1916, according to the highest legal authority forbids the manufacture for sale of mince meat, plum pudding, branded peaches and macaroons or other dainties in which intoxicating liquors may be an ingredient.

Educators Favorable.

At the recent annual convention of the South Dakota Educational Association, meeting in Aberdeen and attended by 3000 public school teachers and college professors, it declared unanimously for state-wide prohibition, characterizing the liquor traffic as "a great detriment to social progress, which is so closely allied to educational effort."

Missouri Turns "White."

In a recent prohibition election held in Moberly, Missouri, the "drys" were led by J. W. Wright, Sr., a retired farmer and capitalist, while the "wets" followed the leadership of his son, J. W. Wright, Jr. The dry towns now include Macon, Mexico, Columbia, Marshall and Carrollton. The seven saloons of Booneville were closed December 3. Missouri is holding its own in the great national movement.

Victories in New York.

Information just compiled and furnished by the excise department of New York shows that the "drys" gained much more in the November election than they thought at first. It is now known that 77 new townships were added to the dry column. To this should be added 14 other townships which went dry earlier in the year, making more than half of the Keystone State wholly saloonless.

Constitutional Amendment.

Here is the proposed Hobson amendment to the constitution which secured a majority vote in the house in its last session and which will be submitted again at the present session: "Section 1.—The sale, manufacture for sale, transportation for sale, importation for sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes in the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof and exportation thereof are forever prohibited."

"Section 2.—The Congress or the states shall have power independently or concurrently to enforce this article by all lawful legislation."

SIXTY-EIGHT MEN ATTEND BIBLE CLASS

"What Jesus Teaches About Prayer" Subject for Tuesday Evening at Y. M. C. A.

WITH ITS WONDERFUL DECORATIONS by Albert Herter in the cafe, symbolizing the gifts of the Old World to America; the Lounge, inspired by the Chateau Brissac, in which society assembles daily for afternoon tea; the stately, spacious Rose Room, where dancing is enjoyed every evening; the Italian Room, walled and ceiled with beautifully carved hazel wood and famed for its portal of gleaming twisted pillars surmounted by a golden image; the Colonial Room, in which the fashionable world produces original plays in a completely equipped theatre—with countless original artistic details (such as Arthur Putnam's puma motive) in its many public rooms—with such unique and exclusive service as the Turkish and Roman baths for ladies (11th floor) and for gentlemen (12th floor), supplied with salt water pumped directly from the ocean; the Electric Grill, where table d'hôte meals are served at moderate prices—the Hotel St. Francis is one of the most interesting show places in San Francisco, and a place at which interesting people invariably gather.

THE HOTEL ST. FRANCIS, the largest hotel in Western America (over one thousand rooms), faces an entire side of Union Square, "the center of the city's life and color," where the activity of all famous carnivals like the Portola, Native Sons' festa, and New Year celebrations are focused, and where military displays on such occasions as the visits to the St. Francis of President Roosevelt, President Taft, Prince Fushimi of Japan, Prince Tsai Hsun of China, Admiral Evans in command of the battleship fleet, and other dignitaries, have provided historic spectacles.

NOTE—While the Hotel St. Francis will never lower its rates beneath the point at which it is possible to provide a service at least equal to that of the best metropolitan hotels in the world, it respectfully invites comparison between its charges and the tariff established by any other hotel of the first rank.

Dash and Mark Decide the Hen Proves that It Pays to Advertise

There are still a number of people in this world of ours who do not believe in advertising. And there are a number of people who believe the world is flat, rectangular and other shapes too numerous to mention. One of them—we will call him Mark, was standing on King street the other day when along came Dash, who is a live wire and a booster from Alpha to Omega.

Dash, who has the punch—the spirit of hustle developed, bumped into Mark who was day dreaming on the corner. The following conversation ensued:

Mark—What is your hurry, Dash?

Dash—I am on my way to the Ad Club.

Mark—So you belong to the Ad Club. It's a waste of time.

