VALUE OF GENEVIEVE DUNBAR'S ESTATE

Z. K. Myers, secretary of the Hawaiian Trust Company, the ancillary administrator of the estate of Genevieve Dunbar, has filed in the probate court an inventory of all the property belonging to the estate.
This inventory places the value of the real estate at $4050, consisting of four lots, two at the corner of King street and Dowsett lane, and two at Pauiki, Kapalama. The first two are mortgaged to secure the repayment of $3000; the second two are mortgaged for $1500.
The personal property consists of 50 bonds of Raymond Ranch for $1000 each; 455 shares of Dowsett Company, Ltd., par value $100 each. The above bonds and shares are held by the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company, Ltd., as collateral to a note for $48,195.05, upon which there is due a balance of $28,000.

PLANS FOR TARGET

Civil Engineer Southworth of the Public Works Department has submitted to Governor Frear the plans for the proposed target gallery for the National Guard which is to be erected on the vacant lot on Bereania street back of the drill-shed.
The Governor has not yet approved the plans but says he will do so after making one or two minor changes. The drill-shed is to be 80 feet long by 60 wide, and will be 20 feet in height. Its back wall will be of concrete so as to obviate any chance of the bullets going through. The building will be erected with Federal money.

Hawaii Woods Fine For Railroad Uses

"I have examined the forest on Hawaii. The timber there is fine. I have no doubt but that there is a great future ahead for the Hawaiian lumber industry."
The above remark was made this morning by O. F. Faulkner, the buyer for the Santa Fe Railroad Company, who came here a short time ago for the purpose of looking into the question as to whether the forests of Hawaii could furnish material for ties for his concern. He returned from the Big Island in the Kibau this morning after having made an extensive examination of the forests controlled by the Hawaiian Mahogany Lumber Co., and is enthusiastic with the possibilities which he found there. He satisfied himself that Hawaii has the best kind of material needed for his purpose and that there is plenty of it, so that it is now merely a question of business arrangements, before contracts will be made for extensive shipments of lumber to the mainland.
"I was greatly surprised with the resources of Hawaii in the timber line," said Faulkner this morning. "I visited the forests at Puna, at Twentynine Miles and in Kona district, and I found that the supply of both ohia and koa was abundant."
"I have examined the ohia and found that it has the necessary lasting qualities. It will be excellent material for ties. It is much harder than the pine ordinarily used; in fact it is better for the purpose than anything else I know of. The koa is a very fine species of wood. It will make fine material for the interior furnishing of cars. I have no doubt but that it will very quickly forge its own way to the front with no difficulty as soon as it becomes well known on the mainland."
"The main difficulty seems to be that of transportation. I mean the hauling of the timber from the forests to the shipping points. This, however, is being attended to; those in charge of the matter are doing great work, and the solution of this difficulty will be only a matter of time."
Mr. Faulkner was asked in regard to the probability for his making contracts for the buying of the lumber, but he stated that he did not care to discuss this phase of the matter at this time, though he would be glad to talk about it a little later.
"It now remains as a matter of business arrangements," he said. "As far as the material is concerned, there can be no doubt about that. It is absolutely satisfactory."
Among those who are interested in the matter there seems to be but little or no doubt but that satisfactory arrangements will be made for the furnishing of large quantities of the lumber to the concern which Faulkner represents, the main question having in the past been that as to whether the ohia would really make a satisfactory material for railroad ties, and now that that question has been solved satisfactorily, it is regarded as almost a foregone conclusion that the contracts will be entered into. Should the Santa Fe people inaugurate the use of ohia ties, there can be no doubt but that their example will soon be followed by the other large mainland railroad concerns, and a practically limitless market will then have been secured for the products of the Hawaiian forests.

BLUSHING BRIDE AWAY

Jack and Sarah got married this morning—and Breckons kissed the bride.
Jack and Sarah, a pair of comely young Hawaiians, have to all intents and purposes been husband and wife for something over two years, but on account of pressure of other affairs, or because they never happened to think of it at the right time, they neglected to have the marriage ceremony performed.
Mr. Breckons mildly suggested that this was a slight but important detail which it would perhaps be better to have attended to. Jack and Sarah were perfectly willing, so Father Valentin was sent for, and the ceremony took place in the office of the United States District Attorney. Sarah is now Mrs. Jack—and proud of it.

NEW STEWARD AT SEASIDE

Beeman, who was for twelve years steward of the Plaza Hotel in Boston and who was forced to leave there because of his health, has accepted the position of steward at the Seaside and is preparing a special dinner for tomorrow, Sunday, during which the Kauli quartet club will play and sing. FREAR MOVES

ORIGINAL PORTRAIT UP

Governor Frear has directed that the portrait of Kamehameha I., which now hangs in the Throne-room, be removed to the Executive chamber, and the picture of the monarch which now hangs in that chamber be substituted for it.
This is because the portrait in the Throne-room is the original that was painted by the Russian artist, while the one in the Governor's office is only a copy of it. It is thought that the original will be safer up-stairs.
Artist Jamie Wilder was in to see the Governor this morning with reference to going over the various portraits that hang in the Executive chamber, and putting them into better shape. Some of them have deteriorated considerably and need repairing.

MANCHURIA

The Manchuria docked at a late hour this afternoon. She will leave port tomorrow for San Francisco.
John Wilson, who was on Thursday afternoon given judgment by Judge Robinson against the absconder William H. Wright and Heathie K. Wright, today, by his attorneys, Smith & Lewis, and L. J. Warren, filed satisfaction of judgment. He acknowledges the receipt of $1442 from Bishop & Company, the garnishees in the action.

DANCE FOR MANCHURIA

A dance will be given at the Seaside Hotel this evening to which Captain Saunders, officers and passengers of the Manchuria are most cordially invited.
The best native quintet club in the Islands will play and sing both during dinner and afterwards for the dance.
The America Maru, which is due to arrive Tuesday morning, will bring the next mail from the Coast, which will include five days' accumulation. It is probable the Maru will lie outside the harbor as she has no freight for this port.

LOWRIE-CASTLE

$400,000. SUIT GOES OVER

William J. Lowrie, plaintiff in the $400,000 damage suit against Baldwin and the Castles, has, by his attorneys, Stillman and Robertson, filed a motion to strike from the files the affidavit of William R. Castle, filed October 3, on the ground that the matters stated therein are irrelevant, immaterial and impertinent, and constitute no legal ground of objection to plaintiff's motion for an order to inspect certain documents, and constitute no legal support to defendant's motion to stay proceedings.
This matter, together with the various other motions in the case, came up before Judge Robinson this morning, but all were postponed until 9:30 o'clock next Tuesday morning.

GOVERNOR REFUSES TO LEASE WHARF

Counter Proposition Is Made To Inter-Island Co.

Governor Frear has turned down the proposition of the Inter-Island that it be allowed to lease the Hilo wharf for a term of years and have entire control of it. The Governor told the directors of the company that the Government could not accept such a proposition under the law, even if such a course should seem advisable on any other ground. The law does not allow the Government to part with control of wharves and landings.
The Government has today, however, made a counter-proposition to the Inter-Island, the nature of which Governor Frear said he was not ready to make public. It does not, however, contemplate the release of control of the wharf, nor is it in the nature of a lease.
C. C. Kennedy of Hilo has written the following letter to Governor Frear on the wharf topic:
"I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 24th inst. and to thank you for your courtesy in so plainly stating your position regarding the Hilo wharf.
You have been informed, you tell me, that I had much to do with the petition; if signing it when presented, and if the printing shop in which I have an interest, printed the forms for it, constitute doing much for it, then assuredly you are right.
That I agree with the propositions contained in the petition is instanced by the simple fact that I signed it.
It does not seem to me that the situation has been completely studied by you, from the Hilo standpoint. As you readily admit we need better wharf accommodation here in Hilo. That the breakwater will prove an immense boon is unquestioned, but could you, or would you, say that you think the breakwater will be finished inside of five years? Even if it should be, do you think it fair to the people of Hilo, that for five years they must be landed here by lighters from the Honolulu steamer?
I am not addressing this to you, sir, in any captious mood, because I feel sure that you have every interest of the territory at heart, but even if, as you suggest, the wharf should cost $50,000, would that be an undue outlay for Hilo?
It would be far from me to accuse your Honor of juggling with figures, but it does occur to me that questions

TERRITORY WILL IMPORT ANIMALS

The matter of importing live stock from Kentucky and New Zealand was brought to the attention of the Board of Agriculture and Forestry at its meeting last Wednesday, it being the intention of local ranchers to use this means to improve their stock.

Under the head of Mule Breeding Dr. Norgaard informed the Board that the local stock raisers had decided to go in for mule breeding on a large scale and arrangements were being made to send some one to Kentucky or Tennessee to select first class jacks. Assistance in purchasing stock will be furnished by the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry.

Owing to the difficulty of keeping in touch with stock on the different islands Dr. Norgaard suggested the advisability of getting four young veterinarians to come here, one at Waikane, one at Lihue, Kauai, one at Wailuku, Maui, one at Kamuela, Hawaii, and one at Hilo, Hawaii; these to be appointed Veterinary Inspectors by the Board and to report to the Territorial Veterinarian all outbreaks of contagious diseases. He also suggested that the Hawaiian Sugar Planters and Hawaiian Cattle Raisers' Association be asked to guarantee each of these veterinarians a salary of $100 per month. It was moved by Mr. Giffard that copies of the portion of Dr. Norgaard's report headed "Stock Inspection" be sent the two associations and that the matter be referred to the Committee on Animal Industry.

