There is a suspicious look about the feverish haste with which the Legislature would have railway franchises legislated. It distinctly shows distrust of a Legislature to be elected by the people—even the people seven times refined in the oligarchic furnace and tried by the fire of test oaths. The anticipation that the lower house, if controlled by natives, would oppose liberal measures of progress is a slander on the natives. Native members of past Legislatures were quite in the front rank when it came to encouraging modern improvements. It was the reputedly wealthiest and wisest foreign members who made a determined fight against the schools, the electric light that turned Honolulu's gloom into glory, and other things that marked steady progress under the monarchy. The Advertiser's eagerness to have important franchises granted by the Advisory Council, which is still only a provisional body, exhales the odor of contemplated jobbery.

THE WATER PROBLEM.

One of the reflections passed upon the unsatisfactory condition of the water supply, when the subject was lately before the Councils, was that one Government paid no regard to the knowledge and experience on record from preceding Governments. It is to be hoped that the present Government will not follow this unwise course. Much valuable information is extant in reports of the Water Works Bureau for former periods, which it would be greatly folly to ignore in planning improvement. There are accounts of droughts, some more severe than that of this year, with details of how the resultant scarcity of water on each occasion was mitigated. Some of the temporary expedients then resorted to would probably, by permanent adoption of the principle and increase of equipment, go far toward a completely satisfactory solution of the problem. It is not that water itself is so scarce now that the supply is shortened, so much as that the means of distribution are very inadequate. There is an abundance of water in the three artesian wells belonging to the Government to supply all the lower levels of the city. The existing mains are, however, not nearly sufficient in capacity to conduct the supply to consumers, even at levels to be reached by the natural pressure, much less pumping. What the Government therefore wanted first and most of all was more main water pipe, and it would seem to have been a mistake to make the pipe tenders wait for those for a pumping plant. Pipes for at least a large part of the required extension could probably be obtained from large dealers on the Coast within from thirty to sixty days. But the Minister of the Interior's call for tenders for pumping plant and pipes gives until September 1 for closing, after which the tenders have to be awaited here from all over the United States. By the time the contract is awarded and the goods arrive, the plant erected and the pipes laid, this season's drought will have long passed into history. When once the artesian wells are given full scope, the Nuanu water may be retained for the higher levels. Then also the pumping machinery ought not to be required at all excepting in dry times. Pumping is expensive and should only be kept in operation when necessary.

Music in the Pacific.

RETROSPECTIVE.

The first musical organization in the Hawaiian Islands was the Amateur Musical Society of Honolulu, organized by the English and Germans principally, some Americans and a few of the high caste and half caste (or half white) Hawaiians. They were all musical—very musical—people, but amateurs, as the name of their society denoted. Edward Hoffman was the president, a peppery little German doctor, whose chum at school was Prince Bismarck. He was a thoroughly good musician, fine pianist, with not only no sympathy but holding the greatest contempt for the "waltz players." At that time there were few grand pianos in Honolulu, but of the few Dr. Hoffman had one imported for him from Germany under Cape Horn in a sailing vessel, the only way then of reaching that "isle of the Pacific"—Oahu. It was, as I remember, by far the best piano there, and many of the concerts took place in Dr. Hoffman's drawing room. It is not surprising that so few grand pianos had found their way across Atlantic and Pacific—they were expensive luxuries. But what did surprise visiting Americans was the number of upright pianos in use. At that time they were almost unknown in America, but at Honolulu they far outnumbered the "square," the American favorite for so many years. Most of them were of English manufacture, some of German, and were very good pianos in spite of their long voyage and the tropical climate. As I recall it, there were no very competent tuners to be had, so the pianos suffered somewhat, being almost always out of tune; but one gets used to being deprived of luxuries when away from the center of civilization, and I know my own piano—a Chickering—served me well for several years with little or no attention from a tuner.

Mrs. Coady, half caste; Mrs. Brewster, American; Mr. Reimers and Mr. Melchers, Germans, were the quartet to whom we were indebted for many musical treats. They never shirked rehearsals, singing to form a perfect whole and sinking personal feeling in the general good.