Dash—Now I have your number. You are one of those poor neglected mortals who don't believe in advertising. Now please don't get me talking advertising, because that's my middle name. That's where I am at home, where I have my villa and where I spend my valuable time. Advertising has got that love stuff backed off the boards. Let me see if I can get some of my jewels of thought to sink into that ivory-covered receptacle that is supposed to encircle a vacuum.

Advertising is the leading event of the day—think of the power of suggestion—the psychology of print. Say a thing often enough, my boy, and the other fellow will believe you and he'll think it is his own idea in time, and believe me he'll fight for the thing. Look at Henry Ford. He's one of the best-known boys in the world today, and he didn't get to be that way by going back in the shady side of the garden to take a snooze. No sir. He was one of the charter members of the Upan Doin Club.

Mark—How can you prove the power of suggestion?

Dash—Well, the other day one of those Munsterburg fellows who study the psych-stuff showed two pieces of Irish lace to a bevy of girls and asked them to decide which was the better. They were the same thing, but when he handed one of them out, he mentioned that it had a tone to it, and the result was that 29 out of the 30 girls picked the tone lace. That's only one example of suggestion.

Mark—Well, that isn't local. That is different.

Dash—There you go again with that Morpheus stuff. Rip Van Winkle was a wide-awake fellow to you. You remember I told your best girl that Mary Pickford was good in a certain picture and when you asked her to take her choice of that or something else she immediately told you she was an admirer of little Mary. That's advertising.

Mark—Well, that's different.

Dash—Nothing to it. It's advertising. You go off to the show shops for the same reason. You read in the paper that the show is good. You go. Some fellow tells you it is good. You go. All that is advertising. Ninety per cent of the public believe what they are told, and what they're told is what some fellow read in a newspaper.

Mark—But I never read advertisements.

Dash—Don't get that idea in your head if you are running around this world representing an ostermoor.

Mark—You think I am asleep, eh?

Dash—That proves to me you have heard about a mattress at least. Say, if I say, "His Master's Voice," you get wise to a phonograph ad, don't you? Well, you know "It Floats," "There's a Reason," "Road of Anthracite," "57 Varieties," "Gold Dust Twins," and a lot of others. I suppose you don't know what any of them mean?

Mark—Sure I know what they mean.

Dash—You bet you do, and say, there is a lot of other things that you know about. Say, what kind of garters are you wearing?

Mark—Oh, Boston, of course.

Dash—What do you know about Boston garters? Nothing. You don't know that they are any better than any others. You get so you want them because the ad sticks out all over. Say, what kind of shaving soap do you use?

Mark—Williams' soap.

Dash—That's it. Williams may not be any better than any other, but every time you go in to buy more you ask for Williams'. Why? Advertising. And another thing, when Pineapple Day was started the sale of pines went up 324 cases a day.

Mark—How did you know it was 324?

Dash—I'll slip this one over on you. I don't know. I don't know a blooming thing about the sale of pines at that period, but if I told you that I read it in a newspaper you would believe it, wouldn't you?

Mark—Yes, I suppose so.

Dash—Well, you are gradually realizing what advertising is, aren't you. You never saw Ty Cobb or Conch Yost? No? Well, every boy in the continent knows them; so do you. Why? Because they have been advertised. If Pikers' Prunes were advertised as much as the Detroit outfielder, you would know what kind of prunes to buy.

Mark—Well, I guess there is something in what you say.

Dash—Advertising is a grand thing. Say, what kind of eggs do you eat?

Mark—Why, hens' eggs, of course.

Dash—Why, of course. Did you ever eat a duck's egg?

Mark—No.

Dash—Have you anything against the duck?

Mark—Certainly not.

Dash—Certainly. Why, my boy, when a duck lays an egg it's a fool and keeps still about it, but when a hen does, she cackles, and she cackles all over the place. She's advertising. She made Petaluma. She's a great publicity artist. That's why you eat hen's eggs. Well, I'm on my way.