Dr. Norgaard asked permission to go to New Zealand to assist Mr. Munro in selecting stock. This being the first large shipment of live stock from New Zealand for this Territory and wishing it to be a success he felt it his duty to go, although not anxious to make the trip. This request was referred to the Committee on Animal Industry with power to act.

A letter was read from Mr. Maxwell Lefroy, Government Entomologist for India, addressed to Mr. Kotinsky advising of his efforts to locate the parasites of the Melon fly (Dacus cucurbitae) in India for the guidance of the Territory in its search of them. The President of the Board will write to Mr. Maxwell Lefroy thanking him for his interest and services in the matter.

It was decided that the Superintendent of Public Works be asked to fence off a certain portion of the Nursery grounds as is needed for executive work, the rest to be thrown open to the public.

Communications were read from W. G. Cox, Assistant Forester at Washington, D. C., addressed to Mr. Hooper, notifying him that a special appropriation of $2000 was available for experimental nursery and planting work in Hawaii; and from John D. Ritchie, secretary, Department of Agriculture, New Zealand, offering all possible assistance to the Board in the selecting of breeding stock for the Territory.

Dr. Norgaard notified the Board of the intention of the U. S. Department of Agriculture to inspect and test cattle and horse stock free of charge at any place on the Pacific Coast. The department will also furnish mallein and tuberculin free of charge. As soon as he is notified officially of this rule it will be necessary to change the present rules and regulations of the Board and the services of Dr. Ejan, a representative of the Board in San Francisco, can be dispensed with.

Those present at the meeting were C. S. Holloway, G. R. Carter, W. M. Giffard, Alexander Crow, Dr. V. A. Norgaard, Jacob Kotinsky and David Naughts.

JAPANESE SHOW FOR FLOOD SUFFERERS

The members of the Japanese Theatrical Society who have been arranging for a program to be given at a show tonight will entertain their friends at the Japanese theater on Aala lane. It is a benefit show and the admission is very reasonable. This show is given for the benefit of those who were injured at the recent flood which took place at Hiroshima, Japan. Many were made homeless by the flood and the Japanese Government was forced to see that they were provided for. All the Hiroshima Japanese in the Islands are especially interested in this move and it is expected that a large crowd of them will arrive from the outside districts this afternoon. The Japanese are a patriotic people and will not doubt make the Japanese theater the scene of a great gathering.

Practically all the geisha girls will be there tonight with their musical instruments to entertain the guests. The actors are at their best and the singers, who have never appeared before, will furnish a great treat to theater-goers. Almost all the Japanese business houses have contributed something towards helping those who suffered by the Hiroshima flood.

Some of those who are closely connected with tonight's show said this forenoon that an interpreter, probably H. Miki, will be requested to interpret for the English-speaking people who will be present. The show begins at half past seven sharp. Many extra seats have been added to the gallery for the benefit of the white audience.

GOVERNOR REFUSES

of this sort should be considered on the same logical basis.
You say that the outlay of $20,000 would not finish the wharf. I am inclined to think you are right, and it may be possible that the $60,000 limit you fix might be reached.
Your opposition to the wharf is based on the theory that a breakwater is to be built, possibly within five years, yet only one tenth, or less, of what that breakwater is to cost, has been voted by Congress.
I do not wish that you should have any idea that I am opposing you personally in this matter, but I do think that you have been misinformed as to the conditions and requirements here. Nothing would give me greater pleasure than to have you come and see for yourself.
The later papers I have seen, tell me that you are considering the leasing of the property to the Inter-Island Steamship Co. With that I have nothing to do, beyond saying that if the Administration has decided to refuse relief to Hilo, through such relief, was provided for by the Legislature, such lease should be granted to any private corporation which might apply for it, and be able to guarantee its ability to carry out its obligations, be it the Inter-Island S. S. Co. or any other.
Again thanking you for your courtesy in writing to me, I am,
Yours faithfully,
C. C. KENNEDY.

HUSTAGE HAS IT, SAYS LAUKEA, IN FOR POLICE

"I think that anyone can see that Charlie Hustage has it in for me and the police department," said Sheriff Laukea this morning. "He is trying to pick at small matters, and to find fault, and this is what he is trying to do in stirring up the matter about the automobile ordinance."

"I do not want to go into this to any extent, as I do not care to start a newspaper controversy, but I will say that it is not always necessary to make arrests to get an ordinance enforced. As a matter of fact, the notifications which the department has sent to the various owners of machines have had the desired effect, and practically all of them are now observing the provisions thereof."

Princess Kawanakoa Praises Princess Alice

From the San Francisco Bulletin is the following extract about the Princess David Kawanakoa:

"Fastidious Paris would have found fresh cause for the apple that must long since have diffused itself into fragrance had he been present at the landing of the Korea in the Pacific Mail dock.

In the bow of the boat stood Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, under a wide drooping hat gardenia and roses, very much surrounded and smothered by many buds and tiny flowers. Smiling, talking constantly, she gave her attention first to one, then another, then all in the group about her, spending herself as lavishly to secure the dual delays of landing as would a prima donna to rescue a retreating first-night audience. Not far to the stern of the boat stood a woman of a dark, radiant beauty, in regal health, who looked seldom upon the crowd at the wharf, and spoke seldom, if vivaciously, to the group that made its court about her. When she spoke there was much listening, much repartee, much gay laughter, and one would not have failed to mark her splendor in the queen's drawing room. When she looked out at sea and chose to talk no more she was still the Princess Kawanakoa, for that is the name her friends must learn—and took no more trouble about it.

Had Paris "been there," as we suggested, and offered his cotillon favor to the more delicate beauty of Mrs. Longworth the Hawaiian Juno of the many-syllabled name, the latter would not have been disturbed in the least. I venture she would have approved his choice, and next day have sent the comely winner a perfumed box in which to keep the trophy.

The Princess admires Mrs. Longworth and announced it enthusiastically after luncheon, as she sat in tete-a-tete with the ceremonial of dressing in her apartments at the Fairmont.

"She is a darling," said the Princess. "She is charming. She has been among us in Hawaii for two months, and no one was ever more popular there. Every one feted her; her coming created a rush of gaiety in Honolulu more lively than ever, for—well, yes," she admitted, "we are very gay in Honolulu, however difficult it would seem to an American to imagine it."

If one had anticipated finding the Princess one whose English came in hesitating and foreign accent, that one would be a disappointment. She speaks in the low, well-controlled, chest tones of the English woman, her flow of words is tumultuous, enthusiastic, and has only the well-enunciated, well-chosen mark of the cosmopolitan who knows more tongues than her own.

we delight I don't know what we should do without the theaters. How we miss them! That is the one drawback about Honolulu for Americans, that is the one thing we can not offer them.

"Nevertheless, the city is becoming awfully Americanized. It is really spoiled. I do not mean spoiled for us, but for the tourists. They are disappointed in it. There are no more grass huts, and that is too bad for local color. They have been all replaced by the little modern cottages of the States.

"The prejudice against Americans among the lower classes has disappeared. We see no mark of the opposition that once made it difficult for Americans in business there. They flourish now and have things much their own way.

"With the annexation, however, the natives did not renounce their queen. Liliuokalani is queen still with them; she is greatly beloved.

Every year, on September 2, her birthday, she gives a reception to her former subjects from 11 o'clock till 4. From early in the morning, at 4 o'clock, the people begin to come in gala attire from everywhere, to be in time to greet the Queen. They come, bringing gifts, each whatever line fancy suggests, from a chicken to a basket of fruit or a big bouquet, and make a constant stream of callers at the Queen's doors all day long.

"At the reception the Queen's retainers still wear the magnificent long yellow robes that have always been so remarkable to visitors. They are the mamots, and made of the little yellow feathers of the eo. The Princess pronounced it oh-oh, and then described how this bird, whose two little feathers under each wing was so rare that a large robe made of them will cost nearly a million dollars. To make these royal mantles a tribute was formerly exacted of every subject, the tribute consisting of a few of the little yellow feathers each year. But," explains she, "the birds are snared, not killed. The feathers under each wing are plucked and the bird is freed. That isn't a bad custom of antiquity to preserve, is it, now?"

And there was no denying that it was not.

Dillingham Lunch

Mrs. B. F. Dillingham was the hostess of a pretty luncheon at the Punahele residence on Thursday in honor of Mrs. Harnden and Mrs. Erdman, Sr.

The table, with its burden of the Golden Shower blossoms, was lovely. The guests included Mrs. Severance, Hilo, Mrs. P. C. Jones, Mrs. Atkinson, Mrs. A. Francis Judd, Mrs. J. B. Alderton, Mrs. W. W. Hall, Mrs. J. O. Carter, Mrs. Andrew Fuller, Mrs. J. M. Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dillingham also gave a delightful dinner on Friday evening, the guests including Governor and Mrs. Frear, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Thurston, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Smith, Judge and Mrs. Sullivan of New York. Greens most artistically adorned the table.

Chinese Consul Chang Tso Fan and Mrs. Chang Tso Fan gave an elaborate and beautiful dinner at the Chinese Consulate on Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Tarn and her daughter, Pauline, who have been so much feted during their visit here. Violets, carnations and ferns exquisitely decorated the table, which had upon its snowy surface fine bits of porcelain from old China. The dinner included many delicious Chinese dishes and at the end many Chinese fruits and nuts were much enjoyed. It was an elaborate affair carried out in every detail with artistic taste. The guests included, besides the guests of honor, Mrs. Tarn and Miss Tarn, Doctor and Mrs. McGrew, Dr. and Mrs. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Graham, Miss Hardaway, Dr. and Mrs. Camp, Mr. Bruce Cartwright and Count Canavaro.

