THIRTY NEW CITIZENS

Judge De Bolt yesterday afternoon held a naturalization session of court, making thirty citizens in very little time. Attorney General Andrews conducted the examination of applicants.

Among the candidates was James Love, who has for the last half century been a resident of these islands.
He was a subject of Great Britain and is now 68 years of age.

J. E. Higgins of Nova Scotia presented intention papers which had not matured and was of course not qualified for naturalization. Following is the list of those yesterday made citizens:

LAUEKA'S REQUEST REFUSED.

The Board of Health at a special meeting yesterday laid upon the table the demands of C. P. Laueka for permission to make political addresses at the Leper Settlement. The demand was made through Attorneys W. A.
Kinney and C. A. Galbraith. In addition to laying the demand on the table
the Board instructed the secretary to write Superintendent McVeigh to ascertain the feelings of the people at the Settlement on the subject.

Those present at the meeting were Governor Carter, Dr. C. B. Cooper, M.
P. Robinson, Fred. C. Smith, John C.
Laue and Attorney General Andrews.
President Pinkham was absent, being on Maui.

"Drink More" And What To Drink.

Dr. Titus Munson Coan, in Harper's Magazine, declares in favor of "Soda Water" for table use. "Soda Water (more properly called Carbonated Water) whether manufactured or natural is a POWERFUL AID TO DIGESTION by stimulating the stomach and also probably aiding to dissolve the mineral ingredients of the food. It is very appetizing, it corrects acidity in the stomach, checks the disposition to nausea and cools the system in febrile complaints and is indeed the ideal beverage for the water drinker."

JANES CANNOT VOTE BECAUSE HE EXPOSES HIMSELF

A piratical-looking craft drifted into the Registration office, next to the Postoffice yesterday afternoon. Arrived in khaki and a broad-brimmed Stetson, smoking a powerful cheroot and smelling of paint, fish-oil, garlic and bludge water, he had the appearance of a composite whaler, cowboy and horse-doctor. He strode to the rail, shoved back his hat, cleared his throat, and caught the eye of Chairman of the Registration Board W. T. Hawkins. This is what followed:

"What's your name?"
"Captain John F. James."

"Where do you live?"
"Aboard the fishing schooner Salvation Lassie which moors in Rotten Row."

"Where were you born?"
"Aberdeen, Scotland."

"Naturalized?"
"Yes; here are my papers." James exhibited a certificate of citizenship made out in San Francisco, numbered 122, dated August 14, 1897, in the District Court of the Fourth Judicial Circuit of California, presented for registration on August 31, 1897. He also produced papers which showed he had been master and owner of vessels, covering a period of some thirty years.

"How old are you?"
"Sixty-four."

"How long have you resided in these islands?"
"About three years."

"Please sign your name here. Now, do you solemnly swear to the truth?"

"Hold on a minute!" cried James. "What's the matter?"

"You never asked me if I've been in jail."

"Well, I ask you now: Have you?"

"Many times! What for? For various things—for smuggling, for filibustering, for killing a man, for putting a head on a fellow, for protecting my home, for standing up for my rights, for running a revolution, and for telling the truth about a bad lot in a newspaper I ran; but I've never been to jail in this country, and I've never done anything I was ashamed of."

"For killing a man! Were you convicted?"

"No, I was acquitted; justifiable homicide."

"How long were you in jail for smuggling?"

"Oh, for not more than thirty days at a time; but not in America. Then I have been a prisoner of war, but I suppose that doesn't count."

"For three years in San Quentin, for telling the truth. There were a dozen other editors in prison with me, but they crawled, most of them, and got out; some accepted pardons. I refused a pardon."

"Well, Captain James, I'm afraid we can't register you. Section 18 of the Organic Act provides that any man who has served a year in prison and who has not been restored to civil rights is not eligible to vote."

"Well, I just wanted to know where I stood. I'm an old-timer and I see some folks walking the streets of Honolulu who have served sentences in California prisons; and they are registered, too, and vote down here; nobody seems to know the difference; not that I would mention their names, however; it's none of my business."

"Everybody is not as honest as you, Captain."

"Does that law you just read to me cover cases of men serving sentences outside this Territory?"

"I'm pretty sure it does, but you can go and see United States District Attorney Breckons, if you like."

Captain James, after asking for a refusal of registration in writing and being refused, immediately made for the Judiciary building to see Breckons. Breckons was busy as usual, but managed to squeeze time enough to listen to James' brief statement of his case. The U. S. District Attorney's verdict was to the effect that, under Section 18 of the Organic Act, the captain was not entitled to vote.

"You can apply to the President for restoration to civil rights," said Breckons, burying himself in a pile of law books.

"I suppose so," was James' reply. "But I did nothing but tell the truth."

