BOARD OF HEALTH MEETING.
General Discussion About Leper Settlement Matters.
AGENT MEYER REPORTS IN PERSON

Action of the Board Concerning Petitions from Would-be Kokua—Letters and Recommendations Considered—No Awa to be Sold at Kalaupapa.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Health held yesterday afternoon there were present: President W. O. Smith, T. F. Lausing, Dr. N. B. Emerson, J. T. Waterhouse, Dr. Wood, Dr. Day, John Ena, Health Officer Reynolds and R. W. Meyer, agent of the Board at Molokai.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

President Smith reported in relation to the matter of the expiration of Dr. Goto's engagement that he had written to Dr. Goto and also to Dr. Moritz and Dr. Oliver, asking that the Board be furnished with a report on the cases treated by Dr. Goto and which were the subject of two former reports.

Dr. W. T. Monsarrat's report of animals slaughtered during the week showed 139 bullocks, 31 calves, and 120 sheep, of which 91 bullocks and 4 calves had flu, liver, while one bullock was affected with fluke abscess.

From the report of Agent Meyer, it appears that the expenses of the Leper Settlement for the month ending on February 28th were $841.55.

In the matter of the applications of Kalia, Kale Kaula, Kalamo, Kanea and Kealahina to be allowed to go to Molokai as kokua, the Board granted the two latter, but refused the others.

These applications brought up the whole subject of the advisability of allowing kokua at the settlement, and a long discussion ensued, in which all the members of the Board took part.

A report from Ambrose Hutchingson, acting Superintendent of the Leper Settlement, in regard to evening performances at Beretania Hall, was read and filed, as was also a letter from Father Conrady about marriage licenses.

A numerous signed petition was received, asking that a license to sell awa be granted to some one at the settlement. The board denied the petition.

The petition of Labels (w) to have her ten-year-old sister placed in the Kapolei Home was granted, upon proper proof being made to the executive officer.

A communication from Gulstan, Bishop of Panapolis, was received, stating that the cost of bringing four Catholic Brothers for the Boys' Home at Kalaupapa from France to the islands would be $1000, which amount was voted by the board for that purpose.

Referring to the subject of drawing up a set of rules for the government of the Home for Boys and Men at the settlement, President Smith stated that he had discussed the matter with Mr. Meyer since his arrival, and that during his two weeks' stay in the city a set of rules would be formulated and presented to the board for consideration.

Mr. Reynolds reported that 100 tubes of vaccine virus was being received by each steamer from the south and that it was sufficient for all present purposes.

A letter from Dr. Warren Meiners, at Freeport, Maine, received by President Smith and read by the board, and Health Officer Reynolds, stated that he had inquired the opportunities for physicians in Honolulu, and presented a long list of accomplishments and references possessed by the gentleman.

Dr. Wood, as a member of the Examining Board at the Kalihi Receiving Station, reported in favor of adopting rules for the guidance of the board in making examinations of supposed lepers. He stated that at present no rules were in force except a resolution of the Board of Health that no commitments should be made without the consent of three physicians. He was in favor of increasing the number of examiners to five, of whom four should be fully agreed on the case.

Dr. Day stated that it was the intention of the local physicians to hold their proposed first annual conference in this city in the month of May, and suggested that the board send an invitation to all Government physicians to attend. Secretary Whitney was instructed to send typewritten copies of such an invitation to each physician in the Government employ.

President Smith notified the board that he would probably be absent on Maui next week on official business, and that in such case there would be no meeting of the board next week.

Deported People Return at Risk of Imprisonment—Claims Against the Government to Go to the Supreme Court. Chinese Engine Company Petitions.

The Advisory Councils at the session yesterday morning considered several important measures growing out of the recent troubles.

After the reading of the minutes the secretary read the correspondence between Chief Hunt and the China Engine Company regarding the removal of the company from service. A petition was presented asking for the continuance of the organization. This document was signed by all the fire insurance agents in the city. The matter was referred to the Minister of the Interior.

Prof. Hosmer reported from the judiciary committee the following Act relating to the unauthorized wearing of police badges and uniforms, and of badges and uniforms resembling the same:

SECTION 1. Any person not a duly commissioned police officer, or member of the Police Organization known as the "Citizens' Guard," who shall wear or display a Policeman's badge or a Citizens' Guard badge, or wear a policeman's uniform or the uniform of a member of the Citizens' Guard with intent to deceive shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction be punished by a fine not to exceed fifty dollars.

SECTION 2. Any person not a duly commissioned officer, or member of the Police Organization known as the "Citizens' Guard," who shall wear or display a badge or uniform resembling the badge or uniform authorized by the Marshal to be worn by police officers and members of the Citizens' Guard with intent to deceive shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and be punished by a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars.

SECTION 3. This Act shall take effect from the date of its publication.

The indemnity act referred to the committee at the last meeting had been thoroughly revised and a new bill would be introduced by Minister Hatch. Regarding the payment of Dr. Rodgers' salary, the committee recommended that the secretary be given his compensation by special act. Mr. Kennedy asked if this would not be class legislation. President Dole questioned the advisability of special legislation that was contrary to the spirit of the statute. He believed the matter should remain as it was. Minister Damon reiterated the opinion expressed at the previous session that Dr. Rodgers might well relinquish one of his positions. The report of the committee was tabled.

Minister Hatch introduced an act repealing Sections 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 of an Act entitled, "An Act to provide for the bringing of suits by or against the Hawaiian Government," approved September 6, 1888. This was referred to the Judiciary Committee, whereupon Mr. Hatch introduced the following measure, which practically constitutes the Supreme Court a Court of Claims, before which all claims against the Government must be brought:

SECTION 1. The Supreme Court shall have exclusive jurisdiction to hear and determine the following matters, and shall determine all questions of fact involved without the intervention of a jury.

First—All claims against the Government founded upon any law of the Republic, or upon any regulation of the executive Department; or upon any contract, expressed or implied, with the Government, and all claims which may be referred to it by either House of the Legislature. Provided, however, that no suit shall be authorized, nor shall any process issue against the Government, based on any contract or any act of any Government officer which such officer is not authorized to make or do by the laws of the Republic.

Second—All set-offs, counter claims, claims for damages, whether liquidated or unliquidated, or other demands whatsoever, on the part of the Government against any person making claim against the Government under the provisions of this Act.

SECTION 2. Upon the trial of any cause in which any set-off, counter claim, claim for damages or other demand is set up on the part of the Government against any person making claim against the Government in said Court, the Court shall hear and determine such claim or demand both for and against the Government and claimant; and it, upon the whole case, it finds that the claimant is indebted to the Government, it shall render judgment to that effect, and such judgment shall be final.