Mrs. S. S. Paxson of Kaimuki gave a very pleasant dance this week in honor of Miss Leiper, who is visiting here. There were fully twenty-five young people present and an ideal Honolulu evening enjoyed. Miss Leiper leaves for the coast on the Manchuria.

Mrs. Frank Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Kettledge, Mrs. Baker and the Messrs. Baldwin sailed in the Claudine for Maui.

Miss Anna Paris, accompanied Mrs. James Castle to "The Dunes" on Thursday to remain until Monday.

Mr. Gill, the architect, is to build a choice little bungalow at Punahele for Harold Dillingham.

Mrs. Ellen Weaver is taking a much-needed vacation on Maui.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN

Holly Flour

And all the others is in the quality of the wheat, the process of manufacture and the method of handling from seed to consumer. We put this flour before you believing you will find it superior to any you have ever used and knowing that one bag will make more bread than a bag of any other brand. Some dealers prefer the other kind because there may be a little more profit. You look more to satisfaction and you should insist on having Holly Flour because it will bring you more bread satisfaction than any other. It's good, mighty good, and you should use it in preference to others.

It is expected that Roosevelt will return from his canebrake hunt loaded to the muzzle for nature fakers.

It is not exactly clear what kind of a crown John D. will get, but let it be hoped it will be of the Standard size.

Japanese illegally passing over the line into the United States are likely to be taught a lesson in the observance of laws.

Go to church on Sunday. Any church will do you good, though the sermon make you think how widely apart are your views and the preacher's.

Rev. Dr. Parkhurst says Roosevelt is too autocratic. For cutting unusual didoes when occasion requires

Roosevelt and Parkhurst make a good pair.

The Oriental Express was wrecked

a few days ago in Canada. Had this occurred across the line Japan would undoubtedly have asked for an explanation.

An Eastern paper says Bryan's star has set. Poor Bryan! They have been saying this of him for ten years and more, and his star keeps coming back over the horizon.

Friday was a fateful day in the Northwest for falling downstairs. The sacrifice of two prominent lives by this innocent pastime is an event worthy attention from the soothsay-

ers.

Have the mail sorted on board ship. Then Honolulu will have quick delivery on the day it is most needed

—when steamers from opposite directions arrive and depart on the same day.

There is not such a big difference between a Standard Oil magnate and a clever flaccid artist. In the recent fight between Jimmy Britt and Joe

Gans the colored champion made coming of the Shark. It is strange the Hilonian so seldom thinks of that phase of it.

Maul is highly pleased with the future that opens before it as a result of first-class promotion. We are pleased that Maul sees the light, and may we hope that at the next session of the Legislature Maul will have a delegation unanimous for promotion.
Meanwhile private contributions will be very much to the point.

REMEMBER THE PASSENGER SERVICE.

Mr. Faulkner has returned from his tour of investigation of Hawaii foreigners and comments enthusiastically on the amount and quality of timber available for railway ties and furniture finish. He is an expert in his line of business and his favorable mention alone is worth much to the Territory.

The assumption is that Mr. Faulkner comes here with a view to making contracts for furnishing railway ties to the system with which he is associated. He has not made the contract. The business details may or may not prevent an agreement between the parties interested. That is a private matter.

In this business transaction, however, there is a detail which has much to do with the progress of the Territory, and in which all progressive people of the islands are interested.
It is: Transportation.

Should this tie contract be signed up by the interests Mr. Faulkner represents or by any railway system of the mainland, it means that a very large amount of freight will be added to the millions of value this Territory already ships to the mainland.

In providing for the freight transportation it is a matter of greatest importance that those having the transaction in hand should have constantly in mind an improved passenger service for these islands.

For years past the great sugar freights from this Territory have been contracted with an utter indifference to the passenger business. In fact, any person having the temerity to suggest a consideration of passengers in connection with sugar took nine chances out of ten of being informed how impolite and impolitic he was to thus butt in. Consequently the tendency of some citizens to speak in whispers and try to be good peaceful, unassuming residents—never doing anything but being always quiet and good.

Times have changed, and times are changing rapidly as regards freights, steamships and the passenger business of these islands. Gradually the

TOURISTS TO HAWAII

should not fail to visit the greatest living volcano

people having sugar freights have come to realize that to ignore the passenger business—to put all the freight eggs in one basket and passenger eggs in another—is an error.
At this rate the whole Territory will soon be in the grip of a steamship, freight and passenger trust.

Should the railroad-tie contract develop as hoped, or should it fall fifty per cent. below expectations, it will mean several thousand tons of freight per month.

While it is yet time, the Bulet-

BARONIAL ESTATE MANAGER FIGURES IN WILLIAM'S REPORT

County Attorney Williams of Hilo has written a letter to the Board of Supervisors condemning the expense of the Ooakala road. The letter was denounced as an insult to the Board.
It winds up with:

Road, Manager's House, Ooakala, N.
Hilo.—At the Kaula gulch, North Hilo side, is a gang of Asiatics at work digging on the side of the pali, which I understand is the proposed new road intended in the communication from the Superintendent of Public Works to be built from the North Hilo road tax balance of $1933.61 in the Territorial Treasury, and for which your approval is asked.

The work is being done, the road is blocked by the rocks thrown down and closed to traffic without any permission from any one in authority, public funds are to be wasted in building several more miles of roads to be kept up by the County so that the "Baron" of Ooakala may drive in his auto to and from his Baronial Mansion, while across the ravine or the Hamakua side this Baron refuses to grant the rights of way through their cane fields to reduce the road grades for the benefit of the public.
I ask and advise the Board to refuse the approval asked for by the Superintendent of Public Works and that steps be taken to prevent this expenditure of this road tax fund for a private road.

SOCIAL CHATTER AND HOME TALK

NOW that the calling season is on it would be a humane thing for hostesses to remember that one can get very thirsty after a round of strenuous calls. Do, in common humanity, offer one something to drink if only a glass of cold water. How often does one toll up hill and down vale without even the chance of refreshing that?

A cup of tea or a glass of lemonade certainly wouldn't break the family purse, and, if one is able to have regular days at home, surely that much at least could be afforded. The cozy little tea-table is most attractive and what joy to get their bread and butter. It is a fact here in Hawaii that English households are much more hospitable in that respect than the American ones. It is hardly possible to call on an Englishwoman between four and five and not be invited to take a cup of tea. The Germans also are never remiss, but it is the exception rather than the rule in an American household here in the Islands to be offered anything in the form of food or drink during calling hours. Why this is I do not know. It is sad nevertheless, but true.

Off for England
Mrs. Inez Hasson expects to sail for England in November. Her son Paul is at school there and her two sisters, Mrs. Fowler and Mrs. McDonald Bird, have residences in England. Mrs. Paul Neumann, who is at the Pocke's, in Nuuanu avenue, may return to Mexico on business. Mrs. Pocke, who is in much better health, will arrive in the Islands in a few months' time.

Move to New Home
Mr. and Mrs. Blackman expect to occupy their new bungalow in Highland Park, College Hills, in two weeks' time. The house in College street owned by them is for lease or for sale. The new bungalow with its overhanging roof is artistic and comfortable and commands a good view of Diamond Head and the ocean.

Will Leave Soon
Miss Jessie Kaufman, who has been a guest at Sans Souci for a year, may sail next week for her home in San Francisco, much to the regret of her friends. The Kaufman family lost everything in the late earthquake. A famous library of old books being among the treasures mourned.

Schaefer Dinner
Good cheer, convivial society, choice wines, and lavish hospitality made the dinner which Mr. F. A. Schaefer gave at "Rosebank" on Tuesday evening in honor of Captain Ahlert and the officers of the German cruiser "Condor" one of the most delightful affairs of the week. The list of guests included: Captain Ahlert, Lieut. Commadore Schlette, Dr. Schoenberg, Paymaster Riedel, Lieutenant von Mohl, Lieutenant Drewes, Mr. W. Pfothbauer, Mr. W. Lanz, Mrs. W. Babbitt, Mrs. Babbitt, by

Mr. I. Humburg, Mr. H. Pocke, Rev. Felmy, Dr. Hoffmann, Mr. C. du Roi, Mr. Klebahn, Mr. Richard Isenberg, Mr. Geo. Isenberg.

Passed Beyond
The death of Mother Parker marks an epoch in the history of the Islands. Her early residence here and her long life has made her even in retirement a part of its atmosphere. Hers was a sympathetic nature in a marked degree—broad in its charity, more quick to recognize the good than the evil in erring human nature. No one who has known her long and well but has felt at some time of need the inspiration of her words—the up-lift of a sympathetic insight with her facile pen, which was always ready to transcribe the impressions of the moment and through that medium she held delightful conversations with her friends. Her capacity for friendships was both large and deep. During the rapid changes which have come to the land her sympathy and anxiety for the welfare of the Hawaiian people has been unswerving. They were her people and she never forgot the early Alpha the land had given her. Her memory is sweet.