Mark—Would you send my name into the Ad Club?

Dash—Certainly. Don't forget the hen!

CADILLAC SPEEDS AT RATE OF 95.2 MILES PER HOUR

Ninety-five and two-tenths miles per hour is the rate of travel attained by a Cadillac "Eight" on the beach at Jacksonville, Florida, recently. The test was made over a measured mile in 37.4 seconds.

The car was driven over the course by several different drivers at speeds exceeding 90 miles per hour, the record time being made by Mr. Leonard of the Claude Nolan organization Jacksonville Cadillac representatives. The event was one of the closing features of a two days' convention of the southeastern Cadillac dealers held in Jacksonville, presided over by Sales Manager E. C. Howard and his assistant, Lynn McNaughton.

The help beds of British Columbia are said to be capable of furnishing annually 235,000 tons of potash, which, figured at $50 per ton, would amount to $11,750,000. The iodine obtained, at the rate of $3875 per ton, would amount to $3,680,000. The total calculated value of these two by-products of kelp (at prewar prices) would thus amount to $15,000,000 per annum.

ADMIT PROFESSORS WITHER AND FADE

That center of sapience and source of salubrious counsel, Columbia School of Journalism, is becoming famous over the country as a distributing point of erudition on multitudinous subjects, as is shown by the following letter received at the school from Versailles, Ky.:

"Professor of Journalism, Columbia University, New York City.
"Dear Sir: Will you kindly tell me what color ink and what size paper one should use and what distance apart one should place the lines when one writes short stories on the typewriter for magazines? I shall appreciate this information. Yours sincerely, JOSEPH I. ARNOLD."

Prof. Walter B. Pitkin, into whose hands the epistle fell, evidently does not relish the repute the school of journalism is gaining as a universal oracle. He posted the communication on the bulletin board of the school under the caption "Why College Professors Wither and Fade."

STAR-BULLETIN 75 CENTS PER MONTH*PRESSURE FROM PORTO RICANS
LOWERS PRICEDrop Just Prior to Xmas Helped Along By Temporary Closing of Refineries

That the urging for sale of an accumulation of Porto Rican sugar, coupled with the fact that three or four refineries were about to close temporarily for repairs, caused the drop in price of sugar just before Christmas, is the opinion expressed in the following sugar market review, published December 24 by Noyes & Callaghan, of 99 Wall Street, New York:

"The market has been comparatively inactive during the past week with only small transactions recorded. At the opening, the tone was very firm with only small offerings from Cuba in evidence, and an advance of 10c was established on sales to speculative buyers of some 8000 bags prompt shipment Cubas at 3 7/8c basis 96 deg. c. & f. (4.89c). Subsequently, refiners paid the same price for some small parcels in port in order to take out supplies prior to the closing down of their factories for the annual repair work. For a time the market remained very strong and owners of a cargo of Cubas which arrived in port asked 4c basis 96 deg. c. & f. (5.02c), and finding no buyers at this basis finally ordered the cargo into store. Holders of Cubas for shipment were asking 3 7/8c for December, 3 3/4c for first half January, 3 1/2c for last half January and 3 1/4c basis 96 deg. c. & f. for first half February shipments. Speculative buyers bid 2 5/8c for first half January clearance without securing any success.

"The light demand for refined, coupled with the approach of the Christmas holidays and the fact that three or four refineries are about to be closed down temporarily for repairs, made refiners extremely indifferent buyers, and sellers gradually modified their views as offerings showed some increase.

"An accumulation of Porto Ricans for December and early January shipment, which were urged for sale, met with very little demand and owners found it necessary to lower their price to 4 1/2c basis 96 deg. c. & f. in order to find buyers for some 18,000 bags December clearance parcels. Even at this basis buyers refused some 40,000 bags of Porto Ricans for first half January shipments. Following the sales of Porto Ricans, holders of Cubas accepted 3 1/4c basis 96 deg. c. & f. (4.21c) for 8000 bags for February shipment. The market closes dull with little interest displayed by refiners and with Cubas offered at 3 3/4c for December, 3 3/4c for first half and at 3 3/8c basis 96 deg. c. & f. for last half January clearance.