SECTION 3. No person shall file or prosecute as aforesaid any claim for or in respect to which he or any assignee of his has pending in any other court any suit or process against any person who, at the time when the cause of action alleged in such suit or process arose, was, in respect thereto, acting or professing to act, immediately or immediately, under the authority of this Government.

SECTION 4. Aliens, who are citizens or subjects of any Government which accords to citizens of this Republic the right to prosecute claims against such Government in its courts, shall have the privilege of prosecuting claims against this Government as aforesaid.

SECTION 5. Every claim against this Government, cognizable as aforesaid, shall be forever barred unless the petition setting forth a statement thereof is filed in the court, or transmitted it by the Secretary of the Senate or Clerk of the House of Representatives, as provided by law, within two years after the claim first accrues. Provided, that the claims of married women first accrued during marriage, of persons under the age of twenty-one years first accrued during minority, and of idiots, lunatics, insane persons, and persons beyond the seas at the time the claim accrued plunder the city of Honolulu, and to terrorize the inhabitants thereof, and for a time to overthrow and destroy all government; and

WHEREAS, Upon being informed of said rebellion the President in pursuance of his constitutional authority, did proclaim that martial law should obtain and prevail throughout the island of Oahu; and

WHEREAS, The military and police forces of this Government, with the loyal cooperation of other residents of this island have arrested the spread of this rebellion and have saved the lives and property of law-abiding citizens from imminent general sacrifice; and

WHEREAS, The military or civil authorities necessarily employed in the prompt suppression of the atrocities aforesaid may according to the law of ordinary peace be responsible in person or purse for acts done in good faith for the purpose of restoring peace or quelling rebellion; and

WHEREAS, It is expedient that all persons, who in good faith have acted for the crushing of rebellion, should be indemnified and kept harmless for such their acts of loyalty.

Be it enacted by the Executive and Advisory Councils of the Republic of Hawaii:

SECTION 1. All proclamations and orders published or made and all acts, matters and things commanded, directed or done, or to be commanded, directed or done by the President, or by any officer of the Government, or by any person acting under the authority of the President, or in good faith for the purpose of restoring peace or quelling rebellion, and during the time herein declared that is to say, on, from and since January 6 1895, until martial law shall be declared to be no longer in force, who have done in a district in which martial law was proclaimed or was in force or done in a district in which martial law was in force, in the proclamation or furtherance of martial law, or in the suppression of insurrection, or in the establishment of a military tribunal, or in the arrest, imprisonment, deportation, trial, conviction or sentence of any person charged with treason, or with any disloyal or seditious practice or act or with any act or conspiracy dangerous to the peace, or to the safety of life or property, or in the arrest and detention of persons held for investigation, are hereby made and declared to be lawful and confirmed.

SECTION 2. No prosecution, indictment, action or suit shall be maintained in any court, criminal or civil, against any officer of the Government or other person acting bona fide under the authority of any officer of the Government, for any acts done or omitted to be done in furtherance of martial law or done as set out in Section 1 of this Act, whether done in a district in which martial law was in force, or otherwise, on, from and since January 6, 1895, until martial law shall be revoked; and all officers of the Government and other persons acting bona fide as aforesaid are hereby indemnified in respect to said acts.

SECTION 3. In order to prevent any doubt which might arise whether any act alleged to have been done as aforesaid under the order or authority of the President, or to have been done bona fide in order to suppress insurrection was so done, it shall be lawful for the President or his successor to declare such acts to have been done under such order or authority or bona fide for the purpose aforesaid; and such declaration by any writing under the order or authority of the President, or his successor, shall, in all cases, be conclusive evidence that such acts were so done respectively; and such order or declaration may be shown under the general issue of pleaded in bar, and, if so pleaded, such plea shall suffice although it may set out merely the general effect of such order or declaration, or the fact only that such order or approval was given prior to the matter complained of or has been since received.

SECTION 4. This Act shall take effect from and after the date of its approval.

Mr. Hatch stated that, although this measure was very comprehensive, it was not new in the annals of nations. Such measures had been passed in the United States after the rebellion, and precedents were found in English history.

President Dole suggested that in view of the commissions and constitution prepared by the rebel leaders, objection might be made to the word "all" in the expression "to destroy all Government."

Mr. Damon favored striking out the entire preamble, as it would serve to keep alive old issues and not tend to create a forgetful spirit. All that was needed was the spirit of the law, without explanatory remarks.

The Attorney General held that the measure was to justify acts that were justifiable only under extraordinary and unusual conditions. The preamble was an explanatory statement with the idea of showing for all time the conditions that made the action of the Legislature and Government proper.

Mr. Kennedy was inclined to favor Minister Damon's views. The act was for this country, and this community well knew the conditions that surrounded them, there being no necessity to cater to foreign nations. He believed all the preamble should be struck out.

President Dole was aware of the knowledge the people had today, but thought the explanatory paragraphs necessary for those coming after.

Messrs. Castle and Smith expressed themselves as favoring the preamble, provided "the" was substituted for "all" in the expression referred to. Dr. Wood favored putting the situation in black and white, as there are men in the country today who do not realize in what a serious position they were placed.

Minister Hatch said it was well to bring the law within the lines of precedent. Nothing should be over-stated; no more should it be understated. The revolutionary movement was undertaken by an undisciplined body. There was nothing to show they had any particular regard for their leaders, and liquor was depended on to a great degree. Had the crowd reached Honolulu, mob rule must have held sway for a time at least.

Mr. Damon wished he had the power and ability to throw light on the idea of the broad views that he felt must be taken in the conduct of the nation. Now was a golden opportunity for making the Hawaiians free from bad feelings against the existing Government.

The Attorney General held there was nothing of the spirit of "rubbing it in" in the preamble. The Executive had been called upon to take prompt and unusual action, and by the adoption of this measure, support was given the Executive.

Dr. Wood felt it due the Citizens' Guard to give some insight into the conditions that confronted them on the night of January 6th, when they were called out and the Government delayed in proclaiming martial law.

The Act passed the second reading, and the Councils adjourned to 2 o'clock this afternoon.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT.

Matthew Noall Found Not Guilty of Opening a Letter.

Two Chinese were fined $25 and $20 respectively for gambling.

The case against W. Smithies, charged with assaulting Kuniakea, was dismissed.

The trial of M. Noal, charged with opening a letter addressed to H. N. Hottendorf resulted in his being found not guilty. J. A. Magoon assisted in the prosecution and W. R. Castle conducted the defense.

Jim Kukona will be tried today on two charges, one of which is for the larceny of $50 from a Portuguese and, the other of being a gross cheat in obtaining $8 under false representations from F. S. Casquillo. Kukona's was the last arrest Detective Larsen made previous to his resignation.

FIRE IN A BAKERY.

The Department Called Out for a Small Midnight Blaze.