Test in Honor
Mrs. E. M. Watson was the charming hostess on Tuesday of a bridge tea in honor of Mrs. Smith, wife of Dr. Smith, and Miss Harvey, who expect to sail for the Coast in the transport Logan. The prizes were ornamental hat-pins and they were won by Mrs. Fay, Mrs. Blanchard and Mrs. Lewton-Brain. The guests included Mrs. Winfred Babbitt, Mrs. William Stanley, Mrs. Clinton Ballentine, Mrs. Lewton-Brain, Mrs. Ralph Foster, Mrs. McGrover, Mrs. Fay, Mrs. Hawes, Miss Angus, Mrs. Blanchard. Both Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Harvey have been very popular socially and there is much regret expressed at their departure. Doctor Smith will remain here.

Golden Wedding
The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Baldwin of Haiku, Maui, takes place on Monday, Oct. 7th, in the afternoon. It will be a most interesting affair, not only because of the large number of family friends, but by reason of the letters and congratulations from a distance, which will add much to the interest of the affair.

Watsons Entertain
On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Watson entertained their bridge club and the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Babbitt, Miss Harvey and Dr. and Mrs. Smith and Cushman. Monday evening Mr. Cushman Carter gave a dinner for Mrs. Smith and Miss Harvey at the Country Club and the cool, shady lawn and beautiful views in conjunction with a good dinner were greatly enjoyed. The other guests included Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Watson, Dr. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. W. Pfothbauer, Mr. W. Lanz, Mrs. W. Babbitt, Mrs. Babbitt, by the way, expects to sail in the transport Logan, if there is room. Mrs. Cushman, I believe, has the first choice.

From Abroad
Miss Leslie Wight, who is traveling in Norway, writes to her mother, Mrs. Laura Wight, from Voksenkollen Christiania as follows:
I have seen the Royal visitors several times. A few days ago when I was walking in the woods near here, on a narrow path, I met the King and Queen of Norway, the Queen of England, the Czarina of Russia and Princess Victoria. They all stopped and smiled and the Queen of England said, "How do you do?" I smiled back and answered the same. She stopped and patted Frau H's dog, which I had with me. She looks wonderfully young and has such a sweet manner, no wonder all English people love her so. The Czarina was dressed all in black and looks thin and pale. You should see the Royal yachts—they are dreams.

New Arrivals
Mrs. H. Alexander Isenberg, who arrived in the Korea from San Francisco, is being warmly welcomed by her many friends. She is looking handsomer than ever and is established at the Isenberg mansion at Puhou. It is uncertain how long she will remain. She is accompanied by Mrs. M. S. McGanley and her two sons. Mrs. Isenberg will be at home on Monday next and would be glad to see her friends.

Lunch at Young
There was a delightful lunch at the Alexander Young Hotel on Tuesday, given by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane for Mrs. H. Alexander Isenberg, ex-Governor and Mrs. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dutton, Mrs. McGanley, Mrs. Joseph Stekney of New York and her niece, Captain Sandberg and Mr. Dulsberg. After luncheon the guests repaired to Mrs. Isenberg's house and were given tea. The Hawaiian singing boys, for the benefit of the strangers, gave much pleasure.

In the evening the Henry Duttons entertained at dinner for Mrs. Isenberg, ex-Governor and Mrs. Carter, Mrs. McGanley, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Mr. Dulsberg, Miss Violet Makee, Miss Alice Macfarlane, Miss Tarn, Mr. Clifford Kimball, Captain Humphrey, U. S. A.

Dinner in Honor
Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Cooke's dinner on Thursday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Kettledge, the parents of Mrs. Frank Baldwin, who arrived in the Korea, was a very beautiful affair. The Cooke residents on the heights of Makiki commands one of the most magnificent views, and the Cooke are always agreeable entertainers. The place-cards, dainty bits of marine views painted by Miss Fitz Henry, were much admired. Among the guests besides Mr. and Mrs. Kettledge, the latter a handsome woman very correctly dressed, were ex-Governor and Mrs. George Carter, Mrs. Frank Baldwin, Mrs. Baker, Miss Grace Cooke, Mr. Robert Shingle, Mr. William Roth, cut flowers and ferns lavishly adorned the table.

Monday Night Dinner
Mrs. Inez Hasson's dinner which she gave at the Rodick place in Nuuanu avenue on Monday night, was attended by Mrs. Paul Neumann, Miss Nannie Winston, Miss Cordie Walker, Miss May, Dr. Clifford Wood, Count Canavarro, Mr. Stackable, Mr. H. Walker and Mr. Walter Dillingham. Violets and ferns most beautifully adorned the table.

Still Busy
Word comes that Alexander Scott, the English artist, so well known here, is having just as many orders in Oakland, where he has taken a studio, as he did in Hawaii. Mr. and Mrs. Scott expect to winter in Mexico.

Back to Maui
Mrs. Frank Baldwin, Mrs. Baker and the Messrs. Baldwin returned to Maui on Friday by the Claudine. They came to Honolulu to meet Mr. and Mrs. Kettledge, who will spend the winter at the Baldwin's. They have been guests at the Moana hotel.

Much Entertained
Mrs. Tarn and her daughter Pauline have been in a constant round of gaiety since their arrival at the McGroves. They are both delightful women and have entertained extensively during their brief stay. Perhaps the most elaborate function given by them was the dinner on Wednesday evening at the Young hotel at which Mrs. Tarn was the chief and fascinating hostess. Miss Tarn, a very beautiful girl, added much to the dinner by her wit and charm. Twenty covers encircled the oval table with its elaborate mound of pink and white roses and overhead the chandelier, massed with malle fern, while ropes of the same fragrant green hung gracefully to the table, glittering with tiny globes of electric light which came from the lily-shrouded globes. An opalescent light shed a becoming glow over the beautiful and artistic handwork of Chef Chevalier. Maidenhair ferns in great clusters lightly spread over the cloth in conjunction with pink carnations made an effective decoration. At each plate were white carnations. The dinner was decidedly French, the waiters even wearing white gloves while serving and the elaborate menu, which contained the choicest dishes, was perfect in every detail. Mr. Ernest Kaal and an orchestra of fourteen sang and played behind a bower of palms. The dinner was served in the Waikiki dining-room, which was converted into a bower of ferns for the occasion. Miss Pauline Tarn was exquisite in a frock of a Princess of the new art green tulle and embellished with Turkish embroidery, with dull gold ornaments. Mrs. Tarn, in white satin, was a youthful looking matron. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dutton, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Graham, Chinese Consul Chang Tso Fan and Madam Chang Tso Fan, Miss Hardaway, Miss Violet McKee, Mr. Walter Dillingham, Mr. Harry Cobb, Mr. E. Long, Lieut. Ship, Lieut. McCreery, U. S. A.

At the Peninsula
Mr. and Mrs. J. Colburn gave an elaborate luncheon at the Peninsula on Sunday in honor of the host's birthday. Her Majesty, the Queen, honored the occasion and every known dish dear to the Hawaiian feast was on the hospitable board. The day was perfect and the guests thoroughly enjoyed the pleasant outing.

Tantalus Picnic
Major and Mrs. Dunning of Fort Shafter gave a picnic on Tantalus on Thursday for Mr. and Mrs. Thorne. The guests included Paymaster and Mrs. Brooke, Miss Johnson, Mrs. Randolph, Lieut. Ship and Mr. G. Bloss, brother of Mrs. Thorne. The Thornes are guests at the Moana hotel.

By the Korea
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dutton arrived in the Korea and are established at the Longworth cottage at the Seaside. They have their touring car with them. Mrs. Dutton is looking very handsome and everybody is glad to see them both.

Birthday Remembered
The birthday of Mr. John H. Bliss occurred on Friday and he received many beautiful flowers and congratulations on reaching his 84th birthday. A portrait of a great-grandchild adorned the room where he received his friends.

Popular Dinners
The Friday night dinners at the University Club are deservedly popular, and last evening the pretty little dining room was filled to its utmost capacity. Ex-Governor and Mrs. George Carter entertained for the Harry Macfarlane and Henry Duttons, and the dance at the end was not the least enjoyable part of the program. The first dance was given as an experiment and proved such a success that it was decided to give another. These dances are a decided change from Hotel or home, their very novelty making them popular with the members and their friends.

Condor Reception
The cruiser Condor presented a gay appearance on Friday afternoon, the occasion being a reception given by Captain Ahlert and the officers from three-thirty until six. Flags of all nations, signal flags, cut flowers in lavish variety and greens converted the cruiser into a veritable bower for the nonce. Those who assisted the Captain in receiving were Kowetenkapite Ahlert, Kapitän-Captant Schritte, Oberleutnant E. P. Schultze, Oberleutnant F. P. Freilich v. Butlar, Oberleutnant F. P. v. Mohe, Centurion F. S. Weger, Centurion v. Freudenberger, Marlen Engert, Leut. Lutschewerger, Clabsarge Dr. Schönberr, Obersablenkster Riegel. The officer of the day, Lieut. Freudenberger seemed to be everywhere at once, and did his duty with a will. There were ribbons for the ladies, pictures of the ship and many souvenirs dear to the feminine heart. Captain Ahlert's doral offerings of friends, was a popular place during the afternoon. Dancing was indulged in and a general good time prevailed. Cheers were given with a will for Mrs. Hoffmann and Mr. Herbert. Those who assisted Mrs. Hoffmann were Mrs. du Roi, Mrs. English, Miss Stuh and Mr. Pocke and Carter Galt.