"There is a whole lot of truth which is not permitted to go through the mails," said Breckons; "that's what you did, eh?—sent it through the mails!"

In Los Angeles, in 1897, Captain James was editing a newspaper entitled The Non-Partisan. As he expressed it in The Under Dog, which he published as soon as he came out of jail, "A set of religious zealots instituted themselves as a Parkhurst committee," adopting doubtful measures for the securing of evidence of crime. James printed in The Non-Partisan what purported to be an expose of the methods of the preachers, involving the clergyman in the very crimes which they were supposed to be trying to suppress. The odds were against the captain editor, whose courage is bigger than his diplomacy, and he was prosecuted for sending obscene matter through the mails. As Breckons remarked yesterday, there is a whole lot of truth which is obscene. James was convicted and spent three years in San Quentin, where he became chief cook. He was offered a pardon, but refused it, and had done no wrong and refused restoration to civil rights. This refusal was not made until he had served some time, as witness the following order of Governor Gage of California, a letter which James naturally prizes very highly:

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 8, 1898.

John F. James, San Quentin, Cal.

Dear Sir:—I observe everything you say and am in keen sympathy with all you say. You say if I will stand in on exposing a pardon for you, I will do so enthusiastically. I regret exceedingly that you are circumstances as you are, and were it in my power to expedite matters that way you would be immediately restored to your liberty. Whenever you or your friends desire to move in the line of a pardon I will cheerfully join in those efforts. I remain sincerely your friend.

HENRY T. GAGE.

Captain James is therefore ex-United States Convict Registered Number 17291. The filibustering (referred to in the application for registration) in which James was involved was the last of many schemes to capture Lower California, 1890, in which Walter G. Smith, then of San Diego, and others, were also interested. But that is another story.

James is considering whether or not to write President Roosevelt for restoration to civil rights.

Gaelic Is Speedy On Her Last Trip

The O. & O. S. S. Gaelic arrived from San Francisco last night and was docked at the Hackfeld wharf. She enjoyed a pleasant and uneventful voyage, making it in six days, eight hours and twenty-eight minutes, quite surprising the local waterfronters by the speed.

The following vessels were sighted during the voyage: Oct. 1st, 8 p. m., Lat. 37° 22' N., Long. 124° 6' W., passed U. S. A. transport Sherman; Oct. 2nd, 11:40 p. m., Lat. 35° 1' N., Long. 121° 18' W., passed O. S. S. Co's S. S. Alameda; Oct. 6th, 5:10 a. m., Lat. 26° 18' N., Long. 149° 41' W., passed O. S. S. Co's Ventura; Oct. 7th, 5:10 p. m., Lat. 21° 49' N., Long. 157° 06' W., passed P. M. S. S. China.

The Gaelic carries quite a large list of passengers. Among those who will stop over in Honolulu are Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Keyston and Miss Keyston. Mr. Keyston is a wealthy San Francisco manufacturer.

J. M. Abbott and E. M. Abbott are college men who are making a tour around the world. They also will stop over here.

The Gaelic carries 3,850 tons of freight for the Orient. She is scheduled to sail this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

HILO BASEBALL.

Hilo, Oct. 4.—There was a good crowd present to watch the game of baseball played Saturday afternoon between the Union Specials and Beamer Specials. Medeiros tossed the ball for the Union team and Quini was behind the bat. Martin played twirler for the Beamer team and Harry Moto caught the swift charges. There were some good plays, but a disposition on the part of some of Beamer's lads to be ugly by obstructing runners and playing foul. Baston and Tevis were especially objectionable in this role.

In the seventh inning Wery was making for third when Tevis, who is Beamer's third baseman, deliberately gave him a jolt in the chest, knocking the runner down with such force as to render him unconscious. No attempt was made to catch the flying ball, which rolled off into the crowd. Young Wery was immediately carried off the field and was not brought to again for five hours. He is still suffering from the effects of the knock-out blow. The score follows:

Union Sp's. 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Beamer Sp's. 0 0 0 3 1 4 1 0 0—9
B's m's Sp's. 0 4 3 1 0 1 3 1—13

PARK COMMISSION.

At Thursday's meeting of the Park Commission an unanimous resolution was passed requesting the Delegate to Congress to secure an amendment to the Organic Act by which the Governor of the Territory should be given the power to set aside public lands for park purposes. Mr. Cunha stated that he would be willing to sell his premises at Waikiki as an addition to the park. No action was taken in the matter as this would require a special appropriation by the legislature. Mr. Holloway reported that, by mutual consent, the stables at the race track had been removed and stored under the grandstand. They may be erected elsewhere. Mr. Young reported a constantly increasing number of persons using the park both for the purposes of games and as a resort for general recreation.