At a quarter to twelve last night an alarm of fire was turned in from Love's bakery on Nuuanu street, and the department lost no time in getting to the locality. The fire was found to be in the rear of a small Chinese bakery adjoining the old No. 4 Engine House, but it had been extinguished by Chinese with the aid of a few buckets of water before the department could reach the place. Considering the dangerous character of the buildings in that portion of Nuuanu street and the high wind prevailing, it was fortunate the fire gained no headway. The damage was trifling.

Absurd Rumors.

A rumor to the effect that President Cleveland had caused the imprisonment of no less than thirty United States Senators on charges of bribery in connection with Hawaiian affairs was going about among the native population yesterday. Several were asked concerning it but although they had heard it no particulars could be obtained beyond the statements that the news was brought here by the Transit and that Senator Morgan was the ringleader.

South Sea Islanders as Missionaries.

A valedictory meeting was held in St. John's schoolroom on Friday evening to take leave of four South Sea Islanders, who proceed to New Guinea today to work in the Anglican mission. The boys belong to the class in connection with St. John's Cathedral, three of them having been baptised and confirmed at St. John's, the fourth in Sydney. Canon Stone Wigg presided, and after prayer and hymns, stated that when these boys reached New Guinea the parish of St. John's would have supplied seven teachers to the work of the Australian Board of Missions, two boys having previously been sent to New Guinea and one to Bellenden K. After dwelling on the simplicity of their faith and the reality of their enthusiasm, he described the splendid work done in New Guinea by Harry Mark, who was sent there nearly two years ago. He had picked up the native language in less than three months, and had built himself both a house and a school church, which was well attended for school purposes by the children on week days, and by the adult natives on Sundays. The chairman concluded by commending those who were setting out for the mission to the daily prayers of all present. The four islanders briefly spoke in turn, impressing their hearers with their sincerity and earnestness. They said they had come to Queensland in ignorance of God, and had heard here the good news of His love, which they hoped to carry to those who were now as ignorant as they had been. The meeting closed with the benediction. — Sydney (N. S. W.) Herald.

DESERVED TO MARRY.

This Is About a Girl Who Had a Long Head.

There was a young man who had a girl friend. He went to see her at irregular intervals. He made his last call one day last week. She had some wedding cake from the nuptials of a friend of hers, and she was telling him of a new way she had discovered for finding out whether you were going to get married within a year.

"I will take some of the cake," she said, "and put it in this envelope, and I will take seven slips of paper and write on six of them the names of six girls you know, any one of whom you are likely to marry. Then I will put the slips in the envelope with the wedding cake and give the whole thing to you. Now, you must take it and put it under your pillow when you go home. In the morning, the very first thing after you open your eyes, you must take out one slip. Do this for seven mornings in succession, and on the last slip will be the name of the girl you are sure to marry. If the black comes last you will never marry."

The young man was quite impressed with the scheme. He took the envelope and promised faithfully to fulfill all the conditions, and to come back and report at the end of seven days. He went home and put the envelope under his pillow. Next morning he drew out a slip, and on it was the name of the girl who had given the charm to him. He thought that that was pretty tough luck, for he really liked the girl very much. He was out rather late next night, and when he awoke he was in a hurry and forgot all about the charm. When he got home that night he began thinking the matter over, and wondering who the other girls were.

He got the envelope and peered into it. The slips were all carefully folded and he could not see a name. Then his curiosity got the upper hand. He took out all the slips and unfolded them. The remaining six had names on them and in each instance the name was that of the girl who had prepared the charm. He sat down and thought long and earnestly. Then he put on his evening clothes and went straight up to that girl's house. He stayed a long time, and when he came away he was smiling and happy, and there is going to be a wedding on the West Side one of these days! There is a girl who has a long head. — Buffalo Express.

THE GAYHEAD'S SAILORS.

Released From Jail But Refuse to Work.

The three sailors of the Gayhead who were arrested the other day on suspicion of having set their vessel on fire, were released today and sent back aboard the whaler, which is docked at the Mail wharf. On arriving at their destination they were told to get to work immediately with the remainder of the crew, but they refused absolutely to do a stroke. While the other men were hard at work on the casks of provisions taken from the vessel, the three liberated suspects enjoyed their pipes in a very comfortable manner. The reason for their refusal to work was asked, but the only answer received was to the effect that the captain had better see the American consul.

The men put on a very insolent manner and acted in a most high-handed way when approached by any of the officers. It is very probable, however, that the men will have to get to work today. When seen yesterday they were very neatly dressed and looked as if they had enjoyed their jail experience.

In a conversation with some of the sailors today, among whom was an Hawaiian from this island, it seemed to be the general opinion that the three men are not what might be called perfectly "straight." It seems that the three have been in the habit of conversing together at various times, and always when no one was near enough to catch any of the words.

"I do not understand," said one of the men, "why these three fellows were always together, and, if they did set the vessel afire, I cannot see their reason, for we have always been treated well by the officers; in fact, we like it here."

It is a fact worthy of notice that, although the Gayhead has been alongside the Mail wharf since Friday night, not an attempt to get away has been made on the part of any of the crew.

PORTUGUESE ON THE WAY.

Nine Hundred or More Expected Early Next Month.

The result of Minister Thurston's efforts in the matter of encouraging Portuguese immigration will become apparent much sooner than is generally expected. The German steamer Braunfels is now on the way from the Azores with about 600 able-bodied Portuguese, who are coming to work on sugar plantations under the terms agreed on by Mr. Thurston and representatives of the Portuguese Government. Many of these are bringing their families with them, which will bring the total number of those now on the way to about 900 souls.

The Boards of Health and Immigration are already making arrangements for the reception of this large addition to the population of the islands, but are in somewhat of a quandary where to put them, many of the old buildings formerly used by the Immigration Department for such purposes having been rented to native tenants. It is more than likely that special accommodations will be arranged for them at the Quarantine Station, although they cannot be regularly quarantined unless some infectious disease should have broken out on the voyage. The Braunfels left the Azores on February 6th, and is expected to make the passage in about sixty days.

Trouble Among Chinese.

There was a rumor afloat yesterday that the two Chinese high-binders' societies, supposed to exist in this city, were going to have trouble last night. A watch was kept on what was supposed to be the most likely place for a meeting of the societies, but nothing startling occurred. It seems that there are two Chinese high-binders' societies in existence here, and that they have had trouble lately over some small matters. In their anxiety, each to get ahead of the other, the matter of their existence has been unwittingly spread abroad. That there is liable to be trouble soon seems to be the opinion of several Chinamen spoken to yesterday.

The Lei Ilma Hop.

The subscription dance held at Sans Souci last night by the Lei Ilma Club was a success through and through, and was enjoyed most thoroughly by the fifty couples who were in attendance. The music, which was all that could be desired, was furnished by the Quintette Club. There were seventeen dances and several extras on the programme.