Ashley-Johnstone
The marriage of Miss Isabel Ashley to Mr. Ralph S. Johnstone occurred on Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pratt in Kewalo street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. C. McKeever and Miss Irene Fisher, looking very pretty and becomingly dressed, acted as bridesmaid. Mr. J. Storr being the best man. The simple ceremony which made the happy couple one was short and effective and took place at half past seven. The bride—a lovely girl—was in cream white satin and wore a flowing veil attached by orange blossoms. A reception and dance followed the wedding. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ashley of Honolulu, and the groom, the divisional Deputy Collector in the Internal Revenue department. The rooms were fragrant with marmosettes and maidenhair ferns, and greens were most effectively placed. The honeymoon is being spent at Wailua.

Soon to Arrive
Mr. Carl Hedemann is expected to arrive in the Manchuria from the Orient after a serious illness in the hospital at Yokohama.

Will Receive Later
Mrs. Walter Frear, the wife of the Governor, very much regrets that she will not be able to receive her friends formally until the new house is completed. There is too much confusion to make it pleasant for either guest or hostess. The Frears are busy arranging the details and interior plans, but in a few weeks the architect promises to have everything done. They are at their Peninsula cottage, but are really living neither at one place or the other, but seem to be in the hands of the builders.

WHAT NEWSPAPERS SAY OF BULLETIN'S HAWAII GIRLS

They Have First Place On First Page Of Leading Newspapers Everywhere--They Please Their Hosts Who Are In Turn Happily Impressed With Hawaii

The record of the Bulletin girls' trip taken from the newspapers of the mainland is almost as readable and quite as interesting as the story told in the letters received from the young ladies. It shows what the people along the way thought of Hawaii's Bulletin girls.

The first notices appearing in the San Francisco papers have already appeared in these columns. The gist of clippings published today starts with a crisp notice appearing in the San Francisco Bulletin. This is followed with notices from other papers along the line from Mill Valley to Los Angeles.

The girls attracted attention everywhere and there seems to have been nothing too good for them in the esteem of the best people of the towns in which they stopped.

Perhaps the funniest incident of which the newspapers speak was that in Pasadena, when a policeman warned the party against singing on the street corner where they were waiting a car to Los Angeles. He either thought they were attracting too large a crowd or were violating the ordinance against holding meetings on the streets without a permit.

The clippings follow:

Seven Pretty Girls

[San Francisco Bulletin Sept. 11]

Seven pretty girls from Honolulu tripped down the gangplank of the Sierra when the big boat snuggled up to the pier today. Fourteen dainty slippers picked their way along the Pacific Mall wharf. It was a radiant vision and the longshoremen gazed, the freight clerks gazed and everybody seemed to take a particular interest in the bevy of Honolulu maidens.

These seven girls are the most popular maids in Honolulu and their popularity has earned them a trip to San Francisco, thanks to a gallant editor who believes in rewarding feminine popularity.

Miss Mandon, Miss Todd, Miss Lemon, Miss Sadler, Miss Saffrey, Miss Aloia and Miss Lucas—these are the pretty girls who took the first seven prizes in popularity. They are accompanied by a chaperone, Mrs. Weathered, and by two other young ladies, Miss Rose and Miss Dwight, friends of Miss Lucas.

At Tamalpais Tavern

[Mill Valley Enterprise Sept. 13]

Seven dark-eyed Hawaiian girls, who were voted the most popular girls in their neighborhoods in a contest held by the Honolulu Evening Bulletin, arrived in Mill Valley yesterday and proceeded up Tamalpais as guests of the California Club. They took lunch at the Tavern and were almost childishly enthusiastic over the beauties of the trip. The girls are making a tour of the Coast and will leave Saturday for Sacramento, where they will attend the State Fair at the invitation of Commissioner J. H. Fletcher of California. Then they will go south to Los Angeles, taking in the sights, and from San Diego will make a flying trip to Mexico. Returning north they will spend a few weeks in Washington and Oregon and will return to the islands by way of Victoria.

[Mill Valley Independent Sept. 14]

Ten young women of Honolulu, properly chaperoned, reached San Francisco on Wednesday from the islands to begin an extended sight-seeing and investigation tour of the cities of the Pacific Coast. The members of the party are sent to the United States by the Honolulu Evening Bulletin, and will visit all the principal cities of California, Oregon and Washington.

The visitors remained in San Francisco three days and were the guests of the women of the California Club. Thursday the visitors took a ride up Mt. Tamalpais. The whole party was loud in its praise of the picturesqueness of the trip and the pleasure it afforded.

SING SONG FOR BURBANK

Sonoma County's exhibit at the Sacramento Fair was enlivened Saturday evening by the visit of a number of handsome Hawaiian women, under the chaperonage of Senator Walter F. Price, and there in honor of Luther Burbank, whose fame was known to each of the ladies, they rendered several of the beautiful songs of their country.

The ladies are here as guests of a Hawaiian paper, which sent them on the pleasure trip. They visited the fair Saturday evening and from the band stand entertained thousands of people with their beautiful melody. Senator Price asked them if they knew Luther Burbank, and each gave a ready response in the affirmative. He invited them to come to the exhibit of Sonoma County, in which Burbank's work was shown to some extent and see the display made. There it was suggested that Burbank be honored with melody and the ladies graciously sang several selections.

The melodies brought thousands of people to the vicinity of the Sonoma County booth and gave it a better opportunity of being seen than would otherwise have been possible. Senator Price declared that the ladies were all interested in the fame and work of Luther Burbank and many made inquiries regarding the man and his efforts in the floral and horticultural realm.

HAWAIIAN SONGS

Party of Island Daughters Sing at Sonoma's Exhibit at State Fair

On Saturday night a party of young women from the Hawaiian Islands, who are touring this State, visited the State Fair at Sacramento and were much interested in the Sonoma County exhibit, particularly the display of Burbank's creations. By way of complimenting Mr. Burbank, while grouped about the exhibits of his creation, they sang some of their native songs, and were surrounded by hundreds of spectators.

Riverside Looked Up

[Riverside Enterprise Sept. 17]

"SHE'S MY HONOLULU LADY: SHE'S A DAISY"

The party of Honolulu ladies touring California as guests of the Bulletin, the leading newspaper of the islands, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday morning and were entertained by several of the leading ladies of that city. This is the party of which the Enterprise spoke a few days ago, at which time it was stated that the young ladies would spend a few hours sightseeing in Riverside; there has been no change in the program and they will be here this week, although the date of their arrival has not as yet been definitely set.

These young ladies come of the best kanaka families and are said to be very beautiful. Probably the only thing peculiarly Hawaiian about them will be their "love wreaths," those delightful little hoops of flowers which are presented to friends on their departure. This little custom of the natives has never been eradicated, even though the American has changed the entire face of nature in the group of islands.

After leaving Los Angeles the Honolulu ladies will visit San Diego and from there will come direct to Riverside. There has been no attempt to get up any entertainment for them, but it would seem a hospitable thing to do to have a party of Riverside ladies meet them at the train and show them a hearty greeting. These kanakas are infinitely hospitable in their own country, and some of the local people can testify to this fact.

Many ladies of Riverside have requested information regarding the arrival of the Honolulu ladies, but as nothing definite has yet been settled about the date, this paper is as much in the dark as its readers. However, the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific have agreed to keep the public posted when they have any news of them.

Nine, with Chaperone, Are "Doing" the State

Colds They Contracted in San Francisco Will Be Banished by Southern California's Matchless Climate

[Los Angeles Herald Sept. 14]

Nine of the prettiest girls of Hawaii arrived in Los Angeles yesterday from Honolulu for a ten days' stay, making their headquarters at Hotel Hayward.

Mrs. Edyth Tozier Weathered, Honolulu, leads the party, which includes Misses Daisy Todd, Hester Lemon, Callie Lucas, Lillian Mandon, Mattie Saffrey, Rose Aloia, Emma Rose, Katie Sadler and Bernice Dwight.

They are all college graduates, and the courtesy of a California trip was extended the privileged ones by the Honolulu Evening Bulletin.

So far the party has toured Northern California.

Mrs. Weathered said yesterday: "We are having a delightful time here. In the north we were treated with numerous surprises of California courtesy."

CALLIE LUCAS WRITES OF CALIFORNIA TOUR

L. Callie Lucas writes from Los Angeles of her travels as one of the Bulletin's Lucky Seven. She says in part:

Since leaving dear Hawaii we have visited so many places, seen so much of interest, met so many delightful people, and have been treated so royally I hardly know where to begin.

Thursday after our arrival we all went to Mt. Tamalpais as guests of the California Women's Club, as you already know by accounts in California papers and posts sent. Weren't they beauties? The Club ladies met us at the ferry building and escorted us to Mt. Tamalpais, where we lunched at the Inn. I can't give our hosts' names, as it would take too long, but they were all so good and sweet to us. The ride was simply grand, the day perfect, the air delicious; not a cloud nor mist descending to hide the valleys. I never tasted a meal so delicious as that meal away up there among those heights. The day was ideal.

We spent the afternoon down at "Newer Redwood" Canyon, a dear little spot reached after a walk of about a mile and a half. When we reached the river we all took a drink of that lovely clear, ice-cold water. One of the ladies got a conveyance, and we drove to the train, and, of course, we were delighted, as it saved us a long walk.

That evening we had dinner at Tait's, where our dear chaperone had made previous arrangements. We were seated at a circular table in the center of the elegant dining-room. Just as we were seated the music struck up boldly with "Aloha Oe." Well, our dinner was grand, but there was a lump rose up into my throat, and refused to move for some time. After our oysters we all sang, and I'm sure you could have heard the applause. Every eye in the room seemed turned our way. We sang about four songs.