"The weekly cable on Tuesday from Cuba reported receipts of 12,683 tons and 55 Centrals grinding, as compared to 9000 tons receipts and 41 Centrals at the corresponding date last year. Today 64 Centrals are in operation and the weather is very favorable for the growing crop.

"Early in the week, in order to meet the cut in price of refined made by Philadelphia refiners, the American S. R. Co., National S. R. Co. and Arbuckle Bros. reduced their list price for Granulated to 5.95c less 2 per cent. The Federal S. R. Co. and Warner S. R. Co., on account of closing down did not change their list prices but announced that they were practically withdrawn from the market. Business generally was extremely moderate and mostly on a hand-to-mouth basis. The trade throughout the country is fairly well supplied for the time being and are not inclined to increase their commitments in the face of the holiday and inventory season. At the close, all interests are firm at 5.95c less 2 per cent, except the Federal S. R. Co. and Warner S. R. Co. who are closed down."

CADILLAC "B" TRAVELS
22,000 MILES IN 11 MONTHS

A Seattle, Wash., owner of a Cadillac Eight has driven his car 22,000 miles in the last 11 months. This is an average of 2000 miles a month, or better than 66 miles per day. The ordinary motor car owner in a city will drive an average of probably 5000 miles per year.

This Cadillac is the first of the 8-cylinder type delivered to a Seattle buyer. In spite of the fact that the distance it has covered is nearly equal to the earth's circumference, it has never been overhauled and the owner has just completed a tour of 1400 miles in California. The car was shipped to San Francisco and from there driven to Los Angeles by the coast route and back by the valley route. A number of side trips were taken, and two mountain ranges were crossed, one through the famous San Marco pass. The fastest day's travel was from Berkeley, Cal., to San Francisco. The distance of 306 miles between the two points was covered in 10 hours of running.

BAYONET TO "DUST" AWAY ALLIES' FOES

ST. JOHNS, N. B.—A grand "dust-off," largely through hand-to-hand encounters, is planned by Great Britain for next spring, according to Maj. H. G. Mayes, who recently arrived from England.

Maj. Mayes, who is to take charge of bayonet and physical drill at Quebec, said Great Britain will have 4,000,000 trained and equipped men in the field early this year.

"Conditions are excellent on the western front," said Maj. Mayes. "A great move is expected in the spring and the dusting off will consist mainly of hand-to-hand encounters on an enormous scale."

Several Belgian railways destroyed by war operations will be reopened next month.

DONS OF OXFORD WORK AS NAVVIES
ON WAR SUPPLIESDignified Professors Jolly Well
Keep Steaming to Hasten Munitions to Front

OXFORD, England.—Prominent in Oxford's war work is Sir William Osler, the professor of medicine. He is in charge of the Red Cross hospitals in charge of the Red Cross hospitals in the city.

One of the internes and a valuable assistant of Sir William is Dr. W. C. Davidson, a Rhodes scholar from New York City, who went to Serbia on Red Cross work for six months last year. He is now working in the hospital sleeping quarters for wounded in College Gardens.

Prof. Gilbert Murray, Prof. W. J. Sollas, Prof. F. Y. Edgeworth and Prof. R. R. Marrett have engaged themselves at a nearby arsenal to take the places of the regular ordnance men, and load trucks and shift shells for three ten-hour days a week.

There are 50 professors and 275 others, too old or otherwise unfit for military service, who form this volunteer organization, called, after one of its founders, Godley's army.

Real Navy His "Mate."

"Gilbert Murray is a private in the ranks and it's great to see him," said one of his fellow dons.