W. C. T. U.

It is a token of the times that one of the new rules of the Lawrence scientific school faculty of Harvard University requires the young men students to take a course of hygienic cooking. The Boston cooking school will initiate them into the mysteries of dishpan and kettle, and there was no end of feminine gloating over the fact when the announcement was made in the presence of certain wise young women who are studying the classics.

Ex-Secretary Whitney says the trouble with America is too much silver and too much tariff. White ribboners say the trouble is too much alcoholic drink. The fact is, the women spend their money for dry goods and the men for wet goods, or in other words, extravagance and indulgence are the two roots of the upas tree that casts its poisonous blight upon the nation. All the silver in the country, the result of centuries of gathering up of filthy lucre, would not meet the drink bill of a single year; $1,600,000,000 for 1894, for liquor and tobacco.

The eighty-ninth dinner of the New England society in New York city, had its usual array of bright-men-speakers, but no women. The same was conspicuously true of the dinner given to Dr. Parkhurst. It was all very well for women to tug and toil and help bring in the famous victory over Tammany, but when it came to doing honor to the leader of the movement men crowded in with an absence of gallantry that will be the amusement of a more cultured generation, and relegated the ladies to the gallery, where they could watch their lords as they dined, and could inhale the tobacco smoke wafted from their lungs to the ceiling, along with the eloquent voices of "the brethren," who meant well, but who had not enough of the "arrest of thought" to realize how pleasant it would have been for the women to be seated with them, and how refined it would have been to have banished the tobacco smoke during the hour when they celebrated the victory of cleanliness over the fumes, the fog and the folly of New York's volcanic and volcanic politics.

The New Zealand legislature, founded on co-citizenship, is taking some advance steps as might have been expected. The lower house has prohibited the sale of intoxicants at its bar and has adopted a time limit for debates. The latter fact moves the Review of Reviews to remark: "It is a curious comment upon the various proverbial sayings as to 'female loquacity,' that the first Antipodean session in which women had a voice, should have a drastic time limit upon the chatter of Parliament."

May Not Leave.

Archie McDowell does not know whether he will get away on the Mariposa today or not. Marshal Hitchcock has deposited the amount of his fare to Sydney with the agents, but the latter refuse to make any promise to take him until the vessel arrives. It is likely that Captain Hayward will bring instructions on the question of Hawaiian refugees with him, and, in the meantime, the agents will take no chances.

Demurrer Overruled.

Judge Cooper heard arguments yesterday on the demurrer in the case of the executors of the Waterhouse estate against the Dimond heirs. The Court overruled the demurrer and gave the defendants five days to answer.

Of Interest to Managers of Plantations.

A Model Plant is not complete without Electric Power, thus dispensing with small Engines.

Why not generate your power from one CENTRAL Station? One generator can furnish power to your Pumps, Centrifugals, Elevators, Plovers, Railways and Hoists; also furnish light and power for a radius of from 15 to 20 miles.

Electric Power being used saves the labor of hauling coal in your field, also water, and does away with high priced engines, and only have one engine to look after in your mill.

When water power is available, it costs nothing to generate Electric Power. The HAWAIIAN Electric Company is now ready to furnish Electric Pumps and Generators of all descriptions at short notice, and also has on hand a large stock of Wire, Chandeliers, and all Electrical Goods.

All orders will be given prompt attention, and estimates furnished for Lighting and Power Plants; also attention is given to House and Marine Wiring.

National Cane Shredder

PATENTED UNDER THE LAWS OF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

Mr. John A. Scott, Manager of the Hilo Sugar Company gives the following wonderful record of the working of the NATIONAL CANE SHREDDER, which was erected by their works at the commencement of the crop just harvested:

"During the past week the Hilo Sugar Company's mill exceeded any of its former records by closing the 125 hours grinding with an output of 3000 tons. This is fully 10 per cent. more than the best work of former years.

"The three roller mill being 26 in. by 54 in. and the two roller mill 30 in. by 60 in. The first mill doing this amount of work in an efficient manner and with great ease, compared with work on whole cane, owing to thorough preparation of the cane by the National Cane Shredder, recently erected by the Company. And by its use the extraction has been increased from 3 per cent. to 5 per cent. on all kinds of cane, and in some cases 80 per cent. has been reached; the average being 75 to 78 per cent., according to quality.

"I continue to find the megass from shredded cane better fuel than from whole cane.

"The shredder has been working day and night for seven months and has given me entire satisfaction, having shredded during that time about seventy thousand tons of cane, and a large part of it being hard ratoons.

"The shredder and engine require very little care or attention."

Plans and specifications of these shredders may be seen at the office of

WALLACE R. FARRINGTON, EDITOR.

THURSDAY, MARCH 14, 1895.

Rumors circulating among the natives would indicate that many of them are still inclined to look upon President Cleveland as not particularly friendly to the Republic.

To what extent the issue at stake should be kept alive in the minds of the people, as brought out in the discussion of the preamble of the indemnity law, is a feature of the recent rebellion which cannot well be overlooked. There is a fine medium between "rubbing it in" and sweeping the whole affair into the forgotten past, which must of a necessity be maintained. It is always a good plan to search for the silver lining of the cloud, but it will never do for the brilliancy of the reflection to blind one to each and every aspect which the cloud may present. It would be most despicable to constantly flaunt the red flag of the past in the faces of those defeated, but there are hard, cold, undeniable facts which, in justice to those who are to come after, this country cannot afford to pass, trusting to luck that the situation will always be understood as it is today. It is much better to look matters squarely in the face, rather than depend on gilt-edged hopes that stand an even chance of having little more than a theoretical foundation. This is no time to back and fill, though there is no necessity, nor is it desirable, to go to extremes.

PRECEDENT FOR INDEMNITY LAW.

The act of indemnity and oblivion introduced in the Advisory Councils yesterday, is a natural and necessary measure growing out of the extraordinary conditions thrust upon the community by a rebellious body of men. Precedents for such action may be found in English and American history, where the Executive and their supporters have been called upon to rule with a high hand, performing acts which under civil law would not be countenanced.

An instance particularly pertinent to the present situation in this country, is found in a case brought before the Queen's bench as a result of the Jamaica rebellion of 1865. Martial law had been declared in those portions of the country where the rebel spirit centered. In the course of the suppression of the uprising the Governor of the island subjected a British subject to imprisonment, flogging and deportation from the colony. After martial law had been revoked, this man brought suit against the Governor of Jamaica, who sought protection under an indemnity act the legality of which was upheld by the court. In rendering the decision of the court the judge called attention to the fact that for the Governor to act during a time of peril, within the precise limits of the law of ordinary peace would be a difficult and impossible task and to hesitate or temporize might entail disastrous consequences. "It is manifest, however, that there may be occasions in which the necessity of the case demands prompt and speedy action for the maintenance of law and order at whatever risk and where the Governor may be compelled unless he shirk from the discharge of a paramount duty, to exercise de facto powers which the legislature would assuredly have confided to him if the emergency could have been foreseen, trusting that whatever he has honestly done for the safety of the state, will be ratified by an act of indemnity and oblivion. There may not be time to appeal to the Legislature for special powers. The Governor may have, on his own responsibility, to arm loyal subjects, to seize or secure arms, to detain suspected persons and even to meet armed force with armed force in the open field.