We left San Francisco for Sacramento Saturday, arriving about noon. The ladies from the Women's Council were at the depot to meet us, with a tallyho, and took us to the Capitol Hotel. We dined and again took the tallyho for a drive around the city; then off to the race track. We were driven past the Governor's stand, and as we came up the band struck up "Aloha Oe." We saw several auto races. While we were there a dreadful accident happened. Two autos were racing; one became unmanageable going at full race speed, got beyond control, and swerved off to one side, taking down a fence, splintering the posts and dashing over an embankment about ten feet. The machine was a total wreck, and people thought the man dead. He had both legs broken, several ribs, and his face terribly disfigured; died next morning. The saddest part to me was he had come all the way from the East to take part in the race. When the races were over we returned to our hotel, had an elegant dinner, sang some songs, Hawaiian, then off to the State Fair. As soon as we entered the building we were made welcome. Everybody was so good and kind, and everything grand, but the beautiful display of fruits took my fancy. Everybody allowed us to take things from their booths and really we were treated royally. When we were coming away several people accompanied us to our hotel, bringing fruit with them. The grapes were delicious. Sunday we went to Pastor Booth's church, and we were made welcome, the congregation shaking hands cordially. We sang a few hymns and they all seemed pleased. At 12 o'clock we went to the Golden Eagle hotel to a luncheon party given us by Mrs. Hamilton. Mrs. Hamilton is a dear, with a heart large enough to love us all.

That afternoon we were taken through Crocker's Museum. It is a grand building and the interior is magnificent. I gazed around and wished I could spend hours studying those paintings. The Mayor's wife was with us most all day, and the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Ings, helped to make our visit most enjoyable. Really, they are all so good to us it is hard to have to part from them, but they shall never be forgotten.

From the Art Gallery we visited the Capitol. The grounds are beautiful but the building is undergoing repairs and not at its best. We visited the Secretary of State's office and were made at home in his comfortable chairs. Of course we sang our Hawaiian songs. We then visited the Elks' hall. It is a beautiful building. No ladies are supposed to enter their club rooms but Mr. Ings escorted us through. There were many Elks there, but they didn't bother us at all; we sang and went right along. Next we had a drink—um! but that lemonade was good! Mr. Ings gave each of us a glass with the Elks head and clock as a souvenir. But those rooms are elegant. No wonder the Elks don't want to go home. We then had to hasten back to the hotel, just in time to pack our suit cases, jump into our autos and fly like the wind to catch our train, and away for Los Angeles. Our many friends accompanied us to the station to bid us a kind good-bye.

Now comes my first experience on a Pullman car. I'd rather be on the "Sierra" than a Pullman sleeper. I thought morning had lost her way, she was so long coming around. The ride on the train by day is through a beautiful country and there are many beautiful spots passed on our way. As soon as we landed some gentlemen came up and took our pictures. Wonder how we looked? We did not do much sightseeing that day, as we were very tired, so rested till four, when three autos called for us and we went for a ride around the city. It's a grand place and the homes are beautiful.

Wish you could share some of our joys. We went so fast we almost lost our breath. I could not tell you half we saw—it would take too long. We had dinner from 6 to 8, then a reception from 9 to 12. We went to Catalina Island and were given a reception by Mrs. Wilson. It was called a Hawaiian night. The Hawaiian boys played and sang and we stood in line for a song, too. Everyone was lovely to us. We went through the beautiful grounds—the most beautiful I have ever seen. We were presented with carnation leis and how I thought of our dear Hawaii.

SCRAPS

FROM THE NEWSMAN'S NOTES

Being a malihini and not having lived here all my life, I can't help being a good deal amused at the rum-pus our energetic, if diminutive, friend, Dr. Worm Wallach, has succeeded in stirring up in this Territory. It seems so ridiculously incredible that so palpably ignorant an impostor should be able to set the whole commonwealth by the ears by so preposterous a bluff as the female-rock specialist puts up.

I used to live back in the Middle West once, and I can remember the occasions when some long-haired freak, attired in sombrero and chaps and carrying enough artillery to fit out a first-class cruiser, would descend on the town with a wagon-load of fake medicine warranted to cure anything from in-growing toe-nails to dyspepsia of the pocket-book. He would set up his tent in the village square, ride around the town in the only "hack" of which it could boast, accompanied by a couple of black-face song and dance artists, and after he had collected a crowd in front of the tent, would proceed to fill them with awe and amazement by shooting at glass balls with a rifle-loaded with dust-shot.

Of course, he would be successful to a certain extent, and when he left the community a good many of its individual members would be poorer by several shekels and would have a few bottles of rain-water and glycerine by which to remember the long-haired one.

But strain my memory as hard as I can, I can't remember a single instance when one of these frauds ever became a political issue. Not a single one of them, so far as I can remember, ever had the gall to go before the Legislature and tell its members to mind their own business or admit that his remedies were fakes, designed to fool the Board of Health.

It is possible that I am mistaken, but I really have no recollection of any one of them gathering up the head of a political party and going to see the Governor of the State and demanding that a certain number of the unfortunate wards of that State, afflicted with some incurable disease, be turned over to him to experiment upon.

But of course that was back in the effete East, where they hadn't learned of the secret and mysterious cures evolved by the magicians of India and imparted to a kid of twelve. And, besides, they don't have female rocks back in that part of the world. Such things are found only in the deep sea, and there is only one man who knows how to descend into the sea a thousand feet and find them.

But, speaking of making Worm Wallach a political issue, I am afraid our genial friend Charlie Notley has forgotten that it is yet fourteen months until election time, and in Hawaii nothing is remembered that long. Wallach will be a back number long before it comes time for the voters to cast their ballots. He will be almost as completely forgotten as the Federal building site appears to be now.

It is up to the slow debtor and the man who finds it convenient not to pay his bills to take to the tall timber. There is trouble in store for them. Past-Due Mills, so it is said, is taking boxing lessons.

On various occasions in the past, when the bill collector made himself obnoxious, he has been well thrashed by some incensed victim. In fact, Hicking Mills has come to be one of the recognized pastimes in certain quarters, and Past Due is getting tired of having the two sides of his face look as if they had been molded separately and put on at different times. So he is learning the manly art of self-defense.

I see that Miss Gladys Vanderbilt is to marry Count Lazzio Sechemyl. I wonder if she is going to call him "Lazzy" for short.

What Newspapers Say of Bulletin Girls ever since they left home, with the exception of colds they contracted in San Francisco, where they went about evenings without their wraps. They were advised to put them on, but forgot. You know they are so accustomed to going about in Honolulu in the evening, where the climate is balmy and never too hot and never too cold, but just right."

Off trips will be made to Ontario, Redlands, Riverside, San Bernardino and the beach and mountain resorts generally.

Yesterday the girls spent a delightful afternoon touring the city in automobiles.

[Los Angeles Herald, Sept. 18.]

The nine Hawaiian girls and their chaperone, Mrs. E. T. Weathered, who are spending a week in Los Angeles, and an enjoyable outing yesterday, consuming the greater part of the day on the Balboa route excursion.

Last night they enjoyed a theater party at the Mason.

The girls and their chaperone are having the time of their lives, as compared with their stay in the northern cities of the state. Mrs. Weathered said yesterday that the climate of Southern California was so much like her dear Hawaii that she almost felt as if she were really at home.

She also said she had seen many familiar faces here of residents and former tourists of Honolulu. It is expected today the party will take the Mount Lowe trip.

[Los Angeles Herald, Sept. 19.]

Yesterday was Mt. Lowe day for the Press-Humorists' association. Early in the forenoon they went in special cars to the Alpine tavern, where they found a most enjoyable surprise. Mrs. Edythe Weathered and the ten Hawaiian belles who are touring the coast as the guests of the Honolulu Bulletin had preceded the fun mixers, and with the Hawaiian sextet entertained them with music and singing. Mrs. Weathered invited the humorists to seriously consider Honolulu as the place for their next convention, promising all kinds of amusements and the best of accommodations. Her invitation was received with three rousing cheers and she was given considerable encouragement, but Houston, Texas, was later chosen for the next convention.

After luncheon the whole party started up the steep slopes of the mountain on the hurricane decks of a whole herd of burros. All of them started, but not all of them accomplished the climb, for many of the humorists found the task entirely too funny, and literally fell by the wayside, where they stayed until assisted back to the tavern.

Times Finds Them Happy And Attractive

[Los Angeles Times, Sept. 11.]

On Saturday a party of nine native young women of Honolulu will arrive in this city, under the guidance of Edythe Tozier Weathered, on a tour of the Pacific States. They are college graduates and come from the best families; are fine musicians and singers, traveling under the auspices of the Honolulu Bulletin, and all the towns on the Coast are extending to them special courtesies. It is likely that they will be tendered a public reception by some commercial body of Los Angeles, for their own sake as well as for the evidence of hospitality it will impress upon our new possessions.

[Los Angeles Times, Sept. 17.]

"Aloha Oe! Three days in California and our hearts are yours," declare these nine young women who have come to us from the Territory of Hawaii, that far-famed land of enchantment, beauty and dreams.

Away from their native country for the first time, they have found the champagne of existence in this Paris of the Pacific that is unknown in these islands of ease.

These nine young strangers are dusky of cheek and liquid of eye, with slow grace and languorous charm. One is a regular sunbeam of a girl and laughs all the time. She was born in California and her name is California Lucas, but she was nicknamed "Laughing Lucas" on the voyage over.

