HONOR TO JAPAN

Brilliant Assemblage at Japanese Legation.

MANY CITIZENS PAY RESPECTS

Diplomat's First Reception in Honolulu.

Entertained in Regal Style - Mrs. Shimamura's Hospitality - Assisted by Society Ladies.

The reception in honor of the birth-day of the Emperor of Japan, given at the home of H. I. J. M.'s Consul General.

CONSUL GENERAL AND MRS. SHIMAMURA.

eral Shimamura from 2 to 5 yesterday afternoon was one of the most brilliant affairs of its kind ever given on the Islands. While there was, of course, a predominance of the Japanese in both the spirit of the occasion and in the decorations of the various parts of the house and grounds, still there was enough of another spirit to make all those who were so fortunate as to attend to feel perfectly at home and at one with the object of the celebration.

As already detailed in the columns of this paper, the decorations throughout the yard and house were beautiful, the paper flowers taking one immediately to the sunny land of Japan by means of their perfection of imitation and the artistic manner of their setting.

The house was most comfortably arranged for the accommodation of the guests of the afternoon, with chairs distributed here and there, together with good things to eat and drink on all sides.

Out in the yard there was a continual succession of fireworks, which all the guests had a chance to witness, while close by was the Hawaiian Band, giving forth its delightful music to all.

Consul General and Mrs. Shimamura stood in the large drawing room close to the hallway, welcoming their guests and making each one feel at home by a hearty hand-shake and an assurance of hospitality. Next to them were the following ladies, who through their clever manner of receiving the guests added much to the charm and enjoyment of the afternoon: Misses Kate McGrew, Dulany, Ella Stansbury, Agnes Judd, Carter (3) and Campbell.

Among those present were President Dole, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Smith, S. M. Damon, Chief Justice and Mrs. Judd, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Foster, Sir Robert Herron and Lady Herron, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Schaefer, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Rain Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Mills, Mr. Justice Frear and Mrs. Frear, the Rev. WAITING RESULTS

Result of Election May Not be Promptly Known.

CHANGE OF SYSTEM THE CAUSE

How Advance of Wheat is Accounted For.

Broker Gives His Views—Matrimony in High Life—Italy's Crown Prince Marries a Princess.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The Presidential election of Tuesday, November 3d, will be held under conditions which have never before prevailed, and which will render the official count a matter of difficulty and unusual delay.

Since the last Presidential election almost every State which had not then adopted the Australian ballot system has, by State enactment, prescribed some form of secret ballot, either based on the Australian plan or closely resembling it. The only exceptions are Georgia, Louisiana, North Carolina and South Carolina. In the first three States named the old open ballot system prevails and the election machinery is in the hands of the State authorities. In South Carolina there is what is called a "reform ballot." In nearly all the other States blanket ballots will be cast, and in many of them the count will be complicated by the fact that State, legislative and county nominations are all printed on the same ballot with the names of the Presidential electors. Connecticut has an envelope system and New Jersey prints each party ticket on a separate ballot.

Should the election be in any way close, it is, therefore, quite possible that it may be twenty-four hours, or even forty-eight hours, after the polls are closed before the result is known. In States like Nebraska, for instance, where, according to some estimates, there may not be a margin of 5,000 votes either way, it will be impossible to arrive at a correct judgment until all the back counties are heard from. The polls in the cities of some States close at 4 p. m., but in the country districts keep open until 6, and with a Governor, Legislature and county officers to elect, all on one ballot, it will take at least twenty-four hours to complete the count.

Some idea of the general trend of votes in Ohio can probably be obtained from the result of the counties in which Cincinnati and Cleveland are respectively situated, and these results will probably be known comparatively early.

The two last Presidential elections have been singularly free from uncertainty. It was known at 10 a. m. on election day in 1888 that Mr. Harrison had defeated Mr. Cleveland, and it was known with equal certainty that Mr. Cleveland had defeated Mr. Harrison. But in the election of 1884, when Mr. Cleveland defeated Mr. Blaine, the official result hung in doubt over the State of New York for days.

The fusion tickets will add a further element of difficulty in the Presidential count this year.

Fusion has been arranged between the Populists and the Democrats on the electoral ticket in every Democratic State but Tennessee, Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama, Florida and Texas. In several of the Southern States, while there has been no formal fusion between the Republicans and Populists on State tickets, local arrangements have been made that amount to fusion, and will have more or less to do with the result.

The following States will elect Governors on November 3d: Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, South Carolina, Texas, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

The following will elect Legislatures: California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky (seven vacancies), Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Mon-

IN THE OLD WORLD.

How the Advance in Wheat is Accounted For.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—At the Baltic today wheat opened 6d under yesterday's price, but values stiffened later, holders demanding yesterday's top prices. There was little doing, however. A press representative had an interview with a broker who does the largest business in wheat on this side of the Atlantic in regard to the situation. He said in substance:

"In a half natural, half speculative course, we have only followed the lead set by the United States, where speculators are very active. There is a scarcity, in spite of the fact that England had a big crop, that induced speculators to rush in. Russia's crop is poor and Austria's practically nil. But what is of great moment, consumers having large advance milling contracts also rushed in to secure supplies, even at top prices, which today are 20 per cent higher than last week.

"The California wheat sent to India is as yet only a drop in the bucket, but the moral effect of the movement and of the impending famine in India have been very great. Of course, if rain falls in quantities California wheat will not be wanted, but I doubt this, and coupled with the Viceroy's grave telegrams it naturally affords speculators the real element of uncertainty they delight in. "Still, this does not account for more than half the rise. The balance is solid advance, owing to shortness of supplies. We shall follow the United States closely, however. The rise in freights has at all times been in advance of the rise in wheat, and the demand for steamers is most brisk. The closing of the Sea of Azov early in December will free numbers of ships to load elsewhere, though at present the Azov boats are loading as rapidly as possible."

MATRIMONY IN HIGH LIFE.

Italy's Crown Prince Marries Princess Helene.

ROME, Oct. 24.—The civil marriage of the Crown Prince of Italy to Princess Helene of Montenegro took place this morning in the ball room of the Quirinal, and the religious ceremony occurred later in the Church of Santa Maria degli Angeli. Both ceremonies were brilliant and the young couple were cheered enthusiastically by the crowds which lined Via Nazionale, through which the wedding procession passed.