One concert deserves especial mention. It was held at the Fort Street Church, then the largest auditorium in the city.

The opening chorus, from "La Dame Blanche," was sung in French. The soprano should have begun, but, all too frightened to start unsupported, waited for the other, so none of them ventured, and the orchestra—a mild piano orchestra—kept on with the 1234, 1234, until the contraltos took up the air, when the sopranos, as if having kept it pent up as long as possible, burst into a perfect roar. The only words one could distinguish were "les montagnards s'ont réunis," repeated as many times and in as many different accents as there were singers, so that they seemed to form words for the entire chorus.

The accident to the chorus paved the way for other catastrophes. A solo came to grief through the entire loss of a voice, the flute kept on and on, the accompanist glared to such an extent that the flute lost its place, came to grief and stopped, much to the consternation and also delight of the audience. The Te Deum, possibly sung in Latin, turned out a dirge, while one of the "quartet" was kept away by a serious illness. As a concert it was not a success, yet it remains in the memory for more vividly than the many others that were.

What the exact requirements were that entitled one to become a member of the Amateur Musical Society has never transpired, but all the members were "performers" or "singers." The flute player was a prominent feature of every concert, his limited repertoire being listened to with increasing terror as the years went on. What an infliction to a musical ear! It was rather fun though. Honolulu whispered that his wife, a strong minded, strong featured woman who "performed" on the piano and played his accompaniments, rather humpeked the gentle little man—and that he stood in mortal terror of her superior should "he put her out" in one of their interminable duets. So it was a sight to see him working, puffing, blowing, to keep in tune and time, while his wife transfixed him with a stony glare at every evidence on his part of dropping behind.

The English element must have outnumbered the German, or there would have been less of the "Chough and Crow" and other favorite airs dear to every English heart, even now.

The wife of the French Ambassador was one of the best musicians. A Parisian, her musical education had been of high order. She also despised "waltz players," having a high standard that found but few sympathizers except among the Germans.—New York Musical Courier.

Hawaiian Hardware Co., Ltd

Saturday, Aug. 11, 1894

The conditions in Honolulu during the past eighteen or twenty months have been such that to awake now and find the harbor free from a warship would be like witnessing the play of Hamlet with Hamlet out of it. Not that it is necessary to have a vessel of this character present at all times, but the people are so accustomed to seeing them, and there has been such an interchange of hospitality among the officers and citizens that neither the "Champion" nor the "Philadelphia" should be allowed to leave except upon the assurance that they will be replaced by as good ships with as efficient and agreeable officers. We say "as good ships" because it would smite the dignity of the people here, if, after a season or so of vessels of the White Squadron the foreign governments should consider this place too insignificant for anything above a wooden hulk. This would hardly be, however, after the advertising we have had. It is not so much what a man or a locality is as what the world is led to believe is the case.

When a person tells you that they have used a piece of rubber hose for eighteen months without its having a break in it, don't ask where it was bought but come to us and get a piece like it—we sell that sort in preference to the inferior grade that wears out when you look at it. We have earned a reputation for selling good rubber hose, and we do not propose to lose it by dabbling in an article that will not give satisfaction.

Genuine Hawaiian Salt is an article used more than people imagine. When we took the agency for the sale of the entire product of one works we did so because we had investigated, not only the demand for such an article, but the quality. Experts whom we called to our assistance decided that ours is the best for all purposes. You can get a bag or a hundred tons as your needs call.

We are selling fine Porcelain Lined Bath Tubs with as much ease as we do nails or anything else in every day use. We bought them to sell, not to keep, and we put a price on them that brings them within the reach of almost anyone. The other articles we sell in Enamel Ware—closets, sinks, wash stands, enamel pipe and such things as are used in sanitary plumbing—not the cheap don't-care-how sort, are sold by us at such low prices that there is no reason why people should contract disease through causes which ensue from using bad materials in plumbing. Our assortment is large and contains articles of the most improved designs.