The party, which is in the charge of Mrs. Edythe Weathered, includes the seven young women who won in a contest for the most popular girls in the islands, conducted by a Honolulu newspaper. They arrived in Los Angeles yesterday morning and have been cordially entertained every moment since.

Yesterday afternoon they were whirled about in automobiles, and in the evening were the chief figures at a reception tendered to all those interested in the Hawaiian Islands. Apparently many were interested in the islands and many more in the young women themselves, who represent the three islands, Hawaii, Oahu and Kauai. The last-named boasted the first prize winner of the contest, who was voted the most popular girl in the Territory—Miss Lillian Mondon. She is tall and beautiful, with lovely eyes and a royal grace of manner.

Her partner from the island of Kauai is Miss Rose Aloia, a teacher in one of the Government schools. She has an upward tilt to her brown eyes that tells of Oriental blood, but her English is fluent. Her school charges include Japanese, Portuguese and English children. She teaches them Enlish. The American flag floats above her schoolhouse, and the children salute it, she will tell you.

The largest island, Hawaii, sends a delightful coterie of winners, Misses Daisy Todd, Hattie Saffrey and Katie Sadler. Miss Todd is a telegraph and telephone operator at Hilo. Miss Sadler and Miss Saffrey are real daughters of the islands. The former is a teacher on a plantation fifteen miles from Hilo, and the latter is also a teacher in an outlying district.

California Lucas, the baby of the party, comes from Honolulu, and so does Miss Hester Lemon, a dainty little beauty who is a stenographer in the Territorial Board of Health office.

With the fortunate seven and their chaperon are two young women of Honolulu who joined the party for the pleasure of the trip. They are certainly getting what they came for. "I am in love with California," exclaimed Miss Bernice Dwight. "I cannot say enough for it." Miss Dwight is stenographer in the Department of Public Works and is extravagant in her praise of the American administration that has given so many opportunities to Hawaiians in the Government service.

Miss Emma Rose, also with the party, is a stunning specimen of a Hawaiian beauty. Eight years ago her sister, taken from the Territory to Topeka, Kansas, ruled for eight days as the queen of a carnival. Miss Rose says she is so delighted with California that she does not want to go back.

The party will remain at Hotel Haywood for a week, and then will proceed to Old Mexico. Their trip is to occupy two months.

Pasadena's Policeman

Stops Their Singing

[Los Angeles Times Sept. 19]

PASADENA NEWS NOTES
Stern law put a stopper on the tune-fol vocal organs of the Hawaiian singers today when they attempted to give an impromptu concert on Colorado and Fair Oaks. They had been up on Mt. Lowe sight-seeing. When they returned, the soft air wooed them into song. They departed from the Mt. Lowe car to change to the Los Angeles line, and with a tinkle of the guitars they began one of their native hymns. Patrolman O'Dell was handy and wanted to see their permit to hold a public meeting on the streets. They had none, and the tune-fol ode came to an abrupt close.

[Los Angeles Times, Sept. 18]

The Hawaiian band of five musicians which is well known for its concerts at the Alexandria hotel, and the party of ten pretty Hawaiian girls who are touring the coast under a chaperone as winners in a newspaper beauty contest were prevented from giving vent to their natural buoyancy of spirits at the corner of Colorado street and Fair Oaks avenue late this afternoon. As they returned from a day at Mt. Lowe and waited for a Westworth car, they began to sing a beautiful native melody, accompanied by the strangled instruments of the musicians. A large crowd quickly gathered around the singers. Law appeared, however, in the shape of Patrolman O'Dell, whose strict interpretation of the city ordinance which requires that no public meetings shall be held on the street without a permit from the mayor stopped the concert. Just at that moment the car appeared which conveyed the visitors to Los Angeles.

A FEW EXTRACTS

taken from a letter received from one of the most practical farming and stock men in these Islands will interest anyone having stock of any kind. After a most thorough test of

he writes as follows:

Our most stubborn case has been that of the farm horse, an old gray mare, so badly infected with the mange that hardly a square foot was free from infection, large blotches on her face, belly and legs were constantly kept raw. It is now three months since beginning treatment with Zenoleum, and although not entirely cured, most of the old sores are healed and much of the bare spaces are becoming covered with hair, perhaps for the first time in years. I consider this a fine example of the worth of Zenoleum in the treatment of our most annoying horse disease in these islands, but it has required thorough and persistent treatment, and I would have no one believe that half-hearted measures will result in anything but disappointment.

While we are well satisfied with the results from the use of Zenoleum in fact the results have been better than we expected and far in advance of our experiments with carbolic acid and other standard remedies, we do not look for a complete eradication of the mange on our stock so long as every hitching post and rail in the country is infested with the germ. The thought has come to me that if the Territory, or some private individual, would establish an adequate dipping plant where animals could be cheaply and completely submerged in Zenoleum solution, the great mange problem of Honolulu would be solved.

As a swine dip (solution "B") Zenoleum has proven entirely satisfactory; our hogs that were covered with ticks, and some with mange as well, were freed from the former by two applications, and the mange has been checked to such an extent that we feel hopeful of a complete cure. Sixty young pigs have been dipped for cankerous sore mouth, urticaria and ticks (resulting from a long-continued wet spell) with very good results, one untreated litter suffering the loss of three out of nine pigs.

Pig-pens and yards have been sprayed with a one to fifty solution weekly since January 20th and to this we do in a large measure lay our freedom from hog cholera and plague during a season when most prevalent. We have lost no swine from this cause since beginning treatment as above, while others have reported serious losses.

A bottle or can of ZENOLEUM should be kept handy in the house all the time, as nothing can equal it for disinfecting everything.

BARNEY JOY MAKES
HAWAII FAMOUS

BARNEY JOY

The First Man Ever Imported to Play Ball in the United States

Ask any baseball fan on the Pacific Coast what the Sandwich Islands are and he will answer: "The home of Barney Joy." Yes, Barney has done much to put Hawaii on the map. There is no getting around the fact that the Coast press has devoted more space to Hawaii since Barney reached Frisco than they ever did in all the previous time thereto.

Barney enjoys the distinction of being the first baseball player that has ever been imported to play ball in the United States and this alone is a big feather in Barney's cap.

There is an old saying that a person to be appreciated must get out of his home town. How much did we think of Barney while here? He was looked upon on just the same as any of the other players here. He never did attract any unusual interest. What do they think of him in Frisco? Just let word get around that the big kanaka is going to twirl on a certain day and then notice the difference in the attendance. And the ladies are crazy over the big fellow. Why, Barney is always reserved for Ladies' Day.

Joy is without doubt the most popular player on the Pacific Coast and even if he goes up in the air and pitches an awful game the fans are rooting for him just the same and throw the blame upon his catcher or someone else.

Barney always wears a smile. This is the secret of his success. He never kicks at the umpire and the public like him the better for it. It is his good nature that has made for him the success that he has attained.

Joy has the greatest future in sight of any of the Coast League players, but it is a question if he can realize it. Those who know Joy best are afraid that he will do some foolish thing that will upset all of his future prospects.

There is no one who has made the advancement that Joy has. Jumping from the Sugar Cane League to big league ball and then in only half of a season being drafted by a National League team like Boston is a record that none of them can boast of.

Joy is in line for big money and a "rep" for himself and it is up to him to make good. He has the best wishes of every person in this Territory.

Barney will be welcomed back to Hawaii when he comes with Mique Fisher's All-Star aggregation to pitch for his home boys.

TODAY'S GAME A HARD FIGHT

Who will win today? This is the question that the fans are asking one another. Well, it is anyone's game until it is over. Each team has a strong line-up and they are both out to win. The St. Louis boys have the advantage of having played together but the picked team has a very strong personal line-up that should do much toward winning for them.

The game starts promptly at 2:30 o'clock and after it is all over the All-Hawaii team will have a workout in the way of practice. The spectators are invited to stay and see the work-out.

The batteries for today's game will be: St. Louis: Soares-Leslie; Picked Team: Jones-Reuter.

PEOPLE WANT TICKETS FOR BIG GAMES

Gust-Eakin's clerks are kept busy answering inquiries as to the advance sale of seats for the big series of games against the Coast team.

There will be absolutely no tickets sold until Monday, the 14th day of this month and then those who desire special seats must come early and get in line.

There is some talk of scalpers buying up blocks of tickets and disposing of them at an advance. This will be guarded against by the management and the public need not fear anything of this kind.

At next Saturday's games the balloons with orders for season tickets will be sent up and the lucky person securing these orders will be given two of the best seats in the stand.

The prices for the season tickets will be as follows: Box seats, $6; reserved seats, $5; rosters' section, $5; stand, $2.50. For single games the following prices will prevail. Box seats, $1.25; reserved seats, $1; stand, 50 cents, and bleachers, 25 cents. These prices are within the reach of all and everyone will have

LEAGUE HOLDS FORMAL MEETING

"We want to play the game for the sport of the thing." This is the way in which Sam Johnson opened the meeting of the Atkinson League at the Government stables last evening.

Every one in this League wants these games played in the cleanest manner possible and anything which might mar the standing of this new organization is taboo. God bless the man who uses obscene language during one of these games. He will be lucky to get off with his life.

The Atkinson Baseball League of Kakaako is made up of the following teams:

Ocean Views—H. Walker, captain, and Mahuka, manager.

Stars—C. Macfarlane, captain, and Nigel Jackson, manager.

Brewery—H. Kalowena, captain, and Joe Kaaha, manager.