"He was paired off with a corporation road mender, and a rough one, too, to shift 176-pound cases of soap to trucks for Calais and the front." By the end of the day the pair got quite chummy, and when after each trip to the truck with a case of soap the road mender would say, "Mate, on, mate, and easy does it," nothing daunted, the famous translator of Euripides replied, "Easy it is, mate."

"The don went on to tell me that the professors, lawyers, clerks and others of sedentary habits had got over their first handicap of tender hands and aching backs and they now do four times as much as an equal number of regulars in one of their ten-hour days.

"O, they jolly well keep steaming all the time," he said. "Of course, they wouldn't be able to keep it up every day, but they are enthusiastic because they are volunteers; then too, some of the old uns have had sons killed at the front, and when they finish loading a car of shells for Calais they feel they're getting some of their own back."

It is certainly proof that for the moment in England party politics are laid aside, when professors from Harvard Oxford play the part of navvies to aid in the munition work of Liberal Lloyd George, but it is only one example of the many at Oxford, where war is making manual laborers of all classes.

Harvest Potato Crop.

Another is that of the wealthy lady who lent a piece of ground as a novel way of giving work to the unemployed, and, at the same time, furnishing a crop of potatoes. The unemployed who were unfit for military service got busy and planted potatoes. But by the time the crop was ripe most permanent jobs, left vacant by war, had fallen to their lot, and the lady found herself with a crop of potatoes in the ground, but no unemployed to get them out.

She called for volunteers from her friends at the university, and the result was that professors, tutors and dignified masters of colleges left their libraries and went out to hoe spuds while some of the debutantes busied themselves with sorting the crop into grades.

The crop was advertised for sale. Many of the dons who had dug the potatoes took a personal interest in their ultimate destination, so that the lady cleared more than $100 for the military hospitals.

FIVE 'Y' CLUBS WILL DEBATE ON DEFENSE ISSUE

"Resolved, that money spent for national defense could be used in a better way," is the question for debate among the five Intermediate Clubs of the "Y."

Arrangements have been made with the city library to have all available material on both sides of the question on a separate shelf so that the young men can go there at any time to study up on the question.

Medals will be given to the winners of the debate. The medals were ordered from New York some weeks ago and are on exhibition now at the association. It has been decided to have but two debaters on a team. The medals will go to the winners of the debate rather than to the club itself.

Each of the five clubs will have a debate among its own members. Three judges will be present to pass on the argument and delivery of each of the debaters, both in the main speech and the rebuttal. Then the percentage of the judges will be put together and the two men receiving the highest markings will be the ones chosen to represent their clubs. Two alternates will also be chosen.

A REAL FLESH BUILDER FOR THIN PEOPLE

Thin men and women—that big, hearty, billowing dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food doesn't work and stick, and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are probably sadly out of gear and need reconstruction.

Cut out the foolish foods and funny sawdust diets. Cut out everything but the meals you are eating and eat with every one of those a single Sargol tablet. In two weeks note the difference. Let the scales be the judge. Five to eight good solid pounds of healthy, "stay-there" fat may be the weak, stagnant blood with millions of fresh new red blood corpuscles—to give the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food, to prepare it for the blood in an easily assimilated form. Thin people tell how they have gained all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol and say that the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a careful combination of six of the best assimilable elements known to chemistry. They come 40 tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive, and Benson, Smith & Co., Hollister Drug Co., Chambers Drug Co. and all other good druggists in this vicinity sell them.—Adv.

Beauty—comfort—convenience—economy. You get all of these in this new Overland.

Built to meet the demand for a high grade light car it has all the quality and advantages of many cars that sell for a much higher price. Yet it is exceedingly economical both in purchase price and cost of upkeep.

The motor—sturdy and highly efficient—is of the latest and most approved in bloc type with a long stroke and small bore. It is designed for economical operation.

The long, low streamline body, with sloping bonnet, one-piece cowl, crowned fenders and full curved back is most attractive in appearance.

Control lever rear springs not only accentuate the long and low appearance but add much to the easy riding qualities of the car. They are probably the easiest riding springs ever designed.