At a meeting of the Hilo Board of Trade on Friday week the subject of coverage in Hilo was taken up and discussed. Hastings Howland sent a short letter in explanation of the request for tenders. It is said by the Herald that the communication took an hour to a given point.

No good excuse can be given for failure to register.

Still Port Arthur holds its own. It is evident the Russian knows how to fight when put in a place where there is no opportunity for a masterly retreat.

Confidence in Hawaii's ability to govern itself will be strengthened by the election of a straight Republican ticket that will guarantee intelligent legislative work.

Japan appears to be looking to Korea for men to strengthen its armies. From all accounts the Koreans can do more "soldiering" in the fighting front than any other nationality on earth.

The Bulletin has received three communications stating that Zamloch pitched good ball at the recent Waimanalo game. These will be published as space allows and will establish Zamloch's reputation as the peer of base ball legends on Hawaii.

Hilo seems to be getting as excited over its jail site as Honolulu occasionally becomes on the Federal building problem. Our neighbors may well take a line from this city's experience and draw a boundary within any part of which the location of the building will give perfect satisfaction.

President Roosevelt has been asked to take a hand in settling the troubles of the Congo State. The position of a great international peacemaker is a glorious place to occupy, but especially before an election the people naturally question whether the task will not bring on a fight. Presidential candidates are not looking for war these days. There's enough at home.

After preaching sermons of thanksgiving and joy over the rescue of the National Democracy, the New York Evening Post has bolted the New York State Democratic ticket named by David B. Hill, the same man who pulled Parker through and "rescued" the Democracy. Between Bryanism and Evening Postism and Hillism and Belmontism, the Democracy has about as much chance of success as a cat with a millstone about its neck has for life.

PATRIOTISM -- REGISTRATION.

How many men, among those who have not registered, would bewail their fate if they were disfranchised by law? They would be calling upon the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and all civilized communities to witness the horrors of the injustice under which they suffer.

With the voting privilege free to them, the very men whose voice would be heard in the loudest protest if they were barred from the right to vote are either too lazy or too indifferent to comply with the law of registration. They voluntarily disfranchise themselves and usually lead the pessimistic discussion on the evils of politics, the errors of the political workers and the shortcomings of the electorate.

No citizen of the United States is more deserving of criticism than the man who does not register when the opportunity offers. Government in this country is what the people make it. Those failing to fulfill the insignificant details of registration are no less enemies of public welfare than the individuals who hustle in politics for graft or "what there is in it." As a rule it is the citizen assuming the higher degree of intelligence who is the most indifferent to qualifying for the voting privilege on election day. He is the hardest to "get out."

Hawaii in the coming election needs the vote of every citizen.

Hawaii expects every citizen with a spark of patriotism to do his duty. That duty at present is to register. The registration closes tonight.

Mr. Dooley on the Progress Of the Campaign

By P. P. DUNNE.

(Copyright, 1904, by McClure, Phillips, & Co.)

"It looks to me as though political enthusiasm was dyin' out in this country," said Mr. Hennessy.

"Oh, I don't know," said Mr. Dooley. "Ye never can tell. It's almost too early to begin throwin' bricks. Anyhow, if nobody else is enthusiastic the candidates 'r vice presidint arse."

"Ye arse th' willin' wurruks. No arass grows under th' feet. They're a lesson to their superiors. Th' candidates 'r presidint stays at home thyrin' to say nawthin' that will incriminate thim. Tiddy Rosenfelt has put in an application to jine th' Quaker Church. He has burned his suit iv khaki an' beaten his sword into a plowshare. Visitors who call on him at Oyster Bay, find him r-readin' th' 'Live iv th' Saints.' His favorite saint is wan iv th' 'arly martyrs who thanked a lion f'r bitin' him. He is thyrin' to live down his past. Not so with th' Sage iv Esopus. He has no past to live down. He is thyrin' to live up to his future. Irvy time he opins his mouth, Hill puts his foot into it. Hill has retired f'r polittics. He has gone up an alley to wait till th' polis get by. But all is silence at Oyster Bay an' Esopus. When th' hayro iv San Joon Hill wants to relieve his pint up emotions, he goes out on th' sea shore far f'r human habitation an' sings hymns f'r an hour. Sierty Cor-tillyoo authorizes me to deny th' infamous rayport that th' presidint was liver at San Joon Hill. At th' time iv this glorious an' lamituable performance, th' good man was down with measles contracted at th' Internay-tional Peace Convintion. A day at Oyster Bay passes like a dream. Th' presidint arises arly an' after prayers partakes iv a light breakfast iv Quaker Oats. He thin retires to his oratory an' spins th' mornin' in meditation an' prayer. After lunchin' with his pastor, he visits th' Dorcas society, iv which he is hon'ary presidint. Ray-turin' home, he devotes a few hours to archery an' bean bag, at both of which games he has become expert. His supper consists iv a bag iv popcorn an' a dish iv tea. Th' short arse in spint in readin' aloud th' wurruks iv Hinnery Wadsworth Longfellow, an' after family prayers Thay-door Rosenfelt retires to a well armed slumber. He is not well at prisint, th' small iv gunpowder on th' Fourth iv July havin' disagreeably affected him. (Wall Street Journal please copy.)