In the ball room of the Quirinal, the royal palace, was a large table, at which were seated King Humbert and Queen Margaret and all of the Montenegro Princes and Princesses, Maria Pia, sister of the King and Dowager Queen of Portugal; the Duke of Oporto, brother of the King of Portugal; Prince Victor Napoleon and Prince Karageorgevics. Standing around the royal group were the Knights of the Order of the Annunciation, the Cabinet Minister and court dignitaries, the Senators and Deputies and the municipal and provincial officers.

SWISS ELECTIONS.

Not Much Change in the Composition of the Council.

BERNE, Oct. 25.—The elections for members of the National Council for a term of three years were held to-day. The National Council, consisting of 147 delegates of the Swiss people, is the second chamber of the Federal Assembly. The strength of the two parties is not materially altered by to-day's election. The radical democratic majority gained five members from the Protestant Conservatives and the Socialists gained one.

ANGLO-SAXON FEDERATION.

Scheme for Assuring the Peace of the World.

MELBOURNE, Oct. 20.—Lord Brassey, the Governor of Victoria, in a speech today on imperial federation, said: "It would be wise, if possible, to bring America into a grand defensive league of the Anglo-Saxon races, which would effectively secure the peace of the world."

ESCAPED FROM JAIL

Pat Cullen Under Sentence For Murder.

Was a Trusty at the Prison. Changed Clothing in Neighborhood.

The police department was notified shortly before 6 o'clock last night of the escape of Pat Cullen from Oahu jail. Only the most meagre information could be obtained last night, as the officials or guards at the jail declined to give any information, preferring rather to go on a still hunt for the escape than to give the matter publicity.

Rumor has it that Cullen, who was a trusty at the prison and engaged outside the walls, failed to answer to his name when called at 5 o'clock. How long he had been away when the discovery was made is not known, but it is supposed he had been absent about an hour. Search began at once and within a half hour the prisoner's striped suit was found, showing that he had assistance in his escape.

The clerk at the station was quite as reticent as the guards at the jail. He would say only that a prisoner had escaped. Information was communicated to the Marshal about 7 o'clock that Cullen was seen talking to a well known young man on Sunday for about three hours, and yesterday at 3 p. m. he was again in conversation with him outside the walls.

The Marshal communicated with the young man, but it was impossible to learn last night the nature of the information, if any was secured. It is probable that Cullen will conceal himself somewhere in the mountains until such time as he can escape from the country on an outgoing vessel. This may not be difficult to accomplish, as several instances of the kind have occurred within the last few years.

Cullen was convicted of killing a Chinaman in Koolau about two years ago and was sentenced to imprisonment at hard labor for five years. His conduct at the prison has been faultless, and as a reward for his behavior he was made a trusty and given the usual privileges. His home is in Koolau, but it is not considered probable that he will visit that locality.

WHAT IT COSTS TO BELONG TO A NEW YORK CLUB.

Some interesting facts are presented in a directory of club men in New York that has just made its second appearance. The first edition of this book, issued two or three years ago, contained 2,300 names, and the last edition contains 25,000 names, the additions having been chiefly from the luncheon clubs which have recently become a popular feature of New York life. The cost of membership in different clubs in this city is by no means expressed in the initiation fees and annual dues. They represent the necessary expenses, but if a man uses his club much he finds that the incidental expenses are much greater than his club dues. The initiation fees vary from $5 up to $300 for resident membership. Membership in the Metropolitan, the Union, the Knickerbocker and the Union League costs $300 as an initiation fee, and in the University, Lotos, Calumet and Manhattan it costs $300. The annual dues of these clubs run from $60 to $75. The New York Club, the New York Athletic, St. Nicholas, Century and Colonial have initiation fees that run from $100 up to $150. There are a score of smaller clubs occupying their own well equipped club houses, with initiation fees that range from $50 down to $25. The restaurants in the large clubs are expensive luxuries to the clubs, and cheap conveniences to its members. The service in them is the best that can be found in town, and they are usually run at a loss to the club. The prices are less than those at the best restaurants. Several of the big clubs more than make good their restaurant losses by their bar receipts. The new luncheon clubs that have so largely increased the list of club men draw on down town professional and business men chiefly for their membership.—New York Sun.

WERE ACQUITTED

Salvation Army People Have Another Trial.

DISMISSED BY DISTRICT JUDGE

Evidence of Prisoners and Police at Variance - But Two Officers Tried.

Captain Zimmers, Lieutenant Viola Monroe and six other members of the Salvation Army were up for trial in the police court yesterday morning on the charge of being a common nuisance by obstructing a certain public highway. In the case of the six privates in the army a nolle prosequi was entered and the defendants discharged. The two officers alone were held for trial. Marshal Brown appeared for the prosecution and Messrs. W. R. Castle and J. Q. Wood for the defense.

The first witness for the prosecution was Officer Wills, who testified that he had arrested the defendants according to orders from headquarters, which were to the effect that in case the Salvation Army held a meeting at certain places, such as the corner of Hotel and Nuuanu avenue, and refused to move on when warned, they were to be arrested and taken down to the police station. Wills further stated that the locality mentioned was crowded with people shortly after 7 o'clock on Saturday night while the Salvation Army was singing a hymn—so crowded in fact that neither carriages nor pedestrians could get past.

Gus Cordes, sworn, testified: Defendants were arrested on Hotel street near Nuuanu avenue, shortly after 7 o'clock on Saturday evening, October 31st. It was a very large meeting that was being held and the street and sidewalk were crowded. Officer Wills spoke to the Salvation Army people, but I did not hear what he said. On Saturday nights there is usually a large crowd around in the vicinity where the Salvation Army took its stand on the night of the arrest. Most of the driving is done around there. No, I did not hear what Wills said.

Cross-examined: I was there about 7 o'clock. The Salvation Army was standing by the saloon. I don't remember anything about my conversation with Wills. Think I heard him say something about making an arrest. He went over toward the army and I followed. There must have been between 40 and 50 people standing on the sidewalk. There were a lot of carriages passing by on Nuuanu avenue, but not on Hotel street, where the army was standing. No, I can't say that I enjoyed the music. The crowd was not disorderly. There was one drunken native standing near by, and thinking he would be safer in the police station, I arrested him.