"If he hesitates the opportunity may be lost of checking the first outbreak of insurrection, whilst by vigorous action the consequences of allowing the insurgents to take the field in force may be averted."

The attempt to belittle the possibilities of the rebellion, which has cropped out so frequently, can be answered in no better words than those of the judge: "The very efficiency of his measures may diminish the estimate of the danger with which he had to cope, and the danger once past, every measure he has adopted may be challenged as violent and oppressive, and he and every one who advised him or acted by his authority may be called upon, in action at the suit of individuals dissatisfied with his conduct, to establish the necessity or regularity of every act in detail by evidence which it may be against public policy to disclose."

"The bare litigation to which he may be exposed may be harassing and ruinous. Under these and like circumstances it seems plainly within the competence of the Legislature, which could have authorized by antecedent legislation the acts done as necessary or proper for preserving the public peace, upon a due consideration of the circumstances, to adopt and ratify like acts when done, or, in the language of the law and consideration, to enact that they shall be, made and declared lawful and confirmed."

Timely Copies Chronometer

March 9, 1895.

When a man puts his wits together and invents machinery that saves money to the farmer, the manufacturer or the planter he is called the foe to labor. The fact that he gives to the world the means of producing staples at a less cost, and consequently becomes a benefactor of the masses indirectly is not recognized. That he has taken work from an individual or certain classes of wage workers is sufficient cause for the condemnation that is landed on his head.

The man who invented the sugar land implements that we sell did that which acts to a certain degree as an offset to any tariff legislation in the United States.

A whole colony of plantation laborers could not do in one day what an Avery Stubble Digger operated by one man can perform. It saves labor and consequently coin. In distributing fertilizers every plantation manager knows that it cannot be done by hand without loss of material. By the use of the Avery Fertilizer Distributor the material is spread so evenly that there is no loss whatever, and one man with one of these machines can do as much work as nine without it.

The results that follow the use of these implements apply as well to the Stubble Shovers and Disc Cultivators.

The following testimonials regarding the implements should be a sufficient guarantee of their usefulness.

HUTCHINSON PLANTATION COMPANY, NA'ALEHU, HAWAII.
March 1st, 1895.

DEAR SIR: In answer to your letter inquiring about the Avery Stubble Diggers and Fertilizer Distributor, I would say that the fact that we have just received the second stubble digger speaks for itself. We have dug over four hundred acres of ratoon stools and consider it will be a great benefit.

The Fertilizer Distributor is a good thing and has effected a material saving of labor in the application of Fertilizer and applies it better than can be done by hand.

These machines are very simple and well constructed and we have had no trouble with the working of them and we consider them one of the most useful labor saving machines that can be used on a plantation.

Yours Truly,
G. C. HEWITT,
Manager H. S. P. Co.

ONOMEA SUGAR COMPANY,
PAPAIOU, HAWAII, February 25, 1895.
MR. JOHN A. COTT, Wainaku, Hawaii.

DEAR SIR: The Onomea Sugar Company has now in use three of the Stubble Diggers.

I think these machines are indispensable for the proper cultivation of ratoon stools.

We have never had an implement that would so thoroughly loosen the earth around the stools, and put the soil in such condition that the air, moisture and fertilizer would so readily find access to the fine roots of the cane and the soil around them.

I am glad to testify to the merits of these tools. The Sugar Land Disc Cultivators arrived too late for much use in the cultivation of the last young plant and ratoon stools, but I believe they will prove to be very useful and labor saving implements in districts where cane is raised without irrigation.

Yours Truly,
WM. W. GODALE,
Manager Onomea Sugar Company.

HAKALAU, HAWAII, February 16, 1895.

We use the Avery Stubble Digger, Fertilizer Distributor and Cane Cultivator. They save labor and do the work claimed for them. The Stubble Digger is considered a particularly good investment.

The waiter had gone. "Whom do you love more than your life?" asked Cascar, bending over the girl who sat with him at the little table. Vinola poised the spoon before her lips and, looking up to him out of her big, soulful eyes, replied, "ice cream." Cascar expected a different answer, for he drove a hack and was well fixed. Furthermore, he was jealous and would brook no rival. He bethought him of a lonely islet which high tide submerged a fathom or more and the next day he hired a boat, purchased a ghly tub of ice cream and invited Vinola to a picnic. She smiled and they rowed to sea. On the rock he placed Vinola and beside her the bounty of her heart's desire. "So good of you, dear Cascar," said the girl. But he turned away his eyes and pulled for the distant shore. Then the sun sank low, a d. as the topmost wave of the tide lapped the summit of the rock, nothing was visible above the shimmering sea, but the young lady eating the ice cream.

WHERE ARE WE AT?

The Aloha Map Will Show You.

The Maps

The Aloha Map shows the eight inhabitable islands of the group, with the mountain ranges, harbors, bays, and rivers well defined; also the names of over one hundred of the towns on the islands.

It is an excellent reference map for the home or office. It is just the map you have been looking for, to send to your absent friends, who have no distinct idea of our unique geographical position in the cross roads of the Pacific. This is illustrated intelligently by a separate map in one corner, showing our distance between North America, Australia, and China. The three steamer routes across the Pacific are indicated.

Aloha Tooth Powder

Our aim has been to produce a tooth powder that will clean the teeth without harm, and at the same time prove agreeable and pleasant to use. Aloha powder is manufactured from the very best materials, and contains no "sand" or cuttlefish bone to make it cheap. There is nothing in it that will harm the teeth or gums.

We have received many very flattering verbal testimonials. That it is pleasant to use will be conceded by anyone with a brush and a pinch of the powder. That it will not harm the gums is another claim we make for it. What outsiders say seems to carry weight. One of our customers who has used Aloha powder for several months, says:

"Before using your Aloha powder I had been troubled with sore gums. I was never free from this trouble for more than a week at a time. I have now been using your powder for several months, and have not had the slightest trouble with sore gums. I believe that it was the powder that I used irritated the gums."

The Premium Offer

We give with each bottle of Aloha Tooth powder the map above referred to. We do this to push faster the introduction of this excellent dentifrice, for when once used its reputation is established. Do not ask us for the maps. They are given only as a premium with every bottle of powder. We do not sell the maps. You get the Aloha Tooth powder for 25 cts., and the map thrown in.