The strikers in the United States have learned that "though the Declaration of Independence declares all men to be endowed with certain unalienable rights and among these are "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," the government does not provide the power to assist one man in the exercise of his right to the injury of his neighbor; Jones may give up work, if he wishes, but if he attempts to stop Smith at his employment and he objects, Jones cannot look to the army to assist him in depriving Smith of one of his "unalienable rights." A few years ago the price of stoves was high; it continued so until we introduced the "Pansy" and practically gave them away. It would be depriving other dealers of a right they now enjoy if we attempted to force them to stop charging exorbitant prices for such goods, and they would deprive us of a certain amount of pleasure derived from doing good, if the dealers would attempt to force us into increasing our prices. We have a sort of declaration of independence and we look to the public for assistance in enforcing its tenets. Having "right" on our side and "might" represented by our customers we experience no difficulty.

WILL STAY IN OFFICE.

Marshal Hitchcock Says, There Will Be No Change in His Bureau.

A representative of the BULLETIN waited on Marshal Hitchcock yesterday. The question was in reference to the renewal or otherwise of the commissions in his Bureau which, as in all others, would become null and void after the 1st of September, under the provisions of the Constitution of the Republic. The Marshal stated that the commissions for Kauai and Maui had already been made out and forwarded and that there were no changes on those islands, simply renewals or reappointments of existing commissions. Those for Hawaii had not yet been sent, but there would be no change there, and so for this island of Oahu. In regard to the rumor of a change in his own appointment the Marshal said that it probably arose from the fact that his friends on Hawaii wished him back there, and he himself from reasons of health wished the same, but that as long as the Government insisted on his staying here he considered it his duty to do so. The Government had insisted on his accepting a renewal of his commission and he had done so. There would be absolutely no change. Any changes made would only be for absolutely proven dereliction of duty or violation of the law. His own practice was as far as possible to favor the Hawaiian in office in place of the foreigner if equal in all other respects.

JUDICIAL JOTTINGS

Decision Against Mrs. McGrew—Illness of a Juror.

In the McGrew divorce case, Judge Cooper reserved the question of law as to whether the legality of the marriage in France was proved. He found that the criminal conduct of the libellee was fully proved. Hartwell and Carter & Carter for libellant; C. W. Ashford for libellee.

While Mr. Kinney for the plaintiff was making the closing argument to the jury in Thomas W. Rawlins vs. The Honolulu Soap Works Co., Mr. Isenberg became alarmingly ill in the jury box. Proceedings were suspended and a physician sought for the sick juror. Dr. Miner, after attending on Mr. Isenberg, forbade his resuming his place on the jury to day. This afternoon, after consultation between counsel on both sides, a stipulation was agreed to, that the parties would abide by a verdict from eleven jurors. Mr. Kinney then concluded his address. Judge Whitling concluded his charge to the jury at 2:30. After some exceptions noted on both sides, the jury retired to consider their verdict.

At 3:15 a verdict was returned for the plaintiff for $5333.33 damages.

CAPTAIN MARTIN'S BARK.

The Velocity a Staunch and Profitable Old Vessel.

The bark Velocity which arrived on Saturday last from Hongkong concluded its twentieth trip between that port and this. Captain Martin, who is the sole owner, and commands her, has been master of the Velocity for that number of years. The vessel is solidly built and is as staunch a vessel as has ever entered this port, although she is not a thing of beauty. On this trip the Velocity brought 600 tons of Oriental merchandise. Captain Martin expects to be ready to return to Hongkong on September 9th, and will take as passengers about one hundred Chinese.

The Velocity is chartered by a company composed of thirteen rich firms in China. These firms consolidate into a sort of company for the purpose of exporting goods to their agents in Honolulu. They pay the sum of $5000 for the round trip to Honolulu and return. All monies collected by Captain Martin for storage passengers returning to China are handed over to the chart or company, the only exception being in cabin passengers. The Velocity has made trips of forty up to sixty days, and this last one was one of the longest, being ninety days. Captain Martin is evidently well contented with his lot, and would not be taken to be what he is reported to be worth, $300,000. He is married to a Chinese woman, resident in China, and can talk the language fluently. With the exception of the first mate his crew is composed of Chinese.