Attorney Wood—Mr. Cordes, I want to know about your conversation with Wills. You say you don't remember distinctly anything about it?

Cordes—Think Wills said something about making the army move on. Don't remember exactly just what he said.

After a few questions by the court W. R. Castle made a motion to discharge on the grounds that looking at the case from a point of law the defendants were not guilty of common nuisance. After adducing his reasons and after having been answered by the prosecution, the motion was denied and the defense proceeded to place its witnesses on the stand.

Adjutant Simonson, sworn, stated: I was with the army on Hotel street on the night of the arrest. No crowd followed us as we marched from headquarters around on Nuuanu avenue. King, Fort and Hotel streets to a position near headquarters again. The police came up just as we had arrived there. The crowd came with the police. There might have been between 40 and 50 people. The street was not jammed.

Cross-examined—There was plenty of room for a hack to pass. I always look out for that part of it. The lower side of the street was clear.

Then followed a dispute between W. R. Castle and Marshal Brown about the situation of the saloon in the vicinity of where the arrest was made, the former declaring they were opposite each other and the latter insisting upon their being diagonally across. However, the matter was amicably settled and a smile passed over the faces of all present.

Captain Zimmers, sworn, stated: The officer, when he stepped up to address us, said: "I have orders for you not to hold a meeting on this street tonight." I told him we were not going to move on, and that we were going to hold a meeting just as long as we did not blockade the street. The four corners of Nuuanu avenue and Hotel street were filled as we went by the first time. They did not all come over when we took our stand for the meeting. Yes, I think that Officer Cordes did draw on his imagination when he affirmed that there was a large crowd there.

Cross-examined—No, there was no obstruction of the street as far as I could see. We had just stopped and were singing a song. There was no time for a crowd to collect. The two witnesses for the prosecution did not tell the truth.

Lieutenant Viola Monroe, sworn, stated: There was no obstruction. Vehicles could pass by without any trouble.

Judge De La Vergne found defendants not guilty and discharged them.

EHLERS' NEW STORE.

Will Open in Waverley Block With Entire New Stock.

On Saturday next the largest retail store in Honolulu will be opened by B. F. Ehlers & Co., in the Waverley block, Bethel street. The store has just been fitted up for the use of the firm and presents a beautiful appearance.

There are three entrances and mammoth plate glass windows on Bethel street, and these, with additional doors and windows on the court side of the building give ample light for the careful examination or matching of goods and colors. The space at the mauka end containing broad counters and forty separate shelves will be used entirely as a department for silk and woolen goods. Opposite this is a corresponding space for valuable laces and rich trimmings for dresses. Opposite the center entrance and occupying the counters on either side of the passage will be the notion department, while on the makai end of the room the counters and shelving is allotted to gloves and cotton goods. The store is lighted by electricity and has been fitted throughout with light natural wood, and presents a particularly cheerful appearance. The fact of the place being so well lighted will prevent annoyance and mistakes in the selection of goods. The stock is entirely new and has been imported direct from the United States and Europe by the firm.

The convenience of the locality, the elegance and completeness of the stock, coupled with the fact that the store is the largest and best arranged dry goods store in the Islands, is a sufficient guarantee that on Saturday, November 7, the force of clerks at Ehlers' will have all it can attend to. The millinery department will continue on the second floor as usual.

The wife of Mr. Leonard Wells, of East Brimfield, Mass., had been suffering from neuralgia for two days, not being able to sleep or hardly keep still, when Mr. Holden, the merchant there sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and asked that she give it a thorough trial. On meeting Mr. Wells the next day he was told that she was all right, the pain had left her within two hours, and that the bottle of Pain Balm was worth $5.00 if it could not be had for less. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by all druggists and dealers, Benson Smith & Co., agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

HISTORY OF THE REVOLUTION.

After passing through various vicissitudes which publishers alone can appreciate, the "History of the Late Years of the Hawaiian Monarchy and the Revolution of 1893" has been placed at the disposal of the public. This book contains a carefully compiled review of the reigns of Kalakaua and Liliuokalani, the events leading up to and following the revolution which marked the downfall of monarchial rule in this small, though important, nation of the Pacific. The fact that the work is written by Prof. W. D. Alexander is a guarantee of its authenticity and the unbiased interpretation of public men and public measures.

In his preface Prof. Alexander says: "The writer, while not professing to be neutral, has honestly striven not to extenuate aught or set down aught in malice, but to state the facts as nearly as possible in their true relation, and in their just proportions. The official documents on both sides bearing on the case are given in full, including the report of Col. J. H. Blount to the President of the United States, and the report of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, drawn up by Senator Morgan of Alabama." This modesty is characteristic of the author, and a perusal of his work proves conclusively that he has succeeded in giving to the people of Hawaii a "brief, clear and dispassionate history of the Revolution of 1893 and the events that led up to it." In dealing with the action of men who attempted to maintain continued misrule he has been particularly careful to give the best interpretation possible and allow honesty of conviction to those who were undoubtedly misguided and subject to the machinations of unscrupulous politicians.

The review of the "Affair of 1895" is what it pretends to be—a brief sketch of the principal events of that revolt.

The portion from Prof. Alexander's pen cannot fail to become one of the standard historical works of Hawaii, and will prove a valuable acquisition to the libraries, not only of our own people, but of those in all lands interested in the progress and development of the political life of nations of the Pacific.

The general outpouring of citizens who called at the Japanese Consulate on Tuesday ought to leave no question as to the high esteem in which the foreign residents hold the ruler of the Japanese Empire. While racial and national differences exist to a greater or less extent, the people of this country are never tardy in extending the proper courtesy and respect due its foreign representatives. There is, after all, a happy relation between Hawaii and the progressive little nation of the Orient, and Consul-General Shimamura was indeed fortunate in giving an opportunity for all nationalities to demonstrate their good will toward Emperor Mutsu-hito. When Japan began to step out into the commercial world Hawaii was one of the first nations to receive consideration, and her citizens given special privileges in a country which hitherto had closed its doors to the advances of foreigners. The people of Hawaii offer hearty congratulations and best wishes for the healthy progress and steady advance of Japan in its commercial and political development.