In spite of its rugged strength and long wheel-base the car is light, weighing only 2160 pounds.

Large tyres give greater mileage and greater comfort than the smaller sizes usually found on cars of similar specifications.

In addition to these big advantages this Overland has electric lights and self-starter; an easy operating clutch with adjustable pedals; larger powerful brakes, demountable rims—everything that makes a car strictly up-to-date.

See this beautiful car. Let us prove to you its sterling qualities.

U. S. EXPERIMENT STATION GIVES TIMELY HINTS TO HAWAII FARMERS

An important fiber industry may be established when its general culture is assured in the islands. In India the crop is extensively used as a forage. Soy Beans.—Ten varieties mixed are offered. While a somewhat less certain crop than the preceding sorts, this valuable legume is nevertheless worthy of extended trial. The 10 best varieties out of some 60 tested at Haiku have been mixed, and these will enable the grower to select those best suited to his conditions. Garden Beans.—The following varieties of beans which differ from the foregoing in that they are cultivated chiefly as food for men rather than for fodder, have been selected as the best from among very extensive trials made at Haiku during the past three years. Of the Navy bean and the so-called "Maui Red" several acres were grown during the past year with good success both in yield and marketing. The remaining varieties here listed give promise of becoming valuable commercial varieties also. All the varieties listed are adapted to field culture.

Kidney Beans (bush form), Maui Reds, Small White Navy, or Crystal Wax; Lady Washington, Trailing varieties: Small White Navies: Red Mexican, Pinks: Tepary, the latter a remarkable drought resisting variety is equal to the best "navies" for culinary purposes.

Lima Beans.—Burpee's Bush Lima, a standard large podded lima bean succeeding well in the home garden. Monstrous Lima Bean.—An extra large-podded lima bean of trailing habit. Described by the originator as of bush form, but in our trials has developed a strong growth of vines.

A Sure Crop. Sweet Potatoes.—This is one of the surest crops that can be grown either in the garden or as a field crop. Twelve varieties have been grown at the Haiku station during the past three years. The three best varieties both as to cultural adaptability as well as market acceptability have been selected and are offered in the following list.

New Era.—A vigorous growing yellow variety and the most prolific yet tested. Especially adapted to stock feeding, although a fourth to a third are of a size and quality to make them acceptable for table use. Ten plants have given a gross yield of 280 pounds—vines and tubers—70 pounds of which consisted of tubers. Individual tubers weigh as high as five pounds at the end of a six months' growing season.

JUDGE HAS RULES TO HELP AVOID DIVORCE CASES

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—If his rules were followed by married people there would be fewer divorces, according to an opinion given by Judge W. M. Conley of Madera county, who probably has presided in more courts than any other superior court magistrate. "When a husband tells his wife that he is going to a lodge meeting when in reality he intends to go to a club and play cards, he is violating rule No. 1," said Judge Conley. "If he is a real mate and companion he will not forget to kiss his wife before leaving her in the morning and upon returning in the evening. Nor will he forget to furnish her with amusement or find charm in the way she dresses and conducts herself. "The same applies to the wife. If she is a real mate and companion she will not annoy her husband when he is reading the evening papers. She will always remember to be sweet to him and thus aid him in fighting the harsh battles of life. And she will show him that she is very proud of him.

"The time will never come when there will be no divorces. Nor should that time ever arrive. For when two people marry and then are unhappy in each other's company, are mismatched and cannot agree, it is only right that the contract between them should be severed and their children be given to the party best able to rear them and care for them. "It is a part of the duty of society to sever such unhappy marriage relationships so that the children may be reared in the best environment and under conditions which do not constantly sound and resound the keynote of quarrels and martial unhappiness."

MERE COINCIDENCE, OF COURSE.