JAPANESE STRIKE.

Ewa Plantation Laborers Again Stop Work.

Manager Lowrie of the Ewa plantation came to town early this morning to report to Marshal Hitchcock on further trouble he has had with his two hundred Japanese laborers. The men struck work this morning in a body, and demanded the discharge of Lennox, the plantation policeman. The following story of the cause which led up to the strike was given to Marshal Hitchcock.

About 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon four or five laborers working in the mill thought they had got through their day's labor and started to go home. The engineer wanted them to stay and finish some work. Lennox requested them to stop and finish the work. Three of the four Japanese went back and one started off, and Lennox went after him. The policeman spoke to the man and claims he never touched him. He took the man's dinner pail and bottle from him, and the Jap said all right, he would go back. The pail and bottle were handed back, when the Jap struck Lennox on the head, smashing the bottle and cutting a big gash. The Jap still retained the remaining part of the bottle in his hand and made a grab at the officer. The latter grabbed at his hands, and in doing so his hands were cut. The Jap was also cut in the hands, neck and face during the scuffle. The plantation hands assembled in a body in the evening and demanded that Lennox be discharged. Manager Lowrie sent for Deputy Sheriff Kaui and he arrived with two officers to keep the peace. The manager then proposed that the Japs choose six men and they would come to town and see Mr. Fujii, the Japanese Consul-General. They would not assent and further developments were awaited. This morning not a single Jap was seen at work. The manager came to town and saw the Marshal. Consul-General Fujii stated he would go to Ewa, and this afternoon Mr. Nacayama, Inspector-General of Immigration, K. Okkots, a clerk from the consulate, Deputy Marshal Brown, Interpreter Doyle and Captain Parker left for Ewa. Marshal Hitchcock stated that the affair would be thoroughly investigated and if Lennox was in the wrong he would have to be discharged. If the contrary is the case the plantation will be upheld. The party will return and report to-morrow.

J. W. Gibbs is Convicted of Selling Liquor on Sunday.

The Sunday liquor selling case against Geo. Houghtaling and J. W. Gibbs was concluded in the District Court to-day. Additional evidence and the two informers, Fred Myers and Patz, who testified that they received $25 each on every conviction secured through their services. They purchased the liquor with marked money furnished them by the police. They testified that they bought the liquor from J. W. Gibbs on August 5, in the rear of the Bay Horse Saloon. Houghtaling was discharged and Gibbs was sentenced to pay a fine of $100. C. Creighton noted an appeal.

HOW IT WAS FOUND.

Coulter's Kind Host in Alarm Reveals His Secret.

Since the finding of the box of treasure by Detective Larsen yesterday, it has been learned that he gained information of the whereabouts through an elderly native named Dick Napali, a ship carpenter in the employ of Sorenson & Lyle. W. H. Coulter applied to Dick at the latter's home at Kalua for shelter and the kind-hearted native gave him a room. Some time after Coulter, according to Dick's story, called the native out and showed him a certain spot near the house. Coulter told Dick that in case he (Coulter) died or left the country the native would dig in that spot and find a box. Every thing in the box would be his. Hearing of Coulter's arrest the mind of the old native was bothered, through fear that he would be arrested for harboring him. Yesterday he called at the Police Station and asked for Larsen. He told Larsen everything that had transpired between them, not omitting to mention the incident regarding the digging near the house. The detective at once suspected the truth and they two drove to Kalahele. Coulter pointed out the spot and after digging about four feet the box was found. A goodly amount of the jewelry found in the box has been claimed, but there are many articles still remaining in the Marshal's possession.

LADIES' COLUMN.

When the trade finds time to doubt our assertions about sales and prices, but one conclusion can be formed, and that is that we are setting the pace on prices as well as doing the business. There is an old proverb that "what is one man's loss is another man's gain." We are going on record and change it to "what is your gain by trading with us, and ours by increased business, is the other man's loss." So down we go from day to day in prices—there is not a dull counter in our store. We have gotten out of the old rut—the days of large profits are over. Every day it will be something new and tempting in styles and prices. We can't mention but a few articles in this column, but wish to impress you that if you want anything in our line you can get it at rock bottom prices, and a guarantee the goods are as represented.