The announcement that President Cleveland will not recognize the Cuban patriots until there is some concerted action on the part of other nations puts Cuba on the plane with Armenia. One hopeful view of the situation is that the treasury of Spain is fast becoming depleted, and her soldiers sulky, while the Cubans are being liberally supplied with men, money and arms from the United States, and appear to be able to keep up the fight for several years more if necessary. Patriotism will outlive paid fighters any day, and the Cubans are fortunate in not having opposition from the powers, although unable to obtain direct assistance.

A San Francisco pastor recently told his congregation: "What this country has most to fear is not the crime that is rampant, but the decency that is languid." If more people could realize the force of this sentiment, there would be far less crime in the world. The average human being is prone to let well enough alone and wink at the slight evidences of immorality that passes under his nose every day in the year. Moral weeds, if let alone, flourish wonderfully, and the growth is so gradual that the ruling majority do not realize the dangers of the situation until the whole social system is filled with a network of corruption which can only be eradicated by supreme effort.

As goes Honolulu so goes the United States. This adage has proved true in several of the mock elections held in this city, consequently the Bryan men of the town are supposed to be preparing to bury their election hats, etc.

PERSONAL AND PECULIAR.

On the new Jungfrau Railway no passengers will be accepted until examined medically, and if any of the travelers feel ill they must get out, and they will be afforded medical attendance. This will certainly be a novelty in railway traveling.

The Duke of Marlborough's first gift to his wife after his home coming was a little Blenheim spaniel. It is traditional in the ducal house of Marlborough that every duchess shall possess as her constant companion one of these small dogs. The reason for this is that at the battle of Blenheim the first duke was attended by a pet spaniel, which never left his heels for a single moment throughout the fight, and that after the battle Sarah, the duke's celebrated wife, adopted the brave little animal and would not be parted from it again.

It is a matter of record that in times of intense political excitement English audiences have remained in crowded halls until the lamp flames died out and left them in darkness, because of the insupportable quality of the air.

Mr. Dana, in a paragraph in a recent issue of the New York Sun, said that Gen. Phillip H. Sheridan was "the bravest man except one we ever knew." A correspondent of the Sun asked who was "the notable exception," and Mr. Dana replied that it was Custer.

The Empress of Austria has the finest head of hair of any royal lady in Europe, and yet it is never washed! Every day it is brushed thoroughly, while a lotion (of which the recipe is jealously kept) is employed. Seven brushes are used, one after the other, so that perfect cleanliness may be insured, and the operation takes two hours and four ladies-in-waiting!

All the street railways of Monterey, Mexico, have been bought up by a local capitalist, who will equip them with electricity.

For Planters!

EVERY'S STUBBLE DIGGER is the peer of all sugar land implements. Two mules can throw the stubble out loose enough to plant any crop and not interfere with the cultivation. Its features of absolute merit are:

1. Metal wheels with renewable hub boxes.
2. Solid steel teeth.
3. Great strength, with lightness of draught.
4. Improved flanges, with movable teeth.

We also handle Avery's Stubble Shaver. The planter will recognize the superiority of this shaver over all others at a glance. The knives can be raised or lowered, with ease, with ONE lever, without stopping the team. They can be regulated to shave at any depth and are protected by shields, so that it is impossible for the mules to be cut by them.

Avery's Improved Cane Cultivator.

And the above mentioned Shavers and Diggers are in use at the Onomea Sugar Co.'s plantation, the Wainaku plantation, the Hakalau plantation, where they have given great satisfaction; and testimonials to that effect are on file in our office.

Planters should order early so as not to be delayed in their work. We have a large stock on hand, and are now offering them at greatly reduced prices.

THE WIDOW'S EQUAL.

CHIMMIE FADDEN POSES IN A VERY STRANGE ROLE.

The Duchess Arranges the Whole Affair and as Usual Gets the Larger Amount of Cash—The Coy Mug and How He Came to the Popping Point.

"Chames," says de duchess t'me de odder day, "Chames, now dat de wedder is too cool for little Miss Fannie t' wear bare legs above her shoes any longer I t'ink I'll have t' go into town and get me a new bonnet, cause Miss Fannie's last fall bonnets don't suit me style," she says.

"Say, I was dead on dat de duchess wasn't going into de city t' put up good long green bottle for no bonnet, cause she is too high wid her money t' make a bad break like dat.

"Let me tell you. De duchess is de most savingest goil you ever seed in all your life, and she'd radder have a cable car run over her toes dan cough up a plunk for anyt'ing she can get any odder way.

"She must have money sunk away t' burn a wet day wid—her wages, my wages, and near all de tips I collars on de side. All de money I has t' spend is what I holds back from her, what I gets on de quiet sneak and sneaks where she ain't on to it. Dat's what I t'inks. See? Dat's what I t'inks, but I mostly dreams when I t'ink dat way, 'cause when I has made a bit what I t'ink she don't know of, why, den in a little while she gives me some game like I was telling you of. Says she has t' go t' town for a bonnet or some dinky t'ing and makes me blow in me secret bottle on a racket.

"Sure, she's a wonder, dat goil is. She knows when I has made a sneak of a bit just as well as if she'd see me get it. Dat's right.

"But I tries t' bluff her. 'What t'ell,' I says t' her. 'You ain't going t' buy no bonnet. You'd drop dead in a fit before you'd flash up de long green for a dicer. What's your game?"

"Den de duchess she humped her shoulder like form women does, and she says, 'Chames,' says she—'Chames, I has de ur-wee—de undisposition from de bore, and I needs a little jolly time t' put me on rapod wid myself.'

"Dose was de very words she used. But I am easy on t' most of her form long-widger now, so I knowed she meant dat she was leary of de game as it lay and wanted a new deck.

"All right, duchess," I says. 'I has t' go into town myself for t' get a new collar for de bull pup.' Which his neck is growing dat big his head looks like a button on de end of a sausage. 'I'm wid you. But who'll put up for de trip? I'm worse broke dan a cop what's lost his place on de force."