"As f'r th' Sage iv Esopus, he doesn't want to be presidint. He is a farmer, not a polittician. An' he's not ashamed iv it. Why shud anny man fear to avow that he follows a callin' upon which rests th' very foundation iv our liberties, fellow citizens? Not much. Arly in th' mornin' before th' first comityman has shook off th' god iv Slumber, e'er yet th' arly rayporter puts on his spectacles, th' simple-hearted judge may be found atrollin' among th' long rows iv canned asparaguses, or studyin' th' pickled onions he planted as long ago as las' July when he beat th' nomination to th' farm. It is with unfeigned impatience that he tears open with his teeth a tillygram f'r th' Chairman iv Ulster County suggestin' that iv a little iv th' coin and he distributed th' prospects would be brighter f'r all concerned. After a simple country breakfast iv corned beef hash, Johnny cake, spare ribs, mince pie, buttermilk an' cider, he takes off his coat an' goes out to the photygraphed. He spins th' day in hard labor on th' forty-acre meadow an' does not speak except in th' avnin' when he delivers himself iv a message that thrills ivy heart in th' New York Avenin' Post. His las' utterance that nearly caused me a fit an' is still ringin' in me ears was as follows: 'I regard th' owners iv large quantities iv th' gold standard iv this country as irrevocably fixed.'

An' so passes these peaceful autumn days at Esopus an' Oyster Bay. I will not dignify with denial th' cool story that our beloved presidint has a tunnel into his chapel an' that after th' family have gone to bed he secretly lets in James J. Jeffries with th' full rayports iv th' Jap'nese war or that before returnin' to his couch he rashes a stuffed figure iv th' Impor William on th' fure an' pounds it with a baseball bat. An' I will not stoop to contradict th' story that ivy night August Blimont calls on Sage Parker an' th' two iv thim discuss how much iv th' gold standard shud be irrevocably fixed in irrevocably fixin' Indyanny. No, Hinnersey, I will not deny these foul slanders. I will not discuss thim. I will not even belief thim--yet.

"It's far different with th' two vice presidintial candidates. They ar-re th' boys f'r wurruk. Thim two hot-headed an' impecchoos laads have burr-st f'r all restraint an' ar-re makin' th' country r-ring with their utterances. Divvie th' bit do they care. They have nawthin' to lose but votes an' their voices. Th' Hon'able Chick Fairbanks has stumped New England an' th' frost is on th' punkin an' th' corn is in th' shock. Irvywhere he goes he is rayceived with a shiver iv delight. His oration again th' decision iv th' Sage iv Esopus in th' cillybrated 'Bal-ed Hay' case turned Vermont f'r what was a raypublican stronghold into what is now a raypublican stronghold. A new feature has been intrajuced into th' campaign be me frind th' long wan. Instead iv cheerin' an' clappin' their hands, th' audiences applaud with chatterin' teeth. Th' effect is said to be irresistible. After th' meetin' th' people rush out into th' night air, where they take off coats, hats an' furs in their enthusiasm.

"An' young Gassaway. There's th' boy. Rash, maybe, imprudent, perhaps, but thim are qualities iv youth. Ye might jus' as well expect to hitch up a yearlin' colt in an express wagon as to expect Gass to be quiet. Let him have his fling, says I. He'll settle down in time. Is he r-runnin' well? I shud think he is. Or, p'raps I'd better say he's bein' wheeled well. His speeches have put great life into th' campaign. I don't see how Rosenfelt can resist his attack on th' Aiyen an' Sedition law an' th' Missouri Compromise. Did ye hear what th' laad said when th' news was rayceived f'r Vermont? 'Vermont,' says he. 'That mus' have been admitted to th' Union since my time,' he says. Oh, th' broth iv a boy, is Gassaway Davis. May he live to ray-mimber with pleasure th' frolics iv his youth."

"Go wan," said Mr. Hennessy. "It's th' dullist campaign I ever see."