If you buy those Turkish Towels of ours you will surely pray for rain. They are so different from the cheap things offered as Turkish Towels. Cash bought these, so that we can sell them at just as low a figure as the cheap goods are offered.

A handsome PURSE is a very deceptive thing. It almost always creates the impression there is money in it, and so there is if you save on the purchase price by buying of us. We struck a snap in our purchase of purses, and will give you the benefit of it. They run from 25c. to perfect beauties in Real Alligator and Russian Seal with sterling silver mountings.

PARASOLS interest you. Been looking all over town for just what you wanted. Beg pardon, you looked every place but here. If you had you would have seen Ladies' Small Carriage, Black Satoons, Black Gloria, Silk Serges, Navy Blue Silk with Dresden (real) China handles, Black Silk with natural stick handles, etc., also a full line of Men's 28-inch Umbrellas.

No fancy prices on these goods.

Hood's Cures

Even When Called Incurable
Terrible Scurvy—Sciatic Rheumatism

Mr. Arthur Simon of Galatia, Ohio.

"They said I was incurable, the doctors did, but the result has proven that Hood's Sarsaparilla was able to cure. I had Sciatic Rheumatism and was confined to my bed six months. Three physicians did not help me and I was given up to die."

I Was Given Up to Die
When I was in this terrible condition, unable to move hand or foot, I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. The first bottle had a little effect, and while taking the second, I gained so rapidly that I could sit up in my chair. My system had been so run down by other medicine, that it took me quite a while to recuperate. By the time I had taken four bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I could walk around, and now, as I have taken six bottles, I am cured and can do a good day's work. I do not feel I can praise enough." ARTHUR SIMON, Galatia, Ohio.

National Cane Shredder

PATENTED UNDER THE LAWS OF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVE BEEN APPOINTED SOLE AGENTS FOR these SHREDDERS and are now prepared to receive orders. The great advantage to be derived from the use of the NATIONAL CANE SHREDDER are thoroughly established and acknowledged by Planters generally.

The large number of Planters using them in the United States, Cuba, Argentine Republic, Peru, Australia and elsewhere, bear witness to the above claim.

The use of the SHREDDER very largely augments the quantity of cane the mill can grind (25 to 50%), also the extraction of juice (5 to 12%).

It is a great safeguard, making known at once the presence of any pieces of iron, stakes from cars, or anything which would be liable to damage the mill, and allowing ample time to remove same before damaging the mill.

The SHREDDER is very strongly made, and from the manner of its operation it cuts or tears these pieces of wood or iron without often breaking the SHREDDER; and if anything breaks, it is simply some of the knives or cutters, which can be quickly and economically replaced. The SHREDDER, as its name indicates, tears the cane into shreds of varying lengths, perfectly opening it and allowing the mill to thoroughly press out the juices without requiring the immense extra power necessary to grind or crush the whole cane. The SHREDDER spreads the shredded cane uniformly and evenly to the mill rolls, and does away with the necessity of spreading the bagasse by hand between the mills, where regrinding is in use. No greater amount of boiler capacity is required to operate the SHREDDER than that which was sufficient for the mill, for the above reasons. We furnish full working drawings for the installation of our SHREDDERS, enabling any competent engineer to successfully install and start them.

In ordering SHREDDERS from us, please send small sketch, showing the diameter and width of the mill rolls with which SHREDDER is to be connected, also the side (either right or left hand as you face the delivery side of the mill), upon which the mill engine is located, also the height from floor line to center of front mill roll shaft, and distance center this shaft to front end of bed plate. These SHREDDERS are now being used by the Hilo Sugar Co. and Hilo Mill, Kohala, where they are giving great satisfaction.

Prices and further particulars may be had by applying to

UNION STREET, HONOLULU.

WHY HE WAITED.

One of the Incidents Attending Barbering in England.