"De duchess she says, without looking at me, says she, 'Chames, we'll chase into town, and you dream dat you has money, and your dream will come true."

"Say, honest, dere ain't no use stacking up against a goil like dat. Is dere? I took an easy tumble t' myself, 'cause on de dead straight I did have a fiver sunk what I taut de duchess didn't know nothing about, and we gets excused for de day and chases into town."

"Say, little old New York is de best ever. Ain't dat right? De country would be all right if it was only in de city. I likes it down to our place on de sound 'cause Miss Fannie is dere, and little Miss Fannie and Mr. Paul and de odder folks, de day is 24 hours long, sure, when you ain't in little old New York.

"Well, we sailed down Fift' avenoo feeling like we had skates on, till we come t' de Waldorf, and dere de cops wouldn't let us pass. What do you t'ink de cop says t' me? 'You has t' wait,' he says, till Li Hung Chang comes out de hotel and goes away," he says. Do you tumble? I didn't. De duchess says dat Li Hung is a China chink. I tells de cop dat I has t' see a man down town what would have a fit if I wasn't dere, but de game didn't work.

"My saying de word 'fit' must have give de duchess a tip, for she give me de wink t' say nothing, and she trun a dummy right in de cop's arms. Honest, if she'd been a actress out on top of de stage, she couldn't trun a better fit dan she did. De cop catches her, and I says, 'Take her t' de drug store quick.' I says, 'or she'll trun anoder.' Well, he plects de duchess up in his arms and carries her across de street, where we waited t' go me follying, and dere de duchess comes t' herself, and nicks de cop a grand bow, she says, 'Merci, me good man, I'll not t'uble you t' carry me furdur!' and den she puts her hat on straight and says, 'Come, Chames, we can't wait for M. L.'"

"De cop he looked like t'irty cents as we chases ourselves down de avenoo. Say, is dat goil de best ever? I wonder!

"Well, we walked and walked down de avenoo till we got down by Sixt' street, and I was noticing dat de duchess was kinder walking slower and slower and pipping off de carriages like she'd lost one and was looking for it. I was wondering what her game was, when a coupe drove up by de sidewalk, and I heard some one inside say, 'Hortense—what's de real front name of de duchess. De coupe stopped, and de duchess went up t' de door.

"Say, I'd taut dere was something up, what wasn't dead straight, only I seen dat de woman inside de coupe was dat widdy I was telling you about—the high flier what Mr. Paul calls de widdy widdy."

"She and de duchess jaltaged together in French for awhile, and den I was called up. I touched me hat t' de widdy, and she says quick: 'Don't touch your hat like a servant. Bow t' me like you was my equal.'

"I didn't tumble t' dat, 'her equal.' 'cause of course de only t'ing you is equal to is anoder man what you can fight as well as him, but I takes off me dicer wid a sweep what made her laugh.

"Den she looks me all over, from me shoes t' me dicer, and says: 'You'll do. Mr. Burton has very good taste in dress and don't wear his close long before you has 'em. You'll do.' Den she pipes off de duchess and says, 'You'll do, of course, Hortense, 'cause Fannie Burton's close fit you like dey was made for you.'

"Say, what do you t'ink? I was getting paralyzed. Den she says, 'Chames, do you know where l'Hotel de Blanc is?'

"I didn't, but de duchess did, 'cause it's a French hotel wid a restaurant what form folks and Americans looking for good grub goes to."

"Meet me dere in 15 minutes," says de widdy, and remember, Chames, you is to act like me equal."

"Am I t' put on de gloves wid her, I asks de duchess, 'or what t'ell?'

"You're t' be a real gent," says de duchess, and I seen from de look in her eye dat we was going into de very game de duchess had come t' town for.

"What do I get out of it? I says, and de duchess says, 'You gets champagne and woodcock,' says she, 'and ain't dat enough?'

"But what's de game?" says I. De duchess only laughed and says, 'Nam port,' she says, what means 'what t'ell' in French.

"Say, you never seed such a game in all your life. We chased down t' dat restaurant, and dere was de widdy waiting for us, and we went in together, de duchess giving me a nudge t' do de grand.

"Well, did I do it? De widdy, de minute we gets seated, began t' gie me de greatest jolly I ever had. She told me to order lunch and den didn't do a t'ing but get gay wid me, giving me de glad eye and de winner smile till I couldn't do a t'ing but just wonder what t'ell. Well, I ordered lunch what struck de waiter dumb. I just run me finger down de bill of fare and pointed out everyt'ing what cost de most from end to end, and told him I'd push in his face if de champagne was more dan 42 degrees, what is de way Mr. Paul takes his.

"We was just getting busy wid de lunch when I cops a swell come into de restaurant, and near have a fit when he seen de widdy. He started t' come to our table, but de widdy only gives him a dinky little nod, and den she gives me de gladdest grin you ever seed and puts her hand on me arm and jabbars away at me about coaching trips and yachting, and I don't know what t'ell.

"De swell mug, he sits away off in de corner and gives me de stony eye and looks like he was a tree time winner.

"I was no nearer being on dan de man what fell off de roof, but I seed dat de game, whatever it was, was going smooed dan silk, from de look in de duchess' eye.

"So de more gay de widdy got wid me de more gay I got wid her, till I taut I could win her if de duchess wasn't dere, and all de time de mug in de corner was getting blacker and blacker.

"When we quit, de widdy passed me her purse under de table and tells me t' settle and take a tip for myself, and den we all three chases out.

"For de life of me I couldn't get de duchess t' tell me a word t' de next day. Den she got a letter from de widdy, and in it was a check for—what do you t'ink? Fifty plunks! Honest!

"Chames," says de duchess, 'you done elegant. De mug proposed t' de widdy last night. He was a coy mug, Chames, and needed a little sauce of jealousy. If you'll never tell Miss Fannie, you can keep de tip de widdy gave you. Dis $50 she promised me.'

NEW CENTURY WOMEN.

The Unique Club Organized by Mrs. Ingham in Cleveland.