"When Mr. Wilson sprung that Isaiah quotation some one found that Teddy had used it about a month before. And now comes the Boston Transcript and says:

"In comparing merchant ships 'weaving the delicate fabric of sympathy' to sutlers, President Wilson used a powerful and striking metaphor, for which, by some oversight of the printer, the proper credit was not given to Mr. Rudyard Kipling." But why should a government printer be always on the lookout? Did not this same Mr. Rudyard Kipling once say:

"When 'Omer smote 'is bloomin' lyre
'E 'eard men sing by land an' sea,
An' 'ot 'e 'ought 'e might require
'E went an' took 'e same as me."

JUDD SUGGESTS CREATING NEW FOREST RESERVE

Commissioner Would Fence Native Trees to Preserve Them for Tourists

In a report delivered this week at a meeting of the board of commissioners of agriculture and forestry, C. S. Judd, superintendent of forestry, reviewed the work which is being done under his supervision. He proposes to fence section A of the Oiaa forest, on the drive from Glenwood to the Volcano on Hawaii, in order to preserve the fern trees. He states in his report that the strips of forest along the Volcano trail are dying or dead, as they are only 150 feet wide and have been encroached on by grazing cattle, and are not large enough to maintain their integrity. He says it would be a waste of money to fence the land, which he recommends be eliminated from the forest reserve.

The commissioner also recommends that the forest reserve between Glenwood, at 22 miles, and Section C of the forest reserve at 23½ miles, be reclaimed by protective fencing. It is proposed in the report that a new forest reserve shall be created near the Volcano trail, about 4½ miles from the Puna boundary, to preserve a number of native Hawaiian trees which are the first to greet the eye of tourists. Mr. Judd says in the report that this forest can be preserved by fencing and a little care, and is of immense value.

THE GOL DARN YANK.

How our Australian cousins love us—with the reverse English—finds demonstration in the many embittered cartoons directed against President Wilson and the United States. As another example of this brotherly affection Cartoons Magazine offers the following verses taken from a Sydney newspaper:

They may talk o' Eagles screamin'
And the glory o' the Yank,
But o' scrap he's never dreamin'.
So it's only gol darn swank.
He guesses some each mornin',
And he calculates at night;
He's something big at fawning
When the dollars are in sight.
He's a crossbred Dago Yankee, & Noo Yark Port-a-gee.
Right smart and awful swanky
Since the old men spilt the tea
But he ain't done no shootin'
Since the Junkers drowned his kids,
And folks think 'e wants bootin'
Cos he held his hand for quids.
He's a gol darn,
He's a gol darn,
But 'e ain't what we call white.
He's a gol darn,
He's a gol darn,
He's a gol darn Yankee skite.

CHAPTER XLVII.

HOW ANALYSIS DECIDES METHODS.

After you have found out by analyses who your best prospects are and where they are, then you will know not only where to advertise, but also you will have a much better idea of how to advertise.

For instance, suppose you had an automobile accessory to put on the market. Of course your first task would be to make the people in the city want your article, because this kind of sales development can be done at the least expense comparatively; but if you knew that in Pennsylvania and Ohio a fairly authoritative investigation shows that 24% of the farmers own autos; and if you knew that in Indiana about 19% of them own motor vehicles; and if you knew that in Nebraska nearly 30% of them drive cars, then you could well see that the farmer population ought to be reached by your advertising plans.

Suppose you had something to sell that would appeal to housemaids only. You would have to figure out how many possible prospects this class of workers comprise. Of course if you were able to sell to one hundred million people, it would probably be wiser for you to make your price as low as possible, because in that way you would get the greatest revenue. But if you knew there were only two million housemaids in the United States, you would at once know that you could, with maximum efficiency, sell only 2% of the people that would help decide your advertising methods.

Suppose you were advertising one of the many preparations which exist which are designed to straighten out the kinks in the hair of colored people. You might think there would be a very small market for this article. The fact is, however, that there are nine million colored folks in the United States and if your advertising were in the South, a large percentage of the public might be persuaded to buy your product.