"Cheer up," said Mr. Dooley. "Twill be lively yet. Up to this time th' issue has been measures, not men. Th' raypublicans ar-re ashamed iv all their measures an' th' dimmycrats have no measures that fit. Wait till we get down to men, not Rosenfelt an' Parker, but th' narchal differences between American citizens. Who knows what makes a raypublican or a dimmycrat? What makes a man on wan side iv a river a German an' on th' other side a Fr-rinchman? Raypublicans ar-re raypublicans because they ar-re raypublicans an' dimmycrats ar-re dimmycrats because raypublicans ar-re what they ar-re. At prisint I go to sleep when ye an' McKenna begin a polittical controversy. Ye find many punts in Rosenfelt's character. To admire an' McKenna thinks Parker is a safe, conservative man. That'll get many raypublican votes. Not his, but many. But in a month f'r'm now, McKenna will remark that th' stoop at Esopus is not all it is painted an' I'll hear a roar iv 'What's that?' f'r'm ye'er corner an' I'll have to play th' angel iv peace with a bung starter. In about a month ye--r-read f'r'm Esopus that Judge Parker denounces as a craven iv worthy iv its Long Island source th' story that he is th' adopted son iv Jawn D. Rockefeller an' f'r'm Esopus will come wurruk that th' presidint has invited th' dastard (or sage) who fr-vented th' calumny that he was not on San Joon Hill to come to Oyster Bay an' brings his wurruks with him f'r lunch. No, sir; I wudden't advise anny man to retire f'r'm th' brick business on account iv th' gin'al appearance iv apathy. He'll find a market f'r his ammunition before November."

"What's Bryan doin'?" asked Mr. Hennessy.

"William Jennings Bryan," said Mr. Dooley, "got so hoarse cheerin' f'r Parker that he has been obliged to cancel all engagements to speak. Ye didn't hear him cheerin'? He was cheerin' in his sleeve."

ZAMLOCH TOO SPEEDY.

Editor Evening Bulletin:--Noting in your issue of October 4th an account of a game of baseball played at Waimanalo on September 25th between Waimanalo and "All Hawaii" (?), and the insinuating remarks made about the pitching of Mr. Zamloch for "All Hawaii" (?) by stating that he was the cause of losing the game, and being taken from the box for this reason, I wish to contradict the same and state there is no truth whatsoever in this statement.

With all due credit to the Waimanalo team, who certainly play a good game, I beg to state that had Mr. Zamloch had any catcher who could have even stopped his balls, let alone catch them, there is every reason to believe the score would have been somewhat different than it was.

At no time in the game was he able to show his ability as a pitcher, owing to the catcher for "All Hawaii" (?) being unable to handle his swift pitching; and for this reason alone a change of pitchers was made.

Thanking you in advance for inserting this article, I remain, Yours very truly,

E. F. PATTEN.

CADETS ENTERTAIN.

The concert by the St. Andrew's cadets at the Cathedral last night attracted a large audience which was splendidly entertained. The Sunday school room in which the entertainment was given was beautifully decorated. The musical features of the program were varied by a squad drill and sleight-of-hand performance. The officers of the St. Andrew's Cadets are as follows: Captain, R. A. C. Mytton; 1st Lieutenant, Chas. Blair; 2d Lieutenant, Edward Glendon; 1st Lieutenant and Adjutant, Fred. Wood. Non-Commissioned Officers: 1st Sergeant, Chas. W. Ahfook; Sergeants Robert Yau, Alfred Tinker, Stephen King; Corporals Henry E. Chang, K. C. Yap, Solomon Chang, Afarr Zane, Ho Tong, Joseph Zane.

Mrs. T. Hays has returned to Honolulu and with Mr. Hays is a guest at the Moana hotel.

Mr. Edward Dunsenberger, in company with Mr. Isenberg, the youngest brother of Alexander Isenberg, departed for a trip around the world this week. They will be gone for quite a long period.

The advent of Mrs. Norman White house of New York created a great deal of comment and inquiry. The charming marion was the object of much admiration from all who met her during her disappointingly brief stay. The beauty for which she is so well known is faultless in feature and coloring. She is tall, with light brown hair and dark eyes and a complexion of rare delicacy. One of the most stunning costumes she wore while here was an afternoon gown of black lace, plain save for a rich border on each shoulder of the double skirt. The waist was relieved by large white lace medallions on the sleeves and corsage. A black hat of lace and feathers made a perfect finish to the exquisite gown.—San Francisco Examiner.

One of the most beautiful pictures in the American Book of Beauty is that of Mrs. Whitehouse, who is posed while standing with her hand on the head of her favorite dog. As Vera Boroman of New Orleans was a noted beauty, and a great favorite in New York society. She has been married about seven years.

A dainty little dinner was given by Captain and Mrs. Graham at the Alexander Young Hotel on Monday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Gilman, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph and Lieut. Slattery.