One of the outgrowths of the Cleveland centennial is a unique woman's club which has just been organized. Nothing could be broader or more liberal than the lines on which this club is founded. There is nothing of the exclusive about it. Any woman, irrespective of age, occupation, religion or nationality, may become a member.

Civic pride and local patriotism are responsible for the club's birth and the promotion of these qualities is its chief object. It is to be called the Woman's New Century Club of Cleveland and the Western Reserve, and its constitution re-states that it has for its object "the study of the city of Cleveland and the surrounding country, its history, present needs and commercial achievements, wonderful waterways, geology, flora and fauna, as well as the survey of every branch of woman's work, especially that pertaining to the happiness of the home."

Interested in the new club are the most prominent women in Cleveland. Mrs. Mary B. Ingham, who presided at the first meeting, has long been an active figure in all sorts of enterprises managed by women. She was the president of the woman's department at the recent city centennial and has been a leader in organizing the new movement. In religious and philanthropic work Mrs. Ingham has accomplished a vast amount of work and has gained the reputation of being a great organizer.

In 1874 she was one of the foremost women in the temperance crusade and aided in forming the Woman's National Temperance union, which eventually became the Woman's Christian Temperance union, of which she became the first treasurer. For nine years she devoted all her energies to work in the slums, until she was forced to desist because of ill health, and today she is one of the earnest supporters of the Salvation Army. She has also found time to interest herself in educational work and to write many articles for the magazines. She has also produced a book, "Women of Cleveland and Their Work," and at present has another volume under way.

HE HAS GOOD EYESIGHT.

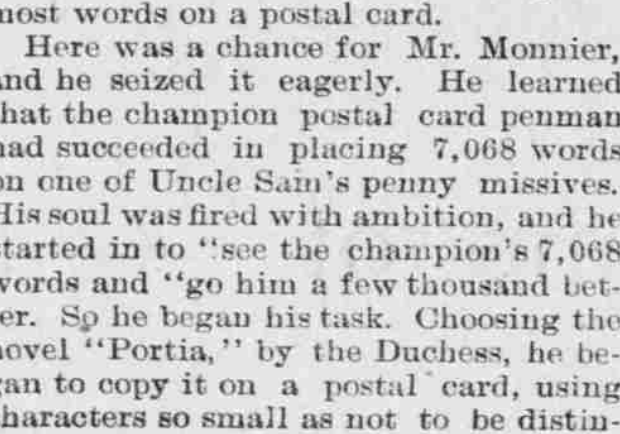

Charles S. Monnier Can Write a Book on a Postal Card.

Charles S. Monnier, secretary of the Detroit wheelmen, is a young man with remarkably good eyesight and an ambitious soul. For years Mr. Monnier has been hunting for a record to smash. It was useless for him to attempt to demolish any of the bicycle records, because the field was already overcrowded. Finally he heard of a man who had established a record for writing the most words on a postal card.

Here was a chance for Mr. Monnier, and he seized it eagerly. He learned that the champion postal card penman had succeeded in placing 7,008 words on one of Uncle Sam's penny missives.

Hisson was fired with ambition, and he started in to "see the champion's 7,008 words and "go him a few thousand better. So he began his task. Choosing the novel "Portia," by the Duchess, he began to copy it on a postal card, using characters so small as not to be distinguishable to the naked eye. Finding that his eyes would not stand the strain for more than a few hours at a time, he adopted a systematic plan of work. For three hours at a sitting he works two or three times a week, writing about 1,000 words at each installment. He uses a very fine steel pen and purplish ink and does not prepare the surface of the card in any way, although he says he could economize space much easier if the postal card were made of calendered paper.

At last accounts the postal card was not more than half covered, and yet 8,302 words had been written on it. Mr. Monnier feels certain that he will have over 16,000 words on the card when his work is completed, but he is not worrying, for he is already elated at having wrested the championship away from the wretched individual who could only write 7,000 words on a card. This is not Mr. Monnier's first performance in this line, for he has often written whole letters on the back of a postage stamp and once succeeded in placing 763 words on the gummed surface.

A Model Plant is not complete without Electric Power, thus dispensing with small engines.

Why not generate your power from one CENTRAL Station? One generator can furnish power to your Pump, Centrifugals, Elevators, Plows, Railways and Hoists; also furnish light and power for a radius of from 15 to 25 miles.

Electric power being used saves the labor of hauling coal in your field, also water, and does away with high-price engineers, and only have one engine to look after in your mill.

Where water power is available it costs nothing to generate Electric Power.

THE HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC COMPANY is now ready to furnish Electric Plants and Generators of all descriptions at short notice, and also has on hand a large stock of Wire, Chandeliers and Electrical Goods.

All orders will be given prompt attention, and estimates furnished for Lighting and Power Plants; also attention is given to House and Marine Wiring.

In This Climate

where there is a great demand for the services of bugologists, upholstered furniture is not sought after to any great extent. Besides the trouble caused by the bugs, the natural high temperature is against anything that adds to the discomfort by making the body warmer. For this reason then, the inclination of the people is toward cool furniture.

Wicker Ware Chairs

and couches fill the bill and are more comfortable. At Eastern summer resorts some people furnish their homes throughout with wicker and rattan furniture, and the result has always been satisfactory. We have in an endless variety of shapes. Some fancy ones are works of art. These goods differ in fifty ways from the cheap goods manufactured in China. They are better finished and in better shapes. The Chinese have not the machinery for treating the wicker in the same excellent manner as the Americans, nor have they the same skilled labor to weave the beautiful designs. Our goods are genuine

For a very small cost, this style furniture can be stained to imitate natural wood and by this means, whatever signs of crudeness may appear to the eye in the virgin ware, is obliterated.

KONA HEARD FROM

Business is Brisk 'Mong Coffee Planters.

Work on Government Road Goes on Fairly Well—Laborers Ask More Money.

KAILUA, Hawaii, Nov. 2.—"The voice of Kona has not been heard in the land" for some time, but it speaks again.

Business of all kinds is brisk here. Every tradesman willing to work, and every laborer can find employment. All the mules and strong horses with wagons and dump carts are engaged either in hauling or at work upon the roads. The coffee planters are as busy as possible harvesting their crops. The facilities for hulling and drying are as yet very crude, and along the upper Government road all through the district can be seen hand pulpers at work and board drying trays full of coffee drying in the sun. Most planters are at a disadvantage in the matter of water for washing the coffee after it is pulped. Doubtless another year will see them with the means of handling their crops with better facility.