"American men who travel in Europe," said L. J. Margraaf of Pittsburgh to a Globe-Democrat reporter recently, "frequently complain of the lack of skill on the part of the barbers. So few men, comparatively, depend upon barbers to be shaved in the Old World, that the art is not mastered by those who practice it. When I was in England last year I had an experience with a barber in one of the country districts which indicated that he was no more expert in cutting hair than he was in shaving. One day while traveling leisurely along I came to a rather neat looking barber shop, and, being aware that my hair needed cutting, I entered and submitted myself to the shears."

"I did so with some little trepidation, however, for the shears were great clumsy-looking weapons, and looked as if they might be used more appropriately in cutting sheet-iron than on men's hair. While the barber was making preparations to go to work on my hair I noticed that his dog, a vicious-looking bull terrier, had taken a position just beside the chair, and was eyeing me in a strange sort of way. As soon as the barber set to work the dog appeared to get very uneasy, but still eyed me as a cat would a mouse, first tipping his head on one side and then on the other. I stood this kind of scrutiny for a while, and then asked the barber why the dog appeared to take such an interest in me. 'That's easily explained,' he replied; 'sometimes when I am cutting a gent's hair I accidentally chip off a little piece of the ear, and then you should see Towser, that's the dog's name, jump for it.'"

How a Fly Hange On.

If the foot of a fly is put under a glass of a good microscope it may be seen how simple is the contrivance that seems able to defy the laws of gravitation, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. The foot is made up of two pads, covered with fine, short hairs, with a pair of curved hooks above them. Behind each pad is a tiny bag filled with clear liquid gum, the hairs also being hollow and filled with the same sticky fluid. As the fly glides rapidly over a smooth surface every step presses out a supply of gum strong enough to give him sure footing and to sustain him in safety if he halts. So strong is the cement that upon one of his six feet is quite sufficient to sustain the weight of his whole body. If he stands still any length of time the gum is apt to dry up and harden, and so securely fasten the fly's foot as to make a sudden step snap the leg itself.

Teacher (to boy whose father keeps a grocery store)—Johnny, if your father has a hundred eggs, and twenty of them are bad, how many does he lose?

Johnny—He doesn't lose any of them. He sells the bad ones to the restaurant keeper.—Texas Siftings.

Nothing is more expensive than penuriousness; nothing more anxious than carelessness, and every duty which is hidden to wait returns with seven fresh duties at its back.

A human face clock is on view in the window of a St. Petersburg watchmaker. The hands are pivoted on the nose, and any messages spoken into its ear are repeated by a phonograph through its mouth. It is said to be the only clock of its kind at present in existence.

LUCOL :-

IS THE BEST PAINT OIL!

Save Half the Amount of Your Oil Bill Through Saving in Pigment.

Every painter should use LUCOL instead of Linseed Oil, because:

1. Lucol is more durable than Linseed Oil.
2. Lucol is more economical than Linseed Oil.

PROOF THAT LUCOL IS MORE DURABLE.

Six years of actual use in exterior house painting in California (the most trying climate for paints), in the burning heat of the Arizona Desert, the Arctic cold of Alaska, and on the Atlantic coast, have fully and practically shown that Lucol, always outwears Linseed Oil under the same conditions. All the acid works in San Francisco have discarded Linseed Oil for Lucol.

ILLUSTRATE THIS YOURSELF.

Put strong ammonia on Linseed and Lucol paints. The Linseed paints are destroyed in a few minutes; the Lucol paints are practically unaffected.

PROOF THAT LUCOL IS MORE ECONOMICAL.

Break up 1 1/2 lbs. paste white lead in one pint of Lucol, and the same quantity in one pint of Linseed Oil. Spread the paints on similar dark surfaces for comparison. The Lucol paint spreads as far as and covers much better than the Linseed paint. To get equally good covering with the Linseed paint you have to use 2 1/2 lbs. of white lead to one pint of Linseed Oil. This means a saving of 1 lb. of paste lead to each pint of Lucol used, or 6 lbs. to every gallon, equivalent to your saving more than half the first cost of the Lucol.

Lucol is not in competition with cheap Linseed Oil substitutes.