A Wide Range of Opinion—Views of Leading Populists—The Financial Situation. Late Pence and His Constituents—Talk About an Increase of Gold.

[Special Correspondence.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—"Is the recent trouble in Brooklyn to be taken as a mere local outbreak, a sort of isolated accident, or does it indicate the opening of another year of labor troubles, to be followed, as usual, by a winter of great suffering and many appeals for charity?"

This question, and in substantially these words, has been asked many a time in the capital during the past ten days, and the range of opinion developed is quite curious. Despite the evidences, there are still many who insist that our business troubles are substantially over, and that we are about to enter on an era of prosperity, and I observe that they all base their opinion on three facts—that consumption is now rapidly gaining on production in the world's grain markets; that the gold supply is increasing at an unprecedented rate, and that the wild projects and labor troubles of last summer have proved effective lessons. I am particularly interested in the answers of the Populists, and without exception they deprecate the Brooklyn strike and deplore its possible consequences in legislation.

Views of Two Senators.

I talked an hour or so the other day with Senators Kyle and Allen on the so called "new departure of the Populist party," and in the course of it the former said:

"I am very sure that the Brooklyn matter is an accident and unpremeditated, for I have but recently talked with all the labor leaders. After the Chicago affair ended they said to me: 'This is our last strike. We have gone through enough in this line, and hereafter we shall seek the desired end by votes.' And the last election shows that they have kept their word. I do not desire to arrogate anything to myself, but I was the instrument in concluding the Chicago trouble. It was agreed that the commission was to be appointed to examine the whole matter and other concessions made, and thereupon the strike was to be called off. As soon as that was done all the labor leaders went to work for the election, and the enemy, wary, as usual, prepared to deceive the public as to our strength. There has been a double reaction on that matter which is really funny. Right after the election the monopolist organs raised a great cry that the Populist party was wiped out and actually made us believe our vote was light. Then we found that it was nearly double that of 1892, and that we were attracting recruits. Since Senator Allen put forth his platform there has been another reaction against the old system, and I am now pretty well satisfied that the liberal elements in the west can unite in 1896."

"And what will congress do on the finances?"

"Ask me an easy one. This congress will do nothing, for public men will not face alternatives when they know that either will defeat them. As to the next congress, they are making great promises that it will fund the greenbacks and Sherman silver notes, but I know it will do no such thing. It will not do anything that Cleveland wants it to do, to begin with, and will not dare to take that action. I have talked with too many senators to believe such a thing possible, and stalwart Republicans have told me they could stand on the Allen platform, but as to that a bill to retire the $498,000,000 could never be got through the house."

Populist Policy.

Senator Allen was not so confident as his colleague that the Brooklyn trouble was to stand alone, but thought there were too many factors in the national labor situation for any man to master them all. As to party action he said: "The strike is no part of our policy, and we just now regret such things even more than usual. We are now confident of a union of forces for a more liberal policy—that is, a union in the campaign of 1896."

"Why is there such distraction in the present congress?"

"Well, it is as Senator Kyle said—men are face to face with alternatives which they hate to admit. It must be the gold basis and a contraction of the currency one-half, or the opposite, but they dread the decision so much that they are trying all sorts of quack medicines to get away from it. In fact, they are trying to revive an obsolete system. Banks of issue are obsolete. The world has outgrown them, or if it hasn't it isn't for want of painful experience."

I never had realized how big Senator Allen is till he stood over me and talked thus earnestly. It is a great episode in the history of the senate that during the fight over the Sherman silver law he turned over 15 hours and yet not a word from it. The other day he talked 4 hours and 10 minutes, but he usually retires only about 150 words a minute, and it really seems to me as if the first two hours of his speech merely rests him, or rather wakes him up and makes his voice musical.

Late Pence's Duties.

Hon. Late Pence was not in the talking humor when I laid the Brooklyn business before him. "You would not think I had time to give to such trifles," said he, "if you could know the demands made on me from home to reconstruct all creation and rectify things in general. Just look at these letters and see what they ask me to do. Just see what confidence my constituents and the western public generally have in my power to fix things."

I looked, and among many gems of radicalism found this one from San Diego, Cal.:

Most Honored Representative—Will you introduce a Bill for the Suppression of Crime Breeding in Our Saloons and Public Places. And for the teaching children how to live to be taught in Our public Schools or Practical life. Yors for God and Home.

"They are talking about Hawaii at the other end of this building and making highfalutin predictions that the American people will be thoroughly aroused over it," said Champ Clark, "and that shows how little they know about the beloved people. Not one American in 50 will bother his head about Hawaii this year, for they will have plenty of their own trouble to think about. The farmer, if he lies awake nights over anything, will do it thinking how he is to get something for his stuff to pay taxes and interest on mortgages, and as for city laborers my guess is that where they think once about Hawaii they will think a thousand times about how they are going to get the wherewithal to line their individual insides. No, the senators need not worry themselves over what the people will think about Hawaii. As to strikes and labor troubles—why, the main thought that occurs to me is that despair sometimes prevents strikes as effectively as would contentment."

And with this view quite a number of members coincide. About the time this talk was rife the pooling bill which had passed the house was up in the senate, and expressions were frequent that the interstate commerce law had opened the way beautifully for the United States to take charge of all the railroads running through different states. I have several times heard the old allegory so effectively used by Abraham Lincoln about Stephen, Franklin, Roger and James framing the separate timbers of a house quoted to prove that there was an understanding from the first about this bill. "One-third of the railroad mileage," said one member, "is in the hands of receivers, and according to the latest rulings, the federal judges are to assume jurisdiction from hell to Boreas, with a federal prefect like General Miles in each city to enforce their decrees."

Treasury Outlook Encouraged.

It is a pleasure to add that the first really encouraging remarks come from the treasury department, and they are all the more charming because we had got in the habit of expecting something else from that quarter. They assure us that receipts are rapidly gaining on expenditures, and that, to their certain knowledge, February will equalize them. They add that January would have done so had not the expenditures been heavier, as usual, in that month, and more than $2,000,000 in Central Pacific railroad bonds paid besides. The big interest payments are made in January. The officials add that, with the certainty of increasing receipts, the gold reserve may be allowed to go as low as $50,000,000 without danger. The director of the mint continues to assure us that the gold supply of the world is increasing rapidly, and to each successive estimate he adds a little. He is now positive the world's yield will be at least $200,000,000 this year, and as the amount used in the arts will not increase in proportion the coinage will exceed $100,000,000. Let's all hope it is true, for it would only take six or seven years of that sort of thing to abate the gold famine.

Certain Matters.