Had the Hawaiian Coffee and Tea Company's mill been on the road instead of half way down to the beach, and very inaccessible, many of the planters would have sent their coffee to them to be prepared for market. As it is, some have already done so.

The Hawaiian Coffee and Tea Company is shipping the crop by every steamer. It is turning out well. One man is shipping his in the cherry, half dried. This is unfortunate, as the coffee packed in bags, unless milled immediately on arrival in Honolulu, will soon mildew.

George McDougall Sr. contemplates the erection of a coffee mill at Kailua. One is needed there badly, and the man of capital who gets there first has the field to himself for a few years at least.

Work is progressing on the new Government road, but at rather a slow pace. M. F. Scott is building half a mile near Hualaloa, and Mr. Wait is overseeing a mile at the plantation entrance. Owing to a misunderstanding about wages, the gang of men at work for Mr. Wait struck, and his work, which was going along finely, has been delayed. They claimed they had been promised $1 a day, whereas Mr. Bruner would not pay more than 75 cents. A new force has been set to work at Mr. Bruner's terms, though there does not appear the same amount of brisk activity as before the strike.

The work is going on at the Kealaekua end, near Dr. Lindley's and beyond Mr. Paris'.

A wagon and three mules were landed from the steamer Hall last trip for use at the new store of Cockburn & Lindsay, Kailua. Mr. Cockburn and family are expected to take up their residence in Kona this week.

General satisfaction is expressed in Kona at the new appointment to the judgeship.

Miss Alice F. Beard of Honolulu and her father from California came up last steamer to look after the interests of Miss Beard, who bought land last summer and set laborers to work clearing it and planting a coffee nursery. They return to the city by the Hall.

Waiting for Santa Claus.

SANTA CLAUS telegraphs to WALL, NICHOLS CO. that owing to a mishap on the Railroad he is detained a few days, but will catch the good steamer Australia, arriving in Honolulu the 16th inst., and will be happy to meet all of his old friends at their store during the coming holidays.

He says that, owing to a great rush of business in New York, he found it difficult to secure a sufficient number of cars in which to ship the large stock of Toys and Games, Books and the thousand and one things in his line.

He also advises Wall, Nichols Co. to make all the room possible for the display of the good things he is bringing with him. A word to the wise in this case is all that is necessary.

Sincerely Yours,
SANTA CLAUS.

MILITARY INTELLIGENCE.

The German soldiers receive instructions in regard to their duties and obligations. A captain in order to test the knowledge of a pupil, asked him, "What is the soldier enjoys in the time of peace?" "Sauerkraut, sausage, and—" replied the soldier, touching his cap. "Yes, that's all so, but what else does he enjoy in the time of peace?" "Beer, Schweitzer cheese, pretzels, and more beer, and—" "Blockhead, don't you know that besides all these luxuries in times of peace he enjoys the goodwill of his superior officers and the respect of all persons in civil life?"

Much interest was taken in the mock election held yesterday at Thrum's book store, and at times the contest was exciting. Men and women who had a choice among the candidates were as active as if the election was bona fide, and the safety of the nation depended upon the result.

In counting the votes the tallymen and clerk of the election discovered occasional instances where men thought they were voting on a bicycle contest, and cast a dozen or more votes for their friends. Whenever the fraud was detected such duplicates were thrown out. The ballots were all counted and the returns made by 7 o'clock last night, and if the result is the same in the United States, Mrs. McKinley will have an opportunity of shaking hands with the next President of the United States at the breakfast table this morning.

While the election here may not be a forecast of that in the United States, it shows very plainly what the wish of the Honolulu people is in the matter of the presidency. It shows also that it is not a mere matter of gold or silver issue that brought about the result. It shows rather that the people of Honolulu pin their faith to McKinley because he is pledged to annexation.

The holidays are approaching at the rate of a day every twenty-four hours; and this is the month when children fix their attention on literature in which Santa Claus takes a leading part, and wives and daughters allow their's to dwell on the old gentleman's purse. An old lady was once asked the age when girls gave up playing with dolls and the answer came back "When they have children of their own." So it is about Santa Claus; children give him up as the mythical when they are old enough to realize a flesh and blood Santa Claus in their father. If it happens to be a girl she will cling to the old gentleman until she happens to win a Santa Claus who will be her individual property.

It is with these flesh and blood Santa Claus that we wish to whisper. On the Australia which arrived last week, there were several large cases of solid silver ware for us. In turn we will dispose of it to Santa Claus. We will have no difficulty in doing this as the assortment is from four of the largest and best factories in the United States. You will have an opportunity to view the goods later.

SWIMMING MATCH

Probable Free For All Race This Month.

Two California Speedy Boys Will Enter—Hawaiians Expected to Compete.

Arrangements are in progress for a swimming match, open to all, to take place in the harbor on the 16th inst. At present there are two foreigners here, Chas. Mitchell and John Marshall, who have attained reputations in California as excellent swimmers, and it is in order that these men may have an opportunity to compete that the race will be made.

Mitchell was a member of the California Swimming and Polo Club and was for a time connected with the North Beach Swimming Club, and it was as a member of the latter organization that he made his record on quarter, half and mile stretches. His time for the quarter is a few seconds over eight minutes. Beyond that distance Mr. Mitchell is rather reticent as to the time he has made, but persons acquainted with him in California say he was the fastest mile swimmer in the club.

Marshall was connected, as engineer, with the celebrated Palace baths, and his work has been done mainly in tanks, where the swimmers had a greater advantage than in the open water. He has taken part in some important matches in California and has made some good records.

He once swam a half mile in fourteen minutes, defeating Harry Clarke, present teacher of swimming in the Olympic Club of San Francisco. Mr. Marshall also swam against Crowe, champion of Canada. On this occasion the Canadian retired before goal was reached. Marshall has been a swimmer since childhood and has been defeated but twice, once by being stricken with cramps and again by being overmatched. This was the last time he went into a match.