There was a very pretty dance at the Royal Hawaiian hotel on Monday evening in honor of the "Buffalo." The Italian band of the Buffalo gave a concert, preceding the dance which was unusually well attended, not only by the visiting strangers but by society as well. There was a most little dinner that evening at the hotel. Col. and Mrs. George Macfarlane entertained Captain and Mrs. Everett and party, and among those noticed in the dining room were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Towne, Mrs. F. H. Humphris, Mrs. George Bilas, Mr. and Miss Newcombe and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Herbert. At the dance there were a large number of our younger set and the dancing was kept up until a late hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Kimball have taken the Braymer house, next Dr. Cooper, on King street, for a year.

The following was taken from the New York Times and will be interesting for Mr. and Mrs. Burden were guests at the Moana Hotel for some weeks not long since. Mrs. William A. M. Burden, who was Miss Florence Vanderbilt Twombly, dined at Sherry's on her return from her prolonged extended wedding tour. Mrs. Burden looked extremely well and wore a most unusual frock cut on princess lines and very narrow and clinging all the way around from the neck to the end of the trailing skirt. It was a figure heavy silk gauze of pastel tint, with wide band designs formed of large circles, some seven inches across, of pale but soft blue on a background of bluish gray, and the lower section of each circle shaded a paler blue, its lower edge being formed of a half wreath of shaded pink roses in graduated sizes, the larger roses being in the centre. Five of these panels extended from a little below the waist to the gown's hem and another band formed the main part of the bodice. A single hand made the tops of the sleeves, which ended at the elbows in flounces formed of another band of flowered circles. There was a little stock and guimpe of white lace. Her pale grayish blue hat came well over the forehead, but rolled very much at each side, the crown being very low, and its trimming was one long and full dull blue ostrich plume.

British Consul and Mrs. Layard entertained at dinner on Wednesday evening at the British consulate on King street. The table was most exquisitely arranged with the artistic Mexican creper and maidenhair ferns. Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. William Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. George Davies, Miss Jessie Kaufman and Mr. Swamy.

The dance at the Young hotel on Wednesday evening was most enjoyable, there being such a crush at the concert preceding the dance that chairs were hastily procured from all over the hotel to accommodate the crowds. The band of the Buffalo is a very good one and the dance was participated in by the townspeople as well as the transient guests. Captain Everett kindly loaned the band for the occasion.

The oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Isenberg is celebrating his birthday today by a party at the Isenberg mansion at Punahou.

Miss Nannie Winston, so well and favorably known in Honolulu, is completing her return to winter. She is spending the summer at her father's house in Glen Allen, Va. Her literary work keeps her very busy for her contributions to the New York papers are considered most valuable. Her friends and family are very glad to have her in their midst.

Mrs. T. Hays has returned to Honolulu and with Mr. Hays is a guest at the Moana hotel.

Mr. Edward Dunsenberger, in company with Mr. Isenberg, the youngest brother of Alexander Isenberg, departed for a trip around the world this week. They will be gone for quite a long period.

The advent of Mrs. Norman White house of New York created a great deal of comment and inquiry. The charming marion was the object of much admiration from all who met her during her disappointingly brief stay. The beauty for which she is so well known is faultless in feature and coloring. She is tall, with light brown hair and dark eyes and a complexion of rare delicacy. One of the most stunning costumes she wore while here was an afternoon gown of black lace, plain save for a rich border on each shoulder of the double skirt. The waist was relieved by large white lace medallions on the sleeves and corsage. A black hat of lace and feathers made a perfect finish to the exquisite gown.—San Francisco Examiner.

The St. Andrew's cadets gave a most enjoyable social on Friday evening. Sleight-of-hand performances and a musical program made a very pleasant evening.

Miss Irmgard Schaefer, sisters and brother are very pleasantly domiciled in Philadelphia for the winter. Miss Linda passed a successful examination for admittance to the college.

St. Andrew's fair, which will be held on Saturday next, the 15th, ought to be kept in mind by all who desire a delicious lunch. The fish chowder will be a feature of the luncheon. It is personally prepared by one of the best amateur cooks in the islands; and the other dainties will be equally good. The baked beans of Sans Souci fame will be there in the greatest abundance, as well as ducks, chickens, hams, cold meats, and a variety of cakes and pies.

The lunch is only 75 cents including admission to the fair. The lunch tent will be by itself, so no one need fear the demands of the fair sellers. There will be a special candy booth and the fancy work table will be one of the most attractive features. Among other lovely articles there will be a large number of dainty silk handkerchief dressing jackets. These are dreams, and so cheap! If you wish bargains—so unusual at a fair—you had better attend the St. Andrew's Fair next Saturday. It will continue until 6 o'clock. The lunch is from 11:30 until 2 o'clock.

Don't forget the Charity dance on the evening of October 15th in aid of the Catholic Benevolent Union of Hawaii at Progress Hall. Ellis Brothers' quartet club will furnish music, and refreshments will be served. Tickets are only fifty cents and can be obtained from members.