There was a good deal of cackling over the new tariff of the Argentine Republic when it reached here, and our minister there, Hon. William I. Buchanan, rejoiced greatly that the tariff commission had listened favorably to all he said and favored the United States. The committee on agriculture, however, cannot find much in it for the farmer. The Argentines have reduced the tariff on pine lumber by a percentage which would make $250,000 less duty on the amount exported from the United States last year, and crude petroleum and a few other articles are put on the free list. The duty on farm wagons and some other implements of husbandry is reduced from 60 per cent to 10 per cent, and on canned fruits and vegetables the reduction is one-half. It is to be hoped that our farmers will find some comfort in these items, as they certainly stand in need of it.

It is foreign to the immediate subject, but worth noting in conclusion, that members elect to the next house are arriving in daily increasing numbers, and the applications for offices at the disposal of that house outnumber any in our previous history. One of the re-elected Republicans tells us that he has received nearly 100 applications, though he cannot hope to secure more than two or three places at the best. He has had 20 applications for the appointment of pages alone. Few holdover members have been so completely snowed under as he, but all are badly beset.

SUPREME COURT DECISION.

An Important Matter Reserved for Future Argument.

A Peculiar Suit Involving Some Knotty Legal Points, Two of Which Are Decided.

In the case of Statira A. Newell, Effie J. Newell, Carolyn A. Newell and Blanche E. Newell, plaintiffs, vs. John M. Horner, defendant, heard at the December term of the the Supreme Court before Chief Justice Judd, Associate Justice Bickerton and Circuit Judge Whitling, who sat in place of Mr. Justice Frear, absent from illness, the court filed a partial decision yesterday morning.

The suit originated in the lower court by the filing of a complaint by the heirs of one Thomas Newell, who in 1879 obtained judgment in the case against John M. Horner and one E. L. Beard in the District Court of the Fourth Judicial District of the State of California for the sum of $2,547 57, with interest and costs. On the 25th of September, 1890, although the defendants had paid some $1400 on the judgment, there still remained due $4,008 17, the interest at 7 per cent running the figures up to that amount.

In 1883 the original plaintiff, Thomas Newell, died, leaving a will bequeathing the judgment against Horner to his heirs mentioned above. On the 21st of February, 1893, the heirs sold and assigned the judgment to James A. Low, who has been unable to collect anything. The defendant, who left the State of California in 1879, is now a resident of these islands. To protect their assignee the heirs brought suit in the Circuit Court, to which the defendant demurred on the three grounds:

First:—That the declaration shows no privity of contract or of obligation between plaintiffs and defendant.

Second:—That plaintiffs have no right, as the legatees of the judgment mentioned in said declaration, to maintain an action thereon in their own names.

Third:—That it appears by said declaration that the judgment mentioned is barred and outlawed by the statutes of limitations, both of California and Hawaii, and no action can be maintained thereon.

The lower Court sustained this demurrer and exceptions were taken.

The Supreme Court in its decision says:

"We are not favored with an argument on the various points, plaintiffs' counsel conceding that the complaint was demurrable in some respects, but we were asked to determine whether administration could be granted in this country upon an estate whose only assets were a judgment. As this question is not raised by the pleadings, our opinion upon it would be obiter dictum, and we would not be authorized to express it. In order to make our record complete and meet the issues presented, we sustain the demurrer upon the first and second counts. As to the third point, we do not feel called upon to decide so important a matter without further argument.

The decision is written by the Chief Justice, and is unanimous. Paul Neumann for plaintiffs and C. W. Ashford for defendant.

MEDICAL CONFERENCE.

Government Physicians From All Parts of the Islands Invited.

The physicians of this city and vicinity have long been working on a proposition looking to the establishment of annual medical conferences, at which a general interchange of ideas may be had for mutual benefit and instruction. The first of these has been arranged for May 23d next, and so pleased are the members of the Board of Health with the idea and the results likely to accrue from it that its secretary has been ordered to extend a general invitation to all physicians in the employ of the Government to attend. While of course all could not do so, it is expected that the majority will.

One of the main features of the conferences will be the reading of papers on particular subjects by those attending, each physician being invited to prepare a paper on the theme chosen in advance or on some particular one of his own. The subject decided on at the coming conference is "Leprosy," on which each physician has been asked to write a thesis giving his observations and mode of treatment. An excursion to Kalaupapa has also been spoken of in connection with the conference.

THE KILAUEA HOU.

After Hard Work Saves a Portion of the Kihalani's Machinery.

The steamer Kilauea Hou arrived yesterday morning after having been twenty-six days away from this port. Two weeks were spent in the vicinity of Hakalau awaiting weather favorable to the heaving of the Kihalani's machinery from the rocks in which it has been cradled for so long a time.

The Kilauea Hou approached to within fifteen feet of the place where the machinery was and divers were set to work at once. A chain was attached to the large boiler and an attempt made to get it out, but the chain parted and it became necessary to repeat the operation. It was finally hauled up alongside and taken to Hilo where, with the assistance of the steamer Hawaii, it was hoisted aboard. Besides this, the donkey boiler, the pump, whistle and gong were brought to Honolulu.

While the Kilauea Hou was at Hilo she towed out the bark Santiago and discharged the ballast from the ship Levi Burgess. Aside from this she took 9704 bags of sugar from Hakalau and Pepeekeo for the above two vessels.

It is probable that she will sail at the end of the week for Hakalau where an attempt will be made to get at the remainder of the machinery of the Kihalani.

NEW TELEPHONE PLAN.

Ringing the Bell to be Supplanted by Electric Lights.

Under a new system, partially and successfully in operation, the Chicago Telephone Company is going to take "the crank" off the telephone—that is, the handle by which the hello girl is rung up, and sometimes wrought up. Soon the only thing a subscriber will have to do is to take his phone off the hook, and putting his mouth to the transmitter, say: "Give me two two nines," to get 229, and it will be done without any exertion of ringing or turning a crank. Or, if one should want main 209, for instance, take off the 'phone and whisper in the transmitter: "Two, eight (it must be "aught," for the hello girl insists upon calling "aught" "aught") nine, and you will get connection without further trouble.

The new system is simply making the eye assist the ear, the telephone ear, of the hello girl has had to do unassisted.

At present when a subscriber rings up "central" an "annunciator," like unto those in hotels, falls and tells the operator what number wants to talk. This annunciator is replaced by an electric lamp or incandescent miniature light, which flares up in front of the operator. "Connect me with two-aught-two," and the proper plug is put in on the switch-board, another light flares up, showing connection is made, and then both go out and are dark so long as talk is held between the two lamps. As soon as one gets through and hangs up his 'phone her lamp is lit, and the operator knows he's done talking, but waits until the other lamp looms up before severing the connection, and thus putting out both lamps.