Ed Towse was active in bringing the two men together, and through him a meeting was had last night, but the match could not be pulled off through disagreement regarding details. Now Mr. Towse, rather than have the Honolulu public miss an opportunity to witness some first-class swimming, is arranging a free for all for a trophy which will probably be put up by the boat clubs or by popular subscription. If this can be arranged, both Mitchell and Marshall will go into the race.

Marshall is the assistant stage carpenter at the Opera House. He has not been in training since he came to the Islands, though he takes a little exercise at the boat house every few days.

Mitchell is engaged with the California Fruit Market, and has recently gone into the Healan Boat Club. He has quite a reputation as an all around athlete, and came here more than a year ago with a view to getting a position as instructor in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, but there was no vacancy.

WHY IS THIS?

Query About Cause of Salvation Army Arrests.

Why is it that in this city, governed by an administration known to stand firm on the side of right, and to uphold that which is for the best interests of its people, that a religious body cannot hold its meetings on the streets without being forced to undergo the inconvenience of being placed under arrest and marched to the station house? The Salvation Army came to Honolulu more than two years ago, and have held street meetings almost every night since, and until recently have never been troubled. Now within the past two months they have twice been arrested and upon trial acquitted. The Salvation Army draws no larger crowds now than formerly. Why is it that it has just dawned upon the minds of the police to arrest them for obstructing the streets? It looks very much as if the officers were looking for opportunities to stop the meetings and to annoy the army. If crowds gather on the sidewalks, why not make them move on? Why go to the pains of arresting the soldiers who are on the street, and besides are only a small body and cannot obstruct travel to any very great extent? AN OUTSIDER.

Annual Roll Call.

This evening will be held the annual roll call of all members of the Central Union Church. It is expected that every member will be present if possible. Any member who cannot be there to answer to his or her name can send a letter to the pastor, or a text of Scripture with his or her name, and these, or extracts from them, will be read when the name is called. Many letters and texts of Scripture have already been received from those on the other Islands or absent from the country. All persons who are interested in the Church and its work are most cordially invited to be present.

THE HAGEY INSTITUTE.

Located in the Arlington Cottage on Hotel street, Honolulu, is an institution for the permanent cure of the Liquor, Opium, Morphine and Tobacco diseases.

Dr. W. H. H. Hagey, a prominent physician and chemist of Norfolk, Nebraska, is the author of the formula which bears his name.

This is an original discovery, distinct from any other, which has for its object the cure of the before named diseases.

The treatment is founded upon scientific principles, and the formula used is equal if not superior to any now in use.

The cure is certain and assured, and is absolutely harmless, the physical condition of the patient improving from the beginning to the end of the treatment.

The treatment has met with marked success in the States, and the gentlemen in charge of the Institute in Honolulu, Messrs. Cowart and Kirkpatrick, bear with them endorsements of the highest character as gentlemen and business men.

The treatment is unqualifiedly endorsed by members of the press, clergy and business organizations.

The usual time required for a liquor treatment is three weeks, and no patient is received for a shorter period. For Morphine and Opium patients, four weeks are required. Tobacco treatment requires two weeks.

COST OF TREATMENT.

Liquor treatment, complete cure, $100
Morphine treatment, complete cure, 100
Cigarette and Tobacco, complete cure, 40
All other Nervous Diseases, per week, 25

Upon entering the Institute the patient is examined to ascertain the full extent of his disease. He is then treated and must appear promptly at 8:30 a. m., 1 p. m., 5 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. Then his treatment ceases for the day. He retires at pleasure, but it is desired by the management that he be as regular in that as in other rules.

Patients pursue their usual avocations while being treated. The Institute guarantees to absolutely and positively destroy the drink habit and eradicate the desire for liquor, the patient to be the judge in the matter. The same with the Morphine and Tobacco diseases.

This treatment will be given in Honolulu by a prominent and well known local physician, and other physicians of the highest rank will act as consulting physicians.

We have never failed to affect a cure when the patient observed the rules and regulations during treatment. Unparalleled success has been the uniform result. So confident are we in the merits of the Hagey treatment that a positive cure is guaranteed. No cure, no pay, is our motto. Evidence of a cure is the fact that a patient has no desire, habit or inclination whatever to drink alcoholic liquors or use tobacco or anything for which he is being treated. Of these facts the patient is the judge.

To the unbeliever in our cure we say this: If you desire, the fee for treatment can be deposited in any bank in Honolulu, subject to the order of the Secretary of the Hagey Institute of Honolulu when the patient is cured. It is required of the patient that he follow the rules and strictly observe the regulations of the Institute during treatment.

If you are a diseased man, it is a duty you owe yourself, your family and your fellow man that you take some means to free yourself of the disease. Think not you are compromising your manhood, but rather you are asserting it and demanding your birthright again.

The happiness and future welfare of yourself and family demand it; society demands it, and all good and true-hearted men and women will respect you for your effort.

Have you a friend whom the treatment would help? Then aid him. These habits become diseases, and man can not fight them without assistance, any more than he can fight rheumatism. Give him advice and a helping hand.

The Institute is in Honolulu to stay, and our efforts in the future, as they have been in the past, will be to give a character and tone to the work that we are doing, that will entitle us to the respect and esteem of all who believe in the upbuilding of humanity.

According to reports the coming sugar crop of Louisiana will be one of the largest ever produced in that State. There is every prospect that the tonnage of cane delivered at the factories will be very heavy, and the yield should bring satisfactory prices, in view of the reported damage to the beet crop and the bad outlook for the Cuban crop.

A Brave Deed.

While a number of children were on Mokuola last Saturday enjoying the delights of an afternoon bath, Mrs. W. Chalmers little girl came near being drowned but for the timely assistance of little Etta, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Loebenstein. The children were bathing in the larger inlet on the island, which is usually used by grown up people. It is supposed the undertow was a little too strong for Mrs. Chalmers little girl and she went under and began drifting seawards. Etta, who perceived this, jumped into the water and diving under swam for the location where the child was. The brave little girl came under the drowning child and raised her up. Miss Minna Maby jumped in also and helped Etta bring the almost drowned child ashore. The child is entirely recovered.—Hilo Tribune.