Honolulu Police—Joe Leal, captain and Albert P. Taylor, manager.

S. S. Laundry—J. R. Souza, captain, and M. H. Honan, manager.

Officers of the league were elected as follows: Colonel Samuel Johnson, president; A. L. C. Atkinson, secretary; Joseph Leal, treasurer; Nigel Jackson, manager.

Atkinson, of course, is also attorney for the league, should such a functionary be required. En Sue, a famous little baseball player, was chosen umpire. The umpire, as he should be, is paid something for his responsible and risky job.

G. M. Addison was elected official scorer. Each team of the league will be allowed eighteen players. No one becomes a player for the league without a two-thirds vote of the membership.

Below is the line-up and games to be played tomorrow by the Atkinson League at Kakaako Park, together with a standing of the teams to date:

"It's like the time I was ranchin' with an Englishman up in Montana. This here party claimed the misfortune of belu' a younger son, whatever that is, and is grubstaked to a ranch by his people back home. Havin' acquired an intimate knowledge of the west by readin' Bret Harte and havin' assimilated the secrets of ranchin' by correspondence school, he is fitted amply to teach us natives a thing or two, and he does it. I am workin' his outfit as foreman, and he don't take long to show me that he's a good hearted feller in spite of his ridin' bloomers an' penebule eyeglasses. He ain't never had no actual experience, but he's got a Henry Thompson Seton book that tells him all about everything from field mice to gorillas.

"We're troubled a heap with coyotes them days, and finally this party sends home for some Rooshian wolfhounds. I'm fer plizin' a sheep carcass, but he says:

"No, no, no, deah man; that's not sportsmanlike. We'll hunt 'em—aye, hunt 'em. Only fawncy the sport we'll have ridin' to hounds!"

"We will not," says I. "I ain't goin' to do no Simon Legree stunts. It ain't man's size. Bein' English, you don't count, but I'm growed up."

"Nothin' would do him but those 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' dogs, however, and he had 'em imported clean from Berkshire or Shirey or thereabouts, four of 'em, great big blue ones. They was as handsome and imposin' as a set of solid gold teeth, but somehow they didn't seem to savvy our play none. One day the cook rolled a rain barrel downhill from the kitchen, and when them blooded critters saw it comin' they throwed down their tails and fore out like rabbits. After that I couldn't see no good in 'em with a spriglass.

"They ain't got no grit. What makes you think they can fight? I asked one day.

"Fight? says H'Anglish. 'My deah man, they're full blooded. Cost seven-pun each. They're dreadful creatures when they're roused. They'll tear a wolf to pieces like a rag, kill bears, anything. Oh, rully, perfectly dreadful!"

"Well, it wasn't a week later that he went over to the east line with me to mend a barb wire. I had my piers and a hatchet and some staples. About a mile from the house we jumped up a little brown bear that scampered off when he seen us, but, bein' agin a bluff where he couldn't get away, he climbed a cottonwood. H'Anglish was simply frothin' with excitement.

"What a misfortune! Neither gun nor hounds."

"I'll scratch his back and talk pretty to him," says I, "while you run back and get a Winchester and then ferocious bulldogs."

"Wolf hounds," says he, with dignity. "Full blooded, seventy pun each. They'll rend the poor beast limb from limb. I hate to do it, but it'll be good practice for them."

"They may be good readers," says I, "but don't forget the gun."

"Well, I throwed sticks at the critter when he tried to unclimb the tree till finally the boss got back with his dogs. They set up an awful holler when they see the bear—first one they'd ever smelled, I reckon—and the little feller crawled up in some forks and watched things, cautious, while they leaped about, bayin' most fierce and blood curdlin'."

"How you goin' to get him down?" says I.

"I'll shoot him in the lower jaw," says the Britisher, "so he can't bite the dogs. It'll give 'em cannidence."

"He takes aim at Mr. Bear's chin and misses it three times runnin', he's that excited."

"Settle down, H'Anglish," says I. "He ain't got no double chin. How many shells left in your gun?"

"When he looks he finds there's only one more, for he hadn't stopped to fill the magazine, so I cautions him.

"You're shootin' too low. Raise her."

"He raised her all right and caught Mr. Bruin in the snout. What followed thereafter was most too quick to notice, for the poor bear let out a howl, dropped off his hind into the midst of them ragin', turble seventy pun hounds an' hugged 'em to death, one hound after, like he was doin' a system of health exercises. He took 'em to his bosom as if he'd just got back off a long trip, then, droppin' the last one, he made at that younger son an' put a gold filling in his leg. Yes, sir; most chewed it off. H'Anglish let out a Siberian wolf holler hisself, an' I had to step in with the hatchet and kill the brute, though I was most dead from laughin'."

"That's how it is with me an' Glen-lister," the old man concluded. "When he gets tired experimentin' with this new law game of his, I'll step in an' do business on a common sense basis."

"You talk as if you wouldn't get fair play," said Helen.

"We won't," said he, with conviction. "I look on all lawyers with suspicion, even to old baldface—your uncle, askin' your pardon an' gettin' it, belu' as I'm a friend an' he ain't no real relation of yours; anyhow. No, sir. They're all crooked."

Dexty field the western distrust of the legal profession—comprehensive, unreasoning, deep.

"Is the old man all the kin you've got?" he questioned, when she refused to discuss the matter.

"He is—in a way. I have a brother, or I hope I have, somewhere. He ran away when we were both little tads, and I haven't seen him since. I heard about him, indirectly, at Skagway—three years ago—during the big rush to the Klondike, but he has never been home. When father died, I went to live with Uncle Arthur—some day, perhaps, I'll find my brother. He's cruel to hide from me this way, for there are only we two left, and I've loved him always."

She spoke sadly and her mood blended with the gloom of her companion, so they stared silently out over the heaving green waters.

"It's a good thing me an' the kid had a little piece of money ahead," Dexty resumed later, reverting to the thought that lay uppermost in his mind. "Cause we'd be up against it right if we hadn't. The boy couldn't have amused himself none with these court proceedings, because they come high; I call 'em luxuries, like brandied peaches an' silk undershirts."

"I don't trust these Jim Crow banks no more than I do lawyers, neither. No, sirree! I bought a iron safe an' hauled it out to the mine. She weighs 1,800, and we keep our money locked up there. We've got a feller named Johnson watchin' it now. Steal it? Well, hardly. They can't bust her open without a stick of dynamite which would rouse everybody in five miles, an' they can't lug her off bodily—she's too heavy. No. It's safer there than no place I know of. There ain't no abscondin' cashiers an' all that. Tomorrow I'm goin' back to live on the claim an' watch this receiver man till the thing's settled."

When the girl arose to go, he accompanied her up through the deep sand of the lanaike street to the main muddy thoroughfare of the camp. As yet the plank and graveled pavements which had threatened the town were unknown, and the incessant traffic had worn the road into a quagmire of chocolate colored slush, almost axle deep, with which the store fronts, show windows and awnings were plentifully shot and spattered from passing teams. When a wagon approached pedestrians fled to the shelter of neighboring doorways, watching a chance to dodge out again. When vehicles passed from the comparative solidity of the main street into the morasses that constituted the rest of the town, they adventured perilously, their horses plunging, snorting, terrified, amid an atmosphere of profanity. Discouraged animals were down constantly, and no foot passenger, even with rubber boots, ventured off the planks that led from house to house.

To avoid a splashing team Dexty pulled his companion close in against the entrance to the Northern saloon, standing before her protectingly.

Although it was late in the afternoon, the Bronco Kid had just arisen and was now loafing preparatory to the active duties of his profession. He was speaking with the proprietor when Dexty and the girl sought shelter just without the open door, so he caught a fair though fleeting glimpse of her as she flashed a curious look inside.

She had never been so close to a gambling hall before and would have liked to peer in more carefully had she dared, but her companion moved forward. At the first look the Bronco Kid had broken off in his speech and stared at her as though at an apparition. When she had vanished, he spoke to Reilly:

"Who's that?"

Reilly shrugged his shoulders; then, without further question, the Kid turned back toward the empty theater and out of the back door.

He moved nonchalantly till he was outside, then with the speed of a cat ran down the narrow plank between the buildings, turned parallel to the front street, leaped from board to board, splashed through puddles of water, till he reached the next alley. Stamping the mud from his shoes and pulling down his soprano, he sauntered out into the main thoroughfare.

Dexty and his companion had crossed to the other side and were approaching, so the gambler gained a fair view of them. He searched every inch of the girl's face and figure, then, as she made to turn her eyes in his direction, he slouched away. He followed, however, at a distance, till he saw the man leave her, then on up to the big hotel he shadowed her. A half hour later he was drinking in the Golden Gate barroom with an acquaintance who ministered to the mechanical details behind the hotel counter.

"Who's the girl I saw come in just now?" he inquired.

"I guess you mean the judge's niece."

Both men spoke in the dead, restrained tones that go with their callings.

"What's her name?"

"Chester, I think. Why? Look good to you, Kid?"

Although the other neither spoke nor made sign, the bartender construed his silence as acquiescence and continued, with a conscious glance at his own reflection while he adjusted his diamond scarfpin: "Well, she can have me! I've got it fixed to meet her."

"Bah! I guess not," said the Kid suddenly, with an infection that startled the other from his preening. Then, as he went out, the man mused:

"Gee! Bronco's got the worst eye in the camp! Makes me creep when he throws it on me with that muddy look. He acted like he was jealous."