If the central makes no reply to the first hello the 'phone hook may be moved up and down, making a pyrotechnic display before the eyes of the operator, which she must quench by answering, lest she be blinded.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass." "It is with pleasure that I send a testimonial concerning what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for my daughter. It is a wonderful medicine and I cannot recommend it too highly. Sarah, who is fourteen years old, has been afflicted with Scrofula ever since she was one year old. For five years she has had a running sore on one side of her face. We tried every remedy recommended, but nothing did her any good until we commenced using Hood's Sarsaparilla. My married daughter advised me to use Hood's Sarsaparilla because she had cured her of dyspepsia. She had been troubled with that complaint since childhood, and since her cure she has never been without a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the house. We commenced giving it to Sarah about one year ago, and it has conquered the running sore."

NINE SENTENCES.

No More Military Prisoners Anxious to Know Their Fate.

The last of the prisoners convicted of treason by the Military Commission were sentenced yesterday. Their names were J. Kama, Kakalahiwa, Kaneuu, D. Keannui, Kalomono, Pehu, Kenmupohaku, Kamaka and Aikiike, and each of them was sentenced to five years imprisonment with hard labor, the fine of $5000 being remitted as in other similar cases. Kama and Kakalahiwa pleaded not guilty before the Court while the others pleaded guilty. In consideration of the fact that the two former had testified in other cases in behalf of the Government the sentences were all made alike. This closes the list of the convictions before the Military Court and the last prisoner has been sentenced.

WHARF AND WAVE.

The Mariposa is due from San Francisco today.
The Charmer hauled out into naval row yesterday.

The Amelia has shifted a little above her old position.
The steam dredge is working outside the fish market.

The Hawaii is busy taking sugar to Hilo for the Levi Burgess.
The Kilauea Hou will sail for Hawaii on or about Saturday.

The Pele will probably sail on Friday; she arrived yesterday.
The W. H. Dimond has shifted to just above the Oceanic wharf.

The James Makee and Waialeale came in and sailed again yesterday.
There are six vessels now in naval row. Two are yet undischarged.

The island steamers brought 9120 bags of sugar for this port yesterday.
The Likelike took a large quantity of fertilizer yesterday for ports on Hawaii.

The James Makee, Waialeale and Pele had very rough weather during their trip.
The Pele discharged her cargo of 4177 bags of sugar on the Charmer yesterday.

The schooner Transit is rapidly discharging her cargo of general merchandise at Brewer's wharf.
The whaler Alice Knowles, Giffard master, arrived off port yesterday afternoon at about 2 o'clock.

The Moiwahine will sail today with a cargo of lumber for Koolalele. She will load sugar for this port.
The James Makee discharged her cargo of 2800 bags of sugar on the Oceanic wharf yesterday. This will be taken by the Charmer.

The schooner Ka Moi has had her bowsprit, jibboom and flying jibboom replaced. She will sail at the end of the week with a cargo of lumber for Honoipo and will proceed from there to Pasawilo where she will load sugar for this port.

A large crowd collected at Brewer's wharf yesterday for the purpose of witnessing the sale of the steam launch Annie, belonging to the estate of the late Dr. Trousseau. The auctioneer was there, and everything ready for the sale, but no launch appeared. For some reason steam could not be got in time.

Pearls in Cocoanuts.
An Auckland paper says that specimens of the pearls said to be sometimes formed in the interior of coconuts have been obtained in North Celebes by Dr. Lindley J. Hickson. He describes them as being about half an inch in diameter, born smooth by friction, and consisting of pure carbonate of lime, without trace of vegetable matter. It would be interesting to know if any such pearls have ever been found in Hawaii.

A STORY OF THE SEA.

Five Greek Mutineers Murder a Ship's Company.

We were riding at anchor in the bay of Iquique. There had been a dinner party on board, and at eight o'clock we went on to the poop to take our coffee and cigars. One of our visitors was a doctor who had lived in Chili all his life, and had been through two revolutions, and various other exciting scenes, so we asked him to "spin us a yarn," which he kindly condescended to do, and began as follows:

"As you all know, I have been doctor for the ships for the last thirty years, and I think the most startling and thrilling coincidence happened in 18— It was when Chili was overrun with thieves and murderers and the inhabitants were doing their best to expel them from the country. I was at the time ships' doctor at a port further south, and I remember one day when I was called on board one of the ships, the captain met me at the companion ladder, and said he had five Greeks on board that had just been enrolled, and who complained of pains, and wishing to be set ashore again. I went 'forward' and found to my great surprise that the five invalids were the most notorious scoundrels in the country. They said to me, 'doctor we are not bad, but you must get us ashore again; the captain is a brute, and we cannot be subjected to his tyranny.' 'Well,' I said, 'there is nothing the matter with you, and you know the amount of crimes you have committed, that it is about time you left the country.' 'Well,' they said, 'tell the captain that if he treats us like men we will work, but if he ever lifts his hand to one of us we will kill him.' I went aft and told the captain, who only laughed and said, 'I know what to do with them.' So the next day the ship sailed and things went well for the first few days, but after the captain again took to his bullying habits, and one day struck one of the Greeks. With a howl of pain he rushed at him and stabbed him with a knife that he had concealed under his blouse; then, proceeding to open out the body, he took the heart out and stamped on it. Next followed a scene that would never be forgotten by those who saw it. Everyone was killed and thrown overboard with the exception of the carpenter, a boy, a navigating sailor, who with the five Greeks made a complement of eight.

The Greeks directed the navigating sailor to take them to one of the islands in the Malay Archipelago, but he kept two charts, one on which he marked out a certain distance each day to show the mutineers, and on the other, which he kept hidden, was marked the real route they were making, viz., to England. All went well till they began to approach land, when one evening about six o'clock, the boy was at the wheel, and heard through the open skylight, the Greeks planning how they would kill all three, and so leave no trace of their crime. They eventually agreed that the three should be 'done away with' at eight o'clock the same evening. At seven o'clock it was the navigating sailor's turn to take the wheel, and the boy informed him of what he had heard, and also called the carpenter aft, to discuss how they should manage to defend themselves. At eight o'clock one of the mutineers had to take the wheel, so they began to make preparations, the carpenter taking his adze and hiding it just behind the wheel, the navigating sailor a butcher's hatchet, and the boy a crowbar. Eight o'clock came and one of the mutineers came to relieve the man at the wheel; the carpenter walked quietly up behind him, took his adze and cut him nearly in half. His falling caused one of the others to rush up and see what was the matter, but he no sooner got his foot upon the poop than he was struck down by the sailor. That only left three against three, so they rushed down into the cabin and after a hard fight succeeded in killing one and binding the other two. The next day they reached England, and the two men were tried, and expiated their crime on the gallows. The ship was on exhibition in one of the Channel ports for some months, people flocking from all parts of England to see it. And now, said the doctor, if the captain will lend me his gig, I will go ashore, as I see it is late. We tried to persuade him to 'spin us another one,' but he said he felt tired, and would come on board another night and let us have some more. Newcastle (N. S. W.) Weekly Chronicle.