Lady Clarke, wife of Sir Rupert Clarke of Melbourne, passed through here on her way home. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Cummings. Both Lady Clarke and Miss Cummings have been spending the season at Bar Harbor. Sir Rupert's place in Melbourne is magnificent and the hospitality of the Clarks is unbounded. Lady Clarke is a very pretty woman with a perfect complexion. She was much admired in the east and her sister was quite a belle.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Paxton were among the returning Honoluluans. They expect to make their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Cohen arrived from the coast this week and are at the Alexander Young hotel.

Mr. Allan Dunn, who sailed for the coast this week, expects to make a long visit in California, returning to Honolulu in about a year's time. He has no intention of going to England, and by no means are we to be deprived of his company. He is a talented young man.

Among other arrivals from the coast were Mrs. W. C. Peacock, Mrs. E. McPhetridge, Mrs. W. M. Langton, Mr. H. Smith, R. C. Lydecker, A. S. Wilcox and family and Senator C. H. Dickey.

Dr. John D. Grace of Hilo, who has been at the Alexander Young Hotel for the past week, sailed for the coast and will make an extended visit.

Mr. H. P. Dwyer was tendered a pot supper on Thursday evening at his home in honor of his fortieth birthday. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Hitchcock, Mr. and Mrs. Mutch, the Misses Hutch, Messrs. Merriman, Bird and Penballow. Mr. Dwyer, who is a fine looking man, was very much pleased at this token of good will and esteem.

The Everetts entertained Admiral and Mrs. Terry at dinner on Thursday evening.

Captain and Mrs. Niblack entertained Mr. and Mrs. Norman Whitehouse at dinner on Monday evening.

The marriage of Miss May Young to Dr. Thomas Reed McNab was one of the social events of Oakland. The festivities opened on Monday with a luncheon at the Palace hotel by Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld in honor of the bride. Monday evening Mrs. A. L. Stone gave a "dinner dance." Tuesday the bride elect gave a wedding dinner party at Rose Crest, the family home. Thursday evening, the night of the wedding, it rained, but this did not dampen the splendor or pleasure of the occasion. An Oakland paper says of the wedding: Shortly after 8 o'clock the guests began to arrive, and while they were waiting for the wedding party, there were many exclamations of pleasure over the beautiful decorations of the rooms.

The decoration followed a wonderful fully dainty scheme—it was all outlined in the feathery asparagus fern. It was the motif for the decoration and appeared everywhere, with a wonderfully light and airy effect, very graceful indeed. Everywhere, intertwined in the asparagus fern were Cecil Bruner roses, charming little "Baby" roses. There was a touch of sentiment about these same roses. Miss May Young was the baby of the family and Dr. McNab was the youngest child of a large family, and so "Baby" roses seemed the appropriate flower for the dainty decorations. And it was against a background of Cecil Bruner roses that the wedding party stood for the important ceremony.

The living room showed a very striking scheme of decoration. The color scheme was in pink, worked out with great pink tiger lilies, pink tulles and large box-knots of pink ribbon. At half-past eight, the music of the march from Lohengrin echoed down the stairway, and the bridal procession came in sight. Miss Marietta Havens slowly leading the way. She was a perfectly beautiful study, exquisitely fair and she might have stepped out of some wonderfully rare old picture, painted by one of the great masters, as she came slowly and all by herself down the wide staircase. The wedding party came very slowly and the attendants were a long way apart, the wedding march being managed with fine effect.

Miss Havens was followed by Miss Anita Oliver and Miss Anne McNab, looking exquisitely dainty in gowns of blue, and then came Miss Bertha Young, the maid-of-honor, walking alone, a very pretty, dainty study in blue.

And last of all came the bride with her father, Mr. Alexander Young. They were met by the groom, Dr. McNab, and by the best man, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. E. Baker.

Miss Young made a most charming, dainty little bride, and her wedding gown was exceedingly beautiful. It was of white satin, and the skirt was magnificently trimmed in the rarest of rose point lace. The corsage showed a superb trimming of rose point lace, the pattern representing one of the most elaborate wedding gowns seen here this year.

The wedding veil of tulle was trimmed with a border of real lace and was held in place by lilies of the valley, and the costume was set off by the bride's bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Miss Bertha Young's gown was a very elaborate creation in blue. It was of pale blue chiffon trimmed in point applique, and the bodice showed a superb trimming of the applique.

The bridesmaids were also in pale blue chiffon, the effect being very exquisite and dainty. The skirt and corsage were lighted with lace and cream net.