Some of the big advertisers today are using as their subjects the familiar figures of the railroad world, the fireman and the engineer. These characters are surrounded with an atmosphere of romance and have an indirect appeal on that ground. But such characters, when used in an advertisement, have direct appeal to all those who are interested in the railroad industry and when you consider that there are seven million such in the United States, you can see what a great populace you are talking in terms of their daily work.

If iron and steel are badly hurt by industrial conditions and production has been reduced to a minimum in this trade, then you know that many who live by their earnings from this industry are, for the time being, without the wherewithal to buy what you have to sell. Offhand, you might think that this comprised but a small percentage of the total buyers. But high grade statistics will give you the truth of the matter, which is that there are five million who make their living in the iron and steel industry of the United States.

There are probably more farm statistics than any other kind of official figures. These will be of help in almost any kind of advertising problem. As an example, if you are advertising a stump puller, where would your market be? In the North Atlantic states the farm lands comprise nearly 40,000 improved acres as against 20,000 of wood lands. In the South Atlantic states the proportion is half and half. Thus you see there is far more stump pulling to be done in the former than in the latter and, consequently, the knowledge of this comparison might tell you which would be the better market to work.

When the thermos bottle was first put on the market, the idea was that this novelty would be a great aid to the enjoyment of the picnics of the wealthy. As the thing developed, it was found that a tremendous market existed among the factory workers who would like to take a warm drink to work with them to be used at the noon hour. This discovery changed the entire complexion of the market. Instead of the prospects being a comparative handful of wealthy people, the circle of possible buyers was changed to millions of wage earners. As a result, the entire advertising method underwent a transformation. Also, the price was changed so as to be within reach of the greatest possible number of buyers.

That has been the history of many a marketing problem. Experience has changed the entire plan and has often resulted in the widening of the market and the decreasing of the price. A knowledge of statistics and an analysis of conditions will often go a great way to save part of the expense which an unforseen experience always involves.

Senator Works of California, known as an advocate of peace and who has done much to spread peace propaganda, made a speech in the senate December 16 in which he sharply directed the attention of the country to the need of preparing for war in order to maintain peace. He would not admit there is danger of war with any foreign country but emphasized what would happen if such a war did occur. Senator Works introduced a new idea when he proposed to establish a mobile land force on a military reserve capable of maintaining 200,000 men at an estimated cost of $50,000,000 a year. Under the plan proposed by Senator Works many thousands of those who find it hard to earn a liv-

Missionaries Report Violent
Eruption Again on Island of Ambrim

SYDNEY, Australia.—Delayed reports have brought news of a fresh volcanic outbreak on the island of Ambrim, in the New Hebrides group, a spot which experienced a most destructive volcanic eruption in December, 1913. The Rev. A. T. Waters, a missionary stationed on the island of Oba, about 60 miles from Ambrim, writes that on the first few days of October last smoke and volcanic ash clouded the sky so thickly that the sun gave only a weird light like the moon, and it eventually became so dark that the people on Oba had to light lamps. Everything became gritty with ashes indoors, and out-of-doors they were so thick that the sea could not be seen from the mission house, which ordinarily afforded a fine view of the water.

There was for a time some panic among the natives of Oba who thought one of the mountains on their own island was in eruption, but the source of the trouble was later traced to Ambrim, and it appeared as though the entire island was burning. The missionary's letter did not say that any one ventured to visit Ambrim during the eruption, and the extent of the damage or loss of life, if any, is unknown. The previous eruption at Ambrim, in December, 1913, was reported to have cost the lives of 500 natives, and to have completely altered the face and coast line of the island. According to the natives of Oba the recent trouble appeared to have been still worse than the previous eruption.

Little is known as to the interior of Ambrim, which has been visited but rarely by white men. No census has ever been taken, but among the coast settlements there are a number of mission stations, mainly Roman Catholic and Presbyterian, whose members had a narrow escape in the previous eruption. The New Hebrides islands have been controlled since 1906 by a joint commission of British and French officials under the supervision of two resident commissioners, one appointed by each nation.