Bertha Young planned many beautiful surprises. There never was a more unselfish girl in a household. Among the other surprises were the flowers which the bridesmaids carried. They did not know what they were to be, but when they were given the most beautiful carnations, genuine Hawaiian lilies. They were made from the petals of the Enchantress carnations, and were finished with pink tulle and Cecil Bruner roses, the touch of pink, adding a dainty French effect to the color scheme of blue.

The whole color tone of the wedding was specially restful against the warm color tones of red, which mark the furnishings of "Rosecrest."

After the ceremony there was the usual informal reception, when many congratulations and good wishes were offered the beautiful bride and happy groom.

Later an elaborate wedding supper was served, all the many details being most effectively arranged by Hallahan.

At the bride's table was seated the wedding party, and the table carried the same scheme of decoration, asparagus fern and Cecil Bruner roses.

In the dining room at other tables were members of the Young and McNab families. Over a hundred guests were seated at little tables in the dining room, wide hall, and Turkish room.

Later amid a perfect shower of rice

Dr. and Mrs. McNab left for their wedding journey. They are coming for a few days to "Rosecrest," before the Young family leave for Honolulu, and they will make their permanent home in Los Angeles, where Dr. McNab is establishing a promising practice.

Among the relatives at the wedding were Dr. McNab's brother, his mother, and a very charming sister, Miss Annie McNab. Mrs. von Hamm and Mrs. Anderson, sisters of the bride, came from Honolulu for the wedding. Among those present was Alexander Young Jr., and to every one's joy, Mrs. Young was able to come down stairs for the ceremony. She had not been out of her room for a month, and no one expected her to be able to come down stairs, but to the great surprise and pleasure of the bride, she was able to be present at the ceremony.

Many prominent people well known in social circles were at the wedding. Among other guests were the Dillinghams from Honolulu. Some of the very beautiful gowns destined to be in evidence this winter were worn for the first time at the wedding on Thursday night.

During the evening a poem written by Mr. Alexander Young was read. It was entitled, "To My Daughter May," and was read in splendid style by Miss Pearl King. Miss King has a very exquisite voice which has been beautifully trained and she brought out all the lovely sentiment of the poem.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE AND DIABETES NEWS.

Office Wine and Spirit Review, San Francisco, Sept. 5, 1904. To the Editor of The Bulletin.

Dear Sir:—The business men of this city who are now proclaiming to the world the discovery of the cure for Bright's Disease and Diabetes have asked me as one of the beneficiaries to write to some of my brother editors. Hence this letter to you. I was at first as skeptical as anyone. I had reason to be. I had a clear case of chronic Bright's Disease; was ill for a year. It was not thought I would live thirty days. The President of the Pacific States Type Foundry told my wife that the newly discovered diuretic would save my life, and against my private convictions I was put on it. In six months my recovery was complete.

A friend of mine, Dr. A. J. Howe, a prominent physician, was nearly dead with Bright's Disease. On my recovery I told him and it acted the same in his case and he is now well on the road to recovery. I told one of the writers on the Call, whose mother had Diabetes. She has fully recovered. As a brother editor I personally assure you of the truth of the discovery. Thousands of lives are to be saved and I am writing in the hope that this letter will start some of your right.

Fraternally yours,
R. M. WOOD, Editor.

CARDUI BABIES

Many homes are mere lonely abodes because no children are there. Barrenness exists in almost every case because female diseases have paralyzed the organs of womanhood.

Wine of Cardui imparts health and strength to the diseased parts and makes motherhood possible in thousands of cases where barrenness was supposed to be incurable. Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow and also prevents miscarriage and cures bearing down pains. Wine of Cardui removes the cause of barrenness by making the female organism strong and healthy.

Go to your druggist and secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui. The use of Wine of Cardui will bring happiness to your home.

BRYANT, VA., Feb. 18, 1902.

My daughter-in-law, Lizzie Giles, found great benefit in Wine of Cardui. She had a miscarriage in March 1901, before using your medicine. She was in very bad health, so I persuaded her to try Wine of Cardui. Since then she has had a fine baby boy. Soon he will be three weeks old. She highly recommends Wine of Cardui.

My daughter, Fannie Hudson, also has a fine baby boy by your treatment. She highly appreciates Wine of Cardui.

FOR SALE.

The mountain section of the III of Kalaehine, containing an area of 293½ acres.

This land extends from a short distance above the Lunalilo Home to the peak of Tanulua and thence to the head of Manoa valley. It includes a portion of the upper section of Panua Valley.

The Government Tanulua Road winds through the property for about three miles, making easy access available to all parts. It contains all of the choice, available locations for Mountain Homes.

There are never-failing springs at the upper end of the property which could be opened up and made to furnish an ample water supply. There are several houses and gardens on the property.

The land is heavily timbered and reaches an elevation at its highest point of over 2,000 feet. In the tropics high elevations bring health. For further information apply to
